fer rous ['ferəs] adj. containing iron: ~ chloride ($FeCl_2$).

fer rule ['feru:l] n. metal ring or cap placed on the end of a stick (e.g. of an umbrella) or tube; band strengthening or forming a joint.

fer ry ['feri] n. [C] (place where there is a) boat or aircraft that carries people and goods across a river, channel, etc. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 10, 21, 23) take, go, across in a ~: ~ people (a boat) across a river; aircraft ~ing motor-cars betewen England and France. '~-boat n. '~-man n.

fer tile ['fə:tail], (U.S.A. ['fə:til]) adj. 1. (of land, plants, etc.) producing much; (of a person, his mind, etc.) full of ideas, plans, etc.: ~ fields (soil); a ~ imagination; ~ in expedients; a boy who is ~ in excuses, able to produce plenty of them. 2. (cf. sterile) able to produce fruit, young; capable of developing: ~ seeds (eggs). fer til i ty [fə:'tiliti] n. [U] state of being ~.

fer ti lize ['fə:tilaiz] v.t. (VP 1) make fertile or productive: ~ the soil (by using manure); ~ flowers (as bees do when they collect nectar). fer ti li za tion [ˌfə:tilai'zeiʃən] n. [U] fertilizing or being ~d. fer ti liz er ['fə:tilaizə*] n. [U] chemical plant food; artificial manure; [C] substance of this kind: Bone meal and nitrates are common fertilizers.

fer ule ['feru:l] n. flat ruler for punishing children by striking them on the hand.

fer vent ['fə:vənt] adj. 1. hot, glowing. 2. showing warmth of feeling; passionate: ~ love (hatred); a ~ lover (admirer). ~ly adv. fer ven cy ['fə:vənsi] n.

fer vid ['fə:vid] adj. fervent (def. 2); spirited; showing earnest feeling: a ~ orator. ~ly adv.

ferv our ['fə:və*] n. (U.S.A. fervor) [U] strength or warmth of feeling; earnestness.

fes tal ['festl] adj. of a festival; gay and joyous: a ~ occasion (e.g. a wedding, a birthday party); ~ music.

fes ter ['festə*] v.i. & t. (VP 21, 1) 1. (of a cut or wound) (cause to) fill with poisonous matter (pus): If the cut gets dirty, it will probably ~. 2. (fig.) (cause to) act like poison in the mind; (cause to) become embittered: The insult ~ed in his mind.

fes ti val ['festəvəl, -tiv-] n. 1. (day or season for) rejoicing or merry-making; public celebrations: Christmas and Easter are Church ~s. 2. series of performances (of music, ballet, drama, etc.) given periodically (usu. once a year): the Salzburg (Edinburgh) F~; a ~ of music. 3. (attrib.) festal; of a feast or feast-day.

fes tive ['festiv] adj. 1. of a feast; joyous: a ~ season (e.g. Christmas); the ~ board, a table on which a feast is spread. 2. fond of feasting; jovial.

fes tiv i ty [fes'tiviti] n. 1. [U] rejoicing; merry-making. 2. (pl.) festive proceedings; joyful events: wedding festivities.

fes toon [fes'tu:n] n. [C] chain of flowers, leaves, ribbons, etc., hanging in a curve between two points, as a decoration. v.t. (VP 1) make into, decorate with, ~s: a room ~ed with Christmas decorations.

fetch [fetʃ] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10, 18, 19, 21) go for and bring back (sb. or sth.): F~ a doctor at once. Please ~ the children from school. The chair is in the garden; please ~ it in. Shall I ~ your hat for you (~ you your hat) from the next room? ~ and carry (for), be busy with small duties for; be a servant for: He expects his daughter to ~ and carry for him all day. 2. (VP 1, 18) cause to come out; draw forth: ~ a deep sigh (a dreadful groan); ~ tears from the eyes. 3. (VP 1, 19) (of goods) bring in; sell for (a price): These old books won't ~ (you) much. How much did the picture ~? 4. (VP 19) (colloq.) deal, give (a blow) to: She ~ed me a slap across the face (a box on the ears). ~ing *adj. attractive, delightful: What a ~ing little hat! What a ~ing smile!

fête [feit] n. (usu. outdoor) festival or entertainment: the village ~ (often one at which funds are raised, e.g. for the church or a charity). ~-day n. day of the saint after which a child is named, observed in R.-C. countries as a birthday is observed in Great Britain. v.t. (VP 1) honour by entertaining; make a fuss of: The hero was ~d wherever he went.

fet id ['fetid, 'fi:tid] adj. stinking; smelling very bad.

fe tish, fe tich ['fi:tiʃ, 'fetiʃ] n. 1. object worshipped by pagan people because they believe a spirit lives in it. 2. anything to which foolishly excessive respect or attention is given: Some women make a ~ of clothes.

fet lock ['fetlɔk] n. (tuft of hair that grows on the) back of a horse's leg just above the hoof.

t ter ['fetə*] n. chain for the ankle of prisoner or the leg of a horse; (fig., su. pl.) sth. that hinders progress. v.t. 'P 1) put in ~s or chains; (fig.) restrain.

t tle ['fetl] n. (usu.) in fine (good) ~, n good (physical) condition; in high pirits.

ud [fju:d] n. [C] bitter quarrel between wo persons, families, or groups, over long period of time. at ~ (with), at nmity with.

u dal ['fju:dl] adj. of the method of olding land (by giving services to the wner) during the Middle Ages in Europe: ~ law; the ~ barons. ~ism 'fju:dəlizəm] n. [U] the ~ system.

u da to ry ['fju:dətəri] adj. owing ser- rice to a lord: ~ obligations. n. vassal.

ver ['fi:və*] n. 1. [U] condition of the uman body with temperature higher han usual, esp. as a sign of illness: She hasn't much ~. He has a high ~. ~ heat, high temperature of the human ody in ~. 2. [U] one of a number of iseases in which there is high ~: yellow typhoid, rheumatic) ~. 3. (usu. sing. with indef. art.) excited state; nervous gitation: in a ~ of impatience. fe vered dj. affected by a ~: a ~ed imagination, ighly excited. ~ish adj. having symp- oms of ~; caused by ~; causing ~: n a ~ish condition; ~ish dreams; ~ish wamps. ~ish ly adv.

w [fju:] adj. & n. (contrasted with nany; cf. little and much.) 1. (with a l. n.) not many: Few people live to be 00 and fewer still live to be 110. Which of ou made the fewest mistakes, the smallest umber of mistakes? He is a man of ew words, he says very little. no fewer han, as many as: No fewer than twenty orkers were absent through illness. 2. in the predic., rare in colloq. style): Such occasions are few. We are very few, ewer than at the last meeting of the ociety. 3. (with the indef. art.) a small umber (of). (Note that few is neg. and few is positive.) I know a few of these eople. We are going away for a few ays. I'd like a few more of the red roses. ome few, a good few, quite a few, ot a few, a considerable number, a fair umber. 4. every few minutes (days, tc.), see every, def. 5. 5. the few, the ninority. few ness n.

z [fez] n. red felt head-dress, shaped ike an inverted flower-pot, worn by ome Muslim men.

an cé, -cée [fi'a·nsei, (Fr.) fjɑ̃se] n. man voman) to whom one is engaged to be narried; one's betrothed.

as co [fi'æskou] n. (pl. -os, U.S.A. also, oes) complete failure, breakdown, in th. attempted: The new play at the Ritz Theatre was a ~.

at ['faiæt] n. [C] order or decree made y a ruler.

fib [fib] n. (colloq.) untrue statement (esp. about sth. unimportant). v.i. (-bb-) (VP 21) tell a fib. fib ber n. person who tells fibs. fib bing n. telling fibs.

fi bre ['faibə*] n. (U.S.A. fiber) 1. [C] one of the slender threads of which many animal and vegetable growths are formed (e.g. cotton, wood, nerves, muscles). 2. [U] substance formed of a mass of ~s, for manufacture into various materials: hemp ~ (for making rope); cotton ~ (for spinning). '~board n. board made of compressed ~. '~-glass n. [U] glass processed into ~, used as an insulating material, and made into textile and other materials. 3. [U] structure; texture: material of coarse ~; (fig.) character: a person of strong moral ~. fi brous ['faibrəs] adj. made of, like, ~s.

fib u la ['fibjulə] n. outer of the two bones between the knee and the foot.

fick le ['fikl] adj. (of moods, the weather, etc.) often changing; not constant: ~ fortune; a ~ lover. ~ness n.

fic tion ['fikʃən] n. 1. [C] sth. invented or imagined (contrasted with truth): a legal ~, sth. assumed to be true, although it may be false, in order to avoid a difficulty. 2. [U] (branch of literature concerned with) stories, novels, and romances: works of ~; prefer history to ~. Truth is often stranger than ~.

fic ti tious [fik'tiʃəs] adj. not real; imagined or invented: the ~ characters of novels.

fid dle ['fidl] n. 1. violin; any instrument of the violin family (e.g. a 'cello or viola). fit as a ~, very well; in good health. play second ~ (to), take a less important part (than). have a face as long as a ~, look dismal. '~-stick n. bow (def. 2). '~-sticks int. Nonsense! 2. instance of fiddling (see the vb., def. 3). v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 21) play the ~; play (a tune, etc.) on the ~. 2. (VP 21, 23, 24) make aimless movements; play aimlessly (with sth. in one's fingers): Stop fiddling! He was fiddling (about) with a piece of string. 3. (sl.) make or keep dishonestly inaccurate records of figures (in business accounts, etc.): ~ an income-tax return, prepare it so as to try to escape correct tax payments. fid dler n. person who plays the ~; person who ~s (def. 3). fid dling adj. (colloq.) trivial; futile: fiddling little jobs.

fi del i ty [fi'deliti, fai-] n. [U] 1. loyalty, faithfulness (to): ~ to one's principles (religion, leader, wife). 2. accuracy; exactness: translate sth. with the greatest ~; a high ~ gramophone, one that reproduces from records very accurately and faithfully.

fid get ['fidʒit] v.i. & t. (VP 21, 23, 24, 1) (cause sb. to) move the body (or part of it) about restlessly; make (sb.) nervous: Stop ~ing! The boy was ~ing with his knife and fork. What's ~ing you, making you nervous or uneasy? Hurry up, your father's beginning to ~, show signs of impatience. n. 1. (pl.) ~ing movements: Having to sit still for a long time often gives small children the ~s. 2. person who ~s: What a ~ you are! ~y adj. having the ~s; restless: a ~y child.

fie [fai] int. for shame: Fie upon you, you ought to be ashamed!

fief [fi:f] n. [C] land held from a feudal lord.

¹field [fi:ld] n. [C] 1. area of land, either grassland for cattle, etc., or arable land for crops, usu. enclosed by means of hedges, fences, etc. (not normally used of unenclosed land or uncultivated land; cf. moor, hillside, etc.): working in the ~s (cf. on the farm). What a fine ~ of wheat! 2. (usu. in compounds) wide area or expanse; open space: an ice-~ (e.g. round the North Pole); a flying-~; a landing ~ (for aircraft); a baseball (cricket) ~. '~-sports n. pl. hunting, shooting, and fishing. ~ events n. pl. athletic contests such as jumping and discus-throwing, but not races or other contests that take place on a track. '~-glasses n. pl. long-distance glasses for outdoor use with both eyes. 3. (usu. in compounds) area of land from which minerals, etc., are obtained: gold-~s; a new oil-~; coal-~s. 4. province or department of study or activity: the ~ of politics (art, science, medical research). That is outside my ~, is not in the departments of knowledge that I have studied. ~ work, scientific, technical, or social investigation made in their ~s (e.g. by surveyors, geologists, or by students of social science who visit and talk to people). 5. range (of operation, activity, use); area or space in which forces can be felt: a magnetic ~, round a magnet: a wide ~ of vision; an object that fills the ~ of a telescope; the earth's gravitational ~, the space in which the earth's gravity is exerted. 6. place, area, where a battle or war is or was fought: the ~ of battle (battle-~); take the ~, go to war: hold the ~ (against), not be defeated or driven away (by); lose the ~, be defeated. ~ artillery, '~-gun nn. light and mobile, for use in battle. '~-'hospital n. temporary hospital near the scene of fighting. '~-day n. day on which military operations are practised: (fig.) great occasion (e.g. an important debate). F~ Marshal n. army officer of highest rank. '~-work n. temporary fortification made by troops in the ~. 7. (sports and athletics): (in foxhunting) all those taking part in the hunt; (in a contest, esp. a horse-race) all the competitors; (in cricket and baseball) team that is not batting, or (cricket) a member of this side (= fielder).

²field [fi:ld] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 21) (cricket and baseball) (stand ready to) catch or stop (the ball): He ~ed the ball smartly. He ~s well. Well ~ed, sir! 2. (VP 1) (of football teams, etc.) put into the ~: The school is ~ing a strong team in their next match. ~er, ~sman ['fi:ldzmən] n. (cricket, etc.) person who ~s: He doesn't bat well, but he's an excellent ~er.

fiend [fi:nd] n. devil; very wicked or cruel person; (colloq.) person devoted to or addicted to sth. (indicated by the word prefixed: a drug ~; a fresh-air ~. ~ish ['fi:ndiʃ] adj. savage and cruel. ~ish ly adv.

fierce [fiəs] adj. 1. violent; cruel; angry: ~ dogs (winds); look ~; have a ~ look on one's face. 2. (of heat, desire, etc.) intense: ~ hatred. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

fi er y ['faiəri] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. flaming; looking like, hot as, fire: a ~ sky; ~ eyes, angry and glaring. 2. (of a person, his actions, etc.) quickly or easily made angry; passionate: a ~ temper (speech). fi er i ly adv. fi er i ness n.

fies ta ['fjestə] n. (Sp.) religious festival; saint's day.

fife [faif] n. small musical wind instrument like a flute, used with drums in military music: a drum and ~ band.

A fife

fif teen ['fif'ti:n] n. & adj. the number 15, XV; team of Rugby (football) players. fif teenth [fif'ti:nθ] n. & adj. next after the 14th; one of ~ equal parts.

fifth [fifθ] n. & adj. next after the 4th; one of five equal parts. ~ column, organized body of persons sympathizing with and working for the enemy within a country at war. ~ly adv. in the ~ place.

fif ty ['fifti] n. & adj. the number 50, L: the fifties, the years between 49 and 60 (in a century, a person's life). go ~-~ with, on a ~-~ basis, have equal shares. fif ti eth ['fiftiiθ] n. & adj. next after the 49th; one of ~ equal parts.

fig [fig] n. (broad-leaved tree having a) soft, sweet, pear-shaped fruit full of small seeds. not care a fig (for), not care in the least; consider as valueless or unimportant. 'fig-leaf, (with reference to the story of Adam and Eve) conventional device for concealing male genital organs in drawings, statues, etc. (as in the illustr. at hip).

Figs

¹fight [fait] v.i. & t. (p.t. & p.p. fought [fɔːt]) 1. (VP 20, 21, 23, 24, 25) struggle bodily against; struggle with the hands or with weapons; use physical force (as in war): When dogs ~, they use their teeth. The dogs were ~ing over a bone (~ing for the possession of a bone). Great Britain fought against (or with) Germany in two wars. Great Britain fought with (= on the side of) France against Germany. They were ~ing for (= in order to secure or maintain) their independence. They were ~ing to preserve their freedom. ~ to a finish, until there is a decision. ~ shy of, keep away from, not get mixed up with. 2. (VP 1) (with cognate object): ~ a battle (a duel). 3. (VP 1, 10) win (one's way) by ~ing: ~ one's way forward (out, etc.). ~ sb. or sth. off, repel, keep away or at a distance: ~ off a cold (by taking aspirin). 4. (VP 1) manœuvre (ships, troops, etc.) in battle: The captain fought his ship well. 5. (VP 1) set on, urge (cocks, dogs) to ~ (hence cock-fighting). ~er n. person or thing that ~s, esp. a fast aircraft designed for attacking bombing-planes: (attrib.) a ~er pilot (squadron). ~ing n. street ~ing. partic. adj.: a ~ing chance, a possibility of success if great efforts are made.

fight [fait] n. 1. [C] act of fighting; struggle: _~s between dogs; a *prize-~; put up a good (poor) ~,_ fight with (without) spirit and courage; the ~ against disease. 2. [U] fighting spirit; desire or ability for fighting: In spite of numerous defeats, they still had plenty of ~ left in them. The news that their leader had surrendered took all the ~ out of them. show ~, show readiness to fight; refuse to yield.

fig ment [ˈfigmənt] n. [C] sth. invented or imagined: ~s of the imagination.

fig ur a tive [ˈfigjurətiv] adj. (of words and language) used not in the literal sense but in an imaginative way (as when fiery is used of a man who is easily made angry). ~ly adv.

fig ure [ˈfigə*] n. [C] 1. sign for a number, esp. 0 to 9: double ~s, number between 9 and 100; an income of six ~s, one between £100,000 and £999,999. 2. arithmetic: Are you good at ~s? 3. price: buy (get) sth. at a low ~, cheap. 4. diagram; drawing to illustrate sth.: The blackboard was covered with geometrical ~s, i.e. squares, triangles, etc. 5. person's ~ drawn or painted, or cut in stone, etc.; drawing, painting, image, of the body of a bird, animal, etc. ˈ~-head n. (a) carved image (either bust or full-length) placed for ornament at the prow of a ship. (b) person in high position but with no real authority. 6. human form, esp. the appearance and what it suggests: I saw a ~ approaching in the darkness. He has a good (poor, handsome, etc.) ~. She's a fine ~ of a woman, is well-shaped. I'm dieting to keep my ~, in order not to grow stout. She was a ~ of distress, her attitude and appearance suggested distress. cut a fine (poor, sorry, etc.) ~, make a fine, etc., appearance. 7. person, esp. his influence: Churchill, the greatest ~ of his era. 8. ~ of speech, expression (e.g. a simile or metaphor) that gives variety or force, using words out of their literal meaning.

^{2}fig ure [ˈfigə*] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 18) decorate (with diagrams or pictures): a ~d glass window, one with designs (e.g. in stained glass); ~d silk, with patterns in it. 2. picture mentally; imagine: ~ sth. to oneself. 3. (VP 23) have a part, appear: ~ in history (in a play). 4. (VP 10) ~ (sth.) out, think about until one understands; use numbers to get the answer to (a problem). 5. (U.S.A. colloq.) ~ on sth., reckon or count on: They ~d on your arriving early.

fil a ment [ˈfiləmənt] n. [C] slender thread, esp. of wire in an electric light bulb: a ~ lamp.

fil a ture [ˈfilətʃə*] n. workshop in which raw silk is reeled from cocoons.

fil bert [ˈfilbət] n. (nut of) cultivated hazel.

filch [filtʃ] v.t. (VP 1) pilfer; steal (sth. of small value).

^{1}file [fail] n. metal tool with roughened surface(s) for cutting or smoothing hard substances. v.t. (VP 1, 7, 10) use a ~ on; make smooth with a ~; remove, cut through, with a ~: ~ one's finger-nails; ~ sth. smooth; ~ an iron rod in two. fil ings n. pl. bits ~d off or removed by a ~.

A file

^{2}file [fail] n. [C] holder (cover, case, box, drawer) for keeping papers, etc., together and in order for reference purposes, usu. with wires, metal rods, or other devices on which the papers, etc., may be threaded: Where's the ~ of 'The Times'? We have placed the correspondence on our ~s. on ~, on or in a ~. v.t. (VP 1, 10) place on or in a ~: a filing clerk, one who ~s correspondence, etc. Please ~ (away) these letters.

^{3}file [fail] n. line of persons or things one behind the other; (mil.) man in the front rank and the man or men straight behind him: a single ~; in Indian ~, in one line, one behind the other. the rank and ~, common soldiers (privates, corporals, 'other ranks'); (fig.) ordinary, undistinguished persons. v.i. (VP 23) march in ~: The men ~d in (out), came or went in (out).

fil ial [ˈfiljəl] adj. of a son or daughter: ~ duty (piety).

fil i bus ter [ˈfilibʌstə*] n. (U.S.A.) member of a legislature who tries to prevent the passage of a bill by making long speeches, etc. v.i. act as a ~.

fil i gree [ˈfiligriː] n. [U] ornamental lace-like work of gold, silver, or copper ware: (attrib.) a ~ brooch; ~ ear-rings.

fil ings n. pl. see ^{1}file.

^{1}fill [fil] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10, 18, 19, 21, 23) make or become full; occupy all the space in: ~ a hole with sand (a tank with petrol). Tears ~ed her eyes. I was ~ed with admiration. The smoke ~ed the room. Go and ~ me this bucket with water (~ this bucket with water for me). The hall soon ~ed. The wind ~ed the sails. The sails ~ed (swelled out) with wind. ~ *in, add what is necessary to make complete: ~ in an application form, write one's name, and other particulars required; ~ in an outline, add details, etc. ~ *out, (a) make or become larger, rounded, or fatter: Her cheeks began to ~ out. (b) = ~ in. ~ *up, make or become quite full: ~ up with petrol; ~ up a tank. The channel of the river ~ed up with mud. ~ing station, (U.S.A.) place where petrol may be bought. (Cf. service station, where repairs may be done.) 2. (VP 1) hold a position and do the necessary work; put (sb.) in a position: The vacancy has already been ~ed. He ~s the office satisfactorily, performs the duties well. 3. (VP 1) execute, carry out (an order, etc.): ~ a doctor's prescription. ~ing *n. sth. put in to ~ sth.: a ~ing in a tooth.

^{2}fill [fil] n. 1. full supply; as much as is wanted: eat (drink) one's ~. 2. enough to fill sth.: a ~ of tobacco, enough to fill a pipe.

fil let [ˈfilit] n. 1. band (often ornamental) worn to keep the hair in place. 2. slice of fish or meat without bones. v.t. (VP 1) cut (fish) into ~s: ~ed plaice.

fil lip [ˈfilip] n. [C] quick, smart blow or stroke given with a finger; (fig.) incentive or stimulus: an advertising campaign that gave a fresh ~ to sales.

fil ly [ˈfili] n. female foal (cf. colt).

^{1}film [film] n. 1. [C] thin coating or covering: a ~ of dust; a ~ of oil on water; a ~ of mist. 2. [U & C] gelatine prepared for use in photography; roll or sheet of this: a roll (U.S.A. spool) of ~; expose 50 feet of ~; ~ stock, cinema ~ not yet exposed; a ~-pack, a number of sheets of cut ~, used as photographic plates are used; ~-strip, length of ~ with a number of photographs (of scenes, diagrams, etc.) to be shown on a screen separately (not as a motion picture). 3. [C] motion picture: ~ star, well-known cinema actor or actress; go to the ~s, to a cinema show; a ~ première [ˈfilm ˌpremiˈɛə*], first showing of a cinema film; a ~ test, photographic test of sb. who wishes to act for the ~s. fil my [ˈfilmi] adj. (-ier, -iest) like a ~ (def. 1): ~y clouds.

^{2}film [film] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) take a motion picture of: ~ a play. 2. (VP 1, 10, 21, 23) cover, become covered, with a film (def. 1): The scene ~ed over. 3. (VP 23) be (well or badly) suited for reproduction on the films: She ~s well.

fil ter [ˈfiltə*] n. apparatus (containing, e.g. sand, charcoal, paper, cloth) for holding back solid substances in an impure liquid passed through it; coloured glass (as used on a camera lens) which allows light of certain wave-lengths to pass through; (in radio) device which separates alternating current of one frequency from others. ~ *tip, cigarette end containing material that acts as a ~ (for nicotine, etc.). Hence, ~-ˈ*tipped adj. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 10, 21, 23) 1. (cause to) flow through a ~; purify (a liquid) by using a ~. 2. (fig., of a crowd, road traffic, news, ideas, etc.) make a way, pass or flow: new ideas ~ing into people's minds. The news of the defeat ~ed through.

filth [filθ] n. [U] disgusting dirt; obscenity. ~y adj. (-ier, -iest*). ~i ly *adv. ~i ness *n.

fin [fin] n. one of those parts of a fish used in swimming; thing shaped like or used in the same way as a fin (e.g. the tail-fin of an aircraft).

fi nal [ˈfainl] adj. 1. coming at the end: the ~ chapter of a book. 2. putting an end to doubt or argument: a ~ decision (judgement). n. 1. (often pl.) last of a series of examinations or contests: the law ~(s); take one's ~s; the tennis ~s (at the end of a tournament); the Cup F~, last football match in a series. 2. (colloq.) edition of a newspaper published latest in the day: 'Late night ~'. ~ist *n. player who takes part in the last of a series of contests. ~ly *adv. 1. lastly; in conclusion. 2. once and for all: settle a matter ~ly.

fi na le [fiˈnaːli] n. (mus.) last movement of an instrumental composition (e.g. a symphony); closing scene of an opera; end.

fi nal i ty [faiˈnæliti] n. [U] state or quality of being final: speak with an air of ~, giving the impression that there is nothing more to be said or done.

fi nal ize [ˈfainəlaiz] v.t. (VP 1) give a final form to.

fi nance [faiˈnæns, fi-] n. 1. [U] (science of) the management of (esp. public) money: an expert in ~; the Minister of F~ (in Gt. Brit. called the Chancellor of the Exchequer). 2. (pl.) money (esp. of a government or a business company): Are the country's ~s sound? v.t. (VP 1) provide money for (a scheme, etc.).

fi nan cial [faiˈnænʃəl, fi-] adj. of finance: in ~ difficulties, short of money; a ~ centre (e.g. London or New York);

he ~ year, the annual period for which ccounts are made up. ~ly adv.

nan ci er [fai'nænsiə*, fi-] n. person killed in finance; capitalist.

nch [fintʃ] n. kinds of small bird (usu. vith a distinctive epithet or prefix, as haf~, green~, bull-~).

nd [faind] v.t. (p.t. & p.p. found [faund]) 1. (VP 1, 18, 19) look for and get back (sth. or sb. that has been lost, left behind, orgotten, etc.): Did you ever ~ that en you lost? Please help Mary to ~ her at. Please ~ Mary her hat (~ Mary's at for her). The missing child has not een found yet. ~ one's place (in a ook), turn to the page where one wishes o continue reading. ~ one's voice (tongue), be able to speak (after being silent because of shyness, etc.). 2. (VP 1, 10, 18, 19) get or discover (sth. or sb. not lost, forgotten, etc.) as the result of search or experiment: They dug 20 feet and then found water. Did you ~ him what he wanted? I can ~ nothing new to say on this subject. Can you ~ your way home alone? They couldn't ~ the way in (out, back). ~ one's feet, (a) be able to stand and walk: How old was the baby when it began to ~ its feet? (b) become able to act independently, without needing the help and guidance of others. ~ oneself, discover one's vocation; learn one's powers and abilities and how to use them well. (Cf. def. 5.) 3. (VP 1, 6, 7, 18) discover by chance (not as the result of search); come across; fall in with: He was found dead (dying, injured) at the foot of a cliff. 4. (VP 1, 10) arrive at (naturally): Water ~s its own level. Rivers ~ their way to the sea. 5. (VP 3, 7, 11) learn, become informed or aware of, by experience or trial: We found the beds quite comfortable. We found him (to be) dishonest (that he was dishonest). Do you ~ that honesty pays (that it pays to be honest)? I never ~ the best too good for me. You must take us as you ~ us, put up with us as we are, not expect special treatment or ceremony. I ~ it difficult to understand him (~ him difficult to understand). ~ it in one's heart to, (chiefly neg. and interr., with can, could), be inclined to: How can you ~ it in your heart to drown these little kittens? ~ oneself, discover that one is (cf. def. 2): When he regained consciousness, he found himself in hospital (e.g. after a motor-car accident). How do you ~ yourself this morning, how are you feeling? ~ fault (with), see fault, def. 1. 6. (VP 1, 10, 13, 15) learn by study, calculation, or inquiry; (often ~ out) discover as the result of conscious effort: What do you ~ the total? Please ~ (out) when the train starts (whether there is an express train, how to get there, etc.). 'Where have you hidden my book?'—'Find out!' ~ sb. in (out, up, in bed, etc.), learn as the result of inquiry, or on paying a visit, etc., that he is in, etc.: I called at Smith's this morning and found him still in bed. I was disappointed to ~ her out (i.e. not at home) when I called. ~ sb. out, discover that he has done sth. wrong, is in error: Be sure your sins will ~ you out, be detected. Ah! I've found you out! 7. (VP 10) equivalent to a construction with there is (are, etc.), with no suggestion of discovery or inquiry: You will ~ (= There are) some stamps in that drawer. Pine-trees are found (= There are pine-trees) in most European countries. 8. (VP 1, 18) supply; furnish; provide: Who will ~ the money for the expedition? ~ sb. (oneself) in, provide with: He pays his servant £6 a week, and she ~s herself in clothes, buys them from her wages. all found, everything provided: Wanted, a good cook: £30 a month and all found, board, lodging, and clothes provided free in addition to wages. 9. (VP 1, 18, 19) obtain: Where will they ~ money for the journey? She soon found favour with her employer, won his approval. Do you ~ much pleasure in gardening? 10. (VP 1) succeed in obtaining: I can't ~ time to read. At last he found courage to ask Mary to marry him. 11. (VP 7, 10, 11) (legal) determine and declare: The jury found the prisoner guilty. They found (= brought in) a verdict of guilty. They found it (i.e. the offence) manslaughter. They found that the deceased (the dead person) had been murdered by a person or persons unknown. ~ for, (elliptical use), decide in favour of: ~ for the defendant (plaintiff). (See ~ing, def. 2.)

²find [faind] n. [C] finding; sth. found, esp. sth. valuable or pleasing: I made a great ~ in a second-hand bookshop the other day, found a rare (valuable, etc.) old book.

find er ['faində*] n. 1. person who finds sth.: Lost, a diamond ring: ~ will be rewarded. 2. lens in a camera (view-~) or telescope used to find the object to be photographed, examined, etc.

find ing ['faindiŋ] n. (usu. pl.) 1. what has been learnt as the result of inquiry: the ~s of the Commission. 2. what is determined by a jury, etc. (Cf. the verb, def. 11.)

¹fine [fain] n. [C] sum of money (to be) paid as punishment for breaking a law or rule. v.t. (VP 1, 10) punish by a ~: ~ sb. for an offence; ~ sb. £5.

²fine [fain] n. (only in) in ~, in short, finally, to sum up.

³fine [fain] adj. 1. (of weather) bright; clear; not raining: It rained all morning, but turned ~ later. one ~ day, (in story-telling) one day past or future.

one of these ~ days, at some (vague) time in the future. 2. enjoyable; pleasing; splendid: a ~ view; have a ~ time; ~ clothes. She has grown up to be a ~ young lady. That's a ~ excuse, (iron.) a very poor excuse. 3. delicate; carefully made and easily injured: ~ workmanship; ~ silk. 4. of very small particles: ~ dust. Sand is ~r than gravel. 5. slender; thin; sharp: ~ thread; a pencil with a ~ point. 6. (of metals) refined; pure: ~ gold; gold 18 carats ~, with 18 parts of pure gold and 6 of alloy. 7. (to be) seen only with difficulty or effort: a ~ distinction; capable of delicate perception, able to make delicate distinctions: a ~ sense of humour; a ~ taste in art. the ~ arts, those that appeal to the sense of beauty, esp. painting, sculpture, and architecture. 8. (of speech or writing) too ornate; insincerely complimentary: She likes to call things by ~ names (e.g. serviette for napkin). She thinks herself a ~ lady, considers herself a lady of fashion, too superior to do housework, etc. ~ly adv. 1. splendidly: ~ly dressed. 2. into small particles or pieces: carrots ~ly chopped up. ~ness n.

²fine [fain] adv. 1. (colloq.) very well: That will suit me ~. 2. (in compounds) ~-drawn, (drawn out) very thin; ~-spun, delicate; ~-spoken, insincerely complimentary. 3. cut it ~, run things ~, see ¹*cut,* def. 13.

fin er y ['fainəri] n. [U] gay and elegant dress or appearance: young ladies in their Sunday ~, smart clothes; the garden in its summer ~, with its brightly coloured flowers, green lawns, etc.

fi nesse [fi'nes] n. [U] artful or delicate way of dealing with a situation (e.g. in card games): show ~ in dealing with people.

fin ger ['fiŋgə*] n. There are five ~s (or four ~s and one thumb) on each hand. lay a ~ on, touch (however slightly): I forbid you to lay a ~ on the boy, to punish him by hitting him, etc. lay (put) one's ~ on, point out precisely (where sth. is wrong, the cause of a trouble or evil). have sth. at one's ~-tips (-ends), be thoroughly familiar with it. His ~s are all thumbs, he is clumsy. turn (twist) sb. round one's (little) ~, cajole him; dominate him. '~-'*alphabet n. method (using the ~s in various ways) for talking with the deaf. '~-*bowl n one for rinsing the ~s after dessert. '~-*mark n. mark (e.g. on a wall) made by a dirty ~. '~-*nail n. nail at the end of the ~. '~-*plate n. one fastened on a door near the handle or key-hole to prevent ~-marks. '~-*post n. sign giving directions where one road meets or crosses another. '~-*print n. mark made by ~s when pressed on a surface, used for identifying criminals. '~-*stall n. cover of leather or rubber (worn, e.g. over an injured ~). v.t. (VP 1) touch with the ~s: ~ a piece of cloth, touch, feel, it (to test its quality).

fin i cal ['finikl], fin ick ing ['finikiŋ] adjj. too fussy or fastidious (about food, clothing, etc.).

fin is ['finis] n. (sing. only) (at the end of a book) the end.

fin ish ['finiʃ] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10, 17A, 21, 23, 24) bring or come to an end; complete: ~ one's work; ~ reading a book Have you ~ed that book yet, read it to the end? Have you ~ed with that dictionary, are you still using it, do you still need it? They ~ed by singing (~ed with) the national anthem. We have ~ed the pie, eaten all of it. That long climb almost ~ed me, (colloq.) almost caused my death. ~ sth. off (up) (a) eat up completely: We ~ed up everything on the table (b) (colloq.) destroy; kill: That fever nearly ~ed him off. ~ up with, have at the end: We had an excellent dinner, with a glass of old brandy to ~ up with. 2. (VP 1, 10) make complete or perfect; polish: The woodwork is beautifully ~ed, smoothed and polished. They gave a ~ed performance of the quartet. He gave the picture a few ~ing touches. n. (sing. only) 1. last part: the ~ of a race. It was a close ~, the competitors were close together at the ~. be in at the ~, be present when the fox is killed at the end of the hunt; (fig.) be present during the last stage (of a struggle, etc.). fight to a ~, until one side is defeated or exhausted. 2. the state of being ~ed or perfect; the manner in which sth. is ~ed: woodwork with a smooth ~. His manners lack ~.

fi nite ['fainait] adj. 1. limited; having bounds: Human understanding is ~, there are things that man cannot understand. 2. (gram.) limited by number and person: 'Am', 'is', 'are', 'was', and 'were' are the ~ forms of 'be'; 'be', 'being' and 'been' are the non-~ forms.

Finn [fin] n. native of Finland. Fin nish ['finiʃ] adj. & n. (language) of the ~s.

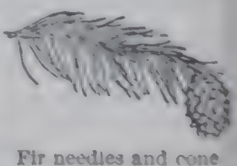
fiord [fjɔ:d] n. long, narrow arm of the sea, between high cliffs (as in Norway).

fir [fə:*] n. evergreen tree with needle-like leaves; [U] wood of this tree.



Fir needles and cone

¹fire ['faiə*] n. 1. [U] condition of burning: F~ burns. There's no smoke without ~, (prov.) there is always some ground for a rumour. on ~, burning: The house was on ~. set sth. on ~, set ~ to sth., cause it to begin burning: He set the haystack on ~. set the Thames

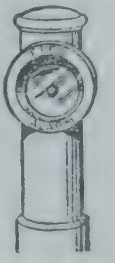
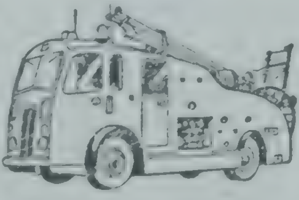
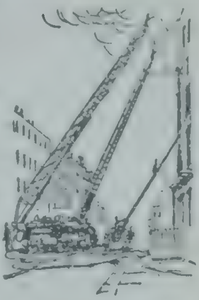
on ~, do sth. remarkable: Tom's not the sort of boy who will ever set the Thames on ~, distinguish himself. take (catch) ~, begin to burn: Paper catches ~ easily. strike ~ from, get sparks from (by striking or rubbing): strike ~ from flint. 2. [U] destructive burning: Have you insured your house against ~? ~ and sword, burning and killing (in war). 3. [C] instance of destructive burning: forest ~s; a ~ in a coal-mine. 4. [C] burning fuel in a grate, etc. (to heat a building, for cooking, etc.): The weather is too warm for ~s. There's a ~ in the next room. lay a ~, put paper, wood, coal, etc., together ready for use. make a ~, lay a ~ and light it. 5. [U] shooting (from guns): open (cease) ~, start (stop) shooting; under ~, being shot at. between two ~s, shot at from two directions. a running ~, (a) a succession of shots from a line of troops. (b) (fig.) succession of criticisms, hostile questions, etc. 6. [U] strong emotion; angry or excited feeling; enthusiasm: a speech that lacks ~, is uninspiring; eyes full of ~; hearts filled with ~. 7. (Compounds) ˈ~-aˌlarm n. apparatus (bell, etc.) for making known the outbreak of a ~. ˈ~-arm n. (usu. pl.) rifle, gun, pistol, or revolver. ˈ~ball n. (esp.) centre of an exploded atomic bomb. ˈ~-bomb n. one that burns fiercely and causes destruction by ~. (See napalm.) ˈ~-box n. fuel-chamber of a steam-engine. ˈ~-brand n. piece of burning wood; (fig.) person who stirs up social or political strife. ˈ~-break n. (a) (in a forest) wide strip of land without trees (to lessen the risk of a forest ~ spreading). (b) wall or barrier of incombustible material (in a warehouse, factory, etc.). ˈ~-brick n. kind of brick, proof against ~, used in grates, etc. ˈ~-briˌgade n. organized team of men who put out ~s. ˈ~clay n. kind used for ~-bricks. ˈ~-conˌtrol n. system of regulating the firing of guns. ˈ~-ˌcracker n. small ~work that explodes with a cracking noise. ˈ~-damp n. [U] gas in coal-mines, explosive when mixed in certain proportions with air. ˈ~-dog n. andiron. ˈ~-ˌeater n. person who quickly gets angry and ready to fight. ˈ~-ˈengine n. machine, manned by ~men, for throwing water on to a ~ or for pumping water from flooded buildings, etc. ˈ~-esˌcape n. outside staircase by means of which people may leave a burning building; apparatus, kind of extending ladder, used by ~men to save people from a burning building. ˈ~-exˌtinguisher n. portable metal cylinder with chemical substance, etc., inside, for putting out a small ~. ˈ~-ˌfighter n. ~man (def. b); (esp.) man who fights forest ~s. ˈ~-fly n. winged insect that sends out phosphorescent light. ˈ~-guard n. protective metal framework or grating round a ~ in a room. ˈ~-hose n. hose-pipe used for extinguishing ~s. ˈ~-ˌirons n. pl. poker, tongs, shovel, etc. (kept near a ~-place). ˈ~-light n. light from the ~ in a ~-place: sitting in the ~light. ~man [ˈfaiəmən, pl. -men, -mən] n. (a) man who looks after the ~ in a furnace or steam-engine. (b) member of a ~-brigade. ˈ~-place n. grate or hearth for a ~ in a room, usu. of brick or stone in the wall. ˈ~-ˌpower n. [U] capacity to fire (def. 6), expressed as the total number and weight of shells fired per minute: the ~-power of a cruiser. ˈ~-proof adj. that does not burn; that does not crack or break when heated. ˈ~-plug n. connexion in a water-main for a ~-hose. ˈ~-ˌraising n. arson. ˈ~ˈside (or ˈ~side when attrib.) n. (sing. with def. art.) part of a room round the ~-place: sitting at the ~side; (fig.) home life; (attrib.) a ~side chair; a homely ~side scene. ˈ~-ˌwalking n. ceremony of walking barefoot over stones heated by ~, or over white-hot wood-ash, etc. Hence, ˈ~-ˌwalker n. ˈ~-ˌwatcher n. (in World War II) person whose duty was to watch for fires started by bombs dropped from the air. ˈ~-ˌwater n. (colloq.) spirits such as whisky, gin, and rum. ˈ~wood n. wood prepared for lighting ~s or as fuel. ˈ~work n. [C] device containing gunpowder and chemicals, used for making a display at night, or as a signal; (pl.) (fig.) display of wit, strong feeling, etc.



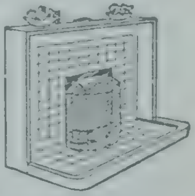
A fire-alarm



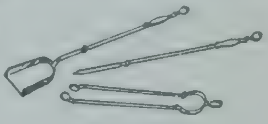
A fire-engine



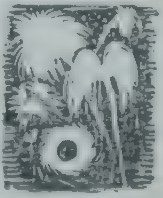
Fire-escapes



A fire-guard



Fire-irons



Fireworks

^{2}fire [faiə*] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) set fire to with the intention of destroying; cause to begin burning: ~ a haystack. 2. (VP 1) use artificial heat on sth. in order to change it in some way: ~ (= bake) bricks (pottery) in a kiln; ~ tea (cure it, make green leaves dry and dark). 3. (VP 1) supply (a furnace) with fuel: an oil-~d furnace. 4. ~ up, (of a person) become excited or angry: She ~s up at the least thing. 5. (VP 1) excite or stimulate: ~ sb.'s imagination; fill (sb. with enthusiasm, zeal). 6. (VP 1, 10 with off) cause (a gun, explosive) to explode; send (a shell, bullet, etc., from a gun); (VP 21, 23, 24) shoot, discharge (a gun, etc.) (at, into, on, upon): ~ a gun; ~ (off) a shot at the enemy; ~ at a target; ~ upon a fort (a ship, a crowd). The officer ordered his men to ~. They ~d a salute, discharged guns as a salute. ~ away, (VP 10, 23) (a) continue firing: They were firing away at the enemy. He ~d away all his ammunition. (b) (fig.) begin; go ahead: I'm ready to answer questions; ~ away. ˈfiring-line n. front line (of trenches) where soldiers ~ at the enemy. ˈfiring-ˌparty n. number of soldiers ordered to ~ volleys at a military funeral or to carry out a military execution. 7. (VP 1) (colloq.) dismiss (a servant, an employee): ~ the cook for being incompetent.

^{1}firm [fə:m] n. [C] (two or more) persons carrying on a business.

^{2}firm [fə:m] adj. 1. solid; hard; not yielding when pressed: ~ flesh (muscles); ~ ground (often fig., as be on ~ ground, sure of one's facts); as ~ as a rock. 2. not easily changed or influenced; showing strength of character and purpose: a ~ faith; take ~ measures; be ~ with children, insist upon obedience and discipline; ~ in (of) purpose; be ~ in one's beliefs. 3. (of a person, his body, its movements, characteristics, etc.) steady, stable: walk with ~ steps. The baby is not very ~ on its feet yet, does not stand or walk confidently. He spoke in a ~ voice. He gave me a ~ glance. adv. = ~ly: stand ~; hold ~ to one's beliefs. ~ly adv. in a ~ manner. ~ness n.

fir ma ment [ˈfə:məmənt] n. (usu. sing. with def. art.) the heavens and all that is in them.

fir man [fə:ˈmɑ:n] n. edict of an oriental ruler.

^{1}first [fə:st] adj. 1. coming before all others in time or order: January, the ~ month of the year; the ~ chapter (or Chapter One); King Edward the F~; the ~ man who arrived (or the ~ man to arrive); (the) ~ thing tomorrow morning, before anything else; at the ~ (earliest) opportunity; the ~ (the leading) men in the country; ~ (basic) principles; not know the ~ thing (not even one thing) about it. 2. (special uses, compounds): ~ aid n. treatment given at once to a sick or injured person before a doctor comes. ~ class n. best accommodation in a train, steamer, aircraft, etc. ˈ~-class adj. of the ~ class: ~-class hotels (cabins, passengers). adv. by the ~ class: travel ˈ~-ˈclass. ~ cost n. (commerce) cost not including profit. ~ floor n. (Gt. Brit.) floor immediately above the ground floor; (U.S.A.) ground floor. ~ form n. (Gt. Brit.) lowest class in secondary schools. ˈ~-fruits n. pl. earliest produce (crops, etc.) of the season (offered to God); (fig.) ~ results of one's work. ˈ~-ˈhand adj. & adv. (obtained) directly from the source: ˈ~-hand information; learn something ~-ˈhand. at ~ hand, directly. ~ name n. Christian name; given name (contrasted with family name). ~ offender n. one against whom no previous conviction has been recorded. ~ person n. (gram.) the pronouns I, me, we, us (and the verb forms used with them). ˈ~-ˈrate adj. of the best class; excellent: ~-rate acting. adv. (colloq.) very well: getting on ~-ˈrate. at ~ sight, when seen or examined for the ~ time: fall in love at ~ sight. At ~ sight the problem seemed easy. ~ly adv. in the ~ place.

^{2}first [fə:st] adv. 1. before anyone or anything else (often, for emphasis, ~ of all, ~ and foremost): Which horse came in ~, won the race? Women and children ~, i.e. before men. F~ come, ~ served, those who come ~ will be served ~. ~ and last, taking one thing with another; on the whole. ˈ~-born n. & adj. eldest (child). 2. for the ~ time: When did you ~ see him (or see him ~)? 3. before some other (specified or implied) time: I must finish this work ~ (i.e. before starting sth. else). 4. in preference: He said he would resign ~ (e.g. resign rather than do sth. dishonest for his employers).

^{3}first [fə:st] n. 1. at ~, at the beginning; from the ~, from the start; from ~ to last, from beginning to end; throughout. 2. (in examinations, competitions) place in the first class; person who takes this: He got a ~ in Modern Languages.

firth [fə:θ] n. narrow arm of the sea; (esp. in Scotland) river estuary.

fis cal [ˈfiskəl] adj. of public revenue.

^{1}fish [fiʃ] n. (pl. ~ or ~es) 1. [C] cold-blooded animal living wholly in water and breathing through gills, with fins for swimming: catch a ~ (two ~es, a lot of ~). a pretty kettle of ~, a state of confusion. have other ~ to fry, more important business to attend to. There's as good ~ in the sea as ever came out of it, (prov. used to suggest that even if one chance, etc., has not been seized, there will be plenty of others). All's ~ that comes to his net, he takes all that he can get, rejects nothing. 2. [U] ~ as food: a ~ dinner; ~ and chips, fried ~ with chipped potatoes. 3. (compounds) ˈ~*bone n. bone of a ~. ˈ~*-hook n. metal hook used for catching ~. ˈ~*-knife n. silver knife with which ~ is eaten. ˈ~ˌ*monger n. tradesman who sells ~. ˈ~*-slice n. knife for carving and serving ~ at table. ˈ~*wife n. woman who sells ~ (esp. in a market, or from a cart in the streets). ~y adj. 1. smelling or tasting like ~: a ~y smell. 2. (colloq.) causing a feeling of doubt: a ~ story.

ish [fiʃ] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 24) try to catch fish: go ~ing; ~ in the sea; (fig.) try to get, by indirect methods: ~ for information (compliments). ~ in troubled waters, try to win advantages for oneself from a disturbed state of affairs. 2. (VP 1) try to catch ~ in: ~ a river (a pool); try to catch by ~ing: ~ trout. 3. (VP 10, 18) draw or pull (sth. up, out, out of): ~ out a coin from one's pocket; ~ up a dead cat out of a canal. ~ing n. catching fish for a living or for pleasure. ˈ~*ing-rod n. long tapering rod (often jointed) to which a ~ing-line is fastened. ˈ~*ing-ˌtackle n. [U] things needed for ~ing.

ish er [ˈfiʃə*] n. (old use) fisherman. ~man [ˈfiʃəmən] n. man who earns a living by fishing. (Cf. angler.)

ish er y [ˈfiʃəri] n. part of the sea where fishing is carried on: in-shore fisheries, near the coast; deep-sea fisheries.

ish plate [ˈfiʃpleit] n. one of two iron plates used to fasten rails to a sleeper (on a railway track).

is sile [ˈfisail, U.S.A. ˈfisil] adj. that tends to split: ~ material, e.g. that can be split up in a nuclear reactor.

is sion [ˈfiʃən] n. splitting or division (e.g. of one cell into new cells; of the nucleus of certain atoms, e.g. uranium, when an atomic bomb is exploded). ~a ble adj. that can be split by ~; capable of atomic ~.

is sip a rous [fiˈsipərəs] adj. (of cells) reproducing by fission.

is sure [ˈfiʃə*] n. [C] cleft made by splitting or separation of parts.

ist [fist] n. hand when tightly closed (as in boxing): He struck me with his ~. He shook his ~ at me. ~icuffs [ˈfistikʌfs] n. pl. fighting with the ~s.

is tu la [ˈfistjulə] n. long pipe-like ulcer with a narrow mouth.

it [fit] adj. (fitter, fittest) 1. suitable or suited (for); well adapted; good enough: The food was not fit to eat, was too bad to be eaten. It was a dinner fit for a king. That man is not fit for the position. We must decide on a fit time and place for the meeting. 2. right and proper: It is not fit that you should make merry while your brother is seriously ill. think (see) fit to, decide to: He didn't see fit to adopt my suggestion. Do as you think fit. 3. ready; in a suitable condition; (colloq., as adv.): He was laughing fit to burst himself, so violently that he seemed ready to burst. They went on working till they were fit to drop, ready to drop from exhaustion. 4. in good athletic condition; in good health: I hope you're keeping fit. He has been ill and is not fit for work (fit to travel) yet. fit ly adv. fit ness n. 1. the state of being physically fit: a national fitness campaign, one for improving the nation's health. 2. suitability (for): the fitness of things, what is right or suitable.

²fit [fit] v.t. & i. (-tt-) 1. (VP 1, 21) be the right measure, shape, and size for: shoes that fit well; a badly fitting door. This coat doesn't fit me. The key doesn't fit the lock. 2. (VP 10, 18) put on (esp. clothing) to see that it is the right size, shape, etc.: have a new coat fitted (on). 3. (VP 10, 18) put into place: fit a new door; fit the handle on. 4. (VP 10, 18) make (sb., oneself) suitable or competent (for sth., to do or to be sth.): fit oneself for one's new duties. Military training fits men for long marches (to make long marches). Can we make the punishment fit the crime? 5. fit in, (VP 10, 23) (cause to) be in a suitable or harmonious relation (with); find (be in) the right or a suitable time or place for: I must fit my holidays in with yours. My holiday arrangements must fit in with yours. fit (sb. or sth.) out, supply with what is needed; equip: fit out a ship for a long voyage (a party for a polar expedition). fit (sb. or sth.) up, supply: a hotel fitted up with modern comforts and conveniences. n. (usu. sing. with indef. art. and adj.) style, manner, in which sth. (e.g. a garment) fits: The coat is a tight (good, excellent) fit.

³fit [fit] n. 1. sudden (usu. short) attack of illness: a fit of coughing; a fainting fit. 2. sudden attack of hysteria, apoplexy, paralysis, with loss of consciousness and violent movements: fall down in a fit. give sb. a fit, (colloq.) do sth. that greatly shocks or outrages him. have a fit, (colloq.) be greatly surprised or outraged: She almost had a fit when she saw the bill. 3. sudden onset lasting for a short time; outburst: a fit of energy (enthusiasm, anger). by fits (and starts), in short periods, from time to time, not regularly. 4. mood: when the fit was on him, when he felt in the right mood (for sth.). fit ful [ˈfitful] adj. occurring, coming and going, by fits and starts; irregular: a fitful breeze. fit ful ly adv.

fit ment [ˈfitmənt] n. piece of furniture or equipment: kitchen ~s (e.g. sinks, cupboards, working tables, esp. when made as units in a series).

fit ter ['fitə*] n. 1. (tailoring and dress-making) person who cuts out, fits, and alters garments. 2. (engineering) workman who fits together the finished parts of an engine, machine, etc.

fit ting ['fitiŋ] adj. proper; right; suitable. n. 1. act of fitting: go to the tailor's for a ~. 2. fixture in a building, esp. (pl.) things permanently fixed: gas and electric light ~s. 3. furnishing: office ~s (e.g. desks, chairs, filing cabinets).

five [faiv] n. & adj. the number 5, V: a ~-day week, one of ~ working days. ~pence ['faifpəns] n. the sum of ~ pence. ~pen ny ['faivpəni] adj. costing ~pence. fiv er ['faivə*] n. (colloq.) £5 note.

^{1}fix [fiks] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10, 18) make firm or fast; fasten (sth.) so that it cannot be moved: fix a post in the ground (a shelf to a wall); fix bayonets (as a mil. command—put them in position on rifles); fix facts (dates, etc.) in one's mind, implant them deeply so that they will not be forgotten. 2. (VP 18) direct (the eyes, one's attention) steadily (on): fix one's attention on what one is doing. He fixed his eyes on me. He has fixed his affections on a worthless woman. 3. (VP 1) (of objects) attract and hold (the attention): This unusual sight fixed his attention (kept his attention fixed). 4. (VP 1) determine or decide: fix the rent; fix a date for a meeting; sell goods only at fixed prices, prices with no discount, with no possibility of bargaining; a man with fixed (definite and decided) principles. 5. (VP 1) treat (photographic films, colours used in dyeing, etc.) so that light does not affect them. 6. (VP 1) single out (sb.) by looking steadily (at him): fix a man with an angry stare. 7. (VP 1, often VP 10, with up) arrange; organize, provide for: fix sb. up with a job; fix up a friend for the night, give him a bed; fix up a quarrel, settle it. 8. (VP 24) settle one's choice, decide (on, upon): They've fixed upon a little bungalow near Rye. 9. (VP 1) (U.S.A. colloq.) put in order; prepare: fix one's hair, brush and comb it; fix a watch, repair it; fix a salad, mix and dress it. fixed [fikst] adj. unchanging: a fixed idea, one in which a person persists and which tends to occupy his thoughts too much; a fixed star, one that seems to keep the same position relative to others, not changing it as planets do. fix ed ly ['fiksidli] adv. in a fixed manner (esp. of looking): look (gaze) fixedly at sb.

^{2}fix [fiks] n. 1. dilemma; awkward or difficult situation: be in a fix; get oneself into a bad fix. 2. finding of position, position found, by taking bearings, observing the stars, etc.

fix a tion [fik'seiʃən] n. 1. fixing or being fixed: the ~ of a photographic film. 2. (psych.) abnormal emotional attachment to another person, with difficulty in forming other, normal, attachments.

fix ture ['fikstʃə*] n. [C] 1. sth. fixed in place, esp. (pl.) built-in cupboards, fire-grates, electric light fittings, etc., which are bought with a building. 2. (day fixed or decided for a) sporting event: football and racing ~s. 3. person or thing that appears unlikely to move from or leave a place: Professor X seems to be a ~ in the college.

fizz [fiz] v.i. (VP 21, 23) make a hissing sound (as when gas escapes from a liquid). n. [U] this sound; (colloq.) champagne. ~y adj.

fiz zle ['fizl] v.i. (VP 21, 23) hiss or splutter feebly. ~ out, end feebly; come to a weak, unsatisfactory end.

flab ber gast ['flæbəgɑːst] v.t. (VP 1) (colloq.) overwhelm with amazement.

flab by ['flæbi] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. (of the muscles, flesh) soft; not firm: A man who never takes exercise is likely to have ~ muscles. 2. (fig.) weak; without moral force: a ~ will (character). flab bi ly adv. flab bi ness n.

flac cid ['flæksid] adj. flabby. flac cid i ty [flæk'siditi] n.

^{1}flag [flæg] n. (usu. square or oblong) piece of cloth, attached by one edge to a rope, used as the distinctive symbol of a country, or as a signal: the national ~ of Great Britain, the Union Jack; the Red Cross ~; streets decorated with ~s. lower (strike) one's ~, take it down as a sign of surrender. '~-'*captain n. captain of a ~ship. '~-*day n. (a) day on which money is raised for a charitable cause by persons in public places, a small paper ~ being given to those who contribute. (b) (U.S.A.) 14 June, anniversary of the day in 1777 when the Stars and Stripes became the national ~. '~*ship n. warship having an admiral on board. '~*staff n. pole on which a ~ is flown. (See also under black, white, and yellow.) v.t. (-gg-) (VP 1) 1. place a ~ or ~s on; decorate with ~s: streets ~ged to celebrate a victory. 2. signal to (sb.), stop (a train, etc.) by using or waving a ~.

^{2}flag [flæg] v.i. (-gg-) (VP 21) (of plants, etc.) droop, hang down, become limp; (fig.) become tired or weak: His strength (interest in his work, enthusiasm for the cause) was ~ging.

^{3}flag [flæg] n. (also '~stone) flat, square, or oblong piece of stone for a floor, path, or pavement.

^{4}flag [flæg] n. kinds of plant with blade-like leaves, growing in moist land, esp. kinds of iris.

flag el lant [ˈflædʒilənt, fləˈdʒelənt] n. person who practises scourging (whipping) (as a religious penance). flag el late [ˈflædʒəleit] v.t. (VP 1) flog, scourge. flag el la tion [ˌflædʒəˈleiʃən] n.

flag eo let [ˌflædʒəˈlet] n. small flute, like a whistle, with six stops.

fla gi tious [fləˈdʒiʃəs] adj. deeply criminal; shamefully wicked. ~ly adv.

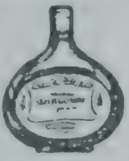
flag on [ˈflægən] n. 1. vessel with a handle, lip, and lid for serving wine at table. 2. large, rounded bottle in which wine is sold.



A flagon (def. 2)

flag rant [ˈfleigrənt] adj. (of crime or a criminal, etc.) openly and obviously wicked; glaring; scandalous: ~ offences (sinners). ~ly adv.

flail [fleil] n. old-fashioned tool for threshing grain, consisting of a strong stick hinged on a long handle.

flair [flɛə*] n. natural or instinctive ability (to do sth. well, to select or recognize what is best, most useful, etc.): have a ~ for languages, be quick at learning them; have a ~ for bargains, be good at recognizing them.

flake [fleik] n. [C] small, light, leaf-like piece: snow-~s; ~s of rust falling from old iron; soap-~s. v.i. (VP 21, 23 with off) fall off in ~s. flak y adj. made up of ~s: flaky pastry. flak i ness n.

flam beau [ˈflæmbou] n. flaming torch.

flam boy ant [flæmˈbɔiənt] adj. brightly coloured and decorated; (of a person, his character) florid, showy.

¹flame [fleim] n. 1. [C & U] (portion of) burning gas: The house was in ~s, was on fire, burning. He put a match to the papers and they burst into ~(s). 2. [C] blaze of light; brilliant colour: the ~s of sunset. 3. [C] passion: a ~ of anger (indignation, enthusiasm). 4. [C] (colloq.) sweetheart: She's an old ~ of his, a woman with whom he was once in love.

²flame [fleim] v.i. (VP 21, 23, 24) burn with, send out, flames; be or become like flames in colour: make the fire ~ up; hillsides flaming with the colours of autumn (e.g. of maple-trees). His face ~d with anger. His anger ~d out. The boy's face ~d still redder (became redder, with anger, embarrassment, etc.). flaming adj. burning; very hot: a flaming sun; flaming enthusiasm.

fla min go [fləˈmiŋgou] n. (pl. -os, -oes) large pale pink, long-legged, long-necked wading bird with red wing feathers.

flan [flæn] n. [C] tart containing fruit, etc., not covered with pastry.

flange [flændʒ] n. projecting or outside rim or collar (e.g. of a wheel) to keep sth. in position. (See the next column.)

flank [flæŋk] n. 1. fleshy part of the side of a human being or animal between the ribs and the hip. (See the illustr. at hip.) 2. side of a building or mountain. 3. right or left side of an army or body of troops: attack the left ~; make a ~ attack. v.t. (VP 1) 1. be situated at or on the ~ of. 2. go round the ~ of (the enemy).

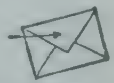
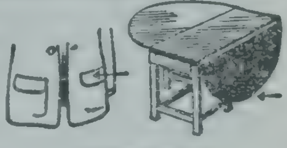
flan nel [ˈflænl] n. 1. [U] loosely woven woollen cloth: a yard of ~; ~ trousers (shirts). 2. (pl.) ~ underclothes; ~ trousers used for summer sports and games (e.g. cricket). 3. [C] piece of ~ for cleaning, rubbing, etc.: a face ~. ~ette [ˌflænəˈlet] n. [U] cotton material made to look like ~.

flap [flæp] v.t. & i. (-pp-) 1. (VP 1, 23) (cause to) move up and down or from side to side: The sails were ~ping against the mast. The wind ~ped the sails. The curtains were ~ping at the open window. The bird was ~ping its wings. The heron came ~ping over the water. 2. (VP 1, 10) give a light blow to with sth. soft and flat: ~ the flies off (away). 3. (VP 21) (sl.) get into a ~ (def. 3 below). n. [C] 1. (sound of a) ~ping blow or movement: A ~ from the tail of the whale upset the boat. 2. piece of material that hangs down or covers an opening: the ~ of a pocket; the gummed ~ of an envelope; the ~ of a table, a hinged leaf that can hang down when not being used; the upturned ~ (brim) of a hat. 3. (sl.) be in (get into) a ~, a state of nervous excitement or confusion (caused by fear of making errors, being incompetent, etc., e.g. while awaiting a visit from one's superiors).





Flaps (def. 2)

flap jack [ˈflæpdʒæk] n. [C] small flat cake of batter fried in a pan.

flap per [ˈflæpə*] n. 1. sth. broad and flat (used to flap flies, etc.). 2. (fish's) broad fin. 3. (out-of-date sl.) girl not yet old enough to attend social events with grown-ups.

¹flare [flɛə*] v.i. (VP 21, 23, with up or out) burn with a bright, unsteady flame; burst into bright flame, (fig.) into a rage: The candle began to ~. When he was accused of lying, he ~d up. She ~s up at the least thing. The scenery was spoilt by flaring (bright and unsightly) advertisements. ˈ~-up n. sudden breaking into flame; short sudden outburst (of anger, etc.). n. 1. [U] flaring flame: the ~ of torches; the sudden ~ of a match in the darkness. 2. [C] device for producing a flaring light, used as a signal, etc.: The wrecked ship was using ~s to attract the attention of the coastguards.

^{2}flare [flɛə*] v.i. & t. (VP 21, 1) (of a woman's skirt, the sides of a ship) (cause to) spread gradually outwards like a bell; become, make, wider at the bottom. n. gradual widening (of a skirt); upward bulge (in a ship's sides)

^{1}flash [flæʃ] n. 1. sudden burst of flame or light: a ~ of lightning; ~es of light from a mirror; ~es from the guns during a battle; (fig.) a ~ of hope (merriment, wit, inspiration). in a ~, instantly, at once. a ~ in the pan, an effort that is quickly over or at once ends in failure '~-back n. (cin.) part of a film that shows a scene earlier in time than the rest of the film (e.g. to the childhood days of the hero). '~-light n. (a) light used for signals, in lighthouses, etc. (b) device for producing a brilliant ~ of light for taking a photograph indoors or when natural light is too weak. (c) small electric torch. '~-point n. temperature at which vapour from oil may be ignited. 2. distinguishing emblem on a military uniform (e.g. on the shoulder). 3. (also 'news-~) brief item of news received by telegram, cable, etc.

A flash-light (def. (b))

^{2}flash [flæʃ] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 23, 24) send, give out, a sudden bright light: The lightning ~ed across the sky. A lighthouse was ~ing in the distance 2. (VP 23, 24) come suddenly (into view, into the mind): The idea ~ed into (through) his mind. The express train ~ed past. 3. (VP 1, 10, 18, 19) send suddenly or instantly: ~ a light in sb.'s eyes; ~ a signal (e.g. using a heliograph or lamp); ~ news across the world (by radio). She ~ed him a despairing glance 4. (VP 1, 10) send or reflect like a ~ or ~es: Her eyes ~ed fire (defiance).

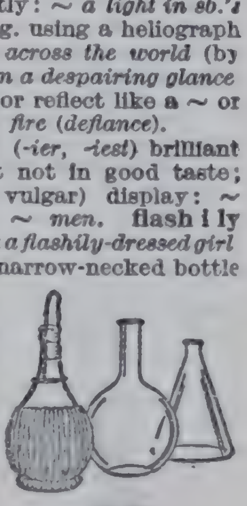
flash y ['flæʃi] adj. (-ier, -iest) brilliant and attractive but not in good taste; given to (rather vulgar) display: ~ clothes (jewellery); ~ men. flash i ly adv. in a ~ manner: a flashily-dressed girl flask [flɑːsk] n. 1. narrow-necked bottle used in laboratories, etc. 2. narrow-necked bottle for oil or wine (often in wickerwork, as used in Italy). 3. flat-sided bottle of metal or (leather-covered) glass for carrying spirits in the pocket.



Flasks

^{1}flat [flæt] n. suite of rooms (living-room, bedroom, kitchen, etc.) on one floor of a building as a residence: an old house divided into ~s; a new block of ~s; ~-dwellers, people who live in ~s. (Cf. U.S.A. apartment.) ~let n. tiny ~.

^{2}flat [flæt] adj. (flatter, flattest) 1. smooth and level; even; having an unbroken surface: A floor must be ~. The top of a table is ~ People used to think that the world was ~; now we know that it is round. One of the tyres is ~, has no or not enough air in it. '~-'bottomed adj. (of a boat) having a ~ bottom (for use in shallow water). '~-car n. (U.S.A.) railroad car without a roof or sides, for carrying freight. '~-fish n. kinds of fish (including sole, plaice, turbot) having a ~ body and swimming on one side. '~-'footed adj. (a) having feet with flat soles. (b) (colloq.) downright; resolute. '~-ˌiron n. iron tool with a ~ surface for smoothing linen, etc. ~ racing, over level ground with no obstacles. (Cf steeplechase.) '~top n. (U.S.A. colloq.) aircraft-carrier. 2. spread out; (lying) at full length: He fell ~ on his back. He knocked his opponent ~. The earthquake laid the city ~, caused all the buildings to fall. 3. with a broad level surface and little depth: ~ plates (dishes, pans). 4. dull; uninteresting; monotonous: Life seemed ~ to him. The party (conversation) was rather ~ The beer tastes ~, tasteless because the gas has gone. fall ~, fail to win applause or appreciation: His best jokes fell ~ 5. (music) below the true pitch (cf. sharp): sing ~; a ~ note; A ~ (A ♭), a note half a tone lower than A. 6. absolute; downright; unqualified: give sb a ~ denial (refusal), deny or refuse sth absolutely; ~ nonsense. And that's ~! (= Let there be no doubt about that.) 7. (commerce) a ~ rate, a common price paid for each of different things or services bought in quantity. 8. (of colours, coloured surfaces) uniform, without relief: a ~ tint. adv. 1. in a ~ manner: sing ~. 2. positively: He told me ~ that . . . He went ~ against orders. 3. ~ out, (a) (colloq.) with all one's strength and resources: He was working (running) ~ out. (b) exhausted. ~ly adv. in a ~ (def. 6) manner: The suggestions were ~ly opposed. He ~ly refused to join us. ~ness n.

^{3}flat [flæt] n. 1. flat part of anything: the ~ of the hand; with the ~ of his sword 2. stretch of low flat land, esp. near water: mud ~s; salt ~s (near the sea). 3. (music) flat note; the sign ♭: sharps and ~s, the black notes on a piano keyboard.

flat ten ['flætn] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 10, 21, 23) make or become flat: a field of wheat ~ed by storms; ~ (out) a piece of metal by hammering it; ~ oneself against a wall.

t ter ['flætə*] v.t. 1. (VP 1) praise too uch; praise insincerely (in order to lease). 2. (VP 1) give a feeling of leasure to: I feel greatly ~ed by your vitation to address the meeting. 3. VP 1) (of a picture, artist, etc.) show b.) as better looking than he is: This hotograph ~s you. 4. ~ oneself that .., be pleased with one's belief that . . .: le ~ed himself that he spoke French ith a perfect accent. ~er n. person ho ~s. ~y n. [U] ~ing; insincere raise; [C] instance of this; ~ing re- ark: Don't be deceived by her flatter- s.

t u lence ['flætjuləns] n. [U] gas in the limentary canal; feeling of discomfort aused by accumulation of this.

unt [flɔ:nt] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) show ff complacently; ostentatiously attract ttention to: ~ one's new finery (riches, c.). 2. (VP 21, 23) wave proudly: flags nd banners ~ing in the breeze.

ut ist ['flɔ:tist] n. flute-player.

vour ['fleivə*] n. (U.S.A. flavor) 1. J] sensation of taste and smell: When ou have a cold, your food sometimes has ery little ~. 2. [C] distinctive taste; pecial quality or characteristic: a ~ of arlic; various ~s in ice-cream; a news- aper story with a ~ of romance. v.t. VP 1) give a ~ to: ~ a sauce with nions. ~ing n. [U & C] sth. used to ive ~ to (food, etc.): too much vanilla ing in the cake. Many ~ings have ttle or no food value. ~less adj. having o ~.

w [flɔ:] n. [C] crack; sth. that lessens he value, beauty, or perfection of a thing: s in a jewel (an argument, a person's haracter). ~less adj. perfect. ~less ly dv.

x [flæks] n. [U] blue-flowered plant ultivated for the fibres obtained from s stems; these fibres (for making linen).

en ['flæksən] adj. (of hair) pale yellow.

y [flei] v.t. (VP 1) take the skin off n animal); (fig.) criticize severely or itilessly; rob and plunder.

a [fli:] n. small wingless jumping insect hat feeds on the blood of human beings nd some animals. ˈ~-bite n. (fig.) mall inconvenience; sth. not very roublesome. ˈ~-ˌbitten adj.

ck [flek] n. [C] 1. small spot or patch: s of colour on a bird's breast; ~s of unlight on the ground under a tree. 2. mall particle (of dust, etc.) v.t. (VP 1) ark with ~s: a sky ~ed with clouds.

d p.t. & p.p. of flee.

dged [fledʒd] adj. (of birds) with fully rown wing feathers; able to fly.

edg(e) ling ['fledʒliŋ] n. young bird ust able to fly; (fig.) young inexperi- nced person.

e [fli:] v.i. & t. (p.t. & p.p. fled) (VP 1, 23, 24, 1) run or hurry away (from): The enemy fled in disorder. The clouds fled before the wind. He killed his enemy and fled the country.

fleece [fli:s] n. [C & U] 1. woolly covering of a sheep or similar animal; quantity of wool cut from a sheep at once: a coat lined with ~. 2. ~-like head of hair. v.t. (usu. fig.) rob (sb.) by trickery: He was ~d of his money. flee cy ['fli:si] adj. (-ier, -iest) like ~: fleecy clouds (hair, falls of snow).

[1]fleet [fli:t] n. [C] 1. number of warships under one commander; all the warships of a country. 2. number of ships, aircraft, buses, etc., moving or working under one command or ownership.

[2]fleet [fli:t] adj. (poet. or liter.) quick-moving: ~ of foot, ~-footed. ~ly adv., ~ness n.

Fleet Street ['fli:t 'stri:t] n. (street in London where there are many newspaper offices, hence) the press; London journalism.

fleet ing ['fli:tiŋ] adj. passing quickly: pay sb. a ~ visit, a short visit before one goes on to another place; ~ happiness, lasting for a short time.

Flem ing ['flemiŋ] n. inhabitant of Flanders. Flem ish ['flemiʃ) adj. & n. (language) of Flanders.

flesh [fleʃ] n. [U] 1. soft substance, esp. muscle, between the skin and bones of animal bodies: Tigers are ~-eating animals. put on (lose) ~, become fat (thin). ~ and blood, human nature with its emotions, weaknesses, etc.: more than ~ and blood can stand, more than human nature can bear. one's own ~ and blood, one's near relatives. make a person's ~ creep, frighten or horrify him (esp. with dread of sth. supernatural). have (demand) one's pound of ~, (from Shakespeare's 'Merchant of Venice', Act IV, Sc. 1) insist cruelly on repayment of what was borrowed. in the ~, in life, in bodily form. go the way of all ~, die. ˈ~-pots n. pl. good food and material comforts. ˈ~-wound n. one that does not reach the bone or vital organs. 2. physical or bodily desires; sensual appetites: the sins of the ~. 3. the body (contrasted with the mind and soul): The spirit is willing but the ~ is weak (of a person who is willing to do sth., but is physically weak or lazy). 4. pulpy part of fruits and vegetables. ~ly adj. of the body; sensual. ~y adj. fat; of ~.

fleur-de-lis ['flə:də'li:] n. heraldic lily; royal arms of France.

flew p.t. of fly.

[1]flex [fleks] n. [C & U] (length of) flexible insulated wire(s) for electric current.

[2]flex [fleks] v.t. (VP 1) bend (e.g. a limb).

Fleur-de-lis

flex i ble [ˈfleksəbl] adj. easily bent without breaking; (fig.) easily changed to suit new conditions; (of persons) adaptable. flex i bil i ty [ˌfleksiˈbiliti] n. [U].

flib ber ti gib bet [ˈflibətiˈdʒibit] n. frivolous person too fond of gossip.

flick [flik] n. [C] 1. quick light blow (e.g. with a whip or the tip of a finger). 2. short sudden movement; jerk. ˈ~-*knife n. knife with a blade (inside the handle) which can be brought into position (for use as a weapon) with a ~ of the wrist. v.t. (VP 1, 7, 10) strike with a ~, give a ~ with (a whip, etc.); strike (sth.) (off or away): He ~ed the horse with his whip (~ed his whip at the horse). She ~ed the fly off her cheek. He ~ed the knife open.

flick er [ˈflikə*] v.i. (VP 21, 23) 1. (of a light; fig. of hopes, etc.) burn or shine unsteadily; flash and die away by turns: The candle ~ed and then went out. A faint hope still ~ed in her breast. 2. move back and forth, wave to and fro: leaves ~ing in the wind; ~ing shadows; the ~ing tongue of a snake. n. (usu sing.) ~ing movement: a weak ~ of hope

fli er see flyer.

^{1}flight [flait] n. 1. [U] flying through the air: the art of ~; study the ~ of birds, how they fly. in ~, while flying. 2. [C] journey made by air; distance covered: a non-stop ~ from Paris to New York; ~s in a balloon; the spring and autumn ~s (seasonal migrations) of birds. ˈ~-*deck n. (on an aircraft-carrier) deck for taking off from and landing on. 3. [U] swift movement through the air: the ~ of an arrow. 4. [C] number of birds or objects moving together through the air: a ~ of arrows (swallows). in the highest ~, taking or occupying a leading place. 5. [U] swift passing: the ~ of time. 6. [C] soaring; going up above the ordinary: a ~ of the imagination (wit, fancy, ambition). 7. [C] series (of stairs, etc., without change of direction); stairs between two landings: My bedroom is two ~s up. There was no lift and we had to climb six ~s of stairs. 8. [C] small group of aircraft of the Royal Air Force. (See Appendix 2 for F~ Lieutenant, F~ Sergeant, etc.).

^{2}flight [flait] n. 1. [U] (act of) fleeing or running away (from danger, etc.): seek safety in ~; put the enemy to ~, defeat them and cause them to flee. take ~, take to ~, run away. 2. [C] instance of this: the ~ into Egypt (of Mary with the infant Jesus); a ~ of capital (e.g. when capital is sent abroad during a financial crisis).

flight y [ˈflaiti] adj. (of a person, his behaviour, character) influenced by wild flights of the imagination; unsteady: fickle.

flim sy [ˈflimzi] adj. (-ier, -iest) (of material) light and thin; (of objects) easily injured and destroyed: a ~ cardboard box; (fig.) a ~ excuse (argument). n. [C] very thin sheet of paper (e.g. as used when several carbon copies are made on a typewriter). flim si ly *adv., flim si ness *n.

flinch [flintʃ] v.i. (VP 21, 23, 24) draw or move back; wince: have a tooth pulled out without ~ing. You mustn't ~ from an unpleasant duty.

fling [fliŋ] v.t. & i. (p.t. & p.p. flung [flʌŋ]) 1. (VP 1, 7, 10, 18, 19) throw violently: ~ one's hat up (in the air); ~ a stone at sb. or sth.; ~ one's clothes on, dress hurriedly; ~ the doors and windows open, open them quickly and forcibly; be flung into prison; ~ caution to the winds, act recklessly; ~ off one's pursuers, escape from them. She flung him a scornful look. 2. (VP 1, 10, 18) move (oneself, one's arms, etc.) violently, hurriedly, and carelessly or angrily: ~ one's arms up (about); ~ oneself into a chair 3. (VP 23, 24) go angrily or violently; rush: She flung out of the room. He flung off without saying goodbye. n. [C] 1. act of ~ing; ~ing movement. have a ~ at, (a) make an attempt at. (b) jeer at: have a ~ at a defeated rival. 2. kind of impetuous dance: the Highland ~, as danced in Scotland. have one's ~, have a time of unrestricted pleasure.

flint [flint] n. [U] very hard kind of stone found in lumps like pebbles, steel-grey inside and white outside; [C] piece of this used with steel to produce sparks; [C] piece of hard alloy used in a cigarette-lighter to produce sparks. ˈ~-*lock n. old kind of gun in which ~ was used. ˈ~*stone n. ~ pebbles used for building walls, etc. ~y adj. (-ier*, -iest) very hard, like ~.

flip [flip] v.t. & i. (-pp-) 1. (VP 1, 10) put (sth.) into motion by a snap of the finger and thumb; throw with a jerk: ~ a coin (down) on the counter. 2. (VP 24 with at) strike smartly: ~ at a horse with a whip. 3. flick: ~ the ash off a cigar. n. [C] quick, light blow; fillip.

flip pant [ˈflipənt] adj. not showing deserved respect: a ~ answer (remark). ~ly *adv. flip pan cy [ˈflipənsi] n. [U] being ~; [C] ~ remark, etc.

flip per [ˈflipə*] n. 1. limb of certain sea-animals (not fish) used in swimming. Seals, turtles, and penguins have ~s. 2. device worn on the feet (see the illustr. at frogman) to increase the thrust of leg movements in swimming.

flirt [fləːt] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 24) 1. make love for amusement, without serious intentions: She ~s with every handsome man she meets. 2. pretend to be interested in; think about, but not seriously:

He's been ~ing with the idea of going to Moscow. n. man who makes love to a woman for amusement; woman who invites or accepts attentions from a man for amusement. flir ta tion [fləːˈteiʃən] n. [U] flirting; [C] instance of this: carry on a ~ation. flir ta tious [fləːˈteiʃəs) adj. fond of ~ing; of ~ing.

lit [flit] v.i. (-tt-) 1. (VP 23, 24) fly or move lightly and quickly: bees ~ting from flower to flower; bats ~ting about in the dusk; (fig.) fancies that ~ through one's mind. 2. (in Scotland and northern England) remove from one house to another; change one's abode (e.g. secretly, to avoid paying debts).

litch [flitʃ] n. [C] side of bacon, salted and cured.

liv ver [ˈflivə*] n. (U.S.A. colloq.) small, cheap motor-car.

loat [flout] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 23, 24) be held up in air, gas, or (esp.) on the surface of liquid; move with moving liquid or air: dust ~ing in the air. Wood ~s on water. A balloon ~ed across the sky. The boat ~ed down the river. 2. (VP 1) cause to ~; keep ~ing: ~ a raft of logs down a river. The ship was ~ed by the tide (e.g. after sticking fast on a sand-bank). There wasn't enough water to ~ the ship. 3. (VP 1) (commerce) get (esp. financial) support in order to start (sth.): ~ a new business company. ~ing adj. 1. fluctuating; variable: the ~ing population, that part which varies very much (e.g. sailors in a seaport); the ~ing vote, the votes of those persons who are not committed to a political party. 2. ~ing bridge, one made of boats or rafts. 3. ~ing debt, one of which part must be paid on demand, or at a stated time.

loat [flout] n. [C] 1. piece of cork or other light material used on a fishing-line (to indicate when the bait has been taken) or to support the edge of a fishing-net. 2. hollow ball or other air-filled container (e.g. to regulate the level of water in a cistern, or to support an aircraft on water). ˈ~-plane n. seaplane with two ~s fastened below the fuselage to give the plane buoyancy on water. 3. low platform on wheels, used for showing things in a procession; kind of wagon or cart with a low floor.

lo(a) ta tion [flouˈteiʃən] n. [U & C] floating (def. 3) of a business company or enterprise.

lock [flɔk] n. 1. number of birds or animals (usu. sheep, goats) of one kind, either kept together or feeding and travelling together: a ~ of wild geese; ~s and herds, sheep and cattle. 2. crowd of people: Visitors came in ~s to see the new bridge. 3. Christian congregation; number of people together in sb.'s charge: a priest (teacher) and his ~. v.i. (VP 23, 24, 25) gather, come, or go together in great numbers: The children ~ed round their teacher. People ~ed to hear the new prophet.

^{2}flock [flɔk] n. [C] tuft of wool or hair; (pl.) wool or cotton waste for stuffing mattresses, etc.

floe [flou] n. [C] sheet of ice moving on the sea.

flog [flɔg] v.t. (-gg-) (VP 1) beat severely with a rod or whip: ~ a dead horse, waste one's energies. ~ging n. [U] beating or whipping; [C] instance of this.

^{1}flood [flʌd] n. [C] 1. (coming of a) great quantity of water in a place that is usually dry: The rainstorms caused ~s in the low-lying parts of the town. in ~, (of a river) overflowing its banks. the F~, Noah's F~, that described in Genesis. 2. great outpouring or outburst: ~s of rain (tears); a ~ of light (anger, words, letters). 3. (also ~-tide) flowing in of the tide (cf. ebb): The tide is at the ~. ˈ~-gate n. gate opened and closed to admit or keep out water, esp. the lower gate of a lock. ˈ~-lights n. pl. artificial lighting thrown in many directions on the outside of a building so that there are no shadows. ˈ~-light v.t. light up by this method: The cathedral was ~-lit.

^{2}flood [flʌd] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 18, 10) cover or fill with a flood (lit. & fig.): The meadows were ~ed. The soldiers broke the dikes and ~ed the country-side to keep back the enemy. We have been ~ed with requests for help. The stage of the theatre was ~ed with light. 2. (of rain) fill (a river) to overflowing: rivers ~ed by heavy rainstorms. 3. (VP 10) ~ out, compel to leave because of a ~: Thousands of people were ~ed out, forced to leave their homes. 4. (VP 23) come (in) in great quantities or numbers: Applications ~ed in.

^{1}floor [flɔː*, flɔə*] n. [C] 1. lower surface of a room; part on which one walks: sitting on the ~; a bare ~, one with no carpet, rugs, or other covering. ˈ~-cloth n. piece of rough cloth for wiping or washing ~s. ˈ~-lamp n. one mounted on a tall standard to stand on the floor. ~ show, entertainment (in a restaurant, etc.) presented on the ~ (among the guests), not on a stage. 2. number of rooms, etc., on the same level in a building: the ground ~ (level with the street); the first ~ (in Gt. Brit., above the ground ~; U.S.A. = ground ~); the third and fourth ~s (= U.S.A. second and third ~s). ˈ~-ˌwalker n. (= shop-walker) person employed in a large shop or store to direct customers, oversee sales, etc. 3. bottom of the sea, of a cave, etc. 4. part of an assembly hall (e.g. the Houses of Parliament, Congress) where members sit: take the ~, speak in a debate. 5.

opp. of ceiling, def. 2) minimum level (of prices). ~ing n. [U] material (e.g. boards) used for making ~s.

²floor [flɔː*, flɔə*] v.t. (VP 1) 1. put (a floor) in a building. 2. knock down: ~ a man in a boxing match. 3. (of a problem, argument, etc.) puzzle, defeat: Tom was ~ed by two of the questions in the examination paper.

flop [flɔp] v.i. & t. (-pp-) 1. (VP 21, 23, 24) move, fall, clumsily or helplessly: The fish we had caught were ~ping about in the bottom of the boat. He ~ped down on his knees and begged for mercy. 2. (VP 10, 18) put down or drop clumsily or roughly: ~ down a heavy bag. 3. (VP 21) (sl.) (of a book, a play for the theatre, etc.) fail. n. act or sound of ~ping; (sl.) failure (of a book, play, etc.) adv. with a ~: fall ~ into the water. ~py adj. inclined to ~; hanging down loosely: a ~py hat.

flo ra [ˈflɔːrə] n. all the plants of a particular area or period.

flo ral [ˈflɔːrəl] adj. of flowers: ~ designs.

flor id [ˈflɔrid] adj. 1. very much ornamented; (too) rich in ornament and colour: ~ carving; a ~ style (e.g. of writing). 2. (of a person's face) naturally red: a ~ complexion. ~ly adv.

flor in [ˈflɔrin] n. (British) coin worth 2*s.*

flor ist [ˈflɔrist] n. shopkeeper selling (and sometimes growing) flowers.

floss [flɔs] n. [U] rough silk threads on the outside of a silkworm's cocoon; (also ~ silk) silk spun from these for needlework.

flo ta tion, see floatation.

flo til la [flouˈtilə] n. fleet of small warships (e.g. destroyers).

flot sam [ˈflɔtsəm] n. [U] parts of a wrecked ship or its cargo floating in the sea. (Cf. jetsam.)

¹flounce [flauns] v.i. (VP 23, 24) move, go, with quick, agitated, or impatient movements: ~ out of the room. n. [C] fling; jerk; sudden impatient movement of the body.

²flounce [flauns] n. [C] strip of cloth or lace sewn by the upper edge to a woman's skirt as an ornament. v.t. (VP 1) trim with a ~ or ~s.

¹floun der [ˈflaundə*] v.i. (VP 21, 23, 24) make violent and usu. vain efforts (as when trying to get out of deep snow, or when one is in deep water and unable to swim); (fig.) hesitate, make mistakes, when trying to do sth.: ~ through a speech (e.g. in a foreign language).

²floun der [ˈflaundə*] n. small flat-fish, used as food.

flour [ˈflauə*] n. [U] fine meal, powder, made from grain, used for making bread, cakes, pastry, etc. v.t. (VP 1) cover or sprinkle with ~. ~y adj. of, like, covered with, ~.

flour ish [ˈflʌriʃ] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21) grow in a healthy manner; be well and active; prosper: His business is ~ing. I hope you are all ~ing, keeping well. 2. (VP 1) wave about and show: ~ a sword. 3. (VP 21) (of famous writers, etc.) be alive and active (at the time indicated): Socrates ~ed about 400 B.C. n. [C] ~ing movement; curve or decoration, ornament in handwriting (e.g. to a signature); loud, exciting passage of music: a ~ of trumpets (e.g. to welcome a distinguished visitor).

flout [flaut] v.t. (VP 1) oppose; treat with contempt: ~ sb.'s wishes (advice).

flow [flou] v.i. (pt. & p.p. ~ed [floud]) (VP 21, 23, 24) 1. move along or over as a river does; move smoothly: Rivers ~ into the sea. The tears ~ed from her eyes. The river ~ed over (overflowed) its banks. Gold ~ed (= was sent) out of the country. 2. (of hair, articles of dress, etc.) hang down loosely: ~ing robes; a ~ing tie; hair ~ing down her back. 3. come from; be the result of: Wealth ~s from industry and economy. 4. (of the tide) come in; rise: The tide began to ~. (Cf. ebb.) n. (sing. only) ~ing movement; quantity that ~s: a good ~ of water; a ~ of angry words; the ebb and ~ of the sea. The tide is on the ~, coming in.

flow er [ˈflauə*] n. 1. that part of a plant that produces seeds. in ~, with the ~s out. ˈ~-bed n. plot of land in which ~s are grown. ˈ~-*girl n. girl who sells ~s (e.g. in a market). ˈ~-*pot n. pot, usu. of red earthenware, in which a plant may be grown. ˈ~-*show n. exhibition at which ~s are shown (often in competition for prizes). 2. (fig., sing. only) finest part: in the ~ of one's strength; the ~ of the nation's manhood, the finest men. 3. *~s of speech, ornamental phrases. v.i. (VP 21, 23) produce ~s: ~ing bushes; late-~ing chrysanthemums. flow ered adj. decorated with floral patterns: ~ed chintz. ~y adj. having many ~s: ~y fields; (fig.) full of ~s of speech: ~y language. ~less adj. not having, not producing, ~s.

Flower-pots

flown [floun] p.p. of fly.

flu [fluː] n. (colloq. abbrev. of) influenza.

fluc tu ate [ˈflʌktjueit] v.i. (of levels, prices, etc.) move up and down; be irregular: fluctuating prices; ~ between hope and despair. fluc tu a tion [ˌflʌktjuˈeiʃən] n. [U] fluctuating; [C] fluctuating movement: fluctuations of temperature; fluctuations in the exchange rates.

flue [fluː] n. [C] passage, pipe, or tube for carrying smoke up a chimney or heat to or from a boiler, oven, etc.: clean the ~s of soot.

flu ent [ˈfluənt] adj. (of a person) able to speak smoothly and readily: a ~ ɔeaker; (of speech) coming smoothly ıd readily: speak ~ French. ~ly adv.

u en cy [ˈfluənsi] n. [U] the quality of eing ~.

ff [flʌf] n. 1. [U] soft, feathery stuff ıat comes from blankets or other soft oolly material; soft fur or ^{2}down. 2. ungled attempt. (See the v., def. 2.) .t. 1. (VP 1, 10) shake, puff, or spread ut: ~ out a pillow. The bird ~ed (out) is feathers. 2. (VP 1) bungle (sth. in ames, in speaking one's lines in a play, tc.): ~ a stroke (e.g. in golf); ~ a atch (e.g. fail to catch the ball in ricket). ~y adj. of or like ~; covered vith ~: Newly hatched chickens are like ~y balls.

u id [ˈflu(ː)id] adj. able to flow (as gases nd liquids do); (of ideas, etc.) not fixed; apable of being changed: ~ opinions plans). n. [C & U] ~ substance (e.g. vater, air, mercury). flu id i ty [flu(ː)iditi] n. quality of being ~.

uke [fluːk] n. [C] sth. resulting from a ortunate accident; lucky stroke: win e.g. a game of billiards) by a ~.

uke [fluːk] n. broad, triangular flat end f each arm of an anchor. (See the llustr. at this word.)

uke [fluːk] n. parasite, a kind of flat vorm, found in a sheep's liver.

ume [fluːm] n. [C] artificial channel for arrying water for industrial use (e.g. o a water-wheel in a mill).

um mox [ˈflʌməks] v.t. (VP 1) (colloq.) lisconcert; confound.

ung [flʌŋ] p.t. & p.p. of fling.

un key [ˈflʌŋki] n. (pl. -keys [-kiz]) U.S.A. flunky, pl. -ies) (contemptuous erm for a) man-servant in uniform (e.g. footman).

u or es cent [fluəˈresnt] adj. (of subtances) taking in radiations and sending hem out in the form of light: ~ lamps lighting). flu or es cence n.

ur ry [ˈflʌri] n. [C] short, sudden rush f wind or fall of rain or snow; (fig.) ervous hurry: in a ~ of excitement alarm). v.t. (VP 1) cause (sb.) to be onfused, in a nervous hurry, etc.: Keep calm! Don't get flurried.

ush [flʌʃ] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 22, 23) of a person, his face) become red beause of a rush of blood to the skin: The girl ~ed (up) when the man spoke o her. He ~ed crimson with indignation. 2. (VP 1) (of health, heat, emotions, etc.) ause (the face) to become red in this vay; (fig.) fill with pride; encourage: Shame ~ed his cheeks. She was ~ed with exercise. The men were ~ed with uccess (joy, insolence). 3. (VP 1) clean r wash with a ~ of water: ~ the drains; ~ the pan (e.g. in a w.c., by emptying he cistern). 4. (VP 21, 23) (of water) ush out in a flood.

h [flʌʃ] n. 1. [C] rush of water; rush of blood to the face; reddening caused by this; rush of emotion, excitement caused by this: in the first ~ of victory. 2. [U] fresh growth of vegetation, etc.; high point or new access of strength: the first ~ of spring, the time when trees and plants send out new leaves; in the first ~ of youth.

^{3}flush [flʌʃ] adj. 1. even; in the same plane; level (with): doors ~ with the walls. 2. (predic.) having plenty; well supplied (with): ~ with money.

^{4}flush [flʌʃ] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) (of birds) (cause to) rise suddenly and fly away: ~ a pheasant.

flus ter [ˈflʌstə*] v.t. (VP 1) make nervous or confused. n. nervous state: all in a ~.

^{1}flute [fluːt] n. musical wind-instrument in the form of a wooden pipe with holes to be stopped by the fingers. v.i. play the ~. flut ist n. ~-player; flautist.

A flute

^{2}flute [fluːt] v.t. (VP 1) make vertical grooves in (a pillar) etc.: ~d columns. flut ing n. (collective) grooves cut on a surface as a decoration.

flut ter [ˈflʌtə*] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10, 21, 23) (of birds) move the wings hurriedly or irregularly without flying, or in short flights only; cause (the wings) to move in this way: The wings of the bird still ~ed after it had been shot down. The bird ~ed its wings in the cage. The wounded bird ~ed to the ground. 2. (VP 1, 10, 21, 23) (cause to) move about in a quick, irregular way; (of the heart) beat irregularly: curtains ~ing in the breeze; apple-blossom petals ~ing to the ground. She ~ed about the room nervously. n. 1. (usu. sing.) ~ing movement: the ~ of wings. 2. (sing. with indef. art.) state of nervous excitement: in a ~; cause (make) a ~. 3. [U] vibration: wing ~ (as a defect of an aircraft in flight): tape ~ (of tape, in a tape-recorder). 4. (colloq.) gambling venture: go to the races and have a ~, make a bet or bets.

flu vial [ˈfluːvjəl] adj. of, found in, rivers.

flux [flʌks] n. 1. [U] continuous succession of changes: in a state of ~. 2. (sing. only) flowing; flowing out. 3. substance mixed with metal to promote fusion.

^{1}fly [flai] n. (pl. flies) two-winged insect, esp. the common house-fly; natural or artificial fly, used as a bait in fishing for trout, etc. (Hence ˈ*fly-fishing.*) a fly in the ointment, a small circumstance that prevents pleasure from being perfect. There are no flies on him, (sl.) he is very efficient, cannot be tricked, etc. ˈ*fly-blown adj. (of meat) (going bad because) containing flies' eggs. ˈ*fly-ˌcatcher n. kinds of bird; trap for catching flies. ˈ*fly-ˌpaper n. strip of sticky paper for catching flies. ˈ*fly-trap n. trap for catching flies.

A fly

²fly [flai] v.i. & t. (p.t. flew [fluː], p.p. flown [floun]) 1. (VP 20, 21, 23, 24, 25) move through the air as a bird does, or in an aircraft: birds flying in the air; fly from London to Paris; fly (across) the Atlantic. fly high, be ambitious. The bird is (has) flown, the person wanted has escaped. 2. (VP 1) direct or control the flight of (aircraft); transport (goods, passengers) in aircraft: Five thousand passengers were flown to Paris during Easter week-end. 3. (VP 21, 23, 24, 25) go or move quickly; rush along; pass quickly: He flew down the road. The children flew to meet their mother. It's getting late; we must fly. The door flew open. He paid us a flying visit, a very short, fleeting visit. send things flying, send or throw them quickly in various directions. send sb. flying, drive him away. make the money fly, spend it quickly. fly to bits, fly in pieces, break to bits and scatter. make the feathers (dust) fly, cause quarrelling or fighting. let fly (at), attack (e.g. by shooting, throwing sth., or using strong language). fly into a rage (passion), become angry suddenly. fly to arms, take up arms eagerly. 4. (VP 1) cause (a kite) to rise and stay in the air; raise (a flag) and allow it to wave in the air. 5. run away from; flee from: fly the country.

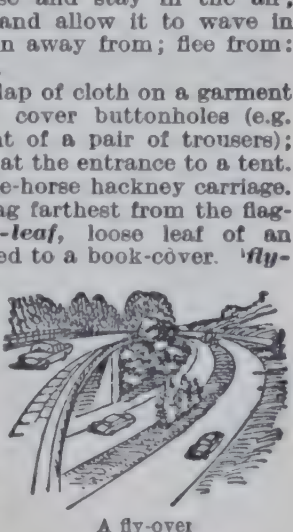
³fly [flai] n. 1. flap of cloth on a garment to contain or cover buttonholes (e.g. down the front of a pair of trousers); flap of canvas at the entrance to a tent. 2. (old use) one-horse hackney carriage. 3. part of a flag farthest from the flagpole. 4. ˈ*fly-leaf, loose leaf of an endpaper pasted to a book-cover. ˈ*fly-ˈover, (a) road junction at which bridges cross the opposing streams of traffic. (b) (also ˈ*fly-past*) procession of aircraft flying in formation (as an item in a review, etc.).



A fly-over

ˈ*fly-wheel* n. heavy wheel on a revolving shaft to regulate machinery

⁴fly [flai] adj. (sl.) knowing; wide-awake; not to be deceived or hoodwinked fly er, fli er [ˈflaiə*] n. 1. animal, vehicle, etc., going with exception speed. 2. airman.

fly ing [ˈflaiiŋ] adj. that flies or make movements like flight: ˈ~ ˈ*fish,* kind that rise into the air with the help fins; ˈ~ ˈ*fox,* kinds of fruit-eating bat the ˈ~ ˈ*squad,* part of a police force wit cars, for rapid pursuit of criminals; ˈ~ ˈ*jump,* one made with a runnin start; a ˈ~ ˈ*visit,* a hasty visit, one mad while passing; a ˈ~ ˈ*buttress,* one slantin from a pier to a wall, usu. carried on a arch. n. (gerund) of or for aircraft o aviation: a ˈ~ field (club); a ˈ~-boat form of seaplane without floats; ˈ*F~ ˌOfficer,* rank in the Royal Air Force (se Appendix 2).

foal [foul] n. young horse (colt or filly) in (with) ~, (of a mare) pregnant. v.i (VP 21) give birth to a ~.

foam [foum] n. [U] 1. white mass o small air bubbles formed in or on liquid by motion, or on an animal's lip (e.g. after exertion). 2. (also ~-rubber) spongy rubber used in upholstery (e.g in seats, mattresses). v.i. (VP 21, 23) form ~; break into ~; send out ~ (at the mouth): waves ~ing along the beach; glass of ~ing beer, beer with froth on it ~ing with rage, looking angry. ~y adj.

¹fob [fɔb] v.t. (-bb-) (VP 10) fob sth. of on sb., fob sb. off with sth., get a person to accept sth. of little or no value by deceit or trickery. He fobbed me off with promises that he never intended to keep.

²fob [fɔb] n. (old use) small pocket for a watch, formerly made in the waistband of a pair of breeches.

fo cal [ˈfoukəl] adj. of or at a focus: the ~ length (distance) of a lens, from the centre of a lens to its focus.

fo'c'sle [ˈfouksl] n. forecastle.

fo cus [ˈfoukəs] n. (pl. focuses or foci [ˈfousai]) 1. meeting-point of rays of light, heat, etc.; point, distance, at which the sharpest outline is given (to the eye, through a telescope, through a lens on a camera plate, etc.): The image is out of ~. Bring the object into ~ if you want a good photograph. 2. point at which interests, tendencies, etc., meet: the ~ of attention; the ~ of an earthquake (storm, disease, etc.). v.t. & i. (-s- or -ss-) 1. (VP 1, 18, 21, 23) (cause to) come together at a ~; adjust (an instrument, etc.) so that it is in ~: ~ the sun's rays on sth. with a burning-glass; ~ the lens of a microscope. ~ing screen (glass) n. sheet of glass at the back of some kinds of camera, used for getting the right ~ before taking a photograph. 2. (VP 18) concentrate: ~ one's attention (thoughts, efforts) on a problem.

der ['fɔdə*] n. [U] dried food, hay, c., for farm animals, horses, etc.

[fou] n. (poet.) enemy. foe man fouman] n. (pl. -men [-mən]) (archaic) emy in war.

tus, fe tus ['fi:təs] n. fully developed nbryo in the womb or in an egg.

[fɔg] n. 1. [U] vapour suspended in ne atmosphere at or near the earth's urface, thicker than mist, and difficult see through: Fog is the sailor's worst nemy. in a fog, (fig.) puzzled; at a loss. fog-bank n. dense mass of fog on the ea. 'fog-bound adj. unable to proceed afely because of fog. 'fog-horn n. nstrument used for warning ships in og. 'fog-ˌsignal n. device placed on ailway lines in fog to explode when a rain passes over it and so warn drivers. . [C] period of fog; abnormal darkened tate of the atmosphere: London has ad fogs in winter. 3. [C & U] (area of) loudiness on a developed photographic late or film. v.t. (-gg-) cover with, as vith, fog; bewilder: I'm a bit fogged, uzzled. fog gy ['fɔgi] adj. (-ier, -iest) . dense, not clear, because of fog: a oggy evening; foggy weather. 2. ob- cure; confused: have only a foggy idea f what something means.

gey ['fougi] n. (pl. fogeys) (also U.S.A., ogy, pl. fogies) (usu. old ~) person with ld-fashioned ideas which he is un- villing to change.

i ble ['fɔ̆ibl] n. [C] slight peculiarity or efect of character, often one of which person is wrongly proud.

il [fɔil] n. 1. [U] metal rolled or ham- nered so that it is very thin like paper: ead (tin, aluminium) ~ (e.g. as wrapped ound chocolate or cigarettes). 2. [C] erson or thing that contrasts with, and hus sets off, the qualities of another: plain old woman serves as a ~ to a eautiful young woman.

il [fɔil] n. light sword without a point r sharp edge, for fencing.

il [fɔil] v.t. (VP 1) baffle; prevent (sb.) rom carrying out his plans; make plans, designs) ineffective: We ~ed him his plans). He was ~ed in his attempt o deceive the girl.

ist [fɔist] v.t. (VP 10, 18) ~ sth.* (off) *n sb., trick him into accepting (a use- ess article, etc.).

ld [fould] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10) bend ne part of a thing back over on itself: ~ a letter (before putting it in an en- elope); ~ up a newspaper; ~ back the edclothes. 2. (VP 21, 23) become ~ed; e able to be ~ed: ~ing doors (having inged parts); a ~ing boat (bed, chair), nade so as to occupy a smaller space vhen not in use. The window shutters ~ back. ~ up, (fig.; colloq.) collapse; ome to an end. 3. ~ one's arms, cross hem over the chest. ~ (sb. or sth.) in one's arms, hold to the breast. 4. (VP 10) cover, wrap up: ~ sth. (up) in paper; ~ sth. round; hills ~ed in mist. n. 1. part that is ~ed: a dress hanging in loose ~s; line made by ~ing. 2. hollow among hills or mountains. ~er n. 1. holder (made of ~ed cardboard or other stiff material) for loose papers. 2. ~ing card or paper with advertisements, railway time-tables, etc., printed on it.

^{2}fold [fould] n. [C] enclosure for sheep; (fig.) body of religious believers; members of a Church. return to the ~, come or go back home (esp. rejoin a body of believers). v.t. (VP 1) put (sheep) in a ~.

-fold [-fould] suffix as in two~, double; four~, four times.

fol i age ['fouliidʒ] n. [U] all the leaves of a tree or plant.

fo li o ['fouliou] n. (pl. -os) 1. sheet of paper numbered on one side only; page number of a printed book; (book-keeping) two opposite pages of a ledger, used for both sides of an account. 2. large sheet of paper folded once to make two leaves or four pages (of a book); volume made of such sheets: ~ volumes; in six volumes ~.

folk [fouk] n. 1. (collective n., used with pl. vb.) people in general: Some ~ are never satisfied. Is there more honesty among country ~ than among towns~? 2. (in compounds) of the common people of a country; of a tribe: '~-dance; '~-song; '~-tale; '~-lore, (study of the) traditional beliefs, tales, etc., of a people. 3. (pl.) (colloq.) relatives: the old ~s at home.

fol low ['fɔlou] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 20, 21, 23) come, go, have a place, after (in space, time, or order): You go first and I will ~ (you). Monday ~s Sunday. They ~ed us for miles. One misfortune ~ed (upon) another. His arguments were as ~s, as now to be given. ~ on, (a) ~ after an interval. (b) (cricket, of a side) bat again after failing to get the necessary number of runs. '~-on n. doing this. 2. (VP 1) go along, keep to (a road, etc.): F~ this road until you get to the church; then turn left. 3. (VP 1, 21) understand (an argument, sth. said, etc.): Do you ~ my argument? He spoke so fast that I couldn't ~ him (~ what he said). 4. (VP 1) engage in (as a business, trade, etc.): ~ the sea, be a seaman; ~ the plough, be a ploughman; ~ the law; ~ the trade of a hatter. 5. (VP 1) take or accept (as a guide, an example, etc.): ~ sb.'s advice; ~ the fashion; ~ suit, do what has just been done by sb. else. 6. (VP 21) be necessarily true: Because he is good, it does not ~ that he is wise. It ~s from what you say that . . . 7. (VP 10) ~ sth. up, pursue, work at further: ~ up an advantage (a victory). ~ sth. out, keep to, carry out, to the end: ~ out an enterprise. ~er n. 1. supporter; disciple: Robin Hood and his ~ers; camp-~ers, persons who ~ an army. 2. man courting a maid-servant. ~ing adj. (esp. as pron.) the ~ing, the one or ones about to be mentioned. n. body of supporters: a political leader with a large ~ing.

fol ly ['fɔli] n. [U] foolishness; [C] foolish act, idea, or practice; ridiculous thing.

fo ment [fou'ment] v.t. (VP 1) 1. put warm water or cloths, lotions, etc., on (a part of the body, to lessen pain, etc.). 2. (fig.) cause or increase (disorder, discontent, ill feeling, etc.). fo men ta tion [ˌfoumen'teiʃən] n. [U] ~ing; [C] that which is used for ~ing.

fond [fɔnd] adj. 1. (predic. only) be ~ of, like, be full of love for, take pleasure in: ~ of music. 2. loving and kind: a ~ mother; ~ looks. 3. foolishly loving; doting: a young wife with a ~ husband. 4. (of hopes, ambitions) held, but unlikely to be realized. ~ly adv. 1. lovingly: look ~ly at sb. 2. in a foolishly optimistic manner: He ~ly imagined that he could learn French in six weeks. ~ness n.

fon dant ['fɔndənt] n. [C] kind of soft sweet that melts in the mouth.

fon dle ['fɔndl] v.t. (VP 1) touch or stroke lovingly: ~ a baby (a doll).

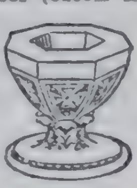
font [fɔnt] n. basin or vessel (often in carved stone) to hold water for baptism; basin for holy water.



A font

food [fu:d] n. [U] (except when used for 'a kind of ~') that which can be eaten by people or animals, or used by plants, to keep them living and for growth: ~ and water; (attrib.) ~ rationing; (fig.) ~ for thought (reflection), sth. to think (reflect) about. '~-*stuff n. material used as ~. ~less adj. without ~.

^{1}fool [fu:l] n. 1. person without much sense; stupid or rash person; person of whose conduct one does not approve: What ~s we were not to see the joke! make a ~ of sb., trick him, cause him to seem like a ~. (go, be sent) on a ~'s errand, one that in the end is seen to be useless. (live, be) in a ~'s paradise, in unthinking happiness that is unlikely to last. be a ~ for one's pains, do sth. and get neither reward nor thanks. '~-*proof adj. so simple or easy that even a ~ cannot misunderstand it or use it wrongly. 2. (in the Middle Ages) man employed by a ruler or noble as a clown or jester. 3. April ~ n. person deceived, or sent on a ~'s errand, on All F~s' day,* 1 April. '~*scap n. size of writing or printing paper (usu. 17 in. × 13½ in. unfolded). adj. (attrib.; colloq.) foolish, silly: some politician or other.

^{2}fool [fu:l] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 23) behav like a fool; trifle; be idle and If you go on ~ing with that gun, there' be an accident. Stop ~ing (about)!
(VP 1, 10, 18) cheat: He ~ed her out her money. You can't ~ me into doin that. ~ sth. away, waste foolishly ~ away one's time (money, etc.).

^{3}fool [fu:l] n. creamy liquid of stewe fruit (esp. gooseberries), crushed an mixed with cream or milk.

fool er y ['fu:ləri] n. [U] foolish be haviour; (pl.) foolish acts, ideas, utterances.

fool har dy ['fu:lha:di] adj. foolishl bold; taking unnecessary risks. fool har di ness n.

fool ish ['fu:liʃ] adj. without reaso sense, or good judgement; silly: How ~ of you to consent! It would be ~ for to quarrel. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

^{1}foot [fut] n. (pl. feet [fi:t]) 1. part formin the lower end of the leg, beginning the ankle: A dog has four feet. A dog' feet are called paws. He rose to his fee stood up. on ~, (a) walking, not riding (Cf. go somewhere on ~, by bus, tram etc.) (b) in motion: A project is on ~ build a new tunnel here. be on one'
feet, be standing; (fig.) be in goo health (after an illness); be earning one' living, not needing financial help.
sb. (or sth.) on his (its) feet, mak him (it) self-supporting, not needin help. set sth. on ~, start it, set going. put one's ~ down, object, pro test, be firm. put one's ~ into it, sa or do sth. unsuitable or wrong, make stupid remark; blunder. keep one'
feet, not fall (e.g. when walking on ice) (Cf. lose one's footing.) fall on one'
feet, be fortunate, have good luck carry sb. off his feet, fill him with strong enthusiasm. have one ~ in the grave, be near death (because of ol age). find one's feet (see find, def. 2) put one's feet up, (colloq.) rest with th legs in a horizontal position. under ~,
on the ground: wet under ~. (See als wait on sb. (bind sb.) hand and ~.*)
2. (compounds) '~-*and-'mouth disease n. serious disease (kind of fever) of horned cattle, etc. '~*ball n. [C] inflated leather ball used in games; [U]
the game played with it. '~-*bath n.
(small bath used for a) washing of th feet. '~*board n. sloping board for th feet of the driver (in a carriage, etc.)
'~-bridge n. one for the use of person on ~, not vehicles. '~*fall n. sound of ~step. '~*hold n. support for the ~ (e.g. when climbing on rocks or ice) (fig.) secure position. '~*man n. manservant who admits visitors, waits a table, etc. '~*mark, '~*print nn. im-

ression left on a soft surface by a ~.
~pad n. (old name for) robber on ~ ho attacked and robbed travellers on ighways. (Cf. highwayman, robber on orseback). ˈ~-path n. path for the use f persons on ~, esp. one across fields r open country, or at the side of a ountry road. (Cf. U.S.A. trail. See avement and sidewalk.) ˈ~-plate n. latform in a locomotive for the driver nd fireman: ~-plate workers, drivers nd firemen. ˈ~-ˈpound n. energy eeded to raise 1 lb. to a height of 1 ft.
~-race n. running race between per-
ons. ˈ~-ˌslogger n. (colloq.) person who valks or marches long distances. Hence, ~-ˌslogging n. ˈ~sore adj. having ore feet, esp. with walking. ˈ~step n.
sound of a) step of sb. walking; ~- print: follow in sb.'s ~steps, do as he lid. ˈ~stool n. low stool for resting the eet on. ˈ~sure adj. not stumbling; not naking false steps. ˈ~wear n. [U] tradesmen's term for) boots, shoes, etc.
~work n. [U] manner of using the eet (e.g. in boxing, dancing). 3. step, ace, tread: light (swift) of ~, walking r treading lightly (swiftly); have a ight ~. 4. lowest part, bottom: at the ~ of the page (mountain, ladder, wall, lass). ˈ~-hills n. pl. hills lying at the
~ of a mountain or a range of moun-ains. ˈ~note n. one at the ~ of a page.
5. lower end (opp. head) of a bed, grave,
tc. ˈ~lights n. pl. row of screened ights at the front of the stage of a heatre; (fig.) the profession of an actor.
6. measure of length, 12 inches (with pl.
nchanged in compounds used attrib.):
3 feet 6 inches; a man who is five ~ two;
a ˈ*~-rule*, a strip of wood or metal one ~ long, used for measuring; a two-~
ule; a floor 30 square feet in area. 7.
ivision or unit of verse, each with one trong stress and one or more weak tresses, as in: for mén/may cóme/and nén/may/gó. 8. [U] (mil.) infantry: the 4th regiment of ~: ~ and horse, infantry nd cavalry.

oot [fut] v.t. & t. 1. (VP 1) knit the foot
f (e.g. a stocking). 2. (colloq.) ~ it, go n foot, walk: They missed the last bus, nd had to ~ it. 3. (VP 10) add up (an ccount); (VP 23) add up (to): The arious items ~ up to 15s. 4. ~ the bill, agree to) pay it.

oot er [ˈfutə*] n. (colloq.) the game of ootball.

oot ing [ˈfutiŋ] n. 1. placing of the feet; urface for standing on: He lost his ~ stumbled, slipped) and fell. 2. (sing.
nly) position (in society, etc.); relation-hips (with people): get a ~ in society, be ccepted; be on a friendly ~ with people.
3. conditions; state (of the army, etc.):
n a peace (war) ~, in the state usual or peace (war).

foot le [ˈfuːtl] v.i. & t. (colloq.) trifle; play the fool: ~ about; ~ away one's time. foot ling adj. insignificant, trifling: footling little jobs.

fop [fɔp] n. man who pays too much attention to his clothes and personal appearance. ~pish adj. of or like a ~.

^{1}for [fɔː*, fə*] prep. 1. (indicating destination) (a) after vv.: sail for New York; set out for home; a ship bound for the Baltic. (b) after nn.: the train for Glasgow; letters for the provinces; passengers for Cairo. 2. (indicating progress or endeavours towards): make for home, turn one's steps towards home; getting on for 2 o'clock, nearly 2 o'clock. The ship was making for the open sea. The swimmers struck out for the shore. 3. (indicating that to which sb. or sth. is destined or intended) (a) after vv.: He was educated for the law. He felt that he was destined for something great. Put it aside for me. That was meant for a joke. (b) after a n. or pron., showing the recipient: Here's a letter for you. Are these all for me? 4. (indicating preparation) prepare (preparations) for an examination; a large family to provide for; lay in supplies of coal for the winter; dress for dinner; get ready for school. 5. (indicating purpose) (a) (used in place of an inf.) in order to be, have, obtain, etc.; with a view to: go for a walk (ride, swim, etc.); run for one's life; work for one's living; read for pleasure. what for, for what purpose: What's this tool for? What's this hole in the door for? It's for the cat to come in and out by. (See def. 25 (g) below.) What did you do that for? (colloq. Why did you do that?) (b) followed by a gerund: a mill for (= for the purpose of) grinding coffee; a room for sleeping in. 6. (introducing a complement): They were sold for slaves. They left him on the battlefield for dead. They chose him for (= as, to be) their leader. for certain, as being certain: I cannot hold it for certain that . . . 7. (followed by an object of hope, wish, search, inquiry, etc.): hope for the best; pray for peace; fish for trout; ask for (= to see) the manager; go to sb. for help; a cry for help; fifty applicants for a post. 8. (indicating liking, affection, etc.): have a liking for sb. or sth.; a taste for art; no regard for the truth; a weakness for fine clothes. 9. (indicating aptitude): an aptitude for foreign languages; a good ear for music; an eye for the picturesque. 10. (indicating suitability, fitness): bad (good) for your health; (un)fit for food; clothes proper for the occasion. This is no place for a young, innocent girl. You are the very man for the job. 11. (with too and enough): too beautiful for words; quite good enough for me. 12. considering (the circumstances, etc.); in view of: It's quite warm for January. Not bad for a beginner! She is tall for her age. For all the good you're doing, you may as well stop trying to help. 13. representing; instead of; in place of: B for Benjamin; the member for Coventry, the person representing Coventry in Parliament; substitute one thing for another. Will you please act for me in the matter? stand for, represent: The letters M.P. stand for Member of Parliament and the letters P.M. stand for Prime Minister. take sb. or sth. for, mistakenly conclude that sb. or sth. is: He took me for my brother. 14. in defence or support of; in favour of: Are you for or against the proposal? The rate of exchange is for us, in our favour. You may take my word for it. Three cheers for the President! I'm all for an early start (for starting early). 15. with regard to; so far as concerns: hard up for money; anxious for sb.'s safety; for my part, so far as it concerns me; speaking for myself, and in the name of all my colleagues. 16. because of; on account of: for this reason; for my sake; for the sake of peace; for fear of discovery; noted (famous) for its scenery; dance (cry) for joy. She couldn't speak for laughing, because she was laughing so much. We trembled for their safety. 17. (after a comparative) as the result of; because of: My shoes are the worse for wear. Are you any the better for your long sleep? 18. in spite of; notwithstanding: For (in spite of) all you say, I still like her. For all his wealth, he is unhappy. 19. as penalty or reward; in requital of: suffer for one's sins; sent to prison for stealing; win a medal for bravery. 20. to the amount or extent of: Put my name down for £5. He drew on his bank for £40. (Cricket) The score is 157 for 8 wickets. They were all out for 80. 21. in exchange for: I paid 2s. for the book. He did the job for nothing. Don't translate word for word. Plant a new tree for every tree you cut down. 22. in contrast with: For one enemy he has fifty friends. 23. (indicating extent in time): I'm going away for a few days. He will be a cripple for life. That's enough for the present. 24. (indicating extent in space: for may be omitted if it occurs directly after the v.): We walked (for) three miles. For miles and miles there's not a house to be seen. The road is lined with trees for ten miles. 25. (in the pattern, for × noun or pronoun × to-inf.) (a) as the subject of a sentence, usu. with preparatory it: For a woman to divorce her husband is impossible in some countries. It's impossible for there to be a quarrel between us. It seemed useless for them to go on. (b) as a complement: Their hope was for David to marry a wealthy girl. (c) after adjj., esp. with too a enough, usu. replaceable by a c I am anxious for you and my sister (= anxious that you and my should) become acquainted. This box too heavy for her to lift. (d) after nn. There's no need for anyone to know (that anyone should know). It's ti for little girls to be in bed. I'm in hurry for them to do anything in th matter. (e) after vv., including some th normally take for and others that not normally take for: (i) We didn' wait for the others to join us. (ii) Sh couldn't bear for Tom and Mary not t be friends. (f) after than and as (if): I there anything more ridiculous than fo a man of 80 to marry a girl of 18? Sh had her arms wide apart, as if for th child to run into them. (g) indicatin purpose, design, determination, etc.: I have brought the books for you t examine. The crowd made way for the procession to pass. I'd have given anything for this not to have happened. It's for you to decide. For production to b increased we must have efficient organization.

²for [fɔː] conj. (rare in spoken English; not used at the beginning of a sentence) seeing that; since; the reason, proof, explanation, being that: I asked her to stay to tea, for I had something to tell her.

for age [ˈfɔridʒ] n. [U] food for horses and cattle. v.i. search (for food, etc.).

for-as-much-as [fərəzˈmʌtʃæz] conj. (legal) seeing that; since.

for ay [ˈfɔrei] n. [C] raid; sudden attack (esp. to get food, animals, etc.): make (go on) a ~. v.i. (VP 21) make a ~.

for bade [fəˈbeid, fɔːˈbæd] p.t. of forbid.

¹for bear [fɔːbɛə*] v.t. & i. (p.t. forbore [fɔːˈbɔː*, -ˈbɔə*], p.p. forborne [fɔːˈbɔːn]) (VP 1, 2, 21, 24) refrain, refrain from; not use or mention; be patient: I ~ to go into details. I cannot ~ from going into details. I ~ expressing any opinion. ~ance [fɔːˈbɛərəns] n. [U] patience; self-control: show ~ance towards sb.; show ~ance in dealing with people.

²for bear [ˈfɔːbɛə*] n. (usu. pl.) ancestor.

for bid [fəˈbid] v.t. (p.t. forbade [fəˈbeid] or forbad [fəˈbæd], p.p. forbidden [fəˈbidn]) (VP 1, 3, 19) order (sb.) not to do sth.; order that sth. shall not be done; not allow: ~ a girl to marry; ~ a marriage; ~ sb. to leave; ~ his departure. I ~ you the use of that word (~ you to use that word). God ~ that . . ., used to express a wish that something may not happen. ~den fruit, sth. desired because it is not allowed (with reference to Eve and the apple). ~ding adj. stern; repellent; threatening: a ~ding appearance (look); a ~ding coast, one that looks dangerous. ~ding ly adv.

for bore, see ¹*forbear*.

rce [fɔːs] n. 1. [U] strength; power of body or mind; physical power: the ~ of a blow (an explosion, argument); ~ of character; overcome by the ~ of her emotion; by ~ of contrast. The enemy attacked in (great) ~. He overcame his bad habits by sheer ~ of will. Owing to the ~ of circumstances the plans had to be postponed. 2. [C] person or thing that makes great changes: the ~s of nature (e.g. storms, earthquakes). Christianity has been a ~ for good in the lives of many people. Fascism and Communism have been powerful ~s in world affairs. 3. [C] organized body of armed or disciplined men: the armed ~s of a country, the Army, Navy, Air F~; join the F~s; (attrib.) a F~s newspaper, one for members of the armed ~s; the police ~; a small ~ of infantry. join ~s with, unite with, in order to use combined strength. 4. [U & C] (intensity of, measurement of) pressure or influence exerted at a point, tending to cause movement. 5. (law) authority; power of binding (def. 6): put a law into ~, make it binding. When does the new law come into ~? The rule (regulation) is no longer in ~. 6. [U] exact meaning or significance (of a word or phrase): explain the ~ of a word (clause).

orce [fɔːs] v.t. 1. (VP 1, 3, 10, 18) compel, oblige; use force to get or do sth., to make sb. do sth.; break open by using force: ~ one's way through a crowd; ~ a way in (out, through); ~ an entry into a building (e.g. by breaking a door); ~ (open) a door; ~ a confession from sb.; ~ sb. (oneself) to work hard; ~ sb. into doing sth. They said that the war had been ~d upon them, that they had not wanted to make war, but had been compelled to do so. ~d landing, one that an aircraft is compelled to make (e.g. because of engine trouble). ~d march, (e.g. by soldiers) one requiring special effort, made in an emergency. ~ a person's hand, make him do sth. unwillingly, or earlier than he wished or intended to do it. 2. (VP 1) cause (plants, etc.) to mature earlier than is normal (e.g. by giving them extra warmth); (fig.) ~ a pupil, hurry on his education by making him do extra study. 3. (VP 1) produce under stress: ~ a smile (e.g. when one is unhappy); a ~d laugh, one that is not the result of real amusement. The singer had to ~ her top notes.

orce [fɔːs] n. (dial. northern England) waterfall.

orce ful [ˈfɔːsful] adj. (of a person, his character, of an argument, etc.) full of force. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

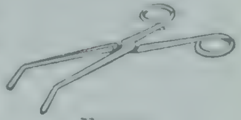
orce-meat [ˈfɔːsmiːt] n. [U] meat chopped up finely, mixed with herbs, etc., used as stuffing (e.g. in a roast chicken).

for ceps [ˈfɔːseps] n. sing. & pl. small pincers or tongs used by dentists (when pulling out teeth) and by doctors for gripping things.



Forceps

for ci ble [ˈfɔːsəbl] adj. 1. done by, involving the use of, force: a ~ entry into a building. 2. (of a person, his acts, words, etc.) convincing; persuasive: a ~ speaker (style of writing). for ci bly adv.

ford [fɔːd] n. [C] shallow place in a river where it is possible to walk across. v.t. (VP 1) cross (a river) by walking through the water. ford a ble [ˈfɔːdəbl] adj. that can be ~ed.

fore [fɔː*, fɔə*] adj. situated in the front (opp. of back, aft): in the ~ part of the train; the ~ hatch (in a ship). n. (sing. only) 1. ~ part (of a ship). 2. to the ~, ready to hand; on the spot: He has come to the ~ recently, has become prominent. adv. (naut.) in front. ~ and aft, at the bow and stern of a ship; lengthwise in a ship: ~ and aft sails (rigged), with sails set lengthwise (cf. square-rigged). (See Appendix 3.) int. (golf) warning (to people in front) that the player is about to drive the ball.

^{1}fore arm [ˈfɔːrɑːm] n. arm from the elbow to the wrist or finger-tips.

^{2}fore arm [fɔːrˈɑːm] v.t. (VP 1, chiefly in passive) arm beforehand; prepare for trouble in advance: To be forewarned is to be ~ed.

fore bode [fɔːˈboud] v.t. 1. (VP 1) be a sign or warning of: These black clouds ~ a storm. 2. (VP 1, 11) have a feeling of (usu. sth. evil); have a feeling (that): ~ disaster. fore bod ing n. [C & U] feeling that trouble is coming.

fore cast [fɔːˈkɑːst] v.t. (p.t. & p.p. ~ or ~ed) (VP 1) say in advance what is likely to happen. n. [ˈfɔːkɑːst] statement that ~s sth.: inaccurate weather ~s.

fore cas tle, fo'c's'le [ˈfouksl] n. (in some merchant ships) part under the bows where the seamen have their living and sleeping accommodation.

fore close [fɔːˈklouz] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) use the right (given by a mortgage) to take possession of property (when interest or capital has not been paid at the required time): The Bank ~d (the mortgage). fore clo sure [fɔːˈklouʒə* n. [C & U] (act of) foreclosing a mortgage.

fore court [ˈfɔːkɔːt, ˈfɔə-] n. enclosed space in front of a building.

fore doom [fɔːˈduːm, fɔə-] v.t. (VP 1, 18, usu. passive) doom beforehand: an attempt that was ~ed to failure.

fore fa thers [ˈfɔːˌfɑːðəz, ˈfɔə-] n. pl. ancestors.

fore fin ger [ˈfɔːˌfiŋgə*, ˈfɔə-] n. first finger, next to the thumb.

fore foot ['fɔ:fut, 'fɔə-] n. (pl. forefeet) one of the front feet of a four-legged animal.

fore front ['fɔ:frʌnt, 'fɔə*-] n. (sing. with def. art.) most forward part: in the ~ of the battle.

fore gath er, see forgather.

^{1}fore go [fɔ:'gou, fɔə-] v.t. & i. (rarely used except in) foregoing adj. preceding, already mentioned. foregone adj. a foregone conclusion, ending that can be seen or could have been seen from the start.

^{2}fore go, see forgo.

fore ground ['fɔ:graund, 'fɔə-] n. 1. part of a view (esp. in a picture) nearest to the observer. 2. (fig.) most conspicuous position: keep oneself in the ~, where one is most easily seen or noticed.

fore hand ['fɔ:hænd, 'fɔə-] adj. (of a stroke at tennis, etc.) made with the palm turned forward. (Cf. backhand.) fore head ['fɔrid] n. part of the face above the eyes.

for eign ['fɔrin] adj. 1. of, in, from, another country, not one's own: ~ languages (countries); ~ trade; the F~ Office, the department of state dealing with ~ affairs; its building in London. 2. ~ to, not natural to, unconnected with: Lying is ~ to his nature. 3. coming or introduced from outside: a ~ body in the eye, e.g. a bit of dirt blown into it by the wind. ~er *n. person born in a ~ country.

fore know [fɔ:'nou, fɔə-] v.t. (-knew, -known) know beforehand. ~ledge [fɔ:'nɔlidʒ] n. [U].

fore land ['fɔ:lənd, 'fɔə-] n. cape; promontory.

fore leg ['fɔ:leg, 'fɔə-] n. one of the front legs of a four-footed animal.

fore lock ['fɔ:lɔk, 'fɔə-] n. lock of hair growing just above the forehead: take time (occasion) by the ~, not let an opportunity slip by; use an opportunity promptly.

fore man ['fɔ:mən, 'fɔə-] n. (pl. -men [-mən]) 1. workman in authority over others. 2. chief member of a jury.

fore mast ['fɔ:mɑ:st, 'fɔə-] n. mast nearest the bow of a ship. (See Appendix 3.)

fore most ['fɔ:moust, 'fɔə-] adj. first; most notable; chief: the ~ painter of his period. adv. first in position: first and ~, before all else; in the first place.

fore name ['fɔ:neim, 'fɔə-] n. (used in official style, e.g. on forms) name preceding the family name.

fore noon ['fɔ:nu:n, 'fɔə-] n. part of the day between sunrise and noon.

fo ren sic [fə'rensik] adj. of, used in, courts of law: ~ skill, skill as needed by barristers, etc.; ~ medicine, medical knowledge as needed in legal matters (e.g. a poisoning trial).

fore or dain ['fɔ:rɔ:'dein, 'fɔə-] v.t. (VP 1, 3, 18) determine or appoint befor hand: what God has ~ed.

fore part ['fɔ:pɑ:t, 'fɔə-] n. part in fron fore run ner ['fɔ:ˌrʌnə*, 'fɔə-] n. 1. s of what is to follow: swallows, the ~s spring. 2. person who foretells and pr pares for the coming of another.

fore sail ['fɔ:seil, 'fɔə-, (naut.) 'fɔ:sl] n principal sail on the foremast. (S Appendix 3.)

fore see [fɔ:'si:, fɔə-] v.t. (p.t. -saw, p.p -seen) (VP 1, 11, 15) see beforehand or i advance: ~ trouble; ~ what will happ (how things will turn out, that things wi go well).

fore shadow [fɔ:'ʃædou, fɔə-] v.t. (VP 1 be a sign or warning of (sth. to come).

fore shore ['fɔ:ʃɔ:, 'fɔəʃɔə] n. part o the shore between the sea and land tha is cultivated, built on, etc.

fore short en [fɔ:'ʃɔ:tn, fɔə-] v.t. (VP 1 (in drawing pictures) show (an object with shortening of lines. (See the illustr at perspective.)

fore sight ['fɔ:sait, 'fɔə-] n. [U] ability t see future needs; care in preparing fo these: If you had had more ~, you would have saved yourself a lot of trouble.

fore skin ['fɔ:skin, 'fɔə-] n. fold of skin covering the end of the male se organ.

for est ['fɔrist] n. 1. [C & U] (large are of) land covered with trees and undergrowth; the trees growing there: ~ stretching for miles and miles; ~ animals; ~ fires. 2. area where game (e.g. deer) is or was hunted (and preserved), not necessarily wooded; (with proper name prefixed, as Sherwood F~) district that was formerly ~ but is now partly under cultivation: the deer ~s in Scotland. 3. (fig.) sth. that suggests ~ trees: a ~ of masts (e.g. in a harbour). ~er *n. officer in charge of a ~ (protecting wild animals, watching for fires, etc.); man who works in a ~. ~ry ['fɔristri] n. [U] (science of) planting and caring for ~s.

fore stall [fɔ:'stɔ:l, fɔə-] v.t. (VP 1, 18) do sth. first and so prevent another from doing it; upset (sb., his plans) by doing sth. unexpectedly early: ~ a competitor.

fore taste ['fɔ:teist, 'fɔə-] n. partial enjoyment or suffering (of sth.) in advance.

fore tell [fɔ:'tel, fɔə-] v.t. (p.t. & p.p. -told) (VP 1, 11, 15) tell beforehand; predict: ~ sb.'s future. Is this the prophe whose coming was foretold (to) us?

fore thought ['fɔ:θɔ:t, 'fɔə-] n. [U] carefu thought or planning for the future.

fore told p.t. & p.p. of foretell.

for ev er [fə'revə*] adv. for always; at all times.

fore warn [fɔ:'wɔ:n, fɔə-] v.t. (VP 1 warn beforehand.

fore-woman ['fɔ:ˌwumən, 'fɔə-] n. (pl -women [-ˌwimin]) woman in authority over other women workers.

e word ['fɔ:wə:d, 'fɔə-] n. [C] introctory remarks to a book, printed in , esp. by someone not the author of the k.

feit ['fɔ:fit] v.t. (VP 1) (have to) suffer e loss of sth. as a punishment or nsequence, or because of rules: ~ the d opinion of one's friends; ~ one's alth. n. [C] sth. (to be) ~ed: His alth was the ~ he paid for overworking. ure ['fɔ:fitʃə*] n. [U] ~ing: (the) foriture of one's property.

r gath er [fɔ:'gæðə*] v.i. (VP 21, 23, 4, 25) come together; meet (with).

r gave p.t. of forgive.

rge [fɔ:dʒ] n. [C] 1. workshop with fire nd anvil where metals are heated and haped, esp. one used by a smith for naking shoes for horses, repairing gricultural machinery, etc. 2. (workshop with) furnace or hearth for melting r refining metal.

rge [fɔ:dʒ] v.t. (VP 1) 1. shape by heating and hammering: ~ an anchor. 2. make a copy of sth. (e.g. a signature, a bank-note, a will) in order to deceive. or ger n. person who ~s (def. 2). or ger y ['fɔ:dʒəri] n. 1. [U] forging def. 2) of a document, signature, etc. 2. [C] ~d document, signature, etc. org ing n. [C] piece of metal that has been ~d (def. 1) or shaped under a press.

r get [fə'get] v.t. & i. (p.t. forgot fə'gɔt], p.p. forgotten [fə'gɔtn]) 1. (VP , 11, 13, 15, 17B, 21, 24 with about): ose remembrance of; fail to keep in the memory; fail to recall: I ~ (or I've orgotten) her name. I shall never ~ your indness to me. Did you ~ (that) I was oming? I have forgotten how to do it where he lives, whether he wants it). I orgot all about it. I shall never ~ hearing Chaliapin singing the part of Boris Goudenov. ~-me-not n. small plant with blue flowers. 2. (VP 2) neglect or ail (to do sth.): Don't ~ to post the etters. He has forgotten to pay me. 3. VP 1, 21) put out of the mind; stop hinking about: Let's ~ our quarrels. Forgive and ~. 4. (VP 1) omit to pay attention to: Don't ~ the waiter, give im a tip. 5. ~ oneself, (a) behave houghtlessly in a way not suited to ne's dignity, to the circumstances. (b) ct unselfishly, thinking only of the nterests of others. ~ful adj. in the abit of ~ting: He's very ~ful of things. Old people are sometimes ~ful. ~ful ly dv. ~ful ness n.

r give [fə'giv] v.t. & i. (p.t. forgave fə'geiv], p.p. forgiven [fə'givn]) (VP 1, , 19C, 21) 1. say that one no longer as the wish to punish (sb. for doing th.); no longer have the wish to punish b. for (an offence, a sin); pardon or how mercy to (sb.); no longer have hard eelings towards (sb.): ~ sb. for being rude (~ his rudeness). Am I ~n? F~ us our trespasses. Your sins will be ~n you. 2. not demand repayment of (a debt), not demand repayment of a debt from (sb.): He forgave the debt. Will you ~ me the debt? for giv ing adj. ready or willing to ~: a forgiving nature. for giv ing ly adv. ~ness n. [U] forgiving or being ~n; willingness to ~: ask for (receive) ~ness; full of ~ness.

for go [fɔ:'gou] v.t. (p.t. ~went, p.p. ~gone) do without; give up: ~ pleasures in order to study hard.

for got ten, p.p. of forget.

fork [fɔ:k] n. [C] 1. implement with two or more points (prongs), used for lifting food to the mouth, carving, etc. ~ luncheon (dinner), one (for more persons than can be seated at table) at which food is served so that it may be conveniently eaten with a ~ only. 2. farm tool for breaking up the ground, lifting hay, straw, etc. 3. place where a road, tree-trunk, etc., divides or branches. (See also tuning-~.) 4. '~-lift, powered truck or trolley with mechanical means of lifting and lowering goods (to or from storage space, or for loading and unloading). v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10, 18) lift, move, carry, with a ~ (def. 2): ~ hay (straw); ~ in manure, dig it into the ground with a ~; ~ the ground over, turn the soil over with a ~. 2. (VP 21, 23) (of a road, river, etc.) divide into branches; (of persons) turn (left or right): We ~ed right at the church. 3. (VP 10, 23 with out or up; sl.) hand over, pay: I've got to ~ out a lot of money to the Collector of Taxes this year. forked [fɔ:kt] adj. branching; dividing into two or more parts: a ~ed road; a bird with a ~ed tail; ~ed lightning, zigzag.

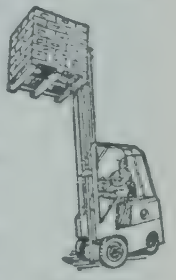
A fork (def. 2)



A fork-lift

for lorn [fə'lɔ:n] adj. unhappy; uncared for; forsaken. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

for lorn hope [fə'lɔ:n 'houp] n. [C] desperate enterprise; plan or enterprise which has very little likelihood of success.

¹form [fɔ:m] n. 1. [U] shape; outward or visible appearance: without shape or ~; take ~; [C] person or animal as it can be seen or touched: A dark ~ could be seen in the distance. Proteus was a Greek sea-god who could appear in the ~ of any creature he wished. He has a well-proportioned ~, a well-shaped body. 2. [U] general arrangement or structure; way in which parts are put together to make a whole or a group; style or

manner of presentation: a piece of music in sonata ~; have a sense of ~ in painting (form being contrasted with colouring); literary ~ (form being contrasted with subject-matter). 3. [C] particular kind of arrangement or structure; manner in which a thing exists; species, kind, or variety: ~s of government; ~s of animal and vegetable life. Ice, snow, and steam are ~s of water. 4. (gram.) [U] shape taken by a word: change ~; different in ~ but identical in meaning; [C] one of the shapes taken by a word (in sound or spelling): The word 'brother' has two plural ~s, 'brothers' and 'brethren'. The past tense ~ of 'run' is 'ran'. 5. [U] manner of behaving or speaking fixed, required, or expected by custom or etiquette: do sth. for ~'s sake (i.e. because it is usual, not because one wishes to do it or likes doing it); say 'Good morning' as a mere matter of ~ (i.e. not because one is really pleased to see the person to whom the words are spoken); good (bad) ~, behaviour according to (not according to) custom or etiquette. 6. [C] particular way of behaving, etc.; greeting, utterance, act, as required by custom or etiquette; established practice or ritual: the ancient ~s observed at the coronation of a sovereign; pay too much attention to ~s; a ~ of prayer used at sea; ~s of worship. 7. [C] printed paper with spaces to be filled in: telegraph ~s; ~s of application; printed or typewritten letter sent out in great numbers (also called a ~ letter). 8. [U] condition of health and training (esp. of horses and athletes): If a horse is not in good ~ it is unlikely to win a race. On ~ (judging from recent performances as evidence of condition and training), the Aga Khan's horse is likely to win the race. Smith is out of ~ (has lost his ~) and is unlikely to run in the 100 metres race tomorrow. 9. [U] spirits: Jack was in great ~ at the dinner party, in high spirits, lively. 10. [C] long wooden bench, usu. without a back, for several persons to sit on. 11. [C] class in some British (grammar and *public) schools, the youngest boys and girls being in the first ~ and the oldest in the sixth ~. ~less adj. without shape. ~less ly adv.

^{2}form [fɔːm] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 18) give shape or form to; make; produce: ~ words and sentences; ~ the plural of a noun by adding -s or -es; ~ one's style (in writing) on good models. 2. (VP 1) develop, build up, conceive: ~ good habits; ~ a child's character (mind) (by training, discipline, etc.); ~ ideas (plans, judgements, opinions, conclusions). 3. (VP 1, 18) organize: ~ a class for beginners in French. The President invited M. Mollet to ~ a Ministry. They ~ed themselves into a committee. 4. (VP be (the material of); be (one or part What ~s the basis of this compoun This series of lectures ~s part of a co plete course on French history. 5. (VP 10, 18, 23, 24) (cause to) move i a particular order: ~ a regiment int columns; ~ into line; ~ fours, (mil., ge into ranks of four). 6. (VP 21) com into existence; become solid; ta shape: The idea ~ed in his mind. T words would not ~ on her lips, she coul not bring herself to speak them. Ice ~ at the temperature of 32° F or 0° C.

for mal [ˈfɔːməl] adj. 1. in accorda with rules, customs, and convention pay a ~ call on the Ambassador; ~ dr (as required by custom for certa occasions); make a ~ (ceremonious) bo to sb.; a ~ receipt (according to com mercial custom, regular and in g order). 2. regular or geometric i design; symmetrical: ~ gardens (e.g. with flower beds, hedges, etc., in geometrical patterns). 3. of the outwar shape or appearance (not the reality or substance): a ~ resemblance between tw things. 4. ~ grammar, of the forms of words, of rules (of syntax, etc.). ~ly adv. ~ism [ˈfɔːməlizəm] n. [U] exact observance of forms and ceremonies (e.g. in religious duties, in behaviour).

for mal i ty [fɔːˈmæliti] n. 1. [U] strict attention to rules, forms, and convention: There was too much ~ in the Duke's household. 2. [C] formal act; sth. required by custom or rules: legal formalities; comply with all the necessary formalities; a mere ~, sth. one is required or expected to do, but which has little meaning or importance.

for mat [ˈfɔːmæt, ˈfɔːmɑː] n. shape and size of a book, including the type, paper, and binding: reissue a book in a new ~.

for ma tion [fɔːˈmeiʃən] n. 1. [U] forming or shaping: the ~ of character (of ideas in the mind); [C] that which is formed: Clouds are ~s of condensed water vapour. 2. [U] structure or arrangement: troops (warships) in battle ~; military aircraft flying in ~; (attrib.) ~ flying; [C] particular arrangement or order: rock ~s.

for ma tive [ˈfɔːmətiv] adj. 1. giving, or tending to give, shape to: ~ influences (e.g. on a child's character). 2. pliable: the ~ years of a child's life, the years during which its character is formed.

for mer [ˈfɔːmə*] adj. 1. of an earlier period: in ~ times; my ~ students; customs of ~ days. She looks more like her ~ self, looks well again after her illness. 2. (also as pron.) the ~ (contrasted with the latter), the first-mentioned of two: I prefer the ~ alternative to the latter. Of these alternatives I prefer the ~. ~ly adv. in ~ times.

or mic [ˈfɔːmik] adj. ~ acid, the acid contained in the fluid emitted by ants.

or mi da ble [ˈfɔːmidəbl, fɔːˈmid-] adj. 1. causing fear or dread: a man with a ~ appearance. 2. requiring great effort to deal with or overcome: ~ obstacles (opposition, enemies, debts). for mi da bly adv.

or mu la [ˈfɔːmjulə] n. (pl. -las [-ləz], or, in scientific usage, -lae [-liː]) 1. form of words used regularly (as 'How d'you do?', 'Excuse me', 'Thank you'); phrase or sentence regularly used in legal documents, church services, etc.: the ~ used in baptism. 2. statement of a rule, fact, etc., esp. one in signs or numbers, as in chemistry, mathematics, etc. (e.g. 'Water = H_2O'). 3. set of directions, usu. in symbols, for a medical preparation: a ~ for a cough mixture.

or mu late [ˈfɔːmjuleit] v.t. (VP 1) express clearly and exactly: ~ one's thoughts (a doctrine). for mu la tion [ˌfɔːmjuˈleiʃən] n. [U] formulating; [C] exact and clear statement.

or ni ca tion [ˌfɔːniˈkeiʃən] n. [U] voluntary sexual intercourse between persons not married to one another (esp. when both are unmarried). (Cf. adultery.) or ra der [ˈfɔrədə*] adv. (colloq.) more forward: can't get any ~, can't make any progress.

or sake [fəˈseik] v.t. (p.t. forsook [fəˈsuk], p.p. forsaken [fəˈseikən]) (VP 1) give up; break away from; desert: ~ one's wife and children; ~ bad habits. His friends forsook him when he became poor.

or sooth [fəˈsuːθ] adv. (used in irony) no doubt; in truth.

or swear [fɔːˈswɛə*] v.t. (p.t. forswore [fɔːˈswɔː*], p.p. forsworn [fɔːˈswɔːn]) (VP 1) 1. give up doing or using (sth.): ~ bad habits (smoking). 2. ~ oneself, say, after taking a solemn oath, sth. that is untrue.

ort [fɔːt] n. building or group of buildings specially erected or strengthened for military defence.

orte [fɔːt] n. person's strong point; sth. a person does particularly well: Singing is not my ~, I do not sing well.

or te [ˈfɔːti] adj. & adv. (mus.) (abbrev. f.) loud(ly).

orth [fɔːθ] adv. 1. out (which is more usual). 2. onwards; forwards: from this day ~; and so ~ (= and so on); back and ~, to and fro (which is more usual).

orth com ing [fɔːθˈkʌmiŋ] adj. 1. about to come out: a list of ~ books, books about to be published. 2. (predic.) ready for use when needed: The money (help) we hoped for was not ~, we did not receive it. 3. (colloq.) ready to be helpful, give information, etc.: The girl at the reception desk was not very ~.

orth right [fɔːθˈrait] adj. outspoken; straightforward forth with [ˈfɔːθˈwiθ, -ˈwið] adv. at once; without losing time.

for ti fy [ˈfɔːtifai] v.t. (VP 1, 18) strengthen (a place) against attack (with walls, trenches, guns, etc.); support or strengthen (oneself, one's courage, etc.): ~ a town against the enemy; a fortified city (zone); ~ oneself against the cold (e.g. by having a good meal); fortified with the rites of the Church, prepared, by having received the Sacraments, for death. for ti fi ca tion [ˌfɔːtifiˈkeiʃən] n. [U] ~ing; [C] (often pl.) defensive wall(s), tower(s), earthwork(s), etc.

for tis si mo [fɔːˈtisimou] adj. & adv. (mus.) (abbrev. ff.) very loud(ly).

for ti tude [ˈfɔːtitjuːd] n. [U] calm courage, self-control, in the face of pain, danger, or difficulty.

fort night [ˈfɔːtnait] n. period of two weeks: a ~'s holiday; go away for a ~; a ~ today (tomorrow, next Monday); a ~ ago yesterday. ~ly *adj. & adv. happening or occurring every ~: ~ly sailings to Bombay; go ~ly.

for tress [ˈfɔːtris] n. fortified building or town.

for tu i tous [fɔːˈtju(ː)itəs] adj. happening by chance: a ~ meeting. ~ly *adv.

for tu nate [ˈfɔːtʃənit] adj. favoured by fortune; lucky; prosperous; having, bringing, brought by, good fortune: be ~ in life. You were ~ to escape being injured. He was ~ enough to have a good income. That was ~ for you. You were ~ in your choice (in winning his sympathy). ~ly *adv. in a ~ manner: ~ly for everybody.

for tune [ˈfɔːtʃən] n. 1. [U & C] chance; chance looked upon as a power deciding or influencing sb. or sth.; fate; good or bad luck coming to a person or undertaking: have ~ on one's side, be lucky; the ~(s) of war, what may happen in war; try one's ~, take a risky step; by good ~; tell sb. his ~, say (e.g. as gipsies do, from a reading of playing cards, or the lines on his palm) what will happen to him. ˈ~-ˌ*teller n. person who claims to be able to do this. 2. [U & C] prosperity; success; great sum of money: a man of ~; seek one's ~ in a new country; make a ~, earn great wealth; marry a ~, a woman who is or will be rich (e.g. an heiress); spend a small ~ (colloq. a lot of money) on clothes; come into a ~, inherit a large sum of money or valuable property. ˈ~-ˌ*hunter n. man seeking a rich wife.

for ty [ˈfɔːti] adj. & n. the number 40, XL: a man of ~, aged 40; under (over) ~; the forties, years of life or of a century between 39 and 50. ~ winks, (colloq.) short sleep (esp. during the daytime). for ti eth [ˈfɔːtiiθ] adj. & n. next after the 39th; one of 40 equal parts.

fo rum [ˈfɔːrəm] n. (in ancient Rome) public place for meetings; any place for public discussion: (fig.) the ~ of conscience.

¹for ward [ˈfɔːwəd] adj. (cf. backward) 1. directed towards the front; situated in front; moving on, advancing: a ~ march (movement); the ~ ranks of a column of troops; ~ planning, for future needs, etc.; be well ~ with one's work. 2. (of plants, crops, seasons, children) well advanced; making progress towards maturity: a ~ spring. 3. eager or impatient; ready and willing: ~ to help others; too eager; rather presumptuous: a ~ young girl. 4. advanced or extreme: ~ opinions. 5. (commerce) relating to future produce: ~ prices (for goods to be delivered later); a ~ contract. n. one of the first-line players in football, hockey, etc. (See Appendix 4.) ~ness *n. the state of being ~ (def. 2): the ~ness of the season.

²for ward [ˈfɔːwəd] v.t. (VP 1, 18, 19) 1. help or send forward; help to advance: ~ sb.'s plans. 2. send, dispatch: ~ goods to sb. We have today ~ed you our new catalogue. 3. send (a letter, parcel, etc.) after a person to a new address: Please ~ my letters to this address. ~ing agent n. person or business company that ~s goods.

³for ward(s) [ˈfɔːwəd(z)] adv. (Note: the -s form is rare or not much used except as in 4 below.) 1. onward so as to make progress: rush (step) ~; go ~. (See forrader.) 2. towards the future; onwards in time: from this time ~; look ~, think ahead, think about the future. (See carriage, def. 3.) 3. to the front; into prominence: bring ~ (call attention to) new evidence; come ~, offer oneself for a task, a post, etc. 4. backward(s) and ~(s), to and fro.

fosse [fɔs] n. [C] long, narrow excavation or trench, esp. as part of a military fortification.

fos sil [ˈfɔsil] n. [C] 1. recognizable (part of a) prehistoric animal or plant once buried in earth, now hardened like rock: hunt for ~s; (attrib.) ~ bones (shells); ~ ferns in coal. 2. person who is out of date and unable to accept new ideas: Isn't Professor B an old ~! ~ize *v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) change or turn into stone; (fig.) make or become out of date or antiquated. ~i za tion [ˌfɔsilaiˈzeiʃən] n.

fos ter [ˈfɔstə*] v.t. (VP 1) 1. care for; help the growth and development of: ~ a child; ~ the sick; ~ musical ability. 2. have in one's heart or mind: ~ evil thoughts (a desire for revenge). ˈ~-ˌparent (-ˌmother, -ˌfather) nn. one who acts as a parent in place of a real parent. ˈ~-ˌbrother (-ˌsister) nn. one not actually related by blood, but adopted by one's parent(s) and brought up as a member of the family. ˈ~-child n. one brought up by ~-parents.

fought [fɔːt] p.t. & p.p. of fight.

¹foul [faul] adj. 1. causing disgust; having a bad smell or taste; filthy: a ~ prison cell; medicine with a ~ taste; ~-smelling drains; a ~ dinner (sl., a poor dinner). 2. wicked; evil; (of language) full of oaths; obscene; (of the weather) stormy; rough. ˈ~-ˌspoken (-mouthed), adj. using ~ language. by fair means or ~, somehow or other, whether by good or evil methods. 3. ~ *play, (a) (in sport) sth. contrary to the rules. (b) violent crime, esp. murder: Is ~ play suspected, do the police think this is a case of murder? 4. entangled: a ~ rope. 5. (of a flue, pipe, gun-barrel, etc.) clogged up, not clear: The fire won't burn; perhaps the chimney is ~, needs sweeping. 6. fall ~ of, (a) (of a ship) run against, collide with, become entangled with. (b) (fig.) get into trouble with: fall ~ of the law. n. 1. [C] (sport) sth. contrary to the rules; irregular stroke or piece of play. 2. [U] through fair and ~, through good and bad fortune; through everything. ~ly *adv. in a ~ manner: He was ~ly murdered. ~ness *n.

²foul [faul] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) 1. make or become foul: factory chimneys that ~ the air with smoke; ~ one's name (reputation); ~ a drain (gun-barrel). 2. collide; collide with; (cause to) become entangled: The rope ~ed the anchor chain. His fishing-line ~ed the weeds.

¹found [faund] p.t. & p.p. of find.

²found [faund] v.t. (VP 1) 1. start the building of; lay the base of; establish: ~ a new city (a colony in a new country). The Methodist Church was ~ed by John Wesley. 2. get sth. started by providing money (esp. endowments): ~ a new school. 3. construct (on, upon): a novel ~ed on fact; arguments ~ed on facts.

foun da tion [faunˈdeiʃən] n. 1. [U] founding or establishing (of a town, school, church, or other institution). 2. [C] sth. that is founded (e.g. a college, monastery, hospital); fund of money (for charity, research, etc.): the Carnegie F~. 3. [C] (often pl.) strong base of a building, usu. below ground-level, on which it is built up: the ~(s) of a block of flats. ~-stone n. stone laid at a ceremony to celebrate the founding of a building. 4. [C & U] that on which an idea, belief, etc., rests; underlying principle; basis; starting-point: the ~s of religious beliefs; lay the ~(s) of one's career; a story that has no ~ in fact (is without ~). 5. (trade use) ~ garment, woman's corset or other garment to shape and support the body; ~ cream (cosmetics) cream used on the skin before other cosmetics are applied.

und er ['faundə*] n. person who founds
r establishes a school, etc. foun dress
'faundris] n. woman ~.

un der ['faundə*] v.i. & t. (VP 21, 3, 1) 1. (of a ship) (cause to) fill with vater and sink. 2. (of a horse) fall or tumble (esp. in mud) or from overwork; ause (a horse) to break down from verwork.

und ling ['faundliŋ] n. deserted or bandoned child of unknown parents.
~ hospital, institution where ~s are aken in and cared for.

und ry ['faundri] n. place where metal r glass is melted and moulded: a type ~ where type for printing is made).

unt [faunt] n. 1. (poet.) spring of water.
2. (also ['fɔnt]) set of printer's type.

un tain ['fauntin] n. 1. spring of water,
sp. one made artificially with water orced through holes in a pipe or pipes or ornamental purposes. 'drinking-~
. one that supplies drinking-water in public place. '~-pen n. pen with a upply of ink inside the holder. 2. (fig.)
ource or origin: the ~ of honour.
~-'head n. original source.

ur [fɔ:, fɔə] n. & adj. the number 4, V: a child of ~, ~ years old; an income
f ~ figures, between 999 and 10,000; coach and ~, with ~ horses; the ~ corners of the earth, the farthest parts; scatter sth. to the ~ winds, in all directions; ~-letter words, term used for certain words of ~ letters (e.g. shit) which are not in decent use. go on all ~s, on the hands and knees. a ~, a rowing-boat with a crew of ~; (cricket) hit for ~ runs.
~-in-'hand n. vehicle (coach or carriage) pulled by ~ horses and with no outrider. '~-part adj. (mus.) arranged for ~ voices to sing. ~pence ['fɔ:pəns]
n. the sum of 4*d.*: apples, ~pence a pound.
~-penny ['fɔ:pəni] adj. costing 4*d.*: a ~- penny loaf. '~-ply adj. (of wool, wood, etc.) having ~ strands or thicknesses.
~-'poster n. bed with ~ posts to support a canopy or curtains. '~-'pounder
n. gun throwing a 4-lb. shot. '~'score
adj. & n. 80; age of 80 years. '~'square adj.
square-shaped; (fig.)
steady; solidly based.
'~-'wheeler n. ~-
wheeled hackney carriage (not a hansom cab). ~fold ['fɔ:fould]
adj. repeated ~ times;
having ~ parts. adv. ~ times as much or as many. ~some ['fɔ:səm] n. game
(esp. of golf) between two pairs: a mixed ~some, with one man and one woman in each pair. ~teen ['fɔ:'ti:n] n. & adj.
the number 14, XIV. ~teenth ['fɔ:-
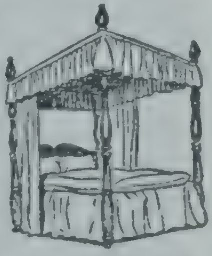
'ti:nθ] n. & adj. the next after the 13th; one of 14 equal parts. fourth [fɔ:θ] n. & adj. the next after the 3rd; one of four equal parts: the ~th chapter. fourth ly adv. in the ~th place (esp. in enumerations).



A four-poster bed

fowl [faul] n. 1. (old use) any bird: the ~s of the air. 2. (with a prefix) one of the larger birds: 'wild-~, 'water-~. 3. domestic cock or hen: keep ~s. '~-run n. piece of (usu. enclosed) land where ~s are kept. 4. [U] flesh of ~s as food: roast ~ for dinner. v.i. (VP 21) catch, hunt, snare, wild-~: go ~ing. '~ing-piece n. light shot-gun used in ~ing. ~er n. person who shoots or traps wild birds for food.

fox [fɔks] n. (fem. vixen) wild animal of the dog family, with (usu.) red fur and a bushy tail, preserved in England for hunting, and proverbial for its cunning. 'fox-glove n. plant with tall-growing spikes of purple or white flowers. 'foxhole n. (mil.) hole in the ground used as a shelter against enemy fire and as a firing-point. 'foxhound n. kind of hound bred and trained to hunt foxes. 'foxhunt n. & v.i. chasing of, chase, foxes with hounds. 'fox-'terrier n. small and lively short-haired dog used for driving foxes from earths, or kept as a pet. 'foxtrot n. (music for a) dance with short, quick steps. fox y adj. crafty; crafty-looking.

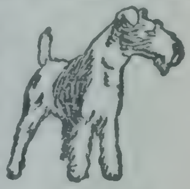
A fox



A fox-terrier

foy er ['fɔiei, (F.) fwaje] n. large space in a theatre for the use of the audience during intervals; large public room in a hotel.

fra cas ['frækɑ:, (pl.) -z, (U.S.A.) 'freikəs] n. (pl. same in spelling) noisy quarrel.

frac tion ['frækʃən] n. 1. small part or bit. 2. number that is not a whole number (e.g. ½, 5/8, 0·76). ~al ['frækʃənl] adj. of or in ~s: ~al distillation, partial separation of liquids (e.g. petroleum) having different boiling-points by gradual heating.

frac tious ['frækʃəs] adj. (usu. of children, or senile persons) irritable; peevish; bad-tempered. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

frac ture ['fræktʃə*] n. [U] breaking or being broken (esp. of a bone); [C] instance of this: compound (simple) ~s, with (without) skin wounds. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) break; crack: ~ one's leg; bones that ~ easily.

frag ile ['frædʒail, (U.S.A.) 'frædʒil] adj. easily injured, broken, or destroyed: ~ china (health, happiness). fra gil i ty [frə'dʒiliti] n. [U].

frag ment ['frægmənt] n. [C] part broken off; separate or incomplete part: try to put the ~s of a broken vase together; overhear ~s of conversation. frag men ta ry ['frægməntəri] adj. incomplete: a ~ary report of an event. frag men ta tion [ˌfrægmen'teiʃən] n.: ~ation bomb, one that breaks up into small ~s when exploded.

fra grant ['freigrənt] adj. sweet-smelling: ~ flowers; (fig.) ~ memories. fra grance n. [U] sweet or pleasing smell.

frail [freil] adj. weak; fragile: a ~ child, one with a weak constitution; a ~ support; ~ happiness; a ~ woman, morally weak, unable to resist temptation. ~ty ['freilti] n. [U] the quality of being ~: the ~ty of human life; [C] fault; moral weakness: He loved her in spite of her little frailties.

^{1}frame [freim] n. [C] 1. skeleton or main structure (e.g. steel girders, brick walls, wooden struts) of a ship, building, aircraft, etc., which makes its shape, esp. in the process of building. ~ aerial n. one in which the wire is round a ~ (instead of being stretched out between two poles, etc.). ~ house n. one with a wooden skeleton covered with boards. 2. border of wood or other material in which a picture, photograph, window, or door is enclosed or set; structure that holds the lenses of a pair of spectacles. 3. human or animal body: a girl of slender ~. Sobs shook her ~. 4. portable box-like structure of wood and glass for protecting plants from the cold. 5. ~ of mind, temporary state or condition of mind: in a cheerful ~ of mind; in the ~ of mind to welcome any diversion. 6. (more usu. ~work) established order or system: the ~ of society. 7. one picture in a cinema film or film-strip. ~work ['freimwəːk] n. that part of a structure that gives shape and support: a bridge with a steel ~work; the ~work of a government.

^{2}frame [freim] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10) put together; shape; build up: ~ a plan (theory, sentence); a house ~d to resist hurricanes; a man not ~d for severe hardships, unable to endure them well. 2. (VP 1) put a frame (def. 2) round; enclose in a frame: ~ a photograph; have an oil-painting ~d; serve as a frame: a landscape ~d in an archway. 3. (VP 23) develop; give promise of developing: plans that ~ well (badly). The child is framing well, seems likely to be clever or skilful. 4. (sl.) (VP 1, 10 with up) form a plan to make (sb.) appear guilty of sth.; put together a false charge against (sb.): The accused man said he had been ~d. '~-up n. (sl.) prearranged events with evil intentions (as when an innocent man is made to appear guilty sth.).

franc [fræŋk] n. standard unit of cu rency in France, Belgium, and Switze land.

fran chise ['fræntʃaiz] n. 1. (usu. sin with def. art.) full rights of citizensh given by a country or town, esp. th right to vote at elections. 2. [C] (chief U.S.A.) special right given by publ authorities to a person or company: ~ for a bus service.

Fran cis can [fræn'siskən] n. & ad
(friar) of the religious order founded 1209 by St. Francis of Assisi.

Fran co- ['fræŋkou-] (used in com pounds) French: the ~-German War 1870–71.

Frank [fræŋk] n. member of the Germa tribes that conquered France in the 6t century A.D.

^{1}frank [fræŋk] adj. showing clearly th thoughts and feelings; open: a ~ loo (smile, face); make a ~ confession one's guilt; be quite ~ with sb. (abou sth.). ~ly adv. ~ness n.

^{2}frank [fræŋk] v.t. (VP 1) exempt (letter etc.) from postal charges (as, in forme times, peers and Members of Pa liament could, by putting their sign ture on the cover); stamp (letter with a ~ing-machine). '~ing-maˌchin
n. machine that automatically stamp letters passed through it, with a coun ing mechanism to show the total charg set and locked by Post Office officia according to the sum paid in advance.

frank furt er ['fræŋkfətə*] n. seasone sausage made of beef and pork.

frank in cense ['fræŋkinˌsens] n. [U kind of resin from trees, giving a swee smell when burnt.

frank lin ['fræŋklin] n. (in Gt. Brit 14th and 15th cc.) landowner not o noble birth, higher in rank than yeoman.

fran tic ['fræntik] adj. wildly excite (with joy, pain, anxiety, etc.): ~ crie for help; drive sb. ~. fran ti cal ly *adv

fra ter nal [frə'təːnl] adj. brotherly: ~ love.

fra ter ni ty [frə'təːniti] n. 1. [U brotherly feeling. 2. [C] society of me (e.g. monks) who treat each other a equals; men who are joined together b common interests: the ~ of the Pres newspaper writers. 3. (U.S.A.) soci of students, with branches in vario colleges. (Cf. sorority.) frat er nize ['frætənaiz] v.i. (VP 21, 2 24) become friendly (with): Men fr

the two armies stopped fighting and ~d Christmas Day. fra ter ni za tion [ˌfr tənai'zeiʃən] n.

frat ri cide ['frætrisaid] n. [C & U (person guilty of) wilful killing of one brother or sister.

rau [frau] n. (of a German wife or widow) Mrs.; German woman.

aud [frɔ:d] n. 1. [U] criminal decep- ion; [C] act of this kind: get money by ~. 2. [C] person or thing that deceives: This hair-restorer is a ~; I'm as bald as ever. ~u lent ['frɔ:djulənt] adj. cting with ~; deceitful; obtained by ~: ~ulent gains. ~u lent ly adv.

aught [frɔ:t] adj. (predic. only) involving; attended by; threatening (unpleasant consequences): an expedition ~ with danger.

äu lein ['frɔilain] n. (of an unmarried German girl) Miss; German spinster.

ay [frei] n. fight; contest: (lit. or fig.) eager for the ~.

ay [frei] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) (of cloth, rope, etc.) become worn, make worn, by rubbing so that there are loose threads: ~ed cuffs (e.g. on a coat sleeve).

az zle ['fræzl] n. worn or exhausted state: worn to a ~.

eak [fri:k] n. 1. absurd or most unusual idea, act, or occurrence: (attrib.) a ~ storm. 2. (also ~ of nature) person, animal, or plant that is abnormal in form (e.g. a five-legged sheep). ~ish adj. abnormal: ~ish behaviour. ~ish ly adv. ~ish ness n.

eck le ['frekl] n. one of the small light-brown spots on the human skin; (pl.) such spots on the face and hands caused by sunburn. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) (cause to) become covered with ~s: a ~d forehead. Some people ~ more easily than others.

ee [fri:] adj. (freer [friə*], freest ['friist]) 1. (of a person) not a slave; not in the power of another person or other persons; not in prison; having personal rights and social and political liberty: The prisoners were pardoned and set ~. Were the Pyramids built by slave labour or by ~ labour? (See also ~ labour, def. 3.) '~'*born adj. inheriting liberty and rights of citizenship. '~*man ['fri:mæn] n. person who is not a slave or a serf. (See also ~man, def. 9.) 2. (of a State, its citizens, and institutions) not controlled by a foreign government; having representative government in which private rights are respected: Great Britain, the land of the ~; the ~ democracies of western Europe. 3. not fixed or held back; able to move about without hindrance; unrestricted; not controlled by rules, regulations, or conventions: leave one end of the rope ~, loose; ~ hydrogen, not combined with another element. You are ~ to go or stay as you please. She is not ~ to marry, cannot do so (e.g. because she has to look after her parents). One of the parts has worked ~, become loose, out of position. have (give, allow, sb.) a ~ hand, authority to do what seems best without consulting others. F~ Church, one unconnected with the State. the F~ Churches, the nonconformists. ~ enterprise, (of commerce, etc.; contrasted with nationalized undertakings) not controlled by the State or by local government authorities. a ~ fight, one in which anyone present may join; one open to all comers. '~-*for-'all n. dispute, quarrel, etc., in which all are allowed to express their views, fight for their own points of view, etc. '~-*hand adj. (of drawings) done by hand with easy movements, no ruler, compasses, or other instrument being used: a ~-hand sketch. '~-'*handed adj. generous; giving and spending money generously. '~*hold n. (holding of) land in absolute ownership. '~*holder n. person who possesses ~hold estate. ~ *house n. public-house not controlled by a brewery, and able, for this reason, to stock and sell all brands of beer, etc. (Cf. tied house.) ~ *labour n. workers not belonging to trade unions. (Cf. def. 1.) '~-'*lance n. (a) (in the Middle Ages) soldier ready to serve anyone for pay. (b) independent journalist earning his living by selling articles, etc., wherever he can. v.i. work in this way: He gave up his regular job in order to ~-lance. ~ *love n. sexual relations without marriage. '~-'*liver n. person who indulges without restriction in pleasure (esp. food and drink); (hence) '~-'living n. & adj. ~ *port n. port open to all traders alike, with no trade restrictions, taxes, import duties, etc. ~ *speech n. [U] right to speak in public without interference from the authorities. '~-'*spoken adj. not concealing one's opinions; speaking or spoken frankly. ~ *and easy adj. unceremonious. '~*stone n. easily sawn sandstone and limestone. '~-'*thinker n. person not accepting traditional religious teaching, but basing his ideas on reason; rationalist; (hence) '~-'*thinking adj., '~-'*thought n. '~-'*trade n. trade not hindered by customs duties to restrict imports or protect home industries; (hence) '~-'*trader n. supporter of this principle. ~ *translation n. not word for word, but giving the general meaning. ~ *verse n. without regular metre and rhyme. '~-'*wheel v.i. move along on a bicycle with the pedals at rest (as when going downhill). ~ *will n. individual's power of guiding and choosing his actions (subject to limitations of the physical world, social environment, and inherited characteristics): do sth. of one's own ~ will, without being required or compelled; adj. voluntary: a ~-will offering. 4. ~ from, without: ~ from blame (error, anxiety); released or exempt from: ~ from the ordinary regulations. ~ of, (a) outside: as soon as the ship was ~ of the harbour. (b) without: a harbour ~ of ice. At last I am ~ of her, have got away from her. 5. without payment; costing nothing: ~ tickets for the theatre; give sth. away ~; five shillings post ~, 5s. including cost of postage; admission ~; ~ of income tax, on which income tax need not be paid, or has been paid in advance (e.g. dividends on shares). '~-'list n. (a) list of persons (to be) admitted ~ (e.g. to a theatre or concert-hall). (b) list of goods (to be) admitted ~ of customs-duties. ~ pass n. (for rail travel, etc.) not paid for. 6. (of place or time) not occupied or engaged; not being used; (of persons) not having time occupied; not doing anything: There will be no rooms ~ in the hotel until after the holidays. Her afternoons are usually ~. She is usually ~ in the afternoon(s). have one's hands ~, (a) have them empty, not being used. (b) be in a position to do as one likes; have no work or duties that demand attention. 7. coming or given readily; lavish; profuse: a ~ flow of water; ~ with his money; ~ bloomers, plants that have a large number of blooms. He is very ~ with his advice, gives plenty of advice. make ~ with, use (another person's things) as if they were one's own: He seems to have made ~ with my whisky while I was away. 8. without constraint: He is somewhat ~ in his conversation, not quite as proper or decent as he ought to be. He is (makes) rather too ~ with the waitresses, is too familiar or impudent in his behaviour. 9. make sb. ~ of, give him the right to share in (the privileges of a company, citizenship of a city); give him the unrestricted use (of one's library, etc.). '~man ['fri:mən] n. one who has been given the privileges of a city, usu. a distinguished person. (Cf. def. 1.) ~ly adv. in a ~ manner; readily.

^{2}free [fri:] v.t. (p.t. & p.p. freed [fri:d]) make free; set at liberty: ~ an animal from a trap; ~ a country from oppression; ~ oneself from debt. '~dman n. slave set free.

free boot er ['fri:ˌbu:tə*] n. pirate.

free dom ['fri:dəm] n. [U] condition of being free (all senses); [C] particular kind of ~: the four ~s, ~ of speech, ~ of religion, ~ from fear, ~ from want; give slaves their ~; give sb. ~ to do what he thinks best; speak with ~, without constraint, fearing nothing; the ~ of the seas, (in international law) the right of ships of neutral countries to sail the seas without interference from warships of countries at war; give a friend the ~ of one's house (library), allow him to use it freely; use (take) ~s with sb., be too familiar; receive (give sb.) the ~ of town (city), full rights of citizenship (se an honour for distinguished services).

free ma son ['fri:ˌmeisn] n. member of a secret society (with branches in many parts of Europe and America) for mutual help and fellowship. ~ry ['fri:'meisnri] n. system and institutions of the ~s; instinctive sympathy between people of similar interests, the same sex: the ~ry of the Press.

free sia ['fri:zjə] n. kinds of flowering bulbous plant.

freeze [fri:z] v.t. & i. (p.t. froze [frouz], p.p. frozen ['frouzn]) 1. (VP 21, 23, impers.) be so cold that water turns into ice: It was freezing last night. It froze hard yesterday. 'freezing-point n. temperature at which a liquid (esp. water) ~s. 2. (VP 21, 23) (of water) become ice; (of other substances) become hard or stiff from cold: Water ~s when the temperature falls below 0° C. (32° F.). The lake froze over, became covered with ice. make one's blood ~, fill one with terror. 3. (VP 21, 23) be or feel very cold: I'm freezing. What freezing weather! Two of the men froze to death, died of frost. 4. (VP 1, 10) make cold; make hard; cover with ice: frozen food, preserved by being kept very cold (see refrigeration); frozen roads, with the surface (of mud, snow, etc.) hardened by frost. The lake was frozen over. If this frost lasts the ships in the harbour will be frozen in, be fast in the ice. 'freezing-ˌmixture n. one of salt, snow, etc., used to ~ liquids. ~ one's blood, fill one with terror. 5. (VP 1) make (assets, credits, etc.) temporarily or permanently unrealizable; stabilize (prices, wages): 'price-ˌfreezing and 'wage-ˌfreezing (as methods to cure inflation). 6. (sl.) ~ sb. out, exclude him (from business, society, etc.) by competition, cold behaviour, etc. 7. (sl.) ~ on to sth., take or keep a very tight hold of it. 8. (VP 21, 23) become motionless (e.g. of an animal that stands quite still to avoid attracting attention). n. 1. period of freezing weather. 2. stabilization: a wage-~. 3. deep ~, (part of a) refrigerator where a very low temperature is used. freez er n. machine for freezing: an ice-cream ~r; compartment or room for freezing.

freight [freit] n. (money charged for) the carriage of goods from place to place by water (in U.S.A. also by land); the goods carried: (U.S.A.) ~ train (car), (in Gt. Brit. goods train). v.t. (VP 1, 18) load (a ship) with cargo; send or carry (goods): a ship ~ed with wheat; ~ a boat with fruit. ~er n. ship or aircraft that carries mainly ~ (cargo).

French [frenʃ] adj. of France or the people of France. ~ horn n. brass wind rument. ~ window n. one that es as both a window and a door.

e ~ leave, do sth., go away, with-asking permission or giving notice.
he ~ language. ~man ['frentʃmən] nan of ~ birth or nationality.

zy ['frenzi] n. [U] violent excitement:
a ~ of despair (enthusiasm); rouse audience to absolute ~. fren zied enzid] adj. driven to ~; wildly ex-
d. fren zied ly adv.

uen cy ['fri:kwənsi] n. 1. [U] frent occurrence: the ~ of earthquakes Japan. 2. [C] rate of occurrence;
nber of repetitions (in a given time):
of 25 per second (e.g. of an alternat-electric current).

quent ['fri:kwənt] adj. often happen-
; numerous; common; habitual: ricanes are ~ here in autumn. He's visitor. ~ly adv.

uent [fri'kwent] v.t. (VP 1) go often a place); be often found in or at:
gs ~ wet places. He no longer ~s bars.

co ['freskou] n. (pl. -cos, -coes) 1.
pigment applied to moist plaster aces and allowed to dry; method of nting with this pigment: painting
~. 2. [C] picture painted in this way:
~(e)s in St. Peter's, Rome. v.t. paint all, etc.) in ~.

h [freʃ] adj. 1. newly made, pro-ed, gathered, grown, arrived, etc.
stale, faded): ~ flowers (fruit, eggs,
c); ~ paint (still wet); a man ~ from country; a boy ~ from school, who only recently finished his school rse; ~ (inexperienced) recruits.
an ['freʃmən] n. (pl. -men [-mən]) lent in his first year at a college or versity. 2. (of food) not salted, ed, or frozen; ~ butter (meat); (of er) not salt; not sea-water. '~- ter adj. of ~ water, not of the sea:
ater fish; ~water fishermen. 3. new ifferent: Is there any ~ news? Take sheet of paper and start again. He
't throw much ~ light (give much information) on the subject. break round, (fig.) start sth. new. 4. (of air, wind, weather) cool; refreshing:
breeze, blowing rather strongly; go for some ~ air; in the ~ air, out of
s. 5. bright and pure: ~ colours;
ht and pure in colour: a ~ complex-
6. (U.S.A. colloq.) presumptuous, udent (esp. towards sb. of the osite sex): Tell that young man not e so ~ with your sister. adv. (in hened compounds) ~ly, newly: ~- ht fish; ~-killed meat; ~-painted
s. ~ly adv. (only with p.p., without hen) recently: ~ly gathered peaches.
v.t. & i. make or become ~.
ess n.

[fret] v.t. & i. (-tt-) 1. (VP 21, 23,
1, 10) worry; (cause to) be discontented or bad-tempered: What are you ~ting about? Don't ~ over trifles. She ~s at even the slightest delays. Small babies often ~ in hot weather. She'll ~ herself to death one of these days. 2. (VP 1) wear away by rubbing or biting at: a horse ~ting its bit; ~ted rope; a channel ~ted through the rock by a stream. n. irritation; querulousness: in a ~. ~ful adj. discontented; irritable; a ~ful baby. ~ful ly adv.

^{2}fret [fret] v.t. (-tt-) (VP 1) decorate (wood) with patterns made by cutting or sawing. '~*work n. [U] work in decorative patterns; wood cut with such patterns by using a ~-saw. '~-*saw n. very narrow saw, fixed in a frame, for cutting designs in thin sheets of wood.

fri a ble ['fraiəbl] adj. easily crumbled. fri a bil i ty [ˌfraiə'biliti] n.

fri ar ['fraiə*] n. man who is a member of one of certain religious orders, esp. one who has vowed to live in poverty.

fri cas see [ˌfrikə'si:] n. [C & U] (dish of) meat cut up, fried or stewed, and served with sauce. v.t. make a ~ of.

fric a tive ['frikətiv] adj. & n. (consonant) produced with audible friction when the air is expelled through a narrowing of the air passage: The sounds [f, v, θ] are ~s.

fric tion ['frikʃən] n. 1. [U] the rubbing of one thing against another, esp. when this wastes energy. 2. [U & C] (instance of) difference of opinion leading to argument and quarrelling: political ~ between two countries; ~(s) between parents with old-fashioned ideas and their children with newer ideas.

Fri day ['fraidi, -dei] n. sixth day of the week. Good ~, the ~ before Easter, the anniversary of the death of Jesus.

fried [fraid] p.t. & p.p. of fry.

friend [frend] n. 1. person, not a relation, whom one knows and likes well; my ~ Smith; some ~s of ours. We are great (good) ~s. He has been a good ~ to me. make ~s with, become the ~ of. make ~s again, become ~s again after a disagreement, etc. 2. helpful thing or quality: Among these immoral young people, her shyness was her best ~. 3. helper or sympathizer: a good ~ of the poor. 4. (F~) member of the Society of F~s; *Quaker. ~less adj. having no ~s. ~less ness n.

friend ly ['frendli] adj. (-ier, -iest) acting, or ready to act, as a friend; showing or expressing kindness: be ~ with sb.; be ~ to a cause; a ~ smile; be on ~ terms with sb.; a ~ match (game), one not played in competition for a prize, etc. F~ Society, one for the mutual benefit of its members (e.g. during illness, unemployment, old age). friend li ness n. [U] ~ feeling and behaviour.

friend ship ['frendʃip] n. 1. [U] being friends; the feeling or relationship that exists between friends: live together in ~; my ~ for her. 2. [C] instance or period of this feeling: a ~ of twenty years; never to forget old ~s.

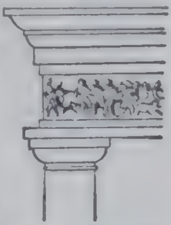
frieze [friːz] n. [C] ornamental band or strip along a wall (usu. at the top), e.g. a horizontal band of sculpture on the outside of a building, or a strip of wallpaper with a special design just below the ceiling of a room.



Part of a frieze

frig(e), fridge [fridʒ] n. (colloq. abbrev.) refrigerator.

frig ate [ˈfrigit] n. fast sailing-ship formerly used in war; (modern use) fast escort vessel.

fright [frait] n. 1. [U] great and sudden fear: filled with ~; die of ~; take ~ (at sth.); [C] instance of this: get (have) a ~; give sb. a ~. 2. [C] (colloq.) ridiculous-looking person or thing: What a ~ you look in that old hat! v.t. (liter.) frighten.

fright en [ˈfraitn] v.t. (VP 1, 10, 18) fill with fright or terror; alarm suddenly: Did the noise ~ you? The barking of the dog ~ed the burglar away. She was nearly ~ed out of her life. ~ sb. into (out of) doing sth., cause him to do (not do) sth. by ~ing him. fright ened adj. (colloq.) afraid: be ~ed of sb. or sth. (at the idea of sth. happening).

fright ful [ˈfraitful] adj. 1. causing fear; dreadful: a ~ accident. 2. (colloq.) very great; awful; unpleasant: We had a ~ journey, a very uncomfortable one. What a ~ (ugly) hat! ~ly adv. 1. in a ~ way. 2. (colloq.) very.

frig id [ˈfridʒid] adj. 1. cold: ~ weather; a ~ climate; the ~ zones, those within the polar circles. 2. unfriendly; without ardour or sympathy; apathetic: a ~ welcome; a ~ manner; ~ conversation. ~ly adv. fri gid i ty [friˈdʒiditi] n.

frill [fril] n. 1. ornamental border on a dress, etc. 2. (pl.) unnecessary adornments (e.g. to speech or writing); airs (def. 6*b*), affectations: put on ~s, pose, behave in an affected way. frilled adj. having ~s (def. 1): a ~ed skirt.

fringe [frindʒ] n. [C] 1. ornamental border of loose threads (e.g. on a rug or shawl). 2. edge (of a crowd, forest, etc.): on the ~(s) of the forest; ~ areas, (esp.) areas on the border of a district served by a broadcasting or television station (where reception may be poor); ~ group, group of persons loosely attached to a larger group or party (but who may be rebellious or nonconformist in some respects). 3. part of (usu. a woman's) hair allowed to hang over the forehead. v.t. (VP 1) put a ~ on; serve as a ~ to: a roadside ~d with trees.

frip per y [ˈfripəri] n. [U] needless ornament, esp. on dress; [C] cheap ornamen or useless trifle.

frisk [frisk] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 23) jum and run about playfully. 2. (VP 1) pa the hands over (sb.) to search for concealed weapons. ~y adj. lively; read to ~: as ~y as a kitten. fris ki ly ad ¹frit ter [ˈfritə*] v.t. (VP 10 with awa waste on divided aims: ~ away one time (energy, money).

²frit ter [ˈfritə*] n. [C] piece of frie batter, usu. with sliced fruit in it apple ~s.

fri vol [ˈfrivəl] v.i. & t. (-ll-) 1. (VP 2 behave in a silly, time-wasting wa 2. (VP 10 with away) waste (tim money, etc.) foolishly.

friv o lous [ˈfrivələs] adj. 1. not seriou or important: ~ remarks (behaviour 2. (of persons) not serious; pleasur loving. ~ly adv. fri vol i ty [friˈvɔlit n. 1. [U] ~ behaviour; lightness character. 2. [C] ~ act or utterance.

frizz [friz] v.t. (of hair) form into ma of small curls. ~y adj. (of hair) ~ed.

¹friz zle [ˈfrizl] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) cook be cooked, with a spluttering noise bacon frizzling in the pan.

²friz zle [ˈfrizl] v.t. & i. (VP 10, 23 wit up) (of hair) twist in small, crisp curls.

fro [frou] adv. (only in) to and fro, backwards and forwards: walking to and fro journeys to and fro between London an Paris.

frock [frɔk] n. 1. woman's dress gown; dress for a girl or baby. 2. monk's long gown with loose sleeves. 3. ˈ~-ˈcoat n. long coat, usu. with square corners, formerly worn by men (now old-fashioned and replaced by the morning-coat).

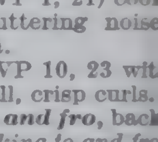
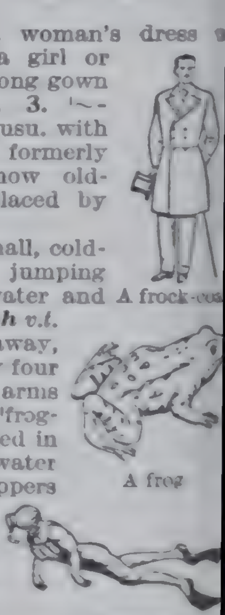
A frock-co

frog [frɔg] n. 1. small, cold-blooded, tail-less jumping animal living in water and on land. ˈ*~-march v.t.* carry (a prisoner) away, face downwards, by four men holding his arms and legs. ˈ~man [ˈfrɔgmən] n. person skilled in swimming under water with the aid of flippers on the feet and a supply of oxygen. 2. long button and loop for fastening to it, used to fasten cloaks, etc.



A frog



A frogman

frol ic [ˈfrɔlik] v.i. (-icked) (VP 21, play about in a gay, lively way. n. outburst of gaiety or merrym wild or merry prank. ~some adj. clined to ~; playful and merry.

from [frɔm, frəm] prep. 1. used to troduce the place, point, person, etc., that is the starting-point: jump (down) ~ a wall; travel ~ London to Rome. bees going ~ flower to flower. 2. used to indicate the starting of a period of time: ~ the first of May, ~ childhood; ~ day to day; ~ beginning to end. 3. used to indicate the place, object, etc., from which distance, absence, etc., is stated: ten miles ~ the coast; stay away ~ school; be (go) away ~ home; far ~ blaming you, not in any way doing so. 4. showing the giver, sender, etc.: a letter ~ my brother; a present ~ his father. Tell him ~ me that . . . 5. showing the model, etc.: painted ~ nature (life), with the actual scene, object, etc., in front of the artist. 6. showing the lower limit: We have good Algerian wine ~ seven shillings a bottle, at this price and at higher prices. There were ~ ten to fifteen boys absent. 7. used to indicate the source: quotations ~ Shakespeare; draw water ~ a well; drink ~ a brook; draw conclusions ~ the evidence; judge ~ appearances; ~ this point of view. 8. showing the material, etc., used in a process, the material being changed as a result: Wine is made ~ grapes. Steel is made ~ iron. (Cf. That bridge is made of steel.) 9. used to indicate separation, removal, prevention, escape, avoidance, deprivation, etc. (See v. & n. entries.) Take that knife (away) ~ the baby. When were you released ~ prison? What prevented (stopped, hindered) you ~ coming? 10. used to indicate change: Things are going ~ bad to worse. The price has been increased ~ sixpence to ninepence. 11. showing reason, cause, or motive: collapse ~ fatigue; suffer ~ starvation and disease; do sth. ~ necessity, not ~ a sense of duty. F~ his looks you might think him stupid. F~ what I heard, the driver was to blame. 12. showing distinction or difference: It differs ~ all the others. How would you know an Englishman ~ an American? 13. governing advv. and prep. phrases: seen ~ above (below); looking at me ~ above (under) her spectacles.

frond [frɔnd] n. leaf-like part of a fern (gen. producing seeds), or of a palm-tree.

front [frʌnt] n. 1. (usu. sing. with def. art.; used attrib.) foremost or most important side: the ~ of a building, that with the main entrance; the east (west) ~ of the Palace; sitting in the ~ of the class, in one of the foremost rows facing the teacher; be in the ~ rank, (fig.) be well known or important; come to the ~, (fig.) become conspicuous, well known, etc.; *a ~ seat; the ~ bench; the ~ garden; a ~ room, one in the ~ of a house; the ~ page of a newspaper, page 1; ~-page news, news important enough for the ~ page: a seat in the ~ part of the train. in ~, adv., in ~ of, prep.: Please go in ~. There are some trees in ~ of the house. 2. [C] (war) part where the fighting is taking place: go (be sent) to the ~; a ~ of 600 miles; successful on all ~s; (fig.) organized body or department of activity: the home ~, civilians as organized during a war. 3. road (promenade) bordering the part of a town facing the sea; road or path bordering a lake: have a walk along the (sea-)~; drive along the lake ~; a house on the ~, facing the sea. 4. [U] have the ~ (to do sth.), be impudent enough; put on a bold ~, (pretend to) have no fear; show (present) a bold ~, face boldly. 5. breast of a shirt (esp. the starched ~ part of a man's (dress) shirt). 6. (poet. & rhet.) forehead; face. v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 23) face: hotels that ~ the sea; windows ~ing the street; a house ~ing north (~ing upon, towards, the lake). 2. (VP 1) furnish with a ~: ~ed with stone. 3. (VP 1) (old use) confront; oppose: ~ danger.

front age [ˈfrʌntidʒ] n. [C] extent of a piece of land or a building along its front, esp. bordering a road or river: For sale, office buildings with ~s on two streets; factory premises with a good river ~; a building site with a road ~ of 500 yards.

fron tal [ˈfrʌntl] adj. of, on, or to, the front: a ~ attack (cf. flank, rear).

fron tier [ˈfrʌntjə*] n. [C] 1. part of a country bordering on another country; (land on each side of a) boundary: a town on the ~; (attrib.) ~ disputes (incidents); (esp. U.S.A., in the past) farthest part of a country to which settlement has spread, beyond which there is wild or unsettled land. ~sman [ˈfrʌntjəsmən] n. man who lives on a ~; pioneer in a newly settled district near the ~. 2. (fig.) extreme limit: the ~s of knowledge.

fron tis piece [ˈfrʌntispiːs] n. illustration placed opposite the title-page of a book.

frost [frɔst] n. 1. [U] weather condition with temperature below the freezing-point of water; [C] occasion or period of such weather: plants killed by ~; ten degrees of ~ (i.e. a temperature of 22° F.); early ~s (i.e. in autumn); late ~s (i.e. in spring). Jack F~, ~ personified. ˈ~-bite n. [U] injury to a part of the body from ~. ˈ~-ˌbitten adj. having, suffering from, ~-bite. ˈ~-bound adj. (of the ground) made hard by ~. 2. [U] white powder-like coating of frozen vapour on the ground, roofs, plants, etc.: white (hoar) ~, with this coating: black ~, without it. 3. [C] (colloq.) event which fails to come up to expectations or to arouse interest: The entertainment was a ~, no one enjoyed it. v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) cover with ~ (def. 2): ~ed window-panes; cover (a cake, etc.) with finely powdered sugar. 2. (VP 1) injure or kill (plants, etc.) with ~ (def. 1). 3. (VP 1) give a roughened surface to (glass) to make it opaque: ~ed glass. ~ing n. [U] mixture of sugar, white of egg, etc., for covering cakes.

fros ty ['frɔsti] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. cold with frost: ~ weather; a ~ morning. 2. (fig.) unfriendly; without warmth of feeling: ~ smiles (looks); a ~ welcome. fros ti ly adv. fros ti ness n.

froth [frɔθ] n. [U] 1. creamy mass of small bubbles; foam: a glass of beer with a lot of ~ on it. 2. light, worthless talk or ideas. v.i. (VP 21, 23) have, give off, ~: A mad dog may ~ at the mouth. ~y adj. (-ier, -iest) of, like, covered with, ~: ~y beer (conversation). ~i ly adv. ~i ness n.

fro ward ['frouəd] adj. (old use) perverse; not easily controlled.

frown [fraun] v.i. (VP 21, 24, 25) draw the eyebrows together, causing lines on the forehead (to express displeasure, puzzlement, deep thought, etc.): ~ at sb.; ~ (up)on gambling, disapprove of it. n. [C] ~ing look; drawing together of the brows: There was a deep ~ on his brow. He looked at her with a ~ of disapproval. ~ing ly adv.

frow zy ['frauzi] adj. 1. ill-smelling; stuffy (like an overheated room). 2. slatternly; untidy; uncared for.

froze, frozen, see freeze.

fruc ti fy ['frʌktifai] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) make or become fruitful or fertile. fruc ti fi ca tion [ˌfrʌktifi'keiʃən] n.

fru gal ['fruːgəl] adj. careful, economical (esp. of food, expenditure); costing little: a ~ meal; a ~ housekeeper; be ~ of one's time and money. ~ly adv. ~i ty [fru'gæliti] n. [U] being ~; [C] instance of this.

fruit [fruːt] n. 1. (usu. sing. as a collective noun) that part of a plant or tree that contains the seeds and is used as food (e.g. apples, bananas): People are eating more ~ than they used to. Do you eat much ~? '~-cake n. cake containing dried currants, etc. '~-knife n. one with a silver blade, for cutting ~ at meals. ~ salad n. salad of various ~s (= kinds of ~) cut up and mixed in a bowl. 2. (in botany) [C] that part of any plant in which the seed is formed. 3. (pl.) any plant or vegetable products that may be used for food: the ~s of the earth (including grain, etc.). 4. (fig., often pl.) profit, result, or reward (of labour, industry, study, etc.): the ~s of industry. I hope your hard work will bear ~. His knowledge is the ~ of long study. 5. '~-maˌchine n. (colloq.) coin-operated gambling machine. v.i. (of trees, bushes, etc.) bear ~: These trees ~ well. ~er er n. person who sells ~.

fruit ful ['fruːtful] adj. producing fruit or (fig.) good results; productive: ~ soil; a ~ career; a parliamentary session ~ of (in) useful legislation. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

fru i tion [fru(ː)'iʃən] n. [U] realization of hopes; getting what was wanted: aims brought to ~; plans that come to ~.

fruit less ['fruːtlis] adj. without fruit or (fig.) results or success; profitless: ~ efforts. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

fruit y ['fruːti] adj. 1. of or like fruit in smell or taste. 2. (colloq.) full of rough (often suggestive) humour: a ~ novel, one that might scandalize some readers. 3. (colloq.) rich, florid: a ~ voice.

frump [frʌmp] n. woman dressed in old-fashioned and dowdy clothes. ~ish, ~y adjj.

frus trate [frʌs'treit] v.t. (VP 1, 18) prevent (sb.) from doing sth.; prevent (sb.'s plans) from being carried out: ~ an enemy in his plans (the plans of an enemy); be ~d in an attempt to do sth. frus tra tion [frʌs'treiʃən] n. [U] frustrating or being ~d; [C] instance of this; defeat or disappointment: embittered by numerous frustrations.

^{1}fry [frai] v.t. & i. (3rd p. sing. pres. t. fries, p.t. & p.p. fried) (VP 1, 21) cook, be cooked, in boiling fat: The sausages are frying (being fried). '*frying-pan (U.S.A. '*fry-pan) n. shallow pan with a long handle used for frying. out of the frying-pan into the fire, from a bad situation to one that is worse.

^{2}fry [frai] n. (pl. unchanged) newly hatched fishes. small fry, young or insignificant creatures; persons of no importance.

fuch sia ['fjuːʃə] n. shrub with bell-like drooping flowers, pink, red, or purple.

fud dle ['fʌdl] v.t. (VP 1, 18) make stupid, esp. with alcoholic drink: ~ oneself (one's brain) with gin; in a ~d state.

fudge [fʌdʒ] n. [U] sort of soft sweet made with milk, sugar, chocolate, etc. int. Nonsense!

Fuchsia flowers

fu el [fjuəl] n. [U] (pl. = kinds of ~) material for burning (e.g. wood, coal, oil, uranium); (fig.) sth. that inflames the passions: add ~ to the flames, make passions stronger. v.t. & i. (-ll-) 1. (VP 1) supply with ~: an electric power station ~led by uranium; ~ a ship. 2. (VP 21) get ~: a ~ling station, one where oil, coal, etc., may be obtained.

fug [fʌg] n. (colloq.) fusty or frowzy atmosphere (as when people have been smoking tobacco in a warm room with no windows open): What a fug! fug gy adj.

gi tive ['fjuːdʒitiv] n. & adj. (attrib. nly) 1. (person) running away (from ustice, danger, etc.): ~s from an invaded country; ~s from justice; a ~ slave. 2. (attrib.) of temporary interest or value; lasting a short time only: ~ verses.

ugue [fjuːg] n. [C] musical composition in which one or more themes are introduced by the different parts or voices in turn and then repeated in a complex design.

üh rer ['fjuərə*] n. (G.) leader.

ul crum ['fʌlkrəm] n. point on which a lever is supported when it is pressed down to lift or move sth. (See the illustr. at lever.)

ul fil [ful'fil] v.t. (-ll-) (VP 1) perform or carry out (a task, duty, promise, etc.); complete (an undertaking); do what is required (by conditions, etc.): ~ one's duties (a command, an obligation, sb.'s expectations or hopes). ~ment n. ~ling or being ~led.

full [ful] adj. 1. holding as much or as many as possible; filled completely: The box is ~. The room was ~ of (filled with) people. The boy went on eating till he was ~ (or, colloq., ~ up). My heart is too ~ for words, my feelings make it difficult for me to speak. The trunk was ~ to overflowing. ~ house, (of a theatre) with no unoccupied seats. 2. holding or having plenty (of); crowded: pockets ~ of money; a man ~ of new ideas; a lake ~ of fish; a dictionary ~ of useful examples; ~ of vitality. 3. complete; reaching the usual or specified limit; entirely visible: drive at ~ speed; fall ~ length, so as to lie stretched out on the ground; a ~-length portrait, one of the entire figure; apple-trees in ~ blossom; a ~ moon, seen as a complete disk; ~ dress, as worn on ceremonial occasions; a ~-dress rehearsal, (at a theatre) with dresses, etc., as to be worn at public performances; a ~-dress debate, (in Parliament) one pre-arranged for an important question; ~ face, with the face turned to the spectator (cf. profile); in ~ career, while at the maximum rate of progress; wait a ~ hour, not less than an hour; a ~ stop, punctuation mark (.) '~-'page adj. filling the whole of a page: a ~-page advertisement in a newspaper. '~-'scale adj. (of drawings, plans, etc.) of the same area, etc., as the object itself. in ~, without omitting or shortening anything: write one's name in ~ (e.g. John Henry Smith, not J. H. Smith); pay in ~, pay the whole of what is owed. to the ~, to the utmost extent; quite: enjoy oneself to the ~. 4. completely occupied with the thought (of): She was ~ of the news, could not refrain from talking about it. He was ~ of himself (of his own importance), concerned solely with this. 5. plump; rounded: rather ~ in the face: a ~ figure. 6. (of clothes) (a) having material arranged in wide folds: a ~ skirt. (b) easy-fitting: Please make this coat a little ~er across the back. 7. (compounds) '~-'back n. player with position farthest from the centre line (in football, etc.) (See Appendix 4.) '~-'blooded adj. (a) vigorous; hearty; sensual. (b) of pure descent, not hybrid. '~-'bottomed adj. (of wigs) covering the back of the neck. adv. 1. quite, fully: ~ six miles. ~ out, at top speed, maximum capacity. 2. (in compounds) '~-'blown adj. (of flowers) completely open. '~-'fledged adj. (of a bird) having all its flight feathers; able to fly: (fig.) having completed training, etc.: a ~-fledged barrister. '~-'grown adj. having reached maturity. ~ly adv. 1. to the ~; completely; ~ly satisfied; capital ~ly paid up; ~ly-fashioned stockings, made to conform to the shape of the legs. 2. quite: The journey will take ~ly two hours, all that time. ~ness n. state of being ~: have a feeling of ~ness after meals; in the ~ness of time, at the destined time.

full er ['fulə*] n. person who cleans and thickens freshly woven cloth.

ful mar ['fʌlmə*] n. sea-bird like a petrel, about the size of a seagull.

ful mi nate ['fʌlmineit] v.i. (VP 21, 24) protest loudly and bitterly: ~ against the idleness of the younger generation. ful mi na tion [ˌfʌlmi'neiʃən] n. [U] fulminating; [C] instance of this; bitter denunciation or protest.

ful some ['fulsəm] adj. (of praise, flattery, etc.) excessive and insincere; sickening. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

fum ble ['fʌmbl] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 23, 24) feel about uncertainly with the hands; use the hands awkwardly: ~ in one's pockets for a key; ~ at a lock (e.g. as a drunken man might); ~ in the dark. 2. (VP 1, 21) handle or deal with (sth.) nervously or incompetently: ~ a ball (e.g. in cricket). fum bler n. person who ~s.

fume [fjuːm] n. 1. (usu. pl.) strong-smelling smoke, gas, or vapour: air thick with the ~s of cigars; petrol ~s; ~s of incense. 2. excited state of mind: in a ~ of anxiety. His judgement was affected by the ~s of jealousy. v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 23, 24) give off ~s; pass away in ~s; (fig.) betray repressed anger or irritation: ~ because one is kept waiting; ~ at sb.'s incompetence; ~ over (about) trifles. 2. (VP 1) treat (wood, etc.) with ~s (to darken the surface, etc.): ~d oak.

fu mi gate ['fjuːmigeit] v.t. (VP 1) disinfect by means of fumes: ~ a room used by someone with an infectious disease; ~ rose-bushes (to kill insect pests). fu mi ga tion [ˌfjuːmiˈgeiʃən] n.

fun [fʌn] n. [U] 1. amusement; sport; playfulness: What fun the children had at the seaside, how they enjoyed themselves! He's fond of fun. make fun of, poke fun at, ridicule; cause people to laugh at: It is wrong to make fun of a cripple. for fun, in fun, as a joke; for amusement; not seriously: He said it only in fun. 2. that which causes merriment or amusement: Your new friend is great fun, is very amusing. Sailing is good fun. I don't see the fun of doing that, do not think it is amusing. fun and games, (colloq.) lively merry-making; pranks.

func tion [ˈfʌŋkʃən] n. [C] 1. special activity or purpose of a person or thing: the ~s of a judge (an officer of state); the ~ of the heart (i.e. to pump blood through the body); the ~s of the nerves; the ~ of education. 2. public ceremony or event; social gathering of an important and formal kind: the numerous ~s that the Queen must attend. v.i. (VP 21, 23) fulfil a ~ (def. 1); operate; act: The telephone was not ~ing, was out of order. Some English adverbs ~ as adjectives.

func tion al [ˈfʌŋkʃənl] adj. of a function; having, designed to have, functions (def. 1): a ~ disorder, illness caused by failure of an organ in the body to do its work properly; ~ architecture, that in which the purposes for which buildings are to be used are the main considerations, beauty of appearance being secondary: schools designed according to ~ principles. ~ism n. principle that architecture should be ~. ~ist n. adherent of ~ism.

func tion a ry [ˈfʌŋkʃənəri] n. (often rather contemptuous) person with official functions.

fund [fʌnd] n. [C] 1. store or supply (of non-material things): a ~ of common sense (humour, amusing stories). 2. (often pl.) sum of money available for a purpose: a relief ~ (e.g. to help sufferers from a flood or other disaster); mission ~s (for the work of missionaries). 3. (pl.) resources in the form of money: the (public) ~s, the stock of the national debt as a form of investment: have £5,000 in the ~s. no ~s, notice (given by a bank) that the person who has drawn a cheque on it has no money in his account. v.t. (VP 1) convert (short-term debts) into a long-term debt at fixed interest; provide a sum of money for the payment of interest.

fun da men tal [ˌfʌndəˈmentl] adj. of or forming a foundation; of great importance (to); serving as a starting-point: the ~ rules of arithmetic, those which must be learnt first and on which everything that follows depends. n. (usu. pl.) ~ rule or principle; essential part: th
~s of mathematics. ~ly adv. ~ism [U] maintenance of the traditional be liefs of the Christian religion (such a the accuracy of everything in the Bible in opposition to more modern teaching ~ist n. supporter of ~ism.

fu ner al [ˈfjuːnərəl] n. [C] 1. burial o burning of a dead person with the usu religious ceremonies. 2. (attrib. use) o or for a ~: a ~ procession; a ~ march sad and solemn piece of music; a ~ pi (pyre), pile of wood, etc., on which corpse is burnt; a ~ parlor, (U.S.A undertaker's offices.

fu ne re al [fju(ː)ˈniəriəl] adj. of or lik a funeral; gloomy; dismal; dark: a expression on one's face.

fun gus [ˈfʌŋgəs] n. (pl. fungi [ˈfʌŋgai ~es) plant without leaves, flowers, or green colouring matter, growing on other plants or on decaying matter (e.g. old wood): Mushrooms, toadstools, and mildew are fungi. fun goid [ˈfʌŋgɔid] adj. like fungi. fun gou [ˈfʌŋgəs] adj. of or like fungi.

Fungi

fu nic u lar [fjuːˈnikjuləˣ] adj. ~ rai way, one on a steep slope, worked by cable and a stationary engine at one en
n. ~ railway.

funk [fʌŋk] n. (colloq.) 1. great fear:
in a ~. 2. coward. v.i. & t. (VP 1, 2 show fear; (try to) escape (doing sth because of fear.

fun nel [ˈfʌnl] n. 1. tube or pipe wid at the top and narrowing at the bottom, for pouring liquids or powders through small openings. 2. outlet for smoke (metal chimney) of a steamer, railway engine, et two- (three-) ~led, having two (thre ~s.

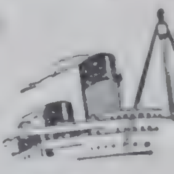
A funnel (def. 1)



Funnels (def. 2)

fun ny [ˈfʌni] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. causin fun or amusement: ~ stories. 2. strange queer; causing surprise: There's some thing ~ about the affair, sth. strange perhaps not quite honest or straight forward. ˈ~-bone n. part of the elbo over which a very sensitive nerve passe fun ni ly adv. in a ~ way: funnil (= strangely) enough. fun ni ness n.

fur [fəːˣ] n. 1. [U] soft thick hair cover ing certain animals (e.g. cats, rabbits make the fur fly, cause a disturbance fur and feather, furred animals an birds. 2. [C] animal skin with the fu n it, esp. when made into garments: fine fox fur; wearing expensive furs; ttrib.) a fur coat, one made of furs. . [U] rough coating on a person's ngue when ill; crust on the inside of a ettle, boiler, etc., when the water heated it contains lime. v.t. & i. (-rr-) cover, come covered, with fur (def. 3): a rred tongue (kettle). fur ry ['fəːri] adj. -ier, -iest) of or like fur; covered with ur.

r be low ['fəːbilou] n. (often frills and ~s) piece of elaborate or unnecessary rimming (on a dress, etc.).

r bish ['fəːbiʃ] v.t. (VP 1, 10 with up) olish (e.g. by removing rust from); make like new (esp. sth. that has not been used for a long time): ~ a sword; ~ up the Latin one learnt years ago.

u ri ous ['fjuəriəs] adj. violent; uncontrolled; full of fury: a ~ struggle (storm, quarrel); running at a ~ pace; be ~ with sb. (at what sb. has done). The fun was fast and ~, uproarious, wild. ~ly *adv.

url [fəːl] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) (of sails, flags, umbrellas, etc.) roll up: ~ the sails of a yacht. This fan (umbrella) doesn't ~ neatly.

ur long ['fəːlɔŋ] n. 220 yards; eighth of a mile.

ur lough ['fəːlou] n. [C & U] (permission for) absence from duty (esp. civil officials, members of the armed forces, missionaries, living abroad): going home on ~; six months' ~; have a ~ every three years.

ur nace ['fəːnis] n. 1. enclosed fireplace for heating buildings with hot water or steam. 2. enclosed space for heating metals, making glass, etc.

ur nish ['fəːniʃ] v.t. (VP 1, 18) supply or provide (with); put furniture in: ~ a library with books; ~ an army with supplies (~ supplies to an army); ~ a room (an office); a ~ed house (flat), one rented with the furniture. ~ings *n. pl. furniture and equipment.

ur ni ture ['fəːnitʃə*] n. [U] all those things such as chairs, tables, beds, desks, etc., needed in a house, room, office, etc., esp. those that can be moved.

u ro re [fjuə'rɔːri] n. state of enthusiastic admiration: The new play at the Carlton Theatre created a ~, was received with excited approval.

ur ri er ['fʌriə*] n. person who dresses (i.e. prepares), or who buys and sells, furs.

ur row ['fʌrou] n. [C] 1. long deep cut in the ground made by a plough: newly turned ~s. 2. line on the face, esp. the forehead. v.t. (VP 1) make ~s in: a forehead ~ed by old age (anxiety, etc.).

ur ry, see fur.

ur ther ['fəːðə*] adv. & adj. 1. often used for farther: It's not safe to go any ~. 2. (not interchangeable in this sense with farther) more; in addition; additional: We must get ~ information. The Museum will be closed until ~ notice. He sat down without ~ bidding, without being invited again. We need go no ~ into the matter, need make no more inquiries. 3. (also ~more) moreover; also; besides: He said that the key was lost, and, ~, that there was no hope of its being found. 4. (as a euphemism for in hell, used as a strong refusal of a request): I'll see him (you, etc.) ~ first, I refuse absolutely. v.t. (VP 1) help forward; promote: ~ sb.'s interests; ~ the cause of peace. ~ance ['fəːðərəns] n. [U] ~ing; advancement: for the ~ance of public welfare; in ~ance of your aims. ~more ['fəːðə'mɔː*] adv. moreover; in addition. ~most ['fəːðəmoust] adj. most distant; furthest.

fur thest ['fəːðist] adj. & adv. = farthest.

fur tive ['fəːtiv] adj. done secretly so as not to attract attention; having or suggesting a wish to escape notice: a ~ glance (manner); ~ behaviour; be ~ in one's movements. ~ly *adv. ~ness *n.

fu ry ['fjuəri] n. 1. [U] violent excitement, esp. anger; filled with ~; the ~ of the elements, wild storms, winds; in the ~ of battle. 2. [C] outburst of wild feeling: She was in one of her furies. He flew into a ~ when I refused to lend him the money. 3. [C] violently furious woman or girl: What a little ~ she is! 4. (pl.) snake-haired goddesses in Greek mythology sent from the underworld to punish crime.

furze [fəːz] n. [U] yellow-flowered evergreen shrub, with sharp spines, growing on waste land. (Also called gorse and whin.)

Furze

¹fuse [fjuːz] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10, 21) make or become liquid as the result of great heat; join, become joined, as the result of melting: ~ two pieces of wire together. 2. (of an electric circuit, or part of it) be broken through melting of the ~ (see the n. below): The light has ~d. 3. (fig.) (VP 1, 10, 18) make into one whole. n. [C] (in an electric circuit) short piece of wire which melts and breaks the circuit if a fault develops in it. '~-*wire n. [U] kinds of wire used for this purpose.

²fuse [fjuːz] n. [C] tube, cord, etc., for carrying a spark to explode powder, etc. (e.g. in a firecracker, bomb, or blasting charge); part of a shell or mine that detonates the explosive charge. '*time-~ n. one that does this after a pre-arranged interval of time.

fu se lage ['fju:zilɑ:ʒ, -lidʒ] n. body of an aircraft (to which the engine(s), wings, and tail are fitted).

fu si lier [ˌfju:zi'liə*] n. soldier (of certain British regiments) formerly armed with a light musket.

fus il lade [ˌfju:zi'leid] n. [C] continuous discharge of fire-arms.

fu sion ['fju:ʒən] n. [U & C] mixing or uniting of different things into one: the ~ of copper and tin; a ~ of races (political parties). ~ *bomb n. one in which light nuclei are caused to fuse with each other (by the heat of a fission bomb) to form a heavier nucleus, energy being released in the process; hydrogen bomb.

fuss [fʌs] n. [U] 1. unnecessary nervous excitement, esp. about unimportant things; (with indef. art.) nervous state: Don't make so much ~ (get into such a ~) about trifles. 2. ostentatious activity: You're making a great ~ of me, paying me all sorts of little attentions. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21, 23, 24) get into a ~; cause (sb.) to be in a ~: Stop ~ing. She ~ed about, unable to hide her impatience. Don't ~ over the children so much, don't pay so much unnecessary attention to them. Don't ~ me, make me nervous. ~y adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. full of, showing, nervous excitement; worrying about little things: be too ~y about one's clothes. 2. (of dress, style, etc.) over ornamented; having too many unimportant details, etc. ~i ly adv. ~i ness n.

fus tian ['fʌstjən] n. [U] 1. thick, strong, coarse cotton cloth; (attrib.) made of this cloth. 2. (fig.) high-sounding but empty talk; (attrib.) worthless; bombastic.

fus ty ['fʌsti] adj. (-ier, -iest) ste smelling; smelling of mould and dan (fig.) old fashioned in ideas, etc.: a ~ professor (e.g. one who has much bo knowledge, but is out of touch w modern ideas, real life).

fu tile ['fju:tail, (U.S.A.) 'fju:til] adj.
(of actions) of no use; without resu
a ~ attempt. 2. (of persons) unlik to accomplish much; vain or frivolo fu til i ty [fju:'tiliti] n. [U] the state being ~; [C] ~ action or utterance.

fu ture ['fju:tʃə*] n. & adj. 1. (tin events) coming after the present: T ~ must always be uncertain. I hope have a happy ~ before you. Have provided for the ~, saved money, tak out an insurance policy, etc.? for the in ~, from this time onwards: You m be more careful in ~. For the ~, try live a better life. 2. (adj., or attrib.
of the n.) of or in the ~: the ~ life, af death of the body; his ~ wife, t woman he will marry; the ~ tense (w 'shall' and 'will'). 3. (pl.) (orders f goods and stocks bought at pri agreed upon at the time of purcha but to be paid for and delivered lat ~less adj.

fu tu rism ['fju:tʃərizəm] n. [U] mov ment in art (early 20th c.) marked violent departure from tradition. f tu rist n. supporter of ~.

fu tu ri ty [fju:'tjuəriti] n. the futu (sing. or pl.) future events.

fuzz [fʌz] n. [U] fluff; fluffy or frizz hair.

fuzz y ['fʌzi] adj. (-ier, -iest) blurre indistinct (in shape or outline); fray or fluffy.

G

G, g [dʒi:] (pl. G's, g's [dʒi:z]) the seventh letter of the alphabet.

gab [gæb] n. [U] (colloq.) talk(ing): Stop your gab, be quiet. He has the gift of the gab, is good at speaking.

gab ar dine ['gæbədi:n] n. [U] dress material of cotton or silk with wool lining (as used for rain-coats).

gab ble ['gæbl] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 10, 21, 23) speak, say things, quickly and indistinctly: The little girl ~d her prayers and jumped into bed. Listen to those foreigners gabbling away. n. [U] fast, confused, unintelligible talk.

gab er dine ['gæbədi:n] n. 1. = gabardine. 2. [C] long, loose gown or frock (esp. as worn by Jews in the Middle Ages).

ga ble ['geibl] n. [C] three-cornered part of an outside wall between slopi roofs. ga bled adj. having a ~ or ~ a ~d house.

^{1}gad [gæd] v.i. (-dd-) (VP 23) (colloq.) go (about) from place to place for excitement or pleasure. 'gad-about n. person who does this.

^{2}gad [gæd] int. used to express surprise, etc. (also By gad!).

G— A gal

gad-fly ['gædflai] n. fly that stings horses and cattle.

gad get ['gædʒit] n. (colloq.) small (us mechanical) contrivance or device:
new ~ for opening tin cans.

Gael [geil] n. Scottish Celt. ~ic ['geili
adj. & n. (language) of Scottish Celt of the Scottish and Irish Celts.

ff [gæf] n. stick with an iron hook for ding fish caught with rod and line.

f [gæf] n. (sl.) blow the ~, let out a ret; disclose the plot.

fe [gæf] n. [C] blunder; indiscreet act remark.

fer ['gæfə*] n. (colloq.) elderly man sp. a countryman); foreman (of a gang workmen).

g [gæg] n. [C] 1. sth. put in a person's outh to keep it open (e.g. by a dentist) into or over it to prevent him from eaking or crying out. 2. words or tion added to his part by an actor a play, or a comic effect introduced by comedian into a music-hall turn, etc. .t. & i. (-gg-) 1. (VP 1) put a gag (def.) into or over the mouth of; silence; .) deprive (sb.) of free speech. 2. P 21) (of an actor, etc.) use gags ef. 2).

ga ['gægɑː, 'gɑːgɑː] adj. (sl.) in senile otage; fatuous.

ge [geidʒ] n. 1. sth. given as security r a guarantee; pledge. 2. (= gauntlet) love thrown down (by knights in the iddle Ages) as a challenge to a fight. .t. (VP 1) give or offer as a ~; pledge a guarantee.

age, see gauge.

ag gle ['gægl] n. flock (of geese); (hum.) group (of talkative girls or women).

ai e ty ['geiəti] n. 1. [U] being gay; cheerfulness; bright appearance: flags and bunting that added to the ~ of the scene. 2. (pl.) merrymaking; joyful, festive occasions: the gaieties of the Christmas season.

ai ly ['geili] adv. see gay.

ain [gein] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 18, 19) obtain (sth. wanted or needed): ~ one's living; ~ experience; ~ an advantage over a competitor; ~ strength, e.g. become strong again after an illness; ~ ground, make progress; ~ time, improve one's chances by postponing sth., making pretexts, etc.; ~ the upper hand, be victorious. What ~ed him such a reputation? 2. (VP 20, 21, 24) make progress; be improved; benefit: She is ~ing in weight. I have ~ed five pounds in weight. 3. (VP 20, 21) (of a watch or clock) become fast, ahead of the correct time; This watch neither ~s nor loses. The clock ~s three minutes a day. 4. (VP 24) ~ (up)on, (a) get closer to (the person or thing pursued): ~ on the other runners in a race. (b) go faster than, get farther in advance of: ~ on one's pursuers. (c) (of the sea) advance gradually and eat away (the land). 5. (VP 1) reach, arrive at (a desired place, esp. with effort): ~ the top of a mountain. The swimmer ~ed the shore. ~ings ['geiniŋz] n. pl. earnings; profits; winnings.

ain [gein] n. 1. [U] increase of possessions; acquiring of wealth: the love of ~; interested only in ~. 2. (pl.) what is obtained by trade, work, gambling, etc.: the thief's ill-gotten ~s. 3. [C] increase in amount: a ~ in weight (health); a ~ to knowledge. ~ful ['geinful] adj. yielding ~: ~ful occupations. ~ful ly adv. in a ~ful manner: ~fully employed.

gain say [gein'sei] v.t. (VP 1) (chiefly in neg. & interr.) deny; contradict: There is no ~ing his honesty, we cannot deny that he is honest.

gait [geit] n. manner of walking: an awkward (slouching) ~.

gai ter ['geitə*] n. cloth or leather covering for the leg from knee to ankle, or for the ankle: a pair of ~s.

A pair of gaiters

ga la ['gɑːlə, 'geilə] n. occasion of public merrymaking: (attrib.) in ~ dress; a ~ night (e.g. at a theatre, with special features).

ga lac tic [gə'læktik] adj. of the Galaxy: extra-~ systems, systems (of stars) outside the Galaxy.

gal an tine ['gæləntiːn] n. white meat, boned, spiced, cooked in the form of a roll, and served cold.

gal ax y ['gæləksi] n. 1. (cap. G) irregular band of stars not seen separately but making the sky bright; the Milky Way. 2. brilliant company of persons: a ~ of talent (beautiful women).

gale [geil] n. 1. strong wind: The ship lost her masts in the ~. It was blowing a ~. 2. noisy outburst: ~s of laughter.

¹gall [gɔːl] n. [U] 1. bitter liquid (bile) made by the liver. '~-ˌbladder n. vessel containing the ~. '~-stone n. hard mass that forms in the ~-bladder. 2. bitter feeling: with a pen dipped in ~ (used of a writer who makes bitter attacks).

²gall [gɔːl] n. [C] painful swelling on an animal (esp. a horse) caused by rubbing (of harness, etc.); place rubbed bare. v.t. 1. (VP 1) rub sore. 2. (fig.) hurt the feelings of; humiliate: ~ sb. with one's remarks. It was ~ing to him to have to ask for a loan.

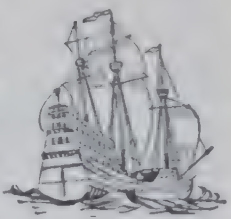
³gall [gɔːl] n. unnatural growth produced on a tree by insects (esp. on the oak-tree).

gal lant ['gælənt] adj. 1. brave: a ~ knight; ~ deeds. 2. fine; beautiful; stately: a ~-looking ship; a ~ display. 3. (also [gə'lænt]) showing special respect and courtesy to women: He was very ~ at the ball. n. [gə'lænt] young man of fashion, esp. one who is fond of and attentive to women. ~ry ['gæləntri] n. 1. [U] bravery. 2. [U] devotion, chivalrous attention, to women. 3. [C] elaborately polite or amorous act or speech to a woman; love affair.

gal leon [ˈgæljən] n. Spanish sailing-ship (15th to 17th cc.).



A galleon

gal ler y [ˈgæləri] n. 1. room or building for the display of works of art. 2. (people in the) highest and cheapest seats in a theatre. play to the ~, try to win approval or popularity by appealing to the taste of the masses. 3. raised floor or platform extending from an inner wall of a hall, church, etc.: the press ~ of the House of Commons, used by newspaper reporters. 4. covered walk or corridor, partly open at one side; colonnade. 5. long, narrow room: a shooting-~, for indoor target practice. 6. horizontal underground passage in a mine. (Cf. shaft.)

gal ley [ˈgæli] n. (pl. galleys) 1. low, flat single-decked ship, using sails and oars, rowed by slaves or criminals; ancient Greek or Roman warship. ˈ~*-slave n. person condemned to row in a ~. 2. ship's kitchen. 3. oblong metal tray in which type is assembled by compositors. ˈ~*-proof n. proof (def. 4) on a long slip of paper, before division into pages.

Gal lic [ˈgælik] adj. of Gaul or the Gauls; (often hum.) French. gal li cism [ˈgælisizəm] n. [C] French way of saying sth., used in another language.

gal li vant [ˌgæliˈvænt] v.i. (VP 23) (not used in the simple tenses) gad about: Where are you ~ing off to now?

gal lon [ˈgælən] n. measure for liquids, four quarts. (See Appendix 1.)

gal lop [ˈgæləp] n. (of a horse, etc.) fastest pace with all four feet off the ground at each stride; period of riding at such a pace: He rode away at a ~ (at full ~). Shall we go for a ~? v.i. & t. 1. (VP 1, 21) (cause to) go at a ~: He ~ed across the field. 2. (VP 21, 23, 24) hurry: ~ through one's work (lecture); progress rapidly: in a ~ing consumption, ill with tuberculosis which is rapidly getting worse.

gal lows [ˈgælouz] n. (usu. with sing. v.) wooden framework on which to put criminals to death by hanging: send a man to the ~, condemn him to be hanged. He'll come to the ~, will end by being hanged. ˈ~*-bird n. person who deserves to be hanged.

Gal lup poll [ˈgæləp ˈpoul] n. test of how a representative sample of people think about sth. (e.g. how they will vote at a general election), esp. as a means of making a forecast.

ga lore [gəˈlɔː*, -lɔə*] adv. in plenty: a meal with beef and beer ~.

ga losh [gəˈlɔʃ] n. rubber over-shoe worn in wet weather: a pair of ~es.

ga lumph [gəˈlʌmf] v.i. (made gallop and triumph) prance in trium gal van ic [gælˈvænik] adj. 1. of, u produced by, electricity from a che battery. 2. (fig.) (of smiles, movem etc.) sudden and forced (as if prod by an electric shock).

gal van ism [ˈgælvənizəm] n. [U] (sc of, medical use of) electricity prod by chemical action from a battery gal va nize [ˈgælvənaiz] v.t. 1. (V coat (sheet iron, etc.) with metal zinc) by galvanism: ~d iron. 2. (V 18) shock or rouse (sb. into doing s gam bit [ˈgæmbit] n. kinds of ope move in chess (in which a player s fices a pawn or other piece to se certain ends); (fig.) any initial move gam ble [ˈgæmbl] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21 24) play games of chance for mon take great risks for the chance of ning sth. or making a profit: He los money gambling at cards (gambling the Stock Exchange, in oil shares,

2. (VP 10 with away) lose by gambl
He has ~d away half his fortune.
[C] undertaking or attempt with ri loss and chance of profit or advanta gam bler n. person who ~s. ga bling n. [U] playing games for mon taking risks for possible advanta fond of gambling. ˈ*gambling-* (-house) n. place where gambling carried on.

gam boge [gæmˈbuːʒ] n. [U] deep yell colouring matter used by artists.

gam bol [ˈgæmbl] n. (usu. pl.) qui playful, jumping, or skipping mo ments (e.g. of lambs, children). v.i. ( (U.S.A. also -l-) (VP 21, 23) make su movements.

ˡgame [geim] n. 1. [C] form of play, e with rules (e.g. tennis, football, card play ~s; have a ~ of whist. He play good ~ at cards, is a good player. pl the ~, keep the rules; (fig.) be straig forward and honest. be off one's be out of form, not playing well. ha the ~ in one's hands, be sure to win be able to direct it. ˈ~*s-ˌmaster, ˈ~ ˌ*mistress, teacher in charge of ~s a school. 2. [C] apparatus, etc., need for a ~, e.g. one played by children w a board and dice and counters, such ludo and draughts. 3. (pl.) athle contests: the Highland G~s; (in Gre and Rome, ancient times) athletic a dramatic contests: the Olympic G
4. single round in some contests ( whist, tennis): win four ~s in the f set; score needed to win; state of the the ~ is four all; ~ all (~ and ~), equ score. 5. [C] scheme, plan, or und taking; dodge or trick: He was play a deep ~, engaged in a secret scheme some sort. I wish I knew what his ~ what he is trying to do. That's a ~

people can play (said when one person uses a scheme to win an advantage for himself). So that's your little ~ (said when one discovers what sb. is scheming to do). The ~ is up, success is now impossible. You're playing Smith's ~, you are, unintentionally, helping to advance Smith's scheme. None of your little ~s! Don't try to play tricks on me! You're having a ~ with me, trying to trick me, deceive me, etc. make ~ of sb., ridicule him. 6. [U] (collective) (flesh of) animals and birds hunted for sport and food. big ~, the larger animals (elephants, lions, tigers). fair ~, what may be lawfully hunted or shot; (fig.) person or institution that may with reason be attacked or criticized. '~-*bag n. bag for holding ~ killed by sportsmen. '~-*cock n. of the kind bred for cock-fighting. '~-ˌ*keeper n. man employed to breed and protect ~ (e.g. pheasants, grouse) on a country estate. '~-*laws n.. pl. laws regulating the killing and preservation of ~. '~-ˌ*licence n. one to kill and deal in ~.

2game [geim] adj. 1. brave; ready to go on fighting; spirited: die ~, like a hero. 2. spirited enough, willing (for sth., to do sth.): Are you ~ for a 10-mile walk? He's ~ for anything you may suggest. ~ly adv.

3game [geim] v.i. & t. (VP 21, 24, 10) gamble. 'gaming-house (-ˌ*table*) n. one frequented by gamblers. ~ster n. gambler.

4game [geim] adj. (of a leg, arm, etc.) lame; crippled gam ma ['gæmə] n. third letter of the Greek alphabet. ~ rays n. pl. rays of very short wave-length emitted by radio-active substances.

1gam mon ['gæmən] n. [C] bottom piece of a flitch of bacon including a hind leg; [U] smoked or cured ham.

2gam mon ['gæmən] n. [U] foolish talk; humbug. int. Nonsense!

gamp [gæmp] n. (hum.) umbrella (esp. a large, untidy one).

gam ut ['gæmət] n. whole range of musical notes; (fig.) complete extent or scope of anything: the whole ~ of feeling (e.g. from the greatest joy to the depths of despair or misery).

gan der ['gændə*] n. male goose.

gang [gæŋ] n. 1. number of workmen, slaves, or prisoners working together. 2. group of persons going about or working together, esp. for criminal purposes (cf. gangster). 3. (colloq.) group of persons going about together, disapproved of by the speaker: Don't get mixed up with that ~; they spend too much time drinking and gambling. v.i. ~ up, act together (as a ~, def. 2): They ~ed up on (against) me.

gan gli on ['gæŋgliən] n. (pl. -ions or -ia [-iə]) group of nerve-cells from which nerve-fibres radiate; (fig.) centre of force, activity, or interest.

gang-plank ['gæŋplæŋk] n. movable plank placed between a ship or boat and the land, or between two boats or ships.

gan grene ['gæŋgriːn] n. [U] death and decay of a part of the body (e.g. because the supply of blood to it has been stopped): G~ set in and his leg had to be amputated. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) affect, become affected, with ~. gan gre nous ['gæŋgrinəs] adj.

gang ster ['gæŋstə*] n. member of a gang of criminals: (attrib.) ~ films.

gang way ['gæŋwei] n. 1. opening in a ship's side; movable bridge from this to the land. 2. passage between rows of seats (e.g. in the House of Commons, in a theatre or concert-hall) or between rows of people. int. Make way, please!

gan net ['gænit] n. kind of sea-bird.

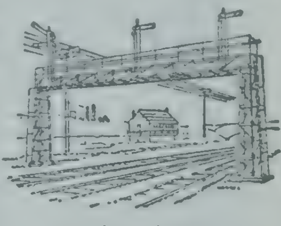
gan try ['gæntri] n. structure of steel bars to support a travelling crane, railway signals, etc.



A gantry

gaol, jail [dʒeil] n. (usu. jail in U.S.A.) [C] public prison; (without art.) confinement in prison: three years in ~; be sent to ~. '~-*bird n. prisoner, esp. one who has often been in prison; rogue. v.t. (VP 1) put in ~. ~er, jail er, jail or nn. man in charge of a ~ or the prisoners in it.

gap [gæp] n. 1. break or opening in a wall, hedge, etc.: The sheep got out of the field through a gap in the hedge. We must see that there is no gap in our defences. 2. unfilled space; interval; wide separation (of ideas, etc.): a gap in a conversation, interval of silence; fill in the gaps in one's education, study what one failed to learn while at school, etc.; a wide gap between the views of the two statesmen. fill (stop, supply) a gap, supply sth. lacking. (Cf. stopgap.) 3. gorge or pass between mountains.

gape [geip] v.i. (VP 21, 23, 24) 1. open the mouth wide; yawn; stare open-mouthed and in surprise (at sb. or sth.): country visitors gaping at the neon lights. 2. open or be open wide: a gaping chasm. n. yawn; open-mouthed stare. the ~s, (a) disease of poultry causing them to gape until they die (with the beak wide open). (b) (joc.) fit of yawning.

ga rage ['gærɑːʒ, -ridʒ] n. building where motor-cars are stored or repaired. v.t. (VP 1) put (a motor-car) in a ~.

garb [gɑːb] n. [U] (style of) dress (esp. as worn by a particular kind of person): a man in clerical ~. v.t. (usu. passive, or reflex.) (VP 1) dress: ~ed in motley; ~ oneself as a sailor.

gar bage [ˈgɑ:bidʒ] n. [U] waste food put out as worthless, or for pigs, etc.

gar ble [ˈgɑ:bl] v.t. (VP 1) make an incomplete or unfair selection from (statements, facts, etc.), esp. in order to give false ideas: a ~d report of a speech.

gar den [ˈgɑ:dn] n. 1. [C & U] (piece of) ground used for growing flowers, fruit, vegetables, etc.: a kitchen ~, for vegetables; a market ~, for vegetables, fruit, and flowers for sale in public markets; (attrib.) a ~ wall; ~ flowers (plants). We have not much ~ (only a small ~). lead sb. up the ~ path, (sl.) mislead him. ˈ~-ˌ*party n. social gathering held out of doors on a lawn, in a ~ or park, etc. ~ city n. town laid out with wide roads, numerous open spaces, and planted with trees in large numbers. 2. (usu. pl.) public park: Kensington G~s (in London); botanical (zoological) ~s. 3. (pl. with name prefixed) row(s) of houses with open spaces planted with bushes and trees: Spring G~s. ~er n. person who works in a ~, either for pay or as a hobby. ~ing n. [U] cultivating of ~s: fond of ~ing; (attrib.) ~ing tools.

gar de nia [gɑ:ˈdi:njə] n. (kinds of) tree or shrub with large white or yellow flowers, usu. sweet-smelling.

gar gan tu an [gɑ:ˈgæntjuən] adj. enormous; gigantic.

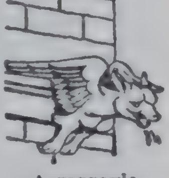
gar gle [ˈgɑ:gl] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) wash the throat with liquid kept in motion by a stream of breath. n. liquid used for this purpose; act of gargling.

gar goyle [ˈgɑ:gɔil] n. stone or metal spout, usu. in the form of a grotesque human or animal creature, to carry off rain-water from the roof of a building (esp. Gothic-style churches).



A gargoyle

gar ish [ˈgɛəriʃ] adj. unpleasantly bright; over-coloured or over-decorated: ~ clothes. ~ly adv.

gar land [ˈgɑ:lənd] n. circle of flowers or leaves as an ornament or decoration; this as a prize for victory, etc. v.t. (VP 1) decorate, crown, with a ~ or ~s.

gar lic [ˈgɑ:lik] n. [U] onion-like plant with strong taste and smell, used in cooking: a clove of ~, one of the small bulbs making up the compound bulb of a ~ plant; too much ~ in the food; smelling of ~.

Garlic

gar ment [ˈgɑ:mənt] n. [C] article of clothing.

gar ner [ˈgɑ:nə*] n. (poet. & rhet.) storehouse for grain, etc. (also fig.). v.t. (VP 1, 10) store, gather (up, in).

gar nish [ˈgɑ:niʃ] v.t. (VP 1, 18) decorate

(esp. food for the table): fish ~e slices of lemon. n. sth. used to de a dish of food for the table.

gar ret [ˈgærət, -it] n. room on t floor of a house, esp. in the roof a poor, wretched room).

gar ri son [ˈgærisn] n. [C] military stationed in a town or fort: (attrib.
town, one in which a ~ is perma stationed. v.t. (VP 1) supply (a etc.) with a ~; place (troops, et ~ duty.

ga(r) rotte [gəˈrɔt] v.t. (VP 1) exe (a person condemned to death) strangling or throttling (a stick b twisted to tighten a cord over the pipe); murder (sb.) in this way. n. method of capital punishment; app
tus used for it.

gar ru lous [ˈgæruləs] adj. talka talking too much about unimpo things. gar ru li ty [gæˈru:liti] n. [ gar ter [ˈgɑ:tə*] n. (elastic) band w round the leg to keep a stocking place. the G~, (badge of) the hig order of English knighthood.

gas [gæs] n. (pl. gases [ˈgæsiz]) ([U], used with indef. art. or in pl. mean
'kind(s) of gas') 1. any air-like s stance, (used chiefly of those that not become liquid or solid at ordin temperatures): Air is a mixture of ga Hydrogen and oxygen are gases. 2.
one of the gases or mixtures of ga used for lighting and heating, esp.
kind manufactured from coal: put kettle on the gas (i.e. on the gas-ring stove). ˈ*gas-bag n. (a) bag for hold gas (e.g. in an airship). (b) (colloq.) p son who talks too much without s ing anything useful or interesti ˈ*gas-ˌbracket* n. pipe with one more burners projecting from a wall. gas chamber, (a) room filled with gas for lethal purposes. (b) chamber filled with gas for preventing decay of apples, etc. gas fire n. one for heating a room by gas. ˈ*gas-ˌfitter n.

A gas fire

workman who provides a building w ˈ*gas-ˌfittings* n. pl. apparatus (pip burners, etc.) for heating or light with gas. ˈ*gaslight n. [U] light p duced by burning coal-gas. ˈg ˌmeter n. meter for registering amount of gas that passes throu
it. ˈ*gas-ˌoven n. (a) one heated by g (b) gas chamber (def. a). gas poke metal rod with holes in one end, c nected to a supply of gas, used to li fires in a fireplace. ˈ*gas-ring n. me ring with numerous small holes and s plied with gas for cooking, etc.

A gas-ring

ar n. [U] coal-tar produced during the ufacture of coal-as. 'gas-works n. ing. vb.) place where al-gas is manufacured. 3. (also laughing-s) nitrous oxide, used y dentists as an anaeshetic. 4. one of various oisonous gases: a gas-ˌhelmet (e.g. as used in coal-mines); 'gas-mask (e.g. used as a precaution gainst poison-gas in war). 5. (orig. U.S.A. colloq.) gasolene (petrol): step n the gas, press down the accelerator pedal; increase speed. 'gas-ˌengine n. one from which power is obtained by the regular explosion of gas in a closed cylinder. 6. (fig., colloq.) empty talk; boasting. v.t. & i. (-ss-) 1. (VP 1) poison or overcome by gas. 2. (VP 21, 23) (colloq.) talk for a long time without saying much that is useful.

as e·ous ['geisiəs] adj. of or like gas: ~ mixture.

ash [gæʃ] n. [C] long deep cut or wound. v.t. (VP 1) make a ~ in.

as ket ['gæskit] n. 1. strip or soft, flat piece of material used for packing a joint, piston, etc., to prevent steam, gas, etc., from escaping. 2. (usu. pl.) small cords used for tying a furled sail to a yard.

as o lene ['gæsəliːn] n. [U] (U.S.A.) petrol; motor spirit.

as om e ter [gæ'sɔmitə*] n. large round tank in which gas is stored and measured (usu. at a gas-works) and from which it is distributed through pipes.

asp [gɑːsp] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 23) struggle for breath; take short, quick breaths as a fish does out of water: ~ing for breath; ~ing (breathless) with rage. 2. (VP 1, 10 with out) utter in a breathless way: He ~ed out a few words. n. [C] catching of the breath through pain, surprise, etc.: at one's last ~, exhausted; at the point of death.

as sy ['gæsi] adj. (-ier, -iest) of or like gas; full of gas; (of talk, etc.) empty; vain and boastful.

as tric ['gæstrik] adj. of the stomach: a ~ ulcer; ~ fever; ~ juices.

as tri tis [gæs'traitis] n. [U] inflammation of the stomach.

as tron o my [gæs'trɔnəmi] n. [U] art and science of choosing, preparing, and eating good food. gas tro nom ic [ˌgæstrə'nɔmik] adj. of ~.

ate [geit] n. 1. opening in the wall of a city, hedge, fence, or other enclosure, capable of being closed by means of a barrier: He opened the garden ~ and went up to the door of the house. He jumped over the ~ into the field. '~-house n. house built at the side of, or over, a ~ (e.g. at the entrance to a park, the house being used by a servant called the ~-keeper). 2. barrier that closes such an opening, either of solid wood or of iron gratings or bars, usu. on hinges; barrier used to control the passage of water (e.g. into or out of a lock on a canal). '~-post n. post on which a ~ is hung or against which it is closed: between you and me and the ~-post, in strict confidence. '~-legged 'table, table with legs that can be moved out to support a folding top. '~-way n. way in or out that can be closed by a ~ or ~s; (fig.) means of approach: a ~way to fame (knowledge). '~crash v.t. (VP 1) enter (a building at which there is a private social occasion of some sort) without invitation or payment. '~crasher n. 3. (total sum paid by) number of people attending a football match, athletic contest, etc. v.t. (VP 1) (at Oxf. and Camb.) confine (a student) to college (as a penalty).

gath er ['gæðə*] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10, 21, 23) get, come, or bring together: He soon ~ed a crowd round him. A crowd soon ~ed round him. The clouds are ~ing; it's going to rain. be ~ed to one's fathers, (liter. or rhet.) die. 2. (VP 1, 10) pick (flowers, etc.); collect: ~ one's papers and books together. 3. (VP 1) obtain gradually: ~ information (impressions, experience). 4. (VP 1, 11) understand; conclude: What did you ~ from his statement? I ~, from what you say, that . . . 5. (VP 1, 10) (in sewing) pull together into small folds by putting a thread through; draw parts (of material, a garment) closer together: a skirt ~ed at the waist; draw (the brow) together in wrinkles: ~ the brows. 6. (VP 21) (of an abscess or boil) form pus and swell up; come to a head. ~ing n. [C] 1. coming together of people; meeting. 2. swelling with pus in it.

gauche [gouʃ] adj. socially awkward; tactless. gau che rie ['gouʃəri] n. [U] ~ behaviour; [C] ~ act, movement, etc.

gau cho ['gautʃou] n. cowboy of mixed European and Indian descent in S. America.

gaud [gɔːd] n. [C] showy ornament.

[1]gaud y ['gɔːdi] adj. (-ier, -iest) too bright and showy; gay or bright in a tasteless way: ~ decorations; cheap and ~ jewels. gaud i ly adv. gaud i ness n.

[2]gaud y ['gɔːdi] n. annual college dinner or other celebration, given to former members.

gauge, gage [geidʒ] n. 1. standard measure; extent: take the ~ of, estimate. 2. distance between rails (or between opposite wheels on a vehicle that runs on rails): standard ~; broad ~, more than 4 ft. 8½ in.; narrow ~, less than 4 ft. 8½ in. 3. thickness of wire, sheet-metal, etc.; diameter of a bullet, etc. 4.

instrument for measuring (e.g. rainfall, strength of wind, size, diameter, etc., of tools, wire, etc.). v.t. (VP 1) measure accurately: ~ the diameter of wire (the contents of a barrel, the rainfall, the strength of the wind); (fig.) make an estimate, form a judgement, of: ~ a person's character.

gaunt [gɔ:nt] adj. (of a person) lean, haggard (as from hunger, ill-health, or suffering); (of a place) grim or desolate: a ~ hillside. ~ness n.

Gauntlets (def. 2)

¹gaunt let ['gɔ:ntlit] n. 1. glove with metal plates worn by soldiers in the Middle Ages. throw down (pick up, take up) the ~, give (accept) a challenge to a fight. 2. strong glove with a wide cuff covering the wrist (used for driving, fencing, etc.).

²gaunt let ['gɔ:ntlit] n. (only in) run the ~, run between two rows of men who strike the victim as he passes; (fig.) be exposed to severe criticism.

gauze [gɔ:z] n. [U] thin, transparent net-like material of silk, cotton, etc., or of wire (for screening windows against insects, etc.). gauz y adj. gauz i ness n.

gave [geiv] p.t. of give.

gav el ['gævl] n. hammer used by an auctioneer or a chairman as a signal for order or attention.

ga votte [gə'vɔt] n. [C] (music for a) dance like the minuet but more lively.

gawk [gɔ:k] n. awkward or bashful person. ~y ['gɔ:ki] adj. (-ier, -iest) (of persons) awkward, bashful, ungainly. ~i ness n.

gay [gei] adj. (-er, -est) 1. light-hearted; cheerful; happy and full of fun: the gay voices of young children; gay looks (laughter). 2. suggesting happiness and joy: gay music; gay colours; streets that were gay with flags. 3. (in a bad sense) wanton; immoral: lead a gay life. gai ly adv. in a gay manner. gay ness n.

gaze [geiz] n. (sing. only) long, steady look: with a bewildered ~. v.i. (VP 21, 23, 24) look long and steadily (at, on, upon): What are you gazing at? Stop gazing round.

ga zelle [gə'zel] n. small, graceful kinds of antelope.

ga zette [gə'zet] n. 1. government periodical with legal notices, news of appointments, promotions, etc., of officers and officials. 2. title of some newspapers, as the Westminster G~. v.t. (usu. in the passive) be ~d, be published in the official ~: (of an army officer) be ~d to a regiment.

gaz et teer [ˌgæzi'tiə*] n. dictionary of geographical names (e.g. at the end of an atlas).

Bevel g

gear [giə*] n. 1. [C] set of to wheels working together in a machine, esp. such a set to connect a motor-car engine with the road wheels: a car with four ~s, first, second, third, and reverse; high (low) ~, that which makes the driven part go fast (slowly), the low ~ being used when starting or going up or down a steep hill;
of) ~, with the ~ wheels conn with (disconnected from) the en top (bottom) ~, highest (lowest '~-box n. one that encloses the
of a motor-car, etc. 2. [C] app appliance, mechanism, arrangeme wheels, levers, etc., for a special pu the steering-~ of a ship; the landi
of an aircraft. 3. [U] equipmen general: hunting-~, things neede hunting. v.t. & i. (VP 10, 21, 24) come, or be in ~; connect with, m dependent on: ~ up (down), put high (low) ~; ~ one thing to an thing, adjust the working of one t to suit another.

¹gee [dʒi:], gee-gee ['dʒi:dʒi:]
(child's word for a) horse.

²gee [dʒi:] gee-up ['dʒi: 'ʌp] intt. (w of command to a horse) go on; go fa geese [gi:s] n. plur. of goose.

Gei ger ['gaigə*] n. ~ counter, metal t containing an electrode, used for det ing and measuring radiations (e.g. f radio-active substances or cosmic ra gei sha ['geiʃə] n. Japanese girl woman trained to entertain men singing and dancing at parties, etc.

gel a tin(e) [ˌdʒelə'ti:n, 'dʒelətin] n.
clear, tasteless substance, made boiling bones and waste parts of mals, dissolved in water to make j ge lat i nous [dʒi'lætinəs] adj. of like ~; jelly-like in consistency, etc.

geld [geld] v.t. (VP 1) deprive (us male animal) of the power to reprodu castrate. geld ing n. castrated ani
esp. a horse.

gel ig nite ['dʒelignait] n. [U] explo made from nitric acid, glycerine, other substances.

gem [dʒem] n. 1. precious stone jewel, esp. cut or polished. 2.
valued because of great beauty;
much prized: the gem of the collect the most valued item in it. v.t. (-m adorn with, or as with, gems: the n sky gemmed with stars.

gen [dʒen] n. (sl.) the gen, general correct information.

gen darme ['ʒɑ̃:ndɑ:m, (Fr.) ʒɑ̃da
n. (in France and some other count but not in Great Britain or U.S member of a military force emplo

n police duties. gen dar me rie [ʒːãn- :məri] n. (collective sing.) force of ~s.

en der [ˈdʒendə*] n. grammatical uping of words (nouns and pronouns) classes, masculine, feminine, and ter, according as they are regarded male, female, or without sex.

ene [dʒiː] n. [C] one of the factors con- rolling heredity.

en e a log i cal [ˌdʒiːniəˈlɔdʒikəl] adj. of genealogy; showing family descent: ~ tree, a diagram (a table like a tree with branches) showing the descent of family or species. ~ly adv.

en e al o gy [ˌdʒiːniˈælədʒi] n. 1. [U] cience of the development of plants nd animals from earlier forms. 2. [C] diagram illustrating the) descent or line f development of a plant or animal rom earlier forms: person's pedigree. gen e al o gist n. student of ~.

en e ra [ˈdʒenərə] n. plur. of genus.

en er al [ˈdʒenərəl] adj. 1. of, affecting, ll or nearly all; not special, local or articular: a matter of ~ interest, one in hich all or most people are likely to e interested; a ~ election, one for arliamentary representatives over the hole country (cf. by-election); a ~ trike, one by workmen of all, or nearly ll, the trade unions; a good ~ educa- ion, in all the chief subjects; a word that s in ~ use, used by all people; the ~ pinion on this subject, what most eople think about it. The cold weather as been ~, has been experienced in all r most parts of the country. ~ know- edge, of a wide variety of subjects. Cf. common knowledge, knowledge (of a articular fact, etc.) possessed by every nember of a class or community of eople.) ~ practitioner, doctor who s not a specialist or consultant. ~ ervant, one who is expected to do all inds of housework. as a ~ rule, in ~, n most cases; usually. 2. not in detail; ot definite: a ~ outline of a scheme; ave a ~ idea of what a book is about; xplain something in ~ terms. 3. (after n official title) chief: postmaster-~; nspector-~. n. army officer with the ighest rank below Field Marshal (and lso, by courtesy, of Lieutenant-~ and Major-~). (See Appendix 2.) en er al is si mo [ˌdʒenᵊrəˈlisimou] n. pl. ~s) commander of combined mili- ary and naval and air forces, or of com- ined armies.

en er al i ty [ˌdʒenəˈræliti] n. 1. [C] eneral rule or statement; vague or ndefinite remark, etc.: I wish you vould come down from generalities to articularities. 2. (with def. art.) majority or greater part (of): Is it wrong o say that the ~ of school children are azy? 3. [U] quality of being general: a ule of great ~, one with few exceptions.

gen er al i za tion [ˌdʒenᵊrəlaiˈzeiʃən] n. 1. [U] generalizing: It is unwise to be hasty in ~. 2. [C] statement or proposition obtained by generalizing, esp one based on too few examples.

gen er a lize [ˈdʒenərəlaiz] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 24) draw a general conclusion (from); make a general statement. 2. (VP 1, 18) state (sth.) in general terms or principles (from): ~ a conclusion from a collection of instances or facts. 3. (VP 1) bring into general use: ~ the use of a new invention.

gen er al ly [ˈdʒenərəli] adv. (usu. with the finite vb.) 1. usually; as a general rule: I ~ get up at six o'clock. 2. widely; for the most part: The new plan was ~ welcomed, was welcomed by most people. 3. in a general sense; without paying attention to details: ~ speaking.

gen er ate [ˈdʒenəreit] v.t. (VP 1) cause to exist or occur; produce: ~ heat (electricity); hatred ~d by racial differences.

gen er a tion [ˌdʒenəˈreiʃən] n. 1. [U] generating; bringing into existence: the ~ of electricity by steam or water-power; the ~ of heat by friction. 2. [C] single stage or step in family descent: three ~s, children, parents, grandparents. 3. [C] average period (regarded as 30 years) in which children grow up, marry, and have children: a ~ ago. 4. [C] all persons born about the same time, and, therefore, of about the same age: the present (past, coming) ~; the rising ~, the young ~.

gen er a tive [ˈdʒenərətiv] adj. able to produce; productive.

gen er a tor [ˈdʒenəreitə*] n. [C] machine or apparatus for generating (steam, electric current, etc.).

ge ner ic [dʒiˈnerik] adj. of a genus; common to a whole group or class, not special. ge ner i cal ly adv.

gen er os i ty [ˌdʒenəˈrɔsiti] n. 1. [U] the quality of being generous; nobility of mind; greatness of heart: show ~ in dealing with a defeated enemy. 2. [C] generous act, etc.

gen er ous [ˈdʒenərəs] adj. 1. giving, ready to give, freely; given freely; noble-minded: He is ~ with his money (~ in giving help). It was ~ of them to share their meal with their out-of-work neighbours. What a ~ gift! He has a ~ nature. 2. plentiful: a ~ helping of meat and vegetables; a ~ harvest. ~ly adv.

gen es is [ˈdʒenisis] n. beginning; starting-point: the ~ of civilization.

ge net ics [dʒiˈnetiks] n. science (branch of biology) dealing with heredity, the ways in which characteristics are passed on from parents to offspring.

ge nial [ˈdʒiːnjəl] adj. 1. kindly, sympathetic; sociable: a ~ old man; ~ smiles; under the ~ influence of good wine. 2. favourable to growth; mild; warm: a ~ climate; ~ sunshine. ge ni al i ty [ˌdʒi:ni'æliti] n. [U] quality of being ~; [C] ~ look, act, utterance, etc. ~ly adv.

ge nie ['dʒi:ni] n. (pl. genies or genii ['dʒi:niai]) (in Arabic stories) spirit or goblin with strange powers.

gen i tal ['dʒenitl] adj. of generation (def. 1) or of animal reproductive organs. n. pl. external organs of reproduction; sex organs.

gen i tive ['dʒenitiv] adj. ~ case, (grammar) showing source or possession.

ge nius ['dʒi:njəs] n. (pl. -iuses) 1. [U] very great and exceptional capacity of the mind or imagination; creative or inventive capacity: men of ~. 2. [C] person having this capacity: Einstein was a mathematical ~. 3. (usu. sing. with indef. art., followed by for) natural ability: have a ~ for languages (acting, making friends). 4. (usu. sing. with def. art.) guardian spirit of a person, place, or institution (hence, by extension) special and inborn character, spirit or principles of a language, a period of time, an institution, etc.; prevalent feeling, opinions, taste, etc., of a race of people: the French ~; the ~ of the British Constitution (the Renaissance period in Italy). ~ loci ['dʒi:njəs'lousai], (with def. art.) associations, atmosphere, etc., of a place. 5. one's good (or evil) ~, spirit or angel working for one's salvation (or damnation); person who has a strong influence upon one for good (or ill). 6. (pl. genii ['dʒi:niai]; see genie) demon; supernatural being.

gen o cide ['dʒenousaid] n. [U] extermination of a race or community by mass murder, or by imposing conditions that make survival impossible.

genre [ʒɑ̃:ŋr, (Fr.) ʒɑ̃:r] n. 1. kind; style. 2. (also ~-painting) portrayal of scenes, etc., from ordinary life.

gent [dʒent] n. (vulgar abbreviation of) gentleman.

gen teel [dʒen'ti:l] adj. (usu. iron. in modern use, but serious in former use) polite and well-bred; elegant; characteristic of, suitable for, the upper classes of society: living in ~ poverty, trying to maintain the style of the upper classes, although too poor to do so. ~ly adv.

gen tian ['dʒenʃiən] n. kinds of usu. blue-flowered plant growing in mountainous districts.

gen tile ['dʒentail] n. & adj. (person) not of the Jewish race.

gen til i ty [dʒen'tiliti] n. [U] state of being genteel: living in shabby ~, trying, without real success, to keep up an appear being genteel.

Gentians

gen tle ['dʒentl] adj. (-er, -est) 1. friendly; not rough or violent nature (heart, look, voice, call, manners; a ~ breeze; a ~ heat ( too hot); a ~ slope (i.e. not steep).
a family) with good social person of ~ birth. ~folk ['dʒen
n. pl. persons of ~ birth. ~ness

gen tle man ['dʒentlmən] n. (pl.
[-mən]) 1. man who shows consi for the feelings of others, who is h able and well-bred: a fine old ~; a t ~'s agreement, one that is bind honour, but cannot be enforced
2. (old use) man of good family at to a court or the household of a noble: one of the king's gentlemen;
'arms, one of the sovereign's body
3. (historical use) man entitled to arms but not a member of the nob
4. (out of date use) man of wealth social position, esp. one who d work for a living: 'What does h
for a living?' 'Nothing; he's a ~.
(polite synonym for) any man of social position: A ~ has called t
you. Who's the ~ in the corner? 6. polite form of address to male men of an audience: Gentlemen! Ladies Gentlemen! Also used instead of Si
Dear Sirs when writing to a busi firm, etc. ~ly adj. feeling, behav or looking like a ~; suitable or r for a ~ (def. 1): a ~ly appearance.

gen tle wom an ['dʒentlˌwumən] n.
-women [-ˌwimin]) lady: (in histor use) the Queen and her gentlewomen.

gen tly ['dʒentli] adv. in a gentle m ner: Hold it ~, carefully. Speak (softly, kindly) to the child. The slopes ~ (gradually) to the sea.

gen try ['dʒentri] n. (collective plu usu. with def. art.) people of good so position next below the nobility; (ir people (of any class).

gen u flect ['dʒenjuflekt] v.t. (VP bend the knee, esp. in worship. gen flex ion, gen u flec tion [ˌdʒenju'f ʃən] nn.

gen u ine ['dʒenjuin] adj. true; re
what it is said to be: a ~ pictur Rubens; ~ pearls; ~ sorrow; a ~ sig ture. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

ge nus ['dʒi:nəs] n. (pl. genera ['dʒene
1. (science) division of animals or pl within a family: ~ Homo, mank 2. sort; kind; class.

ge o- [dʒi(:)ou-] form of Greek word 'earth', used in combinations: ge cen tric [ˌdʒiou'sentrik] adj. hav or representing the earth as cen ge o phys ics [ˌdʒiou'fiziks] n. pl. (s vb.) study of the earth's magneti meteorology, etc. ge o phys i cal ge o pol i tics [ˌdʒiou'politiks] n.

ing. vb.) country's politics as deter-ined by its geographical position.

og ra phy [dʒi'ɔgrəfi] n. [U] science of e earth's surface, physical features, ivisions, climate, products, population,
c. ge og ra pher n. authority on ~.
e o graph ic, i cal [ˌdʒiə'græfik(l)] adj.
~. ge o graph i cal ly adv.

ol o gy [dʒi'ɔlədʒi] n. [U] science of e earth's history as shown by its crust, cks, etc. ge ol o gist n. authority ~; student of ~. ge o log ic, i cal dʒiə'lɔdʒik(l)] adj. of ~. ge o log ial ly adv.

om e try [dʒi'ɔmətri] n. [U] science
the properties and relations of lines, ngles, surfaces, and solids. ge o met-ic, ri cal [ˌdʒiə'metrik(l)] adj. of ~; of like the lines, figures, etc., used in ~:
ometrical patterns. geometrical proression, series of numbers with a onstant ratio between successive quanties, the numbers either increasing by common multiplier, or decreasing by common divisor, as 1: 3: 9: 27: 81.
e o met ri cal ly adv.

eorge [dʒɔ:dʒ] n. 1. St. ~, patron aint of England; St. ~'s day, 23 Apr.;
t. ~'s Cross, vertical and horizontal red ars crossing in the centre. 2. (slang) utomatic pilot of aircraft. 3. by ~,
sed as an oath or exclamation.

or gette [dʒɔ:'dʒet] n. [U] thin silk ress material.

eor gian ['dʒɔ:dʒjən] adj. of the time the first four Georges, Kings of ngland (18th c.): ~ architecture.

ra nium [dʒi'reinjəm] n. kind of arden plant with red,
ink, or white flowers.

r i at rics [ˌdʒeri'ætks] n. pl. (sing. vb.)
edical care of old eople.

rm [dʒə:m] n. [C] 1.
ortion of a living oranism capable of be-
oming a new organ-
m; (fig.) beginning or tarting-point (of an dea, etc.). 2. microbe r bacillus, esp. one causing disease: ~ arface, use of bacteria as a weapon in ar.

A geranium flower

er man ['dʒə:mən] adj. of Germany nd its people. n. native of Germany;
anguage of the ~ people.

r mane [dʒə:'mein] adj. relevant, perinent (to).

er mi cide ['dʒə:misaid] n. substance sed to destroy (esp. disease-) germs.

r mi nate ['dʒə:mineit] v.t. & i.
VP 1, 21) (of seeds) (cause to) start rowth. ger mi na tion [ˌdʒə:mi'nein] n. [U] germinating; sprouting.

r on tol o gy [ˌdʒerən'tɔlədʒi] n.
ranch of science concerned with the processes of growing old (esp. in human beings).

ger ry man der ['dʒerimændə*] v.t. (VP 1) falsify (facts, etc.) so as to give a wrong impression; practise trickery. n. such a falsification.

ger und ['dʒerənd] n. 1. forms of Latin verb serving as cases of the infinitive in its noun use. 2. the -ing form of an English verb when used as a noun (as in 'fond of swimming').

Ges ta po [ges'tɑ:pou] n. German secret state police during the Nazi period.

ges ta tion [dʒes'teiʃən] n. carrying or being carried in the womb between conception and birth; this period.

ges tic u late [dʒes'tikjuleit] v.i. (VP 21) use movements of the hands, arms, or head instead of, or to accompany, speaking. ges tic u la tion [ˌdʒestikju'leiʃən] n. [U] gesticulating; [C] movement used in this.

ges ture ['dʒestʃə*] n. 1. [C] movement of the hand or head to indicate or illustrate an idea, feeling, etc.; sth. done to convey a friendly intention: a ~ of refusal; make a friendly ~ to sb. 2. [U] use of expressive movements: an actor who is a master of the art of ~. v.i. (VP 21) gesticulate.

get [get] v.t. & i. (p.t. got [gɔt], p.p. got, or, in older English, and in U.S.A., gotten ['gɔtn]). (For combinations with preps. and advv., see def. 11.) 1. (VP 1, 18, 19B) obtain; receive; be given; buy; earn; win; fetch: Where did you get that hat? Did you get my telegram? How does he get (= earn) his living? If we divide 12 by 3 we get 4. The soldier got leave to go home. How many stations can you get on your radio set? He got (= received) a blow on the head. This room gets very little sunshine. I'll come and see you if I get time. (For other uses with nn., as get a glimpse of, get hold of, get wind of, see the noun entries.) 2. (VP 1) catch (an illness): get the measles; get religion, be converted (from disbelief or indifference). 3. (VP 1) succeed in having (sth. desired): get one's own way; get possession of sth.; get a sight of someone. 4. (VP 1, 10) learn: get a poem by heart (rote). 5. (VP 1) receive as a penalty; suffer: get six months, be sentenced to six months' imprisonment; get the worst of it; get the sack, (colloq.) be dismissed from one's job. 6. (VP 1) (colloq.) understand: I don't get you (don't get your meaning). 7. (VP 1) (colloq.) eat: Go and get your breakfast. (Cf. def. 14, get the breakfast.) 8. (VP 18, 19B) procure; provide (for): Get me a ticket, please. Please get tickets for yourself and your brothers. The book is not in stock but we can get it for you. 9. (See also def. 11 below) (VP 23, 24) succeed in coming or going (to, from, into, out of, etc.): When did you get here? We didn't get to bed until 2 a.m. Where have they got to, what has become of them? get somewhere (anywhere, nowhere), obtain some (any, no) result, make some (any, no) progress. get there, (colloq.) succeed; accomplish something. 10. (See also def. 11 below.) (VP 10, 18) succeed in bringing or placing (sth. or sb.): We couldn't get the piano through the door. She wished she could get her unmarried daughters off her hands, find husbands or jobs for them. 11. (combined with preps. & advv.) get about, (a) go to places, attend to one's duties, etc.: He gets about (travels) a good deal. A car makes it easier to get about. He's getting about again, (of an invalid) is no longer confined to the house. (b) (of news, rumours, stories) spread from person to person, quietly, and usu. by verbal gossip: The news of the defeat was censored, but it soon got about. get above oneself, have a feeling of self-satisfaction not in strict proportion to one's merits; have too high an opinion of oneself. get abroad, = get about (def. b). get across, (VP 23) pass from one side to the other: The bridge was destroyed, so we couldn't get across. get sb. or sth. across, (VP 10) (a) cause to pass from one side to the other: The general had to get his troops across (the river). (b) (colloq.) cause (sth.) to be understood (as when a comedian tries to get jokes across the footlights to an audience): He found it difficult to get his British jokes across to an American audience. get ahead, (VP 23) go forward and pass others: make progress: Tom has got ahead of all the other boys in his class. get along, (VP 23) (a) manage: We can't get along without money. (b) make progress: How are you getting along? How is he getting along with his French? (c) agree; be friendly; be in harmony: They're getting along quite well. (d) (colloq., chiefly imperat.): Get along with you! (= Go away! or Don't ask me to believe that! or Nonsense!) get at (sb. or sth.), (VP 24) (a) reach; gain access to: The books are locked up and I can't get at them. (b) find: get at the truth. (c) suggest: What are you getting at? (d) bribe: corrupt: One of the witnesses had been got at. get away, (VP 23) manage to leave; escape: Two of the prisoners got away. ˈget-away n. (colloq.) make one's get-away, escape. get (sb. or sth.) away, (VP 10) cause to be away; send away: It was nailed to the wall and I couldn't get it away, remove it. We must get you away (send you) to the seaside. get away with (sth.), (VP 23) pursue successfully and without punishment a course of action which might usually be expected to result in blame, ment or misfortune: The thi away with the contents of the saf cheat in the examination, do yo I can get away with it? get bac 23) return to one's starting-point:

did you get back from the country got back into bed. get (sb. or sth.) (VP 10) (a) obtain again; reco never lends books; he says it's too d to get them back (b) take or send If you'll come and help me, I pro get you back (see that you reach home again) before dark. get one's back (on sb.), have one's reven has tricked me this time, but I'll own back one day. get by, (VP pass: Please let me get by. T scarcely enough room for the car
by. (b) (fig.) pass, be accepted, wi comment or criticism: I have no f clothes for this occasion; perhaps get by in a dark suit. get down, (V descend: He got down from his Please may I get down, Mother? (sa a small child who wishes to leav table at the end of a meal). get to, deal seriously with; tackle: get to one's work after the holidays; get to the facts, deal with them, ign speculations, etc. get (sb. or down, (VP 10) cause to be down: medicine was horrid and she couldn
it down, couldn't swallow it. Di get that telephone conversation d write it down? Don't let this wre weather get you down, (colloq.) make feel depressed. get home, (VP 23 reach home. (b) (fig., of sth. said fully understood or appreciated by person to whom it refers or to who is addressed: That remark of yours
Sally got home. get (sb. or sth.) ho
(VP 10) cause to be or reach ho He's drunk again—we'd better call a and get him home. get in, (VP 23 enter: The burglar got in through kitchen window. (b) arrive: The got in five minutes early. (c) be ele (for a constituency, etc.): He got in elected M.P.) for Chester. get (sb sth.) in, (VP 10) (a) cause to be gather; collect: get in the crops harvest); get in debts (taxes). We get somebody in (ask for a mechani be sent) to repair the television set.
also *get one's hand (eye*) in, get a  (word) in. get into, (VP 24) (a) en get into a bus. (b) put on: I can't into these shoes! They're three size small. (c) rise or pass to: The wh got into his head. (d) as in: get into a become angry; get into (acquire) habits; get into (learn by experimen experience) the way of doing someth get it into one's head that . . . bec convinced that . . . get off, (VP 23

(a) dismount, descend from: I'm getting off (the train) at the next station. (b) not stand or walk on: Get off the grass (my toes). (c) start: We got off immediately after breakfast. He didn't get off to sleep (fall asleep) for a long time. (d) escape punishment, misfortune, or loss; be forgiven: He got off with only a fine, escaped a more severe penalty. You've got off cheaply, have not suffered, been punished, severely. You should tell him where he gets off, (sl.) tell him at what stage no further tolerance of his conduct, etc., is to be expected. (e) (colloq.) become acquainted (with sb. of the opposite sex) without an introduction: She got off with a young doctor at the dance. get (sb. or sth.) off, (VP 10) (a) remove: get off one's clothes (gloves, a ring from one's finger). (b) send: get letters (parcels) off in good time; get the children off to school; get the baby off to sleep, nurse or rock it to sleep. (c) save (sb.) from punishment or a penalty: His youth and inexperience got him off. A clever barrister may be able to get you off. get on, (VP 23, 24) (a) mount: He got on (his bicycle, the horse). (b) get on one's feet, stand. (c) make progress; advance: He's sure to get on in life. Either get on or get out, either do some work or leave. Time is getting on, is passing. (d) (in the progressive tenses with for) be approaching: He's getting on for 70. It's getting on for midnight. (e) work or live in a sociable way (with): We don't get on at all well (together). The new manager is easy to get on with. get (sb. or sth.) on, (VP 10) (a) cause to be on; put on: Get your hat and coat on. I can't get the lid on. (b) cause to go forward, make progress: The new teacher is good at getting her pupils on. get on to, (VP 23) (colloq.) succeed in recognizing (dishonesty, deceit, etc., in sb. or sth.): He has tricked a few of us, but people are beginning to get on to him at last. get out, (VP 23) (a) become known: If the news gets out, there'll be trouble. The secret got out. (b) come or go out: get out of bed. (c) escape (from); avoid: The lion got out (of its cage). I wish I could get out of going to that wedding. Don't try to get out of your duties. (d) abandon gradually: get out of bad habits. get (sb. or sth.) out, (VP 10) cause to be out: He managed to get out (utter) a few words of thanks. The police will get a confession out of him, will make him confess. He ordered his car to be got out. get over (sth.), (VP 24) (a) climb over: get over a gate (wall). (b) recover from (illness, surprise, a loss, etc.): I can't get over his rudeness, recover from the surprise it caused me. He never got over his big financial losses. (c) overcome (a difficulty): She can't get over her shyness. (d) accomplish, cover (a distance): The horse got over the distance in twenty minutes. get (sth.) over, (VP 10) (a) get to the end of (sth. unpleasant or troublesome): I'm going to the dentist's today; I'll be glad to get it over. (b) = get sth. across. get round (sb. or sth.), (VP 24) (a) evade (a law or regulation, but without committing a legal offence): A clever lawyer might find ways of getting round that clause. (b) persuade (sb.) into some action to which he was at first indifferent or opposed; influence (sb.) in one's favour: Alice knows how to get round her father. get through, (VP 23, 24) (a) bring to, reach, the end of sth.; get to the destination: I started as soon as your message got through (to me). I've got through a lot of correspondence today. He has got through (spent) all his money. As soon as I get through with my work, I'll join you. (b) pass (an examination): Tom failed but his sister got through. get (sb. or sth.) through, (VP 10) cause to be through: get a bill through Parliament; (of a teacher) get a pupil through an examination. get to, (VP 24) begin: get to business. get together, (VP 23) come or meet together (e.g. for discussion, or for social purposes): Let's get together one evening and talk about old times. get (things or persons) together, (VP 10) collect: The rebel leader could not get an army together. get (sth.) under, (VP 10) subdue; control; become master of: They soon got the fire under. The revolt was quickly got under. get up, (VP 23) (a) rise: What time do you get up, get out of bed in the morning? He got up (stood up) to ask a question. (b) mount: Get up behind me (e.g. on a horse). (c) begin to be violent: The wind (sea) is getting up. (d) reach (to): We got up to page 17 last lesson. (e) overtake: We soon got up to (caught up with) the others. get (sb. or sth.) up, (VP 10) (a) cause to rise, to be up out of bed: Get the children up and dressed for school. (b) arrange or prepare the appearance of: Please have these shirts got up well, starched, ironed, etc. The book is well got up, well printed and bound. (c) organize: We're getting up a party for his birthday. They got up a dramatic performance for charity. (d) produce: get up steam (i.e. enough steam to drive an engine). (e) get oneself up, make oneself beautiful: She was beautifully got up, her clothes, style of hairdressing, etc., were beautiful. She was got up like a duchess. (f) dress (in a certain way): get oneself up as a sailor; get a child up as a fairy. (g) make a special study of; work hard at; revise: What subjects have you to get up for the examination? 12. (VP 25) reach the stage of: when you get to know him, reach the stage of knowing him. They soon got to be (became) friends. How did you get to know (learn) that I was here? One soon gets to like it. 13. (VP 22) become; pass from one state to another: get wet (tired, excited, etc.). He went out and got drunk. She soon got well again, recovered from her illness. You'll soon get used to the climate here. Let's get done with it, bring it to an end, finish it. It's time you got married. (See also *get *rid of, get wise to.) 14. (VP 7, 9) bring into a certain condition, achieve a certain result (either by chance or by intention): She soon got the children ready for school. I must get the breakfast ready. Did you get the sum right, produce the correct answer? He got his wrist broken, broke it by accident. Can you get the clock going again, restart it (or repair it)? get a woman with child, make her pregnant. 15. (VP 3, 9) cause (sb. or sth.) to do sth. or act in a certain way: I can't get anyone to do the work properly (cannot get the work done properly). Can you get the work finished in time? I must get my hair cut. I can't get (persuade) her to talk. 16. (VP 1, esp. in past and perfect tenses) puzzle; catch in an argument; bring against sb. an accusation to which he cannot supply a good answer: Ah! I've got you there! That's got him! 17. (VP 1) in the perfect tenses) have (as a possession or characteristic): We've got a new car What ugly teeth he's got! 18. (VP 2, in the perfect tenses) must: It has got to (must) be done today. She's got (is obliged, compelled) to work hard for her living. 19. (VP 22D) come to be, reach the stage of (doing sth., etc.): Things haven't really got going yet, are not yet at the stage of full activity. When these women get talking, they go on for hours.

ge um ['dʒi:əm] n. [C] kinds of small garden plant.

gew gaw ['gju:gɔ:] n. gaudy ornament or plaything.

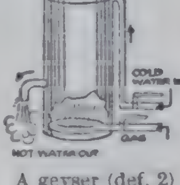
gey ser ['gaizə*, 'gi:zə*] n. 1 natural spring sending up at intervals a column of hot water or steam. 2. apparatus for heating water (e.g. by gas) in a kitchen, bathroom, etc.



A geyser (def. 2)

ghar ry ['gæri] n. (in India, etc.) (horse-drawn) carriage.

ghast ly ['ga:stli] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. death-like; pale and ill: looking ~; (also as adv.) ~ pale. 2. causing horror or fear: a ~ accident. 3. (colloq.) very unsatisfactory or unpleasant: a ~ dinner. 4. (of a smile) painfully forced.

gha(u)t [gɔ:t] n. [C] (in India) steps leading to a landing-place river bank: burning ~s, level the top of ~s on which Hindus their dead.

ghee [gi:] n. [U] clarified Indian buffalo-milk butter.

gher kin ['gə:kin] n. small, green cucumber for pickling.

ghet to ['getou] n. (pl. -tos) (formerly, in some countries) Jewish quarter of a town.

ghost [goust] n. 1. spirit of a dead person appearing to sb. still living: He looked as if he had seen a ~, looked frightened. I don't believe in ~s. Do you like ~ 2. (old use) spirit of life: give up die. 3. Spirit of God: (only in) the G~, the Third Person of the *Tri 4. sth. shadowy or without substa You haven't the ~ of a chance, chance at all. 5. also '~-ˌ person who does literary or ar work for which his employer the credit. 6. duplicated image television screen.

ghost ly ['goustli] adj. 1. of, like, gesting, a ghost: vague shapes, lookin in the darkness. 2. spiritual; fro priest: ~ comfort (counsel). ghost ness n.

ghoul [gu:l] n. 1. (in Eastern stor spirit that robs graves and feeds on corpses in them. 2. person with gr some and unnatural tastes and hab ~ish ['gu:liʃ] adj. gruesome; revolti G.I. ['dʒi:'ai] n. enlisted soldier of U.S. army: a G.I. bride, bride (in from a country other than the U.S. of such a soldier.

gi ant ['dʒaiənt] n. 1. (in fairy tales) of very great height and size. 2. m animal, or plant much larger than mal; (fig.) person of extraordin ability or genius. 3. (attrib.) of gr size or force: ~ strength; a ~ cabb ~ess n. female ~.

gib ber ['dʒibə*] v.i. (VP 21, 23) fast or make meaningless sounds (an ape, or as when the teeth kn together through cold or fear). ~ ['gibəriʃ] n. [U] meaningless soun unintelligible talk.

gib bet ['dʒibit] n. wooden post with arm, on which corpses of execu criminals were formerly exposed warning; death by hanging. v.t. pu death by hanging; (fig.) hold up to c tempt or ridicule.

gib bon ['gibən] n. kinds of long-arm ape.

gib bous ['gibəs] adj. 1. (of the mo having the bright part greater tha semicircle and less than a circle humped; bunch-backed.

gibe, jibe [dʒaib] v.i. (VP 21, 24) or mock (at); make fun of: ~ at a boy's mistakes. gib ing ly adv.

gib lets ['dʒiblits] n. pl. heart, liver, gizzard, etc., of a goose, hen, etc., taken out before the bird is cooked: giblet soup, soup made from these parts.

gid dy ['gidi] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. causing, having, the feeling that everything is turning round; feeling that one cannot stand firmly: look down from a ~ height. If you turn round quickly fifty times, you may feel ~. 2. too fond of pleasure; not serious; without steady principles: a ~ young girl; a ~ life of pleasure; play the ~ goat, see goat. gid di ly adv. giddi ness n.

gift [gift] n. 1. [C] sth. given: birthday and Christmas ~s. 2. [C] natural ability or talent: have a ~ for art (languages); a woman of many ~s, talented by nature. 3. [U] right or power to give: The living is in the ~ of the squire, he has the right to bestow it. The property came to me by free ~, was given to me. ~ed ['giftid] adj. having great natural ability: ~ed with rare talents; a ~ed pianist.

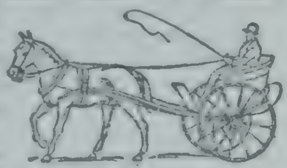
gig [gig] n. 1. small, light two-wheeled carriage pulled by one horse. 2. ship's small boat for oars or sails (e.g. for the captain's use).



A gig (def. 1)

gi gan tic [dʒai'gæntik] adj. of immense size: He has a ~ appetite, and eats ~ meals.

gig gle ['gigl] v.i. (VP 21, 23) laugh in a nervous and silly way. n. laugh of this kind: the ~s of schoolgirls.

gig o lo ['ʒigəlou] n. (pl. -los) professional male dancing-partner who may be hired by wealthy idle women.

gild [gild] v.t. (p.p. usu. ~ed, but see gilt below) (VP 1) cover with gold leaf or gold-coloured paint; make bright as if with gold: *~ a picture-frame. ~ the pill, make an unpleasant necessity seem attractive. ~ed youth, young men of fashion and wealth. ~er n. person who ~s (picture-frames, etc.). ~ing n. [U] material with which things are ~ed.

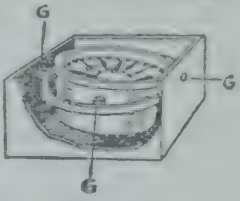
gill [gil] n. (usu. pl.) part of the body with which a fish breathes in water.

gill [dʒil] n. one-quarter of a pint liquid measure. (See Appendix 1.)

gil lie ['gili] n. man or boy attending a sportsman in Scotland while fishing or shooting.

gilt [gilt] n. (see gild) gilding: take the ~ off the gingerbread, (prov.) take away superficial attractions. '~-edged stocks (securities), investments that are considered safe and to which (in England) trustees were formerly restricted.

gim bal ['dʒimbəl] n. (usu. pl.) contrivance (of rings and pivots) for keeping articles (e.g. a compass) horizontal on a ship at sea.



G. Gimbals

gim crack ['dʒimkræk] adj. worthless, flimsy, and badly made: ~ ornaments.

gim let ['gimlit] n. tool for making a small hole in wood.

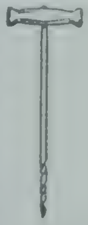
gim mick ['gimik] n. [C] (colloq., esp. in film, broadcasting, and journalistic circles) trick, device, catch-phrase, mannerism, article of wear, etc., used for publicity purposes, to identify sth. or sb.



A gimlet

¹gin [dʒin] n. 1. trap or snare for catching animals, etc. 2. machine for separating raw cotton from its seeds. v.t. (-nn-) (VP 1) 1. catch (animals, etc.) in a trap or snare. 2. treat (cotton) in a ~.

²gin [dʒin] n. [U] colourless alcoholic drink distilled from grain or malt, used in many kinds of cocktail. 'gin-ˌpalace n. flamboyant public-house.

gin ger ['dʒindʒə*] n. [U] 1. (plant with) hot-tasting root used in cooking and as a flavouring. 2. liveliness; spirit; energy: a ~ group, (in Parliament) group of M.P.'s that urges the Government to be more active. 3. (also as adj.) light reddish-yellow colour: ~ hair. 4. ~ beer (ale), kinds of non-alcoholic aerated drink flavoured with ~. '~-bread n. dark-coloured cake or biscuit flavoured with ~. v.t. (usu. ~ up, VP 10) make more vigorous or lively.

Ginger (def. 1)

gin ger ly ['dʒindʒəli] adv. with great care and caution (to avoid harming oneself, what one touches, etc., making a noise): set about sth. ~. adj. cautious: in a ~ fashion.

ging ham ['giŋəm] n. [U] printed cotton or linen cloth, usu. with designs in stripes or checks.

ging ko ['giŋkou] n. (pl. -s, -es) tree native to China and Japan with fan-shaped leaves.

gin seng ['dʒinseŋ] n. plant of which the root is used in medicine.

gip sy, gyp sy ['dʒipsi] n. 1. member of a wandering Asiatic race, now living in many parts of Europe, moving about in horse-drawn caravans and making camps from time to time, and earning a living by horse-dealing, fortune-telling, basket-making, etc.: (attrib.) a ~ girl (camp, orchestra). 2. (playfully) attractive or mischievous girl or woman, esp. one with black, sparkling eyes.

giraffe [dʒiˈrɑːf, -ˈræf] n. African animal with dark spots on a yellow skin, and a long neck and legs

gird [gəːd] v.t. (p. tense & p.p. girded [ˈgəːdid] or girt [gəːt]) (poet. or rhet.) 1. (VP 10, 18) put or fasten (on): ~ on a sword; fasten with a belt, etc.: ~ up one's robe (clothes); ~ up one's loins, (biblical) prepare for action. 2. put (round); encircle: a sea-girt isle.

girder [ˈgəːdə*] n. wood, iron, or steel beam to support the joists of a floor; compound structure of steel forming the span of a bridge, roof, etc.

¹girdle [ˈgəːdl] n. 1. cord or belt fastened round the waist to keep clothes in position. 2. corset. 3. sth. that encircles like a ~: a ~ of green fields round a town. v.t. (VP 1, 10 with about, in, round) encircle: a lake ~d with trees

²girdle [ˈgəːdl] n. (in Scotland) circular iron plate for toasting cakes: ~-cake.

girl [gəːl] n. 1. female child; daughter; unmarried woman. 2. maidservant: a new ~ to do the housework. 3. girl or woman working in a shop, office, etc. (irrespective of age): shop ~s; factory ~s; office ~s. 4. (colloq.) (also ˈ~-friend) sweetheart: Smith and his ~. 5. G~ Guide, member of an organization for ~s, with principles and aims similar to those of the Boy Scouts. ~hood [ˈgəːlhud] n. [U] state or time of being a ~. ~ish [ˈgəːliʃ] adj. of, for, like, a ~: ~ish games (behaviour, laughter). ~ishly adv. ~ishness n.

girt [gəːt] see gird.

girth [gəːθ] n. 1. leather or cloth band tightened round the body of a horse to keep the saddle in place. (See the illustr. at harness and saddle.) 2. measurement round anything that is roughly like a cylinder in shape: a tree 30 feet in ~, in circumference; my ~, my waist measurement.

gist [dʒist] n. (sing. with def. art.) real or main points or substance, general sense: Tell me the ~ of what he said.

¹give [giv] v.t. & i. (p.t. gave [geiv], p.p. given [ˈgivn]) 1. (VP 18A, 19, 21) hand over as a present; cause (sb.) to have (sth.) without payment: I gave him a book. I gave a book to each of the boys. Each of the boys was ~n a book. A book was ~n to each of them. I gave it him (= to him). G~ me one. G~ one to me. He ~s generously, is generous in giving (money, etc.). 2. (VP 18, 19, 10) cause (sb.) to have (sth.) in exchange for sth. else, for payment, in compensation, etc.: How much will you ~ me for my old car? I gave a good price for this overcoat. I would ~ a lot to know where she is. I would ~ anything to know happened. 3. (VP 18A, 19A) allow to have; allow or cause (sb. or sth pass into the care or keeping of:

the porter your bags. Did you ~ parents much trouble when you young? You'd better ~ yourself an to get there, allow an hour for the jo They gave me a week to make up mind. 4. (VP 1, 18A, 19A) f supply; provide: The sun ~s us w and light. You should ~ the other a good example. 5. (VP 18A, 19A) be source or origin of: You've ~n me cold, I have caught a cold from yo (VP 1, 18: note that VP 19 is not devote; dedicate: He gave his life cause of peace. 7. (combined with & preps.) ~ (sth. or sb.) away, 10) (a) ~ freely, not expecting any in return: He gave away all his (b) distribute: The Mayor gave away prizes at the sports meeting. (c) ex ridicule or detection; act so that is lost: Don't ~ away my secret.
accent gave him away, caused peopl know who or what he was. (d) allow else to have; sacrifice: You've ~n a good chance of winning the match.
hand over (the bride) to the bridegr at a wedding: The bride was ~n a by her father. ~ (sb. or sth.) ba (VP 10) restore; send back: ~ a th back to its rightful owner; ~ a man his liberty; a wall of rock that gave b loud echoes. ~ sth. forth. = ~ sth. o ~ in, (VP 23) surrender; yield; st fighting or arguing: The rebels w forced to ~ in. He has ~n in to my vie accepted them. Mary usually has to in to her big brother, submit to his pla etc., and abandon her own. ~ sth.
(VP 10) (a) hand in (papers, etc.) to t proper person(s): Please ~ in yo examination papers now. (b) ~ in on name, announce or make known th one is willing or ready to do sth. (e perform a duty, be a candidate for sth ~ sth. off, (VP 10) send out (vapo smoke, etc.): This cheap coal ~s off lot of smoke. ~ out, (VP 23) becor exhausted, tired out: Our food suppl began to ~ out. His strength gave o Her patience at last gave out. ~ (sb. sth.) out, (VP 10) (a) distribute: ~ c books (handbills, etc.). (b) make know publish, announce: It was ~n out th
Mr X would be the chief speaker. T newcomer gave himself out to be the of Louis XIV. (c) send out (e.g. vapou smoke). (d) ~ a batsman out (not ou (of the umpire, cricket) say that t batsman has been (has not been) d feated, and that his innings is ende ~ over, (VP 23) (colloq.) stop. ~ (st or sb.) over, (VP 10) hand over, deliv (to sb.). be ~n over to, be abandon

to (evil courses). ~ (sth. or sb.) up, (VP 10) (a) resign; surrender; part with: ~ up one's seat to sb. (e.g. in a crowded bus); ~ up a fortress. (b) deliver (sb. who is trying to escape) to his pursuers; surrender (oneself) to sb.: Shall we let the thief go or ~ him up to the police? The escaped prisoner gave himself up. (c) stop (doing sth.): ~ up smoking. What a lot of men have ~n up wearing hats! (d) declare that one cannot cure sb. of his illness, that one cannot solve a riddle or problem, that there is no hope for sb. or sth.: The doctors have ~n him up, declared that they cannot cure him. I ~ up, do not wish to try further to find the answer to the riddle, etc. She was so late that we had ~n her up, no longer looked for her arrival. They gave him up for lost, no longer expected him to be found or saved. 8. (VP 1, 18A, 19A) used with a noun in a pattern that may be replaced by one in which the noun is the verb: ~ a loud laugh, laugh loudly; ~ three cheers, cheer three times; ~ sb. a kick (push), kick (push) sb.; ~ a sigh (groan, yell); ~ a shrug of the shoulders, shrug the shoulders. 9. (VP 18) used in the imperative to show preference: After dinner ~ me a glass of good brandy. G~ me Bach and Mozart, not these modern composers. G~ me liberty or ~ me death, if I cannot have liberty, I prefer death (to slavery). 10. (VP 3) ~ sb. to understand that . . ., inform, assure, him that: I was ~n to understand that you might help me to find employment. 11. (VP 24) ~ (up)on, look out on; overlook: The window ~s on (to) the courtyard. 12. (VP 21, 23) collapse; lose firmness; bend or yield; become relaxed: The branch gave (bent, swung downwards) but did not break. His knees seemed to ~, felt weak. This chair ~s comfortably, is soft and springy. The marshy ground gave under our feet. The frost is beginning to ~, is less severe. 13. (in phrases with objects: see the entries for words that are asterisked): ~ sb. best, admit his superiority; ~ birth to*; ~ chase*; ~ currency to*; ~ ear, listen; ~ evidence of*; ~ ground*; ~ it him (her, them, etc.), punish or reprimand him, etc.; ~ *a child something to cry for; ~ sb. what for, (colloq.) punish or scold him; ~ place to*; ~ rise to.* ~ way, (a) retire: Our troops had to ~ way. (b) make room for: G~ way to traffic coming in from the right, give it priority. (c) fail to resist or hold up: The ice gave way and we all went through into the water. I felt the foundations giving way. The rope gave way, broke, snapped. (d) be superseded or replaced (by): Sorrow gave way to smiles. (e) abandon oneself (to): Don't ~ way to despair (grief, tears, your emotions). (f) make concessions: We mustn't ~ way to these impudent demands. 14. the p.p. ~n: (a) (in formal documents) dated: ~n under my hand and seal on this fifth day of May, 1705. (b) granting or assuming that one has: under the ~n conditions; ~n good health. (c) assigned; agreed upon: under the ~n conditions. They were to meet at a ~n time and place. (d) ~n name, name ~n to a child in addition to its family name. (e) ~n to, devoted or addicted to: a man who is ~n to boasting; much ~n to hunting and shooting.

^{2}give [giv] n. [U] quality of being elastic, of yielding to pressure (see the vb., def. 12): A good dance floor should have a certain amount of ~ in it, should not be hard and unyielding. There is no ~ in a stone floor. ~ and take, compromise; mutual concession; willingness on both sides to give way: There must be ~ and take if the negotiations between the employers and the workers are to succeed. Is marriage a ~-and-take affair?

giv en ['givn] p.p. of give.

giv er ['givə*] n. one who gives: a generous (cheerful) ~.

giz zard ['gizəd] n. bird's second stomach for grinding food; (fig.) throat: It sticks in my ~, is a proposal, etc., that I dislike intensely.

gla cé ['glæsei] adj. (of fruits) iced, sugared; (of leather, cloth) smooth, polished.

gla cial ['gleisjəl] adj. of ice or the ice age: the ~ era, the time when large areas of the northern hemisphere were covered with ice; (fig.) a ~ (icy) manner (smile).

gla cier ['glæsjə*] n. [C] mass of ice, formed by snow on mountains, moving slowly along a valley.

glad [glæd] adj. (-der, -dest) 1. (predic. only) pleased: be (look, feel) ~ about something; ~ to see someone. I am ~ of your success (that you have succeeded). 2. causing or bringing joy; joyful: the ~dest day of her life. Have you heard the ~ news? All nature seemed ~, was bright and beautiful, as if rejoicing. give sb. the ~ eye, (sl.) give an amorous, inviting look. give sb. the ~ hand, (sl.) offer the hand of welcome. ~ rags, (sl.) clothes for a festive occasion. ~den ['glædn] v.t. (VP 1) make ~. ~ly adv. ~ness n. ~some adj. (liter.) cheerful; joyful.

glade [gleid] n. clear, open space in a forest.

glad i a tor ['glædieitə*] n. (in ancient Rome) man trained to fight with weapons at public shows in an arena.

glad i o lus [ˌglædi'ouləs] n. (pl. -li [-lai] or -luses [-ləsiz]) plant with sword-shaped leaves and spikes of brightly coloured flowers.

glam our [ˈglæmə*] n. [U] charm or enchantment; power of beauty or romance to move the feelings: the ~ of moonlight on the sea; a scene full of ~; (attrib.; colloq.) a ~ boy (girl), one who is unusually handsome, attractively dressed, etc. glam or ous [ˈglæmərəs] adj. full of ~: glamorous film stars. glam or ize [ˈglæməraiz] v.t. (VP 1) make glamorous: newspapers that glamorize the lives of film stars.

glance [glɑːns] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 23, 24) take a quick look (at, over, through, etc.): ~ at the clock; ~ over (through) a letter; ~ round a room. She ~d shyly at him from behind her fan. (VP 10) He ~d his eye down the columns. 2. (VP 23) (of a weapon or a blow) slip or slide (off): The arrow ~d off his armour. 3. (VP 21, 23) (of bright objects, light) flash: Their helmets ~d in the sunlight. n. 1. quick look: take a ~ at the newspaper headlines; see something at a ~, at once. 2. quick turning of the eyes: a saucy ~; loving ~s. 3. (sudden movement producing a) flash of light: a ~ of spears in the sunlight.

gland [glænd] n. simple or complex organ in the body that separates from the blood substances that are needed, or not needed, for the body's use: a snake's poison ~s; milk-producing ~s in a female; sweat ~s. glan du lar [ˈglændjulə*] adj. of or like a ~; containing a ~.

glan ders [ˈglændəz] n. [U] contagious disease of horses with swellings below the jaw, and sores in the nose and throat.

¹glare [glɛə*] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 23, 24) shine in a dazzling or disagreeable way: The tropic sun ~d down on us all the day. 2. (VP 21, 23, 24) stare angrily or fiercely: They stood glaring at each other. (VP 1) They ~d defiance (hate) at me. glar ing adj. 1. disagreeably bright: a car with glaring headlights; glaring neon signs. 2. angry; fierce: glaring eyes. 3. very easily seen; conspicuous: a glaring error (blunder); glaring injustice 4. (of colours) crude; gaudy.

²glare [ˈglɛə*] n. 1. [U] strong, fierce, unpleasant light: the ~ of the sun on the water; (fig.) in the full ~ of publicity, with public attention directed towards one. 2. angry or fierce look; fixed look: look at someone with a ~.

¹glass [glɑːs] n. 1. [U] hard, usu. transparent, easily broken substance of which windows are made: made of ~; a man with a ~ eye. 2. [C] article made of this substance: (a) ~ drinking vessel or its contents: drink a ~ of milk; have a ~ too much, drink too much alcoholic liquor, be rather drunk. (b) (also looking-~) mirror made of ~. (c) telescope: The sailor looked through his ~. (d) barometer: The ~ is falling. (e) (pl.) eye-~es, spectacles: She can't read without ~ (f) (pl.) binoculars. 3. [U] vessels a articles made of ~: There's plenty of in the house, plenty of drinking ~e wine ~es, ~ bowls and dishes, e There are many acres of ~ in Jer acres covered with ~-houses (f growing plants). 4. (compounds) ˈ~ˌ*blower n.* worker who blows molten to shape it into bottles, etc. ˈ~-ˌ*cutte* n. workman who cuts designs on ~ tool for cutting ~. ˈ~-house n. build with ~ sides and roof (for grow plants); (sl.) military prison. ˈ~war n. [U] articles made of ~. ~ful [ˈglɑ ful] n. as much as a drinking-~ will hold glass y [ˈglɑːsi] adj. (-ier, -iest) like gla in appearance: a ~ calm; (of the sea etc.) smooth and shiny; a ~ stare (look eye), lifeless, expressionless, fixed.

²glass [glɑːs] v.t. (VP 1, 10) fit with glass glaze: a ~ed-in veranda.

glau co ma [glɔːˈkoumə] n. [U] ey disease involving gradual loss of sight.

glau cous [ˈglɔːkəs] adj. 1. dull greyis green or blue. 2. (of grapes, etc. covered with bloom (def. 3).

¹glaze [gleiz] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10) fi with glass: ~ a window (house); ~ in porch (veranda), enclose it with gla 2. (VP 1, 10) cover with a glass-lik surface: ~ pottery (porcelain, bricks) 3. (VP 21, 23) (of the eyes) becom glassy: His eyes ~d over. His eyes wer ~d in death.

²glaze [gleiz] n. [U & C] (substance used for, surface obtained by giving, a) thi glassy coating: a Satsuma vase with fine crackle ~.

gla zier [ˈgleizjə*] n. workman wh glazes windows, etc.

gleam [gliːm] n. [C] 1. beam or ray o soft light, esp. one that comes and goes the ~ of a distant light-house; the firs ~s of the morning sun. 2. (fig.) brie show of some quality or emotion: an essay with an occasional ~ of humou (intelligence); a ~ of hope; a man wit a dangerous ~ in his eye, with a threatening look. v.i. (VP 21, 23) send out ~s: a cat's eyes ~ing in the darkness; glass reflector studs ~ing in the roadway.

glean [gliːn] v.i. & t. (VP 21, 1) pick up (grain) left in a (harvest) field by the workers; (fig.) gather (news, facts) in small quantities: ~ a field; ~ corn; ~ news (facts from books). ~er n. person who ~s. ~ings n. pl. (usu. fig.) small items of knowledge ~ed from various sources.

glebe [gliːb] n. 1. (poet.) earth; field. 2. portion of land that forms part of a clergyman's benefice.

glee [gliː] n. 1. [U] feeling of joy cause by success or triumph: She was in high ~ when she learnt the news. 2. [C] song for three or four voices singing fferent parts in harmony. ~ful adj.

ll of ~; joyous. ~ful ly adv.
n [glen] n. narrow valley.
n gar ry [glen'gæri] n. kind of cap orn in the Highlands of Scotland.
b [glib] adj. (glibber, glibbest) (of a erson, what he says or how he says it) ady and smooth, but not sincere: a ~ lker; ~ excuses; ~ in finding excuses;
ve a ~ tongue. ~ly adv. ~ness n.
de [glaid] v.i. (VP 21, 23) move along noothly and continuously: The pilot the sailplane ~d skilfully down to the nding-field. The ghost ~d out of the om. A boat ~d past. n. gliding move-ent: The new dance consists of a series ~s. glid er n. aircraft without an gine, esp. the kind towed behind a owered aircraft. (Cf. sailplane.) glid- ng n. sport of flying in gliders.
m mer ['glimə*] v.i. send out a weak, ncertain light: lights ~ing in the dis-
nce. n. weak, faint, unsteady light:
~ of light through the curtains; (fig.)
~ of hope; not the least ~ of intelligence.
mpse [glimps] n. quick, imperfect view
f sth. or sb.); short look (at sth. or sb.):
t (catch) a ~ of something from the win-ow of a train. v.t. (VP 1) catch a ~ of.
nt [glint] v.i. gleam. n. gleam or ash: ~s of gold in her hair.
s sade [gli'sɑ:d] v.i. (mountaineering) ide down a steep slope of ice or snow.
such a slide.
s ten ['glisn] v.i. (VP 21, 23) (esp. of et or polished surfaces, tear-filled eyes) hine brightly; sparkle: ~ing dew-drops;
yes ~ing with tears.
s ter ['glistə*] v.i. & n. (arch.) glitter.
t ter ['glitə*] v.i. (VP 21, 23) shine rightly with flashes of light: stars ~ing
the frosty sky; ~ing with jewels. n.
U] brilliant light: the ~ of the Christmas ee decorations. ~ing adj. brilliant;
ttractive: ~ing prizes.
oam ing ['gloumiŋ] n. (sing. with def.
rt.) evening twilight.
oat [glout] v.i. (VP 21, 24) look at with elfish delight: ~ over (upon) one's ealth (the ruin of a rival); a miser ~ing ver his gold. ~ing ly adv.
obe [gloub] n. 1. object shaped like ball, esp. one with a nap of the earth on it;
pherical chart of the arth or the constella-
ions: the use of the ~s, archaic for) the teach-ng of geography and stronomy by the use
f spherical charts. 2.
pherical glass vessel,
sp. a lampshade or a
shbowl. 3. '~-fish n.
sh able to inflate it-
elf into the shape of ~. '~-,trotter n.

A globe (def. 1)
x—x, the axis.

person who travels hurriedly through many foreign countries. glo bal ['gloubəl] adj. world-wide; embracing the whole of a group of items, etc.

glob u lar ['glɔbjulə*] adj. globe-shaped; made of globules.

glob ule ['glɔbju:l] n. tiny globe, esp. of liquid; drop.

glock en spiel ['glɔkənspi:l] n. musical instrument consisting of metal bars which are struck with a hammer.

gloom [glu:m] n. [U] 1. semi-darkness; obscurity. 2. feeling of sadness and hopelessness: The future seems to be filled with ~. The news cast a ~ over the village.

gloom y ['glu:mi] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. dark, unlighted. 2. with nothing bright or cheerful; dismal; depressed; depressing: a ~ outlook over roofs and chimneys; feeling ~ about the future. gloom i ly adv.

glor i fy ['glɔ:rifai] v.t. (VP 1) 1 give adoration and thanksgiving to (God); worship; give honour and glory to (a hero). 2. invest (sth. common or simple) with charm or beauty: His week-end cottage is only a glorified barn. glo ri fi ca tion [ˌglɔ:rifi'keiʃən] n. ~ing or being glorified.

glo ri ous ['glɔ:riəs] adj. 1. splendid; magnificent: a ~ sunset (view). 2. illustrious; honourable; possessing or conferring glory: a ~ victory; the ~ reign of Queen Elizabeth I. 3. (colloq.) enjoyable: have a ~ time; ~ fun. 4. (iron.) dreadful: What a ~ mess! ~ly adv.

glo ry ['glɔ:ri] n. [U] 1. high fame and honour won by great achievements. 2. adoration and thanksgiving offered to God: 'G~ to God in the highest.' 3. quality of being beautiful or magnificent: the ~ of a sunset. 4. (sometimes [C]) reason for pride; subject for boasting; sth. deserving respect and honour: the glories of ancient Rome. 5. heavenly splendour: the saints in ~; go to ~, (colloq.) die; send sb. to ~, (colloq.) kill him. v.i. (VP 24) ~ in, rejoice in, take great pride in: ~ in one's strength (in working for a good cause).

¹gloss [glɔs] n. 1. [U] smooth, bright surface: the ~ of silk and satin; material with a good ~. 2. (fig., usu. sing. with indef. art.) deceptive appearance: a ~ of respectability (e.g. over a life of secret wrongdoing). v.t. (VP 10) give a ~ to; cover up or explain away (an error, etc.): ~ over sb.'s faults. ~y adj. (-ier, -iest) smooth and shiny: a ~y photographic print; serge trousers with a ~ seat; ~y periodicals, those printed on high quality ~y paper, with photographs, coloured illustrations, etc. (esp. those periodicals dealing with clothes, fashions, etc.). ~i ly adv. ~i ness n.

^{3}gloss [glɔs] n. [C] explanation (in a footnote, or in a list at the end of an article, a book, etc.) of a word in the text; comment; interpretation. v.t. (VP 1) add a ~ or ~es to (a text); write ~es on; make comments on.

glos sa ry [ˈglɔsəri] n. [C] collection of glosses; list and explanations of special (e.g. technical, obsolete) words.

glot tis [ˈglɔtis] n. vocal cords and the opening between them. glot tal [ˈglɔtl] adj. of the ~: glottal stop, consonant sound formed by a sudden escape of air through the ~.

glove [glʌv] n. covering of leather, knitted wool, etc., for the hand, usu. with separated fingers: fit like a ~, fit perfectly; be hand in ~ (with . . .), be in close relations (with . . .); take off the ~s to sb., handle sb. without ~s, argue or contend in earnest, without mercy.

glow [glou] v.i. (VP 21, 23) 1. send out brightness or warmth without flame: ~ing embers (charcoal); ~ing metal from the furnace. 2. (fig.) be, look, feel, warm or flushed (as after exercise or when excited): ~ing with enthusiasm (health, pride). 3. show strong or warm colours: woods and forests ~ing with autumn tints. n. (sing. only, with def. or indef. art.) ~ing state; warm or flushed look; warm feeling: in a ~ of enthusiasm; cheeks with the ~ of health on them; (all) in a ~ after a hot bath; the ~ of the sky at sunset. ˈ~-worm n. insect of which the wingless female gives out a green light at its tail. ~ing adj. showing warm colour or (fig.) enthusiasm: give a ~ing account of what happened; describe an event in ~ing colours. ~ing ly adv.

glow er [ˈglauə*] v.i. (VP 21, 24) look in an angry or threatening way (at). ~ing ly adv.

glu cose [ˈglu:kous] n. [U] grape-sugar.

glue [glu:] n. [U] hard, brittle substance made by boiling hides and bones, used when softened by heat for joining (esp. wooden) things; substance used for the same purpose, obtained from fish and other sources. v.t. (gluing, glues, glued) (VP 1, 10, 18) 1. stick, make fast, with ~: ~ two pieces of wood together; ~ a piece of wood on to something. 2. put tightly or closely: His eyes were (His ear was) ~d to the keyhole. Why must you always remain ~d to your mother, why can you never be separated from your mother? glu ey [ˈglu:i] adj. sticky, like ~.

glum [glʌm] adj. (glummer, glummest) gloomy; sad. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

glut [glʌt] v.t. (-tt-) (VP 1, 18) 1. supply too much to: ~ the market (with fruit, etc.). 2. overeat; satisfy to the full; fill to excess: ~ one's appetite; ~ oneself with rich food; ~ted with pleasure. n. [C] supply in excess of demand: a ~ o pears in the market.

glu ten [ˈglu:tən] n. [U] sticky substanc that is left when starch is washed of flour. glu ti nous [ˈglu:tinəs] adj of or like ~; sticky.

glut ton [ˈglʌtn] n. person who eats much: You've eaten the whole you ~! He's a ~ for work, (fig.) is ways willing and ready to work. ~ou adj. very greedy (for food). ~ous l adv. ~y n. [U] habit or practice eating too much.

glyc er in(e) [ˈglisəri(:)n] n. [U] thic sweet, colourless liquid made from o and used in medical and toilet preparations and explosives.

G-man [ˈdʒi:mæn] n. (slang; U.S.A. federal criminal investigation officer.

gnarled [nɑ:ld] adj. (of tree trunks twisted and rough; covered with knobs a ~ old oak; ~ (= knotty, deformed hands (fingers).

gnash [næʃ] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21) (of th teeth) strike together (e.g. in rage 2. (VP 1) (of a person) cause (the teeth to do this: wailing and ~ing of teeth.

gnat [næt] n. small two-winged fly th stings; (fig.) insignificant annoyance strain at a ~, hesitate over a trifle.

gnaw [nɔ:] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10, 21 23, 24) bite steadily at (sth. hard): The dog was ~ing (at) a bone. The rats ha ~ed away some of the woodwork. He wa ~ing his finger-nails impatiently. 2. (VP 1, 24) torment; waste away: fear and anxiety ~ing (at) the heart; the ~ing pains of hunger.

gnome [noum] n. (in tales) small goblin living under the ground (often guarding treasures of gold and silver).

gnu [nu:] n. oxlike antelope.

^{1}go [gou] v.i. (goes [gouz], p.t. went, p.p. gone [gɔn]) (For special combinations with advv. & preps. see def. 7) 1. (VP 21, 23, 24, 25) start; move or pass; leave; continue moving from some place; travel; proceed: Shall we go by train or by steamer? He has gone to China, is now in China, or on his way to China. The train was going (at) 50 miles an hour. He has gone to see his sister. Go and get your hat. They came at six and went (left) at nine. I must be going now, must leave now. I wish this pain would go, stop, leave me. All hope is gone. Be gone! Go away! Get you gone! Leave! Winter has gone (ended) and spring is here. go for a walk (ride, swim, etc.), go out in order to have a walk, etc. go on a journey (trip, excursion, voyage, outing), make a journey, have an outing, etc. go far, see ^{1}far, def. 2. going strong, proceeding with vigour. Who goes there? (challenge from a sentry) Say who you are! 2. (with the -ing form of verbs)

go bathing (shooting, hunting, fishing, mountain climbing, etc.), go somewhere in order to bathe (shoot, hunt, etc.). Mrs Green has gone (out) shopping, has gone out to the shops. Don't go doing that! (See also go begging, at beg, def. 3.) 3. (VP 22) become; pass into a specified condition: go blind (mad, etc.). He went red with anger. Fish soon goes bad (becomes rotten, decays) in hot weather. Tiverton went Liberal (returned the Liberal candidate to Parliament) at the by-election. When did America go dry, adopt the prohibition of intoxicating liquors? go to sleep, begin sleeping. go to pieces, break up (physically, mentally, or morally). go to seed, (of flowering plants) pass from the flowering stage to that of producing seed; (fig.) become physically, intellectually, or morally weak. 4. (VP 20, 23, 24) reach; extend: This road goes to London. I want a rope that will go from the top window to the ground. A pound does not go so far (buy so much) as it did ten years ago. The difference between the employers and the workers goes deep, their views are very different. What he says is true as far as it goes, i.e. is true to some extent, but the statement must not be taken too widely. That's all very well as far as it goes (suggesting that further information, knowledge, experience, etc., is needed before anything is done or decided). The prime minister's statement went a long way (had a great effect) towards reassuring the nation. 5. (VP 24) have recourse (to); appeal (to): go to law, bring an action against sb. in a court of law; go to war, make war; go to the country, test public opinion by holding a general election. 6. (in the progressive tenses, with to and an infinitive) used to indicate (a) what is intended, planned, or determined: We're going to spend our holidays in Wales this year. I'm going to have my own way. (b) what is considered likely or probable: Look at those black clouds—we're going to have (there's going to be) a storm. Is there going to be a business depression this year? (c) forming an immediate future (= about to): I'm going to tell you a story. 7. (with advv. & preps., VP 23, 24) go about, (a) move from place to place, go to various places: He's going about with that Polish girl now, is often seen with her in public. (b) (of rumours, stories, etc.) pass from person to person, usu. verbally: A story is going about that . . ., (c) set to work at: You're not going about it in the right way. Go about your business, deal with your own affairs (and don't busy yourself with mine). We shall have to go about it carefully. go after, try to win or obtain: He's going after that pretty Swedish girl, is trying to win her interest or affection. go against, be contrary to: It goes against my principles. If the war goes against them, if they suffer defeat. . . . (See also *go against the grain.) go ahead, (a) proceed without hesitation: 'May I start now?'—'Yes, go ahead.' (b) make progress: He's going ahead fast. The Joneses are very go-ahead (progressive) people; it's difficult to keep up with them. go along, (a) see go with. (b) proceed; make progress: You may have some difficulty at first, but you'll find it easier as you go along. go along with, accompany: He'll go along with you as far as the church. Go along with you! (colloq.) Don't expect me to believe that! Don't be so saucy, etc. (according to context). go at (sth. or sb.), (a) rush at, attack: They went at each other furiously. They went at it tooth and nail, fought fiercely. (b) take in hand, deal with, energetically: They were going at it for all they were worth, making the utmost possible efforts to do the work. go away, leave: He has gone away with my razor, has taken it with him. go back, (a) return. (b) extend backwards in space or time: His family goes back to the time of the Norman Conquest, can be traced back to the 11th century. go back (up)on (from), fail to keep; break or withdraw from (a promise, etc.): He's not the sort of man who would go back on his word. go before, precede: Pride goes before a fall. go behind (sth.), search for: go behind a person's words, search for a hidden meaning in what he says: go behind a decision, re-examine the grounds for it; revise it. go beyond, exceed: You've gone beyond your instructions. go by, (a) pass: Time went by slowly. We waited for the procession to go by. Don't let this opportunity go by. (b) be guided or directed by: I shall go entirely by what my solicitor says, shall follow his advice. That's a good rule to go by, to be guided by. (c) form an opinion or judgement from: I go by what I hear. It's not always wise to go by appearances. 'go-by n. give (sb. or sth.) the go-by, ignore, disregard, slight: He gave me the go-by in the street yesterday, acted as if he did not know me. go down, (a) (of a ship, etc.) sink. (b) (of the sun, moon, etc.) set. (c) (of food and drink) be swallowed: This pill won't go down, I can't swallow it. (d) (of an explanation or excuse, of a story, play, etc.) be accepted or approved by the listener, reader, audience, etc.: The new play went down very well with provincial audiences. That explanation will not go down with me! The new teacher doesn't go down well with the pupils. (e) be continued: This

'History of Europe' goes down to 1914, deals with events as far as 1914. (f) fall (before a conqueror); be defeated or overthrown: Rome went down before the barbarians. (g) leave (a university). (h) (of the sea, wind, etc.) become calm: The wind has gone down a little. (i) (of prices) go lower: The price of eggs has gone down. (j) be recorded in writing; be remembered: He will go down in history as a great statesman. go for, (see also def. 1, go for a walk, etc.). (a) go to fetch: Shall I go for a doctor? (b) be accounted as: All his work went for nothing (for very little), was considered to be of no (little) value. (c) attack: The dog went for the postman as soon as he opened the garden gate. Go for him! (said to a dog, to urge it to attack sb.). They went for me (attacked me) in the newspapers. (d) be applicable to: What I have said about Smith goes for you, too. go forth, be published or issued: The order went forth that . . . go forward, (a) make progress: The work is going forward well. (b) be done; take place: What's going forward here? go in, (a) enter: The key won't go in the lock. This cork's too big; it won't go in. She went in to cook the dinner. (b) (of the sun, moon, etc.) be obscured by clouds: The sun went in and it grew rather cold. (c) (cricket, etc.) begin an innings: Who goes in next? (d) enter as a competitor: Go in and win! (used as a form of encouragement) go in for, have or take as one's object, hobby, principle, etc.: go in for (take, sit for) an examination; go in for golf (stamp-collecting, growing orchids). go into, (a) enter: go into business, become a business man; go into society, mix with people in society; go into the Army (the Church, Parliament). (b) busy or occupy oneself with: go into details (particulars). (c) investigate; examine carefully: go into the evidence; go deeply into a question. (d) dress oneself in: go into mourning, wear black clothes. (e) (allow oneself to) pass into (a certain state): go into hysterics (fits of laughter). go off, (a) (stage directions in a printed play) leave the stage; exit, exeunt: Hamlet goes off. (b) explode; be fired with a loud noise: The gun went off by accident. The pistol did not go off. (c) become worse; lose excellence: This milk has gone off, has turned sour. Meat and fish go off quickly in hot weather. (d) become unconscious (either in sleep or in a faint): Hasn't the baby gone off yet? She went off into a faint. (e) leave (esp. without telling anyone): He has gone off to Leeds with his neighbour's wife. The butler went off with some of the duke's treasured possessions. (f) (of goods) be got rid of by sale: The goods went off rapidly. (g) (of proceedings) be carried out: The performance went off well. How did the sports meeting go off? (h) see also: *go off one's *head (the deep *end, the beaten track). go on, (a) continue; persevere: Go on until you get to the post office and then turn left. Go on with your work. How much longer will this hot weather go on? Go on trying. I hope it won't go on raining all day. That's enough to go on with, enough for present needs. (b) do or say next; proceed: He went on to say that . . ., next said that . . . I shall now go on to deal with the gerund. Let us go on to the next item on the agenda. (c) (of time) pass: As the months went on, he became impatient. (d) conduct oneself, behave (esp. in a wrong, shameful, or excited way): If you go on like this, you'll be expelled. She goes on at her husband terribly, rails at him, scolds him, etc. (e) happen; take place; be in progress: What's going on here? There's nothing interesting going on at present. Harvesting was going on in the south. Things are going on much as usual. (f) (theatre) appear on the stage: She doesn't go on until Act Two. (g) take one's turn at doing sth.; (esp. cricket) begin bowling: The captain told Tyson to go on next. (h) (usu. in the progressive tenses) be going on for, be approaching: It's going on for tea-time. He's going on for 70. (i) (colloq., imperat.) Go on (with you)! Don't talk nonsense! (j) go on the parish (on a relief fund, etc.), become chargeable to; get help or support from; go on the dole, (colloq.) get unemployment pay under the national insurance scheme (in Great Britain). (k) take or accept (as evidence, etc.): What evidence have we to go on? The only thing we have to go on (all we have to guide us in our decision) is . . . Is it wise to go on such a supposition? ˈgoings-ˈon n. pl. (colloq.; see go on, (d) & (e)) (often with such, strange, queer) behaviour; happenings. go out, (a) leave a room or building: Out you go! Do you often go out riding? She was dressed to go out, wearing outdoor clothes. (b) be extinguished: The fire has gone out. All the lights went out. (c) cease to be fashionable: The fashion for short skirts is going out. (d) (of a government) leave office; retire from power: The Ministry that has just gone out had become very unpopular. (e) (esp. of girls—cf. come out) leave home for employment (as servants, etc.): When she was eighteen she went out as a governess. (f) depart (to another, usu. distant, country, esp. a colony): He then went out to Australia. (g) (as used by workers of themselves) strike (cf. come out): Are we likely to gain anything by going out? (h) (of the heart) expand with love, sympathy, etc.:

Our hearts go out to those poor children orphaned by war. (i) (of a month, year, etc.) end: The year went out gloomily. (j) mix in society; attend social functions, etc.: She still goes out a great deal, even at seventy-five. go over, (a) change one's political party, side, religion, etc.: He has gone over to the Democrats, left his own party in order to join the Democrats. (b) examine the details of: inspect: We must go over the accounts carefully before we settle them. We should like to go over the house before deciding whether to buy it. (c) rehearse; study or repeat carefully: Let's go over this chapter (this lesson, the main facts) again. go round, (a) be enough (in number or amount) for everybody to have a share: There aren't enough apples to go round. (b) pay an informal visit (to): I went round to see him yesterday evening. (c) reach one's destination by using a road or roads other than the nearest or usual road(s): The main road to Worcester was flooded and we had to go (a long way) round. go through, (a) discuss in detail; examine carefully: Let's go through the arguments again. The police sergeant went through the pockets of the suspected thief. (b) perform; take part in: She made him go through both a civil and a religious marriage ceremony. How long will it take to go through the whole programme? (c) undergo; suffer: go through hardships. If you only knew what she has had to go through with that husband of hers! (d) (of a book) be sold out: The book went through ten editions, ten editions were sold out. (e) reach the end of; spend: go through a fortune (all one's money). (f) (= get through) be passed: The bill did not go through. (g) be concluded: The deal did not go through. go through with, complete; not leave unfinished: He is determined to go through with the undertaking. go to, (old use, imperat. only) exclamation of impatience, incredulity, etc. go together, be satisfactory and pleasant when together; match: Beer and cheese go well together. Which of these colours would go well together? go under, (a) sink. (b) (fig.) fail; succumb; become bankrupt: The firm will go under unless business improves. go up, (a) rise: The barometer (temperature) went up. Everything went up except pensions. (b) be erected: New buildings are going up everywhere. (c) be blown up; be destroyed by fire or explosion: The whole building went up in flames. The bridge went up with a roar when the mine was exploded. (d) enter, go to, a university or to a town (esp. the capital): go up to London (to town). When are you going up, going to the university? (e) climb: go up a ladder (wall, tree). go with, (a) accompany: I'll go with you. (b) take the same view as: I can't go with you on that, can't agree with you. (c) be a normal accompaniment of: Five acres of land go with the house, become the property of a buyer, or are for the use of a tenant. Disease usually goes with squalor, but it is wrong to say that crime always goes with poverty. (d) match; be fitting or suitable with: These new curtains don't go well with your Persian rugs. I want a hat to go with this dress. (e) (colloq., of a young man or girl) be often in the company of (with a view to marriage); go with a girl. go without, endure the lack of: The poor boy often had to go without supper. There's no money for a holiday this year; we'll have to go without. 8. (VP 21, 23) work; operate: This machine goes by electricity. I've been going hard all day and feel exhausted. Go it! (= Do your best! Work hard!) Go easy! (= Be less strenuous, less severe.) go slow, work slowly, esp. (in factories, etc.) in order to reduce output, as a protest against sth., or to draw attention to demands (e.g. for higher wages): a go-slow policy. 9. (VP 23) be placed: Where do you want the piano to go, Sir? (= Where shall we put it?) 10. (VP 23) have as a usual or proper position: 'Where does this teapot go?'—'In that cupboard.' This dictionary goes on the top shelf. 11. (VP 21, 24) find room; be contained: My clothes won't go into this small suitcase. 7 into 15 goes twice and one over. 6 into 5 won't go. 12. (VP 23) carry an action to a certain point: That's going too far, saying or doing more than is right. I won't go so far as to say that he's dishonest, won't accuse him of this, even though I may suspect him of it. He went to great trouble to make his guests comfortable. I will go as high as £250, will offer this sum (e.g. when bidding for sth. at an auction). I will go so far as to say that he deserves a much higher salary. go halves (shares), share equally (with sb.). go (one) better, outbid or outdo an adversary: I hit the target 17 times out of 20, but Tom went one better and scored 18 hits. 13. (VP 22, 23) be or live habitually in a specified state or manner: The men of this tribe used to go naked. The boy often went hungry and in rags. He went in fear of his life, was always afraid of being killed. You had better go armed (always carry a weapon) while you're in the jungle. She is six months gone with child, has been pregnant for six months. 14. (VP 23, 24) pass into the possession of; be allotted (to): To whom did the property go when the old man died? (= who inherited it?). Honours do not always go to those who deserve them. The first prize went to Mr Hill. 15. (VP 24)

amount together to: 12 inches go to the foot; contribute to or towards: What qualities go to the making of a statesman? 16. (VP 25) tend: It all goes to prove that . . . 17. (VP 22) escape; get away: Ought such a terrible crime to go unpunished? He'll be lucky if they allow him to go free. 18. (VP 23, 24) be sold: The house went cheap, was sold cheaply. I shan't let it go (sell it) for less than £30. Going! Going! Gone! (used at an auction to announce that the bidding is almost, quite, closed). 19. (VP 24) (of money) be spent: All his spare money goes on books. How much of your salary goes in rent, clothes, and food? 20. (VP 21, 23) be given up, abolished, or lost: Latin and Greek must go, we must give up teaching them. I'm afraid the car must go, we must sell it, can no longer afford it. My sight is going, I'm losing my (eye)sight. The next wicket went for only two runs, only two runs were scored before the next wicket was lost. 21. (VP 21, 23) be current or accepted; be commonly thought or believed: The story goes that . . ., it is said that . . . American dollar notes go almost anywhere, are accepted with confidence. 22. (VP 24) be known (by or under the name of): Our dog goes by the name of 'Rover'. 23. (VP 21) be on the average: They're good workers, as workers go nowadays, judging them by workers in general. £3 for a pair of shoes is not dear as things go. 24. (VP 21) fail; collapse; give way; break off: First the sails and then the masts went. The bank may go (fail) any day. He's far gone, very ill, in a serious condition. 25. (in the p.p. and in phrases) die: He has gone, poor fellow! Dead and gone, dead and buried. 26. (VP 24, 23) (in phrases) go to church (market, school), attend church, etc.; go to the bar, become a barrister; go to sea, become a sailor; go on the stage (streets), become an actor (a prostitute). 27. (VP 23, 24) be decided: The case went against him, he lost it. The case went in his favour, he won it. How did the election go at Hull, who was elected? Does promotion go by favour in your country? 28. (VP 21, 22, 23) (of events) turn out; proceed: All has gone well with our plans, they have succeeded. Things went better (were more successful) than had been expected. 29. (various phrases) go native, (usu. of a person of European race) adopt the mode of life of the natives of the country in which he lives. go sick, (mil.) report that one is ill; cause one's name to be on the *sick list. go it, (sl.) act vigorously or furiously; spend money lavishly (e.g. on dissipations). go it alone, (sl.) undertake a course of action by oneself, without support. be gone on (sb.), (sl.) be infatuated with. be far gone, be ver ill, deeply involved (in sth.). 30. (V 24) act in harmony (with): We must g with the tide (times), do as others He always goes with his party, votes, et as his leaders require. 31. (VP 24) ju or act (upon): Have we enough evi to go on? 32. (VP 24) be guided (by)
That's a good rule to go by. Don't g by what the gossips say about her. 33
(VP 23) have a certain wording or tune I'm not quite sure how the rhyme (tune goes. 34. (of a verse or song) be adapt able (to a certain tune): It goes to th tune of 'Sur le pont d'Avignon'. 35. (V 23) make a specified motion: Go lik this with your left foot. 36. (VP 21, 23 be moving, working, etc.: *This cl doesn't go. Is your watch going? He tongue goes nineteen to the dozen.
going concern, a business in work order. 37. (VP 23) make a spec sound: The clock goes 'tick-tock, tick tock'. 'Bang!' went the gun. The cloc has just gone six, has struck six. go phut, (sl.) collapse. 38. (in bridge) bid declare: go two spades (three no-trumps)
39. act as (bail for): I'll go bail for you
40. (colloq.) (followed by and and another verb) proceed to (do sth.) (often suggesting that the procedure is stupid):
Don't go and ask that brainless doll to be your wife. Now you've been and gone and done it, have made a blunder!
41. (VP 21) begin motion: One, two, three, go! (signal for competitors in a race to start). Here goes! (phrase used when one starts to do sth. and wishes to call attention to the fact.) 42. (compounds) 'go-as-you-'please, untroubled by regulations. 'go-be,tween n. middleman; person who makes arrangements for two persons or parties who do not meet at first. 'go-by n. see def. 4. 'go-cart n. small carriage or cart, esp. one in which a baby may be taken about. 'go-,getter n. (colloq.) person who, by being pushful and energetic, gets what he sets out to get. 'go-kart n. miniature racing car (usu. a small engine mounted on boards, the driver lying prone). go-'off n. start: do sth. first go-off, at the first attempt; drink sth. at one go-off, without a pause. 'go-to-'meeting adj. (colloq.; of hats, clothes, etc.) kept for special occasions, esp. for going to church in: wearing their Sunday, go-to-meeting clothes.

²go [gou] n. (pl. goes) (all uses are colloq.) 1. [U] energy; enthusiasm: full of go. He still has plenty of go in him. 2. *be on the go, be busy, active: She has been on the go all day, has had no rest. 3. *have a go (at sth.), attempt (to do sth.): He had several goes at it before he succeeded. at one go, at one attempt: He blew out all the candles on the cake at one go.

all (quite) the go, fashionable: hese brightly coloured stockings are all e go this summer. 5. *a near go, (= a ose shave) a narrow escape. 6. embrrassing or difficult state of affairs: re's a go! What a rum go!

ad [goud] n. pointed stick for urging ttle on: (fig.) sth. urging a person to tion. v.t. (VP 1, 3, 10, 18) urge, drive rward: ~ sb. on; ~ sb. into doing sth.; sb. into a fury; be ~ed by hunger into aling.

al [goul] n. 1. point marking the end of race; (football) posts between which e ball must pass in order to score; int made by doing this: score (kick) ~; win by three ~s to one; keep ~, otect the ~. ˈ*~-ˌkeeper n. player hose duty is to keep the ball out of the 2. (fig.) object of efforts or ambition: e's ~ in life; the ~ of his desires.

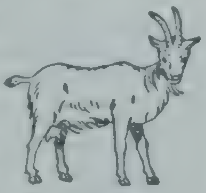
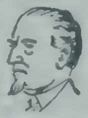
at [gout] n. small, active horned imal kept for its ilk, flesh, and hair. parate the sheep om the ~s, the od from the wicked. t one's ~, (sl.) ritate or annoy one. ay the giddy ~, ay the fool; behave a foolish and excited ay. ˈ*-herd n. person who looks after a ock of ~s. ˈ*~skin n. [C & U] (garment ade of) skin of a goat. ~ee ou'ti:] n. small tuft of hair on e chin like a ~'s beard.



A goat



A goatee

o [gɔb] n. (vulg.) clot or lump slimy substance.

o [gɔb] n. (sl.) mouth.

o [gɔb] n. (sl.) sailor.

o ble [ˈgɔbl] v.t. & i. (VP. 1, , 21) eat (up) fast, noisily, and greedily.

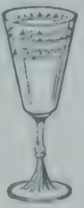
o ble [ˈgɔbl] v.i. (VP 21, 23) (of a rkeycock) make the characteristic und in the throat; (of a person) make ch a sound when speaking, because of ge, etc. n. characteristic sound made a turkeycock.

o let [ˈgɔblit] n. glass drinking-vessel ith a stem and base and no andle.

o lin [ˈgɔblin] n. mischievous emon; ugly-looking evil irit.



A goblet

d [gɔd] n. 1. any being rerded as or worshipped as aving power over nature and ntrol over human affairs; age in wood, stone, etc., to present such a being: the ind god (or god of love), Cupid; the d of the sea, Neptune; a feast (sight) r the gods, something extraordinary, quisite, etc. 2. (God) creator and ler of the universe: God willing, if rcumstances permit. God knows, it is something that ordinary people cannot know. 3. person greatly adored or admired; very influential person; sth. to which excessive attention is paid: make a god of one's belly, think excessively about food and drink. He thinks he's a (little) tin god (e.g. an official who gets undeserved and excessive respect). 4. (theatre) the gods, persons in the gallery seats (U.S.A. Nigger heaven). 5. (compounds) ˈ*godchild,* ˈ*godˌdaughter,* ˈ*godson nn. person for whom a godparent acts as sponsor at baptism. ˈ*godˌfather,* ˈ*godˌmother,* ˈ*godˌparent nn. person who undertakes, when a child is baptized, to see that it is trained as a Christian. ˈ*godˌfearing adj. reverent; living a good life and sincerely religious. ˈ*god-forˌsaken adj. (of places) dismal; wretched. ˈ*God's-ˈacre n. churchyard. ˈ*godsend n. piece of good fortune coming unexpectedly; sth. welcome because it is a great help in time of need. godˈspeed n. bid (wish) sb. godspeed, wish him success on a journey, etc. god dess [ˈgɔdis] n. female god, esp. in Greek and Latin mythology: Diana, the goddess of hunting.

god head [ˈgɔdhed] n. [U] being God or a god; divine nature: the G~, God.

god less [ˈgɔdlis] adj. wicked; not having belief in God; not recognizing God. ~ness *n.

god like [ˈgɔdlaik] adj. like God or a god in some quality; like or suitable for a god.

god ly [ˈgɔdli] adj. (-ier, -iest) loving and obeying God; deeply religious. god li ness *n.

go down [ˈgoudaun] n. (in the East) warehouse.

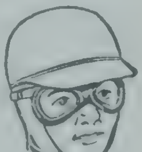
gog gle [ˈgɔgl] v.i. (VP 21, 24) roll the eyes about (or at sth.); (of the eyes) open widely; roll: He ~d at her in surprise. The frog's eyes seemed to be goggling out of its head. ˈ*~-eyed adj. having staring, prominent, or rolling eyes.

gog gles [ˈgɔglz] n. pl. large round glasses with hoods to protect the eyes from the wind, dust, etc. (worn by racing motorists, etc.).



Goggles

go ing [ˈgouiŋ] n. (see also under go (v.)) 1. [U] condition of the ground, a road, etc., for walking, riding, etc.: The ~ is hard over this mountain road. 2. [U] method or speed of working or travelling: For a steam train, 70 miles an hour is good ~.

goi tre [ˈgɔitə*] n. morbid swelling of the thyroid gland (in the neck).

gold [gould] n. [U] 1. precious yellow metal used for making coins, ornaments, jewellery, etc.: currencies backed by ~;

£500 in ~, in ~ coins; (attrib.) a ~ watch (bracelet). 2. money in large sums; wealth. 3. (fig.) brilliant or precious things or qualities: a heart of ~; a voice of ~. 4. colour of the metal: the red and ~ of the woods in autumn; old ~, a dull, brownish-golden yellow. 5. (compounds) ˈ~-ˌ*beater n. person whose trade is to beat ~ into ~-leaf. ˈ~-ˌ*digger n. person who digs for ~; (sl.) girl or woman who uses her attractions to extract money from men. ˈ~-*dust n. ~ in the form of dust, as often found in ~fields. ˈ~*field n. district in which ~ is found. ˈ~*finch n. bright-coloured song-bird with yellow feathers in the wings. ˈ~*fish n. small red carp kept in bowls or ponds for ornament. ˈ~-ˈ*foil*, ˈ~-*leaf n. [U] ~ beaten into thin sheets. ˈ~-*mine n. place where ~ is mined; (fig.) source of wealth (e.g. a shop that is very successful in making money). ~ *plate n. [U] articles (spoons, dishes, and other vessels) made of ~. ˈ~-*rush n. rush to a newly discovered ~field. ˈ~*smith n. smith who makes articles of ~.

gold en [ˈgouldən] adj. 1. of gold or like gold in value or colour: ~ hair. 2. precious; excellent; important: a ~ opportunity; ~ wedding, fiftieth anniversary; the ~ rule, that in Matt. vii. 12; the ~ mean, the principle of moderation; the ~ age, (in Greek stories) the earliest and happiest period in history; period in a nation's history when art or literature was most flourishing.

golf [gɔlf] n. [U] game played by two or four persons with small, hard balls, driven with ~-clubs into a series of 9 or 18 holes over a stretch of land called a ~-course or ~-links. v.i. play ~. ~er n. person who plays ~.

A golfer

Go li ath [gəˈlaiəθ] n. giant. (See 1 Sam. xvii.)

gol li wog [ˈgɔliwɔg] n. black-faced doll with thick stiff hair on end like a brush.

gol ly [ˈgɔli] int. (sl.) used to express surprise.

go losh [gəˈlɔʃ] n. see galosh.

Go mor rah [gəˈmɔrə] n. (type of) wicked town. (See Gen. xviii, xix.)

gon do la [ˈgɔndələ] n. 1. long, light, flat-bottomed boat used on canals in Venice. 2. (old use) car suspended from an airship.

gon do lier [ˌgɔndəˈliə*] n. man who rows a ~.

A gondola (def. 1)

gone [gɔn] p.p. of go.

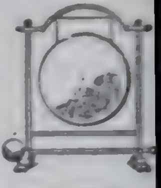
gong [gɔŋ] n. metal disk with a turned rim giving a resonant note when struck with a stick (esp. as a signal, e.g. for meals). v.t. (of traffic police) direct (a motorist) to stop by striking a ~.

gon or rhe a [ˌgɔnəˈriə] n. [U] contagious venereal disease that causes inflammation of the genital organs.



A gong

¹good [gud] adj. (better, best) 1. having the right or desired qualities; giving satisfaction: a ~ knife; a ~ fire, one that is bright and cheerful, giving warmth; ~ (= fertile) soil; ~ (= genuine) money; earning ~ money, (colloq.) high wages; a woman of ~ family, of a family with high social position; well born. Is raw herring ~ eating, is it enjoyable to eat it? 2. beneficial; wholesome: Is this water ~ to drink, is it clean and pure? Milk is ~ for children. Exercise is ~ for the health. 3. efficient; competent; able to do satisfactorily what is required: a ~ teacher (driver, worker); a ~ man for the position; ~ at mathematics (languages, describing scenery). She has been a ~ wife to him. 4. pleasing; agreeable; advantageous: ~ news; have a ~ time, enjoy oneself; a ~-time girl, (colloq.) one whose chief aim is to enjoy herself; have a ~ night, sleep well; (all) in ~ time, at a suitable or advantageous time. It's a ~ thing that . . ., is fortunate that . . . Will you say a ~ word for him, say something in his favour? It's ~ to be home again. 5. kind; benevolent; willing to help others: It was ~ of you to help them. Will you be ~ enough to (be so ~ as to) come early? He's a very ~ fellow. How ~ of you! (See also: *do sb. a ~ turn.) (in exclamations) G~ God! G~ gracious! G~ heavens! 6. thorough; sound; complete: give sb. a ~ beating (scolding); have a ~ drink; find a ~ excuse; go for a ~ long walk; *have a ~ mind (to do sth.). 7. strong; vigorous: His eyesight is still ~. The children were in ~ spirits. (Cf. low spirits.) 8. amusing: a ~ story (joke); as ~ as a play. 9. fresh; eatable; untainted: Fish does not keep ~ in hot weather. This meat doesn't smell quite ~. 10. reliable; safe; sure: a car with ~ brakes; ~ debts, debts that will certainly be paid. He's a ~ life, is healthy and is, therefore, likely to be acceptable for life assurance. ~ for, (a) safely to be trusted for (the amount stated): His credit is ~ for £5,000. (b) (of a draft, etc.) drawn for (the amount stated): ~ for 10s. (c) having the necessary energy, inclination, etc.: He's ~ for several years' more service. My car is ~ for another five years. Are you ~ for a five-mile walk? (d) valid: The return half of the ticket is ~ for three nths. 11. (esp. of a child) well be-aved; not giving trouble: Try to be ~ boy. She's as ~ as gold. 12. morally cellent; virtuous: a ~ and holy man;

a ~ life; ~ works, charitable deeds, lping the poor, the sick, etc. 13.
ther arch.; biblical) right, proper;
pedient: He thought it ~ to offer his
lp. (As an int., expressing approval):
ou will come with us?' 'G~!' 14.
forms of greeting and farewell: G~ orning (afternoon, evening, night). 15.
a polite (but often ironical, patronizg, or indignant) form of address: my sir (man, friend), or as a polite (but ten condescending) description: How's ur ~ man (i.e. your husband)? How's ~ lady (i.e. your wife)? the ~ people, e fairies. 16. as a form of commendan: ~ men and true. G~ old Smith!
hat's a ~ 'un, (colloq.) an amusing or story. 17. considerable in num-r, quantity, etc.: a ~ deal of money; ~ many people; a ~ few, a considerable mber. We've come a ~ way, quite a ng way. 18. not less than; rather ore than: We waited for a ~ hour.
's a ~ three miles to the station. He e a ~ half of the duck. 19. as ~ as, actically, almost: He as ~ as said I as a liar, suggested that I was a liar ithout actually using the word 'liar'.
ly car is as ~ as new, even though I've d it a year. The matter is as ~ as ttled, we may look upon it as being ettled. 20. make ~, (VP 22) accomlish what one attempts; prosper: He ent to Canada, where he soon made ~.
ake sth. ~, (VP 7) (a) compensate for;
ay for (sth. lost or damaged): make ~ a ss or theft. (b) effect (a purpose): make one's escape. (c) prove the truth of n accusation, a statement, etc.). 21. hrases and compounds) ~ breeding, orrect manners; a ~ fellow, a sociable an; a friendly and agreeable comanion, (hence) ~-ˈfellowship n. socia-ility. ˈ~-for-ˌnothing, ˈ~-for-ˌnaught
djj. & nn. worthless (person). ~ umour n. cheerful mood; happy state mind, (hence) ~-humoured [gudju:məd] adj. ~-humouredly adv.
looks n. pl. personal beauty. ~- ooking adj. (usu. of persons) hand-
ome. ~-natured [gudˈneitʃəd] adj.
ind; ready and willing to help others,
ven by sacrificing one's own interests.
-naturedly adv. ~-ˈneighbourli- ess n. friendly conduct and relations.
sense n. [U] soundness of judgement;
ractical wisdom. ~-tempered [gud-empəd] adj. not easily irritated or ade angry. ~-temperedly adv.

od [gud] n. [U] 1. that which is good;
hat is morally right; what is beneficial, dvantageous, profitable, etc.: do ~;
ork for the ~ of the country; do more harm than ~. Eat more fruit; it will do you ~. I'm telling you this for your ~. Is it right to deceive people, even for their own ~? Much ~ may it do you, (usu. iron., meaning 'You won't get much benefit from it'). He's up to no ~, is engaged in something wrong, mischievous, etc. 2. use: It's no ~ (my) talking to him. It's not much ~ doing that. What ~ is it? 3. for ~ (and all), permanently; finally: He says that he's leaving the country for ~, intending never to return to it. 4. to the ~, as balance on the right side, as net profit: We were £5 to the ~. 5. (adj. as pl. n.) good or virtuous persons: G~ and bad alike respected the parson. 6. (pl.; not used with numerals) movable property; merchandise: He buys and sells leather ~s. Half his ~s were stolen. ~s and chattels, (legal) personal belongings. 7. (pl. but not with numerals) (cf. U.S.A. freight) things carried by rail, etc. (contrasted with passengers): a ~s agent (station); send sth. by fast ~s train. 8. (colloq.) piece of ~s, female person: She's a saucy little piece of ~s, a saucy young girl.

good-bye [gudˈbai] int. & n. (saying of) farewell: 'I must say ~ now', it is time for me to leave. Have you said all your ~s?

good ish [ˈgudiʃ] adj. rather large, etc.: It's a ~ step from here, quite a long way.

good ly [ˈgudli] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. handsome; pleasant-looking. 2. of considerable size: a ~ sum of money; a ~ heritage.

good ness [ˈgudnis] n. [U] 1. quality of being good; virtue: ~ of heart. have the ~ to, be kind enough to: Have the ~ to come this way, please. 2. strength or essence: meat with the ~ boiled out. 3. (in exclamations) used instead of God: G~ gracious! G~ me! For ~' sake! Thank ~! I wish to ~ that . . ., wish very strongly that . . . G~ knows, (a) I do not know. (b) I appeal to Heaven to witness: G~ knows I've tried hard.

good will [gudˈwil] n. [U] 1. friendly feeling: a policy of ~ in international relations. 2. privilege of trading as the successor to a well-established business: The ~ is to be sold with the business.

¹good y [ˈgudi] n. (colloq.) sweetmeat.

²good y (-good y) [ˈgudi (ˈgudi)] adj. & n. (person who is) primly or pretentiously virtuous.

goof y [ˈgu:fi] adj. (-ier, -iest) (sl.) silly.

goon [gu:n] n. (sl.) stupid or awkward person.

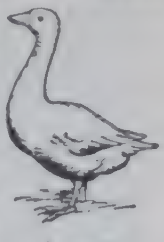
goose [gu:s] n. (pl. geese [gi:s]) water-bird larger than a duck; female of this (cf. gander); [U] its flesh as food: kill the ~ that lays the golden eggs, sacrifice future gains to satisfy present needs; be unable to say 'bo' to a ~, be very timid. All his geese are swans, he overestimates or exaggerates the good qualities of persons and things. cook sb.'s ~, put an end to his hopes; prevent him from being a nuisance, etc. '~-step n. way of marching without bending the knees. '~-flesh n. rough bristling skin caused by cold or fear.



A goose

goose ber ry ['guzbəri] n. [C] (bush with) green, smooth berry (used for jam, tarts, etc.). play ~, be present with two persons (e.g. lovers) who prefer to be alone.

goph er ['goufə*] n. burrowing rat-like animal in N. America.

Gor dian ['gɔːdjən] adj. ~ knot, knot difficult or impossible to untie; difficult problem or task. cut the ~ knot, solve a problem by force or by disregarding the conditions.

¹gore [gɔː*, gɔə*] n. [U] (liter., chiefly in descriptions of fighting) thickened blood from a cut or wound.

²gore [gɔː*, gɔə*] v.t. (VP 1) (of horned animals) pierce, wound, with the horns: ~d to death by an infuriated bull.

¹gorge [gɔːdʒ] n. 1. narrow opening, usu. with a stream, between hills or mountains. 2. what has been swallowed; contents of the stomach: His ~ rose at the sight, (or) It made his ~ rise, he was sickened or disgusted.

²gorge [gɔːdʒ] v.i. & t. (VP 1, 18, 21, 24) eat greedily; fill oneself (with): ~ on rich food; ~ oneself with meat. n. act of gorging; surfeit.

gor geous ['gɔːdʒəs] adj. 1. richly coloured; magnificent: a ~ sunset. 2. (colloq.) giving pleasure and satisfaction: ~ weather; a ~ dinner. ~ly adv.

Gor gon ['gɔːgən] n. (Gk. myth.) one of three snake-haired sisters whose looks turned to stone anyone who saw them.

Gor gon zo la [ˌgɔːgən'zoulə] n. [U] rich creamy cheese (from ~ in Italy).

go ril la [gə'rilə] n. man-sized, fierce, tree-climbing ape.

gor man dize ['gɔːməndaiz] v.i. eat, devour, greedily for pleasure.

gorse [gɔːs] n. [U] furze. (See the illustr. at this word.)

gor y ['gɔːri] adj. (-ier, -iest) covered with blood.

gosh [gɔʃ] int. (sl.) (also by ~) by God.

gos ling ['gɔzliŋ] n. young goose.

gos pel ['gɔspəl] n. 1. (cap. G.) (the life and teachings of Jesus Christ as recorded in the) first four books of the New Testament; any one of these four books: the G~ according to St John; go forth and preach the G~. ~ oath, oath sworn on the G~s. ~ truth, truths contained in the G~; sth. as true as G~. 2. thing that may be believed confidence; principle or set of princip that one acts upon or believes in: the
of health; the ~ of soap and wat (humorous for) firm belief in the valu of cleanliness.

gos sa mer ['gɔsəmə*] n. 1. [C & U (thread of) fine silky substance of we made by small spiders, floating in cal air or spread on grass, etc. 2. [U] so light, delicate material: as light as ~ (attrib.) a ~ veil.

gos sip ['gɔsip] n. 1. [U] idle, often il natured, talk about the affairs of oth people: Don't believe all the ~ you hea She's too fond of ~. 2. [U] informa writing about persons and social hap penings (e.g. in letters or in newspaper (attrib.) the ~ column (of a newspaper a ~ writer. 3. [C] instance of this friendly chat: have a good ~ with neighbour over the garden fence. 4. [C person who is fond of ~: She's an old ~
v.i. (VP 21, 23, 24) talk or write ~.

got [gɔt] p.t. & p.p. of get.

Goth [gɔθ] n. one of a German tribe tha invaded the Roman Empire in the 3r and 4th centuries; rough, uncivilize person, esp. one who destroys works o
art. (Cf. vandal.)

Goth ic ['gɔθik] adj. 1. of the Goths o their language. 2. of the style of archi tecture common in Western Europe i the 12th to 16th centuries, character ized by pointed arches, clusters o columns, etc. (contrasted with classical)
3. (of printing type) thick or heavy, as used for German. n. ~ language; ~ architecture; ~ type.

got ten ['gɔtn] p.p. of get (in U.S.A.).

gouge [gaudʒ, guːdʒ] n. tool with a sharp semicircular edge for cutting grooves i wood. v.t. (VP 1, 10 with out) cut with a ~; shape with a ~; force out with, o as with, a ~: ~ out a person's eye with one's thumb.

gou lash ['guːlæʃ] n. [C & U] (dish of highly seasoned stew of steak and vegetables.

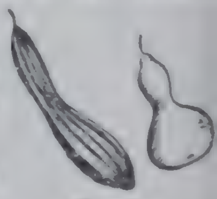
gourd [guəd] n. (large, hard-skinned fleshy fruit of) kinds of climbing or trailing plant; bottle or bowl consisting of the dried skin of this fruit.



Gourds

gour mand ['guəmənd] n. lover of food.

gour met ['guəmei] n. person who enjoys, and is expert in the choice of, good food, wines, etc.

gout [gaut] n. [U] disease causing pai swellings in joints, esp. toes, knees, and fingers. ~y adj. suffering from ~.

gov ern ['gʌvən] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 21 rule (a country, etc.); control or direct he public affairs of (a city, country, tc.): In Great Britain the sovereign reigns but does not ~. 2. (VP 1) control: ~ one's temper. 3. (VP 1) determine; nfluence: be ~ed by the opinions of thers. Don't be ~ed by what other people ay. 4. (grammar, esp. of a vb. or prep.) require, make necessary (a certain case r form of another word). ~ing adj. having the power or right to ~: the ~ing classes of England; the ~ing body f a school (college, etc.).

ov ern ance ['gʌvənəns] n. (arch.) act, act, manner, of governing; sway, control.

ov er ness ['gʌvənis] n. woman who is employed to teach young children in a rivate family.

ov ern ment ['gʌvnmənt, 'gʌvə-] n. 1. [U] governing; power to govern: hat the country needs is strong ~. 2. U] method or system of governing: We refer democratic ~. 3. [C] territory that governed; province ruled by a governor: G~ House, official residence of a overnor. 4. [C] ministry; body of perns governing a State: the Prime inister has formed a G~, has chosen is colleagues, selected Ministers for the Cabinet. G~ securities, bonds, exchequer bills, etc., issued by ~. gov ern men tal [ˌgʌvən'mentl] adj. connected with ~.

ov er nor ['gʌvənə*] n. 1. person who governs a province or colony or (U.S.A.) a State: the G~ of New York State. (Cf. he Mayor of New York City.) '~-'general n. (in the British Commonwealth) representative of the Crown, having no special powers: the G~-General of Canada. 2. member of the governing body of an institution (e.g. a public school in England, a college, a hospital). 3. (colloq.) chief; employer; ather. 4. regulator in a machine, automatically controlling speed or the intake of gas, steam, etc.

own [gaun] n. 1. woman's dress, esp. one for special occasions: a tea (dinner) ~. 2. loose, flowing robe worn by members of a university, judges, etc. (See the illustr. at academic.) v.t. (chiefly p.p.) dress in a ~: beautifully ~ed women.

rab [græb] v.t. & i. (-bb-) (VP 1, 18, 21, 24) take roughly; selfishly snatch (at): The dog ~bed the bone and ran off with it. Don't ~! He ~bed at the opportunity of going abroad. n. [C] 1. sudden snatch: make a ~ at something. 2. mechanical device for taking up and holding sth. to be lifted or moved. ~ber n. person who ~s; greedy person whose chief aim in life appears to be making money.

race [greis] n. 1. [U] quality of being pleasing, attractive, or beautiful, esp. in structure or movement: She danced with ~ (with a ~ that surprised us). 2. (usu. pl.) pleasing accomplishment; elegance of manner: airs and ~s, ways of speaking and behaving that are intended to impress and attract people. 3. [U] favour; goodwill: an act of ~, sth. freely given, not taken as a right. days of ~, time allowed by law or custom after the day on which a payment (e.g. of an insurance premium) is due. give sb. a week's ~, allow him an extra week before requiring him to fulfil an obligation. be in sb.'s good ~s, enjoy his favour and approval. 4. [U] feeling of what is right or proper or becoming: He had the ~ to say that he was sorry, realized that it was right to say so and did say so. He did it with a good ~, as if he did it willingly. He did it with a bad (an ill) ~, reluctantly. 5. short prayer of thanks before or after a meal: say (a) ~. 6. [U] God's mercy and favour towards mankind; influence and result of this: in the year of ~ 1960, in the 1960th year after the birth of Jesus; in a state of ~, i.e. being influenced by the strength and inspiring power of God; fall from ~, fall to a lower moral state after being in a state of ~. 7. as a title, used when speaking of or to an archbishop, duke, or duchess: His (Her, Your) G~. 8. the G~s, (Gk. myth.) three beautiful sister goddesses who gave beauty, charm, and happiness. v.t. (VP 1) add ~ to; confer honour or dignity on; be an ornament to: The occasion was ~d by the presence of the Queen. Her character is ~d with every virtue.

grace ful ['greisful] adj. having or showing grace (defs. 1 & 4): a ~ dancer; a ~ letter of thanks. ~ly adv.

grace less ['greislis] adj. without grace (def. 4); without a sense of what is right and proper: ~ behaviour; a ~ (depraved) rogue. ~ly adv.

gra cious ['greiʃəs] adj. 1. (of persons and their behaviour) pleasant; kind; agreeable: her ~ Majesty the Queen. It was ~ of her to come. 2. (of God) merciful. 3. (in exclamations) expressing surprise: Good ~! G~ goodness! G~ me! ~ly adv. ~ness n.

gra da tion [grə'deiʃən] n. [C & U] (step, stage, degree in) development; gradual change from one thing to another or from one state to another: the ~s of colour in the rainbow.

¹grade [greid] n. [C] 1. step, stage, or degree (in rank, quality, value, etc.); number or class of things of the same kind: The rank of major is one ~ higher than that of captain. Milk is sold in ~s, and G~ A milk is the best quality. This pupil has a high ~ of intelligence. 2.

(U.S.A.) division of the school course; one year's work; pupils in such a division: An elementary school in the U.S.A. has eight ~s and is called a '~ school'. Its teachers are called '~ teachers'. 3. (U.S.A.) the mark (e.g. 80%) or rating (e.g. 'Excellent' or 'Fair') given to a pupil for his work in school: make the ~, (colloq.) reach a good standard; do as well as is required. 4. (U.S.A. cf. gradient, the word used in Gt. Brit.) slope of a road, railway, etc.: on the up (down) ~, rising (falling): Business is on the up ~, is improving. ~ crossing, (U.S.A.) level *crossing.

²grade [greid] v.t. (VP 1) 1. arrange in order in grades or classes: ~ milk; ~d by size. 2. make land (esp. for roads) more nearly level by reducing the slope. 3. (also VP 10 with up) cross (cattle) with a better breed.

gra dient ['greidjənt] n. degree of slope: a ~ of one in nine; a steep ~.

grad u al ['grædjuəl] adj. taking place by degrees; (of a slope) not steep: a ~ increase in the cost of living. ~ly adv. by degrees. ~ness n.

¹grad u ate ['grædjueit] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) mark with degrees for measuring: a ruler ~d in both inches and centimetres; a ~d glass (for measuring quantities of liquid). 2. (VP 1) arrange according to grade. 3. (VP 21, 24) take an academic degree: He ~d from Oxford (~d in law). (U.S.A., of other institutions: ~ from the Boston School of Cookery.) 4. (chiefly U.S.A.; VP 1) give a degree or diploma to: The university ~d 350 students last year. He had been ~d from Maryland College in the Class of 1868. grad u a tion [ˌgrædju'eiʃən] n. graduating or being ~d; (U.S.A.) ceremony at which degrees are conferred.

²grad u ate ['grædjuit] n. 1. (Gt. Brit.) person who has taken a university degree, esp. the first, or Bachelor's, degree: London ~s; a ~ student; post-~ studies. 2. (U.S.A.) one who has completed a course at an educational institution: high school ~s; a ~ nurse, one from a College or School of Nursing. (Cf. trained nurse in Gt. Brit.)

¹graft [grɑːft] n. 1. shoot from a branch or twig of a living tree, fixed in a cut made in another tree, to form a new growth. 2. (surgery) piece of skin, bone, etc., from a living person or animal, transplanted on another body or another part of the same body. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 10, 18, 21) put a ~ in or on (stock): ~ one variety on (upon, in, into) another; ~ on briar roots; ~ new skin.

A graft (def. 1)

²graft [grɑːft] n. (orig. U.S.A.) [C & U] (instance of) getting business advantages, profit-making, etc., by taking wrong advantage of connexions in politics, municipal business, etc. v.i. practise ~.

grail [greil] n. (usu. the Holy G~) platter or cup used by Jesus at the Last Supper and in which one of His followers is said to have received drops of His blood at the Crucifixion.

grain [grein] n. 1. (collective sing.; [U]) small, hard seed of food plants such as wheat and rice: ~ imports; a cargo of ~. 2. [C] single seed of such a plant: give a beggar a few ~s of rice; eat up every ~ of rice in one's bowl. 3. [C] tiny, hard bit: ~s of sand (salt, gold); (fig.) small amount: a boy without a ~ of sense; receive a few ~s of comfort. 4. smallest unit of weight, 1/7,000 lb. or 0·065 grammes. (See Appendix 1.) 5. [U] natural arrangement of the lines of fibre in wood, etc., as seen on a surface that has been sawn or cut: woods of fine (coarse) ~. go (be) against the ~, (fig.) contrary to inclination.

Grain (def. 5)

gram see gramme.

gram mar ['græmə*] n. [U] study or science of, rules for, the words and structure of a language: a ~ lesson; a ~ book; a '~-school, (in Gt. Brit.) type of secondary school in which Latin was once the chief subject. gram ma ri an [grə'mɛəriən] n. expert in ~.

gram mat i cal [grə'mætikl] adj. of, conforming to, the rules of grammar: a ~ error (explanation, sentence). ~ly adv.

gramme [græm] n. metric unit of weight; weight of one cubic centimetre of water at maximum density. (See Appendix 1.)

gram o phone ['græməfoun] n. (= U.S.A. phonograph) machine for reproducing music and speech recorded on flat disks. (Cf. record-player.)

gram pus ['græmpəs] n. large dolphin-like sea-animal; person who breathes loud.

gran a ry ['grænəri] n. storehouse for grain.

grand [grænd] adj. 1. (in official titles) chief; most important: G~ Master (e.g. of some orders of knighthood); G~ Vizier, (former title of) chief minister of Turkey. 2. of most or greatest importance: make a ~ mistake; the ~ question; the ~ staircase (entrance) (of a large building). 3. magnificent; splendid: a ~ view; living in ~ style; ~ clothes; a ~ air, a distinguished appearance. 4. self-important; proud. 5. (colloq.) very fine or enjoyable: We had a ~ time. What ~ weather! 6. full; complete: a ~ orchestra, one with all kinds of instruments (not strings nly); ~ opera (in which there are no oken parts, everything being sung);

e ~ total, including everything; the result of our efforts; the ~ finale.
impressive because of high moral mental qualities: Lincoln had a ~ racter. Gladstone was called the G~ d Man. 8. (phrases) the G~ National, nual steeplechase at Liverpool: ~ ino, large piano with horizontal rings; ˈ~-stand, rows of roofed seats r spectators at races, sports-meetings,
.; the ~ tour, (formerly) tour of the ief towns, etc., of Europe, completing ucation. ~ly adv.

nd- prefix ˈ~child, ˈ~ˌdaughter, son nn. daughter or son of one's son daughter. ˈ~ˌparent, ˈ~ˌfather, ˌmother nn. father or mother of one's ther or mother. ˈ~-ˌnephew, ˈ~- ece nn. son or daughter of one's phew or niece. ˈ~-ˌuncle, ˈ~-aunt . uncle or aunt of either of one's rents. ˈ~father('s) ˈclock n. clock rked by weights in a tall wooden case.

nd dad [ˈgrændæd] n. (child's word ) grandfather.

n dee [grænˈdiː] n. Spanish or Portuese nobleman of high rank.

n deur [ˈgrændʒə*] n. [U] greatness;
agnificence: the ~ of the Swiss Alps.

n dil o quent [grænˈdiləkwənt] adj.
ing, full of, pompous words: a ~ eaker; written in a ~ style. gran dil o- uence n. [U].

n di ose [ˈgrændious] adj. planned on large scale; imposing.

and ma [ˈgrænmɑː] n. (child's word
r) grandmother.

and pa [ˈgrænpɑː] n. (child's word for) randfather.

ange [greindʒ] n. country house with rm buildings attached.

an ite [ˈgrænit] n. [U] hard, usu. grey,
one used for building.

an ny, -nie [ˈgræni] n. grandmother.

ant [grɑːnt] v.t. 1. (VP 1, 18, 19) con-nt to give or allow (what is asked for):
a favour (request); ~ sb. a request ermission to do sth.). He was ~ed a nsion. 2. (VP 1, 11, 3) agree (that sth. true); ~ the truth of what someone ys; ~ing this to be true (that this is ue). I ~ his honesty (~ that he is nest). take sth. for ~ed, regard it as ue or as certain to happen. n. sth.
ed, esp. money or land from a govern-ent: ~s towards the cost of a university lucation; ~-aided schools (students).

an u lar [ˈgrænjulə*] adj. of or like rains.

an u late [ˈgrænjuleit] v.t. & i. (VP , 21) form into grains; roughen the rface of: ~d sugar, sugar in the form f small crystals.

an ule [ˈgrænjuːl] n. [C] small grain.

ape [greip] n. green or purple berry growing in clusters on vines, used for making wine: a bunch of ~s. sour ~s, the ~s are sour, said when sb. says that sth. he wants but cannot get has little or no value. ˈ~-shot n. cluster of small iron balls fired together from a cannon to make a hail of shot. (Cf. shrapnel.) ˈ~-ˌsugar n. dextrose or glucose, a kind of sugar found in ripe ~s and other kinds of fruit. ˈ~-vine n. (a) kind of vine on which ~s grow. (b) means of secret communication (used for example, by criminals or prisoners).

grape fruit [ˈgreipfruːt] n. [C] fruit like a large orange but with a sharp taste.

graph [græf] n. [C] diagram consisting of a line or lines (often curved) showing the variation of two quantities, e.g. the temperature at each hour.

graph ic [ˈgræfik] adj. 1. of writing, drawing, and painting: the ~ arts. 2. (of descriptions) causing one to have a clear picture in the mind: a ~ account of the battle. 3. of diagrams or graphs; illustrated by diagrams, etc. graph i-cal ly adv. vividly; by writing or diagrams.

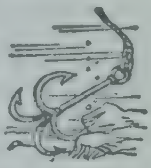
graph ite [ˈgræfait] n. [U] soft, black substance (a form of carbon) used in lubrication, as a moderator in atomic piles, and in making lead pencils.

grap nel [ˈgræpnəl] n. 1. anchor with more than two hooks; grappling instrument (e.g. as used for dragging along the bed of a river, lake, etc., when searching for sth.). 2. instrument like this formerly used in sea battles for holding enemy ships.



A grapnel (def. 1)

grap ple [ˈgræpl] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 18, 21, 23, 24) seize firmly; struggle (with sth. or sb.) at close quarters; (fig.) try to deal (with a problem, etc.): ~ with an enemy. The wrestlers ~d together. ˈgrappling-ˌiron n. grapnel.

grasp [grɑːsp] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) seize firmly with the hand(s) or arm(s); understand with the mind: ~ sb.'s hand (a rope); ~ an argument (sb.'s meaning). 2. (VP 24) ~ at, try to seize; accept eagerly: ~ at an opportunity. A man who ~s at too much may lose everything. n. (usu. sing.) firm hold or grip; (power of) grasping: in the ~ of a wicked enemy; have a thorough ~ of a problem; a problem within (beyond) my ~, that I can (cannot) understand. ~ing adj. eager to ~; greedy (for money, etc.): a ~ing rascal.

grass [grɑːs] n. 1. [U] kinds of common, wild, low-growing plant of which the green blades and stalks are eaten by cattle, horses, sheep, etc.: not let the ~ grow under one's feet, waste no time in doing sth. 2. (with pl. ~es) any species of this plant (including, in botanical use, cereals, reeds, and bamboos). 3. [U] grazing land; pasture: (of animals) at ~, grazing; put (send, turn out) animals to ~, put them to graze. ~ widow n. wife whose husband is absent. ~y adj. (-ier, -iest) covered with ~.

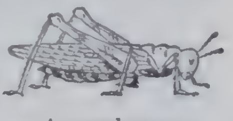
grass hop per ['grɑ:sˌhɔpə*] n. jumping insect which makes a shrill, chirping noise.

^{1}grate [greit] n. (metal frame for holding coal, etc., in a) fireplace.



A grasshopper

^{2}grate [greit] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10) rub into small pieces, usu. against a rough surface; rub small bits off: ~ cheese into beaten eggs (e.g. when making a cheese omelette). 2. (VP 1, 18, 21, 24) make a harsh noise by rubbing; (fig.) have an irritating effect (on a person, his nerves): His bad manners ~d on everyone. Out-of-date slang ~s. The gate ~s on its hinges. grat ing ly adv. gra ter ['greitə*] n. device with a rough surface for grating food, etc.: a nutmeg ~r.

A grate

grate ful ['greitful] adj. 1. feeling or showing thanks: We are ~ to you for your help. 2. pleasant; agreeable; comforting: trees that afford a ~ shade. ~ly adv.

grat i fy ['grætifai] v.t. (VP 1) 1. give pleasure or satisfaction to: We were all gratified with (at) the result (to learn that you had been successful). 2. indulge; give what is desired to: ~ a person's whims (his fancies for something); ~ a child's thirst for knowledge. ~ing adj. It is very ~ing to learn that . . . grat i fi ca tion [ˌgrætifi'keiʃən] n. 1. [U] ~ing or being gratified; state of being pleased or satisfied: I have the gratification of knowing that I have done my duty. 2. [C] that which causes one to feel gratified.

grat ing ['greitiŋ] n. [C] framework of wooden or metal bars, either parallel or crossing one another, placed across an opening (e.g. a window, to keep out burglars).

gra tis ['greitis] adv. & adj. free of charge: be admitted ~.

grat i tude ['grætitju:d] n. [U] thankfulness, being grateful (to sb. for sth.)

gra tu i tous [grə'tju:itəs] adj. 1. given, obtained, or done, without payment: ~ service (information, help, advice). 2. done or given, acting, without good reason: a ~ insult; a ~ lie (liar). ~ly adv.

gra tu i ty [grə'tjuiti] n. [U] 1. gift (of money in addition to pay) to a retiring employee for services; tip. 2. money given to a member of the armed forces at the end of his period of service.

gra va men [grə'veimen] n. (sing. only, with def. art.) essence, fundamental point, most serious part (of an accusation).

^{1}grave [greiv] n. hole dug in the ground for a corpse; the mound of earth or the monument over it: have one foot in the ~, be nearing death, be very old. '~*-clothes n. pl. wrappings in which a corpse is buried. '~*stone n. stone over a ~, with the name, etc., of the person buried there. '~*yard n. burial ground.

^{2}grave [greiv] adj. serious; requiring careful consideration: ~ news; make a ~ mistake; as ~ as a judge. The situation is more ~ (is ~r) than it has been since the end of the war. ~ly adv.

^{3}grave [greiv] v.t. (p.p. graven) carve: a ~n image, an idol; ~n on my memory, (liter. style only) indelibly fixed.

grav el ['grævəl] n. [U] small stones with coarse sand, as used for roads and paths: a load of ~; (attrib.) a ~ path (pit). v.t. (-ll-) (VP 1) 1. cover with ~: ~ a road; ~led paths. 2. (colloq.) perplex; puzzle.

grav ing-dock ['greiviŋdɔk] n. dry dock in which the outside of a ship's hull may be cleaned.

grav i tate ['græviteit] v.i. (VP 23, 24) move or be attracted (to or towards): Young people in the country districts seem to ~ towards the cities.

grav i ta tion [ˌgrævi'teiʃən] n. [U] process of gravitating; gravity (def. 1).

grav i ty ['græviti] n. [U] 1. force of attraction between any two objects, esp. that force which attracts objects towards the centre of the earth. 2. weight: centre of ~*; specific ~, relation between the weight of a substance and that of the same volume of a standard substance (usu. water for liquids and solids, and air for gases). 3. quality of being serious or solemn: the ~ of the international situation; the ~ of his appearance. He could hardly keep his ~, could with difficulty refrain from smiling or laughing.

gra vy ['greivi] n. [U] juice which comes from meat while it is cooking; sauce made from this.

gray [grei] adj. & n. see grey.

^{1}graze [greiz] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 23) (of cattle, sheep, etc.) eat growing grass: cattle grazing in the fields. 2. (VP 1) put (cattle, etc.) in fields to ~: ~ sheep; use grass-land for cattle: ~ a field. 'grazing-land n. land used for grazing cattle. 'gra zier ['greiʒiə*, 'greizjə*] n. person who feeds cattle for market.

^{2}graze [greiz] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) touch or scrape lightly in passing; rub the skin from: The bullet ~d his cheek. 2. (VP 23, 24) pass and touch while going ainst, along, by, past*). n. place where skin is ~d.

ase [gri:s] n. [U] 1. animal fat melted
t. 2. any thick, semi-solid oily sub-ance: axle ~, used to lubricate axles.
-gun n. device for forcing ~ into the rts of an engine, machine, etc. '~- int n. [U] mixture of ~ and paint
d by actors to make up their faces the stage. v.t. [gri:z, gri:s] put or ~ on or in (esp. parts of a machine).
sb.'s palm, bribe him.

as y ['gri:zi, 'gri:si] adj. (-ier, -iest) vered with grease; slippery: ~ fingers; ~ road. greas i ly adv. greas i ness n.

at [greit] adj. 1. above the average size, quantity, or degree: take ~ care sth.; an essay that shows ~ ignorance grammar; a ~ friend of mine, one for iom I feel more than ordinary friend-
ip. 2. of remarkable ability or charter: ~ men; a ~ painter (musician).
important; noted; of high rank or sition: a ~ occasion; the G~ Powers Europe; the ~ world, high society; a lady; Alexander the G~. 4. (colloq., ceding another adj. which is weakly essed) implying surprise, indignation, ntempt, etc., according to context: what a ~ big fish I've caught! Take ur ~ big head out of my light! What ~ thick stick! 5. (also Greater) used as distinctive epithet of the larger of o: the G~ Bear (see ¹*bear*, def. 3); G~ War, that of 1914–18; G~
ritain, England, Wales, and Scotland, cluding Northern Ireland; G~er ondon, London and the built-up areas eyond its boundaries: the G~er landine. 6. (attrib. only) fully de-rving the name of: He's a ~ scoundrel.
hey are ~ friends. 7. (with agent ouns; attributive only) doing or being
h. to a high degree: He's a ~ reader ater), reads (eats) very much. He's a landowner, owns a large area of land.
combined with words indicating antity, etc.: a ~ deal, very much; a ~ mber; a ~ while ago; the ~ majority, uch the larger part. 9. (colloq.)
lendid; satisfactory: We had a ~ time Paris. Wouldn't it be ~ if we could there again! 10. (colloq.; predic.
ly) ~ at, clever or skilful at; ~ on, ving a good knowledge of. 11. preed to kinship words in grand- to show further stage in relationship: ~- andfather, one's father's or mother's andfather; ~-grandson, grandson of e's son or daughter. 12. '-coat n. avy overcoat. ~ly adv. much; by uch: ~ly amused. ~ness n. greats
pl. Oxford B.A. final examination.

eaves [gri:vz] n. pl. pieces of armour protect the shins.

ebe [gri:b] n. kinds of short-bodied ving bird.

Gre cian ['gri:ʃən] adj. (esp. of architecture and features of the face) Greek.

greed [gri:d] n. [U] strong desire for more (food, wealth, etc.), esp. for more than is right or reasonable.

greed y ['gri:di] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. filled with greed: not hungry, just ~; looking at the cakes with ~ eyes; ~ of gain (honours). 2. intensely desirous (to do sth.). greed i ly adv. greed i ness n.

Greek [gri:k] n. member of the Greek race, either of ancient Greece or modern Greece; the Greek language: It's ~ to me, is beyond my understanding. adj. of Greece, its people, or the Greek language.

¹green [gri:n] adj. 1. of the colour between blue and yellow in the spectrum, the colour of growing grass, and the leaves of most plants and trees: a ~ Christmas, Christmas season when the weather is mild and there is no snow; London's ~ belt, wide strip of land round London, where building is controlled (by town-planning) so that there are ~ fields, woods, etc.; give sb. the ~ light, (colloq., from the ~ of traffic lights) permission to go ahead with a project, etc. 2. (of fruit) not yet ripe: ~ apples; ~ figs, young and tender figs; (of wood) not yet dry enough for use: ~ wood does not burn well. 3. inexperienced; undeveloped; gullible; untrained: a boy who is still ~ at his job. I'm not so ~ as to believe that. 4. (fig.) flourishing; full of vigour: live to a ~ old age; keep a person's memory ~, not allow it to fade. 5. (of the complexion) pale; sickly looking: ~ with envy; ~-eyed, jealous. 6. special uses and compounds: '~back n. U.S.A. banknote, the back printed in ~. ~ fingers n. (colloq.) skill in gardening. '~fly n. (collective pl., [U]) kinds of aphis. '~gage n. kind of plum with greenish-yellow skin and flesh, and fine flavour. '~ˌgrocer n. shopkeeper selling fresh vegetables and fruit. '~-ˌgrocery n. business of, things sold by, a ~grocer. '~horn n. inexperienced and easily deceived person. '~house n. building with sides and roof of glass, used for growing plants that need protection from the weather. '~-room n. room in a theatre for actors and actresses when they are not on the stage. '~-stuff n. vegetables. '~sward n. [U] turf. ~ tea n. tea made from steam-dried leaves. '~wood n. woodlands, esp. in summer; forest in full leaf, esp. as the home of outlaws in olden times. '~ness n. quality of being ~.

²green [gri:n] n. 1. green colour; what is green: a girl dressed in ~; a picture in ~s and blues, with various shades of green and blue. 2. (pl.) green vegetables (e.g. cabbage, spinach) before or after cooking; vegetation: (U.S.A.) Christmas ~s (e.g. branches of fir and holly for decoration). 3. area of land with growing grass: (a) public or common land: the village ~; (b) for the game of bowls: a bowling-~; (c) surrounding a hole on a golf course: a putting ~.

green er y ['gri:nəri] n. [U] green foliage; verdure: the ~ of the woods in spring.

green ish ['gri:niʃ] adj. somewhat green: (in compounds) ~-yellow; ~-brown.

Green wich ['grinidʒ] n. town in Kent east and west of which longitude is measured. ~ time, (G.M.T.), mean time for the meridian of ~, standard time in Britain.

greet [gri:t] v.t. (VP 1, 18) 1. say words of welcome to; express one's feelings on receiving (news, etc.); write (in a letter) words expressing respect, friendship, etc.: ~ a friend by saying 'Good morning!'; ~ someone with a smile. The hero was ~ed with loud applause. They ~ed me with a shower of stones. 2. (of sights and sounds) meet the eyes and ears: the view that ~ed us at the hill-top. ~ing n. first words used on seeing sb. or in writing to sb.; expression or act with which sb. or sth. is ~ed: 'Good morning' and 'Dear Sir' are ~ings.

gre ga ri ous [gre'gɛəriəs] adj. living in groups or societies; liking the company of others. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

Gre gor i an [gre'gɔ:riən] adj. 1. of the kind of church music named after Pope Gregory I: ~ chant. 2. ~ calendar, the calendar introduced by Pope Gregory XIII, with the days and months arranged as now.

grem lin ['gremlin] n. goblin said to cause trouble to airmen (by causing engines to stop, etc.).

gre nade [gri'neid] n. small bomb thrown by hand or fired from a rifle.

gren a dier [ˌgrenə'diə*] n. (formerly) soldier who threw grenades; (now) the G~s, the G~ Guards, British infantry regiment.

grew [gru:] p.t. of grow

grey, gray [grei] adj. between black and white, coloured like ashes, or the sky on a dull, cloudy day: His hair has turned ~. '~beard n. old man. '~-'headed adj. old; of long service (in). ~ matter, material of the brain: a boy without much ~ matter, a not very intelligent boy. n. ~ colour; ~ clothes: dressed in ~. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) make or become ~.

A greyhound

grey hound ['greihaund] n. slender, long-legged, keen-sighted dog, able to r fast, used in chasing live hares a as a modern sport, mechanical har moved along a rail.

grey ish ['greiiʃ] adj. somewhat grey.

grid [grid] n. [C] 1. system of overhea cables carried on pylons, for distribu electric current over a large area. system of squares on maps, numbere for reference. 3. grating. 4. frame spaced parallel spirals or networks wires in a radio valve. 5. gridiron.

grid dle ['gridl] n. circular iron plate o which to bake cakes.

grid i ron ['gridˌaiən] n. 1. framewo of metal bars used for cooking meat o fish over a clear fire. 2. field for Ameri can football (marked with numerou parallel lines).

grief [gri:f] n. 1. [U] deep or violen sorrow: driven almost insane by ~; d of ~. 2. [C] sth. causing ~: His failu to live a good life was a great ~ to h parents. 3. come to ~, bring sb. to ~ meet with (cause sb. to meet with misfortune, injury, or ruin.

griev ance ['gri:vəns] n. [C] real o imagined cause for complaint or protes (against): The trade union leader spo about the ~s of the workers.

grieve [gri:v] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) cau grief to: ~ one's parents. 2. (VP 21, 2 feel grief: ~ for the dead (over sb.'s death) ~ about one's misfortunes (at bad news).

griev ous ['gri:vəs] adj. 1. causin grief or suffering: a ~ railway acciden ~ wrongs. 2. severe: ~ pain. ~ly ad

grif fin, grif fon, gry phon ['grifin -fən] n. fabulous creature with the hea and wings of an eagle and a lion's body.

grill [gril] n. [C] 1. = grating; grille gridiron. 2. dish of meat, etc., cooked directly over or under great heat: mixed ~, steak, liver, bacon, etc. 3. (als '~-room) room (in a hotel or restaurant where ~s are cooked and served. v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 21) cook, be cooked, on a grid iron, or over great heat; expose onesel to great heat: lie ~ing in the hot sun. 2. (VP 1) (e.g. of the police) cause menta pain to (sb.) by severe questioning.

grille [gril] n. screen of parallel bars use to close an open space, esp. one in a doo for observing callers (e.g. in a convent); similar screen over a counter (e.g. in post office or bank).

grim [grim] adj. (-mm-) stern; severe; forbidding; without mercy: a ~ strugg; a ~ smile (expression); looking ~; hold on like ~ death, very firmly; a ~ jok (story), one with an element of cruelty in it. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

gri mace [gri'meis] n. [C] ugly, twisted expression (on the face), expressing pain, disgust, etc., or intended to cause laughter: Only rude children make ~s. v.i. (VP 21) make ~s.

me [graim] n. [U] dirt, esp. a coating
the surface of sth. or on the body:
soot and ~ of a big manufacturing on; a face covered with ~ and sweat.
. (VP 1) make dirty with ~: ~d with
st. grim y adj. (-ier, -est) covered th ~: grimy faces (roofs, windows).

n [grin] v.i. & t. (-nn-) 1. (VP 21, 23, smile broadly so as to show the teeth pressing amusement, foolish satis-tion, contempt, etc.): ~ning with ight; ~ from ear to ear. ~ and bear endure pain, disappointment, etc., complainingly. 2. (VP 1) express by ing: He ~ned his approval. n. [C] of ~ning: the tigerish ~ on the rderer's face; ~s of derision.

nd [graind] v.t. & i. (p.t. & p.p. und [graund]) 1. (VP 1, 10) crush to ins or powder (between millstones, teeth, etc.): ~ sth. to pieces; ~ sth.
on; ~ wheat in a mill; ~ corn into
ur. 2. (VP 21, 23) be capable of ~ing:
is wheat ~s well. This wheat will ~ fine, cannot be ground fine. 3.
P 1) produce in this way: ~ flour.
(fig.) (VP 1, 10, usu. passive) oppress crush: people who were ground (down) poverty (taxation, tyranny); tyrants o ground the faces of the poor. 5. (VP 10) polish or sharpen by rubbing on or th a rough, hard surface: ~ a knife ns); *have an axe to ~. 6. (VP 1, 10) harshly together, esp. with a circular tion: ~ one's teeth (together); a ship ng on the rocks; ~ one's heel into the
und. 7. (VP 1, 10) work by turning; duce by turning: ~ a hand-mill fee-mill, barrel-organ); ~ out a tune an organ; (fig.) ~ out some verses, duce them slowly and with effort.
(VP 23, 24, 1, 10) (cause to) work study hard and long (at); ~ away one's studies; ~ for an exam; ~ boys maths (~ maths into the boys' heads).
(colloq.) long, monotonous task: Do
u find learning English a ~?

nd er ['graində*] n. 1. thing that nds (e.g. a molar tooth, apparatus for nding coffee). 2. (in compounds) per-n who grinds: a knife-~; an organ-~, rson who produces tunes by turning e handle of a barrel-organ.

nd stone ['graind-
oun] n. stone
aped like a wheel,
rned on an axle,
ed for sharpening
ols: keep sb.'s nose
the ~, force him to rk hard without
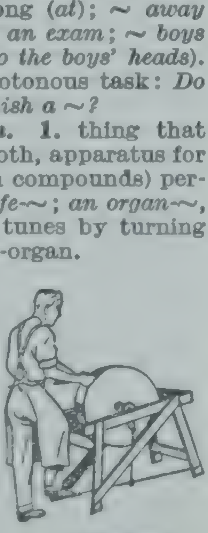
st.



A grindstone

p [grip] v.t. & i. pp-) (VP 1, 21) take
d keep a firm hold
; seize firmly: The
ghtened child ~ped its mother's hand.
The brakes failed to ~ and the car ran into a wall. The speaker ~ped the attention of his audience. The film is a ~ping story of love and hate. n. 1. (sing. only except as shown) (act, manner, or power of) ~ping: let go one's ~ of sth.; take a ~ on a rope; have a good ~ (fig., understanding) of a problem; have a good ~ on an audience, hold their attention and interest. come (get) to ~s, be at ~s, with, attack, be attacking, in earnest; be in close combat: get to ~s with a problem. 2. [C] (in a machine, etc.) part that ~s or clips; clutch; part that is to be ~ped. 3. [C] (U.S.A.) traveller's handbag.

gripes [graips] n. pl. (colloq., usu. with def. art.) violent pains in the abdomen; colic.

grippe [grip] n. (with def. art.) influenza.

gris ly ['grizli] adj. causing horror or terror; ghastly.

grist [grist] n. [U] grain to be ground, chiefly in fig. phrases: bring ~ to the mill, yield a profit. All is ~ that comes to his mill, he makes use of everything.

gris tle ['grisl] n. [U] tough, elastic substance in animal bodies, esp. in meat for cooking: I can't eat this meat—it's all ~.

grit [grit] n. [U] 1. (collective sing.) tiny, hard bits of stone, sand, etc.: There must be some ~ in the machinery; it isn't running smoothly. I've got some ~ in my shoe. 2. quality of courage and endurance: The soldiers showed that they had plenty of ~. v.t. (-tt-): ~ the teeth, keep the jaws tight together. ~ty adj. (-ier, -iest) of or like ~ (def. 1): The sandstorm made the food ~ty.

grits [grits] n. pl. husked but unground oats; coarse oatmeal.

griz zle ['grizl] v.i. (colloq.) (esp. of children) cry fretfully.

griz zled ['grizld] adj. grey; grey-haired.

griz zly ['grizli] n. (also ~ bear) large, fierce grey bear of N. America.

groan [groun] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 23) make a deep sound forced out by pain, or expressing despair or distress: The wounded men lay there ~ing, with no one to help them. The people ~ed under injustice. 2. (VP 21, 23) (of things) make a noise like that of ~ing: The ship's timbers ~ed during the storm. The table ~ed with food, (fig.) was weighed down with large quantities of food. 3. (VP 1, 10) express with ~ing: He ~ed out a sad story. 4. (VP 10) silence by ~ing: The speaker was ~ed down by his audience, they prevented him from being heard. n. [C] deep sound made in ~ing: the ~s of the injured men; a speech interrupted by ~s of disapproval.

groats [grouts] n. pl. (crushed) grain, esp. oats, that has been hulled.

gro cer ['grousə*] n. shopkeeper who sells tea, sugar, butter, tinned and bottled food, household requirements such as soap, soap-powders, etc. gro cer y n. 1. ~'s trade: a ~y business. 2. (pl.) things sold by a ~.

grog [grɔg] n. [U] (a word used by sailors) drink of spirits (rum, whisky, etc.) mixed with water.

grog gy ['grɔgi] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. unsteady; likely to collapse or fall: The legs of that chair look rather ~. 2. weak and unsteady as the result of illness, shock, lack of sleep, etc.: That last attack of influenza left me rather ~.

groin [grɔin] n. 1. depression between the belly and the thigh. (See the illustr. at hip.) 2. (archit.) curve formed by two vaults that cross (in a roof). v.t. build with ~s.

A— groins

groom [grum] n. 1. servant in charge of horses. 2. bridegroom. v.t. (VP 1) 1. feed, brush, and in other ways look after (horses). 2. (in the p.p., of persons): well (badly) ~ed, well (badly) dressed (esp. of the hair, beard, and clothes). 3. (modern colloq.) prepare (sb. for a career, etc.).

groove [gruːv] n. 1. long, hollow cut in the surface of wood, etc., esp. one made to guide the motion of sth. that slides along it (e.g. a sliding door or window); such a cut on a gramophone record (in which the needle or stylus moves). 2. way of living that has become a habit: get into a ~. v.t. make ~s in: a ~d shelf.

Grooves

grope [group] v.i. & t. (VP 21, 23, 24, 1) feel about (for or after sth.) as one does in the dark; search (for): He ~d for the door-handle. We ~d our way along the dark corridor. grop ing ly adv. in the manner of one who ~s.

¹gross [grous] n. (pl. unchanged) twelve dozen; 144: six ~ pen nibs at 5s. a ~.

²gross [grous] adj. 1. vulgar; not refined; coarse in mind or morals: ~ language (jests, morals). 2. (of food) coarse, greasy; liking such food: a ~ feeder. 3. (of the senses) heavy and dull. 4. flagrant; glaring; clearly seen: ~ injustice (negligence); a ~ error (overcharge). 5. (of vegetation) luxuriant: the ~ vegetation of the tropical rainforest. 6. (of persons) repulsively fat. 7. total, whole (opposite of net): the ~ amount; his ~ income. 8. in (the) ~, wholesale; in bulk; in a general way. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

grot [grɔt] n. (poet.) grotto.

gro tesque [grou'tesk] adj. 1. abs fantastic; laughable because s and incongruous: a ~ appearance; manners. 2. (in art) combining hum animal, and plant forms in a fan way; made up of comically dis figures and designs. n. 1. ~ pers animal, figure, or design. 2. the painting, carving, etc., in which the style appears. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

grot to ['grɔtou] n. (pl. -toes, -tos) ca
esp. one made artificially as a gar shelter.

grouch [grautʃ] v.i. (colloq.) compla
n. fit of ill temper; sulky, disconten person. ~y adj. sullenly discontente

¹ground [graund] n. 1. (sing. with d art.) solid surface of the earth: lie (sit on, fall to) the ~; ~-to-air miss fired from the ~ (at aircraft). T scheme (Our plans) fell to the ~, fai Our hopes were dashed to the ~, w disappointed. The airliner made ~-controlled approach, approached t runway under the direction (by rad telephone) of sb. in the control tow above ~, alive. below ~, dead a buried. 2. [U] position, area, or distan on the earth's surface: hold (stan keep) one's ~, stand firm; not yiel maintain one's claim, intention, arg ment, etc. shift one's ~, change on argument, etc. gain ~, make progres win a success or an advantage. gi (lose) ~, retreat; fail to keep on position or advantage. cover (muc etc.) ~, (a) travel: We've covered a gre deal of ~ today, have come a long wa (b) (fig., of a lecture, report, inquir etc.) deal with a variety of subject be far-reaching: The committee's repo covers much new ~, deals with ma new matters. cut the ~ from und sb.'s feet, anticipate his plans, arg ments, defences, etc., and in this w embarrass him. down to the (colloq.) thoroughly; in all respect That will suit me down to the ~. com mon ~, subject on which two or mo persons or parties are in agreement on which they have similar views. fo bidden ~, (fig.) subject that must avoided. 3. [U] soil; earth: till the
The frost has made the ~ hard. brea fresh ~, (a) cultivate land that h not been cultivated before. (b) (fig.)
sth. new; deal with a subject for t first time. 4. [C] area or piece of la for a special purpose or a particul use: a football (cricket, sports) ~;
parade (recreation) ~; a play~; huntin
~s; fishing-~s, areas used for fishin
5. (always pl.) land, gardens, round building, often enclosed with walls fences: the ~s of Buckingham Pala
The mansion has extensive ~s. 6. [U bottom of the sea or of any other bod water: (chiefly in) touch ~, (of a ship) rike the bottom. (Cf. aground.) 7. (pl.) rticles of solid matter that sink to bottom of a liquid: (esp.) coffee-~s.

(pl. or [U]) reason(s) for saying, doing, believing sth.: excused on the ~(s) of because of) his youth; have good
s) for believing sth. There is no ~ for riety. You haven't much ~ (many ~s) r complaint. On what ~s do you sus-t him? 9. [C] surface on which a -ign is painted, printed, cut, etc.; ndecorated part: a design of pink roses
a white ~. 10. (compounds) ˈ~-bait food thrown to the bottom of a fishing-to attract fish. ˈ~-fish n. fish living or near the bottom. ~ floor n. the or of a building level with the ~:
t in on the ~ floor, (colloq.) be admitted
.g. as a shareholder) on the same rms as the promoters. ˈ~man n. man nployed to look after a cricket ~, ports ~, etc. ˈ~nut n. kind of pea with ods ripening under the ~ (also called rthnut and peanut). ˈ~-plan n. plan f a building at ~ level. ˈ~-rent n.
ent paid for the use of land leased r building. ˈ~sman n. = ~man. ~ peed n. aircraft's speed relative to ne ~ (contrasted with air speed).
staff, ~ crew n. mechanics who serice aircraft on the ~; non-flying memers of the staff of an airfield, etc. ~ well n. heavy, slow-moving waves aused by a distant or recent storm.
~work n. (usu. fig.) foundation; basis.

ound [graund] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 21) of a] ship) (cause to) touch the sea ottom; (of aircraft, airmen) compel to tay on the ground: Our ship ~ed in hallow water. All aircraft at London irport were ~ed by fog yesterday.
. (VP 1) (military) lay (esp. rifles) on he ground. 3. (VP 18) base (a belief, tc.) (on): ~ one's arguments on facts; a ell-~ed theory. 4. (VP 1, 18) give (sb.) ood teaching or training (in): The eacher ~ed his pupils in arithmetic. 5.
VP 1) connect (a piece of electrical pparatus) with the ~ as conductor, as safety precaution. (Earth is the usual ord.) ~ing n. thorough teaching of he elements of a subject: a good ~ing n grammar.

ound [graund] p.t. & p.p. of grind:
rice, reduced to fine powder; ~ glass, nade non-transparent by grinding.

ound less [ˈgraundlis] adj. without oundation or good reason (see ^{1}ground, lef. 8): ~ fears (anxieties, rumours).

ound sel [ˈgraundsl] n. [U] kinds of veed, the commonest kind of which is sed as food for some cage-birds.

oup [gru:p] n. [C] number of persons
r things gathered or placed together, r naturally associated: a ~ of girls trees, houses); people standing about in small ~s; the Germanic ~ of languages. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 10, 23) form into, gather in, a ~ or ~s: The children ~ed (themselves) round their teacher. G~ the roses together.

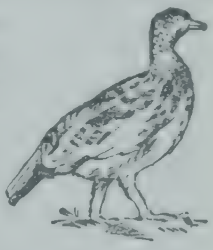
^{1}grouse [graus] n. (pl. unchanged) (sorts of) bird with feathered feet, shot for sport and food: ~ shooting, the shooting of red ~ on the moors of Scotland and northern England.



A grouse

^{2}grouse [graus] v.i. (VP 21, 23) (colloq.) grumble; complain. n. complaint.

grove [grouv] n. group of trees; small wood.

grov el [ˈgrɔvl] v.i. (-ll-; U.S.A. also -l-) (VP 21, 23) lie down on one's face, crawl, in front of sb. whom one fears, (as if) begging for mercy; (fig.) humble oneself; behave in a way that shows one has no self-respect: ~ at the feet of a conqueror. ~ler n. person who ~s.

grow [grou] v.i. & t. (p.t. grew [gru:], p.p. grown [groun]) 1. (VP 21, 23, 24) develop; increase in size, height, length, etc.: Rice ~s in warm climates. How quickly you are ~ing! How tall you've ~n! She has decided to let her hair ~, not have it cut short. A full-~n elephant is very large. He has ~n into a fine young man. Plants ~ from seeds. She has ~n in stature but not in wisdom. ~ out of, (a) become too big for: ~ out of one's clothes. (b) become too old for; cease to practise; abandon: He has ~n out of the bad habits of his boyhood days. (c) have as a source: His troubles grew out of his bad temper. ~ up, (of persons, animals) reach the stage of full development; become adult: When the boys ~ up, . . . He has a ~n-up son. ˈgrown-ups n. pl. adult persons. 2. (VP 22, 25) become: ~ older; ~ smaller. It began to ~ dark. One ~s to like (cf. comes to like, gets to like) what one is accustomed to. My friendship with them grew to be (by degrees became) considerable. 3. (VP 1) cause or allow to ~; ~ roses (a beard). 4. ~ upon, (a) become more deeply rooted: a habit that ~s upon one. (b) come to have a greater attraction; win the liking of: a book (piece of music) that ~s upon one.

grow er [ˈgrouə*] n. 1. person who grows things: a fruit-~; a rose-~. 2. plant that grows in a certain way: a free (rapid) ~.

growl [graul] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21) (of animals, men, thunder) make a low, threatening sound: The dog ~ed at me. We heard thunder ~ing in the distance. 2. (VP 1, 10 with out) say in a ~ing manner: He ~ed (out) his answer. n.

[C] low threatening sound; angry complaint. ~ing ly adv.

growl er ['graulə*] n. (old use) four-wheeled horse-drawn cab.

grown [groun] p.p. of grow: a ~ man, a mature man.

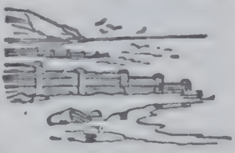
growth [grouθ] n. 1. [U] growing; development; process of growing: Childhood is a period of rapid ~. At what age does an elephant reach full ~, its greatest size? 2. [U] increase. 3. [U] cultivation: apples of foreign ~, grown abroad. 4. [C] sth. that grows or has grown: a thick ~ of weeds; a three-days' ~ of beard. 5. [C] diseased formation in the body (e.g. a cancer).

groyne [grɔin] n. [C] structure of wood, etc., or a low, broad wall of stone, concrete, etc., built to prevent sand and pebbles from being washed away by the sea, the current of a river, etc.



Groynes

¹grub [grʌb] v.t. & i. (-bb-) (VP 1, 10, 23) turn over the soil, esp. in order to get sth. up or out: ~bing up weeds. The pigs were ~bing about among the bushes.

²grub [grʌb] n. 1. [C] larva of insect. 2. [U] (sl.) food.

grub by ['grʌbi] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. dirty; unwashed. 2. having grubs in it.

grudge [grʌdʒ] v.t. (VP 19, 18, 17B) be unwilling to give or allow: I do not ~ him his success, I admit that he deserves it. His cruel master ~d him even the food he ate, gave him his food unwillingly I ~ paying 20s. for a bottle of wine that is not worth 10s. n. [C] feeling of ill-will, resentment, envy, or spite: I bear him no ~. He has a ~ against me. owe that man a ~, think I have good reason to feel ill-will towards him. grudg ing ly adv. in a grudging manner: His employer grudgingly raised his salary.

gruel [gruəl] n. [U] liquid food of oatmeal, etc., boiled in milk or water: have (get) |one's ~, (rather |old-fashioned colloq.) be punished or defeated. ~ling adj. severe; exhausting: a ~ling race

grue some ['gru:səm] adj. filling one with horror or disgust; frightful. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

gruff [grʌf] adj. (of a person, his voice, behaviour) rough; surly ~ly adv. ~ness n.

grum ble ['grʌmbl] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 24) complain or protest in a bad-tempered way (at, over, about sth.): He's always grumbling He ~d at the low pay offered to him 2. (VP 1, 10) say in a sullen, dissatisfied way: ~ (out) a reply. 3. (VP 21, 23) make a low, growling sound: thunder grumbling in the distance. n. [C] (usu. bad-tempered) complaint or protest: That fellow is f
of ~s. grum bler n. person who ~s.

grump y ['grʌmpi] adj. (-ier, -iest) ba tempered; surly. grump i ly ad grump i ness n.

Grun dy ism ['grʌndiizəm] n. [U] co ventional propriety; prudery grunt [grʌnt] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21) ( animals, esp. pigs) make a low, rou sound; (of persons) make a simil sound expressing disagreement, bor dom, irritation, etc. 2. (VP 1, 10) utt in a ~ing way: ~ (out) an answer.

[C] low, rough sound.

gry phon ['grifən] n. = griffin gua no ['gwɑ:nou] n. [U] waste matt dropped by sea-birds, used as fertilize

¹guar an tee [ˌgærən'ti:] n. [C] 1. ( law, guaranty) promise or undertakin (usu. in writing or print) that certa conditions agreed to in a transactio will be fulfilled: a year's ~ with a watc
a promise to keep it in good repair, et
2. (in law, guaranty) undertaking give by one person to another that he w be responsible for sth. to be done (e. payment of a debt) by a third perso
3. (in law, guarantor) person who give such an undertaking: be ~ for a friend good behaviour. If I try to borro £1,000 from the bank, will you be my ~
4. (in law, guaranty) sth. offered (e.g. th deeds of a house or other document ownership of property) as security f the fulfilling of conditions in a ~ (def 1 & 2): 'What ~ can you offer?' 'I ca offer my house and land as a ~.' (colloq.) sth. that seems to make occurrence likely: Blue skies are n always a ~ of fine weather.

²guar an tee [ˌgærən'ti:] v.t. (VP 1, 2, 11, 18, 19) 1. give a guarantee (defs
2, 3) for (sth. or sb.): ~ a man's debt ~ to pay a man's debts; ~ that the deb will be paid; ~ the payment of the debt
We cannot ~ the punctual arrival trains in foggy weather. This clock ~d for one year. We can't ~ our worke regular employment. 2. (colloq.) pro mise (without legal obligation): Man shopkeepers ~ satisfaction to customers guar an tor [ˌgærən'tɔ:*] n. (legal wor for) guarantee. (See the noun, def. 3.)

guar an ty ['gærənti] n. (legal word fo guarantee. (See the noun, defs. 1, 2, & 4

¹guard [gɑ:d] n. 1. [U] state of watchfu
ness against attack, danger, or surprise
The sentry (soldier) is on ~, at his pos on duty. The soldier was ordered keep ~. 2. [U] attitude of readiness (t defend oneself, e.g. in fencing, boxing bayonet-drill): be on (off) one's ~, b prepared (unprepared) against attack o surprise: Be on your ~ against pick pockets. He struck me while I was o my ~. 3. [C] soldier or party of soldier keeping ~; sentry: mount ~, take e's post as a sentry; relieve ~, take place of a sentry who has finished period of duty; stand ~, act as a try. 4. man (also called warder) group of men in charge of a prison.

(Gt. Brit., but not U.S.A.) official in arge of a railway train (and formerly tage-coach). 6. (in Gt. Brit. and some er countries) (pl.) troops employed protect the sovereign: the G~s; the yal Horse G~s; a G~s officer. '~s- an ['gɑːdzmən] n. soldier of the G~s.
[C] body of soldiers with the duty protecting, honouring, or escorting erson: The Duke, on his arrival, in- cted the ~ of honour at the station.
e also rear ~, Home G~.) 8. (esp. compounds) (part of) apparatus de-ned to prevent injury or loss: a e~ (in front of a fireplace); a ˈmud~ er the wheel of a bicycle,
.); the ~ of a sword (the rt of the hilt that protects hand). 9. (compounds)
-boat n. one sent round leet of warships in har-
ur. '~-house n. (mil.) ilding for a military ~ or e in which prisoners are kept. '~-rail rail (e.g. on a staircase) to prevent ling. '~-room n. room for soldiers ~ or for soldiers under ~. '~-ship ship protecting a harbour.

A fire-guard

rd [gɑːd] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 18) pro-t; keep from danger: ~ a camp; ~ e's life (one's reputation); ~ prisoners natics), prevent them from escap-
. 2. (VP 24) ~ against, use care and ution to prevent: ~ against disease d habits, suspicion). ~ed ['gɑːdid]
j. (of statements, etc.) cautious: a d answer; be ~ed in what one says.
ed ly adv. cautiously.

rd ian ['gɑːdjən] n. 1. (official or vate) person who guards, esp. (legal
e) one who is responsible for the care a young or incapable person and property. ~ angel, spirit watching er a person or place. 2. (formerly in gland) ~s of the poor, members of ards elected to administer the *Poor ws in a parish or district. ~ship *n.
ition or office of a ~.

a va ['gwɑːvə] n. (tropical tree with) id fruit used for making jelly.

l geon ['gʌdʒən] n. small freshwater h used as bait.

l der rose ['geldə'rouz] n. plant with und bunches of white flowers; snow-ll tree.

er don ['gəːdən] n. (poet.) reward.

e(r) ril la [gə'rilə] n. 1. (now usu.
war) war carried on by fighters who
e not members of a regular army.
strike*, strike of workers without the proval of their trade union; unofficial rike. 2. man engaged in a ~ war.

guess [ges] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 4, 11, 13, 15, 21, 23, 24) form an opinion, give an answer, make a statement, based on supposition, not on careful thought, calculation, or definite knowledge: Can you ~ my weight (what my weight is, how much I weigh)? I should ~ his age at 50 (~ him to be 50). Can't you even ~ at her age? G~ what I'm thinking. You've ~ed right (wrong). I ~ it's going to rain, (U.S.A. colloq.) I think it's going to rain. n. [C] opinion formed by ~ing: make a ~. One man's ~ is as good as another's. It's anybody's ~, no one can be sure about it. at a ~*, making a ~: At a ~ I should say there were 50 people present. by ~*, by the use of ~ing: Don't answer by ~; work the problem out. '~-work n. [U] ~ing; result of ~ing.

guest [gest] n. 1. person staying at or paying a visit to another's house, or being entertained at a meal: We're expecting ~s to dinner. '~-room n. bedroom kept for the use of ~s. 2. person staying at an inn, a hotel, or boarding-house, and paying for his entertainment. '~-house n. superior boarding-house. '~-night n. evening on which members of a club, college, ¹mess, etc., may bring in and entertain their friends as ~s. paying ~ n. boarder in a private house.

guf faw [gʌ'fɔː, gə-] v.i. & n. (give a) noisy laugh.

guid ance ['gaidəns] n. [U] guiding or being guided; leadership.

guide [gaid] n. 1. person who shows others the way, esp. a person employed to point out interesting sights on a journey or visit. 2. sth. that directs or influences (conduct, etc.): Instinct is not always a good ~. 3 (also '~book) book (for travellers, tourists, etc.) with information about a place: a G~ to the British Museum; a G~ to Italy. 4. book of information; manual: a G~ to Poultry Keeping. 5. bar, rod, or part of a machine or apparatus that keeps other parts, etc., moving as desired. 6. Girl G~*, (see girl, def. 5). v.t. (VP 1, 10) act as ~ to: ~ sb. to a place; ~ sb. in (out, up, etc.). You must be ~d by your sense of what is right and just. ~d missiles*, rockets (for use in war) which can be ~d to their destination by electronic devices.

guild [gild] n. (older spelling gild) society of persons for helping one another, forwarding common interests, e.g. trade, social welfare: 'G~-'hall n. hall in which members of a ~ met in the Middle Ages. the G~-hall n. hall of the Corporation of the City of London, used for banquets, receptions, etc. ~ socialism, system by which an industry is to be controlled by a council of its members.

guild er ['gildə*] n. obsolete gold coin of the Netherlands.

guile [gail] n. [U] deceit; cunning: a man full of ~; get sth. by ~. ~less adj. ~less ly adv. ~less ness n.

guil le mot [ˈgilimɔt] n. kinds of arctic sea-bird.

guil lo tine [ˌgiləˈtiːn, ˈgilətiːn] n. 1. machine for beheading (criminals in France) by a heavy knife sliding between two posts. 2. kind of machine for cutting paper. 3. (in Parliament) method of stopping obstruction of a bill (by excessive debate) by fixing times for taking votes. v.t. (VP 1) use the ~ on.

guilt [gilt] n. [U] condition of having done wrong; responsibility for wrongdoing: The ~ of the accused man was in doubt.

guilt less [ˈgiltlis] adj. innocent; without guilt: ~ of the offence; not having knowledge or possession (of).

guilt y [ˈgilti] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. having done wrong: plead ~ to a crime; be ~ of a crime. 2. showing or feeling guilt: look ~; ~ looks; a ~ conscience. guilt i ly adv. guilt i ness n.

guin ea [ˈgini] n. (former gold coin worth) 21*s.*; the amount of 21*s.*, used in stating professional fees, prices, subscriptions, etc.

guin ea-fowl [ˈginifaul] n. domestic fowl of the pheasant family, with dark grey feathers spotted with white.

guin ea-pig [ˈginipig] n. short-eared animal like a big rat, often used in experiments; sb. allowing himself to be used in medical or other experiments.

Guin ness [ˈginis] n. (proprietary name for a) kind of stout: ~'s stout; bottle or glass of this: one small ~, please.

guise [gaiz] n. [C] 1. (old use) style of dress: in the ~ of a monk. 2. assumed appearance, pretence: in (under) the ~ of friendship, pretending to be friendly.

gui tar [giˈtɑː*] n. six-stringed musical instrument, plucked with the fingers.

gulch [gʌlʃ] n. (U.S.A.) deep, narrow, rocky valley.

gul den [ˈguldən] n. unit of currency in Holland.

gulf [gʌlf] n. 1. part of the sea almost surrounded by land: the G~ of Mexico; the G~ Stream, warm ocean current flowing from the G~ of Mexico. 2. deep hollow; chasm; abyss; (fig.) dividing line, division (between opinions, etc.).

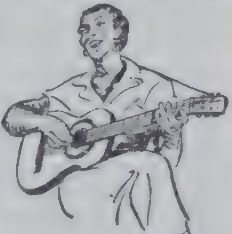
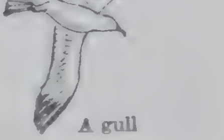
¹gull [gʌl] n. (kinds of) large, long-winged sea-bird.



A guitar



A gull

²gull [gʌl] v.t. (VP 1, 10) cheat; dece
~ a fool out of his money. n. person is easily ~ed. gul li ble [ˈgʌlibl] easily ~ed. gul li bil i ty [ˌgʌliˈbilit gul let [ˈgʌlit] n. food passage from mouth to the stomach; throat.

gul ly [ˈgʌli] n. narrow channel cu formed by rain-water (e.g. on a hill-or made for carrying water away f a building.

gulp [gʌlp] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 10 with do 21) swallow (food or drink) quickl greedily: ~ down a cup of tea; hold b or suppress (as if swallowing sth.); m a ~ing motion. n. [C] act of ~ empty a glass at one ~; amount tha ~ed; mouthful, esp. of sth. liquid:
of cold tea.

¹gum [gʌm] n. (usu. pl.) firm, pink f round the teeth: The dog bared gums at me. ˈ*gumboil n. boil or abs on the gums.

²gum [gʌm] n. 1. [U] sticky substa obtained from some trees, used sticking things together. 2. [U] g that has been specially prepared some way: ˈchewing-gum; [C] (also g drop) hard, transparent sweet made gelatine, etc. 3. (also ˈgum-tree) (ki of) eucalyptus tree. 4. [U] rubb (chiefly U.S.A.) gum boots, high rub boots. v.t. (-mm-) (VP 1, 10) stick gether with gum; spread gum on surface of: gum sth. down; gum things together. gum my [ˈgʌmi] (-ier, -iest) sticky.

³gum [gʌm] n. (vulgar) (in oaths, e God: By gum!

gump tion [ˈgʌmpʃən] n. [U] (coll common sense and initiative; quali likely to bring success: The lad lacks gun [gʌn] n. 1. general name for kind of firearm that sends shells bullets from a metal tube: a wars with 16-inch guns; machine-guns.

rifle, musket, cannon.) stick to on guns, maintain one's position agai attack or argument. blow great gu (of the wind) blow violently. ˈgu boat n. small warship carrying hea guns. ˈgun-ˌcarriage n. wheeled s port of a big gun, or part on which a slides when it recoils. ˈgun-ˌcot
n. [U] explosive of acid-soaked cott gunman n. (pl. ~men) (esp. U.S. sl.) man who uses a gun to rob or people. ˈgun-ˌmetal n. alloy of cop and tin or zinc. ˈgunˌpowder n.
plosive powder used in guns, firewo blasting, etc.: the Gunpowder Plot, p to blow up Parliament, 5 Nov. 16 ˈgun-room n. (in a warship) room junior officers. ˈgun-ˌrunning n.
introduction of firearms, secretly illegally, into a country (e.g. to h a revolt). ˈgun-ˌrunner n. person gaged in this. ˈgunshot n. range o

m: out of (within) gunshot. 'gun-nith n. person who makes and repairs nall firearms. 2. person using a sport-g gun, as a member of a shooting party.

n ner ['gʌnə*] n. (in the army) officer man in the artillery; (official term) rivate soldier in an artillery regiment;
n the navy) warrant officer in charge
a battery of guns.

n ner y ['gʌnəri] n. [U] construction nd management of large guns.

n ny ['gʌni] n. strong, coarse material sed for making sacks, bales, bags, etc.

n wale ['gʌnl] n. upper edge of the de of a boat or a small ship. (See the ustr. at rowlock.)

r gle ['gəːgl] n. [U & C] bubbling ound as of water flowing from a arrow-necked bottle: ~s of delight.
i. make this sound: The baby was irgling happily.

ır kha ['guəkə] n. member of a ruling ace in Nepal who became famous as ldiers in the British Indian army.

sh [gʌʃ] v.i. (VP 21, 23) 1. burst, ow, out suddenly: oil ~ing from a ew well; blood ~ing from a wound. 2.
lk with excessive enthusiasm: young others ~ing over their babies; girls who over handsome film stars. n. sudden utburst or outflow: a ~ of oil (anger, thusiasm). ~er n. oil-well with a rong natural flow (so that pumping not needed). ~ing adj. (see def. 2) ing compliments. ~ing ly adv.

s set ['gʌsit] n. [C] (usu. triangular diamond-shaped) piece of cloth in-rted in a garment to strengthen or large it.

st [gʌst] n. [C] sudden, violent rush wind; burst of rain, hail, fire, or noke; (fig.) outburst of feeling: The ind was blowing in ~s. ~y adj. (-ier, st) stormy; with wind blowing in ~s.

s ta tion [gʌs'teiʃən] n. tasting.

s to ['gʌstou] n. [U] enjoyment in ing sth.

t [gʌt] n. 1. (pl.) intestines; bowels:
ick a bayonet into a man's guts. 2. (pl.) ntents of anything: His speech had guts in it, no real arguments, force,
. 3. (pl.) courage and determinan: a man with plenty of guts. 4. [U] rong cord made from the intestines of imals, used for the strings of violins,
. (Cf. catgut.) v.t. (-tt-) (VP 1) 1.
ke the guts (def. 1) out of (a fish, etc.).
destroy the inside of or the contents
: a building gutted by fire.

t ta-per cha ['gʌtə'pəːtʃə] n. [U] bber-like substance made from the ice of various Malayan trees.

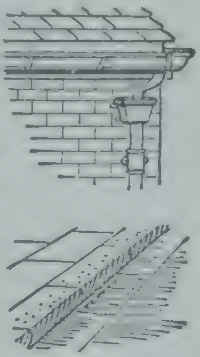
t ter ['gʌtə*] n. [C] 1. channel or ugh (usu. metal) fixed under the ge of a roof to carry away rain-water; nnel at the side of a road for the e purpose. 2. (fig.) streets, esp. of a poor district: the language of the ~, low and vulgar language; take a child out of the ~, remove it from poor and wretched conditions. '~snipe n. poor, badly-dressed child who plays in the streets. v.i. (VP 21) (of a candle) burn unsteadily so that the melted wax flows down the sides.



Gutters

gut tur al ['gʌtərəl] n. & adj. (sound) formed in the throat: ~ consonants; the ~ speech of the Germans.

¹guy [gai] n. [C] rope or chain used to keep sth. steady or secure (e.g. to hold a tent in place).

²guy [gai] n. 1. figure in the form of a man, dressed in old clothes (e.g. as burned on 5 Nov. in memory of Guy Fawkes's *Gunpowder Plot). 2. person dressed in a strange or queer-looking way. 3. (U.S.A., sl.) man. v.t. (VP 1) ridicule; exhibit (sb.) in effigy.

Guy's [gaiz] n. (used for) Guy's Hospital (in London).

guz zle ['gʌzl] v.i. & t. (VP 21, 23, 1, 10) eat or drink greedily: be always guzzling; ~ beer. guz zler n. person who ~s.

gym [dʒim] n. (sl.) (short for) gymnasium, gymnastics: gym-shoes; the gym mistress.

gym kha na [dʒim'kɑːnə] n. public display of athletics and sports competitions.

gym na sium [dʒim'neizjəm] n. room or hall with apparatus for physical training.

gym nast ['dʒimnæst] n. expert in gymnastics.

gym nas tic [dʒim'næstik] adj. of bodily training. gym nas tics n. pl. (forms of) exercises for physical training.

gyn ae col o gy [ˌgaini'kɔlədʒi] n. [U] science of the functions and diseases of women. gyn ae col o gist n.

¹gyp [dʒip] n. college servant at Cambridge and Durham.

²gyp [dʒip] n. (sl.) give sb. gyp, scold or punish him without mercy.

gyp sum ['dʒipsəm] n. [U] mineral (a chalk-like substance) from which plaster of paris is made; also used as a fertilizer.

gyp sy ['dʒipsi] (pl. -ies) = gipsy.

gy rate [ˌdʒaiə'reit] v.i. move round in circles or spirals; revolve. gy ra tion [ˌdʒaiə'reiʃən] n. [C & U] revolving; revolution.

gy ro scope ['gaiərəskoup, 'dʒaiə-] n. heavy wheel which, when turning fast, keeps steady the object in which it is fixed. gy ro scop ic [ˌgaiərə'skɔpik, ˌdʒaiə-] adj.

gyves [dʒaivz] n. pl. (arch.) shackles; fetters.

H

H, h [eitʃ] (pl. H's, h's [ˈeitʃiz]), the eighth letter of the alphabet: drop one's h's, omit the sound [h] (e.g. by saying 'ot for hot).

ha [hɑ:] int. used to express surprise, joy, triumph, suspicion, etc. When repeated in print ('Ha! Ha! Ha!') it indicates laughter.

ha be as cor pus [ˈheibjəs ˈkɔ:pəs] n. (Lat.) (also writ of ~) order requiring a person to be brought before a judge or into court, esp. to investigate the right of the law to keep him in prison.

hab er dash er [ˈhæbədæʃə*] n. shopkeeper who sells small articles of dress, pins, cotton, etc. ~y n. ~'s goods or business.

ha bil i ments [həˈbilimənts, hæˈbil-] n. pl. 1. dress suited to a certain event or to be worn by someone holding a special position. 2. (hum.) clothing.

hab it [ˈhæbit] n. 1. [C] sb.'s settled practice, esp. sth. that cannot easily be given up: the ~ of smoking; be in the ~ of getting up late; ~-forming drugs. fall (get) into bad ~s, acquire them: Don't let yourself get into bad ~s. get out of a ~, abandon it. 2. [U] usual behaviour: do sth. from force of ~. H~ is second nature. 3. (old use) condition, general quality (of mind or body): a cheerful ~ of mind. 4. [C] dress worn by members of a religious order: a monk's ~; a riding ~, woman's coat and skirt for horse-riding.

hab it a ble [ˈhæbitəbl] adj. fit to be lived in: The old house is no longer ~.

hab i tat [ˈhæbitæt] n. (of plants, animals) natural place of growth; home.

hab i ta tion [ˌhæbiˈteiʃən] n. 1. [U] living in: houses that were not fit for ~. 2. [C] (dignified or liter.) place to live in: On these plains there was not a single human ~.

ha bit u al [həˈbitjuəl] adj. 1. regular, usual: He took his ~ seat at the dining-table. 2. acting by habit; having a regular habit: a ~ liar (drunkard, cinema-goer). ~ly adv. as a habit: Tom is ~ly late for school.

ha bit u ate [həˈbitjueit] v.t. (VP 18) accustom; get (sb., oneself) used to (sth.): ~ oneself to hard work (getting up early, a cold climate); ~ a horse to the sound of gunfire.

hab i tude [ˈhæbitju:d] n. [U] custom; tendency; habitual way of acting or doing things.

ha bit u é [həˈbitjuei] n. person who regularly goes to a place: an ~ of the orchestral concerts (of the Café Royal).

ha ci en da [ˌhæsiˈendə] n. (in Latin American countries) large landed e with a dwelling house.

¹hack [hæk] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 10, 21 cut roughly or clumsily; chop: the savage had killed his enemy, he the body to pieces. He ~ed at the (i.e. struck heavy blows at it) un fell to the ground. a ~ing cough, one that seems to tear the chest. ˈ~*saw n. one for cutting through metal.

A hack-saw

²hack [hæk] n. 1. horse that may hired. 2. person paid to do hard uninteresting work as a writer: lishers' ~s. v.i. ride on horseback ordinary roads, at an ordinary p go ~ing.

hack le [ˈhækl] n. (pl. only) long feat on the neck of the domestic cock: his ~s up, (of a cock, dog, or m angry; ready to fight; get sb.'s ~s make him angry.

hack ney [ˈhækni] n. ordinary kind horse for riding or driving: ~ carri one that may be hired. hack ne [ˈhæknid] adj. (esp. of sayings) common; repeated too often.

had, see have.

had dock [ˈhædək] n. (pl. unchanged) sea-fish much used for food (esp. smoked ~).

A haddock

Ha des [ˈheidi:z] n. (Gk. myth.) underworld; place where the spirit the dead go.

Had ji [ˈhædʒi(:)] n. (title of) Mus pilgrim who has been to Mecca.

hæm a tite n. = hematite.

hæ mo glo bin n. = hemoglobin.

hæ mo phil ia n. = hemophilia.

hæm or rhage n. = hemorrhage.

hæm or rhoids n. pl. = hemorrhoi haft [hɑ:ft] n. handle (of an axe, k dagger, etc.).

hag [hæg] n. witch; ugly old wom esp. one who does, or is thought to evil. ˈ*hag-ˌridden*, afflicted by ni mare; harassed.

hag gard [ˈhægəd] adj. (of a person, face) looking tired and lined (esp. f worry, lack of sleep).

hag gis [ˈhægis] n. Scottish dish various parts of a sheep, cut up, mi with oatmeal, and cooked in a she stomach.

hag gle [ˈhægl] v.i. (VP 21, 23, 24) ar dispute (with sb. for or about sth., the price of sth. or the terms of a gain).

i ol o gy [ˌhægiˈɔlədʒi] n. literature ating of the lives and legends of nts.

ha [hɑː ˈhɑː] n. wall or fence bounding ark or garden, built low in a hollow as not to interfere with the view.

[heil] n. 1. [U] frozen rain-drops ling from the sky. ˈ~stone n. [C] all ball of ice: ~-stones as big as peas. storm n. storm with fall of ~. 2. u. with indef. art.) sth. coming in at numbers and force: a ~ of blows rses). v.i. & t. 1. (impers.) (of ~) ne down: It ~ed during the morning. (VP 24, 18) (of blows, etc.) come, nd down, hard and fast (on): Blows d down on his back. They ~ed curses rn on us.

[heil] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 8, 10) greet; ve a welcoming cry to; call out to as to attract attention): Cheerful ces ~ed us as we entered the hall. ey ~ed him (as) king. He was ~ed a hero. Let's ~ a taxi, shall we? 2. P 24) ~ from, come from: Where es the ship ~ from, which is her home rt? (colloq., of persons): They ~ from parts of the country. n. greeting; ng cry: within ~, (esp. of ships) near ough to be ~ed. be ~-ˌfellow-ˈwell-et, be very familiar and friendly ith sb.).

r [hɛə*] n. 1. (collective sing., (U]) the thread-like growths on the skin animals, esp. on the human head; read-like growth on the stems and ves of some plants; ~-like thing: ush one's ~; have one's ~ cut; a cat th a fine coat of ~; [C] single thread ~: find a ~ in the soup; two grey ~s his coat collar; (arch.) plural in col- tive sense: It will bring down my y ~s in sorrow to the grave, cause me, o am old, to die of sorrow. keep ur ~ on, (sl.) keep cool; don't lose ur temper. lose one's ~, (a) become ld. (b) lose one's temper. get sb. the short ~s, (sl.) have him at one's ercy; get complete control of him. ake one's ~ stand on end, fill one th fright or horror. put up her ~, a girl) start to dress it in a woman's le, rolled up on the head. let her ~ wn, (of a woman) remove the pins d allow the ~ to fall over the shoul- rs; (fig.) relax after a period of being mal. split ~s, make or pretend to differences of meaning, distinctions, ., so small as to be unimportant; ence) ˈ~-ˌsplitting n. (describe sth.) a ~, exactly. not turn a ~, give no n of being troubled. 2. (compounds) -ˌraising adj. (of an experience, etc.) using the ~ to stand on end. ˈ~-eadth, ~'s breadth, n. very small stance: escape by a ~'s breadth, have ~-breadth escape, a very narrow one.

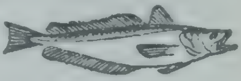
ˈ~brush n. toilet brush for the ~. ˈ~cloth n. cloth made of ~ for various purposes. ˈ~cut n. act of cutting the ~ (by a barber or ~-dresser): ~cut and shave, 3s. 6d. ˈ~-do n. dressing of a woman's ~ by a ~-dresser. ˈ~ˌdresser n. person who dresses and cuts ~ (esp. for women). (Cf. barber.) ˈ~-dye n. dye for the ~. ˈ~-net n. net for keeping the ~ in place. ˈ~-oil n. oil for dressing the ~. ˈ~pin n. (woman's) pin for keeping the ~ in place.

A hairpin

~pin bend n. sharp bend on a road, esp. on a steep road, so that the road doubles back. ~-shirt n. shirt made of ~-cloth, uncomfortable to wear, for ascetics. ˈ~-spring n. very delicate spring in a watch, controlling the balance-wheel. ~less *adj. without ~; bald. ~like *adj. ~y *adj. of or like ~; covered with ~: a ~y chest. ~i ness *n.

Hairpin bends

hake [heik] n. (pl. unchanged) fish of the cod family, used as food.



A hake

hal berd [ˈhælbə(ː)d] n. weapon used in the Middle Ages, a combined spear and battle-axe on a long handle. hal berdier [ˌhælbəˈdiə*] n. soldier armed with a ~.

A halberdier

hal cy on [ˈhælsiən] adj. ~ days, ~ weather, calm and peaceful.

¹hale [heil] adj. (usu. of old persons) strong and healthy: (rare except in) ~ and hearty.

²hale [heil] v.t. (VP 10) (archaic) take, drag, pull, by force: ~d off to prison.

half [hɑːf] n., adj., & adv. (pl. halves [hɑːvz]) 1. one of two equal or corresponding parts into which a thing is divided: The ~ of 6 is 3 (or) H~ of 6 is 3. Two halves make a whole. Two pounds and a ~ (or) Two and a ~ pounds. H~ of the fruit is bad. H~ of the plums are bad. I want ~ as much again, one and a ~ the amount. Cut it in ~ (into halves). (do sth.) by halves, incompletely, imperfectly. go halves, share equally (with sb., in sth.). (too clever, etc.) by ~, far (too clever, etc.). one's better ~, (colloq.) one's wife. 2. (as adv.) to the extent of a ~; to a considerable degree: meat that is only ~ cooked; ~-cooked cabbage; not ~ (= nearly) long enough; ~ dead, (colloq.) tired out, exhausted; not ~ bad, (colloq.) not at all bad; quite good. not ~, (sl.) to the greatest possible extent: He didn't ~ swear, he swore very violently. 'Was she annoyed?' 'Not ~!' (i.e. she was intensely annoyed). 3. (in compounds) '~ a 'crown n. the amount of 2*s.* 6*d.* '~ a 'dozen n. six. ~ and ~ n. what is ~ one thing and ~ the other (e.g. a mixture of ale and porter). '~-'back n. (in football, hockey, etc.) (position of) player between the forwards and the backs. (See Appendix 4.) '~-'baked adj. (colloq.) dull-witted; crude and inexperienced: a ~-baked young man; foolish; of poor quality: ~-baked ideas. '~-blood n. (relationship of a) person having one parent in common with another. '~-breed n. (a) person with parents of different races, esp. differently coloured races. (b) offspring of two animals or plants of different species. '~-ˌbrother n. brother by one parent only. '~-caste n. ~-breed person. '~-'crown n. British coin worth 2*s.* 6*d.*: Can you give me four ~-crowns for this 10s. note? (Cf. ~ a crown.) '~-'hardy adj. (of plants) requiring protection from frost but otherwise suitable for growing in the open. '~-'hearted adj. done with, showing, little interest or enthusiasm: a ~-hearted attempt. (Hence, '~-'heartedly.) '~-'holiday n. day of which ~ (usu. the afternoon) is free from work or duty. '~-'hourly adj. & adv. (done, occurring) every ~ hour: a ~-hourly bus service. '~-'length adj. (of a portrait) of the upper ~ of a person. '~-'mast n. at ~-mast, (of a flag) at the position, near the middle of a mast, to indicate mourning: Flags were at ~-mast everywhere on the day of the President's funeral. '~-'pay n. reduced pay given to army or navy officers when not fully employed but not yet retired: placed on ~-pay. ~penny ['heipni] n. (a) British bronze coin worth ~ a penny: Can you give me two ~pennies for this penny? (b) worth of this coin: twopence ~penny ['tʌpəns 'heipni]; a ~penny stamp; three ~pence [θri:'heipəns], (or a penny ~penny) the sum of 1½*d.* ~pennyworth, ha'p'orth ['heipniwə:θ, 'heipəθ] n. as much as a ~penny will buy '~-'price adv. at ~ the usual price. Children admitted ~-price. '~-seas-'over pred. adj. (colloq.) ~ drunk. '~-ˌsister n. sister by one parent only. '~-'size adj. ~ the usual or regular size. '~-'sovereign n. British gold coin (not now in circulation) worth ~ a *sovereign. '~-'time n. (a) work and pay for ~ the usual time: Owing to the business depression the workers are on ~-time this month. (b) the interval between the two halves of a game of football, etc.: The score at ~-time was 2–2. '~-tone n. (of a printing process) picture that reproduces light and dark shades (not merely lines showing sha '~-'track n. caterpillar tread (def. 3 a vehicle (e.g. an armoured car) m of steel cables and hard rubber, ena

the vehicle to travel over rough grou
Hence, '~-'tracked adj. '~-truth statement that conveys only a par the truth. '~-'way adj. (a) (of a hou an inn) situated at an equal dista from two towns, etc. (b) going ~ way; not thorough: In an em ~-way measures are usually uns factory. adv. to or at ~ the dista meet a person ~-way, be ready to r a compromise. '~-'witted adj. we minded. (Hence '~-'wit n.)
'yearly adj. & adv. (done, occurri every ~ year.

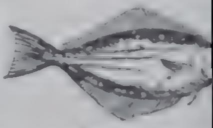
hal i but ['hælibət] n. (pl. unchanged) large, flat sea-fish used as food.



A halibut

hal i to sis [ˌhæli'tousis] n. [U] bad-smelling breath.

hall [hɔ:l] n. 1. (building with) la room for meetings, concerts, pu business, etc.: the Town (City) H~; County H~; the H~ of Justice; Festival H~ (for concerts, in Londo dance-~s; the ~s (often used for *mu ~s). 2. (in colleges at English univ sities) large room for meals: dine in
3. building for university students: *
of residence. 4. (in England) la country house, usu. one that belo to the chief landowner in the distr
5. passage, space, behind the m entrance or front door of a buildi Leave your hat and coat in the ~.
stand n. piece of furniture for h coats, umbrellas, etc. 6. building o guild: Saddlers' H~. '~mark n. m used at Goldsmiths' H~ for mark the standard of gold and silver in artic (as a guarantee of quality). v.t. sta a ~mark on.

hal le lu jah [ˌhæli'lu:jə] n. & praise to God.

hal lo [hə'lou, 'hʌ'lou] int. & n. cry attract attention; greeting.

hal loo [hə'lu:] int. & n. cry to u on hounds; shout to attract attenti v.i. shout 'Halloo!', esp. to dogs.

¹hal low ['hælou] v.t. (VP 1, usu. pass
make holy; regard as holy: ground by sacred memories.

²hal low ['hælou] n. saint. (only in)
H~s, see all, adj., def. 6, and H~e
['hælou'i:n], 31 Oct., eve of All Sai Day or All H~s Day.

hal lu ci na tion [həˌlu:si'neiʃən] n & U] (instance of) seeming to see not present, sth. imagined: Drun men are sometimes subject to ~s.

hal ma ['hælmə] n. game played o board of 256 squares.

lo ['heilou] n. (pl. -oes, -os) circle of ht round the sun or moon or (in intings) round the heads of sacred ures.
t [hɔ:lt] n. 1. (chiefly mil., of sol-
rs) short stop on a march or journey:
he officer called a ~. 2. (more general
e) stop or pause: The train came to ~. 3. stopping-place (smaller than a ation) on a railway-line, where trains op for a short time only. v.i. & t.
(VP 21) (as a mil. command) stop arching; come to a ~. 2. (VP 1) ring to a ~: The officer ~ed his troops r a rest.
lt [hɔ:lt] v.i. (VP 21, 23) hesitate; walk a hesitating way: ~ between two inions; speak in a ~ing way. adj.
rchaic) lame: the ~ and the blind.
ing ly adv. in a ~ing way.
l ter ['hɔ:ltə*] n. 1. rope or leather rap put round a horse's ad (for leading or fasten-g the horse). 2. rope used r hanging a person.
lve [hɑ:v] v.t. (VP 1) 1.
ivide into two equal arts: ~ an apple. 2. lessen y one half: Jet airliners ave ~d the time needed for rossing the Atlantic.
l yard ['hæljəd] n. rope r raising or lowering a ail or flag.

A halter (def. 1)

m [hæm] n. 1. [C] upper part of a ig's leg, salted and dried or smoked: ams hanging on hooks; [U] this as neat: a slice of ham; a ham sandwich.
. [C] back of the thigh; thigh and uttock (chiefly used of animals). 3.
sl.) poor actor or performer; amateur vho sends and receives radio messages; attrib.) ham actors (acting). 'ham- handed adj. unskilful in using the ands.
am a dry ad [ˌhæmə'draiəd] n. nymph iving and dying with the tree she in-abited; poisonous Indian snake.
am burg er ['hæmˌbə:gə*] n. (U.S.A.) . ground beef made into round flat akes and fried. 2. sandwich filled with his.
am let ['hæmlit] n. group of houses in he country; small village, esp. one with-ut a church.
am mer ['hæmə*] n. 1. tool with a eavy metal head used for breaking hings, driving in nails, etc.: throwing he ~, athletic competition in which a eavy long-handled ~ is thrown as far s possible. be (go) at it ~ and tongs, ight, argue, with great energy and oise. 2. (in a piano, etc.) one of the ~-like parts that strike the strings.
. wooden mallet used by an auctioneer:
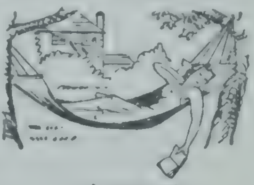
e (come) under the ~, be sold by uction. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 7, 10, 21, 23, 24) 1. strike or beat with a ~, or as if with a ~: ~ nails into wood; ~ down the lid of a box, fasten it down by ~ing; ~ in a nail (~ a nail in); ~ a piece of metal flat; ~ sth. out, make it flat or smooth by ~ing; ~ at the door (e.g. with a stick, one's fists). 2. (fig.) produce by hard work: ~ out a scheme; work hard: ~ away at a problem; force: ~ an idea into sb.'s head. 3. (colloq.) inflict heavy defeats on (sb.) in war or in games.

ham mock ['hæmək] n. hanging bed of canvas or rope network (e.g. as used by sailors, or in gardens).



A hammock

^{1}ham per ['hæmpə*] n. packing-case or basket with a lid, esp. one used for sending food: a Christmas ~, one sent as a present, with food, wine, etc.

^{2}ham per ['hæmpə*] v.t. (VP 1) hinder; prevent free movement or activity: ~ed by a heavy overcoat.

ham ster ['hæmstə*] n. rodent like a large rat, kept by children as a pet.

ham string ['hæmstriŋ] v.t. (-inged or -ung) (VP 1) cripple (a person or animal) by cutting the tendon(s) at the back of the knee(s).

^{1}hand [hænd] n. 1. part of the human arm beyond the wrist. at ~, near; within reach: He lives close at ~, quite near. The examinations are at ~. at sb.'s ~s, from sb.: I did not expect such unkind treatment at your ~s. by ~, (a) (contrasted with by machinery): Are your socks knitted by ~ or are they machine-made? (b) (contrasted with postal delivery, etc.): The note was delivered by ~, brought by a messenger, not sent through the post. live from ~ to mouth, spend money as soon as it is earned, saving nothing; (hence) ~-to-mouth: a ~-to-mouth existence. fight ~ to ~, at close quarters; (hence) ~-to-~ adj. ~-to-~ fighting. ~ in ~, holding ~s; together: They walked away ~ in ~. (fig.) War and misery go ~ in ~. ~ over ~, ~ over fist, with each ~ passing the other in turn, as when climbing up a rope; (fig.) with steady and rapid progress: We overtook them ~ over ~, rapidly. bind sb. ~ and foot, make him completely helpless and unable to move (lit. & fig.). be ~ in *glove (with sb.). wait on (serve) sb. ~ and foot, perform every sort of service for him; attend to his every wish. in ~, (a) held in reserve, available for use: I still have some money in ~. Cash in ~, £3 10s. (b) receiving attention: The work is in ~, but not finished. (c) under control: These noisy children need to be taken in ~, placed under control, disciplined. We have the situation well in ~, can control or manage it. on ~, in one's possession; available: We have some new woollen goods on ~, in the shop, warehouse, etc. on one's ~s, resting on one as a responsibility: I have an empty house on my ~s, a house for which I want to find a buyer or tenant. Time hangs heavy on his ~s, seems burdensome, passes slowly. get sth. off one's ~s, get rid of it, free oneself from the responsibility for it. out of ~, (a) out of control; undisciplined: The boys have got quite out of ~. (b) at once: The situation needs to be dealt with out of ~. feed out of one's ~, (fig.) be very willing and ready to obey. come to ~, come within reach; be received: Your letter to ~, (bad commercial style) your letter has been received. (ready) to one's ~, conveniently near; available for use. bear (lend) a ~, help (with), take part (in doing sth.). win ~s down, win easily. H~s off! Don't touch (interfere)! H~s up! Put your ~s up (as a sign of surrender, or to ensure that there will be no resistance). not lift a ~, not do a ~'s turn, do nothing; make no effort to help. lay ~s on sth. or sb., see ¹*lay*, def. 3. lift (raise) one's ~ against (sb.), strike, attack, threaten. put (set) one's ~ to (a task, etc.), begin to work at. have one's ~s full, be fully occupied: I have my ~s full (or) My ~s are full. keep a firm ~ on, keep one's ~s on, keep or exercise control over. shake sb.'s ~, shake ~s with sb., take and hold his ~ for a moment as a greeting. give one's ~ on a bargain, shake ~s as a sign that the bargain has been agreed to. ask for a lady's ~, ask for her as wife. win a lady's ~, obtain consent to marriage with her. (rule) with a heavy ~, oppressively, severely. (do sth.) with a bold ~, boldly, arrogantly. get the upper ~ of, obtain an advantage over. 2. (pl.) keeping; possession; guardianship; responsibility: The property is no longer in my ~s, I am no longer responsible for it. The matter is in your ~s, you must decide how to deal with it. The property has often changed ~s, has been bought and sold often. He's still in the ~s of the moneylenders. 3. (sing. only) influence or agency: The ~ of an enemy has been at work here. 4. (sing. only) person or source from which sth. comes: hear (learn) sth. at first ~, directly; at second ~, indirectly. 5. (sing. only) skill: She has a light ~ at pastry, makes pastry with skill. Why don't you try your ~ at editing the magazine, see whether you are clever enough to do it? keep one's ~ in, keep one's skill (by doing sth.): He plays the violin every day to keep his ~ in. 6. who does (what is indicated in the text): a good ~ at fencing, a fencer; an old parliamentary ~, with long experience of parliamen affairs. 7. employee who works his ~s; factory or dockyard wor member of a ship's crew: The f has taken on 200 extra ~s. All ~s deck! All seamen are needed on d

8. turn; share in an activity: Lend (Let me have) a ~ now. Do you th he had a ~ in it? 9. thing like a pointer on a watch, clock, or dial:
hour ~. 10. side or direction: on ever (all ~s), to or from all quarters; on one ~ . . . on the other ~, used to indi contrasted points of view, argumen etc.; on either ~, on both sides.
handwriting: He writes a good ~ legible ~). 12. (formal style) signatu set one's ~ to a document. Given un my ~ and seal, authenticated by signature and seal. 13. (card gam cards dealt to a player: have a good play a good ~, play well; take a ~ whist (bridge), join in and play; play one's own ~, (lit. & fig.) act so as benefit oneself; play into sb. else's do sth. that is to his advantage.
member of a group of card-playe
We have only three players; we need fourth ~. 15. one game in a rubber cards: Shall we play one more ~?
measurement (four inches, the bread of the ~) used for the height of a ho (from the ground to the top of t shoulder). 17. (colloq.) applause: g a performer a big ~, clap the ~s loud to show appreciation. 18. (compoun ˈ~-bag n. woman's bag for carryi money, keys, handkerchief, etc. ˈ~ ˌbarrow n. light two-wheeled barro ˈ~bill n. printed advertisement or a nouncement distributed by ~. ˈ~bo
n. small book giving useful facts; guid book. ˈ~cart n. small cart pushed pulled by ~. ˈ~clap n. clapping: a sl ~clap, slow rhythmical clapping to sho impatience or disapproval. ˈ~cuff
one of a pair of metal rings joined by a short chain, fastened round a prisoner's wrists. v.t. put ~cuffs on. ˈ~ful n. (pl. ~fuls) (a) as much or as many as can be held in one ~. (b) small number: Only ~ful of persons came to the meeting.
(colloq.) person or animal difficult control: That young boy of hers is qu
a ~ful, is lively and unruly. ˈ~-loo
n. loom worked by ~, not by machiner ˈ~-ˌluggage n. light and small enou to be carried by hand. ˈ~-ˈmade a made by ~ (contrasted with machin made). ˈ~-maid n. (archaic) wom

Handcuffs

rvant or attendant. ˈ~-ˌorgan n.
rtable barrel-organ with a crank ned by ~. ˈ~rail n. railing along the ge of a staircase, etc. ˈ~shake n.
eeting given by grasping a person's ~ th one's own. ˈ~stand n. acrobatic at of supporting oneself in an upright sition on the ~s: do a ~stand. ˈ~- ork n. [U] work done by ~, not by achinery. ˈ~-ˌwriting n. (person's yle of) writing by ~: good ~writing;
whose ~writing.

nd [hænd] v.t. (VP 18, 19, 10) give;
ss; help with the ~: Please ~ me at book, pass it to me. He ~ed his wife
t of the carriage, helped her by giving r his hand. He has ~ed in his signation. We cannot always observe traditions ~ed down to us from the st. Please ~ on the magazine to hers. ˈ~-out n. (colloq.) (a) sth. given an alms (e.g. food or money to a eggar at the door). (b) prepared stateent given (e.g. by a politician) to wspaper men.

nd i cap [ˈhændikæp] n. [C] 1. (cometition, race, in which there is a) dis-dvantage imposed on a competitor to ake the chances of success more nearly qual for all (e.g. a weight to be carried a horse). 2. anything likely to lessen ne's chance of success: Poor eyesight is ~ to a student. v.t. (-pp-) (VP 1) give be a ~ to: ~ped by ill health; ~ped ildren, suffering from some disability.

nd i craft [ˈhændikrɑːft] n. [C] art or aft needing skill with the hands (e.g. ottery, woodwork, weaving at a hand-om).

nd i work [ˈhændiwəːk] n. [U] work one, [C] thing made, by the hands;
h. done by a named person: That's me of Smith's ~.

nd ker chief [ˈhæŋkətʃif] n. square iece of cotton, silk, linen, etc., carried the pocket or handbag, for blowing e nose into or wiping the face; milar square worn for ornament (e.g. ound the neck).

n dle [ˈhændl] n. 1. part of a tool, cup, ucket, door, drawer, etc., by which it ay be held in the hand. ˈ~-bar n. bar ith a ~ at each end, for steering a icycle, etc. fly off the ~, (colloq.) get ildly excited, very angry. 2. (fig.) fact hat may be taken advantage of and sed (against sb.): Your indiscreet be- aviour may give your enemies a ~ gainst you. 3. (colloq.) title: have a ~ one's name, have (e.g.) 'Sir' or 'Lord' s part of it. v.t. (VP 1) 1. touch with, ake up in, the hands: Dynamite is angerous stuff to ~. Wash your hands efore you ~ my books, please. 2.
anage; deal with; control (men): An fficer must know how to ~ men. 3.
reat; behave towards: The speaker was roughly ~d by the crowd. 4. (commercial use) buy and sell: This shop does not ~ imported goods.

hand some [ˈhænsəm] adj. 1. of fine appearance; (of men) good-looking; (of women) having a fine figure, vigour, and dignity: What a ~ old building it is! He's a ~ fellow. Would you describe that woman as ~ or beautiful? 2. (of gifts, behaviour) generous: He said some very ~ things about you. £50 is quite a ~ birthday present. H~ is that ~ does, (prov.) a fine person is one who acts generously. ~ly adv. in a ~ (def. 2) manner: He came down ~ly, made a generous gift.

hand y [ˈhændi] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. (of persons) clever with the hands. 2. (of things, places) convenient to handle; easily used: A good tool-box is a ~ thing to have in the house. She's quite a ~ little sailing-boat, is easily controlled. come in ~, be useful some time or other: Don't throw that box away, it may come in ~. 3. not far away; available for use: Always keep a first-aid kit ~. hand i ly adv. hand i ness n.

¹hang [hæŋ] v.t. & i. (p.t. & p.p. hung [hʌŋ] or, for def. 2, hanged) 1. (VP 1, 10, 21, 23) support, be supported, from above so that the lower end is free: ~ a lamp from the ceiling; curtains ~ing over the window; windows hung with curtains; pictures ~ing on the wall. She hung the washing out in the garden. H~ your coat on that hook. A dog's tongue ~s out when it runs fast. 2. (p.t. & p.p. ~ed) put, be put, to death by ~ing with a rope round the neck: He was ~ed for murder. He said he would ~ himself, commit suicide by ~ing. 3. Oh, ~ it! H~ you! (curses). I'll be ~ed if I know, I don't know at all. I'll be ~ed if I'll go, I refuse absolutely to go. 4. (various uses) ~ wallpaper, attach it to a wall with paste; ~ bells, fit them (e.g. in a belfry); ~ a door, fasten it on hinges so that it swings freely to and fro. ~ by a hair (by a single thread), (of a person's fate, etc.) be in a delicate state, depend upon sth. small. ~ the head, let it fall forward (e.g. when ashamed). ~ fire, (a) (of a gun) be slow in going off. (b) (of events) be slow in developing. let things go ~, (colloq.) be indifferent to them; take no interest in or care of them. ~ in the balance, have an outcome that is doubtful. 5. (with advv. & preps.) ~ about, (VP 23) (a) wait doing nothing: men ~ing about at street corners for the pubs to open. There's thunder ~ing about, we're likely to have thunder at any time. ~ (a)round, (U.S.A.) = ~ about. ~ back, (VP 23) hesitate; show unwillingness to act: When the officer asked for volunteers, not a single man hung back. ~ on (upon),

(a) (VP 23) hold tight or fast; refuse to give up: He hung on until the rope broke. It's hard work but if you ~ on (= persevere), you'll succeed in the end. (b) ~ upon sb.'s words (lips, answers), wait anxiously for what he says. ~ on to (sth.), hold it tightly. ~ out, (a) (VP 23) (sl.) reside: Where are you ~ing out now? (b) (VP 10) display from windows, etc.: ~ out flags for the Queen's visit. ~ together, (VP 23) (a) (of persons) support one another: If we all ~ together our plan will succeed. If we don't ~ together we may all ~ (i.e. be ~ed, def. 2) separately. (b) (of things) fit together well: Their accounts of what happened do not ~ together, they contain contradictory statements. ~ (sth.) up, (VP 10) (a) delay; put aside indefinitely: The plan has been hung up. (b) (of the old-fashioned kind of telephone receiver) end a telephone call: He had hung up, (literally, hung up the receiver on its hook). 6. (VP 1) (of meat, birds, etc.) leave ~ing until in the right condition for eating: Hares and pheasants need to be well hung. 7. (compounds) ˈ~man [ˈhæŋmən] n. executioner who ~s criminals. ˈ~dog adj. (of sb.'s look) sly and ashamed. ˈ~-ˌover n. (sl.) unpleasant after-effects of excessive drinking.

²hang [hæŋ] n. (sing. only) 1. way in which a thing hangs: the ~ of a coat (skirt). 2. (colloq.) general way of doing or using sth.; general idea or meaning: I don't quite get the ~ of your argument. 3. (colloq.) not care a ~, not care at all.

han gar [ˈhæŋ(g)ə*] n. building in which aircraft are housed.

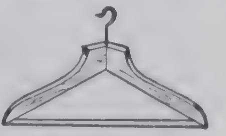
hang er [ˈhæŋə*] n. (in compounds) paper-~, person who hangs (pastes) wallpaper on to walls; dress-~, clothes-~, device (as shown here) on which dresses, etc. are hung. ~-on [ˈhæŋərˈɔn] (pl. ~s-on [ˈhæŋəzˈɔn]) n. person who forces his company upon another or others in the hope of profit or advantage.



A clothes-hanger

hang ing [ˈhæŋiŋ] n. 1. death by hanging: There were three ~s here last month. 2. (attrib.) resulting in capital punishment: a ~ matter, a crime punishable by ~. 3. (usu. pl.) curtains, drapery, etc., with which walls are hung.

hang nail [ˈhæŋneil] n. piece of loose skin near a finger-nail.

hank [hæŋk] n. (twisted) coil of wool, silk, etc., thread: wind a ~ of wool into balls.

A hank

hank er [ˈhæŋkə*] v.i. (VP 24) have a strong desire: ~ for sympathy; ~ after wealth. ~ing n.: have a ~ing for (after) fame.

hank y [ˈhæŋki] n. (child's word handkerchief.
hanky-panky [ˈhæŋkiˈpæŋki] n.
(colloq.) underhand dealing; tricke Han sard [ˈhænsəd] n. official repo proceedings in Parliament.

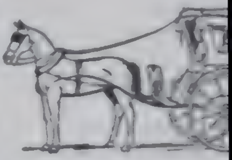
han som [ˈhænsəm] n. (also ~-cab) two-wheeled horse-drawn cab for two passengers, with the driver's seat high at the back and reins going over the roof (used in England 1835–1915).



A hansom

hap [hæp] n. (arch.) chance; luck.
(-pp-) come about by chance; ha (to do sth.).
hap haz ard [ˈhæpˈhæzəd] adv., n
adj. (by) mere chance; (by) accid accidental.
hap less [ˈhæplis] adj. unlucky.
hap ly [ˈhæpli] adv. (arch.) by cha perhaps.
ha'p'orth [ˈheipəθ] n. (colloq.)
pennyworth.
hap pen [ˈhæpən] v.t. 1. (VP 21, 24) place; come about: How did the acci ~? What ~ed next? Accidents wil they are to be expected. If anyth ~s to him (if he meets with an accide let me know. 2. (VP 21, 25) cha have the fortune: I ~ed to be out w he called. It so ~ed that I had no mo with me. As it ~s, by chance: As it
I have my cheque book with me. 3.
24, with on, upon) find by chance ~ed on just the thing I'd been looking ~ing n. (usu. pl.) event: There been strange ~ings here lately.
hap py [ˈhæpi] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1.
tunate; lucky; feeling or express pleasure, contentment, satisfaction, e Their marriage has been a ~ one. H ~ in having congenial work. He's a as the day is long, very ~. 2. polite formulas) pleased: We shall b to accept your kind invitation. 3.
language, conduct, suggestions) suited to the situation: a ~ thou (idea, etc.). ~-go-lucky [ˈhæpigouˈl
adj. taking what fortune brings; c free: She goes through life in a ~ lucky fashion. hap pi ly adv. hap
ness n.
ha rangue [həˈræŋ] n. long, loud (of scolding) talk or speech. v.t. & (VP 1, 21) make a ~ (to).
har ass [ˈhærəs] v.t. (VP 1) 1. trou worry: ~ed by the cares of a la family; ~ed-looking housewives.
make repeated attacks on: In ol days the coasts of England were ~ed
the Vikings.
har bin ger [ˈhɑːbindʒə*] n. sb. or foretells the coming of sb. or sth.: crowing of the cock is a ~ of dawn.

bour ['hɑ:bə*] n. (U.S.A. harbor) 1.
of shelter for ships: a natural ~,
an inlet of the sea; an artificial ~,
made with sea-walls, breakwaters.
lues, n. pl. money (to be) paid for horing or mooring a ship in a ~.
fig.) any place of safety or shelter.
& i. 1. (VP 1) give lodging or lter to; protect; conceal: ~ an ped criminal (a spy). My dog has
, thick hair that ~s fleas. 2. (VP 1)
d in the mind: ~ thoughts of revenge.
VP 21) come to anchor (in a ~). ~age
:bəridʒ] n. (place of) shelter.

d [hɑ:d] adj. 1. firm; not yielding to touch; not easily cut; solid (con--ted with soft): as ~ as rock; ground ~ by frost. Teak is a very ~ kind wood. a ~ nut to crack, (fig.) a icult problem; person difficult to l with or influence. 2. difficult (to ierstand or explain) (contrasted with ); needing mental or moral effort:
words, difficult for young learners uneducated persons (in spelling or aning) (cf. def. 4); a ~ problem , language); a subject that is ~ to derstand. She found it ~ to make up mind. That man is ~ to please ) He is a ~ man to please. It's to say which is better. It's ~ for an man to change his way of living.
causing unhappiness, discomfort, or in; difficult to endure: have a ~ time, perience difficulties, misfortunes, etc.;
these ~ times, in these times of money ortage, unemployment, etc., when life difficult; the ~ discipline of army life; arn sth.) the ~ way, with perseverance
d hardship. 4. severe: a ~ father, e who is strict and severe; be ~ on person, treat him severely; ~ words, rsh or angry; showing lack of sym-thy; a ~ bargain. 5. (of the body) ving ~ muscles and not much fat:
egular physical exercises soon made boys ~. as ~ as nails, (a) strong d muscular. (b) (fig.) without sentient, or sympathy; ~-hearted. 6.
ne, doing (sth.), with much effort or rce; strenuous: a ~ blow; go for a ~ llop; a ~ worker. 7. (of the weather) vere: a ~ winter (frost). 8. (of sounds) he letter 'c' is ~ in 'cat'. The letter ' is ~ in 'gun' and soft in 'gin'. 9. arious uses). '~-back, '~-,cover
. book bound in a ~ (stiff) cover ontrasted with paper-backed books).
ence, '~-backed (-,covered, -bound)
jj. ~ core n. solid central, basic, underlying part; nucleus. ~ cash, ins and notes, not a cheque or a omise to pay. ~ currency, one hich, because of an adverse balance trade, a country has difficulty in getting enough of. ~ of hearing, rather deaf. ~ labour, imprisonment with ~ physical labour as a punishment. ~ and fast (rules, etc.), that cannot be altered to fit special cases. ~ luck, ~ lines, worse fortune than is deserved. ~ water, containing mineral salts that interfere with the lathering of soap. ~ liquor, with high alcoholic content (e.g. whisky). ~-headed ['hɑ:d'hedid] adj. practical; not sentimental; business-like. ~-hearted ['hɑ:d'hɑ:tid] adj. unfeeling; lacking in sympathy or the gentler emotions. ~board ['hɑ:dbɔ:d] n. [U] kind of material like plywood in appearance and use, made by compressing waste wood that has been ground up finely. '~ware n. [U] ironmongery; metal goods for domestic use, such as pans, nails, locks. '~wood n. [U] ~ heavy wood (e.g. oak, ebony, teak, contrasted with soft wood, such as pine and fir): (attrib.) ~wood floors. ~ness n.

²hard [hɑ:d] adv. 1. with great energy; strenuously; with all one's force: work (study, think, pull, push) ~; try ~ to succeed; drink (swear) ~. 2. severely; heavily: freezing (raining) ~. 3. with difficulty; painfully; with a struggle: my ~-earned money; run sb. ~, pursue him closely. It will go ~ with him if we don't help him, he will have a difficult time, it will be to his disadvantage. ~ up, short of money. ~ up for, in want of; at a loss for: He's ~ up for ideas (for something to do). be ~ put to it ~ (pressed), in difficult circumstances. be ~ hit, suffer severely (e.g. by financial losses, by the death of sb. much loved). 4. so as to be ~ (def. 1), solid: boil eggs ~; ~-boiled eggs; a ~-boiled woman, (fig.) one lacking in the gentler feelings; one without sentiment or sympathy. ~-bitten [hɑ:d'bitn] adj. (of a person) stubborn in fighting. 5. closely; immediately: follow ~ after (upon, behind) someone. ~ by, close by: not far away.

hard en ['hɑ:dn] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) make or become hard, strong, hardy, etc.: ~ steel; ~ the heart; a ~ed criminal, one who is callous, who shows no signs of shame or repentance; ~ the body (e.g. by taking exercise); ~ed to (made accustomed to and no longer shocked by) the horrors of war. ~ off, (VP 10, 21) (of young plants, esp. seedlings) make or become hardy and ready for planting out in the open.

har di hood ['hɑ:dihud] n. [U] boldness; audacity.

hard ly ['hɑ:dli] adv. 1. only just; not quite; scarcely: I ~ know her, have only a very slight acquaintance with her. We had ~ got (H~ had we got) into the country when it began to rain. (Cf. no sooner . . . than.) I'm so tired I can ~ walk. 2. (used to suggest that sth. is improbable, unlikely, or unreasonable): He can ~ have arrived yet. You can ~ expect me to lend you money again. 3. (neg. in meaning) almost no; almost not: He ~ ever (very seldom) goes to bed before midnight. (Cf. His wife almost always goes to bed before midnight.) I need ~ say (it is almost unnecessary for me to say) that I am innocent. There's ~ any coal left. H~ anybody (very few people) came to the meeting. 4. (from ¹*hard*, def. 4) severely: ~ treated. 5. (from ¹*hard*, def. 6) with effort or difficulty. (For this sense the adv. hard is usually preferred: cf. hard-earned money and salary that was hardly (i.e. only just, barely) earned.) hard ship [ˈhɑːdʃip] n. 1. [C] circumstance that causes discomfort or suffering: the ~s borne by soldiers during a war. 2. [U] severe suffering: bear ~ without complaint.

har dy [ˈhɑːdi] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. strong; able to endure suffering or hardship; (of plants) able to endure frost without being injured: A few ~ men broke the ice on the lake and had a swim. 2. bold; ready to face danger. har di ly adv. har di ness n.

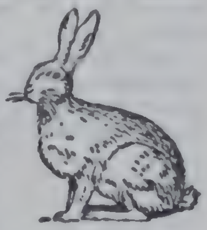
hare [hɛə*] n. fast-running field animal with long ears and a divided upper lip, like but larger than a rabbit. ~ and hounds, paper-chase, a game in which two persons called the ~s run across country dropping torn-up bits of paper and are followed by others, called 'hounds', who try to catch them. run with the ~ and hunt with the hounds, try to keep the favour of both sides in a dispute; play a double game. mad as a (March) ~, very wild. ˈ~bell n. round-leaved plant with blue bell-like flowers (in Scotland called bluebell). ˈ~-ˈbrained adj. rash; wild. ˈ~lip n. person's upper lip divided (from birth) like that of a ~.



A hare

ha rem [ˈhɛərəm] n. women's part of a Muslim household; women living in it.

har i cot [ˈhærikou] n. (also ~ bean) kidney bean; French bean.

hark [hɑːk] v.i. 1. (chiefly imper.) listen (to). 2. ~ back to, go back to (sth. talked of earlier).

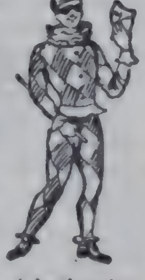
har le quin [ˈhɑːlikwin] n. character in Italian comedy; mute character in English pantomime, full of tricks and very lively; (hence) person fond of pra jokes; buffoon. ~ade [ˌhɑːlikwiˈ n. part of a pantomime in which plays the chief part.



A harlequin

Har ley Street [ˈhɑːli ˈstriːt] n. Lon street where many fashionable doc and surgeons live.

har lot [ˈhɑːlət] n. (archaic, or as a t of abuse) prostitute.

harm [hɑːm] n. [U] damage; injury will do you no ~. He probably no ~, did not intend to hurt anyone anyone's feelings). There's no ~ in staying up late occasionally, no r why you should not do so. out ~'s way, in a place of safety. (VP 1) cause ~ to: It hasn't ~ed has it? ~ful adj. causing ~ ~ful ly adv. ~less adj. 1. not do ~ (to): ~less snakes. 2. innoce inoffensive: Several ~less spectators wounded during the rioting. ~less adv.

har mon ic [hɑːˈmɔnik] n. (music) hig note produced (by vibration of strin with a note that is played, and havi a fixed relation to it.

har mon i ca [hɑːˈmɔnikə] n. name several musical instruments, esp. Gt. Brit.) the *mouth-organ.

har mo nious [hɑːˈmounjəs] adj. pleasingly or satisfactorily arranged: a group of buildings. 2. in agreement; fr from ill feeling: ~ families (neighbour 3. sweet-sounding; tuneful. ~ly adv.

har mo nium [hɑːˈmounjəm] n. music instrument with a keyboard like a sm organ, but with metal reeds instead pipes.

har mon ize [ˈhɑːmənaiz] v.t. & i. (VP 1) bring (one thing) into harmo (with another); (music) add notes (to melody) to make chords. 2. (VP 21) in harmony or agreement: colours th ~ well (with other things, with ea other). har mon i za tion [ˌhɑːmən ˈzeiʃən] n.

har mo ny [ˈhɑːməni] n. 1. [U] agre ment (of feeling, interests, opinions, etc There was not much ~ in internation affairs during those years. His tastes a in ~ with mine, we share the same similar tastes. 2. [C & U] (instan or example of) pleasing combination related things: the ~ of colour in natu (e.g. the greens, browns, etc., of tre in autumn). 3. (music) [C & U] pleasi combination of notes sounded togeth to make chords.

har ness [ˈhɑːnis] n. (collective sing [U]) all the leather work and met work by which a horse is controlled an fastened to the cart, waggon, ploug etc., that it pulls. in ~, (fig.) doing one regular work. die in ~, die while e gaged in one's regular work, not aft retiring. work (run) in double ~

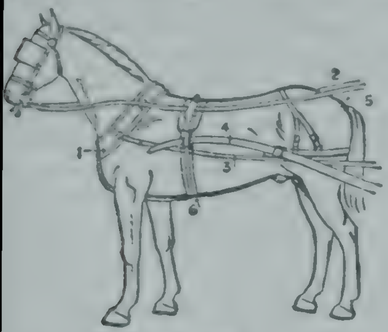
rk with a partner, or with a husband wife. v.t. (VP 1) 1. put ~ on (a horse). use (a river, waterfall, etc.) to produce p. electric) power.



Harness
1. The collar
2. The reins
3. A trace
4. A shaft
5. The crupper
6. The girth
(See also the illustr. at bridle.)

A harpist

p [hɑːp] n. stringed musical instru-ent played with the fingers. v.i. 1. ay the ~. 2. (fig.) ~ (sth.), talk repeatedly tiresomely about: She always ~ing on her isfortunes. ~er, ~ist . player on the ~.

r poon [hɑːˈpuːn] n. ear on a rope, thrown hand or fired from a n, for catching whales. t. strike with a ~.

rp si chord [ˈhɑːpsi-ːd] n. piano-like in-rument used from the 16th to the 18th nturies (and today for music of these nturies).

r py [ˈhɑːpi] n. 1. (old Greek stories) uel creature with a woman's face and bird's wings and claws. 2. cruel, eedy, hard-hearted woman.

r ri dan [ˈhæridən] n. worn-out, bad-mpered old woman.

r ri er [ˈhæriə*] n. dog used for hunt-g hares; (pl.) pack of these with ntsmen.

r row [ˈhærou] n. heavy frame with etal teeth or sks for break-g up ground ter plough-g. v.t. (VP 1) ll a ~ over field, etc.); g.) distress he feelings): ~ing tale of isfortunes.

A harrow

r ry [ˈhæri] v.t. (VP 1) 1. lay waste d plunder; attack frequently: The ikings used to ~ the English coast. annoy or worry: money-lenders who ~ eir debtors.

harsh [hɑːʃ] adj. 1. rough and disagreeable, esp. to the senses: a ~ texture (voice, contrast); ~ to the ear. 2. stern, cruel, severe: a ~ judge (judgement, punishment). ~ly adv. ~ness n.

hart [hɑːt] n. male of (esp. red) deer; stag.

har tal [ˈhɑːtɑːl] n. (in India) closing of shops as a mark of sorrow or for a political reason.

har um-scar um [ˈhɛərəmˈskɛərəm] n. reckless, impulsive person.

har vest [ˈhɑːvist] n. 1. (season for) cutting or gathering in of grain and other food crops; quantity obtained: this year's wheat ~; a succession of good ~s. 2. (fig.) consequences of action or behaviour: reap the ~ of one's hard work, be rewarded for it. ~ festival, service of thanksgiving in Christian churches after the ~ has been gathered. ~ *home n. festival given by farmers to their workers when the ~ is gathered in. ~ moon, full moon nearest to the autumn equinox. v.t. (VP 1) cut, gather, dig up, a crop: ~ rice (potatoes). ~er n. 1. person who ~s; reaper. 2. machine for cutting and gathering grain, esp. the kind that also binds the grain into sheaves or (combine-~er) threshes the grain.

has, see have.

has-been [ˈhæzbiːn] n. (colloq.) person who, or thing which, has lost a quality, skill, etc., formerly possessed; sb. or sth. now out of date.

hash [hæʃ] v.t. (VP 1, 10 with up) chop or cut up (meat) into small pieces. n. 1. [U] (dish of) cooked meat, ~ed and re-cooked. 2. (fig.) make a ~ of sth., do it very badly, make a mess of it. settle sb.'s ~, deal with him in such a way that he gives no more trouble.

hash ish [ˈhæʃiʃ], hash eesh [ˈhæʃiːʃ] n. [U] dried hemp leaves made into a drug for smoking or chewing.

hasn't, has not. See have.

hasp [hɑːsp, hæsp] n. metal fastening for a door, window, etc., used with a staple. (See the illustration at padlock.) has sock [ˈhæsək] n. cushion for kneeling on (e.g. in church).

haste [heist] n. [U] quickness of movement; hurry: Why all this ~? Why are you in such a hurry? He went off in great ~. Make ~! Hurry! More ~, less speed, (prov.) the more you hurry, the less real progress you are likely to make.

hast en [ˈheisn] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 23, 25) move or act with speed: ~ away (home, to the office); ~ to tell sb. the good news. 2. (VP 1) cause (sb.) to hurry; cause (sth.) to be done or to happen quickly or earlier: Artificial heating ~s the growth of plants.

hast y [ˈheisti] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. said, made, or done (too) quickly: ~ preparations for flight; a ~ departure; ~ words that are regretted afterwards. 2. quick-tempered: a ~ old colonel. hast i ly adv. hast i ness n.

hat [hæt] n. covering for the head, usu. (for men) with a brim, worn out of doors. (Cf. cap and bonnet without a brim.) send (pass) round the hat, ask for, collect, contributions of money (usu. for sb. who has suffered a loss). talk through one's hat, (sl.) talk foolishly. a bad hat, (sl.) bad person. ˈhat-band n. band round the crown of a hat, above the brim. ˈhat-pin n. long pin used (formerly) by women to fasten a hat to the hair. hat trick n. (cricket) taking of three wickets with successive balls. ˈhat ful n. as much as a hat holds. ˈhat less adj. not wearing a hat. ˈhatter n. man who makes or sells hats: as mad as a hatter, very mad.

¹hatch [hætʃ] n. 1. (movable covering over an) opening in a door or floor, esp. (~way) one in a ship's deck through which cargo is moved; opening in a wall between two rooms, esp. a kitchen and a dining room, through which dishes, etc., are passed. under ~es, below deck. 2. lower half of a divided door.

A hatch (def. 1)

²hatch [hætʃ] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 21) (cause to) break out (of an egg): ~ an egg; ~ chickens. When will the eggs ~? Three chickens ~ed today. Don't count your chickens before they're ~ed, rely too much upon sth. which is uncertain. 2. (VP 1) think out and produce (a plot, etc.). ~er y n. place for ~ing (esp. fish): a trout-~ery. (Cf. incubator, for chicks.)

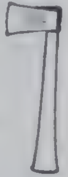
hatch et [ˈhætʃit] n. light, short-handled axe. bury the ~, stop quarrelling or fighting and be friendly.



A hatchet

hatch way [ˈhætʃwei] n. see ¹hatch.

hate [heit] v.t. (VP 1, 2, 3, 11, 17B) have a violent dislike of or for; (colloq.) regret: My cat ~s dogs. I ~ to trouble you. I ~ you to be troubled. She ~s getting to the theatre late. She ~s anyone listening while she's telephoning. n. [U] extreme or violent dislike or ill-will: He was filled with ~ for his opponent.

hate ful [ˈheitful] adj. exciting hatred or strong dislike: The sight of food was ~ to the seasick girl. ~ly adv.

hath [hæθ] (arch.) 3rd sing. pres. t. of have.

hat red [ˈheitrid] n. hate; violent dislike (of, for): He looked at me with ~.

hat ter [ˈhætə*] n. see hat.
hau berk [ˈhɔːbəːk] n. coat of chain (as worn by soldiers in the Middle haugh ty [ˈhɔːti] adj. (-ier, -iest) gant; having or showing a high op of oneself: The nobles used to tr
common people with ~ contempt. hau ti ly adv. haugh ti ness n.
haul [hɔːl] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 10, 21, 24) pull (with effort or force):
~ing logs; ~ timber to a saw-mill;
(upon) a rope. They ~ed the boat u beach. ~ sb. over the coals, scold severely (for wrongdoing). ~ one's flag (colours), surrender.
[C] 1. act of ~ing; distance along w
sth. is ~ed: long ~s on the rail
2. amount gained as the result of
esp. of fish ~ed up in a net: a good fish; (fig.): The thief made a goo what he stole was valuable.
haul age [ˈhɔːlidʒ] n. [U] transport goods): the road ~ industry, concer with carriage of goods by road in lor etc.; a ~ contractor.
haul ier [ˈhɔːljə*] n. person who o lorries, and contracts to carry good road.
haulm [hɔːm] n. (collect. sing.) stems stalks of peas, beans, potatoes, (esp. after the crop is gathered).
haunch [hɔːntʃ] n. (in man and anim part of the body round the hips between the ribs and the thighs:
dog was sitting on its ~es.
haunt [hɔːnt] v.t. (VP 1) 1. visit, with, habitually or repeatedly; (esp ghosts and spirits) appear repeate in: The old castle is said to be ~ed.
you don't help me, I'll ~ you after death. 2. return to the mind repeate A wrong-doer is constantly ~ed by of discovery. n. place frequently vis by the person(s) named: a ~ of crimin revisit the ~s of one's schooldays, places where one spent one's time t haut boy [ˈoubɔi, ˈhou-] n. = oboe.
hau teur [ouˈtəː*, (Fr.) otœːr] haughtiness of manner.
Ha va na [həˈvænə] n. cigar made a or in Cuba.
¹have v.t. (inf. [hæv], often [hæf] be to; pres. t., I, you, we, they, have [h həv]; I've [aiv], you've [juːv], [wiːv], they've [ðeiv]; he, she, it [hæz, həz]; he's [hiːz], she's [ʃiːz], [its]; haven't [ˈhævnt], hasn't [ˈhæ p.t., I, we, you, they, he, she, it had [h həd, əd]; I'd [aid], you'd [juːd], [wiːd], they'd [ðeid]; he'd [hiːd], [ʃiːd], it'd [ˈitəd]; hadn't [ˈhædnt];
p. having [ˈhæviŋ], p.p. had [hæd, əd, d]) I. aux. v. 1. used in forming perfect tenses and the perfect inf.: (I've) finished. He has (He's) gone.
you done it? Yes, I ~. No, I ~n' shall ~ done it by next week. You ~ done it. 2. By inverting the finite nd with the subject, the equivalent of n if-clause is obtained: Had I (= if I ad) known, . . . (see if, 2). II. ano- nalous v., conjugated (for the neg. and nterr. forms) without the aux. v. do in ood British usage, but not always in merican usage; in colloq. style often ith got (e.g. I've got for I ~). 1. (in entences that can be recomposed with he v. be): (VP 1) How many days has = are there in) June? I ~ no doubt = there is no doubt in my mind) that . . Has the house (= is there, with the ouse) a good garden? 2. (VP 1) possess r show as a mental or physical characeristic (often equivalent to a construcion with be): Has she blue eyes or brown yes (= are her eyes blue or brown)? He hasn't a good memory (= his memory sn't good). (Notes: In American usage aux. do is common: Does she ~ blue yes? Do you ~ a good memory? In British colloq. style, the p.p. got is ommon: Has she got blue eyes?) 3. VP 1) used to indicate various conexions: How many children ~ they? He hasn't many friends here. (The notes on British and American usage apply here, too.) 4. Followed by an abstract noun and an inf., in a construction equivalent to be and an adj. and an inf.: Will you ~ the kindness (goodness, etc.) (= please be kind or good enough) to hand me that book. How dare you ~ the impudence (= be so impudent as) to say that! Had she (also Did she have) the cheek (= was she cheeky enough) to ask for more money? 5. (in colloq. style usu. with got) hold or keep in the mind; exercise some quality of the mind; experience (some emotion): H~ you (got) any idea where he lives? What reason ~ you (got) for thinking that he's dishonest? What kind of holiday ~ you in mind? 6. (in the inf. only and always stressed) (VP 1, 5, 6) allow; endure: I won't ~ such conduct. I won't ~ you saying such things about my sister. III. As a full vb., used in the neg. and interr. with or without the aux. v. do. The distinction is not always clear and there can be recommendations only, not rules. When the reference is to sth. regular or habitual, the use of do for neg. & interr. is to be preferred. When the reference is to a particular occasion, constructions without do, and, in colloq style, with got, are to be preferred. 1. Expressing obligation: Do you often ~ to go to the dentist's? H~ you (got) to go to the dentist's today? The children don't ~ to go to school on Sundays, do they? You ~n't (got) to go to school today, ~ you? He's so rich that he doesn't ~ to work. We had to leave early. Had you (or Did you ~) to leave early? These shoes will ~ to be repaired. (Cf. must, need not.) 2. In various senses as shown in these examples: Do you often ~ (= suffer from) colds? H~ you (got) (= are you suffering from) a cold now? Do you ~ (i.e. as a rule, generally) much time for reading? H~ you (got) (i.e. now, or on the occasion specified) time to come with me? Has your dog (got) any puppies now? How often does your dog ~ (i.e. give birth to) puppies? IV. non-anomalous v. (neg. & interr. always with the aux. v. do) 1. (VP 1) take; receive; accept; obtain: There was nothing to be had (= obtained). Do you ~ tea or coffee for breakfast? What shall we ~ for dinner? 2. (VP 1) with a noun, so that have and the noun are equivalent to a v. identical with the noun: ~ a swim (walk, wash, rest). Let me ~ a try (look). Go and ~ a lie down. Do you ever ~ dreams? 3. (VP 1) experience; undergo: We didn't ~ much difficulty. Did you ~ a good holiday? You've never had it so good, never before experienced such a high standard of living, enjoyed such prosperity, etc. 4. (VP 9) cause (sb. to do sth.). (Cf. get, def. 14.): You'd better ~ that bad tooth pulled out. I must ~ these shoes repaired. When did you last ~ your hair cut? (See also def. 6 below.) 5. (VP 5) want: I would ~ you know that . . ., I want you to know that . . . What would you ~ me do? I wouldn't ~ you do that, should prefer you not to do it. 6. (VP 9) be effected in some way; experience or suffer: He had his pocket picked, sb. stole sth. from his pocket. Charles II had his head cut off. The Colonel had two horses shot under him. 7. (VP 10) (with advv.) ~ sth. back: You shall ~ it back (it will be returned to you) next month. Let me ~ it back soon. ~ sb. down, have sb. as a visitor or guest: We're having the Greens down (e.g. from London) for a few days. ~ sb. in, have him in the room, house, etc.: We shall be having the decorators in next month (i.e. the men will be decorating the house). ~ sth. in, have in the house, etc.: H~ we enough coal in for the winter? ~ sth. on, (a) be wearing: He had nothing on (i.e. was naked). (b) ~ an engagement: I ~ nothing on tomorrow evening, I am free. ~ sb. on, (colloq.) play a trick on him, deceive him. (Cf. 8 below.) ~ sth. out, cause sth. to be out: ~ a tooth out. ~ one's sleep out, continue sleeping until one wakes naturally: Let her ~ her sleep out. ~ it out with sb., reach an understanding about sth. by frank discussion. ~ sb. up, (a) have sb. as a visitor (up to one's room, up from the country, etc.). (b) (usu. passive voice) cause sb. to appear before a magistrate, in a court of law, etc.: (colloq.) He was had up (i.e. was prosecuted) for exceeding the speed limit. 8. (VP 1) (a) trick; deceive: I'm afraid you've been had. Mind he doesn't ~ you. (b) beat; win an advantage over: He had me in that argument. 9. (with it and a clause) express; maintain: Rumour has it (There is a rumour) that the Prime Minister is going to resign. He will ~ it (he insists) that our plan is impracticable. . . . as Plato has it (used when giving a quotation, etc.). 10. ~ at (sb.), (chiefly imper.) attack (him). Let him ~ it (i.e. punish him, give him your frank views, etc., according to the situation). ~ to do with, see ^{1}do, III, def. 15.

^{2}have [hæv] n. 1. the ~s and the ~-nots, the rich and the poor (of people and countries). 2. (colloq.) swindle: What a ~!

ha ven ['heivn] n. harbour; (fig.) place of safety or rest.

hav er sack ['hævəsæk] n. canvas bag, esp. as used by soldiers, for carrying food, etc.

hav oc ['hævək] n. [U] widespread damage; destruction: The floods caused terrible ~. play ~ with (among), make ~ of, destroy or injure.

^{1}haw [hɔ:] n. fruit (a red berry) of the hawthorn bush.

^{2}haw v.i. & n. see hum.

haw-haw ['hɔ:hɔ:] n. & int. boisterous laugh.

A hawk

^{1}hawk [hɔ:k] n. strong, swift, keen-sighted bird of prey. '~-eyed adj. having keen sight.

^{2}hawk [hɔ:k] v.t. (VP 1, 10) go from house to house, street to street, with goods for sale; (fig.) spread about: ~ news (gossip) about. ~er n. person who ~s goods (usu. from a barrow or cart). (Cf. pedlar.) haw ser ['hɔ:zə*] n. thick, heavy rope; thin steel cable (used on ships).

haw thorn ['hɔ:θɔ:n] n. thorny shrub or tree with white or red blossom and small red berries (called haws), often used for hedges in Great Britain.

hay [hei] n. [U] grass cut and dried for use as animal food. make hay, turn it over for exposure to the sun; (hence) 'hay-ˌmaker, 'hay-ˌmaking nn. make hay of, throw into confusion. make hay while the sun shines, (prov.) make the earliest use of one's opportunities. 'haycock n. cone-shaped pile of hay in a field, to be carted away when dry. 'hay-ˌfever n. disease affecting the nose and throat, caused by pollen (dust) from various plants. 'hayfork n. long-handled two-pronged fork for turning and lifting hay. 'hayrick, 'haystack nn. large pile of hay firmly packed for storing, with a pointed c ridged top. 'haywire n. wire for tyin up bales of hay. predic. adj. (colloq out of order: excited or distracted.

haz ard ['hæzəd] n. 1. [C] risk; dange a life full of ~s. at all ~s, whatever th risks may be. 2. [U] game at dice, wit complicated chances. v.t. (VP 1) take the risk of; expose to dange Rock-climbers sometimes ~ their live
2. venture to make: ~ a guess (remark ~ous ['hæzədəs] adj. risky: a ~ou climb.

haze [heiz] n. [U] thin mist; (fig.) ment confusion or uncertainty. haz y ad (-ier, -iest) misty: hazy weather; (fig vague; slightly confused; uncertai hazy about what to do next. haz i ly ad haz i ness n.

ha zel ['heizl] n. [C] small tree wit edible nuts; [U] colour of the shell of th nut, reddish brown (esp. of eyes).

H-bomb ['eitʃbɔm] n. hydrogen bomb.

he [hi:] pron. 1. male person or anim previously referred to: Where's you brother? He's in Paris. 2. (as prefix male: he-goat. 'he-'man, masterful c virile man. 3. (liter. style) he who, th one who, anyone who.

^{1}head [hed] n. 1. that part of the bod which contains the eyes, nose, mout and brain: They cut his ~ off. Hit hi on the ~. (Note: the ~, not his ~.) cost him his ~ (his life). Many nobl lost their ~s during the French Revolu tion. 2. (as a measure) ~'s length: Th Queen's horse won by a ~. Tom is talle than Harry by a ~. Smith is ~ an shoulders above any other member of th staff, (fig.) is considerably superior intelligence or ability. 3. that sid of a coin on which the ~ of a rule appears, the other side being tail: H~ or tails? (usu. pl. when spinning a coin decide sth. by chance) H~s—I wi be unable to make ~ or tail of sth be unable to understand it in the leas 4. person: the crowned ~s of Europe, th kings and queens: 50 dinners at 10 a ~. 5. (pl. unchanged) unit of a floc or herd: 50 ~ of cattle; a large ~ (num ber) of game. 6. intellect; imagination power to reason: He made the story u out of his own ~, it was an origin story, not one that he had heard read. 7. natural aptitude or talen
He has a good ~ for business. 8. sth like a ~ in form or position, e.g. th part that is pressed (the ~ of a pin struck (the ~ of a nail), used for strikin (the ~ of a hammer) or for cutting (th ~ of an axe). 9. top: at the ~ of the page standing at the ~ of the staircase; *at the ~
of the poll,* having received most vote at an election. 10. upper end: the ~ c a lake, the end at which a river enters it the ~ waters of the Nile, its sources an per streams; the ~ of a bed, where a on's ~ rests. 11. (of plants) mass leaves or flowers at the top of a stem stalk: a fine ~ of cabbage; a ~ of let- e; a clover ~; a flower ~. 12. (often rib.) ruler; chief; position of com-nd: ~s of government (e.g. the sident of the U.S.A., the Prime nister of Gt. Brit.) (cf. summit); the of the family; at the ~ of the class, at e top, having gained the highest rks; the ~ waiter; at the ~ of the ny; the ~ (or ~master) of the school.

. front; front part: at the ~ of the ocession; marching at the ~ of the giment. The ship was down by the ~,
th the bows deeper in the water than e stern. 14. (chiefly in proper names) pe or promontory (cf. headland):
achy H~. 15. body of water kept at certain height (e.g. for a water-mill a hydro-electric power station); essure or force (per unit of area) of a nfined body of steam, etc. 16. main vision in a discourse, essay, etc.: a ech arranged under five ~s; treat a estion under several ~s. 17. foam on quid that has been poured out, esp.
quor: the ~ on a glass of beer. 18. point sing from a boil or other swelling on e flesh, esp. when the boil is ripening d about to burst: The boil came to ~. come to a ~, (fig.) reach a crisis, lminate: Affairs have come to a ~.
. (various phrases) keep one's ~,
ep calm. lose one's ~, become consed or excited. be weak in the ~, be t very intelligent. off one's ~, (a) azy; mad. (b) wildly excited. have good ~ on one's shoulders, ave practical ability, common sense,
c. Two ~s are better than one, rov.) the opinions, advice, etc., of a cond person are valuable. an old ~ young shoulders, wisdom in a oung person. put sth. into a per- on's ~, suggest it to him. put sth.
ut of one's ~, stop thinking about it;
ive up the idea: You'd better put that lea of marriage out of your ~. put sth.
ut of sb.'s ~, make him forget it:
omething put it out of my ~. take sth.
nto one's ~, come to believe it: He ok it into his ~ that I was secretly pposing him. lay (put) our ~s to- ether, consult together. talk a per- on's ~ off, weary him with talk. talk ver a person's ~ (over the ~s of ne's audience), talk in a way that too difficult to understand. (be pro- oted) over another's ~, over the s of others, before another or others ith prior or stronger claims. (stand, c.) on one's ~, with feet in the r: I could do it on my ~, (sl.) it is very
asy. ~ over heels, topsy-turvy; (fig.)
eeply or completely: ~ over heels in debt (in love). keep one's ~ above water, (fig.) out of debt. eat one's ~ off, (of a horse) eat a great deal and do little work. give (a horse) his ~, allow him to go freely; (fig., of a person) leave him to act freely, unchecked. go to the ~, (a) (of liquor) intoxicate: The whisky went to his ~. (b) excite: His successes have gone to his ~, made him over-confident, conceited, etc. make ~ (or ~way) against, resist successfully. on your (his, etc.) ~, (of vengeance or guilt): On your ~ be it, the guilt will rest on you, the vengeance will fall on you. 20. (compounds) ˈ~ache n. [C & U] (a) continuous pain in the ~: suffer from ~ache(s); have a bad ~ache. (b) (sl.) troublesome problem: more ~aches for the Minister of Labour. ˈ~band n. band worn round the ~. ˈ~dress n. covering for the ~, esp. woman's ornamental kind. ˈ~gear n. hat, cap, ~dress. ˈ~-ˌhunter n. savage who cuts off and keeps as trophies the ~s of his enemies. ˈ~land n. promontory, cape. ˈ~light n. large lamp on the front of a locomotive, motor-car, etc. ˈ~line n. newspaper heading; line at the top of a page containing title, etc.; (pl.) summary of broadcast news: 'Here are the news ~lines.' ˈ~man [-mæn] n. chief man of a village, tribe, etc. ˈ~(-)ˈmaster (ˈmistress) nn. principal master (mistress) of a school. ˈ~-ˈon adj. & adv. (of collisions) with the front parts (of vehicles) meeting: a ~-on collision; meet (strike) ~-on. ˈ~phones n. pl. receivers fitting over the ~ (for radio, etc.); ear-phones. ˈ~piece n. (a) helmet. (b) intelligence; brains. ˈ~ˈquarters n. pl. place from which (e.g. police, army) operations are controlled. ˈ~-room n. = clearance (def. 2). ˈ~set n. ~phones. ˈ~ship n. position of a ~master or ~-mistress: apply for a ~ship. ˈ~stall n. part of a bridle or halter that fits round the ~. ˈ~stone n. stone set up at the ~ of a grave. ˈ~way n. [U] progress. ~ wind n. one that blows directly into one's face, or against the course of a ship, etc. ˈ~-word n. word used as a heading, esp. the first word, in heavy type, of a dictionary entry. ~ed adj. (in compounds) three-~ed, having three ~s; long-~ed, having a long skull. ~less adj. having no ~.

Headphones

²head [hed] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) be at the head or top of: ~ a procession; ~ a revolt (rebellion), act as the leader. Smith's name ~ed the list. 2. (VP 1) strike, touch, with the head (e.g. the ball in football). 3. (VP 10) get in front of, so as to turn back or aside: ~ off a flock of sheep (to prevent them from going the wrong way); ~ off (fig., prevent) a quarrel. 4. (VP 23) move in the direction indicated: ~ south; ~ straight for home; (fig.) be ~ing for disaster.

head er ['hedə*] n. fall, dive, or jump with the head first: take a ~ into a swimming-pool.

head ing ['hediŋ] n. word or words at the top of a section of printed matter (to show the subject of what follows).

head long ['hedlɔŋ] adv. & adj. 1. with the head first: fall ~. 2. thoughtless(ly) and hurried(ly): rush ~ into danger; a ~ decision.

head strong ['hedstrɔŋ] adj. self-willed, obstinate.

head y ['hedi] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. acting, done, on impulse; headstrong. 2. (of alcoholic drink) having a quick effect on the senses; quickly causing intoxication: a ~ wine; (fig.) (e.g. of sudden success) having an exciting effect.

heal [hi:l] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 21, 23) (esp. of wounds) (cause to) become healthy and sound: The wound is not yet ~ed, i.e. the new skin has not yet covered it. The wound ~ed slowly. It soon ~ed up (over). 2. (VP 1) (arch. or bibl.) restore (a person) to health; cure (a disease): ~ sb. of a disease (cure being much more usual). See also faith ~ing*. 3. (VP 1) (fig.) ~ a quarrel, end it. Time ~s all sorrows. ~er n. person or thing that ~s: Time is a great ~er. ~ing adj. ~ing ointments.

health [helθ] n. 1. [U] condition of the body or the mind: have (be in) good (poor) ~. Fresh air and exercise are good for the ~ (more colloq. good for you). There is a Ministry of H~ (with medical officers of ~) in Great Britain. 2. [U] (esp.) state of being well and free from illness. 3. drink a ~ to (sb.), (as a social custom) raise one's glass and wish good ~ to. ~ful adj. ~-giving; good for the ~.

health y ['helθi] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. having good health; well, strong, and able to resist disease: The children look very ~. The children are quite ~, although they have slight colds at present. (Note that well is the usual word when the reference is to a specific occasion: e.g. I hope you're quite well.) 2. likely to produce good health: a ~ climate; a ~ way of living. 3. showing good health: a ~ appetite. health i ly adv. in a ~ way: arrive home healthily tired.

heap [hi:p] n. [C] 1. number of things, mass of material, piled up: a big ~ of books; a ~ of sand (a sand ~); building material lying about in ~s. be struck (knocked) all of a ~, (colloq.) be overwhelmed; be thrown into a state of bewilderment or confusion. 2. (colloq.) large number; plenty: We have ~s of books (time). She has been there ~s times, very often. There is ~s more could say on this question. 3. (as adv colloq.) much: feeling ~s better. v.
(VP 1, 10, 18) 1. put in a ~; ~ (u stones; ~ up riches. 2. fill; load: ~ plate with food; ~ favours upon a person ~ a person with favours; a ~ed spoonfu more than a level spoonful.

hear [hiə*] v.t. & i. (p.t. & p.p. hear [hə:d]) 1. (VP 1, 5, 6, 21) perceiv (sound, etc.) with the ears: Deaf peop cannot ~. I ~d someone laughing. H was ~d to groan. Did you ~ him go ou We listened but could ~ nothing. Sh doesn't (can't) ~ very well. (Note th use of can-could when an effort of pe ception is implied.) 2. (VP 1, 5, 11, 2 be informed or told; learn (about); ge news, a letter, etc., (from): Have yo ~d the news? How often do you ~ fro (get a letter, etc., from) your sister? Yo will ~ about this later. I've never ~d her, I know nothing about her. I hav often ~d tell of such happenings. I' ~d say that your country is beautifu
3. (VP 1, 5, 10) listen to; pay attentio to; (of a judge in a law-court) try case): You'd better ~ what they have
say. The court ~d the evidence. Whic judge will ~ the case? ~ a person ou listen to the end: Don't judge me befo I've finished my explanation: ~ me ou please. not ~ of, (usu. with will, would refuse to consider or allow: I won't ~ such a thing. She wouldn't ~ of it.
H~! H~! used as a form of cheerin to express approval or agreement, bu also ironically. ~er n. person who ~
esp. a member of an audience.

hear ing ['hiəriŋ] n. 1. [U] perception b sound: Her ~ is poor, she is rather dea He's hard of ~, deaf. '~-*aid n. elec tronic device for helping deaf people t hear. 2. [U] distance within which on can hear: In some countries it is unwis to talk about politics in the ~ of stranger where strangers may hear. within (ou of) ~, near enough (too far off) to hea or be heard: Please keep within ~. 3. [ opportunity of being heard (esp. in sel defence): give sb. a fair ~, listen to hi impartially; gain a ~.

heark en ['hɑ:kən] v.i. (liter.) listen (to) hear say ['hiəsei] n. [U] common talk rumour: I don't believe it; it's merely ~ H~ evidence is not accepted in law-court hearse [hə:s] n. carriage, car, for carryin a coffin at a funeral.

heart [hɑ:t] n. 1. that part of the bod which pumps blood through the system
When a man's ~ stops beating, he die
He had a ~ attack, a sudden illness wi irregular and violent beating of the ~
2. centre of the emotions, esp. love deepest part of one's nature: a man a kind ~; a kind-~ed man; have one's

The heart (def. 1)
Ao. aorta Au. auricle
V. ventricle

the right place, have true or kind lings: have one's ~ in one's work, be terested in it and nd of it; break a rson's ~, make m very sad; lose e's ~ to (sb. or h.), become very nd of; fall in love ith; set one's ~ on h. (on doing sth., c.), be bent on, very nxious (to have, do, etc.); take h. to ~, be much ffected by it; grieve ver it; have sth. at ~, be deeply inter- ted in it, anxious to support or en- urage it; lay sth. to ~, think about seriously; cry one's ~ out, pine or rood over sth., esp. in secret; do one's good, cause one to feel encouraged, heerful, etc.; wear one's ~ upon one's eeve, show one's feelings quite openly; ave one's ~ in one's mouth, be badly rightened; have one's ~ in one's boots, e greatly discouraged, feel hopeless. ave the ~ to, (usu. neg., or interr. with n-could) be hard-hearted or unsym- athetic enough to: How can you have he ~ to drown such darling little kittens? et (learn, know) something by ~, rom memory. take ~, be confident. ose ~, be discouraged. a change of ~, hange that makes one a better person. fter one's own ~, of the sort one very nuch likes or approves of. at ~, in ne's ~ of ~s, in one's inmost feelings. 3. central part: in the ~ of the forest; he ~ of the matter, the essence; get to the ~ of a subject (mystery); a cabbage with good solid ~. 4. (of land) fertility: in ood ~, in good condition; out of ~, in oor condition. 5. ~-shaped thing, esp. he design used on playing-cards: the en (queen, etc.) of ~s. H~s are trumps. . (as a term of endearment to a person) ear ~; sweet~. 7. (compounds) ˈ~-che n. deep sorrow. ˈ~beat n. [C] novement of the ~ (about 70 beats a ninute). ˈ~('s)-blood n. life-blood; fe. ˈ~break n. [U] overwhelming orrow. ˈ~-ˌbreaking adj. causing ~break. ˈ~-ˌbroken adj. crushed by ~break. ˈ~burn n. burning sensation n the lower part of the chest, caused by ndigestion. ˈ~ˌburning n. [U] (and lso in pl.) envious, discontented eeling(s), usu. caused by disappoint- nent. ˈ~-diˌsease n. disease of the ~. ~-ˌfailure n. failure of the ~ to nction. ˈ~felt adj. sincere: ~felt motion (thanks). ˈ~-ˌrending adj. ausing deep grief. ˈ~'s-ease n. (old ame for) pansy. ˈ~sick adj. low- pirited. ˈ~-strings n. pl. deepest elings of love: play upon sb.'s ~strings, touch his feelings. ˈ~-whole adj. unmoved by love (for one of the opposite sex). ~ed [ˈhɑːtid] adj. in compounds: hard-~ed; sad-~ed; faint-~ed, lacking in courage.

heart en [ˈhɑːtn] v.t. (VP 1) give courage to; cheer: ~ing news.

hearth [hɑːθ] n. floor of a fire-place; (fig.) fireside as representing the home: fight for ~ and altar, (rhetorical) in defence of one's home and religion. ˈ~-rug n. rug spread out in front of the ~.

heart i ly [ˈhɑːtili] adv. 1. with goodwill, courage, or appetite: set to work ~; eat ~. 2. very: ~ glad that . . .; ~ sick of this wet weather.

heart less [hɑːtlis] adj. unkind; without pity. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

heart y [hɑːti] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. (of feelings) sincere: give sb. a ~ welcome; give one's ~ approval (support) to a plan. 2. strong; in good health: still hale and ~ at 85. 3. (of meals, appetites) big: a ~ meal.

¹heat [hiːt] n. 1. [U] hotness: the ~ of the sun's rays. Cold is the absence of ~. She's suffering from the ~, from the hot weather. prickly ~, itching rash caused by inflammation of the sweat glands. 2. (fig., [U]) intense feeling: speak with considerable ~; in the ~ of the debate (argument). 3. [C] competition the winners of which take part in (the further competitions leading to) the finals: trial (preliminary) ~s. (See also dead ~, at dead, def. 6.) 4. [U] sexual excitement of female animals during the breeding season: be on (in, at) ~. 5. (compounds) ˈ~-flash n. intense ~ (e.g. as released from the explosion of an atomic bomb). ˈ~-spot n. mark or point on the skin with a feeling of ~ in it. ˈ~-stroke n. sudden illness. prostration, caused by excessive ~. ˈ~-wave n. period of unusually hot weather.

²heat [hiːt] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 10, 23 with up) make or become hot: ~ (up) some water; ~ up the cold meat for supper; a ~ed discussion, one during which feelings are roused; get ~ed with wine. ~ed ly adv. in a ~ed (= passionate) manner. ~er n. device for supplying warmth to a room, or for ~ing water, etc.: a gas-~er; an oil-~er.

heath [hiːθ] n. 1. [C] area of flat waste land, esp. if covered with the shrubs called ~. 2. [U & C] (kinds of) low evergreen shrub with small purple, pink, or white bell-shaped flowers (e.g. ling and heather).

hea then [ˈhiːðən] n. 1. [C] (pl. without s when used with def. art.) believer in, worshipper of, the gods of uncivilized tribes, etc.: The Saxons who invaded England in olden times were ~s. He went abroad to preach Christianity to the ~. 2. [C] person whose morals, etc., are disapproved of: They've allowed their daughter to grow up as a young ~, wild, ill-mannered, without moral training. 3. (attrib.) a ~ land; ~ customs. ~ish adj. of or like ~s; barbarous.

heath er [ˈheðə*] n. [U] variety of heath (see def. 2), with small light-purple or white flowers, common in Scotland. take to the ~, (in olden times) become an outlaw. ˈ~-ˌmixture n. (of cloth) of mixed colours supposed to be like ~.

heave [hiːv] v.t. & i. (p.t. & p.p. ~d or hove [houv]) 1. (VP 1) raise, lift up (sth. heavy): ~ the anchor. 2. (VP 1) utter: ~ a sigh (groan). 3. (VP 1, 10, colloq.) lift and throw: ~ sth. overboard; ~ a brick through a window. 4. (VP 21, 23, 24) pull (at a rope, etc.): ~ (away) at the capstan. H~ away! H~ ho! (sailors' cries when pulling at ropes or cables). 5. (VP 21, 23) rise and fall regularly; move up and down: the heaving billows (i.e. waves); a heaving bosom (e.g. as the result of sobs, or panting after a great effort). 6. (VP 10, 23) (of a sailing-ship) (cause to) come to a standstill (without anchoring or mooring): The barque hove to. 7. ~ in sight, become visible. n. act of heaving: with a mighty ~, a strong pull or throw heav en [ˈhevn] n. 1. home of God and the saints: die and go to ~. 2. (usu. with cap. H) God, Providence: It was the will of H~. H~ forbid! Thank H~ you were not killed. Also in exclamations: By H~! Good H~s! 3. place, state, of supreme happiness. 4. (often pl.) the firmament: the broad expanse of ~ (the ~s). move ~ and earth, do one's utmost. ~ward adj. ~wards adv. towards ~.

heav en ly [ˈhevnli] adj. 1. of, from, like, heaven: a ~ angel (vision); the ~ bodies (i.e. the sun, moon, planets, etc.). 2. of more than earthly excellence. 3. (colloq.) very pleasing: What ~ peaches!

heav y [ˈhevi] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. having weight (esp. great weight); difficult to lift, carry, or move: It's too ~ for me to lift. Lead is a ~ metal. ˈ~-weight n. boxer weighing 175 lb. or more. 2. of more than usual size, amount, force, etc.: ~ guns (artillery), of the largest class; ~ (abundant) crops; ~ rain; ~ work; a ~ blow, one with great force behind it; a ~ fall, one likely to cause shock; a ~ heart, made sad; ~ tidings, bad news; ~ soil, difficult to cultivate; ~ roads, muddy and sticky, difficult to travel over; a ~ sky, dark with clouds; a ~ sea, rough, with big waves; ~ food, rich, difficult to digest; ~ bread, dense, sticky, like dough; ~ going, with conditions that make progress difficult; ~ hydrogen, isotope of hydrogen with atoms twice the normal weight; ~ water, water whose molecules consist of two ~ hy gen atoms and one ordinary ox atom. 3. (of persons) slow in thought; (of writing or painting) d tedious; (of parts in a play for theatre) serious or solemn: play part of the ~ father; (of bodily inactive: ~ with sleep (wine). 4. (pounds) ˈ~-ˈhanded adj. aw clumsy. ˈ~-ˈhearted adj. me adv. heavily: The crime lies ~ on conscience. Do you ever find time h ~ on your hands, does it ever pass slowly? ˈ~-ˈladen adj. carrying a load; (fig.) having a ~ (= sad) he heav i ly adv. in a ~ manner: a hea loaded lorry. heav i ness n.

heb dom a dal [hebˈdɔmədl] adj. week H~ Council, one that meets weekly.

He bra ic [hiːˈbreiik] adj. Hebrew.

He brew [ˈhiːbruː] n. 1. Israelite; J 2. language of the ~s. adj. of the language or people.

hec a tomb [ˈhekətoum, -tuːm] n. ancient Greece) great public sacrifi blood-offering (esp. of 100 oxen).

heck le [ˈhekl] v.t. (VP 1) ask ma troublesome questions at a pu meeting: ~ the Socialist candid heck ler n.

hec tare [ˈhektɑː*] n. measure of a in the metric system (= 2·471 acres).

hec tic [ˈhektik] adj. 1. unnatura red; feverish; consumptive: ~ chee a ~ colouring. 2. (colloq.) full of exci ment and without rest: have a ~ ti lead a ~ life; for one ~ (= exciti moment.

hec to- [ˈhektou-] (in comb.) one hu dred: ~gram(me), 100 grammes.

hec tor [ˈhektə*] v.t. & i. bully; blust

¹hedge [hedʒ] n. row of bushes, t plants, etc., usu. cut level, forming boundary (for a field, garden, etc (fig.) barrier. ˈ~row n. row of bus forming a ~. ˈ~-ˌsparrow n. comm British and European bird.

²hedge [hedʒ] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10, put a hedge or (fig.) barrier roun ~ a field; ~ a person in (round) w rules and regulations, restrict his freed of action. 2. (VP 21) avoid giving direct answer to a question. 3. (VP 21) secure oneself against loss (on a b etc.) by compensating transactions the other side. 4. (VP 21) make or tr hedges.

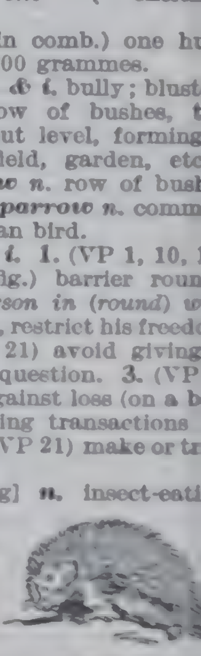
hedge hog [ˈhedʒhɔg] n. insect-eati animal covered with spines, that rolls itself up into a ball to defend itself.



A hedgehog

he don ism [ˈhiːdən-izəm, -doun-] n. [U] belief that pleasure is the chief good.

he don ist [ˈhiːdənist] n. believer in d [hi:d] v.t. (VP 1) pay attention to:

a warning; ~ what a person says.
[U] attention; notice: take no ~ of t people say; give (pay) no ~ to a rning. ~ful adj.: be more ~ful of
ice. ~less adj.: ~less of danger.

haw ['hi:'hɔ:] n. ass's bray; loud gh.

[hi:l] n. 1. back part of the human t; part of a sock, stocking, etc., ering this; part of a shoe, boot, etc., porting this: take to one's ~s, w a clean pair of ~s, run away.
k (cool) one's ~s, be kept waiting.
k up one's ~s, behave excitedly
p. to show joy at freedom). turn on e's ~, turn sharply round. ~s over ad, head over ~s, upside down, in somersault. down at ~, (of shoes) h the ~s badly worn down; (of a per-
n) wearing such shoes, or untidy and venly in appearance. come to ~,
a dog) come, walk, close behind its ster, under control; (fig.) submit to cipline and control. at ~, at (on,
on) sb.'s ~s, close behind: Famine en follows on the ~s of war. The thief n off with an angry crowd at his ~s.
der the ~ of, (fig.) crushed by:
der the ~ of a cruel invader. lay sb.
the ~s, confine or imprison him. 2.
) cad; low-down person. 3. '~tap n.
uor left at the bottom of a glass: ~taps! Drink and leave the glasses pty. v.t. (VP 1) put a ~ on: sole and a pair of shoes. (See the illustr. at sole.)

l [hi:l] v.i. & t. (VP 21, 23) (of a ship) use to) lean over to one side.

ty ['hefti] adj. (-ier, -iest) (colloq.) big d strong: a ~ farm worker.

ge mo ny [hi(:)'geməni, 'hedʒim-, egim-] n. leadership, esp. of one state a group of states.

gi ra ['hedʒirə] n. Muhammad's ght from Mecca to Medina; Muslim reckoned from this (A.D. 622).

f er ['hefə*] n. young cow that has t yet had a calf.

gh [hei] int. used to indicate various elings, call for attention, an answer,
c.

gh-ho ['hei 'hou] int. used to express sappointment, boredom, etc.

ght [hait] n. 1. measurement from ttom to top; distance to the top of
. from a level, esp. sea-level: the ~
a mountain. What is your ~, how ll are you? He is six feet in ~. 2. high ace: on the mountain ~s. 3. utmost gree: the ~ of his ambition; dressed in ~ of fashion. The storm was at its ~.
would be the ~ of folly to marry her.

ght en ['haitn] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) ake or become high(er); make greater degree: ~ a person's anger; ~ an effect; ~ed colour, the increased colour in r face (e.g. caused by emotion).

hei nous ['heinəs] adj. (of crime) very wicked; atrocious. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

heir [ɛə*] n. person with the legal right to receive a title, property, etc., when the owner dies: The eldest son is usually the ~. He is ~ to a large fortune. Who is ~ to the throne? '~-ap'parent, (pl. ~s-apparent) ~ whose right cannot be superseded by the birth of a nearer ~. '~-pre'sumptive, ~ whose right of inheritance may be lost by the birth of a nearer ~. ~ess n. ['ɛəris] female ~.

heir loom ['ɛəlu:m] n. sth. handed down in a family for several generations.

he ji ra n. = hegira.

held p.t. & p.p. of hold.

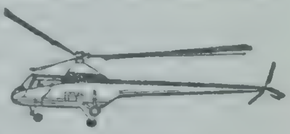
hel i cop ter ['helikɔptə*] n. kind of aircraft with horizontal revolving blades or rotors, able to take off and land in a very small space and remain stationary in the air if necessary.



A helicopter

he li o graph ['hi:liougrɑ:f] n. apparatus for sending signals by reflecting flashes of sunlight. v.t. send (a message) by ~.

he lio trope ['heljətroup] n. [U] plant with small, sweet-smelling purple flowers; colour of these.

hel i port ['helipɔ:t] n. stopping-place for helicopters (without the runways needed for ordinary aircraft): the new ~ on a platform over the River Thames.

he lium ['hi:ljəm] n. light, colourless gas that does not burn.

hell [hel] n. 1. (in some religions) place of punishment after death. 2. place, condition, of great suffering or misery: suffer ~ on earth; make sb.'s life a ~. 3. gambling ~, place where gambling takes place regularly, esp. if this causes ruin, misery, etc. 4. (in exclamations, to express anger, or to intensify a meaning) H~! What the ~ do you want? He ran like ~, very fast. ride ~ for leather, as quickly as possible. '~-cat n. spiteful or furious woman. ~ish ['heliʃ] adj. horrible; devilish.

Hel lene ['heli:n] n. subject of the modern Kingdom of Greece; person of Greek race in ancient times. Hel len ic [he'li:nik] adj. of the Greeks, their arts, etc.

hel lo ['he'lou, hə'lou] int. = hallo.

¹helm [helm] n. handle (also called tiller) or wheel for moving the rudder of a boat or ship: the man at the ~, the steersman; the ~ of state, (fig.) the government of the nation. ~s man ['helmzmən] n. man at the ~.

²helm [helm] n. (arch.) helmet.

hel met ['helmit] n. protective head-covering worn by soldiers, firemen, miners, divers (as part of a diving-suit), and some policemen. (See also sun-~.)

Helmets

hel ot ['helət] n. one of a class of slaves in ancient Sparta; (fig.) member of any social class that is despised and kept in subjection.

¹help [help] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 3, 5, 10, 18, 21) do part of the work of another person; make it easier for (sb.) to do sth. or for (sth.) to happen; do sth. for the benefit of (sb. in need): I can't lift this box alone, please ~ me. I ~ed him (to) find his things. (The omission of to is more usual in American than in British usage.) Please ~ me up (down, out, etc.) with this heavy trunk, ~ me to carry it up (etc.). Will you ~ me on with my overcoat, please, ~ me to put it on? We ~ed the injured man off with his clothes, ~ed him to get them off. Tom has to ~ his father, who is too old to work. 2. (VP 1, 18) serve with food, drink, etc.: May I ~ you to some more meat? H~ yourself to the fruit (cigarettes). Here's a spoon to ~ the gravy with. 3. (VP 1, 17A, with can, could) avoid; refrain; prevent: Don't tell him more than you can ~, more than you must. I can't ~ his being so foolish, it's not my fault, I can't prevent his foolish behaviour. I can't ~ thinking he's still alive. She burst out crying; she couldn't ~ herself. I can't ~ my husband having so many dull relations. 4. (in an oath) so ~ me God, (as I speak the truth, etc.) may God ~ me. ~er n. person who ~s. ~ing n. (esp.) portion of food served: three ~ings of pie.

²help [help] n. 1. act of helping: Thank you for your kind ~. Can I be of any ~ to you? It wasn't (of) much ~. 2. (sing. with indef. art.) person or thing that helps: Your advice was a great ~. Far from being a ~ to me, you're a hindrance. 3. remedy: There's no ~ for it (= it can't be helped). 4. (orig. U.S.A.) domestic servant: a new lady ~. The ~ hasn't come this morning.

help ful ['helpful] adj. giving help: ~ to one's friends. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

help less ['helplis] adj. 1. without help; not receiving help. 2. unable to help oneself; dependent upon others: a ~ invalid; as ~ as a baby. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

help mate ['helpmeit] n. helpful companion or partner (usu. a husband or wife).

help meet ['helpmi:t] n. helpmate.

hel ter-skel ter ['heltə'skeltə*] adv. in disorderly haste.

helve [helv] n. handle of a tool (esp. an axe).

¹hem [hem] n. border or edge of
esp. one on an article of clothing, turned and sewn down. 'hem-line (esp.) lower edge of a skirt or lower (raise) the hemline, make a etc., longer (shorter). v.t. (-mm-) (VP 1) make a hem on: hem a kerchief. 2. (VP 10 with in, round) enclose; confine; surrou hemmed in by the enemy.

²hem [hem, hm, mm] int. (also sound used to indicate doubt or or to call attention. v.i. (-mm-) this sound; hesitate in speech.

hem i sphere ['hemisfiə*] n. half sphere; half the earth: the North (Southern) ~, north (south) of equator; the Eastern ~, Europe, A Africa, and Australia.

hem lock ['hemlɔk] n. plant with fin divided leaves and small, white flow from which a poison is made. ~ spru
n. evergreen tree, common in Amer and Asia, valuable for its timber.

hem o glo bin [ˌhi:mou'gloubin] n.
colouring matter of the red corpusc of the blood.

hem o phil ia [ˌhi:mou'filjə] n. [U] (u hereditary) tendency of blood not solidify in a wound or injury, so th bleeding continues.

hem or rhage ['heməridʒ] n. [U] ble
ing; [C] escape of blood.

hem or rhoids ['hemərɔidz] n.
swelling of a vein or veins at or n
the anus; piles.

hemp [hemp] n. [U] (kinds of) plant fr which fibres are obtained for the man facture of rope and coarse cloth. ~
adj. made of ~; like ~: a ~en ro

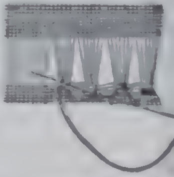
hem stitch ['hemstitʃ] v.t. & n. (h cloth, a towel, etc., with an) ornamental stitch made by pulling out some of the threads and tying the cross-threads in groups.



Hemstitching

hen [hen] n. 1. female of the common domestic fowl (cf. cock).
'henbane n. (narcotic substance obtain from a) poisonous plant. 'hen-coop coop for keeping poultry in. (See t illustr. at coop.) 'hen-house n. (u wooden) building for poultry. 'he ˌparty n. (colloq.) party for women on
(Cf. stag-party.) hen-pecked ['henpe
adj. (of a man) ruled by his wife. 'he roost n. place where fowls roost night. 2. female (of the bird name guinea-hen, pea-hen.

hence [hens] adv. 1. from here; fr
now: a week ~, in a week's time. 2.
this reason. ~forth ['hens'fɔ:θ], ~fo ward ['hens'fɔ:wəd] adv. from t time on; in future.

ich man ['henʃmən] n. (pl. -men ən]) faithful supporter, esp. a politi-supporter who obeys without ques-n the orders of his leader: the ictator and his henchmen.

n na ['henə] n. [U] (plant, kind of yptian privet, producing) reddish-own substance for colouring fingerils, dyeing the hair, etc. hen naed ənəd] adj. dyed with ~.

a tit is [ˌhepə'taitis] n. [U] inflamation of the liver.

ta gon ['heptəgən] n. plane figure ith 7 (esp. equal) sides.

[hə:, hə, ə*] I. *pers. pron. (as an ject, corresponding to she): She's in garden; I can see her. Give her [ə] the
k. II. *poss. adj. belonging to her:
ary's mother is dead but her [hə] father alive. That's her [hə:] hat, not yours.
rs [hə:z] poss. pron. belonging to r: Is that his or hers? I've borrowed book of hers, one of her books.

r ald ['herəld] n. 1. (historical) per-n making public announcements for,
nd carrying messages from, a ruler.
. person or thing foretelling the coming f sb. or sth.: In England the cuckoo is ~ of spring. 3. official who keeps ecords of families that have coats of rms: H~s' College, corporation that ecords pedigrees and grants coats of
rms. 4. (as a newspaper title) messen-er. v.t. (VP 1) proclaim the approach of.
er al diç [he'rældik] adj. of ~s or ~ry.

er al dry ['herəldri] n. [U] science dealing with the coats of arms, descent, and history of old families.

erb [hə:b] n. low-growing, soft-stemmed plant which dies down after flowering;
plant of this kind whose leaves or seeds, because of their scent or flavour, are used in medicine or for flavouring food, e.g. sage, mint, dill. ~ beer n. drink made from ~s. ~age ['hə:bidʒ] n. [U] ~s collectively; grass and other field plants. ~al ist ['hə:bəlist] n. person who grows ~s for medical use or who sells these. her biv o rous [hə:'bivərəs) adj. (of animals) feeding on ~age.
Cf. carniverous.)

er ba ceous [hə:'beiʃəs] adj. (of plants) having stems that are not woody: a ~ border, (in a garden) border with plants which come up and flower year after year (not shrubs, annuals, etc.).

er cu le an [ˌhə:kju'liən] adj. having, needing, great powers of body or mind.

erd [hə:d] n. 1. number or company of animals, esp. cattle, feeding or going about together: a ~ of cattle (deer, ele phants). 2. (chiefly in compounds) keeper of a ~: cow~; goat~ 3. (con temptuous) the common (vulgar) ~, the mass of common people; the ~ instinct, the instinct to act, feel, think, etc., like the mass of people, and to be with the mass. v.i. & t. (VP 21, 23, 1, 10) (cause to) gather into a ~ or as in a ~; look after a ~: people who ~ed (were ~ed) together like cattle. ~s man ['hə:dzmən] n. keeper of a ~.

here [hiə*] adv. 1. in, at, to this point or place: Come ~. I live ~. Put the box ~. Look ~. 2. (with front position, and inversion of the subject and finite verb if the subject is a noun, but not if the subject is a personal pronoun): H~ comes the bus! H~ it comes! H~ are the others! H~ they (we) are! H~'s something interesting. H~ you are (it is)! (= H~ is what you asked for, are looking for, etc., according to context.) 3. at this point (in a series of events, in a process, etc.): H~ he stopped reading and looked up. H~ the speaker paused to have a drink. 4. after preps.: Come over ~, near to where I am. Do you live near ~, near this place? 5. ~ and there, in various places. ~, there and everywhere, in all parts; all round. neither ~ nor there, (colloq.) not to the point; irrelevant. 6. (used after a noun to call attention, or for emphasis): My friend ~ was a witness of the accident. 7. (used when drinking to sb.'s health, wishing success to an enterprise, etc.): H~'s to the bride and bridegroom! ~a bouts ['hiərəˌbauts] adv. near or about ~. ~af ter [hiər'ɑ:ftə*] adv. & n. (in the) future; the life to come. ~by ['hiə'bai] adv. (legal) by means or by reason of this. ~in ['hiər'in] adv. (legal) in this. ~of [hiər'ɔv] adv. (legal) of or about this. ~to fore ['hiətu'fɔ:*] adv. (legal or arch.) until now; formerly. ~up on ['hiərə'pɔn] adv. at this point; in consequence of this. ~with ['hiə'wið] adv. with this.

he red i ta ble [hi'reditəbl] adj. that may be inherited.

he re dit a ment [ˌheri'ditəmənt] n. property that can be inherited.

he red i ta ry [hi'reditəri] adj. (having a position) passed on from parent to child, from one generation to following generations: ~ rulers (beliefs, diseases).

he red i ty [hi'rediti] n. [U] tendency of living things to pass their characteristics on to offspring, etc.; characteristics, qualities, etc., so passed on.

her e sy ['herisi] n. [U & C] (holding of a) belief or opinion contrary to what is generally accepted, esp. in religion: fall into ~; be guilty of ~; the heresies of the Protestants. her e tic ['heritik] n. person guilty of ~ or supporting a ~; person who holds an unorthodox opinion. he ret i cal [hi'retikəl] adj. of ~ or heretics: heretical beliefs.

her it a ble ['heritəbl] adj. capable of inheriting or being inherited.

her i tage ['heritidʒ] n. that which has been or may be inherited.

her maph ro dite [həː'mæfrədait] n. [C] animal or other creature which has both male and female sexual organs.

her met ic [həː'metik] adj. air-tight: a ~ seal. her met i cal ly adv. ~ally sealed, sealed so as to keep air in or out.

her mit ['həːmit] n. person (esp. man in early Christian times) living alone. ~age ['həːmitidʒ] n. ~'s cell or living-place.

her nia ['həːnjə] n. [U] rupture, esp. one caused by a part of the bowel being pushed through a weak point of the muscle wall of the abdomen.

he ro ['hiərou] n. (pl. -es [-z]) 1. boy or man respected for bravery or noble qualities. 2. chief man in a poem, story, play, etc. her o ine ['herouin] n. female ~.

he ro ic [hi'rouik] adj. 1. of, like, fit for, a hero: ~ deeds (tasks); use ~ remedies, hazardous remedies but worth trying. 2. of a size larger than life: a statue of ~ size (on a ~ scale). 3. of poetry dealing with heroes: ~ verse, lines of ten syllables and five stresses, rhyming in pairs. 4. (of language) grand; attempting great things; (hence) he ro ics n. pl. high-flown or high-sounding talk or sentiments. he ro i cal ly adv.

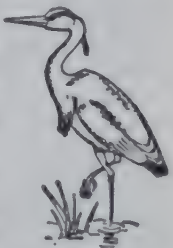
her o in ['herouin] n. [U] drug made from morphine, used to cause sleep and relieve pain.

her o ism ['herouizəm] n. [U] heroic acts or qualities; great courage.

her on ['herən] n. long-legged water-bird living in marshy places.



A heron

Herr [hɛə*, hɛr] n. (pl. Herren) German equivalent of Mr; German gentleman.

her ring ['heriŋ] n. (pl. often without s) sea-fish, usu. swimming in immense shoals, valued as food (fresh, salted, or dried). '~-bone n. pattern (like the spine and bones of a ~) used for stitching, designs on cloth, etc.

hers [həːz], see her.

her self [həː'self, hə-] reflex. & emph. pron. 1. (reflex.) She hurt ~. She ought to be ashamed of ~. (all) by ~, (a) alone. (b) without help: Can she do it by ~ or does she need help? 2. (emph.) She ~ told me the news. She told me the news ~. I saw Mrs Smith ~ (i.e. not one of her family, one of her servants, etc.). 3. She's not quite ~ today, not in her normal state of health or mind. She has come to ~, is now in her normal mental state. (Cf. She has come to, has regained consciousness.)

Hertz ian ['həːtsjən] adj. ~ waves, electromagnetic waves as used in radio.

he 's [hiːz] = he is or he has.

hes i tant ['hezitənt] adj. hesitatin inclined to hesitate. ~ly adv. hes tance (tan cy) ['hezitəns(i)] n. hesit tion; tendency to hesitate.

hes i tate ['heziteit] v.i. (VP 21, 24, 2 show signs of uncertainty or unwillin ness in speech or action: He's still hes tating about joining (about whether join) the expedition. He ~s at nothin
I ~ to spend so much money on clothe He ~d (about) what to do next. hes i ta ing ly adv.

hes i tat ion [ˌhezi'teiʃən] n. [U] sta of hesitating; [C] instance of hesitating She agreed without the slightest ~. I ha no ~ in stating that . . . There's no roo for ~. His doubts and ~s were tiresom

Hes per us ['hespərəs] n. the evening sta

hes si an ['hesiən] n. [U] strong, coar cloth of hemp or jute; sack-cloth.

het er o dox ['hetərədɔks] adj. not ortho dox. ~y n. opposite of orthodoxy.

het er o ge neous [ˌhetərou'dziːnjəs] ad different; unlike; made up of differe kinds: the ~ population of the U.S.A of many different races.

hew [hjuː] v.t. & i. (p.t. hewed [hjuːd
p.p. hewed or hewn [hjuːn]) (VP 1, 1 23) 1. cut (by striking or chopping aim cutting blows (at, among): he down a branch. He hewed his enemy pieces (e.g. with his sword). 2. shape b chopping: hewn timber, roughly shape by hewing. 3. make by hard work: he one's way through dense jungle, cut ou and beat a path; hew out a career f oneself. hewer [hjuə*] n. person wh hews, esp. a man who cuts out coal a mine: hewers of wood and drawers water, persons doing hard menial wor (See the Bible, Joshua ix. 21.)

hex a gon ['heksəgən] n. straight-side plane figure with six angles and six side hex am e ter [hek'sæmitə*] n. (kinds o line of verse (esp. Gk. or Lat.) with s feet.

hey [hei] int. used to call attention, to express surprise or interrogatio hey presto! conjuror's phrase used announce the completion of a trick.

hey day ['heidei] n. (sing. only) time greatest prosperity or power: in the
of youth; in the ~ of his glory.

hi [hai] int. (esp. U.S.A.) = hey.

hi a tus [hai'eitəs] n. (pl. -es [-iz]) gap
a series, making it incomplete.

hi ber nate ['haibəneit] v.i. (VP 21) ( some animals) pass the whole of th winter in a state like sleep. hi ber na tion [ˌhaibə'neiʃən] n.

hi bis cus [hi'biskəs] n. [U] cultivat plant or shrub with brightly colour flowers.

hic cup, hic cough ['hikʌp] v.i. & (have a) sudden stopping of the brea with a cough-like sound.

ck [hik] n. (colloq.) countryman.

ck o ry ['hikəri] n. (hard wood of a) . American tree.

d. hidden, see ¹*hide*.

dal go [hi'dælgou] n. (pl. -s) Spanish ntleman.

le [haid] v.t. & i. (p.t. hid, p.p. hidden hidn] or hid) 1. (VP 1) put or keep b., sth., oneself) out of sight; prevent m being seen, found, or known: uick, ~ yourself! The sun was hidden y the clouds. The future is hidden from s. She tried to ~ her feelings. His ords had a hidden meaning. 2. (VP 21) e or become hidden: You had better ~. here is he hiding? '~-and-'seek n. hildren's game in which one child ~s nd others try to find him (or her). n. lace where a photographer ~s himelf while taking photographs of wild nimals, birds, etc. '~-away, '~-out n. (colloq.) hiding-place: a guerrilla -out in the mountains. hid ing n. [U] sed of persons) go into hiding, ~ oneelf; be in hiding, be hidden; come out f hiding, show oneself. 'hiding-place . place where sb. or sth. is or could be idden.

de [haid] n. 1. [C] animal's skin, esp. s an article of commerce and manuacture. 2. (colloq.) human skin: save ne's ~, save oneself from a beating, rom punishment; tan a person's ~, give im a beating. hid ing n. [C] beating; hrashing: give a boy a good hiding.

de bound ['haidbaund] adj. narrowninded; having, showing, too much espect for rules and traditions.

d e ous ['hidiəs] adj. very ugly; filling he mind with horror; frightful: a ~ ace (crime, noise). ~ly adv.

e [hai] v.i. (arch., or used jokingly) go uickly (to).

er arch y ['haiərɑːki] n. [C] organization with grades of authority from owest to highest: the ~ of the Civil Service; (esp.) organized priesthood; overnment by priests.

er o glyph ['haiərouglif] n. picture r figure of an bject, representing a word. yllable, or ound, as used n the writing of the ancient Egyptians nd Mexicans; other secret or unintelliible written symbol. ~ic [ˌhaiərouglifik] adj. of, written in, ~s. n. (pl.) ~s.

Hieroglyphs

-fi ['hai'fai] adj. (colloq. abbrev. of) igh fidelity (see high, def. 10).

g gle dy-pig gle dy ['higldi'pigldi] dj. & adv. mixed up; without order.

gh [hai] adj. & adv. I. adj. 1. exending upwards; measuring (the disance specified) from the base to the op (cf. tall for men and some kinds of objects): a ~ mountain (lower, building); a ~ chair, for an infant at table; an aeroplane ~ in the sky. How ~ is it? It's ten feet ~. ~ and dry, (a) (of a ship) out of the water; aground. (b) (fig.) out of the current of events; isolated. be on one's ~ horse, ride the ~ horse, appear arrogant, overbearing. (do sth.) with a ~ hand, arrogantly. ~ tide (water), (time of) tide at its greatest height. H~ German, as spoken in South Germany; literary German. 2. chief; important: a ~ official; a ~ caste; ~ and low, all classes of society; the ~ (most important) altar; a H~ School, one giving education more advanced than primary and elementary schools; a ~road; H~ Mass, see Mass; ~ treason, against the Sovereign or the State; ~ life, that of the upper classes; the Most H~, (in the Bible) God. ~ table, for the fellows or dons in a college dining-hall. ~ tea, early evening meal in homes where dinner is not eaten in the evening, usu. a meal at which meat or fish is eaten, with tea. 3. (of sounds) near the top of the scale; shrill, sharp: ~ notes; in a ~ tone (key); speak in a ~ voice. 4. great; extreme; intense: ~ prices (temperatures, speeds); at a ~ cost; a ~ (strong) wind; ~ (powerful) explosives; shift into ~ gear (of the engine of a motor car); in ~ favour; have a ~ opinion of sb.; a ~ (red) complexion (colour); ~ latitudes (near the Poles); ~ (angry) words; in ~ spirits, gay and cheerful; a ~ Tory, extreme in opinion; the ~ seas, the ocean, the seas outside territorial waters over which there is national jurisdiction; ~ lights, those parts of a picture, photograph, etc., that reflect most light; (fig.) what is most prominent (e.g. in the week's events); have a ~ old time (~ jinks), a joyous and merry time; ~ (luxurious) feeding. 5. (of time) far advanced: ~ summer (noon). It's ~ time you started, you ought to have started before now. It's ~ time to go, we must go at once. 6. noble; good: a man of ~ character; ~ aims (ideals); a ~ calling; a ~ spirit, courageous and enterprising. 7. (in England) H~ Church, that section of the Church of England that gives an important place to the authority of bishops and priests, and emphasizes the value of sacraments and ceremonies; H~-Churchman, supporter of these principles, etc. 8. (of food, esp. meat and game) slightly tainted, beginning to go bad: This venison has a rather ~ flavour. 9. (as n.) ~ level; Heaven: on ~, to or in Heaven; from (on) ~, from Heaven. The cost of living reached a new ~ (~est recorded level) last month. 10. (compounds, etc.) '~ball n. (U.S.A.) whisky and ginger ale served in a tall glass. '~-*born adj. of noble birth; born of a noble family. '~*brow n. & adj. (person) with tastes and interests considered to be superior to those of most people (or of the people who use this epithet of him): ~brow drama (music). '~-*fa'lutin(g) adj. ['haifə'lu:tin, -iŋ] (of language, ideas, etc.) bombastic; sounding important, but without much sense. '~-*fi'delity adj. (of radio sets, gramophone records, tapes, and equipment for reproducing sound from these) giving a faithful reproduction of the original sound. '~*flown adj. = ~-faluting. '~'flier, '~'*flyer nn. ambitious person; person with ~flown ideas. '~-'*handed adj. overbearing; using power or authority without proper consideration for the feelings or rights of others. '~-'*hat n. (sl.) person claiming to be superior. v.t. treat (sb.) in a supercilious way. '~*lands n. pl. high mountainous country, esp. (the H~lands) of NW. Scotland. '~*lander n. native of the Scottish H~lands. '~-'*level attrib. adj. (of conferences, etc.) of persons of ~ position (in government, commerce, etc.). '~*light v. (see ~ lights in def. 4) give prominence to. '~'*minded adj. of morally ~ character; (hence) '~-'*mindedness n. '~-'*necked adj. (of a dress) made with the neck-line cut ~. '~-'*pitched adj. (of sounds) acute in pitch; shrill; (of a roof) steep. '~-'*powered attrib. adj. (of persons) in positions of great power or authority. '~-'*priced adj. having a ~ price. '~-'*ranking attrib. adj. of ~ rank. '~-'*spirited adj. of courageous spirit. '~(ly)-'*strung adj. sensitive; with nerves that are easily excited. '~-'*up n. person of ~ social position. '~*way n. public road, esp. main road. '~*wayman n. (in olden times) man, usu. on horseback, who robbed travellers by road after threatening to use violence. II. adv. in or to a ~ degree: climb ~; aim ~ (lit. & fig.); search (hunt) ~ and low for sth., look everywhere for it; pay ~, pay a ~ price; play ~, play a card of ~ value (e.g. an ace), or play for large stakes; live ~, on rich and luxurious food and drink; hold one's head ~, proudly; fly ~, (fig.) have great ambitions. run ~, (a) (of the sea) have a strong current with a ~ tide. (b) (of the feelings) be excited: Popular feelings (passions) ran ~, were strong.

high ly ['haili] adv. in or to a high degree: a ~ paid official; a ~ amusing film; ~ (nobly) descended; think ~ of sb., have a high opinion of him; speak ~ of sb., praise him.

high ness ['hainis] n. 1. [U] (opposite of lowness) state or quality of being high (used where height is not idiomatic): the ~ of his character (aims). 2. title used of and to British and various for princes: His (Her, Your) Royal (Imper
H~.

hike [haik] v.i. & n. (colloq.) (go for long walk in the country, taken pleasure or exercise. hik er n. one who

hi la ri ous [hi'lɛəriəs] adj. noi merry. ~ly adv. hi lar i ty [hi'l
n. [U] noisy merriment; loud laught

Hil a ry ['hiləri] n. ~ term, legal or u versity term beginning in January.

hill [hil] n. 1. natural elevation on earth's surface, smaller than a mo tain. '~*side n. side of a ~. 2. slo (e.g. on a road): The cyclists had to p their machines up the steep ~. 3. he of earth: ant-~s; mole-~s. ~y (-ier, -iest) having many ~s: ~y count a ~y road.

hill ock ['hilək] n. small hill (def. 1).

hilt [hilt] n. handle of a sword or dagg
(up) to the ~, completely: His g was proved to the ~.

him [him] pers. pron. used as obj form of he: Mr Smith is in town; I him yesterday. Give him the mon That's him, (colloq.) That's he.

him self [him'self] reflex. & emph pron. 1. (reflex.) He cut ~. He ought be ashamed of ~. (all) by ~, (a) alo (b) without help. 2. (emphat.) He says so. He says so ~. Did you see manager ~? 3. He's not quite ~ tod not in his normal state of health mind.

¹hind [haind] n. female of (esp. the r deer.

²hind [haind] adj. (of things in pai front and back; cf. fore) at the bac the ~ legs of a horse; the ~ wheels o wagon; the ~(-)quarters of an anim part of the back round the tail.

³hind [haind] n. (arch.) farm workman.

hin der ['hində*] v.t. (VP 1, 18) obstru delay; get in the way of: Don't ~ in my work. I was ~ed from getting h earlier. I have much business that ~ed my answering your letter.

Hin di ['hin'di:] n. & adj. (vernacu language) of N. India.

hind most ['haindmoust] adj. farthe behind or back.

hin drance ['hindrəns] n. [C] sth. or that hinders: You are more of a ~ th
a help.

Hin du, Hin doo ['hin'du:] n. perso esp. of N. India, whose religion is Hi duism. adj. of the ~s. Hin du is ['hindu(:)izəm] n.
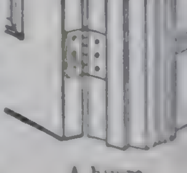
polytheistic religion
of the ~s.



A hinge

hinge [hindʒ] n. joint on which a lid, door, or gate turns or swings; (fig.) central principle on which
sth. depends: Take

door off its ~s and rehang it. v.t. & i.
(VP 1) support on a ~ or ~s. 2.
24) turn or depend (on, upon):
rything ~s upon what happens next.

[hint] n. [C] slight or indirect indica-or suggestion: She gave him a ~ she would like him to leave. I know to take a ~, quickly realize and do at is suggested. H~s for housewives,
. as the title of an article giving) gestions that will help housewives.
& i. (VP 1, 11, 24 with at) give a ~:
ed that he ought to work harder. He to me nothing of his intentions. He at my imprudence.

ter land ['hintəlænd] n. parts of a ntry behind the coast or a river's ks.

[hip] n. part on either side where the e of a person's leg
ined to the trunk:
stood there with his
on his hips.
p-bath n. small
in which one can immersed up to hips. 'hip-flask
small flask (for ndy, etc.) to be
ried in the hip-pocket. 'hip-ˌpocket n.
ket (in a pair of trousers) on the hip.

[hip] n. fruit (red when ripe) of the d rose.

[hip] int. (only in) Hip, hip, hurrah!
, cheer, of satisfaction or approval.

po ['hipóu] n. (pl. ~s) (colloq.
brev. of) hippopotamus.

po drome ['hipədroum] n. place for rse- or chariot-races in ancient Greece d Rome; (modern use) open space building for circuses or horse-riding plays; theatre providing variety (def.
entertainment.

po pot a mus [ˌhipə'pɔtəməs] n. (pl.
[-iz]) large,
ick-skinned rican river
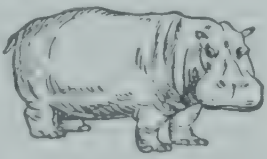
imal.



A hippopotamus

e ['haiə*] v.t.
P 1, 10) ob-
in or allow the e or services
in return for ed payment. ~ a horse (a concert- ll); ~ out boats; ~d troops (in olden nes, mercenaries); (U.S.A.) a ~d girl oman), (term formerly used for) a mestic servant (now lady-help). (Cf.
nt a house and hire a concert-hall, i.e a special occasion.) n. [U] (money id for) hiring: bicycles on ~, 2s. an ur; pay for the ~ of a hall; work for ~.
purchase n. system by which sth.
becomes the property of the person o ~s it after a number of agreed yments have been made (also known 'deferred terms' or 'easy terms').

hire ling ['haiəliŋ] n. (usu. derogatory) person whose services may be hired.

hir sute ['həːsjuːt] adj. hairy; rough; shaggy (e.g. of a man with untidy long hair and beard).

his [hiz] adj. & pron. belonging to him: That book is his, not yours. Are you a friend of his?

hiss [his] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21) make the sound [s], or the noise heard when water falls on a very hot surface: The snake raised its head and ~ed. The steam escaped with a ~ing sound. 2. (VP 1, 10 with off, 24) show disapproval by making this sound: ~ an actor off the stage; ~ (at) a new play. n. [C] ~ing sound: The speaker was received with a mixture of applause and ~es.

hist [hist] int. used to call attention, or to ask for silence (in order to listen for sth.).

his to ri an [his'tɔːriən] n. writer of history.

his tor ic [his'tɔrik] adj. 1. famous in history; associated with past times: a(n) ~ spot (event, speech); ~ times, of which the history is known and recorded (contrasted with prehistoric times). 2. (grammar) the ~ present, simple present tense used for events in the past (to make the description more vivid).

his tor i cal [his'tɔrikəl] adj. 1. belonging to history (as contrasted with legend and fiction): ~ events and people (real, not imaginary); a(n) ~ novel (play, film, painting, etc.), one dealing with real events in history. 2. having to do with history: ~ studies; the ~ method of investigation. ~ly *adv.

his to ry ['histəri] n. 1. [U] branch of knowledge dealing with past events, political, social, economic, of a country, continent, or the world: a student of ~; ancient ~, to A.D. 476, when the Western Roman Empire was destroyed; medieval ~, to 1453, when Constantinople was taken by the Turks; modern ~, since 1453. make ~, do sth. which will be recorded in ~. 2. [C] orderly description of past events: a new ~ of Europe. 3. [C] train of events connected with a person or thing; interesting or eventful past career: a house with a strange ~; the inner ~ of the Dreyfus affair. 4. natural ~, systematic account of natural phenomena.

his tri on ic [ˌhistri'ɔnik] adj. 1. of drama, the theatre, acting: ~ ability. 2. theatrical; insincere. his tri on ics *n. pl. 1. theatrical performances. 2. dramatic or theatrical manners, behaviour, etc.

¹hit [hit] v.t. & i. (-tt-; p.t. & p.p. hit) 1. (VP 1, 10, 18, 19C) give a blow or stroke to; strike (an object aimed at); come against (sth.) with force: hit a man on the head; be hit by a falling stone; hit sb. a hard blow; hit the mark (target); hit a ball over the fence. He hit his forehead against the kerb when he fell. hit a man when he's down, hit a man below the belt, act contrary to the rules of boxing; (fig.) take an unfair advantage. hit the (right) nail on the head, hit it (e.g. 'You've hit it'), guess right; say or do exactly the right thing. hit one's fancy, appeal to one's fancy. hit it off (with, together), agree, get on well: They hit it off well. ˈhit-and-ˈrun attrib. adj. (of a road accident) in which a pedestrian or vehicle is hit by a vehicle which does not stop. 2. (VP 18) wound the feelings of; affect severely: He has fallen in love and is hard hit. He was hard hit by his financial losses. 3. (VP 1) find (as the result of search or by accident): hit the right path. 4. (VP 21, 23) strike: Hit hard! Hit out! 5. (VP 24) hit (up)on, find by chance; came upon: hit upon an idea (the right answer, a plan for making money). 6. (VP 10) (cricket) score: He quickly hit up 20 runs.

^{2}hit [hit] n. 1. blow; stroke: three hits and five misses; a clever hit. 2. successful attempt or performance: song hits, songs that win wide popularity; a lucky hit. The new play is quite a hit, has been welcomed by the public. 3. stroke of sarcasm, etc.: That was a hit at me, the words were directed against me.

^{1}hitch [hitʃ] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10) pull (up) with a quick movement: ~ up one's trousers. 2. (VP 10, 18, 23, 24) fasten, become fastened, on or to a hook, etc., or with a loop of rope, etc.: ~ a horse to a fence; ~ a rope round a bough of a tree. Her dress ~ed on a nail.

^{2}hitch [hitʃ] n. 1. sudden pull or push. 2. kind of noose or knot used by sailors. 3. temporary stoppage: Everything went off without a ~, quite smoothly, without difficulty.

hitch-hike [ˈhitʃhaik] v.i. (colloq.) travel by asking motorists or lorry-drivers for free rides. hitch-hik er n.

hith er [ˈhiðə*] adv. (old use) here. ~to [hiðəˈtuː] adv. until now.

hive [haiv] n. 1. box (of wood, straw, etc.) for bees to live in; the bees living in a ~. (See the illustr. at bee.) 2. place full of busy people: What a ~ of industry! v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) cause (bees) to go into a ~: ~ a swarm; (of bees) store (honey) in a ~. 2. (VP 21, 23) enter a ~; live close together as bees do. ~ off (from), (fig.) become a separate (and perhaps self-governing) body (as when a colony of bees leaves a ~ and forms a new ~).

hives [haivz] n. pl. skin disease with red patches and itching.

ho [hou] int. expressing surprise, admiration, etc.

hoar [hɔː*, hɔə*] adj. (of hair) grey or white with age; (of a person) having such hair. ˈ~frost n. [U] white fr frozen moisture on grass, the surface leaves, roofs, etc.

hoard [hɔːd, hɔəd] n. carefully saved a guarded store of money, food, or o treasured objects: a miser's ~; squirrel's ~ of nuts. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 1 21) save and store (up): ~ gold; ~ treasure. ~er n. person who ~s.

hoard ing [ˈhɔːdiŋ, ˈhɔəd-] n. wood fence round waste land, building wor etc., frequently used for posting a vertisements.

hoarse [hɔːs, hɔəs] adj. (of the voic rough and harsh; (of a person) havi a ~ voice: He shouted himself ~. ~ adv. ~ness n.

hoar y [ˈhɔːri, ˈhɔər-] adj. (-ier, -i grey or white with age; very old: the ruins of English abbeys. hoar i ness n hoax [houks] n. [C] mischievous tric played on sb. for a joke. v.t. (VP 1, 1 deceive (sb.) in this way: ~ sb. in believing or doing sth. foolish.

A hob

hob [hɔb] n. flat metal shelf at the side of a fireplace (with a surface level with the top of the grate) where pots and pans can be kept warm or a kettle boiled.

hob ble [ˈhɔbl] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 23) walk as when lame, or as when the feet or leg are impeded: The old man ~d along wi the aid of his stick. 2. (VP 1) tie a horse legs to prevent it from going far away n. stumbling or limping way of walkin hob ble de hoy [ˈhɔbldiˈhɔi] n. awkwar overgrown youth.

hob by [ˈhɔbi] n. [C] interesting occupa tion, not one's regular business, for one leisure time (e.g. collecting postag stamps, growing roses).

hob by-horse [ˈhɔbihɔːs] n. [C] woode horse on rockers as a child's toy, or o a merry-go-round; child's stick with horse's head; figure of a horse (wickerwork) fastened to a dancer (in th *morris-dance): Now he's started on his ~ (fig.) started on his favourite subject.

hob gob lin [ˈhɔbˌgɔblin] n. [C] mis chievous imp; ugly and evil spirit.

hob nail [ˈhɔbneil] n. short nail with heavy head used for the soles of heav shoes and boots (e.g. for mountai climbing). ˈhobnailed adj. (of boot etc.) set with ~s.

hob nob [ˈhɔbnɔb] v.i. (-bb-) (VP 21, 2 24) have friendly talk, drink together): Mrs Green, happily ~bing wi the great.

ho bo [ˈhoubou] n. (pl. ~s, ~es) (U.S.A sl.) unemployed worker who wande from place to place; vagrant.

Hob son's choice [ˈhɔbsnz ˈtʃɔis] n. se choice.

k [hɔk] n. middle joint of an animal's d leg.

k [hɔk] n. [U] (kinds of) German te wine.

k ey ['hɔki] n. [U] game played on a d or on ice by two ns of eleven players
h curved sticks and ball or (on ice) a ber disk, between ls.

s-po cus ['houkəs-
ukəs] n. [U] talk,
aviour, designed to w one's attention away from sth.

A hockey player

[hɔd] n. light open box with a long dle used by workmen
carrying bricks, etc.,
the shoulder.

ge-podge ['hɔdʒpɔdʒ]
[U] = hotch-potch.

[hou] n. tool for loosening the soil, uprooting ds among growing ps, etc.; Dutch hoe, the d pushed forward by user. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 10, 21) work
h a hoe: hoe up weeds.

A hod

[hɔg] n. castrated male pig reared meat (cf. boar, sow); (fig.) greedy, y, selfish person. go the whole
, do sth. thoroughly. hog gish giʃ] adj. greedy and selfish.

ma nay ['hɔgmənei] n. (Scotland)
day of the year.

s head ['hɔgzhed] n. large barrel for r; liquid measure (52½ gallons).

pol loi [hɔi'pɔlɔi, ˌhɔipə'lɔi] n. the the masses; the rabble.

t [hɔist] v.t. (VP 1, 10) lift with an aratus of ropes and pulleys or a kind elevator: ~ a flag (sail); ~ casks and es aboard; ~ in the boats, raise them n the water up to the deck. n.
aratus for ~ing: an ammunition ~ a warship); (colloq.) push up: give a ~ (e.g. when he is climbing a wall).

ty-toi ty ['hɔiti'tɔiti] adj. (colloq.) ercilious and haughty. int. used to ~ person to express disapproval of n or her.

l [hould] v.t. & i. (p.t. & p.p. held ld]) 1. (VP 1, 10) have and keep t in or with the hands, or some other t of the body, or with a tool, etc.:
e girl was ~ing her father's hand.
ey held each other's hands. She was ng her sides with laughter. He held knife between his teeth while he was mming. She held me by the sleeve.
e was ~ing up an umbrella. 2. (VP 7, 18) keep or support (oneself, a part the body) in a particular attitude or ition or manner: H~ your head up.
~ your arms out. H~ yourself still for econd while I take your photograph.
used with advv. & preps.: ~ (oneself) aloof, avoid meeting other persons; keep oneself to oneself. ~ back, (VP 23) hesitate; show unwillingness to do sth.: When danger appeared, every one of them held back. Buyers are ~ing back, not making any offers. ~ sth. back, (VP 10) refrain from giving; keep secret: ~ back information. ~ sb. (oneself) back, (VP 10) restrain; deter: He was so impatient that I couldn't ~ him back. ~ sth. down, keep down: ~ one's head down. ~ a job down, (colloq.) keep it (by showing that one is capable, etc.). ~ forth, (VP 23) (usu. derog.) speak publicly. ~ sth. forth, (VP 10) offer: ~ forth an inducement (hopes of profit, etc.). ~ sth. in, restrain; check: ~ in one's temper; ~ oneself in, restrain one's feelings (of indignation, etc.). ~ off, (VP 23) keep at a distance; stay away: The storm held off. Will the rain ~ off until evening? ~ sb. or sth. off, (VP 10) keep at a distance: H~ your dog off. We held off the enemy until reinforcements reached us. His cold manner ~s people off, prevents them from offering friendship. ~ on, (VP 23) keep one's grasp on (sth.); not let go: The boy held on to the bush until someone was lowered down the side of the cliff to rescue him. You should ~ on to (i.e. not sell) your oil shares. H~ on (a minute)! (colloq. imper.) Don't go any further (in whatever you are doing)! Stop a moment! ~ sth. on, (VP 10) keep in position: This pin ~s the wheel on. ~ out, (VP 23) (a) keep one's position of strength; not give way: How long can we ~ out against these determined attacks? You should ~ out for a higher price, refuse to accept the price now being offered. (b) last: How long will our food supplies ~ out, when will they be exhausted? ~ sb. or sth. out, (VP 10) stretch out (lit. or fig.): He held out his hand to me. She turned on the tap and held out the baby. The doctors ~ out (offer) little hope of her recovery. ~ sth. over, (VP 10) defer; postpone (a decision, etc.): The matter was held over until the next meeting. ~ together, (VP 23) be and remain together: This old coat hardly ~s together now, is almost falling to pieces. ~ sb. or sth. together, (VP 23) cause to remain together, united, etc.: The country needs a leader who will ~ the nation together. ~ sb. or sth. up, (VP 10) (a) delay: We've been held up by fog. (b) stop by the use or the threat of violence for the purpose of robbery: The coach was held up by bandits. (c) display: ~ sb. up to ridicule, make him appear ridiculous. '~-up n. (a) act of stopping (a person, car, train, etc.) and using or threatening violence for the purpose of robbery. (b) stoppage or delay: a ~-up on the Underground Railway, caused by a power failure. ~ with, (VP 24) approve of: They don't ~ with playing football on Sundays. 4. (VP 1) (be able to) contain: Will this trunk ~ all your clothes? This paper bag will ~ buns but it won't ~ ice-cream. Sea-water ~s many salts in solution. Your argument doesn't ~ water, is not sound, consistent, logical. ˈ*~-all n. bag or case for a traveller's clothes, etc. 5. (VP 1) have or keep in the mind: ~ strange opinions; ~ a mass of details (a collection of figures) in one's head, not forget any of them. 6. (VP 4, 7, 10, 11) consider, think, believe, decide: ~ a person in great esteem, have a high opinion of him; ~ a man to be a fool; ~ (the view) that the plan is impracticable. Plato held that the soul is immortal. I do not ~ myself responsible for what my wife did. He ~s his reputation dear (cheap), values (does not value) it. The jury held the accused man to be innocent. 7. (VP 1, 10) restrain; keep back: ~ one's breath (e.g. from excitement or fear); ~ one's hand, refrain from punishing sb., delay action, etc.; ~ one's tongue (peace), be quiet. There's no ~ing that woman, she's so high-spirited, restless, full of determination, etc., that she cannot be controlled. 8. (VP 1) be the tenant or owner of: ~ shares (land, etc.) (hence, ˈshare-ˌ~er, etc.). 9. occupy; keep possession of: ~ office (hence ˈoffice-ˌ~er). The Social Democrats held office at that time. They held the fort against all attacks, successfully defended it. ~ one's ground (one's own), not give way: Our troops held their ground bravely. He's still ~ing his own, (e.g. of sb. who is ill) is maintaining his strength. 10. (VP 1) have; observe; conduct: ~ a meeting (debate, conversation, examination). The king held a Parliament. 11. (VP 21) remain unbroken or unchanged: How long will the rope ~, when will it break? Will the anchor ~, stay fast in the sea bottom? 12. (VP 21, 22, 23, 24) continue: How long will the fine weather ~? (Cf. break, v. def. 5.) The argument still ~s good, continues to be valid. ~ on one's way, keep going. 13. (VP 23, 24) keep a grasp (on, to): He was ~ing on to the branch. He held to his choice (to his course of action), stuck to it, did not change it. I hope you will ~ to your convictions. ~er n. person or thing that ~s: a pen-~er; a cigarette-~er; an office-~er. ~ing n. sth. held or owned; land or the owning of land: small ~ings, small areas of land farmed by the tenant himself; shares in a business: a ~ing company, one formed to ~ the shares of subsidiary companies.

²hold [hould] n. 1. [C & U] act, manner, power, of holding: catch (take, lay, seize) ~ of sth.; let go (lose) (one's) ~ of sth

He has a great ~ (influence) over younger brother. How long can Government maintain its ~ over district, keep the district under control? 2. [C] sth. that may be u for holding on to: The rock face affor few ~s to climbers. (Cf. foot~.) (boxing and wrestling) (kinds of) gr
All-in wrestling, with no ~s barred.

³hold [hould] n. part of a ship bel decks where cargo is stored.

¹hole [houl] n. 1. opening or hollow pl in a solid body: a ~ in a tooth; roads of ~s; ~s in the walls and roof o building, caused by shell fire; wear o socks into ~s, wear them until there ~s. pick ~s in (e.g. an argumen find fault with. a square peg in round ~, a person not fitted for position he occupies. make a ~ use a large amount of: The hospital b made a large ~ in his savings.
(colloq.) awkward situation: I'm rather a ~. You've put me in a devil a ~. 3. animal's burrow: a mouse's
the ~ of a fox; (fig.) small, dark, wretch place; den; hiding-place: What wretched little ~ he lives in! (caug like a rat in a ~, in a place from wh escape is impossible. ˈ*~-and-ˈcorn (colloq., attrib.) secret; underhand:
don't like these ~-and-corner metho
4. (golf) hollow into which the ball m be got; point scored by a player w gets his ball from one ~ to another w the fewest strokes: a nine-~ g course; win the first ~.

²hole [ˈhoul] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) make hole or holes in or through: ~ a s (e.g. by striking a rock). 2. (VP 1,
23) get (a ball) into a hole (in golf, etc ~ out in one, get the ball into the h with only one stroke.

hol i day [ˈhɔlədi, -lid-. -dei] n. 1. d of rest from work: Sunday is a ~ Christian countries; Friday is a ~ Muslim countries. (See also bank*
2. (often pl.) period of rest from wor the school ~s; the Christmas ~s; tak month's ~ in summer; (attrib.) ~ cam on ~, having a ~: Our typist is aw on ~ this week. ˈ*~-ˌmakers n.
persons on ~.

ho li ness [ˈhoulinis] n. 1. being holy sacred. 2. His (Your) H~, title us of (to) the Pope.

hol land [ˈhɔlənd] n. 1. [U] stro coarse linen or cotton cloth. 2. (p spirit made from grain, a kind of gin.

hol lo [ˈhɔlou] int. cry used to c attention. hol lo(a) v.i. & t. sho
esp. to hounds (during a fox-hunt).

hol low [ˈhɔlou] adj. 1. not solid; wi
a hole or empty space inside: a ~ tr
a ~ ball. 2. (of sounds) as if com from sth. ~: a ~ voice (groan). 3. (fi unreal; false; insincere: ~ cords, promises); ~ joys and pleasures, ot giving true happiness; a ~ victory, ne without real value. 4. sunken: ~ ıecks; ~-eyed. 5. (colloq., as adv.) ompletely: We beat them ~. n. hole; place: a ~ in the ground; small alley: a wooded ~, small valley with rees. v.t. (VP 1, 10) make a ~ or ~s in; end into a ~ shape: river banks ~ed ut by rushing water.

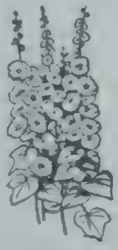
Holly

ol ly [ˈhɔli] n. [U] evergreen shrub with hard, hiny, dark-green sharp-ointed leaves and, in rinter, red berries.

ol ly hock [ˈhɔlihɔk] n. C] tall garden plant with rightly coloured flowers.

ol ly wood [ˈhɔliwud] n. used for) cinema films of American type, made at ~ (in California).



Hollyhocks

olm-oak [ˈhoumˈouk] n. C] evergreen oak, ilex.

ol o caust [ˈhɔləkɔːst] n. C] large-scale destruction, sp. of human lives by fire.

ol o graph [ˈhɔləgrɑːf, græf] n. document written wholly by the person in whose name it appears.

ol ster [ˈhoulstə*] n. eather case for a pistol or evolver.

A holster

ly [ˈhouli] adj. (-ier, iest) 1. of God; associated with God or with religion: he H~ Bible; H~ Writ, he Bible; the H~ Land, where Jesus lived; the I~ City, Jerusalem; H~ Veek, the week before Easter Sunday; *H~ Communion; the H~ Father, the Pope; the H~ Office, the Inquisition; ~ ground, and held in religious awe; ~ water, water blessed by a priest, to be used or purification; a ~ war, one (said to be) ought in defence of sth. sacred. 2. levoted to religion: a ~ man; live a ~ ife. 3. (sl.) a ~ terror, formidable peron; mischievous, embarrassing child. . the H~ of Holies, (a) most sacred ner chamber in a Jewish temple, ntered by the High Priest once a year.) (fig.) any sacred place.

ly stone [ˈhoulistoun] n. [U] soft sandone used for scrubbing wooden decks f ships. v.t. scrub with ~.

m age [ˈhɔmidʒ] n. [U] 1. expression f respect; tribute paid (to sb., his erits): pay ~ to the genius of Shakepeare. 2. (in feudal times) formal and blic acknowledgement of loyalty to a rd or ruler.

me [houm] n. & adv. I. n. 1. place where one lives, esp. with one's family: He left ~ at the age of 16, left his parents and began an independent life. He looks forward to seeing the old ~ again (e.g. his birthplace). He was born in England, but he now looks upon Paris as his ~. When I retire I shall make my ~ in the country. He left India for ~, for his own country. We ought to turn back now and get ~ (i.e. to the starting-point, whether this is the place where one habitually lives or not). at ~, (a) in the house: I've left my books at ~. Is there anybody at ~? (b) (football, etc.) in the town, etc., to which the team belongs: Is our next match at ~ or away? (c) expecting and ready to receive visitors at an appointed time: 'Mrs Carr will be at ~, Monday, 1 May, 5 p.m.' an at-ˈ~, a social function at which guests are expected at a time announced. not at ~ (to), not receiving visitors: Mrs Hill is not at ~ to anyone except relatives. (be, feel, make oneself) at ~, as if in one's own house; at one's ease: The boy did not feel at ~ in such a splendid house. at ~ in, familiar with, accustomed to: Is it difficult to feel at ~ in a foreign language, to feel easy and confident while using one? 2. institution or place (for the care of children, old, or sick people, etc.): an orphans' ~; a nursing ~; maternity ~s. 3. (often attrib.) family or domestic life: the pleasures of ~; ~ comforts (joys); ~ life. 4. (= habitat) place where an animal or plant is native or most common: the ~ of the tiger and the elephant (e.g. the jungle); the ~ of the fur-seal. 5. (in sport and in various games) goal; place where a player is safe and cannot be caught, put out, etc.: the ~ stretch, last part of a track, near the winning-post; (baseball) the ~ plate, base at which the batsman stands to bat; a ~ run, one made after a hit which enables the batsman to go round all the bases without stopping. 6. (attrib.) of the ~; of one's own country (= domestic, inland, contrasted with foreign): ~ industries (products); the ~ trade; ~ rule, government of a country by its own citizens; the H~ Office, department controlling local government, police, etc., in England and Wales, under the minister called H~ Secretary, or Secretary of State for H~ Affairs. the H~ Counties, those round London. one's ~ town, (U.S.A.) town (not necessarily one's birthplace) in which one lives permanently. ~ truth, one that comes ~ to one (see the adv., def. 2, below). 7. (compounds) ˈ~-ˈbrewed adj. beer, etc. brewed at ~ (contrasted with beer from a brewery). ˈ~-ˌcoming n. arrival at ~, coming to one's ~; ~-coming week-end, (U.S.A.) when alumni or alumnae return to their school, etc. ˈ~-ˈ*farm n. farm that supplies the needs of a large estate or establishment (contrasted with farmland that is rented out). ˈ~-ˈ*grown adj. (of food, etc.) produced in the country (contrasted with what is imported). H~ Guard n. (member of) British citizen army formed in 1940. ˈ~-ˈ*made adj. (of bread, cakes, etc.) made at ~ (contrasted with what is bought from shops). ˈ~*sick adj. sad because away from ~; (hence, ˈ~ˌ*sickness n.). ˈ~*spun adj. & n. (cloth made of yarn) spun at ~; (fig.) (anything) plain and homely. ˈ~*stead n. house with the land and outbuildings round it; farmhouse; (U.S.A. and some British territories) land given to a settler on condition that he lives on it and cultivates it. ˈ~-ˈ*thrust n. attack (with a weapon or in words) that is effective. ˈ~*work n. [U] work which a pupil is required to do at ~ in the evening and take to his teacher(s) at school. (Cf. housework.) II. adv. 1. at, in, or to one's ~ or country: Is he ~ yet? I saw him on his way ~. He went ~. Send the children ~. 2. to the point aimed at; so as to fit or be in the right place: drive a nail ~; (fig.) drive an argument ~, cause its full force to be understood; bring ~ to sb. the importance of sth., convince him of it; bring a fraud ~ to sb., prove his guilt. ˈ~less adj. having no ~. ˈ~like adj. like ~: a boarding-house with a ~like atmosphere. ˈ~ward adj. going towards ~. ˈ~wards adv. towards ~.

home ly [ˈhoumli] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. simple and plain; of the sort used every day: a ~-looking old lady, not trying to seem important or dignified; a ~ meal. 2. causing one to think of home or feel at home: a ~ atmosphere. 3. (U.S.A., of people, their features) plain; rather ugly. home li ness n.

ho me o path n. = homoeopath.

Ho mer ic [houˈmerik] adj. of, in the style of, Homer or his epics. ~ laughter, loud, boisterous laughter like that of the gods in Homer's epics.

home y [ˈhoumi] adj. (U.S.A. colloq.) like home; cosy.

hom i cide [ˈhɔmisaid] n. [U] killing of a human being; [C] person who kills a human being: H~ is not criminal when committed in self-defence. (Cf. murder.) hom i cid al [ˌhɔmiˈsaidl] adj. of ~: a homicidal lunatic; homicidal tendencies.

hom i ly [ˈhɔmili] n. [C] sermon; long and tedious moralizing talk. hom i let ic [ˌhɔmiˈletik] adj. of homilies. hom i let ics n. pl. art of preaching.

hom ing [ˈhoumiŋ] adj. (of pigeons) having the instinct to fly home (when released a long way from home); (of torpedoes, missiles) fitted with electronic devices that enable them to reach predetermined target: ~ devices.

hom i ny [ˈhɔmini] n. [U] ground maiz boiled in water or milk.

ho mo [ˈhoumou] n. (Lat.) man: sapiens, modern man regarded as species.

ho moe op a thy [ˌhoumiˈɔpəθi] n. [U treatment of disease by drugs (usu. small doses) that, if given to a health person, would produce symptoms lik those of the disease. ho moe o pat [ˈhoumioupæθ] n. person who prac tises ~.

ho mo ge neous [ˌhɔmouˈdʒiːnjəs] ad (formed of parts) of the same kind. (C heterogeneous.) ho mo ge ne i ty [ˌhɔ moudʒeˈniːiti] n. quality of being ~.

hom o graph [ˈhɔmougrɑːf] n. wor spelt like another but with a differen meaning.

hom o nym [ˈhɔmənim] n. word that the same in form or sound as anothe but different in meaning. e.g. pale, pai ho mo sex ual [ˈhɔmouˈseksjuəl] ad having sexual propensity for person of one's own sex. n. ~ person. ~i t [ˈhɔmouseksjuˈæliti] n.

hone [houn] n. [C] stone used for sharp ening tools (esp. old-style razors). v.t (VP 1) sharpen on a ~.

hon est [ˈɔnist] adj. 1. not telling lies not cheating or stealing; straight forward: an ~ man; ~ in business; giv an ~ opinion; earn an ~ penny, ear money fairly. to be quite ~ about i phrase used before a statement that on wishes to be believed. 2. showing resulting from, an ~ mind: an ~ face look ~; an ~ piece of work, done con scientiously; ~ weight, not short weight make an ~ woman of sb., marry he after seducing her. ~ly adv. in an ~ manner; really: Honestly, that's all th money I have.

hon es ty [ˈɔnisti] n. [U] the quality o being honest; freedom from deceit cheating, etc.

hon ey [ˈhʌni] n. [U] 1. sweet, sticky yellowish liquid made by bees from nectar; (fig.) sweetness. ˈ~-*bee n ordinary kind of bee that lives in hives ˈ~*dew n. [U] (a) sweet, sticky substanc found on the leaves and stems of plants in hot weather. (b) tobacco sweetened with molasses. ˈ~-*suckle [ˈhʌniˌsʌkl] n. [U] climbing shrub with sweet-smelling tube-shaped yellow or reddish flowers. 2. (colloq.) sweetheart; darling: Come here, my ~s, (e.g. a mother to her children).

Honeysuckle

hon eyed [ˈhʌnid] adj. sweet as ~: ~ words.

hon ey comb [ˈhʌnikoum] n. [C & U tainer with) wax structure of six-d cells made by bees for honey and s; (piece of) ornamental work in a ~ tern. v.t. (VP 1) fill with holes, nels, etc.: The rock at Gibraltar is with galleries.

ey moon [ˈhʌnimuːn] n. holiday en by a newly married couple. v.i.
nd a ~: They will ~ in Paris.

[hɔŋk] n. cry of the wild goose; nd made by (the old style of) motor
n. v.i. make a ~.

o ra ri um [ˌɔnəˈrɛəriəm] n. fee red (but not claimed) for professional rices.

or a ry [ˈɔnərəri] adj. 1. (shortened hon.) (of a position) unpaid: the ~ etary. 2. (of a degree, rank) con-ed as an honour, without the usual uirements: an ~ degree (doctorate); ding an ~ title or position: an ~
-president.

or if ic [ˌɔnəˈrifik] n. & adj. (exssion) implying respect: the ~s so uently used in oriental languages.

our [ˈɔnə*] n. 1. (U.S.A., honor) [U] at respect; high public regard: win n war; do ~ to the queen; a ceremony ~ of those killed in battle; show ~ to 's parents. maid of ~, lady in attence upon a queen, princess, etc.
rd of ~, number of soldiers chosen escort or welcome a distinguished son as a mark of respect. 2. [U] good sonal character; reputation (for good aviour, loyalty, truthfulness, etc.):
nd in ~ to do sth., required to do it a moral duty, but not by law; on ~, on my reputation for telling the th; put sb. on his ~, trust him, his ~ ng lost if he fails to do what is re-red, breaks a promise, etc.; a debt of one that need not be paid legally, which one's good name requires one pay; an affair of ~, a duel fought to tle a question of ~; pledge one's ~,
one's word of ~, guarantee to fulfil obligation, keep a promise, etc. 3. polite formulas): May I have the ~ your company at dinner? Will you me the ~ of dining with me this even-
? I have the ~ to inform you that . . . rmal style). 4. Your (His) H~, title respect used to (of) some judges. 5. th indef. art.) person or thing bring-credit: He is an ~ to his school nily). 6. (pl.) marks of respect, disction, etc.; titles; civilities: birthday (in Gt. Brit.) list of titles, decorans, etc., conferred by the Sovereign her or his birthday; New Year H~s, nilar list on 1 Jan.; military ~s, emonies, marks of respect, paid by diers at the burial of a soldier, to tinguished visitors (e.g. Presidents); last (funeral) ~s, marks of respect
a funeral; the ~s of war, privileges granted to a defeated enemy (e.g. allowing them to march off with their colours). do the ~s, (of the table, house, etc.) act as host(ess), guide, etc., and do what politeness requires. 7. (in universities) (pl.) (place in) top division of marks in degree examinations; special distinction for extra proficiency: an ~s degree; pass with ~s in history; an ~s man. 8. (in card games, whist and bridge) cards of highest value (10, knave, queen, king, ace, of trumps).

^{2}hon our [ˈɔnə*] v.t. (U.S.A., honor) (VP 1) 1. respect highly, feel honour for; confer honour on: Fear God and ~ the Queen. I feel highly ~ed by the kind things you say about me. Will you ~ me with a visit? 2. accept and pay when due: ~ a bill (cheque, draft, etc.); ~ one's signature, agree that one has signed a bill, note, etc., and pay the money.

hon our a ble [ˈɔnərəbl] adj. (U.S.A., honorable) 1. possessing or showing the principles of honour; consistent with honour (defs. 1, 2): ~ conduct; conclude an ~ peace; ~ burial. 2. (shortened to Hon.) title given to judges and some other officials, to the children of peers below the rank of Marquis, and (during debates) to members of the House of Commons: my H~ friend the member for Chester. hon our a bly adv.

hooch [huːtʃ] n. [U] (sl.) alcoholic liquor.

hood [hud] n. 1. bag-like covering for the head and neck, often fastened to a cloak so that it can hang down at the back when not in use; (in universities) fold of cloth worn over an academic gown showing by its colour the degree gained by the wearer and the university by which it was conferred. 2. anything like a ~ in shape or use; folding roof over a carriage (for protection against rain or sun), or over an open motor-car; (U.S.A.) hinged cover over the engine of a motor-car (= bonnet in Gt. Brit.). v.t. (chiefly in p.p.) cover with, or as with, a ~: a ~ed falcon.

hood lum [ˈhuːdləm] n. (U.S.A. sl.) hooligan.

hoo doo [ˈhuːˈduː] n. (chiefly U.S.A.) (person or thing regarded as bringing) bad luck. v.t. render unlucky.

hood wink [ˈhudwiŋk] v.t. (VP 1, 18) deceive; trick; mislead.

hoo ey [ˈhuːi] n. (U.S.A. sl.) humbug.

hoof [huːf] n. (pl. ~s [huːfs] or hooves [huːvz]) horny part of the foot of a horse and other animals: buy cattle on the ~, alive.

^{1}hook [huk] n. 1. curved or bent piece of metal or other material, for catching hold of sth., or for hanging sth. on: a fish-~; a crochet ~; a clothes-~; ~s and eyes, for fastening a dress. ~, line, and sinker, (from fishing) (fig.) entirely; completely. ˈ~-ˈnosed adj. having a nose shaped like a ~ (or like the nose of an eagle). ˈ~-worm n. worm that infests the intestines of men and animals, the male of which has ~-like spines. 2. curved tool for cutting (grain, etc.) or for chopping (branches, etc.): a reaping-~; a bill-~. by ~ or by crook, by one means or another. 3. (cricket, golf) kind of stroke; (boxing) short blow with the elbow bent. v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10, 23) fasten, be fastened, catch, with a ~ or ~s: a dress that ~s (is ~ed) at the back; ~ something on (up); ~ a fish; ~ a husband, (fig.) catch a man and marry him. 2. make into the form of a ~: ~ one's finger. 3. (sl.) ~ it, run away. 4. ˈ~-up n. network of broadcasting stations connected to transmit the same programme: speak over a country-wide ~-up. hooked [hukt] adj. ~-shaped: a ~ed nose; furnished with hooks.

Hooks (def. 1)

hook ah [ˈhukə] n. tobacco pipe with a long flexible tube through which smoke is drawn through water in a vase and so cooled.

hook ey [ˈhuki] n. (U.S.A. sl.) play ~, play truant.

hool i gan [ˈhu:ligən] n. one of a gang of disorderly men or boys making disturbances in the streets or other public places. (Cf. U.S.A. hoodlum.) ~ism *n.

¹hoop [hu:p] n. 1. band of wood or metal put round a barrel, etc.; similar band rolled along the ground as a plaything. 2. round framework (of wire, bone, etc.) formerly used to expand a woman's skirt; hence, a ~-skirt. 3. large ring with paper stretched over it through which circus riders and animals jump: go through the ~(s), (fig.) undergo an ordeal. 4. iron arch used in the game of croquet. v.t. bind (a cask, etc.) with ~s.

A hoop (def. 3)

²hoop [hu:p] v.t. utter the cry ~. ~ing cough [ˈhu:piŋkɔf] n. see under whoop.

hoop-la [ˈhu:plɑ:] n. game played at fairs, etc., in which rings are thrown at small objects which are won if the rings encircle them.

hoot [hu:t] n. 1. cry of an owl. 2. sound made by a motor-car horn, steam-whistle, foghorn, etc. 3. shout or cry expressing disapproval or scorn: I don't care a ~ (two ~s), (sl.) I don't care at all. v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 24) make a ~ or ~s: an owl ~ing in the garden. The crowd ~ed and jeered at the speaker. 2. (VP 1, 10) make ~s at, drive away by doing this: ~ an actor; ~ a speaker down (off, away). ~er *n. siren or steam-whi
esp. as a signal for work to start or s

Hoov er [ˈhu:və*] n. (proprietary na of a) kind of vacuum cleaner. v.
(VP 1) clean (carpets, etc.) with a ~.

hooves [hu:vz] pl. of hoof.

¹hop [hɔp] n. [C] tall climbing plant wi flowers growing in clusters; (pl.) ripe cones (seed-vessels) of this plant, dried and used for giving a bitter flavour to beer, etc. ˈhop-ˌgarden, ˈhop-field nn. field for the cultivation of hops. ˈhop-ˌpicker n. worker, machine, employed to pick hops. v.i. (-pp-) gather hops: go hopping in Kent.

Hops

²hop [hɔp] v.i. & t. (-pp-) 1. (VP 21, 2 24) (of persons) jump on one foot; ( other living creatures, e.g. frogs, gras hoppers) jump with both or all fee together: Sparrows were hopping abo on the lawn. He had hurt his left fo and had to hop along. hop off, ho it, (sl.) go away. 2. (VP 1) cross ( ditch, etc.) by hopping. n. 1. th action of hopping: always on the ho moving about. 2. short jump: ho skip (or step), and jump, athletic ex ercise consisting of these three move ments one after the other. 3. (colloq.
social dance; ball. 4. (flying) one stag in a long-distance flight: from Berli to Tokyo in three hops. hop scotc [ˈhɔpskɔtʃ] n. [U] children's game o hopping on one foot and with it pushin a stone over lines marked on the ground.

¹hope [houp] n. 1. [C & U] feeling o expectation and desire; feeling of trus or confidence: We live in ~s of bette fortune next time. Don't raise his ~s to much. They held out a ~ (little ~) o victory. I called in the ~ of finding yo at leisure. There is not much ~ that the are (of their being) still alive. pas (beyond) ~, without possibility o success, recovery, etc. 2. [C] person thing, circumstance, etc., on which ~ i based: He was the ~ of the school. Yo are my last ~; if you can't help, I' ruined.

²hope [houp] v.t. & i. (VP 2, 11, 21, 24 expect and desire: *We ~ to see yo soon. I ~ you haven't hurt yourself
'Will it be fine tomorrow?'—'I ~ so.
'Will it rain tomorrow?'—'I ~ not.
Let us ~ for the best. We've had no new from him but we're still hoping* ~ against hope, ~ even though there i only a mere possibility.

hope ful [ˈhoupful] adj. 1. having hope be (feel) ~ about the future; feel ~ o success (that he will succeed). 2. givin hope; promising: The future does no seem very ~. He seems quite a ~ pupil

ly to do well. 3. (as n.) a young ~,
or girl who seems likely to succeed.
adv. ~ness n.

e less ['houplis] adj. 1. feeling no e; giving or promising no hope:
way to ~ grief; a ~ case; a ~ illness;
of improvement. 2. incurable: a ~
t. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

per ['hɔpə*] n. hop-picker. (See p.)

per ['hɔpə*] n. 1. structure like an erted cone or pyramid through ich grain passes to a mill, coal or coke a furnace, etc.; any similar contrince for feeding materials into a chine, etc. 2. hopping insect (e.g. lea, a young locust); (in Australia) garoo.

de [hɔːd] n. 1. wandering tribe (of nads): a gipsy ~; ~s of Tartars.
(usu. contemptuous) crowd; great mber: ~s of people. 3. multitude: a f locusts.

ri zon [hə'raizn] n. 1. line at which earth or sea and sky seem to meet:
e sun sank below the ~. 2. (fig.) limit one's knowledge, experience, think-
, etc.

i zon tal [ˌhɔri'zɔntl] adj. parallel to horizon; flat or level: a ~ line (cf. tical). n. ~ line, bar, etc. ~ly adv.

mone ['hɔːmoun] n. (kinds of) innal secretion that passes into the od and stimulates the bodily organs; dical preparation made from a cretion of this kind.

n [hɔːn] n. 1. [C] one of the hard, inted, usu. curved, outgrowths on the ads of cattle, deer, and some other imals. (See ¹*bull.*) 2. [U] substance of ese outgrowths: a knife with a handle ~ (a ~ handle); a ~ spoon. '~- mmed adj. (of spectacles) with the ame made of material that resembles
3. [C] article made from this sub-ance (or a modern substitute): a wder-~ (for gunpowder in olden nes); a shoe-~; a drinking-~; a ~ of enty (see cornucopia). 4. wind instru-ent (not now
u. made of ~):
hunting ~; a ench ~ (like trumpet); an nglish ~ (a kind oboe); device
r making warn-
g sounds: a fog-
; a motor-~. 5.
-like part (e.g.
the head of a ail). '~bill n.
rd with a ~like growth on its beak.
aw in one's ~s, (fig.) draw back, show ss zeal for an undertaking. 6. either of e ends of the crescent moon: on the ~s a dilemma, faced with a choice between

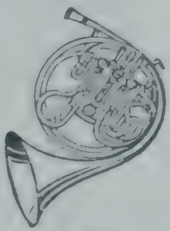
A hunting horn



A French horn

things that are equally undesirable, etc.

horned [hɔːnd] adj. having ~s (def. 1): ~ed cattle; the ~ed owl, with tufts like ~s. ~less adj. without ~s: ~less cattle. ~like adj.

horn beam ['hɔːnbiːm] n. small tree with hard wood, used in hedges.

hor net ['hɔːnit] n. large insect of the wasp family, able to inflict a severe sting: stir up a nest of ~s, bring a ~s' nest about one's ears. stir up enemies; cause an outburst of angry feeling.

horn pipe ['hɔːnpaip] n. [C] (music for a) lively dance (usu. for one person, esp. a sailor).

horn y ['hɔːni] adj. (-ier, -iest) made of horn; hard like horn: hands ~ from hard work.

ho rol o gy [hɔ'rɔlədʒi] n. art of designing and constructing clocks.

hor o scope ['hɔrəskoup] n. diagram of, observation of, positions of stars at a certain time (e.g. a person's birth) for the purpose of foretelling future events.

hor ri ble ['hɔribl] adj. 1. exciting horror: ~ cruelty (crimes). 2. (colloq.) unpleasant: ~ weather. hor ri bly adv.

hor rid ['hɔrid] adj. 1. frightful; terrible. 2. (colloq.) disagreeable: a ~ bore. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

hor rif ic [hɔ'rifik] adj. (colloq.) horrifying.

hor ri fy ['hɔrifai] v.t. (VP 1) fill with horror; shock: We were horrified by what we saw. Don't let the children see such ~ing scenes.

hor ror ['hɔrə*] n. [C & U] (sth. that causes) feeling of extreme fear or dislike: She recoiled in ~ from the snake. She expressed her ~ of cruelty. To her ~ she saw her husband fall out of the balloon. A good housewife has a ~ of dirt. We have all read about the ~s of modern warfare. chamber of ~s, collection of objects, representations, etc., connected with crime, cruelty, etc. ~ fiction (films), in which the subject-matter and treatment are intended to arouse feelings of ~. '~-struck, '~-ˌstricken adjj. overcome with ~.

hors de combat ['ɔːdə'kɔ̃ːmbɑː, (Fr.) ɔrdəkɔ̃ba] predic. adj. unable to take further part in fighting because wounded or disabled.

hors d'œuvres [ɔː'dəːvrz, (Fr.) ɔrdœːvr] n. pl. dishes of food served at the beginning of a meal as a relish.

horse [hɔːs] n. 1. four-legged solid-hoofed animal with flowing mane and tail, used from early times to carry loads, for riding, etc. (Cf. stallion, mare, colt, filly, foal.) be on one's high ~, see high, adj. def. 1. look a gift ~ in the mouth, examine a gift critically for faults (because a ~'s teeth indicate its age). flog a dead ~, see flog. eat (work) like a ~, eat a lot, work hard. put the cart before the ~, see cart.

a dark ~, (lit. & fig.) one whose chances of success are not yet known, or have been overlooked. a ~ of another colour, (fig.) quite a different matter. (straight) from the ~'s mouth, (of tips, advice, information) from a first-hand source. 2. (collect. sing.) cavalry: ~ and foot, cavalry and infantry; light ~, lightly armed mounted soldiers; ~ artillery, light artillery with mounted gunners; the H~ Guards, see ¹*guard*, def. 6. To ~! (as a command) Mount your ~s! 3. framework, often with legs, on which sth. is supported: a clothes-~, on which clothes may be dried in front of a fire; block used in a gymnasium for vaulting over. 4. (compounds) '~back n. (only in) on ~back, on a ~. '~-box n. closed vehicle for taking a ~ by rail, or towing behind a car, etc. '~-'chestnut n. large tree with spreading branches and clusters of white or pink blossom; shiny reddish-brown nut of this tree. '~-flesh n. [U] (a) flesh of ~s as food; (b) ~s collectively: He's a good judge of ~flesh. '~-fly n. large insect troublesome to ~s and cattle. '~hair n. hair from the mane or tail of ~s, formerly used for stuffing sofas, etc. '~-laugh n. loud, coarse laugh. '~man n. rider on ~back, esp. one who is skilled. '~manship n. art of riding, skill in riding, on ~back. '~-play n. rough, noisy fun or play. '~-pond n. pond for watering and washing ~s. '~ˌpower n. (shortened to h.p.) unit for measuring the power of an engine, etc. (550 foot-pounds per second). '~-race n. race between ~s with riders. '~-ˌradish n. [U] (plant with a) hot-tasting root which is ground or scraped to make a sauce (eaten with beef). '~-'sense n. ordinary wisdom. '~shoe n. U-shaped metal shoe for a ~; sth. of this shape (e.g. a ~-shoe table). '~whip n. & v.t. (-pp-) (thrash with a) whip for ~s. '~ˌwoman n. woman who rides on ~back.

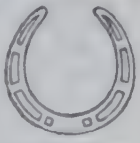
Horse-chestnut leaf and nut



A horseshoe

hor sy ['hɔːsi] adj. concerned with, fond of, horses or horse-racing; showing by dress, conversation, manners, etc., familiarity with horses, horse-racing, grooms, jockeys, etc.

hor ta tive ['hɔːtətiv], hor ta to ry ['hɔːtətəri] adjj. exhorting; serving to encourage.

hor ti cul ture ['hɔːtikʌltʃə*] n. [U] (art of) growing flowers, fruit, and vegetables. hor ti cul tur al [ˌhɔːti'kʌltʃərəl] adj. of ~: a horticultural show (society). hor ti cul tur al ist [ˌhɔːti'kʌltʃərəlist] n. person who practises ~.

ho san na [hou'zænə] n. cry of pra adoration (to God).
¹hose [houz] n. [C & U] (length tubing (of rubber, canvas, or plastic)
for directing water
on to fires, watering gardens, cleaning streets, etc.: 60 feet
of plastic ~; plenty of fire ~s in the building. '~-pipe n. length of ~.
(VP 1, 10) water (a garden, etc.) wit
~; wash (a motor-car, etc.) by usin ~: ~ (down) the car.

A hose N. Noz

²hose [houz] n. 1. (collect., as pl.) (tr name for) stockings: six pair of ~.
close-fitting garment from the waist the knees or feet worn by men in for times: dressed in doublet and ~. ( the illustr. at doublet.)
ho sier ['houʒə*] n. tradesman who men's socks, collars, underwear, ho sier y ['houʒəri] n. [U] goods by a ~.
hos pice ['hɔspis] n. house of rest travellers, esp. one kept by memb of a religious order (e.g. in the Sv mountains).
hos pi ta ble ['hɔspitəbl, hɔs'pit-] giving, liking to give, hospitality:
man (household). hos pi ta bly adv.
hos pi tal ['hɔspitl] n. place wh people are treated for, nursed throu their illness or injuries: He's still in I'm going to the ~ to see my brother.
sister is a ~ nurse.
hos pi tal i ty [ˌhɔspi'tæliti] n.
friendly and generous reception entertainment of guests, esp. in o own home.
¹host [houst] n. 1. great number (of):
has ~s of friends. We are faced with of difficulties. He is a ~ in himself, do as much as a number of ordin persons. 2. (old use) army: Lord
H~s, Jehovah, God of the Hebrews.
²host [houst] n. 1. person who enterta guests: As Mr Hill was away, Tom, eldest son, acted as ~ at the dinner pa welcomed the guests, etc. (In the
this word may be common gend
The Parnwells are such good ~s. 2.
keeper; hotel-keeper. reckon with one's ~, make calculations, plans, without consulting the chief perso concerned; overlook possible oppositi Host [houst] n. the ~, bread eaten Holy Communion.
hos tage ['hɔstidʒ] n. person (less oft a thing) given or left as a pledge t demands will be satisfied: The ban demanded that one of the travellers sho stay with them as a ~.
hos tel ['hɔstəl] n. 1. building in wh board and lodging are provided (w the support of the authorities concern tudents, workmen in training, etc.: M.C.A. ~. youth ~, one for young le on walking tours, used by mem-of the Youth H~ Association. 2.

.) inn. ~ry [ˈhɔstəlri] n. (arch.) inn.
n. person travelling from ~ to ~ youth ~s).

ess [ˈhoustis] n. 1. woman who rtains guests; wife of one's host.
oman inn-keeper. 3. air-~, woman onsible for passengers' comfort ng air travel; stewardess.

ile [ˈhɔstail, (U.S.A.) -til] adj. 1. of enemy: a ~ army. 2. feeling or ving enmity (to); unfriendly: a ~ d; ~ looks; ~ to reform. ~ly adv.

il i ty [hɔsˈtiliti] n. 1. [U] enmity; ill: feelings of ~; feel no ~ towards ne; show ~ to sb. 2. (pl.) (acts of)
: at the outbreak of hostilities; open pend) hostilities, begin (stop) fighting.

ler [ˈɔslə*] n. = ostler.

ɔt] adj. (-tt-) 1. having great heat high temperature: hot weather. I my food hot. hot air, (colloq.) exand boastful talk without much ning. be in (get into) hot water, ouble or disgrace (because of foolish viour, etc.). make a place too hot sb., compel him to leave by rousing ility against him. hot money, short-funds moved from place to place peculators seeking high interest rates security. hot news, (colloq.) fresh, nt. 2. producing a burning sensaon the tongue, etc.: This curry is hot. Pepper and mustard are hot.
ery; eager; intense; violent: a hot er; get hot over an argument; a hot gle; in the hottest part of the election paign. hot stuff, (sl.) person of high , strong will, or fierce passion. 4. (in ing, of the scent) strong and fresh;
ce) be hot on the trail (on sb.'s ks), near to what is being pursued, behind. 5. (as adv.) eagerly, hotly:
hot and cold, (fig.) be favourable unfavourable by turns. Give it hot, (colloq.) punish or scold him rely. 6. (compounds) ˈhotbed n.
of earth heated by rotting manure to note growth; (fig.) place, conditions, urable to growth: a hotbed of vice ne, etc.). ˈhot-ˈblooded adj. pas-ate; eager. hot dog n. (colloq.)
wich made of a hot sausage served roll of bread with mustard. ˈhotfoot in great haste: follow hotfoot on the
of the retreating enemy. ˈhothead mpetuous person. ˈhot-ˈheaded impetuous, excitable. ˈhothouse eated building, usu. of glass, for ving delicate plants. ˈhot-plate n.
top surface of a stove for cooking; lar surface (not part of a large
e) that can be heated (e.g. electri-). ˈhotpot n. dish of meat, with vegetables, etc., cooked in an oven in a tight-lidded pot. hot-ˈwater-ˌbottle n. container (to be) filled with hot water and used to give warmth in bed.

hotch potch [ˈhɔtʃpɔtʃ] n. jumble; number of things mixed together without order: His essay was a ~ of other people's ideas.

ho tel [houˈtel, ou-] n. (either a ~ or an ~) building where meals and rooms are provided for travellers.

hound [haund] n. 1. (kinds of) dog used for hunting and racing: fox~; blood~; grey~. (When not in a compound, ~ usu. means fox~.) follow the ~s, ride to ~s, hunt with a pack of ~s. Master of H~s, the master of a hunt (def. 3). 2. mean, wretched, contemptible fellow. v.t. (VP 1, 10) chase or hunt with, or as with, ~s: be ~ed by one's creditors, worried by requests for payment of money owing.

hour [ˈauə*] n. 1. twenty-fourth part of a day; 60 minutes: hire a horse by the ~; walk for ~s (and ~s); a three ~s' journey; the happiest ~s (= period) of my life. at the eleventh ~, when almost too late. the small ~s, the three or four ~s after midnight. ˈ~-glass n. sandglass which runs out in one ~. ˈ~-hand n. small hand on a clock or watch, pointing to the ~. 2. time of day; point or period of time: The church clock was striking the ~ as we got home. This clock strikes the ~s and the half-~s, but not the quarters. Please come at an early ~. They disturb me at all ~s of the day and night, constantly. 3. (pl.) fixed periods of time, esp. for work: school ~s. Office ~s, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. after ~s, after the period of regular business, etc. out of ~s, outside (before or after) regular ~s (of duty, etc.). keep good (bad, early, late, regular, etc.) ~s, get up, go to bed, start (stop) work, leave (arrive) home, etc., early (late, etc.). 4. a particular, or the present, point in time: questions of the ~, now being discussed; in the ~ of danger (temptation); in a good (evil) ~, at a lucky (unlucky) time.

hou ri [ˈhuəri] n. young and beautiful woman of the Muslim Paradise.

hour ly [ˈauəli] adv. 1. every hour; once every hour: This medicine is to be taken ~. 2. at any hour: We're expecting news ~. adj. 1. done or occurring every hour: an ~ service of trains; an ~ bus service. 2. continual: live in ~ dread of discovery.

¹house [haus] n. (pl. ~s [ˈhauziz]) 1. building made for people to live in, usu. for one family (or a family and lodgers, etc.). (Cf. block of flats.) New ~s are going up everywhere. I've bought a ~. (Cf. home.) (burn) like a ~ on fire, vigorously and rapidly. under ~ arrest, forbidden (by persons in authority) to leave one's ~ (e.g. because under suspicion of disloyalty). 2. (usu. with a prefix) building made or used for some particular purpose or occupation: ˈhen-~; ˈcow-~; ˈstore~; ˈware~; ˈalms-~; ˈbake~; ˈcustom-~, etc. (See these entries.) the H~ of God, church or chapel. ~ of ill fame, (old use) brothel. ~ of cards, one built by a child out of playing cards; (fig.) scheme likely to collapse. a drink on the ~, (see *public ~), a drink at the innkeeper's expense. 3. (building used by an) assembly: _the H~ of *Commons (*Lords)_; _the H~s of *Parliament._ the H~, (colloq., Gt. Brit.) (a) the Stock Exchange. (b) the H~ of Commons (Lords): enter the H~, become an M.P. (c) (U.S.A.) the H~ of Representatives. 4. [U] keep ~, manage the affairs of a household; keep a good ~, provide good food and plenty of comfort; keep open ~, be ready to welcome guests at any time; set (put) one's ~ in order, put one's affairs straight. 5. household; family line; dynasty: the H~ of Windsor, the British Royal family; an ancient ~; an old trading ~, business firm. 6. (spectators, audience, in a) theatre: make oneself heard in every part of the ~; a full ~, every seat occupied; bring down the ~, win very great applause and approval. The second ~ (= performance) starts at 9 o'clock. 7. (compounds) ˈ~-ˌagent n. person who sells or lets ~s for others. (Cf. U.S.A. realtor.) ˈ~boat n. boat fitted up as a place to live in (e.g. on a river or estuary). ˈ~-ˌbreaker n. (a) person who enters another's ~ by day (cf. burglar) for the purpose of felony. (b) workman employed to pull down old buildings (= U.S.A. ~wrecker). ˈ~-dog n. dog trained to guard a ~. ˈ~-flag n. flag flown by a firm's ships (see def. 5 above). ˈ~hold n. all persons (family and servants) living in a ~: ~hold cavalry (troops), employed to guard the Sovereign; ~hold duties (expenses). ˈ~ˌholder n. person leasing or owning and occupying a ~ (not sb. living in a hotel, in lodgings, etc.). ˈ~ˌkeeper n. woman employed to manage the affairs of a ~hold. ˈ~maid n. female servant in a ~, esp. one who cleans rooms, etc.: ~maid's knee, inflammation of the kneecap due to kneeling. ˈ~ˌmaster n. teacher in charge of a school boarding-~. ˈ~-ˌparty n. party of guests be entertained for several days at a coun ~, etc. ˈ~-proud adj. very m concerned with the care of the

with the appearance of the furnishi etc. ˈ~-room n. space: I would give that table ~-room, would not h it in my ~, would not accept it even gift. ˈ~-ˌsurgeon, ˈ~-phyˌsician one who resides in a hospital. ˈ~-to (chiefly in) cry (publish, proclaim) from the ~tops, make known to all;
clare publicly ˈ~trained adj. (of d cats) trained to be cleanly in the ˈ~-ˌwarming n. party given to frie by a person who moves into a ~. ˈ~wife n. (a) woman head o family, who does the cleaning, cook shopping, etc. (b) [ˈhʌzif] case for nee and thread. ˈ~ˌwifely adj. of a ~ (def. 1). ˈ~work n. [U] work don a ~ (cleaning, cooking, etc.).
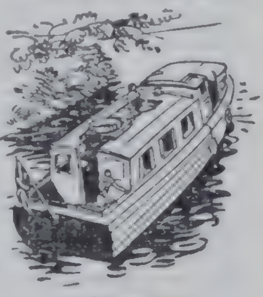
homework.)



A houseboat

²house [hauz] v.t. (VP 1) 1. pro houses for: the housing problem, that providing enough houses for the popu tion; a housing estate, area where th are houses planned and built by organization. 2. store (goods): ~ o old books in an attic; place (sth.) i secure position. 3. receive (sb.) i house: We can ~ you and your friend the hotels are full.

hove [houv] p.t. & p.p. of heave.

hov el [ˈhɔvəl] n. small house or cott that is in bad repair and unfit to live hov er [ˈhɔvə*] v.i. (VP 21, 23, 24) 1.

birds) remain in the air at one pla a hawk ~ing overhead (~ing over prey); a helicopter ~ing over the la ˈ~craft n. craft capable of hovering propelling itself over land surfaces water while supported on a cushion air made by jet engines. 2. (of perso wait about; remain at or near: (fig.) between life and death.

how [hau] adv. 1. in what way manner; by what means: How is word spelt? Tell me how to spell word. How did you escape? Tell how you escaped. 2. (in questions exclamations) to what extent; in w degree: How old is he? How often do go there? How many are there?
much do you want? How dirty the ho is! How kind you are! How he sno (i.e. he snores very loudly). How you look! 3. in what state of hea How are you? How's your father?
do you do? (formula used as a conv tional greeting, esp. when persons formally introduced; used only with pronoun you.) 4. (introducing an direct statement) that: He told me (= that) he had read about it in newspapers. 5. used in asking for opinion, decision, explanation,

v's that? (a) What's the explanation that? (b) What's your opinion of t? (e.g. an object pointed to). (c) (in ket, to the umpire) Is the batsman or not out? How so? Can you prove t it is so? How about going (what do think about going) for a walk? How you find your new job, do you like it,
.? how be it [ˈhauˈbiːit] conj. (arch.)
ertheless. how ev er [hauˈevə*] adv.
whatever way or degree: He will never ceed, however hard he tries. We must something, on however humble a scale.
nj. all the same; nevertheless: Later, ever, he decided to go. He was mistaken, vever.

v dah [ˈhaudə] n. seat (usu. with a nopy) on an elephant's back.

v itz er [ˈhauitsə*] n. short gun for ing shells at a high angle at short nge.

wl [haul] n. [C] long, loud cry (e.g. of wolf); long cry of a person in pain, or
sb. expressing scorn, amusement, etc.: of derision. v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 23) ter such cries: wolves ~ing in the
est. The wind ~ed through the trees.
he boys ~ed with laughter. 2. (VP 1, ) utter ~s at; utter with ~s: ~ de- nce at the enemy; ~ down a speaker, event him from being heard. ~er n.
olloq.) foolish and laughable mistake.
ing adj. (sl.) extreme; glaring: a ~ing ame.

y den [ˈhoịdn] n. boisterous girl. ~ish
dj. of or like a ~.

b [hʌb] n. central part of a wheel from hich the spokes radiate; (fig.) central oint of activity or importance: a hub industry (commerce). He thinks that oston is the hub of the universe.

b ble-bub ble [ˈhʌblˌbʌbl] n. form of okah; bubbling noise.

b bub [ˈhʌbʌb] n. [U] confused noise
g. of many voices); uproar.

b by [ˈhʌbi] n. (colloq.) husband.

b ris [ˈhuːbris] n. [U] (Gk.) insolent ide or feeling of security.

ck a back [ˈhʌkəbæk] n. strong, rough,
nen material used for towels, etc.

ck le ber ry [ˈhʌklberi] n. (small, rk-blue berry of a) low shrub common N. America.

ck ster [ˈhʌkstə*] n. hawker.

d dle [ˈhʌdl] v.i. & t. (VP 23, 10, 18) crowd or press together in disorder distress: sheep huddling together for armth. 2. ~ (oneself) up, draw the nees up to the body: He lay ~d up in
d. n. number of things or persons close gether without order or arrangement:
into a ~, (colloq., of persons) get gether to confer.

e [hjuː] n. [C] (shade of) colour: the ues of the rainbow; the dark hue of the
ean. -hued (in compounds) having the ne(s) indicated: dark-hued; many-hued.

²hue [hjuː] n. (only in) hue and cry, general outcry of alarm (as when a criminal is being pursued, or when there is opposition to sth.): raise a hue and cry against new tax proposals.

huff [hʌf] n. fit of ill temper: be in (get into) a ~. ~y adj. in a ~; taking offence easily. ~i ly adv.

hug [hʌg] v.t. (-gg-) (VP 1) 1. put the arms round tightly, esp. to show love: The child was hugging her doll. 2. cling to: hug cherished beliefs. 3. (of a ship) hug the shore, keep close to it. 4. hug oneself, be very pleased with oneself, congratulate oneself (on, for, over, sth.). n. [C] tight embrace: She gave her mother a big hug.

huge [hjuːdʒ] adj. very great. ~ly adv. enormously; very much.

hug ger-mug ger [ˈhʌgəˌmʌgə*] n., adj., adv. secrecy; secret(ly); confusion; confused(ly).

Hu gue not [ˈhjuːgənɔt] n. (hist.) French Protestant.

hu la [ˈhuːlə] n. native Hawaiian dance.

hulk [hʌlk] n. 1. old ship no longer in use or used only as a storehouse; (formerly) old ship used as a prison. 2. big, clumsy person. ~ing adj. clumsy; awkward: Get out of my way, you big ~ing creature!

¹hull [hʌl] n. outer covering of some fruits and seeds, esp. the pods of peas and beans. v.t. remove the ~s of.

²hull [hʌl] n. body or frame of a ship: ~ down, (of a ship almost below the horizon) with only the mast(s), funnel(s), etc., visible.

hul la ba loo [ˌhʌləbəˈluː] n. uproar; disturbance: What a ~! What's all this ~ about?

hul lo [ˈhʌˈlou, hʌˈlou] int. used to call attention, to express surprise, and to answer a call, esp. on the telephone.

hum [hʌm] v.i. & t. (-mm-) (VP 1, 21, 23) 1. make a continuous sound like that made by bees; sing with closed lips: She was humming a song to herself. The bees were humming in the garden. ˈ*humming-bird n. name used of several species, usu. small and brightly coloured, that make a humming sound by vibration of the wings. ˈ*humming-top n. top that hums when it spins. 2. be in a state of activity: make things hum; a factory humming with activity. 3. (sl.) smell unpleasantly: This ham is beginning to hum. 4. usu. hum and haw, make sounds expressing hesitation or doubt. n. humming noise: the hum of bees (of distant traffic); a hum of voices (conversation) from the next room.

hu man [ˈhjuːmən] adj. 1. of man or mankind (contrasted with animals, God): a ~ being; ~ nature; ~ affairs. 'To err is ~, to forgive divine.' 2.

having, showing, the qualities that distinguish man: His cruelty suggests that he is less than ~. ~ly adv. (esp.) by ~ means: The doctors have done all that is ~ly possible.

hu mane [hju(:)'mein] adj. 1. tender; kind-hearted: a man of ~ character; a ~ officer. ~ killer, instrument for the painless killing of animals. 2. (of branches of study) tending to refinement; polished. (Cf. the humanities.) ~ly adv.

hu man ism ['hju:mənizəm] n. [U] devotion to human interests; system that is concerned with human (not divine) interests, with the human race (not individuals); literary culture (of about the 14th to 16th centuries) based on Greek and Roman learning.

hu man ist ['hju:mənist] n. student of human nature or human affairs (as opposed to theological subjects), or (esp. in the 14th to 16th centuries) of Greek and Roman literature and antiquities.

hu man i ta ri an [hju(:)ˌmæni'tɛəriən] adj. & n. (of, holding the views of, a) person who works for the welfare of all human beings (by reducing suffering, reforming laws about punishment, etc.). ~ism n.

hu man i ty [hju(:)'mæniti] n. [U] 1. the human race; mankind: crimes against ~. 2. human nature. 3. quality of being humane (def. 1): treat people and animals with ~. 4. (pl.) the humanities, the branches of learning concerned with ancient Greek and Latin culture; the Arts subjects (esp. literature, history, and philosophy).

hu man ize ['hju:mənaiz] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) make or become human or humane.

hu man kind ['hju:mən 'kaind] n. [U] mankind.

hum ble ['hʌmbl] adj. (-er, -est) 1. having or showing a modest opinion of oneself, one's position, etc.: He is very ~ towards his superiors. your ~ servant, formula at the end of a formal letter. eat ~ pie, make an abject apology, humiliate oneself. 2. (of persons) low in rank or position; obscure and unimportant; (of things) poor; mean: men of ~ birth; a ~ home; a ~ occupation (e.g. street-cleaning). v.t. (VP 1) make ~; make lower in rank or self-opinion: ~ one's enemies; ~ sb.'s pride; ~ oneself before God. hum bly ['hʌmbli] adv. in a ~ way: beg most humbly for forgiveness; humbly born, of ~ parents.

hum bug ['hʌmbʌg] n. 1. [C & U] (instance of) dishonest and deceiving behaviour or talk; [C] dishonest, deceitful person. 2. hard boiled sweet flavoured with peppermint. v.t. (-gg-) deceive or trick (sb. into or out of sth.): Don't try to ~ me! int. Nonsense!

hum drum ['hʌmdrʌm] adj. dull; co monplace; monotonous: live a ~ li engaged in ~ tasks.

hu mer us ['hju:mərəs] n. bone of t upper arm in man.

hu mid ['hju:mid] adj. (esp. of a climate) damp. ~i fy [hju(:)'midif v.t. make ~. ~i ty [hju(:)'miditi] n. [(degree of) moisture (in the air).

hu mil i ate [hju(:)'milieit] v.t. (VP cause to feel ashamed; put to sham lower the dignity or self-respect o a country that was ~d by defeat; humili ing peace terms. hu mil i a tion [hju(ˌmili'eiʃən] n. [U] humiliating or bei ~d; [C] instance of this: the humiliati of having to surrender.

hu mil i ty [hju(:)'militi] n. [U] humb condition or state of mind.

hum mock ['hʌmək] n. hillock; risi ground in a marsh; hump in an ice-fiel hu mor ist ['*h*ju:mərist] n. humoro talker or writer; facetious person.

hu mor ous ['*h*ju:mərəs] adj. having showing a sense of humour; funny: a writer (e.g. Mark Twain); ~ remark ~ly adv.

hu mour ['*h*ju:mə*] n. (U.S.A. humo 1. [U] (capacity to cause or feel) amus ment: a story full of ~; have a good (n not much) sense of ~. 2. [U] person state of mind (esp. at a particular time temper: in a good (bad) ~; not in the for work, not feeling inclined to work when the ~ takes him, when he feels inclined; out of ~, displeased. 3. [(old use) one of certain liquids in th body, said to determine a person mental and physical qualities. v. (VP 1) give way to, gratify: When person is ill he may have to be ~ed, h wishes may have to be granted, even they are senseless. Is it wise to ~ child, give it everything it wants?

hump [hʌmp] n. 1. round lump, e.g. o a camel's back or (as a deformity) o a person's back. '~back n. (perso having a) back with a ~. '~backe adj. having such a back. 2. (sl.) fit o depression: It gives me the ~. v. (VP 1, 10) make ~-shaped; gather th shoulders into a ~: The cat ~ed (up) h back when she saw the dog.

humph [hʌmf] int. used to show doubt o dissatisfaction.

hu mus ['hju:məs] n. [U] earth forme by the decay of vegetable matter (dea leaves, plants).

hunch [hʌntʃ] n. 1. thick piece; hunk hump. '~-back(ed), = humpback(ed). 2 (sl., orig. U.S.A.) have a ~ that, suspect rather think, that . . . v.t. (VP 1) arch t form a hump: sitting at the table with h shoulders ~ed up.

hun dred ['hʌndrəd] n. & adj. th number 100, C: two ~ and five, 205; few ~ people; ~s of people. '~weight n

Gt. Brit.) $\frac{1}{20}$ of one ton, 112 lb. (often tten cwt.); (in U.S.A. 100 lb.). ˈ~fold . one ~ times as much or as many. n dredth n. & adj. next after the h; one of a ~ equal parts.

g [hʌŋ] p.t. & p.p. of hang.

ger [ˈhʌŋgə*] n. 1. [U] need, desire, food: die of ~; satisfy one's ~. The soners went on (a) ˈ~-strike, refused ake food as a protest, in order to win ase, etc. ˈ~-march n. one underen (e.g. by unemployed workers) to l attention to sufferings, etc. Hence, -ˌmarcher n. 2. (fig.) any strong sire: a ~ for excitement (adventure). v.i. P 21, 24) feel, suffer from, ~; have a ong desire for: ~ for news.

gry [ˈhʌŋgri] adj. (-ier, -iest) feeling, wing signs of, causing, hunger: The had a ~ look. Hay-making is ~ rk. The orphan child was ~ for ection. hun gri ly adv.

k [hʌŋk] n. thick piece cut off: a ~ of ad (cheese, meat).

k ers [ˈhʌŋkəz] n. pl. (colloq.) unches, esp. on one's ~, in a squatting sition.

nt [hʌnt] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 1, 21) go after ild animals) for food or sport (cf. ooting): ~ big game; go out ~ing. olves ~ in packs. 2. (VP 1, 10, 18,) search (for); try to find: ~ for a lost ok. They ~ed high and low (searched erywhere) for the missing will. ~ own, (VP 10) look for, pursue, and d; bring to bay: ~ down a criminal n escaped prisoner). ~ up, (VP 10) arch for (sth. hidden or difficult to d): ~ up old records (references, otations). ~ out, (VP 10) (try to) d by searching (sth. that has been put vay and forgotten): ~ out an old diary silk hat that hasn't been needed for ars). 3. (VP 1, 10) drive or chase away: the neighbour's cats out of the garden. 4. pecial uses in England; foxhunting): llow the hounds through or in (a strict): ~ the county; employ (a horse) ~ing: ~ one's horse all winter; act master or huntsman of (a pack of ounds): ~ the hounds.

nt [hʌnt] n. 1. the action of ~ing: ve a good ~. 2. (fig.) search: find . after a long ~. 3. (special uses in ngland; foxhunting) association of ersons who hunt foxes with a pack of ounds: the Quorn H~; a member of e ~; district which is ~ed by a partilar pack of hounds. ~ ball, ball given members of a ~, the men wearing nting-pink.

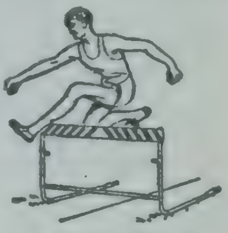
n ter [ˈhʌntə*] n. 1. person or animal at hunts (but not used in England a person who hunts foxes on horseck nor of a person who goes out to oot grouse, pheasants, etc. See hunt- g and shooting.) The Red Indians used to be clever ~s. 2. horse used for hunting, esp. one bred for foxhunting. 3. watch with a metal cover protecting its face.

hunt ing [ˈhʌntiŋ] n. action of a person or animal that hunts; used (in England) esp. of foxhunting: He's fond of ~. Used attrib.: a ˈ~-man; a ˈ~-knife; a ˈ~-ground; a ˈ~-horn; ˈ~-ˈpink, special shade of red worn by huntsmen.

hunt ress [ˈhʌntris] n. (liter. use only) woman or goddess (e.g. Diana) who hunts.

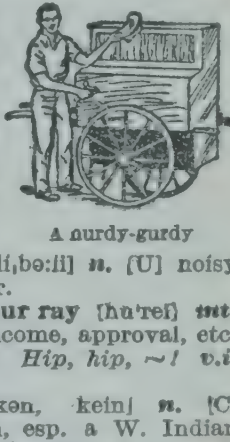
hunts man [ˈhʌntsmən] n. 1. = hunter (def. 1). 2. man in charge of the hounds during a hunt (def. 3).

hur dle [ˈhə:dl] n. 1. movable oblong frame of wood, etc., used for making temporary fences (e.g. for sheep pens). 2. light frame to be jumped over in a ~-race. 3. (fig.) difficulty to be overcome. v.t. (VP 10) fence (off) with ~s. hur dler n. person who makes ~s (def. 1); person who runs in ~-races.



A hurdle (def. 2)

hur dy-gur dy [ˈhə:diˌgə:di] n. street piano or barrel organ, usu. mounted on wheels, played by turning a handle.



A hurdy-gurdy

hurl [hə:l] v.t. (VP 1, 10, 18) throw violently: ~ a spear at a tiger. They ~ed themselves at (upon) the enemy. n. violent throw.

hur ly-bur ly [ˈhə:liˌbə:li] n. [U] noisy commotion; uproar.

hur rah [huˈrɑ:], hur ray [huˈrei] int. expressing joy, welcome, approval, etc. H~ for the Queen! Hip, hip, ~! v.i. shout ~; cheer.

hur ri cane [ˈhʌrikən, -kein] n. [C] violent wind-storm, esp. a W. Indian cyclone. ˈ~-lamp (-ˌlantern) nn. kind designed to resist wind.

hur ry [ˈhʌri] n. [U] eager haste; wish to get sth. done quickly; (with neg., or in the interr.) need for haste: Everything was ~ and excitement. Why all this ~? Is there any ~, i.e. need for ~? Don't start yet—there's no ~, there's plenty of time. in a ~, (a) impatient; acting, anxious to act, quickly: He was in a ~ to leave. In his ~ to catch the train, he left his luggage in the taxi. (b) (colloq.) soon, willingly: I shan't ask that rude man to dinner again in a ~. (c) (colloq.) easily: You won't find a better specimen than that in a ~. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 10, 21, 23) (cause to) move or do sth. quickly or too quickly: Don't ~; there's plenty of time. It's no use ~ing her (trying to make her ~). If we ~ the work, it may be spoiled. He picked up his bag and hurried off. More soldiers were hurried to the front line. H~ up! Make haste. H~ him up! hur ried ['hʌrid] adj. done, etc., in a ~; showing haste: a hurried meal; write a few hurried lines. hur ried ly adv.

hurt [həːt] v.t. & i. (p.t. & p.p. hurt) 1. (VP 1, 21) cause bodily injury or pain to; damage: He ~ his back when he fell. He was more frightened than ~. These shoes are too tight; they ~ (me). 2. pain (a person, his feelings): He was rather ~ by their criticisms. She was ~ to find that no one admired her performance. 3. (VP 21) suffer injury; come to harm; have a bad effect (on): It won't ~ to postpone the matter for a few days. n. [U] (or with indef. art.) harm; injury: I intended no ~ to his feelings. It was a severe ~ to his pride. ~ful adj. causing ~ : ~ful to the health hur tle ['həːtl] v.t. & i. (VP 10, 23, 24) (cause to) rush or fly violently: During the gale chimney-pots and roof-tiles came hurtling down.

hus band ['hʌzbənd] n. man to whom a woman is married. v.t. (VP 1) use sparingly: ~ one's resources (strength). ~ly adj. of, for, a ~.

hus band man ['hʌzbəndmən] n. (old use) farmer. hus band ry ['hʌzbəndri] n. [U] farming; management: animal husbandry; good (bad) husbandry.

hush [hʌʃ] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 10, 21) make or become silent or quiet: H~! [ʃː] Be silent! She ~ed the baby to sleep. ~ sth. up, prevent it from becoming public knowledge: She tried unsuccessfully to ~ up the fact that her husband was an ex-convict. n. [U] silence; stillness: in the ~ of night. '~-ˌmoney n. money paid to ~ sth. up (usu. sth. scandalous or discreditable). '~-'~ adj. (to be) kept very secret: a ~-~ affair.

husk [hʌsk] n. (usu. pl.) dry outer covering of seeds, esp. of grain: rice in the ~, with the ~s not removed; (fig.) worthless outside part of anything. v.t. remove ~s from.

hus ky ['hʌski] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. (dry) like husks. 2. (of a person, his voice) hoarse; with a dry and almost whispering voice: a ~ voice (cough). You sound ~ this morning. 3. (colloq.) big and strong: a fine ~ woman, excellent as a farmer's wife. n. 1. Eskimo dog. 2. ~ (def. 3) person. hus ki ly adv. hus ki ness n.

hus sar [hu'zɑː*] n. soldier of a light cavalry regiment.

hus sy ['hʌsi], huz zy ['hʌzi] n. worthless woman; ill-mannered girl.

hus tings ['hʌstiŋz] n. pl. proceedings (canvassing, speech-making, etc.) leading up to a parliamentary election.

hus tle ['hʌsl] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 10, 23) push roughly; (make sb.) act quic and with energy: The police ~d thief into their van. I don't want t you into a decision. Come on, n ~! n. (sing. only) quick and ene activity: The railway station w scene of ~ and bustle. hus tler n. pe who ~s; person with great energy w does things quickly.

hut [hʌt] n. 1. small, roughly m house or shelter: Alpine huts, for use of mountain climbers. 2. tempora wooden building for soldiers.

hutch [hʌtʃ] n. box or cage with a fr of wire netting, esp. one used for rabb huz za [hu'zɑː] int. = hurrah.

huz zy n. = hussy.

hy a cinth ['haiəsinθ] n. plant growing from a bulb; its sweet-smelling flowers. water~, wild plant that grows in floating masses on rivers, lakes, etc., and may hinder nagivation.

hy æ na, see hyena.

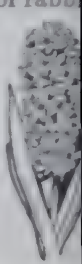
hy brid ['haibrid] n. & adj. (animal, plant, etc.) from parents of different species or varieties: A mule is a ~ anim 'Cablegram' is a ~; half the word Latin and half is Greek. ~ize ['haibrida v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) (cause to) produce ~ interbreed.

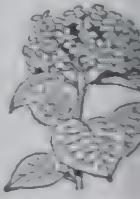


A hyacin

hy dra ['haidrə] n. (Gk. myth.) great s serpent with many heads that gre again if cut off.

hy dran gea [hai'dreindʒə] n. (sorts of) shrub with large balls of white, blue, or pink flowers.

hy drant ['haidrənt] n. water-pipe (esp. in a street) with a nozzle to which a hose can be attached for street-cleaning, putting out fires, etc.



A hydrangea

hy drate ['haidreit] n. chemical compound of water with another substance. v.t. combine with water.

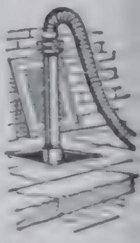
hy drau lic [hai'drɔːlik] adj. of water moving through pipes; worked by water-power: a ~ lift; hardening under water: ~ cement. hy drau lics n. pl. science of using water to produce power.



A hydrant

hy dro ['haidrou] n. (colloq. abbrev. o hydropathic establishment.

hy dro car bon ['haidrou'kɑːbən] n. [substance formed of hydrogen and ca bon (e.g. benzene, paraffin, coal gas).

hy dro chlor ic ['haidrə'klɔrik] adj. acid, (HCl) acid containing hydroge and chlorine.

ro-e lec tric ['haidroui'lektrik] adj.
lectricity produced by water-power.
ro gen ['haidridʒən] n. gas without ur, taste, or smell, that combines h oxygen to form water. ~ bomb, ion bomb.
rop a thy hai'drɔpəθi] n. [U] use of er (internally and externally) in the tment of disease. hy dro path ic idrə'pæθik] adj. of ~: hydropathic blishments (abbrev. hydro) (e.g. hotels h baths for ~).
ro pho bia [ˌhaidrə'foubjə] n. [U] ies; disease marked by strong conctions of the muscles of the throat l consequent inability to drink water.
ro plane ['haidrəplein] n. speed-t; motor-boat with a flat bottom, able kim very fast over the surface; (old ne for) seaplane.
ro po nics [ˌhaidrə'pouniks] n. pl.
of growing plants without soil, in ter to which necessary chemical food supplied.
na [hai'iːnə] n. flesh-eating wild mal, like a wolf, with a laughing cry.
iene ['haidʒiːn] n. [U] science of,
es for, healthy living. hy gien ic i'dʒiːnik] adj. of ~; likely to promote lth; free from disease germs: hy- nic conditions. hy gien i cal ly adv.
men ['haimen] n. Greek god of rriage.
nn [him] n. song of praise to God, esp.
e for use in a religious service. v.t.
aise (God) in ~s; express (praise) in
. hym nal ['himnəl] n. book of ~s.
per bo la [hai'pəːbələ] n. curve proced when a cone is cut by a plane passanywhere except through its point.
per bo le [hai'pəːbəli] n. [U] (use exaggerated statement(s) made for ect and not intended to be taken erally; [C] instance of this (e.g. waves high as Everest).
per crit i cal ['haipə'kritikəl] adj.
critical, esp. of small faults.
phen ['haifən] n. the mark (-) used join two words together (as in Anglo- ench), or to divide a word into syl-
les. v.t. join (words) with a ~;
ite (a compound word) with a ~.
ate ['haifəneit] v.t. = ~: ~ated nericans (e.g. German-Americans, sh-Americans).

hyp no sis [hip'nousis] n. state like deep sleep in which a person's acts may be controlled by another person. hyp not ic [hip'nɔtik] adj. of ~: in a hypnotic state. hyp no tism ['hipnətizəm] n. [U] (artificial production of) ~. hyp no tize ['hipnətaiz] v.t. (VP 1) produce ~ in (sb.) hyp no tist ['hipnətist] n. person able to produce ~.

hy po ['haipou] n. (colloq. abbrev. of) hyposulphate of soda ($Na_2S_2O_2$), used in photography as a fixing agent.

hy po chon dria [ˌhaipou'kɔndriə] n. [U] state of mental depression either without apparent cause or due to unnecessary anxiety about one's health. hy po chon dri ac adj. of, affected by, ~. n. sufferer from ~.

hy poc ri sy [hi'pɔkrəsi] n. [C & U] (instance of) falsely making oneself appear to be virtuous or good. hyp o crite ['hipəkrit] n. person guilty of ~. hyp o crit i cal [ˌhipə'kritikəl] adj. of ~ or a hypocrite. hyp o crit i cal ly adv.

hy po der mic [ˌhaipou'dəːmik] adj. (of drugs, etc.) put in beneath the skin: ~ injections; a ~ needle (syringe), used for giving such injections. n. ~ injection.

A hypodermic syringe

hy pot e nuse [hai'pɔtinjuːz, -njuːs] n. side of a right-angled triangle opposite the right angle.

hy poth e cate [hai'pɔθikeit] v.t. pledge; mortgage.

hy poth e sis [hai'pɔθisis] n. (pl. -ses [-siːz]) idea, suggestion, put forward as a starting-point for reasoning or explanation. hy po thet i cal [ˌhaipə'θetikəl] adj. of, based on, a ~; not based on certain knowledge.

hys sop ['hisəp] n. strong-smelling plant formerly used in medicine.

hys te ria [his'tiəriə] n. [U] 1. disturbance of the nervous system, with outbursts of emotion, often uncontrollable. 2. senseless, uncontrolled excitement (e.g. in a crowd of young people round a popular film star). hys ter ic al [his'terikəl] adj. caused by, suffering from, ~: hysterical laughter; hysterical outbursts of fury. hys ter ics [his'teriks] n. pl. attack(s) of ~: go into hysterics.

I

ai] (pl. I's, i's [aiz]), the ninth letter of e alphabet; as Roman numeral, = 1, iii (= 3), IX (= 9).
i] pers. pron. used by a speaker or iter to refer to himself. (Cf. me, obt form, and we, us, plural.) n bus [ai'æmbəs] n. metrical foot of one short and one long, or one unaccented and one accented, word or syllable. i am bic [ai'æmbik] adj. of, containing, ~es: iambic feet (e.g. / I cóme / from háunts / of cóot / and férn). n. (pl.) iambic verse.

i bex ['aibeks] n. wild goat (of the Alps and Pyrenees) with large curved horns.

i bi dem [i'baidem] adv. (Lat.) in the same book, chapter, etc. (previously quoted).

i bis ['aibis] n. (pl. ~es [-iz]) large wading bird (like a stork or heron) found in lakes and swamps in warm climates.

^{1}ice [ais] n. 1. [U] frozen water; water made solid by cold: Is the ice thick enough for skating? break the ice, (fig.) get people on friendly terms; overcome formality or reserve; take the first steps in a delicate matter. on thin ice, (fig.) in a dangerous or delicate situation. cut no ice, have little or no effect or influence. 2. [C] frozen sweet of various kinds (see ice-cream below): water-ice; cream ices; two strawberry ices. 3. (compounds) 'ice-age n. time when many parts of the world were covered with glaciers; glacial period. 'ice-axe n. axe used by mountain climbers for cutting steps in ice. 'iceberg n. mass of ice (broken off a glacier) moving in the sea; (fig.) unemotional person: his iceberg of a wife. 'ice-boat n. boat fitted with runners and sails for travelling on a frozen lake or sea. 'ice-bound adj. (of harbours, etc.) obstructed by ice. 'ice-box n. box in which ice is used to keep food cool; (U.S.A.) refrigerator. 'ice-ˌbreaker n. ship with strong curved bows used for breaking a passage through ice. 'ice-cap n. permanent covering of ice sloping down on all sides from a high centre. 'ice-cream n. [C & U] (portion of) cream or custard (or various modern substitutes), sweetened, and flavoured and frozen. 'icefall n. steep part of a glacier, like a frozen waterfall. 'ice-field n. large expanse of (esp. marine) ice in the Polar regions. 'ice-floe n. large sheet of floating ice. 'ice-free adj. (of a port or harbour) free from ice (cf. ice-bound). 'ice-house n. building often partly or wholly underground for storing ice in winter for use in summer. 'ice-man n. (U.S.A.) man who retails and delivers ice (for use in ice-boxes, etc.). 'ice-pack n. (a) stretch of sea covered with broken ice that has drifted into masses. (b) bag of broken ice used as an application (e.g. to the head, for fever). ice pantomime, ice show nn. variety entertainment in which the performers are on ice-skates (on a floor of artificial ice). 'ice-tray n. one in a refrigerator, for making cubes of ice. 'ice-'wool n. glossy kind used in crochet, etc.

Icebergs

^{2}ice [ais] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) make very cold: ice a bottle of beer; iced water. 2. (VP 10, 23) cover, become covered, with a coating of ice: The pond ( iced over. The wings of the aircraft iced up. 3. (VP 1) cover (a cake) w sugar icing. (See icing below.)

Ice lan dic [ais'lændik] n. & adj. ( guage) of Iceland.

ich neu mon [ik'nju:mən] n. 1. sm brown weasel-like animal noted destroying crocodiles' eggs. 2. ( ~-fly) insect which lays its eggs in or the larva of another insect.

i ci cle ['aisikl] n. pointed piece of formed by the freezing of dripp water. (See the illustr. at eaves.)

ic ing ['aisiŋ] n. [U] 1. mixture of sug white of egg, flavouring, etc., for cover cake. 2. formation of ice on the wi of aircraft.

i con ['aikɔn] n. (in the Eastern Chur painting or mosaic of a sacred pers itself regarded as sacred.

i con o clast [ai'kɔnəklæst] n. per who took part in the movement agai the use of images in religious wors in the churches of Eastern Europe the 8th and 9th centuries (also appl to Puritans in England, 17th centur (fig.) person who attacks popular bel which he thinks mistaken or unwise.

i cy ['aisi] adj. (-ier, -iest) very cold, ice: icy winds; covered with ice:
roads; (fig.) an icy welcome (mann
i ci ly adv. in an icy manner (lit. & fi

I'd [aid] = I had or I would.

i de a [ai'diə] n. 1. thought; picture the mind: This book gives you a good of life in ancient Greece. 2. plan; schen design; purpose: That man is full new ~s. 3. opinion: You shouldn't fo your ~s on other people. 4. vague beli fancy; feeling that sth. is probab
I have an ~ that she will be late. 5. c ception: What ~ can a man who is bl from birth have of colour? Picnicking not my ~ of pleasure. You can have n (of) how anxious we have been. get into one's head, have expectations t are not likely to be realized; expect m than one is likely to get. 6. (in exclam tions): The ~ of such a thing! W an ~! (used to suggest that what been suggested is unrealistic, outrageo etc.). 7. way of thinking: the young the child's mind.

i deal [ai'diəl] adj. 1. satisfying on idea of what is perfect: ~ weather
a holiday. 2. (contrasted with r existing only in the imagination or as idea; not likely to be achieved: ~ hap ness; ~ plans for reforming the wo n. [C] idea, example, looked upon perfect: the high ~s of the Christ religion. She's looking for a husba but hasn't found her ~ yet. ~ly adv.

i deal ism [ai'diəlizəm] n. [U] 1. livi according to, being guided by, or ideals. 2. (opposite of realism) (in a ginative treatment, showing beauty perfection even if this means be-untrue to facts. 3. (in philosophy) tem of thought in which ideas are eved to be the only real things or only things of which we can know thing. i deal ist [ai'diəlist] n. per-who believes in ~. i deal is tic liə'listik] adj. of idealists and ~.

l ize [ai'diəlaiz] v.t. see, think of, as fect: Some biographers ~ their sub-
s. i deal i za tion [aiˌdiəlai'zeiʃən] n.
n ['aidem, 'idem] n. or adj. (in) the e author, etc.; the same word, book, hority, etc.

n ti cal [ai'dentikəl] adj. 1. the e: This is the ~ knife with which the rder was committed. 2. exactly alike; eeing in every way: The finger- nts of no two persons are ~. We are ~ our views of what should be done.
inches is ~ with 3 feet 4 inches. 3.
wins, twins from one single fertilized
m. ~ly adv.

n ti fy [ai'dentifai] v.t. (VP 1, 18) 1.
, show, prove, who or what sb. or is; establish the identity of: Could ~ your umbrella among a hundred rs? 2. make, treat, consider, as ng the same. 3. ~ oneself with, give port to, be associated with: He sed to ~ himself (become identified) the new political party. i den ti- a tion [aiˌdentifi'keiʃən] n. [U] ~ing being identified: the identification of sons killed in a road accident, finding who they are.

n ti ty [ai'dentiti] n. 1. [U] state being identical; absolute sameness; ct likeness. 2. [C & U] who sb. is;
at sth. is: There is no clue to the ~ of thief, nothing to show who he is.
e cheque will be cashed upon proof ~. He was arrested because of misen ~. ~ card (disc, certificate), d, etc., that gives proof of one's ~.

o gram ['idiougræm], id eo graph iougrɑːf] nn. written or nted character that symizes the idea of a thing hout indicating the nds that make up the rd (e.g. as used in Chinese writing).
e o graph i cal (ly) [ˌidiou'græfikəl(i)]
. & adv.

日 月

Ideograms

ol o gy [ˌaidi'ɔlədʒi, ˌid-] n. 1. [C] nner of thinking, ideas, characteristic a person, group, etc., esp. as forming basis of an economic or political sysn: bourgeois, Marxist, and totalitarian ologies. 2. [U] unproductive thought.
e o log i cal [ˌaidiou'lɔdʒikəl, ˌid-] adj.
[aidz] n. pl. (in the calendar of cient Rome) the 15th of March, May,
y, Oct., or the 13th of other months.
est ['id'est] (abbrev. i.e.) (Lat.) that o say.

id i o cy ['idiəsi] n. 1. [U] state of being an idiot; extreme stupidity. 2. [C] extremely stupid act, remark, etc.

id i om ['idiəm] n. 1. language of a people or country; specific character of this (e.g. one peculiar to a country, district, group of people, or to one individual): the French ~; the ~ of the New England countryside (i.e. the kind of English used by country people there); Shakespeare's ~, the method of expression peculiar to him. 2. succession of words whose meaning must be learnt as a whole (e.g. give way, in order to, be hard put to it). id i o mat ic [ˌidiə'mætik] adj. 1. in accordance with the ~s of a language, dialect, etc.: speak ~atic English. 2. full of ~s (def. 2): an ~atic language. id i o mat i cal ly adv.

id i o syn cra sy [ˌidiə'siŋkrəsi] n. [C] way of thinking or behaving that is peculiar to a person; personal mannerism.

id i ot ['idiət] n. 1. person so weak-minded that he is incapable of rational conduct. 2. (colloq.) fool: 'I've left my umbrella in the train. What an ~ I am!' ~ic [ˌidi'ɔtik] adj. stupid. ~i cal ly adv.

i dle ['aidl] adj. (-er, -est) 1. doing no work; not employed; not active or in use; (of time) not spent in doing something: When men cannot find employment they are ~ (though not necessarily lazy). During the business depression half the machines in the factory were ~. We spent many ~ hours during the holidays. 2. (of persons) not willing to work; lazy (which is the commoner word for this sense): an ~, worthless girl. 3. useless; worthless: Don't listen to ~ gossip (tales). It's ~ to expect help from that man. v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 23) be ~; Don't ~ (about). 2. (VP 10) spend in an ~ manner: Don't ~ away your time. 3. (of a car engine) run slowly in neutral gear. i dler n. person who ~s. i dly adv. ~ness n. state of being ~: live in ~ness.

i dol ['aidl] n. 1. image (in wood, stone, etc.) of a god; such an image used as an object of worship; false god. 2. sb. or sth. greatly loved or admired: He was an only child, and the ~ of his parents. Don't make an ~ of wealth. ~a ter [ai'dɔlətə*] n. 1. worshipper of ~s. 2. devoted admirer (of . . .). ~a tress [ai'dɔlətris] n. woman ~ater. ~a trous [ai'dɔlətrəs] adj. (of a person) worshipping ~s; of the worship of ~s. ~a trous ly adv. ~a try [ai'dɔlətri] n. 1. [U] the worship of ~s; excessive devotion to or admiration of (sb. or sth.). 2. [C] instance of this. ~ize [ˌaidəlaiz] v.t. (VP 1) make an ~ of; love or admire to excess. ~i za tion [ˌaidəlai'zeiʃən] n. ~izing or being ~ized.

i dyll ['idil, 'aidil] n. short description, usu. in verse, of a simple scene or event, esp. of country life; scene, etc., suitable for this. i dyl lic [ai'dilik, i'dilik] adj. suitable for, like, an ~; simple and pleasant.

if [if] conj. 1. on the condition that; supposing that: (a) Present or Present Perfect Tense in the if-clause, indicating that sth. is possible, probable, or likely: If you ask him, he will help you. If (it is) necessary, I can come at six. If you have finished with that book, take it back to the library. (b) To indicate that an event is unlikely or improbable, should may be used in the if-clause: If anyone should call, please let me know. If it should be necessary, I could come at six. (c) Note the use of will in an if-clause, not to show future time, but as part of the polite formula 'Will you, please': If you will wait a moment (= Please wait a moment and) I'll go and tell the manager that you are here. (d) Past Tense in the if-clause, indicating a condition that cannot be, or is unlikely to be, realized, or is one put forward for consideration: If you were a bird, you could fly. If I asked him (if I were to ask him) for a loan, would he agree? If you would lend me £5 until Monday, I should be grateful. (e) Past Perfect Tense in the if-clause, indicating that the condition was not fulfilled, e.g. because it was an impossible one, or through sb.'s failure to act: If they had started earlier, they would have arrived in time. If they had not started when they did, they would not be here now. 2. Note that in literary style if is sometimes omitted, inversion of subject and finite verb being used instead (esp. were, had, should): Should it (= if it should) be necessary . . . Were I (= if I were) in your place . . . Had I (= if I had) known earlier . . . 3. When if is used meaning 'when' or 'whenever', so that there is no condition, tenses in the main clause and the if-clause may be the same: If you mix yellow and blue you get green. If she wants the servant she rings the bell. 4. (often preceded by even) granting or admitting that: If I'm mistaken, you're mistaken, too. Even if he did say that, I'm sure he didn't intend to hurt your feelings. 5. (even) *if may mean 'although': I'll do it, even if it takes me all the afternoon. 6. If may replace whether in colloq. style, to introduce an interrogative clause: Do you know if Mr Smith is at home? She asked if that was enough. (If should not replace whether in cases where there may be ambiguity. Cf. Let me know whether you are coming, say 'I am coming' or 'I am not coming'. Let me know if you are coming, say 'I am coming' or, alternatively, say nothing.) 7. *as if, as it would be if. (See as, II, def. 11.) It isn't if suggests that the contrary of wh follows is true: It isn't as if we were r (i.e. we are not rich). It isn't as if doesn't know the rules (i.e. he does kn the rules). As if often introduces exclamation: As if I would allow (i.e. I would certainly not allow
8. If only often introduces a wish, indicates an unfulfilled condition, o in exclamations: If only he arrives time! If only she would marry me! only she had known about it (but she not know)! If only you could (If could only) have seen it! 9. If, follow by a verb in the negative, is used exclamations to indicate dismay, s prise, etc.: Well, if I haven't left false teeth at home! And if he didn't tr knock me down! (= What do you th he did? He tried to knock me down!)

ig loo ['iglu:] n. dome-shaped winter made of blocks of hard snow and u by the Eskimos.

ig ne ous ['igniəs] adj. (of rocks) form by volcanic action.

ig nite [ig'nait] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) set fire; take fire. ig ni tion [ig'niʃən] igniting or being ~d; (in a petrol eng mechanism for igniting the mixture explosive gases.

ig no ble [ig'noubl] adj. 1. dishono able; shameful: an ~ man (action); a peace. 2. (old use) of low birth ig bly adv.

ig no min i ous [ˌignə'miniəs] adj. bri ing contempt, disgrace, shame;
honourable: ~ behaviour; an ~ def ~ly adv.

ig no min y ['ignəmini] n. 1. [U] pu dishonour or shame. 2. [C] dishono able or disgraceful act; [U] dishono able behaviour.

ig no ra mus [ˌignə'reiməs] n. (pl. ~ [-iz]) ignorant person.

ig no rance ['ignərəns] n. [U] the st
of being ignorant; want of knowled
We are in complete ~ of his plans.
he did wrong, it was from (through) ~ ig no rant ['ignərənt] adj. 1. (of perso knowing little or nothing; not awa He's quite ~—he can't even read. H not stupid, merely ~. You are not ~ the reasons for her behaviour. What plans are I am quite ~ of. 2. show ignorance; resulting from ignorance: ~ reply; ~ conduct. ~ly adv.

ig nore [ig'nɔ:, -nɔə] v.t. (VP 1) t
no notice of; refuse to take notice ~ rude remarks; be ~d by one's superi

i gua na [i'gwɑ:nə] n. large tree-climb lizard of tropical America.

i kon ['aikɔn] n. icon.

il- pref. (before words beginning with l in illegal, illogical) opposite of; not.

i lex ['aileks] n. holm-oak; (bot.) ge of trees including common holly.

[ilk] n. (Scots) of that ilk, of the same place, estate, etc.).

[il] adj., n., & adv. (see worse, worst) . adj. 1. (usu. predic.) in bad health; ick: fall ill; be taken ill. She was ill with nxiety. 2. (attrib.) bad: ill health; ill ill (blood), hatred, hostility; in an ill mper (humour): ill repute; do sb. an ll turn; have ill luck. It's an ill wind hat blows nobody any good, (prov.) an fair must be very bad indeed if it does not benefit somebody. Ill weeds grow pace, (prov.) harmful things grow or pread rapidly. ˈill-ˈbreeding n. bad manners. ˈill-ˈfavoured adj. (of a peron) unpleasant to look at; ugly. ˈill-ˈmannered adj. having bad manners; rude. ˈill-ˈnatured adj. bad-tempered. ˈill-ˈomened adj. destined to misfortune. ˈill-ˈstarred adj. born under an evil star; unlucky. ˈill-ˈtempered adj. bad-tempered; irritable. ˈill-ˈtreatment n. [U] cruelty. ill will, n. enmity: unkind feeling. II. n. 1. [U] evil; injury: do ill. 2. [C] misfortune; trouble: the various ills of life. III. adv. badly; imperfectly; unfavourably; speak ill (unkindly, unfavourably) of one's neighbours; take sth. ill, be indignant at it, offended by it; be ill at ease, uncomfortable, embarrassed. They were ill (insufficiently) provided with ammunition. We could ill (not well, not easily) afford the time and money. It ill becomes you to criticize him, it is not right or proper for you to do so. ˈill-adˈvised adj. unwise; imprudent. ˈill-afˈfected adj. not well-disposed; not feeling favour (towards). ill-ˈbred adj. badly brought up; rude. ill-disˈposed adj. (a) wishing to do harm (to). (b) unfavourable (towards a plan, etc.). ill-ˈfated adj. destined to misfortune; bringing misfortune. ill-ˈgotten adj. gained by evil or unlawful methods. ill-ˈjudged adj. done at an unsuitable time; showing poor judgement: an ill-judged attempt. ill-ˈtimed adj. badly timed; done at a wrong or unsuitable time. ill-ˈtreat, ill-ˈuse v.t. treat badly or cruelly.

l le gal [iˈli:gəl] adj. not legal; contrary to law. ~ly adv. ~i ty [ˌili(:)ˈgæliti] n. [U] being ~; [C] ~ act.

l leg i ble [iˈledʒibl] adj. difficult or impossible to read. il leg i bly adv. il leg i bil i ty [iˌledʒiˈbiliti] n. [U].

l le git i mate [ˌiliˈdʒitimit] adj. 1. not authorized by law; contrary to law. 2. born of parents who were not married: an ~ child; of ~ descent. 3. (of a conclusion in an argument, etc.) not logical; wrongly inferred. ~ly adv. il le git i ma cy [ˌiliˈdʒitiməsi] n. [U] l lib er al [iˈlibərəl] adj. not befitting a free man; narrow-minded; intolerant; ungenerous; mean. ~ly adv. ~i ty [iˌlibəˈræliti] n.

il li cit [iˈlisit] adj. unlawful; forbidden: the ~ sale of opium. ~ly adv.

il lim it a ble [iˈlimitəbl] adj. boundless; without limits: ~ space (ambition).

il lit er ate [iˈlitərit] adj. with little or no education; unable to read or write; showing such ignorance: an ~ letter (one full of spelling and grammatical errors). n. ~ person. il lit er a cy [iˈlitərəsi] n.

ill ness [ˈilnis] n. 1. [U] state of being ill (contrasted with health): There has been no (not much, a great deal of) ~ in the village this winter. The child has suffered from ~ for two years, has been in poor health. 2. [C] specific kind of, occasion of, ~: ~es of children; a serious ~; one ~ after another.

il log i cal [iˈlɔdʒikəl] adj. without logic; contrary to logic. ~ly adv. ~i ty [ˌilɔdʒiˈkæliti], ~ness nn.

il lume [iˈlju:m] v.t. (poet.) make bright.

il lu mi nate [iˈl(j)u:mineit] v.t. (VP 1) 1. give light to; throw light on: a street ~d by oil lamps; poorly ~d rooms. 2. decorate (streets, etc.) with bright lights as a sign of rejoicing. 3. decorate (initial letters in a manuscript) with gold, silver, and bright colours (as was the custom in the Middle Ages). 4. make clear, help to explain: ~ a difficult passage in a book. il lu mi na tion [iˌl(j)u:miˈneiʃən] n. 1. [U] illuminating or being ~d. 2. (usu. pl.) lights, etc., used to ~ (def. 2) a town for a special occasion. 3. (pl.) decorations on a manuscript. il lu mine [iˈl(j)u:min] v.t. enlighten spiritually; make bright.

il lu sion [iˈl(j)u:ʒən] n. 1. [C] (the seeing of) sth. that does not really exist, or of sth. as different from the reality; false idea or belief: an optical ~; under an ~, deceived by one. I have no ~s about his ability, have no false beliefs about it. He cherishes the ~ (likes to believe) that everyone admires him. 2. [U] state of mind in which one is deceived in this way. ~ist n. person who produces optical ~s on the stage; conjurer.

il lu sive [iˈl(j)u:siv], il lu so ry [iˈl(j)u:səri] adjj. deceptive; based on illusion.

il lus trate [ˈiləstreit] v.t. (VP 1) 1. explain by examples, pictures, etc. 2. supply (a book, article, lecture, etc.) with pictures, diagrams, etc.: a well-~d textbook. il lus tra tion [ˌiləsˈtreiʃən] n. 1. [U] illustrating or being ~d: cite instances in illustration of a theory. Illustration is often more useful than definition for giving the meanings of words. 2. [C] sth. that ~s; picture, diagram, etc. il lus tra tor [ˈiləstreitə*] n. person who makes illustrations for books, etc. il lus tra tive [iˈlʌstrətiv, ˈiləstreitiv] adj. serving to ~, as an explanation or example (of sth.).

il lus tri ous [iˈlʌstriəs] adj. greatly distinguished; celebrated. ~ly adv.

im- pref. (used before words beginning with b, m, p, as in imbalance, immodest, impatient), opposite of; not.

im age [ˈimidʒ] n. [C] 1. likeness or copy of the shape of sb. or sth., esp. one made in wood, stone, etc.: an ~ of the Virgin Mary; worship graven ~s, ~s carved in wood, etc., and regarded as gods. 2. close likeness: be the very ~ of sb., be exactly like him. 3. mental picture or idea. 4. simile; metaphor: speak in ~s, use figures of speech that bring pictures to the mind. 5. reflection seen in a mirror or through the lens of a camera. v.t. (VP 1) 1. make an ~ of, portray. 2. reflect; mirror. ~ry [ˈimidʒəri] n. [U] the use of ~s (def. 4), or figures of speech, in writing; ~s (def. 1) collectively.

i mag i na ble [iˈmædʒinəbl] adj. that can be imagined: We had the greatest difficulty ~ getting here in time.

i mag i nar y [iˈmædʒinəri] adj. existing only in the mind; unreal.

i mag i na tion [iˌmædʒiˈneiʃən] n. [U] 1. power of the mind to imagine: He hasn't much ~. Novelists use their ~. 2. [C & U] what is imagined: You didn't really see a ghost—it was only ~.

i mag i na tive [iˈmædʒinətiv] adj. of, having, using, imagination: ~ writers.

i mag ine [iˈmædʒin] v.t. (VP 1, 3, 10, 11, 15) form a picture of in the mind; think of (sth.) as probable: Can you ~ life without electricity and other modern conveniences? I~ yourself (to be) on a desert island. I~ you've been shipwrecked. I ~ him as a big, tall man. Can you ~ him (yourself) becoming famous as an actor? I can't ~ (my) marrying a girl of that sort. Don't ~ (= get the idea) that I can lend you money every time you need it!

i mam [iˈmaːm] n. title of various Muslim leaders.

im bal ance [imˈbæləns] n. absence of balance between two totals (e.g. payments): the country's ~ in world payments, the state that exists when the total sum paid for imports, etc., is unequal to the total received for exports, services, etc.

im be cile [ˈimbisiːl, -sail] adj. weak-minded; stupid: ~ remarks (conduct). n. ~ person; fool. im be cil i ty [ˌimbiˈsiliti] n. [U] stupidity; [C] stupid act, remark, etc.

im bed [imˈbed] v.t. (-dd-) = embed.

im bibe [imˈbaib] v.t. drink; take in: ~ ideas (knowledge); ~ beer.

im bro glio [imˈbrouliou] n. (pl. ~s [-z]) complicated (esp. political or dramatic) situation.

im bue [imˈbjuː] v.t. fill, inspire (with): ~d with patriotism (hatred, etc.); politicians ~d with a sense of their own importance.

im i tate [ˈimiteit] v.t. (VP 1) 1. copy the behaviour of; take as an example: You should ~ great and good men. 2. mimic (consciously or not): Parrots ~ human speech. 3. be like; make a likeness of: ~ diamonds. im i ta tor n.

im i ta tion [ˌimiˈteiʃən] n. 1. [U imitating: I~ is the sincerest form of flattery. He sets us a good example for ~. She was pirouetting in ~ of her teacher. 2. (attrib.) not real: ~ leather (jewellery 3. [C] sth. made or done in ~: ~s of the cries of birds and animals. Beware of ~s.

im i ta tive [ˈimitətiv, -teit-] adj. following the model or example of: the ~ arts, painting and sculpture; ~ words (e.g. buzz, plop, the sound of the word being considered similar to the sound it represents); as ~ as a monkey.

im mac u late [iˈmækjulit] adj. 1. pure; faultless: ~ conduct; the I~ Conception (of the Virgin Mary). 2. right in every detail: an ~ white suit. ~ly adv.: ~ly dressed.

im man ent [ˈimənənt] adj. (of qualities) present; inherent (in); (of God) permanently pervading the universe. im man ence n.

im ma te ri al [ˌiməˈtiəriəl] adj. 1. unimportant (to): ~ objections. That's quite ~ to me. 2. not having physical substance: as ~ as a ghost.

im ma ture [ˌiməˈtjuə*, -ˈtjɔː*] adj. not yet fully developed: an ~ girl; the ~ minds of young children. im ma tu ri ty [ˌiməˈtjuəriti] n. [U] im meas ur a ble [iˈmeʒərəbl] adj. that cannot be measured.

im me diate [iˈmiːdjət] adj. 1. without anything coming between; nearest: two objects in ~ contact; the ~ heir to the throne, the next in succession, not a remote heir; my ~ neighbours; ~ information, first-hand or direct, not second-hand. 2. occurring, done, at once: an ~ answer; take ~ action. ~ly adv. 1. at once; without delay. 2. directly or closely.

im me mo ri al [ˌimiˈmɔːriəl] adj. going back beyond the reach of memory: from time ~; the ~ privileges of the House of Commons.

im mense [iˈmens] adj. very large. ~ly adv. in an ~ degree; (colloq.) very much: They enjoyed themselves ~ly. im men si ty [iˈmensiti] n. [U] great size; (pl.) things that are ~.

im merse [iˈməːs] v.t. (VP 1, 18) 1. put under the surface of (water or other liquid): ~ one's head in the water. 2. absorb, involve deeply: be ~d in debt (difficulties, thought, pleasure, a book). im mer sion [iˈməːʃən] n. immersing or being ~d; (esp.) baptism by putting the whole body into water. immersion heater, electric water-heater (usu. one that is fixed in a hot-water tank).

im mi grate [ˈimigreit] v.i. (VP 21, 24) come as a settler (into another country), not as a tourist or visitor. im mi grant [ˈimigrənt] n. person who ~s: European immigrants in Australia. im mi gra tion [ˌimi'greiʃən] n. [U] immigrating; C] instance of this: the numerous im nigrations into the U.S.A.

m mi nent ['iminənt] adj. (of events, sp. dangers) likely to come or happen oon: A storm is ~. He was faced with ~ death. ~ly adv. im mi nence ['imi nəns] n. [U] the state of being ~.

m mo bile [i'moubail, -bil] adj. not able to move or be moved; motionless. im mo bil i ty [ˌimou'biliti] n. state of being ~. im mo bi lize [i'moubilaiz] v.t. make ~; render (armed forces, vehicles, etc.) incapable of being moved; take (capital, specie) out of circulation. im mo bi li za tion [iˌmoubilai'zeiʃən] n.

m mod er ate [i'mɔdərit] adj. excessive; extreme: ~ eating and drinking. ~ly adv.

m mod est [i'mɔdist] adj. 1. lacking in modesty; indecent or indelicate: an ~ dress; ~ behaviour. 2. impudent: ~ boasts. ~ly adv. im mod es ty n. [U] ~ behaviour; boldness; [C] ~ act or remark

m mo late ['imouleit] v.t. kill as an offering; sacrifice (one thing to another). im mo la tion [ˌimou'leiʃən] n. [U] immolating or being ~d; [C] instance of this.

m mor al [i'mɔrəl] adj. contrary to morality; wicked and evil: ~ conduct. You ~ old man! ~ly adv. ~i ty [ˌimə'ræliti] n. [U] ~ conduct: a life of ~ity; [C] ~ act.

m mor tal [i'mɔ:tl] adj. living for ever: the ~ gods; never forgotten: ~ poetry (music); ~ fame. n. ~ being; (pl.) the ~s, the gods of ancient Greece and Rome. ~i ty [ˌimɔ:'tæliti] n. [U] endless life or fame. ~ize [i'mɔ:təlaiz] v.t. (VP 1) give endless life or fame to.

m mo va ble [i'mu:vəbl] adj. 1. that cannot be moved: ~ property (e.g. buildings, land). 2. fixed (in purpose, etc.). im mo va bly adv.

m mune [i'mju:n] adj. free, secure: ~ from smallpox as the result of vaccination; ~ against attacks. im mu ni ty [i'mju:niti] n. [U] safety, security (from disease, etc.); exemption (from taxation, etc.): Foreign diplomats are given immunity from taxation. im mu nize ['imju:naiz] v.t. make ~ (against). im mu ni za tion [ˌimju(:)nai'zeiʃən] n. [U].

m mure [i'mjuə*] v.t. (VP 1) imprison; shut (oneself) up: ~d in a dungeon; ~ oneself in one's study in order to work undisturbed.

m mu ta ble [i'mju:təbl] adj. that cannot be changed. im mu ta bly adv. im mu ta bil i ty [ˌimju(:)tə'biliti] n.

mp [imp] n. child of the devil; little devil; (playfully) mischievous child.

m pact ['impækt] n. [C] collision; striking (on, against, sth.) with force; [U] force exerted by one object when striking against another: (fig.) the ~ of new ideas on a backward race of people.

im pair [im'pɛə*] v.t. (VP 1) weaken; damage: ~ one's health by overwork. ~ment n.

im pale [im'peil] v.t. (VP 1, 18) pierce through, pin down, with a sharp-pointed stake, spear, etc. ~ment n.

im pal pa ble [im'pælpəbl] adj. that cannot be touched or felt; not easily grasped by the mind.

im pan el, see empanel.

im part [im'pɑ:t] v.t. (VP 1, 18) give, pass on (a share of sth., a quality, a secret, news, etc., to sb.): I have nothing of interest to ~ to you today.

im par tial [im'pɑ:ʃəl] adj. fair (in giving judgements, etc.); not favouring one more than another. ~ly adv. im par ti al i ty [ˌimpɑ:ʃi'æliti] n. [U] the quality of being ~.

im pass a ble [im'pɑ:səbl] adj. (of country roads, etc.) impossible to travel through or on: Alpine passes ~ in winter.

im passe [im'pɑ:s, æm-] n. blind alley; place, position, from which there is no way out; deadlock.

im pas sioned [im'pæʃənd] adj. full of, showing, deep feeling: an ~ speech.

im pas sive [im'pæsiv] adj. showing no sign of feeling; unmoved. ~ly adv. ~ness, im pas siv i ty [ˌimpæ'siviti] nn.

im pa tient [im'peiʃənt] adj. not patient: The children were ~ to start. She is ~ of delay. They are growing ~. ~ly adv. im pa tience [im'peiʃəns] n. [U].

im peach [im'pi:tʃ] v.t. (VP 1) 1. question, raise doubts about (sb.'s character, etc.): Do you ~ my motives, suggest that they are dishonourable? 2. accuse (sb. of or with) wrongdoing; (esp.) accuse (sb.) of a crime against the State: ~ a judge for taking bribes; ~ sb. with a crime. ~ment n. [U] ~ing or being ~ed; [C] instance of this.

im pec ca ble [im'pekəbl] adj. faultless; incapable of doing wrong.

im pe cu nious [ˌimpi'kju:njəs] adj. having little or no money.

im pede [im'pi:d] v.t. (VP 1) get in the way of; hinder: What ~s your making an early start?

im ped i ment [im'pedimənt] n. [C] sth. that hinders, esp. a defect in speech (e.g. a stammer).

im pel [im'pel] v.t. (-ll-) (VP 3, 18) drive; force, urge: He said he had been ~led to crime by poverty. The President's speech ~led the nation to greater efforts.

im pend [im'pend] v.i. (chiefly in pres. part.) be imminent; be about to come or happen: her ~ing arrival; the ~ing storm; the danger ~ing over us.

im pen e tra ble [im'penitrəbl] adj. that cannot be penetrated: ~ forests and swamps; dig down to ~ rock; ~ darkness; men who are ~ to reason.

im pen i tent [imˈpenitənt] adj. not penitent. ~ly *adv. im pen i tence *n.

im per a tive [imˈperətiv] adj. 1. urgent; essential; needing immediate attention: Is it really ~ for them to have such a large army? Is it ~ that they should have (for them to have) six cars? 2. not to be disobeyed; done, given with, authority: The duke's orders were ~. 'Go at once!', he said, with an ~ gesture. 3. (grammar) form of the verb expressing commands: the ~ mood. ~ly *adv.

im per cep ti ble [ˌimpəˈseptibl] adj. that cannot be perceived; very slight or gradual. im per cep ti bly *adv.

im per fect [imˈpəːfikt] adj. 1. not perfect or complete. 2. (grammar) ~ tenses, those that denote action in progress but not completed (also called progressive or continuous tenses). n. ~ tense. ~ly *adv. im per fec tion [ˌimpəˈfekʃən] n. [U] state of being ~; [C] fault: A woman has to overlook the little ~s in her husband's character.

im pe ri al [imˈpiəriəl] adj. 1. of an empire or its ruler(s): ~ trade; His I~ Majesty. 2. majestic; august; magnificent: with ~ generosity. 3. (of weights and measures) used by law in the United Kingdom: an ~ pint (gallon). n. small, pointed beard grown beneath the lower lip. ~ly *adv.

im pe ri al ism [imˈpiəriəlizəm] n. belief in the value of colonies; policy of extending a country's empire and influence. im pe ri al ist [imˈpiəriəlist] n. supporter of, believer in, ~. im pe ri al is tic [imˌpiəriəˈlistik] adj. of ~: imperialistic views.

im per il [imˈperil] v.t. (-ll-) (VP 1) put or bring into danger.

im pe ri ous [imˈpiəriəs] adj. 1. commanding: ~ gestures (looks). 2. urgent; imperative. ~ly *adv. ~ness *n.

im per ish a ble [imˈperiʃəbl] adj. that cannot perish; that will never pass away: ~ fame (glory).

im per ma nent [imˈpəːmənənt] adj. not permanent.

im per mea ble [imˈpəːmjəbl] adj. that cannot be permeated (esp. by fluids); impervious.

im per son al [imˈpəːsənl] adj. 1. not influenced by personal feeling; not referring to any particular person: ~ remarks; an ~ discussion. 2. having no existence as a person: ~ forces (e.g. those of nature). 3. (of verbs) used after 'it' to make general statements such as 'It is raining (freezing).' ~ly *adv.

im per so nate [imˈpəːsəneit] v.t. (VP 1) 1. act the part of (in a play); pretend to be (another person). 2. personify. im per so na tion [imˌpəːsəˈneiʃən] n. 1. [U] impersonating or being ~d. 2. [C] instance of this: He gave some cleve impersonations of well-known men.

im per ti nent [imˈpəːtinənt] adj. 1. no showing proper respect: ~ remarks; a ~ boy. 2. not pertinent; not pertaining to the matter in hand. ~ly *adv im per ti nence [imˈpəːtinəns] n. [U being ~; [C] ~ act or remark.

im per turb a ble [ˌimpə(ː)ˈtəːbəbl] adj not capable of being excited; calm. im per tur ba bil i ty [ˈimpə(ː)ˌtəːbəˈbiliti n.

im per vious [imˈpəːvjəs] adj. 1. (o materials) not allowing (water, etc.) to pass through: Rubber boots are ~ t water. 2. (fig.) not moved or influence by: ~ to criticism (argument).

im pe ti go [ˌimpiˈtaigou] n. [U] contagious skin disease.

im pet u ous [imˈpetjuəs] adj. movin quickly or violently; acting, inclined to act, on impulse, energetically but with insufficient thought or care; done o said hastily: Children are usually mor ~ than old people. Your ~ remarks wil get you into trouble. ~ly *adv. im pet u os i ty [imˌpetjuˈɔsiti] n. [U] quality o being ~; [C] ~ act, remark, etc.

im pe tus [ˈimpitəs] n. (pl. -es [-iz]) 1. [U] force with which a body moves. 2 [C] impulse; driving force: The treat will give an ~ to trade between the tw countries.

im pi e ty [imˈpaiəti] n. 1. [U] lack o reverence or dutifulness. 2. [C] act, remark, etc., that shows lack of reverence or dutifulness.

im pinge [imˈpindʒ] v.i. (VP 24) make a impact (on, upon).

im pi ous [ˈimpiəs] adj. not pious; wicked. ~ly *adv.

imp ish [ˈimpiʃ] adj. of or like an imp; mischievous. ~ly *adv. ~ness *n.

im pla ca ble [imˈplækəbl] adj. tha cannot be appeased; relentless: an ~ enemy; ~ hatred.

im plant [imˈplaːnt] v.t. (VP 1, 18) fi or put (ideas, feelings, etc., in): deepl ~ed hatred; ~ sound principles in th minds of children.

¹im ple ment [ˈimplimənt] n. tool or instrument for working with: farm ~s; stone and bronze ~s made by primitive man.

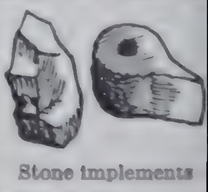
²im ple ment [ˈimpliment] v.t. (VP 1) carry (an undertaking, agreement, promise) into effect.



Stone implements

im pli cate [ˈimplikeit] v.t. (VP 1, 18 show that (sb.) has a share (in a crime, etc.): ~ officials in a bribery scandal.

im pli ca tion [ˌimpliˈkeiʃən] n. 1. [U implicating or being implicated (in a crime, etc.). 2. [C] what is implied; sth. hinted at or suggested, but no xpressed: What are the ~s of this state-ent? What is implied by it?

n plic it [im'plisit] adj. 1. implied hough not plainly expressed (cf. ex-licit): an ~ threat; ~ in the contract. 2. nquestioning: ~ belief. ~ly *adv.

n plore [im'plɔ:, -'plɔə] v.t. (VP 1, 3, 8) request earnestly: ~ a judge for ercy; ~ a friend to help one; an im-loring glance. im plor ing ly *adv.

n ply [im'plai] v.t. (VP 1, 11) give or ake a suggestion (that); involve the uth (of sth. not definitely stated): ilence sometimes implies consent, failure say 'No' may mean 'Yes'. Do you ~ at I am not telling the truth?

n po lite [ˌimpə'lait] adj. not polite. ~ly adv. ~ness *n.

n pol i tic [im'pɔlitik] adj. not politic; ot expedient.

n pon der a ble [im'pɔndərəbl] adj. of ttle or no weight; of which the effect annot be estimated. n. ~ thing; (esp. g., pl.) qualities, emotions, etc., of hich the effect cannot be estimated.

n port [im'pɔ:t] v.t. 1. (VP 1, 18) bring n, introduce (esp. goods from a foreign ountry): ~ wool from Australia. 2. VP 1, 11) mean; signify; make known hat): What does this ~? What is its ignificance? 3. be of consequence to: t ~s us to know whether . . . im por ta-ion [ˌimpɔ:'teiʃən] n. [U] act of ~ing goods); [C] sth. ~ed. ~er *n. person usu. a merchant) who ~s goods.

n port ['impɔ:t] n. 1. (usu. pl.) goods mported: ~s of raw cotton; food ~s. . [U] act of importing goods. 3. [U] hat is implied; meaning: What is the ~ f his statement? 4. [U] importance: uestions of great ~.

n por tance [im'pɔ:təns] n. [U] being mportant: The matter is of great (no, ot much, little) ~ to us. He spoke with n air of ~.

n por tant [im'pɔ:tənt] adj. 1. of great nfluence; to be treated seriously; aving a great effect: ~ decisions (books, tc.). 2. (of a person) having a position f authority. ~ly *adv.

n por tu nate [im'pɔ:tjunit] adj. 1. (of ersons) making repeated and inconenient requests: an ~ beggar. 2. (of ffairs, etc.) urgent: ~ demands (claims). ~ly *adv. im por tu ni ty [ˌimpɔ:tju:niti] n. [U] being ~ (def. 1); (pl.) nstances of this.

n por tune [im'pɔ:tju:n, ˌimpɔ:'tju:n] .t. (VP 1, 3, 18) 1. beg urgently and epeatedly: She ~d her husband for ore money (with requests for money, to ive her more money). 2. (of a prostitute) olicit (def. 3).

n pose [im'pouz] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 18) ay or place (a tax, duty, etc., on): New uties were ~d on wines and spirits. I ust perform the task that has been ~d upon me. 2. (VP 18) force (sth., oneself, one's company on others): Don't ~ yourself (your company) on people who don't want you. 3. (VP 24) take advantage of: ~ upon sb.'s good nature. 4. (VP 24) practise deception; deceive: Your disguise is excellent; you could ~ upon even your best friends.

im pos ing [im'pouziŋ] adj. making a strong impression because of size, character, appearance: an ~ old lady; an ~ display of knowledge. ~ly *adv.

im po si tion [ˌimpə'ziʃən] n. 1. [U] the act of imposing (def. 1): Everyone grumbled at the ~ of new taxes. 2. [C] sth. imposed; tax, burden, punishment. 3. [C] fraud; trick; overcharge.

im pos si ble [im'pɔsibl] adj. 1. not possible. 2. that cannot be endured: It's an ~ situation! He's an ~ person. im poss i bly *adv. im pos si bil i ty [imˌpɔsə'biliti] n. [U] state of being ~; [C] sth. that is ~: Don't ask me to do impossibilities.

im post ['impoust] n. [C] tax.

im pos tor [im'pɔstə*] n. person pretending to be what he is not.

im pos ture [im'pɔstʃə*] n. [C] act of deception by an impostor; [U] fraudulent deception: make a living by lying and ~.

im po tent ['impətənt] adj. lacking sufficient strength (to do sth.); unable to act; (of males) wholly lacking in sexual power. ~ly *adv. im po tence *n. [U] state of being ~: We have reduced the enemy to impotence, made them quite powerless.

im pound [im'paund] v.t. (VP 1) 1. take possession of by law or by authority. 2. (in former times) shut up (cattle that had strayed) in a pound. (See ^{2}pound, def. 2.)

im pov er ish [im'pɔvəriʃ] v.t. (VP 1) cause to become poor; take away good qualities: ~ed by doctors' bills; ~ed soil (e.g. when crops are grown year after year without the use of fertilizers); ~ed rubber, rubber that has lost its elasticity. ~ment *n.

im prac ti ca ble [im'præktikəbl] adj. 1. that cannot be put into practice: an ~ scheme. 2. (of routes) impassable; that cannot be used. im prac ti ca bly *adv. im prac ti ca bil i ty [imˌpræktikə'biliti], ~ness *nn.

im pre cate ['imprikeit] v.t. (VP 1) invoke, call down (evil upon sb.). im pre ca tion [ˌimpri'keiʃən] n. [C] curse.

im preg na ble [im'pregnəbl] adj. that cannot be overcome or taken by force; able to resist all attacks: an ~ fortress; ~ defences (arguments). im preg na bly *adv. im preg na bil i ty [imˌpregnə'biliti] n.

im preg nate [im'pregneit] v.t. (VP 1) 1. fertilize. 2. fill, saturate: water ~d with salt. 3. imbue, fill (with feelings, moral qualities, etc.).

im pre sa ri o [ˌimpre'saːriou] n. (pl. -os) manager of an operatic or concert company.

im press [im'pres] v.t. (VP 1, 18) 1. press (one thing on or with another); make (a mark, etc.) by doing this: ~ wax with a seal; ~ a seal on wax; ~ a figure (design) on sth. 2. have a strong influence on; fix deeply (on the mind, memory): His words are strongly ~ed on my memory. The book did not ~ me at all, I did not think it good, useful, etc. I ~ed him with the importance of his work (~ed on him the importance of his work). He ~ed me unfavourably, I formed an unfavourable opinion of him. n. ['impres] mark made by stamping a seal, etc., on sth.

im pres sion [im'preʃən] n. 1. [C] mark made by pressing: the ~ of a seal on wax. 2. [C] print (of an engraving, etc.). 3. [C] (product of) any one printing operation: a first ~ of 5,000 copies. Seven ~s (reprints without resetting: cf. edition) of this book have been sold so far. 4. [U & C] effect produced on the mind or feelings: The speech made a strong ~ on the House. What were your first ~s of London? 5. [C] (vague or uncertain) idea, belief: It's my ~ that he doesn't want to come. I was under the ~ that you were out of town. ~ism n. method of painting or writing so as to give the general effect without elaborate detail. ~ist n. person who uses this method. ~is tic [imˌpreʃə'nistik] adj. 1. of, characteristic of, ~ism or ~ists 2. giving only a general ~.

im pres sion a ble [im'preʃənəbl] adj. easily influenced: children who are at the ~ age, adolescent; an ~ young lady (e.g. one who easily falls in love).

im pres sive [im'presiv] adj. deeply impressing the mind and feelings: an ~ ceremony. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

im print [im'print] v.t. (VP 1, 18) print; stamp: ~ a letter with a postmark (a postmark on a letter); ideas ~ed on the mind. n. ['imprint] [C] that which is ~ed: the ~ of a foot (= footprint); the ~ of suffering on a person's face; a publisher's (printer's) ~, his name, address, etc., on the title-page or at the end of the book.

im pris on [im'prizn] v.t. (VP 1) put or keep in prison. ~ment n. [U] ~ing or being ~ed: sentenced to one year's ~ment.

im prob a ble [im'probəbl] adj. not likely to be true or to happen: an ~ story (result). Rain is ~. im prob a bil i ty [imˌprobə'biliti] n. [U] being ~; [C] sth. which is or seems ~: Don't worry about such improbabilities as floods and earthquakes.

im promp tu [im'promptjuː] adj., adv. without preparation: an ~ speech; speak ~. n. musical composition that seem to have been improvised.

im prop er [im'propə*] adj. 1. no suited for the purpose, situation, ci cumstances, etc.: Laughing and jokin are ~ at a funeral. Sports clothes a ~ for wearing in church. 2. incorrect ~ diagnosis of disease. 3. indecent: ~ stories. ~ly adv.

im pro pri e ty [ˌimprou'praiəti, -prə-] n [U] incorrectness; unsuitability; [C] im proper act, remark, etc.

im prove [im'pruːv] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1 21, 24) make or become better: This i not good enough; I want to ~ it. He cam back from his holiday with greatly ~ health. He is improving in health. Hi health is improving. ~ (up)on, produc sth. better than: Your complexion i wonderful; don't try to ~ upon natur 2. (VP 1) make good use of; turn t account: ~ the occasion. ~ment n. 1 [U] improving or being ~d: There i need for ~ment in your handwriting Little (no, not much) ~ment seeme possible. 2. [C] sth. which ~s, whic adds to beauty, usefulness, value, etc. I have noticed a number of ~ments in th town since I was here six years ago We all hope for an ~ment in the weathe This is an ~ment upon your first attemp im prov i dent [im'providənt] adj wasteful; not looking to future needs ~ly adv. im prov i dence n.

im pro vise ['imprəvaiz] v.t. & i. (VP 1 21) 1. compose music while playing compose verse while reciting, etc.: If a actor forgets his words, he has to ~. Th pianist ~d an accompaniment to th song. 2. provide, make, or do sth quickly, in time of need, using whateve happens to be available: an ~d meal fo unexpected guests; an ~d bed (e.g. on made up on a couch). im pro vi sation [ˌimprəvai'zeiʃən] n.

im pru dent [im'pruːdənt] adj. rash indiscreet: Isn't it ~ of you to marr while your salary is so low? ~ly adv im pru dence n. [U] being ~; [C ~ act, remark, etc.

im pu dent ['impjudent] adj. shamelessly rude; rudely disrespectful: Wha an ~ rascal he is! He was ~ enough t call me a fool. ~ly adv. im pu denc n. [U] being ~; ~ words and actions None of your impudence! He had th impudence to thumb his nose at me.

im pugn [im'pjuːn] v.t. (VP 1) challenge express doubt about (a statement, act quality, etc.).

im pulse ['impʌls] n. 1. [C] push o thrust; impetus: give an ~ to trad (education). 2. [C] sudden inclination t act without thought about the conse quences: seized with an ~ to do sth. feel an irresistible ~ to jump out of window (e.g. during a fit of insanit

. [U] state of mind in which such in-nations occur; tendency to act with-ut reflection: a man of ~; a woman ho acts on ~.

pul sion [im'pʌlʃən] n. [U] impelling;
riving or being driven forward; [C] mpetus; mental impulse.

pul sive [im'pʌlsiv] adj. 1. (of per-ns, their conduct) acting on impulse; sulting from impulse: a girl with an ~ nature. 2. (of a force) tending to mpel. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

pu ni ty [im'pju:niti] n. [U] freedom om punishment, esp. with ~, without sk of injury or punishment.

pure [im'pjuə*, -'pjɔ:*] adj. not pure:
e ~ air of towns; ~ milk; ~ motives.

m pu ri ty [im'pjuəriti, -'jɔ:-] n. [U] tate of being ~; [C] ~ thing: im- urities in food.

pute [im'pju:t] v.t. (VP 18) consider s the act, quality, or outcome of:
They ~d the accident to the driver's caressness. He was innocent of the crime ~d to him. im pu ta tion [ˌimpju:'tei-ən] n. [U] act of imputing; [C] accusaion or suggestion of wrong-doing, etc.: mputations on a person's character.

[in] prep. & adv. I. prep. (for the se of in with many nouns and verbs, ee the noun and verb entries, e.g. in *print, in *memory of, *fail in an xamination). 1. (of place; cf. at): the ighest mountain in the world; in Africa; n the east of Asia; in Denmark; in the rovinces; in Kent; in London; the village in which he was born; the only shop in the village; islands in the Pacific Ocean; sailing in British waters (i.e. on the seas round Britain); in every quarter of the town; children playing in the street; not a cloud in the sky; swimming in the lake; standing in the corner of the room (cf. the house at the corner); working in the fields (in coal-mines); a picnic in the woods; a holiday in the country (in the mountains) (cf. at the seaside); a light in the distance; in the background (foreground); lying in bed (cf. sitting on the bed); sitting in an arm- chair (cf. on a chair without arms); in school (church, prison); a ride in a motor-car. He was wounded in the leg. The key is in the lock. There were plants in the window (i.e. on the window-sill, framed by the window). What would you do in my place, if you were situated as I am situated? I read about it in the newspapers. He had a stick in his hand and a cigar in his mouth. You will find the verse in the second chapter of Genesis.
2. (of direction): in this (that) direction;
in all directions. 3. (indicating direction of motion or activity) into: He dipped his pen in the ink. He put his hands in his pockets. Cut the apple in two (= into halves). Cut (break) it in two. Throw it in the fire. They fell in love. 4. (of time when): in the 20th century; in 1960; in the reign of Queen Anne; in spring (summer, etc.); in my absence; in his youth; in old age; still in her teens; in these (those) days; in the morning (afternoon, evening) (cf. on Monday morning); in the daytime; at ten o'clock in the night (cf. at night); in (the) future; in the past; in the end (= finally); in time of war; in the hour of victory (death, etc.). He has met many famous men in his time, during his lifetime. She was a famous beauty in her day, during her best years. The school was quite small in my time, when I was there. 5. (of time) in the course of; within the space of: I shall be back in a short time (in a few days, in a week's time, etc.). Can you finish the work in an hour? I'll be ready in a moment. (See also in *time.) 6. (indicating inclusion) seven days in a week; four quarts in a gallon; a man in his thirties (i.e. between 29 and 40 years of age); in the early thirties of this century (i.e. between 1930 and 1934 or 1935). There is 10 per cent. for service in the (hotel) bill. He has nothing of the hero in him, heroism is not among his characteristics. He has in him the makings of a good soldier, has qualities, abilities, etc., that will help him to become a good soldier. 7. (indicating ratio): a slope (gradient) of one in five. He paid his creditors three shillings in the pound. Not one in ten of the boys could spell well. 8. (of dress, etc.) dressed (clothed) in rags; the man in the top hat; a prince in disguise; the woman in white, wearing white clothes; in uniform; in mourning; in brown shoes; in his shirt sleeves, not wearing a jacket or coat; a prisoner in irons. 9. (indicating physical surroundings, circumstances, etc.): go out in the rain; sitting in the sun(shine); standing outside in the cold; sleep in the open; a temperature of 95° F. in the shade; lose one's way in the dark; unable to work in this heat; go for a walk in the moonlight. 10. (indicating state or condition) in a troubled state; in good order; in poor health; in good repair; in a good humour; in a fever of excitement; in despair; in a rage; in tears; in a hurry; living in luxury; in poverty; in ruins; not in the mood for work; in debt; in love; in doubt; in wonder; in public; in secret; in fun (jest, joke); in earnest. 11. (indicating form, shape, arrangement): a novel in three parts; books packed in bundles of ten; men standing about in groups; children sitting in rows; wolves hunting in packs; words in alphabetical order; with her hair in curls (in ringlets); dancing in a ring; cloth hanging in folds. 12. (indicating the method of expression, the medium, means, material, etc.):

speaking (writing) in English; a message in code; written in ink (pencil); (printed) in italic type; in two colours; in writing; in a few words; in round numbers (e.g. 200,000 for 197,563); talking in a loud voice; bound in leather; painted in oils; carved in oak; cast in bronze; a statue in marble; payment in cash (in kind). 13. (indicating degree or extent): in large (small) quantities; in great numbers; in some measure; in part. The enemy appeared in great strength. in all*, as the total: We were fifteen in all. 14. (indicating identity): You will always have a good friend in me, I shall always befriend you. We have lost a first-rate teacher in Hill, Hill, who has left us, was a first-rate teacher. The enemy lost 200 in killed and wounded, 200 of them were killed or wounded. 15. (indicating relation, reference, respect): in some (all) respects; in every way; inferior in physique but superior in intellect; young in years but old in wisdom; weak in the head, not intelligent; deficient in courage; a country rich (poor) in minerals; blind in the left eye; my equal in strength; ten feet in length (depth, diameter, etc.); wanting (lacking) in judgement. 16. (indicating occupation, activity, etc.): He's in the army (in insurance, in the motor business, in the Cabinet, in the Air Ministry). He's in politics, is a politician. He was killed in action, while fighting in war. How much time do you spend in reading? 17. (used in numerous prepositional phrases of the pattern in × noun × prep.; see the noun entries, e.g.): in memory of; in touch with; in defence of; in justice to; in exchange for. 18. in that*, since, because: The higher income tax is harmful in that it may discourage people from trying to earn more. in so far as, in as far as*, in such measure as; to the extent that: He is a Russian in so far as he was born in Russia, but he became a French citizen in 1920. in itself*, in its own nature; absolutely; considered apart from other things: Card playing is not harmful in itself; it is only when combined with wild gambling that it may be harmful. II. adv. (contrasted with out) 1. used with many verbs, in obvious meanings, as come in (= enter) and meanings that are not obvious, as give in (= surrender): see the verb entries for these. 2. (used with the verb be) (a) at home: Is there anyone in? My husband won't be in until six o'clock. (b) arrive: Is the steamer (train, etc.) in yet, has it arrived? (c) (of crops) harvested; brought in from the fields: The wheat crop (the harvest) is safely in. (d) in season; obtainable; Strawberries are in now. When will oysters be in? (e) in fashion: Long skirts are in again. (f) elected; in power; in office: The Democrats are in. The Liberal candidate i in, has been elected. (g) burning: I the fire still in? (h) (cricket, baseball batting: Which side is in? He wa bowled before he had been in (i.e. at the wicket) five minutes. 3. in for*, (a) likely to have or experience (esp. sth. unpleasant): I'm afraid we're in for storm. You're in for it, are faced with the probability of trouble, punishment etc. (b) committed to; having agreed to take part in: I'm in for the competition, shall be a competitor. Are you i for the 1,000 metres race? (c) have it i for sb., be waiting ready to punish him when a chance occurs. be in on*, (colloq.) participate in; have a share in: I'd like to be in on this scheme. day in, day out; week in, week out; year in, year out, day after day, week after week, etc., in a monotonous way. in and out*, now in and now out: He's always in and out of hospital, is frequently ill and in hospital. be well in with sb.*, be on good terms with him (and likely to benefit from his friendship). 4. (preceding a noun): an in-patient, one who lives in a hospital while receiving treatment (contrasted with out-patient).

^{2}in [in] n. (only) the ins and the outs, (a) political party in office and political party out of office. (b) the different parts; the details and complexities: know all the ins and outs of a problem.

in- pref. not; the opposite of (becoming il- before l, im- before b, m, p, ir- before r; often interchanging with un-, as unable and inability).

in a bil i ty [ˌinəˈbiliti] n. [U] being unable; lack of power or means.

in ac ces si ble [ˌinækˈsesəbl] adj. not accessible (to). in ac ces si bil i ty [ˈinækˌsesəˈbiliti] n. [U].

in ac cu rate [inˈækjurit] adj. not accurate. ~ly adv. in ac cu ra cy [inˈækjurəsi] n. [U] being ~; [C] ~ statement, etc.

in ac tion [inˈækʃən] n. [U] doing nothing; lack of activity in ac tive [inˈæktiv] adj. not active. in ac tiv i ty [ˌinækˈtiviti] n. [U]

in ad e quate [inˈædikwit] adj. not adequate (to a purpose, to do sth.); insufficient. ~ly adv. in ad e qua cy [inˈædikwəsi] n. [U].

in ad mis si ble [ˌinədˈmisəbl] adj. that cannot be admitted or allowed.

in ad ver tent [ˌinədˈvəːtənt] adj. not paying or showing proper attention; (of actions) done thoughtlessly or not on purpose. ~ly adv. in ad ver tence n. [U] the quality of being ~; [C] oversight or error which is the result of being ~.

in a lien a ble [inˈeiljənəbl] adj. (o rights, etc.) that cannot be given away or taken away.

am o ra ta [in,æmə'rɑ:tə] n. girl or oman with whom one is in love.

ane [i'nein] adj. silly; senseless: an ~ mark. ~ly adv. in an i ty [i'næniti] . [U] being ~; [C] ~ remark, act, etc.

an i mate [in'ænimit] adj. 1. lifeless: rocks and stones. 2. without animal fe: ~ nature, outside the animal orld. 3. spiritless; dull: ~ conversation.

a ni tion [,inə'niʃən] n. [U] emptiness; xtreme weakness from lack of food.

ap pli ca ble [in'æplikəbl] adj. not pplicable (to).

ap preci a ble [,inə'pri:ʃəbl] adj. not orth reckoning; too small or slight to e perceived: an ~ difference.

ap pro pri ate [,inə'proupriit] adj. not ppropriate or suitable.

apt [in'æpt] adj. unskilful; not bearing n the subject: ~ remarks. in ap ti tude n'æptitju:d] n. [U] being ~.

ar tic u late [,inɑ:'tikjulit] adj. 1. (of peech) not clear or distinct; not well oined together; (of a person) not speaking distinctly; not able to express himelf clearly and fluently; not of the ature of speech: ~ rage. 2. not jointed: n ~ body (e.g. a jelly fish).

as much [,inəz'mʌtʃ] adv. ~ as, ince; because.

at ten tion [,inə'tenʃən] n. want of ttention; failure to pay attention.

at ten tive [,inə'tentiv] adj. not atentive.

au di ble [in'ɔ:dəbl] adj. that cannot be heard. in au di bil i ty [in,ɔ:də'biliti] n.

au gu ral [i'nɔ:gjurəl] adj. of or for an nauguration: an ~ lecture. n. ~ address.

au gu rate [i'nɔ:gjureit] v.t. (VP 1) 1. introduce (a new official, professor, tc.) at a special ceremony: ~ a president. 2. enter, with public formalities, upon (an undertaking); open (an exhibition, a new public building) with ormalities. 3. be the beginning of: The nvention of the internal combustion engine ~d a new era in travel. in au gu ration [i,nɔ:gju'reiʃən] n. inaugurating or being ~d: the inauguration of the President of the U.S.A. (20 Jan.).

aus pi cious [,inɔ:'spiʃəs] adj. not auspicious; not of good omen. ~ly adv.

born ['inbɔ:n] adj. (of a quality) possessed (by a person or animal) at birth; implanted by nature: a boy with an ~ love of mischief; an ~ talent for art.

bred ['in'bred] adj. 1. inborn: ~ courtesy. 2. bred for several or many generations from ancestors closely related.

breed ing ['in'bri:diŋ] n. [U] breeding from closely related ancestors, stocks, etc.

cal cu la ble [in'kælkjuləbl] adj. 1. too great to be calculated: the ~ grains of sand on the seashore. 2. that cannot be reckoned beforehand. 3. (of a person, his character, etc.) uncertain: a lady of ~ moods.

in can des cent [,inkæn'desnt, -kən-] adj. giving out, able to give out, light when heated: an ~ filament (e.g. in an electric-light bulb). in can des cence n. [U] being or becoming ~.

in can ta tion [,inkæn'teiʃən] n. [U & C] (the use of) (a form of) words used in magic; charm or spell.

in ca pa ble [in'keipəbl] adj. not capable (of): ~ of telling a lie, too honest to do so; drunk and ~, helplessly drunk. in ca pa bil i ty [in,keipə'biliti] n. [U].

in ca pac i tate [,inkə'pæsiteit] v.t. (VP 1, 18) 1. make incapable or unfit (for, from): His poor health ~d him for work (from working). 2. disqualify.

in ca pac i ty [,inkə'pæsiti] n. [U] inability; powerlessness (for sth., for doing sth., to do sth.).

in car cer ate [in'kɑ:səreit] v.t. imprison.

in car nate [in'kɑ:nit] adj. 1. having a body; (esp.) in human form: That prison officer is a devil ~ (an ~ fiend). 2. (of an idea, ideal, etc.) appearing in human form: Liberty ~. v.t. ['inkɑ:neit] 1. make ~. 2. put (an idea, etc.) into a real or material form. 3. (of a person) be a living form of (a quality): a wife who ~s all the virtues.

in car na tion [,inkɑ:'neiʃən] n. 1. the I~, the taking of bodily form by Jesus. 2. [C] person looked upon as a type of a quality: She looked the ~ of health.

in cau tious [in'kɔ:ʃəs] adj. not cautious; rash. ~ly adv.

in cen dia ry [in'sendjəri] n. & adj. 1. (person) setting fire to property unlawfully and with an evil purpose; (person) tending to stir up violence: an ~ speech (newspaper article). 2. (bomb) causing fire. in cen dia rism [in'sendjərizəm] n. [U].

¹in cense [in'sens] v.t. (VP 1) make angry: ~d by sb.'s conduct; ~d at sb.'s remarks.

²in cense ['insens] n. [U] (smoke of) substance producing a sweet smell when burning.

in cen tive [in'sentiv] n. [C & U] that which incites, rouses, or encourages a person (to sth., to do sth., to doing sth.): He hasn't much ~ (many ~s) to work hard (to hard work).

in cep tion [in'sepʃən] n. start.

in cer ti tude [in'sə:titju:d] n. [U] uncertainty.

in ces sant [in'sesənt] adj. continual; often repeated: a week of ~ rain.

in cest ['insest] n. [U] sexual intercourse between near relations (e.g. brother and sister). in ces tu ous [in'sestjuəs] adj. of ~; guilty of ~.

inch [intʃ] n. 1. measure of length, one-twelfth of a foot (see Appendix 1): six ~es of rain in one day. 2. small amount. by ~es, (a) only just: The car missed me by ~es. (b) bit by bit; gradually. ~ by ~, by degrees. every ~, entirely, completely: He's every ~ a soldier. within an ~ of, very near, almost: He came within an ~ of being struck by a falling tile. not yield an ~, not give way at all. v.t. & i. (VP 10, 23) move by ~es; edge one's way: ~ one's way forward; ~ along a ledge on a cliff.

in cho ate ['inkoueit] adj. just begun; in an underdeveloped, half-formed state.

in cho a tive ['inkoueitiv, in'kouətiv] adj. expressing the beginning of an action or state: (gram.) ~ verbs (e.g. get in get dark, fall in fall ill).

in ci dence ['insidəns] n. way in which sth. falls or affects things: the ~ of a disease, the range or extent of its effect, the number and kind of people who catch it; the ~ of a tax, the way it falls to certain people to pay it.

¹in ci dent ['insidənt] n. 1. event, esp. one of less importance than others: frontier ~s (e.g. disputes between forces on a frontier). 2. happening which attracts general attention. 3. (modern use) happening (e.g. rebellion, bomb explosion, war) which for various reasons persons in authority do not wish to describe precisely. 4. separate piece of action in a play or poem.

²in ci dent ['insidənt] adj. (only) ~ to, forming a natural or expected part of; naturally connected with: the risks ~ to the life of a test pilot; the social obligations ~ to life in the diplomatic service.

in ci den tal [ˌinsi'dentl] adj. 1. accompanying but not forming a necessary part: ~ music to a play. 2. small and comparatively unimportant: ~ expenses. 3. liable to happen or occur: discomforts ~ to exploration in a wild country. ~ly adv. in an ~ manner; by chance.

in cin er ate [in'sinəreit] v.t. (VP 1) burn to ashes. in cin er a tion [inˌsinə'reiʃən] n. [U] burning up. in cin er a tor [in'sinəreitə*] n. furnace, enclosed fire-place, for burning rubbish, etc.

in cip i ent [in'sipiənt] adj. beginning; in an early stage: ~ decay of the teeth.

in cise [in'saiz] v.t. (VP 1) make a cut in; engrave. in ci sion [in'siʒən] n. [U] cutting (into sth.); [C] cut (e.g. one made in a surgical operation).

in ci sive [in'saisiv] adj. sharp and cutting; (of a person's mind, remarks) acute; clear-cut: ~ criticism. ~ly adv.

in ci sor [in'saizə*] n. (in human beings) any one of the eight sharp-edged front cutting teeth, four in the upper and four in the lower jaw.

in cite [in'sait] v.t. (VP 1, 3, 18) stir rouse (to sth., to do sth.): Insults resentment. The soldier was shot f inciting his comrades to rise against the officers. ~ment n. [U] inciting or bei ~d; [C] instance of this; sth. that ~s. in ci vil i ty [ˌinsi'viliti] n. [U] impolit ness; [C] impolite act, remark, etc.

in clem ent [in'klemənt] adj. (of wea or climate) severe; cold and stormy. in clem en cy [in'klemənsi] n. [U] being in cli na tion [ˌinkli'neiʃən] n. 1. [bending; bowing; slope; slant: an ~ the head, a nod; an ~ of the body, a bo the ~ of a roof, its degree of slope. [C&U] mental leaning; liking or desire; d position: Are you usually ready to sacri ~ to duty, put on one side what y like doing in order to do your duty? H showed no ~ to leave. She is not free follow her own ~s, even in the matter marriage. He has an ~ (tendency) stoutness (to grow fat).

¹in cline [in'klain] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 2 (cause to) lean, slope, or slant; bend (th head, body, oneself) forward or dow ward: ~ the head in prayer. 2. (VP 3 liter. use) dispose; direct: 'I~ cu hearts to keep this law.' 3. (VP 3, us passive) direct the mind in a certai direction; cause (sb.) to have a tendenc or wish (to do sth.): The news ~s m (I am ~d) to start at once. His letter ~ me to believe that he doesn't want to come I am ~d to think (I have a feeling o idea) that he is opposed to the plan He's ~d to be lazy. Do you feel ~d fo a walk (~d to go for a walk)? 4. (VP 25 tend; be disposed: I ~ to believe in hi innocence. 5. (VP 24) have a physica or bodily tendency: He ~s to leanness.

²in cline [in'klain, 'inklain] n. slope sloping surface: run down a steep ~ an ~ of 1 in 5. (Cf. gradient.)

in close, in clos ure, see enclose, enclosure.

in clude [in'klu:d] v.t. (VP 1, 17, 18 bring in, reckon, as part of the whole This atlas contains fifty maps, including six of North America. Price $2.75 postage ~d. Your duties will ~ putting the children to bed. in clu sion [in'klu:ʒən] n. [U] including or being ~d.

in clu sive [in'klu:siv] adj. 1. including £10, ~ of interest; from 1 May to 3 Jun ~, 1 May and 3 June being included (Cf. through, U.S.A. usage.) 2. includin much or all: ~ terms (at a hotel, etc.) without any extra charges. ~ly adv.

in cog [in'kɔg] adj., adv. (colloq. abbrev. of) incognito.

in cog ni to [in'kɔgnitou] adj. conceale under a disguised character; with an assumed name: a king ~. adv. with one's name, character, etc., concealed The duke called himself Dick Brown and travelled ~.

co her ent [ˌinkouˈhiərənt] adj. not herent: so drunk as to be quite ~. ly adv.

com bus ti ble [ˌinkəmˈbʌstəbl] adj. at cannot be consumed by fire.

come [ˈinkəm] n. money received ring a given period (as salary, reipts from trade, interest from investents, etc.): live within one's ~, spend ss than one receives; ˈ*~-tax. Tax is payable on ~ over £450.*

com ing [ˈinˌkʌmiŋ] adj. coming in: ~ tide (tenant).

com men su rate [ˌinkəˈmenʃərit] dj. 1. not comparable (to) in respect of e; not worthy to be measured (with): is abilities are ~ to the task he has been ven. 2. that cannot be compared; ving no common measure.

com mode [ˌinkəˈmoud] v.t. (VP 1) use trouble or inconvenience to: Will ~ you if I don't pay what I owe you til next year?

com mu ni ca do [ˌinkəmju:niˈkɑ:dou] dj. (of sb. in confinement) not peritted to communicate with persons tside.

com pa ra ble [inˈkɔmpərəbl] adj. t to be compared (to, with); without ual: her ~ beauty.

com pat i ble [ˌinkəmˈpætəbl] adj. posed in character; unable to exist harmony (with); inconsistent (with): ccessive drinking is ~ with good health. com pat i bil i ty [ˈinkəmˌpætəˈbiliti] [U] being ~: Incompatibility of temper ay cause friction between husband and fe.

com pe tent [inˈkɔmpitənt] adj. not alified or able: ~ to teach science (for ching science, as a teacher of science). y adv. in com pe tence, -ten cy ˈkɔmpitəns(i)] nn. [U] being ~.

com plete [ˌinkəmˈpli:t] adj. not comete. ~ly adv.

com pre hen si ble [inˌkɔmpriˈhenbl] adj. that cannot be understood.

com pre hen sion [inˌkɔmpriˈhenʃən] [U] failure to understand.

com pres si ble [ˌinkəmˈpresəbl] adj. at cannot be compressed; hard and yielding.

con ceiv a ble [ˌinkənˈsi:vəbl] adj. at cannot be imagined; (colloq.) hard believe; very remarkable.

con clu sive [ˌinkənˈklu:siv] adj. (of idence, arguments, discussions, acns) not decisive or convincing; not inging a definite result. ~ly adv.

con gru ous [inˈkɔŋgruəs] adj. not harmony or agreement (with); out of ace. ~ly adv. in con gru i ty [ˌinŋˈgruiti] n. [U] the quality of being ; [C] sth. ~.

con se quent [inˈkɔnsikwənt] adj. not lowing naturally what has been said done before: an ~ remark; (of a person) saying or doing ~ things. ~ly adv.

in con se quen tial [inˌkɔnsiˈkwenʃəl] adj. = inconsequent; (by extension) unimportant.

in con sid er a ble [ˌinkənˈsidərəbl] adj. not worth considering; of small size, value, etc.

in con sid er ate [ˌinkənˈsidərit] adj. (of a person, his actions) thoughtless; lacking in regard for the feelings of others: ~ children; ~ remarks. ~ly adv.

in con sis tent [ˌinkənˈsistənt] adj. 1. not in harmony with: actions that are ~ with one's principles. 2. contradictory; having parts that do not agree: His account of what happened was ~. ~ly adv. in con sis ten cy n. [U] the quality of being ~; [C] instance of this.

in con sol a ble [ˌinkənˈsouləbl] adj. that cannot be consoled: ~ grief. The widow was ~.

in con spic u ous [ˌinkənˈspikjuəs] adj. not conspicuous: The shy girl tried to make herself as ~ as possible, tried to avoid attention. She always dresses in ~ colours, colours that are not striking or obvious. ~ly adv.

in con stant [inˈkɔnstənt] adj. (of persons) changeable (in feelings, intentions, purpose, etc.): an ~ lover. in constan cy [inˈkɔnstənsi] n. [U] being ~; [C] instance of this.

in con test a ble [ˌinkənˈtestəbl] adj. that cannot be disputed.

in con ti nent [inˈkɔntinənt] adj. wanting in self-control or self-restraint; unable to hold (sth.) in. in con ti nence [inˈkɔntinəns] n. [U].

in con tro vert i ble [inˌkɔntrəˈvə:təbl] adj. that cannot be disputed.

in con ve nience [ˌinkənˈvi:njəns] n. [C & U] (cause or instance of) discomfort or trouble: I was put to (I suffered) great ~. They have been at great ~ in order to help us. Think of the ~s of living in such a small house with a large family. v.t. (VP 1) cause ~ to.

in con ve nient [ˌinkənˈvi:njənt] adj. causing discomfort, trouble, or annoyance. ~ly adv.

in con vert i ble [ˌinkənˈvə:təbl] adj. that cannot be converted (e.g. paper money that cannot be exchanged for gold). in con vert i bil i ty [ˈinkənˌvə:tiˈbiliti] n.

¹in cor po rate [inˈkɔ:pəreit] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 18, 21, 24) make, become, united in one body or group; (law) form into, become, a corporation (def. 2): Hanover was ~d into Prussia in 1886. He was ~d a member of the college. Your suggestions will be ~d in the plan. The firm ~d with others. in cor po ra tion [inˌkɔ:pəˈreiʃən] n. incorporating or being ~d.

²in cor po rate [inˈkɔ:pərit] adj. incorporated; formed into, united in, a corporation.

in cor po re al [ˌinkɔ:ˈpɔ:riəl] adj. not composed of matter; having no bodily form.

in cor rect [ˌinkəˈrekt] adj. not correct. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

in cor ri gi ble [inˈkɔridʒəbl] adj. (of a person, his faults, etc.) that cannot be cured or corrected: an ~ liar; ~ bad habits.

in cor rupt i ble [inkəˈrʌptəbl] adj. that cannot decay or be destroyed; that cannot be corrupted, esp. by being bribed: as ~ as an English judge. in cor rupt i bil i ty [ˈinkəˌrʌptiˈbiliti] n.

^{1}in crease [inˈkri:s] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) make or become greater in size, number, degree, etc.: The population has ~d by 200,000 to 50,000,000. The driver ~d speed. Our difficulties are increasing. in creas ing ly adv. more and more.

^{2}in crease [ˈinkri:s] n. [U] increasing; growth; [C] amount by which sth. increases: I~ in population made emigration necessary. There was a steady ~ in population. Is the consumption of beer still on the ~?

in cred i ble [inˈkredəbl] adj. that cannot be believed; (colloq.) difficult to believe; surprising. in cred i bly adv. in cred i bil i ty [inˌkredəˈbiliti] n.

in cred u lous [inˈkredjuləs] adj. unbelieving; showing disbelief: ~ looks (smiles). I remain ~ of such stories. ~ly adv. in cre du li ty [ˌinkriˈdju:liti] n.

in cre ment [ˈinkrimənt] n. 1. [U] profits; increase: unearned ~, increased value of sth., e.g. land, due not to the owner's labour but to other causes (e.g. a big demand for land). 2. [C] amount of increase: 'Salary £500 per annum, with yearly ~s of £10 to a maximum of £600.' in crim i nate [inˈkrimineit] v.t. (VP 1) say, be a sign, that (sb.) is guilty of wrongdoing: Don't say anything that may ~ your friends.

in crus ta tion [ˌinkrʌsˈteiʃən] n. [U] encrusting; [C] crust; hard coating.

in cu bate [ˈinkjubeit] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) hatch (eggs) by sitting on them or by artificial warmth; sit on eggs. in cu ba tion [ˌinkjuˈbeiʃən] n. hatching (of eggs): artificial incubation, hatching by artificial warmth. in cu ba tor [ˈinkjubeitə*] n. apparatus for hatching eggs by artificial warmth or for rearing babies born before the proper time.

in cu bus [ˈiŋkjubəs] n. nightmare; evil spirit supposed to lie on a sleeping person and weigh him down; sb. or sth. (e.g. a debt, an approaching examination) that oppresses one like a nightmare.

in cul cate [ˈinkʌlkeit] v.t. (VP 1, 18) fix (ideas, etc.) firmly by repetition (upon sb., in his mind): ~ in young people the duty of loyalty.

in cul pate [ˈinkʌlpeit] v.t. (VP 1) volve (sb.) in a charge of wrong blame.

in cum bent [inˈkʌmbənt] adj. be upon sb. (to do sth.), rest upon him duty: It is ~ upon you to warn the of the danger of excessive smoking.
person holding a church benefice;
or vicar. in cum ben cy [inˈkʌm
n. position of an ~.

in cur [inˈkə:] v.t. (-rr-*) (VP 1) br upon oneself: ~ debts; ~ hatred; ~ gr expense.

in cur a ble [inˈkjuərəbl, -ˈkjɔ:-] a that cannot be cured: ~ dis (habits). n. person who is ~: a home ~s. in cur a bly adv.

in cu ri ous [inˈkjuəriəs] adj. having curiosity; not inquisitive; inattenti

in cur sion [inˈkə:ʃən] n. sudden atta or invasion (not usu. made for t purpose of permanent occupation):
Danish ~s on our coasts in early time (fig.) ~s upon my leisure time.

in curved [inˈkə:vd] adj. curved wards; bent into a curve.

in debt ed [inˈdetid] adj. owing mon or gratitude (to): I am greatly ~ to y for your help. ~ness n.

in de cent [inˈdi:snt] adj. 1. (of b haviour, talk, etc.) not decent (def.
obscene. 2. (colloq.) improper: leave party in ~ haste (e.g. as if to suggest th one is glad to escape from boredom).
adv. in de cen cy [inˈdi:snsi] n. [ being ~; [C] act, gesture, expressio etc., that is ~.

in de ci pher a ble [ˌindiˈsaifərəbl] a that cannot be deciphered.

in de ci sion [ˌindiˈsiʒən] n. the state being unable to decide; hesitation.

in de ci sive [ˌindiˈsaisiv] adj. not de sive: an ~ battle (answer); ~ eviden hesitating; uncertain: a man with an manner. ~ly adv.

in dec o rous [inˈdekərəs] adj. in b taste; not in accordance with go manners. ~ly adv.

in de co rum [ˌindiˈko:rəm] n. [U] la of decorum; [C] improper proceedin indecorous act.

in deed [inˈdi:d] adv. 1. really; as y say; as you may imagine: I was ~ ve glad to hear the news. 'Are you pleas at your son's success?'—'Yes, ~' (
'I~, yes.' 2. (to intensify) Thank y very much ~. It was very kind ~ of y to help. 3. used as a comment to sho interest, surprise, irony, etc.: 'He spo to me about you.'—'Oh, ~!' (= 'O did he?') 'Who is this woman?'—'W is she, ~?' (= 'That's what we want to know.')

in de fat i ga ble [ˌindiˈfætigəbl] untiring; that cannot be tired ou ~ workers.

in de fea si ble [ˌindiˈfi:zəbl] adj. th nnot be forfeited or done away with: rights (claims).

de fen si ble [ˌindiˈfensəbl] adj. that nnot be defended, justified, or excused.

de fin a ble [ˌindiˈfainəbl] adj. that nnot be defined.

def i nite [inˈdefinit] adj. vague; not early defined or stated: He has rather views on the question. He gave me an answer, neither 'Yes' nor 'No'. the ~ ticle, a or an.

del i ble [inˈdelibl] adj. (of marks, ains, ink, or fig. of disgrace) that cant be rubbed out or removed: an ~ pen- ; ~ shame. in del i bly *adv.

del i cate [inˈdelikit] adj. (of a pern, his speech, behaviour, etc.) lacking refinement; immodest: ~ remarks. del i ca cy [inˈdelikəsi] n. [U] being ; [C] ~ act, utterance, etc.

dem ni fy [inˈdemnifai] v.t. (VP 1, 18) make (sb., oneself) safe (from, against): a person against harm (loss). 2. pay ck (sb. for): I will ~ you for any penses you may incur on my behalf. dem ni fi ca tion [inˌdemnifiˈkeiʃən] [U] ~ing or being indemnified; [C] h. given or received as compensation repayment.

dem ni ty [inˈdemniti] n. 1. [U] curity against damage or loss; comnsation for loss. 2. [C] sth. that gives curity against damage or loss; sth. ven or received as compensation, esp. sum of money, or goods, demanded om a country defeated in war.

dent [inˈdent] v.t. (VP 1) 1. break to the edge or surface of (as if with eth): an ~ed (very irregular) coast- ne. 2. start (a line of print or writing) rther from the margin than the others: ou must ~ the first line of each para- aph. 3. (VP 18) make an order (upon ., for goods, etc.); order goods by eans of an ~. n. [ˈindent] trade order aced in the United Kingdom for goods be exported; official requisition for ores. in den ta tion [ˌindenˈteiʃən] 1. [U] ~ing or being ~ed. 2. [C] deep cess in a coast-line; notch; space left the beginning of a line of print or riting.

den ture [inˈdentʃə*] n. agreement of hich two copies are made, esp. one nding an apprentice to his master: ke up one's ~s, receive them back at e end of the period of training. v.t. nd (a person) by ~s (as an apprentice).

de pend ence [ˌindiˈpendəns] n. [U] e state of being independent: When boy leaves college and begins to earn oney he can live a life of ~. Several of ese colonies have claimed and have been ven ~ from the mother country. I~ ay, 4 July, celebrated in the U.S.A. as e anniversary of the day, in 1776, on hich the Declaration of I~ was made.

in de pen dent [ˌindiˈpendənt] adj. 1. not dependent on or controlled by (other persons or things); not relying on others; not needing to work for a living: If you have a motor-car you are ~ of trains, trams, and buses. They went camping, so as to be ~ of inns and hotels. 2. self-governing: when the colony became ~. 3. acting or thinking upon one's own lines: an ~ thinker; ~ proofs (research), resulting from ~ work, not related to the work of others. n. (esp.) one who does not belong to a political party: vote for the ~s at the next election. ~ly *adv.

in de scrib a ble [ˌindiˈskraibəbl] adj. that cannot be described.

in de struct i ble [ˌindiˈstrʌktəbl] adj. that cannot be destroyed.

in de ter mi nate [ˌindiˈtəːminit] adj. not fixed; vague or indefinite: an ~ vowel (e.g. the first sound in ago). in de ter mi na cy n. the state of being ~: the indeterminacy of small-scale physical events, the impossibility of determining them in advance.

in dex [ˈindeks] n. (pl. ~es [-iz], or, in science, indices [ˈindisiːz]) 1. sth. that points to or indicates; pointer (on an instrument) showing measurements: the ~ finger, the forefinger, used for pointing. The increasing sale of luxuries was an ~ of the country's prosperity. 2. list of names, subjects, references, etc., in ABC order, at the end of a book, or on cards (a card ~) in a library, etc. 3. ~ number (figure), one that indicates the relative level of prices or wages at a particular date compared with the figure 100 (for an earlier period) taken as a standard. 4. (algebra) exponent: In b^3 and x^n, 3 and n are indices. v.t. (VP 1) make an ~ for (a book, collection of books, etc.); put (a word, reference, etc.) in an ~: The book is not well ~ed.

In dia [ˈindjə] n. ~ paper n. very thin paper (e.g. for air-mail editions of newspapers). ˈ~*man n. (formerly) sailing-ship engaged in the trade with India. ˈ~ˌ*rubber n. [C] piece of rubber for rubbing out pencil or ink marks.

In dian [ˈindjən] adj. & n. 1. (native) of India. 2. (one) of the original inhabitants of America (also called Red ~). 3. (various uses) ~ club, bottle-shaped club, for use in gymnastic exercises. ~ corn, [U] maize. in ~ file, in single file, one behind the other. ~ ink, black ink made in China and Japan (used when writing ideographs with a brush). ~ summer, period of calm, dry hazy weather in late autumn in the northern part of the U.S.A.

in di cate [ˈindikeit] v.t. (VP 1, 11) point to; point out; make known; be a sign of; state briefly: A sign-post ~d the right road for us to follow. He ~d that the interview was over. in di ca tion [ˌindi'keiʃən] n. 1. [U] indicating or being ~d. 2. [C & U] sign or suggestion; that which ~s: Did he give you any indication of his feelings? There was not much indication (were not many indications) that the next few years would be peaceful.

in dic a tive [in'dikətiv] adj. 1. (grammar) stating as a fact: the ~ mood. 2. (also ['indikeitiv]) giving indications (of): Is a high forehead ~ of great mental power?

in di ca tor ['indikeitə*] n. person, thing, that points out or gives information (e.g. a pointer, needle, recording apparatus, on a machine, etc., showing speed, pressure, etc., or (train ~) one in a railway station showing times of arrivals and departures of trains, their platform numbers, etc.).

in di ces ['indisiːz] pl. of index.

in dict [in'dait] v.t. (VP 1, 18) (legal) accuse (sb.) (for riot, as a rioter, on a charge of rioting, etc.). ~a ble [in'daitəbl] adj. liable to be ~ed; for which one may be ~ed: ~able offences, that may be tried by jury. ~ment n. [C] written statement that ~s sb.: bring in an ~ment against sb.; [U] ~ing or being ~ed.

in dif fer ence [in'difrəns] n. [U] the state of being indifferent; absence of interest or feeling: He treated my request with ~. Success or failure cannot be a matter of ~ to you. His ~ to (toward) future needs is unfortunate.

in dif fer ent [in'difrənt] adj. 1. ~ to, having no interest in; neither for nor against; not caring for: How can you be so ~ to the sufferings of these children? The explorers were ~ to the discomforts and dangers of the expedition. We cannot remain ~ (neutral) in this dispute. It is quite ~ to me whether you go or stay, I don't care which you do. 2. commonplace; not of good quality or ability: an ~ book; a very ~ footballer. ~ly adv.

in dig e nous [in'didʒənəs] adj. native (to); belonging naturally (to): Kangaroos are ~ to Australia.

in di gent ['indidʒənt] adj. poor. in di gence ['indidʒəns] n. [U] poverty.

in di gest i ble [ˌindi'dʒestəbl] adj. difficult or impossible to digest.

in di ges tion [ˌindi'dʒestʃən] n. [U] (pain from) difficulty in digesting food: suffer from ~; have an attack of ~.

in dig nant [in'dignənt] adj. angry and scornful, esp. at injustice or because of undeserved blame, etc.: ~ at a false accusation; ~ with a cruel man. ~ly adv.

in dig na tion [ˌindig'neiʃən] n. [U] anger caused by injustice, misconduct, etc.: arouse the ~ of the people; to the ~ of all decent people. They felt strong ~ against their teachers. An ~ meeting (a mee to express public ~) will be held evening.

in dig ni ty [in'digniti] n. [U] rude unworthy treatment causing sham loss of respect; [C] sth. said or done humiliates a person: The bandits jected us to all sorts of indignities.

in di go ['indigou] n. [U] deep blue (obtained from plants). ~ blue, b violet.

in di rect [ˌindi'rekt] adj. 1. not strai or direct; not going straight to the p an ~ road; make an ~ reference to not mentioning his name althou making clear who is referred to; an answer to a question. 2. (of taxes) paid direct to a tax-collector, but in form of higher prices for taxed goo the ~ taxes on tobacco, wines, etc.
(gram.) ~ speech, speech as it is repor with the necessary changes of pronou tenses, etc. (e.g. He said he would co for He said 'I will come'); ~ obj person or thing affected by verbal acti but not primarily affected (e.g. him Give him the money). 4. not direc aimed at: an ~ result. ~ly ad ~ness n.

in dis ci pline [in'disiplin] n. [U] a sence of discipline.

in dis creet [ˌindis'kriːt] adj. not wa cautious, or careful. ~ly adv. in di cre tion [ˌindis'kreʃən] n. [U] ~ co duct; lack of discretion; [C] ~ rema or act; offence against social conve tions.

in dis crim i nate [ˌindis'kriminit] ad acting, given, without care or taste: ~ making friends; give ~ praise; deal o ~ blows, hit out at anyone, whether enemy or not. ~ly adv.

in dis pen sa ble [ˌindis'pensəbl] ad that cannot be dispensed with; abs lutely essential: Air, food, and water a ~ to life.

in dis posed [ˌindis'pouzd] adj. 1. u well: She has a headache and is rather
2. not inclined (for sth., to do sth.): I seems ~ to help us.

in dis po si tion [ˌindispə'ziʃən] n.
& U] 1. ill health; slight illness.
feeling of unwillingness or disinclinati (to sth., to do sth.); feeling of aversi (to or towards sth.).

in dis pu ta ble [ˌindis'pjuːtəbl] adj. th cannot be disputed; beyond doubt question.

in dis so lu ble [ˌindi'soljubl] adj. th cannot be dissolved or broken up; fi and lasting: the ~ bonds of friendsh between my country and yours.

in dis tinct [ˌindis'tiŋkt] adj. not di tinct: ~ speech; ~ sounds (memorie ~ly adv. ~ness n.

in dite [in'dait] v.t. (VP 1) put in words; compose: ~ a poem (speech).

vid ual [ˌindi'vidjuəl] adj. 1. (opp. neral) specially for one person or g: A teacher cannot give ~ attention s pupils if his class is very large. 2.
acteristic of a single person or thing:
style of speaking (dressing). n. any human being (contrasted with ty): Are the rights of the ~ more rtant or less important than the s of society as a whole? ~ly adv.
. of collectively) separately; one by speak to each member of a group ~ly.

vid u al ism [ˌindi'vidjuəlizəm] n.
1. social theory that favours the action and complete liberty of be-of individuals (contrasted with the ry favouring the supremacy of the ). 2. feeling or behaviour of a per-who puts his own private interests
; egoism. in di vid u al ist n. super of ~. in di vid u al is tic [ˌindjuə'listik] adj. of ~ or its princi-
.

vid u al i ty [ˌindiˌvidju'æliti] n. 1.
all the characteristics that belong n individual and that mark him out others: a man of marked ~. 2.
e of separate existence. 3. (usu. pl.)
vidual tastes, etc.

vid u al ize [ˌindi'vidjuəlaiz] v.t.
1) 1. give an individual or distinct acter to: Does your style of writing our work? 2. specify; treat separy and in detail.

vis i ble [ˌindi'vizəbl] adj. that not be divided.

o- ['indou-] in compounds = Indian.
Chi'nese, of Indo-China or Further
a. '~-ˌEuro'pean, '~-Ger'manic, he family of languages spoken in ope and parts of western Asia (esp. sia and India). ~nesian [ˌindou-jən] adj. of Indonesia.

oc tri nate [in'dɔktrineit] v.t. (VP 1)
he mind of (sb.) (with particular ideas eliefs). in doc tri na tion [inˌdɔktriʃən] n. [U].

lent ['indələnt] adj. lazy; inactive.
adv. in do lence ['indələns] n.

om i ta ble [in'dɔmitəbl] adj. that not be subdued or conquered; un-ding: ~ courage; an ~ will.

oor ['indɔː*, -dɔə*] adj. (attrib. only) nging to, carried on, situated, ina building: ~ games (photography).

oors ['in'dɔːz, -'dɔəz] adv. in or into uilding: go (stay) ~; kept ~ all week ad weather.

orse see endorse.

bi ta ble [in'djuːbitəbl] adj. that not be doubted.

ce [in'djuːs] v.t. 1. (VP 3) persuade nfluence; lead or cause (sb. to do sth.):
at ~d you to do such a thing? We dn't ~ the old lady to travel by air.
VP 1) bring about: illness ~d by work; ~ magnetism in a piece of iron (by holding it near a magnet). ~ment n. [U & C] that which ~s: He hasn't much ~ment (many ~ments) to study English.

in duct [in'dʌkt] v.t. (VP 18) install formally or with ceremony in position or office: ~ a clergyman to a benefice.

in duc tion [in'dʌkʃən] n. 1. inducting or being inducted 2. method of reasoning which obtains or discovers general laws from particular facts or examples; production of facts to prove a general statement. (Cf. deduction.) 3. (Cf. induce def. 2) the bringing about of an electric or magnetic state in a body by proximity (without actual contact) of an electrified or magnetized body: ~ coils (motors).

in duc tive [in'dʌktiv] adj. 1. (of reasoning) based on induction (def. 2). 2. of magnetic or electrical induction.

in dulge [in'dʌldʒ] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 18, 21, 24) gratify; give way to and satisfy (desires, etc.): It is sometimes necessary to ~ a sick child (the fancies of a sick child). He occasionally ~s (himself) in the luxury of a good cigar. We're too poor to ~ our taste for good wine. in dul gent adj. inclined to ~: indulgent parents, parents who ~ their children. in dul gent ly adv.

in dul gence [in'dʌldʒəns] n. 1. [U] indulging; the state of being indulged; the habit of gratifying one's own desires, etc.: Constant ~ in bad habits brought about his ruin. 2. [C] sth. in which a person indulges: One pint of beer a day and an occasional game of billiards are his only ~s. 3. (in the R.C. Church) [U] granting of freedom from punishment still due for sin after sacramental absolution; [C] instance of this.

in dus tri al [in'dʌstriəl] adj. of industries: the ~ areas of England (contrasted with agriculture, etc.); the ~ revolution, the changes brought about by mechanical inventions in the 18th and early 19th cc.); an ~ school, where trades are taught; an ~ estate, area of land planned and used for the building of factories (to be rented to manufacturers). ~ism n. social system in which large-scale industries have an important part. ~ist n. owner of a large-scale ~ undertaking.

in dus tri ous [in'dʌstriəs] adj. hard-working; diligent. (See industry, def. 1.) ~ly adv.

in dus try ['indʌstri] n. 1. [U] quality of being hard-working; being always employed usefully: His success was due to ~ and thrift. 2. [C & U] (branch of) trade or manufacture (contrasted with distribution and commerce): the cotton and woollen industries.

in dwell ing ['in'dweliŋ] adj. living, always present, in the mind or soul.

i ne bri ate [i'niːbrieit] v.t. (VP 1) make drunk; intoxicate. n. & adj.

[i'ni:briit] (person who is habitually) drunk: an institution for ~s. i ne bri e ty [ˌini(:)'braiəti] n. [U] drunkenness.

in ed i ble [in'edibl] adj. (of a kind) not suitable to be eaten.

in ef fa ble [in'efəbl] adj. too great to be described in words: ~ joy (beauty). in ef fa bly adv.

in ef fec tive [ˌini'fektiv] adj. not producing the effect(s) desired; (of a person) inefficient. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

in ef fec tu al [ˌini'fektjuəl] adj. without effect; unsuccessful. ~ly adv.

in ef fi cient [ˌini'fiʃənt] adj. (of persons) not fully capable; ineffective. ~ly adv. in ef fi cien cy [ˌini'fiʃənsi] n. [U].

in e las tic [ˌini'læstik] adj. not elastic; not adaptable; unyielding.

in el e gant [in'eligənt] adj. not graceful or refined. ~ly adv. in el e gance n.

in el i gi ble [in'elidʒəbl] adj. not eligible; not suitable or qualified: ~ for the position. in el i gi bil i ty ['inˌelidʒi'biliti] n. [U].

in e luc ta ble [ˌini'lʌktəbl] adj. that cannot be escaped from: the victim of ~ fate.

in ept [i'nept] adj. absurd; said or done at the wrong time: ~ remarks. ~ly adv. ~i tude [i'neptitju:d] n. [U] quality of being ~; [C] ~ action, remark, etc.

in e qual i ty [ˌini(:)'kwɔliti] n. 1. [U] want of, absence of, equality (in size, degree, circumstances, etc.); [C] instance of this; difference in size, rank, wealth, etc.: Great inequalities in wealth caused social unrest. 2. (pl.) (of a surface) irregularity: the inequalities of the landscape, the rise and fall of the ground, etc.

in eq ui ta ble [in'ekwitəbl] adj. unjust; unfair.

in eq ui ty [in'ekwiti] n. [C & U] (instance of) injustice or unfairness.

in e rad i ca ble [ˌini'rædikəbl] adj. that cannot be rooted out; firmly and deeply rooted.

in ert [i'nə:t] adj. 1. without power to move or act: ~ matter. 2. without active chemical properties: ~ gases. 3. heavy and slow (in mind or body). in er tia [i'nə:ʃjə] n. [U] 1. state of being ~ (def. 3). 2. property of matter by which it remains in a state of rest or, if it is in motion, continues in the same direction and in a straight line unless it is acted upon by an external force.

in es ca pa ble [ˌinis'keipəbl] adj. not to be escaped from.

in es ti ma ble [in'estiməbl] adj. too great, precious, etc., to be estimated.

in ev i ta ble [in'evitəbl] adj. 1. that cannot be avoided, that is sure to happen. 2. (colloq.) so frequently seen, heard, etc., that it is familiar and expected: a Japanese tourist with his ~ camera. in ev i ta bil i ty [
'biliti] n.
in ex act [ˌinig'zækt] adj. not in ex ac ti tude [ˌinig'zæktitju:d] [U] being ~; [C] instance of this minological ~itudes, (joking eup for) lies.
in ex cus a ble [ˌiniks'kju:zəbl] adj.
cannot be excused.
in ex haust i ble [ˌinig'zɔ:stəbl] adj.
cannot be exhausted.
in ex o ra ble [in'eksərəbl] adj.
less; unyielding. in ex o ra bly
in ex pe dient [ˌiniks'pi:djənt] adj.
expedient.
in ex pen sive [ˌiniks'pensiv] adj.
expensive; low priced. ~ly adv.
in ex pe ri ence [ˌiniks'piəriəns] n.
lack of experience. in ex pe ri en
adj. lacking experience.
in ex pert [in'ekspə:t] adj. un-ski ~ly adv.
in ex pi a ble [in'ekspiəbl] adj. (of offence) that cannot be expiated; resentment, hatred, etc.) that canno appeased.
in ex plic able [in'eksplikəbl] adj.
cannot be explained.
in ex press i ble [ˌiniks'presəbl]
that cannot be expressed in words.
in ex tin guish a ble [ˌiniks'tingwiʃ
adj. that cannot be extinguished quenched.
in ex tric a ble [in'ekstrikəbl, ˌin
'trikəbl] adj. that cannot be redu to order, solved, untied, or esca from: ~ confusion (difficulties).
in fal li ble [in'fæləbl] adj. 1. incapa of making mistakes or doing wro None of us is ~. 2. never failing:
remedies (cures, methods, tests). in fal
bil i ty [inˌfælə'biliti] n. complete f dom from the possibility of being error: the infallibility of the Pope.
in fa mous ['infəməs] adj. wick shameful; disgraceful: ~ behaviour;
~ plot (traitor). in fa my ['infəmi]
1. [U] being ~; public dishonour: a person up to infamy. 2. [U] ~ haviour; [C] ~ act.
in fan cy ['infənsi] n. [U] 1. state being, period when one is, an infa early childhood; (law, in Britain) per before one reaches the age of 21. minority.) 2. early stage of devel ment or growth: the ~ of a nati when aviation was still in its ~.
in fant ['infənt] n. 1. child during first few years of its life; (law) min person under 21. 2. (attrib.) ~ voic ~ food; an ~-school (for children un 7); ~ industries, new, in an early sta in fan ti cide [in'fæntisaid] n. [U] cri of killing an infant; the custom, amo some peoples in the past, of killing wanted new-born children.
in fan tile ['infəntail] adj. characteris of infants: ~ diseases (pastimes); ~ paralysis, name formerly used for poliomyelitis.

n fan try ['infəntri] n. (collect. sing.) foot-soldiers: two regiments of ~; an ~ regiment ~man n. soldier in an ~ regiment.

n fat u ate [in'fætjueit] v.t. (VP 1, 18) affect (sb.) with great folly; inspire (sb.) with wild and foolish passion: (usu. in passive) be ~d with pride; be ~d (madly in love) with a pretty woman. in fat u a tion [inˌfætju'eiʃən] n. [U] infatuating or being ~d; [C] instance of this; unreasoning love or passion (for).

n fect [in'fekt] v.t. (VP 1) fill with disease germs; give disease (fig. feelings, ideas) to (a person, his body or mind): ~ a wound (drinking water) with disease germs; ~ed with cholera. Mary's high spirits ~ed all the girls in the class.

n fec tion [in'fekʃən] n. 1. [U] infecting or being infected; communication of disease (esp. by agency of the atmosphere or water) (cf. contagion). 2. [C] disease (fig. influence) that infects.

n fec tious [in'fekʃəs] adj. 1. infecting with disease; (of disease) that can be spread by means of germs carried in the atmosphere or in water (cf. contagious). 2. (fig.) quickly influencing others; likely to spread to others: ~ humour.

n fer [in'fə:] v.t. (-rr-*) (VP 1, 4, 11, 18) conclude; reach an opinion (from facts or reasoning): Am I to ~ from your remarks that you think I am a liar? ~ence ['infərəns] n. 1. [U] process of ~ring: by ~ence, as the result of drawing a conclusion. 2. [C] that which is ~red; conclusion: Is that a fair ~ence from his statement?

n fer i or [in'fiəriə*] adj. low(er) in rank, social position, importance, quality, etc.: goods ~ to sample; goods of ~ workmanship; an ~ officer (court of law). n. person who is ~ (in rank, ability, etc.). ~i ty [inˌfiəri'ɔriti] n. [U] state of being ~. ~ity complex, state of mind in which a person who has a morbid feeling of being ~ to others tries to win recognition for himself by boasting and being aggressive.

n fer nal [in'fə:nl] adj. of hell; devilish; abominable: the ~ regions; ~ cruelty; an ~ machine, (old-fashioned description of) time-bomb. ~ly adv.

n fer no [in'fə:nou] n. (pl. ~s) hell; scene of horror (e.g. a blazing building in which people are trapped).

n fest [in'fest] v.t. (VP 1) (of rats, insects, brigands, etc.) be present in large numbers: warehouses ~ed with rats; clothes ~ed with vermin (lice). in fes ta tion [ˌinfes'teiʃən] n. ~ing or being ~ed.

in fi del ['infidl] n. 1. person with no belief in religion (esp. in what is considered to be the true religion). 2. (attrib.) unbelieving; of unbelievers: He showed an ~ contempt for sacred places.

in fi del i ty [ˌinfi'deliti] n. [C & U] (act of) disloyalty or unfaithfulness: conjugal ~, ~ to one's husband or wife.

in field ['infi:ld] n. (cricket) part of the ground near the wicket; fieldsmen stationed there (opp. outfield); baseball diamond.

in fight ing ['infaitiŋ] n. [U] boxing at closer quarters than at arm's length.

in fil trate ['infiltreit] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 18, 21, 24) (cause to) pass through or into by filtering; (of troops) pass through defences without attracting notice; (of ideas) pass into people's minds. in fil tra tion [ˌinfil'treiʃən] n. infiltrating or being ~d; (esp.) gradual and unnoticed occupation of land by small groups (e.g. of soldiers or settlers).

in fin ite ['infinit] adj. endless; without limits; that cannot be measured, calculated, or imagined: ~ space; the ~ goodness of God; the I~, God. Such ideas may do ~ harm. ~ly adv. in an ~ degree: Atoms and molecules are ~ly small. in fin i tes i mal [ˌinfini'tesiməl] adj. ~ly small.

in fin i tive [in'finitiv] adj. & n. (gram.) (of the) form of the verb not changed for person, number, or tense, used with or without to (e.g. let him go; allow him to go).

in fin i tude [in'finitju:d] n. [U] the state of being infinite or boundless; boundless number or extent (of): the ~ of God's mercy; [C] infinite number, quantity, or extent.

in fin i ty [in'finiti] n. [U] infinitude; (maths.) infinite quantity (expressed by the symbol ∞).

in firm [in'fə:m] adj. 1. physically weak (esp. through age): walk with ~ steps. 2. mentally or morally weak: ~ of purpose. in fir mi ty [in'fə:miti] n. [C & U] (particular form of) weakness: I~ity often comes with old age. Deafness and failing eyesight are among the ~ities of old age.

in fir ma ry [in'fə:məri] n. 1. (rather old-fashioned name for a) hospital. 2. (in a school, institution, etc.) room used for people who are ill or injured.

in flame [in'fleim] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) (cause to) become red, angry, overheated: ~d eyes; an ~d boil, red and angry looking; speeches that ~d popular feeling, roused people to anger, indignation, etc.; ~d with passion.

in flam ma ble [in'flæməbl] adj. easily set on fire or (fig.) excited.

in flam ma tion [ˌinflə'meiʃən] n. [U] inflamed condition (esp. of some part of the body): ~ of the lungs (liver); [C] instance of this; place on or in the body where there is redness, swelling, and pain.

in flam ma to ry [inˈflæmətəri] adj. 1. tending to inflame: ~ speeches. 2. of, tending to produce, inflammation (def. 1): an ~ condition of the lungs (e.g. as a symptom of pneumonia).

in flate [inˈfleit] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 18, 21) 1. fill (a tyre, balloon, etc.) with air or gas; (cause to) swell: (fig.) ~d with pride; ~d language, full of high-sounding words but containing little substance. 2. take action to increase the amount of money in circulation so that prices rise (Cf. deflate.) in fla tion [inˈfleiʃən] n. [U] act of inflating; state of being ~d; (esp.) (rise in prices brought about by) expansion of the supply of money (notes or coin), or the supply of bank money (credit, etc.). in fla tion a ry [inˈfleiʃənəri] adj. of, caused by, inflation: the inflationary spiral, economic situation in which prices and wages rise in turn as the supply of money is increased.

in flect [inˈflekt] v.t. (VP 1) (gram.) change the ending or form of (a word) to show its relation to other words in a sentence.

in flec tion n. = inflexion.

in flex i ble [inˈfleksəbl] adj. that cannot be bent or turned; (fig.) unbending; not to be turned aside: ~ courage; an ~ will. in flex i bly adv. in flex i bil i ty [inˌfleksəˈbiliti] n.

in flex ion [inˈflekʃən] n. 1. [U] inflecting. 2. [C] inflected form of a word; suffix used to inflect (e.g. -ed, -ing). 3. [U] rise and fall of the voice in speaking. ~al adj. of ~: ~al endings (forms) (e.g. -ed).

in flict [inˈflikt] v.t. (VP 1, 18) give (a blow, etc.); cause to suffer: ~ a blow (a severe wound) upon sb. The judge ~ed the death penalty upon the murderer. I'm sorry to have to ~ myself (my company) upon you, force my company upon you. in flic tion [inˈflikʃən] n. [U] ~ing or being ~ed: the unnecessary ~ion of pain and suffering; [C] sth. ~ed; painful or troublesome experience.

in flor es cence [ˌinfləˈresəns] n. [U] arrangement of a plant's flowers on the stem; collective flower of a plant; flowering.

in flow [ˈinflou] n. [U] flowing in; [C & U] that which flows in: (attrib.) an ~ pipe in flu ence [ˈinfluəns] n. 1. [U] power to affect sb.'s character, beliefs, or actions (through example, fear, admiration, etc.); [C] person, fact, etc., that exercises such power; [U] the exercise of such power (upon sb.): Many a woman has had a civilizing ~ upon her husband. He's an ~ for good in the town. Heredity and environment are ~s on character. He was under the ~ of drink, had had too much to drink. 2. [U] action of natural forces: the ~ of the moon (on the tides); the ~ of climate (on vegetation). 3. [U] power due to wealth, position, etc. Will you please use your ~ with t manager on my behalf? Will you u your ~ to get me a job? v.t. (VP 1) exer an ~ on; have an effect on: The weat ~s the crops. Don't be ~d by ba examples.

in flu en tial [ˌinfluˈenʃəl] adj. havin influence: ~ politicians; consideration which are ~ in reaching a decision. ~l adv.

in flu en za [ˌinfluˈenzə] n. [U] infectiou disease with fever and catarrh.

in flux [ˈinflʌks] n. [U] flowing in; [C instance of this: repeated ~es of visitors an ~ of wealth.

in form [inˈfɔːm] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 12, 14, 16, 18) give knowledge to: We were ~ed that two prisoners had escaped. Can you ~ me where he lives? He's a well-~ed man. Have you ~ed them of your intended departure? 2. (VP 24) ~ against sb., bring evidence or an accusation against him to the police. 3. (VP 1 fill (a person, his mind, with a feeling: ~ sb. with a feeling (principle). ~ant n. person who supplies information.

in for mal [inˈfɔːml] adj. not formal (defs. 1, 2); irregular; without ceremony or formality: an ~ visit; ~ dress; ~ conversations between the statesmen of two countries (no official records being kept). ~ly adv. ~i ty [ˌinfɔːˈmæliti] n. [U] being ~; [C] ~ act, etc.

in for ma tion [ˌinfəˈmeiʃən] n. [U] 1. informing or being informed. 2. sth. told; news or knowledge given: That's a useful piece (bit) of ~. Can you give me any ~ on (about) this matter? The ~ bureau may be able to help you.

in for ma tive [inˈfɔːmətiv] adj. giving information; instructive: ~ books; an ~ talk. ~ly adv.

in for mer [inˈfɔːmə*] n. one who informs against another, esp. (common ~) one who detects offenders and informs the authorities of their offences.

in fra [ˈinfrə] adv. (Lat.) below; farther or later on (in a book, etc.): See ~, p 21 (i.e. see p. 21 farther on in this book). ˈ~ ˈdig. phrase (colloq. abbrev. of Lat. ~ dignitatem) beneath one's dignity. ˈ~-ˈred adj. of those invisible rays below the red in the spectrum.

in frac tion [inˈfrækʃən] n. [U] breaking (of a rule, law, etc.); [C] instance of this.

in fre quent [inˈfriːkwənt] adj. not frequent; rare. ~ly adv. in fre quen cy [inˈfriːkwənsi] n. [U].

in fringe [inˈfrindʒ] v.t. (VP 1) 1. break (a rule, etc.); transgress; violate: ~ a rule (an oath, copyright, a patent). 2. encroach upon: Be careful not to ~ the rights of other people. ~ment n. [U] infringing; [C] instance of this, esp. the unlawful use of a trade name or of copyright material.

n fu ri ate [inˈfjuərieit, -ˈfjɔː-] v.t. fill with fury or rage: infuriating delays.

n fuse [inˈfjuːz] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 18) put, pour (a quality, etc. into); fill (sb. with): ~ fresh courage (new life) into soldiers; ~ soldiers with fresh courage. 2. (VP 1) pour (hot) liquid on (leaves, herbs, etc.) to flavour it; (of the liquid) be flavoured through this process: ~ herbs; ~ tea (leaves). 3. (VP 21) undergo infusion: Let the tea ~ for three minutes before pouring it out.

n fu sion [inˈfjuːʒən] n. 1. [U] infusing or being infused. 2. [C] liquid made by infusing. 3. [U] pouring in: mixing: the ~ of new blood into old stock, the use of new breeds to improve old breeds.

n gath er ing [ˈinˌgæðəriŋ] n. [C] gathering in; harvest.

n ge nious [inˈdʒiːnjəs] adj. 1. (of a person) clever and skilful (at making or inventing); showing skill, etc.: an ~ mind. 2. (of things) skilfully made: an ~ toy (tool). ~ly *adv. in ge nu i ty [ˌindʒiˈnju(ː)iti] n. [U] cleverness and skill; originality in design.

n gé nue [ˌænʒeiˈnjuː, (Fr.) ɛ̃ʒeny] n. simple, innocent girl, esp. as a type in dramas.

n gen u ous [inˈdʒenjuəs] adj. frank; open; innocent; natural: an ~ smile. ~ly *adv. ~ness *n.

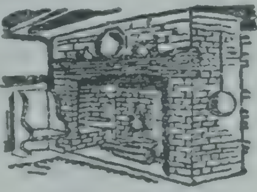
n gle-nook [ˈiŋglnuk] n. chimney-corner (in a wide old-fashioned fireplace).



An ingle-nook

n glo ri ous [inˈglɔːriəs] adj. 1. shameful; ignominious. 2. obscure. ~ly *adv.

n got [ˈiŋgɔt] n. [C] (usu. brick-shaped) lump of metal (esp. gold and silver), cast in a mould.

n graft v. = engraft.

n grained [inˈgreind] adj. (of habits, tendencies, etc.) deeply fixed; thorough: ~ prejudices (honesty).

n gra ti ate [inˈgreiʃieit] v.t. (VP 18) bring (oneself) into favour (with sb.), esp. in order to gain an advantage: with an ingratiating smile. in gra ti at ing ly *adv.

n grat i tude [inˈgrætitjuːd] n. [U] want of gratitude.

n gre dient [inˈgriːdjənt] n. [C] one of the parts of a mixture: the ~s of a cake; the ~s of a man's character, all those qualities, etc., that together form it.

n gress [ˈiŋgres] n. [U] going in; (right of) entrance: a means of ~. (Cf. egress.)

n grow ing [ˈinˌgrouiŋ] adj. growing inwards: an ~ toe-nail, one growing into the flesh.

n hab it [inˈhæbit] v.t. (VP 1) live in; occupy. ~a ble *adj. that can be lived in. ~ant *n. person living in a place.

in hale [inˈheil] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) draw into the lungs: ~ air (gas, tobacco smoke). I~! Exhale! Breathe in! Breathe out!

in har mo nious [ˌinhɑːˈmounjəs] adj. not harmonious.

in here [inˈhiə]* v.i. (VP 24) (of qualities, etc.) exist (in): belong to as an attribute; (of rights, etc.) be vested (in).

in her ent [inˈhiərənt] adj. existing (in) as a natural and permanent part or quality of: Weight is an ~ quality of matter. He has an ~ love of beauty. The power ~ in the office of President must not be abused.

in her it [inˈherit] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) 1. receive (property, a title, etc.) as heir: The eldest son will ~ the title. Who ~s? 2. derive (qualities, etc.) from ancestors: She ~d her mother's good looks and her father's bad temper. ~ance [inˈheritəns] n. [U] ~ing: receive sth. by ~ance; [C] what is ~ed (lit. & fig.): an ~ance of ill-feeling.

in hib it [inˈhibit] v.t. (VP 1, 18) hinder, restrain (a person from): ~ wrong desires and impulses; an ~ed person, one who is unable or unwilling to express his feelings. in hi bi tion [ˌinhiˈbiʃən] n. (psychology) [U] restraint on, habitual shrinking from, an action for which there is an impulse or desire; [C] instance of this: Wine weakens a person's ~ions.

in hos pi ta ble [inˈhɔspitəbl, ˌinhɔsˈpitəbl] adj. not hospitable; (of a place, coast, etc.) not affording shelter: an ~ coast.

in hu man [inˈhjuːmən] adj. cruel; unfeeling: ~ treatment. ~i ty [ˌinhju(ː)ˈmæniti] n. [U] ~ conduct or behaviour; [C] ~ act.

in im i cal [iˈnimikəl] adj. unfriendly or harmful (to).

in im i ta ble [iˈnimitəbl] adj. too good, clever, etc., to be imitated. in im i tably *adv.

in iq ui tous [iˈnikwitəs] adj. very wicked or unjust. ~ly *adv. in iq ui ty [iˈnikwiti] n. [U] being ~; [C] ~ act.

in i tial [iˈniʃəl] adj. of or at the beginning: the ~ letter of a word; the ~ stages of an undertaking. n. ~ letter, esp. (pl.) first letters of a person's names, as G. B. S. (for George Bernard Shaw). v.t. (-ll-) (VP 1) mark, sign, with one's ~s: ~ a note or document. ~ly *adv. at the beginning.

¹in i ti ate [iˈniʃieit] v.t. (VP 1, 18) 1. begin; set (a scheme, etc.) working: ~ a plan. 2. admit or introduce (sb. into a society, etc.). 3. give (sb.) instruction (in): ~ pupils into the mysteries of the binomial theorem.

²in i ti ate [iˈniʃiit] n. & adj. (person) who has been initiated (defs. 2 & 3): an ~ member of a secret society.

in i ti a tion [iˌniʃiˈeiʃən] n. [U] initiating or being initiated; being made acquainted with the rules of a society, etc.: (attrib.) ~ ceremonies.

in i ti a tive [iˈniʃiətiv] n. [U] 1. first or introductory step or move: take the ~ in proposing sth., make the first move towards it; do sth. on one's own ~, without an order or suggestion from others; have the ~, be in the position to make the first move (e.g. in war). 2. capacity to see what needs to be done and enterprise enough to do it: A statesman must have ~. 3. power or right of citizens outside the legislature to put forward proposals for legislation (as in Switzerland).

in ject [inˈdʒekt] v.t. (VP 1, 18) drive or force (a liquid, drug, etc., into sth.) with, or as with, a syringe; fill (sth. with a liquid, etc.) by ~ing: ~ penicillin into the blood-stream; ~ sb.'s arm with morphia. in jec tion [inˈdʒekʃən] n. [U] ~ing; [C] instance of this: five ~ions of glucose; an ~ion in the left buttock; [C] liquid, etc., that is ~ed.

in ju di cious [ˌindʒu(:)ˈdiʃəs] adj. not well-judged: ~ remarks. ~ly *adv.

in junc tion [inˈdʒʌŋkʃən] n. [C] order, esp. a written order from a law-court, demanding that sth. shall or shall not be done.

in jure [ˈindʒə*] v.t. (VP 1) hurt; damage. in jured [ˈindʒəd] adj. wronged; offended: ~d looks; in an ~d voice; the dead and the ~d, those people killed and hurt (in an accident, etc.).

in ju ri ous [inˈdʒuəriəs, -ˈdʒɔ:-] adj. causing, likely to cause, injury; hurtful: behaviour that is ~ to social order; habits that are ~ to health.

in ju ry [ˈindʒəri] n. 1. [U] harm; damage; wrongful treatment: If you knock a man down with your car, and then call him a fool, you are adding insult to ~. 2. [C] place (in the body) that is hurt or wounded; act that hurts; insult: The cyclist suffered severe injuries. This attack was a severe ~ to his reputation.

in jus tice [inˈdʒʌstis] n. [U] lack of justice; [C] unjust act, etc.: do sb. an ~, judge him unfairly.

ink [iŋk] n. [U] (kinds of) coloured liquid used for writing and printing: written in ink; a pen and ink drawing. ˈink-ˌbottle, ˈink-pot nn. for holding ink. ˈink-pad n. pad for ink used on rubber stamps. ˈinkstand n. stand for one or more ink-bottles, with grooves or a tray for pens, etc. ˈink-well n. inkpot that fits into a hole in a desk. v.t. (VP 1, 10) mark with ink: ink one's fingers; ink in a drawing, mark with ink lines previously drawn in pencil. ink y [ˈiŋki] adj. (-ier, -iest) marked with ink: inky fingers; black like ink: inky darkness.

ink ling [ˈiŋkliŋ] n. [C] slight suggestion or idea: get an ~ of what is going on.

in land [ˈinlənd, -lænd] adj. 1. situated in the interior of a country, far from the sea or border: ~ towns; the I~ Sea of Japan, area of sea almost enclosed by large islands. 2. carried on, obtained within the limits of a country: ~ (= domestic) trade; ~ revenue, (Gt. Brit.) money obtained by taxation within the country (excluding taxes on imported goods). adv. [inˈlænd] in or towards the interior.

in-laws [inˈlɔ:z] n. pl. (colloq.) relatives by marriage: All my ~ will be visiting us this summer.

in lay [inˈlei] v.t. (p.t. & p.p. inlaid [inˈleid]) (VP 1) set pieces of (designs in) wood, metal, etc., in the surface of another kind of wood, metal, etc., so that the resulting surface is smooth and even: ivory inlaid with gold. n. [ˈinlei] [U] inlaid work; materials used for this; [C] design, pattern, made by ~ing.

in let [ˈinlet] n. 1. strip of water extending into the land from a larger body of water (the sea, a lake), or between islands. 2. sth. let in or inserted (e.g. a piece of material inserted into a garment). 3. (attrib.) way in: ~ and outlet channels (e.g. in a reservoir).

in mate [ˈinmeit] n. one of a number of persons living together (esp. in a hospital, prison, or other institution).

in most [ˈinmoust] adj. most inward; farthest from the surface; (fig.) most private or secret: my ~ feelings.

inn [in] n. 1. public house where lodging, drink, and meals may be had, usu. (today) in the country. (Cf. hotel.) ˈinn-ˌkeeper n. person who keeps an inn. 2. Inns of Court, (buildings of) four law societies in London having the exclusive right of admitting persons to the bar (see ¹*bar*, def. 12).

in nards [ˈinədz] n. pl. (colloq.) stomach and bowels.

in nate [iˈneit, ˈineit] adj. (of a quality, etc.) in one's nature; possessed from birth: her ~ courtesy. ~ly adv.

in ner [ˈinə*] adj. inside; of the inside: an ~ room; an ~ tube, a tube, (to be) filled with air, inside the cover of a pneumatic tyre. the ~ man, (a) man's soul or mind (contrasted with body). (b) (jokingly) the stomach: satisfy the ~ man. ~most [ˈinəmoust] adj. = inmost.

in nings [ˈiniŋz] n. (pl. the same) 1. time during which a player or team (cricket, baseball) is batting: Our team made 307 runs in its first ~. The first batsman had a short ~. 2. (fig.) period of power or of opportunity to show one's ability; period of active life.

in no cent [ˈinəsnt] adj. 1. not guilty (of wrongdoing): ~ of the charge (accusation). 2. harmless: ~ amusements. 3. knowing nothing of evil or rong: as ~ as a new-born babe. 4. olishly simple: Don't be so ~ as to lieve everything the politicians say.

(eolloq.) not having: windows ~ of
ass. n. ~ person, esp. a young child.
ly adv. in no cence ['inəsns] n. [U] uality or state of being ~.

noc u ous [i'nɔkjuəs] adj. causing no arm: ~ snakes (drugs).

no vate ['inouveit] v.i. (VP 21, 24) ake changes (in); introduce new ings. in no va tion [ˌinou'veiʃən] n.
J] innovating; [C] instance of this;
h. new that is introduced: make chnological innovations in industry.
no va tor ['inouveitə*] n. person ho ~s.

nu en do [ˌinju(ː)'endou] n. (pl. ~es, z]) indirect reference (usu. sth. un-vourable to a person's reputation):
f you throw out such ~es against the Iinister, you'll be sued for libel.

nu mer a ble [i'njuːmərəbl] adj. too any to be counted.

oc u late [i'nɔkjuleit] v.t. (VP 1, 18) troduce disease germs into (a person animal) so that a mild form of the isease may safeguard him (against it):
sb. against cholera; (fig.) fill the mind ith opinions, etc.: ~d with evil doc- ines. in oc u la tion [ˌinɔkju'leiʃən] n.
J] inoculating or being ~d; [C] instance this: have inoculations against olera and yellow fever. (Cf. vacci- ate.)

of fen sive [ˌinə'fensiv] adj. not giving fence; not objectionable.

op er a ble [in'ɔpərəbl] adj. (of tu-ours, etc.) that cannot be operated on.

op er a tive [in'ɔpərətiv] adj. (of ws, rules, etc.) not working or taking fect.

op por tune [in'ɔpətjuːn] adj. un-asonable: at an ~ time. ~ly adv.

or di nate [i'nɔːdinit] adj. not prop-ly restrained or controlled; exces-ve: ~ passions; the ~ demands of the ur Collector. ~ly adv.

or gan ic [ˌinɔː'gænik] adj. 1. not ving an organized physical structure,
. as plants and animals have; not ming part of the substance of living dies: ~ chemistry. Rocks and metals ~ substances. 2. not the result of tural growth: an ~ form of society.

patient ['inˌpeiʃənt] n. person who ys in hospital while receiving treat-
nt. (Cf. out-patient.)

pour ing ['inpɔːriŋ] n. & adj. pouring
: an ~ of spiritual comfort.

put ['input] n. what is put in or plied (e.g. data for an electronic com-ter, power supplied to a machine).

quest ['iŋkwest] n. official inquiry to rn facts, esp. concerning a death ich may not be the result of natural uses.

in qui e tude [in'kwaiitjuːd] n. [U] uneasiness of mind; anxiety.

in quire [in'kwaiə*] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 13, 15, 21) ask to be told: ~ a person's name; ~ what a person wants (where to stay, how to do sth.): ~ of sb. the reason for sth. 2. (VP 24) ~ after, ask about (sb.'s health, welfare). ~ about (concerning, upon), ask for information about: I~ within upon everything (e.g. as the title of a small encyclopædia); ~ about trains to London. ~ for, ask for (goods in a shop), ask to see (sb.): ~ for a book in a shop; ~ for the manager. ~ into, try to learn the facts about; investigate: We must ~ into the matter. in quir er n. person who ~s. in quir ing adj. in the habit of asking for information: an inquiring mind, showing a desire to learn: inquiring looks. in quir ing ly adv.

in quir y [in'kwaiəri; (U.S.A. also) 'inkwiri] n. 1. [U] asking; inquiring: learn sth. by ~; on ~; a court of ~, one to investigate charges brought against sb. 2. [C] question; investigation: make inquiries about sb. or sth.; hold an official ~ into sth.

in qui si tion [ˌinkwi'ziʃən] n. 1. [U] thorough search or investigation; [C] instance of this, esp. a judicial or official inquiry. 2. the I~, (also called the Holy Office) court appointed by the Church of Rome to suppress heresy (esp. active in the 15th and 16th cc.).

in quis i tive [in'kwizitiv] adj. fond of, showing a fondness for, inquiring into other people's affairs. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

in quis i tor [in'kwizitə*] n. officer of the Inquisition (see above, def. 2); person appointed by law to make an inquiry. in quis i to ri al [inˌkwizi'tɔːriəl] adj. of or like an ~.

in road ['inroud] n. sudden attack (into a country, etc.), esp. one made for the purpose of plunder; (fig.) sth. that encroaches (upon): make ~s upon one's leisure time (one's savings).

in rush ['inrʌʃ] n. rushing in: an ~ of water (tourists).

in sane [in'sein] adj. mad; senseless: an ~ person; an ~ asylum, place where ~ people are cared for (now usu. called a mental hospital or home). ~ly adv. in san i ty [in'sæniti] n. [U] madness.

in san i ta ry [in'sænitəri] adj. not sanitary: living under ~ conditions.

in sa tiable [in'seiʃjəbl] adj. that cannot be satisfied; very greedy: ~ appetites; politicians who are ~ of power. in sa ti a bly adv.

in sa ti ate [in'seiʃiit] adj. never satisfied.

in scribe [in'skraib] v.t. (VP 1, 18) write (words, one's name, etc., in or on); mark (sth. with words, etc.): ~ names on a war memorial (one's name in a book); ~ a tomb with a name. ~d ˈstock, stock of which the names of the holders are recorded in lists or registers. in scrip tion [inˈskripʃən] n. [C] sth. ~d, esp. words cut on a stone (e.g. a monument) or stamped on a coin or medal.

in scru ta ble [inˈskruːtəbl] adj. that cannot be understood or known; mysterious: the ~ ways of Providence; the ~ face of the Sphinx.

in sect [ˈinsekt] n. sorts of small animal (e.g. ant, fly, wasp) having six legs and no backbone and a body divided into three parts (head, thorax, abdomen); (incorrect but popular usage) similar tiny, crawling creature (e.g. spider). ˈ~-ˌpowder n. powder for killing or driving away ~s. in sec ti cide [inˈsektisaid] n. preparation used for killing ~s (e.g. D.D.T.). in sec tiv or ous [ˌinsekˈtivərəs] adj. eating ~s as food: Swallows are ~ivorous.

in se cure [ˌinsiˈkjuə*, -ˈkjɔː*] adj. not safe; not to be relied on: have an ~ hold on sth. (e.g. when rock-climbing) ~ly adv. in se cu ri ty [ˌinsiˈkjuəriti] n. [U].

in sem i nate [inˈsemineit] v.t. (VP 1) implant; introduce (semen into). in sem i na tion [inˌsemiˈneiʃən] n. [U] inseminating: artificial insemination, the introduction of semen (taken, e.g. from a pedigree animal) into the generative organs of a female animal so that offspring may be produced without sexual union.

in sen sate [inˈsenseit, -sit] adj. 1. without the power to feel or experience: ~ rocks. 2. unfeeling; without sensibility; foolish: ~ rage (cruelty).

in sen si bil i ty [inˌsensiˈbiliti] n. [U] lack of mental feeling or emotion; state of being unable to know, recognize, understand, or appreciate: ~ to pain (beauty, art); in a state of ~, unconscious.

in sen si ble [inˈsensibl] adj. 1. unconscious (as the result of injury, illness, etc.): The rock struck her on the head and she was ~ for nearly an hour. 2. unaware (of): He seemed to be ~ of his danger. I am not ~ how much I owe to your help. 3. without feeling: When your hands are frozen they become ~ (= numb). 4. unsympathetic; emotionless; callous. 5. (of changes) too small or gradual to be perceived: by ~ degrees. in sen si bly adv.

in sen si tive [inˈsensitiv] adj. not sensitive (to touch, light, etc.).

in sep a ra ble [inˈsepərəbl] adj. that cannot be separated: ~ friends.

in sert [inˈsəːt] v.t. (VP 1, 18) put, fit, place (sth. in, into, between, etc.): ~ a key in a lock (an advertisement in a newspaper, a new paragraph in an essay). in ser tion [inˈsəːʃən] n. [U] ~ing or being ~ed; [C] sth. ~ed (e.g. an nouncement or advertisement in a ne paper, a piece of lace, etc., ~ed in a dr

in set [ˈinset] n. [C] extra page(s) serted in a book, etc.; small m diagram, etc., within the border o printed page or of a larger map; p of material (e.g. lace) let into a dr v.t. [inˈset] fix or place in; insert.

in shore [ˈinʃɔː*, -ʃɔə*] adj. & adv. cl to the shore: an ~ current; ~ fisheri

in side [inˈsaid] n., adj., adv., & pr
I. n. 1. inner side or surface; par within: the ~ of a box; a door bolted the ~. ~ out, with the inner side o
He put his socks on ~ out. The w blew her umbrella ~ out. The burgl turned everything ~ out, put draw boxes, etc., and their contents into gr disorder. He knows the subject ~ o knows it thoroughly. 2. part of a ro track, etc., on the inner edge of a curv part of a pavement (sidewalk) or fo path farthest from the road. 3. (collo stomach and bowels: a pain in his
II. adj. (or attrib. use of the n.) situat on or in, coming from, the ~: the pages of a newspaper; an ~ seat in stage-coach; the ~ track, (in racing) tra nearest to the inner edge of a curv giving an advantage to those using an ~ job, (sl.) theft committed by,
with the help of, sb. employed in building (not by sb. who breaks from outside). III. adv. on or in t ~: Is this coat worn with the fur or outside? Look ~. There's nothi ~. ~ of, (colloq.) in less than: We can finish the work ~ of a week. IV. pre on the inner side of: Don't let the d come ~ the house. She was standing ju ~ the gate. in sid er n. person wh because he is a member of some societ organization, etc., is in a position obtain facts and information, or w advantages, that others cannot get f themselves. (Cf. outsider.)

in sid i ous [inˈsidiəs] adj. doing har secretly, unseen: an ~ enemy (diseas ~ly adv. ~ness n.

in sight [ˈinsait] n. [U] power of seei with the mind (into a problem); a parently sudden appreciation of t solution to problems: a man of ~;
into human character; gain an ~ into s in sig nia [inˈsigniə] n. pl. symbols authority, dignity, or honour (e.g. t crown and sceptre of a king).

in sig nif i cant [ˌinsigˈnifikənt] ad
having little or no value, use, meanin or importance: ~ talk; an ~-looki little man. ~ly adv. in sig nif i canc
n. [U].

in sin cere [ˌinsinˈsiə*] adj. not sincer ~ly adv. in sin cer i ty [ˌinsinˈserit
n. [U].

in sin u ate [inˈsinjueit] v.t. 1. (VP 1

ake a way for (oneself or sth.) gently
d craftily (into): ~ oneself (cf. worm eself) into a person's favour. 2. (VP ) suggest unpleasantly and indirectly:
(to sb.) that a man is a liar. in sin u aon [inˌsinju'eiʃən] n. [U] insinuating;
sth. ~d; indirect suggestion.

sip id [in'sipid] adj. without taste or vour: ~ food; (fig.) ~ conversation; a etty but ~ young lady, one who is king in spirit. ~ly adv. ~ness n.
si pid ity [ˌinsi'piditi] n.

sist [in'sist] v.i. & t. (VP 24, with on,
on, VP 11) 1. urge with emphasis, ainst opposition or disbelief; declare phatically: ~ on one's innocence; ~ t one is innocent; ~ on the importance being punctual. 2. declare that a purse cannot be changed; urge in a rcible or emphatic manner: I ~ed t he should come with us (~ed on his ming with us). I ~ on your being there.
~ (on it) that you shall be there. in sis-nt [in'sistənt] adj. urgent; compelling tention: the ~ent demands of the Comander-in-Chief for more troops. in sis-nce n. [U] ~ing or being ~ed on: the icer's ~ence on strict obedience.

sole ['insoul] n. interior sole of a shoe.

so lent ['insələnt] adj. insulting;
ensive; contemptuous (to). ~ly adv.
so lence n. [U] being ~ (to).

sol u ble [in'sɔljubl] adj. 1. (of subances) that cannot be dissolved. 2. problems, etc.) that cannot be solved explained.

sol vent [in'sɔlvənt] adj. & n.
ebtor) unable to pay debts. in sol-n cy [in'sɔlvənsi] n. [U] being ~.

som ni a [in'sɔmniə] n. [U] inability to eep; want of sleep: ill after weeks of ~.

so much [ˌinsou'mʌtʃ] adv. to such degree or extent (that).

sou ci ance [in'su:sjəns, (Fr.) ɛ̃susjɑ̃:s] [U] freedom from care; state of being concerned. in sou ci ant adj.

span [in'spæn] v.t. (S. Africa) (-nn-) ke (oxen, etc.) to a vehicle; harness wagon).

spect [in'spekt] v.t. (VP 1) examine refully; visit officially to see that les are obeyed, that work is done operly, etc. in spec tion [in'spekʃən]
1. [U] ~ing or being ~ed: On ~ion notes proved to be forgeries. 2. [C] in-ance of this: carry out ten ~ions a week.

spec tor [in'spektə*] n. 1. official o inspects (e.g. schools, factories, nes): I~ of Taxes, official who amines returns of income and assesses tax to be paid. 2. (Brit.) police icer who is, in rank, below a superendent and above a sergeant. ~ate
'spektərit] n. body of ~s: the Ministry Education ~ate.

pi ra tion [ˌinspi'reiʃən] n. 1. [U] uence(s) arousing creative activity in literature, music, art, etc.: Many poets and artists have drawn their ~ from nature. 2. [C] person or thing that inspires: His wife was a constant ~ to him. 3. [C] (colloq.) good thought or idea that comes to the mind: have a sudden ~. 4. [U] divine guidance held to have been given to those who wrote the Bible.

in spire [in'spaiə*] v.t. (VP 1, 18) 1. put uplifting thoughts, feelings, or aims into: ~ sb. with hope (enthusiasm, confidence); ~ confidence in sb. 2. fill with creative power: ~d poets (artists); in an ~d moment. 3. an ~d article (in a newspaper), one secretly suggested or dictated by an influential person who has special information.

in spir it [in'spirit] v.t. (VP 1, 3, 18) put spirit, new life, or courage into: ~ sb. to an action (to do sth.). (Cf. dispirit.) in sta bil i ty [ˌinstə'biliti] n. [U] lack of stability (usu. of character, moral qualities).

in stall [in'stɔ:l] v.t. (VP 1, 18) 1. place (sb.) in his new position of authority with the usual ceremony: ~ a dean. 2. place, fix (apparatus) in position for use: ~ a heating or lighting system. 3. settle (oneself) in a place: be comfortably ~ed in a new home. She ~ed herself in her father's favourite chair. in stal la tion [ˌinstɔ:'leiʃən, -stə-] n. [U] ~ing or being ~ed; [C] sth. that is ~ed, esp. apparatus: a heating ~ation.

in stal ment [in'stɔ:lmənt] n. [C] 1. any one of the parts in which sth. is supplied over a period of time: a story that will appear in ~s (e.g. in a periodical). 2. any one of the parts of a payment spread over a period of time: We're paying for the 'telly' by monthly ~s. ~ plan, this method of paying for goods (also called hire purchase).

in stance ['instəns] n. [C] 1. example; fact, etc., supporting a general truth: This is only one ~ out of many. for ~, by way of example. in the first ~, firstly. 2. at the ~ of, at the request of. v.t. (VP 1) give as an example.

^{1}in stant ['instənt] adj. 1. coming or happening at once: feel ~ relief after taking a dose of medicine. 2. urgent: in ~ need of help. 3. (commercial or official style, in correspondence; usu. shortened to inst.) of the present month: in reply to your letter of the 9th inst. 4. (of food preparations) that can be made ready for use quickly: ~ coffee (prepared by adding boiling water or milk to a powder). ~ly adv. at once.

^{2}in stant ['instənt] n. 1. precise point of time: Come here this ~! (= at once.) He left that ~ (on the ~), immediately. I sent you the news the ~ (that) I heard it, as soon as I heard it. 2. moment: I shall be back in an ~. Help arrived not an ~ too soon.

in stan ta neous [ˌinstənˈteinjəs] adj. happening, done in, an instant. ~ly adv.

in stead [inˈsted] adv. 1. ~ of, prep. phrase: in place of; as an alternative to or substitute for (followed by a noun, pronoun, gerund, or prep. phrase): Shall we have fish ~ of meat today? I will go ~ of you. He has been playing all afternoon ~ of getting on with his work. We'll have tea in the garden ~ of in the house. 2. as an alternative or substitute: If Harry is not well enough to go with you, take me ~. The water here is not good, so I'm drinking beer ~.

in step [ˈinstep] n. upper surface of the human foot between the toes and the ankle; part of a shoe, etc., covering this.

in sti gate [ˈinstigeit] v.t. (VP 1, 3, 18) incite; goad (sb. to do sth.); cause (sth.) by doing this: ~ workers to down tools; ~ a strike. in sti ga tion [ˌinstiˈgeiʃən] n. instigating or being ~d.

in stil [inˈstil] v.t. (-ll-) (VP 1, 18) introduce (ideas, etc., into sb.'s mind) gradually. ~la tion [ˌinstiˈleiʃən] n.

¹in stinct [ˈinstiŋkt] n. 1. [U] natural tendency to behave in a certain way without reasoning or training: Birds learn to fly by ~. We often do things by ~. 2. [C] innate impulse or intuition; instance of ~ (def. 1): He seems to have an ~ for always doing and saying the right thing. in stinc tive [inˈstiŋktiv] adj. based on ~, not coming from training or teaching: Animals have an ~ive dread of fire. in stinc tive ly adv.

²in stinct [inˈstiŋkt] predic. adj. ~ with, filled with, animated by: a picture ~ with life; a poem ~ with beauty.

¹in sti tute [ˈinstitju:t] n. [C] society or organization for a special (usu. a social or educational) purpose; its office(s) or building(s).

²in sti tute [ˈinstitju:t] v.t. 1. (VP 1) establish, get started (an inquiry, custom, rule, etc.): ~ legal proceedings against sb.; ~ an action at law. 2. (VP 18) appoint (sb. to, into, a benefice).

in sti tu tion [ˌinstiˈtju:ʃən] n. 1. [U] instituting or being instituted: the ~ of customs (rules, etc.); ~ to a benefice. 2. [C] long-established law, custom, or practice (e.g. a club or society; the habit of going to church on Sunday mornings; a person who has become known to everyone because of long service). 3. (building of) organization with charitable purposes or for social welfare (e.g. an orphanage, a home for old people). ~al adj. of or connected with ~s (esp. charitable ~s): old people in need of ~al care.

in struct [inˈstrʌkt] v.t. 1. (VP 1, 18) teach: ~ a class in history. 2. (VP 3, 12, 14, 16) give orders or directions to: ~ sb. to start early; ~ sb. how to do his work. 3. (VP 12, 14, 16) inform: I have been ~ed by my agent that you still me £50. in struc tor n. person w ~s; trainer. in struc tress n. wom who ~s.

in struc tion [inˈstrʌkʃən] n. 1.
instructing or being instructed: ~ chemistry; give (receive) ~. 2.
directions; orders: give sb. ~s to arr early. ~al adj. educational: ~al fi (e.g. of industrial processes).

in struc tive [inˈstrʌktiv] adj. giving containing instruction: ~ books. ~
adv.

in stru ment [ˈinstrumənt] n. [C] implement, apparatus, used in perfor ing an action, esp. for delicate or scien ic work: optical ~s (e.g. a microscop surgical ~s (e.g. a scalpel). (Cf. to used by labourers and craftsmen.) apparatus for producing musical soun (e.g. a piano, violin, flute, or drum).
person used by another for his own pu poses: be made the ~ of another's crim
4. formal (esp. legal) document. in stru men ta tion [ˌinstrumenˈteiʃən] [U] arrangement of music for ~s.

in stru men tal [ˌinstruˈmentl] adj.
serving as an instrument or means: be in finding well-paid work for a frien
2. of or for musical instruments:
music. ~ist n. player of a music instrument. ~i ty [ˌinstrumenˈtæliti] [U] agency: by the ~ity of, by means o

in sub or di nate [ˌinsəˈbɔ:dinit] ad disobedient; rebellious. in sub or di na tion [ˈinsəˌbɔ:diˈneiʃən] n. [U] bein ~; [C] instance of this.

in sub stan tial [ˌinsəbˈstænʃəl] adj. n solid or real; lacking substance.

in suf fer a ble [inˈsʌfərəbl] adj. ove proud; unbearably conceited; unbea able: ~ insolence.

in suf fi cient [ˌinsəˈfiʃənt] adj. n sufficient. ~ly adv. in suf fi cien cy

in su lar [ˈinsjuləˣ] adj. 1. of an island an ~ climate. 2. of or like islander (esp.) narrow-minded: ~ habits a prejudices. ~i ty [ˌinsjuˈlæriti] n. [U state of being ~.

in su late [ˈinsjuleit] v.t. (VP 1) 1. cov or separate (sth.) with non-conducti materials to prevent loss of heat, pr vent passage of electricity, etc.: ~ cooking-stove with asbestos; insulati tape (as used for covering joins in fle for electric current). 2. separate (sb.
sth. from surroundings); isolate. in su la tion [ˌinsjuˈleiʃən] n. [U] insulating or being ~d; materials used for this. in su la tor [ˈinsjuleitəˣ] n. [C] substance, device, for insulating, esp a device porcelain used for supporting bare ele tric wires and cables.

Insulators

su lin [ˈinsjulin] n. [U] substance epared from the pancreas of sheep, ed to enable the bodies of sufferers om diabetes to use sugar.

sult [inˈsʌlt] v.t. (VP 1) speak or act a way that hurts or is intended to urt a person's feelings or dignity. n. nsʌlt] [C & U] remark or action that s. ~ing adj. ~ing ly adv.

su per a ble [inˈsjuːpərəbl] adj. (of fficulties, etc.) that cannot be overome: ~ barriers.

sup port a ble [ˌinsəˈpɔːtəbl] adj. unearable; that cannot be endured.

sur ance [inˈʃuərəns, -ˈʃɔː-] n. 1. [U] ndertaking, by a company, society, the State, to provide) safeguard gainst loss, provision against sickness, eath, etc., in return for regular payents. 2. [U] payment made to or by uch a company, etc.: When her husand died, she received £2,000 ~. He ays out £50 in ~ (in ~ premiums) very. year. ~ policy n. contract nade about ~. 3. [C] ~ policy: How any ~s have you?

sure [inˈʃuə*, -ˈʃɔː*] v.t. (VP 1, 18) nake a contract that promises to pay, ecures payment of, a sum of money in ase of accident, damage, loss, injury, eath, etc.: ~ one's house against fire; ~ neself (one's life) for £5,000. Insurance ompanies will ~ ships and their cargoes gainst loss at sea. the ~d, the person o whom payment will be made. the r, the person or company undertaking o make payment in case of loss, etc.

sur gent [inˈsəːdʒənt] adj. (rarely redic.) rebellious: ~ troops. n. rebel oldier.

sur mount a ble [ˌinsəˈmauntəbl] adj. of obstacles, etc.) that cannot be surnounted or overcome.

sur rec tion [ˌinsəˈrekʃən] n. [U] sing of people in open resistance to ne government; [C] instance of this.

tact [inˈtækt] adj. untouched; unamaged; complete: He lived on the nterest and kept his capital ~.

take [ˈinteik] n. 1. [C] place where ater, gas, etc., is taken into a pipe, hannel, etc. 2. [C & U] quantity, umber, etc., entering or taken in (during given period): an annual ~ of 100,000 ational Service men (i.e. for military ervice). 3. (area of) land reclaimed from moor, marsh, or the sea.

tan gi ble [inˈtændʒibl] adj. that canot be touched or grasped; (esp.) that canot be grasped by the mind: ~ ideas. n tan gi bil i ty [inˌtændʒiˈbiliti] n.

te ger [ˈintidʒə*] n. whole number contrasted with fractions): 1, 3, and 18 re ~s, ½ is not an ~.

teg ral [ˈintigrəl] adj. 1. necessary or completeness: The arms and legs re ~ (but not essential) parts of a human being. 2. whole; having or containing all parts that are necessary for completeness. 3. (maths.) of, denoted by, an integer; made up of integers. ~ly adv.

in teg rate [ˈintigreit] v.t. (VP 1) combine (parts) into a whole; complete (sth. that is imperfect or incomplete) by adding parts: an ~d personality, person whose physical, mental, and emotional components fit together well (so that his behaviour is normal, etc.). in teg ra tion [ˌintiˈgreiʃən] n. [U] integrating or being ~d: the integration of Negro children into the school system in the Southern States (U.S.A.).

in teg ri ty [inˈtegriti] n. [U] 1. quality of being honest and upright in character: a man of ~; commercial ~. 2. state or condition of being complete: The old Roman walls may still be seen, but not in their ~. Wasn't this Treaty supposed to guarantee our territorial ~?

in teg u ment [inˈtegjumənt] n. (usu. natural) outer covering (e.g. skin, a husk, rind, or shell).

in tel lect [ˈintilekt] n. 1. [U] power of the mind to reason (contrasted with feeling and instinct): I~ distinguishes man from the animals. He's a man of ~. 2. (collect. sing., or in pl.) person of good understanding, reasoning power, etc.: the ~(s) of the age.

in tel lec tu al [ˌintiˈlektjuəl] adj. 1. of the intellect: ~ pursuits; the ~ faculties. 2. having or showing good reasoning power: an ~ person (face). n. [C] ~ person: a play (book) for the ~s. ~ly adv.

in tel li gence [inˈtelidʒəns] n. [U] 1. the power of seeing, learning, understanding and knowing; mental ability: a boy who shows little ~. The children were given an ~ test. When the water-pipe burst, she had the ~ to turn the water off at the main. 2. news; information, esp. with reference to important events: have secret ~ of the enemy's plans; the I~ Department (e.g. of an army or navy, collecting and studying information useful in war).

in tel li gent [inˈtəlidʒənt] adj. having, showing, intelligence: ~-looking girls; ~ answers to questions. ~ly adv.

in tel li gent si a [inˌteliˈdʒentsiə] n. (usu. collect. sing. with def. art.) that part of a community which can be regarded (or which regards itself) as capable of serious independent thinking in tel li gi ble [inˈtelidʒəbl] adj. that can be easily understood; clear to the mind: ~ speech; an ~ explanation. in tel li gi bly adv. in tel li gi bil i ty [inˌtelidʒəˈbiliti] n. the quality of being ~.

in tem per ate [inˈtempərit] adj. (of a person or his behaviour) not moderate; showing lack of self-control: ~ habits.

(esp.) habits of excessive drinking. ~ly adv. in tem per ance n.

in tend [in'tend] v.t. (VP 1, 2, 3, 11, 17B, 18) 1. have in mind as a purpose or plan: What do you ~ to do (~ doing) today? They ~ that this reform shall be carried through this year. We ~ them to do it (that they shall do it). His son is ~ed for the medical profession. This book is ~ed for you, is to be given to you. Is this sketch ~ed to be me, is it a sketch of me? Does he ~ marriage or is he only flirting with her? Let me introduce you to my ~ed (vulg. for 'my future wife'). 2. mean: What do you ~ by this word?

in tense [in'tens] adj. 1. (of qualities) high in degree: ~ heat. 2. (of feelings, etc.) ardent; violent; (of persons) highly emotional: an ~ young lady. ~ly adv.

in ten si fy [in'tensifai] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) make or become more intense. in ten si fi ca tion [inˌtensifi'keiʃən] n.

in ten si ty [in'tensiti] n. [U] state or quality of being intense; strength or depth (of feeling, etc.).

in ten sive [in'tensiv] adj. 1. characterized by, relating to, intensity (as opposed to extent); deep and thorough: make an ~ study of a subject; ~ methods of horticulture, producing large quantities by concentrating labour and care on small areas of land; an ~ bombardment. 2. (gram.) giving force and emphasis: In 'an awfully difficult book' and 'a terribly hot day', 'awfully' and 'terribly' are used colloquially as ~ words. ~ly adv.

¹in tent [in'tent] n. 1. (chiefly legal) [U] purpose; intention: shoot with ~ to kill; with good (evil, malicious) ~. 2. (pl.) to all ~s and purposes, in all essential points.

²in tent [in'tent] adj. 1. (of looks) eager; earnest: There was an ~ look on her face as she watched the game. 2. (of persons) ~ (up)on, with the desires or attentions directed towards: He was ~ on his work (on getting to the office in time). ~ly adv. ~ness n.

in ten tion [in'tenʃən] n. [U & C] intending; thing intended; aim; purpose: If I've hurt your feelings, it was quite without ~. He hasn't the least ~ of coming. He has no ~ of marrying yet. Her ~ to live abroad is surprising. He went to Paris with the ~ of learning French. His ~s are good, but he seldom carries them out. Has he made known his ~s, said what he intends to do? (-)in ten tioned adj. well-~ed, having good ~s; ill-~ed, having ill ~s.

in ten tion al [in'tenʃənl] adj. intended; done on purpose: If I hurt your feelings, it was not ~. ~ly adv. on purpose.

inter [in'tə:*] v.t. (-rr-) place (a corpse) in a grave or tomb; bury.

in ter- ['intə-:] prefix between; among; one with or on another.

in ter act [ˌintər'ækt] v.i. act on e other. in ter ac tion [ˌintər'ækʃən] in ter ac tive [ˌintər'æktiv] adj.

in ter breed [ˌintə'bri:d] v.t. & i. (VP 21) crossbreed; (of animals of diffe race or species) breed with each oth produce hybrids.

in ter cede [ˌintə'si:d] v.i. (VP 24) ple (as a peacemaker, or to obtain a favou ~ with the father for (or on behalf of) daughter. in ter ces sion [ˌintə'seʃ
n. [U] interceding; [C] prayer or e treaty (esp. for others).

in ter cept [ˌintə'sept] v.t. (VP 1) st catch (sb. or sth.) between startin point and destination: ~ a letter messenger). Can our fighter-planes ~ th enemy's bombers? in ter cep tion [ tə'sepʃən] n. in ter cep tor n. sb. or st that ~s.

in ter change [ˌintə'tʃeindʒ] v.t. 1 (VP 1) (of two persons, etc.) give an receive; make an exchange of: ~ vie (gifts, letters). 2. (VP 1, 21) put (each o two things) in the other's place. n ['intəˌtʃeindʒ] interchanging: an ~ o views. ~a ble [ˌintə'tʃeindʒəbl] adj.
that can be ~d: True synonyms ar ~able. This machine has ~able parts.

in ter col le gi ate [ˌintəkə'li:dʒiit] adj. carried on, etc., between colleges: ~ games (debates).

in ter co lo nial [ˌintəkə'lounjəl] adj. carried on, etc., between colonies: ~ trade.

in ter com ['intəkɔm] n. (colloq. abbrev.) the ~, the system of intercommunication, esp. in aircraft.

in ter-com mu nal [ˌintə'kɔmjunl] adj. for, shared by, members of two or more communities: ~ schools in Cyprus, e.g. for both Greek- and Turkish-speaking children.

in ter com mu ni cate [ˌintəkə'mju:nikeit] v.i. communicate with one another: The prisoners ~ by using the Morse code. in ter com mu ni ca tion ['intəkəˌmju:ni'keiʃən] n.

in ter-con ti nen tal ['intəˌkɔnti'nentl] adj. carried on, etc., between continents: ~ ballistic missiles, rockets that can be fired from one continent to another.

in ter course ['intəkɔ:s] n. [U] 1. social dealings between individuals; exchanges (of trade, ideas, etc., between persons, societies, nations, etc.): our commercial ~ with S. America. 2. (also sexual ~) sexual connexion between a man and a woman.

in ter de pend ent [ˌintədi'pendənt] adj. depending on each other. in ter de pend ence n.

in ter dict [ˌintə'dikt] v.t. 1. (VP 1) prohibit (an action); forbid (the use of sth.). 2. (VP 18) restrain (sb. from doing sth.); forbid (sth. to sb.). n. ['intədikt] [C] formal or authoritative prohibition,

p. (R.C. Church) order debarring a rson or place from church services, c.: lay a priest (a town) under an ~.

ter est [ˈintrist] n. 1. [U] condition wanting to know or learn about sth.
sb.: feel (take) no (not much, a great) ~ politics; events that arouse great ~.
[U] quality that arouses concern or riosity: Suspense adds ~ to a story.
s is a matter of great ~ to us all. (lose ~, e lose, def. 1.) 3. [C] sth. with which ne concerns oneself: Her chief ~ seems be horse-racing. His two great ~s in fe are music and painting. 4. [U] imortance; consequence: a matter of nsiderable (not much) ~. 5. [C] (often l.) advantage; profit; well-being: look fter one's own ~s; work in the ~(s) of umanity; travel in Asia in the ~s of a usiness firm. It is to your ~ to go. 6.
C] legal right to a share in sth., esp. in s profits: have an ~ in a brewery (e.g.
y owning shares); have an ~ in an state, a legal claim to part of it; Ameri- an ~s in the Caribbean (e.g. capital in-ested in the countries of that area).
. [U] money charged or paid for the se of money: pay 6 per cent. ~ on a
an. with ~, (fig.) with increased rce: return a blow (sb.'s kindness) with ~, give back more than one received.
. (often pl.) group of persons engaged the same trade, etc., or having sth.
common: the landed ~, landowners ollectively; the business ~s, large busi-ess firms collectively; the brewing ~, rewers collectively.

ter est [ˈintrist, ˈintərest] v.t. (VP 1, 8) cause (sb.) to give his attention to:
an I ~ you in this question? He is ~ed shipping, (a) likes to know and learn bout ships; (b) has money invested in he shipping industry. ~ed [ˈintristid, ntərestid] adj. 1. having an interest
lef. 6) in; not impartial: When manu- cturers demand higher tariffs, we may uspect them of having ~ed motives. 2.
howing interest (def. 1): an ~ed look.
. taking interest (def. 1) in: ~ed pectators; not ~ed in botany (his work).
shall be ~ed to know what happens.
ing adj. holding the attention;
rousing interest (def. 1): ~ing men ooks, conversation). ~ing ly adv.

ter fere [ˌintəˈfiə*] v.i. (VP 21, 24)
. (of persons) break in upon (other ersons' affairs) without right or invitaon; meddle: Please don't ~ in my usiness. Isn't she an interfering old dy! It's unwise to ~ between husband nd wife. Do not ~ with this machine.
. (of events, circumstances, etc.) come to opposition; hinder or prevent: Do u ever allow pleasure to ~ with duty?

ter fer ence [ˌintəˈfiərəns] n. [U] terfering: interference from foreign oadcasting stations (e.g. when these have a wave-length close to that of the station one wishes to receive).

in ter fuse [ˌintəˈfju:z] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) (cause to) mix together, one with another.

in ter im [ˈintərim] n. 1. in the ~, meanwhile; during the time that comes between. 2. (attrib.) as an instalment: ~ dividends, paid between annual dividends as advance payments; provisional or temporary: an ~ report, one that precedes the final report.

in te ri or [inˈtiəriə*] adj. 1. situated inside; of the inside: ~ decorators, those who decorate the inside of a building (with paint, wallpaper, etc.). 2. inland; away from the coast. 3. home or domestic (contrasted with foreign). n. 1. the inside. 2. inland areas. 3. (department dealing with the) domestic affairs of a country: (U.S.A.) the Department of the I~. (Cf. Home Office in Britain.)

in ter ject [ˌintəˈdʒekt] v.t. (VP 1) put in suddenly (a remark, etc.) between statements, etc., made by another. in ter jec tion [ˌintəˈdʒekʃən] n. word or phrase used as an exclamation (e.g. Oh! Good! Indeed!).

in ter lace [ˌintəˈleis] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 18, 21) join, be joined, by weaving or lacing together, one with another; cross as if woven: interlacing branches.

in ter lard [ˌintəˈlɑ:d] v.t. (VP 18) mix (writing, speech, etc., with foreign phrases, etc.): essays ~ed with quotations from the poets.

in ter leave [ˌintəˈli:v] v.t. (VP 1, 18) insert (usu. blank leaves) between the leaves of (a book, etc.): a diary ~ed with blotting-paper.

in ter line [ˌintəˈlain] v.t. (VP 1, 18) write between the lines of (a document, etc.): ~ a translation in a text; a printer's proof ~d with corrections.

in ter lin e ar [ˌintəˈliniə*] adj. written, printed, between the lines.

in ter link [ˌintəˈliŋk] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) link together.

in ter lock [ˌintəˈlɔk] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) lock or join together; clasp firmly together.

in ter loc u tor [ˌintəˈlɔkjutə*] n. person taking part in a discussion or dialogue.

in ter lop er [ˈintəloupə*] n. person who (esp. for profit or personal advantage) pushes himself in where he has no right.

in ter lude [ˈintəlju:d] n. 1. interval between two events or two periods of time of different character: ~s of bright weather. 2. interval between two acts of a play, two scenes of an opera, or between parts of a psalm, church service, etc; music played during such an interval.

in ter mar riage [ˌintəˈmæridʒ] n. [U] marriage between members of different families, tribes, castes, etc.

in ter mar ry [ˌintəˈmæri] v.i. (VP 21, 24) (of tribes, races, etc.) become connected by marriage (with other tribes, etc.).

in ter med dle [ˌintəˈmedl] v.i. (VP 24) concern oneself (with . . .); interfere (in . . .) (esp. what is not one's business).

in ter me dia ry [ˌintəˈmi:djəri] n.* & *adj. 1. (sb. or sth.) acting as a link between (persons and groups); go-between; mediator. 2. (sth.) intermediate.

in ter me diate [ˌintəˈmi:djət] adj. situated or coming between (in time, space, degree, etc.): at an ~ stage (e.g. the cocoon stage of development of a butterfly); the I~ Examination (between Matriculation and the Degree Examination in some universities); ~-range ballistic missiles. n. sth. that is ~. ~ly *adv.

in ter ment [inˈtə:mənt] n. [U] being buried; [C] instance of this; burial.

in ter mez zo [ˌintəˈmedzou, -ˈmetsou] n. short musical composition to be played between the acts of a drama or an opera, or one that connects the main divisions of a large musical work such as a symphony.

in ter mi na ble [inˈtə:minəbl] adj. endless; tedious because too long: an ~ debate (sermon).

in ter min gle [ˌintəˈmiŋgl] v.t.* & *i. (VP 1, 21) mix together (two things, one with the other); mingle.

in ter mis sion [ˌintəˈmiʃən] n. [C & U] pause; interval: work from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. without ~ (with a short ~ at noon).

in ter mit tent [ˌintəˈmitənt] adj. pausing or stopping at intervals; stopping and starting again: ~ fever. ~ly *adv.

in ter mix [ˌintəˈmiks] v.t.* & *i. (VP 1, 18, 21) mix together: fact ~ed with fiction. ~ture [ˌintəˈmikstʃə*] n.

¹in tern [inˈtə:n] v.t. (VP 1) compel (persons, esp. aliens during a war) to live within certain limits or in a special building, camp, etc. ~ment *n. [U] ~ing or being ~ed: ~ment camp. in ter nee [ˌintə:ˈni:] n. person who is ~ed.

²in tern [ˈintə:n] n. (U.S.A.) young doctor who is completing his training by residing in a hospital and acting as an assistant physician or surgeon there.

in ter nal [inˈtə:nl] adj. 1. of or in the inside: suffer ~ injuries in an accident; ~ bleeding (e.g. in the bowels). ~ combustion, the process by which power is produced by the explosion of gases or vapours inside a cylinder (as in the engine of a motor-car). 2. domestic; of the home affairs of a country: ~ trade (revenue) (inland is more usual). 3. derived from within the thing itself: ~ evidence (e.g. of when an old book was written, or of the date of an old MS.). ~ly *adv.

in ter na tion al [ˌintəˈnæʃənl] adj. e isting, carried on, between nations: trade (law, agreements, conferences). the 1st (2nd, 3rd) I~, three associ for members of the working classes all countries, formed at various da during the last 100 years. ~ism *n. t doctrine that the common interests nations are greater and more importa than their differences. ~ist *n. per who supports and advocates ~ism ~ize [ˌintəˈnæʃənəlaiz] v.t. (VP make ~; bring under the combined co trol or protection of all or many nation Should the Suez and Panama Ca be ~ized? ~i za tion [ˈintəˌnæʃənə ˈzeiʃən] n.

in ter ne cine [ˌintəˈni:sain] adj. (usu. war) causing destruction to both side in ter pel late [inˈtə:pəleit] v.t. (VP (in some Parliaments, e.g. the Frenc and Japanese) interrupt the proceedin and demand a statement or explanat from (a Minister). in ter pel la tio [inˌtə:pəˈleiʃən] n. [U] interpellating being ~d; [C] instance of this.

in ter phone [ˈintəfoun] n. (U.S.A.) intercom.

in ter plan e ta ry [ˌintəˈplænitəri] adj between planets: an ~ journey in space ship.

in ter play [ˈintəˈplei] n. [U] operatio of two things on each other: the ~ o colours, their combined effect.

in ter po late [inˈtə:pəleit, -pou-] v.t. (VP 1, 18) make (sometimes misleading) additions to a book, MS., etc. in ter po la tion [inˌtə:pouˈleiʃən] n. [U] interpolating; [C] sth. ~d.

in ter pose [ˌintəˈpouz] v.t.* & *i. 1. (VP 1, 18) put forward (an objection, a veto, etc.) as an interference: Will they ~ their veto yet again? 2. (VP 1, 21) say (sth.) as an interruption; make an interruption. 3. (VP 21, 24) come in (between others): ~ between two persons who are quarrelling; mediate (in a dispute). in ter po si tion [inˌtə:pəˈziʃən] n. [U] interposing; [C] sth. ~d.

in ter pret [inˈtə:prit] v.t.* & *i. 1. (VP 1) show, make clear, the meaning of (either in words or by artistic performance): ~ a difficult passage in a book. Poetry helps to ~ life. The actor ~ed the role of Hamlet very well. 2. (VP 1, 1 consider to be the meaning of: We ~ed his silence as a refusal. 3. (VP 21) act as ~er: Will you please ~ for me, translate what is (to be) said? ~er *n. person who gives an immediate translation of words spoken in another language. in ter pre ta tion [inˌtə:priˈteiʃən] n. [U] interpreting; [C] result of this; explanation of meaning: The passage may be given several ~ations.

in ter ra cial [ˌintəˈreiʃjəl] adj. between involving, different races.

n ter reg num [ˌintəˈregnəm] n. (pl. -na, -nums) period during which a State has no normal ruler, esp. between the end of a Sovereign's reign and the beginning of his successor's reign; pause or nterval.

n ter re la tion [ˈintəriˈleiʃən] n. mutual relation. ~ship n. mutual relationship.

n ter ro gate [inˈterəgeit] v.t. (VP 1) put questions to, esp. closely or formally: ~ a prisoner. in ter ro ga tion [inˌterəˈgeiʃən] n. 1. [U] asking questions: ~ note (mark, point) of interrogation, question mark; the mark (?). 2. [C & U] oral examination; inquiry: long and tiring interrogations by police officers.

n ter rog a tive [ˌintəˈrɔgətiv] adj. 1. showing or having the form of a question; of inquiry: an ~ look (glance); in an ~ tone. 2. (gram.) used in questions: ~ pronouns (adverbs) (e.g. who, why). n. ~ word, esp. a pronoun. ~ly adv.

n ter rog a to ry [ˌintəˈrɔgətəri] adj. of inquiry: in an ~ tone.

n ter rupt [ˌintəˈrʌpt] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) 1. break the continuity of: The war ~ed the flow of commerce between the two countries. Traffic was ~ed by floods. Those trees are growing so high that they ~ (= obstruct) the view. 2. break in upon (a person speaking or doing sth., his speech, etc.): Don't ~ (me) while I'm busy. Don't ~ the speaker; ask your questions afterwards. ~er n. in ter ruption [ˌintəˈrʌpʃən] n. [U] ~ing or being ~ed; [C] instance of this; sth. that ~s: Numerous ~ions have prevented me from finishing the work.

n ter sect [ˌintəˈsekt] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) divide by cutting, passing, or lying across. 2. (VP 1, 21) (of lines) cut or cross each other: The lines AB and CD ~ at E. The line AB ~s the line CD at E. in ter sec tion [ˌintəˈsekʃən] n. [U] ~ing or being ~ed; [C] point where two lines, etc., ~.

n ter sperse [ˌintəˈspəːs] v.t. (VP 18) place here and there (between or among): diversify (sth. with): a speech ~d with witty remarks.

n ter state [ˈintəˈsteit] adj. (U.S.A.) between States: ~ commerce.

n ter stel lar [ˈintəˈstelə*] adj. between the stars: ~ matter (e.g. the masses of gas between stars).

n ter stice [inˈtəːstis] n. [C] crack; chink; crevice: ~s (very small spaces) between stones in a heap.

n ter tri bal [ˌintəˈtraibl] adj. between tribes: ~ wars.

n ter twine [ˌintəˈtwain] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) twine or twist together; become twined or twisted together: a lattice ~d with vines.

in ter ur ban [ˌintərˈəːbən] adj. between towns: ~ railways.

in ter val [ˈintəvəl] n. 1. time (between two events or two parts of an action); (esp.) time between two acts of a play, two parts of a concert, etc.: buses leaving at short ~s, i.e. very frequently. 2. space between (two objects or points): arranged at ~s of ten feet. 3. (music) difference of pitch between two notes.

in ter vene [ˌintəˈviːn] v.i. (VP 21, 24) 1. (of events, circumstances) come between (others) in time: I shall leave on Sunday if nothing ~s. 2. (of persons) interfere so as to prevent sth. or change the result: ~ in a dispute; ~ between people who are disputing. 3. (of time) come or be between: during the years that ~d. in ter ven tion [ˌintəˈvenʃən] n. [U] intervening (esp. def. 2): armed intervention by one country in the affairs of other countries; [C] instance of this.

in ter view [ˈintəvjuː] n. [C] meeting with sb. for discussion or conference (e.g. between employers and applicants for posts); meeting of a newspaper employee with sb. whose views are requested for publication: The Ambassador refused to give any ~s to journalists. v.t. (VP 1) have an ~ with.

in ter weave [ˌintəˈwiːv] v.t. (-wove, -woven) (VP 1, 18) weave together (one with another).

in tes tate [inˈtesteit, -tit] adj. not having made a will before death occurs: die ~.

in tes tine [inˈtestin] n. (usu. pl.) lower part of the food canal from below the stomach to the anus: small (large) ~, parts of this. in tes tin al [inˈtestinl] adj. of the ~s: intestinal disorders.

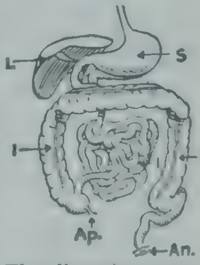
^{1}in ti mate [ˈintimit] adj. 1. close and familiar: ~ friends; be on ~ terms with sb. (e.g. when one calls a man 'Jack' instead of 'Mr Hill'). 2. innermost; private and personal: tell a friend the ~ details of one's life; an ~ diary, one in which one records experiences, thoughts, emotions, etc., usu. kept secret. 3. resulting from close study or great familiarity: an ~ knowledge of Greek philosophy. n. ~ friend. ~ly adv. in ti ma cy [ˈintiməsi] n. 1. [U] the state of being ~; close friendship or relationship; (euphem., esp. in newspaper reports of divorce proceedings) illicit sexual relations. 2. (pl.) ~ actions (e.g. caresses or kisses).



The alimentary canal

I. Intestines
S. Stomach
L. Liver
Ap. Appendix
An. Anus

^{2}in ti mate ['intimeit] v.t. (VP 1, 11, 18) make known; show clearly: ~ one's approval of a plan (that one approves of a plan). He ~d to me his intention of leaving early. in ti ma tion [ˌinti'meiʃən] n. [U] intimating; [C] sth. ~d; notification; suggestion.

in tim i date [in'timideit] v.t. (VP 1, 18) frighten, esp. in order to force (sb. into doing sth.): ~ a witness (e.g. by threatening him). in tim i da tion [inˌtimi'deiʃən] n. [U] intimidating or being ~d: surrender to intimidation.

in to ['intu, 'intə] prep. 1. (indicating motion or direction to a point within): Come ~ the house (garden). Throw it ~ the fire. Don't get ~ trouble. 2. (indicating change of condition, result): She burst ~ tears. The rain changed ~ snow. He poked the fire ~ a blaze, poked it so that it blazed up. Collect them ~ heaps. He frightened her ~ submission.

in tol er a ble [in'tɔlərəbl] adj. that cannot be tolerated or endured: ~ heat (insolence). in tol er a bly adv.

in tol er ant [in'tɔlərənt] adj. not tolerant: a man who is ~ of opposition. ~ly adv. in tol er ance n.

in to na tion [ˌintou'neiʃən] n. [U] the rise and fall of the voice in speaking.

in tone [in'toun] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) recite (a prayer, psalm, etc.) in a singing tone; speak with a particular tone.

in tox i cant [in'tɔksikənt] adj. & n. intoxicating (liquor).

in tox i cate [in'tɔksikeit] v.t. (VP 1) 1. make stupid with, cause to lose self-control as the result of taking, alcoholic drink: If a man drinks too much whisky, he becomes ~d. 2. excite greatly, beyond self-control: be ~d by success; ~d with joy. in tox i ca tion [inˌtɔksi'keiʃən] n. [U] being ~d; alcoholic poisoning.

in trac ta ble [in'træktəbl] adj. not easily controlled or dealt with; hard to manage: ~ children; an ~ temper. in trac ta bil i ty [inˌtræktə'biliti] n.

in tra mur al ['intrə'mjuərəl] adj. existing, done, within the walls of a town, building, etc.: ~ burial, inside a church instead of in the churchyard.

in tran si gent [in'trænsidʒənt] adj. uncompromising, esp. in politics. intran si gence n.

in tran si tive [in'trænsitiv, -'trɑːn-] adj. (of verbs) used without a direct object. ~ly adv.

in trench [in'trentʃ], see entrench.

in trep id [in'trepid] adj. fearless. ~ly adv. in tre pid i ty [ˌintri'piditi] n. [U] fearlessness; [C] fearless act.

in tri cate ['intrikit] adj. complicated; puzzling; difficult to follow or understand: a novel with an ~ plot; an ~ piece of machinery. ~ly adv. in tri ca cy ['intrikəsi] n. [U] the quality of being ~; (pl.) ~ things, events, etc in trigue [in'triːg] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 2 24) make and carry out secret plans plots: ~ with Smith against Robin 2. (VP 1) arouse the interest or curio of: The news ~d all of us. n. 1. secret plotting. 2. [C] plot; secret plan secret love affair.

in trin sic [in'trinsik] adj. (of valu quality) belonging naturally; exi within, not coming from outside: man's ~ worth (e.g. such qualities honour and courage, contrasted wit extrinsic qualities, e.g. family con nexions); the ~ value of a coin, the valu of the metal in it, usu. less than its face value. in trin si cal ly adv.

in tro duce [ˌintrə'djuːs] v.t. (VP 1, 18 1. bring in; bring forward: ~ a Bill before Parliament; ~ a subject into a conversation. 2. bring (sth.) into use or into operation for the first time; cause (sb.) to be acquainted with (sth.): ~ new ideas into a business. Tobacco was ~d into Europe from America. The teacher ~d his young pupils to the intricacies of Euclid. 3. make (persons) known by name (to one another), esp. in the usual formal way: ~ two friends. He ~d me to his parents. The chairman ~d the lecturer to the audience. 4. insert: ~ a tube into a wound.

in tro duc tion [ˌintrə'dʌkʃən] n. 1. [U] introducing or being introduced: a letter of ~, one that introduces the bearer to friends of the writer; foreign words of recent ~, recently introduced into the language. 2. [C] introducing of persons to one another: It was necessary to make ~s all round, to introduce many people to one another. 3. [C] sth. introduced; new practice, etc. 4. [C] sth. that leads up to sth. else; the opening paragraph of a letter, essay, speech, etc.; explanatory article at or before the beginning of a book. 5. [C] elementary textbook: 'An I~ to Greek Grammar.' in tro duc to ry [ˌintrə'dʌktəri] adj. serving to introduce: an ~ chapter; a few ~ remarks by the chairman.

in tro spect [ˌintrou'spekt] v.i. (VP 21) examine one's own thoughts and feelings. in tro spec tion [ˌintrou'spekʃən] n. [U] ~ing. in tro spec tive [ˌintrou'spektiv] adj. inclined towards, based on, ~ion.

in tro vert [ˌintrou'vəːt] v.t. (VP 1) turn (the mind, thought) inward upon itself. n. ['introuvəːt] person who habitually does this; one who is more interested in his own thoughts and feelings than in things outside himself.

in trude [in'truːd] v.t. & i. (VP 18, 21, 24) force (sth., oneself, upon sb., into a place); enter without invitation: ~ one's views upon others; the thought (suspicion) that ~d itself into my mind; ~ oneself into a meeting; ~ upon a per- son's time (privacy). I hope I'm not inruding. in tru der n. person or thing hat ~s: (attrib.) ~r aircraft; ~r patrols i.e. intruding into the enemy's country).

tru sion [in'tru:ʒən] n. [U] intrudng: guilty of unpardonable ~ upon sb.'s rivacy; [C] instance of this: angry at umerous ~s on one's privacy by rude ournalists. in tru sive [in'tru:siv] adj.
ntruding: the intrusive 'r' (r-sound vrongly inserted, e.g. in ['lə:rənd'ɔ:də], aw and order).

trust [in'trʌst], see entrust.

tu i tion [ˌintju(:)'iʃən] n. 1. [U] power of) the immediate understanding of something without conscious reason-ng or study. 2. [C] piece of knowledge gained by this power. in tu i tive [intju:itiv] adj. of ~: intuitive knowledge; possessing ~: Are women more ~ than men? in tu i tive ly adv.

un date ['inʌndeit] v.t. (VP 1, 18) lood; cover (with water) by overlowing; (fig.) overwhelm: be ~d with equests for help (applications for a post).

in un da tion [ˌinʌn'deiʃən] n. [U] looding; [C] instance of this; flood.

ure [i'njuə*, i'njɔ:*] v.t. (VP 18, usu. passive) accustom: ~ sb. (oneself) to ardship (cold); become ~d to ridicule.

vade [in'veid] v.t. (VP 1) 1. enter (a country) with armed forces in order to attack; (fig.) crowd into; enter: a city ~d by tourists; a mind ~d by worry and nxiety. 2. violate; interfere with: ~ b.'s rights. in vad er n. person or thing that ~s.

val id ['invəli(:)d] adj. 1. weak or lisabled through illness or injury: a ome of rest for ~ soldiers. 2. suitable or ~ persons: an ~ chair (one with vheels); an ~ diet. n. ~ person. v.t.
ˌinvə'li:d, 'invəli:d] (esp. of members of he armed forces) remove from active ervice as an ~; send (home) as an ~:
e ~ed home; ~ed out of the army. ~ism
n. chronic ill health.

val id [in'vælid] adj. not valid: ~ xcuses (claims, arguments); an ~ will cheque), e.g. one without a signature; eclare a marriage ~. in val i date [in-vælideit] v.t. (VP 1) make ~. in val i- da tion [inˌvæli'deiʃən] n.

val u a ble [in'væljuəbl] adj. of value oo high to be measured: Her services re ~ to me.

var i a ble [in'vɛəriəbl] adj. never hanging; unchangeable; constant. in- ar i a bly adv.

va sion [in'veiʒən] n. [U] invading or eing invaded; [C] instance of this.

va sive [in'veisiv] adj. making invaion; aggressive.

vec tive [in'vektiv] n. [U] abusive anguage; speeches filled with ~; (pl.) urses; violent expressions: a stream of oarse ~s.

in veigh [in'vei] v.i. (VP 24) speak bitterly (against sth.); attack violently in words.

in vei gle [in'vi:gl, in'veigl] v.t. (VP 18) trick (sb. into a place, into doing sth.) by using flattery, deception, etc.: ~ sb. into investing his money unwisely.

in vent [in'vent] v.t. 1. create or design (sth. not existing before): When was the steam engine ~ed? (Cf. discover, find sth. existing before, but unknown.) 2. make up, think of: ~ a story (an excuse). in ven tor n. person who ~s things. in ven tive [in'ventiv] adj. able to ~: an ~ive mind; ~ive powers.

in ven tion [in'venʃən] n. 1. [U] inventing: the ~ of the telephone; capacity for inventing: Necessity is the mother of ~. 2. [C] sth. invented: the numerous ~s of Edison; newspapers that are full of ~s (invented, untrue stories).

in ven to ry ['inventri] n. detailed list (e.g. of household goods, furniture, etc.).

in verse ['in'və:s] adj. inverted; reversed in position, direction or relations: ~ ratio (proportion), that between two quantities one of which decreases in the same proportion as the other increases. ~ly adv.

in vert [in'və:t] v.t. (VP 1) put upside down or in the opposite order, position, or arrangement: ~ a glass (so that it is bottom upwards); ~ed commas (" " or ' '). in ver sion [in'və:ʃən] n. [U] ~ing or being ~ed; [C] instance of this; sth. ~ed.

in ver te brate [in'və:tibrit] adj. not having a backbone or spinal column (e.g. insects, worms); (fig.) weak-willed. n. (also [in'və:tibreit]) ~ animal.

in vest [in'vest] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 18) put (money in): ~ £1,000 in government stock; ~ one's savings in a business enterprise. 2. (VP 24, colloq.) buy (sth. considered useful): ~ in a new hat. 3. (VP 18) clothe; endow; decorate; surround (with qualities): The military governor has been ~ed with full authority. The old ruins were ~ed with romance. 4. (VP 1) surround (a fort, town, etc.) with armed forces; lay siege to. ~or n. person who ~s money. ~ment n. 1. [U] ~ing money: By careful ~ment of his capital, he obtained a good income. 2. [C] sum of money that is ~ed: an ~ment of £500 in War Loan; wise and profitable ~ments. 3. [U] act of ~ing (a town, fort, etc.); blockade. 4. = investiture.

in ves ti gate [in'vestigeit] v.t. (VP 1) examine, inquire into: ~ a crime (the causes of a railway accident). in ves ti ga tor n. person who ~s. in ves ti ga tion [inˌvesti'geiʃən] n. [U] careful and thorough inquiry; [C] instance of this: The matter is under investigation.

in ves ti ture [in'vestitʃə*] n. (from invest, def. 3) ceremony of investing sb. (with an office, rank, power, or dignity).

in vest ment, see invest.

in vet er ate [in'vetərit] adj. (esp. of habits, feelings) deep-rooted; long-established: an ~ smoker; ~ prejudices.

in vid i ous [in'vidiəs] adj. likely to cause ill-feeling (because of real or apparent injustice): make ~ distinctions. ~ly adv.

in vig i late [in'vidʒileit] v.i. (VP 21) watch over students during examinations. in vig i la tor n. person who ~s. in vig i la tion [inˌvidʒi'leiʃən] n.

in vig o rate [in'vigəreit] v.t. (VP 1) make vigorous; give strength or courage to: an invigorating climate (speech).

in vin ci ble [in'vinsibl] adj. too strong to be overcome or defeated: an ~ will. in vin ci bly adv. in vin ci bil i ty [inˌvinsi'biliti] n. [U].

in vi o la ble [in'vaiələbl] adj. not to be disturbed, disobeyed, or treated disrespectfully: an ~ oath (law).

in vi o late [in'vaiəlit] adj. kept sacred; held in respect; not violated: keep an oath (a promise, rule) ~.

in vis i ble [in'vizəbl] adj. that cannot be seen: stars that are ~ to the naked eye; ~ exports (imports), money that goes out of (comes into) a country as interest on capital, payments for shipping services, tourist expenditure, etc.; ~ ink, ink which, when used for writing, can be seen only when heated; ~ mending, repair of woven materials, silk stockings, etc., by interweaving threads so that the repair is hardly seen. in vis i bly adv. in vis i bil i ty [inˌvizi'biliti] n. [U].

in vite [in'vait] v.t. 1. (VP 3, 10, 18) ask (sb. to do sth., come somewhere, etc.): ~ a friend to dinner (to one's house). He didn't ~ me in. 2. (VP 1) ask for: ~ questions (opinions, confidences). 3. (VP 1, 3) encourage: The cool water of the lake ~d us to swim. in vit ing adj. tempting; attractive. in vit ing ly adv. in an inviting way: The doors were invitingly open, open in a way that invited people to enter. in vi ta tion [ˌinvi'teiʃən] n. 1. [U] inviting or being ~d: a letter of invitation; admission by invitation only. 2. [C] request to come or go somewhere, or do sth.: send out invitations to a dinner party.

in vo ca tion n. see invoke.

in voice ['invɔis] v.t. & n. (VP 1) (make a) list of goods sold with the price(s) charged.

in voke [in'vouk] v.t. (VP 1) 1. call upon (God, the power of the law, etc.) for help or protection. 2. request earnestly: ~ vengeance on one's enemies. 3. summon up (by magic): ~ evil spirits. in vo ca tion [ˌinvou'keiʃən, -və-] n. [U] invoking or being ~d; [C] prayer or appeal that ~s.

in vol un ta ry [in'vɔləntəri] adj. without intention; done unconsciously an ~ movement of fear. in vol un ta ri ly adv.

in volve [in'vɔlv] v.t. 1. (VP 18) (sb. or sth.) to be caught or mixed (in trouble, etc.); get (sb. or sth.) a complicated or difficult condition They are deeply ~d in debt. Don't ~ yourself in unnecessary expense. 2 (VP 1, 17A) have as a necessary con quence: To accept the position you off would ~ my living in London. The ~d a great increase in the national de 3. (p.p.) complicated in form, etc.: ~d sentence; Henry James's ~d in vul ner a ble [in'vʌlnərəbl] adj. cannot be wounded or hurt: (fig.) ~ arguments.

in ward ['inwəd] adj. 1. situated within; inner: ~ happiness, (i.e. of the spirit); one's ~ (i.e. mental or spiritual) nature. 2. turned towards the inside: an ~ curve. n. pl. (colloq.) (often spelt innards) ['inədz] entrails; bowels. ~ly adv. in mind or spirit: grieve ~ly (i.e. so as not to show one's grief). ~ness n. (person's) inner nature; spiritual quality: the true ~ness of Christ's teaching. ~(s) ['inwəd(z)] adv. towards the inside; into or towards the mind or soul.

i o dine ['aiədi:n] n. [U] chemical substance found in seawater and seaweed, widely used as an antiseptic (in the form 'tincture of ~'), in photography, and in the manufacture of some dyes.

i on ['aiən] n. electrically charged particle formed by losing or gaining electrons. Such particles make a solution of certain chemicals a conductor of electricity. i on ize v.t. convert into ions.

I on ic [ai'ɔnik] adj. of the order of Greek architecture having scrolls in the capitals of the columns.

i o ta [ai'outə] n. the Greek letter i: not an ~ of truth in the story, no truth at all.

I O U ['aiou'ju:] n. (= I owe you) signed paper acknowledging that one owes the sum of money stated.

ip so fac to ['ipsou 'fæktou] adv. phrase. (Lat.) by that very fact.

ir- pref. not, as in irreverent, etc.

i ras ci ble [i'ræsibl] adj. easily made angry. i ras ci bil i ty [iˌræsi'biliti] n. tendency to anger; angry behaviour.

i rate [ai'reit] adj. angry.

ire ['aiə*] n. (poet.) anger. ire ful ['aiəful] adj. angry.

ir i des cent [ˌiri'desnt] adj. showing colours like those of the rainbow; changing colour as light falls from different directions. ir i des cence [ˌiri'desns] n.

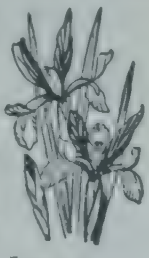
i rid i um [ai'ridiəm] n. [U] hard, silver-white metal: an ~ pen point, point of this metal at the end of the nib of a fountain-pen.



Irises (def. 2)

s ['aiəris] n. 1. coloured part of the eball. 2. kinds of flowering int with sword-shaped ves.
sh ['aiəriʃ] adj. of Irend: the ~ Free State (or ire), part of Ireland that came independent in 22. n. the ~ language:
r ~, ~ people. ~man
iəriʃmən] n. ~woman iəriʃˌwumən] n. native of eland.
[ə:k] v.t. trouble; annoy (chiefly in):
irks me to (do that). irksome ['ə:km] adj. tiresome.
on ['aiən] n. 1. [U] commonest and ost important of all metals, used in arious forms: wrought ~; cast ~; ~ c; as hard as ~; (fig.) an ~ will; rule ith a rod of ~ (with an ~ hand), with treme severity; a man of ~, (fig.) a ard, merciless, or unyielding man. 2.
] (usu. in compounds) tool, etc., made ~: flat-~, tool heated and used for noothing clothes, etc.; fire-~s, poker, ngs, etc., used for a fire in a fireplace stove (see the illustr. at fire); golfub with an ~ head; branding tool; tters: put a man in ~s, fasten his ands and feet in chains. have too any ~s in the fire, too many under-kings requiring attention at the same me. strike while the ~ is hot, seize good opportunity. 3. (compounds) ~-clad n. (formerly used for) warship rotected with ~ plates. ~ curtain (fig.) frontier(s) dividing U.S.S.R. and lied countries from other countries;
is as a barrier to information. ˈ~- oundry n. foundry where cast ~ is roduced. ˈ~-ˈgrey adj. colour of eshly broken cast ~: His beard is ~-
rey. ~ lung n. air-tight case fitted ver a patient's body, air pressure inside eing increased and decreased so as to ve artificial respiration. ˈ~ˌmonger dealer in goods made of metal. ˈ~- nongery n. business of an ~monger;
s goods. ˈ~-mould n. [U] discolora-on caused by ~-rust or ink. ~ ration ration of food, etc., for emergency use
.g. by troops during a war). ˈ~work [U] things made of ~ (e.g. by a smith).
~works n. (sing. or pl.) place where ~ smelted or where ~ goods are made.
on ['aiən] v.t. & i.
P 1, 10, 21) smooth inen, etc.) with an
on: ~ a shirt; ~ out rinkles, get rid of them
y ~ing; (fig.) ~ out isunderstandings. Do
othes ~ more easily
hen they are damp?
~ing-board n. board
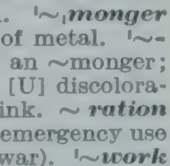
r ~ing on.



An electric iron

i ron ic, i ron i cal [aiˈrɔnik(l)] adjj. of, using, expressing, irony: an ~ smile (remark, person). i ron i cal ly adv.

i ron y [ˈaiərəni] n. 1. [U] the expression of one's meaning by saying sth. which is the direct opposite of one's thoughts, in order to make one's remarks forceful. 2. [C] event, situation, etc., which is itself desirable, but which, because of the circumstances, is of little or no value, thus appearing to be directed by evil fate: the ~ of fate (circumstances). If a poor man inherits a large fortune and dies a month later, one might call it one of life's ironies.

ir ra di ate [iˈreidieit] v.t. (VP 1) 1. send rays of light upon; subject to sunlight or ultra-violet rays; (fig.) throw light on (a subject). 2. light up: faces ~d with joy.

ir ra tion al [iˈræʃənəl] adj. 1. not endowed with reason: behave like an ~ animal. 2. absurd; illogical: ~ fears (behaviour). ~ly adv.

ir rec on ci la ble [iˈrekensailəbl, ˈiˌrekənˈsailbl] adj. (of persons) that cannot be reconciled; (of ideas, actions) that cannot be brought into harmony.

ir re cov er a ble [ˌiriˈkʌvərəbl] adj. that cannot be recovered or remedied: ~ losses.

ir re deem a ble [ˌiriˈdi:məbl] adj. 1. (of paper currency) that cannot be exchanged for coin; (of government annuities) that cannot be terminated by repayment. 2. that cannot be restored, reclaimed, saved: an ~ loss (misfortune).

ir re du ci ble [ˌiriˈdju:səbl] adj. 1. that cannot be reduced or made smaller: £50 is the ~ minimum for repairs to the house. 2. that cannot be brought (to a desired condition).

ir ref ra ga ble [iˈrefrəgəbl] adj. (of statements, persons) clearly right; indisputable; unanswerable.

ir ref u ta ble [iˈrefjutəbl, ˌiriˈfjutəbl] adj. that cannot be proved false.

ir reg u lar [iˈregjulə*] adj. 1. contrary to rules, to what is normal and established: an ~ proceeding (marriage); be ~ in church attendance, be absent frequently; ~ troops, not trained for, or not forming part of, the regular army. 2. uneven; not regular in shape, arrangement, etc.: ~ lines and figures; a coast with an ~ outline, with many bays, inlets, etc. 3. (gram.) not inflected in the normal way: 'Child' has an ~ plural. n. (usu. pl.) member of an ~ military force. ~ly adv. ~i ty [iˌregjuˈlæriti] n. [U] state or quality of being ~; [C] sth. ~: irregularities in behaviour; the irregularities of the earth's surface.

ir rel e vant [iˈrelivənt] adj. not to the point; having nothing to do with: ~ remarks (evidence). What you say is ~ to the subject. ir rel e vance, ir rel e van cy [iˈrelivəns(i)] n. [U] state of being ~; [C] ~ remark, question, etc.: Let us ignore these irrelevancies.

ir re li gious [ˌiriˈlidʒəs] adj. opposed to, showing no interest in, religion: ~ acts (persons).

ir re me dia ble [ˌiriˈmi:djəbl] adj. that cannot be remedied.

ir re mo va ble [ˌiriˈmu:vəbl] adj. that cannot be removed (esp. from office).

ir rep a ra ble [iˈrepərəbl] adj. (of a loss, injury, etc.) that cannot be put right or restored.

ir re place a ble [ˌiriˈpleisəbl] adj. of which the loss cannot be supplied.

ir re pres si ble [ˌiriˈpresəbl] adj. that cannot be held back or controlled: a girl with ~ high spirits.

ir re proach a ble [ˌiriˈproutʃəbl] adj. free from blame or fault: ~ conduct.

ir re sist i ble [ˌiriˈzistəbl] adj. too strong, convincing, delightful, etc., to be resisted: ~ desires (temptations). On this hot day the sea was ~, we couldn't resist the desire to go to (or into) the sea.

ir res o lute [iˈrezəl(j)u:t] adj. undecided; hesitating. ir res o lu tion [ˈiˌrezəˈlu:ʃən] n. [U].

ir re spec tive [ˌiriˈspektiv] adj. ~ of, not paying consideration to; not taking into account: He rushed forward to help, ~ of the consequences.

ir re spon si ble [ˌirisˈpɔnsəbl] adj. 1. not responsible for conduct, etc.; not to be blamed or punished: an ~ child 2. (doing things, done) without a proper sense of responsibility; not trustworthy: ~ servants; ~ behaviour. ir re spon si bil i ty [ˈirisˌpɔnsiˈbiliti] n. [U].

ir re triev a ble [ˌiriˈtri:vəbl] adj. that cannot be retrieved or remedied: an ~ loss ir rev er ent [iˈrevərənt] adj. feeling or showing no respect for sacred things. ~ly adv. ir rev er ence n. [U].

ir rev o ca ble [iˈrevəkəbl] adj. final and unalterable; that cannot be revoked: an ~ decision (judgement).

ir ri gate [ˈirigeit] v.t. (VP 1) 1. supply (land, crops) with water (by means of rivers, water-channels, overhead pipes, etc.): ~ desert areas and make them fertile. 2. construct reservoirs, canals, etc., for the distribution of water (to fields). 3. wash out (a wound, etc., with a constant flow of liquid. ir ri ga tion [ˌiriˈgeiʃən] n. [U] irrigating; (attrib.) an irrigation project; irrigation canals ir ri ta ble [ˈiritəbl] adj. easily annoyed or made angry. ir ri ta bly adv. ir ri ta bil i ty [ˌiritəˈbiliti] n.

ir ri tant [ˈiritənt] adj. causing irritation. n. ~ substance (e.g. dust or pepper in the nose); sth. that irritates the mind

ir ri tate [ˈiriteit] v.t. (VP 1) 1. make angry or annoyed; excite the temper of: ~d by the delay. 2. cause discomfort to (part of the body); make sore ( inflamed: The smoke ~d her eyes. ir r ta tion [ˌiriˈteiʃən] n. [U] irritating ( being ~d; [C] instance of this.

ir rup tion [iˈrʌpʃən] n. sudden an violent entry; bursting in.

is, see be.

-ish [-iʃ] suffix. 1. (added to nouns t form adjj.) of; having the characteristi of; undesirably or inappropriately r sembling: mannish; hoggish; loutis swinish; boorish; boyish; girlis womanish. 2. (added to adjj. to for other adjj.) somewhat: yellowis stiffish. 3. (added to nouns, verbs, an adverbs) having a tendency toward bookish; thievish; standoffish, tendin to be reserved; uppish,* 4. (added t numbers) somewhere near; abou eightish, about 8 o'clock; fortyish, abou 40 years old.

is in glass [ˈaiziŋglɑ:s] n. [U] clear whi jelly made from some fresh-water fis used for making glue, preserving egg and in the brewing of beer.

Is lam [ˈizlɑ:m, -læm, -ləm] n. faitl religion, taught by the Prophet Mu hammad; all Muslims; all the Muslin world.

is land [ˈailənd] n. piece of land su rounded by water; sth. resembling a ~ because it is detached or isolated a street ~, a raised place in a busy stree
where people may be safe from traffic ~er n. person born on or living on an ~ isle [ail] n. island (not much used in pros except in proper names: the I~ of Wight the British I~s). is let [ˈailit] n. sma island.

ism [ˈizəm] n. distinctive doctrine o practice: behaviourism and all the othe isms of the 20th century.

isn't, see be.

i so bar [ˈaisoubɑ:*] n. line on a ma
(esp. a weather chart) joining place with the same atmospheric pressure a a particular time.

i so late [ˈaisouleit, -sə-] v.t. (VP 1, 18) 1 separate, put, or keep apart fron others: When a person has an infectiou disease, he is usually ~d. Severa villages in the north have been ~d b heavy snowfalls. 2. (chem.) separate (a sub stance, germ, etc.) from its combinations

i so la tion [ˌaisəˈleiʃən] n. [U] isolatin or being isolated: live in ~ (e.g. a Robinson Crusoe did); an ~ hospita (ward), one for persons with infectiou diseases. ~ism n. (in internationa affairs) policy of holding aloof from th affairs of other countries. ~ist n. sup porter of ~ism.

i sos ce les [aiˈsɔsəli:z] adj. (of a triangle having two sides equal.

i so therm [ˈaisouθə:m] n. line on a ma joining places having the same mea annual temperature.

tope ['aisoutoup] n. atom of an ment (e.g. heavy hydrogen) having a clear mass different from that of other oms of the same element although emically identical: radio-active ~s, stable forms used in medicine and dustry.

type ['aisoutaip] n. chart giving atistical information by the use of nall drawings or shapes each representg a convenient unit (e.g. of armed rces, each drawing of a soldier standing r 1,000 men).

sue ['isju:, 'iʃju:, 'iʃu:] v.i. & t. 1. P 21, 23, 24) come, go, flow, out: noke issuing from chimneys; blood suing from a wound. 2. (VP 1, 18) give r send out; publish (books, etc.); put nto circulation; distribute: ~ commands ank-notes, stamps, food, and clothing to oops). n. 1. [U] outgoing; outflowing: he point or place of ~; [C] the act of owing out; that which flows out: an ~ f blood from the nose. 2. [U] putting orth; sending out; publication: the ~ f a newspaper (a new coinage); buy new tamps on the day of ~; [C] that which s sent out, etc.: new ~s of bank-notes; he most recent ~s of a periodical; an ~ f winter clothing to the troops. 3. [C] uestion that arises for discussion: lebate an ~; raise a new ~; argue politial ~s. join (take) ~ with sb. (on sth.), roceed to argue with him (about it). he point (matter) at ~, the point eing discussed. 4. [C] result; outcome; onsequence: bring a campaign to a sucessful ~; a problem that involves imortant ~s; await the ~. 5. (legal) [U] ffspring: die without ~ (i.e. childless).

th mus ['isməs] n. neck of land joining wo larger bodies of land: the I~ of anama.

[it] pron. (pl. they, them) 1. used of feless things, of animals (when sex is nknown or unimportant), and of a aby or small child when the sex is nknown or a matter of indifference): his is my watch; it's a Swiss one. Vhere's my book?—Have you seen it? Vhere's the cat?—It's in the garden. he's expecting another baby and hopes will be a boy. 2. used to refer to a roup of words which follows. This may e (a) an infinitive phrase: Is it difficult learn written Chinese? (b) a construcon with for, a (pro)noun, and a *to*nfinitive: It was hard for him to live on is small pension. (c) a gerundial phrase: t doesn't seem much use going on. It's o use your trying to do that. (d) a clause: t seems unlikely that he will catch the ain. I think it a pity that you didn't try arder. It doesn't matter whether we art now or later. Does it matter what ou do next? 3. used to refer backwards r forwards to identify sb. or sth. (Note that if the identity of a person is already known, it is not used): 'Who's that at the door?'—'It's the postman.' (Cf. Mr Smith is at the door. He wants to see you.) 'What was that noise?'—'It was a mouse' 4. used as a formal or meaningless word to supply a subject for various verbs: (a) dealing with the weather, atmospheric conditions, etc.: It is raining (snowing, etc.). It's warm (cold, windy, etc.). Isn't it a nice day! How dark it is! (b) for time: It's six o'clock. It is past midnight. It's Monday, the 1st of May. It is three years since I last met you. It's a month to Christmas. (c) for distance: It's ten miles to Oxford. It's only a short way now. (d) vaguely for the general situation, or for sth. that is to be understood from the context: So it seems. It can't be helped. Whose turn is it next? That's the best (worst) of it! Keep at it (i.e. at whatever you are doing). Now you've done it (i.e. you've done sth. wrong or foolish)! Now you'll catch it, you'll be reprimanded, punished, etc.! As it happened, . . . If it hadn't been for your help . . . 5. used to bring into prominence one part of a sentence: (a) the subject: It was his work during the week-end that exhausted him. (b) the object of the verb: It's the red book that I want, not the green one. (c) the object of a preposition: It was John I gave the book to, not Harry. (d) adverbial adjunct. It was on Sunday that I saw him, not on Saturday. its [its] poss. adj. of it: The dog wagged its tail. The child fell and hurt its knee. I don't like this hat —its shape is wrong. it self [it'self] reflex. pron.: The dog got up and stretched itself. emphat. pron. The thing itself is not valuable, but I want it as a keepsake. by itself, (a) automatically: The machine works by itself. (b) alone: The farmhouse stands by itself in the fields.

I tal ian [i'tæljən] adj. of Italy, its people, their language. n. language, native, of Italy.

i tal ic [i'tælik] adj. (of letters) sloping (cf. roman): This is ~ type. n. pl. ~ letters: in ~s. i tal i cize [i'tælisaiz] v.t. print in ~s.

itch [itʃ] n. 1. (with def. or indef. art., but rarely pl.) feeling of irritation on the skin, causing a desire to scratch: have (suffer from) the ~ (an ~). 2. (usu. with the indef. art or a poss. adj.) restless desire or longing: have an ~ for money; his ~ to go to the South Seas. v.i. (VP 21, 24, 25) have an ~: scratch where it ~es. Scratch yourself if you ~. Are your mosquito bites still ~ing? The boys were ~ing for the lesson to end. have an ~ing palm, be ~ing for money. itch y ['itʃi] adj.

i tem [ˈaitəm] n. 1. single article or unit in a list, etc.: the first ~ on the programme; number the ~s in a catalogue. 2. detail or paragraph (of news): Are there any interesting news ~s (~s of news) in the paper this morning? adv. likewise; also (used to introduce successive articles in a list). ~ize [ˈaitəmaiz] v.t. (VP 1) give, write, every ~ of: an ~ized account; ~ize a bill.

it er ate [ˈitəreit] v.t. (VP 1) say again and again; make (an accusation, etc.) repeatedly. it er a tion [ˌitəˈreiʃən] n. [U] iterating; [C] sth. ~d.

i tin er ant [iˈtinərənt, ai-] adj. travelling from place to place: ~ musicians.

i tin er a ry [aiˈtinərəri i-] n. [C] (for, details or records of, a) j route.

its, it self, see it.

i vo ry [ˈaivəri] n. [U] white, bone-like stance forming the tusks of elep etc., used for ornaments, piano-keys, etc.: (attrib.) the colour of ~: an ~ skin (complexion).

i vy [ˈaivi] n. [U] climbing, clinging, evergreen plant with dark, shiny (often five-pointed) leaves. i vied [ˈaivid] adj. covered with ivy: ivied walls.

Ivy

J

J, j [dʒei] the tenth letter of the alphabet. a J pen, a broad-pointed pen nib.

jab [dʒæb] v.t. & i. (-bb-) (VP 1, 10, 18, 24) force (a pointed weapon, the elbow, etc.) suddenly and roughly (into sb. or sth.); aim a blow at sb. or sth.: He jabbed his elbow into my side. Be careful Don't jab my eye out with your umbrella He jabbed (at) his opponent, (boxing) aimed a quick blow at him. n. sudden, rough blow or thrust: a jab in the arm, (colloq.) an injection or inoculation.

jab ber [ˈdʒæbə*] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21 23) talk excitedly; talk in what seems to be a rapid and confused manner: Listen to those foreigners ~ing away 2. (VP 1, 10) utter (words, etc.) rapidly and indistinctly: ~ French; ~ (out) one's prayers. n. [U] ~ing; chatter: Listen to the ~ of those monkeys.

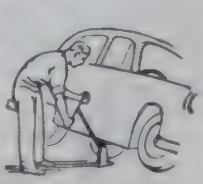
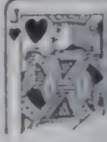
jab ot [ˈʒæbou] n. [C] ornamental frill on the front of a woman's dress (and, formerly, a man's shirt front).

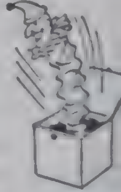
¹jack [dʒæk] n. 1. (cap. J) familiar form of the name John: J~ Frost, frost personified. before one can say J~ Robinson, very quickly or suddenly ˈJ~ in ˌoffice, self-important official who fusses over details. J~ Ketch, the common hangman. ˈJ~ of ˈall trades, person who can turn his hand to anything; workman knowing something of many trades. J~ is as good as his master, the workman is the equal of his employer. 2. machine for raising heavy weights off the ground, esp. one for raising the axle of a car so that a wheel may be changed. 3. (in the game of bowls) small white ball towards which bowls are rolled. 4. ship's flag show nationality: the Union J~, of th United Kingdom. ˈ~-staff n. staff c which a ship's flag is flown to sho nationality. 5. (in a pack of playin cards) knave. 6. (compounds) ˈ~ass [ˈdʒækæs] n. male ass; foolish person; blockhead. ˈlaughing ˈ~ass n. Giant Kingfisher of Australia. ˈ~-boot n. large boot coming above the knees (as formerly worn by cavalrymen). ˈ~daw n. sort of small crow that often flies off with brigh objects. ˈ~-in-the-box n. toy in th form of a box with sth. inside which springs up when the lid is opened. ˈ~-knife n. large clasp-knife for the pocket. ˈ~-o'-ˌlantern n. will-o'-the-wisp; pumpkin cut to look like a face and used as a lantern (by placing a candle inside) in fun. ˈ~-plane n. ²plane used for coarse work. ˈ~pot n. accumulated stakes (esp. in a game of poke only to be won by a player holdi two ~s (def. 5 above) or better); (b extension) greatest prize in a lottery, et ˈ~-ˌrabbit n. large hare of Western America. ~ tar n. (old name for naval rating; ordinary seaman in th Navy, wearing a jumper and wid bottomed trousers.



A jack (def. 2)



A jack (def. 5)



A jack-in-th box

²jack [dʒæk] v.t. (VP 1, 10) lift with a ja (def. 2): J~ (up) the car and change th wheel with the punctured tyre.

jack al [ˈdʒækɔːl] n. wild dog-like anima jack a napes [ˈdʒækəneips] n. 1. co ceited person. 2. (often playfully a child) impudent or mischievous perso

k et ['dʒækit] n. 1. short, sleeved coat.
ust a person's* ~, beat him. 2. outer vering round a boiler, to lessen loss f heat, or (a water ~) to cool an engine.
. skin (of a potato): baked in their ~s.
. loose paper cover to protect the bind-ng of a book.

ac o be an [ˌdʒækə'bi(:)ən] adj. of the eign of James I (1603-25) of England:
literature (architecture, furniture).

ac o bin ['dʒækəbin] n. member of a roup of revolutionaries during part f the French Revolution (1789). adj.
iolent; extremely radical. ~ism n.
politics) extreme radicalism.

ac o bite ['dʒækəbait] n. supporter of ames II of England after his abdication n 1688, or of his son.

de [dʒeid] n. [U] hard, usu. green stone, arved into ornaments, etc.

de [dʒeid] n. 1. tired out or worn-out orse. 2. (either contemptuous or play-ul) woman: You saucy little ~! v.t.
-u. p.p. jaded ['dʒeidid] worn out;
over-worked: He looks ~d. He has a ~d (dull) appetite.

g [dʒæg] n. sharp projection (e.g. of ock). jag gy ['dʒægi] adj. having ~s.

g [dʒæg] v.t. (-gg-) (VP 1) cut or tear n an uneven manner; give an edge like hat of a saw to. jag ged ['dʒægid] adj.
otched; with rough, uneven edges:
agged rocks.

g uar ['dʒægjuə*, -juɑ:, -wə] n. large, ierce, cat-like meat-eating animal of entral and South America.

il [dʒeil], etc., see gaol, etc.

lop (p)y [dʒə'lɔpi] n. (U.S.A. sl.) old, ickety automobile.

m [dʒæm] v.t. & i. (-mm-) 1. (VP 1, 0, 18, 21, 23) crush, be crushed, beween two surfaces or masses; squeeze, e squeezed: *a ship jammed in the ice.
The logs jammed in the river*, became ightly packed. 2. (VP 1, 21) (of parts f a machine, etc.) (cause to) become ixed so that movement or action is revented: jam the brakes on. The rakes jammed and the car skidded badly.
3. (VP 10, 18) push (things) together ightly: jam one's clothes into a small uitcase. The corridors were jammed by ordes of schoolchildren. 4. (VP 1) make eception of a broadcast programme im-ossible or difficult by broadcasting that eliberately interferes: jam the enemy's tations during a war. n. [C] 1. number f things or people crowded together so hat movement is difficult or impossible:
raffic) jams in our big towns. 2. stop-age of a machine due to jamming (def.
2). 3. (sl.) awkward position; difficult ituation: be in (get into) a jam.

m [dʒæm] n. [U] fruit boiled with ugar until it is thick, and preserved in ars, pots, tins, etc. 'jam-jar (-pot) nn.
one for containing jam.

jamb [dʒæm] n. side post of a doorway, window, etc.; (pl.) stone sides of a fireplace.

jam bor ee [ˌdʒæmbə'ri:] n. 1. merry meeting. 2. large rally or gathering, esp. of Boy Scouts.

jan gle ['dʒæŋgl] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) (cause to) give out a harsh metallic noise; argue noisily. n. [U] harsh noise.

jan i tor ['dʒænitə*] n. 1. doorkeeper. 2. (U.S.A.) person hired to take care of a building, offices, etc. (e.g. by cleaning, stoking the furnaces).

jan iz a ry, jan is sa ry ['dʒænizəri] n. one of a body of Turkish infantry forming, until 1826, the Sultan's bodyguard.

Jan uary ['dʒænjuəri] n. the first month of the year.

Ja nus ['dʒeinəs] n. ancient Italian god, guardian of gates and doors, beginnings and ends, represented with two faces, one on the front and the other on the back of his head.

ja pan [dʒə'pæn] v.t. (-nn-) & n. (cover with) hard, shiny varnish.

Jap a nese [ˌdʒæpə'ni:z] adj. of Japan. n. language, native, of Japan.

ja pon i ca [dʒə'pɔnikə] n. [U] (sorts of) ornamental variety of pear or quince.

^{1}jar [dʒɑ:] v.i. & t. (-rr-*) 1. (VP 21, 24) strike (on or against sth.) with a harsh unpleasant sound. 2. (VP 24) have an unpleasant effect (upon): The way in which he laughs jars on me (on my ears, on my nerves). 3. (VP 1) send a shock through (the nerves): He was badly jarred by the blow. She was jarred by this sad news. 4. (VP 21, 23) be out of harmony (with): His opinions jar with mine. Try to avoid colours that jar when choosing curtains and rugs. jar ring adj. causing disharmony; harsh: a jarring note. jar ring ly adv.

^{2}jar [dʒɑ:*] n. [C] 1. (usu. harsh) sound or vibration: We felt a jar when the engine was coupled to the train. 2. shock; thrill of the nerves: The fall from his horse gave him a nasty jar. It was an unpleasant jar to my nerves. 3. disagreement; quarrel: Households without a few family jars are rare.

^{3}jar [dʒɑ:*] n. tall vessel, usu. round, with a wide mouth, with or without handle(s), of glass, stone, or earthenware; its contents: a jar of strawberry jam. jar ful n.

jar gon ['dʒɑ:gən] n. [U] 1. language difficult to understand, because it is a bad form or spoken badly: Only a mother can understand her baby's ~. A man who writes 'your esteemed favour of the 6th inst.' for 'your letter of the 6th of this month' is writing ~. 2. language full of technical or special words: the ~ of radio technicians.

jas min(e) ['dʒæsmin], jes sa mine ['dʒesəmin] nn. kinds of shrub with white or yellow sweet-smelling flowers.

jas per ['dʒæspə*] n. [U] semi-precious stone, red, yellow, or brown.

jaun dice ['dʒɔ:ndis] n. [U] disease, caused by stoppage of the flow of bile, marked by yellowness of the skin and the whites of the eyes; (fig.) state of mind in which one is jealous, spiteful, envious, and suspicious. v.t. (VP 1, usu. passive) affect with ~: take a ~d view, one influenced by jealousy, spite, etc.

jaunt [dʒɔ:nt] n. short journey for pleasure. v.i. (VP 21, 23) make such a journey. '*~ing-car n. light, two-wheeled horse-drawn vehicle used in Ireland.

jaun ty ['dʒɔ:nti] adj. (-ier, -iest) feeling or showing self-confidence and self-satisfaction: He wore his hat at a ~ angle, tipped to one side as a sign of high spirits, etc. jaun ti ly adv. jaun ti ness n.

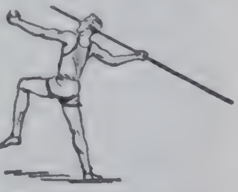
Ja va nese [ˌdʒɑ:və'ni:z] adj. of Java. n. native of Java; language of central Java.

jave lin ['dʒævlin] n. light spear for throwing (usu. in sport).



Throwing the javelin

jaw [dʒɔ:] n. 1. lower (upper) jaw, one or other of the bone structures containing the teeth: Which jaw moves up and down when you talk? '*jaw-bone n. one of the bones in which the teeth are set. '*jaw-ˌbreaker n. (colloq.) word hard to pronounce. 2. (pl.) bones of the mouth, including the teeth; lower part of the face: a man with a strong jaw. 3. (pl.) narrow mouth of a valley, channel, etc.: (fig.) into (out of) the jaws of death, into (out of) great danger. 4. (pl.) parts of a tool, machine, etc. (e.g. a vice) between which things are gripped or crushed. 5. (colloq.) talkativeness: Stop your jaw, (vulg.) Shut up! Be quiet! 6. (colloq.) long, dull talk giving moral advice. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) talk, esp. at tedious length; give a moral talk to: The teacher jawed the lazy boys.

jay [dʒei] n. (sorts of) noisy European bird with brightly coloured feathers; (fig.) impertinent person who chatters too much. '*jay-ˌwalker n. person who walks erratically across streets without paying attention to traffic and traffic-regulations.

jazz [dʒæz] n. [U] loud, restless music and dancing in syncopated rhythm, of U.S. Negro origin; noisy, grotesque proceedings: fond of ~; (attrib.) ~ music; a ~ band (playing ~ music); the age of ~. v.t. & i. 1. (VP 21) play or dance ~; behave in a gay, lively manner. 2. (VP 1, 10) play (a piece of music) so that it is ~: ~ a song-tune; make gay and lively; put energy into: Let's ~ party up (~ things up a bit). jaz ['dʒæzi] adj. discordant; loud in colou jazzy curtains (e.g. with bright re green, and purple stripes).

jeal ous ['dʒeləs] adj. 1. feeling showing fear or ill will because possible or actual loss of rights or lov
a ~ husband; ~ looks. 2. feeling showing unhappiness because of t better fortune, etc., of others: ~ of else's success. 3. taking watchful ca (of): ~ of one's rights; keep a ~ eye
sb. 4. (in the Bible, of God) requiri exclusive loyalty and whole-heart worship and service. ~ly adv.

jeal ous y ['dʒeləsi] n. 1. [U] bei jealous: a lover's ~; show great ~ of rival's success. 2. [C] instance of thi act or utterance that shows ~: I' tired of all these jealousies and quarre jean [dʒi:n, dʒein] n. 1. [U] stron cotton cloth: (attrib.) ~ overalls. 2. (p (usu. [dʒi:nz]) workman's overalls, made of ~; (usu. tight-fitting) ~ trousers for boys, girls, or women.

jeep [dʒi:p] n. small, light utility motor vehicle with great freedom of movement, useful on rough ground.

jeer [dʒiə*] v.i. (VP 21, 24) mock, laugh rudely (at): ~ at a defeated enemy; a ~ing crowd. n. [C] ~ing remark; taunt. ~-ing ly adv.

Jeans

Je ho vah [dʒi'houvə] n. name of G used in the Old Testament.

Je hu ['dʒi:hju:] n. (old-fashioned joki name for a) furious driver (from t Jehu in the Bible, 2 Kings, ix. 20).

je june [dʒi'dʒu:n] adj. (of writings) dr uninteresting; unsatisfying to the min ~ly adv. ~ness n.

jell [dʒel] v.i. & t. (VP 21, 1) (collo (cause to) become like jelly; solidify.

jel ly ['dʒeli] n. 1. [U] clear, soft, sem transparent food substance made fro gelatin; similar substance made fro fruit juice and sugar. 2. [C & U] (po tion of) this substance prepared in mould, flavoured and coloured, as sweet dish. 3. [U] ~-like substance. '*~-fish n. ~-like sea-animal as shown here. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) (cause to) become like ~.

jem my ['dʒemi] n. crowbar, esp. as used by burglars for forcing open doors, windows, and drawers.

jen ny ['dʒeni] n. see spinning-~ (at spin).

A jelly
fish

jeop ard ize ['dʒepədaiz] v.t. (VP 1) put in danger. jeop ard y ['dʒe ədi] n. [U] danger, usu. in the phras be in ~ (of one's life, etc.).

bo a [dʒə:'bouə] n. small rat-like ımal of African deserts with long ıd legs and ability to jump well.

e mi ad [ˌdʒeri'maiæd] n. long, sad, d complaining story of troubles, mis- tunes, etc.

e mi ah [ˌdʒeri'maiə] n. person who nounces what he considers to be the ils of his time; doleful prophet.

i cho ['dʒerikou] n. town in Pales- ne: (sl.) Go to ~! (= Go about your siness! Go away!)

k [dʒə:k] n. [C] 1. sudden push, pull, rt, stop, twist, lift, or throw: The in stopped with a ~ (a series of ~s). 2. dden involuntary twitch of a muscle muscles. 3. physical ~s, (colloq.) ysical exercises. v.t. & i. (VP 1, , 23) give a ~ to; move with a ~ or s: He ~ed the fish out of the water. he train ~ed along (~ed to a stop). n't ~ out your words; try to recite re smoothly. ~y adj. (-ier, -iest) with s; not smooth: a ~y ride in an old s. ~i ly adv. ~i ness n.

k [dʒə:k] v.t. (VP 1) cure sp. beef) by cutting it into ng slices and drying it in e sun.

kin ['dʒə:kin] n. short, ose-fitting jacket, usu. of ather (as worn by men in den times).

ry ['dʒeri] n. 1. '~-*uilder, '~-ˌ*building, ilder, building, of houses poor quality with bad aterials; (hence) '~-*built ouses). 2. '~*can, army-yle metal container used r carrying extra supplies water or petrol on long urneys. 3. (army sl.) J~, erman soldier. 4. (sl.) amber-pot.

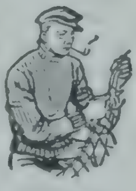
A jerkin

sey ['dʒə:zi] n. 1. close-ting knitted woollen gar-ent with sleeves. 2. (J~) w of the breed that origin-y came from J~, one of the Channel ands (near the French coast).



A jersey (def. 1)

sa mine ['dʒesəmin], see jasmine.

t [dʒest] n. [C] 1. joke; sth. said or done cause amusement. in ~, as a joke, not earnest. 2. object of ridicule: a standing sth. or sb. always laughed at. v.i. (VP , 24) make ~s; act or speak lightly: n't ~ about serious things. He's not a n to ~ with. ~ing adj. spoken in ~: ing remarks; fond of ~s: a ~ing fellow. ing ly adv.

ter ['dʒestə*] n. person who jests, esp. olden times) a man whose duty it was make jokes to amuse the court or noble usehold in which he was employed.

s u it ['dʒezjuit] n. member of the ciety of Jesus, a R.C. order founded by Ignatius Loyola in 1533, taking vows of obedience, poverty, and chastity: (as used by opponents of the Society) person who thinks that it may be right to dissemble or prevaricate if this helps to obtain good results. ~i cal [ˌdʒezju'itikl] adj. of or like the ~s.

Je sus ['dʒi:zəs] n. the founder of the Christian religion.

¹jet [dʒet] n. [C] 1. continuous strong stream of gas, liquid, steam, or flame, forced out of a small opening: The pipe burst and a jet of water shot across the kitchen. jet propulsion, propulsion of aircraft by engines that suck in air at the front, mix the air with gases, and send out the hot, burnt gases in jets at the back. (Hence, jet aircraft (airliners), jet-propelled, etc.). 2. (pl.) discontinuous stream of liquid, gas, etc.: He cut his wrist so badly that jets of blood spurted out. 3. narrow opening from which a jet comes out: a gas-jet. v.i. & t. (-tt-) come, send out, in a jet or jets.

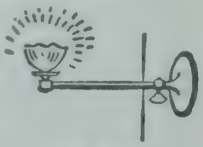
A jet fighter



A gas-jet

²jet [dʒet] n. [U] hard, black mineral that takes a brilliant polish, used for buttons, ornaments, etc.; the colour of this mineral; (attrib.) made of jet; (also 'jet-'black) deep, glossy black.

jet sam ['dʒetsəm] n. [U] goods thrown overboard from a ship at sea to lighten it (e.g. in a storm); such goods washed up on the seashore. flotsam and ~, (fig. use) persons whose lives have been wrecked: Sick and starving refugees are the flotsam and ~ of war.

jet ti son ['dʒetisn] v.t. (VP 1) throw (goods) overboard in order to lighten a ship (e.g. during a storm).

jet ty ['dʒeti] n. structure built out into the sea as a breakwater or as a landing-place.

Jew [dʒu:] n. person of the Hebrew race. Jew ess ['dʒu(:)is] n. female Jew. Jew ish ['dʒu(:)iʃ] adj. of the Jews.

jew el ['dʒu:əl] n. 1. precious stone (e.g. a diamond or a ruby); ornament with a ~ or ~s set in it. 2. (fig.) sth. or sb. highly valued: His wife is a ~. v.t. (-ll-) adorn with ~s: (usu. in p.p.) a ~led watch (ring). ~ler n. trader in ~s; person who sells ~s. ~ry, ~ler y ['dʒu:əlri] n. [U] ~s collectively (i.e. precious stones, ornaments set with ~s, etc.).

Jez e bel [ˈdʒezəbl] n. (as a term of abuse) shameless, immoral woman; (formerly) woman who painted her face.

¹jib [dʒib] n. 1. small triangular sail (in front of the mainsail). ˈjib-ˈboom n. spar to which the lower part of a jib is fastened. (See Appendix 3.) the cut of his jib, his personal appearance. 2. projecting arm of a crane or derrick.

²jib [dʒib] v.i. (-bb-) (VP 21, 24) (of a horse, etc.) stop suddenly; refuse to go forwards; (fig.) refuse to proceed: On seeing the gate the horse jibbed. jib at, (fig.) show unwillingness or dislike: He jibbed at working overtime every day. My small car sometimes jibs at a steep hill.

jibe [dʒaib] v.i. = gibe.

jif fy [ˈdʒifi] n. (colloq.) moment: in a ~, very soon. Please wait half a ~.

¹jig [dʒig] n. [C] (music for a) quick, lively dance. v.i. & t. (-gg-) 1. (VP 21, 23) dance a jig. 2. (VP 10, 23) move up and down in a quick, jerky way: jigging up and down in excitement; jig a baby (up and down) on one's knees. ˈjigsaw n. = machine fretsaw. jigsaw puzzle n. picture, map, etc., pasted on thin board and cut in irregularly shaped pieces which are to be fitted together again.

²jig [dʒig] n. [C] appliance that holds a piece of work and guides the tools that are used on it.

¹jig ger [ˈdʒigə*] v.t. (only in the passive) as a substitute for an oath: Well, I'm ~ed!

²jig ger [ˈdʒigə*] n. flea or other parasite that burrows under the skin; (in England) harvest mite.

jig ger y-po ker y [ˈdʒigəriˈpoukəri] n. [U] (colloq.) hocus-pocus; humbug.

jig gle [ˈdʒigl] v.t. rock or jerk lightly.

jilt [dʒilt] v.t. (VP 1) (usu. of a woman) give up, send away, a lover after giving him encouragement or a promise to marry: When he lost his job, she ~ed him. n. woman who ~s a man.

Jim Crow [ˈdʒim ˈkrou] n. (U.S.A.) contemptuous name for a Negro: ~ car, public vehicle set apart for use of Negroes.

jim-jams [ˈdʒimˈdʒæmz] n. pl. (sl.) (with def. art.) the *creeps: have the ~. He gives me the ~.

jin gle [ˈdʒiŋgl] n. [C] 1. metallic clinking or ringing sound (as of coins, keys, or small bells). 2. series of the same or similar sounds in words, esp. when designed to attract the attention; jingling verse. v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10, 21, 23) (cause to) make a light, ringing sound: He ~d his keys. The money in his pocket ~d. 2. (VP 21) (of verse) be full of alliterations and rhymes that make it easy to learn and remember.

jin go [ˈdʒiŋgou] n. (pl. -oes, [-z]) person who combines strong nationalism with contempt for other countries, esp. one who supports a warlike policy. By (sl.) exclamation expressing pleasure, etc., or giving emphasis statement. ~ism n. attitude of principles of, ~es. ~is tic [ˌdʒiŋgou tik] adj. characteristic of ~es.

jinks [dʒiŋks] n. [U] (have, hold) high noisy merrymaking; uncontrolled jinn [dʒin] n. = genie.

jin rik i sha, jin rick sha [dʒinˈrik
n. see rickshaw.

jinx [dʒiŋks] n. (sl.) person or thing brings bad luck.

jit ney [ˈdʒitni] n. (U.S.A. colloq.)
five cents. 2. motor-bus that carri passengers at low fares.

jit ters [ˈdʒitəz] n. pl. (U.S.A. sl.)
treme nervousness: have the ~. ˈjitte bug n. nervous person; person addict to dancing to certain kinds of ja music. jit ter y adj. nervous; frigh ened.

jiu jit su [dʒuːˈdʒitsuː] n. (older, now ou of-date form of) judo.

jive [dʒaiv] n. (sl.) style of jazz musi dancing to this. v.i. play or dance ~.

¹job [dʒɔb] n. 1. complete(d) piece work: He has made a good job of it, h done it well. Your new Bentley car is lovely job, is magnificent. odd jobs, bi of work not connected with one anothe an odd-job man, one who earns mon by doing any bits of work that he may asked to do. be paid by the job, paid separately for each job. on th job, (sl.) at work; busy. 2. a goo (bad) job, a fortunate (an unfortuna state of affairs: give sb. or sth. up as bad job, decide that there is no hope success, etc. 3. (colloq.) difficult tas It's a job for a poor man to keep his w and children decently dressed. 4. (collo employment; post: He has a job as bus-conductor. He's out of a job, u employed. Well-paid jobs for the bo positions (in government offices, n tionalized industries, etc.) for politic supporters. 5. a job lot, a collection goods bought as a speculation. 6. (s achievement of a purpose, or a piece public or private business, by intrig or dishonesty: a put-up job (see put- in def. 9 of put).

²job [dʒɔb] v.t. & i. (-bb-) 1. (VP 21; us present participle) do odd jobs: a jo bing gardener, one who does not wo for one employer only. 2. (VP 1) ( the stock exchange) do business (as broker) for others; buy and sell (stoc goods) as a broker. 3. (VP 21) turn position of trust to private advanta use an official position to gain und served advantage for oneself or on friends; (VP 18) gain an advantage this way: He jobbed his brother into well-paid post. job ber n. 1. dealer stock exchange securities. (Cf. brok

2. person who jobs (def. 1 above). 3. erson who jobs (def. 3 above). jobber y n. [U] jobbing; (esp.) use of unfair eans to gain private advantage.

ob [dʒoub] n. (from Job in the Book of Job in the O.T.) person of great patience: She would try the patience of Job, is very ifficult to endure, very vexatious. a Job's comforter, one who aggravates he distress of the person he is supposed o be comforting.

ock ey ['dʒɔki] n. professional rider in orse-races. J~ Club, club that controls horse-racing in England. v.t. & i. VP 10, 18, 21) trick; cheat: He ~ed Green out of his job. ~ for position, (a) (in racing) jostle other riders in order o get a more favourable position. (b) fig.) try by skilful management, by ricky manœuvring, to gain an advantage.

cose [dʒə'kous] adj. humorous; playful. ~ly adv. ~ness, jo cos i ty [dʒou'kɔsiti, dʒə-] nn.

oc u lar ['dʒɔkjulə*] adj. humorous; given to joking. ~ly adv. ~i ty [ˌdʒɔkju'læriti] n. [U] being ~; [C] ~ act or utterance.

oc und ['dʒɔkənd, 'dʒouk-] adj. merry; cheerful. jo cun di ty [dʒou'kʌnditi] n. [U] being ~; [C] ~ act or utterance.

del ['joudl] v.i. see yodel.

odh purs ['dʒɔdpuəz] n. pl. long breeches for horse-riding, tight-fitting from knee to ankle.

og [dʒɔg] v.t. & i. (-gg-) 1. (VP 1, 10) give a slight knock or push to; shake with a push or jerk: The horse jogged its rider up and down. He jogged my elbow, touched it (e.g. to attract my attention, to warn me, etc.). jog sb.'s memory, try to make him remember or recall sth. 2. (VP 21, 23) run, move, at a pace causing an unsteady shaking motion: The old bus jogged us up and down. We jogged along the bad roads. 3. (fig.) make slow, uneventful progress: We're jogging on (along). Matters jog along. 4. (VP 23) get through the time: We must jog on somehow until business conditions improve. n. [C] 1. slight push, shake, or nudge. 2. (also jog-'trot) slow walk or trot.

og gle ['dʒɔgl] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) shake, move, by or as if by repeated jerks. n. slight shake.

ohn Bull ['dʒɔn'bul] n. the English nation; typical Englishman.

in [dʒɔin] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10, 18) ut together; unite; connect (two oints, things) with a line, rope, bridge, tc.: ~ one thing to another; ~ two hings together; ~ the pieces together; ~ an sland to the mainland (with a bridge); ~ two persons in marriage, make them an and wife. Where does this stream ~ the Danube? ~ battle, begin fighting. ~ hands, clasp each other's hands. (fig.) combine in an enterprise, etc. ~ forces (with . . .), unite in action; work together. 2. (VP 21, 23) come together; unite: Parallel lines are, by definition, lines that never ~. Which two rivers ~ at Lyons? 3. (VP 1) become a member of: ~ the army (one's regiment, a club, a band of robbers). join up, (VP 23) (colloq.) join the army. 4. (VP 1, 18, 24) come into the company of; associate with (sb. in sth.): I'll ~ you in a few minutes. Will you ~ us in a walk, come with us? Why doesn't Tom ~ in the conversation, why is he silent? May I ~ in the game? n. place or line where two things are ~ed: The two pieces were put together so cleverly that the ~ could not be seen.

join er ['dʒɔinə*] n. skilled workman who makes the inside woodwork of buildings, etc. (Cf. carpenter and cabinet-maker.) ~y n. [U] work of a ~: learn ~y; lessons in ~y.

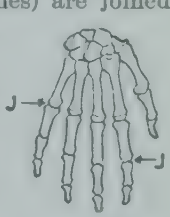
^{1}joint [dʒɔint] n. 1. place, line, or surface at which two things are joined: the ~s in a suit of armour. 2. device or structure by which two things (e.g. two lengths of pipe, two bones) are joined together: finger ~s. out of ~, (of bones) dislocated; pushed out of position: He fell and put his knee out of ~. put sb.'s nose out of ~, (fig.) take his place in another's affections or favour. 3. limb (shoulder, leg) or other division of an ox, a sheep, etc., which a butcher supplies to customers: a slice off the ~ and two veg. [vedʒ] (e.g. beef with potato and cabbage). 4. (sl., esp. U.S.A.) place visited by low-class people for gambling, drinking, or drug-taking.



JJ. Finger joints

^{2}joint [dʒɔint] adj. (attrib. only) held or done by, belonging to, two or more persons together: ~ efforts (ownership, responsibility); a ~-stock company, a number of persons who carry on a business with capital contributed by all; during their ~ lives, (legal) while they are both (or all) living; settle a trade dispute by ~ consultation (e.g. workers and management). ~ly adv.

^{3}joint [dʒɔint] v.t. (VP 1) 1. provide with a joint or joints (def. 2): a ~ed fishing-rod (doll). 2. divide at a ~ or into ~s (def. 3).

join ture ['dʒɔintʃə*] n. [C] property settled on a woman during her marriage, to be used by her after her husband's death.

joist [dʒɔist] n. one of the parallel pieces of timber (from wall to wall) to which floorboards are nailed; steel beam supporting a floor.

J. Joist

joke [dʒouk] n. sth. said or done to cause amusement; circumstance that causes amusement: make a ~ about sb. or sth.; have a ~ with sb. (share one with him); play a ~ on sb., cause him to be the victim of a ~. a practical ~, a trick played on sb. in order to make him appear ridiculous. in ~, as a ~, not seriously: It was done (said) only in ~. the ~ of the village (town, etc.), the laughing-stock; person, event, etc., which causes great amusement. (It's) no ~, a serious matter. v.i. (VP 21, 23, 24) make ~s: He's always joking. I was only joking. jok ing ly adv. in a joking manner.

jok er [ˈdʒoukə*] n. 1. person who is fond of making jokes. 2. (sl.) fellow. 3. extra playing card (the 53rd) which is used in some games as the highest trump.

jol ly [ˈdʒɔli] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. joyful; gay; merry; slightly drunk. 2. (colloq.) pleasant; delightful: We're having ~ weather. adv. (colloq.) very: I'll take ~ good care not to lend him money again. v.t. (VP 1, 10) (colloq.) keep (sb.) in a good humour (esp. in order to win his co-operation): They jollied me along until I agreed to help them. jol li fi ca tion [ˌdʒɔlifiˈkeiʃən] n. [U] merry-making; festivity; [C] instance of this. jol li ty [ˈdʒɔliti] n. [U] state of being ~.

jol ly-boat [ˈdʒɔlibout] n. kind of ship's boat.

jolt [dʒoult] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 18, 21, 23) give a jerk or jerks to; shake up; (of a vehicle) move along by jerks: The old bus ~ed us as it went over the stony road. The bus ~ed along. n. jerk; sudden bump or shake. ~y adj. ~ing.

Jo nah [ˈdʒounə] n. person whose presence seems to bring ill luck; person who is sacrificed lest he should bring ill luck.

jon quil [ˈdʒɔŋkwil] n. kind of narcissus.

joss [dʒɔs] n. (in China) carving in stone, etc., of a god. ˈ~-house n. temple. ˈ~-stick n. stick of incense.

jos ser [ˈdʒɔsə*] n. (sl.) fool; fellow.

jos tle [ˈdʒɔsl] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 23, 24). push roughly (against); push (sb. away, from): We were ~d by the crowd. The pickpocket ~d against me in the crowd.

¹jot [dʒɔt] n. (usu. with neg.) small amount: There's not a jot of truth in the story, no truth at all.

²jot [dʒɔt] v.t. (-tt-) (VP 10 with down) make a quick written note of: The policeman jotted down my name and address. jot ter n. notebook or pad for rough notes. jot tings n. pl. notes jotted down.

jour nal [ˈdʒəːnl] n. 1. daily newspaper; other periodical: the Ladies' Home J~; the Economic J~. 2. daily record o news, events, business accounts, etc ~ese [ˌdʒəːnəˈliːz] n. [U] style of English composition common in second-rate ~s (e.g. the use of 'prior to interment' for 'before burial'). ~ism [ˈdʒəːnəlizəm] n. [U] work of writing for editing, or publishing ~s. ~ist n. person engaged in ~ism. ~is tic [ˌdʒəːnəˈlistik] adj. characteristic of ~ism.

jour ney [ˈdʒəːni] n. (distance travelled in) going to a place, esp. a distant place (usu. on land: cf. voyage): a ~ of three days (or) a three days' ~; reach one's ~'s end; go (come, send sb.) on a ~; make a ~ half-way round the world. v.i. (VP 21, 23) travel; make a ~.

jour ney man [ˈdʒəːnimən] n. (pl. men [-mən]) skilled workman who works for a master (contrasted with an apprentice).

joust [dʒuːst, dʒaust] v.i. & n. (engage in a) fight on horseback with lances (as between knights in the Middle Ages).

Jove [dʒouv] n. Jupiter, esp. By ~! (as an exclamation of surprise, etc.).

jo vial [ˈdʒouvjəl] adj. full of fun and good humour; merry: a ~ fellow; in a ~ mood. ~ly adv. jo vi al i ty [ˌdʒouviˈæliti] n. [U] being ~; good-humoured behaviour; (pl.) ~ acts or utterances.

jowl [dʒaul] n. jaw; lower part of the face: a man with a heavy ~ (a heavy-jowled man), one with heavy jaws, a fold or folds of flesh hanging from the chin.

joy [dʒɔi] n. 1. [U] deep pleasure; great gladness: I wish you joy. We heard with joy that she had escaped injury. He has been a good friend to me, both in joy and in sorrow. They danced (jumped) for joy, because they were full of joy. To my great joy she said she would marry me. ˈjoy-bells n. pl. bells rung to celebrate a happy occasion. ˈjoy-ride n. (sl.) pleasure-ride in a motor-car, esp. in one that is taken without the owner's knowledge or consent. ˈjoy-stick n. (sl.) control lever of an aircraft. 2. [C] sth. that gives joy; occasion of great happiness: the joys and sorrows of life. v.i. (VP 24, 25) (poet.) rejoice: joy in a friend's success. joy ful [ˈdʒɔiful] adj. filled with, showing, causing, joy. joy ful ly adv. joy less [ˈdʒɔilis] adj. without joy; gloomy; sad. joy less ly adv. joy ful ness, joy less ness nn. joy ous [ˈdʒɔiəs] adj. full of joy. joy ous ly adv. joy ous ness n.

ju bi lant [ˈdʒuːbilənt] adj. triumphant; showing joy. ~ly adv. ju bi la tion [ˌdʒuːbiˈleiʃən] n. [U] rejoicing; [C] occasion of this.

ju bi lee [ˈdʒuːbiliː] n. [C] (celebration of) 50th anniversary of some event, e.g. a wedding. silver ~, 25th anniversary. diamond ~, 60th anniversary.

¹judge [dʒʌdʒ] n. 1. (of God) supreme arbiter; public officer with authority o hear and decide cases in a law-court f. magistrate and justice, def. 3): ~-nade law, principles based on ~s' lecisions, not statute law; as grave as ~. 2. person who decides in a conest, competition, dispute, etc.: the ~s t a flower show. 3. person qualified and ble to give opinions on merits and values: a good ~ of horses. He says the liamonds are not genuine; but then, he's no ~, does not know much about diamonds. 4. (in Hebrew history) officer given temporary authority as ruler in the period between Joshua and the Kings. J~s, the book of the O.T. recording this period.

udge [dʒʌdʒ] v.t. & i. (pres. part. judging) 1. (VP 1, 21) act as a judge (def. 1); hear and try (cases) in a law-court: God will ~ all men. 2. (VP 1, 21) give a decision (in a competition, etc.): Who is going to ~ the roses at the Flower Show? Will you ~ at the Baby Show next week? 3. (VP 1, 4, 7, 11, 15, 21, 24) estimate; consider; form an opinion about: I ~d him to be about 50. I can't ~ whether he was right or wrong. I ~d, from his manner, that he was guilty. The committee ~d it better to postpone the meeting. Don't ~ (of) a man by his looks. Judging from what you say, he ought to succeed.

udg(e) ment ['dʒʌdʒmənt] n. 1. [U] judging or being judged: sit in ~ on a case (in a law-court); pass ~ on a prisoner, give a decision after trial. the Day of J~, the day when God will judge all men. 2. [C] decision of a judge or court: The ~ was in his favour. 3. [U] process of judging: an error of ~. 4. [U] good sense; ability to judge (defs. 2 & 3): a man of ~. He showed excellent ~ in choosing a wife. 5. [C] misfortune considered to be a punishment from God: Your failure is a ~ on you for being so lazy. 6. [U & C] opinion: in my ~; in the ~ of most people.

u di ca ture ['dʒu:dikətʃə*] n. 1. [U] administration of justice: the Supreme Court of J~ (full title of the English Courts of Justice). 2. [C] body of judges.

u di cial [dʒu(:)'diʃəl] adj. 1. of or by a court of justice; of a judge or of judgement: the ~ bench, the judges; take (bring) ~ proceedings against sb., bring a law case against him: a ~ separation, the right to separate from a husband or wife, granted by a judge, usu. with arrangements favourable to the wronged person concerning money or children; ~ murder, legal but unjust sentence of death. 2. critical; impartial: a man with a ~ mind. ~ly adv.

u di ci a ry [dʒu(:)'diʃiəri] n. the judges of a State collectively.

u di cious [dʒu(:)'diʃəs] adj. showing or having good sense. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

ju do ['dʒu:dou] n. [U] Japanese art of wrestling and self-defence in which an opponent's weight and strength are used against him.

^{1}jug [dʒʌg] n. 1. deep vessel with a handle and lip; the contents of such a vessel: a milk-jug; drink a jug of milk. 2. (sl.) prison. jug ful n. (pl. jugfuls).

^{2}jug [dʒʌg] v.t. (-gg-) (VP 1) 1. (usu. in p.p.) stew or boil (hare, etc.) in a jug or jar: jugged hare. 2. (colloq.) imprison.

Jug ger naut ['dʒʌgənɔ:t] n. (fig.) cause or belief to which persons are sacrificed or to which they sacrifice themselves: the ~ of war.

jug gle ['dʒʌgl] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 24) do tricks, perform (with balls, plates, etc.) to amuse people; play tricks (with facts, figures, etc.) to deceive people. 2. (VP 1, 18) play tricks with; deceive: The manager ~d his figures to make it seem that the company was prosperous. He ~d her out of her money. jug gler n. person who ~s.

A juggler

Ju go slav ['ju:gou'slɑ:v] adj. & n. (citizen) of the State called Jugoslavia.

jug u lar ['dʒʌgjulə*] adj. of the neck or throat: ~ veins, the veins of the neck, returning blood from the head to the heart.

juice [dʒu:s] n. [U & C] 1. fluid part of fruits, vegetables, and meat: a glass of orange ~; a mixture of fruit ~s. 2. fluid in organs of the body: gastric (digestive) ~s, those that help to digest food. 3. (colloq.) electricity, petrol, or other source of power. ~less adj.

juic y ['dʒu:si] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. containing much juice: ~ oranges. 2. (colloq.) interesting (esp. because scandalous, etc.). juic i ness n.

ju-jit su [dʒu:'dʒitsu] n. Japanese art of self-defence from which judo was developed.

ju jube ['dʒu:dʒu:b] n. [C] lozenge of gelatin, flavoured and sweetened.

juke-box ['dʒu:kbɔks] n. [C] coin-operated record-player (in cafés, amusement arcades, etc.).

ju lep ['dʒu:lep] n. 1. sweet drink, esp. one in which medicine is taken. 2. (U.S.A.) spirit (e.g. whisky), mint, and ice: mint ~.

Ju lian ['dʒu:ljən] adj. of Julius Caesar: the ~ calendar, the calendar introduced by him.

Ju ly [dʒu(:)'lai] n. seventh month of the year.

jum ble ['dʒʌmbl] v.i. & t. (VP 1, 10, 21, 23) mix, be mixed, in a confused way: The untidy boy's toys, books, shoes, and clothes were all ~d up together in the cupboard. n. confused mixture;

muddle. '~-*sale n. sale of a mixed collection of old or second-hand articles, usu. for charity.

¹jump [dʒʌmp] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 23, 24) move quickly by sudden use of the muscles of the legs or (of fish) the tail; rise suddenly (from a seat, etc.); move quickly (into sth.): ~ to one's feet; ~ over a fence; ~ up and down in excitement; ~ up out of one's chair; ~ into a taxi, enter one quickly; (fig.) ~ from one subject to another in a speech; ~ down sb.'s throat, answer, interrupt, him violently. 2. (VP 1) pass over by moving in this way: ~ a ditch; cause (a horse, etc.) to move in this way: ~ a horse over a fence. ~ the rails (track), (of a train, tram, etc.) leave the rails suddenly. 3. (VP 21, 23) move with a jerk or jerks (from excitement, joy, etc.); start suddenly: ~ for joy. Her heart ~ed when she heard the news. 4. (VP 21, 23) rise suddenly in price: Gold shares ~ed on the Stock Exchange yesterday. 5. ~ at, accept eagerly: ~ at an offer. ~ to, reach hastily: ~ to conclusions. ~ (up)on, attack, reprove severely; scold: The teacher ~ed on the inattentive pupil (e.g. by suddenly asking him a question). 6. (colloq.) ~ a claim, take possession of land or mining rights (e.g. in a new gold-field) to which another person has already established a claim. ~ a train, travel illegally by goods train (e.g. by riding in or under a closed wagon). ~ the queue, (fig.) obtain sth. without waiting for one's proper turn.

²jump [dʒʌmp] n. 1. act of jumping; sudden spring from the ground: the long (high) ~, athletic competitions. 2. sudden movement caused by fear: give sb. a ~, frighten him; be all of a ~ (on the ~), be in a nervous state. the ~s, (colloq.) form of nervous excitement with uncontrollable bodily movements. 3. sudden rise in amount, price, value, etc.: a ~ in exports of electrical goods. jump y adj. (-ier, -iest) excited and nervous. ~i ness n.

jump er ['dʒʌmpə*] n. 1. outer garment worn by women, or, made of cloth, by sailors, pulled on over the head and coming down to the hips. 2. person, animal, or insect, that jumps.

A jumper

junc tion ['dʒʌŋ*k*ʃən] n. 1. [U] joining or being joined; [C] instance of this: The allied armies hope to effect a ~, meet and unite. 2. [C] station where railway lines meet or diverge.

junc ture ['dʒʌŋ*k*tʃə*] n. [C] 1. place where things join. 2. state of affairs, esp. the phrase: at this ~, at this time, when affairs are (were) in this state.

June [dʒu:n] n. sixth month of the year.

jun gle ['dʒʌŋgl] n. (usu. with def. ar sing. or pl.) (land covered with) thick growing underwood and tangled veget tion, e.g. in India and Pakistan: cu path through the ~; ~ warfare; ~ bir and animals; (in compounds) '~-co '~-fowl. jun gly adj. of, like, fro the ~ or its inhabitants.

ju nior ['dʒu:njə*] adj. & n. 1. (perso younger, lower in rank, than anothe He is my ~ by two years. He is the partner in the firm. Tom Brown, Juni (or abbrev. to Jun., Jr.), used of a so having the same first name as his fathe or the younger of two boys of the sam surname in a school, etc. 2. (U.S. schools and colleges) student in h third year (of four).

ju ni per ['dʒu:nipə*] n. evergreen shru with dark berries from which an oil obtained (oil of ~), used in medicine, et

A JUNK

¹junk [dʒʌŋk] n. [U] old, discarded things of little or no value: an attic full of ~.

²junk [dʒʌŋk] n. [C] flat-bottomed Chinese sailing-vessel.

jun ket ['dʒʌŋkit] n. 1. [U & C] (dish of) milk curdled by the addition of acid, ofte sweetened and flavoured. 2. (U.S.A.) soci gathering for a feast; picnic. v.i. tak part in a ~ (def. 2); (hence) ~ing feasting; merrymaking.

Ju no esque [ˌdʒu:nou'esk] adj. (of woman) having a stately beauty (lik the goddess Juno).

jun ta ['dʒʌntə] n. (in Spain and Italy deliberative or administrative council.

jun to ['dʒʌntou] n. (pl. ~s) body of me who combine secretly for political pur poses; faction; clique.

Ju pi ter ['dʒu:pitə*] n. (ancient Rome ruler of gods and men; largest planet o the solar system.

ju ri di cal [dʒuə'ridikəl] adj. of law o legal proceedings.

ju ris dic tion [ˌdʒuəris'dikʃən] n. [U administration of justice; legal author ity; right to exercise this; extent o this: The courts have ~ not only ove our own citizens but over foreigners livin here. This matter does not come withi our ~, we have no authority to dea with it.

ju ris pru dence [ˌdʒuəris'pru:dəns] n. [U science and philosophy of human law ju rist ['dʒuərist] n. expert in law ju ror ['dʒuərə*] n. member of a jury.

ju ry ['dʒuəri] n. [C] 1. body of person (in U.S.A. and Brit. twelve) who swear t give a true decision (a verdict) on issue of fact in a case in a court of justice trial by ~. The ~ found the prisoner no guilty. '~-box n. enclosure for a ~ i court. 2. grand ~, specially chose body of 12 to 23 persons who (until 1933) inquired into a charge in order to decide whether there was enough evidence to justify a trial or whether the case should be abandoned. coroner's ~, one that decides the cause of a death (if unnatural death, e.g. suicide or murder, is suspected). 3. body of persons chosen to give a decision or make an award in a competition; (fig.) the ~ of public opinion, the public, thought of as a ~, deciding a question. ~man (pl. -men) [ˈdʒuərimən] n.

u ry-mast [ˈdʒuərimɑːst] n. temporary mast put up in place of one that is broken or lost overboard.

ust [dʒʌst] adv. 1. used with the Perfect Tenses, and placed with the verb, to indicate the immediate past—a moment, a very short time, earlier: They have ~ left. (Cf. They left a few minutes ago.) My son had ~ left school. 2. exactly; precisely: It's ~ two o'clock. It's ~ on nine, will be 9 o'clock in a few seconds. This is ~ what I wanted. It was ~ here that the accident happened. That's ~ what I was going to say. J~ so, exactly so; precisely. ~ as, (a) quite: This is ~ as good as the other. (b) exactly: Leave everything ~ as you find it. Come ~ as you are, i.e. do not make any special preparations. 3. at this (that) very moment: We're ~ off (~ going, ~ about to start). His new book is ~ out (~ published). 4. (often preceded by only) barely; almost not: We only ~ caught the train, i.e. we almost missed it. He ~ managed to pass the examination. (Cf. He nearly failed.) 5. used before other advv. with little or no meaning: ~ about here; ~ about enough; ~ over here (there); ~ about tall enough. 6. ~ *now, (a) at this moment: I'm rather busy ~ now. (b) a short time ago: Tom came in ~ now; he's probably upstairs. 7. used in familiar, colloquial style, esp. with imperatives, to call attention to sth., sometimes to soften what follows: J~ listen to him! (and note how clever, silly, amusing, etc., he is). J~ taste this! (so that you may judge its quality, say whether it is right, etc.). J~ feel it! (and note how hard, soft, smooth, etc., it is). J~ (= please) come here a moment. J~ a moment, please (= Please wait a moment.) 8. only; merely: He's ~ an ordinary man. I've come here ~ (=on purpose) to see you. Would you walk five miles ~ to see a film show? 9. (colloq.) absolutely: The concert was ~ splendid. 'Did you enjoy yourselves?'—'I should ~ say we did!' (emphatic—we had a most enjoyable time).

ust [dʒʌst] adj. 1. fair; in accordance with what is right: a ~ man; ~ conduct; be ~ to a person. 2. well deserved; fairly earned: receive one's ~ deserts, be rewarded or punished as one deserves. 3. reasonable; based on reasonable grounds: a ~ opinion; ~ suspicions. ~ly *adv. ~ness *n.

jus tice [ˈdʒʌstis] n. 1. [U] just conduct; the quality of being right and fair: treat all men with ~. in ~ to, in order to be just to. do ~ to, treat fairly; show that one has a just opinion of, that one realizes the value of: To do him ~, we must admit that his intentions were good. He did ~ to the dinner, showed, by eating heartily, that the food was good. do oneself ~, behave in a way that is worthy of one's abilities: You're not doing yourself ~, you could do much better if you tried. 2. [U] the law and its administration: a court of ~; bring a criminal to ~, try him and punish him. 3. [C] judge of the Supreme Court: the Lord Chief J~; the Lords J~s; the Chief J~ of England; Mr J~ Smith. 4. J~ of the Peace, a magistrate.

jus ti ci a ry [dʒʌsˈtiʃiəri] n. (jurisdiction of a) judge or chief justice: (in Scotland) the High Court of J~.

jus ti fy [ˈdʒʌstifai] v.t. (VP 1, 17) 1. show that (a person, statement, act, etc.) is right, reasonable, or proper: The Prime Minister justified the action of the Government. 2. be a good reason for: Your wish to go for a walk does not ~ your leaving the baby alone in the house. 3. adjust (a line of type) to fill a space neatly. jus ti fi a ble [ˈdʒʌstifaiəbl] adj. that can be justified. jus ti fi a bly *adv. jus ti fi ca tion [ˌdʒʌstifiˈkeiʃən] n. [U] 1. sth. that justifies: His justification for stealing was that his children were starving. 2. the act of ~ing sth. 3. the state of being free from blame: It can be said for his justification that . . .

jut [dʒʌt] v.i. (-tt-) (VP 21, 23 with out) stand out from; be out of line (from what is around): The soldier saw a gun jutting out from a bush. The balcony juts out over the garden.

jute [djuːt] n. [U] fibre from the outer skin of certain plants, used for making canvas, rope, etc: the ~ mills of Pakistan.

ju ve nile [ˈdʒuːvinail, -vən-] n. young person. adj. of, characteristic of, suitable for, ~s: ~ books; a ~ appearance; a ~ court (where children are tried); ~ delinquency, law-breaking by young people; ~ delinquent, young offender.

jux ta pose [ˌdʒʌkstəˈpouz, ˈdʒʌkstəpouz] v.t. (VP 1) place side by side. jux ta po si tion [ˌdʒʌkstəpəˈziʃən] n. [U] placing side by side; the state of being placed side by side.

K

K, k [kei] (pl. K's, k's [keiz]) the 11th letter of the alphabet.

Ka(f) fir ['kæfə*] n. (derog.) Bantu person; (pl., Stock Exchange sl.) S. African mining shares.

Kais er ['kaizə*] n. Emperor (esp. of Germany before 1918).

kale, kail [keil] n. kind of cabbage.

ka lei do scope [kə'laidəskoup] n. [C] 1. tube containing mirrors and small, loose pieces of coloured glass. When the tube is turned, constantly changing patterns are seen through the eye-piece. 2. (fig.) frequently changing pattern of bright scenes: Sunlight and shadow made the landscape a ~ of colour. ka lei do scop ic [kə,laidə'skɔpik] adj. quickly changing.

kalends ['kælendz] n. pl. calends.

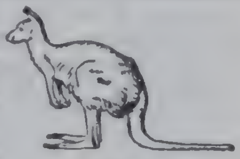
kan ga roo [,kæŋgə'ru:] n. Australian animal that jumps along on its strong hind legs. The female has a pouch in which its young are carried.



A kangaroo

ka o lin ['keiəlin] n. [U] fine white clay used in making porcelain.

ka pok ['keipɔk, 'kɑ:-] n. [U] soft cotton-like material (from seeds of a tropical tree) used for filling cushions, life-belts, mattresses, etc.

ka put [kæ'pu:t] adj. (predic. only; sl.) (G.) done for; ruined; smashed.

kar ma ['kɑ:mə] n. (in Buddhism) person's acts in one of his successive existences, looked upon as deciding his fate in his next existence.

ka va ['kɑ:və] n. [U] (intoxicating drink made from the roots of a) Polynesian shrub.

ka yak ['kaiæk] n. Eskimo canoe of light wood covered with sealskins; any rigid, canvas-covered, and decked canoe.

ked ge ree [,kedʒə'ri:] n. [U] rice cooked with fish, eggs, etc.

keel [ki:l] n. timber or steel structure on which the framework of a ship is built up: lay down a ~, start the building of a ship. on an even ~, (a) (of a ship) without movement to one side or the other. (b) (fig.) steady; steadily; calm(ly). v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) turn (a ship) over on one side (to repair it, clean the ~, etc.). 2. (VP 1, 10, 23 with over) capsize; upset.

¹keen [ki:n] adj. 1. (of points and edges) sharp: a knife with a ~ edge; (fig.) a ~ (cutting) wind; ~ sarcasm. 2. (of interest, the feelings) strong; deep. 3. (of the mind, the senses) active; sensitive; sharp: ~ sight; ~-sighted; a ~ intelligence; a ~ mental struggle. 4. (o persons, their character, etc.) eager anxious to do things: a ~ sportsman He's very ~ to see his birthplace again ~ on, (colloq.) interested in, fond o eager: ~ on going abroad. Mrs Hill i ~ on Tom('s) marrying Stella (~ tha Tom should marry Stella). Tom is no very ~ on Stella, does not like her much ~ly adv. ~ness n.

²keen [ki:n] n. Irish funeral song accompanied by wailing. v.i. & t. utter this song; lament (a person) in this way.

¹keep [ki:p] v.t. & i. (p.t. & p.p. kep [kept]) 1. (VP 1) pay proper regard to be faithful to: ~ a promise (the law, a treaty, an appointment); *~ faith with someone. 2. (VP 1) celebrate; honour in some special way: ~ the Sabbath (Christmas, one's birthday). 3. (VP 1, 18) guard; protect: ~ goal (cf. goal-keeper); ~ wicket, (in cricket) stand behind the wicket to stop the ball, etc (cf. wicket-keeper). God ~ you! (old-fashioned for) May God guard you! 4 (VP 1) continue to have; have charge of; have in one's possession and not give away; not lose; preserve (e.g. for future use or reference): You may ~ this; I don't want it back. He always ~s old letters. Will you ~ these books for me while I'm away? We'll ~ these for another day. K~ hold of it, don't let go. ~ (sth.) in mind, remember it. 5. ~ house, be responsible for the cleaning, shopping, cooking, etc.: His sister ~s house for him. (Cf. housekeeper.) ~ open house, be ready to entertain friends, visitors, etc., at any time. 6. (VP 1) own and look after (esp. for profit): ~ a shop (an inn) (cf. shopkeeper, innkeeper); ~ pigs (bees, hens). 7. (VP 1) make entries in or records of (business, etc.): ~ a diary; ~ accounts (records of money paid out and received); ~ books, keep accounts (cf. book-keeper). 8. (VP 1) provide what is needed for; support: Does he earn enough to ~ himself (his family)? He has a wife and ten children to ~. How many servants do they ~? Her father pays for her rent and board but she ~s herself in clothes, pays for them with money that she herself earns. He ~s a mistress in Highgate. (Hence, a kept woman, one who is provided with what she needs by a man whose mistress she is.) 9. (VP 1) have habitually on sale or in stock: 'Do you sell post-cards here?'—'I'm sorry, but we don't ~ them.' 10. (VP 1, 6, 7, 10) cause (sb. or sth.) to be or to continue in a specified condition or relation: ~ the children

uiet. The cold weather kept us indoors f your hands are cold, ~ them in your ockets. Please ~ the fire burning. I'm orry I kept you waiting. See also: ~ the all rolling; ~ *one's *balance (head);
*eep one's hair on. ~ sb. going, help
m to continue in a certain state, e.g.
y lending him money (Will £10 ~ you oing until pay-day?), by medical care
The doctors manage to ~ me going), etc.
1. (VP 10) detain; prevent (sb.) from aving: ~ sb. in prison (in custody).
xtra work kept me at the office until o'clock yesterday evening. I won't ~ ou long. 12. (VP 18) ~ sb. or sth. from oing) sth., prevent, hold back, re-rain: What kept you from joining me?
e must ~ them from getting to know r plans We must do something to ~ e roof from falling. 13. (VP 24) refrain, revent oneself (from): I couldn't ~ from ughing. 14. (VP 1) not let others now; not make known: Can you ~ a *cret? You should ~ your own counsel.
he can ~ nothing (back) from her friends, as no secrets from them. You may ~ our remarks to yourself, I don't want hear your opinions, observations, etc.
sth. to oneself, refuse to share it:
e kept the news to himself. 15. (VP 22, 3) continue to be, remain, in a speci-ed condition or relation: I hope you're ing well. Please ~ quiet. K~ cool, g.) don't get excited. We must ~ in ouch. 16. (VP 1) continue to follow; ot leave: We kept our way (course) all orning. While that big lorry ~s (or s to) the middle of the road we can't ossibly get past it. (See also ~ track*
.) 17. (VP 1) remain in: ~ one's bed oom, the house) (e.g. through illness r injury); remain in the saddle: She ouldn't ~ her seat (i.e. on a horse). 18.
P 23) continue in a specified direction, ourse, or activity: K~ straight on until ou get to the church. Traffic in Britain s to the left, runs on the left side of the oad. K~ left, (as a sign directing traffic ~ to the left). 19. (VP 22) continue oing sth.); do sth. continuously, freuently, or repeatedly: K~ smiling.
hy does she ~ giggling? My shoe lace s coming undone. (Cf. ~ on, def. 22.) 0. (VP 21) (of food) remain in good ondition, fit to eat: Will this meat ~ ll tomorrow? That news will ~, (fig.) ay be told later. 21. (with preps.) at sth., work at it: K~ at it! Don't ive up! Persist in what you are doing!
sb. at sth., make him work: K~ em at it; don't let them get lazy. ~ at b., see ~ on at (def. 22). ~ off (a sub-ct, etc.), say nothing about it, refuse speak about it. ~ to (one's word, a romise, a course of action) (cf. def. 1), what one has agreed to do, started to
: He always ~s to his promises (an agreement). ~ oneself to oneself, avoid meeting people. ~ to the subject (question, etc.), confine oneself to, not get away from, the subject, etc. 22. (with advv.) ~ away, (VP 23) avoid coming, going, to or near: K~ away from the fire. ~ sb. away, (VP 10) prevent sb. from coming or going to or near: What kept you away yesterday? K~ the child away from the water's edge. ~ back, (VP 23) stay back; not come forward. ~ sb. back, (VP 10) prevent from coming forward: The police had to ~ the crowd back. ~ sth. back, (VP 10) (a) conceal; not tell: I will ~ nothing back from you, will tell you everything. (b) hold back; not give: ~ back five shillings from her wages for insurance stamps. ~ down, (VP 23) lie low; crouch: K~ down or they'll see you. ~ sb. or sth. down, (VP 10) (a) hold in subjection: ~ down subject races. (b) control: He couldn't ~ down his anger. Sodium chlorate will ~ the weeds down on your paths, will kill them. We must ~ down expenses, make them low. (c) retain (food, etc.): He couldn't ~ his food down, had to vomit. ~ in, (VP 23) (a) remain inside, concealed, etc. (b) (of a fire, etc.) remain burning; not go out: Will the fire (stove) ~ in while we are at the theatre? ~ in with (sb.), remain on good terms with: Try to ~ in with your customers. ~ sth. in, (VP 10) (a) restrain (one's feelings): He couldn't ~ his indignation in. (Cf. burst out.) (b) see that (a fire) continues burning: Shall we ~ the fire in or let it out? (c) ~ a pupil in, require him to stay in class after school hours, as a punishment. (~ one's hand in, see hand, def. 6.) ~ off, (VP 23) stay at a distance, not come near: If the rain ~s off, if it doesn't rain. ~ sb. or sth. off, (VP 10) (a) cause to stay at a distance: They made a big fire to ~ wild animals off. K~ your hands off! Don't touch it (me, etc.). (See def. 21 for off, prep.) ~ on, (VP 23) (a) continue (to have, do, use, wear, etc.): ~ on (continue to work) although one is tired; ~ one's hat on; ~ an old servant on (not dismiss him or her). (~ one's hair on, see hair, def. 1.) (b) ~ on doing sth., do sth. continuously, or repeatedly, at short intervals: Don't ~ on asking silly questions. Why do the dogs ~ on barking? ~ on at (sb.), worry with repeated requests, complaints, etc.; harass. ~ out, (VP 23) remain outside: Danger! K~ out! K~ out of their quarrels, don't get mixed up in them. ~ sb. or sth. out, (VP 10) not let enter: Shut the windows and ~ the cold out. ~ sb. or sth. under, (VP 10) control; hold down: The firemen managed to ~ the fire under, prevent it from getting worse, spreading. That boy needs ~ing under, needs firm control, discipline. ~ up, (VP 23) remain high, vigorous, etc.: Their courage (spirits) kept up well in spite of hardships. Prices still ~ up. If the weather will only ~ up, remain fine. ~ up with, go forward at an equal pace with: He couldn't ~ up with the class, learn as much as his fellow pupils. I can't ~ up with you, walk as fast as you. We don't try to ~ up with the Joneses, (fig.) don't try to compete with them in the purchase of fine clothes, new cars, refrigerators, etc. (as indicating social status). ~ sth. or sb. up, (VP 10) (a) prevent from sinking, getting low: ~ up one's courage (spirits). (b) observe: ~ up old customs. (c) continue: They kept up the attack all night. (d) cause (sb.) to sit up at night: I don't want to ~ you up; you look very sleepy. It's wrong to ~ the children up so late. (e) maintain in proper condition: How much does it cost to ~ up your large house and garden? (f) carry on: ~ up a correspondence with an old friend. Do you still ~ up your Greek, still read (classical) Greek? ~ it up, continue without slackening: He works far too hard; he'll never be able to ~ it up. (See also: ~ *up appearances, ~ *one's end up.) 23. see the entries for asterisked nouns: ~ *sb. company (def. 1); ~ one's feet (foot*, def. 1); ~ *good (bad, early, etc.) hours (def. 3); ~ *a good (poor, etc.) look-out; ~ pace with (sb.)*; ~ *the pot boiling; ~ step (with sb.); ~ time (def. 5); ~ watch* (²watch, def. 1).

²keep [kiːp] n. 1. [U] (food needed for) support: The servant doesn't earn his ~, is not useful enough to be worth the cost of keeping him. 2. [C] tower of a fortress, etc. (in olden times): the castle ~. 3. (sl.) for ~s, permanently: Is this mine for ~s? May I keep this? Is it a gift?

keep er [ˈkiːpə*] n. 1. guard (e.g. an attendant in a mental home; person who looks after animals in a zoo). See also goal-~. 2. (in compounds) person with special duties: park-~*; lighthouse-~; game-~ (see ¹*game*, def. 6); person who manages a shop, inn, etc.: shop~; inn~

keep ing [ˈkiːpiŋ] n. [U] 1. care: The valuables are in safe ~. 2. in verbal senses: the ~ of bees; bee-~. 3. agreement; harmony: in (out of) ~ with: His actions are not in ~ with his promises.

keep sake [ˈkiːpseik] n. sth. kept in memory of the giver: Please have this ring for a ~.

keg [keg] n. small barrel, usu. of less than 10 gallons: a ~ of brandy.

kelp [kelp] n. [U] large kinds of sea weed.

Kelt [kelt] n. see Celt.

¹ken [ken] n. [U] range of knowledge: (chiefly in) beyond (outside) my ~.

²ken [ken] v.t. (Scot.) (VP 1, 11) know.

ken nel [ˈkenl] n. hut to shelter a dog.

A kennel

ke pi [ˈkeipi] n. French military cap with a horizontal peak kept, see keep.

kerb [kəːb] n. (also curb) stone edging to a raised path or pavement. ˈ~-stone n. stone forming a part of this.

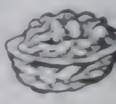
ker chief [ˈkəːtʃif] n. [C] piece of clot or lace used as a head covering.

ker nel [ˈkəːnl] n. [C] 1. softer, inn (usu. edible) part of a nut or fruit-stone. 2. part of a seed (e.g. a grain of wheat) within the husk; (fig.) central or important part of a subject, problem, etc.



A walnut kernel

ker o sene [ˈkerəsiːn] n. [U] paraffin oil: (attrib.) a ~ lamp.

kes trel [ˈkestrəl] n. kind of small hawl ketch [ketʃ] n. small two-masted sailin vessel used in coastal trading.

ketch up [ˈketʃəp] n. [U] sauce mad from tomato juice, mushrooms, etc.

ket tle [ˈketl] n. metal vessel with lic spout, and handle, for boiling wate a pretty ~ of fish, see ¹*fish*, def. 1.

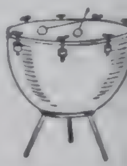
ket tle-drum [ˈketldrʌm] n. drur shaped like a hemisphere, made of brass or copper, with parchment stretched over the edge.



A kettle-drum

¹key [kiː] n. 1. metal instrument for moving the bolt of a lock: put the key in the lock; turn the key. ˈkey-ring n. (usu. split) ring on which to keep keys. (See the illustr. a bunch.) ˈkeyhole n. hole in a lock, door etc., into which a key fits. ˈkey ˌmoney extra payment (required by some hous agents) before completion of an agree ment about renting a house, flat, etc. 2 instrument for winding a clock or a watcl by tightening the spring. 3. (fig.) sth. tha provides an answer (to a problem or mys tery). 4. set of answers to exercises o problems; translation of sth. in a foreign language: a key for the use of teachers onl (e.g. to a book of problems in algebra 5. (also attrib.) place which, from its posi tion, gives control of a route or area a key position. Gibraltar has been calle the key to the Mediterranean. 6. (attrib. key industries, those (e.g. coal-mining that are essential to the carrying on o others; a key man (a man in a ke position), one whose work is essentia to the work of others; man in a pivot al position. 7. operating part of type-writer, piano, organ, flute, etc. pressed down by a finger. ˈkeyboard row of such keys (on a piano, organ pewriter). 8. (music) scale of notes finitely related to each other and sed on a particular note called the y-note: the key of C major; (fig.) tone style of thought or expression: in minor key, sadly; all in the same

y, monotonously, without expression;
eak in a high (low) key. ˈ*keynote n.
note on which a key is based. (b) g.) prevailing tone or idea: The key- te of the Minister's speech was the need higher productivity. key less adj.
t having or needing a key: a keyless atch (i.e. the usual kind, with a stemnder).

[ki:] v.t. (VP 10) key up, tune (the rings of a musical instrument by ghtening or loosening); (fig.) stimulate raise the standard of (a person, his tivity, etc.): The thought of the coming lventure keyed him up to a state of great citement. The crowd was keyed up for e football match.

[ki:] n. low island or reef.

stone [ˈki:stoun] n. [C] stone at the p of an arch locking e others into posi-
on; (fig.) central rinciple on which erything depends.

A keystone

a ki [ˈkɑ:ki] n. & lj. (cloth, military niform, of a) dull yellowish-brown.

a li fate [ˈkɑ:lifeit] n. the ~, the fice of spiritual leadership over all lam, combined with the secular powers the Ottoman Sultans until 1924, hen it was abolished by Kemal tatürk.

an [kɑ:n] n. title used by some rulers
d officials in Central Asia, Afghanian, etc.; (in olden times) title used by preme rulers of Turkish, Tartar, and ongol tribes.

an [kɑ:n] n. (in the East) inn built und a courtyard where caravans may
st.

k [kik] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10, 21, 23)
rike with the foot; make movements
th the feet as if to strike: ~ a football; off one's slippers; ~ sth. up (e.g. turn e edge of a carpet by striking it with e foot); ~ a hole in sth., make a hole ~ing. The baby was ~ing and reaming. This horse ~s, is in the habit ~ing. ~ one's heels, be kept wait-g, wasting time. ~ up its heels, sed of a horse) play; enjoy freedom ter a period of work. ~ up a row uss, dust), (colloq.) cause a disturb-ce (by protesting vigorously). ~ off, otball) start the game (and resume ter half-time) by giving the first kick.
ence, ˈ~-ˈoff n.: ~-off at 2.30 p.m.).
a goal, (football) score a goal. 2.
P 10) expel, send (out, etc.) forcibly angrily: ~ a man out (downstairs);

~ a man upstairs (fig.) get him out of the way (e.g. from the House of Commons, by giving him a title so that he sits in the House of Lords). 3. (VP 21, 24) protest; show annoyance: He ~ed against (at) the treatment he was receiving. If the people are taxed much more, they'll begin to ~. 4. (VP 21) (of a gun) recoil when fired: The old blunderbuss ~ed badly. ~er n. horse with the habit of ~ing.

²kick [kik] n. 1. act of kicking: give a ~ at the door. The bruise was caused by a ~. more ~s than halfpence, more harshness, blame, etc., than kindness. get the ~, (sl.) be dismissed from one's employment. ˈ~-ˌstarter n. lever on a motor-cycle or lawn-mower by kicking which the motor can be started. 2. [U] (colloq.) thrill of pleasure; excitement: He gets a good deal of ~ (a big ~) out of skiing. 3. [U] resilience; power to react: He's exhausted and has no ~ left. 4. [U] strength; power to stimulate: a cocktail with not much (a lot of) ~ in it. 5. [C] (football, etc.): a good (bad) ~, a person who kicks well (badly). 6. [U] recoil of a gun when fired.

kick shaw [ˈkikʃɔ:] n. 1. fancy dish in cookery. 2. toy; trifle; thing of little value.

¹kid [kid] n. 1. [C] young goat. 2. [U] leather made from skin of this: kid gloves; a book bound in kid. ˈ*kid-glove adj. (attrib. use) of methods of dealing with problems gently: Kid-glove methods are useless in war. 3. (sl.) child. kid dy [ˈkidi] n. (sl.) child.

²kid [kid] v.t. (-dd-) (sl.) hoax: You're kidding (me)! (Cf. You're pulling my leg!)

kid nap [ˈkidnæp] v.t. (Brit. -pp-, U.S.A. -p-) steal (a child); carry away (sb.) by force and unlawfully (esp. in order to obtain money for his return). ~per n. person who ~s.

kid ney [ˈkidni] n. (pl. ~s) 1. one of a pair of organs in the abdomen that separate waste liquid (urine) from the blood; ~ of sheep, cattle, etc., as food. ˈ~-ˈbean n. (plant with pod containing) red-dish-brown ~-shaped bean (either the dwarf French bean or the runner bean). 2. temperament, nature: a man of that ~.

The kidneys

¹kill [kil] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 21) put to death; cause the death of: ~ animals for food; be ~ed in a train accident. The frost ~ed the flowers. Thou shalt not ~. ~ time, find ways of passing time without being bored (e.g. when compelled to wait for sth.). ~ with kindness, overwhelm or embarrass with kindness. ~ two birds with one stone, (prov.) get two separate results from one action. ~ off, (VP 10) get rid of: The frost ~ed off most of the insect pests. 2. (VP 1) destroy: ~ sb.'s hopes. ˈ~joy n. person who throws gloom over others who wish to enjoy themselves. 3. (VP 1) neutralize (a colour) by contrast; spoil the effect of sth.: That scarlet carpet ~s your curtains. 4. (VP 1) put an end to; cause the failure or defeat of: ~ a proposal (a Bill in Parliament), cause it to be withdrawn. 5. (VP 1, 21) overwhelm (sb.) with admiration or amusement: He was got up to ~, dressed elaborately, so as to be admired. Hence, colloq.: ~ing adj ~ingly adv.: We had a ~ing time, very amusing. What a ~ingly (overwhelmingly) funny story! ~er n. one who, that which, ~s: humane ~er*; (journalese) murderer.

²kill [kil] n. (sing. only) 1. act of killing, esp. by sportsmen: be in at the ~, be present when sth. is killed. 2. animal(s) killed (in hunting): There was a plentiful ~, many animals were killed.

kiln [kiln, kil] n. [U] large furnace or oven for burning, baking, or drying, esp. lime-~ (for burning lime), brick-~ (for baking bricks), and hop-~ (for drying hops).

ki lo [ˈkiːlou] n. abbrev. of kilogram.

ki lo- prefix 1,000, esp. in kilocycle [ˈkilouˌsaikl] n. unit of frequency of vibration, used of wireless waves kilogram(me) [ˈkiləgræm] n. 1,000 grammes. kilolitre [ˈkilouˌliːtə*] n. 1,000 litres. kilometre [ˈkiləˌmiːtə*, kiˈlɔmitə*] n. 1,000 metres. kilowatt [ˈkiləwɔt] n. 1,000 watts. (See Appendix 1.)

A kilt

kilt [kilt] n. pleated skirt, usu. of tartan cloth, from waist to knee, worn as part of male dress in the Scottish Highlands; similar skirt worn by children. ~ed regiments, regiments of Scottish soldiers wearing kilts as part of their uniform.

ki mo no [kiˈmounou] n. (pl. ~s) style of loose garment worn as a dressing-gown.

kin [kin] n. (collectively) family; relations: We are near kin, are closely related. next of kin, nearest relation(s).

¹kind [kaind] n. 1. race, natural group, of animals, plants, etc.: man~; human~. 2. class, sort, or variety: apples of several ~s, or several ~s of apples; people of this ~, or (colloq.) these ~ of people. What ~ of tree is this? She's the ~ of woman who likes to help other people. She's not the ~ (of person) to talk scandal. something of the ~, sth. like the thing in question. nothing of the ~, not at all like it. of a ~, (a) of the same ~: two of a ~. (b) (implying contempt) scarcely deserving the name:
They gave us coffee of a ~. a ~ of . .
used to suggest uncertainty about th correctness or appropriateness of th following word: I had a ~ of susp cion (I vaguely suspected) that he w cheating. ~ of (colloq. or vulg., som times spelt kinda) [ˈkaindəv, ˈkaind
adv. to some extent: I kind of thoug this would happen. 3. [U] natur character: They differ in degree but in ~. 4. in ~, (of payment) in good or natural produce, not in money; ( repayment, fig.) with what was receive repay insolence in ~. be insolent return.

²kind [kaind] adj. having, showin thoughtfulness, sympathy, or love f others: be ~ to animals. Will you be enough (so ~ as) to close the door?
was ~ of you to help us. ~-heart [ˈkaindˈhɑːtid] adj. having a ~ hear sympathetic. ~ly adv. 1. in a manner: speak ~ly to sb.; treat sb. ~l
2. (in polite formulas) Will you ~ly t me the time? 3. naturally; easily: E took ~ly to his new duties. ~ness n.
[U] ~ nature; being ~: out of ~ne
(to . . .), because of feeling ~ (towards He did it all out of ~ness, not in th hope of reward. 2. [C] ~ act: He h done (shown) me many ~nesses.

kin der gar ten [ˈkindəˌgɑːtn] n. scho
for very young children.

kin dle [ˈkindl] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) (cause to) catch fire or burst in flames or flaming colour: The sparks ~ the dry wood. This wood is too wet to ~ The setting sun ~d the sky. 2. rouse, roused, to a state of strong feeling, i terest, etc.: ~ the interest of an audien
Her eyes ~d with excitement. kin dling [U] (no pl.) material for lighting a fi
esp. light, dry sticks of wood.

¹kind ly [ˈkaindli] adv. see ²kind.

²kind ly [ˈkaindli] adj. (-ier, -iest) friendl speak in a ~ tone; give sb. ~ advi kind li ly adv. (rare) in a ~ wa thank sb. kindlily. kind li ness n.

kin dred [ˈkindrid] n. (sing. only form) 1. [U] relationship by birth b tween persons: claim ~ with sb. 2. (wi pl. vb.) all one's relatives: Most of his are still living in Ireland. adj. (attri only) 1. related; having a comm source: ~ languages (e.g. English a Dutch); dew, frost, and ~ phenomen ~ tribes (races). 2. similar: ~ natures.

kine [kain] n. pl. (old form) cows.

ki ne ma [ˈkinimə] n. = cinema.

ki net ic [kaiˈnetik, ki-] adj. of, due t motion. ki net ics n. (sing. v.) scien of the relations between the motions bodies and the forces acting on them.

king [kiŋ] n. 1. male sovereign rul (esp. one whose position is hereditar of an independent state: the K~
Denmark. 2. person of great influen

. in industry: an oil ~. 3. principal ce in the game of chess; (playing ds) card with a picture of a ~, xt in value to an ace: the ~ of spades.
(advertising, etc.) extra large: ~- e(d) cigarettes. 5. ~ of beasts, lion.
of terrors, death. turn ~'s evidence, one who has shared in a crime)
e evidence against one's accomplices ten in order to escape punishment eself). ˈ~cup n. wild flower like a ge buttercup; marsh marigold. ˈ~- her n. small, brightly coloured bird ding on fish in rivers, etc. ˈ~pin (fig.) important person who is essen-l to a project. ~'s evil n. disease merly thought to be curable by a ~'s ich. ~like adj. like a ~; royal.
y adj. of, suitable for, a ~. g dom [ˈkiŋdəm] n. 1. country ruled a king or a queen: the United K~, eat Britain and Northern Ireland.
the spiritual reign of God: Thy K~ ne, may the rule of God be established.
ne to k*~ *come, (colloq.) dead, gone the next world. 3. any one of the ree divisions of the natural world: the imal, vegetable, and mineral ~s. 4.
lm or province: the ~ of thought (the nd).
k [kiŋk] n. 1. irregular back-twist in ength of wire, pipe, cord, etc., such may cause a break or obstruction.
(fig.) mental twist; sth. abnormal in person's way of thinking. v.t. & i. ke a ~ in; form a ~ or ~s: This
e-pipe ~s easily.
s folk [ˈkinzfouk] n. pl. relations by
ood. kins man [ˈkinzmən] n. male ative. kins wom an [ˈkinzˌwumən] female relative.
ship [ˈkinʃip] n. [U] relationship by ood; similarity in character.
sk [kiˈɔsk] n. 1. small enclosed ucture, esp. a round one,
the sale of newspapers,
eets, cigarettes, etc. (e.g. a park). 2. small cabin
a public telephone;
l-box.
per [ˈkipə*] n. salted
rring, dried or smoked.
k [kəːk] n. (Scot.)
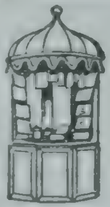
urch.



A kiosk (def. 1)

tle [ˈkəːtl] n. (arch.) woman's gown outer petticoat; man's tunic.
met [ˈkismet, ˈkiz-] n. [U] destiny;
e will of Allah.
s [kis] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 10, 21) touch
th the lips to show affection or as a eeting: ~ the children goodnight. He d her cheek (~ed her on the cheek). She d the child goodbye. She ~ed away the ild's tears. ~ the book, ~ the Bible on king an oath. ~ the dust (ground), give abject submission to a con-eror. (b) be killed. ~ hands, ~ the Queen's hand, ~ the sovereign's hand on being appointed to an office (e.g. as a member of the Cabinet). n. touch, caress, given with the lips.

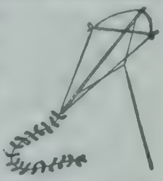
kit [kit] n. 1. (collective) all the equipment (esp. clothing) of a soldier, sailor, or traveller: kit inspection, examination of kit by an officer to see that it is complete, etc. ˈkit-bag n. long canvas bag in which kit is carried. 2. [C] equipment needed by a workman for his trade: a plumber's kit. 3. [U & C] outfit or equipment needed for sport or some other special purpose: shooting (golfing, skiing) kit. 4. do-it-yourself kit, collection of parts (e.g. for a piece of furniture, or a wireless set) to be assembled by the purchaser.

kit chen [ˈkitʃin] n. room used for cooking; (in many homes in Gt. Brit.) room used for cooking, and also as a combined living-room and dining-room. ~ garden n. one for fruit and vegetables. ˈ~-maid n. servant employed in a ~, usu. to help the cook. ~ette [ˌkitʃiˈnet] n. tiny room or alcove used as a ~ (esp. in a small flat).

kite [kait] n. 1. bird of prey of the hawk family. 2. framework of wood, etc., covered with paper or cloth, made to fly at the end of a long string or wire. ˈ~-balˌloon, sausage-shaped captive balloon for military observation.



A kite (def. 2)

kith [kiθ] n. (only in) ~ and kin, friends and relations.

kit ten [ˈkitn] n. young cat. ~ish adj. like a ~; playful. kit ty n. playful name for a ~.

kit ty [ˈkiti] n. (in some card games) money to be played for; (colloq.) joint pool or fund (e.g. of savings).

ki wi [ˈkiːwiː] n. New Zealand wingless bird.

klax on [ˈklæksn] n. powerful electric horn for a motor-car.

klep to ma nia [ˌkleptouˈmeinjə] n. irresistible tendency to steal, not from poverty but from weakness of mind. klep to ma ni ac [-niæk] n. person with ~.

knack [næk] n. (rarely pl.) cleverness (acquired through practice) enabling one to do sth. skilfully: There's a ~ in it, you have to learn by doing it. It's quite easy when you have the ~ of it.

knack er [ˈnækə*] n. 1. person who buys and slaughters useless horses. 2. person who buys and breaks up old houses, ships, etc., for the materials in them.

knap [næp] v.t. (-pp-) break (flints for roads) with a hammer.

knap sack [ˈnæpsæk] n. [C] canvas or leather bag, strapped to the back and used (by soldiers, travellers) for carrying things.

knave [neiv] n. 1. dishonest man; man without honour. 2. (playing cards) card between 10 and Queen in value: the ~ of hearts. (See Jack.) knav er y [ˈneivəri] n. [U] dishonesty; [C] dishonest act. knav ish [ˈneiviʃ] adj. deceitful: knavish tricks. knav ish ly adv.

knead [niːd] v.t. (VP 1) 1. make (flour and water) into a firm paste (dough) by working with the hands; do this with wet clay; make (bread, pots) in this way. 2. massage; operate on (muscles, etc.) as if making dough.

knee [niː] n. 1. joint between the thigh and the lower part of the leg in man; corresponding part in animals: be on one's ~s, be resting on the knees; be praying; go (down) on one's ~s (to sb.), kneel down (in prayer, worship, or submission). bring a person to his ~s, force him to submit. on the ~s of the gods, (of future events) yet uncertain. 2. part of a garment covering the ~s: the ~s of a pair of trousers. 3. (compounds) ~-breeches [ˈniːˌbritʃiz] n. pl. breeches reaching down to or just below the ~s. ˈ~-cap n. (a) flat, movable bone forming the front part of the ~-joint. (b) protective covering for the ~. ˈ~-ˈdeep adj. & adv. so deep as to reach the ~s: The water was ~-deep. ˈ~-ˈhigh adj. & adv. so high as to reach the ~s: The grass was ~-high.

kneel [niːl] v.i. (p.t. & p.p. knelt [nelt]) (VP 21, 23, 25) go down on the knees; rest on the knees. He knelt down to look for a coin he had dropped. Everyone knelt in prayer.

knell [nel] n. (sing. with a or the) sound of a bell, esp. for a death or at a funeral; (fig.) sign of the end or death of sth.: toll the ~; the ~ of her hopes.

knelt, see kneel.

knew, see know.

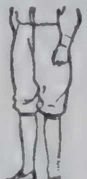
knick er bock ers [ˈnikəbɔkəz] n. pl. loose wide breeches gathered in below the knees.



Knickerbockers

knick ers [ˈnikəz] n. pl. 1. (colloq.) knickerbockers. 2. woman's or girl's undergarment like knickerbockers in shape.

knick-knack [ˈniknæk] n. small unimportant ornament, piece of jewellery, article of dress, piece of furniture, etc.

knife [naif] n. (pl. knives [naivz]) sharp blade with a handle, used as a cutting instrument or as a weapon: a table ~, used for food at table; a pocket ~, one with hinged blade(s). get one's ~ into sb., have the wish to harm him. war to the ~, war without mercy; relentless enmity. v.t. (VP 1) cut or stab with a ~.

knight [nait] n. 1. (in the Middle Ages) man, usu. of noble birth, raised to honourable military rank (after serv as a page and squire). ˈ~-ˈerrant (pl. ~s-errant) ~ who went about search of adventure. 2. (modern u man on whom a title of honour is c ferred (lower than that of baronet) a reward for services to the State or a political party. (The title Sir is u before Christian name and surname, Sir James Hill.) 3. (Brit. history) ~ the shire, person who represented a sh or county in Parliament. 4. piece in t game of chess, usu. made with a hors head. v.t. (VP 1) make (sb.) a ~hood n. [U] 1. rank, character, dignity of a ~. 2. ~s collectively: ~hood of France. ~ly [ˈnaitli] a chivalrous; brave and gentle; like a ~ly qualities.

knit [nit] v.t. & i. (p.t. & p.p. ~ [ˈnitid] or knit) (VP 1, 10, 21, 23) make (an article of clothing, etc.) looping wool, silk, etc., yarn on lo needles: ~ stockings out of wool; ~ w into stockings; ~ sth. up, repair it ~ting. She often ~s while reading.
unite firmly or closely: ~ broken bon a closely ~ argument. Mortar is u to ~ bricks together. The two famil are ~ together by common interests.
draw together: ~ the brows, frow ~ter n. person who ~s; (also ˈ~ting-maˌchine) machine that ~s. ~ting n. 1. action of one who ~s. 2. material that is being ~ted: Her ~ting fell from her lap to the floor. ˈ~-ting-ˌneedle n. lo slender rod of steel, wood, etc., two more of which are used together in ~ti

Knitting

knives, see knife.

knob [nɔb] n. [C] 1. round-shaped han of a door, drawer, walking-stick, et (colloq.) control (e.g. of a radio or te vision set): turn the ~ clockwise to swi the set on. 2. round-shaped swelling mass on the surface of sth. (e.g. a tr trunk). 3. small lump (e.g. of co ~ker rie [ˈnɔbkeri] n. short stick wi a head that has ~s on it, formerly us as a weapon (by S. African tribe ~bly [ˈnɔbli] adj. having ~s (def.
~bly knees.

¹knock [nɔk] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 7, 18, 21, 23, 24) hit; strike; cause be (in a certain state) by hitting:
~ed the bottom out of the box. He ~ (struck, by accident) his head on (agai the wall. Someone is ~ing at the do (on the window). Come in; don't ~. T blow ~ed me flat. ~ about, (a) (VP (colloq.) lead an irregular life, travelli here and there, living in various plac
He has ~ed about all over Asia.

P 10) hit again and again; treat ughly: The ship had been badly ~ed out by storms. ~ (up) against, (VP , 24) (fig.) meet unexpectedly or by ance: Who do you think I ~ed against the post office this morning? ~ back, P 10) (sl.) drink: ~ back a pint of beer.
down, (VP 10) (a) strike to the ground
th a blow: He was ~ed down by a lorry.
~ed his opponent down. These old uses are to be ~ed down, pulled or ocked down by housebreakers. (b) (at auction sale) sell (to a bidder): The inting was ~ed down to Smith for £5.
take (sth.) to pieces to save space and st in transport: The machines will ~ed down before being shipped to Persian Gulf. (d) (colloq.) lower (a ice); compel (sb.) to lower (a price):
asked £500 for his car, but I managed ~ him down 10 per cent. (~ his price wn to £450). ~ in, (VP 10) strike so at (sth.) goes in or is in: ~ in a nail;
the top of a barrel in. ~ off, (a) (VP ) deduct: ~ off two shillings from the ice. (b) (VP 10, 23) stop (work): It's ne to ~ off for tea. (c) (VP 10) rapidly mpose: ~ off an article (some verses)
a magazine; finish or complete:
off the runs needed to win a cricket atch, score them. ~ out, (VP 10) (a) npty (e.g. one's pipe) by ~ing. (b) oxing) strike (an opponent) so that he nnot rise to his feet to continue the ht when 'Out' is called; (fig.) over-helm (with surprise, etc.): She was ed out by the news. ~ together, (a) P 10) put quickly together; make stily: bookshelves that were obviously ed together, made without proper care; boards together and make a camp table.
) (VP 10, 23) (cause to) strike one ainst the other: He was so frightened at his knees ~ed together. Shall I ~ eir heads together? (e.g. to stop two rsons who are quarrelling, by using rce against both). ~ under, (VP 23) *knuckle under. ~ up, (VP 10) (a) ive upwards with a blow: K~ his m up! (b) waken or arouse (sb.) by ing at his door, etc.: Tell the servant ~ me up at five o'clock. (c) arrange, t together, quickly: ~ up a meal;
up a shelter for mountain-climbers.
) score (runs) at cricket. (e) make tired exhausted: He was quite ~ed up after long, steep climb. 2. (VP 1) (sl.) make strong impression on; surprise: What me is his impudence. 3. (VP 21) (of a trol engine) make a thumping noise the result of a defect that prevents e engine from running smoothly):
he engine of this old car is ~ing badly.
(VP 1) (U.S.A. sl.) criticize unfavourly: Why must you ~ your home town stead of boosting it? 5. '~-about adj.
a comic performance in a theatre)

rough and noisy; (of clothes) suitable for rough use. '~-'down adj. (of prices at an auction) reserve or minimum; lowest at which goods are to be sold; (of a blow, lit. & fig.) overwhelming. '~-kneed adj. having the legs bent so that the knees knock together in walking. '~-out adj. & n. (blow) that ~s a boxer out.

²knock [nɔk] n. [C] 1. (short, sharp sound of a) blow: He got a nasty ~ on the head when he fell. I heard a ~ at the door. I knew him by his ~, knew that it was he because of the way in which he ~ed. 2. sound of knocking in a petrol engine (see the v., def. 3). 3. (colloq.) innings at cricket.

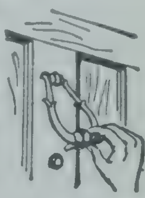
knock er ['nɔkə*] n. person or thing that knocks; (esp.) hinged metal device for striking against a metal plate on a door to call attention (e.g. by the postman after he has dropped letters into the letter-box).



A door-knocker

knoll [noul] n. small hill; mound.

knot [nɔt] n. [C] 1. parts of one or more pieces of string, rope, etc., twisted together to make a fastening: tie a ~ in a rope; tie a rope in a firm ~; make a ~; (fig.) sth. that ties together: the marriage-~. 2. piece of ribbon, etc., twisted and tied as an ornament. 3. difficulty; hard problem: tie oneself (up) (in)to ~s; get into ~s, get badly confused about sth. (See Gordian.*) 4. hard lump in wood where a branch grew out from a bough or trunk; round cross-grained piece caused by this in a board. '~-hole n. hole (in a board) from which such a piece has come out. 5. group of persons or things: People were standing about in ~s, anxiously waiting for news. 6. measure of speed for ships: a vessel of 20 ~s, able to sail 20 nautical miles an hour. v.t. & i. (-tt-) (VP 1, 10, 21) make a ~ or ~s in; tie sth. with ~s; form ~s: ~ two ropes together; ~ a parcel firmly; string that ~s easily. ~ty adj. (-ier, -iest*) full of ~s: a ~ty board; a ~ty problem, one that is difficult to solve.

Knots (def. 1)

knout [naut] n. leather whip formerly used in Russia for punishment.

¹know [nou] v.t & i. (p.t. knew [nju:], p.p. known [noun]) 1. (VP 1, 3, 4, 11, 13, 15, 21) have in the mind as the result of experience or being informed, or because one has learned: Every child ~s that two and two make four. He ~s a lot of English. Do you ~ how to play

chess? I don't ~ whether he is here or not. I ~ (that) he's an honest man. I ~ him to be honest. I'm not guessing—I really ~. Oh, yes, I ~ all about that. There's no ~ing (= it is impossible to ~) when we shall meet again. (VP 3, Past and Perfect Tenses only) I have never ~n a man die of love, but I have ~n a disappointed lover lose weight. ~ one's business, ~ what's what, ~ the ropes, ~ a thing or two, (all used meaning) have common sense, good judgement, practical experience. ~ better than, be wise enough (not to . . .): You ought to ~ better than to go swimming on such a cold day. 2. (VP 1, 10, 18) be acquainted with (a person); be able to distinguish (sb.) from others: Do you ~ Mr Hill? (Have you met him, talked with him, etc.?) (Cf. You ~ who Napoleon was.) I should like to ~ Mr Green, should like to meet him and be introduced to him. I ~ Mr White by sight but have never spoken to him. I've ~n Mrs Grey since I was a child. I was introduced to Miss Wood last week, but I've a bad memory for faces and might not ~ (= recognize) her again. make oneself ~n (to sb.), introduce oneself: There's your host; you'd better make yourself ~n to him. be ~n to: He's ~n to the police, the police have his name in their records (e.g. because he has been a criminal). be ~n as: He's ~n as (has the reputation of being) a successful architect. ~ sb. from, distinguish from: They're twins and it's almost impossible to ~ one from the other. I don't ~ him from Adam, have no idea who he is. 3. (VP 1) have personal experience of: He knew poverty and sorrow in his early life. He has ~n better days, has not always been so poor, unfortunate, etc., as he is now. 4. (VP 1) be able to recognize: He ~s a good drama when he sees one. She doesn't ~ a swallow from a house-martin. 5. (VP 24 with of or about) have information concerning; be aware of: I knew about that last week. I didn't ~ about that, was in ignorance. I ~ of an excellent little restaurant near here. 'Has Smith been ill?'—'Not that I ~ of' (= I am not aware of his having been ill). I don't ~ (def. 2) the man you mention, but of course I ~ of him, I'm aware of his existence. 6. (compounds) '~-all n. person who ~s, or claims to ~, everything. '~-how n. [U] faculty of ~ing how (to do sth.); practical ability (contrasted with theoretical knowledg
'~-ˌnothing n. ignorant person.

²know [nou] n. (only) in the ~, (collo having information not shared by all not available to all.

know ing ['nouiŋ] adj. cunning; wid awake; having, showing that one h intelligence, sharp wits, etc.: a ~ fello ~ looks. ~ly adv. 1. consciousl intentionally: He would never ~ly anything to hurt your interests. 2. in a manner: look ~ly at someone.

know ledge ['nɔlidʒ] n. [U] 1. unde standing: A baby has no ~ of good a evil. 2. familiarity gained by experienc range of information: My ~ of Fren is poor. K~ of the defeat soon sprea It has come to my ~ (I have been formed) that you have been spreadi gossip about me. To the best of my (as far as I know) he is honest a reliable. She married without the ~ her parents. ~a ble ['nɔlidʒəbl] ad (colloq.) well-informed; having much knuck le ['nʌkl] n. 1. bone at a finge joint: give a boy a rap over (on) the ~

2. (in animals) knee-joint, or part joini leg to foot (esp. as food). v.i. ~ unde submit, yield.

ko a la [kou'ɑːlɑː] n. Australian tre climbing mammal, like a small bear.

Ko dak ['koudæk] n. [C] (proprieta name of a) photographic camera.

kohl ra bi ['koul'rɑːbi] n. [C & U] ca bage with turnip-shaped stem.

ko peck ['koupek] n. see copeck.

kop je ['kɔpi] n. (in S. Africa) small hil

Ko ran [kɔ'rɑːn] n. sacred book co taining the Prophet Muhammad's or revelations, written in Arabic.

kosh er ['kouʃə*] n. & adj. (food, foo shop) fulfilling the requirements of Je ish ritualistic law.

ko tow, kow tow ['kou'tau, 'kau-] (former Chinese custom) touching the ground with the forehead (as a si of respect, submission, etc.). v.i. ma a ~ (to sb.); show great humility.

kraal [krɑːl, krɔːl] n. (in S. Afric fenced-in village of huts; fence for e closing domestic animals.

kris [kriːs] n. (also creese) Malay dagg with a wavy blade.

krone ['krounə] n. unit of currency Denmark, Norway, and Sweden.

ku dos ['kjuːdɔs] n. [U] (colloq.) hono and glory; credit.

küm mel ['kuməl, (G. 'kʏməl)] n. [
herb-flavoured liqueur.

L

[el] (pl. L's, l's [elz]), the 12th letter of e alphabet; the Roman numeral 50:
, = 150; XL = 40; LV = 55.
la:] n. (music) sixth note of the musical ale.
g er ['lɑ:gə*] n. camp, encampment,
p. inside a circle of carts or wagons;
rmy use) park for armoured vehicles.
[læb] n. (colloq. abbrev. of) labora-
ry.
bel ['leibl] n. piece of paper, cloth, etal, wood, or other material used for scribing what sth. is, where it is to go,
c.: plant ~s; put ~s on one's luggage.
t. (-ll-, U.S.A. -l-) (VP 1) put a ~ or ~s : properly ~led luggage; (fig.) ~ sb. as demagogue, assign him to this class of rsons.
bial ['leibjəl] adj. of the lips: ~
unds (e.g. m, p, b).
bor n. = labour.
or a to ry ['læbərətəri], la bor-
'bər-] n. room or building used for ientific experiments, esp. in chemistry.
bo ri ous [lə'bɔ:riəs] adj. 1. (of work,
c.) requiring great effort: a ~ task.
showing signs of great effort; not uent or easy: a ~ style of writing. 3.
f persons) hard-working. ~ly adv.
bour ['leibə*] n. (U.S.A. labor) 1. [U] odily or mental work: The majority men earn their living by manual ~. rd ~, work done by criminals (sennced to penal servitude) as a punish-ent. '~-,*saving adj. that reduces the nount of ~ needed: ~-saving appli- nces (e.g. gas-fires, washing-machines, ectric vacuum cleaners). 2. [C] task; ece of work: a ~ of love, task that ves pleasure to the person engaged it; the ~s of Hercules. 3. [U] workers a class (contrasted with the owners capital, etc.): skilled and unskilled ~;
e Ministry of L~, ministry responsible Gt. Brit. for laws regarding ~; L~ xchanges, offices used by employers r finding workers and by workers for nding jobs; the L~ Party, political rty that represents the workers; cialist party; L~ leaders, leaders of is party; trade union officials; the L~ te, of those who support the L~ rty. 4. [U] pains of childbirth: a oman in ~. ~ite ['leibərait] n. member supporter of the L~ Party.
bour ['leibə*] v.i. & t. (also labor) 1.
P 21, 23, 24, 25) work; try hard:
for the happiness of mankind; ~ at a sk; ~ to complete a task; ~ in the use of peace. 2. (VP 21, 23, 24) move, eathe, slowly and with difficulty:
he ship ~ed through the heavy seas.

The old man ~ed up the hillside. 3. ~ under, be the victim of, suffer because of: ~ under a delusion (difficulty, disadvantage). 4. (VP 1) work out in detail; treat at great length: There's no need to ~ the point (argument). la boured ['leibəd] adj. 1. slow and troublesome: ~ed breathing. 2. not easy or natural; showing too much effort: a ~ed style of writing. ~er n. man who performs heavy unskilled work: agricultural ~ers (= farm workers).

Lab ra dor ['læbrədɔ:*] n. ~ dog, kind of retriever.

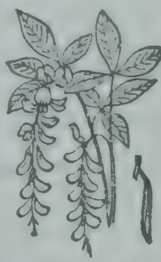
la bur num [lə'bə:nəm] n. small tree with yellow flowers that hang down gracefully.



Laburnum

lab y rinth ['læbərinθ] n. network of winding paths, roads, etc., through which it is difficult to find one's way without help; (fig.) entangled state of affairs. lab y rin thine [,læbə'rinθain] adj.

lac, lakh [læk] n. (In India and Pakistan) 100,000 (esp. ~ of rupees).

lace [leis] n. 1. [U] delicate, ornamental openwork fabric of threads: a dress trimmed with ~; a ~ collar. gold (silver) ~, braid used for trimming uniforms (e.g. of diplomats, army officers). 2. [C] string or cord put through small holes in shoes, etc., to draw edges together: a pair of shoe-~s. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 10, 21, 23) 1. fasten or tighten with ~s (def. 2): ~ (up) one's shoes; a corset that ~s (up) at the side. 2. (VP 18) put (a ~) (through holes). 3. (VP 24, colloq.) ~ into sb., lash him, beat him. 4. (VP 18) flavour or strengthen (a liquid) (with some kind of spirit): a glass of milk ~d with rum.

Lace (def. 1)

lac er ate ['læsəreit] v.t. (VP 1) tear (the flesh; fig. the feelings). lac er a tion [,læsə'reiʃən] n. [U] tearing; [C] tear or injury.

lach ry mal ['lækriməl] adj. of tears: (esp.) ~ glands. lach ry mose ['lækrimous] adj. tearful; in the habit of weeping.

lack [læk] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) be without; not have; have less than enough of: ~ wisdom. I ~ words with which to express my thanks. 2. be ~ing, be wanting: Money was ~ing (= there was no money) for the plan. They ~ed for nothing, had everything they wanted.

He is ~ing in courage, has not enough courage. n. [U] want, need, shortage: The plants died for ~ of water. ˈ~-ˌlustre adj. (of eyes) dull.

lack a dai si cal [ˌlækəˈdeizikəl] adj. appearing tired, uninterested, unenthusiastic. ~ly adv.

lack ey, lac quey [ˈlæki] n. man-servant (usu. in livery); (fig.) person who is too obsequious, who obeys orders without question, etc.

la con ic [ləˈkɔnik] adj. using, expressed in, few words: a ~ person (reply). la con i cal ly adv. la con i cism [ləˈkɔnisizəm], lac o nism [ˈlækənizəm] nn. [U] being ~; [C] instance of this; short, pithy saying.

lac quer [ˈlækə*] n. [U] (sorts of) varnish used to give a hard, bright coating to metal (esp. brass); kind of varnish used for wooden articles (esp. Japanese ~); articles coated with this. v.t. (VP 1) coat with ~.

lac quey, see lackey.

la crosse [ləˈkrɔs, lɑː-] n. [U] outdoor game, popular in N. America, played by two teams of twelve, with a ball which is caught in, carried in, and thrown from, a racket with a net (called a crosse).

lac tic [ˈlæktik] adj. of milk: ~ acid, the acid in sour milk.

la cu na [ləˈkjuːnə] n. (pl. -nas, -nae [niː]) blank; empty part; missing portion (esp. in writing, or in an argument where sth. is missing).

lac y [ˈleisi] adj. (-ier, -iest) of or like lace.

lad [læd] n. boy; young man. lad die [ˈlædi] n. (term of endearment for a) lad lad der [ˈlædə*] n. 1. two lengths of wood, metal, or rope, with crosspieces (called rungs), used in climbing up and down walls, a ship's side, etc. 2. (= U.S.A. run) fault in a stocking caused by stitches becoming undone, so that there is a vertical ~-like flaw ˈ~-proof adj. proof against such flaws. v.i. (of stockings) develop ~s: Have you any nylons that won't ~?

lade [leid] v.t. (p.p. laden [ˈleidn]) (VP 1) load (which is the usual word).

lad en [ˈleidn] adj. ~ with, weighted or burdened with: trees ~ with apples; a mind ~ with grief.

la-di-da [ˈlɑːdiˈdɑː] n. & adj. (person who habitually uses) swagger and pretension in manners and ways of speaking; person who is considered to be pretentious in this way.

lad ing [ˈleidiŋ] n. [U] cargo; freight: a bill of ~, list with details of a ship's cargo.

la dle [ˈleidl] n. large, deep, cup-shaped spoon for dipping out liquids: a soup ~. v.t. (VP 1, 10) serve with or as from a ~: ~ out soup; (fig.) ~ out honours.

la dy [ˈleidi] n. 1. (corresponding to gentleman) woman belonging to th upper classes; woman who has goo manners and some claim to social pos tion. ˈ~-in-ˈwaiting, ~ of the bed chamber, ~ attending upon the queen
2. (used courteously for any) woma of any kind or class, with or withou good manners and refinement. 3. (p only) form of address, esp. 'Ladi and Gentlemen'. 4. (attrib.) female:
doctor (clerk) (woman doctor being pr ferable); the ~ help, the domestic servan
5. Ladies (as a sing. n.) women's publ lavatory: Is there a Ladies near here
6. (cap. L.) title (in Gt. Brit.) used of an to the wives of some nobles; (prefixe to Christian names) titles used of and t the daughters of some nobles. 7. My L~ term of address used (esp. by servant and tradesmen) to holders of the tit Lady (as in def. 6). 8. (various) Our L~
the Virgin Mary. ˈL~-ˌchapel, chap (in a large church) dedicated to the Virg
Mary. ˈ~bird n. reddish-brown inse
(a small flying beetle) with black spot L~ Day, 25th March, one of th *quarter-days. ˈ~-ˌkiller n. man, on of whose aims in life is to attract th attention of women. ˈ~'s-maid n. ~ personal servant, esp. in charge of he toilet. ~'s man, ladies' man, ma fond of the society of women. ~lik
adj. behaving as a ~; befitting a ~. ~shi
n. used (Your, Her, ~ship) in speakin to or of a titled ~.

^{1}lag [læg] v.i. (-gg-) (VP 21, 23) go to slow, not keep up with: The lame chil lagged behind. n. time lag, period o time by which sth. is slower or later

^{2}lag [læg] n. (sl.) person convicted o crime; (esp.) an old lag, one who ha served several sentences of imprisonment.

^{3}lag [læg] v.t. (-gg-) (VP 1) protect (water pipes, cisterns, etc.) with material tha will not conduct heat or cold, esp. d this to prevent freezing of water i pipes, waste of heat, etc. lag ging n material used for this.

la ger [ˈlɑːgə*] n. [U] sort of light beer [C] bottle or glass of this.

lag gard [ˈlægəd] n. person who lags behind; person who is lacking in energy, etc

la goon [ləˈguːn] n. salt-water lak separated from the sea by sand-bank(s or coral reef(s); water enclosed by a atoll.

lah-di-da = la-di-da.

laid [leid] p.t. & p.p. of lay.

lain [lein] p.p. of lie.

lair [lɛə*] n. wild animal's resting-plac or den.

laird [lɛəd] n. landowner in Scotland.

lais sez-faire [ˈleiseiˈfɛə*, (Fr.) lɛsefɛː
n. [U] (policy of) allowing individua activities (esp. in commerce) to be con ducted without government control.

i ty [ˈleiiti] n. (usu. sing. with def. rt.) 1. all laymen (i.e. all those persons ot in Holy Orders, those who are not lergy). 2. all those persons outside particular learned profession (thus, sed by a doctor, the word may mean all hose not trained for the medical pro-ession).

ke [leik] n. large area of water surrounded by land.

ke [leik] n. (often crimson ~) dark red colouring material.

kh, see lac.

m [læm] v.t. & i. (-mm-) (sl.) (VP 1) thrash; (VP 24) lam into sb., thrash him.

ma [ˈlɑːmə] n. Buddhist priest in Tibet. ~se ry [ˈlɑːməsəri, ləˈmæsəri] n. monastery of ~s.

mb [læm] n. [C] young of the sheep; U] its flesh as food: a leg of ~; roast ~. v.i. bring forth ~s. ~kin [ˈlæmkin] n. very young ~. ~skin [ˈlæmskin] n. [C] skin of a ~ with the wool on it (as used for gloves, etc.); [U] leather made from a ~'s skin.

m baste [læmˈbeist] v.t. (sl.) thrash; beat; scold violently.

m bent [ˈlæmbənt] adj. (of a flame or light) moving over the surface with soft radiance; (of the eyes, sky) shining softly; (of humour, wit) gently brilliant. lam ben cy n.

me [leim] adj. 1. not able to walk normally because of an injury or defect: ~ in the left leg. 2. (of an excuse, argument, etc.) unconvincing; unsatisfactory. 3. (of metre) halting. v.t. make ~. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

ment [ləˈment] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 17A, 21, 24) show, feel, express, great sorrow or regret: ~ the death of a friend; ~ for a friend; ~ (over) one's misfortunes. n. [C] expression of grief; (music) song or poem expressing grief: a funeral ~.

am en ta ble [ˈlæməntəbl] adj. regrettable; to be deplored: a ~ (poor, unsatisfying) performance of an opera. lam en ta bly adv.

am en ta tion [ˌlæmenˈteiʃən] n. [U] lamenting; [C] lament; expression of grief.

am i nate [ˈlæmineit] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) beat or roll (metal) into thin plates; split into layers; manufacture by placing layer on layer; cover with metal plates: ~d wood (plastics), of layers one over the other.

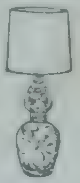
amp [læmp] n. container with oil and wick, used to give light; (in modern times) any apparatus for giving light (from gas, electricity, etc.); device for heating (see *spirit-~). ˈ~black n. [U] black colouring matter made from the soot of burning oil, formerly used in making paint and printing-ink. ˈ~light n. [U] light from a ~: read by ~light. ˈ~lighter n. man who went round the streets to light public ~s (when gas was used). ˈ~-oil n. [U] paraffin oil for ~s. ˈ~-post n. (usu. metal) post for a public street ~. ˈ~-shade n. globe of glass, screen of silk, parchment, etc., placed round or over a lamp.



A lamp-shade

lam poon [læmˈpuːn] n. [C] piece of writing attacking and ridiculing sb. v.t. (VP 1) write a ~ against.

lam prey [ˈlæmpri] n. (pl. ~s) eel-like sea-animal.

¹lance [lɑːns] n. weapon with a long wooden shaft and a pointed steel head used by a horseman; similar instrument used for spearing fish. ~-corporal [ˈlɑːnsˈkɔːpərəl] n. lowest grade of non-commissioned officer in the army. lanc er n. soldier of a cavalry regiment originally armed with ~s; (pl.) (music for a) dance for four or more couples.

²lance [lɑːns] v.t. (VP 1) cut open, prick, with a lancet: ~ an abscess.

lan cet [ˈlɑːnsit] n. pointed, two-edged knife used by surgeons.

¹land [lænd] n. 1. [U] solid part of the earth's surface (contrasted with sea, water): travel over ~ and sea; come in sight of ~; glad to be on ~ (to reach ~, come to ~) again; a ~ breeze, one blowing from the land towards the sea (after sunset); ~-based aircraft, using bases on ~ (contrasted with aircraft based on carriers). Are you going by ~ or by sea, by train, car, etc., or by boat? 2. [U] ground, earth, as used for farming, etc.: working on the ~; ~-workers; rough and stony ~. 3. [U] property in the form of ~: How far does your ~ extend? Do you own much ~ here? ˈ~-ˌ*agent, person employed to manage an estate; person who buys and sells estates. 4. (pl.) estate; area of ~ with the trees, etc., on it: own houses and ~s. 5. country and its people (liter. or emotive in this sense, country being the ordinary word): my native ~; visit distant ~s; the Promised L~ (or) the L~ of Promise, Canaan, promised by God to the Jews; the ~ of the living, this present existence. 6. (compounds, etc.) ˈ~fall n. approach to ~, esp. for the first time during a voyage: a good ~fall, one that corresponds well to the calculations made by the ship's officers. ˈ~-ˌ*forces n. pl. military forces (not naval). ˈ~ˌ*holder n. owner or (more usu.) tenant of ~. ˈ~ˌ*lady n. woman who owns a house which she leases to a tenant, or who rents a house, rooms of which she sublets to tenants: owe one's ~lady a month's rent. ˈ~-locked adj. (of a bay, harbour, etc.) almost or entirely surrounded by ~. ˈ~lord n. (a) person from whom another rents ~ or building(s). (b) keeper of an inn, a public house, a boarding-house or lodging-house. ˈ~-ˌ*lubber n. (used by sailors to describe a) person not accustomed to the sea and ships. ˈ~*mark n. [C] (a) object that marks the boundary of a piece of ~. (b) object, etc., easily seen from a distance and helpful to travellers (e.g. navigating officers of a ship). (c) (fig.) event, discovery, change, etc., that marks a stage or turning-point: ~marks in the history of mankind. ˈ~*mine n. [C] explosive mine laid in or on the ground or dropped by parachute from an aircraft. ˈ~-ˌ*owner n. owner of ~. ˈ~*slide n. [C] (a) sliding down of a mass of earth, rock, etc., from the side of a cliff, hillside, railway cutting, etc. (b) sudden change in political opinion resulting in an overwhelming majority of votes for one side in an election; a Democratic ~slide, a great victory for the Democratic party. ˈ~*slip n = ~slide (def. a). ˈ~*sman n. person who is not a sailor. ~ed [ˈlændid] adj. 1. consisting of ~: ~ed property. 2. owning ~: a ~ed proprietor; the ~ed classes, the great ~owners. ~less adj. without ~; not owning ~.

²land [lænd] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 21) go, come, put, on land (from a ship, aircraft, etc.); bring (a fish, an aircraft, etc.) to land: The passengers were quickly ~ed. We ~ed at Bombay. The airliner ~ed safely. The pilot ~ed the airliner safely. 2. (VP 1, 21) bring to, reach, a position or situation: ~ oneself in (get into) great difficulties; ~ like a cat, ~ on one's feet, (fig.) be lucky, escape trouble; be ~ed (find oneself) in a strange city without money or friends. 3. (VP 18, 19c) (sl.) strike, hit: She ~ed him one in the eye, dealt him a blow in the eye.

lan dau [ˈlændɔ:] n. four-wheeled horse-carriage with a folding roof in two sections.

land ing [ˈlændiŋ] n. 1. act of coming or bringing to land: the ~ of the Pilgrim Fathers in America. The pilot made an emergency ~. ˈ~-*field (-*strip) n. area of land for aircraft to take off from and land on. ˈ~-*gear n. undercarriage and wheels of an aircraft. ˈ~-*net n. bag-shaped net on a long handle for landing fish caught with a rod and line. ˈ~-ˌ*party n. party of armed men who are landed (e.g. to keep order). ˈ~-*craft n. ship whose bows can be opened up to allow (usu. military) vehicles to get ashore without being lifted out. 2. (also ˈ~-*place) place where people and goods may be landed from a boat, etc. ˈ~-*stage n. platform (usu. floating) on which passengers and goods are landed. 3. platform at the top of a flight of stairs on to which doors may open.

land scape [ˈlænskeip, -skip] n. [C] (picture of) inland scenery; [U] branch of art dealing with this. ~ *gardening n. the laying out of grounds and gardens in imitation of natural scenery.

lane [lein] n. 1. narrow country road, usu. between hedges or banks. 2. (usu. as part of a proper name) narrow street or alley between buildings: Drury L~. 3. passage made or left between lines of persons. 4. route regularly used by ocean steamers. 5. marked division of a wide road for the guidance of motorists: the inside (or nearside) ~; the outside (or offside) ~; four-~ traffic.

lang syne [ˈlæŋˈsain] adv. & n. (Scot.) (in) the old days; (in) past time.

lan guage [ˈlæŋgwidʒ] n. 1. [U] human and non-instinctive method of communicating ideas, feelings, and desires by means of a system of sound symbols. 2. [C] form of ~ used by a nation or race: the ~s of Asia; foreign ~s. 3. [U] manner of using words: a person with a great command (flow) of ~, person who is fluent or eloquent. 4. [U] words, phrases, etc., used by a profession or class: technical (legal) ~; the ~ of diplomacy. 5. bad ~, strong ~, language full of oaths, violent words, etc. 6. system of signs used as ~: finger ~ (as used by deaf and dumb persons); the ~ of flowers.

lan guid [ˈlæŋgwid] adj. lacking in energy; slow-moving. ~ly adv.

lan guish [ˈlæŋgwiʃ] v.i. (VP 21, 24) be or become languid; lose health and strength; be unhappy because of a desire (for sth.): ~ in prison; ~ for love and sympathy. She gave the young man a ~ing look, one that suggested a desire for love or sympathy.

lan guor [ˈlæŋgə*] n. 1. [U] weakness of body (as produced by hard work) or of spirit (as produced by sorrow or an unhappy love affair); lack of life or movement; stillness or heaviness: the ~ of a summer day. 2. (often pl.) soft or tender mood. ~ous adj. ~ous ly adv.

lank [læŋk] adj. 1. (of hair) straight and lying limp or flat. 2. tall and lean.

lank y [ˈlæŋki] adj. (-ier, -iest) (of a person, his arms or legs) long and lean in an ungraceful way: a ~, overgrown girl.

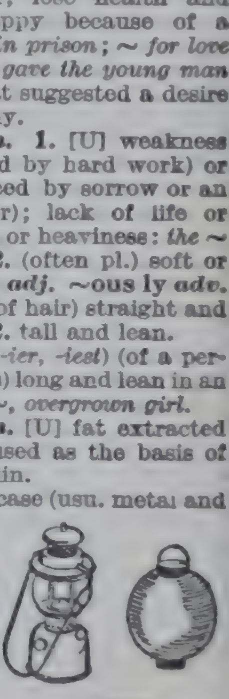
lan o lin [ˈlænəli:n] n. [U] fat extracted from sheep's wool used as the basis of ointments for the skin.

lan tern [ˈlæntən] n. case (usu. metal and glass) protecting a light from the wind, etc., outdoors. (See also ¹*dark* and magic.) ˈ~-ˈ*jawed adj. having long and thin jaws so that the face has a hollow look.



Lanterns

lan yard [ˈlænjəd] n. 1. cord (worn by sailors and soldiers) for a whistle or knife. 2. short rope used on a ship for fastening or moving sth.

lap [læp] n. front part of a person's legs from the waist to the knees, when sitting, as the place on which a child is nursed or sth. held: The mother had the baby on her lap. in the lap of luxury, in Fortune's lap, in fortunate and luxurious circumstances. '*lap-dog n. small pet dog. '*lap-strap n. seat-belt, fastened across the lap, in an aircraft.

lap [læp] v.t. & i. (-pp-) 1. (VP 10, 18) wrap or fold (cloth, etc.) round or in: lapped in luxury, enjoying every kind of luxury. 2. (VP 1, 21) (cause to) overlap: Put the slates on the roof so that they lap over. n. 1. amount by which one thing laps over. 2. one circuit round a track or race-course: Smith overtook the other drivers on the last lap.

lap [læp] v.i. & t. (-pp-) 1. (VP 1, 10) drink by taking up with the tongue, as a cat does: The cat quickly lapped up all the milk. 2. (of human beings) take quickly or greedily: lap up compliments. 3. (VP 21, 23) (of water) move with a sound like the lapping up of liquid: waves lapping on the beach; water lapping against the sides of a canoe. n. 1. act of lapping: The dog emptied the plate with three laps of the tongue. 2. [U] sound of lapping: the lap of the waves against the side of the boat.

la pel [læ'pel, lə-] n. part of the breast of a coat folded back and forming a continuation of the collar.

lap i da ry ['læpidəri] adj. cut on stone: a ~ inscription. n. person who cuts, polishes, or engraves, gems.

lap is laz u li [ˌlæpis 'læzjulai] n. bright blue stone; its colour.

Lapels

lapse [læps] n. [C] 1. slight error in speech or behaviour; slip of the memory, tongue, or pen. 2. falling away from what is right: a ~ from virtue; a ~ from true belief (into heresy). 3. (of time) passing away; interval: the ~ of time; a long ~ of time. 4. (law) ending of a right, etc., from failure to use it or ask for its renewal. v.i. 1. (VP 21, 23, 24) fail to keep one's position; fall (from good ways into bad ways): ~ from virtue into vice; ~ into bad habits. 2. (VP 21, 24 with to) (of rights and privileges) be lost because not used, claimed, or renewed.

lap wing ['læpwiŋ] n. bird of the plover family; peewit.

lar board ['lɑ:bəd] n. & adj. left side of a ship when looking forward (now always called the port side). (Cf. starboard.)

lar ce ny ['lɑ:sni] n. [U] stealing; theft; [C] instance of this.

larch [lɑ:tʃ] n. [C] evergreen tree with small cones and light-green leaves; [U] its wood.

lard [lɑ:d] n. [U] fat of pigs prepared for use in cooking. v.t. (VP 1) put ~ on; put pieces of bacon into or on (meat, etc.) before cooking, in order to add to the flavour; (fig.) enrich: a speech ~ed with quotations.

lard er ['lɑ:də*] n. room or cupboard where meat and other kinds of food are stored.

large [lɑ:dʒ] adj. 1. of considerable size; taking up much space; able to contain much: A man with a ~ family needs a ~ house. She inherited a ~ fortune. as ~ as life, see life, def. 10. (Note that large is less colloq. than big and not so emotive as great. 'A great city' is large, but the use of 'great' suggests that it is also famous. Large is seldom used of persons, but note ~ of limb, having ~ limbs.) '*~-scale adj. (a) extensive: ~-scale operations. (b) made or drawn to a ~ scale: a ~-scale map. 2. liberal; generous; unprejudiced (chiefly in the following): a ~ heart, (hence) '*~-'hearted; ~ charity; ~ tolerance; '~-'minded, (hence) '~-'mindedness. 3. of wide range; not confined or restricted: give an official ~ powers (discretion); a man with ~ ideas; ~ and small farmers, men farming on a ~ and a small scale. n. (only in) at ~, (a) at liberty; free: The escaped prisoner is still at ~. (b) at full length; with details: to talk (write) at ~. (c) in general: Did the people at ~ approve of the government's policy? (d) at random; without definite aim: scatter accusations at ~. adv. boastfully: talk ~. by and ~, see by, 11, def. 4. larg ish ['lɑ:dʒiʃ] adj: rather ~. ~ly ['lɑ:dʒli] adv. 1. to a great extent: His success was ~ly due to luck. 2. generously; freely: He gives ~ly to charity. ~ness n.

lar gesse ['lɑ:dʒes] n. (old use) [U] generous giving; money or other things generously given.

lar go ['lɑ:gou] n. & adv. (piece of music, movement) in slow time.

la ri at ['læriət] n. rope for picketing a horse.

^{1}lark [lɑ:k] n. (kinds of) small songbird, esp. the skylark.

^{2}lark [lɑ:k] n. [C] bit of fun; frolic: Boys are fond of having a ~. He did it for a ~, in fun. What a ~! How amusing! v.i. (VP 21, 23) play pranks: Stop ~ing about and get on with your work.

lark spur ['lɑ:kspə:*] n. tall garden plant with blue, white, or pink flowers.

larn [lɑ:n] v.t. & i. (colloq. or dial. for) learn.

lar va ['lɑ:və] n. (pl. -vae [-vi:]) insect in the first stage of its life-history, after coming out of the egg. lar val ['lɑ:vəl] adj. of or in the form of a ~.

lar ynx ['læriŋks] n. upper part of the windpipe where the vocal cords are. lar yn gi tis [ˌlærin'dʒaitis] n. [U] inflammation of the ~.

Las car ['læskə*] n. seaman from the East Indies.

las civ i ous [lə'siviəs] adj. feeling, causing, expressing, lust. ~ly *adv. ~ness *n.

¹lash [læʃ] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10, 23) strike violently (at); hit or kick (out at); make a sudden movement (of a limb or the tail): The tiger ~ed its tail angrily. The horse ~ed out at me, kicked me or tried to do so. He ~ed the horse across the back with his whip. The rain was ~ing (against) the windows. The speaker ~ed his listeners into a fury, roused them to a fury. The speaker ~ed out against (attacked) the government 2. (VP 1, 10) fasten tightly with rope, etc.: ~ two things together; ~ one thing to another; ~ sth. down (to make it secure) '~-up n. improvised or roughly constructed piece of apparatus.

²lash [læʃ] n. 1. part of a whip with which strokes are given; (usu. leather) thong; blow or stroke given with a ~: He was given twenty ~es. the ~, punishment of flogging: mutinous sailors sentenced to the ~; (fig.) the ~ of criticism; the ~ of an angry woman's tongue. 2. = eyelash lash ing ['læʃiŋ] n. 1 whipping or beating 2. (pl., colloq.) plenty: strawberries with ~s of cream ~s of drink (~s to drink).

lass [læs], las sie ['læsi] nn. girl, sweetheart.

las si tude ['læsitju:d] n. [U] tiredness, state of being uninterested in things las so ['læsou, læ'su:] n. (pl -s, -es) long rope with a slipknot, used for catching horses and cattle, esp in America. v.t catch with a ~.

¹last [lɑ:st] adj., adv. & n. I. *adj. 1 (contrasted with first; cf. latest) coming after all others in time or order: the ~ month of the year; the ~ Sunday in June; the ~ time I saw you; the ~ letters of the alphabet (i.e. XYZ); the two ~ (or the ~ two) persons to arrive; ~ but not least (i.e. coming at the end, but not least in importance); a ~-minute appeal, one made just before sth is to be done, decided, etc. 2. (contrasted with next) coming immediately before the present: ~ night (week, month, summer, year); on Tuesday ~; ~ May; in May ~; in (for, during) the ~ few days (weeks, etc.); this day ~ week (= a week ago). 3. only remaining: He had spent his ~ shilling. He would share his ~ crust with a beggar. This is our ~ hope. 4. least likely, suitable, willing, desirable, etc.: She's the ~ woman I want to sit next to at dinner, I have no wish whatever to do so. That's the ~ thing I should expect him to do, it seems most improbable that he will do it 5. final: leaving nothing more to be said or done: I've said my ~ word on this question. This is the ~ thing (the newest, the most up-to-date, thing) in saving devices. II. *adv. 1. (con with first) after all others: I am speak ~ at the meeting. The horse which I bet my money came in ~. 2 (contrasted with next) on the ~ before the present time: When did ~ get a letter from her? She was qu well when I saw her ~ (when I ~ saw her When were you ~ in London (in Lond ~)? III. *n. that which comes at t end: These are the ~ of our app James II was the ~ of the Stuart king We shall never hear the ~ of this, peop will always talk about it. I hope we' seen the ~ of her, that we shall never se her again at ~, at long ~, in the end after (much) delay: At ~ we reach London. The holidays came at ~ to (till) the ~, until the end; (liter. o rhet.) until death: faithful to the ~. breathe one's ~, (liter.) die. ~ly *adv (in making a list) in the ~ place; finally L~ly I must explain that ²last [lɑ:st] v.t. (VP 20, 21, 23) go on, be enough (for): We have enough food to ~ (us) three days. How long will the fin weather ~? ~ing *adj. continuing for long time: a ~ing peace.

³last [lɑ:st] n. model of the foot for making shoes on. stick to one's ~, not try to do things one cannot do well.

latch [lætʃ] n. 1. simple fastening for door or gate, as illustrated here, the bar falling into a catch and being lifted by a small lever. on the ~, fastened with a ~, but not locked. 2. small spring lock for a door opened from outside with a ~key. v.t. & (VP 1, 21) fasten with a ~. L~ the doors. This door won't ~ properly.

A latch (def. 1)

late [leit] adj. & adv. (later, latest. Cf. latter, last) I. *adj. 1. (contrasted with early) after the right, fixed, or usual time. Am I ~? Don't be ~ for school. The train was ten minutes ~. The crop are ~ this year. 2. far on in the day or night, in time, in a period or season: a a ~ hour; in the ~ afternoon; in ~ summer (e.g. in Sept.); in the ~ eighties (e.g. of the 19th c., in the years just before 1890); ~ Latin (between classical Latin and the Latin of the Middle Ages); keep ~ hours, i.e much after the usual times; ~ dinner, in the evening, contrasted with mid-day dinner The ~ edition o this paper appears at 3 p.m.; there's later one at 5 p.m., the final edition come out at 7 p.m 3. recent; that recently was: the ~ political troubles; the ~ news (fashions); the very ~st improvements; Mr Green's ~st novel the most recently published. (Cf. latest and last; Mr Green has said that his ~st novel wil be his last, that he will write no more novels.) 4. former, recent (and still living): the ~ prime minister. 5. former, recent (and not now living): her ~ husband; the ~ King. 6. of ~, recently. at (the) latest, before or not later than: Be here on Monday at (the) latest. II. *adv. 1. (contrasted with early) after the usual, right, fixed, or expected time: get up (go to bed, arrive home) ~; marry ~ in life (e.g. at the age of 50); two years ~r; sit (stay) up ~, not go to bed until a ~ hour; better ~ than never. ~r on, at a ~r time; afterwards: a few days ~r on; as we shall see ~r on. sooner or ~r, some time or other. early and ~, at all hours: He's at his desk early and ~. 2. recently: I saw him as ~ as (no ~r than) yesterday. ~ly *adv. (usu. in neg. & interr. sentences, or with only, or in as ~ly as) in recent times; recently: Have you been to the cinema ~ly? We haven't been there ~ly. (Cf., in the affirm.: I saw him a few days ago. I was there not long ago.) I saw her as ~ly as last Sunday. It is only ~ly that she has been well enough to go out. lat ish ['leitiʃ] adj. rather ~ .

la teen [lə'tiːn] adj. (only in) ~ sail, triangular sail on a long yard at an angle of 45° to the mast.

la tent ['leitənt] adj. concealed; present but not yet active or developed: ~ disease germs; ~ energy; the ~ image on a photographic film, not visible until the film is developed.

lat er al ['lætərəl] adj. of, at, from, to, the side(s): Pinch out the ~ buds to get large chrysanthemum blooms.

lat er ite ['lætərait] n. [U] kind of red clay much used for road-making in the tropics.

la tex ['leiteks] n. [U] milk-white liquid of (esp. rubber) plants.

lath [lɑːθ] n. (pl. ~s [lɑːθs, lɑːðz]) long, thin strip of wood, esp. as used for plaster walls and ceilings, and for making trellises, Venetian blinds.

lathe [leið] n. machine for holding and turning pieces of wood or metal while they are being shaped, etc.

lath er ['lɑːðə*, 'læðə*] n. [U] 1. soft mass of white froth from soap and water (as made on a man's face before shaving). 2. frothy sweat on a horse. v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) make ~ on: ~ one's chin before shaving. The horse was badly ~ed. 2. (VP 21) form ~: Soap does not ~ in sea-water.

A lathe

la thi ['lɑːti] n. long, iron-bound stick used as a weapon (by the police) in India.

Lat in ['lætin] n. language of ancient Rome. adj. of the ~ language; of peoples speaking languages descended from ~: ~ America, countries of S. and Central America in which Spanish and Portuguese are spoken; the ~ races (peoples), those of Italy, France, Spain, Portugal, etc. ~ize ['lætinaiz] v.t. give a ~ form to (a word); put (sth.) into ~.

lat i tude ['lætitjuːd] n. 1. [U] distance north or south of the equator measured in degrees. 2. (pl.) regions or districts: high (low) ~s, places a long way from (near to) the equator; warm ~s. 3. [U] (measure of) freedom in action or opinion: Does your government allow much ~ in political belief, allow people to hold widely different political beliefs? 4. (photog.) time limits within which a film may safely be under- or over-exposed. lat i tu di na ri an ['læti,tjuːdi'nɛəriən] adj. & n. (person who is) tolerant, broad-minded (esp. in religious beliefs and dogmas).

la trine [lə'triːn] n. (in places where there are no sewers, e.g. camps) pit or trench to receive human urine and excrement.

lat ter ['lætə*] adj. 1. recent; belonging to the end (of a period): the ~ half of the year. 2. the ~, (contrasted with the former) the second of two things or person already mentioned: Of these two men the former is dead, but the ~ is still alive. ~ly *adv. of late; nowadays.

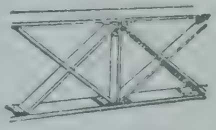
lat tice ['lætis] n. framework of crossed laths or metal strips as a screen, fence, or door, or for climbing plants to grow over: (attrib.) a ~ frame (girder, pylon), made with iron or steel ~-work; a ~ window, one with small square or diamond-shaped pieces of glass in a framework of lead. lat ticed ['lætist] adj. made in the form of a ~; provided with a ~.



A lattice girder

laud [lɔːd] v.t. (VP 1) (rare except in hymns) praise; glorify. ~a ble ['lɔːdəbl] adj. deserving praise. ~a bly *adv.

laud a num ['lɔdnəm] n. [U] opium prepared for use as a calming drug.

¹laugh [lɑːf] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 23, 24) make sounds, and movements of the face and body, showing amusement, joy, contempt, etc.: The jokes made everyone ~. ~ at, (a) be amused by: ~ at a joke (a funny story). (b) make fun of; ridicule: It's unkind to ~ at a person who is in trouble. (c) disregard; treat with indifference: ~ at difficulties. ~ over, ~ while discussing, examining, etc.: ~ over a letter. ~ in sb.'s face, defy openly, show contempt for. ~ up one's sleeve, be secretly amused. ~ on the wrong side (on the other side) of one's mouth (face), change from joy or triumph to sorrow or regret. He ~s best, who ~s last (prov.)

warning against expressing triumph too soon. 2. (VP 10) ~ away, dismiss (a subject) by ~ing: ~ away sb.'s fears or doubts, suggest, by ~ing, that they are without real cause. ~ off, escape from, get rid of, by ~ing: ~ off an embarrassing situation. ~ down, silence by ~ing; reject by ~ing: They ~ed the speaker (the proposal) down. 3. (VP 1) express by ~ing: She ~ed her pleasure (thanks). 4. (VP 7, 10, 18) arrive at a certain state or obtain a certain result by ~ing: ~ oneself helpless (into convulsions); ~ a person out of a foolish belief. ~ing adj. showing happiness, amusement, etc.: ~ing faces. n. laughter: It's no ~ing matter, not a suitable subject for ~ing. ˈ~ing-gas n. nitrous oxide, used in dental surgery. ˈ~ing-stock n. person or thing that causes general ridicule. ~ing ly adv

^{2}laugh [lɑːf] n. [C] sound made in laughing; act of laughing: We've had a good many ~s over his foolishness. break into a ~, begin to laugh suddenly. raise a ~, cause amusement. have (get) the ~ of sb., reverse a situation by getting the better of him (so that you can laugh at him instead of being laughed at).

laugh a ble [ˈlɑːfəbl] adj. amusing: causing laughter.

laugh ter [ˈlɑːftə*] n. [U] laughing: roar with ~; burst into ~.

^{1}launch [lɔːntʃ] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) set (a ship, esp. one newly built) afloat: ~ a new passenger liner. 2. (VP 1, 18) send (a blow, spear, etc.) (at or against): ~ blows (threats, etc.) against an opponent; send (a missile, rocket, etc.) into outer space. ˈ~ing-pad n. platform from which missiles, etc., are ~ed. 3. (VP 1) get started; set going: ~ a new business enterprise; ~ a young man into business; ~ an attack upon the enemy. 4. (VP 23) ~ out into, make a start on (sth. new): ~ out into a new argument; ~ out into extravagance. n. act of ~ing (a ship).

^{2}launch [lɔːntʃ] n. passenger-carrying boat (on rivers and lakes, in harbours) driven by steam, petrol, or electricity.

laun der [ˈlɔːndə*] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) wash and press (clothes): Send these sheets to be ~ed. Will these shirts ~ well?

laun der ette [ˌlɔːndəˈret] n. laundry at which members of the public may, on payment, launder their clothes, etc., in automatic washing-machines.

laun dress [ˈlɔːndris] n. woman who earns money by washing and ironing clothes.

laun dry [ˈlɔːndri] n. 1. [C] laundering business; place where clothes, sheets, etc., are sent to be laundered. 2. (sing. with def. art.) clothes (to be) laundered: Has the ~ come back yet? ˈ~-man n. man who collects and delivers ~.

lau re ate [ˈlɔːriit] adj. crowned with a laurel wreath. n. the L~, the Poet L~, poet officially appointed to the Royal Household in Gt. Brit. The holder may write poems on great national occasions.

lau rel [ˈlɔrəl] n. evergreen shrub with smooth, shiny leaves, used by ancient Romans and Greeks as an emblem of victory, success, and distinction: win (gain) ~s, win reputation, honour; look to one's ~s, beware of losing one's reputation; be on the look-out for possible successes among rivals.

lav [læv] n. (colloq. abbrev. of) lavatory.

la va [ˈlɑːvə] n. [U] hot liquid material flowing from a volcano: a stream of ~; this material when it has cooled and hardened: ~ beds. (See pumice.)

lav a to ry [ˈlævətəri] n. [C] room for washing the hands and face in; (genteel name for) water-closet.

lave [leiv] v.t. (poet.) wash; bathe; (of a stream) flow gently past or against.

lav en der [ˈlævində*] n. [U] plant with pale purple sweet-scented flowers; the dried flowers and stalks (sewn up in bags and placed among linen sheets, etc.); the colour of ~.

lav ish [ˈlæviʃ] adj. 1. giving or producing freely, liberally, or generously: He is never ~ of praise (in giving money to charity). 2. (of what is given) given abundantly; excessive: ~ praise; ~ expenditure on luxuries. v.t. (VP 18) give abundantly and generously: ~ care on an only child. ~ly adv.

law [lɔː] n. 1. [C] rule made by authority for the proper regulation of a community or society or for correct conduct in life: When a Bill is passed by Parliament and signed by the Sovereign, it becomes a law. ˈlawˌgiver n. man who gives a code of laws (e.g. Moses in Hebrew history, Solon in Greek history). 2. [U] the law, the whole body of laws considered collectively: If a man breaks the law he can be punished. Does the law allow me to do this? lay down the law, talk authoritatively, as if one were certain of being right. ˈlaw-ˌabiding adj. obeying the law. ˈlaw-ˌbreaker n. person who disobeys the law. 3. [U] controlling influence of the laws: maintain law and order, see that the laws are respected. Necessity knows no law, when sth. cannot be avoided, ordinary laws and rules will be ignored or broken. 4. [U] the laws as a system or science; the legal profession: study law; law students; read law, study in order to become a lawyer; follow (go in for) the law, be, prepare to become, a lawyer. 5. (with a defining word) one of the branches of the study of law: commercial law; the law of nations; international law. 6. [U] operation of the law (as providing a remedy for wrongs): go to law against sb.; have the law of sb., appeal to the law-courts; take the law into one's own hands, use force to redress a wrong. ˈlaw-court n. court of justice. ˈlaw-suit n. prosecution of a claim in a law-court. 7. [C] rule of action or procedure, esp. in an art, department of life, or a game: the laws of perspective (harmony); the laws of cricket. be a law unto oneself, disregard rules and conventions; do what one thinks right. 8. (also law of nature or natural law) factual statement of what always happens in certain circumstances; regularity in nature, e.g. the order of the seasons: Newton's law; the laws of motion; the law of supply and demand; the law of self-preservation, the instinct of men and animals to behave in a way that will save them from danger.

law ful [ˈlɔːful] adj. allowed by law; according to law: ~ acts; the ~ ruler; the ~ heir. ~ly *adv.

law less [ˈlɔːlis] adj. 1. (of a country) not having laws, or having laws that are inoperative. 2. not in accordance with the law, uncontrolled by, disobedient to, the law: ~ acts; ~ tribes. ~ly *adv. ~ness *n.

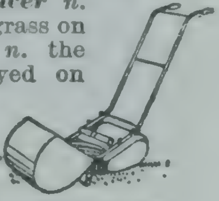
¹lawn [lɔːn] n. [C] area of grass (turf) kept closely cut and smooth (e.g. in a private garden or a public park); such an area of grass used for a game: a croquet ~; a tennis ~. ˈ~-ˌmower n. machine for cutting grass on lawns. ˈ~-ˈtennis n. the game of tennis played on an unwalled court, either hard surfaced or turfed.



A lawn-mower

²lawn [lɔːn] n. [U] kind of fine linen used for dresses, blouses, and esp. for a bishop's sleeves.

law yer [ˈlɔːjə*] n. person who has studied law, esp. an attorney or solicitor.

lax [læks] adj. 1. negligent; inattentive; not strict or severe: lax discipline (behaviour); lax in morals. 2. (of the bowels) free in action. lax i ty [ˈlæksiti] n. [U] being lax; [C] instance of being lax. lax ly *adv.

lax a tive [ˈlæksətiv] n. & adj. (medicine, drug) causing the bowels to empty themselves.

¹lay [lei] v.t. & i. (p.t. & p.p. laid [leid]). (See def. 10 for combinations with advv.) 1. (VP 1, 10) put on a surface; put down in a certain position; place (in the proper position for a purpose): Who will lay the linoleum, spread it on the floor properly, fasten it down, etc.? He laid his hand on my shoulder. A new submarine cable was laid from England to Holland. The woodcutter laid his axe to the tree, began to chop. A bricklayer is a man who lays bricks. He had laid the foundation of his future success. 2. (VP 1, 21) (of birds and insects) produce: Hens lay eggs. New-laid eggs, 6s. a dozen. Are your hens laying yet? 3. (VP 1, 10, 18) (with various objects) put or keep down; cause to be down; cause to be in a certain condition: sprinkle water on the road to lay the dust; crops laid (i.e. flattened) by rain-storms. What can we do to lay (= get rid of) his doubts? lay a ghost (spirit), cause it to stop appearing to people; exorcise it. lay a snare (a trap, an ambush) (for . . .), prepare one. lay hands on, (a) get possession of; seize: He keeps everything he can lay (his) hands on. (b) do violence to: How dare you lay hands on me, use force against me, try to hold me? He laid violent hands upon himself, tried to commit suicide. (c) find: I have the book somewhere, but I can't lay my hands on it just now, don't know where it is. (d) (in the Church) confirm; ordain (sb.) as a deacon or priest by laying on of hands (as a bishop does) or consecrate (sb.) as a bishop (as an archbishop does). lay one's hopes on, place one's confidence in. lay great (little) store upon, value very much (little). lay stress (emphasis, weight) on sth., treat it as important; emphasize it. lay sth. at a person's door, lay sth. to a person's charge, hold him responsible for it; put the blame or (rarely) the credit for it on him: Please don't lay your misfortunes at my door. See also the asterisked words in: *lay *claim to sth.; lay a *finger (one's *fingers) on; lay sth. to *heart; lay *heads together; lay seige to. 4. (VP 7, 10) put into, bring to, reduce to, a specified condition or situation: He was laid to rest in the churchyard, was buried there. They laid the land waste, destroyed everything. lay sb. under an obligation (to . . .). lay sb. under a necessity, make it necessary for him to do sth.: Your conduct lays me under the necessity of punishing you. lay sb. under *contribution. lay sth. bare, show; reveal: lay one's heart bare, reveal one's secret emotions, etc. lay sb. low, cause him to be down: The blow laid him low, sent him to the ground. I've been laid low (kept in bed) by influenza. lay sth. open, (a) reveal, expose: lay open a plot. (b) cut; injure: lay one's cheek open (e.g. by falling and striking it against a rock). lay oneself open to, render oneself liable to (criticism, calumny, etc.). lay sb. (fast) by the heels, catch him and put him in prison (orig. used of putting a man in the stocks); (fig.) deprive him of liberty of movement, put him out of action. 5. (VP 1) place or arrange (ready for use, etc.): lay the table (for breakfast, etc.), prepare the table for a meal by putting out plates, knives, etc.; lay the cloth, spread a tablecloth ready for a meal; lay a fire, put paper, wood, coal, etc., in a fireplace ready for lighting. 6. (VP 18, usu. passive) set (a story, etc.) in time or place: The scene of the story is laid in Athens in the third century B.C. 7. (VP 18) put (as an obligation, tax, etc.): lay heavy taxes on tobacco and wine; lay a heavy burden on sb.; lay strict injunctions on a person, give him strict orders; lay the blame (for sth.) on sb. 8. (VP 1, 18) put down (a sum of money) as a wager or stake; offer as a bet: They laid a wager on the result of the race. I'll lay you £5 that he will not come. I'll lay (= make) you a bet that . . . 9. (VP 1, 18) cover, coat: lay a floor with a carpet (a yard with straw); put (colours, etc.) on a surface in layers: lay colours on canvas. (Cf. lay on, (e), below.) 10. (with advv. and in compounds) ˈlayaˌbout n. (sl.), loafer; person who avoids working for a living and who may be a criminal. lay aside, (VP 10) (a) put on one side; save or store (for future needs): lay aside money for one's old age. (b) put down: He laid his book aside to listen. (c) give up; no longer use or practise: lay aside old habits. lay back, (VP 10) cause to be back, turn back: The horse laid back its ears. lay by, (VP 10) = lay aside. ˈlay-by n. area at the side of a main road where drivers making long journeys may park their vehicles and rest without hindering the flow of traffic; (older use) railway siding. lay down, (VP 10) (a) place in a lying position, on the ground, etc.: Lay the baby down gently. She laid herself down. (b) surrender: lay down one's arms (i.e. weapons); lay down office. (c) sacrifice: lay down one's life. (d) pay a wager (money). (e) (begin to) build; make plans for: lay down a new ship (a railway). (f) establish; formulate (a rule, course, principle): lay it down that, assert that; lay sth. down as a maxim; prices laid down by the manufacturers. (g) convert (land) into pasture: lay down 10 acres in (to, with, under) grass. (h) store (wine) in a cellar: lay down claret and port. lay in, (VP 10) provide oneself with a stock of: lay in stores for the winter; lay in provisions. lay off, (a) (VP 10) (U.S.A.) discharge; dismiss temporarily: lay off workmen during a business depression. (b) (VP 21) (U.S.A.) discontinue work or activity: The doctor told me to lay off for a week. ˈlay-off n. period during which a workman is temporarily dismissed. lay on, (VP 10) (a) supply (gas, water) through pipes into a building: We can't occupy the new house until gas and water are laid on (b) (colloq.) organize; arrange for (entertainment, etc.): Theatres and concerts were laid on for the distinguished visitors from Greece. (c) impose (taxes, commands, penalties). (d) apply (blows, etc.) (e) apply a coat of paint, etc.: lay on a coat of plaster; lay it on thick (or with a trowel), (fig.) use obvious flattery; praise too much. lay out, (VP 10) (a) spread out ready for use or so as to be seen easily; arrange: lay out a cold meal ready for guests; lay out one's evening clothes; the magnificent scene that was laid out before the climbers when they reached the summit. (b) prepare for burial: lay out a corpse. (c) (colloq.) put (sb.) temporarily out of action; make unconscious (e.g. in boxing, etc.): He was struck on the forehead by the (cricket) ball and laid out. (d) spend (money): lay out one's money carefully. (e) make a plan for: lay out a garden; well laid-out streets and avenues; lay out a printed page. (f) (reflex.) take pains (to do sth.): She laid herself out to make her guests comfortable. ˈlay-out n. arrangement; design; make-up (of a book, advertisement, etc.). lay up, (VP 10) (a) save, store: lay up provisions. You're laying up trouble for yourself, what you are doing (or failing to do) now will cause you trouble later. (b) put (a ship) out of commission: lay a ship up for repairs. (c) (passive) be laid up, be forced to stay in bed by illness, etc.: laid up with a broken leg.

^{2}lay [lei] p.t. of ^{2}lie.

^{3}lay [lei] n. short narrative poem.

^{4}lay [lei] adj. (attrib. only) 1. of, for, done by, persons who are not priests (cf. laity): a lay brother (sister), one who wears the dress and has taken the vows of a religious order, but who does manual work and is excused other duties. 2. non-professional; not expert (esp. with reference to the law and medicine): To the lay mind the language of a lawyer seems to be full of jargon. ˈlayman n. lay person: Where the law is concerned I am only a layman, I have no expert knowledge.

lay er ['leiə*] n. [C] 1. thickness of material (esp. one of several) laid or lying on or spread over a surface, or forming one horizontal division: a ~ of clay; a ~-cake, one with horizontal divisions separated by cream, jam, etc. 2. (gardening) shoot of a plant fastened down to take root while still growing from the parent plant. 3. (of hens) good (bad) ~s, laying eggs in large (small) numbers. 4. (betting) ~s and backers, persons betting against and on a horse, etc. v.t. (VP 1) fasten down (a shoot of a plant): ~ carnations.

Layering carnations

lay ette [leiˈet] n. clothing, etc., needed for a newly born child.

lay fig ure [ˈlei ˈfigə*] n. jointed wooden figure of the human body (used by artists for arranging drapery, etc.).

laz ar [ˈlæzə*] n. (arch.) poor and diseased person, esp. a leper.

laz ar et (-et to) [ˌlæzəˈret(ou)] n. (pl. -os) hospital for lepers.

Laz a rus [ˈlæzərəs] n. beggar; (in contrasts) very poor man: ~ and Dives.

laze [leiz] v.i. & t. (VP 21, 23, 10) be lazy; pass (time) in idleness: ~ all day; lazing away the afternoon.

la zy [ˈleizi] adj. (-ier, -iest) unwilling to work; doing little work; suitable for, causing, inducing, inactivity: a ~ fellow; a ~ afternoon. ˈ~-bones n. ~ person. laz i ly adv. laz i ness n.

lea [liː] n. (poet.) stretch of open grass land.

leach [liːtʃ] v.t. 1. (VP 1) cause (a liquid) to percolate through some material. 2. (VP 10) purge (a soluble matter) away or out by the action of a percolating fluid: the ~ing of the soil, the washing away (e.g. by heavy rainfall) of elements in it necessary for plant growth.

^{1}lead [led] n. 1. [U] soft, heavy, easily melted metal of a dull bluish-grey colour used for making water- and gas-pipes, as a roofing material, and in numerous alloys. ˈ~-works n. sing. place where ~-ore is smelted. ~ poisoning n. diseased condition caused by taking ~ into the system. 2. [U] (also black-~) graphite; stick of graphite as used in a ~-pencil. 3. [C] lump of ~ fastened to a line marked in fathoms for measuring the depth of the sea from ships: cast (heave) the ~, take soundings. swing the ~, (sl.) evade one's proper share of work by pretending to be ill, using tricks, etc. 4. (pl.) strips of ~ used to cover a roof; area of (esp. horizontal) ~-covered roof; ~ frames for glass (e.g. in a lattice window). ~en [ˈledn] adj. 1. made of ~: a ~en coffin. 2. having the colour or appearance of ~: ~en clouds. 3. dull and heavy like ~: ~en sleep; a ~en heart.

^{2}lead [liːd] v.t. & i. (p.t. & p.p. led [led]) 1. (VP 1, 10) guide or take, esp. by going in front: Our guide led us through a series of caves. The servant led the visitors in (out, back). ~ the way, go first; show the way (to). 2. (VP 1, 10) conduct (sb.) by the hand, by touching him, etc.: ~ a blind man; ~ a horse (by holding the halter and walking at its head). ~ a woman to the altar, marry her. ~ sb. by the nose, control him completely; make him do everything one wishes him to do. ~ sb. astray, (fig.) tempt him to do sth. wrong. 3. (VP 1, 21) act as chief; direct by example or persuasion; direct the movements of: ~ an army (an expedition, a mutiny); ~ the Conservative Party; ~ the fashion; ~ the choir (the singing). Who's going to ~? 4. (VP 1, 21) have the first place in; go first; (VP 23 with off) begin: A brass band led the regiment. Which horse is ~ing (e.g. in a race)? Who's going to ~ off, start? He led off by saying that . . . 5. (VP 1, 10, 18) guide the actions and opinions of; influence; persuade: What led you to this conclusion? He is easier led than driven. I am led to believe (certain facts, etc., cause me to believe) that he is disloyal to us. What led you to think so? 6. (VP 23, 24) be a path, way, or road to; (fig.) have as a result: Where does this road ~? All roads ~ to Rome, (fig.) there are many ways of reaching the same result. Your work seems to be ~ing nowhere, getting no result. This led to great confusion. ~ up to, be a preparation for or an introduction to; direct the conversation towards: That's just what I was ~ing up to. Chapter One describes the events that led up to the war. 7. (VP 1, 19) (cause sb. to) pass, go through, spend (life, etc.): ~ a miserable existence; ~ a double life (a Jekyll and Hyde existence); ~ sb. a dog's life, make his life wretched. ~ sb. a dance, see ^{2}dance (def. 1). 8. (VP 1, 21, 23) (in card games) put down, as first player (a certain card or kind of card): ~ the two of clubs; ~ trumps.

^{3}lead [liːd] n. 1. (sing. with def. or indef. art.) action of guiding or giving an example; direction given by going in front; sth. that helps or hints: give sb. a ~, encourage him by doing sth. first, or by giving a hint towards the solution of a problem; follow sb.'s ~, follow his example. take the ~, take the leading place, give an example. 2. (with def. art.) first place or position: have (gain, lose) the ~ in a race; (attrib.) the ~ story (journalism, news broadcasting) item of news given the greatest prominence: (with indef. art.) distance by which one leads: have a ~ of ten feet. 3. [C] cord, leather strap, for leading a dog: Keep your dog on the ~ in these busy streets. 4. [C] principal part in a play; actor or actress who plays such a part: the juvenile ~, the actor who plays the part of the handsome young hero. 5. [C] artificial watercourse leading to a mill; channel of open water in an ice-field. 6. [C] (electr.) conductor conveying current from a source to the place where it is used. ˈ~-in n. wire joining an aerial to a wireless receiver or television set. 7. [C] (in card games) act or right of playing first: Whose ~ is it?

lead er [ˈliːdə*] n. 1. person who leads: the ~ of an expedition; the ~ of the choir. 2. principal counsel in a law-court case: the ~ for the defence. 3. leading article (in a newspaper). (See below.) 4. shoot growing at the end of a stem or principal branch. 5. tendon or sinew. ~less adj. ~ship n. [U] being a ~; power of leading; the qualities of a ~.

lead ing [ˈli:diŋ] adj. chief; most important: the ~ men of the day; the ~ topics of the hour, those now being discussed; the ~ lady, the actress with the chief part in a play; L~ Aircraftman, non-comissioned rank in the R.A.F. ~ article, (in a newspaper) one giving editorial opinions on events, policies, etc. ~ question, one that suggests the answer that is hoped for. n. act of ~ : ˈ~-rein n. for ~ a horse. ˈ~-strings n. pl. straps, etc., with which babies were formerly taught to walk: in ~-strings, (fig.) guided and controlled like a young child.

leaf [li:f] n. (pl. leaves [li:vz]) 1. one of the parts (usu. green and flat) growing from the side of a stem or branch or direct from the root of a tree, bush, plant, etc. (collectively called foliage); (pop.) petal (as in rose-leaves): sweep up dead leaves in autumn. in ~, with the leaves grown: The trees will soon be in ~. come into ~, grow leaves: The trees come into ~ in spring. ˈ~-bud n. one from which leaves, not flowers, develop. ˈ~-mould n. [U] soil composed chiefly of decaying leaves. 2. single sheet of paper forming two pages of a book: turn over a new ~, (fig.) make a new and better start; take a ~ out of sb.'s book, take him as a model. 3. hinged or loose part of an extending table (used to make the table larger). 4. [U] very thin sheet of metal, esp. of gold or silver: gold ~. ~less adj. having no leaves. ~y adj. (-ier, -iest) covered with leaves; having leaves; made by leaves: a ~y shade.

leaf let [ˈli:flit] n. 1. young leaf. 2. printed sheet (unbound but sometimes folded) with announcements, etc., esp. one for free distribution.

^{1}league [li:g] n. (old) measure of distance (about three miles).

^{2}league [li:g] n. [C] 1. agreement made between persons, groups, or nations for their common welfare (e.g. to work for peace); the parties that make such an agreement. in ~ with, allied with; having made an agreement with. the L~ of Nations, that formed in 1919 after the First World War, with headquarters at Geneva. 2. group of sports clubs playing matches among themselves: ~ football matches. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 10, 21, 23) form into, become, a ~: countries that are ~d together.

leak [li:k] n. 1. hole, crack, etc., caused by wear, injury, etc., through which a liquid, gas, etc., may wrongly get in or out: a ~ in the roof (allowing rain to enter); a ~ in the gas-bag of a balloon (allowing gas to escape); (fig.) a ~ of information; an inspired ~, of that is deliberately allowed. 2. the gas, etc., that gets out or in. v.i. & 1. (VP 21, 23) (allow to) pass out or through a ~: The rain is ~ing in. T ship was ~ing badly. 2. (VP 23, 1) ( news, secrets, etc.) (cause to) becom known gradually: The news has ~
out. ~age [ˈli:kidʒ] n. 1. [U] the pr cess of ~ing: ~age of military secre
2. [C] instance of this; that which ~s or out; amount that ~s in or out. ~
adj. having a ~: a ~y kettle.

leal [li:l] adj. (Scot. or liter.) loyal.

^{1}lean [li:n] adj. 1. (of persons and an mals) having less than the usual pr portion of fat; (of meat) containing fat. 2. not productive; of poor quality a ~ harvest; ~ years, years of scarcit
n. [U] meat without fat. ~ness n.

^{2}lean [li:n] v.i. & t. (p.t. & p.p. ~ed [li:n or leant [lent]) 1. (VP 21, 23) be or p in a sloping position; ~ backwards;
out of a window; trees that ~ over in t
wind; the L~ing Tower of Pisa.
(VP 23, 24) rest in a sloping position f support: ~ on a table; ~ upon one elbows; ~ on sb.'s arm. 3. (VP 18) cau to rest against and be supported b ~ a ladder against a wall (one's elbo on a table). 4. (VP 24) have a tendenc (towards): Do some oriental philosophi ~ towards fatalism? 5. (VP 24) depen (on, upon): ~ on a friend's advice; ~ upo others for guidance. ~ing n. [C] te dency (of mind towards sth.): He has ~ing towards pacifism. ~-to [ˈli:nˈtu
n. building with the rafters of its ro resting against the side of another buil ing: (attrib.) a ~-to greenhouse.

leap [li:p] v.i. & t. (p.t. & p.p. lea [lept]) 1. (VP 21, 23, 24) jump (jump
the ordinary word; leap is used in lite and rhet. style): He ~t at the oppo tunity, seized it eagerly. Look befo* you ~. 2. (VP 1) (cause to) jump over ~ a wall; ~ a horse over a fence.
[C] jump; sudden upward or forwa movement: a ~ in the dark, an attemp to do sth. the result of which canno be foreseen. by ~s and bounds, very rapidly. ˈ~-frog n. game in which players jump with parted legs over others who stand with bent backs. v.t. (-gg-) jump over in this way. ˈ~-year n. in which February has 29 days.

Leap-frog

learn [lə:n] v.t. & i. (p.t. & p.p. ~t, ~ [lə:nt, lə:nd]) (VP 1, 2, 10, 11, 13, 15
21) 1. gain knowledge of or skill in, b study, practice, or being taught: ~ foreign language; ~ to swim (how ride a horse). Has he ~t his lessons Some boys ~ slowly. 2. be told or in formed: I'm sorry to ~ of his illness (that he's ill). We have not yet ~ed whether he arrived safely. 3. (vulg. or dial., sometimes larn) teach: I'll ~ you (punish you and so teach you how unwise it is) to come into my orchard and steal apples. ~ed [ˈləːnid] adj. having or showing much knowledge, esp. of the humanities: the ~ed professions, those needing much knowledge; ~ed men; ~ed books (periodicals, societies); to look very ~ed. ~ed ly adv. ~er n. person who is ~ing; beginner: He hasn't passed his driving test yet; he's only a ~er. ~ing n. [U] advanced knowledge gained by careful study: a man of great ~ing.

lease [liːs] n. [C] legal agreement by which the owner of land or a building agrees to let another have the use of it for a certain time for a fixed money payment (called rent); the rights given under such an agreement: take a farm on a ~ of several years. When does the ~ expire? by (on) ~: We took the land on ~. a new ~ of life, better chance of living longer, or of being happier, more active. v.t. (VP 1) give, take possession of (land, etc.), by ~. ˈ~-ˈlend n. arrangement (1941) by which the President of the U.S.A. could supply war materials to countries whose defence he considered important.

lease hold [ˈliːshould] n.* & *adj. (land) (to be) held for a term of years on lease. (Cf. freehold.) ~er n. person who holds a lease; lessee.

leash [liːʃ] n. [C] leather strap or thong for holding or controlling hounds: hold in ~, (fig.) control; strain at the ~, (fig.) show eagerness for an opportunity to do sth.

least [liːst] adj., n., & adv. I. adj. & *n. (contrasted with most; cf. little, less) 1. smallest in size, amount, extent, etc.: A has little, B has less, and C has (the) ~. There isn't the ~ wind today, no wind at all. The ~ said the better, the best thing is silence. L~ said soonest mended, (prov.) talking will only make things worse. That's the ~ of my anxieties. 2. (phrases) at ~: It will cost at ~ five pounds, five pounds and perhaps more. He is at ~ as tall as you. You should at ~ have warned her. You can at ~ try. (not) in the ~: It doesn't matter in the ~. I don't understand in the ~ what this author is trying to say. to say the ~ of it, without saying more; without exaggeration: It wasn't a very good dinner, to say the ~ of it. II. adv. to the smallest extent: He works hardest and is being paid ~. This is the ~ useful of the four books. ~ of all: None of you can complain, Charles ~ of all, Charles has the ~ reason for complaining. L~ of all would I want to hurt your feelings, that is sth. I would never do.

least ways, least wise [ˈliːstweiz, -waiz] advv. or at least, or rather.

leath er [ˈleðə*] n. [U] material made by curing animal skins, used for making shoes, gloves, bags, etc.: ~ upholstery (e.g. for the seats of a car). ˈ~-ˌ*jacket n. grub of the crane-fly. ˈ~*neck n. (U.S.A., sl.) marine. ~y adj. like ~: ~y meat, hard, tough.

^{1}leave [liːv] v.t.* & *i. (p.t. & p.p. left) 1. (VP 1, 21, 23) go away from: When did you ~ London? We're leaving for New York next week. It's time for us to ~ (or) It's time we left, we ought to go now. 2. (VP 1, 10, 21, 18) go away finally or permanently; no longer live in (a place); cease to belong to (a school, society, etc.); give up working for (an employer, etc.) When did your brother ~ school? The cook has threatened to ~ us, not to work for us any more. The boy left home and went to sea. He left medicine for the law, changed from the medical to the legal profession. My typist has left me, has resigned. be (get) (nicely) left, (colloq.) be tricked, deceived, or deserted. 3. (VP 10, 18) neglect or forget to take, bring or do sth.: ~ one's umbrella in the train. I left my books on the table. He left half his work until the next day. ~ behind, (VP 10) neglect or forget to bring or take: The luggage has been left behind! 4. (VP 7, 9, 10, 18, 19B) allow or cause to remain or to be in a certain place or condition: L~ your hat and coat in the hall. Always ~ things where you can find them again. Who left that door open? Did you ~ the doors and windows firmly fastened? His behaviour ~s much to be desired, is unsatisfactory. His illness has left him weak. Some things are better left unsaid, it is better not to say them. Let's ~ it at that, do or say nothing more. ~ sb. or sth. alone, not touch, spoil, meddle, or interfere with: L~ the cat alone. L~ well alone, (prov.) don't try to improve sth. that is already good. ~ sb. to himself (to his own devices), not try to control or direct his activities: The children were left very much to themselves during the holidays, were allowed to do what they liked, given no guidance. ~ sth. off, (VP 10) (a) no longer wear: They left off their woollen underwear when the weather got warm. (b) (VP 10) stop: It's time to ~ off work. Please ~ off biting your nails. (c) (VP 23) stop: Has the ˈrain left off yet? We left off at the end of Chapter V. ~ sth. out, (VP 10) omit; neglect to put in, consider, etc.: ~ out a letter (e.g. spell embarrass with one r instead of two r's); ~ out a possibility, not consider it. ~ sth. to chance, allow it to be decided by chance. ~ a matter over, let it wait until a later occasion. ~ go (hold) of, cease holding: L~ go of my hair, you brute! (See let go.) 5. (VP 1, 10, 18, 19B) (cause to) remain, allow to remain: Three from seven ~s four (7 − 3 = 4). When I've paid all my debts, there will be nothing left (I shall have nothing left). To be left till called for. Have you left anything for me (left me anything)? 6. (VP 1, 18, 19B) hand over before leaving: Did the postman ~ anything for me? I left a message with the servant. ~ word (with sb., for sb.), give a message, instructions, etc.: Please ~ word (for me) with my secretary if you get a reply. 7. (VP 3, 18) entrust; commit; hand over: I'll ~ the matter in your hands (~ it to you, ~ you to attend to the matter). He left his servant in charge of the house (left the house in his servant's charge). 8. (VP 1, 7, 10, 18, 19B) give (money, etc.) by will to sb. at one's death; ~ behind at one's death: She left all her money to charity. He left me £50. He left a great name behind him, was famous when he died. He ~s a widow and two sons. He died leaving nothing but debts. He left her poor. 9. (VP 10, 18) pass (a place, etc.) so that it is in a certain relation or direction: L~ the church on your left and go up the hill. leav ings n. pl. what is left, esp. sth. unwanted or of little value: Give the leavings (e.g. unwanted food) to the dog.

²leave [liːv] n. 1. [U] permission, consent, authority (to do sth.), esp. to be absent from duty in the armed forces or government service: You have my ~ to stay away from the office tomorrow. The soldier asked for ~. He went home on ~. by (with) your ~, with your permission. 2. [C] period of such absence; occasion of being absent from duty, etc.: a six months' ~; have only two ~s in ten years. 3. [U] departure: take one's ~, go away; take ~ of one's friends, say goodbye to them; take ~ of one's senses, behave as if mad.

leav en [ˈlevn] n. [U] substance (e.g. yeast) used to make dough rise before it is baked to make bread; (fig.) quality or influence spreading in and changing sth. v.t. (VP 1) add ~ to: act like ~ upon.

leaves [liːvz] pl. of leaf.

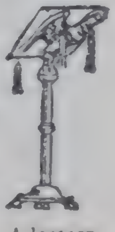
lech er ous [ˈletʃərəs] adj. lustful; having, giving way to, strong sexual desires. lech er y [ˈletʃəri] n. [U] lust; [C] lustful or lascivious act.

lec tern [ˈlektə(ː)n] n. sloping reading-desk for a Bible in church.



A lectern

lec ture [ˈlektʃə*] n. [C] 1. talk (to an audience or class) for the purpose of teaching: a course of ~s on Greek philosophy; go on a ~ tour. 2. reproof: give sb. a ~, scold or reprove him. v.i. & t.
1. (VP 21, 24) give a ~ or course of ~
~ on modern drama. 2. (VP 1) scol reprove: The teacher ~d the boys f being lazy. lec tur er n. person, lowe in rank than a professor, who gives ~ (esp. at a college or university). ~shi
n. post as a ~r at a university, etc.

led [led] p.t. & p.p. of lead.

ledge [ledʒ] n. 1. narrow horizontal she coming out from a wall, cliff, or othe upright surface: a window ~; a ~ f chalk at the bottom of a blackboard. 2 ridge of rocks under water, esp. nea the shore.

ledg er [ˈledʒə*] n. 1. book in which business firm's accounts are kept. 2 (music) ~ (or leger) line, short line adde above or below the stave for outsid notes. (See Appendix 5.)

lee [liː] n. (place giving) protectio against wind; (attrib.) of or on the sid away from the wind (contrasted wit the windward or weather side): the le side of a ship; a lee shore, on the le side of one's ship; a lee tide, one flow ing in the same direction as the wind lee way [ˈliːwei] n. [U] sideways drif (of a ship) in the direction toward which the wind is blowing; (fig.) mak up leeway, make up for lost time; ge back into position; have much leeway t make up, be behind with one's work lee ward [ˈliːwəd, (among sailors) ˈluːəd
adj. & adv. on or to the sheltered sid (contrasted with windward). n. [U] lee side; sheltered side: on the leeward steer to leeward.

leech [liːtʃ] n. 1. small blood-suckin worm living in wet places: stick like a ~ (fig.) be very persistent, be difficult t get rid of. 2. (fig.) person who suck profit out of others. 3. (old use) doctor leek [liːk] n. onion-like vegetable as shown here.

leer [liə*] n. [U] sly, unpleasant look that suggests evil desire or ill will. v.i. (VP 21, 24) look (at) with a ~: ~ing at his neighbour's pretty young wife.

lees [liːz] n. pl. dregs; sediments (of wine, etc.); basest part; refuse (as at the bottom of a cask, etc.): drink (drain) to the ~, (fig.) experience the last extreme of suffering, passion, etc.

A leek

¹left [left] p.t. & p.p. of leave.

²left [left] adj., n., & adv. (of, in, on, the) side of a person's body which is toward the west when he faces north; opposite of right: Not many people write with the ~ hand. The ~ bank of a river is on you ~ as you face the direction in which i flows. Come and sit on my ~ (i.e. a my ~ side). Turn to the ~ (or) Turn ~ at the church. the L~ (Wing), more radical group(s), party, or parties (e.g. socialists, communists). ˈ~-*hand adj.

of, situated on, the ~ side: a house on the ~-hand side of the street; a ~-hand blow (stroke). '~-'handed adj. (of a person) using the ~ hand more easily or with more skill than the right. a ~-handed compliment, one that is ambiguous, of doubtful sincerity.

leg [leg] n. 1. one of the parts of an animal's or a person's body used for walking, esp. (of a human body) the part from hip to ankle (i.e. without the foot): have a leg of mutton for dinner. He lost his right leg in the war. be all legs, (of a person) be overgrown, lanky and thin. pull sb.'s leg, try, for a joke, to make him believe sth. that is untrue. Hence, 'leg-pull, [C] and 'leg-ˌpulling [U] nn. give sb. a leg up, (lit.) help him to mount a horse or to climb up sth.; (fig.) help him in time of need. not have a leg to stand on, have nothing to support one's opinion, defence, etc. stretch one's legs, go for a walk (esp. to take exercise after sitting for a long time). take to one's legs, run away. be on one's legs (or, jokingly, on one's hind legs), (a) be standing, esp. to make a speech. (b) (after an illness) be well enough to walk about again. get sb. on his legs, (a) bring him back to good health. (b) help him to be financially self-supporting. stand on one's own legs, be independent; need no help from others. shake a leg, (colloq.) dance. show a leg, (colloq.) get out of bed. walk sb. off his legs, tire him out with walking. run sb. off his legs, tire him by keeping him constantly busy. on one's last legs, near one's death or end. feel (find) one's legs, (a) (of a baby) get the power of standing or walking. (b) (fig.) begin to realize one's powers, abilities, etc.; become self-confident. keep one's legs, not fall. 2. that part of a garment that closely covers a leg: the leg of a stocking; the legs of a pair of trousers. 3. support of a chair, table, etc.: a stool with three legs; the legs of a bed. on its last legs, weak and likely to collapse. 4. (cricket) part of the field to the right rear of a batsman in position: leg-stump, stump nearest to this; hit a ball to leg. (See Appendix 4 for long, short, square, leg fielders.) 5. one section of a journey, esp. by air: the first leg of a round-the-world flight. -legged [-legd] adj. (in compounds) long-legged, having long legs; three-legged, having three legs (e.g. a stool); a three-legged race, for pairs with two legs tied together; bare-legged, having bare legs. leg less adj. having no legs.

leg a cy ['legəsi] n. [C] 1. money, etc. (to be) received by a person under the will of and at the death of another person. 2. (fig.) sth. handed down from ancestors or predecessors: a ~ of ill will.

le gal ['li:gəl] adj. connected with, in accordance with, authorized or required by, the law: ~ affairs; my ~ adviser (e.g. a solicitor); take ~ action; the ~ fare; ~ tender, form of money which must be accepted if offered in payment; a ~ offence, one against the law, contrasted with an offence against convention; free ~ aid, help (from lawyers paid by the State) given to persons unable to pay the usual charges. ~ly adv.

le gal i ty [li(:)'gæliti] n. [U] the state of being legal: the ~ of an act.

le gal ize ['li:gəlaiz] v.t. (VP 1) make legal: ~ the sale of alcoholic drinks. ~i za tion [ˌli:gəlai'zeiʃən] n.

leg ate ['legit] n. Pope's ambassador to a country.

leg a tee [ˌlegə'ti:] n. [C] person who receives a legacy.

le ga tion [li'geiʃən] n. [C] (house, offices, etc., of a) diplomatic minister below the rank of ambassador, with those under him, representing his government in a foreign country.

le ga to [le'gɑ:tou] adv. (musical direction) smoothly, without breaks.

leg end ['ledʒənd] n. 1. [C] old story handed down from the past, esp. one of doubtful truth: the ~s of King Arthur. 2. [U] literature of such stories: heroes who are famous in ~. 3. [C] inscription on a coin or medal; words on a map, below a picture, etc. leg en da ry ['ledʒəndəri] adj. famous, known only in ~s: ~ary heroes.

leg er de main ['ledʒədə'mein] n. [U] juggling; quick and clever performance of tricks with the hands; (fig.) deceitful argument.

leg ging ['legiŋ] n. (usu. pl.) outer covering, of leather or strong cloth, for the leg up to the knee, or (for small children) for the whole of the leg: a pair of ~s.

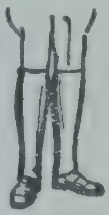
leg gy ['legi] adj. having long legs (esp. of young children, puppies, and colts).

leg horn [le'gɔ:n] n. 1. kind of domestic fowl. 2. (also ['leghɔ:n]) hat made of the kind of straw imported from Leghorn (Livorno) in Italy.



Leggings

leg i ble ['ledʒəbl] adj. (of handwriting, print) that can be read easily. leg i bly adv. leg i bil i ty [ˌledʒi'biliti] n.

le gion ['li:dʒən] n. 1. division of several thousand men in the armies of ancient Rome. 2. British L~, national association of ex-service men formed in 1921. Foreign L~, body of non-French volunteers who serve in the French army, usu. overseas. 3. (in liter. or rhet. style) vast host or number. ~a ry ['li:dʒənəri] n. & adj. (member) of a ~.

leg is late ['ledʒisleit] v.i. (VP 21, 24) make laws: ~ against gambling. leg is- la tion [ˌledʒisˈleiʃən] n. [U] making laws; the laws made.

leg is la tive [ˈledʒislətiv, -leit-] adj. (of) law-making: ~ assemblies; ~ reforms.

leg is la tor [ˈledʒisleitə*] n. member of a law-making body.

leg is la ture [ˈledʒisleitʃə*] n. law-making body (e.g. Parliament in Gt. Brit.).

le git i mate [liˈdʒitimit] adj. 1. lawful, regular: the ~ king; use public money only for ~ purposes. 2. reasonable; that can be justified: a ~ reason for being absent from one's work. 3. born of persons married to one another; the result of lawful marriage: a ~ child; of ~ birth. ~ly adv. le git i ma cy [liˈdʒitiməsi] n. [U] being ~. le git i ma tize [liˈdʒitimətaiz] v.t. make ~.

le gu mi nous [leˈgjuːminəs] adj. of, like, the botanical family that includes peas and beans (and other seeds in pods).

lei [ˈlei-iː] n. long garland of flowers worn round the neck (in the Hawaiian Islands).

lei sure [ˈleʒə*] n. [U] 1. spare time; time free from work: have no ~ for sport. at ~, not occupied; when there is ~: I am seldom at ~. at one's ~, when one has free time: Please look through these papers at your ~. 2. (attrib.) ~ time (hours, moments). ~ly adv. without haste or hurry: work ~ly. adj. unhurried; deliberate: ~ly movements. leis ured [ˈleʒəd] adj. having plenty of ~: the ~d classes.

lem ming [ˈlemiŋ] n. small arctic rodent like a field-mouse.

lem on [ˈlemən] n. (tree with) pale yellow fruit with acid juice used for drinks and flavouring. ˈ~-drop n. piece of boiled sugar flavoured with ~. ˈ~-ˈsquash n. drink of ~-juice and water or soda-water. ˈ~-ˌsqueezer n. device for pressing juice out of a ~. See also curd. ~ade [ˌleməˈneid] n. [U] drink made from ~ juice, sugar, and water.

le mur [ˈliːmə*] n. (kinds of) nocturnal animal of Madagascar, similar to a monkey but with a foxlike face.

lend [lend] v.t. (p.t. & p.p. lent) 1. (VP 18, 19) give (sb.) the use of (sth.) for a period of time on the understanding that it or its equivalent will be returned: I will ~ you £100, but I can't ~ money to everyone who comes along and expects help. ~ a hand, help (with sth.). ˈ~ing-ˌlibrary, one from which books may be borrowed. 2. (VP 18, 19) contribute: facts that ~ probability to a theory. 3. (VP 18) help or serve: Don't ~ yourself to such dishonest schemes. This peaceful garden ~s itself to (is propitious for) meditation. ~er n. person who ~s.

length [leŋθ] n. 1. measurement from end to end (space or time): the ~ of a road (field, stick); a river 300 miles in ~; a room 20 feet in ~ and 15 in breadth; a river navigable for most of its ~; make stay in Rome of some ~, for a considerable period of time; the ~ of time needed for the work. at ~, (a) at last; finally (b) for a long time: speak at (great) ~ (c) in detail; thoroughly: treat a subje at ~. at full ~, with the body stretched out and flat: lying at full ~ on the grass keep sb. at arm's ~, avoid being friendly with him. 2. measurement a particular thing from end to end The car can turn in its own ~. The hors (boat) won by a ~, by its own ~, this being used as a unit of measurement. 3. (after go) degree of thoroughness in action ready to go (to) all ~s (any ~), do anything necessary to get what one wants; go t the ~ of saying, go so far as to say . . 4. piece of cloth, etc., long enough fo a purpose: a dress ~; a ~ of tubin (pipe). ~en v.t. & i. (VP 1, 10, 21, 23 make or become longer: ~en a skirt The days ~en in March. ~wise, ~ways [ˈleŋθwaiz, -weiz] adv. & adj. i the direction from end to end. ~y adj (-ier, -iest) (of speech, writing) very long too long.

le nient [ˈliːnjənt] adj. not severe (esp in punishing people): ~ towards wrongdoers. le nience, le nien cy [ˈliːnjəns(i) nn. [U] being ~. ~ly adv.

len i ty [ˈleniti] n. [U] mercifulness mercy shown.

lens [lenz] n. piece of glass or glasslike substance with one or both sides curved for use in eye-glasses, cameras, telescopes, and other optical instruments.

lent p.t. & p.p. of lend.

Lent [lent] n. (in Christian Churches period of forty days before Easter, the weekdays of this period being devoted to fasting and penitence. ~ *lily daffodil. ~ *term, university term i which ~ falls. ~en [ˈlentən] adj. of ~ ~en services (in church).

len til [ˈlentil] n. [C] kind of bean plant seed of this: ~ soup.

len to [ˈlentou] adj. & adv. slow(ly).

le o nine [ˈli(ː)ənain] adj. of or like a lion.

leop ard [ˈlepəd] n. large African and South Asian flesh-eating animal with a yellowish coat and dark spots. ~ess n. female ~.

lep er [ˈlepə*] n. person suffering from leprosy.

A leopard

lep re chaun [ˈleprəkɔːn] n. (in Irish legend) fairy or sprite.

lep ro sy [ˈleprəsi] n. [U] skin diseas that slowly eats into the body and form silvery scales on the skin. lep rous adj of, having, ~.

Les bian [ˈlezbjən] n. homosexua woman. ~ism n.

lese-maj es ty [ˈliːzˈmædʒisti] n. [U] treason; (joc.) presumptuous conduct on the part of inferiors.

le sion ['liːʒən] n. [C] harmful change in any part of the body, caused by injury or disease.

less [les] adj., n., adv., & prep. (~ is contrasted with more. It is an independent comparative, with no real corresponding positive. Cf. little, least, few.) I. adj. 1. (used with nn. that stand for what is measured by amount or quantity or degree; not used with nn. that stand for what is measured by number, quality, or size; used with nn. that are used with much) not so much; a smaller quantity of: ~ butter (cf. fewer eggs); ~ food (cf. fewer meals); ~ manpower (cf. fewer workers); ~ shipping (cf. fewer ships); pay ~ money for the house (cf. pay a lower rent); have ~ difficulty with one's work (cf. meet with fewer difficulties); ~ size means ~ weight; of ~ value (importance); in (to) a ~ degree (or a lower degree, which is preferable). 2. followed by than: I have ~ money than you. II. n. smaller amount, quantity, time, etc.: in ~ than an hour. I won't sell it for ~ than £50. I want ~ of this and more of that (cf. fewer of these and more of those). I expect to see ~ of her (i.e. to see her ~ often) in future. III. adv. 1. (modifying vv.) to a smaller extent; not so much: Eat ~, drink ~, and sleep more. He was ~ hurt than frightened. 2. (with adjj., participles, and advv.) not so: Tom is ~ clever than his brother. Try to be ~ impatient. Please behave ~ foolishly. (Note that not . . . so is usu. preferred to less . . . than. E.g. Try not to be so impatient.) 3. the ~, as in: I was the ~ surprised as I had been warned, my surprise was ~ because . . . The ~ you worry about it the better it will be. (See the, adv.) any the ~, in a lower degree: I don't think any the ~ of him (my opinion of him is not lower) because of this one failure. no ~, as in: He won no ~ than £50 in the lottery (or) He won £50, no ~, in the lottery (expressing surprise at the amount). Our soldiers fought with no ~ daring than skill, their daring equalled their skill. even ~, still ~, (as in): I don't suspect him of robbery, still ~ of robbery with violence. none the ~, but for all that; all the same: Though he cannot leave the house, he is none the ~ (he is, in spite of that) busy and active. IV. prep. minus; with the deduction of: £10 a week ~ 10s. for National Insurance contribution.

-less [-lis] suffix without; not having: homeless; doubtless; useless.

les see [le'siː] n. person who holds land, a building, etc., on a lease.

less en ['lesn] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 21) make or become less. 2. (VP 1) cause (sth.) to appear smaller, less important, valuable, etc.: ~ a person's services.

less er ['lesə*] adj. (attrib. only) not so great as the other: choose the ~ evil.

les son ['lesn] n. 1. sth. to be learnt or taught; period of time given to learning or teaching: English ~s; a ~ in music. 2. (pl.) children's education in general: Tom is very fond of his ~s. 3. sth. experienced, esp. sth. serving as an example or a warning: Let his fate be a ~ to all of you! 4. passage from the Bible read aloud during a church service.

les sor [le'sɔː*] n. person who grants a lease.

lest [lest] conj. 1. for fear that; in order that . . . not: He ran away ~ he should be seen. 2. (after fear, be afraid) that: We were afraid ~ he should get here too late.

^{1}let [let] v.t. & i. (p.t. & p.p. let) 1. (Followed by a (pro)noun and an infinitive without to; rarely used in the passive in this sense) allow to: Her father will not let her go to the dance. She wants to go to the dance but her father won't let her (i.e. let her go. The omission of the infinitive is frequent when it may be inferred from the context.) Please let me know (i.e. inform me) what happens. Don't let the fire go out. 2. (Used with first and third person pronouns to supply an indirect imperative): Let's start at once, shall we? Don't let's start yet! Let me see—where did I leave my hat? Let us both have a try! Let her do it at once. Let there be no mistake, about it (i.e. don't make any mistake, don't misunderstand me, etc.). 3. (Let, in the Imperative, may also indicate an assumption. It may also indicate permission, with a suggestion of defiance): Let AB be equal to CD. Let ABC be an angle of ninety degrees. Let them do their worst! (i.e. I defy them to do their worst.) Let them all come! 4. (The pattern let × noun × infinitive, as in let the servant go, is sometimes replaced by the pattern let × infinitive × noun, as in let drop a hint. In some cases, e.g. in let fly, the object of let is omitted.) Note the following: let sb. or sth. be, allow to be quiet or unworried: Let me be (i.e. don't worry me). Let the poor dog be (i.e. don't tease it). let drive, aim a blow (at); throw sth. (at): He let drive with his left fist. He let drive at me with a stone. let sb. or sth. drop, allow to drop; (fig.) utter (on purpose or by chance). let fall, allow to fall; (fig.) allow to be heard: He let fall a hint of his intentions. let fly, discharge; send out violently; shoot; strike out (at): He aimed carefully and then let fly (i.e. fired) at the ducks. The angry man let fly a volley of oaths. let sb. or sth. go, release one's hold of: Don't let go the rope. Let me go! (i.e. take your hands off me;

don't hold or keep me.) let oneself go, give way to, no longer hold back, one's feelings, desires, impulses, etc.: He let himself go on the subject. let it go at that, say no more about it; dismiss the subject: I don't agree with all you say but we'll let it go at that. let sth. pass, overlook; disregard: It's not a serious error; we can let it pass, I think. let sth. slip, miss (an opportunity, etc.). 5. (With advv. & preps.) let sth. or sb. down, (a) lower; put or take down: Please let the window down. She let down her hair. That chair has a broken leg, it will let you down (i.e. will not support you). (b) (fig.) disappoint; fail to help: Harry will never let you down (i.e. you can rely upon him to help you always). I've been badly let down (i.e. placed in a difficult or awkward situation through the failure of others to support me). let sb. or sth. in, allow to enter: Windows let in light and air. These shoes let (in) water. He let himself in with a latch-key (i.e. opened the door using the key). let sb. or sth. in for, involve in (loss, difficulty, hard work, etc.): He didn't know what a lot of unpaid work he was letting himself in for when he agreed to become secretary of the society. let sb. or sth. into, (a) admit; allow to enter, to share (a secret): Who let you into the building? She has been let into (i.e. told) the secret. (b) put into the surface of: We must let another window into this wall. let sb. off, excuse; not compel; not punish; not punish severely: He was let off with a fine instead of being sent to prison. You have let him off easily (e.g. by excusing him from too much work, by punishing him lightly, etc.). let sth. off, fire off: The boys were letting off fireworks. let on (that), (colloq.) reveal a secret: He knew where the boy was hiding but he didn't let on (i.e. didn't tell anyone). let sb. or sth. out, (a) allow to go (flow, etc.) out: He let the air out of the tyres. Let the water out of the bath-tub. (b) make (a garment, etc.) looser, larger, etc.: He's getting so fat that his trousers need to be let out round the waist. (See also def. 7 below.) let out at, aim a violent blow, kick, etc., at; (fig.) use violent language: Be careful! That mule has a habit of letting out at people. let sb. or sth. through, allow to pass through. let up, become less strong, etc.: Will the rain never let up? '*let-up n. (colloq.) cessation; diminution: There has been no let-up in the rain yet. I've been working ten hours without a let-up. 6. (Combined with adjj.) let sb. or sth.* alone, allow (sb.) to do sth. unaided; not interfere with: Let it alone! Let well alone (prov., don't try to improve sth. that is already satisfactory). let alone, to say nothing of; not to mention: There were seven people in the car, let alone a pile of luggage and three dogs. let sb. or sth. loose, allow to be free; (fig.) release (one's anger, etc.): Don't let the dog loose. 7. give the use of (buildings, land) in return for regular money payments: This house is to be let. The house would let (= could be let) easily. She has let her house furnished. let out, put out to hire: He used to let out horses and carriages by the day.

²let [let] n. (from the v., def. 7) letting; lease: I can't get a let for my house, can find no one willing to rent it from me.

³let [let] v.t. (arch.) hinder; obstruct. n. 1. hindrance, esp. in the legal phrase: without let or hindrance. 2. (tennis) obstruction of the ball (e.g. by the net), requiring the ball to be served again.

-let [-lit] suffix small: streamlet; ringlet.

leth al ['li:θəl] adj. causing, designed to cause, death: a ~ dose of poison; ~ weapons; a ~ chamber, e.g. in which sick animals may be put to death painlessly.

leth ar gy ['leθədʒi] n. [U] (state of) being tired, uninterested; want of energy. le thar gic [le'θɑːdʒik] adj. sleepy; lacking in energy; caused by, likely to cause, ~. le thar gi cal ly adv.

Le the ['li:θi] n. (river in Hades, the Greek underworld, producing) forgetfulness of the past.

let ter ['letə*] n. 1. character or sign representing a sound, of which words in writing are formed: the 26 ~s of the English alphabet; capital ~s (A, B, C, etc.) and small ~s (a, b, c, etc.). 2. written message, request, account of events, etc., sent by one person to another: I have some ~s to write. Inform me by ~ of your plans. '*~-box n. (a) box (in the street, at a post-office) in which ~s are posted; *pillar-box. (b) box (in a building) for receiving ~s from the post. '*~-card n. folded card with a gummed edge for use instead of notepaper and envelope. '*~-case n. pocket-book for holding ~s. '*~-head n. (sheet of paper with) printed name and address (e.g. of a business firm). 3. (phrases) keep the ~ of the law (an agreement), carry out the stated conditions without regard to its spirit or true purpose. to the ~, paying strict attention to every detail: carry out an order to the ~. '~-'perfect, knowing one's part (in a play) perfectly. '~-press n. contents of an illustrated book other than the pictures. 4. (pl.) literature and learning: the profession of ~s; a man of ~s. let tered ['letəd] adj. having a good knowledge of books: a ~ed young man. ~ing n. [U] ~s, words, esp. with reference to their style and size: the ~ing on a book cover; poor ~ing on a gravestone.

let tuce ['letis] n. [C] garden plant with green leaves used in salads; [U] these leaves as food.

leu co cyte ['lju:kəsait] n. [C] white blood-cell. leu kæ mi a [lju:'ki:miə] n. disease in which there is excess of ~s with changes in the lymph glands.

Le vant [li'vænt] n. Eastern part of the Mediterranean, its countries and islands. ~ine [li'væntain] n. & adj. (native) of the ~.

le vant [li'vænt] v.i. abscond; leave (esp. without paying gambling losses).

¹lev ee ['levi, -vei] n. (formerly) assembly held by a king or his representative at which men only were received.

²lev ee ['levi, lə'vi:] n. embankment built to protect land from a river in flood: the ~s along the Mississippi.

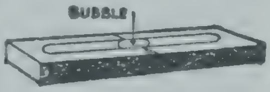
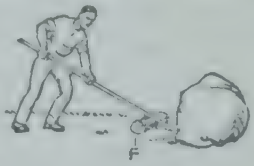
lev el ['levl] n. 1. [C] line or surface parallel with the horizon; such a surface with reference to its height: 2,000 feet above sea-~. The water rose until it was on a ~ with the river banks. Water always finds its own ~. He has found his own ~, (fig.) has found the kind of people with whom he is morally (or socially, or intellectually) equal. 2. [U] (group of persons having) equal position or rank: consultations at cabinet ~, among members of the cabinet; top-~ talks, talks between persons in the highest positions (in government, etc.). (Cf. summit talks.) 3. on the ~, (colloq.) honest(ly); straightforward(ly): Is he on the ~? (Cf. crooked.) 4. (also spirit ~) instrument which contains an air bubble which takes a central position when the instrument is on a flat, horizontal surface. adj. 1. having a horizontal surface: ~ ground; make a surface ~. ~ crossing, place where a road and a railway cross on the same ~. 2. on an equality: a ~ race, one in which the competitors keep close together; draw ~ with the other runners. 3. have a ~ head, be steady and well-balanced, able to judge well; hence, '~-'headed. do one's ~ best, do all that one can do, do everything possible. v.t. & i. (-ll-, U.S.A. -l-) 1. (VP 1, 10, 18, 23) make or become ~ or flat: ~ a road up (down), make the whole road ~; ~ a building with the ground, pull or knock it down. Death ~s all men, makes them equal by causing social distinctions to be of no importance. 2. (VP 1, 18, 21, 23) bring or come into a horizontal plane; raise and aim; (fig.) put forward (criticism, etc.): ~ one's gun at a tiger; ~ an accusation against sb. ~ler n. (esp.) person who wishes to abolish social distinctions.



A spirit level

le ver ['li:və*] n. bar or other tool turned on a fulcrum to lift sth. (as shown here) or to force sth. open (e.g. a window or drawer); (fig.) means by which moral force may be exerted. v.t. (VP 1, 10) move (sth. up, along, into position, etc.) with a ~. ~age ['li:vəridʒ] n. [U] action of, power or advantage gained by using, a ~.



A lever
F. Fulcrum

lev er et ['levərit] n. young (esp. first-year) hare.

le vi a than [li'vaiəθən] n. 1. (in the Bible) sea animal of enormous size. 2. anything of very great size and power.

lev i tate ['leviteit] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) (with reference to powers claimed by spiritualists) (cause to) rise and float in the air. lev i ta tion [ˌlevi'teiʃən] n.

lev i ty ['leviti] n. [U] tendency to treat serious matters without respect; lack of seriousness; [C] instance of this.

lev y ['levi] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 18) impose; collect by authority or force: ~ a tax (a fine, ransom) on sb.; ~ an army (troops), use compulsion to get men as soldiers. 2. ~ war (upon, against), make war on after ~ing men and supplies. 3. (VP 24) seize by law: ~ on a person's property (estate), seize this in order to get money for an unpaid debt. n. [C] act of ~ing; amount of men, number of men, so obtained. capital ~, seizure of part of the private wealth of all persons in a community or union.

lewd [lu:d, lju:d] adj. indecent; lustful. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

lex i cal ['leksikəl] adj. (contrasted with grammatical) of the words of a language. ~ly adv.

lex i cog ra phy [ˌleksi'kɔgrəfi] n. [U] dictionary compiling. lex i cog ra pher n. person who compiles a dictionary.

lex i con ['leksikən] n. dictionary (esp. of Greek or Hebrew).

ley [lei] n. [C] area of land temporarily under grass: new-sown leys.

li a bil i ty [ˌlaiə'biliti] n. 1. [U] the state of being liable: ~ to pay taxes; ~ for military service (in a country where there is conscription); ~ to disease. 2. (pl.) debts; sums of money that must be paid (contrasted with assets).

li a ble ['laiəbl] adj. (usu. predic.) 1. ~ for, responsible according to law: Is a man ~ for his wife's debts in your country? 2. be ~ to (sth.), be subject to: If you drive a car to the danger of the public, you make yourself ~ to a heavy fine, or even to imprisonment. He is ~ to seasickness. 3. be ~ to (do sth.), have a tendency to, be likely to: We are all ~ to make mistakes occasionally.

li ai son [li(:)'eizən] n. 1. [U] (mil.) connexion; linkage between two separated parts of an army, or two different armies: ~ officer, one who keeps two such parts or armies in touch with each other (esp. when armies of different countries are fighting as allies). 2. [C] illicit and intimate relationship between a man and a woman.

li a na [li'ɑːnə] n. (kinds of) climbing and twining plant growing in tropical forests.

li ar ['laiə*] n. person who tells an untruth or who has told an untruth; person who habitually tells lies.

li ba tion [lai'beiʃən] n. [C] (pouring out of an) offering of wine to a god: make a ~ to Jupiter.

li bel ['laibəl] n. 1. ([U] the publishing of a) [C] written or printed statement about sb. that damages his reputation: sue a newspaper for ~; utter a ~ against sb. 2. [C] (colloq.) anything that brings discredit (upon) or fails to do justice to: The portrait is a ~ (up)on me. v.t. (-ll-, U.S.A., -l-) (VP 1) publish a ~ against; fail to do full justice to. ~lous adj. containing a ~; in the nature of a ~: ~lous reports; in the habit of uttering ~s: a ~lous person (periodical).

lib er al ['libərəl] adj. 1. giving or given freely; generous: a ~ giver to charities; a ~ supply of food and drink; a ~ table, one with plenty of food and drink. He is ~ of promises but not ~ of money, gives plenty of promises but not much money. 2. open-minded; having, showing, a broad mind, free from prejudice. 3. (of education) directed chiefly towards the broadening of the mind, not specially to professional or technical needs. 4. (politics in Gt. Brit.) of the party that formerly formed the chief opposition to the Conservative party, favouring democratic reforms less radical than those urged by the socialists. n. person in favour of progress and reform and opposed to privilege, esp. (cap. L.) member of the L~ party in Gt. Brit. ~ism n. [U] ~ views, opinions and principles.

lib er al i ty [ˌlibə'ræliti] n. 1. [U] generosity; free giving; quality of being broad-minded; freedom from prejudice. 2. (pl.) instances of generosity: He has made himself poor by his liberalities.

lib er ate ['libəreit] v.t. (VP 1) set free: ~ slaves; ~ the mind from prejudice. lib er a tor n. lib er a tion [ˌlibə'reiʃən] n. [U] liberating or being ~d.

lib er tine ['libə(:)tain, -tiːn, -tin] n. man who gives himself up to immoral pleasures and shows no respect for women. chartered ~, person whose irregularities and eccentricities of behaviour are tolerated.

lib er ty ['libəti] n. 1. [U] state of being free (from captivity, slavery, imprisonment, despotic control, government by others); right or power to decide for oneself what to do, how to live, etc.: They fought to defend their ~. at ~, (a) (of a person) free; not busy: When shall you be at ~? You are at ~ to leave at any time, may do so. (b) (of things) not in use. set at ~, release: set prisoners (slaves) at ~. ~ of conscience, freedom to have one's own (esp. religious) beliefs without interference. ~ of speech, freedom to say openly, in public, what one thinks (e.g. on social and political questions). ~ of the press, freedom to write and print (in periodicals, books, etc.) whatever one wishes without interference. 2. [C] ungranted and sometimes improper familiarity; setting aside of convention: I took the ~ of borrowing your lawn-mower while you were away on holiday. You must stop taking liberties with the young woman, stop treating her with too much familiarity. 3. (pl.) privileges or rights granted by authority: the liberties of the City of London.

li bid i nous [li'bidinəs] adj. lustful; lascivious. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

li bra ry ['laibrəri] n. 1. room or building for a collection of books kept there for reading; the books in such a room or building: the public ~, maintained by a town or city council, etc.; a circulating ~, one that lends books for profit, members paying a subscription fee; reference ~, one in which books may be consulted but not taken away. 2. (attrib.) a ~ book; a ~ edition, book usu. of large size and print and with a strong binding. 3. writing and reading room in a private house. 4. series of books issued by a publisher in uniform binding and connected in some way: the Home University L~. li bra ri an [lai'brɛəriən] n. person in charge of a ~.

li bret to [li'bretou] n. (pl. -os [-ouz] or -i [-iː]) book of words of an opera or musical play. li bret tist n. writer of a ~.

Lib yan ['libjən] adj. & n. (inhabitant) of Libya.

lice [lais] n. pl. of louse.

li cence ['laisəns] n. 1. [C] (written or printed statement giving) permission from someone in authority to do sth.; [U] authorization: a ~ to drive a car (a driving ~); a ~ to practise as a doctor; marry by ~ (contrasted with banns); a ~ for the sale of alcoholic drink; 'on-~, for the sale of alcoholic drinks to be consumed on the premises; 'off-~, for the sale of liquor to be taken away. 2. [U] wrong use of freedom; disregard of laws, customs, etc.; licentious behaviour: The ~ shown by the troops when they entered enemy territory disgusted everyone. poetic ~, freedom from the ordinary rules of language (e.g. of word order) allowed in verse.

li cense, li cence [ˈlaisəns] v.t. (VP 1, 3) give a licence to: shops ~d to sell tobacco; ~ a doctor to practise medicine; a ~d house (~d premises), where the sale of alcoholic drinks is allowed (e.g. hotels, restaurants); the ~d quarters, (in some countries) part of a town where there are ~d brothels. li cen see [ˌlaisənˈsiː] n. person holding a licence.

li cen ti ate [laiˈsenʃiit] n. person who has a university licence showing that he is competent in some branch of knowledge.

li cen tious [laiˈsenʃəs] adj. immoral (esp. in sexual matters); not held back by morality. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

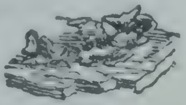
li chen [ˈlaikən, ˈlitʃin] n. [U] dry-looking plant that grows on rocks, walls, tree-trunks, etc., usu. green, yellow, or grey.



Lichen

lich-gate [ˈlitʃgeit] n. see lych-gate.

li cit [ˈlisit] adj. not illicit.

lick [lik] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 7, 10, 18) pass the tongue over or under: The cat was ~ing its paws. He ~ed the spoon clean. ~ one's lips, show eagerness or satisfaction. ~ sth. off, remove by ~ing: The boy ~ed the jam off his lips. ~ sth. up, take it up by ~ing: The cat ~ed up the milk. ~ into shape, (fig.) make presentable, efficient, properly trained: The recruits were soon ~ed into shape by the drill sergeants. ~ the dust, (rhet.) fall to the ground, defeated or killed. 2. (VP 1, 10) (esp. of waves, flames) touch lightly: The flames ~ed up the dry grass. 3. (VP 1) (colloq.) overcome; triumph over; give a whipping to: Well, that ~s everything!, is more surprising than anything I've ever seen or heard! 4. (VP 21) (sl.) go; hurry: He went off as hard as he could ~. n. 1. act of ~ing with the tongue: give sth. a ~ and a promise, a feeble attempt to clean, polish, etc. (with a promise of sth. more thorough later). 2. (also salt-~) place to which animals go for salt. 3. (sl.) at a great ~, at full ~, at a great pace. ~ing n. (colloq.) beating; defeat: Our football team had a ~ing yesterday.

lic o rice [ˈlikəris] n. see liquorice.

lid [lid] n. 1. movable cover (hinged or detachable) for an opening, esp. at the top of a container: the lid of a kettle (box); the teapot lid. 2. eyelid. lid less adj.

li do [ˈliːdou] n. (the L~) bathing beach at Venice; (small l) public open-air swimming pool or bathing place.

^{1}lie [lai] v.i. & n. (VP 21) (make a) statement that one knows to be untrue: tell lies. He lied to me. He's lying. He's telling lies. What a pack of lies! What a lot of untrue statements! He acted a lie, deceived without using words. give sb. the lie, accuse him of lying.

^{2}lie [lai] v.i. (p.t. lay [lei], p.p. lain [lein], pres. part. lying) (VP 21, 22, 23) 1. be, put oneself, flat on a horizontal surface or in a resting position; be at rest: lie on one's back (side, face downwards). Don't lie in bed all morning! His body lies (he is buried) in the churchyard. He lay on the grass enjoying the sunshine. lie back, get into, be in, a resting position: lie back in an armchair. lie down, get into a horizontal position (usu. with the idea of resting, but not necessarily to sleep). Hence, lie-ˈdown n. go and have a lie-down, a rest. lie down under (an insult, etc.), fail to protest, resist, etc. take (a challenge, an insult) lying down, submit without protest or opposition. lie in, (a) stay in bed after one's usual time for getting up. Hence, lie-ˈin n. have a nice lie-in on Sunday morning. (b) remain in bed to give birth to a child: The time had come for her to lie in. lying-in hospital, (old-fashioned name for) maternity hospital. lie low, (colloq.) keep out of the way to avoid being seen. lie up, stay in bed or in one's room (from illness, etc.). lie with, (old use, biblical) have sexual intercourse with. Let sleeping dogs lie, (prov.) avoid discussing problems that are likely to cause trouble. ˈlie-abed n. lazy person who lies in bed instead of getting up. 2. (of things) be resting flat on sth.: The book lay open on the table. How long has your bicycle been lying out on the wet grass? The lobster lay heavy on his stomach, caused him to feel uncomfortable. The theft lay heavy on his conscience, troubled his conscience. 3. be kept, remain, in a certain state or position: money lying idle in the bank; towns lying in ruins; men who lay (= were) in prison for years. The snow lay thick on the ground. The fields lay thickly covered with snow. lie over, be left for action at a future time: Let the matter lie over until the next committee meeting. lie to, (of a ship) come almost to a stop, facing the wind. 4. be spread out to view; extend: The valley lay before us. The coast was undefended and lay open to attack. If you are young, life still lies before you. find out how the land lies, (fig.) learn how matters stand, what the state of affairs is. 5. be situated: ships lying at anchor. The ship is lying at No. 5 berth. The fleet lay off the headland. 6. (of abstract things) exist; be in a certain position or manner: The trouble lies (is) in the engine. He knows where his interest lies, where he may win an advantage, make a profit. I will do everything that lies in (that is within) my power. The blame lies at your door, you are to blame. The burden of proof lies with you, is your responsibility. It lies with you (it is your duty) to accept or reject the proposal. as far as in me lies, to the best of my power. 7. (legal) be admissible: The appeal will not lie, is not according to law, cannot be admitted. n. (sing. only) the way sth. lies: the lie of the land, (fig.) the state of affairs.

lied [liːd] n. (pl. ~er [-ə*]) (G.) German song or lyric. ˈ~er-ˌsinger, person who sings ~er.

lief [liːf] adv. (arch. or liter.) willingly: I would (had) as ~ join the Crusade as anything, would do this more willingly than anything else.

liege [liːdʒ] adj. (only in) ~ lord (sovereign), (feudal times) ruler, landowner, entitled to receive service and homage. ~man n. feudal vassal; faithful follower. n. ~ lord; ~man.

lien [liən] n. legal claim (upon property) till the owner has repaid a loan or debt connected with it: A shipping company has a ~ upon cargo until the freight is paid.

lieu [ljuː] n. (only in) in ~ (of), instead (of).

lieutenant [(army) lefˈtenənt; (navy also) le-, lə-; (U.S.A.) luːˈtenənt] n. 1. army officer below a captain; junior officer in the Navy. (See Appendix 2.) 2. (in compounds) officer with the highest rank under: ~-ˈcolonel; ~-comˈmander; ~-ˈgovernor, official under a governor-general (as in a British colony, or formerly in a dominion). 3. deputy or substitute; one who acts for a superior: L~ of the Tower (i.e. the Tower of London). lieutenancy n. rank, position, of a ~.

life [laif] n. (pl. lives [laivz]) 1. [U] condition that distinguishes animals and plants from earth, rock, etc.: How did ~ begin? Where did ~ come from? 2. [U] living things collectively, in general; plants, animals, people: Is there any ~ on the planet Mars? A naturalist studies animal and plant ~. 3. [U] state of existence as a human being: L~ is sweet. It was a matter of ~ and death, sth. on which the continued existence of sb. depended. The battle was won, but only at great sacrifice of ~ (i.e. many were killed). They ran for dear ~ (for very ~), in order, or as if, to save themselves from death. I can't for the ~ of me (i.e. even if my ~ depended upon it) remember what happened. come to ~, recover consciousness, recover from a faint, etc.: We all thought he was drowned, but after an hour's artificial respiration he came (back) to ~. bring to ~, cause to live; cause to recover from a faint, an illness thought to be fatal, etc. with all the pleasure in ~, with the greatest possible pleasure. this ~, ~ on earth. the other ~ future (eternal, everlasting) ~, conscious existence, the state of existence after bodily death. 4. [C] state o existence, as an individual livi being: How many lives were lost in th disaster? take sb.'s ~, kill him. take one's own ~, kill oneself; commit suicide. 5. [C] period between birth an death, or between birth and the present or between the present and death: H lived all his ~ in London. I have lived here all my ~. The murderer received a ~ sentence (was sentenced to imprisonment for ~). ~ annuity, one that will be paid for the rest of a person's ~. in ~, during one's ~: marry late (early) in ~. have the time of one's ~, (colloq.) enjoy oneself immensely, as never before. 6. [U] human relations; the business, pleasures, social activities, etc., of the world: Sailors don't earn much money, but they do see ~, see how people everywhere live. There is not much ~ (e.g. social activity) in our small village. 7. [C & U] (way of) living; career: Some people have easy lives. Which do you prefer, town ~ or country ~? 8. [C] written account of sb.'s ~; biography: Do you enjoy reading the lives of great men? He has written a new ~ of Newton. 9. [U] activity, liveliness, interest: The children are full of ~, are active and cheerful. Put more ~ into your work. He was the ~ and soul of the party, was so merry and lively himself that he caused others to be merry and lively. 10. [U] living form or model: a portrait (picture) taken from (the) ~; a ~ class, (in an art school) one in which students draw or paint from living models. to the ~, with great fidelity or exactness: draw (portray, imitate) sb. to the ~. (Cf. ~like below.) as large as ~, (a) of natural or ordinary size: a statue as large as ~. (b) (colloq. and in joke) in person; without possibility of doubt or error. 11. [C] fresh start or opportunity after a narrow escape from death, disaster, etc.: The batsman was given a ~ (e.g. when the fielders missed an easy catch). They say a cat has nine lives. 12. [C] period during which sth. is active or useful: the ~ of a steamship (a government). 13. (insurance) expectation of ~, average period that a person at a particular age may expect to live. a good (bad) ~, person who is likely to pass (not to reach) this average. 14. (compounds) ˈ~belt n. belt of cork or other buoyant material to keep a person afloat in water. ˈ~-blood n. [U] blood necessary to ~; (fig.) vitalizing influence, sth. that gives strength and energy. ˈ~-boat n. (a) boat specially built for going to the help of persons in danger at sea along the coast. (b) boat carried on a ship for use in case the ship is in danger of sinking, is on fire, etc. ˈ~-buoy n. ~belt in the form of a ring, through which a person puts his head, shoulders, and arms. ~ *estate n. property that a person enjoys for ~, but cannot dispose of further. ˈ~-ˌ*giving adj. that strengthens or restores physical or spiritual ~. ˈ~-*guard n. (a) expert swimmer on duty at dangerous places where people swim. (b) (pl.) cavalry regiment in the British army. (c) body-guard of soldiers. ˈ~-ˈ*interest n. right to a ~ estate. ˈ~-ˌ*jacket n. one of cork or other buoyant material (as shown here). ˈ~-*line n. rope used for saving ~ (e.g. one attached to a ~-buoy, or one fastened along the deck of a ship during a storm, for persons to cling to). ˈ~-ˈ*long adj. continuing for a long time; lasting throughout ~. ˈ~-ˌ*office n. life *assurance office or business. ˈ~-*preˌserver n. (a) short stick with a heavy, weighted end, used as a weapon of defence. (b) (U.S.A.) = ~-jacket. ˈ~-ˌ*saver n. (esp. in Australia) ~-guard (def. a). ˈ~-ˈ*size(d) adj. (of pictures, statues, etc.) having the same size, proportions, etc., as the person represented. ˈ~*time n. duration of a person's ~: the chance of a ~time, an opportunity that comes only once. ˈ~-*work n. task that occupies one's whole ~ or to which one devotes all one's ~. ~less adj. 1. never having had ~: ~less stones. 2. having lost ~; dead. 3. dull; not lively: answer in a ~less manner. ~less ly adv. ~like adj. 1. (of a portrait, etc.) looking like the person represented. 2. like a living thing. lif er n. 1. (with adj. prefixed) person who lives a certain kind of ~: a simple-lifer. 2. (sl.) sentence of life imprisonment.

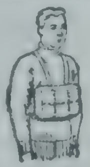
A life-buoy



A life-jacket

lift [lift] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10) raise to a higher level or position: ~ (up) a table; ~ sth. out; have one's face ~ed, (see face, def. 7). This box is too heavy for me to ~. ~ up one's voice, cry out. ~ up one's eyes, look up. 2. (VP 21) yield to an attempt to ~: This window won't ~, is stuck, can't be raised. 3. (VP 21) (of clouds, fog, etc.) pass away; rise: The mist began to ~. 4. (VP 1) dig up (root crops): ~ potatoes. 5. (VP 1) steal (e.g. cattle); take without making proper acknowledgement: Long passages in this textbook have been ~ed from other authors. n. [C] 1. act of ~ing: give sb. a ~, take him (into one's car, etc.) to help him on a journey; get (beg) a ~. (See also air-~, at ¹*air,* def. 7.) 2. (= U.S.A. elevator) apparatus for taking people up or down to another floor: take the ~ to the tenth floor. ˈ~-boy (ˈ-man), one who operates a ~.

lig a ment [ˈligəmənt] n. [C] band of tough, strong tissue that holds bones together in the body.

lig a ture [ˈligətjuə*, -tʃə*] n. [C] 1. bandage, piece of thread, etc., used in tying, esp. cord used to tie up a bleeding artery. 2. (printing) two or more letters joined (e.g. f and l joined as ﬂ).

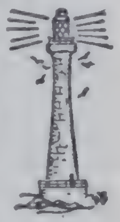
¹light [lait] n. (opposite of darkness) 1. [U] (and with indef. art. and adj.) that which makes things visible: the ~ of the sun (a candle, the fire); read by the ~ of a candle; go for a walk by moon~. We need more ~. The ~ (i.e. day) began to fail, it began to get dark. in a good ~, so as to be seen well: Hang the picture in a good ~. stand (be) in sb.'s ~, (a) stand so that one prevents (enough) ~ from reaching him. (b) hurt his chances of success, progress, etc. stand in one's own ~, (a) stand so that one prevents (enough) ~ from reaching one's work, etc. (b) act against one's own interests; injure oneself. see the ~, (a) (liter. or rhet.) be born. (b) realize the truth of sth. that one has, hitherto, been obstinate about. ~ year, unit used by astronomers for measuring distances between stars, etc.; distance travelled by ~ in one year. 2. [U] state of being visible, known, etc.: Many new facts have come to ~ (been brought to ~) during recent years. 3. [C] source of ~; sth. that gives ~ (e.g. a candle or lamp): traffic ~s; navigation ~s. L~s were burning in every room. Turn the ~s on (off). The ~s went out.* 4. [C] flame; spark; sth. used for producing a spark or flame: Can you give me a ~, please? (e.g. for a cigarette or pipe. Note that fire is not used in this sense.) Strike a ~ (i.e. make a ~ by striking a match). 5. [U] expression of brightness or liveliness in a person's face (esp. in the eyes), suggesting happiness or other emotion: The ~ died out of her eyes, her looks changed from happiness to sadness, from liveliness to lack of interest. the ~ of one's countenance, favour, approval. 6. [U] knowledge or information that helps understanding; [C] fact or discovery that helps to explain: These facts shed (throw) (a) new ~ on the matter. in the ~ of, with the help given by or gained from. by the ~ of nature, without the help of revelation or teaching. 7. [C] aspect; way in which sth. appears: I cannot view your conduct in a favourable ~, cannot approve of it. I have never looked upon the matter in that ~. 8. (pl.) (natural or acquired) abilities; mental powers: Let every man do his best according to his ~s. 9. [C] famous person; person (to be) regarded as an example or model: one of the shining ~s of our age. 10. [C] window or opening in a wall or roof for the admission of ~ (esp. in a roof): a sky~; compartment of glass in the side or roof of a greenhouse or frame (used for ventilation). 11. (art of painting) part of a picture shown as lighted up: high ~s, the brightest parts; ~ and shade, contrasts. 12. (compounds) ˈ~house n. tower or other tall structure containing beacon ~s for warning or guiding ships at sea. ˈ~ship n. ship moored or anchored and provided with beacon ~s for the same purpose as those in a ~house.



A lighthouse

^{2}light [lait] adj. (opposite of dark) 1. (of a place) well provided with light (def. 1): a ~ room. It's beginning to get ~. 2. pale-coloured: ~ hair; a ~ complexion; ~ blue (green, brown). ˈ~-ˌcoloured adj. having a ~ colour: a ~-coloured dress.

^{3}light [lait] v.t. & i. (p.t. & p.p. lit or ~ed [ˈlaitid]) (~ed is more usual as a predic. adj., as in a ~ed candle). 1 (VP 1, 10) cause to burn or shine: ~ a candle (lamp, cigarette); ~ a fire, put a burning match to the material in a fire-grate, to the gas in a gas fire, etc. The streets were brightly lit up. Our houses are ~ed by electricity. The burning building lit up the whole district. 2. (VP 21, 23 with up) cause to be bright or to burn; become bright: It's time to ~ up, put the lights on. He struck a match and lit up, (colloq.) lit his pipe. ˈ~ing-ˈup time n. time at which, according to law, lamps on vehicles in the streets and roads must be lit. 3. (VP 19, 23) (of a person's face or expression) (cause to) become bright: Her face lit up with pleasure. A smile lit up her face. 4. (VP 10) guide with or by a light: ~ a person on his way.

^{4}light [lait] adj. & adv. I. adj. 1. not heavy; not having much weight (for its size): as ~ as air (as a feather); a pair of ~ shoes; a ~ cart or van, one made for ~ loads and quick movement; ~ clothing (for summer); a ~ building (bridge); a ~ railway (for ~ traffic); a ~ cruiser (with ~ armour and guns); ~ horse, light-armed cavalry. 2. gentle; delicate: give sb. a ~ touch on the shoulder; walk with ~ footsteps (movements); have a ~ hand for pastry, have delicacy of touch that gives good results. ˈ~-ˈhanded adj. having a ~ hand; (fig.) tactful in managing people. ˈ~-ˈhandedly adv. ˈ~-ˈhandedness n. ˈ~-ˈfingered adj. skilful in using the fingers; clever at stealing (e.g. as a pickpocket). 3. below the correct weight: a ~ coin; give ~ weight. 4. (of beer, wines) not very strong; (of food) easily digested; (of meals) small in quantity; (of sleep) not deep; easily disturbed; (of sleepers) easily waked; (of books, plays, music) primarily for amusement, not for serious entertainment or study: ~ reading (music, comedy); a ~ comedian; (of soil) easily broken up; (of work) easily done; (of taxes, punishment) easily borne; (of a syllable) not stressed, unemphatic. 5. not serious or important: a ~ attack of illness. make ~ of, treat as of no or little importance. 6. thoughtless; frivolous; jesting: ~ conduct; a man of ~ character, not troubling much about moral questions. ˈ~-ˈminded adj. frivolous. (Hence, ˈ~-ˈmindedness n.). 7. cheerful; free from sorrow: a ~ heart. (Hence, ~-ˈhearted adj., ~-ˈheartedly adv., ~-ˈheartedness n.). 8. (esp. of women, their conduct) unchaste; wanton: a ~ woman. 9. dizzy, delirious: (chiefly in) ˈ~-ˈheaded adj., ˈ~-ˈheadedly adv., and ˈ~-ˈheadedness n. 10. (compounds) ˈ~-o'-love n. fickle woman; harlot. ˈ~-weight n. & adj. (man or animal) below average weight; (esp., boxing) boxer weighing 9 st. 9 lb. (135 lb.) or under. II. adv. in a ~ manner: tread (sleep) ~; travel ~, with little luggage; get off ~(ly), (colloq.) escape without heavy punishment. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

^{5}light [lait] v.i. (p.t. & p.p. lit or ~ed) (VP 23 with on, upon) 1. come by chance: ~ upon a rare book in a second-hand bookseller's. 2. (old use) alight: fall out of a window and ~ on one's feet.

^{1}light en [ˈlaitn] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 18, 21) make or become less heavy: reduce the weight of: ~ a ship's cargo; ~ a ship of her cargo; ~ taxes. Her heart ~ed when she heard the news.

^{2}light en [ˈlaitn] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) make light or bright: A solitary candle ~ed the darkness of the cellar. 2. (VP 21) become light or bright: The eastern sky ~ed. 3. (VP 21) send out lightning: It's thundering and ~ing.

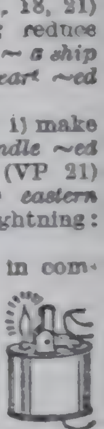
^{1}light er [ˈlaitə*] n. [C] (chiefly in compounds) person or thing that lights: lamp-~, man who (until recently) went round the streets with a ladder to light gas-lamps; a cigarette-~, device for lighting cigarettes, as shown here.



A cigarette-lighter

^{2}light er [ˈlaitə*] n. boat, usu. flat-bottomed, used for loading and unloading ships not brought to a wharf, and for carrying goods in a harbour or river: a tug with a string of ~s behind it. v.t. remove (goods) in a ~.

light ning [ˈlaitniŋ] n. [U] flash of bright light produced by natural electricity in the sky, with thunder: struck (killed) by ~; like ~, with ~ speed, very fast. ˈ~-rod, ˈ~-conˌductor nn. metal rod fixed on the top of a high building, etc., and connected with earth, to prevent damage by ~. ~ bug, (U.S.A.) firefly.

Lightning

lights [laits] n. pl. lungs of sheep, pigs, bullocks, etc., used as food, esp. for cats and dogs.

light some [ˈlaitsəm] adj. 1. graceful. 2. merry; light-hearted; frivolous. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

lig ne ous [ˈligniəs] adj. (of plants) woody. (Cf. herbaceous.) lig nite [ˈlignait] n. [U] soft, brownish-black coal.

lik a ble [ˈlaikəbl] adj. of a kind that is, or deserves to be, liked; pleasing: He's a very ~ fellow.

¹like [laik] v. & n. I. v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 2, 17B) be fond of; have a taste for; find satisfactory or agreeable: Do you ~ fish? I ~ to read in bed but I don't ~ having meals in bed. She ~s him but she doesn't love him. I ~ his impudence! (iron., meaning that his impudence is preposterous or amusing). Well, I ~ that! (iron., meaning that what has been said or done is surprising, unexpected, etc.). 2. (VP 2, 17B, in neg. sentences) be unwilling or reluctant: I didn't ~ to disturb you. I don't ~ troubling her. 3. (VP 1, 2, with should, would) used to indicate a wish: I should ~ to go there (i.e. if it were possible, if I were invited, etc.). I shouldn't ~ to do that, have no wish to do it. She would ~ a cup of tea, I think. I should ~ to know (to see) . . ., often iron., meaning that it would be difficult to explain, show, etc. . . . 4. (VP 1, 2, 3, 10, 21) prefer; choose; wish: I ~ people to tell the truth. How do you ~ your tea? I ~ (prefer) it rather weak. You wouldn't ~ there to be another war, would you? if you ~, used to express consent to a request or suggestion: I will come if you ~. 5. (VP 1) suit the health of: I ~ lobster but it doesn't ~ me, i.e. it gives me indigestion. n. (pl., only in) ~s and dis~s, the things one ~s and the things one dis~s.

²like [laik] adj., prep., adv., & n. I. adj. 1. (Cf. alike.) (Used attributively and predicatively) similar; having the same or similar qualities, etc.; having a resemblance: The two girls are very ~. L~ (i.e. similar) causes produce ~ (i.e. similar) results. He writes well on this and the ~ subjects. They are as ~ as two peas. L~ father, ~ son; ~ master, ~ man (proverbs: as the one is, so the other will be). ˈ~-ˈminded adj. having the same tastes, aims, etc. 2. (Often governing a pronoun, noun, or gerund; originally like to or like unto, this use being now obsolete or poetical) such as; resembling: What is he ~? (i.e. what sort of person is he—in looks, behaviour, etc., according to the situation?) He was wearing a hat rather ~ this one. It looks ~ gold (i.e. has the appearance of gold). This is nothing ~ as good (i.e. not nearly so good). That's just ~ him (i.e. he has behaved, spoken, etc., just as one would expect)! something ~, nearly; about: The cost will be something ~ five pounds. This is something ~ a dinner! (with stress on like) (i.e. a remarkably good or satisfactory dinner). nothing ~, nothing to equal; nothing to be compared with: There's nothing ~ (i.e. as good as) leather. There's nothing ~ walking as a means of keeping fit. 3. (a) (after feel) in a state or mood right or suitable for: Do you feel ~ having a rest? She felt ~ crying. We'll go for a walk if you feel ~ it. (b) (after look) He looks ~ winning (i.e. it seems likely that he will win). It looks ~ being a fine day (i.e. appearances suggest that the day will be fine). It looks ~ rain. 4. characteristic of: That's just ~ him! It's (just) ~ her to think of others before thinking of herself. Isn't that just ~ a woman (i.e. what you might expect a woman to do)! II. prep. (originally ~ to; followed by a noun or the object form of a pronoun) in the manner of; to the same degree as: Don't talk ~ that (i.e. in that way). If I were to behave ~ you (i.e. in the way you behave), . . . If everyone worked ~ me, . . . It fits him ~ a glove (i.e. closely, tightly). He drinks ~ a fish. III. adv. 1. (arch.) in the same manner: 'L~ as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear him.' (Psalms, ciii. 13.) 2. probably: (only in) ~ enough; very ~. 3. as (common use among those who have not been taught to avoid it; considered incorrect, but found in many good writers): She can't cook ~ her mother does. Don't think you can learn grammatical rules ~ you learn the multiplication tables. IV. n. ~ person or thing; that which is equal or similar to sth. else: That was acting, the ~ of which we shall not see again (i.e. we shall not see acting equally good). Music, painting, and the ~ (i.e. and similar branches of the arts). I never heard the ~ (of it) (i.e. anything so strange, etc., according to context).

like ly [ˈlaikli] adj. & adv. (more, most; -ier, -iest) I. adj. 1. that seems reasonable or suitable, that seems right for a purpose: That's a ~ story (excuse) (often used ironically). This looks a ~ field for mushrooms. What do you think is the likeliest (the most ~) time to find him at home? Which are the most ~ candidates (i.e. those with the best chance of success)? 2. to be expected (to . . .): He is not ~ to succeed. It isn't ~ that he will succeed. An incident ~ to lead to war is reported from X. That is not ~ to happen. II. *adv. probably. (usu. most ~, or very ~.) I shall very ~ be here again next month. as ~ as not, with greater probability: He will succeed as ~ as not. He'll forget all about it as ~ as not. like li hood ['laiklihud] n. [U] probability: In all likelihood (very probably), we shall be away for a week.

lik en ['laikən] v.t. (VP 18) point out the likeness of one thing (to another): ~ the heart to a pump.

like ness ['laiknis] n. 1. [U] resemblance; being like: I can't see much ~ between the two boys. in the ~ of, in the form, shape, or external appearance of. 2. [C] point of resemblance; instance of being like: There's a family ~ in all of them. 3. [C] copy, portrait, picture, photograph: The portrait is a good ~.

like wise ['laikwaiz] adv. in the same or a similar way: Watch him and do ~. conj. also; moreover.

lik ing ['laikiŋ] n. [U] fondness: have a ~ for, be fond of; to one's ~, as one likes it; satisfactory.

li lac ['lailək] n. 1. shrub with sweet-smelling pale purple or white blossom: an avenue of ~s (i.e. ~ shrubs); a bunch of ~ (sing. for the blossom). 2. pale purple or pinkish-purple: a ~ dress.

Lil li pu tian [ˌlili'pjuːʃjən] n. native of Lilliput (the country described in Swift's Gulliver's Travels) adj. very small.

lilt [lilt] n. [C] (lively song or tune with a) well-marked rhythm or swing. v.t. & i. sing with a ~.

li ly ['lili] n. (kinds of) plant growing from a bulb, of many sizes, shapes and colours: ~ of the valley; water lilies; Easter lilies; calla lilies. '*~-'livered adj. cowardly. '*~-'white adj. as white as a ~; pure white.

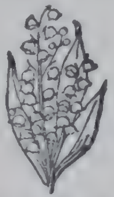
Madonna lily



Lily of the valley

limb [lim] n. 1. leg, arm, or wing: rest one's tired ~s; be torn ~ from ~ by wolves; escape with life and ~, without serious injury. 2. bough (of a tree). 3. (colloq.) a ~ of the devil (of Satan), a mischievous child. -limbed [-limd] (in compounds) long (strong)-~ed, having long (strong) ~s. ~less *adj.

^{1}lim ber ['limbə*] n. detachable fr part (formerly horse-drawn) of a g carriage, consisting of an ammunition box on wheels. v.t. (VP 10, with up) fasten (a gun) to a ~.

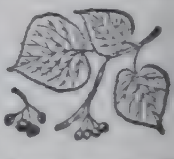
A limbe

^{2}lim ber ['limbə*] v.t. & i. ~ (oneself) up, (VP 10, 23) make oneself (one's muscles) pliant, flexible.

lim bo ['limbou] n. (pl. -bos) 1. [U] condition of being forgotten and unwanted 2. [C] place for forgotten and unwanted things.

^{1}lime [laim] n. [U] 1. white substance (calcium oxide) obtained by burning limestone, used in making cement and mortar: quick~, ~ before water is added. slaked ~, ~ after being acted upon by water. '*~kiln n. kiln in which ~stone is burnt. '*~light n. [U] intense white light produced by heating a rod of ~ in a very hot flame, used for lighting the stage in theatres: in the ~light, receiving great publicity; fond of the ~light, fond of publicity. '*~stone n. [U] (kinds of) rock containing much ~, quarried for industrial use. 2. [U] (usu. bird-~) sticky substance made from holly bark for catching small birds. v.t. (VP 1) put ~ on (fields, etc.) (to control acidity).

^{2}lime [laim] n. (also '*~-tree) tree with smooth heart-shaped leaves and sweet-smelling yellow blossoms.



Lime leaves and flowers

^{3}lime [laim] n. (tree with) round juicy fruit like, but more acid than, a lemon. '*~-juice n. juice of this fruit used for flavouring, as a drink, and medicinally.

lim er ick ['limərik] n. nonsense poem of five lines.

^{1}lim it ['limit] n. [C] line or point that may not or cannot be passed; greatest or smallest amount, degree, etc., of what is possible: We must set a ~ to the expense of the trip, fix a sum not to be exceeded. As we grow older we learn the ~s of our abilities, learn what we can do and what we cannot do. His greed knows no ~s. There is a ~ to my patience. She reached the ~ of her patience. within ~s, in moderation: I'm willing to help you, within ~s. without ~, to any extent or degree: If only the banks would lend money without ~! off ~s, (U.S.A.) = out of bounds. (See ^{1}bound.) That's the ~, (colloq.) that's the utmost that can be (or more than can be) tolerated. ~less *adj. without ~: the ~less ocean; a dictator whose ambitions were ~less.

^{2}lim it ['limit] v.t. (VP 1, 18) put a limit or limits to; be the limit of: We must ~ the expense to what we can afford. I shall ~ myself to three aspects of the subject. ~ed p.p. small; restricted; narrow: Our accommodation is very ~ed. He seems to have only a ~ed intelligence. ~ed monarchy, one that is restricted by the constitution. (Cf. absolute.) ~ed liability company, business company whose members are liable for its debts only to the extent of the capital sum they have provided.

m i ta tion [ˌlimiˈteiʃən] n. 1. [U] limiting; condition of being limited. 2. [C] condition, fact, or circumstance that limits; disability or inability: He knows his ~s, knows well that in some respects his abilities are poor or non-existent.

mn [lim] v.t. (old use) paint (a picture); portray (in drawing or in words).

m ou sine [ˈlimu(ː)ziːn] n. motor-car with an enclosed body, the driver's seat being separated by means of a partition. (Cf. saloon-car, with no partition behind the driver.)

mp [limp] adj. not stiff or firm; lacking strength: A starched collar gets ~ if the wearer sweats. The flowers looked ~ in the heat. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

mp [limp] v.i. (VP 21, 23) walk lamely or unevenly as when one leg or foot is hurt or stiff: The wounded soldier ~ed off the battlefield. The damaged ship ~ed (managed with difficulty to get) back to port. n. (usu. sing. with indef. art.) lame walk: have (walk with a) a bad ~. ~ing ly adv. with a ~.

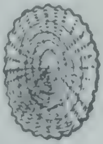
m pet [ˈlimpit] n. small shellfish that fastens itself tightly to rocks; (fig.) person who sticks tightly to an office, a position, or another person. ~ mine, explosive mine (to be) placed in position against the hull of a ship (e.g. by frogmen).



A limpet

m pid [ˈlimpid] adj. of liquids, the atmosphere, the eyes, (fig. of literary and rhetorical style) clear; transparent. ~ly adv. ~i ty [limˈpiditi] n. [U] quality or state of being ~.

nch pin [ˈlintʃpin] n. iron pin passed through the end of an axle to keep the wheel in position.

in coln green [ˈliŋkən ˈgriːn] n. bright green cloth as made at Lincoln: Robin Hood and his men, dressed in ~.

n den [ˈlindən] n. lime-tree.

ne [lain] n. 1. piece or length of thread, string, rope, or wire for various purposes: fishing ~s; telephone ~s. Hang (out) the clothes on the ~ (i.e. the clothes-~). L~ fishing is quite different from net-fishing. He's clever with rod and ~, is a good angler. The ~s (i.e. telephone, etc., ~s) are all down as the result of the blizzard. L~ engaged! (U.S.A. ~ busy) (used of a telephone ~ already in use). party ~, shared ~, telephone ~ serving two or more subscribers. 2. [C] long, narrow mark made on a surface: L~s may be straight, crooked, or curved. Draw a ~ from A to B. In mathematics a ~ is defined as having length but not breadth or thickness. 3. [U] the use of ~s (def. 2) in art, etc.: a ~ drawing (e.g. with a pen or pencil); ~-engraving (i.e. done with ~s cut on a surface); the beauty of ~ in the work of Botticelli; translate life into ~ and colour, represent living things by means of ~s and colour. 4. (in games) mark made to limit a court or ground, or special parts of them: Did the ball cross the ~? (See ~sman. def. 2.) 5. mark like a ~ on the skin of the face; furrow or wrinkle; one of the marks on the palm of the hand: There were deep ~s of care on her face. 6. (pl.) contour; outline: a ship of fine ~s (i.e. with a graceful outline); the severe ~s of Norman architecture; (in shipbuilding) plans, esp. of horizontal, vertical, and oblique sections. 7. row of persons or things: a ~ of trees (chairs, people waiting to go into a cinema); *manufactured goods on the assembly ~; a long ~ of low hills. The boys were standing in (a) ~. 8. edge, boundary, that divides: cross the ~ into Canada (i.e. from U.S.A.). draw the ~, see ¹*draw,* def. 13. 9. railway; single track of railway ~s: the up (down) ~, to (from) the chief terminus; the main ~; a branch ~. Cross the ~ by the bridge. 10. organized system of transport under one management and giving a regular service: an air ~; a new bus ~; a steamship ~. 11. equator: cross the ~. 12. direction; course; track; way of behaving, dealing with a situation, etc.: the ~ of march of an army; communication ~s; choose (follow) the ~ of least resistance, the easiest way of doing things; take a strong ~, act energetically. What ~ do you expect to take, how will you approach the problem? He is studying the subject on sound ~s (on the wrong ~s), by good (bad) methods. I shall proceed along (on) these ~s (act in this way) until further notice. You should take (keep to) your own ~, be independent of others. in ~ with, in agreement with. come* (fall) into ~ (with . . .), accept the views of; agree; conform. bring* (sb.) *into ~, persuade or cause him to agree, to conform. toe the ~, (fig.) submit to discipline; accept the ideas, programme, etc., of a (political, etc.) party. the party ~, the agreed or established policy of a political party: follow the party ~, vote, speak, write, etc., in accordance with this policy. 13. connected series of persons following one another in time, esp. of the same ancestry: a long ~ of great kings; the last of his ~; trace back one's family ~, one's ancestry; a descendant of King David in a direct ~ (in the male ~). 14. row of words on a page of writing or in print: page 5, ~ 10. Drop me a few ~s (send me a note) to let me know how you are getting on. 'L~s to a friend on her birthday' (e.g. as the title of a short poem). read between the ~s, (fig.) find more meaning than the words appear to express. marriage ~s, certificate of marriage. ~s, (pl.) (a) words of an actor's part: The leading actor was not sure of his ~s. (b) (now rather old-fashioned) form of punishment by which a schoolboy is required to write out a specified number of ~s (e.g. 200 ~s of Latin verse). 15. series of connected military defence posts, trenches, etc.: go into the front ~(s), the area nearest to the enemy's ~s; high-ranking officers well behind the ~s; be successful all along the ~, at every point; go up the ~, leave base for the front ~(s). 16. (mil.) row of tents, huts, etc., in a camp: inspect the ~s; the horse ~s. 17. (in the British army) regular regiments (excluding the Guards, Artillery, Cavalry, Engineers): regiments of the ~; (U.S.A. army) regular fighting forces of all classes. 18. (mil.) double row (front and rear ranks) of men standing side by side (contrasted with file and column): Soldiers usually march in column but attack in ~. The men formed (wheeled) into ~. 19. (nav.) ~ abreast, (number of parallel ships) abreast of each other. ~ astern, (number of ships) in a ~ one behind the other. ship of the ~, ~-of-battle ship, (in former times) ship of 74 or more guns; largest type of warship. 20. department of activity; business; occupation: He's in the drapery ~. His ~ is stockbroking (banking). That's not much in my ~, I don't know much about it, am not much interested in it. 21. class of commercial goods: a cheap ~ in felt hats; the best-selling ~ in woollen underwear. 22. (pl.) conditions of life; one's lot or fate: (biblical style) My ~s have fallen in plèasant places, I have been fortunate. Hard ~s! = Bad luck! 23. (sl.) shoot a ~, brag, boast. Hence, ˈ~-ˌshooting, ˈ~-ˌshooter nn. 24. (colloq.) get (have, give sb.) a ~ on, information about.

³line [lain] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10) mark (sth.) with lines: ~ in a contour (on a blank map); ~ sth. out on paper, mark it out with ~s. 2. (VP 1) cover with lines: a ~d face; a face ~d with anxiety. Pain had ~d her forehead. 3. (VP 10, 23) (cause to) be in a line, get into a line: The general ~d up his troops. The soldiers quickly ~d up. 4. (VP 1) form, be placed, in a line or lines along: a road ~d with trees; a road ~d with pol Crowds of people ~d the kerb to see Pope's funeral procession.

⁴line [lain] v.t. (VP 1, 18) (See lin below.) 1. provide with an ins covering; add a layer of (usu. differe material to the inside of (bags, box articles of clothing): fur-~d gloves; overcoat ~d with silk. 2. (fig.) (one's purse, pocket, stomach, etc.): has ~d his purse well, made a lot money.

lin e age [ˈliniidʒ] n. [U] family lin ancestry; line of descent: a man good ~.

lin e al [ˈliniəl] adj. in the direct line descent (from father to son, etc.): a descendant (heir). ~ly adv.

lin e a ment [ˈliniəmənt] n. (usu. except after each and every) line, det distinctive feature or characteristic the face): the ~s of a Mongol face.

lin e ar [ˈliniə*] adj. 1. of or in lin a ~ design. 2. of length: ~ meas (e.g. feet and inches). (See Appendix line man [ˈlainmən] n. 1. man who pu up and maintains telegraph and te phone lines. 2. (U.S.A.) = linesman.

lin en [ˈlinin] n. [U] cloth made of fla articles made from this cloth, e shirts and collars, bed-sheets, tab cloths and table napkins: (attrib.) handkerchiefs. ˈ~-ˌdraper n. pers who sells ~ and cotton goods. wa one's dirty ~ in public, discuss fam quarrels, unpleasant personal affairs, et in the presence of other people.

lin er [ˈlainə*] n. ship or aircraft of line (def. 10) of ships or aircraft: a f air~; a trans-Atlantic ~.

lines man [ˈlainzmən] n. (sport) pers who helps the umpire or referee by sa ing whether or where the ball touches crosses one of the lines.

line-up [ˈlainʌp] n. 1. way in whi persons, states, etc., are allied; alig ment: a new ~ of Afro-Asian powers. formation of players ready for action a game such as baseball or footba ¹ling [liŋ] n. [U] (kinds of) heather.

²ling [liŋ] n. long, slender N.-Europe sea-fish (usu. salted) for food.

lin ger [ˈliŋgə*] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, be late or slow in going away; stay or near a place: ~ about after everyo else has left; ~ about (around). The c tom ~s on, is still observed but is n weak. 2. (VP 10) continue (sth.) though weak and perhaps useless: ~ one's life. ~ing adj. long; protracte a ~ing illness; a ~ing look, one showi regret, unwillingness to leave or g up sth. ~ing ly adv. ~er n. pers who ~s.

lin ger ie [ˈlæŋʒəri, ˈlɛ̃:nʒəri. (Fr. lɛ̃ʒ n. [U] (F.) (genteel name for) wome underclothing.

go [ˈliŋgou] n. (pl. -goes) (hum. or conemptuous) language, esp. one that one oes not know; vocabulary of a special ubject or class of people: the strange ~ sed by experts in radio and television.
gua fran ca [ˈliŋgwə ˈfræŋkə] n. ften mixed) language adopted for local mmunication over an area in which everal languages are spoken (e.g. wahili in E. Africa).
gual [ˈliŋgwəl] adj. of speech or nguages: ~ studies. ~ly adv.
guist [ˈliŋgwist] n. 1. person skilled foreign languages: She's a good ~.
'm no ~, am poor at foreign languages.
. expert in, student of, linguistics. guis tic [liŋˈgwistik] adj. of (the tudy of) languages: ~ methodology, tudy of the methods of teaching lan-uages. lin guis tics n. pl. the science f language. lin guis ti cian [ˌliŋwisˈtiʃən] n. = linguist (def. 2): Not very ~ian is a good linguist.
i ment [ˈlinimənt] n. [C & U] (kind
f) liquid usu. made with oil for rubbing n stiff or aching parts of the body.
ing [ˈlainiŋ] n. (See ^{3}line) 1. [C] layer
f material added to the inside of sth.: n overcoat with a fur ~; a jewel-box with velvet ~. Every cloud has a silver ~, rov.) there is sth. good in every evil.
. [U] material used for this purpose.
k [liŋk] n. 1. one ring or loop of a hain. 2. (usu. pl.) one of a pair of asteners for the sleeves of a shirt: cuff- s (see the illustr. at cuff). 3. person or hing that unites or connects two others: ~ in a chain of evidence; the ~ between he past and the future; the missing ~, ype of animal supposed to have existed etween the apes and man. 4. measure f length, one hundredth of a chain; ·92 inches. (See Appendix 1.) v.t. & i.
VP 1, 10, 18, 23) join, be joined, with,
r as with, a ~ or ~s: ~ things together; ~ one's arm in (through) another person's rm; two towns ~ed by a canal. Where o they ~ up? Hence, ˈ~-up n.
k [liŋk] n. torch formerly used for ighting people along streets. ˈ~boy, ~man, one employed to carry ~s and uide people through badly lighted treets.
nks [liŋks] n. 1. (pl. v.) grassy land, sp. sand-hills, near the sea. 2. (often vith indef. art. and sing. v.) golf-course.
net [ˈlinit] n. small brown song-bird, ommon in Europe.
no [ˈlainou] n. [U] abbrev. for linoleum.
~-cut n. [C] design cut in relief on a lock of linoleum; print made from this.
no leum [liˈnouljəm] n. [U] strong loor-covering of canvas treated with owdered cork and oil.
o type [ˈlainoutaip] n. (proprietary ame of a) machine (with a keyboard ike that of a typewriter) used for setting type, each line of type being cast in the form of a complete bar of metal.

lin seed [ˈlinsiːd] n. [U] seed of flax. ˈ~-ˈoil n. [U] oil pressed from ~, used in making printing-ink, linoleum, etc.

lin sey-wool sey [ˈlinziˈwulzi] n. [U] strong, coarse material made from inferior wool woven with cotton.

lint [lint] n. [U] linen, with one side scraped fluffy, used for dressing wounds: (attrib.) a ~ bandage.

lin tel [ˈlintl] n. horizontal piece of wood or stone forming the top of a door or window-frame.

li on [ˈlaiən] n. 1. large, strong, flesh-eating animal found in Africa and S. Asia, called 'the King of Beasts' because of its fine appearance and courage. the ~'s share, the larger or largest part. ˈ~-ˌhearted adj. brave. 2. person whose company is very much desired at social gatherings (e.g. a famous author or musician). ˈ~-ˌhunter n. person who tries to get ~s as guests at dinner parties, etc. ~ess [ˈlaiənis] n. female ~. ~ize [ˈlaiənaiz] v.t. (VP 1) treat as a ~ (def. 2): The famous explorer was ~ized by all the London hostesses.

lip [lip] n. 1. one or other of the fleshy edges of the opening of the mouth: the lower (upper) lip; a man with a cigar between his lips. She refused to open her lips, wouldn't say anything. He licked (smacked) his lips, showed enjoyment or anticipation of enjoyment. curl one's lip, show scorn. bite one's lip, show vexation. hang on sb.'s lips, listen eagerly to every word he says. ˈlip-ˌreading n. method (taught to deaf people) of understanding speech from lip movements. ˈlip-ˌservice n. [U] approval, promises, respect, etc., given in words but not sincere. ˈlip-stick n. [C & U] (stick of) colouring material used for reddening the lips: buy three lip-sticks; use too much lip-stick. 2. edge of a hollow vessel or opening: the lip of a saucer (crater). 3. [U] (sl.) impudence: None of your lip! Don't be impudent. -lipped [-lipt] in compounds: thick-(dry-) lipped, having thick (dry) lips.

liq ue fy [ˈlikwifai] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) make or become liquid. liq ue fac tion [ˌlikwiˈfækʃən] n. making or becoming liquid; being liquified.

liq ues cent [liˈkwesənt] adj. becoming, apt to become, liquid.

li queur [liˈkjuə*] n. (kinds of) strong flavoured alcoholic drink for taking in small quantities after a meal: ~ brandy, of special quality for drinking as a ~; ~ glass, very small for ~s.

liq uid [ˈlikwid] n. 1. [C & U] substance like water or oil that flows freely and is neither a solid nor a gas: Air is a fluid but not a ~; water is both a fluid and a ~. You have added too much ~ to the mixture. 2. the consonants [r] and [l]. adj. 1. in the form of a ~; not solid or gaseous: ~ food (soft, easily swallowed, suitable for sick people); ~ mud (so soft that it can be poured). ~ air, air made ~ by intense cold. 2. clear, bright, transparent: ~ eyes, bright and shining; a ~ sky. 3. (of sounds) clear; pure; not guttural: the ~ notes of a blackbird. 4. not fixed; easily changed: ~ opinions. 5. (in finance) easily sold or changed into cash: ~ assets.

liq ui date ['likwideit] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) pay or settle (a debt). 2. (VP 1) bring (esp. an unsuccessful business company) to an end by dividing up its property to pay debts; (VP 21) (of a company) go through this process. 3. (VP 1) (colloq. or newspaper style) get rid of, put an end to: Hitler tried to ~ the Jews in Germany. liq ui da tion [ˌlikwi'deiʃən] n. [U] liquidating or being ~ed: go into liquidation, become bankrupt.

liq uor ['likə*] n. 1. [U & C] (kind of) alcoholic drink: under the influence of ~, partly drunk; in ~; the worse for ~, drunk; malt ~, beer; brandy and other spirituous ~s. 2. [U] liquid produced by boiling or fermenting a food substance.

liq uor ice ['likəris] n. [U] (plant from whose root is obtained) black substance used in medicine and in sweets.

li ra ['liərə] n. (pl. lire ['liəri] or liras ['liərəz]) unit of money in Italy.

lisle thread ['lail 'θred] n. [U] fine, hard-twisted cotton thread, used for stockings, gloves, etc.

lisp [lisp] v.i. & t. (VP 21, 1, 10) fail to use the sounds [s] and [z] correctly, e.g. by saying [θikθtiːn] for sixteen; say in a ~ing manner: She ~s. He ~ed (out) his words. n. lisping way of speaking: The child has a bad ~. ~ing ly *adv.

lis som ['lisəm] adj. lithe; quick and graceful in movement. ~ness *n.

^{1}list [list] n. number of names (of persons, items, things, etc.) written or printed: a shopping ~; make a ~ of things one must do; put sb.'s name on (take his name off) the list. the active ~, ~ of officers in the armed forces who may be called upon for service. the free ~, (a) those goods admitted into a country free of duty. (b) those persons who are admitted to a theatre, concert hall, etc., without payment. v.t. (VP 1) make a ~ of; put on a ~: ~ all one's engagements; ~ sb.'s name.

^{2}list [list] v.i. (VP 21, 23) (esp. of a ship) lean over to one side (e.g. because the cargo has shifted): The ship ~s to starboard. n. ~ing of a ship: a bad ~ to port.

^{3}list [list] v.t. & i. (old use) listen (to).

^{4}list [list] v.i. (old use) please; choose: 'The wind bloweth where it ~eth.' lis ten ['lisn] v.i. (VP 21, 23, 24) 1. try to hear; pay attention to: We ~ed but heard nothing. The boys heard th father's voice but were not ~ing to w he was saying. Please ~ carefully the telephone bell while I'm upsta ~ in (to), listen to a broadcast p gramme: Did you ~ in to the Pr Minister yesterday evening? 2. agree a suggestion, request, etc.: Don't ~ him; he wants to get you into trou ~er n. one who ~s.

list less ['listlis] adj. too tired to sh interest or do anything. ~ly *a ~ness n.

lists [lists] n. pl. (in olden times) a of ground for fights between men horseback wearing armour and us lances. enter the ~, (fig.) send o accept, a challenge to a contest.

lit p.t. & p.p. of ^{3}light. lit up, (sl.) dru lit a ny ['litəni] n. form of prayer use in church services, recited by priest with responses from the congre tion: the L~, that in the Book of Co mon Prayer of the Church of Englan li ter, see litre.

lit er a cy ['litərəsi] n. [U] ability to re and write.

lit er al ['litərəl] adj. 1. connected wi expressed in, letters of an alphabet ~ error (e.g. in printing). 2. correspo ing exactly to the original: a ~ transcr (copy) of an old manuscript; a ~ trans tion. (Cf. free translation.) 3. taking wor in their usual and obvious sense, witho allegory or metaphor: I hear nothing the ~ sense of the word, (i.e. of the wo 'hear') get no news by hearing peo speak (though I may get news from l ters, etc.). 4. (of a person) prosaic; matt of fact; lacking in imagination: He ha rather ~ mind. n. ~ error; misprint. ~
adv. 1. word for word; strictly: tra late ~ly; carry out orders too ~ly. 2. (oft incorrectly used) without exaggeratio
The children were ~ly starving.

lit er ar y ['litərəri] adj. of literature authors: the ~ profession; a ~ man (i either an author or a man interested literature); ~ style (as used in go writing, contrasted with colloquial, etc ~ property, the right of an author to fe royalties, etc., coming from his writin lit er ate ['litərit] adj. able to read a write. n. ~ person.

lit er a ture ['litəritʃə*] n. [U] 1. (t writing or the study of) books, et valued as works of art (drama, fictio essays, poetry, biography, contrast with technical books and journalis
2. all the writings of a country (Fre ~) or a period (18th century English ~ books dealing with a special subje travel ~; the ~ of poultry-farming.

lithe ['laið] adj. (of a person, a bod bending, twisting, or turning easily:
movements; make one's muscles ~.

lith og ra phy [li'θɔgrəfi] n. [U] proc of printing from parts of a flat stone or metal surface that are prepared to receive ink. lith o graph ['liθəgrɑːf] n. sth. (esp. a picture) printed by this process. v.t. & i. print by this process. lith o graph ic [ˌliθə'græfik] adj. of ~.

lit i gant ['litigənt] n. person engaged in a lawsuit.

lit i gate ['litigeit] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21) go to law; make a claim at a court of law. 2. (VP 1) contest (sth.) at a court of law. lit i ga tion [ˌliti'geiʃən] n. [U] litigating; going to law.

i tig ious [li'tidʒəs] adj. 1. fond of going to law. 2. that can be disputed at law.

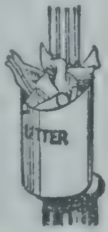
it mus ['litməs] n. blue colouring-matter that is turned red by acid and can then be restored to blue by alkali. '~-ˌpaper, paper stained with ~ and used as a test for acids and alkalis.

i to tes ['laitoutiːz] n. understatement used ironically, esp. using a negative to express the contrary, as 'I shan't be sorry when it's over' meaning 'I shall be very glad', or 'It was no easy matter' for 'It was very difficult'.

lit re ['liːtə*] (U.S.A. liter) n. unit of capacity in the metric system. 1 ~ = about 1¾ pints. (See Appendix 1.)

lit ter ['litə*] n. 1. couch or bed (often with a covering and curtains) in which a person may be carried about (e.g. on men's shoulders, and as used in ancient Rome). 2. sort of stretcher for carrying a sick or wounded person.

lit ter ['litə*] n. 1. [U] odds and ends, bits of paper, discarded wrappings, bottles, etc., left lying about in a room or public place: Pick up your ~ after a picnic. '~-bin, '~-ˌbasket, bin, basket, into which to place ~. 2. (sing. with indef. art.) state of untidiness that results when things are left lying about instead of being put away: Her room was in such a ~ that she was ashamed to ask me in. 3. [U] straw and dung of a farm-yard; straw and similar material (e.g. dry bracken) used as bedding for animals or for protecting plants from frost. 4. [C] all the newly born young ones of an animal: a ~ of puppies; ten little pigs at a ~. v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10 with up, 18) make untidy with odds and ends; scatter ~ (def. 1): ~ a desk with papers; ~ up one's room. 2. (VP 1, 10 with down) supply (a horse, etc.) with straw; make a bed for an animal: ~ down a horse (a stable). 3. (VP 21) (of animals, esp. dogs and pigs) bring forth a ~ of young ones.



A litter-bin

lit tle ['litl] adj., n., & adv. I. adj. (In senses 1, 2, and 3 ~ has no real comp. and sup. Littler and littlest are occasionally used but are better avoided. See less and least for senses 4 and 5.) 1. (Note great and ~; big and ~, as pairs of opposites; cf. great and small; large and small. Note that ~ is usually, but not always, emotive, and is often preceded by another adj. expressing feeling.) small: a pretty ~ house; those nasty ~ children; that poor ~ girl; (as distinctive epithet) the ~ finger (toe). 2. short (in time, distance, stature): Won't you stay a ~ time with me? Come a ~ way with me. In Ireland fairies are called 'the ~ people'. She's a nice ~ thing (used to indicate tenderness or regard, but may also indicate patronage or a feeling of superiority). He's quite the ~ gentleman (suggesting good-humoured patronage of a boy or man who is worthy but perhaps rather insignificant). 3. young: How are the ~ ones, the children? Here come the ~ Smiths, the Smith children. 4. not much: He gained ~ advantage from the scheme. I have very ~ time for reading. He knows ~ Latin and less Greek. 5. (with indef. art.) some but not much; a small quantity of: He knows a ~ French. A ~ care would have prevented the accident. Will you have a ~ cake (i.e. a piece or slice of cake)? (Cf. Will you have a cake, i.e. one of these cakes?) It has caused me not a ~ anxiety, i.e. considerable anxiety. 6. '~-go n. (colloq.) first examination for B.A. degree at Cambridge. ~ Mary, (colloq.) the stomach. II. n. (see less, least.) 1. not much; only a small amount: You have done very ~ for us, have not helped us much. I see very ~ of him, do not see him often or for long. The ~ of his work that I have seen seems excellent. I got ~ out of it, not much advantage or profit. He did what ~ he could. Every ~ helps. ~ by ~, gradually; by degrees. ~ or nothing, hardly anything. in ~, on a small scale. 2. (with indef. art.) a small quantity; something (a ~ is positive; ~ is negative): He knows a ~ of everything. A ~ makes some people laugh. Please give me a ~. after (for) a ~, after (for) a short time or distance. 3. (a ~ is used adverbially meaning) rather; somewhat: She seemed to be a ~ afraid. This hat is a ~ too large for me. He was not a ~ annoyed, was considerably annoyed. III. adv. 1. not much; hardly at all; only slightly: He is ~ known. She slept very ~ last night. I see him very ~ (i.e. rarely) nowadays. He left ~ more than an hour ago. That is ~ short of (is almost) madness! He is ~ better than (is almost as bad as) a thief. 2. (with such vv. as know, think, imagine, guess, suspect, realize, and always placed before the v.) not at all: They ~ suspect that their plot has been discovered. He ~ knows (L~ does he know) that the police are about to arrest him. ~ness n. the quality of being ~.

lit tor al [ˈlitərəl] n. & adj. (part of a country which is) along the coast.

lit ur gy [ˈlitədʒi] n. [C] fixed form of public worship used in a church. li tur gi cal [liˈtəːdʒikəl] adj.

liv a ble [ˈlivəbl] adj. (of a house, room, climate, etc.) fit to live in; (of life) tolerable; (of persons) easy to live with.

^{1}live [liv] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21) have existence as a plant or animal; be alive (which is more usual: He's still alive is preferable to He still ~s.) 2. (VP 21, 23, 25) continue to be alive; remain alive: ~ to be old (to a great age); ~ to see all one's grandchildren married. She's very ill—the doctors don't think she will ~. Can he ~ through the night? ~ on, continue to ~; The old people died but the young people ~d on in the village. ~ through, experience and survive: He has ~d through two wars and three revolutions. ~ and learn, phrase used when one hears sth. new, esp. sth. surprising. ~ and let ~, be tolerant; ignore the failings of others in order that one's own failings may be ignored. 3. (VP 24 with on) have as food or diet: ~ on fruit (a milk diet); depend upon for support, etc.: ~ on one's salary (on £500 a year, on one's wife's income); ~ on one's wits, get money by ingenious and irregular methods, not necessarily honest; ~ on one's name (reputation), keep one's position, continue to earn money, because one has been successful in the past. 4. (VP 23, 24) make one's home (in, at, etc.); reside: ~ in England; ~ abroad; ~ in lodgings (an hotel). Where do you ~? ~ in (out), (esp. of domestic servants, shop assistants, workers) lodge in (out of) the building where one is employed: Does your cook ~ in or out? 5. (VP 1, with cognate obj.) spend, pass, experience: ~ a happy life (a virtuous life); ~ a double life (i.e. act two different parts in life). 6. (VP 23) conduct oneself; pass one's life in a specified way: ~ honestly (happily); ~ like a saint; ~ in a small way, cheaply and quietly; ~ to oneself, in isolation, without trying to make friends; ~ a lie, express a lie by one's manner of living; ~ well, have good food, etc.; ~ on air, appear to take very little food. 7. (VP 10) ~ (sth.) down, live in such a way that (past guilt, scandal, foolishness, etc.) is forgotten: He hopes to ~ down the scandal caused by the divorce proceedings. ~ up to (one's faith, principles, etc.), put (one's faith, etc.) into practice; reach the standard that may be expected: It's difficult to ~ up to the principles of the Christian religion. He didn't ~ up to his reputation. 8. (VP 21) (of things without life) remain in existence; vive: His memory will always ~, he never be forgotten. No ship could ~ such a rough sea. 9. (VP 21, enjoy intensely: 'I want to ~', she said, don't want to spend my days cooking cleaning and looking after babies.'

^{2}live [laiv] adj. (attrib. only; see li and alive for predic. uses). 1. ha life: ~ fish; (joc.) actual, not tended: There's a real ~ burglar un my bed! 2. burning or glowing: ~ (embers); unexploded: a ~ shell ( tridge, bomb); not used: a ~ charged with electricity: a ~ rail, ing current for trains; a ~ wire, ( a lively energetic person. 3. (of broadcast) not recorded in advance tape or records): It was a ~ broadc not a recording, the speaker, perform etc., was at the microphone at the ti of the broadcast. 4. full of energ activity, interest, importance, etc.: a question (issue), one in which there great interest.

live li hood [ˈlaivlihud] n. means living; way in which one earns mone earn (gain) one's ~ by teaching; earn honest ~; deprive a man of his ~.

live long [ˈlivlɔŋ, ˈlaiv-] adj. (only the ~ day (night, summer, etc.), the wh length of the day, etc. (implying, cording to context, weariness or deligh live ly [ˈlaivli] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. full life and spirit; gay and cheerful: Sh as ~ as a kitten. The patient seems little livelier (a little more ~) this morni

He has a ~ imagination. They had a time, exciting, perhaps with an eleme of danger. make things ~ for (sb make it exciting and perhaps dangero for (him). 2. (of colour) bright; g
3. (of non-living things) moving quick or causing quick movement: a ~ ba a ~ (cricket) pitch. 4. lifelike; realist a ~ description of a football game; g
sb. a ~ idea of what happened. live ness n. [U] state of being ~.

liv en [ˈlaivn] v.t. & i. (VP 10, 23 w up) make or become lively: How we ~ things up? The party is beginn to ~ up.

^{1}liv er [ˈlivə*] n. 1. [C] large, reddi brown organ in the body which p duces bile and purifies the blood. ( the illustr. at intestines.) 2. [U] anima ~ as food. ~ish, ~y adjj. (colloq.)
fering from ~ trouble; bilious.

^{2}liv er [ˈlivə*] n. person who lives in specified way: an evil (clean, loose) ~.

liv er y [ˈlivəri] n. 1. special dress uniform worn by men servants in a gr household (esp. of a king or noble) or members of one of the city compan of London (trade or craft guilds).
(out of) ~, wearing (not wearing) dress or uniform. ~ company, ne London trade guilds that has a distinctive uniform. 2. (fig. & poet.) dress; overing: trees in the ~ of spring, with ew green leaves; birds in their winter . 3. (also ~ stable) stable where horses e kept for their owners, fed and looked ter for payment; stable from which orses may be hired. liv er ied ['livərid] dj. wearing ~ (def. 1). '~man n. 1. ember of a ~ company. 2. keeper of, orker in, a ~ stable.

e stock ['laivstɔk] n. [U] (esp. farm) nimals kept for use or profit (e.g. attle, sheep, pigs).

id ['livid] adj. of the colour of lead, lue-grey; (of a person or his looks) riously angry: ~ marks (bruises) on e body; ~ with cold (rage). ~ly adv.

ing ['liviŋ] n. 1. means of keeping live, of earning what is needed for life: rn (gain, get, make) a ~ as a motor-car lesman. 2. [U] manner of life: good ~, aving luxurious food, etc.; plain ~ nd high thinking, having plain, simple ood and leading a philosophic life; the andard of ~ in the U.S.A.; the art of ~; ~ wage, one that makes it possible for worker to keep himself and his family roperly. '~-*room n. room for general use uring the day (often a general purpose oom, used for meals, recreation, etc.). ~-*space n. area of land considered y a State as necessary for further expansion. 3. (Church of England) benefice.

ing ['liviŋ] adj. 1. alive, esp. now xistent: ~ languages; within ~ memory, ithin the memory of people now alive. o man ~ (no man who is now alive) ould do better. 2. (of a likeness) true o life: He's the ~ image of (is exactly ike) his father. 3. strong; active; lively: ~ hope (faith). the ~ theatre, the rdinary theatre (contrasted with the inema, plays shown on television, etc). . the ~, (pl. v.) those now alive: He's till in the land of the ~.

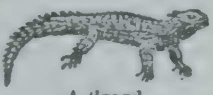
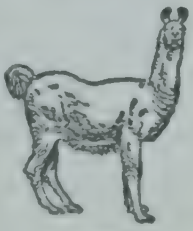
ard ['lizəd] n. (kinds of) creeping, ong-tailed, four-egged reptile.



A lizard

a ma ['lɑːmə] n. S. American animal ith a thick woolly oat, used as a beast f burden.



A llama

loyd's [lɔidz] n. society f marine underwriters n London: ~ register, nnual list of ships in arious classes. A 1 at ~, first-rate; excellent.

[lou] int. (old use) ook! See!

ad [loud] n. [C] 1. hat which is (to be) arried or supported, esp. if heavy; fig.) weight of care, responsibility, etc.: heavy ~ on one's shoulders; a coach-~ of passengers; (fig.) take a ~ off sb.'s mind, relieve him of anxiety, etc. They have ~s of money, (colloq.) are very rich. '~-*line n. line painted on a ship's side to show depth at which the ship floats when fully loaded. 2. amount which a cart, etc., can take: a cart-~ of hay; two lorry-~s of coal. (See *pay~.) 3. amount of work that a dynamo, motor, engine, etc., is required to do, amount of current supplied by a generating station or carried by an electric circuit. '~-,*shedding n. cutting off the supply of current on certain lines when the demand for current is greater than the supply.

²load [loud] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10, 18, 21, 23) put a load on or in; put (goods) on or into: ~ a cart (a donkey); ~ a man (down) with parcels and packages; (fig.) ~ a man with favours (honours); ~ one's stomach with food, eat a lot; a heart ~ed with sorrow. ~ up, put a ~ on or into: Have you finished ~ing up yet? 2. (VP 1, 21) put a cartridge or shell into (a gun) or a length of film into (a camera): Are you ~ed? Is there a cartridge in your gun? L~ quickly! 3. (VP 1) weight with lead; add extra weight to: a ~ed cane (stick), one having lead added to make the cane useful as a weapon; ~ed dice, so weighted as to fall with a certain face (e.g. the six) uppermost. ~ the dice (against sb.), (fig.) do sth. that gives one an unfair advantage (over him).

load stone n. = lodestone.

¹loaf [louf] n. (pl. loaves [louvz]) 1. mass of bread cooked as a separate quantity; a two-pound ~. Half a ~ is better than no bread, it is better to take what one can get or is offered than to run the risk of having nothing. 2. '*sugar-~, [C] cone-shaped mass of sugar, as formerly made and sold. '~-,*sugar, [U] sugar cut into small cubes. 3. [C & U] (quantity of) food shaped and cooked: (a) meat ~, made of minced meat, eggs, etc. 4. (sl.) head: Use your ~, your brains.

Loaves of bread

²loaf [louf] v.i. & t. (VP 21, 23, 10) waste time; spend time idly: out-of-work men ~ing at street corners. Don't ~ about while there's so much work to be done. Don't ~ away your time. n. (sing. only) ~ing: I'm going to have a ~. ~er n. person who ~s.

loam [loum] n. [U] rich soil with some sand or a little clay, and with much decayed vegetable matter in it. ~y adj. of or like ~: ~y land.

loan [loun] n. 1. sth. lent, esp. a sum of money: government ~s, sums lent to the government; domestic and foreign ~s.

2. [U] lending or being lent: have (ask for) the ~ of sth.; have sth. on ~. May I have the ~ of your sewing-machine, may I borrow it? ˈ~-colˌlection n. number of pictures, etc., lent by their owners for exhibition. ˈ~-ˌoffice n. one for lending money to private borrowers. ˈ~word n. word taken from another language. v.t. (VP 1) lend (which is the more usual word).

loath, loth [louθ] adj. (predic. only) unwilling (to do sth.). nothing ~, quite willing.

loathe [louð] v.t. (VP 1, 17A) 1. feel disgust for; dislike greatly: She was seasick, and ~d the smell of greasy food. 2. (colloq.) dislike. loath ing n. disgust. loath ly [ˈlouðli], loath some [ˈlouðsəm] adjj. disgusting; causing one to feel shocked: a loathsome disease.

loaves, see ¹*loaf.*

lob [lɔb] v.i. & t. (-bb-) (VP 1, 10, 18, 21) strike or send (a ball) high in the air (in cricket and tennis). n. ball bowled underhand at cricket or hit high up into the air at tennis.

lob by [ˈlɔbi] n. 1. porch, entrance-hall, ante-room, corridor: the ~ of a hotel (theatre). 2. (in the House of Commons, etc.) large hall used for interviews between members and the public; group of people who try to influence members (e.g. of the House of Commons, the Senate in Washington, D.C.) to support or oppose proposed legislation. 3. division ~, (Houses of Parliament) one of two corridors to which members retire when a vote is taken in the House. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 10, 21, 23) (try to) influence the members of a law-making body; get (a bill) passed or rejected in this way: ~ a bill through the Senate; the National Union of Farmers ~ing in order to maintain subsidies (~ing for higher subsidies).

lobe [loub] n. lower, rounded end of the outer ear; part (e.g. of an oak leaf) similar in shape. lobed adj. having ~s.

lo be lia [louˈbiːljə] n. small flowering plant often planted in park gardens.

lob ster [ˈlɔbstə*] n. 1. [C] shellfish with eight legs and two claws, bluish-black before and scarlet after being boiled. ˈ~-pot n. basket in which ~s are trapped. 2. [U] its flesh as food.

A lobster

lo cal [ˈloukəl] adj. 1. of, special to, a place or district: the ~ doctor (i.e. living in the district); ~ customs; a column of ~ news; ~ government; ~ option (veto), (in some countries) system by which people may decide, by voting, whether they do or do not want sth. (e.g. the sale of alcoholic drink) in their district; ~ time, time at any place in the wor as calculated from the position of t sun: L~ time changes by one hour f every 15° longitude. ~ colour, [illegible] of the scenes and period described in story, added to make the story mo real. 2. affecting a part, not the whol a ~ pain (injury). n. 1. inhabitant a particular district. 2. item of ~ nev in a newspaper. 3. (colloq.) ~ publ house (see public def. 1): pop into the for a pint. ~ly adv.

lo cal ism [ˈloukəlizəm] n. 1. [U] intere in a district, esp. one's own; favourin of what is local; narrowness of ide that may be the result of this. 2. [local idiom, pronunciation, etc.

lo cal i ty [louˈkæliti] n. 1. [C] thing position; place in which an event occur place, district, neighbourhood. 2. [U faculty of remembering and recognizin places, features of the landscape, etc esp. as a help in finding one's way: Sh has a good sense (colloq. bump) of ~.

lo cal ize [ˈloukəlaiz] v.t. (VP 1) 1. mak local, not general; confine within particular part or area: There is litt hope of localizing the disease. 2. inve with local characteristics. lo cal i za tion [ˌloukəlaiˈzeiʃən] n.

lo cate [louˈkeit] v.t. (VP 1, 18) 1. di cover, show, the position of: ~ a tow on a map. 2. establish in a place: a ne school to be ~d in the suburbs. Where the new factory to be ~d? 3. be ~d, b situated. lo ca tion [louˈkeiʃən] n. [U] locating or being ~d. 2. [C] position c place: suitable locations for new factorie 3. place, not a film studio, where (pa of) a cinema film is photographed. o location, shooting film in this way. (esp. in S. Africa) suburb for Africans.

loch [lɔk, lɔx] n. (in Scotland) 1. long narrow arm of the sea. 2. lake.

¹lock [lɔk] n. portion of hair that naturall hangs or clings together; (pl.) hair: m scanty ~s.

²lock [lɔk] n. 1. appliance, mechanism by which a door, gate, lid, etc., may be fastened with a bolt that needs a key to work it: put (keep) sth. under ~ and key, in sth. fitted with a ~. ˈ~smith n. maker and mender of ~s. 2. mechanism by which a gun is fired. ~, stock, and barrel, the whole of the thing; completely. 3. enclosed section of a cana or river at a point where the wate level -changes, for raising or lowe ing boats by the use of gates fitted wit sluices. ˈ~-ˌkeeper n. keeper of a cana or river ~, who opens and shuts th gates to allow boats to pass through 4. [U] condition of being fixed or jamme

A lock (def. 1

o that movement is impossible. ˈ~jaw
s. [U] form of disase (tetanus) that auses the jaws to e firmly locked
ogether. ˈ~nut n.
xtra nut screwed
ver another to revent its turn-
ng. ˈ~stitch n.
ewing-machine stitch by which two hreads are firmly joined together.

A lock (def. 3)

ck [lɔk] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10) fasten a door, box, etc.) with a lock: ~ the table door after the horse has been stolen, ake precautions when it is too late.
~ sth. away, put it away in a ~ed box, drawer, etc. ~ sb. in, put sb. in a room
f which the door is ~ed on the outside.
~ oneself in, ~ the door(s) so that no ne can enter from outside. ~ sb. out, eep him outside, prevent him from ntering, by ~ing the gate or door(s) n the inside: If you don't get back efore midnight, you'll be ~ed out. ˈ~- ut n. refusal of employers to allow vorkmen to enter their place of work ntil certain conditions are agreed to or lemands given up. (Cf. strike.) ~ up, VP 10) (a) make safe by placing in sth.
hat ~s; L~ up your jewellery before you
o away. (b) shut up a house, etc., by ~ing all the doors. (c) put (a person) n a ~ed room, a prison, a lunatic sylum, etc. (d) invest (money) in such way that it cannot easily or quickly e exchanged for cash: All his capital s ~ed up in land. ˈ~-up n. place where risoners may be kept temporarily; colloq.) any prison. adj. (attrib. only) hat can be ~ed: a ~-up shop, one that an be ~ed at night, the shopkeeper leeping elsewhere; a ~-up garage, one e.g. at a hotel) with door(s) that can e ~ed. 2. (VP 1, 10) (fig.) keep ecurely: have a secret safely ~ed (away)
n one's breast. 3. (VP 21) have a ~; ecome ~ed; be capable of being ~ed:
This trunk doesn't ~, has no lock, or has lock that does not work. The door ~s asily. 4. (VP 1, 21) (cause to) become ixed, unable to move: His jaws were ightly ~ed. He ~ed the wheels of the ar to prevent its being stolen. They were ~ed together in a fierce struggle. They ere ~ed in each other's arms. She ~ed er arms round his neck. The parts ~ nto each other (i.e. interlock).

ck er [ˈlɔkə*] n. 1. small cupboard vith a lock, esp. one of a number used y individuals in a public place (e.g.
or clothes at a swimming-pool or sports round, for a pupil's books, etc., at chool). 2. box or compartment in a hip (used for clothes, stores, ammuni-ion, etc.). go to (be in) Davy Jones's ~, be drowned at sea.

lock et [ˈlɔkit] n. small (often gold or silver) case for a portrait, a lock of hair, etc., usu. worn round the neck on a chain.

lo co mo tion [ˌloukəˈmouʃən] n. [U] moving, ability to move, from place to place. lo co mo tive [ˌloukəˈmoutiv] adj. of, having, causing, ~. n. railway engine.

lo cum te nens [ˈloukəmˈtiːnenz, -ˈten-] n. (Lat.) priest or doctor performing the duties of another who is away (e.g. on holiday).

lo cus [ˈloukəs] n. (pl. loci [ˈlousai]) exact place of sth.: ~ classicus, best known or most authoritative passage on a subject.

lo cust [ˈloukəst] n. 1. (kinds of) African and Asian winged insect which flies in great swarms and destroys crops and vegetables. (Cf. hopper.) 2. (also ~-tree) (kinds of) tree, esp. carob and a N. American tree, false acacia.

A locust

lo cu tion [louˈkjuːʃən] n. [U] style of speech; way of using words; [C] phrase or idiom.

lode [loud] n. vein or layer of metal ore. ˈ~star n. star by which a ship may be steered; the pole-star; (fig.) guiding principle. ˈ~stone n. kind of iron ore that is magnetic.

[1]lodge [lɔdʒ] n. 1. small house, esp. one at the entrance to the grounds of a large house, occupied by a gatekeeper, gardener, or other servant of the estate. 2. country house used in the hunting or shooting season: a hunting ~ in the Highlands. 3. porter's room(s) in the chief gateway or entrance to a college, factory, block of flats, etc. 4. residence of the head of a college at Cambridge. 5. (place of meeting for) members of a branch of a society such as the Freemasons.

[2]lodge [lɔdʒ] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) supply (sb.) with a room or place to sleep in for a time; receive as a guest: The shipwrecked sailors were ~d in the school. Can you board and ~ me, provide me with meals and a bed? 2. (VP 21, 23) live (in, at, with) as a paying guest: Where are you lodging now? I'm lodging at Mrs P's (with Mr & Mrs X). 3. (VP 23, 24) enter and become fixed (in): The bullet ~d in his jaw. 4. (VP 1, 18) cause (sth.) to enter and become fixed (in); put or place (in a particular place): ~ a bullet in a man's brain (a blow on a man's jaw). 5. (VP 1, 18) put (money, etc.) for safety: ~ one's valuables in the bank while away from home on holiday. 6. (VP 1, 18) place (a statement, etc.) with the proper authorities: ~ a complaint against one's neighbours with the authorities. lodg er n. person paying for rooms, etc., in sb.'s house: The widow makes a living by taking in lodgers.

lodg ing [ˈlɔdʒiŋ] n. (usu. pl.) room or rooms (not in a hotel) rented to live in: It's cheaper to live in ~s than in a hotel. Where can we find (a) ~ for the night? ˈ~-house n. house in which ~s are let (usu. by the week). common ~-house, one in which beds (usu. in a dormitory or cubicles) can be had for the night (e.g. by very poor people).

lodge ment [ˈlɔdʒmənt] n. (also lodgment) 1. [U] act or process of lodging (see ^{2}lodge, def. 6): the ~ of a complaint. 2. [C] sth. that has accumulated or been deposited: a ~ of dirt in a pipe.

lo ess [ˈloues] n. [U] deposit of fine yellowish-grey soil, found esp. in northern China, central U.S.A., and central Europe.

loft [lɔft] n. 1. room, place, used for storing things, in the highest part of a house, under the roof; space under the roof of a stable or barn, where hay or straw is stored. 2. gallery in a church or hall: the organ-~.

lof ty [ˈlɔfti] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. (not used of persons) of great height: a ~ tower (mountain). 2. (of thoughts, aims, feelings, etc.) distinguished; noble: ~ sentiments; a ~ style. 3. haughty; proud; consciously superior: a ~ appearance; in a ~ manner. ~i ly adv. ~i ness n.

^{1}log [lɔg] n. [C] rough length of tree-trunk that has been cut down; short piece of this for a fire. like a log, unconscious; immovable. ˈlog-ˈcabin n. cabin with walls and roof made of logs, not boards. ˈlog-rolling n. practice of giving support to others in return for support from them (e.g. by author-reviewers who praise each other's books). log ging n. work of cutting down forest trees for timber: a logging camp.

^{2}log [lɔg] n. 1. apparatus for measuring a ship's speed through the water: sail by the log, calculate a ship's position by means of information gained from the log. 2. (also ˈ*log-book*) book with a permanent daily record of events during a ship's voyage (esp. the weather, ship's position, speed, and distance as recorded by the log); (by extension) record kept by a motorist of mileage, maintenance of his car (e.g. lubrication of parts), etc.; folder (officially the Registration Book) recording ownerships of a car, used for licences. v.t. (-gg-) (VP 1) enter (facts) in a ship's log-book.

^{3}log, short for logarithm.

lo gan ber ry [ˈlougənbəri] n. large dark-red berry from a plant that is a cross between a blackberry and a raspberry.

log a rithm [ˈlɔgəriθəm] n. one of a series of numbers set out in tables which make it possible to work out problems in multiplication and division by ad and subtracting.

log ger head [ˈlɔgəhed] n. at ~s (wit disagreeing or disputing (with).

log gia [ˈlɔdʒə, -dʒjə] n. (It.) open gallery or arcade; part of a house w one side open to the garden.

log ic [ˈlɔdʒik] n. [U] science, meth reasoning; (person's) ability to ar and convince: argue with learning an lo gi cian [louˈdʒiʃən] n. person sk in ~.

log i cal [ˈlɔdʒikəl] adj. in accorda with the rules of logic; able to rea correctly: a ~ mind (argument, c clusion); ~ behaviour. ~ly adv.

lo gis tics [louˈdʒistiks] n. pl. art of t movement and supply of troops.

loin [lɔin] n. 1. (pl.) the lower part the back between the ribs and the h bones. gird up one's ~s, (bibl.) p pare for a journey; make ready action. ˈ~-cloth n. piece of cloth cov ing the middle of the body, folded tween the legs, and fastened round t ~s. 2. joint of meat which incluc the ~s: ~ of mutton.

loi ter [ˈlɔitə*] v.i. & t. (VP 21, 23, go slowly and stop frequently on t way somewhere; stand about; pa (time) thus: ~ on one's way home; ~ hours away. ~er n.

loll [lɔl] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 23, 24) rest, or stand (about) in a lazy way. 2. (V 10, 23) (of the tongue) (allow to) ha (out): The dog ~ed its tongue out. T dog's tongue was ~ing out.

lol li pop [ˈlɔlipɔp] n. sweetmeat; sug plum.

lol lop [ˈlɔləp] v.i. (VP 23) (colloq.; oft ~ along) move or run in a clumsy wa lol ly [ˈlɔli] n. 1. (colloq.) lollipop: ic lollies. 2. (sl.) money.

lone [loun] adj. (attrib. only; cf. alo and lonely, which are much common solitary; without companions; unfr quented. play a ~ hand, (fig.) do st without the help or support of othe esp. sth. not very popular. ~son [ˈlounsəm] adj. lonely.

lone ly [ˈlounli] adj. 1. without co panions: a ~ traveller. 2. sad or mela choly because one lacks companio sympathy, friendship: a ~-looking gi feel ~. 3. (of places) not often visite far from inhabited places or towns: ~ house; a ~ mountain village. lon li ness n. state of being ~: suffer fro loneliness.

^{1}long [lɔŋ] adj. 1. measuring much fro end to end in space or time: *How ~ the River Nile? He was ill for a ~ tim
He wasn't ~ (in) making up his mi Don't be (too) ~ about it,* do it quickly soon. 2. (various uses): the ~ arm of law, the far-reaching power of the la have a ~ arm, be able to make one ower felt far; make a ~ arm, reach out r sth., esp. at table; have a ~ face, look ismal (as when the jaw drops in dis-ppointment); ~-haired (colloq., highrow) young men; ~-play records (discs), laying (at slow speed) for a ~er time han the earlier kinds; have a ~ head, be hrewd and sensible (hence ˈ~-ˈheaded dj.); have ~ sight, be able to see distant bjects clearly; (fig.) have penetration, ear understanding (of problems, etc.)

ence, ˈ~-ˈsighted adj., ˈ~-ˈsighted- ess n.); have a ~ wind, be able to run r without resting to get breath; (fig.) alk or write at tedious length (hence, ~-ˈwinded adj. tedious; ˈ~-ˈ*winded- ess n.). take ~ views, have fore-ght; consider effects in the distant uture. ~ *odds, (in betting) very uneven
.g. 50 to 1). 3. (usu. following words ndicating measurement) having the ngth or duration indicated: a new oad twenty miles ~. The holidays are x weeks ~. as broad as it is ~, see road, adj. (def. 6). 4. having greater ngth than breadth; remarkable for,
oncerned with, length: the ~ jump, easured along the ground (cf. high ump); ~ metre, stanza of four eight-yllable lines; in the ~ run, see ^{2}run, def.
; the ~ vacation, the summer vacation of w-courts and universities. a ~ suit, ard games) many cards of one suit (e.g. ce, king, jack, 10, 8, 6, 2) in a hand; olloq.) sth. at which one is clever:
ake-making is not her ~ suit. a ~ dozen, hirteen. a ~ ton, 2,240 lb. 5. (of vowel ounds) taking more time to utter than thers: 'Slip' has a short vowel and 'sleep' as a ~ vowel. The 'u' in 'lucre' is ~. 6. ompounds) ˈ~*boat n. sailing ship's rgest boat. ˈ~*bow [-bou] n. bow rawn by hand, the same length as the eight of the archer, and sending a long eathered arrow (cf. crossbow, sending bolt). draw the ~bow, tell exagerated or invented stories. ˈ~-ˈ*clothes
pl. kind (now rather old-fashioned) orn by a very young baby. ˈ~*hand [U] ordinary handwriting (not short-and or typewriting). ˈ~-*shore-man n. an who works on shore (on wharves, ockyards, etc.) loading and unloading hips. ~ *stop n. (cricket) man who elds straight behind the wicketkeeper.
See Appendix 4.) ~ *waves n. (radio) aves of 1,000 metres or over.
ng [lɔŋ] n. 1. long interval or period:
shall see you before ~. The work won't ke ~. Shall you be away for ~? at
he) ~est, to give the most distant ate, etc.: I can wait only three days ~est, not after the third day from
ow. the ~ and the short of it, all hat need be said; the general effect or esult. 2. long syllable, esp. in Latin erse: four ~s and six shorts.

^{3}long [lɔŋ] adv. (-er, -est, [-ŋg-]) 1. for a long time: Stay (for) as ~ as you like. I've ~ been intending to call on you. so (as) ~ as, on condition that, provided that: You may borrow the book so ~ as you keep it clean. 2. in numerous compounds: ˈ~-ˈ*lived [-livd] adj. having a long life; living for a long time: a ~-lived family. ˈ~-drawn-ˈ*out adj. extended; unduly prolonged: a ~-drawn-out visit from my mother-in-law. ˈ~-ˈ*standing adj. that has existed for a long time: a ~-standing invitation to visit the Browns. ˈ~-ˈ*suffering adj. patient and uncomplaining in spite of trouble, provocation, etc.: his ~-suffering wife. 3. at a long time (from a point of time): ~ ago (before, after, since). That happened ~ ago. 4. (with nn. indicating duration) throughout the specified time: all day ~, throughout the whole day; all my life ~. 5. (comp. with no, any, etc.) after a certain point of time: I can't wait any (much) ~er. He's no ~er living here.

^{4}long [lɔŋ] v.i. (VP 24, 25) desire earnestly; wish for very much: She ~ed for him to say something. I'm ~ing to see you. The children are ~ing for the holidays. ~ing *n. [C & U] (an) earnest desire: a ~ing for home. adj. having or showing an earnest desire: a ~ing look; with ~ing eyes. ~ing ly *adv.

lon gev i ty [lɔnˈdʒeviti] n. [U] long life.

lon gi tude [ˈlɔndʒitjuːd] n. distance east or west (measured in degrees) from a meridian, esp. that of Greenwich, in London. lon gi tu di nal [ˌlɔndʒiˈtjuː-dinəl] adj. 1. of ~. 2. of or in length. 3. running lengthwise: longitudinal stripes (e.g. in a flag).

long ways, -wise [ˈlɔŋweiz, -waiz] adv. = lengthways.

loo fah [ˈluːfə] n. [C] dried pod of a plant (kind of gourd or pumpkin) used as a skin-brush.

^{1}look [luk] v.i. & t. (p.t. & p.p. ~ed [lukt]) 1. (VP 21, 23, 24) use one's sight; turn the eyes in some direction; try to see: ~ (up) at the ceiling; ~ (down) at the floor. We ~ed but saw nothing. I happened to be ~ing another way, in a different direction. to ~ at him (it, etc.), judging by the outward appearance: To ~ at her you'd never guess that she was a university teacher. fair (good, etc.) to ~ at, fair, etc., in outward appearance. L~ before you leap, (prov.) avoid acting hastily, without considering the possible consequences. ˈ~*ing-glass n. mirror made of glass. 2. (VP 23, 24, with advv. & preps.) ~ *about, (VP 23) be on the watch (for), in search of; examine one's surroundings, the state of affairs, etc.: Are you still ~ing about for a job? ~ about one, (VP 24) examine one's surroundings;

give oneself time to make plans: We hardly had time to ~ about us before we had to continue our journey. ~ after, (VP 24) (a) take care of; watch over; attend to: Who will ~ after the children while their mother is in hospital? He needs a wife to ~ after him. He's well able to ~ after himself (to ~ after his own interests). (b) follow with the eyes: They ~ed after the train as it left the station. ~ at, (VP 24) (special uses) (a) (in neg. sentences, usu. with will, would) refuse; reject: They wouldn't ~ at my proposal. (b) examine: We must ~ at the question from all sides. Will you please ~ at the battery of my car? (c) in polite requests: Will you please ~ at (i.e. read) this letter? (d) be in appearance: The hotel is not much to ~ at, has not a good outward appearance. ~ away, (VP 23) turn the eyes away (from). ~ back, (VP 23) (a) (fig.) turn one's thoughts (to or upon sth. in the past). (b) (with never) make progress: Since then he has never ~ed back, has made uninterrupted progress. ~ down on, (VP 23) despise; consider oneself superior to; show false contempt for: When she married a solicitor, she ~ed down on the office girls she had worked with. ~ down one's nose at, (colloq.) regard with half-hidden displeasure or contempt. ~ for, (VP 24) (a) search for; try to find: Are you still ~ing for a job? That foolish fellow is ~ing for trouble, is behaving in a way that will get him into trouble. (b) expect: It's too soon yet to ~ for results. ~ forward to, (VP 23) anticipate (usu. with pleasure): We're ~ing forward to seeing you again. ~ in, (VP 23) make a short (usu. casual) visit; pay a call (on): Won't you ~ in (on me) next time you're in town? The doctor will ~ in again this evening. ˈ~-in n. (a) short visit: give sb. a ~-in. (b) (colloq., sport, etc.) chance (of winning, etc.): You won't have (get) a ~-in with such strong competition. ~ into, (VP 24) (a) investigate; examine: ~ into a question. (b) dip into (a book, etc.). (c) ~ at the inside of, the depths of: He ~ed into the box (the mirror, her eyes). ~ on, (a) (VP 23) be a spectator; watch: Why don't you play football instead of just ~ing on? (b) (VP 23) read from a book, etc. (with sb.), at the same time: May I ~ on with you? (c) (VP 24) regard (as): Do you ~ on him as an authority on the subject? (d) (VP 24) regard (with): He seems to ~ on me with distrust. (e) (VP 24) (of a place, room, etc.) give a view of: My bedroom ~s on (to)the garden. Hence, ˈ~er-ˈon n. person who ~s on (def. a above). ~ out, (a) (VP 23) He stood at the window and ~ed out (at the view). (b) (VP 23) afford an outlook (on, over): Our hotel room here ~s out on the sea front. (c) be (for), be on the watch (for): L~ Be on the watch, be careful! Will go to the station and ~ out for Mr (d) (VP 10) select by making an tion: ~ out some old clothes for relations. Hence, ˈ~-out n. (a) being watchful (sing. only): keep a ~-out; be on the ~-out for bargains.
[C] place from which to watch;
who has the duty of watching: (a a ~-out post; send ~-outs in adv (c) (sing. only) prospect; what likely to come or happen: It seem bad ~-out for their children. That's own ~-out, sth. you yourself must responsible for. ~ over, (a) (VP inspect; examine: We must ~ over house before we decide to rent it.
(VP 24) pardon; overlook (a fault, et (Prefer overlook.) (c) (VP 10) inspect by one or part by part: Here's correspondence; I've ~ed it over. Her ˈ~-ˌover n. give something a ~-o examine it. ~ round, (VP 23) (a) (f examine possibilities before decid sth.: Don't make a hurried decision; round well first. (b) turn the head see): When I ~ed round for her, she leaving the hall. (c) go sight-seeing, et Have we time to ~ round (the town) bef lunch? ~ through, (a) (VP 24) rev (a lesson, etc.); study; examine:
through your notes before the examinati
I must ~ through these bills and ch them before I pay them. (b) (VP 10) spect carefully or successively: He ~
the proposals through before approv them. (c) (VP 24) direct the si through: ~ through a telescope. (d) ( 24) be visible through: His greed ~ through his eyes. ~ to, (VP 24) (a) careful of or about: The country m ~ to its defences. L~ to your mann my boy (i.e. don't be so rude). L~ t (take care) that this does not hap again. (b) rely on (sb. or sth., for st to do sth.): They all ~ to you for he They're ~ing to you for a solo (to s to them). (c) face: a building that ~s the south. ~ towards, (VP 24) fa a house ~ing towards the river. ~ (a) (VP 23) raise the eyes: Don't ~ (b) (VP 23) (with to) respect: They ~ed up to him as their leader. (c) prove in price or prosperity: Business (Oil shares are) ~ing up. (d) (VP search for (a word in a dictionary, fa in a reference book, etc.): Please ~ a fast train to Leeds (i.e. in a railw guide). (e) (VP 10) pay a call on; vis
Do ~ me up next time you're in Lond ~ sb: up and down, examine him ca fully or contemptuously. 3. (VP 25) seem to be, have a certain appe ance: ~ sad (ill, tired). The town alw
~s deserted on Sunday mornings. It very suspicious to me, I suspect that it is not strictly honest, straightforward, etc. The girl ~ed puzzled. You're not ~ing quite yourself, you're ~ing ill, worried, etc. He's beginning to ~ himself again, to look well again (e.g. after an illness). She ~s her best in tweeds. He's only 40 but he ~s 50. She ~s her age, seems as old as she really is. She ~ed to be in good health. He ~ed to be stronger than he really was. ~ black (at . . .), ~ angry. ~ blue, appear sad or discontented. ~ small, ~ mean or insignificant: We made him ~ small, exposed him as being insignificant. L~ alive! Get busy! Make haste! L~ sharp! Hurry up! ~ well, (a) (of persons) be healthy in appearance. (b) (of things) be attractive, pleasing, satisfactory: Does this hat ~ well on me? (c) (of a person wearing sth.) ~ attractive: He ~s well in naval uniform. 4. (VP 23) (after like and as if) seem (to be): It ~s like salt and it is salt. It ~s like (threatens to) rain. It ~s like being (promises to be) a fine day. This ~s to me like a way in. She ~s as if she were about to faint. You ~ as if you slept badly. It doesn't ~ to me as if we shall get there in time. 5. (VP 13) pay attention; learn by seeing: L~ where you're going! L~ who's here! L~ (and see) whether the postman has been yet. 6. (= ~ at) contemplate: ~ death (a person) in the face, face boldly; ~ *a gift horse in the mouth. 7. (VP 1) express by one's appearance: ~ one's thanks (consent); ~ daggers at sb.

ook [luk] n. [C] 1. act of looking: Let me have a ~ (at it). 2. appearance; what sth. suggests when seen: A ~ of pleasure came to her face. There were angry ~s from the neighbours. The town has a European ~. new ~, new fashion (of clothes); new style. 3. (pl.) person's appearance: She's beginning to lose her ~s, her beauty.

oom [lu:m] n. machine for weaving cloth.

oom [lu:m] v.i. (VP 22, 23) appear indistinctly and in a threatening way; (fig.) appear great and fill the mind: The dark outline of another ship ~ed (up) through the fog. The threat of the H-bomb ~ed large in their minds.

A loom

oon [lu:n] n. large diving-bird that lives on fish and has a loud, wild cry.

oon [lu:n] n. (Scot. and arch.) foolish, idle, good-for-nothing person.

oony ['lu:ni] n. & adj. (sl.) lunatic. '~-bin n. (sl.) mental home.

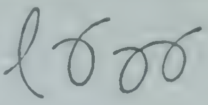
oop [lu:p] n. 1. (shape produced by a) curve crossing itself (as shown here, and as in the letters l and h in ordinary handwriting). 2. part of a length of string, wire, ribbon, etc., in such a shape, esp. as a knot or fastening; curved piece of metal as a handle. 3. (also '~-line) railway or telegraph line that separates from the main line, runs in a curve, and then rejoins the main line farther on. 4. circuit in which an aviator, motor-cyclist, etc., is for a time travelling in a ~ or in ~s: The airman looped the ~ five times. v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10) form or bend into a ~ or ~s; supply with a ~ or ~s: ~ the curtains up (back); ~ things together. 2. (VP 1, 21) perform a ~ (def. 4); make a ~ or ~s.



Loops

loop-hole ['lu:phoul] n. 1. narrow vertical opening in a wall for shooting or looking through, or to admit light and air (as in old forts, stockades, etc.). 2. (fig.) way of escape from control, esp. one provided by careless and inexact wording of a rule: find a ~ in the law.

[1]loose [lu:s] adj. 1. free; not held, tied up, fastened, packed, or contained in sth.: That dog is too dangerous to be left ~. One of the tigers in the zoo has got (broken) ~, has escaped from its cage. He let ~ his indignation, did not control it. Many Englishmen carry their small change (i.e. coins) ~ in their trouser pocket, not in a purse. The sheets of a ~-leaf notebook can be taken out and replaced easily. 2. not close-fitting; not tight or tense: a ~ collar; ~-fitting clothes. 3. moving more freely than is right or usual: a ~ tooth; ~ bowels, with a tendency to diarrhoea; a ~ thread; a ~ window, one that shakes or rattles in the wind; have a screw ~, (fig., colloq.) be unsound in one's mind. There's a screw ~ somewhere, sth. wrong or suspicious. ride with a ~ rein, (a) allow the horse freedom. (b) (fig.) manage a person indulgently. have a ~ tongue, be in the habit of talking too freely, telling secrets, etc. come ~, (of a fastening, etc.) come unfastened or insecure. work ~, (of a bolt, etc.) become insecure, no longer tight. 4. not firmly or properly tied: a ~ knot; a ~ end of rope, one that is not fastened. at a ~ end, (fig. of a person) having nothing to do. play fast and ~ (with . . .), behave dishonestly or in a deceitful manner. 5. (of talk, behaviour, etc.) not sufficiently controlled: ~ conduct; lead a ~ life; a ~ (immoral) woman. (be) on the ~, (colloq.) free from the restraints of morality or discipline; dissipated. 6. not strict; inexact; indefinite; (of translations) not close to the original: ~ thinking; a ~ thinker; a ~ (badly constructed) argument. 7. not compact; not closely packed: ~ soil; cloth with a ~ weave. in* ~ order, (mil., of soldiers) arranged with wide intervals. 8. (of the human body) not closely knit: a ~ frame; ~ limbs (rather awkward, ungainly in appearance); (of bodily actions) careless, bungling, or inaccurate: ~ bowling and fielding (in cricket). ~ly adv. in a ~ manner: words ~ly employed (see def. 6 above); rules ~ly enforced.

^{2}loose [luːs] v.t. (VP 1) make free or loose: Wine ~d his tongue, made him talk freely. (Loosen is commoner.)

loos en [ˈluːsn] v.t & i. (VP 1, 21) make or become loose or looser: L~ the screw. The screw has ~d. This medicine may ~n your cough, help to get up the phlegm.

loot [luːt] n. [U] goods (esp. private property) taken away unlawfully and by force, e.g. by thieves, or by soldiers in time of war. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) carry off ~ from: The brutal soldiers ~ed and massacred for three weeks. ~er n.

^{1}lop [lɔp] v.t. (-pp-) (VP 1, 10) cut (off branches, etc., from a tree); cut (away or off) with one stroke.

^{2}lop [lɔp] v.i. (-pp-) (VP 21, 23) hang down loosely. ˈlop-ears n. pl. drooping ears. ˈlop-eared adj. having lop-ears: a lop-eared rabbit. ˈlop-ˈsided adj. with one side lower than the other.

lope [loup] v.i. (VP 21, 23) move along with long, easy steps or strides (as a hare does). n. step or stride of this kind: The deer went off at an easy ~.

lo qua cious [louˈkweiʃəs] adj. talkative; fond of talking. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

lo quac i ty [louˈkwæsiti] n. [U] being ~.

lo quat [ˈloukwæt] n. [C] (tree, common in China and Japan, with a) yellow or yellowish-red fruit that grows in clusters and has a sharp taste.

lor [lɔː*] int. (vulg. substitute for) Lord! (= God).

Loquats

lord [lɔːd] n. 1. supreme male ruler: our sovereign ~ the King. 2. (L.) God; Christ: the L~'s Prayer, that given by Jesus to his followers; the L~'s Day, Sunday; the L~'s Supper, the bread and wine taken at Eucharist; L~! L~ God! Good L~! L~ bless us (me)! exclamations of surprise, etc. 3. peer; nobleman: live (treat sb.) like a ~, sumptuously; as drunk as a ~, excessively drunk; the House of L~s, the upper division of Parliament, consisting of the ~s spiritual (the bishops) and the ~s temporal (the other peers). 4. (in feudal times) superior; man from whom vassals held land and to whom they owed service: the ~ of the manor. 5. (joking style, also ~ and master) husband; great leader of industry: the cotton ~s (cf. beer barons); the ~s creation, mankind (contrasted with t animals). 6. person in a position authority: the L~s of the Admiral (Treasury), the chief members of the Boards; the First L~ of the Admiralt
the president of this Board. 7. fir word in many official titles: the L
Mayor of London; the L~ Chamberlai
etc. 8. title prefixed to names of pee and barons: L~ Derby (cf. the Earl Derby). 9. My ~, respectful formula f addressing certain noblemen and judg and bishops. v.t. (chiefly in) ~ it ove rule over like a ~: 'I will not be ~ over', she said to her husband. ~les
adj. without a ~.

lord ly [ˈlɔːdli] adj. (-ier, -iest) haughty; insolent. 2. like, suitable fo a lord; magnificent. lord li ness n.

lord ship [ˈlɔːdʃip] n. 1. [U] rul authority (over). 2. [C] His (Your) L~ used when speaking of (to) a lord.

lore [lɔː*, lɔə*] n. [U] learning or know ledge, esp. handed down from past time or possessed by a class of people (Iri ~; gypsy ~); or of a special subje (fairy ~, bird ~, folk ~).

lor gnette [lɔːˈnjet] n. pair of eye-glass on a long handle.

lorn [lɔːn] adj. (poet. or hum.) forlor desolate: a lone, ~ widow.

lor ry [ˈlɔri] n. strong wagon (usu. lon low, open), formerly horse-drawn, no usu. driven by steam or petrol, f carrying goods by road: a coal-~. (I U.S.A. truck is the usual word.) lose [luːz] v.t. & i. (p.t. & p.p. lost [lɔst 1. (VP 1) have no longer; have take away from one (by accident, careles ness, misfortune, separation, deat etc.): ~ one's money; ~ one's balanc fall over; ~ a leg (e.g. in a railwa accident). He lost two sons in the wa two of his sons were killed. It was cold that we lost the use of our hands, the froze and became useless. He has lo his job, has been dismissed. You' losing your hair, getting bald. She h lost her good looks, is no longer beautifu He's losing patience, becoming impatien Don't ~ your temper, don't get angry.

one's reason (senses), become insa or wildly excited. ~ interest, (a) (of person) cease to be interested (in sth.
(b) (of a thing) cease to arouse interes
The book soon ~s interest. ~ groun see ^{1}ground, def. 2. ~ one's head, s ^{1}head, def. 19. ~ one's heart to sb lose ~, see heart, def. 2. 2. (passi voice) be lost, disappear; die; be dea
The ship and all the crew were lost.
letter-writing a lost art, has the art writing (social) letters died (e.g. becaus of the use of the telephone)! be lost (all sense of shame, decency, honou duty, etc.), be no longer affected b

be insensible to. be lost in (thought, wonder, admiration, etc.), be deeply occupied or filled with. 3. (VP 1) be unable to find (sth. which one has had): I've lost the key of my trunk. The books seem to be lost (to have been lost). He lost the thread of his argument (discourse). Don't ~ your way (~ yourself, get lost), be unable to find the right path or road, not know where you are. ~ one's place, (in a book, etc.) be unable to find the page, paragraph, etc., where one stopped reading. ~ track of sth.* (or sb.), not know where it (he, etc.) is, what has happened to it (him, etc.). 4. (VP 1) fail to be in time for; fail to see, hear, etc.: ~ one's train (a bus); ~ the post, get to the letter-box or post-office too late; ~ (not hear) the end of a sentence. What he said was lost in the applause that greeted him. The thief was lost (could not be seen) in the crowd. ~ sight of, (a) forget about; fail to take into account: We must not ~ sight of the fact that . . . (b) no longer be able to see: We lost sight of him in the crowd. The early navigators disliked ~ing sight of land. 5. (VP 19C) cause (sb.) the loss of: Such insolence will ~ you your situation. This remark lost him our sympathy. 6. (VP 1, 21) fail to win, be defeated: ~ a game (a match, a battle, a war, a lawsuit, a prize); ~ a motion, fail to carry it in a debate. a lost cause, one that has already been defeated or is sure to be defeated. (play) a losing game, one in which defeat is likely or certain. 7. (VP 1, 20, 21, 23) be or become worse off (by, on, or in): You will ~ nothing by waiting, will not suffer any loss. Will the publisher ~ by it, be worse off because of publishing the book? How much did he lose on the transaction? The story does not ~ in the telling, is not made less interesting, is perhaps exaggerated. 8. (VP 21, 22) (of a watch or clock) go too slowly; fail to keep correct time because of this: Does your watch gain or ~? My watch ~s two minutes a day. 9. spend (time, opportunities, efforts) to no purpose; waste: There's not a moment to ~. I shall ~ no time in doing it, shall do it at once. be lost upon, fail to influence or attract the attention of: My hints were not lost upon him, they were noted. 10. (reflex.) ~ oneself in sth., become engrossed in it: She lost herself in a book, became so deeply interested in it that she was unaware of other things. los er n. one who ~s or is defeated: He's a good (bad) ~r, is cheerful (discontented) when he ~s.

oss [lɔs, lɔːs] n. 1. [U] losing or being lost; act or fact of losing or having lost sth.: L~ of health is more serious than ~ of wealth. The ~ of so many ships worried the Admiral. 2. [U] failure to win, obtain, keep: the ~ of a battle (contract, contest). 3. [U] lessening; waste; failure to use: ~ of opportunities; ~ of blood; without (any) ~ of time. 4. [C] sth. lost: (sell sth.) at a ~ (of £50); suffer heavy ~es in war (i.e. soldiers killed, wounded, or captured, warships destroyed etc.); a total ~ (e.g. of a ship that is wrecked). ˈ~-ˌ*leader n. (commerce) article, etc., sold at a ~ in order to attract customers to buy other articles. 5. (sing. only) disadvantage caused by losing sth. or sb.: Such a man is no great ~, we need not regret losing him. be at a ~, be perplexed, uncertain (what to do or say): He was at a ~ for words, did not know how to express himself. He was at a ~ for a word, could not think of the word he wanted.

lost [lɔst] p.t. & p.p. of lose.

^{1}lot [lɔt] n. (colloq.) 1. *the lot, the whole number or quantity: That's the lot, that's all or everything. Take the (whole) lot. Go away, the whole lot of you (all the lot of you), emphat. for 'all of you', 'every one of you'. 2. a lot (of), lots of, lots and lots (of), (usu. in affirm. sentences, much and many being preferred in neg. and interr. contexts) a great amount or number (of): What a lot of time you take to dress! She spends a lot of money on clothes. There were such a lot of people in the shops! I want lots. I saw quite a lot of her (saw her often) when I was in London last month. 3. (used adverbially) very much: He's feeling a lot better today. A lot you care! (iron., you don't care at all). (Cf. a good deal, a little.)

^{2}lot [lɔt] n. 1. (one of a set of objects used in) the making of a selection or decision by methods depending upon chance: divide property by lot. draw* (cast) *lots (e.g. by taking pieces of paper marked in some way from a box): They drew lots as to who should begin. 2. [C] decision or choice resulting from this: The lot came to (fell upon) me. 3. [C] person's fortune or destiny: His lot has been a hard one. Such good fortune falls to the lot of few men. He has thrown (cast) in his lot with us, has decided to share our fortunes, join our side, etc. It has fallen to my lot to make an attempt on the President's life. 4. item, or number of items, (to be) sold at an auction sale: Lot 46, six chairs. 5. collection of objects of the same kind: We have received a new lot of hats from the manufacturers. 6. (colloq.) a bad lot, a bad person. 7. plot of land or ground.

loth [louθ] adj. see loath.

lo tion [ˈlouʃən] n. [U & C] (kind of) medicinal liquid for use on the skin: a bottle of cleansing ~ for the face; soothing ~s for insect bites.

lot ter y [ˈlɔtəri] n. [C] 1. arrangement to give prizes to holders of numbered tickets previously bought by them and drawn by lot: (attrib.) ~ tickets. 2. (fig.) sth. considered to be as uncertain as the winning of prizes in a ~: Is marriage a ~ ?

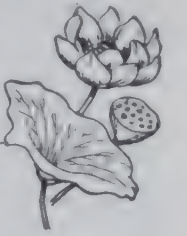
lo tus [ˈloutəs] n. (pl. -es [-iz]) (not often used in the pl.; ~ blooms is preferred). 1. (kinds of) water-lily, esp. Egyptian and Asiatic kinds. 2. (in old Gk. legends) plant represented as bringing about a distaste for an active life: ˈ~-ˌeater n. person who gives himself up to indolent enjoyment.



Lotus

loud [laud] adj. 1. not quiet or soft; easily heard: ~ voices (cries, laughs). The bomb exploded with a ~ noise. ˈ~-ˈspeaker n. part of a radio receiving apparatus that changes electric waves into sound-waves loud enough to be heard without ear-phones. ˈ~-ˈhailer n. electronic device that enables a voice to be magnified and so be audible at a great distance: The naval officer called to the trawler by ~-hailer across the water. 2. (of a person's behaviour; of colours) of the kind that forces itself on the attention. adv. in a ~ manner: Don't talk so ~. They laughed ~ and long. Speak ~er! ~ly *adv. in a ~ manner: Someone knocked ~ly at the door. What a ~ly dressed girl! ~ness *n.

lough [lɔk, lɔx] n. (in Ireland) lake; arm of the sea.

lounge [laundʒ] v.i. (VP 21, 23) sit, stand about (leaning against sth.), in a lazy way: idlers lounging at street corners; lounging over a café table. n. 1. act of lounging: have a ~. 2. place where one can ~, esp. a room or hall with comfortable chairs for lounging: the hotel ~. ˈ~-ˈlizard n. (sl.) professional dance-partner for women at dances in hotel ~s. 3. (modern use, esp. by house-agents) sitting-room in a house. 4. ˈ~-ˈchair n. comfortable easy-chair. ˈ~-ˈsuit n. man's suit of jacket, waistcoat, and trousers for day wear, contrasted with more formal dress.

lour, low er [ˈlauə*] v.i. (VP 21, 24 with at, on, upon) frown; look sullen or threatening; (of the sky, clouds) look dark, as if threatening a storm. ~ing ly *adv.

louse [laus] n. (pl. lice [lais]) (sorts of) small insect living on the bodies of animals and human beings under dirty conditions; similar insect living on plants.

lous y [ˈlauzi] adj. (-ier, -iest) infested with lice; (colloq.) bad: a lousy dinner; well provided (with): He's ~ with money.

lout [laut] n. clumsy, ill-mannered man: litter-~s, persons who leave litter about in public places (e.g. parks). ~ish *adj. of or like a ~: ~ish behaviour.

lov a ble [ˈlʌvəbl] adj. deserving inspiring love; worthy of love: a child; a child's ~ ways.

¹love [lʌv] n. 1. [U] warm, kind feelin fondness; affectionate and tender dev tion: a mother's ~ for her children; a of learning (adventure); ~ of (one's) cou try, patriotism; show ~ towards one neighbours; give (send) one's ~ (to sb give or send an affectionate greetin not to be had for ~ or money, in possible to get by any means. play f ~, for the pleasure of the game, not f stakes. There's no ~ lost betwee them, they dislike each other. a labou of ~, (a) sth. that one enjoys doing f its own sake. (b) sth. one does for the of sb. for the ~ of, (in appeals, etc for the sake of; in the name of: Put th gun down, for the ~ of God! ˈ~-feast meal taken by early Christians in toke of brotherly ~; religious service amon Methodists imitating this. 2. [U] warn kind feeling between two persons opposite sex; sexual passion or desire this as a literary subject: a ~ story marry for ~, not for money. be in (with . . .), have ~ and desire (for) Hero and Leander were in ~. Leand was in ~ with Hero. fall in ~ (with come to feel ~ (for); begin to be in (with). make ~ (to), show that one is ~ (with); do the things that lovers d (e.g. kiss, caress). Hence, ˈ~-ˌmakin
n. ˈ~-afˌfair n. instance of person being in ~ : a girl who had numerou ~-affairs before she married. ˈ~bird small brightly coloured parrot said t pine away when it loses its mate. ˈ~ child n. child of unmarried parent ˈ~-knot n. bow of ribbon, tied in special way, formerly given or worn as pledge of ~. ˈ~-ˌletter n. letter betwee persons in ~ and concerned with their ~ ˈ~lorn adj. unhappy because one's is not returned; pining with ~. ˈ~ match n. marriage made for love's sak only. ˈ~-ˌphiltre, ˈ~-ˌpotion nn magic drink supposed to make the per son who drinks it fall in ~ with th person from whom it is received. ˈ~ seat n. S-shaped bench with two seat facing in opposite directions. ˈ~sic
adj. languishing because of ~. ˈ~-son
n. song about or expressing ~. ˈ~ ˌstory n. novel or story of which th main theme is ~. ˈ~-ˌtoken n. sth. give as a symbol of ~. 3. form of address be tween lovers, husband and wife, or t a child: Come here, my ~. 4. (colloq.
delightful or lovable person or thing Isn't she a little ~? What a ~ of a ha
5. woman who is a sweetheart: She wa an old ~ of mine years ago. (Flame commoner. Cf. lover, a man who is sweetheart.) 6. personification of ~ i.e. a Cupid. 7. (in games) no score

nothing, nil: ~ all, no score for either side; ~ game, one in which the loser did not score. ~less ['lʌvlis] adj. unloving; unloved; without ~: a ~less marriage. ~less ly adv. ~lessness *n.

ove [lʌv] v.t. 1. (VP 1) have strong affection or deep tender feeling for: ~ one's parents (one's country). 2. (VP 1) worship: ~ God. 3. (VP 1) have kind feelings towards: The Bible tells us to ~ all men. 4. (VP 1, 2, 17B) be very fond of; find pleasure in: ~ comfort (mountain-climbing). She ~s to have (~s having) a lot of dogs and young men round her. 'Will you come with me?'—'I should ~ to.' (colloq. style) I'd ~ for you to come with me.

ove ly ['lʌvli] adj. 1. beautiful; attractive; pleasant: a ~ view; a ~ woman; ~ hair (weather). 2. (colloq.) enjoyable; amusing: We had a ~ holiday. What a ~ joke! It's ~ and warm here, ~ because warm. 3. (U.S.A.) lovable: Oh, she's a ~ person. love li ness *n.

ov er ['lʌvə*] n. 1. person who is fond of or devoted to (sth.): a ~ of music (horses, good wine). 2. (pl.) man and woman in love: the happy ~s. 3. person, esp. a man, who deeply admires a woman; woman's sweetheart or suitor: She has had many ~s. (In colourless style admirer, sweetheart, suitor are preferred, esp. as lover does, in some contexts, suggest guilty love.) ~less *adj. (of a woman) without a ~. ~like *adj. in the manner of a ~.

ov ing ['lʌviŋ] adj. feeling or showing love: a ~ friend. '~-'*kindness n. tender consideration; mercy and kindness coming from love. '~-*cup n. large wine-cup passed round from person to person so that everyone may drink from it. ~ly *adv. in a ~ way: Yours ~ly, formula at the end of a letter (e.g. from a child to its parents).

ow [lou] adj. (-er, -est) 1. not high or tall; not reaching far up: a low wall (ceiling); a low range of hills. The moon was low in the sky. The glass is low, i.e. the mercury in the barometer is low. He has a low brow, i.e. short between the hair and the eyebrows. She was wearing a low-necked dress (a dress low in the neck), one leaving the neck and (part of) the shoulders and breast visible. low relief, bas-relief. 2. below the usual or normal level: The well was low during the drought. low tide (water), time when the tide is out and far from the shore or river-bank. low-water mark, lowest point reached at low water. in low water, (fig.) short of money. the Low Countries, the Netherlands. 3. (of sounds) not loud; not shrill or high: speak in a low voice; the low notes of a 'cello. 4. of or in humble rank or position: a man of low birth; all classes of people, high and low; have a low station in life (e.g. a street sweeper). be brought low, be humbled. 5. commonplace; coarse; vulgar; little civilized: low manners; low company, low life, i.e. of persons who are vulgar, coarse, etc.; low tastes; low cunning, cunning typical of a mean, morally degraded person. 6. feeble, lacking in strength of body or mind: in a low state of health; a low diet, one that is plain and simple; a low fever; feeling low, in low spirits, unhappy, depressed, hence, '*low-'spirited adj., '*low-'spiritedly adv. 7. of small amount as measured by a scale or degrees: a low temperature; a low pulse; low prices (wages, rates); have a low (unfavourable) opinion of sb.'s work; low latitudes, near the equator. at lowest, to mention the least possible amount, etc. 8. (of a supply of anything, fig. of money) nearly exhausted or empty: Our stock of coal is very low, we haven't much left. Food supplies were running low in the besieged town. 9. (of the position of the tongue when speaking) not raised: a low vowel, one (e.g. the vowel [ɑ:]) made with the tongue in a low position. 10. not highly developed: low forms of life. 11. Low Church, party in the Church of England giving a low place to the authority of bishops and priests, ecclesiastical organization, ritual, etc. (contrasted with High Church). Hence, Low Churchman, supporter of this. 12. (phrases) bring sb. or sth. low, make low in health, wealth, or position. lay (sb. or sth.) low, overthrow. lie low, (a) be lying flat, stretched out. (b) keep quiet or hidden; say nothing and wait: The escaped prisoners had to lie low for months. 13. (compounds) '*low-'born adj. of humble birth. '*low-'bred adj. having vulgar manners. '*low-brow adj. & n. (colloq.) (person) having or showing little taste for or interest in intellectual things, esp. art, music, literature. '*low-'browed adj. (of buildings, rooms) having a low entrance; gloomy. Low Mass (Celebration), celebration of the Eucharist without a choir. low comedian, person who acts in low comedy, kind of drama bordering on farce, with numerous laughable situations, funny dialogue, etc. '*low-down adj. (colloq.) caddish; dishonourable: low-down behaviour (tricks). n. (sl.) the low-down, the true facts; inside information (not generally known). '*lower case, (in printing) small letters, not capitals. Lower Chamber, Lower House, lower branch of a legislative assembly, e.g. the House of Commons in Gt. Brit., the House of Representatives in the U.S.A. the lower deck, (in the Navy) the ratings; those who are not officers. ˈ*lowlands n. pl. low, level country: the Lowlands of Scotland. ˈ*lowlander n. person who lives in lowlands, esp. (cap. L.) one who lives in the Scottish Lowlands. Low Latin, late, popular Latin (contrasted with classical Latin). Low Sunday, Low Week, coming after Easter Day and Easter Week. low er most adj. lowest. low ness n.

²low [lou] adv. (-er, -est) in or to a low position; in a low manner; aim (shoot) low; bow low to the Queen; buy low (at low prices) and sell high; play low (i.e. in gambling, for small sums); speak low. A tenor cannot get so low (down to such low notes) as a baritone. I never fell so low as that, never let my standard of behaviour fall so low.

³low [lou] n. sth. low; low level or figure: Several industrial shares reached new lows yesterday, their prices went down to a new low price (on the stock market).

⁴low [lou] n. sound made by cows. v.i. (of cows) make this characteristic sound.

¹low er [ˈlouə*] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) let or bring down; cause to be down: ~ the sails (a flag); (naut., VP 23) ~ away, lower a boat, sail, etc. 2. (VP 1, 21) make or become less high: ~ the rent of a house. The stocks ~ed in value. He ~ed his voice to a whisper. We can't ~ the ceiling. 3. (VP 1) degrade, disgrace: He would never ~ himself by taking bribes. 4. (VP 1) weaken: Poor diet ~s resistance to illness.

²low er [ˈlauə*] v.i. = lour.

low ly [ˈlouli] adj. (-ier, -iest) humble; simple; modest. low li ness n.

loy al [ˈlɔiəl] adj. true and faithful (to): ~ subjects of the Queen; ~ supporters; ~ to one's country. ~ist n. person who is ~ to his ruler and government, esp. one who supports the head of an established government during a revolt: (attrib.) the ~ist army (troops). ~ly adv. ~ty n. [U] being ~; ~ conduct.

loz enge [ˈlɔzindʒ] n. 1. four-sided, diamond-shaped figure. 2. small tablet of flavoured sugar, esp. one containing medicine: cough ~s.

£. s. d. [ˈelesˈdiː] n. pounds, shillings, and pence; (colloq.) money: I'm short of £. s. d. just now.

lub ber [ˈlʌbə*] n. big, clumsy, stupid fellow. ~ly adj.

lu bri cate [ˈluːbrikeit] v.t. (VP 1) put oil or grease into (machine parts) to make (them) work easily; (fig.) do sth. that makes action, etc., easier. lu bri cant n. [U] substance that ~s. lu bri ca tion [ˌluːbriˈkeiʃən] n. lubricating or being ~d.

lu cent [ˈluːsnt] adj. shining; translucent.

lu cerne [luːˈsəːn] n. [U] clover-like plant used for feeding animals.

lu cid [ˈl(j)uːsid] adj. 1. clear; easy t understand: a ~ explanation; a literary style; a ~ mind. 2. mentall sound: ~ intervals, periods of sanit between periods of insanity. 3. (poet bright, clear, transparent. ~ly adv
~i ty [l(j)uːˈsiditi] n. [U] quality of be ing ~.

Lu ci fer [ˈl(j)uːsifə*] n. 1. Satan, th chief rebel angel: as proud as ~. 2. (th planet Venus as) the morning star.

luck [lʌk] n. [U] chance; fortune (goo or bad); sth. that comes by chance have good (bad) ~ in one's affairs; hav hard ~, be unfortunate. As ~ woul have it, . . . Fortunately (or unfortu nately, according to context). He trie his ~ at the gaming tables, gamblec hoping for success. Bad ~ to him
May he have bad fortune! Just my ~
I am unlucky, as usual. My ~'s i (out), I am (am not) fortunate. I neve have any ~. I had the ~ (was fortunat enough) to find him at home. be dow on one's ~, (colloq.) be unfortunate suffer misfortune. in (out of) ~, havin (not having) good fortune. for ~, t bring good fortune: keep sth. for ~ worse ~, (used parenthetically) more'
the pity; unfortunately. ~less adj. un fortunate; turning out badly: a ~less da (attempt).

luck y [ˈlʌki] adj. (-ier, -iest) having bringing, resulting from, good luck: a ~ man (guess, escape). It's my ~ day, on on which I am having good fortune
You are ~ to be alive after being in tha accident. ˈ*~-bag (-dip) n. one con taining articles of various values fo which a person may dip in (taking th chance of getting sth. of little value for a payment: L~ Dip, 2s. 6d. luck i ly adv. in a ~ manner; fortunately Luckily for me the train was late, so just caught it.

lu cra tive [ˈluːkrətiv] adj. profitable bringing in money.

lu cre [ˈluːkə*] n. [U] (in a bad sense profit or money-making (as a motiv for action): a man who would do any thing for ~.

lu cu bra tion [ˌluːkju(ː)ˈbreiʃən] n. lon hard study or meditation, esp. at night (pl.) literary work of great learning.

lu di crous [ˈl(j)uːdikrəs] adj. ridiculous causing laughter. ~ly adv.

lu do [ˈluːdou] n. [U] simple game playe with dice and counters on a boar specially designed for it.

luff [lʌf] v.t. & i. get the head of a shi in a direction nearer to that of the wind turn (the helm) so that this happens.

¹lug [lʌg] v.t. (-gg-) (VP 1, 10, 18) pu or drag roughly and with much effort lugging two heavy suitcases up the stairs lug a handcart along. n. hard or r pull.

ug [lʌg] n. projecting part (of a metal casting) by which it is kept securely in place.

ug [lʌg] n. lugsail.

uge [luːʒ, lyʒ] n. (F.) short toboggan for one person, used in Switzerland.

ug gage [ˈlʌgidʒ] n. [U] bags, trunks, etc., and their contents taken on a journey: six pieces of ~; get one's ~ through the Customs. (Cf. U.S.A. baggage.) ˈ~-ˌcarrier n. metal frame (e.g. one fixed behind the saddle of a bicycle) for ~. ˈ~-rack n. rack (above the seats) in a railway carriage for ~. ˈ~-van n. van for ~ on a railway train.

A luggage-rack

ug ger [ˈlʌgə*] n. small ship with one or more four-cornered sails set fore and aft.

ug sail [ˈlʌgseil, ˈlʌgsl] n. four-cornered sail.

u gu bri ous [l(j)uˈgjuːbriəs] adj. dismal; mournful; gloomy. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

uke warm [ˈl(j)uːkwoːm] adj. 1. (of liquids, etc.) moderately warm; neither very warm nor cold. 2. (fig.) not deeply interested; not eager either in supporting or opposing: give only ~ support to a cause; ~ friendship. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

ull [lʌl] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 10, 21) make or become quiet or less active: ~ a baby to sleep (e.g. by rocking it and singing to it); ~ a person's fears (suspicions). The wind (sea) was ~ed. The wind ~ed. n. [C] interval of quiet; period of lessened activity, etc.: a ~ in the storm (in the conversation).

ull a by [ˈlʌləbai] n. song for lulling a baby to sleep; gentle, soft sound (e.g. made by wind in trees or by the running water of a brook).

um ba go [lʌmˈbeigou] n. [U] muscular pain in the part of the back just above the buttocks.

um bar [ˈlʌmbə*] adj. of the loins: the ~ regions, the lower part of the back.

um ber [ˈlʌmbə*] v.i. (VP 23) move in a heavy, clumsy, noisy way: The heavy army tanks ~ed along (by, past). What a big ~ing cart!

um ber [ˈlʌmbə*] n. [U] 1. roughly prepared wood; wood that has been sawn into planks, boards, etc. ˈ~man, ˈ~jack nn. man who fells trees; man who saws or transports ~. ˈ~-mill n. saw-mill. ˈ~yard n. place where ~ is stored. 2. useless or unwanted articles stored away or taking up space (e.g. old furniture, pictures). ˈ~-room n. one in which ~ is stored. v.t. (VP 1, 10) fill with ~; fill space inconveniently: a room ~ed up with useless articles; (fig.) a mind that is ~ed (up) with useless bits of information.

lu mi na ry [ˈl(j)uːminəri] n. 1. star; the sun or moon; any light-giving body in the sky. 2. (fig.) person who, because of his learning, is like a shining light; great moral or intellectual leader.

lu mi nous [ˈl(j)uːminəs] adj. 1. giving out light; bright: ~ paint (as used on clocks and watches, visible in the dark). 2. (fig.) clear; easily understood: a ~ speaker (explanation). lu mi nos i ty [ˌl(j)uːmiˈnɔsiti] n. [U] quality of being ~.

^{1}lump [lʌmp] n. [C] 1. mass, usu. without a regular shape: a ~ of clay; break a piece of coal into small ~s; a ~ of sugar; ~ sugar, sold in ~s. a ~ sum, one payment for a number of separate sums that are owed. in the ~, added together; taken as a whole. 2. swelling or bump; bruise: He has a bad ~ on the forehead. have a ~ in the throat, a feeling of pressure (as caused by strong emotion). 3. (colloq.) heavy, dull person: Get out of my way, you big fat ~ of a man! v.t. 1. (VP 1, 10) put together in one ~; include (a number of things) under one heading: The boys agreed to ~ the expenses of their camping holiday. Can we ~ all these items together under the heading 'incidental expenses'? 2. (VP 21) form into ~s: This oatmeal ~s if you don't stir it well. ~ish adj. (of a person) thick-set; clumsy; stupid. ~y adj. (-ier, -iest) full of, covered with ~s: a ~y sauce; (of the surface of water) cut up by wind into small waves.

^{2}lump [lʌmp] v.t. (only in) If you don't like it you may ~ it, endure it because it cannot or will not be changed, whether you like it or not.

lu na cy [ˈl(j)uːnəsi] n. 1. [U] madness; state of being a lunatic; mad or foolish behaviour: It's sheer ~. 2. (pl.) mad or very foolish acts.

lu nar [ˈl(j)uːnə*] adj. of the moon: a ~ month, 28 days; a ~ rainbow.

lu na tic [ˈluːnətik] n. 1. madman. ~ asylum, hospital for the care and treatment of ~s. (Mental home and mental institution are the names in present-day use.) 2. (attrib.) mad; extremely foolish: a ~ proposal.

lunch [lʌntʃ] n. meal taken in the middle of the day: They were at ~ when I called. v.i. & t. eat ~; provide ~ for: He ~ed me well at the Savoy. ~eon [ˈlʌntʃən] n. (formal word for) ~.

lu nette [luːˈnet] n. (pl.) goggles for the eyes, worn while swimming under water.

lung [lʌŋ] n. 1. either of the two breathing organs in the chest of man and other animals: That opera singer has good ~s, produces a great volume of sound. ˈ*~-power n. power of voice. 2. (fig.) open space in or close to a large city where people may enjoy fresh air: the ~s of London (e.g. the big parks).

The lungs

lunge [lʌndʒ] n. sudden forward movement (e.g. with a sword) or forward movement of the body (e.g. when aiming a blow). v.i. (VP 21, 23) make a ~: He ~d at his opponent (~d out suddenly).

lu pin(e) [ˈl(j)u:pin] n. garden plant with tall spikes of flowers.

¹lurch [lə:tʃ] n. (only in) leave sb. in the ~, leave him when he is in difficulties and needing help.

²lurch [lə:tʃ] n. sudden change of weight to one side; sudden roll: The ship gave a ~ to starboard. v.i. (VP 21, 23) move along with a ~ or ~es: The drunken man ~ed across the street.

lurch er [ˈlə:tʃə*] n. dog, a cross between a sheepdog and a greyhound, used for retrieving game (esp. by poachers).

lure [ljuə*] n. [C] bunch of brightly coloured feathers used to attract and call back a trained hawk that has been allowed to fly freely; bait or decoy to attract wild animals; (fig.) sth. that attracts or invites; the attraction or interest that sth. has: the ~ of the sea for English boys; the ~s used by a pretty woman to attract men. v.t. (VP 1, 10, 18) attract, tempt: ~ sb. away from his duty; be ~d on to destruction.

lu rid [ˈljuərid] adj. 1. highly coloured, esp. suggesting flame and smoke: a ~ sky (sunset); ~ thunder-clouds. 2. (fig.) sensational; violent and shocking: ~ details of a railway accident; a ~ tale; the ~ career of a criminal. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

lurk [lə:k] v.i. (VP 23) be, keep, out of view, lying in wait or ready to attack: a suspicious-looking man ~ing in the shadows. Some suspicion still ~ed in his mind. ˈ*~ing-place n. hiding-place.

lus cious [ˈlʌʃəs] adj. 1. rich and sweet in taste and smell: ~ peaches (lips). 2. (of art, music, writing) very rich in ornament; suggesting sensual delights. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

lush [lʌʃ] adj. (esp. of grass and vegetation) growing luxuriantly: ~ meadows; a ~ growth of vegetation after the rains.

lust [lʌst] n. [U] violent desire to possess sth., esp. impure desire: filled with ~; [C] instance of such desire: a ~ for power (gold); the ~s of the flesh. v.i. (VP 24) have ~ for: ~ for (after) gold; (bibl.) ~ after a woman, have strong sexual desire. ~ful adj. full of ~. ~ful ly adv.

lus tre [ˈlʌstə*] n. (U.S.A. also luster) [U] 1. quality of being bright, esp. of a smooth or polished surface: the ~ of pearls. 2. (fig.) glory; distinction: add ~ to one's name; deeds that shed ~ on an honoured family, make its reputation more distinguished. lus trous [ˈlʌ trəs] adj. having ~: ~ pearls; her eyes.

lust y [ˈlʌsti] adj. healthy and stron vigorous: a ~ maidservant from Austri ~ cheers. ~i ly adv. work (fight, sho ~ily.

lute [l(j)u:t] n. stringed musical instr ment (14th to 17th cc.) associated with poets and poetry. lu ta nist [ˈl(j)u:tənist] n. player of the ~.

A lute

Lu ther an [ˈlu:θərən] adj. & n. (followe of Martin Luther; (member) of the Pr testant Church of Germany named aft Luther.

luxe, see de luxe.*

lux u ri ant [lʌgˈzjuəriənt, lʌkˈs-] adj. strong in growth; abundant: the vegetation of the tropics; (fig.) a ~ imag nation. 2. (of literary and artistic styl richly ornamented; very elaborate. ~ adv. lux u ri ance n. [U] ~ growth.

lux u ri ate [lʌgˈzjuərieit, lʌkˈs-] v.i. (V 24) take great delight (in): ~ in th warm spring sunshine.

lux u ri ous [lʌgˈzjuəriəs, lʌkˈs-] adj. supplied with luxuries; very comfor able: live in ~ surroundings; a ~ hote 2. choice and costly: ~ food. 3. fond luxuries; self-indulgent: ~ habits. ~ adv.

lux u ry [ˈlʌkʃəri] n. 1. [U] state of li in which one has and uses things tha please the senses (good food and drin clothes, comfort, beautiful surroun ings): live in ~; a life of ~. 2. (attri use) enabling people to live this kin of life: a ~ hotel (ocean liner) (perha suggesting ostentation rather than re comfort, etc. Cf. luxurious). 3. [C] st not essential but which gives enjoy ment and pleasure, esp. sth. expensiv out of season, etc.: His salary is lo and he gets few luxuries.

ly ce um [laiˈsiəm] n. literary institu tion; (building of an) association fo instruction (through lectures, debate etc.).

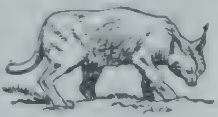
lych gate [ˈlitʃgeit] n. roofed gateway a churchyard, where, at a funeral, th coffin used to await the arrival of th clergyman.

lye [lai] n. alkali obtained by passin water through wood ashes, used washing; any alkaline solution detergent.

ly ing [ˈlaiiŋ] pres. p. of ¹*lie*, ²*lie*.

lymph [limf] n. [U] colourless liquid animal matter, like blood but withou colouring matter. lym phat ic [lim ˈfætik] adj. 1. of or carrying ~: th ~atic vessels, carrying ~ from the tissue with any waste matter. 2. (of person sluggish; slow in thought and action.

ynch [linʃ] v.t. (VP 1) put to death without a lawful trial (sb. believed to be guilty of crime). n. ~ law, procedure of persons who execute a (supposed) criminal in this way.



A lynx

ynx [liŋks] n. short-tailed wild animal of the cat family, noted for its keen sight. (Hence) ˈ~-*eyed adj. keen-sighted.

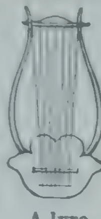
yre [ˈlaiə*] n. kind of harp with strings fixed in a U-shaped frame, used by the ancient Greeks. ˈ~-*bird n. Australian bird with a long tail, shaped like a ~ when spread out.



A lyre

lyr ic [ˈlirik] adj. of, composed for, singing. n. [C] ~ poem; (pl.) ~ verses.

lyr i cal [ˈlirikəl] adj. 1. =lyric. 2. full of emotion: enthusiastic: She became quite ~ over the new dresses she had brought back from Paris. ~ly *adv.

ly sol [ˈlaisɔl] n. [U] dark oily, liquid used as an antiseptic and disinfectant.

M

M, m [em] (pl. M's, m's [emz]) the 13th letter of the alphabet; the Roman numeral 1,000: CM (= 900); MCMXXX (= 1930).

ma [mɑː] n. short for mamma.

ma'am [mæm, məm] n. (colloq.) madam (e.g. as used in addressing the Queen and other royal ladies), and pronounced [mæm], and by a servant when addressing her mistress, and pronounced (in Gt. Brit.) [məm]: 'Yes, ma'am.'

ma ca bre [məˈkɑːbr] adj. gruesome; suggesting death: (Fr.) danse [dɑːns] ~, dance of death.

ma cad am [məˈkædəm] n. [U] ~ road, road made of several layers of crushed rock or stone, each rolled hard before the next is put down. ~ize *v.t. make or cover with such layers: ~ized roads.

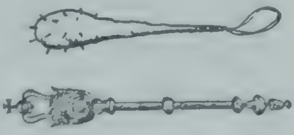
mac a ro ni [ˌmækəˈrouni] n. [U] flour paste made in the form of long tubes, cooked as food.

mac a roon [ˌmækəˈruːn] n. [C] small, flat, sweet cake or biscuit made of sugar, white of egg, and crushed almonds.

ma caw [məˈkɔː] n. large, long-tailed parrot of tropical America.

mace [meis] n. 1. large, heavy club, usu. with a metal head covered with spikes, used as a weapon in the Middle Ages. 2. rod or staff (often very much ornamented) carried or placed before an official (e.g. a Mayor) as a sign of office or symbol of power. ˈ~-ˌ*bearer n. person who carries an official ~ in processions.



Maces

mace [meis] n. [U] dried outer covering of nutmegs, used as spice.

mac er ate [ˈmæsəreit] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) make or become soft by soaking in water or caustic potash. mac er a tion [ˌmæsəˈreiʃən] n.

Mach [mɑːk] n. ~ number, ratio of the air speed of an aircraft to the speed of sound: ~ two, twice the speed of sound.

ma che te [məˈtʃeiti] n. (= matchet) broad, heavy knife used in Latin America as a tool and weapon.

mach i a vel li an [ˌmækiəˈveljən] adj. showing or having no scruples in gaining what is wanted; of or like the ideas set out by Machiavelli (Florentine statesman, 1469–1527), who advocated unscrupulous statecraft.

mach i na tion [ˌmækiˈneiʃən] n. [C & U] evil plot(ting) or scheme (scheming).

ma chine [məˈʃiːn] n. [C] 1. appliance or mechanical device with parts working together to apply power, often steam or electric power (a printing-~), but also human power (a sewing-~). We live in the ~ age, the age in which ~s more and more replace hand labour. ~-*gun n. gun that fires continuously while the trigger is pressed. ~-ˈ*made adj. made by ~ (contrasted with hand-made). 2. persons organized to control a political group: (U.S.A.) the Democratic ~. v.t. (VP 1) operate on, make (sth.) with, a ~ (esp. of sewing and printing).

ma chin er y [məˈʃiːnəri] n. [U] 1. moving parts of a machine; machines collectively: How much new ~ has been installed? (Cf. How many new machines have . . . ?) 2. methods, organization (e.g. of government).

ma chin ist [məˈʃiːnist] n. one who makes or controls machinery; one who works a ~, esp. a sewing-~.

mac, mack [mæk] n. (colloq. abbr.) mackintosh.

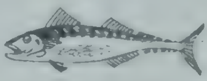
mack er el [ˈmækrəl] n. (pl. unchanged) small striped sea-fish used as food.



A mackerel

mack in tosh ['mækintɔʃ] n. rainproof coat made of cloth treated with rubber.

mac ro cosm ['mækrəkɔzəm] n. the great world or universe; any great whole.

mad [mæd] adj. (-dd-) 1. having, resulting from, a diseased mind: drive (send) sb. mad, cause him to be mad. as mad as a March hare (as a hatter), (prov.) very mad. '*madhouse n. (colloq.) lunatic asylum. 'madman, '*madwoman nn. person who is mad. 2. (colloq.) much excited; filled with unreasonable enthusiasm; (esp. U.S.A.) angry: mad with pain. They were mad about (at) missing the train. The dog was mad for water, behaving wildly because it needed water. Ma was mad with me for spilling the ink. What a mad (= foolish) thing to do! like mad, wildly or furiously: He ran off like mad. '*madcap n. person acting recklessly or on impulse. mad ly adv. in a mad manner; (colloq.) extremely: madly excited. mad ness n. [U] the state of being mad; mad behaviour: It would be madness to try to climb the mountain in such a snowstorm. mad den v.t. (VP 1) make mad; irritate; annoy: maddening attacks of ear-ache.

mad am ['mædəm] n. 1. respectful form of address to a woman; (used in letters, as Sir is used to a man): Dear M~. 2. (colloq.) woman or girl who likes to order people about: She's a bit of a ~. Isn't she a little ~!

Ma dame [mæ'dɑːm, 'mædəm] n. (used before names of married women who are not British or American) Mrs: M~ Chang Kai Shek.

mad der ['mædə*] n. [U] (dye obtained from) herbaceous climbing plant with yellowish flowers.

made [meid] p.t. & p.p. of make.

Ma dei ra [mə'diərə] n. (island in the Atlantic Ocean) wine from ~. ~ cake n. kind of sponge-cake.

ma dem oi selle [ˌmædəm'zel, -mə'zel; (Fr.) madmwazɛl] n. French title used before the name of an unmarried woman.

Ma don na [mə'dɔnə] n. (picture or statue of) Mary, Mother of Jesus Christ. ~ lily, kind of pure white lily (as often shown in pictures of the ~).

mad ri gal ['mædrigəl] n. 1. short love poem. 2. part-song for several voices without instrumental accompaniment.

Mae ce nas [mi(ː)'siːnæs] n. generous patron of literature or art.

mael strom ['meilstroum] n. great whirlpool: (fig.) violent or destructive force; whirl of events: the ~ of war.

mae nad ['miːnæd] n. priestess of Bacchus, the Greek god of wine.

ma es tro [ˌmɑː'estrou, 'maistrou] n. (It.) eminent musical composer, teacher, or conductor.

maf fick ['mæfik] v.i. go in for wild public merry-making and rejoicing (e.g. in war, when there is news of a victory).

mag a zine [ˌmægə'ziːn] n. 1. store for arms, ammunition, explosives, etc. 2. chamber for holding cartridges to be fed into the breech of a rifle or gun; place for film in a camera. 3. paper-covered (usu. weekly or monthly) periodical, with stories, articles, etc., by various writers.

ma gen ta [mə'dʒentə] adj. & n. bright crimson (substance used as a dye).

mag got ['mægət] n. larva, esp. of a kind of fly (bluebottle) that lays its eggs in meat, and of the cheese-fly. have a ~ in one's head, have strange whims or fancies. ~y adj. having ~s: ~y cheese.

A maggot

Ma gi ['meidʒai] n. the ~, the three wise men from the East who brought offerings to the infant Jesus.

mag ic ['mædʒik] n. [U] 1. art of controlling events by the pretended use of supernatural forces; witchcraft; primitive superstitious practices based on a belief in supernatural agencies: as if by ~, like ~, in a mysterious manner; black (white) ~, done with (without) the help of devils. 2. art of obtaining mysterious results by tricks: The conjurer used ~ to produce a rabbit from his hat. 3. the identification of a symbol with the thing it stands for (as when the wearing of a lion's skin is thought to give the wearer a lion's courage). 4. (fig.) mysterious charm; quality produced as if by ~: the ~ of Shakespeare's poetry (of the woods in autumn). adj. (also magical) done by, or as if by, ~; possessing ~; used in ~: ~ arts (words); a ~ touch. The result was ~al. ~ lantern, apparatus for throwing a magnified image of a picture, etc., from a glass slide on to a white screen. (Projector is the name of the modern apparatus.) mag i cal ly adv. ma gi cian [mə'dʒiʃən] n. person skilled in ~ (def.2); wizard.

mag is te ri al [ˌmædʒis'tiəriəl] adj. of, conducted by, a magistrate; having or showing authority: ~ rank; a ~ manner (opinion). ~ly adv.

mag is trate ['mædʒistrit, -streit] n. civil officer acting as a judge in the lowest courts (Police Courts); Justice of the Peace. mag is tra cy ['mædʒistrəsi] n. position of a ~; (with def. art.) ~s collectively.

mag nan i mous [mæg'næniməs] adj. having, showing, generosity. ~ly adv. mag na nim i ty [ˌmægnə'nimiti] n. [U] being ~; [C] ~ act, etc.

mag nate ['mægneit] n. wealthy leading man of business or industry; person who has power through wealth or position: territorial ~s, influential landowners.

nag ne sia [mæg'niːʃə] n. [U] white, tasteless powder (carbonate of magnesium) used medicinally.

nag ne si um [mæg'niːzjəm] n. [U] silver-white metal (the element with the symbol Mg) used in the manufacture of aluminium and other alloys: ~ light, bright light obtained by burning ~ wire.

nag net ['mægnit] n. [C] 1. piece of iron, often horseshoe shape, able to attract iron, either natural (as in lodestone) or by means of an electric current. 2. (fig.) person or thing that attracts. ~ic [mæg'netik] adj. 1. having the properties of a ~; able to attract, etc.: a ~ needle, one that points north and south; the ~ north, the point indicated by such a needle; a ~ smile (personality), attracting the attention of people; a ~ mine, submarine mine that is detonated when a large mass of iron (e.g. a ship) approaches it. ~ tape, kind of tape used for recording sound (e.g. music, speech). 2. of magnetism. ~i cal ly *adv.

A magnet

nag net ism ['mægnitizəm] n. [U] (the science of) magnetic phenomena and properties; (fig.) personal charm and attraction.

nag net ize ['mægnitaiz] v.t. (VP 1) give magnetic properties to; (fig.) attract as a magnet does (e.g. by personal charm, moral or intellectual power).

nag ne to [mæg'niːtou] n. (pl. ~s) lectric apparatus for producing sparks in a petrol engine.

ag nif i cat [mæg'nifikæt] n. hymn of he Virgin Mary in Luke i. 46–55, one of the hymns (canticles) in the Book f Common Prayer of the Church of England.

nag nif i cent [mæg'nifisnt] adj. splendid; remarkable; important-looking: a ~ house; his ~ generosity. ~ly *adv. mag nif i cence *n. [U].

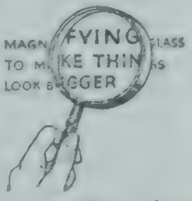
nag ni fy ['mægnifai] v.t. (VP 1) 1. make (sth.) appear larger (as with a lens or microscope): a ~ing glass, lens for this purpose. 2. exaggerate: ~ dangers. 3. extol; give praise to (God): ~ the Lord. mag ni fi er *n. instrument, etc., that magnifies. mag ni fi ca tion [,mægnifi'keiʃən] n. (esp.) power of ~ing (e.g. of a lens, a pair of binoculars).



A magnifying glass

nag nil o quent [mæg'niləkwənt] adj. (of words, speech) pompous; (of a person) using pompous or high-sounding words. ~ly *adv. mag nil o quence *n.

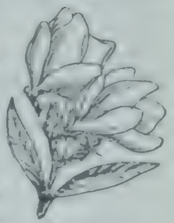
nag ni tude ['mægnitjuːd] n. size; (degree of) importance; comparative brightness of stars.

mag no lia [mæg'nouljə] n. tree with large, sweet-smelling waxlike flowers.



Magnolia

mag num ['mægnəm] n. (bottle containing) two quarts (of wine or spirit).

mag num op us n. see opus.

mag pie ['mægpai] n. noisy black-and-white bird which is attracted by, and often takes away, small, bright objects; (fig.) person who chatters very much.

Mag yar ['mægjɑː*] n. (member, language) of the chief race of people in Hungary.

Ma ha ra ja(h) [,mɑːhə'rɑːdʒə] n. title of some Indian princes. Ma ha ra nee [,mɑːhəː'rɑːniː] n. ~'s wife.

Ma hat ma [mə'hɑːtmə] n. (in India, etc.) (title given to) one of a class of persons revered as having great wisdom and more than natural powers.

mah-jong(g) ['mɑː'dʒɔŋ] n. Chinese game for four persons played with 144 pieces (of wood, bone, or ivory).

ma hog a ny [mə'hɔgəni] n. (tropical tree with) dark-brown wood much used for furniture.

Ma hom et an [mə'hɔmitən] see Mohammedan.

ma hout [mə'haut] n. elephant-driver.

maid [meid] n. 1. (liter.) girl. 2. (old use) young, unmarried woman, old ~, elderly unmarried woman who is considered unlikely to marry. ~ of honour, unmarried woman attending a queen or princess. 3. (usu. modern sense) woman servant: ~-servant; 'house-~; 'nurse-~.

maid en ['meidn] n. (liter.) girl; young unmarried woman. adj. (attrib. only) 1. of a girl or unmarried woman: my ~ aunt, unmarried; ~ modesty, of a young girl; her ~ name, her family name before marriage. 2. first: the ship's ~ voyage; his ~ speech in the House of Commons. 3. (cricket) a ~ over, one in which no runs are scored. 4. (compounds) '~*hair n. (kinds of) fern with fine stalks and delicate fronds. '~*head n. [U] virginity. ~hood *n. state of being a ~; period when one is a ~. ~like, ~ly *adjj. gentle; modest; of or like a ~. adv. with modesty: She turned her eyes ~ly away from the scene.

¹mail [meil] n. [U] body armour of metal rings or plates: a coat of ~; 'chain-~. mailed [meild] adj. only in: the ~ed fist, (threat of) armed force.

A coat of mail

²mail [meil] n. 1. [U] government system of collecting, carrying, and delivering letters and parcels: send a letter by air-~; the ˈ*~-coach,* (formerly) horse-drawn stage-coach for carrying ~; a ˈ*~-train,* train that carries ~; ~ orders, orders for goods to be delivered by post; a ~-order business, one in which the buying and selling of goods is conducted by correspondence; a ~-order catalogue, one with a price-list of goods. ˈ~bag n. stout bag in which ~ is carried. ˈ~box n. (U.S.A.) letter-box. ˈ~man, (U.S.A.) postman. 2. [U & C] letters, parcels, etc., sent or delivered by post; the letters, etc., sent, collected, or delivered at one time: Is there much ~ this morning? I had a lot of ~ last week. My secretary usually opens the ~. The ship sank and the ~s were lost. v.t. (VP 1) (chiefly U.S.A.; in Gt. Brit. post is more usual) send by ~. ˈ~ing-list n. list of names of persons to whom sth. (e.g. announcements of new books from a publisher) is regularly sent: Please add my name to your ~ing-list.

maim [meim] v.t. wound or injure so that some part of the body is useless: He was seriously ~ed in the war.

¹main [mein] n. 1. [U] physical force; strength: (only in) with might and ~. 2. in the ~, for the most part; on the whole. 3. [C] principal pipe bringing water or gas, principal wire transmitting electric current, from the source of supply into a building (contrasted with pipes from a cistern inside the building, etc.); principal sewer to which pipes from a building are connected: My new house is not yet connected to the ~s. We take our electric current from the ~s. a ~s set, radio set to be connected to the ~s for current, not a battery set. 4. (poet.) sea, esp. a wide expanse of sea. 5. the Spanish M~, that part of the NE. coast of S. America visited by the early Spanish navigators and the adjoining part of the Caribbean Sea.

²main [mein] adj. 1. chief; most important: the ~ thing to remember; the ~ street of a town; the ~ line of a railway; the ~ point of my argument; the ~ current (stream) of traffic (19th-century thought); the ~ course of a meal. have an eye to the ~ chance, look after one's own interests. 2. exerted to the full: do sth. by ~ force, using one's strength to the utmost. 3. (compounds) ~ deck n. upper deck. ~land [ˈmeinlənd] n. country, continent, or land mass, without its islands. ~mast [ˈmeinmɑːst, -məst] n. principal mast of a sailing-ship. (See Appendix 3.) ˈ~spring n. (a) principal spring of a clock or watch. (b) (fig.) driving force or motive. ˈ~stay n. rope from the top of the ~mast to the bottom of the foremast; (fig.) chief support. ~ly adv. chiefly; for the most part: The people who came were ~ly country visitors. Y are ~ly to blame.

main tain [menˈtein, mein-, mən-] v.t. (VP 1) keep up; continue: ~ frienc relations (with . . .); ~ a speed of 50 mi an hour. The improvement in his hea is being ~ed. 2. (VP 1) support: ~ a s at the university; neglect to ~ on family. Can you ~ my daughter (i.e. you marry her) in the style she has be accustomed to? 3. (VP 1, 10) keep in certain condition: ~ an open mind a question, not form final views, willing to listen to the views of other 4. (VP 1, 4, 11) assert as true: ~ one innocence; ~ that one is innocent of charge. 5. (VP 1) keep in good repai ~ the roads. 6. (VP 1) defend: ~ one rights. ~a ble adj. that can be ~ed.

main te nance [ˈmeintinəns] n. [maintaining or being maintained; (esp what is needed to support life: a order, (legal) order made by a court law obliging sb. to support sb. (e.g. husband to support his wife from who he is separated).

mai son (n)ette [ˌmeizəˈnet] n. sma house; part of a house let separately.

maize [meiz] n. [U] (also called Indian corn) sort of grain plant (as shown here).

Maize

ma jes tic [məˈdʒestik] adj. having, showing, majesty. ma jes ti cal ly adv.

maj es ty [ˈmædʒisti] n. [U] kingly or queenly appearance, conduct, speech, causing respect; stateliness; royal power. Her (His, Your) M~, form used when speaking of (to) a sovereign ruler.

ma jol i ca [məˈdʒɔlikə] n. [U] (kinds o Italian ornamented pottery; moder imitations of these, with white c coloured glazes.

¹ma jor [ˈmeidʒə*] n. army officer be tween a captain and a colonel. ˈ~ ˈgeneral n. army officer next abov a brigadier and under a lieutenant general. (See Appendix 2.)

²ma jor [ˈmeidʒə*] adj. 1. greater o more important of two (parts, etc.) older of two brothers: the ~ porti Smith ~. 2. ~ scale, (music) th having two full tones between the ke note and the third note. ˈ~-ˈdomo (pl. ~s) chief steward in an Italian Spanish princely household. v.i. (U. (VP 24) specialize (in a certain sub e.g. at college): ~ in economics.

ma jor i ty [məˈdʒɔriti] n. 1. (sing. pl. v.) greater number or part (of): ~ of people seem to prefer watching to playing games. The ~ were (was) favour of the proposal. 2. [C] number which votes for one side exceed for the other side: He was elected

~ (by a ~ of 3,749). The Govern-'s ~ was a small one. be in (the) ~, the ~. a ~ verdict, verdict of the a jury, etc.). 3. legal age of reach-nanhood or womanhood: He will his ~ next month. 4. army rank ajor: obtain one's ~.

[meik] v.t. & i. (p.t. & p.p. made i]) (For combinations with preps. advv. with special meanings, see 19.) 1. (VP 1, 18, 19B) construct or uce by combining parts or putting rials together; bring into existence by effort): ~ bricks; ~ bread; ~ a ~ (= manufacture) paper. She coffee for all of us. I made myself of tea. God made man. M~ a hole e ground. Cloth is made of cotton, silk, and other materials. Wine is from grapes. We ~ bottles (out) of Glass is made into bottles. Let see what you are made of, let them our qualities, powers, abilities, etc. as clever as they ~ 'em, is very ing, shrewd, sly. He made me a bet . . Have they made you an offer? P 1) ~ is used with a large number uns in various special senses. (Cf. II, def. 2, for nouns used with do.) ouns used with make see the entries he asterisked words in: *~ a lot of; ~ amends (for . . .); ~ an ointment (with sb. for sth., to do sth.); rrangements (with sb. for sth., *to do; ~ a *bed; ~ no *bones about; ~ a ge; ~ a *copy; ~ a *decision; ~ a and; ~ a *difference (some, no, not, difference); ~ a *discovery; ~ an t; ~ an *excuse; ~ *eyes at; ~ a *face ces) at sb.; ~ a *fire; ~ a *fool of sb.; *fortune; ~ *friends (with); ~ *fun a *fuss (of); ~ game of (see ¹*game,* 5); *~ a *gesture; ~ a *guess (at); ay of; ~ *haste; ~ a *journey; *living; ~ *love (to); ~ a *man of; ischief; ~ a *mistake; ~ a *move; movement; ~ a *name for oneself; ~ e (for); ~ sb. a *present; ~ a it; ~ *progress; ~ a *report (on); request (to sb. for sth.); *~ a *sacri-~ a *search (for); ~ *shift with; (noth-o ~ a *song about; ~ a *speech; ~ a ess of; ~ *war (on); ~ *water; ~ way (see way, def. 1). 3. (VP 1) ~ is with many other nn. so that the v. . together are equal to either the v. rresponds to the n. (often identical it), or a v. implied by the n. Ex-: to ~ a pause (= to pause); to start (= to start); to ~ a good r (= to dine well); to ~ a good = to eat well); to ~ a curtsey (= to y); to ~ haste (= to hasten); to ~ nse (= to respond); to ~ a bow bow) (= to bow). 4. (VP 22) cause or become. See the entries for terisked words in: *~ *certain (of, that); ~ so *bold as to; ~ free with (see ¹*free,* def. 7); *~ light of (see ⁴*light,* def. 5); *~ *merry; ~ sure. 5. (VP 7, 8, 9) cause to be or become: The news made her happy. He made his meaning clear (made it clear that . . .). Why don't you ~ yourself useful, do sth. to help? I will ~ it worth your while, will pay or reward you. He made her his wife, married her. His actions made him universally respected. He soon made himself understood. The full story was never made public. He couldn't ~ himself (his voice) heard above the noise of the traffic. Your visit has made my day, (colloq.) has made today enjoyable for me. (See also ¹*good,* def. 20, for ~ sth. good.) 6. (VP 1) earn; win; gain; acquire: ~ £600 a year; ~ a profit of £100; ~ a living (one's living) (by giving piano lessons, from one's writing, etc.); ~ a fortune; ~ (= get) good marks at school; ~ one's way in the world, win success. 7. (VP 5) compel; force; persuade; cause (sb.) to do sth.; cause (sth.) to happen: They made me repeat the story. I was made to repeat the story. Can you ~ this old engine start? The children never behave well and no one ever tries to ~ them (= ~ them behave well). What ~s the grass grow? I can't ~ anyone hear (e.g. by ringing the doorbell, knocking, calling). His jokes made us all laugh. ~ sth. do, ~ do with sth., manage with it although it may not be really adequate or satisfactory: You'll have to ~ do with cold meat for dinner. I'll try to ~ it do. ~ do and mend, manage without buying new articles (e.g. clothing, household articles), esp. by repairing and remaking old ones. ~ believe, cause people to believe, pretend to oneself (that, to be, etc.): Let's ~ believe that we're Red Indians. The children made believe that they were (made believe to be) shipwrecked on a desert island. ¹~-be,lieve n. [U] pretending; [C] pretence. 8. (VP 5) represent as; cause to appear as; allege (to be, to do): Olivier, in the film, ~s Hamlet a figure of tragic indecision. Most of the old Chronicles ~ the King die in 1026. In this play the author ~s the villain commit suicide, describes him as doing this. 9. (VP 4) arrive at an opinion concerning sth. by calculation, inspection, etc.; reckon or consider: What time do you ~ it? What do you ~ the time? How large do you ~ the audience? I ~ the total £7 15s. 7d. I ~ the distance about 70 miles. ~ of, understand, conclude, to be the meaning or character of: What are we to ~ of his behaviour? What do you ~ of it all? I can ~ nothing of all this scribble. 10. (VP 1) come to; amount to; equal: Twenty shillings ~ one pound. Twelve inches ~ one foot. 5 and 7 is 12 and 3 is 15, and 4 ~s 19.

How many members ~ (= constitute) a quorum? 11. (VP 1) be counted as: be a member of, an element in: This ~s the fifth time you have failed this examination. Will you ~ one of us (~ one of the party), join us? Will you ~ a fourth at bridge, be the fourth player? 12. (VP 1, 18, 19B) turn out to be; develop into; be enough for; result in being: If you work hard you will ~ a good waiter. He will ~ an excellent husband. She will ~ him a good wife, will prove to be a good wife for him. Jack and Mary ~ a handsome couple. One swallow does not ~ a summer, the arrival of the first swallow does not mean that summer has come. This length of cloth will ~ me a suit. The story of his adventures ~s (= is) excellent reading. 13. (VP 1) (colloq. uses) travel (a certain distance); reach or maintain (a certain speed); be in time for, not fail to catch (a train, etc.); succeed in reaching (a place): We've made 80 miles since noon. We've made good time, travelled the distance in good time, i.e. fast. The ship was making only nine knots. The disabled cruiser was only just able to ~ (= reach) port. The train leaves at 7.13; can we ~ it, get to the station in time? She's tired out already; she'll never ~ the summit, reach the top of the mountain. His new novel has made the Best Seller list, has sold in such large numbers that it is included in this list. 14. (VP 23, 24) (of arguments, evidence, influence, etc.) point; tend: All the evidence ~s in your favour. The precedents certainly ~ in the same direction. ~ against, be contrary, unfavourable, prejudicial, harmful, to. ~ for, contribute to; tend towards; operate in favour of: These dissipations ~ against your chances of success. Does early rising ~ for good health? 15. in the phrases: ~ the best of sth., (a) use in the best way: You should ~ the best of this valuable opportunity. (b) adapt oneself to circumstances: The situation is difficult but we must ~ the best of it. ~ the best of a bad job (a bad bargain), accept failure or misfortune without complaint; withdraw with the least possible loss. ~ the best of one's way home, return without loss of time so far as circumstances allow. ~ the most of sth., use to the greatest advantage: Her hair is attractive, and she ~s the most of it, sees that it is attractively arranged, etc. She's the sort of woman who ~s the most of her misfortunes (e.g. by recounting them to win sympathy). ~ much (little) of, (a) treat as of great (little) importance. (b) obtain much (little) advantage or profit from. (c) see def. 9, ~ of. 16. (VP 8) raise to the dignity of; put into a specified rank, etc.; cause to be: ~ sb. king (an earl, a peer, a knight, a general). Newton w made President of the Royal Society. made her his wife, married her. 17.

the pattern: ~ × noun × of (sth.
sb.), cause (sth. or sb.) to become wh is denoted by the object of the verb His parents want to ~ a doctor of hi educate him for the medical professio
We must ~ an example of him, caus him to be an example (e.g. punish hi as a warning to others). Why don't yo ~ an honest woman of Jane, i.e. marr her (after seducing her)? Don't ~ a ass (a beast, etc.) of yourself, behave lik an ass, etc. Don't ~ a habit of it, don' let it become a habit. He has made business of politics, has made politics hi profession. You've made a hash (mess muddle) of it, made the job into a mess etc., i.e. done it badly. 18. (VP 23, 2 behave (as if about to do sth.): He mad as if to strike me. He made to repl (seemed as if he would do this) and the stopped. The thief made towards the ope window. 19. (with advv. and preps.
~ after, (VP 24) (arch.) pursue; chase
She made after him like a mad-woman ~ against, see def. 14 above. ~ a (VP 24) ~ a hostile movement towards The angry woman made at me with he umbrella. ~ away with, (VP 2 destroy; get rid of; kill: He made awa with himself, committed suicide. ~ for,
(a) go towards, in the direction of: It'
late; we'd better turn and ~ for home.
The frigate made for the open sea. (b attack; go for; rush violently at: Whe
I was halfway across the field the bu made for me and I had to run. (c) se def. 14 above. ~ off, (VP 23) go run away; depart suddenly (esp. afte wrongdoing): The cashier made off wi all the money in the safe. Someone ha made off with my umbrella. ~ out, ( (VP 10) write out; complete or fill in ~ out a cheque for £15; ~ out a documen in duplicate; ~ out a list of books. ( (VP 10) succeed in seeing, reading identifying (usu. implying difficulty)
We made out a figure in the darkne
We couldn't ~ out the inscription on th gravestone. (c) (VP 10, with a that-claus or object and infinitive) suggest; conve the idea; try to prove: He made out tha
he had been badly treated. He ~s himse out to be cleverer than he really is. He' not such a good doctor as some people out (i.e. ~ him out to be). (d) (V 10) establish; demonstrate: How do yo ~ that out, reach that conclusion? ( (VP 10) understand: I can't ~ out wh he wants. What a queer fellow he I can't ~ him out at all. (f) get together complete (~ up is more usual): Sever rather poor articles have been includ to ~ out the volume, bring it up to th required size. (g) (VP 23) (U.S.A.

in) result (well or ill); get on (well ll): I hope your affairs are making well. How are things making out?
ver, (VP 10) (a) transfer the possesor ownership of (sth. to sb.): He le over the whole of the property to National Trust. (b) make anew; shion: Do you think you can ~ over old overcoat? ~ up, (a) supply (a cienc;) : make complete; make good oss): We still need £5 to ~ up the
we asked for. (b) invent; compose
. in order to deceive): The whole
y is made up. It's all a made-up
y. (c) arrange (type, illustrations,
) in columns or pages for printing:
p a page of type. (d) (of component ts) form (a sum, a total, a whole):
all animal bodies made up of cells?
umerate the qualities that ~ up Ham-character. (e) (pharmacy) prepare by ing: ~ up a prescription (a bottle of icine). (f) put together (in a parti-r way, etc.): ~ up a parcel of books;
p books into bundles. The grocer was cing up the butter into half-pound kages. (g) (VP 10) make (cloth) into rment; fit (pieces) together to make arment; make by sewing; sew toner; (VP 23) be capable of undergoing process: Customers' own materials le up. Can you ~ up this suit length me? This material is too narrow to ~ vell. (h) add fuel to (a fire) to keep it ning: Please ~ up the fire. (i) com-
; draw up: ~ up a new railway
le. (j) prepare (a bed) for a parti-r occasion (cf. *~ the beds): They made a bed on the floor for the unexpected
t. (k) ~ up one's mind, see ^{1}mind,
2. (l) (VP 10, 23) do or give sth.
as compensation (for); indemnify ); be a compensation or indemnifica(for): How can we ~ up to you for t you have suffered? They hurried on ~ up for lost time. Do you think her ity could ~ up for her stupidity? (m) le (a dispute): They quarrel every ning and ~ it up every evening. Why
't you ~ it up with her, end the quarrel nisunderstanding? (n) ~ up to sb., loq.) make oneself pleasant in order win favour or advantages: She's ays making up to influential people.
VP 10, 23) prepare (an actor) for the e by means of paint, powder, false , etc.; put cosmetics on (a person, ): The actor made (himself) up for part of Hamlet. Wipe your tears y and ~ up your pretty little face, ing. Isn't she badly made up! Ought to ~ up at the age of twelve? Hence up, n. (a) arrangement of type, rations, etc., on a printed page.
fig.) composition; nature: people of rtain ~-up. (c) [U & C] cosmetics, hair, etc., used by an actor; result of using these: What a clever ~-up! (d) [U] cosmetics used by women: use too much (the wrong kind of) ~-up. 20. (card games) (a) win (a trick); play (a card) to advantage: He made his Queen of Hearts. (b) (of a card) win a trick: Your Ace and King won't ~ until you've drawn their trumps. (c) win (what one sets out to win): Little slam bid and made. I've made my contract. (d) (v. and i.) shuffle (the cards): Will you ~ the pack? My turn to ~. 21. (in other games) secure (a certain score); score (a point, etc.): May made a century in both innings. The captain made six fours and twelve threes. 22. (of the tide) (VP 21) flow; rise; begin to flow or ebb: The tide is making fast. The ebb was now making, the ebb tide was flowing. 23. (VP 1, 21) secure the advancement of: If you can win the Minister's favour, you'll be a made man, your success in life will be assured. ~ or mar, secure the success or ruin of. 24. (VP 1) have (as a form) 'Find' ~s in the past tense 'found'. 'Mouse' ~s 'mice' in the plural. 25. (compounds) ˈ*~shift n. sth. used until sth. better can be obtained: They used an empty crate as a ~shift for a table (as a ~shift table). ˈ*~-up n. see def. 19, above. ˈ*~weight n. small quantity added to ~ the weight right; person or thing that supplies a deficiency.

^{2}make [ˈmeik] n. [C] 1. way a thing is made; method or style of manufacture: cars of British ~; an overcoat of first-class ~. Is this your own ~, made by you? on the ~, (sl.) concerned with making a profit, gaining sth. 2. (elec.) completion of an electric circuit.

mak er [ˈmeikə*] n. 1. the (our) M~, the Creator; God. 2. (esp. in compounds) person or thing that makes.

mak ing [ˈmeikiŋ] n. 1. be the ~ of, cause the well-being of; cause to develop well: The two years he served in the Army were the ~ of him, made him develop well (physically, etc., according to context). 2. have the ~s of, have the necessary qualities for becoming: He has in him the ~s of a great man.

mal- [mæl-] prefix 1. bad(ly): maltreat; malformation; maladjustment. 2. not: maladroit; malcontent.

ma lac ca (cane) [məˈlækə (ˈkein)] n. cane walking-stick from the stem of a palm (from the district of M~ in Malaya).

mal a chite [ˈmæləkait] n. [U] green mineral, a kind of stone used for ornaments, decoration, etc.

mal ad just ed [ˈmæləˈdʒʌstid] adj. badly adjusted; (esp. of a person) unable to adapt himself properly to his environment (e.g. social or occupational). mal ad just ment [ˈmæləˈdʒʌstmənt] n. condition of being ~.

mal a droit ['mælə'drɔit] adj. not adroit; clumsy. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

mal a dy ['mælədi] n. [C] disease; illness: a social ~; spiritual maladies.

mal aise [mæ'leiz] n. (sing. with indef. art.) feeling of bodily discomfort, but without clear signs of a particular illness mal a pert ['mæləpə:t] n. & adj. (arch.) (person who is) saucy, impudent.

mal a prop ism ['mæləprɔpizəm] n. [C] misuse of a word, esp. in mistake for one that resembles it, causing amusement.

mal a pro pos ['mæl'æprəpou] adv., adj. & n. (sth.) inopportunely (said, done, or happening).

ma lar i a [mə'lɛəriə] n. [U] kinds of fever conveyed by mosquitoes, which introduce the germs into the blood. ma lar i al adj. of ~; having ~: a ~l patient; a ~l district.

Ma lay [mə'lei] adj. & n. (language, member) of the race of people living in the ~ peninsula and near-by islands. ~an [mə'leiən] n. citizen of the independent country of Malaya (whether ~ or Chinese).

mal con tent ['mælkən,tent] adj. & n. [C] (person who is) discontented and inclined to rebel.

mal de mer ['mældə'mɛə*] n. (Fr.) seasickness.

male [meil] adj. of the sex that does not give birth to offspring; opp. of female: a ~ voice choir, of men and/or boys. n. ~ person, animal, etc.

mal e dic tion [,mæli'dikʃən] n. [C] curse; prayer to God that sb. or sth. may be destroyed, hurt, etc.

mal e fac tor ['mælifæktə*] n. wrongdoer; criminal.

ma lef i cent [mə'lefisnt] adj. hurtful (to).

ma lev o lent [mə'levələnt] adj. wishing to do evil or cause suffering to others; spiteful (to, towards). ~ly adv. ma lev o lence n. [U] ill will.

mal fea sance [mæl'fi:zəns] n. (legal) [U] wrongdoing; [C] illegal act, esp. an instance of official misconduct.

mal for ma tion ['mælfɔ'meiʃən] n. [U] state of being badly formed or shaped; [C] badly formed part. mal formed [mæl'fɔ:md] adj. badly formed or shaped.

mal ice ['mælis] n. [U] active ill will; desire to harm others: bear sb. no ~; with ~ towards none.

ma li cious [mə'liʃəs] adj. feeling, showing, caused by, malice: ~ remarks. ~ly adv.

^{1}ma lign [mə'lain] adj. (of things) injurious: exercise a ~ influence.

^{2}ma lign [mə'lain] v.t. (VP 1) speak ill of (sb.); tell lies about: ~ an innocent person.

ma lig nant [mə'lignənt] adj. 1. (of persons, their actions) filled wit showing, a desire to hurt: ~ fairie ~ glances. (~ is stronger in meanin than malicious and malevolent.) 2. (c diseases) very harmful to life; violent ~ cancer. ~ly adv. ma lig nan c [mə'lignənsi] n. [U] the state of bein ~.

ma lig ni ty [mə'ligniti] n. 1. [U] deep rooted ill will; [C] instance of this; act remark, etc., caused by such ill will. 2 (of diseases) malignant character.

ma lin ger [mə'liŋgə*] v.i. (VP 21) (esp of men in the armed forces) pretend t be ill, protract an illness, in order t escape duty. ~er n. person who ~s.

mal lard ['mæləd] n. kind of wild duck.

mal le a ble ['mæliəbl] adj. 1. (of metals that can be hammered or pressed int new shapes. 2. (fig., e.g. of a person' character) easily trained or adapted mal le a bil i ty [,mæliə'biliti] n.

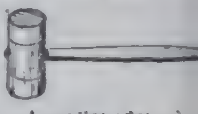
mal let ['mælit] n. 1. hammer with a wooden head (e.g. for striking the handle of a chisel). 2. long-handled wooden-headed hammer for striking a croquet or polo ball.



A mallet (def. 1)

mal low ['mælou] n. wild plant with hairy stems and leaves, and purpl flowers; garden varieties of this.

malm sey ['mɑ:mzi] n. [U] sweet wine from Greece, Spain, etc.

mal nu tri tion ['mælnju(:)'triʃən] n. [U condition caused by not getting enough food or (enough of) the right kind(s) of food.

mal o dor ous [mæ'loudərəs] adj. fl smelling.

mal prac tice ['mæl'præktis] n. (legal [U] wrong-doing; neglect of duty; [C instance of this (e.g. the dishonest use of a position of trust for personal gain).

malt [mɔ:lt, mɔlt] n. [U] grain (usu. barley) prepared for brewing or distilling: (attrib.) ~ liquors (e.g. beer, stout). v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) make (grain into ~; (VP 21) (of grain) come to the condition of ~. 2. (VP 1) prepare with ~: ~ed milk.

Mal tese ['mɔ:l'ti:z] adj. & n. (pl. unchanged) (language, native) of Malta: ~ cross, the design of cross illustrated here.

Maltese cros

Mal thu sian [mæl'θju.zjən] n. & adj. (supporter) of the principles of Malthus (who declared that the growth of the world's population would, unless checked, lead to world shortage of food).

mal treat [mæl'tri:t] v.t. (VP 1) treat roughly or cruelly. ~ment n. [U] ~ing or being ~ed.

malt ster ['mɔ:ltstə*] n. person who makes malt.

er sa tion [ˌmælvə:'seiʃən] n. [U] upt administration (of public money, ba ['mæmbə] n. (kinds of) poison-African tree snake.

ma [mə'mɑ:] n. (child's word for) ner.

mal ['mæməl] n. any of the class nimals which feed their young with from the breast.

mon ['mæmən] n. [U] wealth (reed as an evil influence); (cap. M.) god of greed: worshippers of M~.

moth ['mæməθ] n. large kind of hant now extinct; (attrib.) im-se: ~ business enterprises.

my ['mæmi] n. 1. (child's word mother. 2. (U.S.A.) Negro woman harge of children; nursemaid.

[mæn] n. (pl. men) 1. adult male an being (not a woman, boy, or
: the man in the street, person looked n as representing the interests and ions of ordinary people; a man of vorld, one with wide experience of ness and society; a man about town, who spends much time in society, ubs, at parties, theatres, etc.; a man etters, a writer and scholar; one's of business, one's agent or solicitor.
a and boy, from boyhood onwards:
has worked for the firm, man and boy, hirty years. be one's own man, be to act or do as one pleases; be ull possession of one's senses. 2.
an being; person: All men must die.
man could do that. to a man, to last man, all without exception:
y answered 'Yes' to a man. They killed to the last man. 3. (sing. only, out any article) the human race;
mankind: Man wants but little here
o. Man is mortal. 4. husband (usu.
an and wife). 5. male person under authority of another; man-servant alet: masters and men, employers workers; officers and men (e.g. in army). 6. piece used in such games chess. 7. male person having the l qualities associated with men:
a man! Play the man! Be brave!
only half a man, is lacking in spirit, gth, courage. How can we make a of him? 8. (as a vocative, to call ntion; used in a lively or impatient
: Hurry up, man! Nonsense, man!
ith possessive adjj.) If you want to your car, I'm your man, I'll make ffer. If you want a good music
r, here's your man, here's someone ble. 10. (in comb.) clergyman; post-
; fisherman, etc. 11. (compounds) n-at-'arms n. soldier, esp. (in the le Ages) a mounted soldier with armour and weapons. 'man-
r n. cannibal; man-eating tiger
rk. 'man,handle v.t. move by physical strength; (sl.) handle roughly: The drunken man was manhandled by the police. 'manhole n. opening (usu. with a lid) through which a man may enter (an underground sewer, boiler, tank, etc.) for inspection purposes. 'man-'hour n. work done by one man in one hour. 'man-of-'war n. (old use) armed ship belonging to a country's navy. 'man-power n. number of men available for military service, industrial needs, etc.: a shortage of manpower in the coal-mines. 'manservant n. male servant. 'man-sized adj. of a size right for a man: a man-sized beefsteak. manslaughter ['mæn'slɔ:tə*] n. [U] act of killing a human being unlawfully but not wilfully. 'mantrap n. trap for catching trespassers, poachers, etc.

²man [mæn] v.t. (-nn-) (VP 1) 1. supply with men for service or defence: man a fort (a ship). 2. man oneself, strengthen one's spirits or courage.

man a cle ['mænəkl] n. (usu. pl.) fetter or chain for the hands or feet. v.t. (VP 1) fetter with ~s; (fig.) restrain.

man age ['mænidʒ] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) control: ~ a horse; ~ a sailing-boat, handle the sails, etc., properly; ~ a business (household); ~ a naughty child (one's wife). Mrs Hill is a very managing woman, one who likes to ~ or control other people. 2. (VP 21, 23, 25) succeed; contrive: I shan't be able to ~ without help. If I can't borrow the money I shall have to ~ without. We can't ~ with these poor tools. In spite of these insults, she ~d to keep her temper. 3. (VP 1) (colloq., with can, could, be able to) make use of; eat: Can you ~ another slice of cake? ~a ble ['mænidʒəbl] adj. that can be ~d; easily controlled. ~a bil i ty [ˌmænidʒə'biliti] n.

man age ment ['mænidʒmənt] n. 1. [U] managing or being managed: The failure was caused by bad ~. The business is under new ~. 2. [U] skilful treatment; delicate contrivance (and perhaps trickery): It needed a good deal of ~ to persuade them to give me the job. 3. [C & U] (collective) all those concerned in managing an industry, enterprise, etc.: joint consultation between workers and ~. What this department store needs is a stronger ~.

man a ger ['mænidʒə*] n. 1. person who controls a business, a hotel, etc. 2. (usu. with an adj.) one who conducts business, manages household affairs, etc., in a certain way: My wife is an excellent ~. ~ess ['mænidʒəres, ˌmænidʒə'res] n. woman ~ (def. 1).

man a ger ial [ˌmænə'dʒiəriəl] adj. of managers: the ~ class, people such as managers, directors, etc.

man a tee [ˌmænə'ti:] n. large sea-animal that is a mammal; sea-cow.

Man ches ter ['mæntʃistə*] n. ~ goods, cotton textiles.

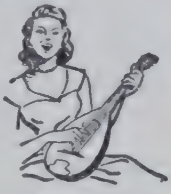
man da rin ['mændərin] n. 1. (old use) name for high Chinese government official. 2. standard spoken Chinese (as used by educated Chinese in all parts of China). 3. ~ duck, small Chinese duck with brightly coloured feathers.

man date ['mændeit] n. [C] 1. order from a superior; command given with authority. 2. control over a territory authorized by the League of Nations after the First World War. 3. authority given to representatives by voters, members of a trade union, etc. v.t. (VP 1) put (a territory) under a ~ (def. 2): the ~d territories. man da tor y ['mændətəri] adj. of, conveying, a command: the mandatory power. n. (also mandatary) person or state to whom a ~ has been given.

man di ble ['mændibl] n. 1. jaw, esp. the lower jaw in mammals and fishes. 2. either part of a bird's beak. 3. (in insects) either half of the upper pair of jaws, used for biting and seizing.



A mandolin

man do lin ['mændəlin] n. musical instrument with 6 or 8 metal strings stretched in pairs on a rounded body.

man drag o ra [mæn'drægərə], man drake ['mændreik] nn. [U] poisonous plant used in medical preparations (as an emetic and for causing sleep).

man drill ['mændril] n. large, fierce, ugly baboon.

mane [mein] n. [C] long hair on the neck of a horse, lion, etc.; (colloq. or hum.) thick hair on a man's head.

ma nes ['meini:z, 'mɑ:-] n. pl. (Lat.) (among the ancient Romans) spirits of the dead, esp. of ancestors worshipped as guardian influences.

ma neu ver [mə'nu:və*] n. & v. (U.S.A. spelling of) manœuvre.

man ful ['mænful] adj. brave; resolute; determined. ~ly adv.

man ga nese [ˌmæŋgə'ni:z, 'mæŋgəni:z] n. [U] hard, brittle, light-grey metal used in making steel, glass, etc.

mange [meindʒ] n. [U] skin disease, esp. of dogs and cats. man gy ['meindʒi] adj. 1. suffering from ~: a mangy dog. 2. squalid; neglected. man gi ly adv. man gi ness n.

man gel ['mæŋgl], man gold ['mæŋgəld], man gel-wur zel ['mæŋgl'wə:zl] nn. [C] large round root, a kind of beet, used as cattle food.

man ger ['meindʒə*] n. long open box or trough for horses or cattle to feed from. (For dog in the ~, see ¹*dog,* def. 2.)

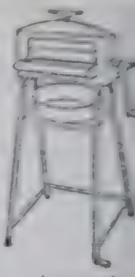
¹man gle ['mæŋgl] n. [C] machine with rollers for pressing out water from and f smoothing clothes, etc., that have been washed. v.t. (VP 1) put (clothes, etc.) through a ~.



A mangle

²man gle ['mæŋgl] v.t. (VP 1) 1. cut up, tear, damage, badly: He was knocked down by a lorry and badly ~d. 2. (fig.) spoil by making bad mistakes: ~ a piece of music.

man go ['mæŋgou] n. (pl. ~es) (tropical tree bearing) pear-shaped fruit with yellow fles ~ chutney, kind made with (green) u ripe ~es.

man gold, see mangel.

Mangroves

man go steen ['mæŋgousti:n] n. (E. Indian tree bearing) fruit with thick red rind and white juicy pulp.

man grove ['mæŋgrouv] n. [C] tropical tree growing in swamps and sending down new roots from its branche man gy, see mange.

man hood ['mænhud] n. [U] 1. the sta of being a man: reach ~; ~ suffra giving the vote to male citizens. manly qualities; courage. 3. all th men (collectively, of a country): the ~ Scotland.

ma nia ['meinjə] n. 1. [U] violent ma ness. 2. [C] extreme enthusiasm (for sth.

ma ni ac ['meiniæk] n. raving madma ma ni a cal [mə'naiəkəl] adj. violent mad. ma ni a cal ly adv.

man i cure ['mænikjuə*] n. [U] care the hands and finger-nails: have a cour in ~; (with indef. art.) treatment of th kind: She has a ~ once a week. v.t. (V 1) give ~ treatment to; cut, clean, an polish the finger-nails. man i cur is ['mænikjuərist] n. person who practis ~ as an occupation.

¹man i fest ['mænifest] n. list of a ship cargo for the use of customs officials.

²man i fest ['mænifest] adj. clear an obvious: a ~ truth; sth. that should be to all of you. ~ly adv.

³man i fest ['mænifest] v.t. (VP 1) show clearly: ~ the truth of a stateme 2. give signs of: She doesn't ~ mu desire to marry him. 3. (reflex.) come light; appear: No disease ~ed itse during the long voyage. Has the gho ~ed itself recently? man i fes ta tio [ˌmænifes'teiʃən] n. [U] ~ing; makin clear; [C] act or utterance that ~s.

man i fes to [ˌmæni'festou] n. (pl. ~ (U.S.A.) ~es) public declaration principles, policy, purposes, etc., by ruler, group of persons, etc.

n i fold ['mænifould] adj. having or oviding for many uses, copies, etc.
. (VP 1) make a number of copies (a letter, etc.) on a machine. n. pipe chamber with several openings (e.g. leading gases into or out of cylin-
s).

n i kin ['mænikin] n. 1. small, under-ed man; dwarf. 2. anatomical model the human body; figure of the human dy used by artists (e.g. for drapery, thes).

nil (l)a [mə'nilə] n. 1. (also ~ hemp)
nt fibre used for making ropes, mats,
. 2. ~ paper, strong, brown wrapping per made from ~ hemp; ~ envelopes, ong variety. 3. cheroot made in ~,
capital of the Philippine Islands.

nip u late [mə'nipjuleit] v.t. (VP 1) operate, handle, with skill: ~ the gears l levers of a machine. 2. manage or ntrol (sb. or sth.) cleverly, esp. by ng one's influence or unfair methods:
clever politician knows how to ~ his pporters. ma nip u la tion [mə,nipleiʃən] n. [U] manipulating or being
; [C] instance of this: make a lot money by clever manipulation of the ck Market.

n kind [mæn'kaind] n. [U] 1. the man species. 2. ('mankind) the male (contrasted with 'womankind).

n like ['mænlaik] adj. having the alities (good or bad) of a man.

n ly ['mænli] adj. (-ier, -iest) having strong qualities expected of a man;
a woman) having a man's qualities; things, qualities, etc.) right for a
n. man li ness n.

n na ['mænə] n. [U] (in the Bible) food ovided by God for the Israelites during ir forty years in the desert (see odus, xvi); (fig.) sth. unexpectedly plied or that gives spiritual refresh-nt.

n ne quin ['mænikin] n. 1. woman ployed to display new clothes for sale wearing them. (Model is the usual rd today.) 2. human figure made of x, wood, etc., used by tailors and shops and shop-windows for the dis-y of clothes.

n ner ['mænə*] n. [C] 1. way in ich a thing is done or happens: Do n this ~. to the ~ born, as if used sth. (e.g. a practice, custom, etc.) from th; naturally fitted for a position, y, etc. in a ~ of speaking, (arch.) one might say (used to weaken or alify what one says). 2. (sing. only) on's way of behaving towards ers: He has an awkward ~. I don't his ~. 3. (pl.) habits and customs. pl.) social behaviour: good (bad) ~s.
has no ~s at all, is very badly be-
ed. It is bad ~s to stare at people.
n't you forgetting your ~s, Mary?
(E.g. to a child who forgets to say 'Thank you' for a present.) 5. style in literature or art: a painting in the ~ of Raphael. 6. kind, sort: What ~ of man is he? all ~ of, every kind of. in a ~, in a certain degree; to a certain extent. by no ~ of means, in no circumstances.

man nered ['mænəd] adj. 1. (in compounds) ill (well, rough) ~ed, having bad (good, rough) ~s (def. 4). 2. showing mannerisms.

man ner ism ['mænərizəm] n. [C] peculiarity of behaviour, speech, etc., esp. one that is habitual; excessive use of a distinctive manner in art or literature.

man ner ly ['mænəli] adj. having good manners; polite.

man ni kin ['mænikin] n. mannequin.

man nish ['mæniʃ] adj. 1. (of a woman) like a man. 2. more suitable for a man than for a woman: a ~ style of dress; characteristic of a man: a ~ way to thread a needle.

ma nœu vre [mə'nu:və*] n. (usu. maneuver in U.S.A.) 1. planned movement (of armed forces); (pl.) series of such movements (e.g. as training exercises): army (fleet) ~s; troops on ~s. 2. movement or plan, made to deceive, or to escape from sb., or to win or do sth.: the despicable ~s of the politicians. v.i. & t. (VP 21, 23, 1, 10, 18) (cause to) perform ~s: The fleet is manœuvring off the east coast. Can we ~ the enemy out of their strong position? She ~d her car into a difficult parking space. Can you ~ me into a good job, use your influence, etc., in order to get a good job for me? The yachts were manœuvring for position, moving about to get advantageous positions (in a race). ma nœu vra ble adj. that can be ~d. ma nœu vra bil i ty [mə,nu:vrə'biliti] n.

man or ['mænə*] n. (in England) 1. unit of land under the feudal system, part of which was used directly by the lord of the ~ and the rest occupied and farmed by tenants who paid rent in crops and service. 2. (modern use) area of land with a principal residence (called the ~-house). The lord (or lady) of the ~ has certain rights to fees for the use of the land. ma no ri al [mə'nɔ:riəl] adj. of a ~: ~ial rights.

man sard ['mænsəd] n. (usu. ~ roof) roof with a double slope, the lower being steeper than the upper.

manse [mæns] n. Presbyterian church minister's house, esp. in Scotland.

man sion ['mænʃən] n. 1. large and stately house. the M~-house, the official residence of the Lord Mayor of London. 2. (pl., in proper names) block of flats: Victoria M~s.

man tel ['mæntl] n. (now usu. '~piece) structure of wood, marble, etc., above and around a fireplace; (in modern houses, usu.) shelf projecting from the wall above a fireplace.

man til la [mæn'tilə] n. large veil or wrap used by Spanish women to cover the hair and shoulders.

man tis ['mæntis] n. long-legged insect as shown here.

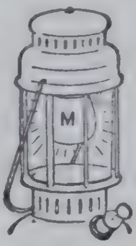
A mantis

¹man tle ['mæntl] n. 1. loose, sleeveless cloak; (fig.) covering: hills with a ~ of snow. 2. lace-like cover fixed round the flame of a lamp (burning gas, or paraffin converted into gas), to make the light brilliant.



M. Mantle

²man tle ['mæntl] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) cover in, or as in, a mantle: an ivy-~d wall. 2. (VP 1, 23) (of blood) flow into the blood-vessels of; (of the face) flush: Blushes (Blood) ~d (~d over) her cheeks. Her face ~d with blushes. (Fig.) Dawn ~d in the sky.

man u al ['mænjuəl] adj. of, done with, the hands: ~ labour; ~ training (e.g. in schools, training in carpentry, metal work); ~ exercises (e.g. drill in handling a rifle). n. 1. handbook or textbook: a shorthand ~. 2. keyboard of an organ, played with the hands. ~ly adv.

man u fac ture [ˌmænju'fæktʃə*] v.t. (VP 1) 1. make, produce (goods, etc.) on a large scale by machinery: ~ shoes (cement). 2. invent (a story, an excuse, etc.). n. 1. [U] the making or production of goods and materials: firms engaged in the ~ of plastics. 2. (pl.) ~d goods and articles. man u fac tur er n. person, firm, etc., that ~s things.

man u mit [ˌmænju'mit] v.t. (-tt-) (in former times) set (a slave) free. man u mis sion [ˌmænju'miʃən] n.

ma nure [mə'njuə*] n. [U] animal waste (e.g. from stables, cow barns) or other material, natural or artificial, spread over or mixed with the soil to make it fertile. (Cf. fertilizer, the usual word for chemical or artificial manure.) v.t. (VP 1) put ~ in or on (land, soil).

man u script ['mænjuskript] n. (shortened to MS., pl. MSS.) book, etc., as first written out by hand: send a ~ to the printers. in ~, not yet printed: poems still in ~.

Manx [mæŋks] adj. of the Isle of Man: ~ cat, tailless kind of cat. n. ~ language.

man y ['meni] adj. & n. (contrasted with few; see more, most) 1. used with pl. nn. (cf. much); in purely affirm. sentences it is often preferable to use a large number (of), numerous, or (colloq.) a lot (of), lots (of), plenty (of): Were there ~ people at the meeting? I have some, but not ~. M~ people think so. M~ of them were broken. M~ of us left early. How do you want? How ~ of them we absent? You gave me two too ~. Do yo need so ~? He made ten spelling mi takes in as ~ lines, i.e. in ten lines. have six here and as ~ again (i.e. s more) at home. a great (good) ~, large number (of): I have a good things to do today. one too ~, one mo than the correct or needed number: wish Jane would go away; she's one too here, we don't want her company. b one too ~ for, be cleverer than; ge the better of; outwit: He was one too for you that time. the ~, the masses; th large numbers of ordinary people: D the ~ have to labour for the few in you country? 2. ~ a, used with a sing. n. rather liter., usu. replaced by ~ and th pl. n. in ordinary style: M~ a ma (= ~ men) would welcome the opportunity. I've been here ~ (and ~) a time M~'s the time I've . . . (= I hav often . . .). '~-'sided adj. having ~ sides; (fig.) having ~ aspects, capabilities, etc.: a ~-sided problem.

Mao ri ['mauri] n. member, language, o the brown race of New Zealand.

map [mæp] n. representation on paper etc., of the earth's surface, or a par of it, showing countries, oceans, rivers mountains, etc.; representation of th sky showing positions of the stars, etc (Cf. plan, chart.) put sth. on the map cause it to be considered important, t be reckoned with. v.t. (-pp-) (VP 1) make a map of; show on a map; (VP 10 with out) plan, arrange: map out one's time ma ple ['meipl] n. 1. [C] (sorts of) tre of the northern hemisphere, grown for timber and ornament. '~-ˌsugar (-ˌsyrup) n. sugar (syrup) obtained from the sap of one kind of ~. 2. [U] wood of this tree.

Maple

ma quis ['mɑːki] n. the ~, the secre army of French patriots during the Second World War, fighting in Franc against the Germans.

mar [mɑː*] v.t. (-rr-) (VP 1) injure spoil; damage: Nothing marred the happiness of our outing. make or mar, make a great success of or ruin completely.

mar a bou ['mærəbuː] n. large W. African stork; tuft of its soft feather as trimming (e.g. for a hat).

mar a schi no [ˌmærə'skiːnou] n. (pl. ~s) liqueur made from a small black kind of cherry.

Mar a thon ['mærəθən] n. (the ~, usu. ~ race) long-distance race on foot (about 26 miles at modern sports meetings); (fig.) test of endurance.

ma raud [mə'rɔːd] v.i. (VP 21) go about in search of plunder or prey: Th

Roman Empire was attacked by ~ing Goths and Huns. ~er n. person or animal that ~s.

mar ble ['mɑ:bl] n. 1. [U] (sorts of) hard limestone used, when cut and polished, for building and sculpture: (attrib.) a ~ statue (tomb). 2. (pl.) works of art in ~; collection of ~ sculptures. 3. small ball of glass, clay, or stone used in games played by children; (pl.) game played with these balls: a game of ~s. 4. (attrib.) like ~: a ~ brow, smooth and white; a ~ breast, hard and unsympathizing. mar bled ['mɑ:bld] adj. stained or printed so as to look like variegated ~: a book with ~d edges.

mar cel [mɑ:'sel] n. (~ wave) kind of artificial wave in a person's hair v.t. (-ll-) wave (hair) in this way.

'March [mɑ:tʃ] n. the third month of the year.

march [mɑ:tʃ] n. (usu. pl.) frontier areas (esp. between England and Scotland or Wales), esp. land that is in dispute. v.i. (VP 24) (of countries, estates, etc.) border (upon); have a common frontier (with): Our territory ~es with theirs.

'march [mɑ:tʃ] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 20, 21, 23, 25) walk as soldiers do, with regular and measured steps: They have ~ed thirty miles today. They ~ed into the town. Quick ~! (military command to begin ~ing). The troops ~ed by (past, in, out, off, away). He ~ed up and down the station platform impatiently. ~ing orders, orders for troops to leave for manœuvres, for war, etc. 2. (VP 10) cause to ~: They ~ed the prisoner away. He was ~ed off to prison. ~er n.

march [mɑ:tʃ] n. 1. [U] act of marching (by soldiers, etc.): on the ~, marching a line of ~, a route followed by troops when ~ing: Scouts were sent out to discover the enemy's line of ~. 2. [C] instance of marching; distance travelled: a ~ of ten miles; a ~ past (i.e. of troops past a saluting point at a review); a forced ~, one made more quickly than usual, or for a greater distance, in an emergency. steal a ~ on sb., win a position of advantage by doing sth earlier than expected by him. 3. (sing with def. art.) progress; onward movement: the ~ of events (time). 4. [C] piece of music for marching to: military ~es; a dead ~, one in slow time for a funeral.

mar chion ess ['mɑ:ʃənis] n. wife or widow of a marquis; woman who holds in her own right a position equal to that of a marquis.

Mar di gras ['mɑ:di,grɑ:] n. (Fr.) Shrove Tuesday; last day of carnival before Lent, celebrated in some places with parades and merrymaking mare [mεə*] n. female horse or donkey. a ~'s nest, a hoax; a discovery that turns out to be false or worthless.

mar ga rine [,mɑ:dʒə'ri:n, ,mɑ:gə-] n. [U] butter substitute made from animal or vegetable fats marge [mɑ:dʒ] n. (colloq. abbrev. for) margarine.

mar gin ['mɑ:dʒin] n. [C] 1. blank space round the printed or written matter on a page: wide (narrow) ~s; notes written in the ~. 2. edge or border: sit on the ~ of a lake (swimming pool) 3. amount (of time, money, etc.) above what is estimated as necessary. 4. condition near the limit or borderline, below or beyond which sth. is impossible: He escaped defeat by a narrow ~. 5. (commerce) difference between cost price and selling price: an increase of a penny a gallon in the dealer's ~ on the price of petrol. mar gi nal adj. 1. of or in a ~ (def. 1): ~al notes. 2. of a ~ (def. 4): ~al land, land which is not fertile enough for profitable farming except when prices of farm products are high; a ~al seat, (see seat, def. 4) one for which the result is considered likely to be by a narrow ~.

mar gue rite [,mɑ:gə'ri:t] n. kinds of daisy, esp. the ox-eye daisy.

mar i gold ['mærigould] n. (kinds of) plant with golden or yellow flowers.

ma ri hua na, ma ri jua na [,mɑ:ri'hwɑ:nə, ,mæ-] n. [U] hashish; dried flowers of hemp smoked (mixed with tobacco) as an intoxicant.

ma ri nade [,mæri'neid] n. [U] pickle of wine, vinegar, and spice; fish or meat pickled in this. v.t. pickle with ~.

ma rine [mə'ri:n] adj. 1. of, by, found in, produced by, the sea: ~ products; a ~ painter, artist who paints seascapes. 2. of ships, sea-trade, the navy, etc.: ~ insurance, of ships and cargo; ~ stores, materials and supplies for ships; a ~ corps, of soldiers serving on warships. n. 1. (sing. only) the merchant (mercantile) ~, all the merchant ships of a country. 2. [C] soldier serving on a warship. Tell that to the ~s (used to express disbelief in an impossible story).

mar i ner ['mærinə*] n. (liter. use) sailor; (official use) master ~, captain of a merchant ship.

mar i o nette [,mæriə'net] n. doll or puppet moved by strings on a small stage.

mar i tal ['mæritl, mə'raitl] adj. of a husband; of marriage: ~ obligations (e.g. providing for one's wife).

mar i time ['mæritaim] adj. 1. connected with the sea or navigation: ~ law; the great ~ powers. 2. situated or found near the sea: the ~ provinces of the U.S.S.R.

mar jo ram ['mɑ:dʒərəm] n. [U] sweet-smelling herb used in cooking and medicine.

'mark [mɑ:k] n. 1. line, scratch, cut, stain, etc., that spoils the appearance of sth.: Who made these dirty ~s on my new book? 2. noticeable spot on the body by which a person or animal may be recognized: a horse with a white ~ on its head; a birth-~. 3. visible trace; sign or indication (of a quality, etc.): ~s of suffering (old age). Please accept this gift as a ~ of my esteem. 4. figure, design, line, etc., made as a sign or indication: punctuation ~s; price-~s (on goods); trade ~s. 5. written symbol: give sb. a good (bad) ~, use such a symbol as a sign of good (bad) conduct; numerical unit for awards in an examination: get 72 ~s out of 100 for geography; gain full ~s for science. 6. target; sth. aimed at: hit (miss) the ~, (fig.) succeed (fail) in what one tries to do; an easy ~, a person who is easily cheated or ridiculed. beside* (wide of) *the ~ (fig.) not to the point; incorrect: Your guess (calculation) is wide of the ~. 7. [U] distinction; fame: make one's ~, become famous; a man of ~, a noteworthy or distinguished man. 8. (sing. only) standard: up to (below) the ~, as good as (below) the normal. He doesn't feel quite up to the ~, (colloq.) is not in his usual good health. 9. cross made on a document by an illiterate person for a signature. 10. (athletics) line indicating the starting-point: get off the ~, start. 11. (with numbers) model or type: Meteor M~ IV (e.g. of an aircraft).

^{2}mark [mɑːk] v.t. 1. (VP 1, 10) put or leave a mark on (sth.) by cutting, writing, stamping, etc.; put figures indicating prices on (goods): ~ one's name on one's clothes; ~ one's clothes with one's name. The teacher ~ed the pupil absent. ˈ*~ing-ink n. indelible ink for marking names on linen, etc. ~ up* (down), put a higher (lower) price on (goods, etc.): All our stock has been ~ed down for the sales. 2. (in the passive) have natural marks: A zebra is ~ed with stripes. His face is ~ed with smallpox, has the scars of smallpox on it. 3. (VP 1) give marks (def. 5) to; put marks on: ~ examination papers; have twenty essays to ~ (be ~ed). 4. (VP 1, 13, 15, 21) pay attention (to): M~ carefully how it is done (how I do it, how to do it). M~ my words, note what I say (and you will find, later, that I am right). a ~ed man, one whose conduct is watched with suspicion or enmity. 5. (VP 1) be a feature of; accompany: What are the qualities that ~ a great leader? 6. ~ time, stamp the feet as when marching but without moving forward; (fig.) wait until one can make further progress. 7. (VP 10) ~ sth. off, separate (one thing from another) by a line or boundary. ~ sth. out, make lines to show limits: ~ out a tennis-court. ~ sb. out for (e.g. promotion), decide in advance that he will be (promoted). marked adj. clear: readily seen: a ~ed difference (improvement); a man of ~ed ability. ~ed ly [ˈmɑːkidli] adv. in a ~ed manner. ~ing n. (esp.) different colours of feathers, skin, etc.

^{3}mark [mɑːk] n. unit of German currency.

mark er [ˈmɑːkə*] n. person or tool that marks, esp. a person who marks the score at games (e.g. billiards); bookmark.

^{1}mar ket [ˈmɑːkit] n. 1. [C] public place (an open space or a building) where people meet to buy and sell goods; time during which such a meeting takes place: The cook went to (the) ~ to buy food for the family. There are numerous small ~s in the town. The next ~ is on the 15th. bring one's eggs* (hogs) to a bad ~ (to the wrong ~), fail in one's plans, fail because one goes to the wrong people for help. ˈ*~-day n. fixed day on which a ~ is held. ˈ*~-ˌgarden n. one where vegetables are grown for ~s. ˈ*~-place n. square or open place in a town where a ~ is held. ˈ*~-town n. one where a ~ (esp. one for cattle and sheep) is held. 2. trade in a certain class of goods: the corn ~; the coffee ~; state of trade as shown by prices: a dull (lively) ~. The ~ rose, prices advanced. 3. (sing. only, with def. art.) buying and selling: ~ research, study of the results of advertising, the reasons why the public buys (or does not buy) certain goods, etc. come into* (be on) *the ~, be offered for sale: This house will probably come into the ~ next month. 4. [C] area, country, in which goods may be sold: We must find new ~s for our manufactures. Which country is Brazil's best ~ for coffee? 5. demand: There is no ~ (a poor ~) for these goods.

^{2}mar ket [ˈmɑːkit] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21) buy or sell in a market: go ~ing. 2. (VP 1) take or send to market; prepare for market and offer for sale. ~a ble [ˈmɑːkitəbl] adj. that can be sold: fit to be sold: ~able products.

marks man [ˈmɑːksmən] n. person skilled in aiming at a mark, esp. with a rifle. ~ship n. skill in shooting.

marl [mɑːl] n. [U] soil consisting of clay and carbonate of lime, used as a fertilizer.

mar line-spike [ˈmɑːlinspaik] n. pointed iron tool used for separating the strands of a rope mar ma lade [ˈmɑːməleid] n. [U] (bitter) orange jam.

mar mo re al [mɑːˈmɔːriəl] adj. (poet.) like marble.

mar mo set [ˈmɑːməzet] n. small, tropical American monkey with soft, thick hair and a bushy tail.

mar mot [ˈmɑːmət] n. small animal of the squirrel family.

ma ro cain [ˈmærəkein] n. [U] dress material of silk or wool.

^{1}ma roon [məˈruːn] n. & adj. brownish-red (colour).

¹ma roon [mə'ru:n] n. firework, esp. the kind used as a warning signal

²ma roon [mə'ru:n] v.t. (VP 1) put (sb.) on a desert island, uninhabited coast, etc., and abandon him there marque [mɑ:k] n. 1. letters of ~, authority formerly given to private persons to fit out an armed ship and use it to attack, capture, and plunder enemy merchant ships in time of war. 2. = mark, def. 11 (esp. for cars).

mar quee [mɑ:'ki:] n. large tent (as used for flower shows, garden parties, or for a circus).

mar quis, -quess ['mɑ:kwis] n. (in Gt Brit.) nobleman next in rank above an earl and below a duke; (in other countries) nobleman next in rank above a count. (See marchioness.)

mar riage ['mæridʒ] n. 1. [U] union of a man and a woman as husband and wife; state of being married: A ~ has been arranged between . . . and . . . She has had an offer of ~. give (take) in ~, give (take) as husband or wife. ~ articles, an agreement made before ~ about rights of property, etc. ~ lines, ~ certificate. 2. [C] wedding ceremony: *Was it a civil ~ or a church ~? ~a ble ['mæridʒəbl] adj. (of a young person) old enough, fit for, ~: a girl of ~able age.

mar ried ['mærid] adj. united in marriage; of marriage: ~ couples; ~ life.

mar row ['mærou] n. 1. [U] soft, fatty substance that fills the hollow parts of bones: He was chilled to the ~, cold through and through. '~bone n. bone containing edible ~. 2. [U] (fig.) essence; essential part: the pith and ~ of his statement. 3. [C] (often vegetable ~) vegetable of the gourd family, like a pumpkin.

mar ry ['mæri] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 21) take as a husband or wife; have a husband or wife: John is going to ~ Jane Tom and Alice are going to get married. Mary married a Frenchman. Harry didn't ~ until he was over fifty. She married again six months after the death of her first husband. 2. (VP 1) (of a priest, a civil official) join as husband or wife: Which priest is going to ~ them? 3. (VP 1, 10) give in marriage: He married both his daughters to rich directors. She has married off all her daughters, has found husbands for them.

Mar sa la [mɑ:'sɑ:lə] n. [U] white wine from ~ (in Sicily).

Mar seil laise [ˌmɑ:sə'leiz, (Fr.) marsɛjɛ:z] n. national song of the French Republic.

marsh [mɑ:ʃ] n. [C & U] (area of) low-lying, wet land: miles and miles of ~; the Romney ~es. ~-mallow n. (a) shrubby herb that grows near salt ~es. (b) soft, spongy sweetmeat. ~y adj. of or like a ~.

¹mar shal ['mɑ:ʃəl] n. 1. (See Appendix 2.) officer of highest rank: Field-M~ (Army); Air-M~ (Air Force). 2. official responsible for important public events or ceremonies (e.g. one who accompanies a High Court judge; an officer of the royal household). 3. (U.S.A.) official with the functions of a sheriff; head of a fire or police department.

²mar shal ['mɑ:ʃəl] v.t. (-ll-, U.S.A. -l-) (VP 1, 10, 18) 1. arrange in proper order: ~ facts (military forces) '~ling-yard n. railway yard in which goods trains, etc., are assembled. 2. guide or lead (sb.) with ceremony: ~ persons into the presence of the Queen.

mar su pi al [mɑ:'sju:piəl] adj. & n. (animal) of the class of mammals that have a pouch in which to carry their young, which are born before developing completely (e.g. kangaroos).

mart [mɑ:t] n. (liter.) market-place; centre of commerce.

mar ten ['mɑ:tin] n. [C] small animal of the weasel family; [U] its fur.

mar tial ['mɑ:ʃəl] adj. 1. of, associated with, war: ~ music; ~ bearing. ~ law, military government, by which ordinary law is suspended (e.g. during a rebellion); declare ~ law; be under ~ law. 2. brave; fond of fighting: show a ~ spirit. (Cf. warlike, showing eagerness for war.) ~ly adv.

Mar tian ['mɑ:ʃiən] n. & adj. (inhabitant) of the planet Mars.

mar tin ['mɑ:tin] n. (also 'house-~) bird of the swallow family that builds a mud nest on walls, etc.

mar ti net [ˌmɑ:ti'net] n. person who requires and enforces strict discipline.

mar ti ni [mɑ:'ti:ni] n. cocktail made of gin, vermouth, bitters, etc.

Mar tin mas ['mɑ:tinmæs] n. St. Martin's Day, 11 Nov., a quarter-day in Scotland mar tyr ['mɑ:tə*] n 1. person who is put to death or caused to suffer for his religious beliefs or for the sake of a great cause or principle: the early Christian ~s in Rome. He died a ~ in the cause of science, lost his life through his efforts to help forward the cause of science. make a ~ of oneself, sacrifice one's own wishes or advantage (or pretend to do so) in order to get credit or reputation. 2. be a ~ to, suffer greatly from: He's a ~ to rheumatism. v.t. (VP 1) put to death, cause to suffer, as a ~. ~dom n. ~'s suffering or death: His wife's never-ending complaints made his life one long ~dom.

mar vel ['mɑ:vəl] n. [C] 1. wonderful thing; sth causing great surprise, pleased astonishment: the ~s of modern science. It's a ~ to me that he escaped unhurt. The doctor's pills worked ~s, had wonderful results. 2. wonderful example (of sth.): She's a ~ of patience. Your room is a ~ of neatness and order v.i. (-ll-, U.S.A. -l-) 1. (VP 24A) be greatly surprised (at): ~ at sb.'s boldness. 2. (VP 24B) wonder: I ~ that she should agree to marry that man (~ why she should want to marry him)

mar vel lous [ˈmɑːviləs] adj. astonishing; wonderful ~ly adv

Marx ian [ˈmɑːksjən] adj. & n. (supporter) of the doctrine of Karl Marx, the German economist and socialist (1818–83). Marx ist n. = Marxian mar zi pan [ˌmɑːziˈpæn] n. [U] thick paste of ground almonds, sugar, etc., made up into small cakes; [C] small cake made of this mixture

mas car a [mæsˈkɑːrə] n. [U] cosmetic preparation for dyeing the eyelashes mas cot [ˈmæskət] n. person, animal, or object considered likely to bring good fortune.

mas cu line [ˈmɑːskjulin, ˈmæs-] adj. (Cf. feminine.) 1. of, like, the male sex: a ~ style; a ~ woman. 2. of male gender: 'He' and 'him' are ~ pronouns. mas cu lin i ty [ˌmæskjuˈliniti] n. quality of being ~

mash [mæʃ] n. [U] 1. grain, bran, etc., cooked in water for horses. 2. any substance softened and crushed (e.g. boiled potatoes beaten and crushed): a plate of sausage and ~. 3. mixture of malt and hot water used in brewing. v.t. (VP 1) beat or crush into a ~: ~ed turnips.

mash ie [ˈmæʃi] n. kind of iron golf club

¹mask [mɑːsk] n. 1. covering for the face, or part of it, e.g. a piece of silk or velvet for hiding the face at balls; disguise: (fig.) throw off one's ~, show one's true character and intentions; do sth under the ~ of friendship, while pretending to be a friend 2. (also ˈ*gas-~*) breathing apparatus (as shown here), in some cases for the whole of the head, worn as a protection against poisonous gas, smoke, etc. (e.g. in coal-mines, or by a fireman in a burning building). 3. false face worn by an actor or actress. death ~, one made by taking a mould of the face of a dead person. 4. head of a fox

Masks

²mask [mɑːsk] v.t. (VP 1) 1. cover (the face) with a mask: a ~ed woman, one wearing a mask; a ~ed ball, one at which masks are worn. 2. conceal: ~ one's enmity under an appearance of friendliness; ~ed guns, hidden from the enemy.

ma so chism [ˈmæzoukizəm] n. [U] mental disorder which causes a sufferer to get pleasure from (self-inflicted) pain or humiliation. (Cf. Sadism.) ma so chist n.

ma son [ˈmeisn] n. 1. stone-cutter; worker who builds with stone. 2. *free-mason. ~ic [məˈsonik] adj. of freemasons ~ry [ˈmeisnri] n. stonework; that part of a building made of stone and mortar masque [mɑːsk] n. drama in verse, often with music, dancing, fine costumes, and pageantry, esp. as given in castles and great mansions in England during the 16th and 17th centuries.

mas quer ade [ˌmæskəˈreid] n. 1. ball at which masks and other disguises are worn. 2. (fig.) false show or pretence. v.i. (VP 21, 23) appear, be, in disguise: a prince who ~d as a peasant.

¹mass [mæs] n. 1. [C] lump, quantity of matter, without regular shape; large number, quantity or heap (of): ~es of dark clouds in the sky. The azaleas made a ~ of colour in the garden. A ~ of snow and rock broke away and started an avalanche. The poor fellow was a ~ of bruises, (colloq.) was covered with bruises. 2. the ~es, the lower classes of society. in the ~, in the main; as a whole: The nation in the ~ was not interested in politics. ~ meeting, large meeting, esp. of people wishing, or requested, to express their views (protesting against sth., urging that sth. be done, etc.). ~ communications, ~ media, means (esp. radio, television) of imparting information to, influencing the ideas of, enormous numbers of people. ~ production, manufacture of large numbers of identical articles by standardized processes. (Hence ˈ*~-proˌduce v.t.*) 3. (science) [U] amount of material in a body measured by its resistance to change of motion. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) form or collect into a ~: Troops are ~ing (are being ~ed) on the frontier The clouds are ~ing.

²Mass [mæs] n. celebration (esp. Roman Catholic) of the Eucharist: high ~, with incense, music, and considerable ceremony; low ~, with no music and a minimum of ceremony; go to ~; hear ~. M~es were said for his soul.

mass a cre [ˈmæsəkə*] n. [C] cruel killing of large numbers of (esp. defenceless) people (occasionally used of animals). v.t. (VP 1) make a ~ of.

mas sage [ˈmæsɑːʒ] n. [C & U] (instance of) pressing and rubbing the body, esp. the muscles and joints, in order to lessen pain, stiffness, etc. v.t. (VP 1) apply ~ to.

mas seur [mæˈsəː*], mas seuse [mæˈsəːz] nn. man, woman, who practises massage. (Cf. physiotherapist.) mas sif [ˈmæsiːf] n. compact group of mountain heights.

mas sive [ˈmæsiv] adj. 1. large, heavy and solid: a ~ monument. 2. (of the features) heavy-looking: a ~ forehead. 3. (fig.) substantial; impressive. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

mas sy [ˈmæsi] adj. solid; heavy.

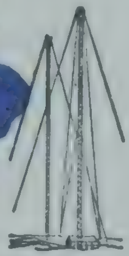
mast [mɑːst] n. 1. upright support (of wood or metal) for a ship's sails: sail before the ~, see before, def. 3. ˈ~-*head n. highest part of a ~, used as a look-out post. (See Appendix 3.) 2. tall pole (for a flag). 3. tall steel structure for aerials of a radio or television transmitter; (also mooring-~) tall tower to which an airship may be moored.



Masts (def. 3)

mast [mɑːst] n. [U] fruit of beech, oak, and other forest trees (as food for pigs).

mas ter [ˈmɑːstə*] n. 1. man who has others working for him or under him: ~ and man, employer and workman (or manservant); (attrib.) skilled workman or one in business on his own account: a ~ carpenter (builder, etc.). be one's own ~, be free and independent. 2. male head of a household: the ~ of the house. be ~ in one's own house, manage one's affairs without interference from others. 3. captain of a merchant ship: a ~ mariner; obtain one's ~'s certificate, one that gives the holder the right to be a ship's captain. 4. male owner of a dog, horse, etc. 5. male teacher in a school: the mathematics ~; school-~; house-~ (see ^{1}house, def. 7); male teacher of subjects taught outside school: a ˈdancing (ˈfencing, ˈriding) -ˌ~. 6. (with of) person who has control (of) or who has (sth.) at his disposal: He is ~ of the situation, has it under control. If only I could be ~ of this subject, come to know it thoroughly. He has made himself ~ of the language, has learnt it well, so that he can use it freely. You cannot be the ~ of your fate, cannot decide your own destiny. He is ~ of a large fortune, can use it as he wishes. 7. the M~, Jesus Christ; M~ of Arts (Science, etc.), holder of the second university degree (cf. bachelor). 8. (with a boy's name) young Mr: M~ Charles (Smith), used by servants speaking of a boy up to the age of about 14. 9. title of the heads of certain colleges. 10. great artist, esp. old ~s, the great painters of the 13th to 17th centuries; painting by one of these artists. 11. (attrib.) commanding; superior: the work of a ~ hand, a superior and skilful artist, etc.; a ~ mind, person with superior brains (esp. one who plans work to be carried out by others). His ~ passion (the passion that dominates his thoughts, etc.) is motor-racing. 12. as title of various officials: M~ of the Horse, official in the royal household; M~ of foxhounds, man who controls them; M~ of Ceremonies, person who superintends the forms to be observed on various social occasions (e.g. a public banquet). 13. (compounds) ˈ~-at-ˈarms n. police officer in the Navy and in passenger ships of the merchant service. ˈ~-key n. one that will open many different locks, each also opened by a separate key. ˈ~piece n. sth. made or done with very great skill. ˈ~-stroke n. surpassingly skilful act or piece (of policy, etc.). ~less adj. having no ~.

^{2}mas ter [ˈmɑːstə*] v.t. (VP 1) become the master of; overcome: ~ one's temper (feelings); ~ a foreign language (the saxophone).

mas ter ful [ˈmɑːstəful] adj. fond of controlling others; dominating: speak in a ~ manner. ~ly adv.

mas ter ly [ˈmɑːstəli] adj. worthy of a great master; very skilful: with a few ~ strokes of the brush.

mas ter ship [ˈmɑːstəʃip] n. 1. [U] dominion; control (over). 2. [C] office, duties, of (esp. a school-) master: He was offered an assistant-~ in Bolton.

mas ter y [ˈmɑːstəri] n. [U] 1. complete control or knowledge (of): his ~ of the violin; get ~ of a wild horse. 2. supremacy: Which side will get the ~?

mas ti cate [ˈmæstikeit] v.t. (VP 1) soften, grind up (food) with the teeth. mas ti ca tion [ˌmæstiˈkeiʃən] n.

mas tiff [ˈmæstif] n. large, strong dog with drooping ears, much used as a watchdog.

mas to don [ˈmæstədɔn] n. large elephant-like extinct animal.

mas toid [ˈmæstɔid] n. bone at the back of the ear.

a mastiff

mas tur bate [ˈmæstəbeit] v.i. procure sexual excitement by manual or other unnatural stimulation of the genital organs. mas tur ba tion [ˌmæstəˈbeiʃən] n.

^{1}mat [mæt] n. 1. piece of material (woven or plaited, of straw, rope, rushes, rags, fibre, etc.) used for a floor covering, for packing furniture, or (a ˈdoor-mat) for wiping dirty shoes on. 2. small piece of material placed under vases, ornaments, etc., or (of cork, asbestos, etc.) under hot dishes on a table (to prevent injury to a varnished surface, etc.). 3. anything thickly tangled or twisted together: a mat of weeds; comb the mats out of a dog's thick hair. v.t. & i. (-tt-) (VP 1) cover or supply with mats; (VP 1, 10, 21, 23) (cause to) be or become tangled or knotted: matted hair.

^{2}mat(t) [mæt] adj. (of colours) dull, not shiny; (of paper) not smooth or polished.

mat a dor [ˈmætədɔː*] n. man whose task is to kill the bull in the sport of bull-fighting.

^{1}match [mætʃ] n. short piece of wood, pasteboard, wax taper, etc., with a bead made of material that bursts into flame when rubbed on a rough or specially prepared surface (the second kind being called safety ~es): strike a ~; a box of ~es. ˈ~box n. box for holding ~es. ˈ~*wood n. (a) wood suitable for making ~es. (b) splinters or fragments of wood: smashed to ~wood, completely broken up.

^{2}match [mætʃ] n. 1. contest; game: a football (wrestling) ~; a (boxing) ~ of twenty rounds. 2. person able to meet another as his equal in strength, skill, etc.: find (meet) one's ~. He is up against more than his ~, has met sb. who is his superior (in skill, etc.). You are no ~ for him, are not strong, clever, etc., enough to compete with him. 3. marriage: They decided to make a ~ of it, (of two persons) they decided to marry. ˈ~-ˌ*maker n. person who is fond of arranging ~s for others. See also love-~*. 4. person considered from the point of view of marriage: He's a good ~, is considered satisfactory or desirable as a possible husband. 5. person or thing exactly like, or corresponding to, or combining well with, another: colours (materials) that are a good ~.

^{3}match [mætʃ] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 18) put (one thing) in competition (with or against another): I'm ready to ~ my strength with (against) yours. 2. (VP 1) be equal to; be, obtain, a match (def. 2) for: a well-~ed pair, e.g. boxers about equal in skill. No one can ~ him in archery. Can any country ~ France for good wine? Can you ~ that story, tell one that is equally good, amusing, etc.? 3. (VP 1, 21) be equal to or corresponding (with) (in quality, colour, design, etc.): The carpets should ~ the curtains. The curtains and carpets should ~. She was wearing a brown dress with hat and gloves to ~. 4. (VP 1, 18, 19B) find a material, etc., that ~es (def. 3) with (another): Can you ~ (me) this silk? 5. (VP 1, 18) join (one person with another) in marriage. ~less adj. unequalled.

match et [ˈmætʃet, mætʃˈet] n. = machete.

match lock [ˈmætʃlɔk] n. old-fashioned style of musket.

^{1}mate [meit] n. 1. (among working-class men) companion; fellow-workman (often as a form of address): Where are you going, ~? (Cf. play~, class~.) 2. ship's officer (not an engineer) below the rank of captain: the chief ~, below the captain; the second (third) ~. 3. (esp. on a ship) helper: (in titles) the cook's (gunner's, surgeon's) ~. 4. one of a pair of birds or animals: the lioness and her ~. 5. partner in marriage (i.e. husband or wife): She has been a faithful ~ to him. mat ey [ˈmeiti] adj. sociable, familiar, friendly (with).

^{2}mate [meit] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 18, 21, 24) (of birds or animals) (cause to) unite for the purpose of having sexual intercourse, producing young: the mating season (spring), when birds make their nests). The Zoo camels have not ~d this year.

^{3}mate [meit] n. & v. (in chess) checkmate.

ma ter [ˈmeitə*] n. (Lat.) (schoolboy sl.) mother.

^{1}ma te ri al [məˈtiəriəl] n. 1. [U & C] that of which sth. is or can be made or with which sth. is done: raw ~s, not yet used in manufacture; dress ~s, cloth; fabrics from which dresses may be made; writing ~s, pen, ink, paper, etc.; too much ~ for one overcoat; not enough ~ for two overcoats. 2. [U] (fig.) facts, happenings, elements: ~ for thought; the ~ from which history is made.

^{2}ma te ri al [məˈtiəriəl] adj. 1. (contrasted with spiritual) made of, connected with, matter or substance: the ~ world; a ~ noun, naming a material (e.g. stone, wood, wool). 2. of the body; of physical needs: ~ needs (e.g. food and warmth); ~ comforts and pleasures; a ~ point of view, worldly, considering only the things of the senses. 3. important; essential: The judge warned the witness not to hold back ~ facts, facts that might influence a decision. Is this point ~ to your argument? ~ly adv. in a ~ (def. 3) manner; essentially.

ma te ri al ism [məˈtiəriəlizəm] n. [U] 1. theory, belief, that only material things exist. 2. tendency to value, valuation of, material things (wealth, bodily comforts, etc.) too much and spiritual and intellectual things too little. ma te ri al ist n. believer in ~; person who ignores religion, art, music, etc. ma te ri al is tic [məˌtiəriəˈlistik] adj. of ~ or materialists. ma te ri al is ti cal ly adv.

ma te ri al ize [məˈtiəriəlaiz] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) (cause to) take material form; (cause to) become fact: Our plans did not ~, came to nothing, were not carried out. ma te ri al i za tion [məˌtiəriəlaiˈzeiʃən] n.

ma ter nal [məˈtəːnl] adj. of or like a mother: ~ care; my ~ grandfather (aunt, etc.), on my mother's side of the family. ~ly adv.

ma ter ni ty [məˈtəːniti] n. [U] being a mother: (attrib.) ~ ward (hospital), for women who are to become mothers.

mat ey, see ^{1}mate.

math e mat ics [ˌmæθiˈmætiks] n. (sing. or pl. v.) science of space and numbers (of which arithmetic, algebra, trigonometry and geometry are branches): His ~ are weak. M~ is his weak subject. math e mat i cal adj. of ~. math e ma ti cian [ˌmæθiməˈtiʃən] n. expert in ~.

maths [mæθs] n. (colloq. abbrev. of) mathematics.

mat i née [ˈmætinei] n. [C] afternoon performance at a theatre.

mat ins [ˈmætinz] n. pl. service for morning prayer in the Church of England; prayers recited at daybreak in the Roman Catholic Church.

ma tri arch [ˈmeitriɑːk] n. woman head of a family or tribe. ma tri ar chy n. social organization in which mothers are the heads of families. ma tri ar chal [ˌmeitriˈɑːkl] adj.

ma tri cide [ˈmeitrisaid] n. [U] killing of one's own mother; [C] instance of this; [C] person guilty of this.

ma tric u late [məˈtrikjuleit] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) (allow to) enter a university as a student, usu. after passing an examination; admit, be admitted, as a member of a university. ma tric u la tion [məˌtrikjuˈleiʃən] n. 1. [U] matriculating or being ~d; [C] instance of this. 2. [U] special examination for this.

mat ri mo ny [ˈmætriməni] n. [U] state of being married: unite persons in holy ~. mat ri mo nial [ˌmætriˈmounjəl] adj. of ~: solicitors who help people who have matrimonial troubles (e.g. persons wanting divorce).

ma trix [ˈmeitriks, ˈmæt-] n. (pl. matrices [ˈmeitrisiːz], or ~es) 1. mould into which hot metal, or other material in a soft or liquid condition, is poured to be shaped (e.g. in the printing trade, or for making gramophone records). 2. substance in which a mineral, etc., is found embedded in the ground.

ma tron [ˈmeitrən] n. 1. woman housekeeper in a school or other institution. 2. woman who manages the domestic affairs and nursing staff of a hospital. 3. married woman or widow: (dressmakers) styles suitable for ~s, for middle-aged women. ~ly adj. of, like, suitable for, ~s: ~ly duties; a ~ (i.e. dignified) manner.

mat ted [ˈmætid] adj. see ¹*mat* (v.).

matt [mæt] adj. variant of ²*mat.*

matter [ˈmætə*] n. 1. [U] substance(s) of which a physical thing is made (contrasted with mind, spirit, etc.). 2. material for thought or expression; substance of a book, speech, etc., contrasted with the form or style: The ~ in your essay is good but the style is deplorable. 3. [U] sth. printed or written: printed ~ (used on sth. sent by post, to show that it goes out at a rate cheaper than for ordinary letters, etc.); postal ~, everything sent by post. 4. [C] sth. to which attention is given; piece of business; affair: money ~s. This is a ~ I know little about. There are several ~s to be dealt with at the committee meeting. as a ~ of fact, in reality; although you may not know it or may be surprised. a ~ of course, sth. to be expected in the natural course of events. for that ~, for the ~ of that, so far as that is concerned. in the ~ of, as regards, in what concerns: He is strict in the ~ of discipline. a hanging ~, a crime for which the penalty may be death by hanging. no laughing ~, sth. serious, sth. not to be joked about. 5. [U] importance: It's no ~ (It makes no ~) whether you get there early or late. Don't trust him, no ~ what (= whatever) he says or does. No ~! (= never mind. It is of no consequence). 6. (sing. with def. art.) be the ~ (with), be wrong (with): What's the ~ with it? (colloq.) Surely this is all right, isn't it? Is there anything the ~ with him, is he ill, in trouble, etc. (according to context)? 7. [U] pus. 8 (sing. with indef. art.) a ~ of, about: a ~ of 20 weeks (10 miles, £50). 9. (compounds) ˈ~-of-ˈcourse adj. to be expected. ˈ~-of-ˈfact adj. (of a person, his manner) unimaginative; ordinary; keeping to the facts.

²mat ter [ˈmætə*] v.i. (VP 21, 23, chiefly in interr., neg. and conditional sentences) be of importance: What does it ~? It doesn't ~ much, does it? It hardly ~s at all. It doesn't ~ to me what you do or where you go.

mat ting [ˈmætiŋ] n. [U] rough woven material used for floor covering and for packing goods.

mat tins [ˈmætinz] n. pl. = matins.

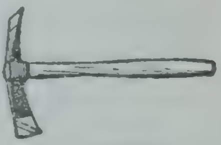
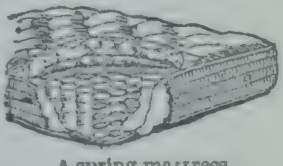
mat tock [ˈmætək] n. tool as shown here, used for breaking up hard ground, etc., one end of the metal head being at a right angle to the other.



A mattock

mat tress [ˈmætris] n. [C] long, thick, flat, oblong pad of wool, hair, feathers, foam rubber, etc., on which to sleep. spring ~, appliance of springs fitted inside a padded cover of canvas or other strong material.



A spring mattress

¹ma ture [məˈtjuə*] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) 1. come or bring to full development or to a state ready for use: His character ~d during these years. These years ~d his character. This wine has not ~d properly. 2. (of bills) become due.

^{2}ma ture [məˈtjuə*] adj. 1. fully grown or developed; ripe; with fully developed powers: persons of ~ years. 2. careful; perfected: after ~ deliberation; ~ plans (based on ~ deliberation). 3. (in commerce, of bills) due for payment. ~ly adv. ma tu ri ty [məˈtjuəriti] n. [U] the state of being ~.

ma tu ti nal [ˌmætju(:)ˈtainl, (U.S.A.) məˈtju:tinl] adj. of, occurring in, the morning maud lin [ˈmɔ:dlin] adj. sentimental in a silly or tearful way: The drunken man began to get ~.

maul [mɔ:l] v.t. (VP 1, 10) hurt or injure by rough or brutal handling: Stop ~ing the cat. His latest novel has been ~ed by the critics, they have written adverse reviews.

maul stick [ˈmɔ:lstik] n. light stick held by a painter in the left hand as a support for the right.

maun der [ˈmɔ:ndə*] v.i. (VP 21, 23) talk in a rambling way; move or act in a listless way.

Maun dy Thurs day [ˈmɔ:ndiˈθə:zdi] n. Thursday before Easter.

mau so le um [ˌmɔ:səˈliəm] n. magnificent tomb.

mauve [mouv] adj. & n. pale purple.

mav er ick [ˈmævərik] n. (U.S.A.) unbranded calf; person who roves from place to place.

ma vis [ˈmeivis] n. (poet.) song-thrush.

maw [mɔ:] n. animal's stomach.

maw kish [ˈmɔ:kiʃ] adj. foolishly sentimental. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

max im [ˈmæksim] n. widely accepted rule of conduct or general truth briefly expressed (e.g. 'Waste not, want not.').

Max im [ˈmæksim] n. (out-of-date) quick-firing machine-gun.

max i mum [ˈmæksiməm] n. greatest possible or recorded degree, quantity, etc.; opp. of minimum: the ~ temperature recorded in London; obtain 81 marks out of a ~ of 100. The ~ load for this lorry is one ton.

^{1}may [mei] anom. fin. (p.t. might) (neg. may not, shortened to mayn't [meint] and might not shortened to mightn't [ˈmaitnt]) 1. used to indicate possibility or probability; as might is used to indicate a future condition, the perfect infinitive might have is used for past time: That may or may not be true. He may have (= Perhaps he has) missed his train. This medicine may (might) cure your cough. This might have cured your cough (i.e. if you had taken it). You may walk (it is possible to walk) for miles and miles among the hills without meeting anyone. 2. used to indicate permission or request for permission; might suggests greater hesitation or diffidence (cf. the colloq. use of can): May I come in? Might I make a suggestion? Well, if I may say so, . . . You may come if you wish. 3. used to indicate uncertainty, and asking for information, or expressing wonder: Well, who may you be? How old may (might) she be? 4. used to suggest 'There is good reason': You may well say so. Well may (might) you be surprised! We may as well stay where we are, it seems reasonable to do so. You might just as well go as not, there is just as much to be said in favour of going as there is against. 5. used to express wishes and hopes: May you both be happy! May they live long! Long may she live to enjoy her good fortune! 6. used to express requests: You might do me a favour, please do sth. for me. I think you might at least offer to help. 7. (in clauses) used to express purpose, and after wish, fear, be afraid, etc.: He died so that others might live. I'll write to him today so that he may know when to expect us. I'm afraid the news may be true. ˈmaybe adv. perhaps; possibly: as soon as maybe, as soon as possible.

May [mei] n. 1. the fifth month of the year. May Day, 1st of May, celebrated as a spring festival and also a day for socialist and labour demonstrations. May Queen, girl crowned with flowers on May Day. ˈ*may-ˌbeetle*, ˈ*may-bug n. cockchafer. ˈ*mayfly n. short-lived insect that appears in May. ˈ*maypole n. flower-decorated pole danced round on May Day. 2. (small m) hawthorn blossom.

may hem [ˈmeihem] n. (old use, and U.S.A.) maiming.

may on naise [ˌmeiəˈneiz] n. [U] thick dressing of eggs, cream, oil, vinegar, etc., used on cold foods, esp. salads; dish of food with this dressing: salmon ~.

mayor [mɛə*] n. head of a municipal corporation of a city or borough. ~ess [ˈmɛəris] n. woman ~; ~'s wife. ~al ty [ˈmɛərəlti] n. ~'s (period of) office.

maze [meiz] n. network of lines, paths, etc.; labyrinth; state of confusion or bewilderment (when faced by a confused mass of facts, etc.): be in a ~, be puzzled, bewildered. mazed adj. bewildered.

ma zur ka [məˈzə:kə] n. (piece of music for a) lively Polish dance for four or eight couples.

me [mi:, mi] pron. object form for the pronoun I: He saw me. Give me one. It's me (colloq. = It is I).

^{1}mead [mi:d] n. [U] alcoholic drink made from fermented honey and water.

^{2}mead [mi:d] n. [C] (poet.) meadow.

mead ow [ˈmedou] n. [U & C] (area, field, of) grassland, esp. kept for hay.

mea gre [ˈmi:gə*] adj. 1. thin; lacking in flesh: a ~ face. 2. insufficient; poor; scanty: a ~ meal; ~ fare; a ~ atten- dance at the council meeting. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

meal [miːl] n. [C] 1. occasion of eating: three ~s a day; breakfast, the first ~ of the day. ˈ~*time n. usual time for taking a ~. 2. food that is eaten: have a good ~.

meal [miːl] n. [U] grain coarsely ground: oat~. (Cf. flour for grain finely ground.)

meal ie [ˈmiːli] n. (S. Africa) (usu. pl.) maize.

meal y [ˈmiːli] adj. (-ier, -iest) of, like, containing, covered with, meal; (of potatoes when boiled) dry and powdery. ˈ~-*bug n. insect that infests vines, etc. ˈ~-*mouthed adj. too squeamish in the choice of words; tending to avoid plain speaking.

mean [miːn] v.t. (p.t. & p.p. ~t [ment]) 1. (VP 1) (of words, sentences, etc.) signify, import: A dictionary tells you what words ~. The Latin word 'amo' means 'I love'. The Chinese ideograph 山 here ~s 'mountain'. 2. (VP 1, 2, 3, 10, 18B, 19C) have as a purpose or plan; intend; contemplate: He ~s mischief, has an evil plan in his mind. Do you ~ business, are you ready to act or only to talk? He ~s you no harm, does not intend to hurt you. He ~s us no good. I don't ~ there to be any argument about this, shall not allow any. He ~s to succeed. He ~s his son to succeed. I didn't ~ you to see and read the letter. Is this figure ~t to be a 1 or a 7? I'm sorry if I hurt your feelings—I didn't ~ to, did not do so on purpose. He certainly ~t what he said, was serious, not joking. Is this picture ~t for me, is it intended to be a picture of me? (or) is it intended as a gift for me? Do you ~ (are you referring to) Miss Elsie Smith or Miss Dora Smith? 3. (VP 1) be a sign of; be likely to result in: This frontier incident probably ~s war. 4. (VP 3, 10) design or destine (sb or sth for . . ., to do or to be): I ~ this house for my son. I ~ you to go, am determined that you shall go. He was obviously ~t for a soldier (to be a soldier), i.e. was destined by his parents, or by Providence, to be a soldier. 5. be of importance or value to: Your friendship ~s a great deal to me, I value it highly. £20 ~s a lot to her, is quite a large sum in her view. I can't tell you what Mary has ~t to me, what a difference she has made in my life. The high cost of living ~s nothing to some people, they do not worry about it (e.g. because they are very rich). 6. ~ well (by sb.), have good intentions (towards): He ~s well by you, intends to help you, to treat you well. ~ing n. [C & U] what is ~t or intended: a word with many distinct ~ings; a passage without much ~ing. He looked at me with ~ing. adj. full of ~ing: a ~ing look; well ~ing, having good intentions. ~ing less adj. without ~ing or motive. ~ing ly adv. with ~ing.

^{2}mean [miːn] adj. (-er, -est) 1. poor in appearance; shabby-looking: a ~ house in a ~ street. 2. (of behaviour) unworthy; discreditable: That was a ~ trick! It was ~ of you to eat all the peaches! He took a ~ advantage of me. What a ~ revenge! 3. (of persons, their character, etc.) having or showing a fondness for ~ behaviour: a ~ rascal. Don't be so ~ to your little brother, don't tease him, treat him unkindly, etc. He's a ~-minded sort of fellow. 4. of low rank or humble birth: men of the ~er sort. We dispense justice even to the ~est citizens. 5. (of the understanding, the natural powers) inferior; poor: This should be clear even to the ~est intelligence. He is no ~ scholar, is a good one. 6. lacking in generosity; selfish: Her husband is rather ~ over money matters. 7. (colloq.) secretly ashamed: feel rather ~ for not helping more. ~ly adv. ~ness n. ~ie, ~y nn. (colloq.) ~-minded person: What a ~ie you are! (See def. 6 above.)

^{3}mean [miːn] n. 1. [C] condition, quality, course of action, etc., that is half-way between two extremes; (esp.) the golden (happy) ~, a moderate course of action. 2. (maths.) term between the first and the last of a series: In 1 : 3 :: 3 : 8, the ~ is 3. The ~ of 3, 5, and 7 is 5 (because 3 + 5 + 7 = 15 and 15 ÷ 3 = 5). 3. (pl., ~s, often treated as sing., a ~s) method, process, way, by which a result may be obtained: a ~s to an end, a way of achieving sth. Does the end always justify the ~s, if the aim or purpose is good, may any methods, even if bad, be employed? There is (are) no ~s of learning what is happening. by ~s of, through, with the help of: Thoughts are expressed by ~s of words. by some ~s or other, somehow or other; if not in one way then in another. by all ~s, (a) certainly. (b) at all costs. by no ~s, not at all: These goods are by no ~s satisfactory. ways and ~s, methods (esp. of providing money for government needs by taxation). by fair ~s or foul, by any methods, just or unjust. 4. (pl.) money; wealth; resources: a man of ~s, a rich man; a person of your ~s, with the wealth you have at your disposal; live within one's ~s, not spend more than one's income; have private ~s, an income from private property, etc. ~s test, inquiry into a person's ~s (e.g. as made when he seeks help from the State if unemployed or too old to work).

^{4}mean [miːn] adj. occupying the middle position between two extremes: the ~ annual temperature in Malta.

me an der [mi'ændə*] v.i. (VP 21, 23) wander here and there; (fig.) speak in an aimless way; (of a stream) follow a winding course, flowing slowly and gently. ~ing ly adv.

meant [ment] p.t. & p.p. of ^{1}mean.

mean time ['mi:n'taim], mean while ['mi:n'(h)wail] advv. & nn. (in) the time between.

mea sles ['mi:zlz] n. (sing. v.) infectious disease, marked by fever and small red spots that cover the whole body.

mea sly ['mi:zli] adj. (colloq.) of little value; of poor quality; of small size or amount: What a ~ birthday present! What a ~ helping of ice-cream!

^{1}meas ure ['meʒə*] n. 1. [U] size, quantity, degree, weight, etc., as found by a standard or unit: give full (short) ~, give the full (less than the full) amount; clothes made to ~, specially made for sb. after taking ~ments. (Note that ~ment is the more usual word when the unit is of length.) take a person's ~, (fig.) form an estimate of his character, abilities, etc. 2. [C] unit, standard, or system used in stating size, quantity, or degree: liquid (dry) ~. An inch is a ~ of length. Twenty ~s of wheat means twenty bushels. 3. [C] sth. with which to test size, quantity, etc.: a pint ~; a tape-~. A yardstick is a ~; so is a foot-rule. A chain's weakest link is the ~ of its strength. Words cannot always give the ~ of one's feelings, cannot show the depth or strength of one's feelings. 4. extent, (esp. in): beyond ~, very great(ly): Her joy was beyond ~. in some (any) ~, to some (any) extent or degree. in a great (large) ~, to a large extent: Their success was in some ~ (in a great ~) the result of thorough preparation. set ~s to, limit: set ~s to one's ambitions. 5. [C] (proposed) law. 6. [C] proceeding; step: What ~ (= plan) do you propose? They took strong ~s (acted vigorously) against dangerous drivers. 7. [U] verse-rhythm metre; time of a piece of music; [C] (arch.) dance.

^{2}meas ure ['meʒə*] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 18, 21, 23) find the size, extent, volume, degree, etc., of (sth. or sb.): ~ a piece of ground (the strength of an electric current, the speed of a car). The tailor ~d me for a suit. Can you ~ accurately? 2. (VP 20, 22) be (a certain length, etc.): This room ~s 30 feet across. 3. (VP 10) deal (out); give a ~d quantity of: ~ out a dose of medicine; mark out: ~ off 2 metres of cloth. 4. ~ one's length, fall flat on the ground. ~ swords with sb., (fig.) try one's strength against him. ~ one's strength (with sb.), try or test it. meas ured ['meʒəd] adj. 1. (of language) considered and weighed: ~d words. 2. in slow and regular rhythm: with a ~d tread. 3. exact: tested for speed over a ~d mile. meas ur a ble ['meʒərəbl] adj. that can be ~d: We came within measurable distance of (close to) success. meas ur a bly adv. ~ment ['meʒəmənt] n. 1. [U] measuring: the metric system of ~ment. 2. (pl.) figures about length, breadth, depth, etc.: the ~ments of a room.

meat [mi:t] n. 1. [U] flesh of animals used as food, excluding fish and birds: ~-eating animals; cold ~, meat that has been cooked and has then become cold; chilled (frozen) ~, meat chilled (frozen) in order to keep it in good condition; fresh ~, from a recently killed animal. '~-safe n. cupboard for storing ~, usu. with sides of wire gauze. ~ pie n. ~ cooked with a covering of pastry. a ~ tea, *high tea with some kind of ~ dish included. 2. (old use) food in general: ~ and drink; say grace before ~, before eating a meal. There's not much ~ in this argument, (fig.) nothing substantial. ~less adj. without ~: ~less days during the war. ~y adj. (-ier, -iest) (fig.) full of substance; substantial.

Mec ca ['mekə] n. (from the name of Muhammad's birthplace) goal of one's ambitions; place one is anxious to visit: Stratford-on-Avon, the ~ of tourists.

me chan ic [mi'kænik] n. skilled workman, esp. one who makes or uses machinery: a motor-~. me chan ics n. 1. (usu. with sing. v.) science of motion and force; science of machinery: M~s is taught by Mr Hill. 2. (pl.) (method of) construction: the ~s of play-writing.

me chan i cal [mi'kænikl] adj. 1. of, connected with, produced by, machines: ~ power; ~ transport. 2. (of persons, their actions) like machines; automatic; as if done without thought: ~ movements. ~ly adv. in a ~ way: ~ly operated. (Cf. manually.)

mech a ni cian [,mekə'niʃən] n. person skilled in constructing machinery.

mech a nism ['mekənizəm] n. [C] 1. working parts of a machine collectively; structure or arrangement of parts that work together as the parts of a machine do: the ~ of the body; the ~ of government. 2. way in which sth. works or is constructed.

mech a nize ['mekənaiz] v.t. (VP 1) use machines in or for; give a mechanical character to: ~ed forces, e.g. in the army, using motor transport instead of horses or mules. mech a ni za tion [,mekənai'zeiʃən] n.

med al ['medl] n. flat piece of metal, usu. shaped like a coin, with words and a design stamped on it, given as an award, or to commemorate sth. ~list (U.S.A. ~ist) n. person who has been awarded

A medal
B. bar

a ~ (e.g. for distinction in literature or art).

me dal lion [mi'dæljən] n. large medal; large, flat circular ornamental design (e.g. on a carpet or on a lace curtain).

med dle ['medl] v.i. (VP 21, 24) busy oneself (in . . .) without being asked to do so; interfere (with . . .): Don't ~ in my affairs. Who has been meddling with my papers? You're always meddling. med dler n. person who ~s. ~some ['medlsəm] adj. fond of, in the habit of, meddling.

me di a ['mi:diə] n. see medium.

me di æ val, see medieval.

me dial ['mi:djəl] adj. 1. situated in the middle. 2. of average size. ~ly adv.

me dian ['mi:djən] adj. situated in, passing through, the middle.

me di ate ['mi:dieit] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 23, 24) act as go-between or peacemaker: ~ between two warring countries (between employers and their workers). 2. (VP 1) bring about by doing this: ~ a settlement (a peace). me di a tion [ˌmi:di'eiʃən] n. [U] mediating: All offers of mediation by a third party were rejected. me di a tor ['mi:dieitə*] n. one who ~s; (M~) Jesus Christ.

med i cal ['medikəl] adj. 1. of the art of medicine (the treatment of disease): a ~ school; ~ students (knowledge); ~ jurisprudence, legal knowledge required by a doctor; my ~ man, (colloq.) my doctor. 2. of the art of medicine (contrasted with surgery): The hospital has a ~ ward and a surgical ward. n. (colloq.) ~ student. ~ly adv.

med i ca ment [me'dikəmənt, 'medik-] n. substance used in medical treatment, internally or externally. (Cf. medicine, def. 2.)

med i cat ed ['medikeitid] adj. (of a liquid, cloth, etc.) impregnated with a medical substance: ~ soap (gauze).

me dic i nal [me'disinl] adj. having medical properties: ~ preparations for both internal and external use.

med i cine ['medsin] n. 1. [U] the art and science of the prevention and cure of disease: study ~ and surgery; a Doctor of M~. 2. [U & C] (kind of) substance, esp. one taken through the mouth, used in ~: He's always taking ~s. He takes too much ~. This is a good (kind of) ~ for a cough. (Note: for remedies not taken through the mouth, see lotion, ointment, injection, medicinal preparation.) take one's ~, (fig.) submit to what is unwelcome and disagreeable. '~-*ball n. stuffed leather ball thrown and caught for physical exercise. '~-*chest n. chest with a selection of useful medicinal preparations. (Cf. first-aid kit.) 3. [U] (among primitive peoples) spell; charm; fetish; magic. '~-*man n. witch-doctor.

med i co ['medikou] n. (pl. ~s) (colloq., hum.) doctor.

med i e val [ˌmedi'i:vəl] adj. of the Middle Ages (about A.D. 1100–1500).

me di o cre ['mi:dioukə*, ˌmi:di'oukə*] adj. not very good; neither very good nor very bad; second-rate. me di oc ri ty [ˌmi:di'ɔkriti] n. [U] quality of being ~; [C] person who is ~ (in qualities, abilities, etc.): a Government of mediocrities.

med i tate ['mediteit] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) think about; consider: ~ revenge (mischief). 2. (VP 21, 24) give oneself up to serious thought (on, upon): He sat there meditating upon his misfortunes.

med i ta tion [ˌmedi'teiʃən] n. 1. [U] meditating: deep in ~. 2. [C] instance of this: 'A M~ on a Broomstick' (treatise by Swift); 'The M~s of Marcus Aurelius'. med i ta tive ['meditətiv, -teit-] adj. of ~; fond of ~. med i ta tive ly adv.

me dium ['mi:djəm] n. (pl. ~s or media ['mi:djə]) 1. that by which sth. is done: Commercial television is a ~ for advertising. Vacant positions can be made known through the ~ of the press, by putting announcements in newspapers. Oil paints and water colours are ~s for the creation of works of art. 2. middle quality or degree: stick to a happy ~, avoid extremes (e.g. by being neither very lax nor very severe in maintaining discipline). 3. (pl. often media) substance, surrounding, in which sth. exists or through which sth. moves: Air is the ~ of sound. 4. person who acts as a go-between, esp. in spiritualism; person who claims to be able to receive messages from the spirits of the dead. adj. coming half-way between; not extreme: a man of ~ height; ~ waves (in radio, between long and short).

med lar ['medlə*] n. (tree with) fruit like a small brown apple, eaten when it begins to decay.

med ley ['medli] n. [C] mixture of things or persons of different sorts: the ~ of races in Hawaii.

meed [mi:d] n. (poet.) deserved portion (of praise, etc.).

meek [mi:k] adj. mild and patient; unprotesting (the contrary of self-assertive): She's as ~ as a lamb. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

meer schaum ['miəʃəm] n. [U] white clay-like substance; [C] tobacco pipe with a bowl made of this.

¹meet [mi:t] v.t. & i. (p.t. & p.p. met) 1. (VP 1, 10, 21, 23, 24) come face to face with (sb. or sth. coming from the opposite or a different direction); come together from different points or directions: ~ sb. in the street. We met (each other) quite by chance. Good-bye till we

~ again. The two trains ~ (i.e. pass each other) at Crewe. We write regularly but seldom ~, see each other. Can you ~ (i.e. face) misfortune with a smile? The Debating Society ~s every Friday at 8 p.m. ~ with, (a) experience: ~ with misfortune (an accident, great kindness). (b) come upon by chance: ~ with obstacles; ~ with an old friend at a dinner party. 2. (VP 1, 21) make the acquaintance of; be introduced to: I know Mrs Hill by sight, but have never met her. (As a form of introduction, esp. U.S.A.) M~ my wife. Pleased to ~ you. 3. (VP 1) go to a place and await the arrival of: Shall you ~ your sister at the station? I'll ~ your train. The hotel bus ~s all the trains. 4. (VP 1) satisfy (a demand, etc.): ~ sb.'s wishes, do what he wants; ~ a bill, pay it at the right time; ~ a person half-way, compromise, give way to some extent in order to satisfy him. Will this ~ the case, be adequate, satisfactory? Can you ~ their objections (criticisms), answer them in a satisfactory way? Have we enough money with us to ~ all expenses? 5. (VP 1, 21) come into contact; touch: Their hands met. His hand met hers. My waistcoat won't ~, is too small to be buttoned. make both ends ~, make one's income and one's expenditure equal. ~ the eye (ear), be visible (audible). ~ sb.'s eye, see that he is looking at one, look back at him: She was afraid to ~ my eye.

^{2}meet [mi:t] n. 1. (Gt. Brit.) gathering of riders and hounds at a fixed place (for foxhunting). 2. (U.S.A.) coming together of a number of people for a purpose: an athletic ~; a track (swimming) ~. (Meeting is the usual word in Gt. Brit.)

^{3}meet [mi:t] adj. (arch.) right; suitable; proper (for, to do, to be done).

meet ing ['mi:tiŋ] n. 1. coming together of a number of persons at a certain time and place, esp. for discussion: political ~s. Mr X. will now address the ~. '~-*house n. building for ~s, esp. those held by Quakers. '~-*place n. place fixed for a ~. 2. any coming together: a race-~; a sports-~. The ~ between Mr Hill and his family was a joyful one. She is shy at a first ~, when she meets sb. for the first time.

meg a cy cle ['megəˌsaikl] n. [C] million cycles (of changes of radio current).

meg a lith ['megəliθ] n. large stone, esp. one used as a monument. ~ic [ˌmegə'liθik] adj. made of ~s; marked by the use of ~s (esp. in very early times).

meg a lo ma nia ['megəlou'meinjə] n. [U] form of madness that gives a person the idea that his importance is very great: The dictator was obviously suffering from ~

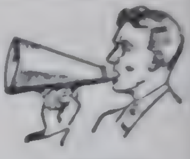
meg a phone ['megəfoun] n. [C] horn for speaking through, carrying the voice to a distance.



A megaphone

me grim ['mi:grim] n. (arch.) 1. migraine. 2. (pl.) low spirits.

mei o sis [mai'ousis] n. = litotes.

mel an cho lia [ˌmelən'kouljə] n. [U] mental illness marked by low spirits and fears that have no real cause.

mel an chol ic [ˌmelən'kɔlik] adj. melancholy; with a tendency to melancholy.

mel an cho ly ['melənkɔli] n. [U] sadness; low spirits. adj. sad; low-spirited, causing sadness or low spirits: ~ news; a ~ occasion (e.g. a funeral).

mé lange [mei'lɑ̃:nʒ, (Fr. melɑ̃:ʒ)] n. mixture; medley.

mê lée ['melei] n. (Fr.) confused struggle; confused crowd of people.

mel lif lu ous [me'lifluəs] adj. (of a person's voice or words, of music, etc.) sweet-sounding, smooth-flowing.

mel low ['melou] adj. (-er, -est) 1. soft and sweet in taste; soft, pure, and rich in colour or sound: a ~ wine; the ~ colours of the roofs in Dubrovnik. 2. made wise and sympathetic by age or experience. 3. (colloq.) genial; slightly intoxicated. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) make or become ~. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

me lod ic [mi'lɔdik, me-] adj. of melody; melodious.

me lo dious [mi'loudjəs] adj. of, producing, melody; sweet-sounding: the ~ notes of a thrush. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

mel o dra ma ['meləˌdra:mə, -lou-] n. 1. [C] exciting and emotional drama, usu. with a happy ending; event, or series of events, piece of behaviour or writing, which suggests a stage ~. 2. [U] language, behaviour, suggestive of plays of this kind; such plays as a branch of dramatic art. me lo dra mat ic [ˌmeloudrə'mætik] adj. of, like, suitable for, ~. me lo dra mat i cal ly adv.

mel o dy ['melədi] n. 1. [U] sweet music; tunefulness; musical arrangement of words: a master of ~ 2. [C] song or tune: old Irish melodies. 3. [C] principal part or thread in harmonized music: The ~ is next taken up by the flutes.

mel on ['melən] n. (kinds of) large, juicy round fruit growing on a plant that trails along the ground: a slice of ~.

a slice of melon

melt [melt] v.t. & i. (p.t & p.p. ~ed; p.p. as adj., of metal, molten* ['moultən]) 1. (VP 1, 10, 21, 23) (cause to) become liquid through heating: The ice will ~ when the sun shines on it. The hot sun soon ~ed the ice. It is easy to ~ butter. ~ away, (VP 23) become less, disappear, by ~ing: The snow soon ~ed away when he sun came out. The fog ~ed away. Her money seemed to ~ away in Paris. The crowd quickly ~ed away (= dis-persed) when the storm broke. ~ down, VP 10) ~ (articles of gold and silver) in order to use the metal as raw material. 2. (VP 21) (of soft food) dissolve, be softened, easily: This cake (pear) ~s in the mouth 3. (VP 1, 21) (of a solid n a liquid) dissolve: Sugar ~s in tea. 4. (VP 1, 21) (of a person, heart, feelings) soften, be softened: Her heart ~ed with pity Pity ~ed her heart. She ~ed into ears. 5. (VP 23) fade; go (slowly) away: One colour ~ed into another (e.g. n the sky at sunset). ~ing adj. (fig.) ender; sentimental: in a ~ing voice mood). '~ing-point n. temperature at which a solid ~s: Lead has a lower ~ing-point than iron. '~ing-pot n pot n which metals, etc., are ~ed: go into he ~ing-pot, (fig.) undergo a revolution.

em ber ['membə*] n. 1. person be-onging to a group, society, etc.: a ~ of he university (a club); a M~ of Parlia-nent. Every ~ of her family came to er wedding. 2. (old use) part of a human or animal body: The tongue is ometimes called 'the unruly ~'. ~ship . 1. [U] the state of being a ~ (of society, etc.). 2. number of ~s: The ociety has a large ~ship (a ~ship of 80).

em brane ['membrein] n. [C] soft, hin, skin-like covering or lining, or onnecting part, in an animal or veget-able body; [U] tissue of which such overings, etc., are made. mem bra-ous [mem'breinəs] adj. of or like ~.

e men to [mi'mentou] n. (pl. ~s, ~es) th. that serves to remind one of a per-on or event.

em o ['memou] n. short for memo-andum.

em oir ['memwɑ:*] n 1. short life-istory, esp. by someone with first-and knowledge; biographical notice .g. in a periodical). 2. essay on a arned subject specially studied by the riter. 3 (pl.) person's written account f his own life or experiences: the flood f war ~s by generals and politicians.

em o ra ble ['memərəbl] adj. deserv-g to be remembered. mem o ra bly dv.

em o ran dum [,memə'rændəm] n l. -da or -dums) 1. note or record for uture use: make a ~ of sth 2. informal u-iness communication, usu. without personal signature, on paper headed I- (or memo.) 3. report of an agree-ent that has been reached but not yet rmally drawn up and signed: M~ and rticles of association, legal document r this

e mo ri al [mə'mɔ:riəl] n. 1. sth. ade or done to remind people of an event, person, etc.: a ~ to the dead. In most English villages there is a war ~, a monument with the names of men from the village killed in the two world wars. 2. (attrib. use) serving to keep in mind: a ~ tablet (e.g. in the wall of a church, in memory of someone); a ~ service. M~ Day, (U.S.A.) day set aside by law for honouring the memory of members of the armed forces killed in war (30 May in most States). 3. (usu. pl.) historical records or chronicles. 4. written statement of facts, views, etc., sent to authorities making a request or protest. ~ize v.t. (VP 1) 1. present a ~ (def. 4) to. 2. commemorate (which is the more usual word).

mem o rize ['meməraiz] v.t. (VP 1) learn by heart; commit to memory.

mem o ry ['meməri] n. 1. [U] power of keeping facts in the conscious mind and of being able to call them back at will; preservation of past experience for future use: speak from ~, i.e. without referring to notes, etc.: to the best of my ~, as far as I can remember. Commit the poem to ~, learn it by heart. 2. [C] this power in an individual (also used, by extension, of electronic computers): Some people have better memories than others. He has a bad ~ for dates. 3. [U] period over which the ~ can go back: within living ~, within the years that people now alive can remember; beyond (within) the ~ of men. 4. [C] sth. that is remembered; sth. from the past stored in the ~: memories of childhood. 5. [U] reputation after death (esp. of saints, great rulers): the late king (pope), of blessed ~ mem-sa hib ['mem,sɑ:hib] n. (In India and Pakistan) European married woman men [men] n. pl. of man.

men ace ['menəs] n. [C & U] danger; threat: a ~ to world peace; in a speech filled with ~. v.t. (VP 1) threaten: countries ~d by (with) war. men ac-ing ly adv. in a threatening manner.

mé nage [me'nɑ:ʒ, (Fr.) menɑ:ʒ] n. household management; domestic establishment.

me nag er ie [mi'nædʒəri] n. collection of wild animals in cages, etc., esp. for a travelling circus.

mend [mend] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) remake, repair, set right (sth. broken, worn out, or torn); restore to good condition or working order: ~ shoes (a broken window). 2. (VP 1, 21) (= amend) free from faults or errors: ~ one's ways. That won't ~ (improve) matters. It's never too late to ~, (prov.) reform one's way of living. 3. (VP 21) regain health: The patient is ~ing nicely. 4. (VP 1) ~ one's pace, quicken it; walk faster; ~ the fire, put more coal on it n. hole, damaged or torn part, that has been ~ed: The ~s were almost invisible. on the ~, improving in health or condition. ~er n. (chiefly in compounds) one who ~s: road-~er. ~ing n. (esp.) work of ~ing (clothes, etc.): invisible ~ing, by weaving into the material threads of the same size, colour, etc., and in the same design; a basketful of ~ing, of clothes, etc., to be ~ed.

men da cious [men'deiʃəs] adj. false; untruthful: ~ newspaper reports. ~ly adv. men dac i ty [men'dæsiti] n. [U] untruthfulness; [C] untrue statement.

men di cant ['mendikənt] n. & adj. (person) getting a living as a beggar; ~ friars.

men folk ['menfouk] n. pl. (colloq.) men, esp. the men of a family: The ~ have all gone out fishing.

me nial ['mi:njəl] adj. 1. suitable for, to be done by, a household servant: She has to spend too much time on such ~ tasks as washing pots and pans. 2. (of persons, usu. derog.) domestic: the ~ staff, the servants. n. (usu. derog.) ~ servant.

men in gi tis [ˌmenin'dʒaitis] n. [U] (serious illness caused by) inflammation of the membranes covering the brain and spinal cord.

men o pause ['menəpɔ:z, -ou-] n. final cessation of the menses (at the age of about 50).

men ses ['mensi:z] n. pl. monthly bleeding from the uterus. men strual ['menstruəl] adj. of the ~. men stru ate ['menstrueit] v.i. discharge the ~. men stru a tion [ˌmenstru'eiʃən] n.

men su ra tion [ˌmensjuə'reiʃən] n. mathematical rules for finding length, area, and volume. men su ra ble ['menʃurəbl] adj. that can be measured; having fixed limits.

men tal ['mentl] adj. of or in the mind: ~ arithmetic, done in the head, not on paper; a ~ test, one of which the purpose is to learn about a person's capacities and characteristics; ~ age, person's ~ level measured in terms of the average age of children having the same ~ standard; a ~ patient, person suffering an illness of the mind; a ~ specialist, doctor who studies ~ illness; a ~ home (hospital), one for ~ patients; a ~ reservation, one concerning a statement, oath, etc., present in the mind but not spoken in words. ~ly adv. ~ly deficient, ~ly defective, suffering from ~ illness; unable to profit from the ordinary kind of school education.

men tal i ty [men'tæliti] n. 1. [U] general intellectual character; degree of intellectual power: persons of average ~. 2. [C] characteristic attitude of mind: a war ~.

men thol ['menθɔl] n. [U] solid white substance resembling camphor, u (e.g. by being rubbed on the skin) relieve neuralgia, etc.

men tion ['menʃən] v.t. (VP 1, 11, 17 18B) speak or write sth. about; say th name of; refer to: He ~ed to me th he had seen you. I shall ~ it to hi Did I hear my name ~ed, was somebod talking about me? not to ~, withou ~ing, phrases used either to excu mention of sth. unimportant or to em phasize sth. important: We're too bus to take a long holiday this year, not to the fact that we can't afford it. Don't it, phrase used to indicate that thank an apology, etc., are unnecessary. n. [U] ~ing or naming: He made no of your request. 2. [C] brief notice o reference: a soldier who has receive several honourable ~s in dispatche -men tioned adj. (with an adv. pre fixed) above-mentioned, below-mentione referred to above, below.

men tor ['mentɔ:*] n. adviser and helpe (of an inexperienced person).

men u ['menju:] n. bill of fare; list o courses at a meal or of dishes that ca be served in a restaurant.

Meph is to phe le an, (li an) [ˌmefista 'fi:ljən] adj. of or like Mephistophele [ˌmeʃis'tɔfili:z] (the devil in the Faus legend); fiendish.

mer can tile ['mə:kəntail] adj. of trade commerce, and merchants: ~ marine country's merchant ships and seamen.

mer ce na ry ['mə:sənəri] adj. workin only for money or other reward; in spired by love of money: ~ politicians act from ~ motives. n. soldier hired fo pay to serve in a foreign army.

mer cer ['mə:sə*] n. dealer in wove materials, esp. silk and other expensiv goods.

mer cer ize ['mə:səraiz] v.t. (VP 1) trea (cotton goods) so that they are bette able to take dyes and become glossy lik silk: ~d cotton.

mer chan dise ['mə:tʃəndaiz] n. [U goods bought and sold; trade goods.

mer chant ['mə:tʃənt] n. 1. (usu. wholesale) trader, esp. one doing business with foreign countries; (attrib.) ~ ships; th ~ service (marine), the ~ ships collec tively; a ~-seaman, sailor in a ~-ship 2. (with prefix) person trading inside country in the goods indicated: a coal-~ (wine-~). 3. (sl.) person who is very fond of (sth.) or addicted to (sth.): speed ~, person who likes to drive a high speeds. ~man n. ~ ship.

mer ci ful ['mə:siful] adj. having, showing, feeling mercy (to). ~ly adv ~ness n.

mer ci less ['mə:silis] adj. showing no mercy; pitiless (to). ~ly adv.

mer cu ri al [mə:'kjuəriəl] adj. 1. of like, caused by, containing, mercury ~ ointment; ~ poisoning. 2. (fig.) lively; quickwitted: a ~ temperament. 3. (of persons) changeable; inconstant.

ner cu ry ['mə:kjuri] n. [U] (also called quicksilver) heavy, silver-coloured metal (usu. liquid, as in thermometers and barometers).

ner cy ['mə:si] n. 1. [U] (capacity for) holding oneself back from punishing, or from causing suffering to, sb. whom one has the right or power to punish; They showed little ~ to their enemies. We were given no ~. He threw himself on my ~, begged me to have ~ on him, not to punish him, etc. The jury brought in a verdict of guilty, with a recommendation to ~, asking that the punishment should not be too severe. at the ~ of, in the power of: The ship was at the ~ of the waves, was out of control, likely to be wrecked, etc. be left to the tender ~ (mercies) of, be exposed to the probably unkind, rough, or cruel treatment of. 2. [C] piece of good fortune; sth. to be thankful for: That's a ~! We must be thankful for small mercies. 3. M~! M~ on us! exclamations of surprise or (often pretended) terror.

nere [miə*] n. pond; small lake.

nere [miə*] adj. not more than: She's a ~ child. It's a ~ (the ~st) trifle, nothing at all important, nothing of any value, etc. ~ly adv. only; simply: I ~ly asked his name. I said it ~ly as a joke.

ner e tri cious [ˌmeri'triʃəs] adj. attractive on the surface but of little value: ~ jewellery; a ~ style, superficially attractive. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

nerge [mə:dʒ] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 18, 21, 23) (cause to) become part of or absorbed in sth. greater; (esp. of two business companies) become, cause to become, one: The small banks were ~d into one large organization. Twilight ~d into darkness. His fear was gradually ~d in curiosity to know what was happening. merg er n. [U] merging; [C] instance of this; combining of estates, business companies, etc.

ne rid i an [mə'ridiən] n. 1. (half-) circle round the globe, passing through a given place and the north and south poles: the ~ of Greenwich (of longitude 0° on British maps). 2. highest point reached by the sun or other star as viewed from a point on the earth's surface; 12 noon. 3. (fig.) period of greatest splendour, success, power, etc. adj. of a ~: ~ line (altitude); (fig.) in his ~ splendour.

ne rid i o nal [mə'ridiənl] adj. of the south; of the south of Europe, esp. the south of France.

ne ringue [mə'ræŋ] n. [C] cake made of white of egg and sugar.

ne ri no [mə'ri:nou] n. (pl. ~s) 1. (also ~-sheep) kind of sheep with long, fine wool. 2. [U] yarn or cloth from this wool; soft wool and cotton material.

mer it ['merit] n. 1. [U] quality or fact of deserving well; worth; excellence: There isn't much ~ in giving away things you don't value or want. Do men of ~ always win recognition? She was awarded a certificate of ~ for her piano playing. 2. [C] quality, fact, action, etc., that deserves reward (or, less often, punishment): We must decide the case on its ~s, according to the rights and wrongs of the case, without being influenced by personal feelings. make a ~ of sth., represent it as deserving reward or praise: Don't make a ~ of being punctual—it's only what we expect of you. v.t. (VP 1) deserve; be worthy of: ~ reward.

mer i to ri ous [ˌmeri'to:riəs] adj. praiseworthy; deserving reward: a prize for ~ conduct. ~ly adv.

mer maid ['mə:meid] mer man ['mə:mæn] nn. (in tales) woman, man, with a fish's tail in place of legs.

mer ry ['meri] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. happy; cheerful; bright and gay: a ~ laugh; wish sb. a ~ Christmas. make ~, be gay and cheerful; laugh, talk, sing, and feast. '~-ˌmaking n. [U] being joyful and gay. '~-go-ˌround n. revolving machine with wooden horses, cars, etc., on which children ride at fun fairs, etc. 2. (old use) pleasant: the ~ month of May; M~ England. mer ri ly adv. mer ri ment n.

A merry-go-round

mé sal li ance [me'zæliəns, (Fr. mezaljɑ̃:s)] n. marriage with a person of lower social position.

mes dames ['meidæm, (Fr. medam)] n. pl. of madame.

me seems [mi'si:mz] v.i. (old use) it seems to me (that . . .).

mesh [meʃ] n. 1. one of the spaces in a net or wire screen: a net with half-inch ~es. 2. (pl.) network: the ~es of a spider's web; (fig.) entangled in the ~es of political intrigue. 3. (mechanics) in ~, (of the geared teeth of wheels) engaged, interlocked. v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) catch (e.g. fish) in a net. 2. (VP 21, 23) (of toothed wheels) interlock, be engaged (with others).

mes mer ism ['mezmərizəm] n. [U] (method, power, of gaining) control over sb.'s personality and actions by the exercise of will-power; the sleep-like condition thus produced in the person over whom this control is gained. mes mer ic [mez'merik] adj. of ~. mes mer ist ['mezmərist] n. person who practises ~. mes mer ize ['mezməraiz] v.t. (VP 1) exercise ~ on.

¹mess [mes] n. (with indef art., but rarely pl.) state of confusion, dirt, or disorder: The workmen cleaned up the ~ before they left. Who's going to clear up the ~ made by the cat? You've made a ~ of the job, have done it very badly. He has got into another ~, is in trouble again. A nice ~ you've made of it, you've spoilt it! I've never seen so much ~ and disorder! v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10) make a ~ of; put into disorder or confusion: The late arrival of the train ~ed up all our plans. '~-up n. (colloq.) disorder or confusion: There's been a bit of a ~-up (a misunderstanding, a failure to do what was needed) about booking seats for that concert. 2. ~ about, (a) (VP 23) do things with no very definite plan; behave foolishly. (b) (VP 10) make a mess or muddle (of sth.); treat (sb.) roughly or inconsiderately. ~y adj. (-ier, -iest) dirty; in a state of disorder: a messy job, (e.g.) one that makes the hands and clothes dirty.

²mess [mes] n. [C] company of persons taking meals together (esp. in the Armed Forces); these meals; the room, etc., in which the meals are eaten: '~-ˌjacket n. (uniform) jacket worn at ~. '~mate n. member of the same ~ (esp. a ship's ~ in the Navy). v.i. eat meals (with ...): The five young men ~ together. ~ing allowance n. money allowed (in the Armed Forces) for cost of meals in a ~.

mes sage ['mesidʒ] n. 1. piece of news, or a request, sent to sb.: Wireless ~s told us that the ship was sinking. 2. errand: go on a ~, go somewhere to do sth. for sb.; go on an errand. 3. sth. announced by a prophet and said to be inspired; teaching: the ~ of H. G. Wells to his age.

mes sen ger ['mesindʒə*] n. person carrying a message.

Mes si ah [mi'saiə] n. person expected by the Jews to come and set them free: the Saviour, Jesus Christ.

mes sieurs [mes'jə:, (Fr. mesjø)] n. (pl. of monsieur) gentlemen.

Messrs. ['mesəz] n. (abbrev. of Messieurs) used as the pl. of Mr before a list of men's names: ~ Smith, Brown, and Robinson, and before names of business firms: ~ T. Brown & Co.

mes suage ['meswidʒ] n. (legal term) dwelling-house with the outbuildings and land that go with it.

mes ti zo [mes'ti:zou] n. (pl. ~s) Spanish or Portuguese half-caste (esp. with an American Indian as one of the parents).

met, see meet.

Met. [met] n. (abbrev of) Meteorological: get the latest ~ report (issued by the Met. Office on the weather).

me tab o lism [me'tæbəlizəm] n. [U] process by which food is built up into living matter or by which living matter is broken down into simple su stances. me ta bol ic [ˌmetə'bɔlik] ad
of ~.

met al ['metl] n. 1. [C] any of a class mineral substances such as tin, iro gold, and copper: a worker in ~s; '~-ˌworker. 2. [U] one of these (as material noun): Is it made of wood or ~
3. [U] (also road-~) broken stone us for making roads or (the beds of) ra ways. 4. (pl.) railway-lines: The tra left (jumped) the ~s. 5. = mettle. v.
(-ll-; U.S.A. also -l-) (VP 1) repair a ro with ~ (def. 3). ~led roads; a ~led ro surface.

me tal lic [mi'tælik] adj. of or like meta
a ~ currency, i.e. with metal coins; compounds; ~ sounds (e.g. as made b brass objects struck together).

me tal lur gy [me'tælədʒi, mi-] n. [U] a of separating metal from ore, purifyin it, and of working in metal. me ta lur gist n. expert in ~. met al lur g cal [ˌmetə'lə:dʒikəl] adj. of ~.

met a mor phose [ˌmetə'mɔ:fouz] v.
(VP 1, 18) change in form, change th nature of: Circe ~d the companions Odysseus into swine.

met a mor pho sis [ˌmetə'mɔ:fəsis]
(pl. -ses [-si:z]) change of form or cha acter (e.g. by natural growth or develop ment): the ~ in the life of an insect (fro the egg, etc.); the social ~ that is occu ring in China.

met a phor ['metəfə*] n. [U & (example of) the use of words to indica sth. different from the literal meanin as in 'I'll make him eat his words'
'He has a heart of stone'. (Cf. simile
'a heart like stone'.) ~i cal [ˌmet
'fɔrikəl] adj. of or like a ~; containin or using ~s. ~i cal ly adv.

met a phys ics [ˌmetə'fiziks] n. (sing. v
1. branch of philosophy dealing wit the nature of existence, truth, and know ledge: M~ deals with abstractions. D we need a new ~? (Note: on the analog of French and German, metaphysic sometimes used, meaning 'system ~'.) 2. (popular use) mere theory abstract talk. met a phys i cal ad of ~; based on abstract reasoning.

mete [mi:t] v.t. (VP 10) (liter.) portion measure (out): ~ out rewards (punis ments). Justice was ~d out to them.

me teor ['mi:tjə*] n. [C] small bod rushing from outer space into th earth's atmosphere and becoming brig (as a 'shooting star' or 'falling star') it is burnt up.

me te or ic [ˌmi:ti'ɔrik] adj. 1. of th atmosphere or of atmospheric cond tions; of meteors. 2. (fig.) swift an dazzling; brilliant: a ~ career. me te or i cal ly adv. in a ~ (def. 2) manne me teor ite ['mi:tjərait] n. [C] falle meteor; meteoric stone.

me teor ol o gy [ˌmiːtjəˈrɔlədʒi] n. [U] science of the weather; study of the earth's atmosphere and its changes. me teor ol o gist n. expert in ~. me teor o log i cal [ˌmiːtjərəˈlɔdʒikəl] adj. of ~: weather forecasts from the Central Meteorological Office.

me ter [ˈmiːtə*] n. [C] apparatus which measures, esp. one that records the amount of whatever passes through it, or the distance travelled, fare payable, etc.: a gas-~; a water-~; an exposure-~, for measuring the time needed for exposure of photographic film, etc.; a parking-~, one that measures the time during which a car is (for a fee) parked in a public place; shillings mounting up on the ~ (e.g. of a taxi-cab).

A meter

me ter [ˈmiːtə*] n. = metre.

meth ane [ˈmeθein] n. [U] odourless, colourless inflammable gas (CH_4) that occurs in coal-mines (as fire damp, causing explosions) and (as natural gas, marsh gas) on marshy areas.

me thinks [miˈθiŋks] v.i. (old use; p.t. methought) it seems to me.

meth od [ˈmeθəd] n. 1. [U] system, orderliness: He's a man of ~. There's ~ in his madness, his behaviour, etc., is not so unreasonable as it seems. 2. [C] way of doing sth.: modern ~s of teaching arithmetic; ~s of payment (e.g. cash, cheques, monthly instalments). ~i cal [miˈθɔdikəl] adj. 1. done, carried out, with order or ~: ~ical work. 2. doing things with ~; having orderly habits: a ~ical worker. ~i cal ly adv. ~ol o gy [ˌmeθəˈdɔlədʒi] n. [U] science or study of ~ (esp. in academic subjects).

Meth od ism [ˈmeθədizəm] n. teaching, organization, and manner of worship in the Christian denomination started by John Wesley. Meth od ist adj. & n. (member) of this denomination.

me thought [miˈθɔːt] p.t. of methinks.

Me thu se lah [miˈθjuːzələ] n. (in the Bible) man stated to have lived 969 years; (hence) type of longevity.

meth yl [ˈmeθil] n. ~ alcohol, kind of alcohol (also called wood spirit) present in many organic compounds.

meth yl at ed [ˈmeθileitid] adj. ~ spirit, [U] form of alcohol (made unfit for drinking) used for lighting and heating.

me tic u lous [miˈtikjuləs] adj. giving, showing, great attention to detail; careful and exact (in). ~ly adv.

mé tier [ˈmetiei, (Fr. metje)] n. one's trade, profession, or line of business.

me tre (U.S.A. meter) [ˈmiːtə*] n. unit of length in the metric system. (See Appendix 1.)

me tre (U.S.A. meter) [ˈmiːtə*] n. [U] verse rhythm; [C] particular form of this; fixed arrangement of accented and unaccented syllables.

met ric [ˈmetrik] adj. of the ^{1}metre: the ~ system, the decimal measuring system based on the metre as the unit of length, the gramme as the unit of weight, and the litre as the unit of capacity.

met ri cal [ˈmetrikəl] adj. 1. of, composed in, ^{2}metre (contrasted with ordinary prose): a ~ translation of the Iliad. 2. connected with measurement: ~ geometry. ~ly adv.

Metro [ˈmetrou] n. the ~, (colloq. abbrev. of) the Metropolitan Railway (in London and its suburbs). ~land n. outer suburban areas of London served by this railway.

met ro nome [ˈmetrənoum] n. instrument for marking time in music (by means of a pendulum, etc.).

me trop o lis [miˈtrɔpəlis] n. chief city of a country; capital; (in Gt. Brit.) the ~, London.

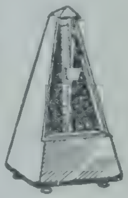
met ro pol i tan [ˌmetrəˈpɔlitən] adj. of a metropolis: the ~ police; of an ecclesiastical province: a ~ bishop, one having authority over the bishops of a province; (in the Greek Church) bishop ranking above an archbishop. n. 1. person who lives in a metropolis. 2. (M.) ~ bishop.



A metronome

met tle [ˈmetl] n. [U] quality (e.g. in persons, horses) of endurance and courage: a man of ~; a horse that is full of ~; try sb.'s ~, test his quality. on one's ~, roused to do one's best, in a position that tests one's ~: He was put on his ~. ~some adj. high-spirited.

^{1}mew [mjuː] n. (also sea-mew) gull, esp. the common sea-gull.

^{2}mew [mjuː] n. sound made by a cat. (See miaow.) v.i. (VP 21) make this sound: We heard the mewing of a cat.

^{3}mew [mjuː] v.t. (VP 1, 10) shut up; confine: mew sb. (oneself) up.

mews [mjuːz] n. (with sing. v.) (orig.) square or street of stables; number of stables round an open yard; (modern use) such stables rebuilt for use as garages or converted into flats, etc.: living in a South Kensington ~.

mez za nine [ˈmezəniːn] n. & adj. (floor) between ground floor and first floor, often in the form of a balcony.

mez zo [ˈmedzou, ˈmetsou] adv. (music) moderately, half: ~ forte, moderately loud.

mez zo-so pra no [ˈmedzousəˈprɑːnou, ˈmetsou-] n. (person with, part for) voice between soprano and contralto.

mez zo tint [ˈmedzoutint, ˈmetsou-] n. (print produced by) method of printing from a metal plate which has been roughened uniformly and then scraped to make the picture.

mi aow [miˈau] n. & v.i. (make the) cry of a cat. (See ^{2}mew.)

mi as ma [miˈæzmə] n. unhealthy mist rising from the ground, formerly associated with ague (malaria, etc.).

mi ca [ˈmaikə] n. [U] transparent mineral substance easily divided into thin layers, used as an electrical insulator, etc.

mice [mais] n. pl. of mouse.

Mich ael mas [ˈmiklməs] n. 29 Sept., the feast of St. Michael [ˈmaikl], a quarter-day. ~ daisy, perennial aster flowering in autumn, with blue, white, pink, or purple flowers.

mi cro- [ˈmaikrou-] pref. small.

mi crobe [ˈmaikroub] n. tiny living creature that can be seen only with the help of a microscope, esp. kinds of bacteria causing diseases and fermentation.

mi cro cosm [ˈmaikroukɔzəm] n. [C] sth., (esp. man, by the ancient philosophers) considered as representing (on a small scale) mankind or the universe; miniature representation (of a system, etc.).

mi cro film [ˈmaikroufilm] n. [C & U] (roll, section, of) photographic film for small-scale reproduction of documentary material, etc. v.t. (VP 1) photograph in this way: ~ old historical records (bank accounts).

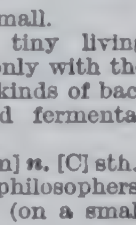
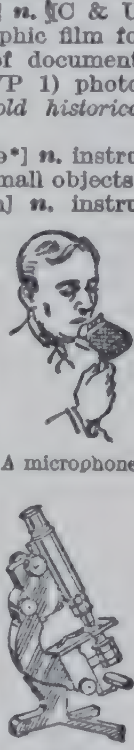
mi crom e ter [maiˈkrɔmitə*] n. instrument for measuring very small objects.

mi cro phone [ˈmaikrəfoun] n. instrument for changing sound waves into electrical waves, as in telephones, radio, etc.



A microphone

mi cro scope [ˈmaikrəskoup] n. instrument with lenses for making very small near objects appear larger: examine sth. under the ~. mi cro scop ic (i cal) [ˌmaikrəsˈkɔpik(l)] adj. of the ~; too small to be visible except under a ~.



A microscope

mi cro wave [ˈmaikrouweiv] n. very short wave (as used in radio and radar).

^{1}mid [mid] adj. 1. in the middle of; middle: from mid June to mid August; in mid winter; a collision in mid Channel (in mid air). 2. (in compounds used attributively): a midwinter day; mid-morning coffee; the mid-Western States (see Middle West, below). 3. (cricket) ˈmid-ˈoff, ˈmid-ˈon, fielder near the bowler on the off, on, side. (See Appendix 4.) mid most [ˈmidmoust] adj. & adv. (sup. of mid) (that is) in the very middle.

^{2}mid [mid] prep. (poet.) amid; among.

mid day [ˈmiddei] n. noon: (attrib.) th ~ meal (i.e. lunch or dinner).

mid den [ˈmidn] n. heap of dung o rubbish.

mid dle [ˈmidl] n. 1. (sing. with def art.) point, position, or part, which i at an equal distance from two or mor points, etc., or between beginning and end: the ~ of a room; in the ~ of th century; in the very ~ of the night; standing in the ~ of the street; a pain in the ~ of the back. They were in the ~ o dinner (were having dinner) when I called. I was in the ~ of reading (wa busy reading) when she telephoned. ~-of-the-road, (attrib.) (of policies, etc.) avoiding extremes. 2. (colloq.) waist: seize sb. round the ~; fifty inches round the ~. 3. (attrib. use) in the ~: the ~ house in the row; a ~ school, (in some countries) type of school between elementary school and high school; a ~ course, compromise between two extreme courses (of action); the ~ finger, the second. ~ age, the period of life between youth and old age (the actual figures varying with the age of the person who gives them); (hence) ~-aged [ˈmidlˈeidʒd] adj. of ~ age: a ~-aged woman; ~-age(d) spread, (colloq.) corpulence that tends to come with ~ age. the M~ Ages, the period (in European history) from about A.D. 1100 to 1400 (or, in a wider sense, A.D. 600–1500). ~ class, class of society between the lower and upper classes (e.g. shopkeepers, business men, professional workers); (hence) ˈ~-ˈclass adj. of this class: a ~-class residential area. the ~ distance, that part of a landscape, scene, painting, etc., between the foreground and the background. the M~ East, see East. the ~ Kingdom, (an old name for) China. ~ name, second of two given (or Christian) names (e.g. Bernard in George Bernard Shaw). the ~ watch, (on ships) between midnight and 4 a.m. ~ weight, (boxing) of the highest weight below heavyweight. the M~ West, that part of the U.S.A. which is the Mississippi basin as far south as Kansas, Missouri, and the Ohio River.

mid dle man [ˈmidlmæn] n. any trader through whose hands goods pass between the producer and the consumer.

mid dling [ˈmidliŋ] adj. of middle or medium size, quality, grade, etc.: a town of ~ size. He says he's feeling only ~, (colloq.) in fairly good but not very good health. adv. (colloq.) moderately: ~ tall. n. (usu. pl.) goods of second or inferior quality, esp. coarse-ground wheat flour mixed with bran.

mid dy [ˈmidi] n. (colloq. abbrev. of) midshipman. ~ blouse, loose blouse like that worn by naval seamen.

midge [midʒ] n. small winged insect like a gnat.

mid get ['midʒit] n. extremely small person (e.g. one exhibited as a curiosity at a circus); (attrib.) very small: a ~ submarine mi di nette [midi'net] n. Parisian shop-girl, esp. a milliner's assistant.

mid land ['midlənd] n. (often attrib.) middle part of a country. the M~s, the ~ counties of England.

mid night ['midnait] n. 1. 12 o'clock at night: at (before, after) ~. 2. (attrib.) during the middle of the night; at ~: the ~ hours; burn the ~ oil, sit up and work late at night.

mid riff ['midrif] n. 1. (anat.) diaphragm. 2. abdomen, belly: (boxing) a blow on the ~.

mid ship man ['midʃipmən] n. boy training to become a junior naval officer.

midst [midst] n. (liter. or arch.) middle part: in (into, from, out of) the ~ (of); in our (your, their) ~. prep. (liter. or arch.) in the middle of; amidst mid sum mer ['midˌsʌmə*] n. [U] period about 21 June. M~ day, 24 June, a quarter-day. ~ madness, the height of madness mid way ['mid'wei] adj. & adv. situated in the middle; half-way.

mid wife ['midwaif] n. (pl. midwives ['midwaivz]) woman trained to help other women in childbirth. midwifery ['midwifəri] n. [U] profession and work of a ~; obstetrics: take a course in ~.

mien [mi:n] n. (liter.) person's appearance or bearing (as showing a mood, etc.): with a sorrowful ~; of pleasing ~; the severity of his ~.

might [mait] p.t. of may.

might [mait] n. [U] great power; strength: work with all one's ~. 'M~ is right', he said (i.e. power to enforce one's will gives one the right to do so). by ~ and main, by using physical force.

might y ['maiti] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. (liter., biblical) powerful: a ~ nation. 2. great; massive: the ~ ocean. 3. (colloq.) great, esp. high and ~, very proud. adv. (colloq.) very: think oneself ~ clever. might i ly adv. greatly; (colloq.) extremely: mightily indignant.

mi gnon ette [ˌminjə'net] n. [U] garden plant with small, sweet-smelling, greenish-white flowers.

mi graine [mi:'grein] n. (= megrim) severe headache (usu. on one side only of the head or face).

mi grate [mai'greit] v.i. (VP 21, 23) 1. move from one place to another (to live there). 2. (of birds and fishes) come and go with the seasons; travel regularly from one region to another. mi grant ['maigrənt] n. one who ~s, esp. a bird: Swallows are migrants. mi gra tion [mai'greiʃən] n. [U] migrating; [C] instance of this; [C] number of persons, animals, etc., migrating together. mi gra to ry ['maigrətəri] adj. having the habit of migrating: migratory birds.

mi ka do [mi'kɑ:dou] n. (name formerly used outside, but not inside, Japan for) Emperor of Japan.

mike [maik] n. (colloq. abbrev. for) microphone.

mi la dy [mi'leidi] n. (old-fashioned term for a) lady of quality.

mil age ['mailidʒ] n. = mileage.

milch [miltʃ] adj. (of domestic mammals) kept for, giving, milk: ~ cows.

mild [maild] adj. 1. soft; gentle; not severe: ~ weather; ~ punishments; a ~ answer. I'm the ~est man alive, no one is gentler, kinder, etc., than I am. 2. (of food, drink, tobacco) not sharp or strong in taste or flavour: ~ cheese; a ~ cigar; ~ ale; ~ and bitter, ~ and bitter beer mixed. draw it ~, see 'draw, def. 5. ~ly adv. in a ~ manner: to put it ~ly, to say the least of it, to speak without exaggeration. ~ness n.

mil dew ['mildju:] n. [U] (usu. destructive) growth of tiny fungi forming on plants, leather, food, etc., in warm and damp conditions: roses ruined by ~. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) affect, become affected, with ~.

mile [mail] n. measure of distance, 1,760 yards (see Appendix 1): For ~s and ~s there's nothing but desert. It's a 30 ~ (or a 30 ~s') journey. He ran the ~ in 4 minutes. She's feeling ~s better today, (colloq.) very much better. There's no one within ~s of him as a tennis player, no one who can rival him. '~*stone n. (a) stone set up at the side of a road showing distances. (b) (fig.) (usu. important) stage or event in history or in a human life.

mile age ['mailidʒ] n. 1. distance travelled, measured in miles: a used car with a small ~, one that has not run many miles. 2. allowance for travelling expenses at so much a mile.

mil er ['mailə*] n. (colloq.) runner specializing in one mile races: He's our best ~.

mi lieu ['mi:ljə:, (Fr. miljø)] n. environment; social surroundings.

mil i tant ['militənt] adj. ready for fighting; actively engaged in (esp. spiritual) warfare: ~ suffragettes, those who (in Gt. Brit.) actively fought for woman's suffrage. mil i tan cy n.

mil i ta rism ['militərizəm] n. [U] belief in, reliance upon, military strength and virtues.

mil i ta rist ['militərist] n. student of military science; supporter of, believer in, militarism.

mil i ta ry ['militəri] adj. of or for soldiers, an army, war on land: ~ training; in ~ uniform; ~ government; called up for two years' ~ service, to serve as a soldier. the ~, the soldiers; the army: The ~ were called in to deal with these civil disorders.

mil i tate ['militeit] v.i. (VP 24) (of evidence, facts) have force, operate (against): Several factors combined to ~ against the success of our plan.

mi li tia [mi'liʃə] n. (usu. the ~) force of civilians trained as soldiers but not part of the regular army; British conscript army formed in 1939. ~man n. member of the ~.

¹milk [milk] n. [U] 1. white liquid produced by female mammals as food for their young, esp. that of cows, drunk by human beings and made into butter and cheese: ~ fresh from the cow; tinned ~; be on a ~ diet, a diet principally of ~; ~ puddings (e.g. rice, sago, or tapioca baked with ~ in a dish); the ~ round, ~-man's route from house to house, street to street. the ~ of human kindness, the kindness that should be natural to human beings. It's no use crying over spilt ~, over a loss or error for which there is no remedy. ~ and water, (fig.) feeble discourse or sentiment. 2. (compounds) '~-*bar n. bar for the sale of drinks made from ~, ice-cream, and other light refreshments. '~-*churn n. large vessel fitted with a lid for carrying ~. '~-*maid n. woman who milks cows and works in a dairy. '~*man n. man who sells ~; man who goes from house to house delivering ~. '~-ˌ*powder n. ~ dehydrated by evaporation. '~-'*shake n. beverage of ~ with ice-cream mixed into it and beaten up. '~*sop n. man or youth who is lacking in spirit, who is too soft and gentle. '~-*tooth n. one of the first (temporary) teeth in young mammals. '~-'*white adj. as white as ~. 3. ~-like juice of some plants and trees, e.g. the juice inside a coconut. '~*weed n. name used for several kinds of wild plant with a juice like ~. 4. ~-like preparation made from herbs, drugs, etc.: ~ of magnesia.

²milk [milk] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) draw milk from (a cow, ewe, goat), or juice, virus, etc. (e.g. from a snake); extract money, information, etc. (by guile or dishonesty) from a person or institution. 2. (VP 21, 23) yield milk: The cows are ~ing well. '~*ing-ma*ˌ*chine n apparatus for ~ing cows mechanically milk y ['milki] adj. (-ier, -iest) of or like milk; mixed with milk; (of a liquid) cloudy, not clear. the M~ Way, the broad luminous band of stars encircling the sky; the Galaxy.

¹mill [mil] n. 1. (building with) machinery for grinding grain into flour (old style, water-~, wind~): go through the undergo hard training or experienc put sb. through the ~, subject hi to such training. '~-'*dam n. da built across a stream to make wat available for a ~. '~-*pond n. wat retained by a ~-dam, to flow to the ~ like a ~-pond, (of the sea) very caln
'~-'race n. current of water that tur a ~-wheel. '~*stone n. one of a pa of circular stones between which gra is ground: (fig.) heavy burden: Th mortgage has been like a ~stone rou my neck. He's between the upper a nether (= lower) ~stone, is subject irresistible pressure. '~-*wheel wheel (esp. a water-wheel) that suppli power to drive a ~. '~*wright n. ma who builds and repairs water-~s an wind~s. 2. building, factory, worksho for industry: a cotton (paper, silk, stee ~. '~-*hand n. factory worker. '~ girl n. girl who works in a ~, esp.
cotton-~. 3. small machine for grin ing: a coffee-~; a pepper-~.

²mill [mil] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) put throug a machine for grinding; produce b doing this: ~ grain; ~ flour; ~ or crush it; ~ steel, make it into bar 2. (VP 1) produce regular markings o the edge of (coin): silver coins with ~ed edge. 3. (VP 23) (of cattle, crowd of people) move (about) in a confuse way; move (around) in a mass.

mill board ['milbɔ:d] n. [U] stout paste board used in binding books.

mil len ni um [mi'leniəm] n. period o 1,000 years; (fig.) future time of grea happiness and prosperity for everyone.

mil le pede ['milipi:d] n. small wormlik creature with very many legs, usu. i double pairs on each segment.

mil ler ['milə*] n. owner or tenant of mill, esp. the old-fashioned flour-mil worked by wind or water.

mil let ['milit] n. [U] plant producing large crop of small seeds; the seeds (a food).

mil li- ['mili-] pref. one-thousandth par of: ~gram; ~metre.

mil liard ['miljɑ:d] n. thousand million (1,000,000,000). (See Appendix 1.)

mil li ner ['milinə*] n. person who make and sells women's hats, and sells lace trimmings, etc., for hats. ~y ['milinəri] n [U] (the business of making and selling women's hats. with lace, ribbons, etc.

mil lion ['miljən] n. & adj. one thousan thousand (1,000,000). ~aire [ˌmilj
'nɛə*] n. person who has a ~ dolla pounds, etc.: extremely rich ma ~air ess [ˌmiljə'nɛəris] n. woman ~air mil lionth n. & adj.

mil li pede, see millepede.

mi lord [mi'lɔ:*, -'lɔ:d] n. (Fr. w formerly used for) English lord; wealthy Englishman.

milt [milt] n. [U] (soft) roe of small fish.

mime [maim] n. 1. (In ancient Greece and Rome) simple kind of drama in which real persons and events were made fun of and in which mimicry and dancing were important. 2. actor in such drama. v.i. act in this kind of drama, usu. without words.

mim e o graph ['mimiəgra:f] n. apparatus for making many copies of written or typed material from a waxed sheet called a stencil, the ink being pressed through the sheet by a roller. v.t. (VP 1) make (copies) with a ~.

mi met ic [mi'metik] adj. of, given to, imitation or mimicry.

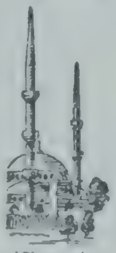
mim ic ['mimik] adj. imitated or pretended; done in play: ~ warfare, as in peacetime manœuvres; ~ colouring, e.g. of animals, birds, and insects that have the colours of their natural surroundings. n. person who is clever at imitating others, esp. in order to make fun of their habits, appearance, etc. v.t. (~ked, ~king) (VP 1) 1. ridicule by imitating: He ~ked his uncle's voice and gestures very cleverly. 2. (of things) resemble closely: wood painted to ~ marble. mim ic ry ['mimikri] n. [U] ~king: protective ~ry, the resemblance of birds, animals, and insects to their natural surroundings, giving some protection from enemies.

mi mo sa [mi'mouzə] n. [U] name given to several kinds of shrub, esp. the kind with clusters of small, ball-shaped, sweet-smelling yellow flowers.

min a ret ['minəret] n. tall, slender spire, connected with a mosque, from the balconies of which people are called to prayer by a muezzin (or, often today, by loudspeaker).



Minarets

min a to ry ['minətəri] adj. threatening.

mince [mins] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) cut or chop (meat, etc.) into small pieces (with a knife, or a machine with revolving blades, called a mincing machine or mincer). 2. not to ~ matters, not to ~ one's words, to speak plainly or bluntly in condemnation of sth. or sb.; not take pains to keep within the bounds of politeness. 3. (VP 1) say (words) with an affectation of delicacy; (VP 21) put on fine airs when speaking or walking, trying to appear delicate or refined. minc ing adj. take mincing steps; an affected, mincing young girl (see the v., def. 3). minc ing ly adv.

mince [mins] n. minced meat. '~meat n. [U] mixture of currants, raisins, sugar, candied peel, apples, suet, etc., cooked and served with a covering of pastry. '~-'pie n. small round pie containing ~meat. make ~meat of, (colloq.) destroy (a person, an argument, etc.).

¹mind [maind] n. 1. [U] memory; remembrance: bear (keep) sth. in ~, remember it; call (bring) sth. to ~, recall it to the memory; pass (go) out of one's ~, be forgotten; put one in ~ of, remind one of, cause one to think of; since time out of ~, from a time beyond anyone's memory. Out of sight, out of ~, (prov.) persons or things not seen are soon forgotten. 2. [C] what a person thinks or feels; way of thinking, feeling, wishing; opinion; intention; purpose: He doesn't know his own ~, doesn't know what he wants, is full of doubt, hesitation, etc. make up one's ~, (a) come to a decision: He's made up his ~ to be a doctor. (b) reconcile oneself to a fact as sth. that cannot be changed, avoided, etc.: We are no longer a first-class power; we must make up our ~s to that. change one's ~, change one's purpose or intention. be in two ~s (about sth.), feel doubtful; hesitate. speak one's ~, say plainly what one thinks. be of one ~, (of two or more persons) have the same opinion; be in agreement: We are all of one ~. be of the same ~, (a) (of a number of persons) be in agreement. (b) (of one person) be unchanged in an opinion, decision, etc.: Is he still of the same ~? have a good (great) ~ to, be almost decided to, be strongly disposed to. have half a ~ to, be rather inclined to. set one's ~ on, determine on, want very much: She has set her ~ on a holiday in Greece. give one's ~ to, direct one's attention to. keep one's ~ on, continue to pay attention to: Give your ~ to (keep your ~ on) what you are doing, don't let your attention wander. to one's ~, (a) according to one's way of thinking; in one's opinion. (b) to one's liking. have sth. on one's ~, be troubled about sth. take one's ~ off (sth.), turn one's attention away from; distract. 3. that which animates the body and is distinct from it; conscious thought, feeling, perceiving, etc.: presence of ~, ability to act or decide quickly when there is danger, etc. absence of ~, failure to think of what one is doing. (Cf. absent-minded.*) out of one's ~, not in one's right ~, mad. 4. [C & U] (person with) mental ability or intellect: He is one of the great ~s of the age. No two ~s think alike.

²mind [maind] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) take care of; attend to: Who is ~ing the baby? When Mr Green was called up for the army, his wife had to ~ the shop, serve customers. M~ the step, remember that it is there. M~ your head, (as a warning to stoop, e.g. at a low doorway). M~ the dog, beware of it. M~ your own business, do not interfere in the affairs of others. If you don't ~ (if you're not careful), you'll be hurt. M~ (out), there's a bus coming. M~ and do (colloq., be careful to do) what you're told. ~ one's P's and Q's, be careful what one says or does. M~ you or M~, used as an interjection meaning 'Please note': I have no objection, ~ you, but I think it unwise. 2. (VP 1, 15, 17A, 21) (usu. in interr., neg., and conditional sentences, and in affirm. sentences that answer a question) be troubled by; feel objection to: He doesn't ~ the cold weather at all. Do you ~ if I smoke? Do you ~ my smoking? Would you ~ opening the window, will you please do this? Would you ~ my opening the window, would you object if I did this? 'Do you ~ my leaving this payment until next year?'—'Yes, I do ~' (i.e. I object to that). I shouldn't ~ a glass of iced beer, I should like one. Never ~, (a) It doesn't matter. (b) Don't worry about it.

mind ed [ˈmaindid] adj. 1. (predic. only) disposed or inclined (to do sth.): He could do it if he were so ~. If she were ~ to help, . . . 2. having the kind of mind indicated (by an adj. or adv. prefixed): a strong-~ man; high-~ leaders; evil-~ opponents; commercially-~ men. 3. conscious of the value or importance of (what is indicated by a n. prefixed): We have all become air-~ now, we realize the convenience of travel by air, its importance in trade, etc. He has become very food-~ since his holiday in France, has become a gourmet.

mind er [ˈmaində*] n. person whose duty it is to attend to sth.; (in compounds) machine-~.

mind ful [ˈmaindful] adj. (usu. predic.) ~ *of, giving thought and attention to: ~ of one's duties (the nation's welfare). ~ly *adv. ~ness *n.

mind less [ˈmaindlis] adj. (usu. predic.) ~ *of, paying no attention to; forgetful of: ~ of danger.

[1]mine [main] poss. pron. of or belonging to me: Is this book yours or ~? He's an old friend of ~, one of my old friends. poss. adj. (in poet. and biblical style only, before a vowel sound or h; sometimes placed after the n.) my: ~ eyes; ~ heart; O mistress ~; ~ enemy.

[2]mine [main] n. 1. hole made in the earth to get coal, mineral ores, etc. (Cf. quarry for stone or slate): coal-~; gold-~; (fig.) rich or abundant source: A good encyclopaedia is a ~ of information. 2. (underground tunnel for) charge of high explosive (as used to destroy enemy fortifications); charge of high explosive buried and exploded (e.g. electrically) from a distance: The lorry was destroyed by a buried ~. 3. (in war at sea) charge of high explosive in a metal case, placed in the sea, explo on contact, or electrically, or magnet-
ically. 4. ˈ~*field n.
(a) area of land or sea where there are many ~s (defs. 2, 3).
(b) area of land
where there are many ~s (def. 1). ˈ~-ˌ*layer
n. ship or aircraft
used for laying ~s at sea. (Hence, ˈ~- ˌ*laying*, as in ~- laying vessel.) ˈ~-ˌ*sweeper n. na vessel (usu. a trawler) employed clearing the sea of ~s. (Hence, ˈ ˌ*sweeping*).

A mine (def. 3)

[3]mine [main] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 21, dig (for coal, ores, etc.) from the groun obtain (coal, etc.) from mines: ~ ( coal (gold); ~ the earth for coal. 2. (VP (= undermine) make tunnels in earth under: ~ the enemy's trenc (forts). 3. (VP 1) lay mines (defs. 2, in; destroy by means of these: ~ entrance to a harbour. The cruiser ~d, and sank in five minutes. 4. (VP (fig.) weaken; undermine (which is m usual).

min er [ˈmainə*] n. 1. man who wo
in a mine underground: coal-~s.
soldier trained to dig tunnels and mines under enemy trenches, etc.

min er al [ˈminərəl] n. [C] substance ( vegetable or animal) got from the ea by mining, esp. one that has a consta chemical composition: Coal and iron are ~s. adj. of the class of ~s; co taining, mixed with, ~s: ~ or ~ water, (a) water that naturally co tains a ~ substance, esp. one said have medicinal value. (b) drink (u bottled, often flavoured) containi gas (e.g. soda-water).

min er al o gy [ˌminəˈrælədʒi] n.
science of minerals. min er al o g
n. student of ~.

min gle [ˈmiŋgl] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 13, 23) mix: truth ~d with falsehood; w ~d feelings (e.g. pleasure mixed w regret); ~ with (go about among) crowds; two rivers that join and ~ th waters.

min gy [ˈmindʒi] adj. (-ier, -iest) (collo mean, ungenerous, stingy: a ~ fellow

min ia ture [ˈminjətʃə*, ˈmini-] n.
[C] very small painting of a person, e one on ivory or vellum; [U] this bran of painting. in ~, on a small scale.
[C] small-scale copy or model of a object. 3. (attrib.) on a small scale: ~ railway; a ~ camera, one for 35 m or sub-standard size of film.

min im [ˈminim] n. (music) note half t value of a semibreve. (See Appendix min i mize [ˈminimaiz] v.t. (VP reduce to, estimate at, the smallest possible amount or degree: ~ an accident, try to reduce its importance, say that it is not serious.

min i mum ['miniməm] n. (pl. -ma [-mə]) least possible or recorded amount, degree, etc. (contrasted with maximum): reduce sth. to a ~; (attrib.) the ~ temperature; a ~ thermometer, one that automatically records the ~ temperature within a period; a ~ wage, lowest wage that regulations allow to be paid.

min ing ['mainiŋ] n. the work of getting minerals, etc. from mines: a ~ engineer; the ~ industry; open-cast ~, getting coal, etc., that is near the surface, using mechanical shovels, etc.

min ion ['minjən] n. favourite servant; (usu. contemptuous) servant who, in order to win favour, obeys a master slavishly: the ~s of the law, (derog.) police, jailers.

min is ter ['ministə*] n. 1. person at the head of a Department of State (and usu. a member of the Cabinet): the M~ for Defence; the Prime M~. 2. person representing his Government in a foreign country: the British M~ at Lima. 3. Christian priest or clergyman, esp. one in the Presbyterian and Nonconformist Churches. (Cf. priest for the Roman Catholic Church, and vicar, rector, curate for the Church of England.)

min is ter ['ministə*] v.i. (VP 24) give help or service (to): ~ to the wants of a sick man; ~ing to her husband's needs, satisfying them.

min is te ri al [,minis'tiəriəl] adj. 1. of a Minister of State, his position, duties, etc.: ~ functions (duties). 2. of or for the Ministry (or cabinet): the ~ benches. 3. of a minister of religion. ~ly adv.

min is trant ['ministrənt] adj. administering. n. attendant; supporter or helper.

min is tra tion [,minis'treiʃən] n. [U] ministering or serving (esp. in performing a religious service); [C] act of this kind: The dying woman asked for the ~s of a priest. Thanks to the ~s (nursing, services) of my devoted wife, I was restored to health.

min is try ['ministri] n. 1. Department of State under a Minister: the Air M~; the M~ of Finance. 2. the ~, all the ministers forming a Government; Cabinet: Mr X has been asked to form a ~. 3. the ~, the ministers of religion as a body: enter the ~, become a minister of religion. He was intended for the ~, destined to be a minister (e.g. by his parents). 4. office, duties, term of service, of a minister.

mink [miŋk] n. [C & U] (valuable brown fur skin of a) small stoat-like animal: (attrib.) a ~ coat.

min now ['minou] n. (sorts of) very small fresh-water fish.

mi nor ['mainə*] adj. (cf. major) 1. smaller, less important: a broken leg and ~ injuries. 2. comparatively unimportant: the ~ planets; ~ poets; play only a ~ part in the play; (cards) a ~ suit (i.e. diamonds or clubs). 3. (in schools) second or younger of two brothers: Smith ~. 4. (music) a ~ third, an interval of three semi-tones; a ~ key, in which the scale has a ~ third; in a ~ key, (fig.) in a melancholy or depressed mood. n. (legal) person under the age of 21.

mi nor i ty [mai'nɔriti, mi-] n. 1. [U] (legal) the state of being under age (in Gt. Brit., 21). 2. the smaller number or part, esp. of a total of votes: We're in the ~, more people are against us than with us. I'm in a ~ of one, have had support from no one. a ~ report, one made (after an official inquiry or investigation) by the ~, giving views, etc., different from those of the majority.

Min o taur ['mainətɔ:*] n. (in old Gk. stories) monster, half man and half bull, fed with human flesh, kept in the labyrinth in Crete.

min ster ['minstə*] n. large or important church, esp. one that once belonged to a monastery, and now usu. named: York ~.

min strel ['minstrəl] n. 1. (in the Middle Ages) travelling composer, player, and singer of songs and ballads. 2. formerly called nigger ~) one of a company of public entertainers, often with blackened faces, at fairs, race-meetings, and on the seashore at holiday resorts. ~sy ['minstrəlsi] n. [U] the art, songs, etc., of ~s (def. 1).

¹mint [mint] n. [U] (sorts of) plant whose leaves are used for flavouring (e.g. in drinks and in chewing-gum) and in making a sauce: ~ sauce, chopped-up ~ leaves, in vinegar and sugar, as eaten with lamb.

²mint [mint] n. 1. place where coins are made, usu. under State authority: coins fresh from the ~. 2. a ~ of money, (colloq.) a large amount. 3. (attrib., of medals, stamps, prints, books, etc.) in ~ state (condition), as if new; unsoiled; perfect. v.t. (VP 1) 1. make (coin) by stamping metal: ~ two-shilling pieces. 2. (fig.) invent (a word, phrase, etc.).

min u et [,minju'et] n. [C] (piece of music for a) slow, graceful dance for two persons (dating from the middle of the 17th century).

mi nus ['mainəs] adj. 1. (cf. plus) the ~ sign, the sign —. 2. (cf. positive) negative: a ~ quantity, a quantity less than zero (e.g. $-2x^2$). prep. less; with the deduction of: 7 minus 3 is 4; (colloq.) without: He came back from the war ~ a leg. n. ~ sign or quantity.

¹min ute ['minit] n. 1. the sixtieth part of one hour: seven ~s to six; arrive ten ~s early. ˈ~-*gun n. one fired at intervals of a ~ (e.g. in days before radio, by a ship in danger of sinking). ˈ~-hand n. hand indicating the ~s on a watch or clock. ˈ~-man n. American militiaman during the revolutionary period (ready for service at a ~'s notice). in a ~, soon: I'll come downstairs in a ~. to the ~, exactly: The train arrived at 5 o'clock to the ~. the ~ (that), as soon as: I'll give him your message the ~ (that) he arrives. 2. the sixtieth part of a degree (in an angle): 37° 30′, 37 degrees 30 ~s. 3. [C] official record giving authority, advice, or making comments: make a ~ of sth. 4. (pl.) summary, records, of what is said and decided at a meeting, esp. of a society or committee: read and confirm the ~s of the last meeting. ˈ~-book n. book in which ~s are written v.t. (VP 1) record (sth.) in the ~s (def 4); make a record of sth. in a memorandum.

^{2}mi nute [maiˈnjuːt] adj. 1. very small: ~ particles of gold dust. 2. giving small details; careful and exact: a ~ description; the ~st details. ~ly *adv. ~ness *n.

mi nu tiæ [maiˈnjuːʃiiː] n. pl. precise or trivial details.

minx [miŋks] n. sly, impudent girl.

mir a cle [ˈmirəkl] n. 1. act or event (sth. good or welcome) which does not follow the known laws of nature; remarkable and surprising event: work (accomplish) ~s. Her life was saved by a ~. The doctors said that her recovery was a ~. 2. remarkable example or specimen (of): It's a ~ of ingenuity. 3. ~ play, dramatic representation (in the Middle Ages) based on the life of Jesus or the Christian saints.

mi rac u lous [miˈrækjuləs] adj. like a miracle; contrary to the laws of nature; surprising. ~ly *adv. ~ness *n.

mi rage [ˈmirɑːʒ] n. [C] 1. effect, produced by air conditions, causing sth. distant to appear as if it were near, esp. the illusive appearance of a sheet of water in the desert. 2. (fig.) any illusion or hope that cannot be realized.

mire [ˈmaiə*] n. [U] 1. swampy ground; soft, deep mud. 2. (fig.) be in the ~, be in difficulties; drag sb. (sb.'s name) through the ~, bring disgrace on him, expose him to contempt. v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) cover with mud; cause to be fast in deep mud: ~ a horse. My car was ~d. 2. (VP 21) sink in mud. 3. (fig.) (VP 1) involve (sb.) in difficulties. mir y [ˈmaiəri] adj. muddy: miry roads.

mir ror [ˈmirə*] n. 1. polished surface that reflects images, formerly of metal; (modern use) looking-glass: a driving ~, ~ in a motor-car to enable the driver to see what is behind his car. 2. (fig.) sth. that reflects or gives a likeness: Pepys's 'Diary' is a ~ of the times he lived in. v.t. (VP 1) reflect as in a
The still water of the lake ~ed the hills mirth [məːθ] n. [U] being merry, ha and bright; laughter. ~ful *adj.

of ~; merry ~ful ly *adv. ~less without ~: a ~less laugh.

mis- pref. bad(ly), wrong(ly): misbeha miscount; mis-spell, etc.

mis ad ven ture [ˈmisədˈventʃə*] n.
& U] (event caused by) bad lu misfortune: death by ~, by accident.

mis al li ance [ˈmisəˈlaiəns] n. impro or unsuitable alliance, esp. marria mésalliance.

mis an thrope [ˈmisənθroup, ˈmizperson who hates mankind; person w avoids society. mis an throp ic [ˌm ənˈθrɔpik, ˌmiz-] adj. hating or distru ing mankind or human society.

mis ap ply [ˈmisəˈplai] v.t. (VP 1) ap wrongly; use for a wrong purpose ( public funds). mis ap pli ca tion [ˈm ˌæpliˈkeiʃən] n. wrong or unjust use (

mis ap pre hend [ˈmisˌæpriˈhend] (VP 1) misunderstand. mis ap pr hen sion [ˈmisˌæpriˈhenʃən] n. do under a misapprehension, because o failure to understand correctly.

mis ap pro pri ate [ˈmisəˈproupríeit] (VP 1) take and use wrongly; apply ( else's money) to a wrong (esp. on own) use: The treasurer ~d the societ funds. mis ap pro pri a tion [ˈm əˌproupriˈeiʃən] n.: misappropriation public funds.

mis be got ten [ˈmisbiˈgɔtn] adj. illeg mate; bastard; (colloq., as a term opprobrium): Who's the author of th ~ plans, who made these ill-advised useless plans?

mis be have [ˈmisbiˈheiv] v.t. & i. (VP 21) behave (oneself) improperly. mis b hav iour [ˈmisbiˈheivjə*] n.

mis be liev er [ˈmisbiˈliːvə*] n. pers having, or held to have, wrong religio beliefs.

mis cal cu late [ˈmisˈkælkjuleit] v.t. & calculate (amounts, etc.) wrongly. mi cal cu la tion [ˈmisˌkælkjuˈleiʃən] n.

mis call [misˈkɔːl] v.t. call by a wro name: King Robert, ~ed 'the Just'.

mis car riage [misˈkæridʒ] n. 1. [ ~ of justice, failure of a court to a minister justice properly; mistake judgement or in punishment; [C] stance of this. 2. [U] failure to deli to, or arrive at, the destination: ~ goods; [C] instance of this. 3. [ delivery by a woman of an embryo baby before it is able to live; [C] instan of this: have a ~.

mis car ry [misˈkæri] v.t. (VP 21) 1.
plans, etc.) fail; have a result differe from what was hoped for. 2. (of lette etc.) fail to reach the right destinatio
3. (of a woman) be delivered in the ea months of gestation.

nis cast [mis'kɑ:st] v.t. (VP 1, usu. passive) 1. (of an actor) be cast (see cast, def. 6) for a role for which he is unfitted: She was badly ~ as Juliet. 2. (of a play) have the parts badly allocated o the actors and actresses.

nis ce ge na tion [ˌmisidʒi'neiʃən] n. U] mixture of races, the production of offspring, esp. by sexual union of white and coloured peoples.

nis cel la ne ous [ˌmisi'leinjəs] adj. of nixed sorts; having various qualities and characteristics: a ~ collection of goods; Milton's ~ prose works.

nis cel la ny [mi'seləni, 'misil-] n. miscellaneous collection (e.g. of writings on various subjects by various authors).

nis chance [mis'tʃɑ:ns] n. [U & C] piece of) bad luck: by ~.

nis chief ['mistʃif] n. 1. [U] injury or damage done by a person or other agent, esp. on purpose: do sb. a ~, hurt him; a storm that did much ~ to shipping. 2. [U] moral harm or injury: Such wild speeches may work great ~ (e.g. may rouse evil passions). make ~ (between . . .), cause discord or ill feeling. (Hence ~-ˌmaker, '~-ˌmaking.) 3. [U] foolish or thoughtless behaviour likely to cause rouble; not very serious wrongdoing: Boys are fond of ~, of playing tricks, etc. Tell the children to keep out of ~. He's up to ~ again, planning some piece of ~. She's always getting into ~. . light-hearted, innocent desire to tease: Her eyes were full of ~. 5. [C] person who s fond of ~ (def. 4): Those boys are regular ~s.. Where have you hidden my ook, you little ~?

is chie vous ['mistʃivəs] adj. 1. causing nischief; harmful: a ~ letter (rumour). . filled with, fond of, engaged in, mischief; showing a spirit of mischief: ~ ooks (tricks); as ~ as a monkey. ~ly dv. ~ness n.

is con ceive ['miskən'si:v] v.t. & i. (VP) understand wrongly; (VP 24) have wrong conception (of): ~ of one's duty.

nis con cep tion ['miskən'sepʃən] n. U] misconceiving; [C] instance of this.

is con duct [mis'kɔndəkt] n. [U] 1. mproper behaviour, esp. adultery. 2. ad management. v.t. ['miskən'dʌkt] VP 1) 1. (reflex.) behave badly; be uilty of adultery (with . . .). 2. manage adly: ~ one's business affairs.

is con struc tion ['miskən'strʌkʃən] . [U] false interpretation or undertanding; [C] instance of this: Your ords were open to ~.

is con strue ['miskən'stru:] v.t. (VP) get a wrong idea of (sb.'s words, cts, etc.): You have ~d my words.

is count ['mis'kaunt] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 1) count wrongly. n. [C] wrong count, sp. of votes at an election.

mis cre ant ['miskriənt] n. (rather old use) scoundrel; villain.

mis cre a ted ['miskri'eitid] adj. deformed; (as a word of abuse) monstrous.

mis date [mis'deit] v.t. give a wrong date to (an event, etc.); put a wrong date on (a letter, cheque, etc.).

mis deal [mis'di:l] v.t. (p.t. & p.p. ~t [mis'delt]) (VP 1, 21) deal (playing-cards) wrongly. n. error in dealing cards: I've got 14 cards; it's a ~.

mis deed [mis'di:d] n. wicked act; crime: be punished for one's ~s.

mis de mean our [ˌmisdi'mi:nə*] n. unlawful act of a not very serious nature; offence less serious than a felony.

mis di rect ['misdi'rekt] v.t. (VP 1) direct wrongly: ~ a letter (by failing to put the full or correct address on it); ~ one's energies or abilities (e.g. by using them for a bad purpose); ~ a jury, (of a judge in a law-court) give the jury wrong information on a point of law. mis di rec tion ['misdi'rekʃən] n.

mis do ing [mis'du(:)iŋ] n. (usu. pl.) misdeed.

mise-en-scène ['mi:zɑ̃:n'sein, (Fr. mizɑ̃sɛ:n)] n. scenery and properties of an acted play; (fig.) general surroundings of an event.

mi ser ['maizə*] n. person who loves wealth for its own sake and spends as little as possible. ~ly adj. like a ~; stingy. ~li ness n.

mis er a ble ['mizərəbl] adj. 1. wretched; very unhappy: ~ from cold and hunger; the ~ lives of the refugees in Europe after the war. He makes her life ~. 2. causing wretchedness and unhappiness: ~ weather; ~ slums. 3. poor in quality: What a ~ meal! What a ~ pension after fifty years' hard work! mis er a bly adv. die miserably; be miserably poor; miserably underpaid.

mis er y ['mizəri] n. 1. [U] state of being miserable; great suffering (of mind or body): be in ~ (suffer ~) from the toothache; living in ~ and want, in wretched conditions and poverty. Shall we put the animal out of its ~, end its sufferings by killing it? 2. (pl.) painful happenings; great misfortunes: the miseries of mankind. 3. (colloq.) person who is always miserable and complaining: I've had enough of your complaints, you little ~!

mis fire [mis'faiə*] v.i. (VP 21) (of a gun) fail to go off; (of a motor engine) fail to ignite; (colloq. of a joke, etc.) fall flat; fail to have the intended result. n. such a failure.

mis fit ['mis'fit] n. article of clothing which does not fit well the person it is meant for; (fig.) person not well suited to his position.

mis for tune [mis'fɔ:tʃən] n. 1. [U] bad luck: suffer ~; companions in ~. 2. [C] instance of bad luck; unfortunate accident or happening: He bore his ~s bravely.

mis give [mis'giv] v.t. (p.t. misgave, p.p. misgiven) My mind (heart) ~s me, I am filled with suspicion or foreboding, I feel doubtful, troubled. mis giv ing n. [C & U] (feeling of) doubt (suspicion; distrust, etc.): a heart (mind) full of misgiving(s).

mis gov ern ['mis'gʌvən] v.t. (VP 1) govern (the State, etc.) badly. ~ment n. [U].

mis guide ['mis'gaid] v.t. (chiefly in passive) mislead; influence to act or think wrongly mis guid ed adj. foolish and wrong (because of bad or wrong guidance or influence): ~d conduct (zeal); ~d boys.

mis han dle [mis'hændl] v.t. handle (a person or thing) roughly or rudely.

mis hap ['mishæp] n. [C] unlucky accident: meet with a slight ~; arrive home after many ~s; [U] bad luck; accident: arrive without ~.

mis in form ['misin'fɔ:m] v.t. (VP 1) give wrong information to; mislead: You've been ~ed.

mis in ter pret ['misin'tə:prit] v.t. (VP 1) give a wrong interpretation to; make a wrong inference from: He ~ed her silence as giving consent.

mis judge [mis'dʒʌdʒ] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) judge or estimate wrongly; form a wrong opinion of: You have ~d my motives. He ~d the distance and fell into the stream.

mis lay [mis'lei] v.t. (p.t. & p.p. mislaid [mis'leid]) (VP 1) put (sth.) by chance where it cannot easily be found.

mis lead [mis'li:d] v.t. (p.t. & p.p. misled [mis'led]) (VP 1, 18) lead wrongly; cause to be or do wrong; give a wrong idea to: be misled by a guide (during a journey); misled by bad companions, led into evil ways. You misled me as to your intentions. This information is rather ~ing, gives a wrong impression.

mis man age [mis'mænidʒ] v.t. (VP 1) manage badly or wrongly. ~ment n.

mis name [mis'neim] v.t. (VP 1) call by a wrong or improper name.

mis no mer [mis'noumə*] n. [C] wrong use of a name or word: It's a ~ to call this place a first-class hotel.

mi sog yn ist [mai'sɔdʒinist, mi-] n. hater of women.

mis place [mis'pleis] v.t. (VP 1) 1. put in a wrong place. 2. give (love, affection) wrongly or unwisely: ~d confidence, given to sb. who does not deserve it or who misuses it.

mis print [mis'print] v.t. & n. (VP 1) (make an) error in printing (e.g. errors and omissions expected for errors and omissions excepted).

mis pro nounce ['misprə'nauns] pronounce wrongly. mis pro nun tion ['misprə,nʌnsi'eiʃən] n.

mis quote [mis'kwout] v.t. (VP 1) wrongly. mis quo ta tion ['misk 'teiʃən] n. [U & C].

mis read [mis'ri:d] v.t. (p.t. & p.p. read [mis'red]) read or interpret wro ~ one's instructions.

mis rep re sent ['mis,repri'zent] represent wrongly; give a false acc of. mis rep re sen ta tion ['mis rizen'teiʃən] n. [U & C].

mis rule [mis'ru:l] n. [U] bad gov
ment.

^{1}miss [mis] v.t. & i. (p.t. & p.p. m [mist]) 1. (VP 1, 17A, 21) fail to hold, catch, reach, see, etc., what desired to hit, hold, etc.: fire at a and ~ (it); ~ one's aim; ~ the t He ~ed his footing, slipped, e.g. climbing on rocks. He ~ed the 9.30 (was too late for it, did not catc and therefore ~ed (i.e. luckily esc the accident. The house is at the corner; you can't ~ it, you'll cert see it. He ~ed (failed to see) the of my joke. I ~ed (did not hea first part of the speech. We only jus (escaped) having a nasty accident.
~ed seeing (did not see, failed to that film when it was at the local ci ~ one's mark, (fig. uses) fail in one tries to do, fail to achieve a de object. 2. (VP 1) realize, learn, regret at, the absence of: When di ~ your purse, realize that you no l had it? He's so rich that he would £100. She'd ~ her husband if he Old Smith won't be ~ed, nobody feel regret at his absence (death, r ment, etc.). 3. (VP 10) ~ sth. out, fail to put in or say: The printers ~ed out a word (line). I shall ~ o sweet course (i.e. at a meal, not ta When we sing this hymn, ~ out the s and fourth verses, don't sing ~ing adj. not to be found; not i place where it ought to be: a book two pages ~ing; the dead, wounded, ~ing (i.e. soldiers in war).

^{2}miss [mis] n. [C] 1. failure to hit, reach, etc.: ten hits and one ~. Tha a lucky ~, a fortunate escape. I'l the fish course a ~, will not take a meal). A ~ is as good as a (prov.) a narrow escape is the sa effect as an escape by a wide marg (colloq.) miscarriage (def. 3).

^{3}miss [mis] n. 1. (M.) title for a married woman or girl: M~ S (pl., e.g. of sisters) the M~ Smith M~es Smith; M~ Italy (e.g. as the
of a beauty queen). 2. (small m, playful or perhaps derog.) young schoolgirl: She's a saucy ~. 3.
vocative, used by servants or keepers, and by some people when calling a shopgirl or waitress; usu. considered vulgar): Good morning, ~! Two cups of coffee, ~. 4. (trade use) young girl: shoes (coats, etc.) for Junior M~es (contrasted with matrons, etc., and, today, often replaced by teenagers).

is sal ['misəl] n. book containing the order of service for Mass in the Roman Catholic Church; book of prayers and devotions.

is sha pen ['mis'ʃeipən] adj. (esp. of the body or a limb) deformed; badly shaped.

is sile ['misail; U.S.A., 'misil] n. object or weapon that is thrown (e.g. a stone, an arrow) or discharged from a machine or by means of rocket propulsion: intercontinental ballistic ~s, long-range rockets with a warhead; guided ~s (e.g. from ground to air, for destroying aircraft, guided by electronic devices); (attrib.) ~ sites (bases), for ballistic ~s, etc.

is sion ['miʃən] n. 1. (the sending out of a) number of persons entrusted with special work, usu. abroad: a trade ~ to S. America; go (come, send sb.) on a ~ of inquiry; complete one's ~ successfully. 2. (esp.) the sending out of religious teachers (~aries) to convert people by preaching, teaching, etc.: Foreign M~s; Home M~s (i.e. to preach to people in the home country, esp. those not usu. interested in religion). 3. place where the work of a ~ (def. 2) is carried on; building(s), organization, etc., needed for such work; settlement where charitable or medical work is carried on, esp. among poor people. 4. that work which a person feels called upon to do by God: She thinks her ~ in life is to reform juvenile delinquents. 5. operational sortie, special task, assigned to an individual or a unit of the armed forces.

is sion a ry ['miʃənəri] n. person sent to preach his religion, esp. among people who are ignorant of it; (attrib.) of missions (def. 2) or missionaries: a ~ meeting, at which a ~ talks about his work, or one held to raise funds; a ~ box, in which money is collected for charitable missions.

is sis, mis sus ['misiz] n. (colloq. or vulgar) 1. (as used by servants) the mistress: The ~ has gone out. 2. wife: How's your ~? My ~ won't like that.

is sive ['misiv] n. (used humorously for) (esp. a long, serious-looking) letter.

is-spell ['mis'spel] v.t. (p.t. & p.p. mis-spelled or mis-spelt) (VP 1) spell wrongly. ~ing n.

is-spend ['mis'spend] v.t. (p.t. & p.p. mis-spent) (VP 1) spend or use wrongly or foolishly (esp. p.p.): a mis-spent youth (used of one who spends or has spent his early years only in foolish pleasures).

mis state ['mis'steit] v.t. (VP 1) state wrongly. ~ment n.

mis sy ['misi] n. (colloq., familiar) young girl; Miss: Well, ~, what do you want?

mist [mist] n. 1. [C & U] (occasion when there is, area with) water vapour in the air, at or near the earth's surface, less thick than fog and not so light as haze: hills hidden in ~; (fig.) lost in the ~s of time. 2. [C] filmy appearance before the eyes (caused by tears, etc.); (fig.) sth. that darkens the mind, makes understanding difficult, etc.: see things through a ~. v.i. & t. (VP 23, 1) cover, be covered, with ~: The scene ~ed over. The mirror ~ed over. Her eyes (were) ~ed with tears. ~y adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. with ~: a ~y evening; ~y weather; a ~y view. 2. not clear: have only a ~y idea. ~i ly adv. ~i ness n.

^{1}mis take [mis'teik] n. [C] wrong opinion, idea, or act: spelling ~s. We all make ~s occasionally. There's some ~! There must be some ~! by ~, as the result of carelessness, forgetfulness, etc.; in error: I took your umbrella by ~. and no ~, (colloq.) without any doubt: It's hot today and no ~!

^{2}mis take [mis'teik] v.t. & i. (p.t. mistook [mis'tuk], p.p. mistaken [mis'teikən]) 1. (VP 1, 15) be wrong, have a wrong idea, about: ~ sb.'s meaning. We've ~n the house, come to the wrong house. There's no mistaking, no possibility of being wrong about: There's no mistaking what ought to be done. 2. (VP 18) ~ sb. or sth. for, wrongly suppose that sb. or sth. is (sb. or sth. else): Don Quixote mistook the windmills for giants. She is often ~n for her twin sister. 3. If I ~ not, unless I am wrong. You ~, my dear, you're wrong. mis tak en (p.p. as) adj. 1. in error; wrong in opinion: be ~n about sth.; a case of ~n identity; ~n ideas. If I am not ~n, if I am not wrong. 2. ill-judged: ~n kindness (zeal). mis tak en ly adv.

mis ter ['mistə*] n. 1. (always written Mr) title prefixed to a man's name when he has no other title (Mr Green), or to his office (Mr Secretary). 2. (used without a person's name; vulg.) sir: Listen to me, mister.

mis time [mis'taim] v.t. (used esp. in the p.p.) say or do sth. out of season, at an unsuitable time: a ~d (inopportune) intervention.

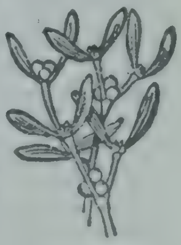
mis tle toe ['misltou, 'miz-] n. [U] parasitic plant (growing on fruit and other trees) with small white sticky berries (used in making bird-lime). It is used as a Christmas decoration.



Mistletoe

mis took [mis'tuk] p.t. of mistake.

mis trans late ['mistræns'leit] v.t. (VP 1) translate wrongly. mis trans la tion n. [C & U].

mis tress ['mistris] n. 1. (cf. master) woman at the head of a household or family; woman in authority who gives orders to servants: Servants willingly obey a kind ~. Is your ~ at home? 2. woman school teacher: the French mistress, teacher of French (but not necessarily a Frenchwoman); the games ~, in charge of games (hockey, etc.). 3. woman with a good knowledge or control of sth.: a ~ of needlework. She is ~ of the situation. (fig.) Venice used to be called the ~ of the Adriatic. 4. (in stories, plays, etc., dealing with periods before the 18th century, and still in Scotland by humbler classes of people) title equivalent to the modern Mrs or Miss 5. (poet.) woman loved and courted by a man: 'O ~ mine!' 6. woman who lives with a man as if she were his wife, or is kept by him and visited for the purpose of sexual relations. (Cf. concubine, an older word not now much used.) mis tri al [mis'traiəl] n. (law) trial which is made invalid because of some error in the proceedings.

mis trust [mis'trʌst] v.t. (VP 1) feel no confidence in: ~ one's own powers. n. [U] want of confidence or trust (of or in). ~ful adj. suspicious (of). ~ful ly adv.

mist y see mist.

mis un der stand ['misʌndə'stænd] v.t. (p.t. & p.p. -stood [-'stud]) (VP 1) take a wrong meaning from (instructions, messages, etc.); form a wrong opinion of (sb. or sth.): His intentions were misunderstood. ~ing n. [C & U] failure to understand rightly, esp. when this has led or may lead to ill feeling: ~ings between nations that may lead to war; clear up a ~ing.

mis us age [mis'ju:zidʒ] n. [U] improper or wrong usage; ill-treatment.

mis use [mis'ju:z] v.t. (VP 1) use wrongly; use for a wrong purpose; treat badly n. [mis'ju:s] [U] using wrongly; [C] instance of this: the ~ of 'who' (e.g. using it when 'whom' is correct).

mite [mait] n. 1. very small coin no longer in use (see N.T., Mark xii. 22); very small or modest contribution or offering: offer a ~ of comfort; give one's ~ to a good cause. 2. tiny object, esp a small child (usu. as an object of sympathy): Poor little ~! What a ~ of a child! 3. sorts of very small insect, esp. the kind found in cheese: cheese ~s.

mit i gate ['mitigeit] v.t. (VP 1) make less severe, violent, or painful: mitigating circumstances, those that may make a mistake, crime, etc., seem less serious. mit i ga tion [ˌmiti'geiʃən] n. [U].

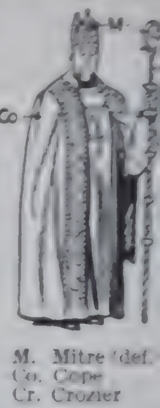
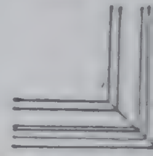
mi tre, (U.S.A. miter) ['maitə*] n. 1. head-dress worn by bishops at some ceremonies. 2. (also ~-joint) joint whose line of junction bisects the angle between the two pieces it joins.



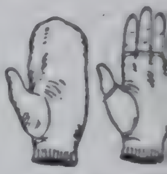
M. Mitre (def.
Co. Cope
Cr. Crozier

mitt [mit] n. 1. mitten. 2. baseball glove; (colloq.) boxing-glove.

mit ten ['mitn] n. 1. kind of glove covering four fingers together and the thumb separately. 2. covering for the back and palm of the hand only, leaving the thumb and fingers bare.



A mitre(d) join



Mittens

¹mix [miks] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10, 18, 19B, 21) (of different substances, people, etc.) put, bring, or come together so that the substances, etc., are no longer distinct; make or prepare (sth.) by doing this: mix flour and water. The doctor mixed me a bottle of medicine (mixed a bottle of medicine for me). We can sometimes mix business with pleasure. She was mixing (preparing) a sal Oil and water do not mix. You can't m oil with water. Many races are mixed Hawaii. 2. (VP 21) (of persons) co or be together in society: He does mix well, doesn't get on well wi people, esp. people of different soc classes or different interests. 3. be (g mixed up, be involved or confuse Don't get mixed up in politics (mi up with those politicians), keep clear them. He feels very mixed up (confuse about life, cannot see clearly wh principles, etc., to adopt. I don't w to be mixed up in the affair, don't wa to be connected with it in any wa
Hence, ¹*mix-up n. confused sta
What a mix-up! There's been a bit a mix-up about who should be invited the party, some confusion and mista mixed [mikst] adj. of different sor mixed biscuits (pickles); a mixed grill of liver, kidneys, and bacon); mi farming (e.g. dairy farming and raising of poultry); mixed feelings ( sorrow and pleasure); a mixed comp (i.e. including people of different clas tastes, etc.); mixed marriages (betw persons of different races); a mi school (for both boys and girls); doubles (in tennis, etc.); mixed

here persons of both sexes bathe gether). mix er n. 1. person or thing at mixes: a cement (concrete) mixer; ttrib.) a mixer tap, one that mixes hot nd cold water from two pipes. 2.
olloq.) one who associates with others society (well, badly, etc.): He's a od mixer, is sociable, quick at making iends, etc.

ix [miks] n. (modern trade use) preared mixture of ingredients (for various inds of food), the final stage to be done the home: an ice-cream mix; cake ixes (requiring only the addition of quid, etc., before being baked).

ix ture [ˈmikstʃə*] n. 1. [U] mixing r being mixed. 2. [C] sth. made by ixing: a smoking ~ (made by blending ifferent kinds of tobacco); a cough ~;
e ~ as before, (colloq.) the same proedure, treatment, etc., as in the past.
ir is a ~, not a compound, of gases.

iz (z)en [ˈmizn] n. 1. (also ˈ*~-mast*) ast nearest the stern on a ship with hree masts. 2. (also ˈ*~-sail*) lowest quare sail set on this mast. (See ppendix 3.)

iz zle [ˈmizl] v.t. & i. (dial. or colloq.)
. (VP 21) rain in fine drops. 2. (VP 21)
omplain. 3. (VP 1) confuse; mislead.

ne mon ic [ni(:)ˈmɔnik] adj. of, deigned to help, the memory. mne- non ics n. pl. art of, system for, im-roving the memory; ~ verses, e.g. for emembering irregular declensions or onjugations.

o [mou] n. (joking or vulgar abbr. of)
oment: half a mo.

oan [moun] n. [C] low sound of pain
r regret, or one suggesting suffering:
e ~s of the wounded; the ~ of the wind n a winter evening. v.i. (VP 21) utter s; (VP 1, 10) say with ~s: ~ (out) a lea for help.

oat [mout] n. deep, wide ditch filled ith water, round a castle, etc., as a efence. ~ed [ˈmoutid] adj. having a ~: ~ed manor house.

ob [mɔb] n. [C] 1. disorderly crowd, abble, esp. one that has gathered for ischief or attack: mob law, mob rule, nposed or enforced by a mob. 2. (the
ob) the masses; the common people:
ob oratory, the kind of speech-making hat appeals to the emotions of the asses, not to the intellect. v.t. & i. bb-) (VP 1) (of people) crowd round in eat numbers, either to attack or to dmire: The pickpocket was mobbed by women. The film-star was mobbed teenagers. mob ster n. member of a ang or mob of rowdy persons.

ob-cap [ˈmɔbkæp] n. (18th century) oman's indoor head-dress covering e whole of the hair.

bile [ˈmoubail, -bil] adj. 1. moving,
le to be moved, easily: ~ troops (artillery). 2. easily and often changing: ~ features, quickly showing changes of thought and emotion. n. ornamental structure with parts that move in currents of air. mo bil i ty [mouˈbiliti] n. [U] being ~.

mo bil ize [ˈmoubilaiz] v.t. (VP 1) collect together for service or use, esp. in war. mo bil i za tion [ˌmoubilaiˈzeiʃən] n. mobilizing or being ~d: (attrib.) mobilization orders.

moc ca sin [ˈmɔkəsin] n. [U] soft leather made from deerskin; (pl.) shoes made from this, as worn by N. American Indians.

mo cha [ˈmoukə, ˈmɔkə] n. [U] fine quality of coffee, originally shipped from the Arabian port of M~.

¹mock [mɔk] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 21, 24 with at) make fun (of); ridicule (esp. by copying in a funny or contemptuous way): The naughty boys ~ed the blind man. They ~ed at my fears. ˈ~ing bird n. American bird of the thrush family that mimics the notes of other birds. 2. (VP 1) defy contemptuously: The heavy steel doors ~ed the attempts of the thieves to open the safe. ˈ~-up n. model (e.g. of an aircraft, made of wood) showing the appearance of a proposed machine (or of part of it). ~er n. person who ~s. ~ing ly adv.

²mock [mɔk] attrib. adj. not real or genuine: a ~ battle; ~-turtle soup, made to imitate turtle soup; ~-modesty, pretence of being modest; ~-heroic, making fun of heroic style in literature. n. (arch.) derision: usu. make a ~ of, ridicule.

mock er y [ˈmɔkəri] n. 1. [U] mocking; ridicule: hold a person up to ~. 2. [C] sb. or sth. that is mocked; occasion when sb. or sth. is mocked. 3. [C] bad or contemptible example (of sth.): His trial was a ~ of justice. He received only the ~ of a trial.

mo dal [ˈmoudl] adj. relating to mode or manner (contrasted with substance), or (gram.) the mood of a verb: ~ auxiliaries (e.g. can, may).

mode [moud] n. [C] 1. way in which sth. is done; way of speaking or behaving: a ~ of life (dressing the hair). 2. (music) one of the two chief scale systems in modern music (the major and the minor ~s).

mod el [ˈmɔdl] n. [C] 1. small-scale copy of sth.; design to be copied: a ~ of an ocean liner; a clay or wax ~ for a statue (to be copied in stone or metal); (attrib.) ~ aircraft (trains). 2. person or thing to be copied: He's a ~ of industry. Make yours on the ~ of your brother's. 3. (colloq.) person or thing exactly like another: She's the ~ (a perfect ~) of her mother. 4. person who poses for sculptors and painters. 5. person employed to wear clothes, hats, etc., so that prospective buyers may see them; mannequin. 6. article of clothing, hat, etc., shown publicly by ~s (def. 5): the latest Paris ~s, clothes, etc., from the Paris dressmakers. 7. design or structure of which many copies or reproductions are (to be) made: the latest ~s of Ford cars; a sports ~, a car designed for fast driving. 8. (attrib.) perfect; deserving to be imitated: ~ behaviour; a ~ wife.

^{2}mod el ['mɔdl] v.t. & i. (-ll-, (U.S.A.) -l-) (VP 1, 18) 1. shape (in some soft substance): ~ sb.'s head in clay; (fig.) delicately ~led features. 2. (VP 21) practise as a model (defs. 4 and 5). 3. make from a model; take as a copy or example: ~ oneself after (on, upon) one's father ~(l)er n. person who practises ~ling ~(l)ing n. [U] art of making ~s (def. 1), way in which this is done.

^{1}mod er ate ['mɔdərit] adj. 1. not extreme; limited; fairly, but not very, large or good: He has a ~ appetite Prices in this hotel are strictly ~, not at all high. I'd like a ~-priced room (e.g. in a hotel). We need a ~-sized house (e.g. with 3 or 4 bedrooms, not 7 or 8). 2. mid-way; keeping or kept within reasonable limits: a man of ~ opinions; a ~ drinker; be ~ in one's demands. n. person who holds ~ opinions (e.g. in politics). ~ly adv. to a ~ extent: a ~ly large audience.

^{2}mod er ate ['mɔdəreit] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) make or become less violent or extreme: ~ one's enthusiasm (demands) The wind is moderating. His wife exercises a moderating influence upon him, is able to restrain him.

mod er a tion [,mɔdə'reiʃən] n. 1. [U] quality of being moderate; freedom from excess: My doctor has advised ~ in eating and drinking. in ~, in a moderate manner or degree: Will alcoholic drinks be harmful taken in ~? 2. (pl.) (shortened to Mods) first public examination for the degree of B.A. (Oxon.).

mod er a tor ['mɔdəreitə*] n. 1. Presbyterian minister presiding over a church court. 2. material in which neutrons are slowed down in an atomic pile.

mod ern ['mɔdən] adj. 1. of the present or recent times: ~ history (e.g. of Europe, from 1475 onwards); ~ languages (contrasted with classical Greek and Latin, and, of other languages, near the form now spoken and written); M~ English (from the 15th century onwards); ~ inventions and discoveries 2. new and up-to-date: ~ methods and ideas; a house with all ~ conveniences. n. person living in ~ times.

mod ern ism ['mɔdənizəm] n. [U] modern views or methods; [C] instance of these, e.g. (theology) subordination of tradition to modern thought. mod ist n. believer in, supporter o mod ern is tic [,mɔdə'nistik] adj.

mo der ni ty [mɔ'də:niti] n. [U] modern.

mod ern ize ['mɔdənaiz] v.t. (V make suitable for present-day n bring up to date: Ought we to ~ spelling? mod ern i za tion [,mɔc
'zeiʃən] n. [U].

mod est ['mɔdist] adj. 1. having,
ing, a not too high opinion of merits, abilities, etc.: be ~ about achievements; a ~ hero. 2. mode not large in size or amount: He li a ~ little house, not showy or sple My demands are quite ~. He is ~ requirements. 3. taking, showing, not to do or say anything impu improper: ~ in speech, dress, behaviour. ~ly adv.

mod es ty ['mɔdisti] n. [U] state of modest (all senses): Her ~ prevent from making her feelings known to mod i cum ['mɔdikəm] n. (sing.

small or moderate amount: a success with a ~ of effort; a simple with a ~ of wine.

mod i fy ['mɔdifai] v.t. (VP 1) 1.
changes in; make different: Th dustrial revolution modified the structure of English society. 2. mak severe, violent, etc.: You'd better ~ tone (e.g. be less rude). He won't ~ demands, reduce them. 3. (gr qualify the sense of (a word): Adje ~ nouns. mod i fi ca tion [,mɔdif ʃən] n. [U] ~ing or being modified instance of this; change or altera make modifications in a progra mod i fi er ['mɔdifaiə*] n. (gram.) that modifies (e.g. an adj. or adv.).

mod ish ['moudiʃ] adj. fashion ~ly adv.

mo diste [mou'di:st] n. milliner; d maker

mod u late ['mɔdjuleit] v.t. & i.
(VP 1) make a change in the tone, p or key of. 2. (VP 23) (music) chang pass (from one key to another). mo la tion [,mɔdju'leiʃən] n. [U] mod ing; [C] change resulting from (music) [U] changing of key; [C] p cular change of key.

mo dus o pe ran di ['mɔdəsɔpə'ræ
'moudəs,ɔpə'rændai] n. (Lat.) meth dealing with a piece of work; meth being operated.

mo hair ['mouhɛə*] n. [U] (thread, c made from the) fine, silky hair o Angora goat.

Mo ham med an [mou'hæmidən]
adj. (frequently used spelling form (follower) of Muhammad, Prophe Islam. (Muslim is the preferred w ~ism n. the religion taught by hammad, contained in the Koran.

oi e ty ['mɔiəti] n. (esp. in legal sense) ne of two parts into which sth. is ivided.

oil [mɔil] v.i. work hard: (only in) il and ~.

oist [mɔist] adj. (esp. of surfaces) lightly wet: eyes ~ with tears; a ~ wind rom the sea. ~en ['mɔisn] v.t. & i. VP 21) make or become ~: ~en the ips (e.g. by licking them); ~en a sponge ith water (e.g. to stick stamps on nvelopes). mois ture ['mɔistʃə*] n. U] condensed vapour on a surface; iquid in the form of vapour.

oke [mouk] n. (sl.) donkey.

o lar ['moulə*] n. & adj. (one) of the eeth used for grinding food.

o las ses [mə'læsiz] n. (with sing. v.) hick, dark syrup drained from raw ugar during the refining process.

old, molder, moulding, moldy, see nould, etc.

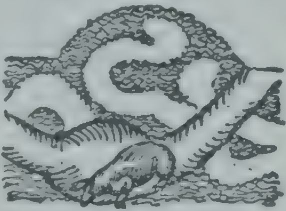
ole [moul] n. permanent, small dark nark on the human skin.

ole [moul] n. small, dark-grey fur-overed animal living in tunnels (or urrows) which it makes in the ground. lind as a ~, seeing badly. ~-skin n. fur f a ~, used or making arments and hats. '~-hill . pile of earth thrown up by ~ while burrowing. make mountain out of a ~-hill, exaggerate; make a difficulty seem much greater han it really is.



A mole

ole [moul] n. stone wall built in the sea s a breakwater or causeway.

ol e cule ['mɔlikju:l] n. smallest unit nto which a substance could be divided ithout a change in its chemical nature. mo lec u lar [mou'lekjulə*, mə-] adj. f or related to ~s.

o lest [mou'lest, mə-] v.t. (VP 1) rouble or annoy intentionally. moles ta tion [ˌmoules'teiʃən] n. [U].

oll [mɔl] n. (sl.) woman companion f a gangster, vagrant, etc.; prostitute.

ol li fy ['mɔlifai] v.t. (VP 1) make (a erson, his feelings) calmer or quieter: ing remarks; ~ sb.'s anger. mol li fi ca tion [ˌmɔlifi'keiʃən] n. [U].

ol lusc ['mɔləsk] n. one of a class of nimals with soft bodies (and often hard hells) (e.g. oysters, mussels, cuttlefish, nails, slugs).

ol ly-cod dle ['mɔlikɔdl] n. person ho takes too much care of his health, ho pampers himself and likes others o pamper him. v.t. (VP 1, often reflex.) amper (sb., oneself).

o loch ['moulɔk] n. (in the O.T.) god to whom children were sacrificed; (fig.) dreadful thing (e.g. war) that requires great sacrifice of human life.

molt, see moult.

mol ten ['moultən] p.p. of melt. 1. (of metals) melted: ~ steel. 2. made of metal that has been melted and cast: a ~ image (e.g. of a god).

mol to ['mɔltou] adv. (in musical directions) very: ~ espressivo, with much expression.

mo lyb den um [mɔ'libdinəm] n. [U] silvery-white brittle metallic element used in alloys for making high-speed tools.

mo ment ['moumənt] n. 1. [C] point or very brief period of time: It was all over in a few ~s. Please wait a ~. Just a ~, please. He'll be here at any ~, very soon now. It was done in a ~. He arrived at the last ~, almost too late. Study your notes at odd ~s, whenever you have a few minutes to spare. I have just this ~ (only this ~) heard the news, heard it only a ~ ago. Not for a ~, never: 'Have you ever thought of making your own dresses?'—'Not for a ~!' men of the ~, men who are important just now. 2. (with def. art.; that usu. omitted; used as a conj.) as soon as; at the time when: I started the ~ your letter arrived. The ~ I saw you I knew you were angry with me. 3. [U] importance: an affair of great ~; a matter of ~; of great (little, no) ~.

mo men ta ry ['moumәntәri] adj. 1. lasting for, done in, a moment. 2. at every moment: with a learner at the wheel, and in ~ expectation of an accident. mo men ta ri ly adv.

mo men tous [mou'mentəs, mə-] adj. important; serious. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

mo men tum [mou'mentəm, mə-] n. [U] 1. (science) quantity of motion of a moving body (the product of its mass and velocity): Do falling objects gain ~? 2. (fig., of events) impetus gained by movement.

mon arch ['mɔnək] n. supreme ruler (a king, queen, emperor, or empress); (fig.) The oak tree is called the ~ of the forest. ~ic [mə'nɑ:kik] adj. of a ~ or a ~y. ~ism ['mɔnəkizəm] n. [U] system of government by a single ruler or ~. ~ist ['mɔnəkist] n. supporter of ~ism. ~y ['mɔnəki] n. [U] government by a ~; [C] state ruled by a ~.

mon as ter y ['mɔnəstəri] n. building in which monks live as a secluded community under religious vows.

mo nas tic [mə'næstik] adj. of monks or monasteries: ~ vows, i.e. of poverty, chastity, and obedience; ~ architecture, of the kind used for monasteries, abbeys, etc. mo nas ti cism [mə'næstisizəm] n. [U] system of living as practised by monks in monasteries.

mon au ral [mə'nɔ:rəl] adj. for one ear; (with trade abbrev. mono; of sound-reproducing equipment) not stereophonic.

Mon day ['mʌndi, -dei] n. second day of the week.

mon e ta ry ['mʌnitəri] adj. of money or coins: The ~ unit in the U.S.A. is the dollar. Could ~ reform in Great Britain give us a decimal coinage?

mon ey ['mʌni] n. 1. [U] metal (gold, silver, copper, or alloys) stamped into coins, printed notes with values stamped on them, given and accepted when buying and selling, etc. make ~, obtain wealth. be coining ~, be getting very rich very quickly. marry ~, marry a rich person. get one's ~'s worth, get full value for ~ paid or spent. (pay) ~ down, cash, not credit. 2. (compounds) '~-box n. closed box into which coins are dropped through a slit, used for savings or for collecting contributions (to charities, etc.). '~-,changer n. one whose business is to exchange ~ of one country for that of another country. '~-,grubber n. person whose chief or only interest in life is making ~. '~-,lender n. one whose business is to lend ~ at interest. (the) '~-,market n. body of bankers, financiers, etc., whose operations decide the rates of interest on borrowed capital. '~-,order n. official order bought from a post office for ~ to be paid by another post office to a named person. '~-,spinner n. (colloq.) book, play, etc., that makes a lot of ~. 3. (pl., legal or arch.) sums of money: ~s paid in (out); sundry moneys owing to the estate

mon eyed ['mʌnid] adj. having (much) ~: a ~ed man; the ~ed classes; the ~ed interest, the owners of capital. ~less adj. having no ~.

mon ger ['mʌŋgə*] n. (chiefly in compounds) trader, dealer: iron~; fish~; coster~; scandal-~.

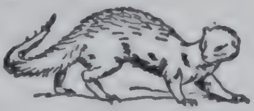
Mon gol ['mɔŋgɔl] n. member of an Asian race living in Mongolia.

mon goose ['mɔŋgu:s] n. (pl. ~s [-iz]) small Indian animal clever at destroying venomous snakes.



A mongoose

mon grel ['mʌŋgrəl] n. 1. dog of mixed breed. 2. any plant or animal of mixed origin; person not of pure race: We're all ~s if we go back far enough. adj. (attrib. only) of mixed breed, race, or origin.

mon i tor ['mɔnitə*] n. 1. schoolboy given authority over his fellows. 2. (out-of-date) warship with heavy guns for use in coastal waters. 3. person employed to listen to and report on foreign broadcasts; apparatus for testing transmissions by radio, etc., or for detecting radio-activity, tracing the flight of missiles, etc. ~ screen, televi screen used in a studio to check or se transmissions. v.t. & i. act as ~ (def monk [mʌŋk] n. member of a co munity of men living together under religious vows in a monastery. '~'s-hood n. kinds of plant, esp. aconite.

A mo

mon key ['mʌŋki] n. (pl. ~s) 1. animal of the kind illustrated below, of the group of animals most closely resembling man. put sb.'s ~ up, (sl.) make him angry: get one's ~ up, (sl.) become angry. '~-,jacket n. short, close-fitting jacket worn by some sailors. '~-nut n. groundnut. '~-,puzzle n. Chile pine-tree. '~-wrench n. wre (spanner) with a jaw that can be adjus to various lengths. 2. (playfully) person, esp. a child, who is fond of mischief: You little ~! v.i. (VP 23) play mischievously: Stop ~ing about with those tools!

A monkey

mo no- ['mounou-] pref. one: ~plane; ~rail, etc.

mo no chrome ['mɔnəkroum] n. painting in (different tints of) one colour. adj. having only one colour.

mon o cle ['mɔnəkl, -əkl] n. eyeglass f one eye only, kept in position by t muscles round the eye.

mo no cot y le don ['monou,kɔti'li:da n. plant with a single cotyledon.

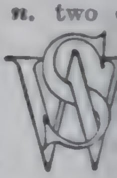
mo nog a my [mɔ'nɔgəmi, mə-] n. pra tice of being married to only one pers at a time. mo nog a mist n. pers who practises ~. mo nog a mou [mɔ'nɔgəməs, mə-] adj. having only o wife or husband at a time.

mon o gram ['mɔnəgræm] n. two more letters (esp. a person's initials) combined in one design (used on handkerchiefs, notepaper, etc.).



A monogra

mon o graph ['mɔnəgrɑ:f] n. detailed scientific account, esp. a published report on some item of research.

mon o lith ['mɔnouliθ, nə-] n. sing upright block of stone (as a pillar monument). ~ic [,mɔnou'liθik, -nə-] a of or like a ~: a ~ic monument.

mon o logue ['mɔnəlɔg] n. scene in play, etc., in which only one pers speaks; dramatic composition for single performer; soliloquy.

mon o ma nia ['mɔnou'meinjə] n. [state of mind, sometimes amounting madness, caused by the attention bei occupied exclusively by one idea subject; [C] instance of this. mon ma ni ac n. sufferer from ~.

mon o mark ['mɔnoumɑ·k] n. (tra name for a scheme that uses a) combination of letters and/or figures (e.g. BCM-123) registered as an address, or for goods or articles.

mon o plane ['mɔnəplein] n. aircraft with one wing on each side of the fuselage.

mo nop o list [mə'nɔpəlist] n. person who has a monopoly, or who favours monopolies. mo nop o lis tic [məˌnɔpə'listik] adj.

mo nop o lize [mə'nɔpəlaiz] v.t. (VP 1) get or keep a monopoly of; control the whole of, so that others cannot share: Don't let me ~ the conversation. mo nop o li za tion [mə'nɔpəlai'zeiʃən] n.

mo nop o ly [mə'nɔpəli] n. [C] 1. (possession of the) sole right to supply; the supply or service thus controlled. 2. complete possession of trade, talk, etc.: In some countries tobacco is a government ~. 3. anything over which one person or group has control and which is not or cannot be shared by others.

mon o syl la ble ['mɔnəˌsiləbl] n. word of one syllable. mon o syl lab ic ['mɔnəsi'læbik] adj. having only one syllable; made up of words of one syllable: monosyllabic answers, e.g. 'Yes' or 'No'.

mon o the ism ['mɔnou'θi:izəm] n. doctrine that there is only one God (contrasted with polytheism). mon o the ist n. ['mɔnouˌθi:ist] believer in ~

mon o tone ['mɔnətoun] n. (keeping a) level tone in talking or singing; utterance without change of pitch: speak in a ~.

mo not o nous [mə'nɔtənəs] adj. (uninteresting because) unchanging, without variety: a ~ voice, one with little change of pitch; ~ work. ~ly adv.

mo not o ny [mə'nɔtəni] n. [U] the state of being monotonous; wearisome absence of variety.

mo no type ['mɔnətaip] n. (proprietary name for) composing machine that casts and sets types letter by letter (from a strip of paper into which holes have been cut for the material to be set).

mon ox ide [mɔ'nɔksaid] n. [U & C] oxide containing one oxygen atom in the molecule: carbon ~ (CO).

mon sieur [mə'sjə:* məsjə*, (Fr məsjø)] n. (French for) Mr, sir, gentleman: M~ Soustelle; yes, ~. (See messieurs.)

mon soon [mɔn'su:n] n. wind blowing in the Indian Ocean from SW. in summer (wet ~) and from NE. in winter (dry ~); the rainy season that comes with the wet ~

mon ster ['mɔnstə*] n. 1. abnormally mis-shaped animal or plant; person or thing of extraordinary size, shape, or qualities; (in stories) imaginary creature (sometimes half animal, half bird): Mermaids, griffins, and dragons are ~s. A five-legged dog is a ~. 2. person who is remarkable for some bad or evil quality: a ~ of cruelty (ingratitude); the Commissioners of Inland Revenue, those ~s of greed. 3. (attrib.) huge: a ~ ship.

mon strance ['mɔnstrəns] n. (in R.C. Church) glass or crystal vessel in a setting of gold or silver in which the Host is exposed.

mon strous ['mɔnstrəs] adj. 1. of or like a monster; of great size. 2. atrocious; causing horror and disgust: ~ crimes. 3. (colloq.) quite absurd; incredible; scandalous: It's perfectly ~ that men should be paid more than women for the same job. ~ly adv. mon stros i ty [mɔn'strɔsiti] n. [U] state of being ~; [C] monster.

mon tage [mɔn'tɑ:ʒ, (Fr.) mɔ̃taʒ] n. (Fr.) [U] selection, cutting, and arrangement of photographic film to make a consecutive whole.

month [mʌnθ] n. (calendar ~) any of the twelve parts into which the year is divided; period of time from a day in one ~ to the corresponding day in the next ~ (e.g. 2 Jan. to 2 Feb.); (lunar ~) period in which the moon makes a complete revolution; period of 28 days: a baby of three ~s: a three-~ old baby. In which ~ were you born? I shall be back this day ~, four weeks from today. ~ly adj. & adv. done, happening, published, etc., once a ~; valid for one ~: a ~ly season ticket (for railway travel). n. periodical issued once a ~.

mon u ment ['mɔnjumənt] n. 1. building, column, statue, etc., serving to keep (or intended to keep) alive the memory of a person or event: a ~ in the church to the late rector; the M~, the column in London that commemorates the Great Fire of London in 1666. 2. Ancient M~s, things of special historic interest, such as prehistoric fortifications and remains, old buildings and bridges (often preserved by official bodies). 3. piece of scholarship or research that deserves to be remembered; work of literature or science of lasting value: a ~ of learning.

mon u men tal [ˌmɔnju'mentl] adj. 1. of, serving for, a monument: a ~ inscription; ~ masons (e.g. making tombstones). 2. (of books, studies, etc.) of lasting value: a ~ production (e.g. the Oxford English Dictionary, a new encyclopaedia). 3. (of qualities, buildings) very great: ~ ignorance.

moo [mu:] n. sound made by a cow or ox. v.i. make the sound moo. 'moo-cow n. (child's word for) cow.

mooch [mu:tʃ] v.i. (VP 23) loiter (about); wait or walk (about) idly: out-of-work men ~ing about (the streets).

¹mood [mu:d] n. [C] state of mind or spirits: in a merry ~; in the ~ for work, inclined to work; not in the ~ for serious music. He's a man of ~s, his ~s change often. ~y adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. having ~s that often change. 2. gloomy; bad-tempered. ~il y adv. ~i ness n.

^{2}mood [mu:d] n. (gram.) one of the groups of forms that a verb may take to show whether things are regarded as certain, possible, doubtful, etc.: the indicative (imperative, subjunctive) ~.

^{1}moon [mu:n] n. 1. (sing. with def. art.) the body which moves round the earth once in a month and shines at night by light reflected from the sun; (with indef. art. & adj.) this body regarded as an object distinct from that visible in other months: They're trying to send rockets round the ~. Is there a ~ tonight? Is it a new ~ or a full ~ (i.e. with the whole of its disc illuminated)? There was no ~, it was a night with no ~ visible in the sky. He promised her the ~, made extravagant promises. 2. (compounds) ˈ~beam n. ray of ~light. ˈ~flower n. ox-eye daisy. ˈ~light n. light of the ~; (often attrib.) go swimming in the ~light (by ~light); a ~light night. ˈ~lit adj. lit by the ~: a ~lit scene (landscape). ˈ~shine n. (a) light of the ~. (b) foolish or idle talk, ideas, etc. (c) (U.S.A.) whisky or other spirits illicitly distilled or smuggled. ˈ~struck adj. wild and wandering in the mind (supposedly as the result of the ~'s influence). 3. [C] satellite of other planets: How many ~s has the planet Jupiter? 4. [C] (poet.) month: once in a blue ~, (colloq.) rarely or never. ~less adj. without a visible ~: a dark, ~less night.

^{2}moon [mu:n] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 23) move or look (about, around) listlessly. 2. (VP 10) pass (time away) listlessly or aimlessly: ~ away the summer holidays. ~y adj. given to ~ing away the time.

^{1}moor [muə*, mo:*] n. [C & U] (area of) open, uncultivated land, esp. if covered with heather (and often, in Gt. Brit., used for preserving game, esp. grouse). ˈ~fowl, ˈ~game nn. (pl. unchanged) red grouse. ˈ~cock n. male of this. ˈ~hen n. (a) female of this. (b) water-hen. ˈ~land n. land consisting of open ~ and covered with heather.

^{2}moor [muə*, mo:*] v.t. (VP 1) make (a boat, ship, etc.) secure (to land or buoys) by means of cables, etc. ˈ~ing-mast n. one for ~ing airships. ~ings n. pl. 1. cables, anchors, and chains, etc., by which a ship or boat is ~ed. 2. place where a ship is ~ed.

Moor [muə*] n. member of the Arab peoples who now live in NW. Africa as far south as the Senegal River and those who once lived in Spain: the conquest of Spain by the ~s.

Moor ish [ˈmuəriʃ] adj. of the Moors: ~ palaces in Granada.

moose [mu:s] n. (pl. ~s [-iz], or without
-s) large sort of deer with coarse fle and palm-shaped horns, found in nor ern Europe (esp. Sweden), and Canada and Alaska.

moot [mu:t] adj. (only in) ~ po (question), one about which there uncertainty. v.t. (VP 1) raise or br forward for discussion: This quest has been ~ed again.

^{1}mop [mɔp] n. 1. bundle of coarse strin cloth, etc., fastened to a long handle cleaning floors, etc.; similar mater on a short handle for cleaning dish etc. 2. mass of thick, untidy hair.
(-pp-) 1. (VP 1) clean with a mop:
the floor. 2. (VP 1, 10) wipe up with,
as with, a mop: mop one's brow, w away sweat, e.g. with a handkerchief; up a mess. mop up, (colloq. uses) fin off, make an end of: mop up arre of work; mopping-up operations (in military campaign, getting rid of defeat remnants of enemy troops). mop t floor with sb., defeat him complete

^{2}mop [mɔp] v.i. (-pp-) (arch. or lite only in) mop and mow, make grimace mope [moup] v.i. (VP 21, 23) pity on self, give oneself up to sadness or l spirits: ~ (about) in the house all d

n. the ~s, low spirits: suffer from ~s; have a fit of the ~s.

mo ped [ˈmouped] n. pedal bicycle fitt with a small petrol engine (under 50 c.

mo raine [moˈrein] n. heap or mass earth, gravel, rock, etc., carried do by a glacier and deposited at its ed or end.

^{1}mor al [ˈmɔrəl] adj. 1. concerni principles of right and wrong: ~ sta dards; a ~ question; the ~ sense, t power of distinguishing right and wron ~ law; ~ rights (obligations), based ~ law; ~ philosophy, ethics, the stu of right and wrong in human behavio
2. good and virtuous: live a ~ life; a man. 3. able to understand the diff ence between right and wrong: At w age do we become ~ beings? 4. teachi or illustrating good behaviour: a book (story, talk). 5. (contrasted w physical or practical) connected w the sense of what is right and just: a victory, outcome of a struggle in wh the weaker side is comforted becau it has established the righteousness its cause; give sb. ~ support, help saying that he has justice and right his side; ~ courage, strength to fa contempt or ridicule rather than wrong. a ~ certainty, sth. so proba that there is little room for dou ~ly adv. 1. in a ~ manner: M~ly is all that can be desired. 2. accordi to what is most probable: The attem is ~ly bound to fail.

^{2}mor al [ˈmɔrəl] n. 1. that which a sto event, or experience teaches: And the

of this story is that a young girl should not speak to strange men. You may draw your own ~ from this. 2. (pl.) moral habits; standards of behaviour; principles of right and wrong: a man without ~s; a man of loose ~s; improve the ~s of a country.

mo rale [mɔˈrɑ:l, mə-] n. [U] state of discipline and spirit (in an army, a nation, etc.); temper, state of mind, as expressed in action: The army recovered its ~ and fighting power. The failing ~ of the enemy (their loss of confidence in themselves) helped to shorten the war.

mor al ist [ˈmɔrəlist] n. person who points out morals (def. 1); person who practises or teaches morality.

mor al is tic [ˌmɔrəˈlistik] adj. concerned with morals (def. 2).

mo ral i ty [məˈræliti] n. 1. [U] (standards, principles, of) good behaviour: Have standards of international ~ become low in recent years? Is commercial ~ high in your country? 2. [C] particular system of morals. 3. [C] form of drama, popular in the 16th century, teaching good behaviour, the chief characters being personifications of virtues and vices.

mor al ize [ˈmɔrəlaiz] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21) deal with moral questions; talk or write on questions of duty, right and wrong, etc.: ~ upon the failings of the young generation. Oh, do stop moralizing! None of your moralizing! (i.e. Stop preaching at me!) 2. (VP 1) give a moral interpretation of. 3. (VP 1) improve the morals of.

mo rass [məˈræs] n. [C] stretch of low, soft, wet land; marsh.

mor a to ri um [ˌmɔrəˈtɔ:riəm] n. [C] legal authorization to delay payment of debts.

mor bid [ˈmɔ:bid] adj. 1. diseased: a ~ growth, (e.g. a cancer or tumour); ~ anatomy, the study of diseased organs in the body. 2. (of sb.'s mind or ideas) unhealthy: a ~ imagination, one that dwells on horrible or nasty things. ~ly adv. ~i ty [mɔ:ˈbiditi], ~ness nn. state of being ~.

mor dant [ˈmɔ:dənt] adj. biting; sarcastic: ~ criticism; a ~ wit.

more [mɔ:, mɔə] adj., n., & adv. (contrasted with less; cf. much, many, most) I. adj. (independent comparative) greater in number, quantity, quality, degree, size, etc.; additional. n. a greater amount, number, etc.; an additional amount: We need ~ men (help, etc.). Instead of fewer helpers, we want ~. Have you any ~ paper? Would you like some (a little) ~ soup (a little ~ of this soup)? What ~ do you want? There are still a few ~. There is hardly any ~. That is ~ than enough. May I have one ~? I should like as many ~, the same number again. I hope to see ~ of you, to see you again often. II. adv. 1. forming the comparative degree of most adjj. and advv. of more than two syllables and of some of two syllables (esp. if stressed on the first): ~ beautiful (useful, interesting, serious) (than . . .); ~ easily (quietly, foolishly) (than . . .). and what is ~, ~ important, serious, etc. (according to context). 2. to a greater extent; in a greater degree: You need to sleep ~, (i.e. ~ than you sleep now). You must attend to your work ~. He was ~ frightened than hurt. He likes summer ~ than autumn. 3. again: Once ~, please. I shall not go there any ~, ever again. We saw him no ~, did not see him again. 4. ~ and ~, increasingly: The story gets ~ and ~ exciting. Life is becoming ~ and ~ expensive. ~ or less, about: It's an hour's journey, ~ or less. the ~, in that degree; by that amount: The ~ fool you to believe him, you are, if you believe him, foolish in a higher degree. The ~'s the pity, it is, to that extent, a greater pity. See also ^{2}the (adv.). no ~, neither: A: 'I can't understand this at all.' B: 'No ~ can I.' He's no ~ able to read Chinese than I am, neither he nor I can do so.

mo rel lo [məˈrelou] n. (also ~ cherry) bitter kind of cherry (used for jam).

more o ver [mɔ:ˈrouvə*] adv. further; besides; in addition (to this).

mor ga nat ic [ˌmɔ:gəˈnætik] adj. ~ marriage, one between a man of high rank (e.g. a prince) and a woman of lower rank, who remains in her lower social station, the children having no claim to succeed to the property, titles, etc., of their father.

morgue [mɔ:g] n. building in which bodies of persons found dead are kept until they are identified and claimed by members of their families. (Cf. mortuary.) mor i bund [ˈmɔribʌnd] adj. at the point of death; about to come to an end: ~ civilizations.

Mor mon [ˈmɔ:mən] n. member of a religious organization founded in the U.S.A. in 1830, officially called 'The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints'. ~ism n.

morn [mɔ:n] n. (poet.) morning.

morn ing [ˈmɔ:niŋ) n. 1. early part of the day between dawn and noon (or, more generally, the mid-day meal): in (during) the ~; this ~; yesterday (tomorrow) ~; every ~; on Sunday (Monday, etc.) ~; the ~ of May the 1st; one ~ last week; one summer ~; a few ~s ago; several ~s lately. When he awoke it was ~. 2. (attrib.) a ~ walk; an early ~ swim; a ~ coat, long black coat with the front sloped away; ~ dress, as worn on formal occasions in the ~; M~ Prayer, service used in the Church of England at ~ service; the ~ star, Venus, or other bright star seen about dawn; the ~ watch, (at sea) period of duty, 4 a.m. to 8 a.m. '~-'glory n. climbing plant of the convolvulus family, with flowers that fade by mid-day. '~-room n. sitting-room for the ~

mo roc co [mə'rɔkou] n. [U] soft leather made from goatskins.

mo ron ['mɔːrɔn] n. feeble-minded person (with mental level not so low as imbeciles or idiots). ~ic [mə'rɔnik] adj.

mo rose [mə'rous] adj. sullen; ill tempered; unsocial. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

Mor pheus ['mɔːfjuːs] n. god of dreams and sleep.

mor phia ['mɔːfjə], mor phine ['mɔːfiːn] nn. [U] drug, usu. in the form of a white powder, made from opium and used for relieving pain mor pho lo gy [mɔː'fɔlədʒi] n. branch of biology dealing with the form of animals and plants; study of the forms of words.

mor ris dance ['mɔris 'dɑːns] n. old English dance for a number of men mor row ['mɔrou] n. 1. (liter.) the next day after the present or after any given day: Their prospects for the ~ were excellent. What had the ~ in store for them? 2. (arch.) morning: Good ~!

Morse [mɔːs] n. (also ~ code) system of dots and dashes representing letters of the alphabet, to be signalled by lamp, radio, etc.: a message in ~; the ~ alphabet.

mor sel ['mɔːsəl] n. [C] tiny piece (esp. of food); mouthful: I haven't had a ~ of food since I left the house. What a dainty (choice) ~!

mor tal ['mɔːtl] adj. 1. (contrasted with immortal) which must die; which cannot live for ever: Man is ~, all men must die. Here lie the ~ remains of . . . (e.g. on a tombstone) here is buried what now remains of the body of . . . 2. causing death; a ~ wound; ~ sins, causing spiritual death. His injuries proved ~. 3. lasting until death: ~ hatred; ~ enemies, whose enmity will not end until death; ~ combat, only ended by the death of one of the fighters. 4. accompanying death: in ~ agony. 5. (colloq.) extreme; very great or long: in ~ fear; in a ~ hurry n. human being; (colloq.) What a thirsty ~ (= person) you are! ~ly adv. 1. so as to cause death: ~ly wounded 2. deeply, seriously: ~ly offended.

mor tal i ty [mɔː'tæliti] n. [U] 1. state of being mortal. 2. number of deaths caused by sth. (e.g. a disaster or disease): an epidemic with a heavy ~, a large number of deaths. 3. death-rate: ~ tables, (insurance) tables showing how long people at various ages may expect to live.

¹mor tar ['mɔːtə*] n. [U] mixture of lim sand, and water used to hold brick stones, etc., together in building. '~board n. (a) small, flat board with short handle on the underside, used for holding a supply of ~ (while laying bricks, etc.). (b) square cap worn by members of a college, etc. v.t. (VP 1, 10) join (bricks, etc.) with ~.

a mortar-boar (def. b)

²mor tar ['mɔːtə*] n. 1. bowl of hard material in which su stances are crushed with a pestle. (S the illustr. at pestle.) 2. short gun f firing shells at high angles.

mort gage ['mɔːgidʒ] v.t. (VP 1, 18, give sb. a claim on (property) as security for payment of a debt or loa ~ a house (to sb. for £2,000); land th may be ~d. 2. (fig.) pledge: ~ onese to a cause (an object), promise to wo hard for its success, to use one's r sources, etc. n. act of mortgaging agreement about this: raise a ~ (o one's house) from a bank. I can buy th house only if a ~ for £3,000 is obtainabl We must pay off the ~ this year. mort ga gee [ˌmɔːgə'dʒiː] n. person to who property is ~d. mort ga gor [ˌmɔːgə'dʒɔː*] n. person who gives a ~ on hi property mor tice ['mɔːtis] n. see mortise.

mor ti cian [mɔː'tiʃən] n. (U.S.A.) funera undertaker.

mor ti fy ['mɔːtifai] v.t. & i. 1. (VP cause (sb.) to be ashamed, humiliated or hurt in his feelings: mortified by sb.' rudeness; feel mortified at one's failur to pass an examination; a ~ing defea 2. (VP 1) ~ the flesh, discipline bodily passions, overcome bodily desires. 3 (VP 21) (of flesh, e.g. round a wound decay, be affected with gangrene mor ti fi ca tion [ˌmɔːtifi'keiʃən] n [U] ~ing or being mortified (all senses).

mor tise, -tice ['mɔːtis] n. hole cut i a piece of wood, etc., to receive the end of another piece (the tenon). v.t. (VP 10, 18) join or fasten in this way: ~ two beams together; ~ one beam (in)to another.

T. Tenon
M. Mortise

mor tu a ry ['mɔːtjuəri] n. room or building (e.g. part of a hospital) to which dead bodies are taken to be kept until burial (attrib.) of death or burial: ~ rites.

mo sa ic [mou'zeiik, mə-] n. & adj. (form or work of art) in which designs, pictures etc., are made by fitting togethe differently coloured bits of stone, etc a design in ~; a ~ pavement; newly dis covered ~s in an excavated Roman villa ~ jewellery.

Mo sa ic [mou'zeiik] adj. of Moses: the ~ law, the first five books of the O.T.

mo selle [mə'zel, mou-] n. dry, white wine produced near the River M~ (France).

Mos lem ['mɔzləm, -lem] n. & adj. (variant spelling for) Muslim.

mosque [mɔsk] n. building in which Muslims worship Allah.

mos qui to [məs'ki:tou, mɔs-] n. (pl. -oes) small, flying, blood-sucking insect, esp. the sort that spreads malaria. ~-net n. net spread over a bed against ~es. ~-craft n. (collective pl.) small, armed ships with high speed and able to manœuvre easily.

moss [mɔs] n. [U] sorts of small green or yellow plant growing in thick masses on wet surfaces: ~-covered rocks (roofs, tree-trunks). A rolling stone gathers no ~, (prov.) a person who too frequently changes his occupation or who never settles in one place will not succeed in life. '~-grown adj. covered with growing ~. ~y adj. (-ier, -iest*) covered with ~; like ~: ~y green.

most [moust] adj., n., & adv. (contrasted with least; cf. much, many, more) I. adj. & n. 1. (independent superlative) (the) greatest in number, quantity, degree, etc.: Which is ~, 3, 13, or 30? Which of you has made (the) ~ mistakes? Those who have (the) ~ money are not always the happiest. Do the ~ you can. at (the) ~, at the very ~, not more than: I can pay only £10 at the ~. There were only 30 people at the meeting at the very ~, there were 30 or fewer. make the ~ of, use to the best advantage: We have only a few hours so we must make the ~ of our time. She's not really beautiful, but she makes the ~ of her looks. for the ~ part, usually; on the whole: Japanese goods are, for the ~ part, of good quality. 2. (not preceded by def. art. in this sense) the majority of; the greater part of: M~ boys like outdoor games. M~ people think so. He was ill ~ of the summer. II. adv. 1. forming the superlative degree of nearly all adjj. and advv. of more than one syllable: the ~ beautiful (interesting, useful, etc.); ~ carefully (accurately, etc.). 2. modifying vv (but not to be placed between a v and its object): What is troubling you ~? What ~ pleased me (What pleased me ~) was that . . . 3. (intensive; may be preceded by indef. art.) very; exceedingly: This is a ~ useful book. He was ~ polite to me. Your news is ~ interesting. 4. (modifying an adv.) quite: I shall ~ certainly go. 5. (dialect and U.S.A.) almost: M~ everybody has gone home. ~ly ['moustli] adv. chiefly; almost all; generally: The medicine was ~ly sugar and water. The village is ~ly of mud houses. We are ~ly out on Sundays, are not at home on ~ Sundays.

mote [mout] n. particle (of dust, etc.): ~s dancing in a sunbeam; (fig.) the ~ that is in thy brother's eye, the fault that he has committed (trifling if compared to one's own fault). (See N.T. Matt. vii. 3.)

mo tel [mou'tel] n. motorists' hotel (with cabins, self-service restaurants, service station, etc.).

moth [mɔθ] n. sorts of winged insect flying chiefly at night, attracted by lights. 'clothes-~ n. kind which breeds in cloth, fur, etc., its grub feeding on the cloth and making holes. '~-ˌeaten adj. eaten or destroyed by clothes-~s; (fig.) antiquated; out-of-date. '~-ball n. small ball (of camphor, etc.) intended to discourage clothes-~s; (by extension) in ~-balls, (of ships, aircraft, etc.) laid up; in storage: After ten years in ~-balls the destroyers were sent to be broken up. '~-proof adj. (of fabrics) treated chemically so as to resist the attacks of ~s. v.t. make ~-proof: ~-proof carpets.

moth er ['mʌðə*] n. 1. female parent: She was like a ~ to the poor waifs. 2. quality or condition that gives rise to sth.: Misgovernment is often the ~ of revolt. Necessity is the ~ of invention. 3. head of a female religious community: M~ Superior, head of a convent. 4. (various uses) the ~ country, (a) one's native land. (b) a country in relation to colonies or dominions (e.g. Great Britain for Canada). '~-in-law n. ~ of one's wife or one's husband. '~-of-'pearl n. [U] hard, smooth, shiny rainbow-coloured material that forms the lining of some shells, esp. the pearl-oyster, used for making buttons, ornaments, etc. ~ ship n. one from which other ships (e.g. submarines) get supplies. ~ tongue n. one's native language. ~ wit n. common sense; the intelligence with which one is born. v.t. (VP 1) take care of (as a ~ does); protect or adopt (a child) as one's own. ~hood *n. [U] state of being a ~. ~less *adj. having no ~. ~like *adj. in the manner of a ~. ~ly *adj. having, showing, the tender, kind qualities of a ~. ~li ness *n.

mo tif [mou'ti:f] n. [C] main idea or design in a work of art.

¹mo tion ['mouʃən] n. 1. [U] (manner of) moving: If a thing is in ~, it is not at rest. put (set) sth. in ~, cause it to start moving or working. ~ picture n. cinema film. (Cf. colloq. moving pictures, the movies.) ~ study, study of the movements of workers (in industry, etc.) undertaken by experts, who aim at finding easier or quicker ways of working. 2. [C] gesture; particular movement; way of moving the hand, body, etc.: If you watch my ~s carefully you will see how the trick is performed. All her ~s were graceful. go through the ~s, (colloq.) do sth. (that one is expected or required to do) in a perfunctory or insincere manner. 3. [C] proposal to be discussed and voted on at a meeting: On the ~ of Mr X the committee agreed to . . . The ~ was adopted (carried, rejected, etc.) by a majority of six. 4. [C] = movement (def. 6). ~less adj. not moving; still.

^{2}mo tion [ˈmouʃən] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 3, 10) direct (sb.) by a motion or gesture: ~ sb. in (away, to a seat). He ~ed me to enter. 2. (VP 24, 25) make a gesture (to sb. to do sth.): He ~ed to me to come nearer.

mo tive [ˈmoutiv] adj. (predic. only) causing motion: ~ power (force) (e.g. steam, electricity). n. [C] 1. that which causes sb. to act: actuated by low and selfish ~s; do sth. from ~s of kindness. Hatred was his ~ for attacking me. 2. = motif. ~less adj. without a ~. mo tiv ate [ˈmoutiveit] v.t. (VP 1) give a ~ to; be the ~ of. mo ti va tion [ˌmoutiˈveiʃən] n.

mot ley [ˈmɔtli] adj. 1. of various colours: a ~ coat (e.g. that worn by a jester or fool in olden times). 2. of varied character or various sorts: a ~ crowd (e.g. people of many different occupations, social classes, etc.). n. jester's dress: (esp.) wear the ~, play the part of a fool or jester.

mo tor [ˈmoutə*] n. 1. machine that supplies power or causes motion, esp. one that drives a vehicle or aircraft: fans driven by electric ~s. 2. (attrib. use) driven by a ~ (esp. an internal-combustion engine burning petrol or diesel oil): a ˈ~-car (-bike, -cycle, -boat, -bus, -scooter, etc.). ˈ~-asˌsisted adj. (e.g. of a pedal bicycle) having a ~ to help propulsion. ˈ~-man n. man in control of a ~, esp. on an electric tram or train. ˈ~way n. road designed and built especially for fast traffic, usu. with dual carriageways and going over or under other roads. 3. short for ~-car. 4. muscle able to produce movement of a part of the body: ~ nerve, nerve that excites movements of a muscle or muscles. v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 23) travel by ~-car: ~ from London to Brighton. 2. (VP 10) carry or take by ~-car: ~ a friend home. ~ist n. person who drives or travels in a ~-car. ~ize [ˈmoutəraiz] v.t. (VP 1) equip (troops, etc.) with ~ transport.

mot tle [ˈmɔtl] v.t. (VP 1) (usu. in p.p.) mark with spots or areas of different colours without a regular pattern: ~d soap; linoleum with a ~d finish.

mot to [ˈmɔtou] n. (pl. -oes) 1. short sentence or phrase used as a guide rule of behaviour (e.g. 'Every man f himself', 'Always merry and bright'
2. short sentence or phrase written inscribed on an object (e.g. a coat arms) expressing a suitable sentimen quotation prefixed to a book or chapte mou jik [ˈmuːʒik, -dʒik] n. Russi peasant.

^{1}mould [mould] n. [U] soft, fine loo earth; soft, rich soil: leaf-~ (from d cayed leaves of trees).

^{2}mould [mould] n. [C] container, hollo form, into which molten metal or a so substance is poured to cool into a r quired shape; the shape or form give by this container; jelly, pudding, etc made in such a container: cast in heroic ~, having a heroic characte cast in the same ~, exactly alike character.

^{3}mould [mould] v.t. (VP 1, 10, 18) giv
a shape or form to: ~ a head in (out o clay; (fig.) ~ a person's character.

^{4}mould [mould] n. [U] woolly or furr growth of fungi appearing upon mois surfaces (e.g. leather, cheese) or o objects left in a moist, warm atmospher (See iron-~.) v.i. (U.S.A.) (VP 21) be come covered with ~: Cheese ~s warm, wet weather. ~y adj. (-ier, -ies covered with ~: ~y bread; stale smelling of ~; (fig.) out-of-date; old fashioned.

mould er [ˈmouldə*] v.i. (VP 21, 2 break up into dust; decay: the ~in ruins of an old castle; ~ing away in th churchyard.

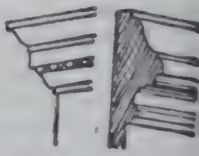
mould ing [ˈmouldiŋ] n. 1. [U] act o moulding or shaping; way in which sth. is shaped. 2. line of ornamental plaster, carved woodwork, etc., round a wall or window, or in the cornices of a building, or on a pillar.



Mouldings

moult [moult] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) (o birds) lose (feathers) before a ne growth; (more rarely, of dogs and cat lose hair. n. process or time of ~ing.

mound [maund] n. [C] mass of piled u earth; small hill: a burial-~ (of eart over a grave); ~s built for defensi purposes in olden times.

^{1}mount [maunt] n. (liter. except in prope names) mountain, hill: Christ's sermo on the ~; (shortened to Mt. befor proper names) Mt. Everest.

^{2}mount [maunt] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 21) g up (a hill, a ladder, etc.); get on t (a horse, etc.); supply (sb.) with a hors put (sb.) on a horse: He ~ed (his hors and rode away. The ~ed police w called out to control the crowds. ~ th throne, become king (emperor, etc.)

2. (VP 21, 23) become greater in amount: Our living expenses are ~ing up. Bills soon ~ up at hotels. 3. (of blood) rise into the cheeks: A blush ~ed to (spread over) the child's face. 4. (VP 1) put and fix in position: ~ a gun (on a gun-carriage); ~ pictures (fix them with backings, margins, etc.); ~ jewels in gold; ~ specimens (e.g. on a slide for a microscope); ~ insects (e.g. for display or preservation in a museum). 5. (military uses) ~ an offensive, take the offensive, attack; ~ guard (over), go on duty, act as guard or sentinel. 6. (VP 1) put (a play) on the stage: The play was well ~ed, was provided with good scenery, costumes, etc.

²mount [maunt] n. [C] that on which a person or thing is or may be mounted (e.g. a card for a drawing or photograph, a glass slide for specimens, a horse for riding on, a gun-carriage, the ornamental metal part in which a jewel is fixed).

moun tain ['mauntin] n. 1. mass of very high land going up to a peak: Everest is the highest ~ in the world. ~ ash, the rowan tree, with scarlet berries. ~ chain, series of ~s. ~ dew, (colloq.) Scotch whisky. ~ sickness, illness caused by rarefied air on high ~s. 2. (fig. uses) sth. immense: a ~ of debts (difficulties). The waves were ~ high, very high. ~eer [ˌmaunti'niə*] n. person who lives among ~s or is skilled at climbing ~s.; hence, ~eering n. climbing ~s (as a sport). ~ous ['mauntinəs] adj. having ~s; ~ous country; huge: ~ous waves.

moun te bank ['mauntibæŋk] n. sb. who tries to persuade people by clever and humorous talk to buy worthless medicines, etc.

mourn [mɔ:n] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 24 with for, over) feel or show sorrow or regret: ~ for a dead child; ~ over the child's death; ~ the loss of one's mother. ~er n. person who ~s, esp. one who attends a funeral as a relative or friend of the dead person. ~ful ['mɔ:nful] adj. sad; sorrowful. ~ful ly adv.

mourn ing ['mɔ:niŋ] n. [U]. 1. grief. 2. (the wearing of) black clothes as a sign of grief: The widow was in deep ~. The Court will go into ~ for three weeks. '~-band n. band of black crape worn round the sleeve. '~-ring n. worn as a memorial of a dead person.

mouse [maus] n. (pl. mice [mais]) sorts of small rodent (house ~, field-~, harvest-~) as shown here; (fig.) shy, timid person. '~-trap n. trap for catching mice: ~-trap cheese, (hum.) unpalatable kind of cheese. v.i. [mauz] (of cats) hunt for, catch, mice: Our cat ~s well.

A mouse

mousse [mu:s] n. [C & U] (dish of) flavoured cream beaten and frozen: chocolate ~.

mous tache [məs'tɑ:ʃ] n. hair allowed to grow on the upper lip.

¹mouth [mauθ] n. (pl. ~s [mauðz]) 1. opening through which animals take in food; space behind this containing the tongue, etc. down in the ~, sad, dejected. put words into sb.'s ~, (a) tell him what to say. (b) suggest or claim that he has said something. take the words out of sb.'s ~, say what he was about to say; anticipate his words. laugh on the wrong side of one's ~, lament, be disappointed. '~-ˌorgan n. small musical wind-instrument with metal reeds, played by passing it along the lips; harmonica. '~piece n. (a) that part of a tobacco pipe, a musical instrument, etc., placed at or between the lips. (b) person, newspaper, etc., that expresses the opinions of others: Which newspaper is the ~piece of the Socialists? 2. opening or outlet (of a bag, bottle, tunnel, cave, river, etc.). ~ful ['mauθful] n. as much as can be put into the ~ comfortably at one time: swallow sth. at a ~ful; have only a ~ful of food.

A mouth-organ

²mouth [mauð] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) 1. speak (words) with too much movement of the jaws; utter pompously: An actor who ~s his words is a poor actor. 2. take (food) into the ~; touch with the ~.

mov a ble ['mu:vəbl] adj. 1. that can be moved; (of property) that can be taken from place to place (e.g. furniture, contrasted with land and buildings, called real property or estate). 2. varying in date: Christmas is fixed but Easter is a ~ feast. n. (pl.) personal property; articles that can be removed from the house (contrasted with fixtures).

¹move [mu:v] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10, 21, 23) (cause to) change position; put, cause to be, in a different place or attitude; (cause to) be in motion: M~ your chair nearer to the fire. Lorries were used to ~ the troops to the front. It was calm and not a leaf ~d. It's your turn to ~, (in chess, etc.) ~ a piece from one square to another. ~ heaven and earth, do one's utmost, use every possible means (to do sth.). 2. ~ house, take one's furniture, etc., to another house, flat, etc.: We're moving (house) next week. ~ in, take possession of a new dwelling-place. ~ out, give up a dwelling-place: We ~d out on Monday and the new tenants ~d in on Tuesday. 3. ~ on, (VP 23) ~ to another place or position (e.g. when ordered to do so by a policeman). ~ sb. on, cause him to ~ by giving him the order 'M~ on, please'. ~ along (down, up), ~ farther in the direction indicated: 'M~ along, please', said the bus conductor. 4. (VP 1, 10) arouse, work on, the feelings of; affect with pity, etc.: be ~d with pity (compassion); be ~d to tears. We were all ~d by her entreaties. The story of their sufferings ~d us deeply. It was a moving sight (i.e. ~d the feelings). 5. (VP 10, 18) cause to do sth.: Nothing I said ~d him to offer his help. The spirit ~d him to get up and address the meeting (i.e. he felt a desire to do this.) Who was the moving spirit in the enterprise, who started it and was most active? 6. (VP 1, 11) put forward for discussion and decision (at a meeting): Mr Chairman, I ~ that the money be used for library books. (Cf. motion, def. 3.) 7. (VP 24) make formal application (for): The noble Lord ~d for papers (i.e. in a debate in the House of Lords). 8. (VP 21, 23) make progress; go forward: Time ~s on. The work ~s slowly. Things are not moving as rapidly as we had hoped. 9. (VP 21, 23) take action: Nobody seems willing to ~ in the matter. 10. (VP 23) live one's life; pass one's time: They ~ in the best society. 11. (VP 1, 21) cause (the bowels) to act, to empty; (of the bowels) be emptied.

^{2}move [mu:v] n. [C] 1. change of place or position, esp. of a piece in chess or other games played on boards; player's turn to do this: Do you know all the ~s in chess? Whose ~ is it? 2. sth. (to be) done to achieve a purpose: a ~ towards settling the strike. What's our next ~? 3. on the ~, moving about: Our planes reported that large enemy forces were on the ~. make a ~, (a) move to a different place: Shall we make a ~ now? (b) begin to act: Unless we make a ~ soon, we shall be in a hopelessly weak position. get a ~ on, (sl.) hurry up.

move ment ['mu:vmənt] n. 1. [U] moving or being moved; activity (contrasted with quiet and rest): He lay there without ~. The novel (play) lacks ~ (i.e. there is not enough action in it). 2. [C] act of changing position, esp. a military evolution: By a series of rapid ~s the general placed his forces in an advantageous position. 3. [C] moving part of a machine or mechanism or a particular group of such parts: the ~ of a clock or a watch. 4. [C] united actions and efforts of a group of people for a special purpose: the ~ to abolish slavery. 5. [C] (music) principal division of a musical work with a distinctive structure of its own: the final ~ of the Ninth Symphony. 6. [C] emptying of the bowels. 7. [U] activity (in a stock market, etc.) for some commodity: n much ~ in oil shares.

mov er ['mu:və*] n. (esp.) person wh moves (def. 6) a proposal.

mov ies ['mu:viz] n. pl. (colloq.) cinem pictures; the cinema: How often do yo go to the ~?

^{1}mow [mou] v.t. (p.t. mowed [moud], p.p mown [moun] or mowed) 1. (VP 1, 21 10 with down) cut (grass, etc.) with scythe, or a machine (called a lawn mower): mow the lawn; new-mown hay mow a field. 2. (VP 10) cut down like grass destroy as if by sweeping movements Our men were mown down by the enemy' machine-gun fire. mow er *n. person o machine that mows.

^{2}mow [mou] n. [C] heap of hay, straw, etc.; place in a barn where hay, etc., i stored.

^{3}mow [mou] v.i. see ^{2}mop.

Mr ['mistə*], see mister.

Mrs ['misiz] title prefixed to the surname of a married woman who has no superior title.

mu [mu:] Greek letter M (M, μ) much [mʌtʃ] adj., n., & adv. (more, most. Cf. little) I. *adj. & n. Much is used with singular nouns, uncountable. (Cf. many, used with plural nouns.) In purely affirm. sentences it is often preferable to use plenty (of), a lot (of), a large quantity (of), a good (great) deal (of). Much is often used in affirm. sentences when it is (a part of) the subject, and when used with how, too, so, or as: There isn't ~ food in the house. He never eats ~ breakfast. Did you have ~ difficulty in finding the house? M~ of what you say is true. We have ~ to be thankful for. You have given me too ~. how ~, (a) what quantity: How ~ flour (what weight) do you want? (b) what price: How ~ a pound is that beef? (not) up to ~, (not) worth much: I don't think his work is up to ~, (i.e. it is not good). not ~ of a, not a good: He's not ~ of a linguist (scholar, etc.). It wasn't ~ of a dinner. I'm not ~ of a cinema-goer, I seldom go to the cinema. this (that) ~, the quantity, extent, etc., indicated: Can you let me have this ~? I will say this ~ in his favour, I will admit in his favour that . . . This ~ is certain, that he will never try to play that trick on us again. be too ~ for, be more than a match for, too difficult for; be superior in skill, etc., to: The school tennis champion was too ~ for me. I couldn't finish that book on relativity; it was too ~ for me. make ~ of, (a) understand: I didn't make much of that lecture. (b) attach importance to: We mustn't make too ~ of this incident. (c) show kind attentions to: A newly married woman doesn't expect her husband to make ~ of other women. not think ~ of, have a er opinion of: I don't think ~ of my music teacher. as ~ (as): Give me ~ again, the same quantity again.

thought as ~, that is what I thought.
ou have always helped me and I will ways do as ~ for you, will always help ou. It is as ~ your responsibility as ine, you and I are equally responsible. It as as ~ as he could do (he could do no ore than) pay his way. That is as ~ to say (is the same thing as saying) at I am a liar. not (without) so ~ as, ot even: He left without so ~ as saying Thank you'. He had not so ~ as his re home. (See also so ~ (many), not ~ as, so ~ so that, so ~ for, under so,
. 6.) II. adv. 1. modifying comparaives and superlatives, preceding the ef. art.: He is ~ better today. You ust work ~ harder. This is ~ (= by
r) the best. He is not ~ the worse for is fall into the canal. ~ more, ~ less, ed to indicate that what has been tated about sth. applies with greater rce to the following statement: It is ifficult to understand his books, ~ more is lectures. I didn't even speak to him, ~ less discuss your problems with him.
. modifying passive participles and redic. adjj. such as afraid. (Cf. very, sed to modify passive and present articiples which are true adjj., as very ightened): I am very ~ afraid that . . . I hall be ~ surprised if he succeeds. I hope ou will not be ~ inconvenienced. 3. (in hrases) ~ *the same, about the same:
The patient's condition is ~ the same.
~ to, greatly to; to my (his, her, etc.) reat . . .: M~ to her surprise (regret, tc.) . . . 4. When much modifies a finite erb, it may be placed with the verb r in end position, but may not be placed etween the verb and its object: It oesn't ~ matter. It doesn't matter very ~. I very ~ enjoyed the concert. I enoyed it very ~. He doesn't like beef ~. 5.
~ as: M~ as I should (although I should ~) like to go, . . . M~ as she disliked the dea (although she ~ disliked the idea), . . .
ow ~, to what extent: How ~ do you eally want to marry the man? (Cf. much, .) too ~, too highly: He thinks too ~ of imself. so ~: Oceans do not so ~ divide he world as unite it (i.e. they serve to nite countries rather than to divide hem). ~ness n. only in the colloq.
hrase: ~ of a ~ness, ~ the same;
lmost alike.

u ci lage ['mju:silidʒ] n. [U] kinds of egetable glue (obtained from plants, eaweed, etc.).

uck [mʌk] n. [U] 1. dung; farmyard nanure (the droppings of animals).
~-rake n. (usu. fig.) person who is lways looking for scandal, corruption, tc. 2. dirt; filth; (colloq.) anything
isgusting or dirty. make a ~ of sth., (colloq.) make it dirty; spoil it. v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10) make dirty; spoil. ~ *sth. up, (colloq.) make a mess of it; spoil it. 2. (VP 23, with about) (sl.) do useless or unnecessary things; go about, spend time, aimlessly: 'What's he up to?'—'Oh, just ~ing about.' ~y adj. (-ier, -iest) dirty.

mu cous ['mju:kəs] adj. of, like, covered with, mucus: the ~ membrane, the moist skin that lines the nose, mouth, and food canal.

mu cus ['mju:kəs] n. [U] sticky, slimy substance produced by the mucous membrane; similar slimy substance: Snails and slugs leave a trail of ~.

mud [mʌd] n. [U] soft, wet earth: Rain turns dust into mud. throw (fling) mud at sb., speak evil of him, try to damage his reputation. '*mud-bath n, bath in mud of mineral springs (e.g. as a cure for rheumatism). '*mudguard n. metal cover over a wheel (of a bicycle, etc.). mud dy adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. full of, covered with, mud: muddy roads (shoes). 2. mud-coloured; like mud because thick: a muddy stream; a muddy skin; muddy coffee; muddy (fig., confused) ideas.

¹mud dle ['mʌdl] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10) bring into a state of confusion and disorder; make a mess of: You've ~d the scheme completely. A glass of whisky soon ~s him. Don't ~ (= mix) things up (together). 2. (VP 23) get on in a foolish or helpless way, with no clear purpose or plan: He's still muddling on (along). ~ *through, reach the end of an undertaking in spite of inefficiency, obstacles of one's own making, etc.

²muddle ['mʌdl] n. (usu. sing. with indef. art.) muddled state; confusion of ideas: Everything was in a ~ and I couldn't find what I wanted. You have made a ~ of it, mismanaged it, bungled it. '~-,*headed adj. confused in mind; stupid.

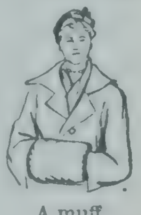
mu dir [mu'diə*] n. governor of a Turkish village or an Egyptian province.

mu ez zin [mu(:)'ezin] n. man who proclaims the hours of prayer from the minaret of a mosque.

¹muff [mʌf] n. covering, usu. a cylindrical padded bag of fur, open at both ends, used by a woman to keep the hands warm.



A muff

²muff [mʌf] n. person who is awkward or clumsy, esp. in games (e.g. by failing to catch the ball at cricket). v.t. (VP 1) bungle; fail to catch; miss: ~ a ball; ~ an easy catch.

muf fin ['mʌfin] n. light, flat, round tea-cake, usu. eaten hot with butter.

muf fle ['mʌfl] v.t. (VP 1, 10 with up) 1. wrap or cover for warmth or protection: ~ oneself up well; ~ one's throat (e.g. by putting a scarf round it); ~d up in a heavy overcoat. 2. make the sound of sth. (e.g. a bell or a drum) dull by wrapping it up in cloth, etc.: ~ the oars of a boat (to deaden the sound of their touching the water); ~d voices (e.g. from persons whose mouths are covered)

muf fler [ˈmʌflə*] n. cloth, scarf, worn round the neck for warmth.

muf ti [ˈmʌfti] n. 1. (usu. in ~) plain, ordinary clothes worn by someone (e.g. an official, an army officer) who has the right to wear uniform. 2. official expounder of Muslim law.

¹mug [mʌg] n. 1. (usu. straight-sided) drinking vessel of china or metal with a handle, for use without a saucer; its contents: a beer-mug; a mug of milk for the baby. 2. (sl.) face; mouth: What an ugly mug you have!

A beer-mug

²mug [mʌg] n. (sl.) simpleton; easily deceived person. a mug's game, sth. unlikely to bring profit or reward.

³mug [mʌg] v.t. (-gg-) (VP 10) (sl.) mug (sth.) up, study (a subject) hard (e.g. before an examination).

mug gy [ˈmʌgi] adj. (-ier, -iest) (of the weather, a day, etc.) damp and warm, close and sticky: ~ days during the rainy season. mug gi ness n.

mug wump [ˈmʌgwʌmp] n. (U.S.A.) conceited person; person who has a high opinion of his own importance.

Mu ham mad [muˈhæməd] n. the founder of Islam.

mu lat to [mju(ː)ˈlætou] n. (pl. ~s, but U.S.A. pl. usu. ~es) person who has one parent of a white race and one negroid parent.

mul ber ry [ˈmʌlbəri] n. [C] tree with broad, dark-green leaves on which silkworms feed; its fruit (dark purple or white).

mulch [mʌlʃ] n. [C] shredded peat mixture of wet straw, leaves, etc. spread out to protect the roots of trees and bushes, retain moisture, smother weeds, etc. v.t. cover (ground) with a ~ mulct [mʌlkt] v.t. (VP 18, 19C) punish by means of a fine; take (sth.) away from: ~ a man £5; ~ a man in £5; be ~ed of one's money.

mule [mjuːl] n. 1. animal that is the offspring of a male ass and a mare: as obstinate (stubborn) as a ~. 2. (colloq.) stubborn person. 3. heelless slipper 4. kind of spinning-machine mu le teer [ˌmjuːliˈtiə*] n. ~-driver. mul ish [ˈmjuːliʃ] adj. stubborn; obstinate. mul ish ly adv. mul ish ness n.

¹mull [mʌl] v.t. (VP 1) make (wine, beer) into a hot drink with sugar, spices, etc.: ~ed claret.

²mull [mʌl] n. (Scot.) (in place-na promontory: the M~ of Kintyre

³mull [mʌl] v.i. ponder (over sth.).

mul lah [ˈmʌlə] n. Muslim with knowledge of theology and sacred mul lein [ˈmʌlin] n. kinds of plant leaves covered with grey hairs, small yellow flowers.

mul let [ˈmʌlit] n. kinds of sea-fish as food, esp. red ~ and grey ~.

mul li ga taw ny [ˌmʌligiˈtɔːni] n.
~ soup) thick, highly seasoned with curry powder in it, often boiled rice added.

mul lion [ˈmʌljən] n. upright division between parts of a window. mul lioned adj. having ~s.

mul ti- [ˈmʌlti-] pref. having many of (e.g. ~ coloured, of many colours; a ~-millionaire, person having 2 or more millions of money); a ~-stage rocket, with parts that ignite (and then fall away) in stages; a ~-racial country, with many races of people.

A mullion
window
AA. Mullio

mul ti fa ri ous [ˌmʌltiˈfɛəriəs] many and various: his ~ duties; ha great variety. ~ly adv.

mul ti form [ˈmʌltifɔːm] adj. ha many forms or shapes.

mul ti lat er al [ˌmʌltiˈlætərəl] involving two or more participa ~ disarmament, after agreement tween two or more countries; ~ t carried on between many or all coun without the need for pairs of coun to balance payment between th selves.

mul ti ple [ˈmʌltipl] adj. having m parts or elements: a man of ~ inter a ~ shop (store), one with many bran (cf. U.S.A. chain store); a ~-unit tr made up of several coaches (e.g. D coaches) each of which can run i pendently. n. quantity which cont another quantity a number of times w out remainder: 28 is a ~ of 7 30 is a c mon ~ of 2, 3, 5, 6, 10, and 15 le common ~, (L.C.M.) least quan that contains two or more given qu tities exactly: 12 is the L.C.M. o and 4.

mul ti plex [ˈmʌltipleks] adj. hav
many parts or forms; of many eleme mul ti pli cand [ˌmʌltipliˈkænd] n. qu tity to be multiplied.

mul ti pli ca tion [ˌmʌltipliˈkeiʃən]
1. [U] multiplying or being multipl
The symbol × stands for ~. ~ ta list of numbers, usu. 1 to 12, show the results of multiplying by the s number successively 2. [C] instanc this: 3 × 11 is an easy ~.

ul ti plic i ty [ˌmʌlti'plisiti] n. [U] eing great in number: the ~ of small ity states into which Hellas was divided; ~ of duties.

ul ti pli er ['mʌltiplaiə*] n. (esp.) uantity by which a multiplicand is nultiplied.

ul ti ply ['mʌltiplai] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 8) take (a given quantity or number) given number of times: ~ 3 by 5. multiplied by 5 is 30 (6 × 5 = 30). 2. VP 1) produce a large number of; make reater in number: ~ instances, produce larger number of examples. 3. (VP 21) ncrease in number by procreation: Rabbits ~ rapidly.

ul ti tude ['mʌltitju:d] n. 1. [C] great umber (esp. of people gathered to-ether). 2. (with the def. art.) the com-non people; the masses: demagogues vho appeal to the ~. 3. [U] greatness of umber: like the stars in ~. mul ti-u di nous [ˌmʌlti'tju:dinəs] adj. very umerous; great in number.

ul tum in par vo ['mʌltəmin'pɑ:vou] . (Lat.) much in small space.

um [mʌm] int. & n. Silence! Mum's he word! Say nothing about this. adj. ilent: keep mum about this.

um [mʌm] n. = ^{2}mummy.

um ble ['mʌmbl] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21, 3) 1. say sth., speak one's words, in-istinctly: The old man was mumbling way to himself. Don't ~ your words. . bite or chew as with toothless gums.

um bo Jum bo ['mʌmbou 'dʒʌmbou] . (fig.) object of senseless veneration.

um mer ['mʌmə*] n. actor in an old orm of drama without words. ~y n. . [C] performance by ~s; dumb show. . [U] foolish or unnecessary ceremonial esp. religious); [C] instance of this.

um mi fy ['mʌmifai] v.t. (VP 1) pre-erve (a corpse) by embalming; shrivel. mum mi fi ca tion [ˌmʌmifi'keiʃən] n.

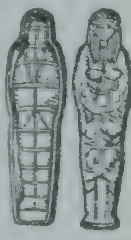
um my ['mʌmi] n. body of a human eing or animal embalmed or burial; dried-up body reserved from decay (as in arly Egypt).



A mummy]

um my ['mʌmi] n. (used y and to children) mother. Cf. mamma.) umps [mʌmps] n. (sing. .) contagious disease with ainful swellings in the neck.

unch [mʌntʃ] v.t. & i. (VP , 21, 23) eat with much novement of the jaws: ~ing away at a ard apple; cattle ~ing their fodder.

un dane ['mʌndein] adj. worldly (con-ra-ted with spiritual or heavenly): When a man is near death he loses interest n ~ affairs. ~ly adv.

u nic i pal [mju(:)'nisipəl] adj. of a own or city having self-government: ~ buildings (e.g. the town hall, public library); ~ undertakings (e.g. the supply of water, tram and bus services); the ~ debt. ~ly adv.

mu nic i pal i ty [mju(:)ˌnisi'pæliti] n. town, city, district, with local self-government; governing body of such a town, etc.

mu nif i cent [mju(:)'nifisnt] adj. extremely generous; (of sth. given) large in amount or splendid in quality. ~ly adv. mu nif i cence n. [U] great generosity.

mu ni ment ['mju:nimənt] n. (usu. pl.) document kept as evidence of rights or privileges.

mu ni tion [mju(:)'niʃən] n. (pl. except when attrib.) military supplies, esp. guns, shells, bombs, etc.: The war was lost because of a shortage of ~s (a ~ shortage). v.t. (VP 1) provide with ~s: ~ a fort.

mu ral ['mjuərəl] adj. of, like, on, a wall: a ~ painting. n. [C] wall-painting; fresco.

^{1}mur der ['mə:də*] n. 1. [U] unlawful killing of a human being on purpose; [C] instance of this: commit ~; be declared guilty of ~; six ~s in one week. M~ will out, (prov.) cannot be hidden. 2. [U] unjustifiable sacrifice of life (e.g. in war): Nothing could justify the bombing of the town; it was sheer ~. cry blue ~, (colloq.) shout loudly and in alarm.

^{2}mur der ['mə:də*] v.t. (VP 1) 1. kill (a human being) unlawfully and on purpose. 2. spoil by lack of skill or knowledge: ~ a piece of music, play it very badly. Do you ever ~ the English language? ~er ['mə:dərə*] n. person guilty of ~. ~ess ['mə:dəris] n. woman ~er.

mur der ous ['mə:dərəs] adj. planning, suggesting, designed for, murder: a ~-looking villain; ~ weapons; a ~ fire from the enemy's guns. ~ly adv.

murk y ['mə:ki] adj. (-ier, -iest) dark; gloomy: a ~ night; (of darkness) thick. murk i ly adv.

^{1}mur mur ['mə:mə*] n. 1. low, continuous, indistinct sound, rising and falling very little in pitch: the ~ of bees in the garden; the ~ of a distant brook. 2. softly spoken word(s): a ~ of conversation from the next room. 3. subdued expression of feeling: a ~ of delight. They paid the higher taxes without a ~, i.e. without complaining.

^{2}mur mur ['mə:mə*] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 23, 24, 1) make a murmur (def. 1): a ~ing brook. 2. (VP 23, 24) complain in a murmur (def. 3): ~ at injustice; ~ against new taxes. 3. (VP 1) utter in a low voice: ~ a prayer.

mur phy ['mə:fi] n. (sl.) potato.

mur rain ['mʌrin] n. 1. [U] infectious disease of cattle. 2. (old use) A ~ on you! A plague on you! Curse you!

mus ca tel [ˌmʌskə'tel] n. [U] strong, sweet wine made from musk-flavoured kinds of grape.

mus cle [ˈmʌsl] n. [U & C] (band or bundle of) elastic substance in an animal body that can be tightened or loosened to produce movement: When you walk you exercise your leg ~s. Physical exercises develop ~. Don't move a ~, stay perfectly still. ˈ~-bound adj. having stiff ~s as the result of over-training or excessive exercise. v.i. (VP 23) ~ in, (sl.) use force to get a share of sth. considered advantageous (e.g. by one group of gangsters in an area dominated by another group).

Mus co vy [ˈmʌskəvi] n. (old name for) Russia.

mus cu lar [ˈmʌskjulə*] adj. 1. of the muscles: ~ tissue (rheumatism). 2. having much muscle: a ~ man.

¹muse [mju:z] n. 1. (in Greek stories) any one of the nine goddesses, daughters of Zeus, who protected and encouraged poetry, music, dancing, history, and other branches of art and learning. 2. the ~, poet's genius; spirit that inspires a poet.

²muse [mju:z] v.i. (VP 21, 23, 24) think deeply or dreamily (on, upon, over, sth.), ignoring what is happening around one: musing over memories of the past. mus ing ly adv.

mu se um [mju(:)ˈziəm] n. building in which objects illustrating art, history, science, etc., are displayed.

mush [mʌʃ] n. [U] soft, thick mixture or mass; (U.S.A.) corn meal boiled in water.

mush room [ˈmʌʃrum] n. [C] fast-growing fungus of which some kinds can be eaten: (attrib.) the ~ (rapid) growth of London suburbs. v.i. 1. go ~ing, go out into the fields to gather ~s. 2. (VP 21, 23 with up, out) spread or grow rapidly.

Mushrooms

mu sic [ˈmju:zik] n. [U] art of making pleasing combinations of sounds in rhythm and harmony; the sounds and compositions so made; written or printed signs representing these sounds: set a poem to ~, provide the words with ~. face the ~, face one's critics; face difficulties boldly. ˈ~-box n. (U.S.A.) musical-box (see below). ˈ~-hall n. (in Gt. Brit.) hall or theatre used for variety entertainment (e.g. songs, acrobatic performances, juggling). (Cf. concert hall.) ˈ~-stand n. light (usu. folding) framework, as shown here, for holding sheets of printed music. ˈ~-stool n. seat without a back (usu. adjustabl height) used when playing a piano.

A music-stand

¹mu si cal [ˈmju:zikəl] adj. of, fond of,
led in, music: ~ instruments (e.g. violin, piano, harp); a ~ comedy, a li amusing play with songs and danc She's not at all ~, does not enjoy understand music. ˈ~-box n. box w a mechanical device that produce tune when the box is opened. ~ly a

²mu si cal [ˈmju:zikəl] n. [C] 1. mus comedy. 2. cinema film in which m has an essential part.

mu si cian [mju(:)ˈziʃən] n. person ski in music; composer of music.

musk [mʌsk] n. [U] 1. strong-smel substance produced in glands by male deer, used in the manufacture of perfumes. ˈ~-deer n. small hornless deer of central Asia. ˈ~-rat (or musquash) n. large rat-like water animal of N. America, valuable for its fur.
2. kinds of plant with musky smell.
melon n. sweet juicy kind of melon.
rose n. rambling rose with large, swe smelling flowers.

A musk-rat

mus ket [ˈmʌskit] n. old style of g formerly used by foot-soldiers, n replaced by the rifle. ~eer [ˌmʌskiˈti
n. foot-soldier armed with a ~. ~ [ˈmʌskitri] n. 1. (science of, instruct in) shooting with rifles. 2. (old u troops armed with ~s.

Mus lim [ˈmuslim] n. one who profes
Islam. adj. of ~s and Islam: ~ histori (festivals).

mus lin [ˈmʌzlin] n. [U] thin, fine, cott cloth, used for dresses, curtains, etc.

mus quash [ˈmʌskwɔʃ] n. (fur of) mu
rat. (See musk above.)

muss [mʌs] n. (U.S.A. colloq.) [U] d order; [C] muddle. v.t. (VP 1, 10 w up) put into disorder; make dirty.

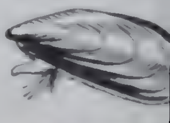
mus sel [ˈmʌsl] n. (sorts of) mollusc with a black shell in two parts.



A mussel

Mus sul man [ˈmʌslmən] n. (pl. -mans [-mənz]) (variant spelling, Persian and Turkish, Muslim.

¹must [mʌst] n. [U] grape-juice befo fermentation has changed it into win

²must [mʌst, məst] aux. v., anom.
(No infinitive, no participles, no flected forms; ~ not may be contract to ~n't [ˈmʌsnt].) 1. expressing immediate or future obligation necessity; ~ not expresses a prohibitio Cf. the use of may to express and of need not to express non-tion. Cf. the use of had to for a bligation and shall/will have to for a uture obligation: You ~ do as you're old. Soldiers ~ obey orders. Cars ~ not e parked in front of the entrance. You ~n't do that. We ~n't be late, ~ we?

: 'M~ you go so soon?' B: 'Yes, I ~' or) 'No, I needn't.' 2. used to indicate hat was necessary or obligatory at a ime in the past: She said she ~ have a ew hat for Easter. As he had broken it, e agreed that he ~ buy a new one. On he other side of the wood was a field that e ~ (= had to) cross. 3. with less mphasis on necessity; stressing what s desirable or advisable: We ~ see what an be done. I ~ ask you not to do that gain. 4. expressing certainty: Don't et on horse-races: you ~ lose (will cerainly lose) in the long run. 5. expressing trong probability: You ~ be hungry fter your long walk. This ~ be (= very robably is) the book you want. You ~ ave known (= surely you knew) what he wanted. I think you ~ have made a nistake. 6. indicating the occurrence f sth. perverse, sth. contrary to what was wanted: He ~ come and worry her vith questions, just when she was busy ooking the dinner! n. (colloq.) sth. that ~ be done, seen, heard, etc.: Green's new novel is a ~ for all lovers of crime fiction.

us tache [məs'tɑːʃ] n. = moustache.

us tang ['mʌstæŋ] n. small wild or alf-wild horse of the American plains.

us tard ['mʌstəd] n. [U] 1. plant with ellow flowers and seeds (black or white) n long, slender pods. 2. fine, yellow owder made from the seeds of this lant; this powder made into hot-asting sauce. ~ *gas n. kind of liquid oison gas that burns the skin (used in World War I). ~ *plaster n. poultice made with ~. grain of ~ seed, sth. very mall capable of developing into sth.
ery large (Matt. xiii. 31).

us ter ['mʌstə*] n. assembly or athering of persons, esp. for review or nspection. pass ~, be considered satis-actory; be good enough for the purpose r occasion. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 10 with p, 21) call, collect, or gather together:
o and ~ all the men you can find. They
-ed (up) all their courage.

us ty ['mʌsti] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. stale;
melling or tasting mouldy: ~ books; ~ room. 2. (fig.) stale; out-of-date:
professor with ~ ideas. ~i ness n.

u ta ble ['mjuːtəbl] adj. liable to hange; likely to change. mu ta bil- ty [ˌmju(ː)tə'biliti] n. [U].

u ta tion [mju(ː)'teiʃən] n. [U] change;
lteration; [C] instance of this: Are ~s n plants caused by cosmic rays?

u ta tis mu tan dis [mju(ː)'teitismju(ː)- endis, mju(ː)'tɑːtis-] adv. (Lat.) with ecessary alteration of details (when omparing cases).

^{1}mute [mjuːt] adj. 1. silent; making no sound: staring at me in ~ amazement. 2. (of a person) dumb; unable to speak. 3. (of a letter in a word) not sounded: The 'b' in 'dumb' is ~. n. 1. dumb person. 2. piece of bone or metal used to soften the sounds produced from a stringed instrument; pad placed in the mouth of a wind instrument for the same purpose. ~ly adv.

^{2}mute [mjuːt] v.t. (VP 1) deaden or muffle the sound of (esp. a musical instrument). (See the noun, def. 2.)

mu ti late ['mjuːtileit] v.t. (VP 1) damage by breaking, tearing, or cutting off a necessary part; destroy the use of (a limb, etc.). mu ti la tion [ˌmju(ː)ti'leiʃən] n. [U] mutilating or being ~d; [C] injury or loss caused by this.

mu ti ny ['mjuːtini] n. [U] (esp. of soldiers and sailors) open rebellion against lawful authority; [C] instance of this. v.i. (VP 21, 24) be guilty of ~; revolt (against authority). mu ti neer [ˌmju(ː)ti'niə*] n. person guilty of ~. mu ti nous ['mjuːtinəs] adj. guilty of ~; rebellious: mutinous sailors; mutinous behaviour.

mutt [mʌt] n. (sl.) ignorant blunderer: You silly big ~!

mut ter ['mʌtə*] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 10, 21, 23) speak, say (sth.), in a low voice not meant to be heard; grumble in an indistinct voice: He was ~ing away to himself. Are you ~ing threats at me? We heard thunder ~ing in the distance. n. ~ed utterance or sound. ~er n. person who ~s.

mut ton ['mʌtn] n. [U] flesh of the sheep as food: a leg (shoulder) of ~; roast ~; a ~ chop (piece of ~ with rib). '~-*head n. (colloq.) dull, stupid person.

mu tu al ['mjuːtjuəl] adj. 1. (of love, friendship, respect, etc.) shared; exchanged; (of feelings, opinions, etc.) held in common with others: ~ suspicion (affection). 2. each to the other(s): ~ enemies (well-wishers); a ~ insurance company (some or all of the profits being divided among the policy-holders). 3. (improper but frequent use) common to two or more persons: our ~ friend Smith (i.e. Smith, a friend of both of us). ~ly adv.

muz zle ['mʌzl] n. 1. nose and mouth of an animal (e.g. dog or fox); guard of straps or wires placed over this part of an animal's head to prevent it biting, etc. 2. open end or mouth of a fire-arm: a ~-loading gun. (Cf. breech.) v.t. (VP 1) put a ~ on (a dog, etc.); (fig.) prevent (a person, society, newspaper, etc.) from expressing opinions freely.

muz zy ['mʌzi] adj. (-ier, -iest) confused in mind; spiritless; stupid from drinking.

my [mai] poss. adj. 1. belonging to me: Where's my hat? This car is my own.

2. as a part of a form of address: Yes, my dear. My dear fellow! 3. in exclamations: My goodness! Oh, my!

my col o gy [maiˈkɔlədʒi] n. [U] science or study of fungi.

my o pi a [maiˈoupiə] n. [U] short-sightedness. my op ic [maiˈɔpik] adj. short-sighted.

myr i ad [ˈmiriəd] n. [C] very great number (of).

myr mi don [ˈməːmidən] n. (contemptuous or humorous term for an) inferior who carries out any kind of order without question: ~s of the law (e.g. bailiffs)

myrrh [məː*] n. [U] sweet-smelling, bitter-tasting kind of gum or resin obtained from shrubs, used for making incense and perfumes.

myr tle [ˈməːtl] n. evergreen shrub with shiny leaves and sweet-smelling white flowers.

my self [maiˈself, mi-] pron.* (refl. & emphat.): I hurt ~. I can do it by ~ (i.e. without help). I tired ~ out. I ~ said so. I said so ~ I'm not ~ today, am not feeling so well as I usually do.

mys te ri ous [misˈtiəriəs] adj. full of, suggesting, covered in, mystery: a ~ crime; a ~-looking parcel. ~ly adv

mys ter y [ˈmistəri] n. 1. [C] sth. of which the cause or origin is hidden or impossible to understand: The murder remained an unsolved ~. 2. [U] condition of being secret or obscure: The origin of this tribe is lost in ~, it has been impossible to learn anything about it 3. (pl.) secret religious rites and ceremonies (of ancient Greeks, Romans, etc.). 4. [C] (also ~ play) miracle-play.

mys tic [ˈmistik] adj. of hidden meaning or spiritual power; causing feelings of awe and wonder: ~ rites and ceremonies; ~ teachings. n. person who seeks union with God and, through th realization of truth beyond men's und standing. mys ti cal adj. = mystic mys ti cism [ˈmistisizəm] n. [U] beli experiences, of a mystic; teaching belief that knowledge of God and of truth may be obtained through med tion or spiritual insight, independen of the mind and the senses.

mys ti fy [ˈmistifai] v.t. (VP 1) puz
bewilder. mys ti fi ca tion [ˌmis ˈkeiʃən] n. [U] ~ing or being mystif [C] sth. that mystifies.

mys tique [misˈtiːk] n. 1. esoteric ch acter of a person, institution, e caused by popular devotion and vene tion: the ~ of the monarchy in G Britain. 2. incommunicable quali secret known only to inspired pr titioners (of an art, etc.).

myth [miθ] n. 1. [C] story, handed do from olden times, containing the e beliefs of a race (esp. explanations natural events, such as the seaso
2. [U] such stories collectively: fam in ~ and legend. 3. [C] person, thi etc., that is imaginary, fictitious, or vented: That rich uncle of whom boasts is only a ~. ~i cal [ˈmiθikəl] a 1. of ~; existing only in ~: ~ heroes; ~ical literature. 2. imagina fictitious: ~ical wealth.

my thol o gy [miˈθɔlədʒi] n. 1. [U] stu or science of myths. 2. [U] my collectively: Greek ~; [C] body or lection of myths: the mythologie primitive races. myth o log i cal [ˌm əˈlɔdʒikəl] adj. of ~ or myths; unr my thol o gist [miˈθɔlədʒist] n. stud
of ~.

myx o ma to sis [ˌmiksouməˈtousis]
[U] infectious disease that kills rabbi

N

N, n [en] (pl. N's, n's [enz]) the 14th letter of the alphabet.

nab [næb] v.t. (-bb-) (colloq.) catch in wrongdoing; seize: The thief was nabbed by the police.

na bob [ˈneibɔb] n. (18th c. use) wealthy, luxury-loving person, esp one returned to Gt. Brit. from India with a fortune.

na celle [næˈsel] n. outer casing for an engine of an aircraft or airship.

na dir [ˈneidiə*] n. (fig.) lowest, weakest, point: at the ~ of one's hopes. (Cf. zenith.)

¹nag [næg] n. (colloq.) small horse.

²nag [næg] v.t. & i. (-gg-) (VP 1, 18, 21, 24) find fault with continuously; worry or annoy by scolding: She nagged (at) him all day long. nag ger n.

nai ad [ˈnaiæd] n. (pl. ~s, ~es [ˈnaiædi (in Gk. stories) water-nymph.

¹nail [neil] n. 1. layer of hard substa over the outer tip of a finger (ˈfinger- or toe (ˈtoe-~). fight tooth and with all one's strength, making every possible effort to win.
ˈ~-brush n. for cleaning the ~s. ˈ~-ˌscissors n. for trimming the ~s. ˈ~-ˌvarnish n. for polishing and colouring the ~s.
2. piece of metal, pointed at one end and with a head at the other, (to be) hammered into articles to hold them together, or into a wall, etc., to hang sth.
on. (pay) on the ~, at once. hit

Na
(def.

right) ~ on the head, say or do the ight thing; give the true explanation. ~ in one's coffin, see coffin. as hard s ~s, (of a person) (a) in first-rate physial condition. (b) (fig.) pitiless; unsymathetic. right as ~s, quite right.

ail [neil] v.t. (VP 10, 18) 1. make fast vith a ~ or ~s: ~ a lid on a box; ~ sth. lown, make it secure by using nails; ~ up a window, fasten it with nails so hat it cannot be opened. ~ one's colours to the mast, see ¹*colour*, def. 8. ~ a lie to the counter, prove that a tatement is false. ~ sb. down (to th.), make him say clearly what he ntends to do. 2. hold fast, keep fixed a person, sb.'s attention, etc.). ~ing dj. (out-of-date sl.) splendid; excelent: a ~ing good time.

ain sook ['neinsuk] n. [U] fine cotton cloth.

a ïve [nɑːˈiːv, naiˈiːv] adj. natural and innocent in speech and behaviour (e.g. because young or inexperienced); amusingly simple: a ~ girl; ~ remarks. ~ly adv. ~ty, ~te [nɑːˈiːvtei, naiˈiːvtei] n. [U] artlessness; being ~; [C] ~ remark, etc.

a ked ['neikid] adj. 1. without clothes on: as ~ as when he was born. 2. without the usual covering: ~ trees, without leaves; a ~ light, not protected from the wind by glass; see sth. with the ~ eye, without using a microscope, telescope, or other aid to seeing; a ~ sword, without its sheath; fight with ~ fists, without boxing-gloves; the ~ truth, not disguised, softened, ornamented. ~ly dv. ~ness n.

am by-pam by ['næmbi'pæmbi] adj. (of persons, talk) foolishly sentimental.

ame [neim] n. 1. word(s) by which a erson, animal, place, thing, etc., is known and spoken to or of: A person of the ~ of Smith (sb. who is called Smith) wants to see you. He writes under he ~ of Nimrod, uses Nimrod instead of his real name. I know the man by ~, only by hearsay, not by personal acquaintanceship. The teacher knows all he pupils in his class by ~, knows them ndividually. in the ~ of, (a) with the authority of: Stop! in the Queen's ~. In the ~ of the law . . . (b) in the cause of (used when making an appeal): In the ~ of common sense, what are you doing? not have a penny to one's ~, be without money. take sb.'s ~ in vain, use a ~ esp. God's) disrespectfully. call a person ~s, call him insulting ~s (e.g. liar, coward). lend one's ~ to (an enterrise, etc.), allow it to be quoted in support or in favour of (the enterprise, etc.). ~-day n. day of the Saint whose ~ one as given at christening; Saint's Day n the Church of Rome). '~sake n. erson or thing with the same ~ as another. '~-part n. title-role of a play: Who will play the ~-part in 'Hamlet'? 2. (sing. only) reputation; fame: win a good ~ for oneself. The firm has a ~ for good workmanship. 3. famous person: the great ~s of history.

²name [neim] v.t. 1. (VP 1, 8, 18) give a name to: They ~d the child John. The child was ~d after its father, given its father's first (or Christian) name. Tasmania was ~d after its discoverer, A. J. Tasman. 2. (VP 1) say the name(s) of: Can you ~ all the plants and trees in this garden? 3. make an offer of (price, etc.): N~ your price, say what price you want. 4. state (what is desired, etc.): Please ~ the day, say on what date you will be willing to (e.g. marry). 5. (VP 1, 18) nominate for, appoint to, a position: Mr X has been ~d for the directorship.

name less ['neimlis] adj. 1. not having a name; having an unknown name: a ~ grave; a well-known person who shall be ~, whose name I shall not mention. 2. too bad to be named: ~ vices. 3. difficult or impossible to name or describe: a ~ longing (horror).

name ly ['neimli] adv. that is to say: Only one boy was absent, ~ Harry.

nan cy ['nænsi] n. & adj. (sl.) effeminate (man or boy); homosexual.

nan keen [næŋ'kiːn] n. [U] kind of cotton cloth, orig. made of naturally yellow cotton.

nan ny ['næni] n. (word used by and to children for) child's nurse.

nan ny (-goat) ['næni(gout)] n. she-goat. (Cf. billy-goat.)

¹nap [næp] n. [C] short sleep (esp. during the day, not necessarily in bed): have (take) a nap after lunch on a hot day. v.i. (-pp-) (rare, except in) catch sb. napping, find him asleep; catch him unawares (in error, etc.).

²nap [næp] n. [U] surface of cloth, felt, etc., made of soft, short hairs or fibres, smoothed and brushed up.

³nap [næp] n. name of a card-game.

na palm ['neipɑːm, 'næ-] n. [U] jellified petrol used in making fire-bombs.

nape [neip] n. back (of the neck).

na per y ['neipəri] n. [U] (old use) household linen, esp. table linen (tablecloths and napkins).

naph tha ['næfθə] n. [U] kinds of inflammable oil obtained from coal-tar and petroleum.

naph tha lene ['næfθəliːn] n. [U] strong-smelling substance made from coal-tar and petroleum, used in the manufacture of dyes and (in the form of white 'moth balls') to put among clothes.

nap kin ['næpkin] n. [C] 1. (table ~) piece of cloth used at meals for protecting clothing, for wiping the lips, etc. '~-ring n. ring to hold and distinguish a person's ~. 2. (cf. U.S.A. diaper) towel folded between a baby's legs.

Na po le on ic [nəˌpouli'ɔnik] adj. of or like Napoleon I.

nap py ['næpi] n. (colloq.) baby's napkin.

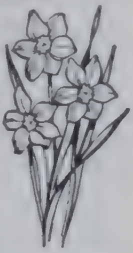
nar ciss ism [nɑ:'sisizəm] n. [U] (in psycho-analysis) mental state in which there is self-worship and excessive interest in one's own perfections.

nar ciss us [nɑ:'sisəs] n. (pl. -uses [-əsiz] or -i [-ai]) sorts of bulb plant, esp. the kind having heavily scented white or yellow flowers in the spring.



Narcissuses

nar cot ic [nɑ:'kɔtik] n. & adj. (substance) producing sleep or other insensible condition: Opium is a ~ drug.

¹nark [nɑ:k] n. (sl.) police decoy or spy.

²nark [nɑ:k] v.t. (colloq.) annoy: feel ~ed at unjust criticism.

nar rate [næ'reit, nə-] v.t. (VP 1) tell (a story); give an account of: ~ one's adventures. nar ra tion [næ'reiʃən, nə-] n. [U] the telling of a story, etc.; [C] story; account of events, etc. nar ra tor n. person who ~s.

nar ra tive ['nærətiv] n. 1. [C] story or tale; orderly account of events; [U] (composition that consists of) story-telling. 2. (attrib.) in the form of, concerned with, story-telling: ~ literature, stories and novels; ~ poems; a writer of great ~ power, able to describe events well.

nar row ['nærou] adj. (-er, -est) (contrary to wide) 1. measuring little across in comparison with length: a ~ bridge The road was too ~ for cars to pass. A ~-gauge railway is one with rails less than 4 ft. 8 in. apart. 2. small, limited: a ~ circle of friends; living in ~ circumstances, in poverty. 3. with a small margin: a ~ escape from death; a ~ squeak, (colloq.) sth. barely avoided or escaped from; elected by a ~ majority (e.g. when voting is 67 to 64). 4. strict, exact: a ~ search. What does the word mean in the ~est sense? 5. limited in outlook; having little sympathy for the ideas, etc., of others. '~-'*minded adj not easily seeing or sympathizing with the ideas of others. '~-'*mindedly adv. '~-'*mindedness n., v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) (cause to) become ~. n. (usu. pl.) ~ strait or channel between two larger bodies of water; ~ place in a river or pass. ~ly adv. 1. only just; with little to spare: He ~ly escaped drowning. 2. closely; carefully: Watch that fellow ~ly. ~ness n.

na sal ['neizəl] adj. of, for, in the nose. ~ sounds (e.g. [m, n, ŋ]); ~ catarrh; a ~ douche. n. [C] nasal sound. ~ize ['neizəlaiz] v.t. (VP 1) make (a sou with the air stream, or part of it, pas through the nose nas cent ['næsnt] adj. coming existence; beginning to exist.

nas tur tium [nə'stə:ʃəm] n. [C] gar plant with red, orange, or yel flowers, round-shaped leaves, and se that may be pickled and eaten.

nas ty ['nɑ:sti] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. di disgusting; unpleasant; medicine a ~ smell and a nastier taste. hangman's job is a ~ one 2. mor dirty and unpleasant: a man with mind; ~ stories. 3. showing ill will spite: Don't go near that dog; he ha ~ temper. Was the tax collector ~ you said you couldn't pay him? dangerous; threatening: There was sea when we got out of the harbo There was a ~ look in his eye. 5. caus difficulty or danger; awkward: Th a ~ corner for a car that's travelling f nast i ly adv. nast i ness n.

na tal ['neitl] adj. of, from, one's birt na ta tion [nə'teiʃən] n. [U] swimmi na ta to ri al [ˌnætə'tɔ:riəl] adj. adapted for, swimming.

na tion ['neiʃən] n. [C] large commun of people usu. speaking a single langu and usu. having a political charac or political aspirations (cf. State): United N~s Organization (UNO).

na tion al ['næʃənl] adj. of a or t nation; common to the whole natio characteristic of a particular natio the ~ anthem of Great Britain ('G Save the Queen'); the N~ Debt, t money owed by the State to those w have lent it money; a ~ theatre, o that is supported by the State; Grand N~, the chief steeplechase of t year in Gt. Brit., run in March. n. p son (of a certain nation): British ~s Iraq. A consul's duty is to help his own (his fellow countrymen). ~ly adv.

na tion al ism ['næʃnəlizəm] n. [U] strong devotion to one's own natio patriotic feelings, efforts, principl 2. movement for political (econom etc.) independence (in a country co trolled by another).

na tion al ist ['næʃnəlist] n. supporter nationalism (def. 2): Scotch ~s, th who want Scotland to have more s government. adj. (also ~ic [ˌnæʃn 'listik]) favouring, supporting, nationa ism: ~ic movements in Africa.

na tion al ity [ˌnæʃə'næliti] n. [U & being a member of a nation: What your ~? There were men of all nati alities at Geneva.

na tion al ize ['næʃnəlaiz] v.t. (VP 1. transfer from private to State own ship: ~ the railways (the coal-mines, steel industry). 2. make (a person) national: ~d Poles and Greeks in U.S.A. 3. make into a nation: The Poles were ~d after the war of 1914–18, they became an independent nation.

na tion al i za tion [ˌnæʃnəlaiˈzeiʃən] n. nationalizing or being ~d: the nationalization of the railways.

a tive [ˈneitiv] adj. 1. associated with the place and circumstances of one's birth: your ~ land (place, language). 2. (of qualities) belonging to a person by nature, not acquired through training, by education, etc.: ~ ability (charm, powers). 3. (of plants and animals) originally belonging (to); having origin in: plants (e.g. tobacco, potatoes) ~ to America. One of the ~ animals of India (the animals ~ to India) is the tiger. 4. (in a non-European country) of the non-European inhabitants: ~ customs; the ~ quarter; go ~, see go, def. 29. 5. (of metals) found in a pure state, uncombined with other matter: ~ gold.

a tive [ˈneitiv] n. 1. person born in a certain country or place: a ~ of England (Stratford). 2. (in a non-European country) person of non-European race. 3. animal or plant natural to and having its origin in a certain area: The kangaroo is a ~ of Australia. 4. oyster reared wholly or partly in British waters, esp. in artificial beds: Whitstable ~s, 8s. a dozen.

a tiv i ty [nəˈtiviti] n. birth, esp. (the N~) of Jesus Christ; picture of the N~ of Christ; a N~ Play, one about the N~.

at ter [ˈnætə*] v.i. (VP 21, 23) (dial.) talk, esp. in a peevish manner (esp. to oneself): What's she ~ing about now?

at ty [ˈnæti] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. neat; smart and tidy: new and ~ uniforms for bus conductresses. 2. quick and skilful. nat ti ly adv. nat ti ness n.

at u ral [ˈnætʃrəl] adj. 1. of, concerned with, produced by, nature: ~ forces (phenomena) (e.g. wind, rain, thunder and lightning); ~ history (e.g. botany, zoology); animals living in their ~ state (i.e. wild, not domesticated); ~ philosophy (i.e. the science of physics, or physics and dynamics; ~ gas, gas coming from oil-bearing land, not manufactured gas; land in its ~ state, not cultivated. ~ son (daughter, brother, etc.), related in this way but born of unmarried parents; illegitimate. ~ selection, process by which animals and plants survive or become extinct in accordance with their ability to adapt themselves to the conditions of nature. 2. of, in agreement with, the nature (def. 4) of a living thing: ~ gifts (abilities). 3. (of persons) possessing qualities by nature (def. 4); born with qualities or powers: He's a ~ orator, makes speeches easily. She's a ~ linguist, learns languages easily. It comes ~ to her. (See come, def. 9.) 4. ordinary; normal; to be expected: die a ~ death, not as the result of an accident, violence, etc. It is ~ for a bird to fly. He was sentenced to prison for the term of his ~ life (i.e. until he died). 5. simple; not cultivated or self-conscious: ~ behaviour; speak in a ~ voice (not affected). It was a ~ piece of acting (with no exaggeration). 6. (music) of the normal scale of C; neither sharp nor flat: B ~ (cf. B sharp, B flat). n. 1. (music) ~ note; musical note that is not a sharp or a flat; the sign (♮) placed before a note (in printed music) to make it a ~. 2. person born without ordinary intelligence; person feeble-minded from birth. 3. (colloq.) person naturally fitted or qualified (for sth.): He's a ~ for the job (the part).

nat u ral ism [ˈnætʃrəlizəm] n. [U] adherence to nature in literature and art; drawing and painting things in a way true to nature.

nat u ral ist [ˈnætʃrəlist] n. person who makes a special study of animals or plants.

nat u ral is tic [ˌnætʃrəˈlistik] adj. of naturalism: a ~ painter (cf. abstract painter, cubist).

nat u ral ize [ˈnætʃrəlaiz] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) give (sb. from another country) rights of citizenship: ~ immigrants into the U.S.A. Lafcadio Hearn was ~d in Japan, was made a Japanese subject. 2. (VP 1) take (a word) from one language into another: English sporting terms have been ~d in many languages. 3. (VP 1) introduce (an animal or plant) into another country. 4. (VP 1) plant (bulbs, etc.) in woodland areas so that the flowers appear to be growing wild or naturally. 5. (VP 21) become ~d. nat u ral i za tion [ˈnætʃrəlaiˈzeʃən] n. [U] naturalizing or being ~d: Naturalization papers are the documents that prove that a person has been admitted to citizenship of another country.

nat u ral ly [ˈnætʃrəli] adv. 1. in a natural way: speak and behave ~. 2. of course; as might be expected: 'Did you answer her letter?'—'N~!' 3. by nature: She is ~ musical. 4. without artificial treatment, special cultivation, etc.: Plants grow ~ in such a good climate. Her hair curls ~.

na ture [ˈneitʃə*] n. 1. [U] the whole universe and every created thing: ~ study, the study of animals, plants, insects, etc.; ~ worship, the worship of trees, oceans, the winds, etc. Is ~ at its best in spring? Wordsworth and Shelley were ~ poets. 2. [U] force(s) controlling the phenomena of the physical world: Man is engaged in a constant struggle with ~. Miracles are contrary to ~. pay the debt of ~, pay one's debt to ~, die. in the course of ~, according to the ordinary course of things. 3. [U] simple life without civilization; outdoor, animal-like existence: Some 18th-century writers were in favour of a return to ~, to the simple and primitive life that people were thought to have led before mankind became civilized. In a nudist camp people are in a state of ~, completely naked. 4. [U & C] qualities and characteristics, physical, mental, and spiritual, which naturally belong to a person or thing: It is the ~ of a dog to bark. Cats and dogs have quite different ~s. That man is proud by ~. human ~, the qualities possessed by man (in contrast with animals). good ~, unselfishness; willingness and readiness to help; kind-heartedness. (Hence) ˈgood- (ill-) ˈ~ed, having a good (ill) ~. 5. qualities of non-material things: Chemists study the ~ of gases. 6. sort; kind: Things of this ~ do not interest me. His request was in the ~ of a command, could not be ignored.

naught [nɔːt] n. nothing: set at ~, defy; bring (plans, etc.) to ~, ruin, defeat; come to ~, fail; care ~ for, have no interest in; consider worthless.

naught y [ˈnɔːti] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. (of children, their behaviour, etc.) bad; wrong; disobedient; causing trouble: a ~ child. It was ~ of you to pull the cat's tail. 2. taking pleasure in shocking, intended to shock, people: a ~ novel(ist); ~ stories. naught i ly adv. naugh ti ness n.

nau sea [ˈnɔːsjə] n. [U] feeling of sickness (e.g. as caused by bad food) or disgust: overcome by ~ after eating octopus; filled with ~ at the sight of cruelty to animals.

nau seate [ˈnɔːsjeit] v.t. (VP 1) cause nausea: nauseating food; a nauseating sight.

nau se ous [ˈnɔːsiəs] adj. disgusting; causing nausea.

nautch [nɔːtʃ] n. performance by professional dancing-girls in Indonesia. ˈ~-girl n. one of these girls.

nau ti cal [ˈnɔːtikəl] adj. of ships, sailors, or navigation: ~ terms, used by sailors; a ~ almanac, with information about the sun, moon, tides, etc.; a ~ mile, 1/60 of a degree, 6,080 ft.

naut i lus [ˈnɔːtiləs] n. (pl. -es [-iz]) small sea-animal of which the female has a very thin shell.

na val [ˈneivəl] adj. of a navy; of warships: ~ officers (battles).

nave [neiv] n. central part of a church where the people sit. (See the diagram at church.)

na vel [ˈneivəl] n. small depression in the middle of the surface of the belly (left by the severance of the umbilical cord). ~ orange, large orange with a ~-like formation at one end.

nav i ga ble [ˈnævigəbl] adj. 1.
rivers, seas, etc.) that can be navigat suitable for ships: The Rhine is ~ fr Strasbourg to the sea. 2. (of ships, e that can be steered and sailed: not i ~ condition. nav i ga bil i ty [ˌnævi ˈbiliti] n.

nav i gate [ˈnævigeit] v.t. & i. (VP 21) 1. control or direct the course (a ship, aircraft, etc.); (fig.) direct: ~ bill through Parliament. 2. sail over sea); sail up or down (a river).

nav i ga tion [ˌnæviˈgeiʃən] n. [U] 1.
act of navigating. 2. the art or scie of navigating. 3. the making of voya on water or of journeys through air: inland ~, by river and canal. Th has been an increase in ~ through Suez Canal, more ships have used it.

nav i ga tor [ˈnævigeitə*] n. 1. pers who navigates a ship or aircraft.
sailor with skill and experience who h taken part in many voyages; (es early explorer: the Spanish and Por guese ~s of the 16th century.

nav vy [ˈnævi] n. unskilled workm employed in making roads, railwa canals, etc., where digging is necessa na vy [ˈneivi] n. [C] 1. a country's w ships. ~ blue, dark blue as used naval uniforms. 2. the officers and m of a country's warships: join the

3. (old use) fleet, esp. of merchant shi nay [nei] adv. (old use) no; (in lit style) not only that, but also: I suspe nay, I am certain, that he is wrong.

Na zi [ˈnɑːtsi] n. & adj. (member) German National Socialist party foun
ed by Hitler.

neap [niːp] n. (also ~-tide) tide wh high water is at its lowest level of t year. (Cf. spring-tide.)

Ne a pol i tan [niəˈpɔlitən] n. & a (inhabitant) of Naples.

^{1}near [niə*] adv. & prep. (contrast with far) I. adv. (-er, -est) indicati proximity in space or time: The stati is quite ~, not far away. Come ~ Keep ~ to me. The summer holida were drawing ~(er). He lives ~ by.
~ as I can guess, there were forty peo there. He was as ~ as could be to (i he only just escaped) being knock down by a bus. far and ~, see ^{1}fa
def. 2. ~ at hand, (a) within ea reach: Always have a good dictionary at hand. (b) not far distant in t future: The examinations are ~ at han ~ (up)on, not far in time from: It w ~ upon 2 o'clock. nowhere ~, not far from: The cinema was nowhe ~ full. II. prep. Don't go ~ the ed
He came very ~ being (was almos knocked down by the bus. The sun was setting as we reached home.

^{2}near [niə*] adj. 1. close in relationsh or affection; dear: a ~ relation (e.g.

parent, a child); friends who are ~ and ear to us. 2. (also, esp. U.S.A. ~by [ˈniəbai]) close to in space or time: The post office is quite ~. Christmas is ~. Can you tell me the ~est (= shortest) way to the station? a ~ miss, (esp. in bombing) not a direct hit, but ~ enough to the target to cause damage. a ~ thing, a narrow escape. ˈ~-ˈsighted adj. short-sighted; seeing well only when the eyes are close (to print, etc.). the ~ distance, that part of a scene between the foreground and the background. 3. (of parts of animals and vehicles, or of horses in a team) left (opposite of off): the ~ foreleg; the ~ front wheel of a car. ˈ~side n. left side: the ~side lane of traffic. 4. niggardly (opposite of generous): He's very ~ with his money. ~ness n. state or quality of being ~.

ear [niə*] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) come near (to); approach: The ship was ~ing land. He is ~ing his end, is dying.

ear ly [ˈniəli] adv. 1. almost (see almost, def. 1; cf. hardly, scarcely): It's ~ 1 o'clock. He's ~ ready. 2. closely: ~ related (allied). 3. not ~, far from: I have £20, but that will not be ~ enough for my journey (i.e. I shall need much more).

eat [niːt] n. (old use; sing. and collective as pl.) any animal of the ox kind; (collective) cattle: ˈ~herd, cowherd; ˈ~'s-ˈtongue, ox-tongue as food.

eat [niːt] adj. 1. (liking to have everything) tidy, in good order with nothing out of place; done carefully: ~ work; a ~ worker; a ~ desk; ~ writing. 2. simple and pleasant; in good taste: a ~ dress. 3. pleasing in shape and appearance: a woman with a ~ figure (~ ankles). 4. cleverly said or done: a ~ answer (conjuring trick). 5. (of wines and spirits) unmixed with water; undiluted: drink one's whisky ~. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

neath [niːθ] prep. (poet.) beneath.

eb u la [ˈnebjulə] n. (pl. -lae [-liː]) [C] group of very distant stars, mass of gas, seen in the night sky as an indistinct patch of light. neb u lous [ˈnebjuləs] adj. cloud-like; hazy; indistinct; vague.

e ces sa ri ly [ˈnesisərili] adv. as a necessary result; inevitably: Big men are not ~ strong men, we must not suppose that men are strong merely because they are big.

ec es sa ry [ˈnesisəri] adj. which has to be done; which must be; which cannot be done without or escaped from: Sleep is ~ to health. Is war a ~ evil in this world? Is it ~ for you to be (Is it ~ that you should be) so economical? n. [C] (usu. pl.) things ~ (for living): the necessaries of life (food, clothing, shelter).

e ces si tate [niˈsesiteit] v.t. (VP 1) make necessary: Your proposal ~s borrowing money. The increase in population ~s a greater food supply.

ne ces si tous [niˈsesitəs] adj. poor; needy: in ~ circumstances, in poverty.

ne ces si ty [niˈsesiti] n. 1. [U] urgent need; circumstances that compel sb. to do sth.; natural laws that direct human life and action: He was driven by ~ to steal food for his starving children. The doctor asked us not to call him during the night except in case of ~ (e.g. unless the patient's condition changed very much for the worse). make a virtue of ~, accept credit without protest; claim credit for doing sth. that one cannot help doing. bow to ~, do what one is compelled to do. of ~, as a matter of ~. be under the ~ of . . ., find it necessary to. 2. [C] sth. that is necessary: Food and warmth are necessities. 3. [U] condition of being poor; poverty: be in ~. 4. [C] sth. of which the absence or non-occurrence cannot be imagined: Is it a logical ~ that the cost of living will go up if wages go up? (Can the one be considered possible without the other?)

neck [nek] n. 1. part of the body that connects the head and the shoulders. break one's ~, be killed as the result of breaking the bones in the ~. break the ~ of a task, do the hardest part of it. save one's ~, escape hanging; (fig.) escape the results of being foolish, etc. get it in the ~, (sl.) suffer a severe or a fatal blow; have a painful experience. stick one's ~ out, (sl.) do or say sth. that may bring severe criticism, or result in a painful experience. ~ and ~, (of horse-racing, and fig.) running even in a race or struggle. win (lose) by a ~, (horse-racing) by the length of a horse's ~, and fig. ~ or nothing, taking desperate risks; venturing everything. ~ and crop, see crop. 2. flesh of an animal's ~ as used for food, esp. ~ of mutton. 3. sth. like a ~ in shape or position: the ~ of a bottle; a narrow ~ of land (e.g. an isthmus). 4. (sl.) impudence: have the ~ to ask for a loan. 5. (compounds) ˈ~band n. part of a shirt, etc. that goes round the ~. ˈ~cloth n. cravat. ˈ~lace [ˈneklis] n. string of beads, pearls, etc., worn round the ~ as an ornament. ˈ~tie n. band of material worn round the ~ and knotted in front. ˈ~wear n. [U] (term used by shopkeepers for) collars and ties. v.i. (sl.) (of young couples of opposite sex) clasp one another round the ~ lovingly: sitting on park benches petting and ~ing in the dark.

A necktie

neck er chief [ˈnekətʃif] n. (old use) cloth or scarf worn round the neck.

neck let [ˈneklit] n. ornament (e.g. of beads) for the neck.

nec ro man cy [ˈnekroumænsi] n. [U] art or practice of communicating with the dead in order to learn about the future. nec ro man cer n. person who practises ~.

ne crop o lis [neˈkrɔpəlis] n. cemetery.

nec tar [ˈnektə*] n. [U] 1. (in old Gk. stories) the drink of the gods. 2. sweet liquid in flowers, collected by bees; any delicious drink.

nec tar ine [ˈnektərin] n. kind of peach with thin, smooth skin and firm flesh.

née [nei] adj. (F.) born (put after the name of a married woman and before her father's family name): Mrs J. Smith, née Brown.

^{1}need [ni:d] n. 1. [U] circumstances in which sth. is lacking, or necessary, or requiring some course of action: There's no ~ (for you) to start yet. There's no (not much) ~ for anxiety. There's a great ~ for a book on this subject. if ~ be, if necessary. 2. (used in pl.) requirement; sth. felt to be necessary: He earns enough to satisfy his ~s (i.e. to buy food, clothing, etc.). My ~s are few. £10 will meet my immediate ~s. ~s test, = means test. (See ^{3}mean, def. 4.) 3. [U] poverty; misfortune; adversity: He helped me in my hour of ~. A friend in ~ is a friend indeed, (prov.) a friend who helps when one is in trouble is a real friend. ~y adj. (-ier, -iest) very poor; lacking the necessities of life: a ~y family; help the poor and ~y.

^{2}need [ni:d] v.t. & anom. fin. I. *v.t. (regular v.) 1. (VP 1, 17) want; require; be in need of: The garden ~s rain. Does he ~ any help? This chapter ~s rewriting (to be rewritten). What he ~s (i.e. ought to have) is a good whipping. 2. (VP 2) be necessary (usu. in interr. & neg.): He did not ~ to be reminded about it. Does he ~ to know? It ~s to be done carefully. II. *anom. fin. (no inf.; no participles; 3rd p. sing. present tense is need; used in interr. & neg. followed by inf. without to; need not contracted to needn't [ˈni:dnt]) 1. be obliged; be necessary: N~ you go yet? (No, I ~n't. Yes, I must.) You ~n't go yet, ~ you? I ~ hardly tell you, you must already know or guess . . . 2. ~n't, followed by a perfect inf., indicates that although sth. may have occurred or been done in the past, it was unnecessary: We ~n't have hurried. (Cf. We did not ~ to hurry, it was unnecessary for us to hurry and we did not hurry.)

need ful [ˈni:dful] adj. needed; necessary: do what is ~. n. (sl.) 1. money. 2. do the ~, do what needs doing.

nee dle [ˈni:dl] n. 1. long, thin piece of polished steel, pointed at one end and with a small hole at the other end for thread, used in sewing and darn as sharp as a ~, quick-witted; observant. ˈ~-ˌwoman n. woman who sews. ˈ~-*work n. [U] sewing; embroidery. pins and ~s, see pin. 2. long, thin piece of polished wood, bone, or metal (without an eye), with a pointed end (for knitting) or a hook (for crocheting). 3. thin steel pointer in a compass, showing the magnetic north; simila pointer in a telegraphic instrument. 4 sth. like a ~ (def. 1) in shape, appearanc or use (e.g. the thin, pointed leaves o pine-trees; a sharp, pointed peak o rocky summit; the sharp, hollow end o a syringe used for giving injections). 5 stylus used in recording and playin gramophone records. v.t. (VP 1, 18) sew pierce, operate on, with a ~; threa (one's way) between or through things.

A needle an thread

need less [ˈni:dlis] adj. not needed unnecessary: ~ work (trouble). N~ t say, he kept his promise. ~ly adv.

needs [ni:dz] adv. (now used only with must) of necessity: N~ must when th devil drives, (prov.) circumstances may compel us to act in a certain way. He must ~ go away just when I want hi help. (When the adv. follows must, a in 'He must ~', the sense is usu. sarcastic, as here: he foolishly or stupidly insisted on going away. . . .)

ne'er [nεə*] adv. (poet.) never. ~-do-well [ˈnεədu(:)ˌwel] n. useless or good-for-nothing person.

ne fa ri ous [niˈfεəriəs] adj. wicked; unlawful. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

ne gate [niˈgeit] v.t. = ^{2}negative.

ne ga tion [niˈgeiʃən] n. [U] 1. act of denying (opp. of affirmation): Shaking the head is a sign of ~. 2. absence of any positive or real quality or meaning: The life of an evil man is a moral ~.

^{1}neg a tive [ˈnegətiv] adj. 1. (of words and answers) indicating no or not (opp. of affirmative): give sb. a ~ answer. 2. (opp. of positive) expressing the absence of any positive character; that stops, hinders, or makes powerless: ~ criticism, that does not help by building up, making suggestions; ~ virtue, doing nothing wrong, but doing nothing good or right, either; ~ praise, not finding fault. 3. (maths.) of a number or quantity that has to be subtracted (e.g. $-x^2y$). 4. (electr.) of that kind of electricity produced by rubbing wax, vulcanite, etc.: the ~ plate in a battery (from which electrons will flow to the positive plate); the ~ pole (made of zinc) in a cell. 5. (photography) having lights and shades reversed. ~ly adv.; ~ly charged particles.

g a tive ['negətiv] n. [C] 1. word or atement that denies: 'No', 'not', and ither' are ~s. The answer is in the
, is 'No'. 2. (maths.) minus quantity (e.g.
5x). 3. (phot.) developed late or film on which ghts and shades are reersed.

A negative

g a tive ['negətiv] v.t.
P 1) 1. prove (a theory, c.) to be untrue: Experi- ents ~d his theory. 2.
ject; refuse to accept:
utralize (an effect).

g lect [nig'lekt] v.t. 1. (VP 1) pay no tention to; give no or not enough are to: ~ one's studies (children, alth). 2. (VP 2, 17A) omit or fail o do sth.); leave undone (what one ught to do): He ~ed to write and say Thank you'. Don't ~ writing to your other. n. [U] ~ing or being ~ed: He st his job because of ~ of duty. The arden was in a state of ~. ~ful adj. in e habit of ~ing things: boys who are ful of their appearance. ~ful ly adv.
ful ness n.

g li gé, neg li gee ['negli:ʒei] n. [U C] (condition of being in a) loose, free yle of informal dress.

g li gence ['neglidʒəns] n. [U] 1.
arelessness; failure to take proper care r precautions: The accident was due ~. 2. neglected condition or appear-nce: ~ of dress.

g li gent ['neglidʒənt] adj. taking too ttle care: He was ~ in (= in respect
f) his work. He was ~ of his duties.
~ly adv.

g li gi ble ['neglidʒəbl] adj. that need ot be considered; of little or no importance or size: a ~ quantity.

e go ti a ble [ni'gouʃiəbl] adj. 1. that an be negotiated (def. 2): Is the dispute ~? 2. that can be changed into cash, or assed from person to person instead f cash: ~ securities (instruments) (e.g. heques, promissory notes). 3. (of roads, ivers, etc.) that can be passed over or long.

e go ti ate [ni'gouʃieit] v.i. & t. 1.
VP 21, 23, 24, 25) discuss (sth. with sb.) n order to come to an agreement:
e've decided to ~ with the employers bout our wage claims. 2. (VP 1) arrange y discussion: ~ a sale (a loan, a treaty, eace). 3. (VP 1) get or give money for cheques, bonds, etc.). 4. (VP 1) get ast or over: This is a difficult corner or a large car to ~. My horse ~d (i.e. umped over) the fence very well. ne- go ti a tor n. one who ~s.

e go ti a tion [ni,gouʃi'eiʃən] n. [U & C] negotiating: enter into (open, start, arry on, resume) ~s with sb.; be in ~ ith sb. Price is a matter of ~.

ne gress ['ni:gris] n. (pl. -es [-iz]) Negro woman or girl.

Ne gro, ne gro ['ni:grou] n. (pl. ~es) (cap. N to be preferred) member (or, outside Africa, descendant) of one of the black-skinned African races south of the Sahara.

ne groid ['ni:grɔid] adj. of or akin to Negroes or the Negro race. n. (N~) person of a ~ race.

Ne gus ['ni:gəs] n. (title of the) ruler of Abyssinia.

ne gus ['ni:gəs] n. hot, sweetened wine and water.

neigh [nei] v.i. & n. (make the) cry of a horse.

neigh bour ['neibə*] n. (U.S.A. -bor) person living in a house, street, etc., near another; person, thing, or country that is near(est) another: We're next-door ~s, our houses are side by side. We were ~s at dinner, we sat together at table. When the big tree fell, it brought down two of its smaller ~s, two smaller trees near it. England's nearest ~ is France. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21 with upon; chiefly in the form ~ing) be near to: ~ing countries; in the ~ing village. ~ly adj. kind; friendly. ~li ness n. [U] friendly feeling, help, that is expected from ~s.

neigh bour hood ['neibəhud] n. (U.S.A. -bor-) 1. (people living in a) district; area near the place, etc., referred to: There's some beautiful scenery in our ~. He was liked by the whole ~. He wants to live in the ~ of London. 2. condition of being near: The ~ of this noisy airport is a serious disadvantage. He lost a sum in the ~ of £500.

nei ther ['naiðə*, 'ni:ðə*] adj., pron., & adv. I. adj. & pron. (used with a sing. n. or pron.; cf. either) not one nor the other (of two): N~ statement is true. N~ (one) is satisfactory. I like ~ of them. I can agree in ~ case. In ~ case can I agree. II. adv. (& conj.) 1. ~ . . . nor: He ~ knows nor cares what happened. It's ~ pleasant to eat nor good for you. N~ you nor I could do it. The cats have not been fed: ~ has the dog. (Loosely) N~ the cats nor the dog have been fed. 2. (after a negative if-clause, etc.): If you don't go, ~ shall I. As he won't help you, ~ will I. I haven't been to the Exhibition; ~ do I (= and I do not) intend to go. A: 'I don't like it'—B: 'N~ do I' (Cf. Nor do I. No more do I.)

nem. con. ['nem'kɔn] adv. (abbrev., Lat.) unanimously; without any objection being raised: The resolution was carried ~.

nem e sis ['nemisis] n. 1. deserved fate; just punishment for wrong-doing. 2. (N~) goddess of vengeance.

ne o- ['ni:ou-] pref. new; recent; later; lately found or invented: neo-Hellenism, revival of the ideals of ancient Greece; neo-Fascism.

ne o lith ic [ˌni(:)ou'liθik] adj. of the new or later stone age: ~ man.

ne ol o gism [ni(:)'ɔlədʒizəm] n. [U] coining or using of new words; [C] new-coined word.

ne on ['ni:ən] n. [U] colourless gas forming a very small proportion of the earth's atmosphere. ~ light n.* coloured light produced when an electric current passes through a bulb or tube containing ~. ~ sign, advertisement, etc., in which ~ light is used.

ne o phyte ['ni(:)oufait] n. person who has newly been converted to some belief; recent convert to a religion; (in the Church of Rome) one who has recently become a priest or entered a monastery.

neph ew ['nevju:] (U.S.A. also ['nefju:]) n. son of one's brother or sister.

ne phri tis [ne'fraitis] n. [U] inflammation of the kidneys.

ne plus ultra ['neiplus'ultra, 'ni:plʌs'ʌltrə] n. farthest point attained or attainable; highest point, culmination (of).

nep o tism ['nepətizəm] n. [U] the giving of special favour (esp. employment) by a person in high position to his relatives.

Nep tune ['neptju:n] n. 1. (God of) the sea. 2. one of the farthest planets of the solar system.

Ne re id ['niəriid] n. sea-nymph.

nerve [nə:v] n. 1. [C] fibre or bundle of fibres carrying feelings and impulses between the brain and all parts of the body. '~-cell n.* cell that conducts impulses. '~-ˌcentre n.* group of closely connected ~-cells. 2. (pl.) condition of being easily excited, worried, irritated: a war of ~s, campaign in which an attempt is made to weaken an opponent by destroying his morale. He is suffering from ~s, quickly and easily becomes excited, frightened, etc. That man doesn't know what ~s are, is never troubled by fear, irritability, etc. That noise gets on my ~s, worries me. He has ~s of iron, is never upset, etc. '~-ˌracking adj.* inflicting strain on the ~s. 3. [U] quality of being bold, self-reliant, etc.: A test pilot needs plenty of ~. have the ~ to do sth., (a) have the necessary courage, self-reliance: have ~ enough to drive a racing car. (b) (colloq.) be impudent enough: He had the ~ to suggest that I was cheating. have a ~, (colloq.) be self-assured or audacious. lose one's ~, become timid or afraid. regain one's ~, recover one's courage and self-assurance. 4. [C] (old use) sinew: strain every ~, make great efforts. 5. (botany) rib, esp. mid-rib, of a leaf. v.t. (VP 1, 10, 18) give strength (physical or moral) to: ~ oneself for a task; ~ oneself ready to face troubles.

nerve less ['nə:vlis] adj. lacking in vigour or spirit; without energy: The knife fell from his ~ hand. ~ly adv.

ner vous ['nə:vəs] adj. 1. of the ne (def. 1): the ~ system of the human '
suffering from a ~ breakdown (= ne thenia), 2. having or showing ne (def. 2): Are you ~ in the dark? Wh she so ~ about? 3. having strong sin vigorous: full of ~ energy; a ~ sty writing. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

nerv y ['nə:vi] adj. 1. (colloq.) suffe from nervous strain. 2. (sl.) impud
3. (sl.) trying to the nerves.

nes cience ['nesjəns] n. [U] not knowi absence of knowledge (of). nes ci ['nesjənt] adj. without knowledge.

ness [nes] n. (usu. in place names) p montory; headland.

nest [nest] n. 1. place made or cho by a bird for its eggs: feather one's see ²*feather.* '~-egg n.* (fig.) sum money saved for future use. 2. pl in which certain living things have keep their young: a wasps' ~; a tur ~. 3. comfortable place: make one a ~ of cushions. 4. number of things (esp. boxes, tables) fitting inside another. 5. (fig.) shelter; hidi place; secluded retreat: a ~ of cr (vice, pirates); machine-gun ~s (wh they are hidden from direct view).
(VP 21, 23) 1. make and use a ~: swallows are ~ing in the woodshed.
(usu. go ~ing) search for the ~s of w birds and take the eggs.

nes tle ['nesl] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 23) se comfortably and warmly: ~ do among the cushions; ~ down in t
2. (VP 23) press oneself lovingly
The child was nestling closely to mother. 3. (VP 10) cradle: She
the baby in her arms.

nest ling ['nestliŋ] n. [C] bird too you to leave the nest.

Nes tor ['nestɔ:,-tə] n. wise, old cou sellor (from the name of one of the Gre at Troy, in Homer's Iliad).

¹net [net] n. [U] open-work material knotted string, hair, wire, etc.; [C] su material made up for a special purpo a mosquito-net (for use over a be fishing-nets; tennis nets; hair-nets (u by women to keep the hair in plac (fig.) moral or mental snare. 'netb
n. girls' game in which a ball has to thrown up so as to fall through a ho zontal ring from which a net ha down. 'network n.* (a) complex syst of lines that cross: a network of railw (canals). (b) connected system:
President's speech was broadcast on s networks and from local stations. ( hook-up.)

²net [net] v.t. (-tt-) (VP 1) 1. catch (fi animals, etc.) with or in a net. 2. co (e.g. fruit trees) with a net or nets: strawberries (currant bushes) (agai birds). 3. put nets in place in: net a ri

³net [net] adj. remaining when noth

more is to be taken away: net profit (when working expenses have been deducted); net price (off which discount is not to be allowed); net weight (of the contents only, excluding the weight of packing, the container, etc.). v.t. (-tt-) gain as a net profit: He netted £5 from the deal.

eth er [ˈneðə*] adj. 1. (arch.) lower: the ~ regions (world), the world of the dead; hell. 2. (joking style) ~ garments, trousers. ~most adj:

eth er land er [ˈneðələndə*] n. native of the Netherlands (Holland).

et ting [ˈnetiŋ] n. [U] 1. making or using nets. 2. netted string, thread, or wire: five yards of wire ~; windows screened with ~.

et tle [ˈnetl] n. [C] common wild plant which has on its leaves hairs that sting and redden the skin when touched. ˈ~-rash n. eruption on the skin with red patches like those caused by ~s. v.t. (VP 1) sting (oneself) with ~s; (fig.) make rather angry; annoy: She looked ~d by my remarks.

eur al [ˈnjuərəl] adj. of the nerves.

eu ral gia [njuəˈrældʒə] n. [U] sharp, jumping pain in the nerves, esp. of the face and head. neu ral gic adj.

eu ras the nia [ˌnjuərəsˈθiːnjə] n. [U] exhausted condition of the nervous system; low state of health, general weakness, accompanying this condition. neu ras then ic [ˌnjuərəsˈθenik] adj. suffering from, related to, ~. n. person suffering from ~.

eu ri tis [njuəˈraitis] n. [U] inflammation of a nerve or nerves.

eu rol o gy [njuəˈrɔlədʒi] n. [U] branch of medical science that is concerned with nerves. neu rol o gist n. expert in ~.

eu ro sis [njuəˈrousis] n. (pl. -ses [-siːz]) functional derangement caused by disorders of the nervous system or by something in the subconscious mind. neu rot ic [njuəˈrɔtik] adj. 1. (of a person) suffering from a ~; of abnormal sensitivity; easily excited. 2. (of a drug) affecting the nervous system. n. neurotic person or drug.

eu ter [ˈnjuːtə*] adj. 1. (grammar; of gender) neither feminine nor masculine. 2. (of plants) without male or female parts. 3. (of insects, e.g. worker ants) sexually undeveloped; sterile. n. 1. ~ noun or gender. 2. sexually undeveloped insect; castrated animal: My cat is an enormous ginger ~.

eu tral [ˈnjuːtrəl] adj. 1. helping neither side in a war or quarrel: ~ nations; be (remain) ~. 2. of a country that remains ~ in war: ~ territory (ships). 3. having no definite characteristics; not clearly one (colour, etc.) or another: ~ tints. 4. (chem.) neither acid nor alkaline. 5. (of gear mechanism) of the position in which no power is transmitted: leave a car in ~ gear. n. ~ person, country, etc.; ~ position of gears: slip the gears into ~. ~i ty [njuːˈtræliti] n. [U] state of being ~, esp. in war: armed ~ity, readiness to fight if attacked, but remaining ~ unless or until this happens.

neu tral ize [ˈnjuːtrəlaiz] v.t. (VP 1) 1. make neutral; declare by agreement that (a place) shall be treated as neutral in war; exempt or exclude from hostilities: ~ the Dardanelles. 2. take away the effect or special quality of, by means of sth. with an opposite effect or quality: ~ a poison. neu tral i za tion [ˌnjuːtrəlaiˈzeiʃən] n.

neu tron [ˈnjuːtrɔn] n. particle carrying no electric charge, of about the same weight as a proton, and forming part of the nucleus of an atom.

nev er [ˈnevə*] adv. 1. at no time; on no occasion: She ~ goes to the cinema. He has ~ been abroad. They say that he ~ told a lie. (Front position for emphasis): N~ in all my life have I heard such nonsense! (modifying again and before): I shall ~ again stay at that hotel. Such a display has ~ before been seen. 2. used as an emphatic substitute for not: That will ~ do, won't do at all. I ~ slept a wink all night. He ~ so much as smiled, didn't smile even once. 3. (phrases) Well, I ~! Well, I ~ did! (expressing surprise) N~ mind! (Don't worry. Don't trouble about it.) 4. the N~ N~ (Land), the outback, esp. north Queensland (Australia). 5. (sl.) (buy sth.) on the ~~, on the hire-purchase system.

nev er more [ˈnevəˈmɔː*, -mɔə*] adv. never again.

nev er the less [ˌnevəðəˈles] adv. & conj. however; in spite of that; still: There was no news; ~, she went on hoping.

new [njuː] adj. (-er, -est) 1. not existing before; seen, heard of, introduced, for the first time; of recent origin, growth, manufacture, etc.: a new school (idea, film, novel, invention); new potatoes (lifted from the soil early in the season (cf. maincrop); new clothes (furniture); new (freshly baked) bread; the newest (= latest) fashions; new members of Parliament (elected to Parliament for the first time); the New Testament, the second part of the Bible. new look, new or recent fashion in dress; new or up-to-date style or appearance. 2. already in existence, but only now seen, discovered, etc.: learn new words in a foreign language; discover a new star. the New World, North and South America. 3. new to, unfamiliar with; not yet accustomed to: I am new to this town. They are still new to the work (trade). new from, freshly or recently arrived from: an office boy new from school; a servant new from the provinces. 4. (with def. art.) later, modern, having a different character: the new poor (rich), those people recently made poor (rich) by social changes, etc.; the new woman, modern woman having or claiming independence, social freedom, etc. 5. beginning again: a new moon (seen as a thin crescent); lead a new life (give up old habits, etc.); wish sb. a Happy New Year; New Year's Day (1 Jan.). adv. (preceding, joined, or hyphened to, the word it qualifies) recently: a new-born baby; new-laid eggs; new-fallen snow; new-made graves; new-comers, persons who have recently arrived in a place; new-fangled (new, strange, and unwelcome) ideas about education. new ly adv. 1. recently: a newly married couple; her newly awakened curiosity. newly-weds n. pl. newly married couple(s). 2. in a new, different way: newly arranged furniture. new ness n.

new el [ˈnjuəl] n. centre pillar of a winding stair; post supporting a hand-rail at the top, bottom, or turn of a staircase.

New found land [nju(ː)ˈfaundlənd] n. large breed of spaniel noted for its swimming powers.

New gate [ˈnjuːgit] n. famous London prison (until 1902).

New mar ket [ˈnjuːˌmɑːkit] n. English town noted for horse-races; kind of card-game.

news [njuːz] n. (pl. in form but used only in sing. constructions) new or fresh information; report(s) of what has most recently happened: What's the latest ~? (Broadcasting): Here is the ~. Here are the ~ headlines. Here is a ~ summary (a summary of the ~). Here are some interesting items (pieces, bits) of ~. That's no ~ to me, I already know that. Miss White is in the ~, is being written about in the papers. The ~ that the enemy were near alarmed the citizens. Have you any ~ of (= concerning) where your brother is staying? No ~ is good ~, (prov.) if there were bad ~ we should hear it. ˈ~-ˌagent n. shopkeeper who sells ~papers, periodicals, etc. ˈ~-boy n. boy who sells ~papers in the streets. ˈ~cast n. broadcast of ~. ~ cinema (theatre), cinema showing ~-reels, cartoons, and other short films. ˈ~-ˌletter n. letter or circular sent out to members of a society, etc. ˈ~paper n. (usu. [ˈnjuːsˌpeipə*], rarely [ˈnjuːz-]) printed publication, usu. issued every day, with ~, advertisements, etc. ˈ~-print n. [U] paper for printing ~papers on. ˈ~-reel n. cinema film of recent events. ˈ~-room n. room (in a library, etc.) where ~papers and other periodicals may be read. ˈ~-sheet n. simple form of ~paper. ˈ~-stand n. stall for the sale of ~papers, etc. ˈ~-ˌvendor n. seller of ~papers. ˈ~less adj. wit ~. ~y [ˈnjuːzi] adj. (colloq.) full of gossip: a ~y letter.

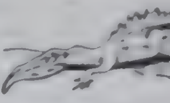
newt [njuːt] n. (kinds of) small lizard animal which spends most of its time in the water.



A newt

New to nian [nju(ː)ˈtounjən] adj. related to Newton and his theories. n. follower of Ne and his system.

next [nekst] adj., n., adv., & pre
adj. & n. 1. coming immediately in order, or space: What's the ~
to do? Take the ~ turning to the Miss Green was the ~ (person) to a Which is the town ~ to London in in the ~ place, phrase used in the way as secondly, thirdly, etc. th best (thing), that which is chose accepted if the first choice fails: T are no tickets left for the Circus: t best thing is the Zoo. ~ to noth scarcely anything; almost nothing wonder she's ill! She eats ~ to not ~ door, the ~ house: He lives ~ (to me). The people ~ door are noisy. We are ~-door neighbours door to, (fig.) almost; not far f
Such ideas are ~ door to madness (of time; def. art. needed if the refer is to a time that is future in relatio a time already mentioned): I sha there ~ Friday (~ week, ~ year).
shall be in France by this time ~
He will spend the first week of his ho in France and the ~ (week) in I
We arrived in Turin on a Monday ~ day we left for Rome. That sum was very wet; the ~ summer was wetter. II. adv. 1. after this (th then: What are you going to do ~? W I ~ saw her she was dressed in g come ~, follow: What comes ~, wh the ~ thing (to do, etc.): 2. use express surprise or wonder: What he be saying ~? A new motor-car! W ~? III. prep. (elliptical use of the = ~ to) May I bring my chair ~ yo
He doesn't like wearing wool ~ his sk nex us [ˈneksəs] n. (pl. -es [-iz]) nexion; bond.

nib [nib] n. pointed metal pen point
be) inserted in a pen-holder.

A nib

nib ble [ˈnibl] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 10, 21, 24) 1. take tiny bites (at):
fish nibbling (at) the bait. 2. (fig.) s some inclination to accept (an o agree to (a suggestion, etc.), but with being definite. n. [C] act of nibbling felt a ~ at the bait.

nib lick [ˈniblik] n. golf-club with large, round, heavy head, used esp.
playing balls out of bunkers.

ice [nais] adj. 1. (contrary to nasty) pleasant; agreeable; kind; friendly; ine: a ~ day; ~ weather; a ~ little girl; ~ to the taste (the feel, etc.); medicine that is not ~ to take. ~ and . . ., nice because . . .: ~ and warm by the fire; ~ and cool in the woods. 2. needing care and exactness; sensitive; subtle: a ~ point of law (one that may be difficult to decide); ~ (delicate) shades of meaning. 3. (ironical) difficult; bad: You've got us into a ~ mess. 4. hard to please; having or showing delicate tastes: very ~ in one's dress. 5. punctilious; scrupulous: He's not too ~ in his business methods. ~ly adv. 1. in a ~ manner. 2. (colloq.) very well; all right: That will suit me ~ly. The patient is doing ~ly, is making good progress. ~ness n.

i ce ty ['naisiti] n. 1. [U] accuracy; exactness: ~ of judgement; a point of great ~ (one needing most careful and exact consideration). 2. [C] delicate distinction: the niceties of criticism. to a ~, exactly right: He judged the distance to a ~.

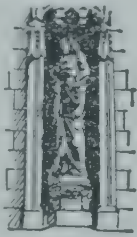
iche [nitʃ] n. [C] 1. recess (often with a shelf) in a wall, e.g. for a statue or ornament: He has a ~ in the temple of fame, his achievements are not forgotten. 2. (fig.) suitable or fitting position: He found the right ~ for himself, a place where he could do what he wanted to do, comfortably and happily.



A niche (def. 1)

ick [nik] n. 1. small V-shaped cut (made in sth.), esp. as a record. 2. in the ~ of time, only just in time. 3. (sl.) prison. v.t. make a ~ in; cut a notch in.

Nick [nik] n. short for Nicholas: Old N~, the devil.

ick el ['nikl] n. 1. [U] hard, silver-white metal used in the form of ~-plating and in alloys (~-steel, ~-silver). 2. coin used in the U.S.A., value 5 cents. v.t. (-ll-) coat with ~.

ick-nack n. see knick-knack.

ick name ['nikneim] n. name given in addition to or altered from or used instead of the real name (e.g. Fatty for a fat boy: Shorty, humorously, for a very tall man). v.t. (VP 1, 8) give a ~ to: They ~d him Hurry.

ic o tine ['nikəti:n] n. [U] poisonous substance in tobacco: ~-stained fingers.

iece [ni:s] n. daughter of one's brother or sister.

iff [nif] n. (sl., dial.) (unpleasant) smell. ~y adj. (sl.) having a bad smell.

if ty ['nifti] adj. (sl.) 1. smart; stylish. 2. having an unpleasant smell.

ig gard ['nigəd] n. mean, stingy person. ~ly adj. giving, given, unwillingly, in small amounts; miserly: ~ly contributions. ~li ness n.

nig ger ['nigə*] n. △ (impolite word for) Negro; member of any dark-skinned race.

nig gle ['nigl] v.i. give too much time or attention to unimportant details. nig gling adj. trifling; lacking in boldness of effect.

nigh [nai] adv. & prep. (-er, -est) (arch. and poet.) near (to).

night [nait] n. [C] 1. dark hours between sunset and sunrise or twilight and dawn: in (during) the ~; on Sunday ~; on the ~ of Friday, the 13th of June. He stayed three ~s with us, slept at our house three ~s. Can you stay over ~, spend the ~ with us? She has had a good (bad) ~, has slept well (badly). What a dirty ~ it has been, how stormy (rainy, etc.) the ~ has been! ~ after ~, for many ~s in succession. all ~ (long), throughout the whole ~. at ~, when ~ comes; during the ~: 6 o'clock at ~, 6 p.m. by ~, during the ~: travel by ~. ~ and day, continuously: travel ~ and day for a week. o' ~s, (colloq.) by or at ~: I can't sleep o' ~s. have a ~ out (off), spend an evening and night in pleasure, away from work or duty. make a ~ of it, spend a ~ in pleasure-making, esp. at a party. turn ~ into day, do at ~ what is usu. done during the day. 2. (compounds) '~-bell n. bell (e.g. on the street door, at a doctor's house) to be used at ~. '~-bird n. (a) bird (e.g. an owl) which is active at ~. (b) person (usu. disreputable) who goes about at ~. '*~cap n. (a) cap (formerly) worn in bed. (b) (usu. alcoholic) drink taken before going to bed. '~-club n. club open to members for dancing, supper, entertainment, etc. '~dress n. long, loose garment worn by women and children in bed. '~fall n. [U] the coming of ~; evening. '~gown n. = ~dress. '~jar n. ~-flying bird that resembles a swift. '~-light n. light (e.g. a short, thick candle, or a small electric bulb) kept burning in a bedroom at ~ (esp. for a small child or an invalid). '~-line n. line left in a river, lake, etc., with baited hooks, to catch fish by ~. '~-long adj. lasting the whole ~. '*~mare n. [C] (a) terrible, frightening dream. (b) haunting fear; sth. dreaded; memory of a horrible experience: Travelling on those bad mountain roads was a ~mare. '~-ˌporter n. hotel servant on duty at the porter's desk during the ~. '~-school n. one that gives lessons to persons who are unable to attend classes during the day. '*~shade n. [U] name of various wild plants, esp. Black N~shade (with white flowers and black poisonous berries), Woody N~shade (with purple flowers and bright red berries), and Deadly N~shade (or bella-donna, q.v.). ˈ~shirt n. boy's or man's long shirt for sleeping in. ˈ~-soil* *n. contents of earth-closets and cess-pools, removed during the ~. ~ stop n. ˈ~-stop* *v.i. (of airliners on long journeys) stop for a night at an airport, etc.: These flying-boats ~-stop (make ~ stops) at Cairo and Kampala. ˈ~-time *n. time of darkness: in the ~-time (= by ~). ˈ~-ˌ*walker* *n. = sleep-walker. ˈ~-ˈ*watch* *n. (person or group of persons keeping) watch by ~. in the ~-watches, during the wakeful, restless, or anxious periods of ~. ˈ~-ˈ*watchman* n. man employed to keep watch (e.g. in a factory) at ~. ˈ~-work* *n. work that is done, or must be done, by ~.

night in gale [ˈnaitiŋgeil] n. small, reddish-brown migratory bird that sings sweetly by night as well as by day.

night ly [ˈnaitli] adj. & adv. (taking place, happening, existing) in the night or every night: ~ performances; a film show twice ~; do something ~.

night y [ˈnaiti] n. (colloq.; child's word for) nightdress.

ni hil ism [ˈnaiilizəm] n. [U] teachings of an extreme revolutionary party in Russia (19th c.) which considered the existing order of government to deserve destruction; total rejection of current religious and moral beliefs. ni hil ist [ˈnaiilist] n. believer in ~. ni hil is tic [ˌnaiiˈlistik] adj. relating to ~.

nil [nil] n. nothing: The result of the game was 3–0 (read 'three-nil' or 'three-nothing').

Ni lot ic [naiˈlɔtik] adj. of the Nile, the Nile region, or its inhabitants.

nim ble [ˈnimbl] adj. 1. quick-moving: as ~ as a goat. 2. (of the mind) sharp; quick to understand. nim bly adv. ~ness n.

nim bus [ˈnimbəs] n. (pl. -buses [-bəsiz], -bi [-bai]) 1. bright cloud or halo (e.g. round the head of a deity); bright disc round or over the head of a saint (in a painting, etc.). 2. rain-cloud.

nim i ny-pim i ny [ˈniminiˈpimini] adj. affected; mincing; prim.

Nim rod [ˈnimrɔd] n. great hunter. (See Genesis x. 8, 9.)

nin com poop [ˈninkəmpu:p] n. foolish, weak-minded person.

nine [nain] n. & adj. the number 9, IX. ~pence [ˈnainpəns] n. ~penny [ˈnainpəni] adj. a ~-days' wonder, sth. that attracts attention for a few days and is then forgotten. dressed up to the ~s, (colloq.) dressed very elaborately or extravagantly. ~teen [ˈnainˈti:n] n. & adj. the number 19, XIX. talk ~teen to the dozen, talk continually. ~teenth [ˈnainˈti:nθ] n. & adj. the next after the 18th; one of 19 equal parts. ~ti eth [ˈnaintiiθ] n. & adj next after the 89th; one of 90 parts. ~ty [ˈnainti] n. & adj. the ber 90, XC: ~ty-~ times out of a dred, almost always. the ~ties tween 89 and 100, e.g. of a person's or of the years of a century (esp.
19th), or the temperature (in Fahrenheit scale). ninth [nainθ]
adj. the next after the 8th; one equal parts.

nine pins [ˈnainpinz] n. pl. (sing.
game in which a ball is rolled along
the floor at nine bottle-shaped pieces of wood (cf.
tenpins).

nin ny [ˈnini] n.
fool; simpleton.

Ni o be [ˈnaiəbi] n.
(Gk. myth) woman who was changed into a stone foun while weeping for her children who been killed; woman who weeps cannot be comforted.

Ninepins

¹nip [nip] v.t. & i. (-pp-) 1. (VP 1 pinch; press hard (e.g. between fi and thumb, or with the claws, as a does, or with the teeth, as a do horse might do): A crab nipped m while I was bathing. He nipped finger in the door (i.e. between the and the door-post). The gardener nipping off (= pinching out) the shoots from his chrysanthemums.
(VP 1) (of frost, wind, etc.) stop growth of; damage. nip sth. in bud, stop its development. 3. (VP perform the action of biting or pinch 4. (colloq.) (VP 23) hurry: nip along nipped in (got in quickly) just in of me. I'll nip on ahead and ope door. n. [C] sharp pinch or bite: a nip in the air, a feeling of frost.
ping adj. (of the air or wind) sh biting; cold.

²nip [nip] n. [C] small drink (esp spirits): a nip of brandy.

nip per [ˈnipə*] n. 1. (pl.; col pincers, forceps, or other tool gripping. 2. (colloq.) small child crustacean's claw.

nip ple [ˈnipl] n. 1. part of the b through which a baby gets its mot milk; similar small projection on breast of a human male. 2. ru mouth-piece of a baby's feeding b 3. sth. shaped like a ~: greasing ~ an engine, etc.).

Nip pon ese [ˌnipəˈni:z] adj. of Ni [ˈnipɔn] (= Japan).

nip py [ˈnipi] adj. (colloq.) (from 1. biting cold. 2. nimble: Look ~ quick.

nir va na [niəˈvɑ:nə] n. (in Buddh state in which individuality be extinct by being absorbed into the supreme spirit.

ni si ['naisai] conj. (Lat. legal) unless: decree ~, decree (of divorce, etc.) valid unless cause is shown for rescinding it before the time when it is made absolute.

Nis sen hut ['nisn'hʌt] n. tunnel-shaped hut of sheets of corrugated iron, erected over a concrete floor.

nit [nit] n. egg of a louse or other parasitic insect (e.g. as found in the hair of persons who seldom wash).

ni trate ['naitreit] n. salt formed by the chemical reaction of nitric acid with an alkali, esp. potassium ~ and sodium ~, used as fertilizers. (Used in pl. for 'kinds of ~'.)

ni tre ['naitə*] n. (U.S.A. niter) [U] potassium or sodium nitrate.

ni tric ['naitrik] adj. of, containing, nitrogen: ~ acid (HNO_3), clear colourless, powerful acid that eats into and destroys most substances.

ni tro-chalk ['naitrou'tʃɔːk] n. [U] fertilizer used in spring to encourage growth of grass.

ni tro gen ['naitridʒən, -trə-] n. [U] gas without colour, taste, or smell, forming about four-fifths of the atmosphere.

ni tro-glyc er ine [ˌnaitrou'glisəriːn] n. [U] powerful explosive made by adding glycerine to a mixture of nitric and sulphuric acids.

ni trous ['naitrəs] adj. of, like, nitre: ~ oxide, gas (N_2O) (also called laughing-gas) used by dental surgeons to make a person unconscious while having a tooth or teeth pulled out.

nit wit ['nitwit] n. (colloq.) person with very little intelligence. (hence) nit-witted adj. unintelligent.

nix [niks] n. (sl.) nothing.

no [nou] adj., adv., & particle. I. adj. 1. not one; not any: She had no umbrella. The poor boy had no money for books. No words can describe the scene. There was no end to our troubles, they were endless. 2. Note that no precedes numerals and other: No one man could have done it, no man could have done it by himself. No two men think alike. No other man could do the work. 3. implying the opposite of the following word: He's no friend of mine. The task is no easy one. This night-club is no place for a young and innocent girl. Miss Green is no beauty, is not at all beautiful. 4. (in the pattern: there × to be × no × gerund): There's no saying (it is impossible to say) what he'll be doing next. There's no denying (we cannot deny) that . . . 5. (in elliptical constructions): No smoking (= smoking is not allowed). No surrender! It's raining hard and no mistake (and there can be no doubt about it). 6. (phrases) no one, pron. = *nobody. in no time, very soon, very quickly. no wonder (that), it is not surprising (that). no good (use), useless: It's no good crying over spilt milk. no end of, (colloq.) a large number or quantity of; very great: He spends no end of money on clothes. We had no end of a good time, a very enjoyable time. no ball, unlawfully delivered ball in cricket. no man's land, (in war) ground between the fronts of two opposing armies. by no means, see ^{3}means, 3. II. adv. 1. (used with comparatives): We went no farther than (only as far as) the bridge. I hope you're feeling no worse this morning. I have no more money. 2. (phrases) no more . . . than, see more, II. 4. no such, see such, I, 1. 3. whether or no. = whether or not: Whether or no you like it, you've got to do it. III. particle. 1. (opposite of 'Yes'): Is it Monday today? No, it isn't. Isn't it Monday today? No, it isn't. Aren't you busy? No, I'm not. 2. (used with not or nor to emphasize a negative): I've not found better hotels anywhere; no, not in Switzerland. One man couldn't lift it; no, nor half a dozen. 3. (as a noun substitute): The noes have it, those voting 'no' are in the majority.

no., No. ['nʌmbə*] n. (pl. nos., Nos.) number: No. 10; Nos. 5, 6, 7–10.

^{1}nob [nɔb] n. (sl.) head.

^{2}nob [nɔb] n. (sl.) member of the upper classes; person of high rank.

nob ble ['nɔbl] v.t. (sl.) (VP 1) 1. tamper with (a race-horse) to lessen its chance of winning. 2. obtain dishonestly.

no bil i ty [nou'biliti] n. [U] 1. quality of being noble; noble character, mind, birth, rank. 2. the nobles as a class: a member of the ~; marry into the ~.

^{1}no ble ['noubl] adj. 1. having, showing, high character and qualities: a ~ leader; ~ sentiments; a ~ mind. Hence, ~-minded ['noubl'maindid] adj. ~-mindedness n. 2. of high rank, title, or birth: a man of ~ rank (birth). 3. splendid; that excites admiration: a building planned on a ~ scale; a ~ horse; ~ metals (e.g. gold, silver, platinum, that do not easily tarnish in air or water). no bly adv. in a ~ manner; splendidly.

^{2}no ble ['noubl] n. 1. person of noble birth. ~man ['noublmən] n. (Gt. Brit.) peer; person of parallel rank in other countries. 2. obsolete English coin.

no blesse [nou'bles] n. (F.) class of nobles: ~ oblige [obliːʒ], (prov.) privilege entails responsibility.

no bod y ['noubədi] pron. 1. not anybody; no person: We saw ~ we knew. He said he would marry me or ~. N~ could find their luggage (colloq. for his or her luggage). N~ else (no other person) offered to help. 2. (used in the sing.

with the indef. art., and in the pl.) unimportant person: Only a few nobodies attended the meeting. Don't marry a ~ like James.

noc tur nal [nɔk'təːnl] adj. of, in, or done, active, or happening in, the night: a man of ~ habits; ~ birds (e.g. owls).

noc turne ['nɔktəːn] n. [C] 1. (art) night-scene. 2. soft, dreamy piece of music.

nod [nɔd] v.i. & t. (-dd-) 1. (VP 21, 23, 25) bow (the head) slightly and quickly as a sign of agreement or as a familiar greeting: He nodded to me as he passed. He nodded to show that he understood. have a nodding acquaintance with, have some, but not much, knowledge of (a subject) or a slight acquaintance with (a person). 2. (VP 21) let the head fall forward when sleepy or falling asleep; make a mistake as if asleep or half asleep: She sat nodding by the fire. The teacher caught one of her pupils nodding, falling asleep, or so sleepy as to make mistakes. Homer sometimes nods, (prov.) even the greatest may make a small mistake. 3. (VP 21) move up and down (e.g. as flowers on their stalks in a breeze). 4. (VP 1, 18, 19) indicate by nodding: He nodded approval. He nodded me a welcome (nodded a welcome to Mary). n. nodding of the head: He gave me a nod as he passed.

nod dle ['nɔdl] n. (colloq.) head.

node [noud] n. [C] point on the stem of a plant where a leaf is joined to it.

nod ule ['nɔdjuːl] n. small rounded lump; small knob or swelling. nod u lar ['nɔdjulə*], nod u lat ed ['nɔdjuleitid] adjj. having ~s.

No el ['nouel, nou'el] n. Christmas.

nog gin ['nɔgin] n. small measure, usu. ¼ pint, of liquor.

no how ['nouhau] adv. (colloq.) 1. in no way; not at all. 2. out of order; out of sorts: feel (look) ~.

noise [nɔiz] n. [C & U] loud and unpleasant sound, esp. when confused and undesired: Don't make so much ~ (such a loud ~)! What's that ~? What are those strange ~s? It made a ~ like a train. a big ~, (sl.) important person. make a ~ (about sth.), talk or complain in order to get attention. make a ~ in the world, become famous, be much talked about. v.t. (VP 10, esp. ~ abroad) make public: It was ~d abroad that he had been arrested. ~less *adj. making little or no ~: with ~less footsteps; a ~less typewriter. ~less ly *adv. ~less ness *n.

noi some ['nɔisəm] adj. offensive; (esp. of smell) disgusting.

nois y ['nɔizi] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. making much noise: ~ children. 2. full of noise: a ~ classroom. nois i ly *adv. nois i ness *n.

no mad ['nɔməd, 'noumæd] n. member of a tribe that wanders from pla place, with no fixed home. ~ic [
'mædik] adj. of ~s: a ~ic society.

nom de plume ['nɔːmdə'pluːm, F.
plym] (pl. noms de plume) n. borr or invented name used by a w instead of his real name.

no men cla ture [nou'menklətʃə*, ' mən,kleitʃə*] n. [C] system of nam botanical ~; the ~ of chemistry.

nom i nal ['nɔminl] adj. 1. exis etc., in name or word only, not in the ~ ruler of the country; the ~ val the shares. 2. inconsiderable: a ~ a ~ rent, one very much below the a value of the property. ~ly *adv.

nom i nate ['nɔmineit] v.t. (VP 1, 8
1. put forward for election to a posit
~ a man for the Presidency; ~ M for Mayor. 2. appoint to office: a mittee of five ~d members and elected members. nom i nee [,nɔm
n. person who is ~d for an offic appointment.

nom i na tion [,nɔmi'neiʃən] n. 1.
nominating; [C] instance of this:
many ~s have there been (how m persons have been nominated) so
2. [U] right of nominating sb. fo office or position.

nom i na tive ['nɔminətiv] adj. & n
the) form of a n. or adj. when it i grammatical subject: ~ ending (ca non [nɔn] Lat. adv. not: non com mentis ['nɔn 'kɔmpɔs 'mentis], men unbalanced; not mentally fit to con business, etc. non sequitur [ 'sekwitə*] n. inference that does follow from the facts as given; p doxical result.

non- [nɔn-] prefix who (which) is does not, etc.: non-a'lignmen principle or practice of not joining e of the two large groups of world pow 'non-'combatant n. person (esp. in armed forces, e.g. a surgeon or chap who does not take part in the figh 'non-com'missioned adj. (esp. of a officers such as sergeants and corpo not holding commissions (see def.
'non-com'mittal adj. not commit oneself to a definite course or to e side (in a dispute, etc.): give a non-mittal answer. 'non-com'plianc refusal to comply (with an order,
'non-con'ductor n. substance that not conduct heat or electric cur 'noncon'formist n. person, esp. a testant, who does not conform to ritual, etc., of an established Ch (in England) member of a sect that separated from the Church of Eng 'noncon'formity n. (beliefs and tices of) nonconformists as a failure to conform. 'non-con'tent
adj. not likely to cause conten
'non-de'livery n. failure to d

(goods). '*non-es'sential adj. that is not essential. 'non-ˌinter'ference, '*non-ˌinter'vention nn. principle or practice, esp. in international affairs, of keeping out of other people's disputes. '*non-'member n. person who is not a member (of a club, etc.). '*non-'membership n. '*non-ob'servance n. failure to observe (a rule, etc.). '*non-'payment n. failure or neglect to pay (a debt, etc.). '*non-'resident adj. who does not reside in: a non-resident priest (not living where he performs his duties). '*non-'stop adj. & adv. without a stop: a non-stop train from London to Brighton; fly non-stop from New York to Paris. '*non-'union adj. not belonging to a trade union; not observing trade union rules: non-union labour.

non age ['nounidʒ] n. [U] state of being under age, a minor (i.e. in Gt. Brit., under 21); immaturity.

non a ge nar ian [ˌnounədʒi'nɛəriən] adj. & n. (person who is) 90 or between 90 and 100 years old.

nonce [nɔns] n. (only in) for the ~, for the present time only. '*~-word n. word coined for one occasion.

non cha lant ['nɔnʃələnt] adj. not having, not showing, interest or enthusiasm. ~ly adv. non cha lance n. [U] indifference; unconcern.

non de script ['nɔndiskript] n. & adj. (person or thing) not easily classed, not having a definite character.

none [nʌn] pron. & adv. I. *pron. 1. not any, not one: I wanted some string but there was ~ in the house. N~ of this money is mine. 'Is there any coal left?' 'No, ~ at all.' There are faults from which ~ of us (= not one of us, or not any of us) is (are) free. N~ of them has (have) come back yet. He is aware, ~ better than he (i.e. no one is better aware than he), that . . . ~ other than: The new arrival was ~ other than the President (emphatic for the President himself). ~ but, only: They chose none but the best. 2. (in constructions equal to an imperative): N~ of that! Stop that! N~ of your impudence! Don't be impudent! 3. (separated from its noun, in liter. or rhet. style): They looked down on the plain, but village there was ~. Sounds there were ~ (= There were no sounds) except the murmur of the bees. II. *adv. by no means; in no degree; not at all: I hope you're ~ the worse for that fall from your horse. I'm afraid I'm ~ the wiser for your explanation. The salary they pay me is ~ too high. There are ~ so deaf as those who won't (= refuse to) hear.

non en ti ty [nɔ'nentiti] n. [C] 1. unimportant person. 2. thing that does not really exist or that exists only in the imagination.

non pa reil ['nɔnpərel] adj. & n. unique or unrivalled (person or thing).

non plus ['nɔn'plʌs] v.t. (-ss-) (VP 1) surprise or puzzle (sb.) so much that he does not know what to do or say: I was completely ~sed when she said 'No' to my proposal of marriage.

non sense ['nɔnsəns] n. [U] meaningless words; foolish talk, ideas, behaviour: N~! I don't believe a word of it. I want no more of your ~. non sen si cal [nɔn'sensikəl] adj. not making sense: nonsensical remarks.

¹noo dle ['nu:dl] n. fool.

²noo dle ['nu:dl] n. (usu. pl.) mixture of flour and water or flour and eggs prepared in long, narrow strips, dried, and used in soups, etc.

nook [nuk] n. out-of-the-way place; inside corner: search every ~ and cranny.

noon [nu:n] n. midday; 12 o'clock in the middle of the day; at ~; the ~ gun. '~day, '*~tide nn. = ~.

A noose

noose [nu:s] n. loop of rope (with a running knot) that becomes tighter when the rope is pulled: the hangman's ~; put one's head in the ~, (fig.) allow oneself to be caught. v.t. catch with a ~; make a ~ on a cord, rope, etc.

nor [nɔ:*] conj. 1. (after neither or not) and not: I have neither time nor money for night-clubs. Not a flower nor even a blade of grass will grow in this desert. 2. and . . . not: He can't do it; nor can I, nor can you, nor can anybody. Nor was this all, and this was not all. Nor will I (and I will not) deny that . . .

nor'-, see north.

Nor dic ['nɔ:dik] n. & adj. (member) of the race or type marked by tall stature, blond hair, and blue eyes, esp. in Scandinavia and northern Britain.

Nor folk ['nɔ:fək] n. English county: ~ jacket, man's loose-fitting jacket with a waistband.

norm [nɔ:m] n. 1. standard; pattern; type (as representative of a group when judging other examples). 2. (in some industries, etc.) amount of work required or expected in a working day: set the workers a ~; fulfil one's ~.

nor mal ['nɔ:məl] adj. in agreement with what is representative, usual, or regular: the ~ temperature of the human body. ~ school, one for the training of teachers. n. (sing. only) usual state, level, etc.: above (below) ~. ~ly adv. ~i ty [nɔ:'mæliti], ~cy ['nɔ:məlsi] nn. [U] the state of being ~. ~ize v.t. make ~. ~i za tion [ˌnɔ:məlai'zeiʃən] n.

Nor man ['nɔ:mən] n. inhabitant or native of Normandy; descendant of the mixed Scandinavian and Frankish race established there in the 9th century. adj. of the ~s, esp. those who conquered England in the 11th century: the ~ Conquest; ~ architecture.

nor ma tive [ˈnɔːmətiv] adj. setting a standard: a ~, prescriptive grammar of the English language.

Norse [nɔːs] n. the Norwegian language. adj. of Norway.

north [nɔːθ] n. 1. one of the four cardinal points of the compass, lying to the left of a person facing the sunrise; part of any country lying farther in this direction than other parts: the ~ of England; cold winds from the ~. 2. (attrib.) situated in, living in, pertaining to, coming from, the ~: the N~ Star, the pole-star; the ~ pole; N~ Britain, Scotland; N~ Wales; a ~ wind; a ~ light, from the ~, as usu. desired by artists in studios; the N~ Country, ~ part of England or Great Britain; a N~ countryman, a native of the ~ of England. adv. to or towards the ~: sailing ~. ~-ˈeast, ~-ˈwest (abbr. NE., NW.) nn., adjj., advv. (regions) midway between ~ and east, ~ and west. ˈ~-~-ˈeast, ˈ~-~-ˈwest (abbr. NNE., NNW.) nn., adjj., advv. (regions) midway between ~ and ~-east, ~-west. ~-ˈeaster n. strong wind, storm, or gale, from the ~-east. ~-ˈeasterly adj. (of wind) blowing from the ~-east; (of direction) towards the ~-east. ~-ˈwester n. strong wind from the ~-west. ~-ˈwesterly adj. (of wind) from the ~-west; (of direction) towards the ~-west. ~-ˈeastern adj. of, from, situated in, the ~-east. ~-ˈwestern adj. of, from, situated in the ~-west. N~man [ˈnɔːθmən] n. Norseman or Viking; native of Scandinavia in olden times. ~ward(s) [ˈnɔːθwəd(z)] adv. towards the ~.

north er ly [ˈnɔːðəli] adj. & adv. (of winds) from the north; towards the north; in or to the north.

north ern [ˈnɔːðən] adj. in or of the north: the ~ hemisphere; the ~ lights, streamers and bands of light appearing in the ~ sky; the aurora borealis. ~er n. person born in or living in the north, esp. in or from one of the ~ states of the U.S.A. ~most adj. lying farthest north.

Nor we gian [nɔːˈwiːdʒən] adj. & n. (native, language) of Norway.

nose [nouz] n. 1. part of the face above the mouth, through which breath passes, and serving as the organ of smell: hit a man on the ~ (note def. cut off one's ~ to spite one's f damage one's own interests in a bad temper. follow one's ~, go st forward; be guided by instinct. kee person's ~ to the grindstone, m him work hard without rest. lead by the ~, see ²*lead*, def. 2. pay thro the ~, pay an excessive price. (snap) sb.'s ~ off, answer him sha and angrily. count (tell) ~s, the number of persons (esp. support when voting to decide sth.). p (push, thrust) one's ~ into (sb. e business), intrude; ask questions w out being asked to do so. turn one' up at, show disdain for. as plain the ~ on one's face, obvious; seen. (right) under one's very (a) directly in front of one. (b) in presence, and regardless of one's approval. put sb.'s ~ out of jo upset or spoil his plans; take his p in another person's affections or fav 2. sense of smell: a dog with a good an old man with a ~ for scandal. 3. like a ~ in shape or position, e.g. open end of a pipe, bellows, or retort; most forward part of the fuselage aircraft. (Hence, ˈ*~-wheel*, the land wheel under this part.) 4. (compou ˈ~bag n. bag for food (oats, etc.) faste on a horse's head. ˈ~dive n. sharp tical descent made by an aircraft. (of an aircraft) come down steeply w the ~ pointing to earth ˈ~-flute musical instrument blown with the ~ used in some Asian countries. ˈ~ga bunch of cut (esp. sweet-scented) flow ˈ~ring n. ring fixed in the ~ of a b etc., for leading it. v.t. & i. 1. (VP go forward carefully, push (one's wa The ship ~d its way slowly through the 2. (VP 10) discover by smelling: The ~d out a rat. That man will ~ ou scandal anywhere. 3. (VP 23, 24) sn (about, for); (fig.) pry or search (for): a who is always nosing into other peop affairs. -nosed (in compounds) hav the kind of ~ indicated: red-~d; long- nos ey, nos y [ˈnouzi] adj. & n. (- -iest) (sl.) inquisitive (person).

nos tal gia [nɔsˈtældʒiə] n. [U] ho sickness; wistful longing for sth. has known in the past. nos tal [nɔsˈtældʒik] adj. of, feeling or causi ~. nos tal gi cal ly adv.

nos tril [ˈnɔstril] n. either of the external openings into the nose.

nos trum [ˈnɔstrəm] n. [C] medicine, prepared by the person who reco mends it; quack remedy; scheme political or social reform (called a ~ its opponents).

not [nɔt] adv. 1. used to make a fi verb negative; in modern English with the 24 anom. finites listed on p.

often contracted to n't, as in hasn't, needn't. 2. used with non-finite verbs: He warned me not to be late. You were wrong in not making a protest. 3. used after certain verbs (esp. think, suppose, believe, expect, fear, fancy, trust, hope, seem, appear, and the phrase be afraid) equivalent to a that-clause: 'Can you come next week?'—'I'm afraid not' (i.e. I'm afraid that I cannot come). 'Will it rain this afternoon?'—'I hope not.' 4. used elliptically, in phrases: A: 'Thank you very much.'—B: 'Not at all' (i.e. There is no need to thank me). A: 'Are you tired?'—B: 'Not at all' (i.e. not in the least tired). not that, it is not suggested that: If he ever said so—not that I ever heard him say so—he told a lie. not but what, nevertheless; although: I can't do it; not but what a younger man might be able to do it. as likely as not, probably: He'll be at home now, as likely as not. as soon as not, see soon, def. 5. 5. in understatements: not a few (= many); not seldom (= often); not without reason (= with good reason); not once or twice (=often); not half, (sl.) exceedingly; in the not-so-distant (=recent) past.

no ta be ne [ˈnoutəˈbiːni] v. imper. (abbrev. N.B.) observe carefully.

no ta bil i ty [ˌnoutəˈbiliti] n. 1. [U] the condition of being notable. 2. [C] important or prominent person.

no ta ble [ˈnoutəbl] adj. deserving to be noticed; remarkable: ~ events (speakers, artists). n. eminent person. no ta bly adv.

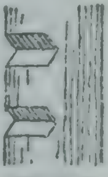
no ta ry [ˈnoutəri] n. (often public ~) official with authority to perform certain kinds of legal transactions, esp. to record that he has witnessed the signing of legal documents.

no ta tion [nouˈteiʃən] n. 1. [C] system of signs or symbols representing numbers, amounts, musical notes, etc. 2. [U] representing of numbers, etc., by such signs or symbols.

notch [nɔtʃ] n. V-shaped cut (in or on sth.); (U.S.A.) narrow pass through mountains; defile. v.t. (VP 1) make or cut a ~ or ~es in or on (e.g. a stick, as a way of keeping count).



Notches

note [nout] n. 1. short record (of facts, etc.) made to help the memory: He spoke for an hour without a ~. ˈ*~book n. book in which to write ~s. 2. short letter: a ~ of thanks; an exchange of ~s between two governments. ˈ*~-ˌpaper n. [U] paper for (esp. private) correspondence. 3. short comment on or explanation of a word or passage in a book, etc.: a new edition of 'Hamlet', with copious ~s. (Cf. footnote.) 4. observation (not necessarily written): He was comparing ~s with a friend, exchanging views, comparing experiences, etc. 5. written or printed promise to pay money: bank-~s; a £5 ~; a promissory ~. 6. single sound of a certain pitch and duration: the blackbird's merry ~; sign  used to represent such a sound in manuscript or printed music; any one of the keys of a piano, organ, etc., moved with the fingers. strike the right ~, (fig.) speak in such a way that one wins the approval or sympathy of one's listeners. strike (sound) a false ~, (fig.) do or say sth. that causes one to lose sympathy or approval. 7. quality (esp. of voice) indicating the nature of sth. (usu. sing. with the indef. art.): There was a ~ of self-satisfaction in his speech. 8. sign or mark used in writing and printing: a ~ of exclamation (!) or interrogation (?). 9. [U] distinction; importance: a family of ~. 10. [U] notice; attention: worthy of ~. Take ~ of what he says, pay attention to it. ~wor thy [ˈnoutˌwəːði] adj. deserving to be noted; remarkable.

^{2}note [nout] v.t. 1. (VP 1, 11, 13, 15) notice; pay attention to: Please ~ my words. N~ how to do it (how I did it). She ~d that his hands were dirty. 2. (VP 1, 10 with down) make a note of; write down in order to remember: The policeman ~d down every word I said. not ed [ˈnoutid] adj. celebrated (for, as): a town ~d for its pottery (~d as a health resort).

noth ing [ˈnʌθiŋ] n. & adv. I. n. 1. (with adj., inf., etc., following) not anything: There's ~ interesting in the newspaper. He's had ~ to eat yet. N~ (that) I could say had any influence on her. N~ ever pleases her. He has ~ in him, has no good qualities, etc. N~ doing! (colloq. expression used to indicate refusal of a request, the failure of an attempt, etc.). He's five foot ~, exactly five foot tall. There's little or ~ wrong with him, very little wrong. There's ~ like leather (~ is so good as leather) for shoes. 2. (phrases) for ~, (a) free; without payment. (b) without reward or result; to no purpose: It was not for ~ that he spent three years studying the subject. make ~ of, be unable to understand. think ~ of, consider as ordinary, as sth. usual or unremarkable: He thinks ~ of a twenty-mile walk (of asking me to lend him £50). come to ~, fail; be without result. say ~ of, not mention: He had his wife and seven children with him in the car, to say ~ of two dogs, a cat, and a parrot. have ~ to do with, (a) avoid; have no dealings with: I advise you to have ~ to do with that man. (b) not be the business or concern of: This has ~ to do with you. go for ~, be without reward, result, value: Six months' hard work all gone for ~! be ~ to, (a) be a matter of indifference to: no tice [ˈnoutis] n. 1. [C] (written or printed) news of sth. about to happen or sth. that has happened: put up a ~; ~s of births, deaths, and marriages in the newspapers; church ~s (of church activities, etc., often put up on a church door). ˈ~-*board n. one provided for ~s to be affixed to. 2. [U] warning, intimation (of what will happen): do sth. at short ~, with little warning, little time for preparation, etc.; give a servant a month's ~, tell him that he must leave one's employment at the end of one month; (of a tenant) receive two months' ~ to quit, to vacate a house, etc.; give one's employer ~ that one intends to leave. The cook left without ~, without giving any warning. 3. [U] attention: bring sth. to a person's ~, call his attention to it. Take no ~ of what they say, ignore it. The patient is sitting up and taking ~, is showing signs of a good recovery from illness. It has come to my ~ that . . ., my attention has been called to the fact that . . . Their insults should be beneath your ~, you should ignore them. 4. [C] short particulars of a new book, play, etc., in a periodical. v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 5, 6, 11, 13, 15, 21) take ~ (of); observe: I didn't ~ you. I ~d that he left early. I wasn't noticing. Did you ~ him pause? Did you ~ his hand shaking? He was too proud to ~ me. 2. (VP 1) say or write sth. about (a book, play, etc.). ~a ble [ˈnoutisəbl] adj. easily seen or ~d. ~a bly *adv.

She's ~ to him, he is indifferent to, uninterested in, her. (b) be as ~ if compared: My losses are ~ to yours. II. *adv. not at all; in no way: The house is ~ near as large as I expected. His new book is ~ like as good as his earlier books. ~ness *n. [U] being ~; the state of non-existence: pass into ~ness.

no ti fi a ble [ˈnoutifaiəbl] adj. that must be notified (esp. of certain diseases that must be notified to public health authorities).

no ti fy [ˈnoutifai] v.t. (VP 1, 12, 18) give notice of; report: ~ the police of a loss; ~ a loss to the police; ~ a birth; ~ the authorities that . . . no ti fi ca tion [ˌnoutifiˈkeiʃən] n. [U] ~ing; [C] instance of this (e.g. to the authorities, of births, deaths, cases of infectious disease).

no tion [ˈnouʃən] n. [C] 1. idea; opinion: I have no ~ of what he means. Your head is full of silly ~s. He has a ~ that I'm cheating him. 2. (pl.) (U.S.A.) small miscellaneous goods. (Cf. novelty, def. 3.) ~al *adj. 1. (of knowledge, etc.) speculative; not based on experiment or demonstration. 2. nominal; token.

no tor i ous [nouˈtɔːriəs] adj. widely known (esp. for sth. bad): a ~ criminal; ~ for his goings-on; ~ as a rake. ~ly
adv. no to ri e ty [ˌnoutəˈraiəti] [U] state of being ~.

not with stand ing [ˌnotwiθ prep. in spite of. adv. neverthele the same. conj. although.

nou gat [ˈnuːgɑː] n. sort of hard sw made of sugar, nuts, etc.

nought [nɔːt] n. nothing: come to ~,
ruined; fail; bring to ~, ruin; ba set sb. at ~, defy; ~s and crosses, g played by writing ~s (zero signs) crosses on lines of vertical and h zontal squares; point ~ one (i.e. ·01)

noun [naun] n. (gram.) word by whic person, thing, quality, etc., is named nour ish [ˈnʌriʃ] v.t. (VP 1) 1. keep ( alive and well with food; make well strong; improve (land) with man etc.: ~ing food; ~ the soil. 2. h or encourage (feelings): ~ feeling hatred; ~ hope in one's heart. ~men [U] food.

nous [naus] n. (Gk.) [U] common se gumption.

nou veau riche [ˈnuvouˈriːʃ] n. (F.) ( in pl. nouveaux riches, pronunciation changed) person who has recently come rich, esp. one who is ostentatiou

¹nov el [ˈnɔvəl] adj. strange; of a k not previously known: ~ ideas.

²nov el [ˈnɔvəl] n. story in prose, enough to fill one or more books, ab either imaginary or historical peo the ~s of Dickens. ~ette [ˌnɔvəˈlet short ~. ~ist [ˈnɔvəlist] n. writer of nov el ty [ˈnɔvəlti] n. 1. [U] newn strangeness; quality of being no

The ~ of his surroundings soon wore he became accustomed to them. 2.
previously unknown thing, idea, e
sth. strange or unfamiliar. 3. (pl.) cellaneous manufactured goods of cost (e.g. toys, small ornaments).

No vem ber [nouˈvembə*] n.
eleventh month of the year, with th days.

nov ice [ˈnɔvis] n. person who is learning and who is without experie
esp. a person who is to become a mon a nun. no vi ci ate, no vi ti ate [n ˈviʃiit] nn. novice; period of being a now [nau] adv. & conj. I. *adv. 1.

the present time; in the present circ stances: Where are you now living living now)? Now is the best time to Devon. I cannot now (i.e. in the circ stances, after what has happened, ever believe you again. 2. used aft prep.: He will be in London by Up to (till, until) now we have been
From now onwards I shall be stri
3. (phrases) (every) now and th (every) now and again, occasiona from time to time: We go to the op now and then. now . . . now, now then, at one time, at another ti What mixed weather, now fine.

very! 4. at once; immediately: Do now. Now or never! just now, see st (def. 6). 5. used without reference time, to indicate the mood of the aker, to explain, warn, comfort, etc.: w what happened was this (explana-y). Now stop quarrelling and listen me (entreaty or reproof). No non-se, now (warning). now then, used the beginning of a sentence, often as rotest or warning, or simply to call ention: Now then, what mischief are u up to? II. conj. as a consequence the fact (that): Now that you mention I do remember. Now (that) you're grown , you must stop this childish behaviour.

a days [ˈnauədeiz] adv. at the pres-t time (and often used in contrasts tween present day manners, customs, ., and those of past times): N~ ildren don't expect to have to amuse mselves.

where [ˈnouwɛə*, ˈnouhwɛə*] adv. t anywhere: The boy was ~ to be und. Such methods will get you ~, ll not produce results. £50 is ~ near ough, not nearly enough. be (come) ~, fail to win or get a place (in a mpetition).

wise [ˈnouwaiz] adv. not at all; in no ay.

ious [ˈnɔkʃəs] adj. harmful: ~ gases. ly adv. ~ness *n.

zle [ˈnɔzl] n. metal end of a hose bellows, through which a stream of quid or air is directed.

, see not.

ance [nju(:)ˈɑ̃:ns, (F.) nɥɑ̃:s] n. [C] very elicate difference in or of shade of eaning, opinion, colour, etc.

b [nʌb] n.* 1. small lump or knob (e.g. coal). 2. (colloq., fig.) gist or point (of story, affair).

bile [ˈnju:bail] adj. (of girls) marriage-ble; old enough to marry.

cle us [ˈnju:kliəs] n. (pl. nuclei [-iai]) entral part, round which other parts re grouped or round which other hings collect: (esp.) central part of an tom, consisting of protons and eutrons. nu cle ar [ˈnju:kliə*] adj. of ~, esp. of an atom: nuclear fission, isintegration of atoms; nuclear energy, btained by nuclear fission; a ~ power ation; ~-powered submarines; nuclear omb, hydrogen bomb; the nuclear terrent, possession of, threat to use, ydrogen bombs.

de [nju:d] adj. naked. n. [C] ~ human gure (esp. in art). nud ist [ˈnju:dist] n. erson who believes that exposure of e naked body to sun and air is good for e health: a nudist camp (colony), place here nudists practise their beliefs. ud ism n. the practice of going ~. ud i ty [ˈnju:diti] n. nakedness.

dge [nʌdʒ] v.t. (VP 1) touch or push slightly with the elbow in order to draw sb.'s attention privately. n. push given in this way.

nu ga to ry [ˈnju(:)gətəri] adj. trifling; worthless; not valid.

nug get [ˈnʌgit] n. lump of metal, esp. gold, as found in the earth.

nui sance [ˈnju:sns] n. [C] thing, person, act, etc., that causes trouble or offence: The mosquitoes are a ~. What a ~ that child is! Commit no ~, (as a public notice) (a) Do not urinate here. (b) Do not leave rubbish or litter here.

null [nʌl] adj. of no effect or force. ~ and void, (legal) without legal effect; invalid. nul li fy [ˈnʌlifai] v.t. (VP 1) make ~ and void. nul li fi ca tion [ˌnʌlifiˈkeiʃən] n. nul li ty [ˈnʌliti] n. being ~; invalidity: nullity of marriage; a nullity suit, one that asks for nullity of marriage.

nul lah [ˈnʌlə] n. (in India, etc.) water-course; ravine.

numb [nʌm] adj. without ability to feel or move: fingers ~ with cold. v.t. (VP 1) make ~; deaden: ~ed with grief. ~ly adv. ~ness *n.

¹num ber [ˈnʌmbə*] n.* 1. 3, 13, 33, and 103 are ~s. 2. quantity or amount: a large ~ of people. N~s of people (very many people) came from all parts of the country to see the exhibition. A ~ of books (= some books) is missing from the library. in ~: They were fifteen in ~, there were fifteen of them. without ~, too many to be counted. times without ~, very often; so often that counting is impossible. to the ~ of, amounting to. 3. (usu. shortened to No., for numero, meaning in ~, with pl. Nos., before a figure): Room No. 145 (e.g. in a hotel); living at No. 4 (house number four); No. 10 (Downing Street), official residence of the British Prime Minister. look after (take care of) ~ one, (colloq.) look after oneself and one's own interests. 4. one issue of a periodical, esp. for one day, week, etc.: the current ~ of 'Punch'; back ~s of 'Nature'. That man is a back ~, (fig.) is out of date or old-fashioned. 5. part of an opera indicated by a ~; dance, song, etc., for the stage. 6. (gram.) class of word-forms including all singular, all plural, all dual, etc., words: Greek has three ~s. The noun 'oxen' is plural in ~. 7. (pl.) numerical superiority: The enemy won by ~s (by force of ~s). 8. (pl.) verses; metre: in mournful ~s. 9. (pl.) arithmetic: He's not good at ~s. 10. N~s, the fourth book of the Old Testament. ~less adj. without ~; more than can be counted: as ~less as the stars.

²num ber [ˈnʌmbə*] v.t. (VP 1, 18) 1. give a number to: Let's ~ them from 1 to 10. 2. amount to; add up to: We ~ed 20 in all. 3. include (among): ~ sb.

among one's friends. 4. (passive) be restricted in ~: His days are ~ed, he has not long to live.

nu mer a ble ['nju:mərəbl] adj. that can be numbered.

nu mer al ['nju:mərəl] adj. & n. (word, figure, or sign) standing for a number; of number: Arabic ~s (1, 2, 3, etc.); Roman ~s (I, II, III, IV, V, etc.).

nu mer a tion [ˌnju:mə'reiʃən] n. method or process of numbering or calculating; expression in words of numbers written in figures.

nu mer a tor ['nju:məreitə*] n. number above the line in a vulgar fraction (e.g. 3 in $\frac{3}{4}$). (Cf. denominator.) nu mer i cal [nju(:)'merikəl] adj. of, in, denoting, numbers: ~ symbols. ~ly adv.: The enemy were ~ly superior.

nu mer ous ['nju:mərəs] adj. great in number; very many: her ~ friends.

nu mis mat ics [ˌnju:miz'mætiks] n. (sing. v.) the study of coins or coinage. nu mis mat ist [ˌnju(:)'mizmətist] n. expert in ~; collector of coins.

num skull ['nʌmskʌl] n. stupid person nun [nʌn] n. woman who, after taking religious vows, lives, with other women, in a convent, a secluded life in the service of God. nun ner y ['nʌnəri] n. house of nuns; convent. (Cf. monk, monastery.) nun ci o ['nʌnʃiou] n. (pl. ~s) ambassador or representative of the Pope in a foreign country.

nup tial ['nʌpʃəl] adj. of marriage or weddings: ~ happiness; the ~ day. nuptials n. pl. wedding.

^{1}nurse [nə:s] n. 1. woman or girl ('~maid) employed to look after babies and small children. 2. (also 'wet-~) woman employed to suckle the infant of another 3. [U] nursing or being nursed: put a child to ~. 4. person, usu. trained, who cares for people who are ill or injured: hospital ~s; Red Cross ~s; male ~s (e.g. in a mental home for men). 5. country, college, institution, etc., which protects or encourages a certain quality: England, the ~ of liberty.

^{2}nurse [nə:s] v.t. (VP 1) 1. take charge of and look after (persons who are ill, injured, etc.) (but not used as in sense 1 of the noun): (gerund) the nursing profession; take up nursing as a career. Careful nursing will be needed. 'nursing-home n. building, usu. privately owned and smaller than a hospital, where persons who are ill may be cared for, operated on, etc. 2. feed (a baby) at the breast; suckle. 3. hold (a baby, a child, a pet dog) on the knees; clasp caressingly. 4. give special care to: ~ young plants (cf. nursery). ~ a cold, stay at home, keep warm, in order to cure it. 5. have in the mind, think about a great deal: ~ feelings of revenge.

nurs ery ['nə:sri] n. 1. room (in a house, passenger liner, etc.) for the specia of small children. day ~, (a) roo a wealthy home) where small chi play, have their meals, etc. (b) bu where mothers who go out to wo factories, offices, etc.) may leave b and young children in charge of a n ~ rhymes, poems or songs (usu. t tional) for young children. ~ sl (skiing) slopes suitable for learne place where young plants and tre raised (for transplanting later, and for sale). '~-man n. man who owns nurs(e) ling ['nə:sliŋ] n. infant, es relation to its nurse.

nur ture ['nə:tʃə*] n. [U] care, trai education (of children). v.t. bring give ~ to: a delicately ~d girl.

nut [nʌt] n. 1. fruit consisting of a shell enclosing a kernel that ca eaten (see the illustrations at wal a hard nut to crack, a problem dif
to solve. (can't do sth.) for nuts, can't do it even tolerably well. ' brown adj. (e.g. of ale) coloured like hazel-nuts. 'nut-'butter n. butter stitute made from nuts. 'nut-ˌcrac
n. pl. device, as shown here, for cracking nuts open.
'nutshell n hard outside covering of a nut: in a nutshell, (fig.) in the fewest possible words; in the smallest possible space. 2. small piece of metal for screwing on to the end of a bolt.
3. (sl.) head (of a human being). off one's nut, (sl.) insane. be nuts, (sl.) be mad. 4. (pl.) small lumps of coal. 5. (out-of-date sl.) dandified young man. v.i.
go nutting, look for, gather nuts (e.g. hazel-nuts in the woods and hedges).

Nut-crac

A nut (d
and b

nut meg ['nʌtmeg] n. 1. [C] hard, small, round, sweet-smelling seed of an E.
Indian evergreen. 2. [U] this grated to powder, used as a flavour nu tria ['nju:triə] n. skin or fur of small S. American rodent called nu tri ent ['nju:triənt] adj. servin or providing nourishment.

nu tri ment ['nju:trimənt] n. [U] nou ing food.

nu tri tion [nju(:)'triʃən] n. [U] the cess of supplying and receiving nou ment; the science of food values care and ~ of children.

nu tri tious [nju(:)'triʃəs] adj. nou ing; having high value as food.

nu tri tive ['nju:tritiv] adj. servin food; of nutrition.

nut ty ['nʌti] adj. 1. tasting like 2. (sl.) mad; crazy. 3. containing,
up of, nuts (def. 4): ~ slack coal

zle ['nʌzl] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) press nose against: The horse ~d my ulder. 2. (VP 23, 24) rub or push h the nose: The horse ~d against my ulder (into my hands).

on ['nailən] n. [U] (proprietary name) synthetic fibre used for hosiery, rope, brushes, etc.: ~ stockings (blouses, etc.). ny lons n. pl. ~ stockings.

ny mph [nimf] n. 1. (in old Greek and Roman stories) one of the lesser goddesses, living in rivers, trees, hills, etc.; (liter.) beautiful young woman. 2. pupa; chrysalis.

O

o (ou) (pl. O's, o's [ouz]). the 15th ter of the alphabet; O-shaped sign mark; (in telephone numbers) 6033, x O, double three.'

oh [ou] int. cry of surprise, fear, pain, dden pleasure, etc.

ə] abbreviation of of, as in o'clock, n-o'-war.

[ouf] n. (pl. ~s [oufs] or, rarely, oaves uvz]) awkward lout. oaf ish adj. ughly behaved; loutish.

[ouk] n. [C] sorts of large tree with ugh, hard wood, common in many rts of the world (see the illustr. at orn); [U] the wood of this tree: a rest of oak(s) (or 'oak-trees); an oak door; k panels. 'oak-ˌapple n. growth on oak leaf or stem caused by an sect. the Oaks, name of a classic rse-race, run at Epsom, near London. oak en ['oukən] adj. made of k.

kum ['oukem] n. [U] loose fibre or reads obtained by picking old ropes, sed for filling up spaces between the oards of a ship.

r [ɔ:, ɔə] n. pole with a flat blade, ulled by hand against a pin, rowlock, or ther support on the side of a boat, in rder to propel the boat through the ater. (See the illustr. at rowlock; cf. ull and sweep.) pull a good oar, be a ood oarsman. put in one's oar, (colloq.) nterfere. rest on one's oars, stop workg for a time. 'oarsman, 'oarsˌwoman n. rower. Hence, 'oarsmanship n.

a sis [ou'eisis] n. (pl. -es [-i:z]) fertile lace, with water and trees, in a desert; ig.) experience, place, etc., which is leasant in the midst of what is dull, npleasant, etc.

st [oust] n. kiln for drying hops. '~-*ouse n. building containing an ~.

t [out] n. (usu. pl.) 1. (grain from) hardy ereal plant grown in cool climates as ood (oats for horses, oatmeal for human eings). sow one's wild oats, lead a ife of pleasure and gaiety while young efore settling down seriously. 'oatcake n. (esp. in Scotland and northern England) thin, unleavened cake made f oatmeal. 'oatmeal n. meal made from oats, used in porridge and oatcakes. 2. (sing. vb.) oatmeal porridge: Is Scotch ~s on the breakfast menu?

oath [ouθ] n. (pl. ~s [ouðz]) 1. solemn undertaking with God's help to do sth.; solemn declaration that sth. is true: take (make, swear) an ~; on (one's) ~, having taken an oath; an ~ of allegiance. 2. wrongful use of God's name or of sacred words to express strong feeling; swear-word; piece of profanity.

ob bli ga to [ˌɔbli'gɑ:tou] n. & adj. (music) (accompanying part) forming an integral part of the composition.

ob du rate ['ɔbdjurit] adj. stubborn. ~ly adv. ob du ra cy ['ɔbdjurəsi] n. [U].

o be dience [ə'bi:djəns] n. [U] being obedient: Soldiers act in ~ to the orders of their superior officers.

o be dient [ə'bi:djənt] adj. doing, willing to do, what one is told to do: ~ children. your ~ servant, formula used at the end of letters of an official or public nature. ~ly adv.

o bei sance [ou'beisəns] n. [C] deep bow (of respect or homage): do (pay) ~ to a ruler, show respectful homage or submission.

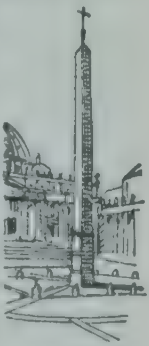
ob e lisk ['ɔbilisk] n. tall, pointed, four-sided stone pillar, set up as a monument or landmark.



An obelisk

o bese [ou'bi:s] adj. (of persons) very fat. o bes i ty [ou'bi:siti] n. [U] being ~.

o bey [ə'bei, ou-] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) do what one is told to do; carry out (a command): ~ an officer; ~ orders.

ob fus cate ['ɔbfʌskeit] v.t. (VP 1) darken or obscure (the mind); bewilder.

o bi ['oubi] n. (Japanese) broad sash (often ornamental) worn round the waist to keep the kimono in place.

o bit u a ry [ə'bitjuəri] n. printed notice of sb.'s death, often with a short account of his life; (attrib.) ~ notices (e.g. in a newspaper).

[1]ob ject ['ɔbdʒikt] n. 1. sth. that can be seen or touched; material thing: Tell me the names of the ~s in this room. ˈ~-ˌlesson, (a) one (to be) taught or learnt from an example, or from specimens, etc., placed before or shown to the learner. (b) practical illustration of some principle, often given or used as a warning. ˈ~-glass n. = objective (def. 2). 2. person or thing to which action or feeling or thought is directed; thing aimed at; end; purpose: an ~ of pity (admiration), sb. or sth. pitied (admired); with no ~ in life; work with the ~ of earning fame; fail (succeed) in one's ~; money (time, distance, etc.) no ~, (in advertisements, e.g. for jobs) the person answering may make his own terms about money (time, etc.). 3. person or thing of strange appearance, esp. if ridiculous, pitiful, or contemptible: What an ~ you look in that old hat! 4. (gram.) noun or noun equivalent (e.g. a clause) towards which the action of the verb is directed, or to which a preposition indicates some relation, as in 'He took the money' or 'He took what he wanted' or 'I gave him the money (indirect ~), or 'I gave the money to the treasurer' (prepositional ~).

^{2}ob ject [əbˈdʒekt] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 24) say that one is not in favour of sth.; be opposed (to); make a protest against: I ~ to all this noise (to being treated like a child). He stood up and ~ed in strong language. 2. (VP 11) give as a reason against: I ~ (against him) that he is too young for the position. ob jec tor n. person who ~s: conscientious ~or, person who pleads that his conscience will not permit him to do sth. (e.g. perform military service, be vaccinated).

ob jec tion [əbˈdʒekʃən] n. 1. [C & U] statement or feeling of dislike, disapproval, or opposition: He has a strong ~ to getting up early. He took ~ to what I said. O~s to the plan will be listened to sympathetically. 2. [C] that which is objected to; drawback; defect. ~a ble [əbˈdʒekʃənəbl] adj. likely to be objected to; unpleasant: an ~able smell; ~able remarks. ~a bly adv.

ob jec tive [əbˈdʒektiv, ɔb-] adj. 1. (in philosophy) having existence outside the mind; real (cf. subjective). 2. (of persons, writings, pictures) uninfluenced by thought or feeling; dealing with outward things, actual facts, etc., uninfluenced by personal feelings or opinions. 3. (gram.) of the object: the ~ case (in Latin and other inflected languages). n. 1. object aimed at; purpose; (esp. in military use) point to which armed forces are moving to capture it: All our ~s were won. 2. lens of a microscope nearest to the object being looked at. ~ly adv. in an ~ (def. 2) manner. ob jec tiv i ty [ˌɔbdʒekˈtiviti] n.

ob jur gate [ˈɔbdʒəːgeit] v.t. (V scold; rebuke. ob jur ga tion dʒəːˈgeiʃən] n. [U & C] scolding buke.

ob la tion [ouˈbleiʃən] n. [C] offering to God or a god.

ob li gate [ˈɔbligeit] v.t. (VP 3) bin person, esp. legally) to do sth.: passive) be ~d to help.

ob li ga tion [ˌɔbliˈgeiʃən] n. [C] pro duty, or condition that indicates action ought to be taken (e.g. the p of the law, duty, a sense of wh right): the ~s of good citizenshi conscience); be under an ~ to a f for his help; repay an ~ (e.g. by re ing hospitality that one has receiv

ob lig a to ry [əˈbligətəri] adj. th necessary, required, by law, rule custom: Is attendance at school ~ optional in that country? It is ~ theatre proprietors to take precau against fire.

o blige [əˈblaidʒ, ou-] v.t. 1. (V require (sb. to do sth.); bind (sb.
a promise, oath, etc.: The law parents to send their children to sc 2. (VP 3, esp. in passive) compel:
were ~d to sell their house in order to their debts. (Cf. had to.) 3. (VP 1, 18) do sth. for sb. as a favour o answer to a request: Please ~ m closing the door. Can you ~ me with lend or give me . . .? I'm much ~ you, I'm grateful for what you've d o blig ing adj. willing to help: obl neighbours. o blig ing ly adv.

ob lique [əˈbliːk, ou-] adj. slop slanting: an ~ angle, any angle th not a right angle (i.e. not 90°). ~ly

ob lit er ate [əˈblitəreit, ɔˈblit-] v.t.
1) rub or blot out; remove all sign destroy. ob liter a tion [əˌblitəˈre
n. [U].

ob liv i on [əˈbliviən] n. [U] stat being quite forgotten: sink (fall) int

ob liv i ous [əˈbliviəs] adj. unaware having no memory (of): ~ of surroundings (of what was taking pla ob long [ˈɔblɔŋ] n. & adj. (figure) ha four straight sides and angles of longer than it is wide.

ob lo quy [ˈɔbləkwi] n. [U] public sh or reproach; abuse.

ob nox ious [ɔbˈnɔkʃəs, əb-] adj. na
very disagreeable (to). ~ly adv. ~nes

o boe [ˈoubou] n. wood-wind instru of treble pitch.

ob ol [ˈɔbɔl, ˈɔbəl] n. silver coin use ancient Greece.

ob scene [ɔbˈsiːn] adj. (of words, thou books, pictures, etc.) morally disgus likely to corrupt (esp. by regar describing sex indecently). ~ly ob scen i ty [ɔbˈseniti] n. [U] bei ~ language, etc.; [C] instance of ob scure [əbˈskjuə*, ɔb-] adj. 1.

dden; not clearly seen or understood: ~ view (corner). Is the meaning still to you? 2. not well known: an ~ llage (poet). v.t. (VP 1) make ~: The oon was ~d by clouds. Mist ~d the ew. ~ly adv.

scu ri ty [əbˈsjuəriti, ɔb-] n. 1. [U] ate of being obscure: content to live ~. 2. [C] sth. that is obscure or indis- nct: a philosophical essay full of ob- urities.

se quies [ˈɔbsikwiz] n. pl. funeral remonies.

se qui ous [əbˈsi:kwiəs] adj. too eager obey or serve; showing excessive spect (to) (esp. from hope of reward or lvantage): ~ to the Manager. ~ly adv. ness n.

serv a ble [əbˈzə:vəbl] adj. that can seen or noticed; deserving to be served. ob serv a bly adv.

ser vance [əbˈzə:vəns] n. 1. [U] the eping or observing (def. 2) of a law, stom, festival, etc.: the Lord's Day ~ Society, (i.e. for seeing that proper spect is paid to Sunday); the ~ of the ueen's birthday. 2. [C] act performed part of a ceremony, or as a sign of spect or worship.

ser vant [əbˈzə:vənt] adj. 1. quick noticing things: an ~ boy. 2. careful observe (def. 2) laws, customs, etc.: of the rules. ~ly adv.

ser va tion [ˌɔbzə(:)ˈveiʃən] n. 1. [U] serving or being observed: keep sb. nder ~, watch him carefully (e.g. a spected criminal by the police; a spital patient by the medical staff); of natural phenomena; come under ~, e observed. ~ balloon, (mil.) captive alloon from which movements of the nemy may be observed. ~ car, (in a ilway train) one with wide windows rough which to watch the scenery, tc. ~ post, (mil.) post as near to the nemy's lines as possible, from which eports of the enemy's movements may e obtained. 2. [U] power of taking otice: a man of little ~. 3. [U] being bserved: escape ~. 4. [C] (usu. pl.) emark, statement (on what is observed): las he published his ~s on bird life in the ntarctic yet? 5. take an ~, take the ltitude of the sun or other heavenly ody in order to find latitude and ongitude of one's position.

ser va to ry [əbˈzə:vətri] n. building rom which natural phenomena (e.g. the un and the stars, volcanic activity, arine life) may be observed.

serve [əbˈzə:v] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 4, 6, 11, 13, 15, 16, 21) see and notice; atch carefully: ~ the behaviour of irds. The policeman ~d the man open he window (trying to force the lock of the oor). I have never ~d him do otherwise. le ~d that it had turned cloudy. He ~s keenly but says little. 2. (VP 1) pay attention to (rules, etc.); celebrate (festivals, birthdays, anniversaries, etc.): Do they ~ Christmas Day in that country? 3. (VP 1, 11) say by way of comment: He ~d that we should probably have rain. ob serv ing adj. quick to notice. ob serv ing ly adv.

ob serv er [əbˈzə:və*] n. 1. one who observes (def. 1): an ~ of nature. 2. one who observes (def. 2): an ~ of the Sabbath. 3. person who attends a conference, etc., to listen but who does not otherwise take part.

ob sess [əbˈses] v.t. (VP 1) (of a fear, a fixed or false idea) occupy the mind of; continually distress: ~ed by fear of unemployment. ob ses sion [əbˈseʃən] n. 1. [U] state of being ~ed. 2. [C] sth. that ~es; fixed idea that occupies one's mind.

ob sid i an [əbˈsidiən] n. dark volcanic rock like the glass of which some bottles are made.

ob so les cent [ˌɔbsəˈlesənt] adj. becoming out of date; passing out of use. ob so les cence n. [U] being ~.

ob so lete [ˈɔbsəli:t] adj. no longer used; out of date.

ob sta cle [ˈɔbstəkl] n. sth. in the way that stops progress or makes it difficult: ~s to world peace. ~ race, one in which ~s, natural or artificial (e.g. ditches, hedges), have to be crossed.

ob stet ric, ob stet ri cal [əbˈstetrik(əl)] adj. of obstetrics: the ~ ward (in a hospital). ob stet rics n. pl. branch of medicine and surgery connected with childbirth, its antecedents, and sequels. ob stet ri cian [ˌɔbsteˈtriʃən] n. expert in obstetrics.

ob sti nate [ˈɔbstinit] adj. 1. not easily giving way to argument or persuasion: ~ children; ~ in disposition. 2. not easily overcome: ~ resistance; an ~ disease. ~ly adv. ob sti na cy [ˈɔbstinəsi] n. [U] being ~; stubbornness.

ob strep er ous [əbˈstrepərəs] adj. unruly; noisily resisting control: ~ behaviour (children). ~ly adv. ~ness n.

ob struct [əbˈstrʌkt] v.t. (VP 1) 1. be, get, put, sth. in the way of; block up (a road, passage, etc.): The mountain roads were ~ed by falls of rock. Trees ~ed the view. 2. make (the development, etc., of sth.) difficult: ~ the progress of a Bill through the House of Commons. obstruc tion [əbˈstrʌkʃən] n. 1. [U] ~ing or being ~ed: The Opposition adopted a policy of ~ion. 2. [C] sth. that ~s: ~s on the road (e.g. trees blown down in a gale). ob struc tive [əbˈstrʌktiv] adj. causing, likely or intended to cause, ~ion: a policy ~ive to our plans. ~ive ly adv.

ob tain [əbˈtein] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 18, 19) get; secure for oneself; buy; have lent or granted to oneself: ~ what one wants; the novels which ~ed such a reputation for him (which ~ed him such a reputation). Where can I ~ the book? 2. (VP 21) (of rules, customs) be established or in use: The custom still ~s in some districts. ~a ble adj. that can be ~ed.

ob trude [əbˈtruːd] v.t. & i. (VP 18, 21) push (oneself, one's opinions, etc.) forward (upon sb.), esp. when unwanted. ob tru sive [əbˈtruːsiv] adj. inclined to push oneself forward. ob tru sive ly adv.

ob tuse [əbˈtjuːs] adj. 1. blunt. 2. (of an angle) between 90° and 180°. (See the diagram at angle.) 3. slow in understanding; stupid. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

ob verse [ˈɔbvəːs] n. side of a coin or medal having on it the head or principal design (cf. reverse); face of anything intended to be presented; counterpart.

ob vi ate [ˈɔbvieit] v.t. (VP 1) get rid of, clear away (dangers, difficulties, etc.).

ob vi ous [ˈɔbviəs] adj. easily seen or understood; clear; plain. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

o ca ri na [ˌɔkəˈriːnə] n. small, egg-shaped musical wind-instrument (with holes for the finger-tips) made of porcelain or metal.

oc ca sion [əˈkeiʒən] n. 1. [C] time at which a particular event takes place; right time (for sth.): on this (that) ~ . . .; on the present (last) ~ . . .; on one ~, once; on rare ~s. I have met Mr X on several ~s. This is not an ~ (a suitable time) for laughter. He has had few ~s to speak French. on ~, now and then; whenever the need arises. rise to the ~, show that one is equal to what needs to be done. take ~ (to do sth., say sth.), avail oneself of the opportunity. 2. [U] reason; cause; need: I've had no ~ to visit him recently. You have no ~ to be angry. 3. [C] immediate, subsidiary, or incidental cause of sth.: The real causes of the strike are not clear, but the ~ was the dismissal of two workmen. 4. (pl.; old use) affairs; business: going about their lawful ~s. v.t. (VP 1, 3, 18, 19) be the cause of: The boy's behaviour ~ed his parents much anxiety.

oc ca sion al [əˈkeiʒənl] adj. 1. happening, coming, seen, etc., from time to time, but not regularly: He pays me ~ visits. There will be ~ showers during the day. 2. used or meant for a special event, time, purpose, etc.: ~ verses (e.g. written to celebrate an anniversary). ~ly adv. now and then; at times.

Oc ci dent [ˈɔksidənt] n. (liter.) the ~, the West (Europe and America), contrasted with the Orient. Oc ci den tal [ˌɔksiˈdentl] adj. & n. (native) of the ~ or a country in the ~.

oc cult [ɔˈkʌlt] adj. 1. hidden; secret;

only for those with more than ord knowledge. 2. supernatural, mag ~ sciences (e.g. astrology).

oc cu pant [ˈɔkjupənt] n. person occupies a house, room, or pos person in actual possession of land oc cu pan cy [ˈɔkjupənsi] n. act, period, of occupying a house,

etc., by being in possession.

oc cu pa tion [ˌɔkjuˈpeiʃən] n. 1.
act of occupying (def. 1); taking holding possession of: the ~ of a by a family; an army of ~, one occupies conquered territory until is made. 2. [U] period during land, a building, etc., is occupie [U] employment: look for ~ sui one's abilities. 4. [C] business, etc.; that which occupies one's either permanently or as a hobby, useful ~s for long winter evenings.
adj. arising from, connected wi person's ~: ~al hazards, risks arise from a person's ~ (e.g. explo in coal-mines); ~al therapy, treatme illness, etc., by activity in creati productive employment.

oc cu pi er [ˈɔkjupaiə*] n. person in temporary) possession of land building.

oc cu py [ˈɔkjupai] v.t. (VP 1) 1. li be in possession of (a house, farm,
2. take and keep possession of (t countries, etc., in war): ~ the en capital. 3. take up, fill (space, attention, the mind): The dinner speeches occupied three hours.
anxieties ~ my mind. He is occupi translating (occupied with a transl of) a French novel. He occupied hi with solving some algebra problem hold, fill: Mr H occupies an impo position in the Ministry of Educatio oc cur [əˈkəː*] v.i. (-rr-) 1. (VP 21) place; happen: Don't let this ~ a When did the accident ~? 2. (V with to) come into (sb.'s mind): An has ~red to me. Did it ever ~ to that . . ., did you ever have the that . . . ? 3. (VP 21, 23) exist; be fo Misprints ~ on every page.

oc cur rence [əˈkʌrəns] n. 1. [C] pening; event: an everyday ~; an fortunate ~. 2. [U] fact or proce occurring: of frequent (rare) ~, hap ing frequently (rarely).

o cean [ˈouʃən] n. 1. the great bod water that surrounds the land:
voyage. 2. one of the main divisio
this: the Atlantic (Pacific, etc.) O~ ~ lanes, the routes regularly use steamers. 3. (colloq.) great numb quantity: ~s of time (money). o ce [ˌouʃiˈænik] adj. of, like, living in, th o ce lot [ˈousilɔt] n. leopard-like an of South and Central America.

o chre [ˈoukə*] n. [U] sorts of earth or making pigments varying from light ellow to brown; pale yellowish-brown olour clock [ə'klɔk] particle (= of the lock) used in asking and telling the ime. What ~ is it? At 5 ~.

c ta gon ['ɔktəgən] n. plane figure with ight sides and angles. oc tag o nal ɔk'tægənəl] adj. eight-sided.

c tane ['ɔktein] n. paraffin hydro-arbon: high ~, (of fuels used in internal-ombustion engines) having good anti-knock properties; ~ rating, measure of hese properties, esp. of petrol. (See knock, def. 3.)

c tave ['ɔktiv] n. 1. (music) the note hat is six whole tones above or below a given note; the interval of five whole tones and two semi-tones; note and ts ~ sounded together. 2. (poetry) first ight lines of a sonnet; stanza of eight ines.

c ta vo [ɔk'teivou] n. (abbr. 8vo, oct., pl. ~s) (size of) book or page produced by folding sheets of paper three times or into eight leaves.

c tet(te) [ɔk'tet] n. 1. (piece of music for) eight singers or players. 2. = octave (def. 2).

c to ber [ɔk'toubə*] n. the tenth month of the year, with 31 days.

c to ge na ri an [ˌɔktoudʒi'nεəriən] n. & adj. (person) of an age from 80 to 89.

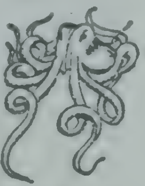
c to pus ['ɔktəpəs] n. (pl. ~es [-iz]) sea-animal with a soft body and eight arms (tentacles) provided with suckers.



An octopus

c to roon [ˌɔktə'ru:n] n. offspring of a quadroon and a white person; person with one-eighth Negro blood.

c troi ['ɔktrwɑ:] n. [C] duty levied (in some European countries) on goods brought into a town; place where, officials by whom, the levy is collected.

OC TU ['ɔktu:] n. officers' cadet training unit, a training establishment for non-commissioned soldiers wishing to get commissioned rank.

c u lar ['ɔkjulə*] adj. of, for, by, the eyes; of seeing: ~ proof (demonstration).

c u list ['ɔkjulist] n. specialist in diseases of the eye.

da lisque ['oudəlisk] n. Eastern female slave or concubine (e.g. in a seraglio in olden times).

dd [ɔd] adj. 1. (of numbers) not even; not exactly divisible by two: 1, 3, 5, and 7 are odd numbers. 2. of one of a pair when the other is missing: an odd shoe (boot, glove) 3. of one or more of a set or series when not with the rest: two odd volumes of an encyclopædia; an odd player, (in a game) an extra player above the number actually needed. odd man out, (a) person left when the others have been arranged in pairs. (b) (colloq.) person who stands aloof from, or cannot fit himself into, the society, community, etc., of which he is a member. 4. with a little extra: five hundred odd, a number greater than 500; thirty-odd years, between 30 and 40; twelve pounds odd, £12 and some shillings (and perhaps pence) extra. 5. not regular, habitual, or fixed; occasional: make a living by doing odd jobs; weed the garden at odd times (moments), at various and irregular times. 6 strange; peculiar: He's an odd (or odd-looking) old man. How odd! odd ly adv. in an odd manner: oddly enough, strange to say.

odd i ty ['ɔditi] n. 1. [U] quality of being odd (def. 6); strangeness: ~ of behaviour (dress). 2. [C] queer thing, act, event, etc.

odd ments ['ɔdmənts] n. pl. remnants; odd pieces. (See odds and ends below.)

odds [ɔdz] n. pl. 1. the chances in favour of or against sth. happening: The ~ are against us, we are unlikely to succeed. The ~ are in your favour, you are likely to succeed. The ~ are that . . ., it is probable that . . They were fighting against heavy ~. It makes no ~, makes no difference, will not influence the outcome. What's (colloq., with sing. vb.) the ~? What does it matter? give (receive) ~, give (receive) an equalizing allowance (e.g. a number of strokes in golf, when a player is known to be stronger or weaker than another). 2. things that are not even; inequalities: make ~ even. 3. (betting) difference in amount between the money staked on a chance and the money that will be paid if the chance is successful: ~ of ten to one. lay (give) ~ of (e.g. 3 to 1), offer this advantage. take ~ of (e.g. 3 to 1), take this advantage. 4. be at ~ (with), be quarrelling or disagreeing (with) (on a question). 5. ~ and ends, small articles, bits and pieces, of various sorts and usu. of small value.

ode [oud] n. poem, usu. in irregular metre and expressing noble feelings, often in celebration of some special event.

o di ous ['oudiəs] adj. hateful; repulsive. ~ly adv.

o dium ['oudjəm] n. [U] general or widespread hatred; strong feeling against sth.: behaviour that exposed him to ~.

o do rif er ous [ˌoudə'rifərəs] adj. fragrant.

o do rous ['oudərəs] adj. (chiefly poet.) fragrant.

o dour ['oudə*] n. (U.S.A. also odor) 1. [C] smell, pleasant or unpleasant. 2. [U] reputation; approval; favour: in good (bad) ~ with the authorities. ~less adj.

Od ys sey [ˈɔdisi] n. long, adventurous journey or series of adventures (from the voyage of Odysseus after the siege of Troy, in Homer's epic).

œ cu men i cal [ˌiːkju(ː)ˈmenikəl] adj. of or representing the whole Christian world or universal Church: an ~ council (e.g. as called by the Pope).

o'er [ˈouə*, ɔə*, ɔː*] adv. & prep. (in poetry) over.

œ soph a gus [iːˈsɔfəgəs] n. (pl. -gi [-gai or -dʒai], -guses [-gʌsiz]) food canal from the mouth to the stomach; gullet.

of [ɔv, əv] prep. 1. indicating separation in space or time: five miles south of Leeds; within a hundred yards of the station; within a year of his death; (U.S.A.) five minutes (a quarter) of two, i.e. five minutes (a quarter) to two. 2. indicating origin, authorship: a man of humble origin; of royal descent; a man who comes of good stock; the works of Shakespeare; the Iliad of Homer. 3. indicating cause: die of grief (hunger, etc.); do sth. of necessity (of one's own choice, one's own accord); sick (proud, ashamed, afraid, glad, tired, etc.) of sth. or sb.; taste (smell, etc.) of sth.; because of; for fear of. The explosion couldn't have happened of itself (i.e. without an external cause). 4. indicating relief, deprivation, riddance: cure sb. of a disease (a bad habit, etc.); rid a warehouse of rats; be (get) rid of sth. or sb.; rob sb. of his purse; relieve sb. of anxiety; clear oneself of an accusation; destitute of sense; trees bare of leaves; free of customs duty; independent of help; short of money; loss of power (appetite). 5. indicating material or substance: a table of wood; a house of stone; a dress of silk; made of steel and concrete; built of brick. 6. forming adj. phrases; descriptive genitive: goods of our own manufacture; tomatoes of my own growing (i.e. that I have grown myself); a girl of ten years (= a girl ten years old, a ten-year-old girl); a man of foreign appearance; a man of genius; a man of ability (= an able man); a woman of no importance (= an unimportant woman); the vice of drunkenness (the vice that is drunkenness); a coat of many colours (= a many-coloured coat); the city of Dublin; the Isle of Wight. 7. in the pattern 'noun¹ of noun²' = noun² that is noun¹: They live in a palace of a house (i.e. a house that is a palace, a palatial house). He has the devil of a temper (i.e. a devilish temper). Where's that fool of a servant (i.e. that foolish servant)? What a mountain of a wave (i.e. a mountainous wave)! She's a fine figure of a woman (i.e. a woman with a fine figure). Where's your scamp of a husband (i.e. your rascally husband)? 8. (objective genitive): a maker of pots (i.e. a man who makes pots); the love of study; the wr of a letter; in search of knowledge; patient of criticism; fruitful of re great eaters of fish (i.e. people who much fish); the fear of God (i.e.
by men towards God). 9. (subj genitive) the love of God (i.e. God's l for mankind: cf. 8, above, the fea God); the love of a mother (= a moth love, the love that a mother has for children; cf. his love of (i.e. for) mother). 10. indicating connex reference, or relation: the cause of accident; the result of the debate; a t of conversation; the first of June; manners of the present day; we of middle classes; the master of the ho the wall of the garden (= the gar wall); the leg of the table (= the ta leg); the opposite of what I inten Doctor of Medicine; Master of A think well of sb.; admitting (allowing no doubt; accused (suspected, convic of a crime; speaking (talking, dream of sth.; sure (certain, confident, fo guilty, innocent, etc.) of sth.; hard hearing (i.e. deaf); blind of (= in re of) one eye; at thirty years of age. W of (= about) the risk? Well, what it? 11. indicating partition, inclus measure: (a) a sheet of paper; a rol cloth; a pint of milk; a ton of coal acres of land; 2 yards of cloth; som that cake; one (a few, all) of us; a (a great deal, not much) of this stuff; more of that. The car won't hold the of us. (b) (after superlatives): He is most dangerous of enemies. You had the best of teachers (i.e. the best those teachers who were available).
(= out of): It surprises me that you all men, should be so foolish. On day of all days. (d) (intensive): the s of songs; the Holy of Holies (i.e. deserving the name). (e) (old use) drink deep of flattery. Hast thou eaten of the tree of knowledge? 12.
the pattern noun × of × possessive) from among the number of: a frien mine; no business of yours; readin volume of Ruskin's (i.e. a book, one a number of which Ruskin was author); a painting of the king's (i.e.
of a number belonging to the king;
a portrait of the king, i.e. a painting show the king's appearance). (b) (u when the noun is modified by a dem strative or other word that cannot combined with a possessive): that nose of his; this essay of Green's; foolish young wife of yours; that qu looking hat of hers. 13. in the patte adj. × of × (pro)noun: How kind of to help! It was good of your brothe come. 14. indicating time: What do do of a Sunday (i.e. on Sundays)!
sometimes comes in of an evening in the evenings). In days of old (of yore) (i.e. in the past); of late (i.e. recently); of late years (i.e. during recent years). 15. by: beloved of all; tempted of the Devil; forsaken of God and man.

off [ɔ(:)f] adv., prep., & adj. I. adverbial particle. See verb entries marked VP 10, 23, for special meanings (such as go off, explode, show off, exhibit one's skill, possessions, etc.). 1. (indicating distance) at or to a distance; away: The town is five miles off. We're still some way off (i.e. from our destination). Keep off! (i.e. Don't come near!) Keep your dog off! (i.e. Don't let your dog come near.) The holidays are not far off. 2. (indicating departure): He's off to London. It's time I was off or I must be off (i.e. must leave now). Be off (with you)! (i.e. Go away!) We're off or Off we go! (i.e. We have started, are starting, or are about to start.) Off with him! (i.e. Take him away!) 3. (indicating removal or separation): Take off your coat. Take them off. He was working with his coat off. The door handle has come off. Why don't you have that long beard off (i.e. cut off, shaved off)? Off with his head! (i.e. Cut his head off!) Help her off with her coat (i.e. help her to take her coat off). I was cut off while telephoning to him (i.e. the telephone service was stopped). 4. (indicating completion, bringing to an end): Finish off one job before you start another. We must pay off (i.e. settle in full) our debts before we buy a new car. Their engagement (i.e. to marry) is off (broken off) (i.e. has been cancelled). 5. (indicating that sth. is no longer available, that sth. is disconnected): The water (gas, electricity) is off. Turn the radio off. Are the brakes (e.g. of a bus) off? (In a restaurant) That dish is off (i.e. no more of that dish, which is on the menu, is now available). The steam heating is off (i.e. there is no steam in the pipes, the radiators). 6. (of food) no longer fresh: This meat (fish) is slightly off (i.e. it is beginning to smell bad). 7. well (badly, comfortably, etc.) off, in satisfactory (unsatisfactory, comfortable, etc.) circumstances as regards money, etc. better (worse) off, better (worse) situated; in better (worse) circumstances. on and off, off and on, now and again; at intervals; from time to time: It rained on and off all day. right (straight) off, at once; immediately. 8. (in a theatre) behind or at the side(s) of the stage: Noises off (as a stage direction in a printed play. 9. ˈoff-ˈload v.t. put (goods, passengers) out of an aircraft or vehicle (e.g. because there is no space for them). II. prep. 1. (away) from, not on: He fell off the ladder (his horse, bicycle, etc.). The ball rolled off the table. The rain ran off the roof. Keep off the grass. A button has come off my coat. She took a ring (from) off her finger. Cut another slice off the loaf. 2. (with various verbs): take sth. off the price (i.e. reduce the price); 2½ per cent. off for ready cash (i.e. 2½ per cent. taken off the price); borrow money off (more usually from) a friend; take a matter off sb.'s hands (i.e. relieve him from the responsibility for it). 3. off duty, free from duty or regular work, hence: take time off, take an afternoon off (= off duty, i.e. not do one's regular work); give the staff a day off (i.e. a free day, a day's holiday). 4. (of roads, etc.): a narrow lane off the main road (i.e. turning out of it); a house off the main road (i.e. situated well away from it); a street off the Strand (i.e. turning out of the street called the Strand). 5. a short distance out to sea from: an island off the Cornish coast; a ship anchored off the entrance to the harbour. The battle was fought off Cape Trafalgar. 6. (in phrases) off colour, (of a person) indisposed; not feeling well; She was (looked, felt) rather off colour. off smoking, not indulging in it, esp. because disinclined for it: He's been off smoking while he's had 'flu. off the point, irrelevant(ly): The speaker constantly wanders off the point, says things that do not relate to the subject under discussion. off the map, (sl.) no longer existing; (colloq.) remote from populated areas. off the mark, (a) (of a shot) not near the point aimed at. (b) irrelevant. off one's feed, (sl.) having no desire for food. off one's head, (sl.) mad. 7. (compounds) ˈoff-ˈhand adj. (a) without preparation or previous thought: off-hand remarks. (b) (of behaviour) casual; without enough respect; speak (act) in an off-hand way. adv. without previous thought or preparation: I can't say off-hand. ˈoff-ˈhanded(ly) adj. & adv. = off-hand. ˈoff-ˈshore adj. (a) blowing seawards, from the land: off-shore breezes. (b) a short way out at sea: off-shore fisheries. (c) off-shore purchases, goods purchased by the U.S.A. for countries in receipt of economic or military aid, but which do not come from the U.S.A. itself (e.g. aluminium shipped from Canada to Europe, paid for by U.S.A.). ˈoff-ˈside adj. & adv. (of a player in football and hockey) in a position between the ball and the opponents' goal (where the player may not kick, handle, or hit the ball): off-side play (rule, etc.). ˈoff-the-ˈrecord adj. (of a statement made by a politician, diplomat, etc.) made in confidence; not to be quoted or reported: an off-the-record interview. III. adj. 1. (cf. near) farther, far: on the off side of the wall; (of horses, carriages) on the right-hand side (cf. ^{2}near, def. 3):

the off horse (of a pair); the off front wheel; a horse's off hind leg. 2. (on) the off chance, (on) the improbable chance: I'll go on the off chance of seeing him. There's an off chance of finding him at home. 3. disengaged; free from duty, work, etc.: in my off (free) time; on my next off day, next day when I am free; the off season, period when there is little or no activity. 4. (compounds) ˈ*off-ˈbeat attrib. adj. (colloq.) unconventional. ˈ*off-ˌlicence n. licence to sell beer and other alcoholic liquors for consumption off the premises. ˈ*off-print n separate printed copy of an article, etc., that was originally part of a larger publication. ˈ*off-ˈstage attrib. adj. not on the stage (as seen by the audience in a theatre). ˈ*off-ˈstreet attrib. adj. away from the main streets: ~-street parking (of motor vehicles); off-street (un)loading (e.g. of lorries at rear entrances to buildings).

of fal [ˈɔfl] n. [U] those parts (e.g. heart, head, kidneys) which are considered less valuable than the flesh when an animal is cut up for food.

of fence [əˈfens] n. (U.S.A. offense) 1 [C] wrongdoing; crime; sin; breaking of a rule: an ~ against God and man; an ~ against the law (against good manners). 2. [U] the hurting of sb.'s feelings; condition of being hurt in one's feelings: give (cause) ~ to sb.; take ~ at sth. He is quick to take ~, is easily offended. No ~! (phrase used to say) I did not intend to hurt your feelings. 3. [U] attacking: weapons of ~. They say that the most effective defence is ~. 4. [C] that which annoys the senses or makes sb. angry: That cess-pool is an ~ to the neighbourhood. ~less adj. without ~; not giving ~.

of fend [əˈfend] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 24) do wrong; commit an offence: ~ against good manners (the law, traditions, etc.). 2. (VP 1) hurt the feelings of; give offence to: I'm sorry if I've ~ed you. He was ~ed at (by) my remarks. She was ~ed by (with) her husband. 3. (VP 1) displease; annoy: sounds that ~ the ear; ugly buildings that ~ the eye. ~er n. person who ~s, esp. by breaking a law: first ~ers, found guilty for the first time and not usu. treated severely; an old ~er, one who has often been guilty.

of fense, see offence.

of fen sive [əˈfensiv] adj. 1. causing offence to the mind or senses; disagreeable: fish with an ~ smell; ~ language; language that is ~ to polite people. 2. used for, connected with, attacking: ~ weapons (wars). (Cf. defensive.) n. attacking; an attitude of attack: take (act on) the ~, go into attack; a peace ~, (modern jargon) sustained effort the declared aim of which is to lessen the risk of war. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

of fer [ˈɔfə*] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 2, 1 19) hold out, put forward, to be a cepted or refused; say what one willing to pay, give, or exchange (f sth.): They ~ed a reward for the r of the jewels that had been lost. I h been ~ed a job in Chile. He ~ed to h me. He ~ed me his help. We ~ed h the house for £3000. ~ *battle, give t enemy an opportunity of fighting. one's hand, (a) hold it out (to sha hands). (b) make a proposal of marria to a woman. 2. (VP 1, 10, 18, 19) pr sent (to God): ~ prayers to God; ~ a sacrifice 3. (VP 1, 2, 18) attemp give signs of: ~ no resistance to t enemy. 4. (VP 21) occur: Take the fi opportunity that ~s, that there is. a occasion ~s, when there is an oppo tunity n. [C] statement ~ing to d
sth. or give sth.; that which is ~e an ~ of help; your kind ~ to help; a ~ of marriage, a proposal. I've had a
~ of £3,000 for the house I am open an ~, willing to consider a price to b named by a buyer. (goods) on ~, f sale at a certain price. ~ing n. 1. [U act of ~ing: the ~ing of bribes. 2. [C sth. ~ed or presented, esp. the mone collected during a church service:
peace ~ing, sth. ~ed in the hope o restoring friendship after a quarrel, et of fer to ry [ˈɔfətəri] n. [C] money co lected in church during, or at the en of, a service.

of fice [ˈɔfis] n. [C] 1. (often pl.) room( used as a place of business, for cleric work: a lawyer's ~; working in an (i.e. in business, e.g. as a clerk or typist the booking ~ (where tickets are bough at a railway station); the box ~ (whe theatre tickets are bought); a Fi (Life) ~ (of an insurance company our London ~ (our branch in London ˈ*~-block* n. ¹block (def. 6) used f business ~s. ˈ*~-boy n. boy employed do less important duties in an ~. 2. (buil ings of a) government department, i cluding the staff, their work and dutie the Foreign O~; the O~ of Works (atten ing to the repair, furnishing, etc., government-owned buildings); the Ge eral Post O~. 3. the work which it sb's duty to do, esp. in a public positi of trust and authority: enter upon (lea accept, resign) ~ (esp. of positions in t government service). Which party w be in ~ after the next general electio The Liberals have been out of ~ for long time now. ˈ*~-ˌbearer n. pers who holds an ~. 4. duty: the ~ of h (chairman). 5. (pl.) attentions, servic help: through the good ~s (kind help) a friend; perform the last ~s for . .
conduct the burial service of . . . Divi
O~, certain forms of worship in t
Roman Catholic and Episcopal Church

6. (pl.) rooms in a building other than the living-rooms and bedrooms (e.g. the rooms where domestic work is carried on, cellars, etc.): two reception rooms, three bedrooms, and the usual ~s.

of fi cer [ˈɔfisə*] n. 1. person appointed to command others in the armed forces, in merchant ships, aircraft, the police force, etc., usu. wearing special uniform with indications of rank: ~s and men; ~s and crew. 2. person with a position of authority or trust, e.g. in the government or civil service: a customs ~; ~s of state (ministers in the government); the ~s of the Debating Society (i.e. the President, Secretary, Treasurer).

of fi cial [əˈfiʃəl] adj. 1. of a position of trust or authority; said, done, etc., with authority: ~ responsibilities (records); in his ~ uniform; ~ statements. The news is not ~. 2. characteristic of, suitable for, persons holding office: written in ~ style. n. person holding a government position or engaged in public work: government ~s. ~ly adv. in an ~ manner; with ~ authority. ~dom [əˈfiʃəldəm] n. ~s collectively; the ways of doing business of (government) ~s. ~ese [əˌfiʃəˈliːz] n. [U] jargon (said to be) characteristic of the writing of some government ~s. (Cf. journalese.) of fi ci ate [əˈfiʃieit] v.i. (VP 21, 23, 24) perform the duties of an office or position: ~ as chairman; ~ as host at a dinner party; ~ at a marriage ceremony, (of a priest) perform the ceremony.

of fi cious [əˈfiʃəs] adj. too eager or ready to help, offer advice, use authority, etc. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

off ing [ˈɔfiŋ] n. part of the sea distant from the point of observation but visible: a steamer in the ~; (fig.) a quarrel in the ~, one that appears likely to break out.

off ish [ˈɔfiʃ] adj. (colloq.) inclined to aloofness; distant in manner.

off scour ings [ˈɔfskauəriŋz] n. pl. refuse; dregs: (usu. fig.) the ~s of humanity.

off set [ˈɔ(ː)fset] v.t. (-tt-) (VP 1, 18) balance, compensate for: He has to ~ his small salary by living economically. n. 1. (also ~ process) method of printing in which the ink is transferred from a plate to a rubber surface and then on to paper. 2. = offshoot.

off shoot [ˈɔ(ː)fʃuːt] n. [C] stem or branch growing from a main stem (lit. or fig.): an ~ of a plant (a mountain range, a family).

off spring [ˈɔ(ː)fspriŋ] n. (pl. unchanged) child; children; young of animals: He is the ~ of a scientific genius and a ballet dancer. Their ~ are all slightly mad.

oft [ɔ(ː)ft] adv. (in poetry) often: an oft-told tale; many a time and oft (= very often). oft-times [ˈɔːfttaimz] adv. (arch.) often.

of ten [ˈɔ(ː)fn] adv. of frequency. usu. occupying mid-position (i.e. with the v.); may occupy front-position or end-position for emphasis (esp. when modified by very or quite), or for contrast; comp. and sup. either ~er, ~est, or more ~, most ~. 1. many times; in a large proportion of the instances: We ~ go there. We have ~ been there. We've been there quite ~. It very ~ rains here in April. 2. (in phrases) how ~: How ~ do the buses run? as ~ as, each time that: As ~ as I tried to get an answer from him he made some excuse and avoided giving me the information I wanted. as ~ as not, more ~ than not, very frequently: During foggy weather the trains are late more ~ than not. every so ~, from time to time. once too ~, once more than is wise, safe, etc.: He exceeded the speed limit once too ~ and was fined £10.

o gle [ˈougl] v.i. & t. (VP 21, 1) look meaningly (at); make eyes (at) (suggesting love or longing): ogling all the pretty girls.

o gre [ˈougə*] n. [C] (in fairy tales) cruel man-eating giant. o gress [ˈougris] n. female ~. o gre ish [ˈougəriʃ] adj. like an ~.

oh [ou] int. exclamation of surprise, fear, etc.

ohm [oum] n. [C] unit of electrical resistance.

o ho [ouˈhou] int. exclamation of surprise or triumph.

¹oil [ɔil] n. [C & U] 1. (sorts of) (usu. easily burning) liquid which does not mix with water, obtained from animals (e.g. whale-oil), plants (*coconut oil, olive oil, oil of peppermint, essential oils), or from wells (e.g. petroleum): cod-liver oil; salad oil; hair oil. 2. (phrases) burn the midnight oil, sit up late at night to study, etc. smell of oil, bear marks of study (as if done late at night by the light of an oil-lamp). pour oil on the flame(s), make anger more intense, make a quarrel more bitter, etc. pour oil on the (troubled) waters, act or speak in such a way as to end quarrelling, bitterness, etc. strike oil, find petroleum in the ground by sinking a shaft, etc.; (fig.) become very prosperous or successful. paint in oils, paint with oil-colours (see below). 3. (compounds) ˈoil-ˌburner n. engine, ship, heater, etc., that uses oil as fuel. ˈoil-cake n. [U] cattle food made from seeds after the oil has been pressed out. ˈoil-can n. can with a long nozzle, used for oiling machinery. ˈoilcloth n. [U] *linoleum. ˈoil-ˌcolours n. pl. paints made by mixing colouring matter in oil. ˈoil-field n. area where petroleum is found.

An oil-can

ˈoil-man n. one who sells oil and oil-colours. ˈoil-ˌpainting n. [U] art of painting in oil-colours; [C] picture painted in oil-colours. ˈoil-ˌpaper n. paper made transparent and waterproof by being treated with oil. ˈoil-ˈsilk n. silk cloth treated with oil to make it airtight and water-tight, used for making raincoats, etc. ˈoil-skin n. [C & U] (coat etc., made of) cloth treated with oil to make it water-proof; (pl.) suit of clothes made of this material, as worn by sailors, etc. ˈoil-ˌtanker n. ship, large tank on wheels, for carrying oil (esp. petroleum). ˈoil-well n. well from which petroleum is obtained.

^{2}oil [ɔil] v.t. (VP 1) put oil on or into (e.g. to make a machine run smoothly): oil a lock (a bicycle); oil the wheels (works), (fig.) make things go smoothly by being tactful; oil sb.'s palm, give him a bribe.

oil er [ˈɔilə*] n. 1. ship built for carrying oil; oil-tanker. 2. oil-can for oiling machinery. 3. person who oils machinery (e.g. in the engine-room of a steamer).

oil y [ˈɔili] adj. (-ier, -iest) 1. of or like oil: an ~ liquid. 2. covered or soaked with oil: ~ fingers. 3. (of speech or manner) too smooth; fawning; trying by fawning to win favour. oil i ly adv. oil i ness n.

oint ment [ˈɔintmənt] n. [C & U] (sorts of) medicinal paste made from oil or fat and used on the skin (to heal injuries or roughness, or as a cosmetic).

old [ould] adj. (-er, -est; see also elder, eldest) 1. (with a period of time, and with how) of age: He's forty years old. At fifteen years old he left home to become a sailor. How old are you? He is old enough to know better. Ought a seven-year-old child to be able to read? 2. (contrasted with young) having lived a long time; no longer young or middle-aged: Old people cannot be so active as young people. He's far too old for a young girl like you to marry. What will he do when he grows (is, gets) old? the old, old people. old and young (or) young and old, everyone. old age, the latter part of life. the old man, (colloq.) (a) one's husband or father. (b) (among sailors) the captain of a ship. the old woman, (colloq.) one's wife. ˈold-ˈwomanish adj. (of men) fussy and timid. an old maid, see maid. ˈold-ˈmaidish adj. (iron., of a man) precise, tidy, fidgety (as old maids are said to be). 3. (contrasted with new, modern, up to date) belonging to past times; having been in existence or use for a long time: old customs (families, civilizations); old houses (clothes) old-clothesman [ˈouldˈklouðzmæn] n. dealer in clothes that have been discarded as no longer good enough, or as too small, too old-fashioned, etc. the Old World, Europe, Asia, and Africa. ˈold-ˈfashioned adj. (a) out of date: old-fashioned styles (clothes). (b) keeping to old ways, ideas, customs, etc.: an old-fashioned servant; an old-fashioned child, one who behaves like a much older person. (c) (of glances) reproving: She gave him an old-fashioned look. n. (U.S.A.) kind of cocktail made with whiskey. old-fog(e)yish [ˈould ˈfougiiʃ] adj. (of a man) old-fashioned; behind the times. ˈold-time adj. belonging to, typical of, past times: old-time dances. (a person, etc.) of the old school, conservative; old-fashioned. ˈold-world adj. belonging to, typical of, past times; not modern: an old-world cottage (garden). 4. long known or familiar: an old friend of mine, one who has been a friend for a long time (but not necessarily old in years); the old country, (used of one's native country when one has left it to live elsewhere); Old Glory (used by Americans of the flag of the U.S.A.). 5. old boy, former member of the school in question; (hence) Old Etonian, etc., old boy of Eton College; Old Boys' Day, academic anniversary attended by old boys (cf. U.S.A. Homecoming Week-end*). 6. having much experience or practice: old offenders, persons who have often done wrong; an old hand (at sth.), person with long experience; a man who is old in diplomacy. old-ˈtimer n. person who has for many years lived in a place, been associated with (a club, occupation, etc.). 7. (colloq.) used in addressing persons, and with names (and nicknames) giving intimacy, or in joking style: 'Good old John!' 'Listen, old man.' 'Hullo, old thing!' the old one, the old gentleman, old Harry (Nick, Scratch), the devil. 8. (sl.) used as an intensifier: We're having a high old time, a very good time. Any old thing (anything whatever) will do. n. the past: in days of old; the men of old. old ish adj. rather old.

old en [ˈouldən] adj. (arch., liter.) of a former age: in ~ times (days).

old ster [ˈouldstə*] n. old person (the word is used chiefly as an antithesis to youngster): Some of us ~s have more energy than the youngsters.

ol e ag i nous [ˌouliˈædʒinəs] adj. having properties of oil; producing oil; fatty; greasy.

o le an der [ˌouliˈændə*] n. [C] evergreen shrub with tough leaves and red, pink, or white flowers growing in clusters.

o leo- [ˈouliou-] used in compounds: oleograph [ˈouliougrɑːf] n. picture printed in oils. oleo-margarine n. [U] [ˈouliouˌmɑːgəˈriːn] fatty substance extracted from beef fat and used with other substances in margarine.

ol fac to ry [ɔl'fæktəri] adj. concerned with smelling: the ~ nerves.

ol i gar chy ['ɔligɑːki] n. [C & U] (country with) government by a small group of all-powerful persons; such a group. ol i garch n. member of an ~.

ol ive ['ɔliv] n. 1. (also '~-tree) evergreen tree common in S. Europe bearing small oval fruit with a hard stone-like seed and a bitter taste, yellowish-green when unripe and bluish-black when ripe; used for pickling, to be eaten as a relish, and for oil, which is used for cooking, dressing salads, etc. 2. leaf, branch, or wreath of ~ as a symbol of peace: hold out the ~-branch, show that one is ready to discuss peace-making. adj. the colour of the unripe fruit, yellowish-green or yellowish-brown.

O lym pi ad [ou'limpiæd] n. period of four years between celebrations of the Olympic Games.

O lym pi an [ou'limpiən] adj. (of manners, etc.) magnificent; god-like: ~ calm. n. one of the greater gods of ancient Greece; person with god-like qualities.

O lym pic [ou'limpik] adj. of or at Olympia: the ~ Games, (a) the contests held at Olympia in Greece in ancient times. (b) the international athletic competitions held in modern times every four years in a different country.

o me ga ['oumigə] n. the last letter (Ω) of the Greek alphabet; final development: Alpha and O~, the beginning and the end.

ome let(te) ['ɔmlit] n. [C] eggs beaten together, fried and folded, often flavoured with cheese or containing herbs, etc., or (sweet ~) jam, sugar.

o men ['oumen] n. [C & U] (thing, happening, regarded as a) sign of sth. good or warning of evil fortune: an ~ of success; an event of good (bad) ~. v.t. (VP 1) be an ~ of.

om i nous ['ɔminəs] adj. of bad omen; threatening: an ~ silence; ~ of disaster. ~ly adv.

o mis sion [ou'miʃən] n. 1. [U] act of omitting, leaving out or undone: sins of ~, leaving undone those things that ought to be done. 2. [C] sth. that is omitted.

o mit [ou'mit] v.t. (-tt-) 1. (VP 2, 17A) fail (to do sth.): ~ to do (~ doing) a piece of work. 2. (VP 1) fail to include; leave out: This chapter may be ~ted.

om ni- [ɔmni-] (in compounds) in all (ways, directions, places, etc.): omnidirectional (e.g. of wireless telegraphy).

om ni bus ['ɔmnibʌs] n. (pl. -es [-iz]) 1. (former name for) bus. 2. (attrib.) for, including, many purposes: an ~ volume, a large book in which a number of books (e.g. by the same author) are reprinted.

om nip o tence [ɔm'nipətəns] n. [U] infinite power: the ~ of God. om nip o tent adj. having infinite power: the O~, God.

om nis ci ence [ɔm'nisiəns] n. [U] infinite knowledge. om nis ci ent adj. having infinite knowledge.

om niv o rous [ɔm'nivərəs] adj. eating all kinds of food; (fig.) reading all kinds of books, etc.: an ~ reader.

on [ɔn] prep. & adv. I. prep. 1. supported by; fastened or attached to; covering or forming part of (a surface); lying against; in contact with: a carpet on the floor; the jug on the table; pictures on the wall; the words (written) on the blackboard; flies on the ceiling; a blister on the sole of my foot; put a roof on the shed; sit on the grass; floating on the water; write on paper; hang sth. on a peg (a nail); stick a stamp on the envelope; live on the Continent (cf. live in Europe); have a hat on one's head (a ring on one's finger); carry a coat on (or over) one's arm; be (go) on board a ship; have lunch on the train; continued on page five (cf. in a book, magazine, etc.). Have you a match (any money) on you (i.e. in your pockets, etc.)? 2. (indicating time): (a) on Sunday(s); on the 1st of May; on the evening of May the first (cf. in the evening); on New Year's Day (Eve); on a cold, wet day like this; on that day; on this occasion. (b) at the time of: on the death of his parents; on my arrival home; payable on demand; on (my) asking for information. (c) on time, on the minute (i.e. punctually). 3. about; concerning: speak (lecture, write) on international affairs; a lecture on Shakespeare; be keen (bent, determined, set) on sth. (on doing sth.). 4. (indicating membership): He is on the committee (the jury, the staff). He's on 'The Daily Telegraph' (i.e. is a member of the staff of this newspaper). 5. (indicating direction): marching on the enemy's capital; turn one's back on sb.; smile (frown) on sb.; draw a knife on sb. (i.e. to attack him); a ship drifting on (to) the rocks; hit sb. on the head (note: not his head); give sb. a box (blow) on the ear. 6. (expressing the basis, ground, or reason for sth.): on this (that, no) account; a story based on fact; have sth. on good authority; act on your lawyer's advice; arrested on a charge of theft; retire on a pension; on penalty of death; the tax on tobacco; interest on capital; on an average; swear sth. on the Bible; be on one's oath (one's honour). 7. (indicating proximity) close to; against: Henley-on-Thames; a town on the coast; a house on the main road; a village on the frontier; on both sides of the river; on my right (left); just on (= almost) 2 o'clock; just on a year ago; just on £10. 8. engaged with: on business; on holiday; on tour; go on an errand; on the way. 9. (followed by an adj. or noun indicating manner, state, action): on the sly (i.e. in a sly manner); buy sth. on the cheap (colloq.; at a low price); on his best behaviour; be on the look-out for sb. (i.e. watching for him); on fire; on sale; on loan. 10. added to: suffer disaster on disaster. II. adverbial particle. 1. (expressing the idea of progress, advance, continued activity): Come on! They hurried on. I will follow on (i.e. come after you). It's getting on for (i.e. will soon be) 6 o'clock. He's getting on in years (i.e. growing old). The war still went on (i.e. did not end). How can you work on (i.e. continue working) so long without a rest? How is your work getting on (i.e. what progress are you making)? On with the show! (i.e. Let the show begin! Let the show continue!) on and on, without stopping: We walked on and on. and so on, and other things of the same kind; et cetera. later on, at, during, a later time. 2. (corresponding in meaning to the prep., def. 1): Put your shoes on Put the kettle on (i.e. on the fire, stove, etc.). On with your coat (i.e. put it on)! Shall I help you on with your coat? Your hat is not on straight. He had nothing on (i.e. was naked). Has he got his spectacles on (i.e. is he wearing them)? 3. (contrasted with off, I. 5) (a) in action; in use; functioning; flowing, running, etc.: The lights were all full on (i.e. giving their maximum light). Someone has left the bathroom tap on (i.e. running). I can smell gas—is one of the taps on (i.e. is gas escaping from one of them)? Be sure the hand-brake is on before you leave the car. The performance is on (i.e. has begun). (b) available or procurable when or if needed: Is the water on yet (i.e. is a supply available from the mains)? 4. (combined with be and have in various meanings): What's on (i.e. what's the programme, what's happening) this afternoon? What's on (i.e. what films are being shown) at the local cinema this week? There's nothing on tomorrow, is there? (e.g. no meeting I ought to attend, no engagement I ought to carry out). Have you anything on this evening (i.e. any engagements, plans, etc.)? 5. towards: a ship broadside on to the dock gates (i.e. with its side facing towards the gates); end on (i.e. with the end forward).

once [wʌns] adv. 1. (usu. end position) for one time, on one occasion, only: I have been there ~. This clock needs winding ~ a week. He goes to see his parents in Wales ~ (in) every six months. We go to the cinema ~ a week (a fortnight) (i.e. every week, every two weeks). ~ more, again; another time. ~ or twice, ~ and again, ~ in a while (way), now and again; occasionally; few times. (for) this ~, (just) for ~
on this one occasion only, as an excep tion. ~ and for all, see all, II. 5. 2 (often mid position) at some indefinit time in the past; formerly: (a) He ~ lived in Persia. This novel was ~ ver popular but nobody reads it today. ( (in story-telling style) O~ upon a tim there was a giant with two heads. Ther ~ lived a king who had twelve beautifu daughters. 3. (in negative, conditiona or indefinite clauses) ever; at all; eve for one time: He didn't ~ (or he never ~ offered to help. O~ (= if you ~, as soo as) you understand this rule, you wi have no further difficulty. 4. at ~, (a without delay; immediately: I'm leav ing for Rome at ~. Come here at ~ (b) at the same time: Don't all speak a ~! I can't do two things at ~. The boo is at ~ interesting and instructive.

on-com ing [ˈɔnkʌmiŋ] adj. advancing approaching: the ~ shift, the shift (o workers) coming on duty (in a factory)
n. approach: the ~ of winter.

one [wʌn] adj., & pron. I. *numera
adj. & pron. 1. (a) as in the series: on pen, two pencils, and three books; as in one from twenty leaves nineteen; one i enough; one o'clock; as in: twenty-one thirty-one, etc. (now more usual tha one and twenty, etc.). (b) as in: on hundred, one thousand, one million; on half, one third, etc. Except in forma precise, or legal style, prefer a year and a half to one and a half years; a millio and a half to one and a half millions a pound of tea to one pound of tea. (c) a in: one and six (one shilling and six pence); one pound ten (one pound te shillings). 2. (with pl. ones) the symbo or figure 1: a row of ones (i.e. 1 1 1 1)
3. as in: Book One, Chapter One (= th first book, the first chapter). 4. as in one day (morning, afternoon, evening night), similar in function to the inde art., but with the difference that th prep. on is used before the indef. art See on, I. 2. Cf. one summer evening an on a summer evening; one morning i June and on a June morning. 5. On is used to indicate a contrast (expresse or implied) with the other, or another, o other(s): The two girls are so much alik that it is difficult for strangers to tell (the one from the other. He did not kno which to admire more, the one's courag or the other's determination. Well, that' one way of doing it, but there are othe and better ways. I, for one, don't lik the idea (suggesting 'and there may b others who do not like it'). for on thing, for one reason (out of several o many): I can't go. For one thing, I' no money. 6. (always stressed; used fo emphasis): There's only ˈone way to d

it. That's the ˈ*one thing needed. No* ˈ*one of you could lift it* (i.e. two or more of you would be needed). They went forward as ˈ*one man* (i.e. all together, in a body). 7. (before a family name, with or without a title; cf. a(n), 9) a certain: I heard the news from one (Mr) Smith (from a certain person named Smith). (Note that if one is replaced by the indef. art. a title must be used: A Mr Smith has called to see you.) 8. (as adj.) the same: They all went off in one direction. I'm one with you on this subject or We are at one on this subject (i.e. our opinions are the same). It's all one, it's all the same, it makes no difference: It's all one to me whether you go or don't go. one and the same, (emphatic for) the same: One and the same idea occurred to each of them. become one, be made one, be united; be married. 9. (phrases) in one, combined: He is President, Chairman, and Secretary in one. one or two, a few: I shall be away only one or two days. by ones and twos, one or two at a time: People began to leave the meeting by ones and twos. number one, (colloq.) oneself; one's own interests: He's always thinking of 'number one' (i.e. of himself, his own welfare). 10. (with an of-adjunct) a single person or thing of the sort indicated or supplied; with some, any, several, etc., for the plural. (Cf. a(n), 3, and IV, def. 1, below.) One of my friends (pl. some of my friends) arrived late. If one of them (pl. any of them) should need help . . .; I borrowed one of your books (= a book of yours; pl. some of your books) last week. Note the use of his, her, himself, and herself in these examples: One of the boys lost his hat. One of the girls has hurt herself. (For one . . . one's, see IV below.) 11. (compounds) ˈone-ˈarmed adj. having only one arm. one-armed bandit n. gambling machine operated by dropping a coin through a slot and manipulating levers, etc. ˈone-ˈeyed adj. (a) having only one eye. (b) = one-horse (def. (b)). ˈone-ˈhorse adj. (a) drawn or worked by a single horse. (b) (fig., sl.) poorly equipped: a one-horse town, a small provincial town with few attractions, etc. ˈone-iˈdea'd adj. possessed by a single idea. ˈone-ˈsided adj. having one side only; occurring on one side only; partial; unfair; prejudiced: a one-sided argument; a one-sided account of a quarrel. ˈone-step n. kind of foxtrot. ˈone-ˈtrack attrib. adj. having only one track: (esp.) a one-track mind, dominated by one interest, subject, etc. ˈone-ˈway ˈstreet n. street in which traffic may proceed in one direction only. II. indef. pron. used in place of a preceding or following noun standing for a member of a class. 1. (with an of-adjunct, indicating inclusion; equivalent to among; cf. a(n), def. 3; no corresponding plural word). Mr Smith is not one of (= not numbered or included among) my customers. (Cf. for pl.: Mr Green and Mr Smith are not customers of mine.) This problem is one of great difficulty. (Pl.: These problems are of great difficulty.) We have always treated her as one (i.e. as a member) of the family. (Pl.: We have always treated them as members of the family.) (Cf. one, I, def. 10. One of my friends was ill. Pl. Some of my friends were ill.) 2. (Cf. one and it. One replaces a noun modified by the indef. art. or a plural noun modified by some or any. It replaces a noun made definite in some way, e.g. a noun modified by the, this, that.) I haven't a pen. Can you lend me one? I haven't any stamps. Will you please give me one? (Cf. I'd like to look at that atlas. May I borrow it? Where's the railway time-table? Have you seen it?) 3. the pron. one, pl. ones, is used, in colloq. style, equivalent to that, those: I drew my chair nearer to the one (= to that) on which Mary was sitting. It's in that drawer—the one (= that) with the key in the lock. The children who do best in examinations are not always the ones (= those) with the best brains. 4. when the pron. one is used after the def. art., or after an adj. (or a noun used as an adj.), it may be called a 'prop-word'. As an adj. cannot stand alone for one or more members of a class, one is used to support or 'prop up' the adj., as in: a better one; that one; my old ones. Your plan is a good one on paper. There's a right answer and a wrong one. Yours may be the right answer and mine the wrong one. The chance was too good a one to let pass. He keeps his postage-stamps—he has some very rare ones—in a fire-proof safe. 5. (The 'prop-word' one is not used after a possessive (e.g. your, Mary's) unless there is also an adj. It is not used after own): This is my hat and that is my brother's. (Not: my brother's one.) Tom's exercise book is neater than John's. (Not: John's one.) Do you rent the house or is it your own? With an adj.: My cheap camera seems to be just as good as John's expensive one. Your old suit looks as smart as your brother's new one. 6. (In literary style it is preferable to avoid the use of the 'prop-word' one, esp. when there are two adjj. indicating a contrast. The noun is placed after only one of the adjj.): If we compare British with American universities (better than: if we compare British universities with American ones). Don't praise the younger child in the presence of the elder. I put my right arm through Mary's left. At home Hanako prefers Japanese to European-style clothes. What the teacher said seemed to go in at one ear and out at the other. 7. One is used after this and that, but is better avoided, in literary style, after these and those: Will you have this (one) or that (one)? Will you have these or those? (With an adj., one is, of course, necessary): Will you have this green one (these green ones) or that blue one (those blue ones)? 8. The 'prop-word' one is used with which, esp. to distinguish sing. from pl.: Here are some books on European history. Which one(s) do you want? III. personal pronoun. 1. (used, always with a qualifying word or phrase, for a particular person or creature): the Holy One (God); the Evil One (Satan, the Devil); the absent one (i.e. the absent member of the family, etc.); the little ones (i.e. the children); a nest with five young ones (i.e. young birds); my sweet one (as a term of endearment). 2. (used, in liter. style, with a following adj., phrase, or clause): He lay there like one dead (i.e. as if he were dead). He worked like one possessed (i.e. like a man possessed by a spirit). He was one (i.e. the sort of person) who never troubled about his personal comfort. He's not one to be (i.e. not a man who is) easily frightened. 3. one another, used like each other, to indicate mutual action or relation; may be the object of a verb or a prep.; possessive form is one another's: They don't like one another. They have quarrelled and no longer speak to one another. They were fighting with cudgels, trying to break one another's heads. IV. impersonal pron. standing for any person, including the speaker or writer. (Cf. French on, German man.) Possessive, one's, reflexive, oneself. (Cf. I, def. 10, above.) One cannot always find time for reading. If one wants a thing done well, one had best do it oneself. One doesn't like to have one's word doubted. In colloq. style it is more usual to employ you, we, people: We live and learn You never can tell. What's a chap (a fellow) to do in such a situation? In American usage, one may be followed by he, him, his, himself instead of by one, one's, oneself: One does not like to have his word doubted. one self [wʌn'self] reflex. & emphat. pron. one's own self: wash (cut, dress) oneself. One should not live for oneself alone.

on er ous ['ɔnərəs] adj. needing effort; burdensome (to): ~ duties. ~ly *adv.

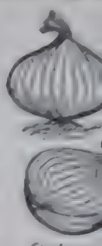
on ion ['ʌnjən] n. [C] vegetable plant with a round bulb of many concentric coats, a strong smell and flavour, used in cooking and pickled; [U] this plant as food: beef and boiled ~s; too much ~ in the salad; the ~-domed churches of Austria, having ~-shaped domes. off h ~, (sl.) mentally unbalanced. know one's ~s, (sl.) be shrewd in affairs, wise in the ways of the world.



Onions

on look er ['ɔnˌlukə*] n. person who looks on at sth. happening: The ~ sees most of the game, (prov.) the spectator is in a better position to judge than those who are taking part.

on ly ['ounli] adj., adv., & conj. I. ad 1. (with a sing. noun) that is the o specimen of its class; single: Smith w the ~ person able to do it. Harry is an child (i.e. has no brothers or sisters). H ~ answer was a shrug. 2. (with a p noun) that are all the specimens examples: We were the ~ people weari hats. 3. best; most or best worth co sideration: He's the ~ man for t position. She says nylon stockings a the ~ thing these days. II. adv. solely and no one, nothing, more. 1. (modify ing a single word, usu. preceding but occasionally following it): O~ t teachers are allowed to use this room. O five men were seriously hurt in t accident. We've ~ half an hour to wa now. Ladies ~ (e.g. of a compartme in a railway carriage). We can ~ gue (i.e. cannot be certain) what happene 2. (modifying a sentence; varying pos tions): I'm ~ doing it (I'm doing it ~ to please you. I can ~ tell you (I ca tell you ~) what I know. 3. ~ too, (wit an adj. or p.p.) very: I shall be ~ t pleased to get home. The news was ~ t true (i.e. was really true, and not, might be hoped or expected, untrue if ~, expressing a wish or assumptio (See if, 8.) III. conj. but then; it mus however, be added that: The book likely to be useful, ~ it's rather expensi He's always ready to promise help, ~ h never keeps his promises. ~ that, wit the exception that; were it not tha He would probably do well in the examina tion, ~ that he gets rather nervous.

on o mat o pœ ia [ˌɔnəmætou'piə] n. [U formation of words in imitation of th sounds associated with the thing co cerned (as cuckoo for the bird that utte this cry).

on rush ['ɔnrʌʃ] n. strong, onward rus or flow.

on set ['ɔnset] n. attack; vigorous start at the first ~; the ~ of a disease on slaught ['ɔnslɔ:t] n. [C] furious attac (on).

on to ['ɔntu] prep. (U.S.A.) = on t (See on, adv.)

on tol o gy [ɔn'tɔlədʒi] n. [U] depar ment of metaphysics concerned wit the properties of existence; the essen of things.

s [ˈounəs] n. (sing. only) responsibil-for, burden of, doing sth.: The ~ of oof rests with you, it is for you to pply proof.

ward [ˈɔnwəd] adj. & adv. forward: ~ march (movement). adv. (also ~s nwədz]) towards the front; forward:
re ~(s).

x [ˈɔniks] n. [U] (sorts of) stone with ferent colours in layers.

les [ˈuːdlz] n. pl. (sl.) great amounts sums: ~ of money.

 [uːf] n. [U] (sl.) money.

ong [ˈuːlɔŋ] n. kind of Chinese tea.

e [uːz] n. [U] soft liquid mud, esp. on river-bed, the bottom of a pond, lake,
c. v.i. & t. 1. (VP 23, 24) (of moisture, ick liquids) pass slowly through small enings: Blood was still oozing from the
und. (fig.) Their courage was oozing
ay. 2. (VP 1) pass out; emit: He was zing sweat. ooz y adj. of or like ~;
my.

a ci ty [ouˈpæsiti] n. [U] (quality of)
ing opaque.

al [ˈoupəl] n. precious stone in which anges of colour are seen. o pa les- nt [ˌoupəˈlesnt] adj. like an ~.

aque [ouˈpeik] adj. not allowing light pass through; that cannot be seen rough; dull. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

e [oup] v.t. & i. (poet.) open.

en [ˈoupən] adj. 1. not closed; allow-g (things, persons) to go in, out, rough: sleep with ~ windows; leave the or ~. ~ vowel, one made with the ps fairly wide apart (e.g. ɛ, ɔ). ˈ~- yed adj. with ~ eyes; watchful; sur-rised. ˈ~-ˈ*mouthed adj. (a) showing reed (for food, etc.). (b) showing great urprise or stupidity. ˈ~-work n. [U] attern (in metal, lace, etc.) with spaces:
-work lace; ~-work stockings. 2. not nclosed, fenced in, barred, or blocked:
e ~ country (i.e. land affording wide iews, without forests, etc.); the ~ sea, ot a bay or harbour, not closed in by nd; an ~ river, not barred by ice, udbanks, etc.; ~ water, navigable, ee from ice. 3. not covered in or over:
n ~ boat, one without a deck; an ~ rriage (car), with no roof, or a roof that folded back; an ~ drain (sewer), in the orm of a ditch, not in pipes under the round; in the ~ air, out of doors. ˈ~- ir adj. (attrib.) taking place out of oors; fond of life in the ~ air: an
-air school; ~-air treatment of diseases
.g. consumption). 4. spread out; unolded: The flowers were all ~. The book y ~ on the table. His mind was (His oughts were) an ~ book, it was easy to ead his thoughts. ~ order, (of troops), xtended; spread out. with ~ hands,
enerously. ˈ~-ˈ*handed adj. generous;
iving freely. ˈ~-ˈ*hearted adj. sincere;
rank. ˈ~-ˈ*minded adj. ready to listen to arguments, suggestions, etc., with ~ arms, with affection or enthusiasm. ˈ~-ˈ*armed adj. hearty, affectionate. 5. public; free to all; not limited to any special persons, but for anyone to enter: an ~ competition (championship, scholarship); tried in ~ court (of a law case, the public being freely admitted to hear the trial). The position is still ~, no one has yet been chosen to fill it. the ~ door, policy of free trade or freedom from tariffs; admission of foreign traders. ~ shop, workshop, factory, etc., where members and non-members of trade unions work on equal terms. keep ~ house, offer hospitality to all comers. 6. not settled or decided: an ~ question; leave a matter ~; an ~ verdict, jury's verdict of the fact and cause of a death, but not saying whether it is natural, accidental, suicide, or murder. 7. ready for business or for the admission of the public: Are the shops ~ yet? Doors ~ at 7.00 p.m. (e.g. of a theatre). 8. known to all; not secret or disguised; frank: an ~ quarrel (scandal); an ~ character (countenance); be ~ (frank) with sb. an ~ letter, one that is addressed to an individual but sent to and published in a periodical, usu. in protest against sth. 9. not protected: an ~ town (in olden days, without fortifications); be ~ to temptation; lay oneself ~ to ridicule (attack), behave so that others have the opportunity of ridiculing (attacking). 10. not settled, finished, or closed: keep one's account ~ at a bank; be ~ to an offer, willing to consider one. 11. (phrases) ~ weather, an ~ winter, free from severe frost and snow, so that it is possible to get about. an ~ cheque, one that is not crossed and which may be cashed at the bank on which it is drawn. the ~ season, (fishing and shooting) when there are no restrictions. (Cf. ¹*close,* def. 12.) ˈ~*cast adj. surface: ~cast coal; ~cast production of coal, from strata near the earth's surface (contrasted with production from mines). n. the ~, the ~ air (see def. 3 above). come out into the ~, (fig.) come into public view; make one's ideas, plans, etc., known. ~ly adv. without secrecy; frankly; publicly: speak ~ly; go ~ly into a place (e.g. where one might be expected to go secretly). ~ness n. [U].

²o pen [ˈoupən] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10) make open or cause to be open; unfasten: ~ a box. He ~ed the door for me to come in (~ed the door to let me in). ~ one's eyes, express surprise. ~ the eyes of sb. to sth., undeceive him; cause him to realize sth. (e.g. how he has been deceived). 2. (VP 1, 10) cut or make an opening in or a passage through: ~ a mine (a well); ~ a new road through a forest. ~ up, make ~;

make accessible; make possible the development of: ~ up a wound (a mine, undeveloped land, a new territory to trade). 3. (VP 1, 10) spread out; unfold: ~ one's hand (a book, a newspaper, a parcel); ~ out a folding map; ~ one's mind (heart) to sb., make known one's ideas (feelings). 4. (VP 1) start: ~ an account (at a bank, shop, etc.); ~ a debate (a public meeting). ~ fire (at, on), start shooting. 5. (VP 1) declare, indicate, that business, etc., may now start: ~ a shop; ~ Parliament. 6. (VP 21, 23) become open; be ~ed; allow of being ~ed: The flowers are ~ing. This shop does not ~ on Sundays. The door ~ed and a man came in. Does this door ~ inwards or outwards? The two rooms ~ into one another, have a door between them. This door ~s on to the garden. 7. (VP 24) start: The story ~s with a murder. 8. (VP 21, 23) become visible: The view ~ed (out) before our eyes. ~er [ˈoupnə*] n. person or thing that opens: (chiefly in compounds) ˈ*pew-~er*; ˈ*tin-~er*; ˈ*bottle-~er*.

o pen ing [ˈoupəniŋ] n. 1. open space; way in or out: an ~ in a hedge. 2. beginning: the ~ of a book (speech); ~ time (e.g. at which public houses open and begin to serve drinks); the ~ night (e.g. on which a new play is performed for the first time, and to which dramatic critics are invited). 3. process of becoming open: watch the ~ of a flower 4. position (in a business firm) which is open or vacant; opportunity: an ~ in an advertising agency. adj. first: his ~ remarks.

op e ra [ˈɔpərə] n. 1. [C] dramatic composition with music, in which the words are sung: grand ~, with no spoken dialogue; light ~, with a humorous subject; comic ~, with spoken dialogue. 2. [U] dramatic works of this kind as entertainment: fond of ~; the ~ season ˈ~-cloak n. lady's cloak for wearing with evening dress. ˈ~-ˌglasses n. pl. binoculars for use in a theatre. ˈ~-hat n. man's tall, black silk hat, made so that it folds flat. ˈ~-house n. theatre for performances of ~s. op er at ic [ˌɔpəˈrætik] adj. of or for an ~: ~tic music (singers).

op er ate [ˈɔpəreit] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 21, 23, 24, 25) (cause to) work, be in action, have an effect; manage: ~ a machine; machinery that ~s night and day. The company ~s three factories and a coal-mine. The lift was not operating properly. The lift is ~d by electricity. This new law ~s (produces an effect) to our advantage. Several causes ~d to bring on the war. 2. (VP 21, 24) perform a surgical operation (on sb. for sth.): The doctors decided to ~ at once. ˈoperating-ˌtable (-room) nn. for use in surgical operations. ˈ*operating-ˌth*
n. room where students can surgical operations. 3. (VP 21, 2 an army) carry out various movem operating on a large scale. 4. (V 23) (of a stockbroker) buy and
esp. in order to influence prices. o
a ble [ˈɔpərəbl] adj. that can be tr by means of a surgical operation.

op er a tion [ˌɔpəˈreiʃən] n. 1. [U] ing; way in which sth. works. working, effective: Is this rule in ~ come into ~, begin to be effe become effective. 2. [C] piece of
sth. (to be) done: begin ~s; the nature, changes brought about natural forces. 3. (usu. pl.) movem of troops, ships, aircraft, etc., in wa or during manœuvres: ~s room, which ~s are controlled; (sing.) in names for military campaigns Overlord), and, by extension, for pla campaigns in industry, commerce
4. [C] act performed by a surgeon o part of the body, esp. by cutting to away or deal with a diseased part:
for appendicitis. 5. (maths.) addi subtraction, multiplication, div etc. ~al [ˌɔpəˈreiʃənl] adj. 1. of, for,
in, ~s: ~al costs (expenditure), ne for operating (machines, aircraft, ~al research, into the best ways of improving, etc., new weapons, ma ery, etc. 2. ready for use: When the newly designed airliner be ~al?

op er a tive [ˈɔpərətiv] adj. 1. opera having an effect: This law became 1 May. 2. ~ words, those having effect in a deed, etc.; (loosely) significant words. 3. of surgical o tions: ~ treatment. n. worker; mech cotton ~s.

op er a tor [ˈɔpəreitə*] n. person operates or works sth.: telephone ( less telegraph) ~s; private ~s in aviation, privately owned comp (contrasted with state-owned cor tions).

op e ret ta [ˌɔpəˈretə] n. one-act, or s light musical comedy.

oph thal mia [ɔfˈθælmiə] n. [U] inf mation of the eye. oph thal mic [ɔf mik] adj. of the eyes; afflicted with

o pi ate [ˈoupiit] n. [C] drug conta opium, used to relieve pain or to sb. to sleep.

o pine [ouˈpain] v.t. (VP 11) hav express the opinion (that).

o pin ion [əˈpinjən] n. 1. [C] beli judgement not founded on com knowledge: political ~s. What 's yo of the new President? Those are m about the affair. have the courag one's ~s, express them and act acc ing to them. act up to one's ~s, according to them. 2. [U] colle beliefs and judgements: in my ~

ems likely to me that . . .; in the ~ of st people, most people seem to believe at . . . I am of the ~ that . . ., I think at . . . public ~, what the majority people think: Public ~ is against the posed change. ~ poll, see ^{1}poll, def. 2. (sing. only. esp. with indef. art. and dj.) estimation: have a good (high, low, or, etc.) ~ of sb. or sth.; have no ~ of sth. ink badly of it. 4. [C] professional stimate or advice: get a lawyer's ~ on question. You had better have another before you let that man take out all r teeth. ~at ed [əˈpinjəneitid] adj. stinate in one's ~s; dogmatic.

ium [ˈoupjəm] n. [U] substance prepared from poppy seeds, used to relieve ain, cause sleep, and smoked as a drug soothe the senses. ˈ~-den n. place here ~ smokers can obtain and use is drug.

pos sum [əˈposəm] n. kinds of small merican animal that lives in trees.

po nent [əˈpounənt] n. person against hom one fights, struggles, plays games, r argues.

por tune [ˈɔpətjuːn] adj. 1. (of time) uitable, favourable; good for a purose: arrive at a most ~ moment. 2. (of n action or event) done, coming, at a avourable time: an ~ remark (speech). ~ly adv.

por tun ism [ˈɔpətjunizəm] n. [U] eing guided by what seems possible, r by circumstances, in determining olicy; preferring what can be done to hat should be done. op por tun ist [ˈɔpətjunist] n. person who acts on this rinciple; person who is more anxious to ain an advantage for himself than to onsider whether he is trying to get it airly.

por tu ni ty [ˌɔpəˈtjuːniti] n. [C &] favourable time or chance (for sth., f doing sth., to do sth.): have few pportunities of meeting interesting eople; have no (little, not much) ~ for earing good music. I had no ~ to discuss the matter with her. The ~ for the eformers to do this came in 1905.

pose [əˈpouz] v.t. 1. (VP 1) set oneelf, fight, against (sb. or sth.): ~ the Government; ~ a scheme. I am very much ~d to your going abroad, I am gainst the plan. 2. (VP 18) put forard as a contrast or opposite; set up gainst: ~ your will against mine (your iews to mine); ~ a vigorous resistance o the enemy.

po site [ˈɔpəzit] adj. 1. (often with o omitted) facing; front to front or back to back (with): the house ~ (to) mine; on the ~ side of the road. 2. entirely different; contrary: in the ~ direction. 3. similarly placed elsewhere: ~ number, person or thing occupying the same or a similar position in another group, etc.: The British Foreign Minister is in Washington discussing problems with his ~ number. n. word or thing that is ~: Black and white are ~s. I thought quite the ~.

op po si tion [ˌɔpəˈziʃən] n. 1. [U] the state of being opposite or opposed: The Socialist Party was in ~, formed the O~ (see def. 2). We found ourselves in ~ to our friends on this question. 2. (sing.) M.P.'s of the political party or parties opposing the Government: Her Majesty's O~; the leader of the O~; the O~ benches. We need a stronger O~. 3. [U] resistance: Our forces met with strong ~ all along the front.

op press [əˈpres] v.t. (VP 1) 1. rule unjustly or cruelly; keep down by unjust or cruel government. 2. (fig.) weigh heavily on; cause to feel troubled, uncomfortable: ~ed with anxiety (with a foreboding of misfortune); feel ~ed with the heat. ~or n. person who ~es; cruel or unjust ruler.

op pres sion [əˈpreʃən] n. 1. [U] the condition of being oppressed: a feeling of ~. 2. [U] oppressing or being oppressed: victims of ~; [C] instance of this; cruel or unjust act.

op pres sive [əˈpresiv] adj. 1. unjust: ~ laws (rules). 2. hard to endure; overpowering: ~ weather (heat, taxes). ~ly adv. ~ness n.

op pro bri ous [əˈproubriəs] adj. (of words, etc.) showing scorn or reproach; abusive. ~ly adv.

op pro bri um [əˈproubriəm] n. [U] scorn; disgrace; public shame.

op pugn [əˈpjuːn] v.t. (VP 1) call in question; be contrary to.

opt [ɔpt] v.i. (VP 24) exercise an option, make a choice (for one of a number of things, between alternatives). ~ out, (colloq.) declare that one will not exercise an option (to do or have sth.).

op ta tive [ˈɔptətiv] adj. & n. (of) verbal form expressing desire: ~ mood (e.g. in Greek, but not in English).

op tic [ˈɔptik] adj. of the eye or the sense of sight: the ~ nerve (from the eye to the brain). op tics n. (sing. v.) science of sight and the laws of light.

op ti cal [ˈɔptikəl] adj. 1. of the sense of sight: an ~ illusion, sth. by which the eye is deceived. 2. for looking through; to help eyesight: ~ instruments (e.g. microscopes, telescopes); ~ glass (the kind used for ~ instruments). ~ly adv.

op ti cian [ɔpˈtiʃən] n. person who makes or sells optical instruments, esp. eyeglasses.

op ti mism [ˈɔptimizəm] n. [U] belief that in the end good will triumph over evil; tendency to look upon the bright side of things; confidence in success.

op ti mist [ˈɔptimist] n. person who looks upon the bright side of things, who believes that all things happen for the best.

op ti mis tic [ˌɔptiˈmistik] adj. expecting the best; confident: an ~ view of events. op ti mis ti cal ly adv.

op ti mum [ˈɔptiməm] n. (attrib.) best or most favourable: the ~ temperature for the growth of plants.

op tion [ˈɔpʃən] n. 1. [U] right or power of choosing: I haven't much ~ in the matter, cannot choose. I had no ~, was forced to act as I did. He was given six months' imprisonment without the ~ of a fine. local ~, right of people (in some towns, districts) to decide, by voting, whether or not to have or allow sth. (e.g. the sale of alcoholic liquor). 2. [C] thing that is or may be chosen: None of the ~s is satisfactory. 3. [C] (commercial use) right to buy or sell sth. at a certain price within a certain period of time: have an ~ on a piece of land. ~al [ˈɔpʃənl] adj. which may be chosen or not as one wishes; not compulsory: ~al subjects at school. ~al ly adv.

op u lence [ˈɔpjuləns] n. [U] wealth; abundance. op u lent adj. rich; wealthy; luxuriant: ~ vegetation. op u lent ly adv.

o pus [ˈɔpəs, ˈoupəs] n. (pl. opera, rarely used) separate musical composition (abbr. op., used in citing a composition by number, as Beethoven, Op. 112). magnum ~, great literary undertaking, completed or in course of being written.

or [ɔ:, ə] conj. 1. (introducing an alternative): Is it green or blue? Are you coming or not? either . . . or, see either, II, 3. whether . . . or: I don't care whether he stays or goes. or else, otherwise; if not: Hurry up or (else) you'll be late. 2. (introducing all but the first of a series): I'd like it to be black, (or) white, or grey. 3. (introducing a word that explains, or means the same as, another): an English pound, or twenty shillings; a dugout, or a canoe made by hollowing out a tree trunk; geology, or the science of the earth's crust. 4. or so (often equivalent to about; suggesting vagueness or uncertainty): I'd like twenty or so. or somebody (something, somewhere): I put it in the cupboard or somewhere (i.e. somewhere, perhaps in the cupboard).

or a cle [ˈɔrəkl] n. 1. (in ancient Greece) (answer given at) place where questions about the future were asked of the gods; priest(ess) giving the answers: consult the ~. 2. person considered able to give reliable guidance. o rac u lar [ɔ:ˈrækjulə*, ə-] adj. of or like an ~; with a hidden meaning: oracular utterances.

o ral [ˈɔ:rəl] adj. 1. using the spoken, not the written, word: an ~ examination. 2. (anatomy) of, by, for, the mouth: ~ contraceptives. n. (colloq.) ~ examination. ~ly adv. by spoken words; by the mouth: not to be taken ~ly, (e.g. of me preparations) not to be swallowed external use.

or ange [ˈɔrindʒ] n. & adj. [C] (evergreen tree with) round, thick-skinned juicy fruit, green when unripe and yellowish when ripe; [U] colour of the ripe fruit (between yellow and red). ~ade [ˈɔrindʒˈeid] n. [U] drink made of orange juice.

Orang

o rang-ou tang, o rang-u tan [ˈɔ:ræŋˈu:tæŋ, -tæn] n. large, long-armed ape of Borneo Sumatra.

o ra tion [ɔ:ˈreiʃən] n. 1. [C] fo speech made on a public occasion funeral ~. 2. [U] (grammar) wa speaking: direct (indirect) ~, direct ported) speech.

or a tor [ˈɔrətə*] n. person who m speeches (esp. a good speaker).

or a tor i cal [ˌɔrəˈtɔrikəl] adj. of spe making and orators: ~ phrases tures); an ~ contest.

or a to ri o [ˌɔrəˈtɔ:riou] n. (pl. ~s musical composition for solo vo chorus, and orchestra, usu. wit biblical subject: the ~s of Handel; musical compositions of this kind co tively: Do you like ~?

1or a to ry [ˈɔrətəri] n. [C] small chape private worship or prayer.

2or a to ry [ˈɔrətəri] n. [U] (art of) ma speeches; rhetoric.

orb [ɔ:b] n. globe, esp. the sun, moo one of the stars.

or bit [ˈɔ:bit] n. path followed by heavenly body round another: earth's ~ round the sun. How m earth satellites are now in ~? v.i. (VP 23) move in ~. ~al [ˈɔ:bitl] adj. of a the Sputnik's ~al distance from the e or chard [ˈɔ:tʃəd] n. [C] piece of gro (usu. enclosed) with fruit-trees: ap ~s.

or ches tra [ˈɔ:kistrə] n. 1. band persons playing musical instrument cluding stringed instruments) togeth a dance ~; a symphony ~. (Cf. b band.) 2. place in a theatre for an ~ stalls, front seats on the floor theatre. (See the illustr. at theatre. semicircular space in front of the s of a theatre in ancient Greece, where chorus sang and danced. or ches [ɔ:ˈkestrəl] adj. of, for, by, an ~: orc tral performances.

or ches trate [ˈɔ:kistreit] v.t. (VP compose, arrange, score, for orche performance. or ches tra tion [ˌɔ: ˈtreiʃən, -kis-] n.

or chid [ˈɔ:kid] orchis [ˈɔ:kis] n. sorts of plant of which the English kinds (usu. orchis) have tuberous r

the tropical kinds (usu. orchid) have wers of brilliant colours and fantastic pes.
lain [ɔːˈdein] v.t. 1. (VP 1, 8) make .) a priest or minister: He was ~ed
est. 2. (VP 3, 10, 11) (of God, law, hority) decide; give orders (that);
tine: ~ed to eternal life; ~ sb. to per-
ion. God has ~ed that all men shall die.
eal [ɔːˈdiːl, -ˈdiəl] n. 1. [U] (in former nes) method of deciding sb.'s guilt or nocence by requiring him to pass a ysical test, such as passing through unharmed or fighting his accuser:
l by ~; ~ by fire; ~ by battle. 2. [C] severe test of character or endur-re: pass through terrible ~s.
ler [ˈɔːdə*] n. 1. [U] way in which ngs are placed in relation to one other: names in alphabetical ~; in onological ~ (i.e. according to dates).
~ of, arranged according to: in ~ size (merit, importance, etc.). 2. [U] ndition in which everything is care-ly arranged; working condition:
chinery in good working ~; in good
d) ~, well (badly) arranged; working ll (badly); put a room in ~; in the ht (wrong) ~. Is your passport in ~, ve all the necessary entries been de? The lift is out of ~ so we shall e to walk up. He left his affairs in per~, (e.g. of a man who has died, his counts of money, his papers, etc., efully arranged and settled). My mach is out of ~, is not doing its work operly. 3. [U] (condition brought out by) good and firm government, edience to law, rules, authority: The ny restored law and ~. It is the siness of the police to keep ~. Some chers find it difficult to keep ~ in their sses (to keep their classes in ~). (Cf. order.) 4. [U] rules usual at a public eting; rules accepted (e.g. in Parliaent, committee meetings) by members d enforced by a president, chairman, other officer: on a point of ~, a ques-n of procedure. He was called to ~ the Chairman, requested to keep to e rules, the usual procedures. O~!
~! (used to call attention to a deparre from the usual rules of debate or ocedure). ~ of the day, programme business to be discussed. ˈ~-ˌpaper written or printed ~ of the day.
[C] command given with authority:
ldiers must obey ~s. He gave ~s for work to be started (that the work ould be started) at once. He is under s (= has received ~s) to leave for nland next week. by ~ of, according directions given by proper authority
: by ~ of the Governor. under the s of, commanded by. 6. [C] request supply goods; the goods (to be) pplied: an ~ for two tons of coal; give a tradesman an ~ for goods; fill an ~, supply the goods asked for. The grocer has called for ~s, to ask what is wanted. on ~, requested but not yet supplied. made to ~, made according to the customer's special requirements or instructions (cf. ready-made). a large (tall) ~, (colloq.) sth. difficult to do or supply. ˈ~-*book n. one in which a tradesman or commercial traveller writes down ~s for goods. ˈ~-*form n. printed form with blank spaces to be filled in by the customer. 7. [C] written direction (esp. to a bank or post office) to pay money, or giving authority to do sth.: an ~ on the Midland Bank; a postal ~ for 5s.; an ~ to view (e.g. to inspect a house that is for sale). 8. [U] purpose, intention: in ~ to (do sth.), with the purpose of doing sth., with a view to doing sth.: in ~ (for you) to see clearly; in ~ that, with the intention that; so that: in ~ that he may (might, shall, should) arrive in time. 9. [C] rank or class in society: the ~ of knights (baronets); the lower ~s, name formerly used for those who were called 'the common people' (i.e. peasants, labourers, etc.). 10. [C] group of people belonging to or appointed to a special class (as an honour or reward): the O~ of Merit (of the Bath, the Golden Kite, etc.); badge, sign, etc., worn by members of such an ~: wearing all his ~s and decorations. 11. (pl.) authority given by a bishop to perform church duties: take (holy) ~s, become a priest; be in (holy) ~s, be a priest. 12. [C] class of persons on whom holy ~s have been conferred: the O~ of Deacons (Priests, Bishops). 13. [C] group of persons living under religious rules, esp. a brotherhood of monks: the monastic ~s; the ~ of Templars. 14. [C] method of treating architectural forms, esp. of columns (pillars) and capitals, esp. the classical ~s (Doric, Ionic, Corinthian, etc.). 15. (biology) [C] highest division under class in the grouping of animals, plants, etc.: The rose and the bean families belong to the same ~. 16. [C] kind; sort: intellectual ability of a high ~. 17. arrangement of military forces: place troops in battle ~ (in ~ of battle); advance in open (close) ~, with wide (with only slight) spaces between the men, etc.

²or der [ˈɔːdə*] v.t. 1. (VP 1, 3, 10, 11, 18, 19) give an order (defs. 5, 6, 7) to (sb.) or for sth.: The doctor ~ed me to (stay in) bed. The disobedient boy was ~ed out of the room. The chairman ~ed silence. The regiment was ~ed to the front. The judge ~ed that the prisoner should be remanded. The doctor has ~ed me absolute quiet. She ~ed herself two dozen oysters and a pint of stout. I've ~ed lunch for 1.30. ~ sb. about, keep on giving orders to him. 2. (VP 1, 10) arrange; direct: ~ one's life according to strict rules.

or der ly [ˈɔ:dəli] adj. 1. well arranged; in good order; tidy: an ~ room (desk); methodically inclined: a man with an ~ mind. 2. well behaved; obedient to discipline: an ~ crowd. 3. (army use) concerned with carrying out orders: the ~ officer, the officer on duty for the day; the ~ room, room in barracks where the clerical work is done. n. (army) officer's messenger; attendant in a military hospital. or der li ness n.

or di nal [ˈɔ:dinl] n. & adj. [C] (number) showing order or position in a series: ~ numbers (e.g. first, second, third). (Cf. cardinal.) or di nance [ˈɔ:dinəns] n. [C] order given by authority: the ~s of the City Council.

or di nand [ˌɔ:diˈnænd] n. candidate for ordination.

or di na ry [ˈɔ:dnri, -dinəri] adj. normal; usual; average: an ~ day's work; in ~ dress. in an ~ way, if the circumstances were ~ or usual. ~ seaman, (abbr. O.S.) one who has not yet received the rank of able seaman (abbr. A.B.). in ~, by permanent appointment, not temporary or extraordinary: physician in ~ to Her Majesty. or di na ri ly adv. in an ~ way: behave quite ordinarily.

or di na tion [ˌɔ:diˈneiʃən] n. [U] ceremony of ordaining (a priest or minister); [C] instance of this.

ord nance [ˈɔ:dnəns] n. [U] artillery; munitions: the Army O~ Department (Corps), that which is responsible for military supplies. ~ survey, (the preparation of) official maps of Gt. Brit. and Ireland.

or dure [ˈɔ:djuə*] n. [U] excrement; dung.

ore [ɔ:, ɔə] n. [U & C] (kinds of) rock, earth, etc., from which metal can be extracted: iron ore; a district rich in ores.

or gan [ˈɔ:gən] n. 1. any part of an animal body or plant serving an essential purpose: the ~s of speech (the tongue, teeth, lips, etc.); the nasal ~ (the nose); the ~s of generation. 2. person's voice with reference to its quality or power: a singer with a wonderful ~. 3. means of getting work done; organization: Parliament is the chief ~ of government. 4. means for making known what people think: ~s of public opinion (newspapers, etc.). 5. musical instrument from which sounds are produced by air forced through pipes, played by keys pressed with the fingers and pedals pressed with the feet (in U.S.A. called a ˈpipe-~). reed (American) ~, harmonium (with reeds instead of pipes). ˈ~-ˌblower n. person who works the bellows of an ~. ˈ~-ˌgrinder n. person who plays a *barrel-~. ˈ~-lof gallery (in some churches, etc.) w the ~ is placed. ~ist n. person plays an ~ (def. 5).

or gan die [ˈɔ:gəndi] n. [U] kind of translucent muslin.

or gan ic [ɔ:ˈgænik] adj. 1. of the or of the body: ~ diseases, affecting structure of these organs, not only functions. 2. (opp. inorganic) ha bodily organs: ~ life. ~ chemis dealing with the products of animal vegetable bodies (e.g. the carbon hydrogen compounds). 3. mad related parts; arranged as a sys an ~ (i.e. organized) whole; an ~ structural) part. or gan i cal ly a or gan ism [ˈɔ:gənizəm] n. [C] l being with parts which work toget individual animal or plant; any sy with parts dependent upon each ot the social ~.

or gan i za tion [ˌɔ:gənaiˈzeiʃən] n.
[U] act of organizing; conditio being organized: He is engaged i ~ of a new club. An army witho would be useless. 2. [C] organized bo persons; organized system: The hu body has a very complex ~.

or gan ize [ˈɔ:gənaiz] v.t. (VP 1) put working order; arrange in a sys make preparations for: ~ an arm government, a political party, an pedition to the South Pole, one's oneself). or gan ized adj. furni with organs; made into a living organ highly ~d forms of life. or gan
n. person who ~s things.

or gasm [ˈɔ:gæzəm] n. [C] violent ex ment, esp. the crisis of sexual exciter during intercourse.

or gi as tic [ˌɔ:dʒiˈæstik] adj. of nature of an orgy; frenzied.

or gy [ˈɔ:dʒi] n. [C] 1. occasion of merry-making; (pl.) drunken or li tious revels. 2. (colloq.) successio innocent, pleasant activities: an parties (concerts, spending).

o ri el [ˈɔ:riəl] n. 1. part of a room pr ting from an upper storey and supported from the ground or on corbels and having a window in it. 2. (also ~ window) window of an ~.

An oriel wi

o ri ent [ˈɔ:riənt] n. the O~, (poetical name for) countries east of the Mediterranean, esp. the Far East. adj. (poet.) Eastern; (of the sun) rising: the ~ sun. v.t. = orientate: ~ oneself.

o ri en tal [ˌɔ:riˈentl] adj. of the Ori ~ civilization (art, rugs). n. (cap. O habitant of the Orient, esp. China Japan. ~ist n. person who studies languages, arts, etc., of ~ countries

i en tate [ˈɔːrienteit] v.t. (VP 1) 1. ace (a building, etc.) so as to face east; uild (a church) with the chancel end e east. 2. place or exactly determine e position of (sth.) with regard to the oints of the compass; (fig.) bring into early understood relations: ~ oneself, ake oneself familiar with a situation, termine how one stands in relation to e's surroundings, etc. o ri en ta tion ɔːrienˈteiʃən] n. [U] orientating or eing ~d.

i fice [ˈɔrifis] n. outer opening; mouth f a cave, etc.).

i gin [ˈɔridʒin] n. [U & C] starting-oint: the ~ of a quarrel; the ~(s) of ilization; a man of humble ~ (= paren-ge); words of Latin ~.

ig i nal [əˈridʒənl] adj. 1. first or rliest: the ~ inhabitants of the country. he ~ plan was better than the plan we llowed. 2. newly formed or created; t copied or imitated: ~ ideas; an ~ sign. 3. able to produce new ideas, c.: an ~ thinker (writer); an ~ mind. 1. [C] that from which sth. is copied: his is a copy; the ~ is in the Prado in adrid. 2. (sing. with def. art.) lan-uage in which sth. was first composed: ad Homer in the ~ (i.e. in ancient reek); study Don Quixote in the ~ (i.e. Spanish). 3. [C] eccentric person. ly adv. 1. in an ~ manner: speak hink, write) ~ly. 2. from or in the eginning: The school was ~ly quite nall. ~i ty [əˌridʒiˈnæliti] n. [U] state r quality of being ~: work that lacks ity, i.e. is copied or imitated.

rig i nate [əˈridʒineit] v.i. & t. 1. VP 23, 24) have as a cause or beginning rom or in sth., with or from sb.): The uarrel ~d in rivalry between two tribes. ith whom did the scheme ~? 2. (VP 1) e the author or creator of: ~ a new yle of dancing. o rig i na tor n.

ri ole [ˈɔːrioul] n. (also Golden ~) kinds f bird with black and yellow feathers.

ri son [ˈɔrizən] n. (arch.) prayer.

mo lu [ˈɔːməluː] n. (articles made f, or decorated with) gilded bronze or old-coloured alloy of copper, zinc, and n: an ~ clock.

na ment [ˈɔːnəmənt] n. 1. [U] adorn-g or being adorned; that which is dded for decoration: add sth. by way f ~; an altar rich in ~. 2. [C] sth. esigned or used to add beauty to sth. se: a shelf crowded with ~s (e.g. small ases, statuettes, pieces of china). 3.] person, act, quality, etc., that adds eauty, charm, etc.: He is an ~ to his rofession. or na men tal [ˌɔːnəˈmentl] dj. of or for ~.

na ment [ˈɔːnəment] v.t. (VP 1, 18) e an ornament to; make beautiful: a dress with lace. or na men ta tion ɔːnəmenˈteiʃən] n. [U] ~ing or being ~ed; that which ~s: a church with no ~ation.

or nate [ɔːˈneit] adj. richly ornamented; (of literary style) full of flowery language; not simple in style or vocabulary. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

or ni thol o gy [ˌɔːniˈθɔlədʒi] n. [U] scientific study of birds. or ni thol o gist n. expert in ~.

o ro tund [ˈoroutʌnd] adj. 1. imposing; dignified. 2. pompous; pretentious.

or phan [ˈɔːfən] n. child who has lost one or both of its parents by death; (attrib.) an ~ child. v.t. (VP 1) cause to be an ~: ~ed by war. ~age [ˈɔːfənidʒ] n. charitable home for ~s.

or tho- [ˈɔːθou-] prefix right; straight.

or tho dox [ˈɔːθədɔks] adj. (having opinions, beliefs, etc., which are) generally accepted or approved: an ~ member of the Church; ~ beliefs; ~ behaviour. the O~ Church, the Eastern or Greek Church, recognizing the Patriarch of Constantinople (Istanbul) as its head, and the national churches of Russia, Rumania, etc. ~y n. [U] being ~.

or thog ra phy [ɔːˈθɔgrəfi] n. [U] (system of) spelling; correct or conventional spelling. or tho graph ic [ˌɔːθəˈgræfik] adj.

or tho paed ic [ˌɔːθouˈpiːdik] adj. of the curing of deformities in children or others: ~ surgery.

or to lan [ˈɔːtələn] n. small wild bird valued as a table delicacy.

or yx [ˈɔriks] n. large, straight-horned African antelope.

Os car [ˈɔskə*] n. [C] award (given by the Hollywood Motion Picture Academy) for what is judged to be a great artistic achievement.

os cil late [ˈɔsileit] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21) swing backwards and forwards as the pendulum of a clock does; (fig.) waver or change between extremes of opinion, etc. 2. (VP 1) cause to swing to and fro. 3. (electricity, of current) undergo high frequency alternations; (of wireless receivers) radiate electro-magnetic waves through faulty operation. oscillating current, current whose direction is periodically reversed. os cil la tion [ˌɔsiˈleiʃən] n. oscillating or being ~d; [C] one swing of a pendulum or other object or of an electric charge. os cil la tor [ˈɔsileitə*] n. (esp.) device for producing electric oscillations (e.g. for wireless telegraphy). os cil lo graph [ɔˈsiləgrɑːf] n. instrument for recording on a film, or showing (in waves) on a screen, the oscillations of an electrical current.

os cu la tion [ˌɔskjuˈleiʃən] n. (hum.) kissing.

o sier [ˈouʒə*] n. [C] kind of willow-tree, twigs of which are used in basket-work.

os prey [ˈɔspri] n. (pl. ~s) large bird that preys on fish.

os seous [ˈɔsjəs] adj. consisting of bone; having a bony skeleton.

os si fy [ˈɔsifai] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) make or become hard like bone; change into bone; (fig.) make or become rigid, unprogressive. os si fi ca tion [ˌɔsifiˈkeiʃən] n. ~ing or being ossified; that part of a structure that is ossified.

os ten si ble [ɔsˈtensibl] adj. (of reasons, etc.) put forward in an attempt to hide the real reason; apparent. os ten si bly adv.

os ten ta tion [ˌɔstenˈteiʃən] n. [U] display (of wealth, learning, skill, etc.) to obtain admiration or envy: the ~ of the newly rich.

os ten ta tious [ˌɔstenˈteiʃəs] adj. fond of, showing, ostentation: ~ jewellery; in an ~ manner. ~ly adv.

os te op a thy [ˌɔstiˈɔpəθi] n. [U] treatment of certain diseases by manipulation of the bones and muscles. os te o-path [ˈɔstiəpæθ] n. person who practises ~.

os tler [ˈɔslə*] n. stableman (man who looks after horses) at an inn.

os tra cize [ˈɔstrəsaiz] v.t. (VP 1) 1. shut out from society: refuse to meet, talk to, etc.: People who hold very unorthodox opinions are sometimes ~d. 2. (in ancient Greece) banish by popular vote for ten or five years. os tra cism [ˈɔstrəsizəm] n. [U] ostracizing or being ~d.

os trich [ˈɔstritʃ] n. large, fast-running bird, unable to fly, bred for its valuable tail feathers: have the digestion of an ~, be able to digest almost anything.

An ostrich

oth er [ˈʌðə*] adj., pron., & adv. I. adj. & pron. (person or thing) not the same as one or more or some already named or implied. 1. (sing. with the def. art., referring to the second of two): The twins are so much alike that people find it difficult to know (the) one from the ~. One of them is mine; the ~ is my sister's. The post office is on the ~ side of the street. on the ~ hand, used (sometimes, but not always, after on the one hand) to introduce sth. in contrast to an earlier statement, etc.: It's cheap, but on the ~ hand the quality is poor. 2. (pl. with the def. art., when the reference is to two or more): Six of them are mine; the ~s are John's. Where are the ~ boys? 3. (with the indef. art., written and printed as one word, an~) an additional (one); a different one. (See the entry for another.) Will you have an~ cup of tea? I won't say an~ word about it. I don't like this one; can you show me an~? The pl. of an~ is some (any) ~s or some ( more: I don't like these. Have you ~s (any more)? Please let me see ~s (some more). 4. (when one mem of a group is compared with any member of the group, other must be used): Green is far better as a bo than any ~ member of the team.
(phrases) the ~ day, a few days . . . or ~, used to suggest abs of certainty or precision: I shal coming again some day or ~ (= on these days). I'll get there somehow (i.e. by one means if not by an~). So one or ~ (= some unknown person) left the gate open. one after the one after an~, in succession, not gether. every ~, (a) all the ~s:
is stupid; every ~ boy in the class kn
the answer. (b) alternate: Write onl every ~ line. each ~, see each, II one an~, see one, III, 3. ~ thi being equal, if conditions are (were) same or alike except for the poin question: O~ things being equal, would marry Jim, not Tom, but Jin poor and Tom is rich. 6. different:
not wish her ~ than she is. The ques must be decided by quite ~ considerati II. adv. (= otherwise) in a diffe way: I could not do it ~ than hurrie

oth er wise [ˈʌðəwaiz] adv. 1. in ano or different way: You evidently thin
He should have been working but he ~ engaged, he was doing sth. differ
2. in other or different respects; in di ent conditions: The rent is high, bu
the house is satisfactory. conj. if not else: Do what you've been told; ~ you be punished.

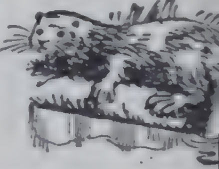
o ti ose [ˈouʃious] adj. serving no pra cal purpose; not required; functionl ot ter [ˈɔtə*] n. [C] fur-covered, fish-eating water animal with four webbed feet and a flat tail; [U] its fur.



An otter

ot to man [ˈɔtəmən] n. long cushioned seat without back or arms, often used a box (e.g. for storing bedding).

oub li ette [ˌu:bliˈet] n. secret dung (underground prison) with entrance o by a trapdoor.

ought [ɔ:t] anom. fin. (defective; no inf tive, no participles, no inflected for ought not is contracted to oughtn't.
past time, ought is used with a per infinitive; in reported speech, the per infinitive is not always necessary.) (indicating duty or obligation; syno mous with one sense of should): I ou to start at once. Such things ~ not t allowed, ~ they? A: 'O~ I to go?' es, I think you ~ (to).' You ~ to have ne that earlier. I told him (that) he to do it (i.e. now, or in future). I told m (that) he ~ to have done it (i.e. in the ast). 2. (indicating what is advisable, sirable, or right): There ~ to be more ses during the rush hours. You ~ (i.e. advise you) to see that new film at the deon. Coffee ~ to be drunk while it is t. Your brother ~ to have been a doctor e. he would probably have been a good ctor). 3. (indicating probability): If started at nine, he ~ to be here now. hat ~ to be enough fish for three people, think. Harry ~ to win the race.

i ja ['wiːdʒɑː] n. (also ~-board) board ttered with the alphabet, and with ther signs, used in seances to obtain essages said to come from the spirits the dead.

nce [auns] n. unit of weight, onexteenth of a pound avoirdupois or ne-twelfth of a pound troy. (See Apendix 1.)

r ['auə*] adj. of or belonging to us, at we are concerned with, etc.: We ave done our share. Our Father, God. ur Lady, the Virgin Mary.

rs ['auəz] pron. & predic. adj. (the ne or ones) belonging to us: This house s ~. Don't stay at their house; stay at ~. ~ is larger than theirs. Let me show ou some of ~. This dog of ~ never wins ny prizes. The land became ~ by purhase.

r selves [ˌauə'selvz] reflex. & emhat. pron. 1. (reflex.) It's no use orrying ~ about that. We shall give ~ he pleasure of visiting you soon. 2. emphat.) We ~ have often made that nistake (or) We've often made that misake ~. We'd better go and see the house for) ~, i.e. not be content to rely upon hat others say. (all) by ~, (a) without elp. (b) alone, without company: ome in; we're all by ~, there are no isitors, etc.

st [aust] v.t. (VP 1, 18) drive or push sb.) out (from his employment, position, tc.): ~ a rival from office.

t [aut] adv. part. (for special uses in ombination with vv., see the v. entries). . away from, not in or at, a place, the sual or normal condition, etc.: go out; un out; walk out; take sb. out; order sb. ut; find one's way out; lock sb. out; hrow sth. out. Out you go! (i.e. Go out!) ut with it! (i.e. Bring it out!) 2. (with e, various meanings): Mrs White is out .e. not at home) just now. The manager s out (i.e. not in the office). The dockers re out again (i.e. on strike). The book wanted was out (i.e. had been borrowed; as not in the library). The tide is out .e. low). The ship was four days out rom Lisbon (i.e. had sailed from Lisbon our days earlier). The Socialist party was out (i.e. out of office; not in power). Short skirts are out (i.e. out of fashion). be out and about, (of a person who has been in bed through illness or injury) able to get up, go outdoors, etc. 3. (in various phrases to indicate absence from home): We don't go out much. Let's have an evening out (e.g. at a theatre or concert, or having dinner at a restaurant, etc.). The servant has her meals with us but sleeps out (i.e. not in our house). We're dining out this evening. It's the servant's day out (i.e. her free day, when she is not required to work). 4. (with advv. and adv. phrases, to emphasize the idea of distance): He lives out in the country. My brother is out in Australia. He lived out East for many years. The fishing boats are all out at sea. What are you doing out there? 5. (indicating liberation from confinement or restraint; into the open; exposed; discovered): The secret is out (i.e. discovered, known). The apple blossom is out (i.e. open). The sun is out (i.e. not hidden by cloud). The floods are out (i.e. spreading over the land). His new book is out (i.e. published). Is your daughter out yet (i.e. introduced to society, taking part with grown-ups in social affairs)? There's a warrant out (i.e. issued) against him. Out with it! (i.e. Tell the news! Explain it, etc., according to context.) It's the best game out (i.e. the best ever invented). 6. (indicating exhaustion, extinction): The fire (gas, candle, etc.) is out (i.e. not burning). The fire has burnt out. The lease (copyright) is out (i.e. has reached the end of its term). The warships steamed towards the enemy with all lights out. Put that cigarette out! The wind blew the candles out. The candle blew out. 7. (to or at an end; completely) I'm tired out. He'll be here before the week is out. She had her cry out (i.e. continued crying until this brought relief). Let her have her sleep out (i.e. have all the sleep she needs). Used with many verbs, as hear sb. out, work out a problem, supplies running out. out and out, thorough(ly); surpassing(ly): He's a scoundrel out and out (an out-and-out scoundrel). out and away, by far: I was out and away the handsomest man in the room. have it out with sb., see have, IV, def. 7. 8. (indicating error): I'm out in my calculations (reckoning). We're ten pounds out in our accounts. You're not far out (i.e. not much in error; almost right). Your guess was a long way out (i.e. badly in error). You've put me out (i.e. distracted me, upset the thread of my ideas, etc.). My watch is five minutes out (more usu. five minutes slow or fast). 9. (indicating clearness or loudness): call (cry, shout) out; say sth. out loud

(i.e. in a loud voice): speak out (i.e. clearly, or without hesitation); bring out (i.e. make clearer) the meaning of a paragraph by paraphrasing it; tell sb. sth. straight out, right out (i.e. without keeping anything back, without ambiguity). 10. (in phrases) be out for, be engaged in seeking, interested in obtaining: I'm not out for compliments. He's out for your blood (i.e. anxious to attack you). out to × inf., trying or hoping to: I'm not out (i.e. it is not my aim) to reform the world. The firm is out to capture the Canadian market. all out, exerting the maximum power or effort: His new car does 80 miles an hour when it's going all out. 11. (cricket) (of a batsman) no longer batting; having been bowled, caught, etc.: The captain was out for three. Kent all out, 137 (i.e. innings ended for 137 runs). 12. out of ['aut əv] prep. (contrasted with in and into). (See the n. & v. entries for special uses. E.g. *out of date; *out of the way.) (a) (of place): Fish cannot live out of water. Mr Green is out of town this week. This plant is not found out of (i.e. is found only in) a small area in Central Asia. (b) (of movement); He walked out of the shop. He jumped out of bed. We pulled the cart out of the ditch. (c) (indicating motive or cause): It was done out of mischief (spite). They helped us out of pity (kindness). She asked only out of curiosity. (d) (= from among); Choose one out of these ten. It happens in nine cases out of ten. This is only one instance out of several. (e) (= by the use of; from): The hut was made out of old planks. She made a hat out of bits of old material. Can good ever come out of evil? (f) (= without): out of breath (breathless); out of work (unemployed); out of patience; (born) out of wedlock, of unmarried parents. We're out of tea (petrol) (i.e. we have no tea, petrol, left). This book is out of stock (i.e. there are no copies left in the shop). (g) (indicating condition) out of fashion; out of control; out of order; out of danger. (See the noun entries.) (h) (indicating origin or source): a scene out of a play; drink out of a cup (a bottle); copy sth. out of a book; steps cut out of the solid rock; paid for out of the housekeeping money; a dog and a cat eating out of the same dish. (i) (indicating result): talk sb. out of doing sth. (i.e. talk to him with the result that he does not do it); reason sb. out of his fears; cheat sb. out of his money; (colloq.) be done (= cheated) out of sth.; frighten sb. out of his wits. (j) (at a certain distance from): The ship struck a mine ten miles out of Hull. out of it, (a) not invited to be a member of a party, etc.; sad for this reason: She felt out of it as she watched the others set out on the picnic.
(b) wrongly informed; mistaken: ha guessed incorrectly: You're absolu out of it! (c) not concerned with, involved in, sth.: It's a dishonest sch and I'm glad to be out of it. 13. ( as n.) the ins and outs, (a) thos office and those out of office; Government and the Opposition.
the details (of procedure, etc.). v.t.
or colloq.) eject by force.

out back ['autbæk] adj. & n. (e.g Australia) (of) the more remote sparsely populated areas.

out bal ance [aut'bæləns] v.t. (VP weigh down; outweigh.

out bid [aut'bid] v.t. (-dd-) (VP 1) beyond in bidding; bid higher t (another person) at an auction, etc.

out board ['autbɔːd] adj. placed or

An outboard motor

near the outside of a ship or boat: ~ motor, one that is attached at stern, outside the boat.

out bound ['autbaund] adj. (of a s outward bound; going away fron home port.

out brave [aut'breiv] v.t. (VP 1) d ~ the storm.

out break ['autbreik] n. [C] break out: an ~ of anger (fever, hostilities).

out build ing ['autˌbildiŋ] n. build (e.g. a shed or stable) separate f the main building: a ten-roomed fa house, with useful ~s.

out burst ['autbəːst] n. [C] bursting (of steam, energy, laughter, anger, e out cast ['autkɑːst] n. & adj. (per or animal) driven out from home society; homeless and friendless.

out caste ['autkɑːst] n. & adj. (e.g India) (person) having lost, or been pelled from, or not belonging to, a ca out class [aut'klɑːs] v.t. (VP 1) be m better than; surpass: He was ~ed f

the start of the race, his competitors w much better.

out come ['autkʌm] n. [C] effect or re of an event, or of circumstances.

out crop ['autkrɔp] n. [C] that part a layer or vein (of rock, etc.) which be seen above the surface of the grou out cry ['autkrai] n. 1. [C] loud sh or scream (of fear, alarm, etc.). 2 & U] public protest (against sth.).

out dat ed [aut'deitid] adj. made ou date (by the passing of time).

out dis tance [aut'distəns] v.t. (VP travel faster than, and leave behind: ~d all his competitors in the mile race do [aut'du:] v.t. (VP 1) do more or ier than: Not to be outdone (i.e. not nting to let someone do better than himself had done), he tried again.

door ['autdɔ:* -dɔə*] adj. (attrib.
ly) done, existing, used, outside a use or building: leading an ~ life
g. of a person fond of open-air games d sport); ~ dress (clothes) (worn outside house); ~ sports (cf. indoor games).

doors [aut'dɔ:z -'dɔəz] adv. in the n air; outside: It's cold ~. In hot ntries it's possible to sleep ~. Farm rkers spend most of their time ~.

t er ['autə*] adj. of or for the outside . inner); farther from the middle or in-le: ~ garments (cf. underwear); the ~ urbs; journeys to ~ space (e.g. to the anet Mars); the ~ man, his personal pearance, dress, etc. ~most ['autəoust] adj. farthest from the inside or ntre.

t face [aut'feis] v.t. (VP 1) face boldly;
are at (sb.) until he turns his eyes way; cause (sb.) to be out of coun-nance.

t fall ['autfɔ:l] n. place where water lls or flows out (of a lake, river, etc.);
utlet; river mouth.

t field ['autfi:ld] n. (usu. sing. with the
ef. art.) (cricket and baseball) part of e field farthest from the batsmen; the elders there. ~er n.

t fight ing ['aut,faitiŋ] n. [U] (cf. inghting) boxing at arm's length.

t fit ['autfit] n. [C] all the clothing or rticles needed for a purpose: a camping ~ (tent, etc.); a boy's ~ for school; a arpenter's ~ (his tools, etc.). v.t. (-tt-) t out (chiefly in the p.p. ~ted). ~ter n.
hopkeeper selling clothes: a gentlemen's ~ter, tradesman selling men's clothes.

t flank [aut'flæŋk] v.t. (VP 1) go or ass round the flank of (the enemy): an ~ing movement.

t flow ['autflou] n. [C] flowing out:
n ~ of water (bad language); the ~ of old bullion.

t gen er al [aut'dʒenərəl] v.t. (-ll-) VP 1) defeat by superior skill on the art of one's general(s).

t go ['autgou] n. (pl. -goes) (opp. of ncome) that which goes out or is paid ut; expenditure.

t go ing ['aut,gouiŋ] adj. (attrib. only) oing out; leaving: the ~ tenant, the one who is giving up the house, etc.; an ~ hip (tide). out go ings n. pl. expendi-ure; outlay.

t grow [aut'grou] v.t. (VP 1) grow too arge or too tall for (e.g. one's clothes); row faster or taller than (e.g. one's rother); leave behind, as one grows lder (bad habits, childish interests, pinions, etc.): ~ one's strength, grow oo quickly (during childhood), so that he health suffers.

out growth ['autgrouθ] n. [C] 1. natural development or product. 2. that which grows out of sth.; offshoot: an ~ on a tree.

out-her od [aut'herəd] v.t. (VP1) (also ~-Herod) be more cruel, violent, etc., than King Herod (King of the Jews when Jesus was born).

out house ['authaus] n. small building adjoining the main building (e.g. a shed, barn, or stable).

out ing ['autiŋ] n. [C] 1. holiday away from home; pleasure trip: go for an ~; an ~ to the seaside. 2. practice row (e.g. by a racing crew); practice gallop (by a race-horse).

out land ish [aut'lændiʃ] adj. looking or sounding strange or foreign: ~ dress. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

out last [aut'lɑ:st] v.t. (VP 1) last or live longer than.

out law ['autlɔ:] n. (in olden times) person punished by being placed outside the protection of the law; criminal. v.t. (VP 1) make (sb.) an ~; drive out from society. ~ry ['autlɔ:ri] n. [U] being an ~; being ~ed.

out lay ['autlei] n. [U] spending; laying out money; [C] sum of money that is spent: a large ~ on (for) scientific research.

out let ['autlet] n. 1. way out for water, steam, etc.: an ~ for water; the ~ of a lake. 2. (fig.) means of or occasion for releasing (one's feelings, energies, etc.): Boys need an ~ for their energies.

out line ['autlain] n. [C] 1. line(s) showing shape or boundary: an ~ map of Great Britain; draw sth. in ~. 2. statement of the chief facts, points, etc.: an ~ for an essay (a lecture); An O~ of European History, book with a summary of the chief events, etc. v.t. (VP 1) draw in ~; give an ~ of: ~ Napoleon's Russian campaign.

out live [aut'liv] v.t. (VP 1) 1. live longer than: ~ one's wife. 2. live until sth. is forgotten: ~ a disgrace.

out look ['autluk] n. 1. view on which one looks out: a pleasant ~ over the valley; an ~ on to roofs and chimneys. 2. what seems likely to happen: a bright ~ for trade; (weather forecast) further ~, dry and sunny. 3. person's way of looking at sth.: a man with a narrow ~ on life.

out ly ing ['aut,laiiŋ] adj. far from the centre: ~ villages, with poor communications.

out ma nœu vre [,autmə'nu:və*] v.t. overcome, get the better of, by being superior in manœuvring.

out march [aut'mɑ:tʃ] v.t. (VP 1) surpass by marching faster or longer.

out match [aut'mætʃ] v.t. (VP 1) be more than a match for; excel: be ~ed in skill and endurance.

out mod ed [aut'moudid] adj. out of fashion.

out most ['autmoust] adj. = outermost.

out num ber [aut'nʌmbə*] v.t. (VP 1) be greater in number than.

out-of-door ['autəv'dɔ:*] adj. = outdoor.

out-of-the-way ['autəvðə'wei] adj. 1. remote; secluded: an ~ cottage. 2. not commonly known: ~ items of knowledge.

out pa tient ['autˌpeiʃənt] n. person visiting a hospital for treatment but not lodged there.

out play [aut'plei] v.t. (VP 1) play better than: The English team was ~ed by the Peruvians.

out point [aut'pɔint] v.t. (VP 1) (in boxing, etc.) score more points than; defeat on points: The British champion was ~ed by the Mexican.

out port ['autpɔ:t] n. port or harbour away from a central custom-house or centre of trade.

out post ['autpoust] n. 1. (soldiers in an) observation post at a distance from the main body of troops. 2. any distant settlement: an ~ of the Roman Empire.

out pour ing ['autˌpɔ:riŋ] n. [C] pouring out; (usu. pl.) expression of feeling: the ~s of the heart.

out put ['autput] n. quantity of goods, etc., produced: the ~ of a gold mine (a factory); the literary ~ of the year, the books, etc., published.

out rage ['autreidʒ, -ridʒ] n. [U & C] 1. (act of) extreme violence or cruelty: never safe from ~; ~s committed by a drunken mob. Would the use of H-bombs be an ~ against humanity? 2. act that shocks public opinion: an ~ upon decency. v.t. (VP 1) treat violently; be guilty of an ~ upon; violate; ravish; assault sexually: ~ public opinion; ~ one's sense of justice; ~ all decency.

out ra geous [aut'reidʒəs] adj. shocking; very cruel, shameless, immoral: ~ behaviour. ~ly *adv.

out range [aut'reindʒ] v.t. (VP 1) have a greater range than: Our guns were ~d by those of the enemy's cruisers.

out rank [aut'ræŋk] v.t. (VP 1) rank higher than.

ou tré ['u:trei] adj. outside the bounds of what is conventionally correct; contrary to what is decorous: ~ behaviour.

out-re lief ['autriˌli:f] n. [U] outdoor relief; help given by the authorities (Relieving Officers) to poor people living in their own homes (not in institutions).

out ride [aut'raid] v.t. (VP 1) ride better or faster than: ~ one's pursuers.

out rid er ['autˌraidə*] n. servant on horseback, or policeman on a motorcycle, accompanying a vehicle, as an attendant or guard.

out rig ger ['autˌrigə*] n. (boating) beam, spar, or structure projecting from or over the side of a boat for vari purposes (e.g. for the rowlock in a racing shell, or to give stability to a canoe or yacht). out rigged ['autrigd] adj. (of a boat) having an ~ or ~s.

An outrigger

out right ['autrait] adj. thorough; positive: an ~ denial; ~ wickedness; an ~ manner (i.e. thoroug frank). adv. [aut'rait] 1. openly, w nothing held back: tell a man ~ what thinks of his behaviour. 2. complete at one time: buy a house ~ (i.e. not instalments); be killed ~ by a blow.

out ri val [aut'raivəl] v.t. (-ll-) (VP 1) or do better than (sb.) as a rival.

out run [aut'rʌn] v.t. (VP 1) run fas or better than; go beyond: His ambil outran his ability, he was ambitious do more than he was able to do.

out run ner ['autˌrʌnə*] n. 1. serv running beside a carriage. 2. lead dog acting as a guide to a team of d pulling a sledge.

out set ['autset] n. start (chiefly in): (from) the ~ (e.g. at the ~ of his caree out shine [aut'ʃain] v.t. (VP 1) sh more brightly than.

out side ['aut'said] n., adj., adv., prep. (contrasted with inside). I. *n. the outer side or surface; the ou part(s): The ~ of the house needs pai ing. Don't judge a thing from the ~ (i from the external appearance). 2. the (very) ~, at the most; at the hi est reckoning: There were only f people there at the ~ (i.e. certainly more than fifty). He earns £450 a y at the ~. II. *adj. (or attrib. use of 1. of or on, nearer, the ~: an ~ (on an open-top bus); ~ repairs (i.e. the ~ of a building); ~ measureme (e.g. of a box); an ~ broadcast (i.e. fro place ~ the studios). 2. greatest possi or probable: an ~ estimate. 3. not co nected with or included in a gro organization, etc.: We shall need ~ h (i.e. extra workers) for this job. doesn't like meeting the ~ world, peo not belonging to the close circle of family and friends. III. *adv. on or the ~: The house is painted green The car is waiting ~. Shall we ride ~ inside? ~ of, (colloq.) = ~, prep. prep. 1. at or on the outer side ~ the house; a ship moored ~ the h bour. 2. beyond the limits of: We can go ~ the evidence. He has no occu ~ his office work.

out si der [aut'saidə*] n. 1. person w is not, or who is not considered to a member of a group, society, et (colloq.) ill-mannered person not ceptable. 2. (racing) horse that is ought to have little chance of winning race.

t size ['autsaiz] adj. (esp. of articles of othing, etc.) larger than the usual size.

t skirts ['autskəːts] n. pl. borders or tlying parts (esp. of a town): on the ~ Lille.

t smart [aut'smaːt] v.t. (VP 1) (colloq.) smarter (= cleverer, more cunning) an.

t span [aut'spæn] v.i. & t. (-nn-) (S. frica) unyoke; unharness.

t spo ken [aut'spoukən] adj. saying eely what one thinks; frank: ~ com- nts; be ~ in one's remarks. ~ly *adv. ness *n.

t spread ['aut'spred] adj. spread or retched out: with '~ arms; with arms t'spread.

t stand ing [aut'stændiŋ] adj. 1. in position to be easily noticed; attract- g notice: the ~ features of the land- ape; an ~ landmark. The boy who n the scholarship was quite ~. 2. (of roblems, work, payments, etc.) still to attended to: ~ debts (liabilities); a d deal of work still ~. 3. ['autstændiŋ] ticking out: a boy with big, ~ ears. ~ly dv.

ut stay [aut'stei] v.t. (VP 1) stay longer han: ~ the other guests; ~ one's wel- ome, stay until one is no longer a wel- ome guest.

ut stretched ['aut'stretʃt] adj. stretched r spread out: with 'outstretched arms; ie out'stretched on the grass.

ut strip [aut'strip] v.t. (-pp-) (VP 1) do etter than; pass (sb.) in a race, etc.: The hare was ~ped by the tortoise.

ut vie ['aut'vai] v.t. (VP 1) do better han in competition.

ut vote [aut'vout] v.t. (VP 1) win, btain, more votes than.

ut ward ['autwəd] adj. 1. of or on the utside: the ~ appearance of things; the ~ man (contrasted with the spiritual ature, the soul). 2. going out: during he ~ voyage. adv. (also outwards 'autwədz]) towards the outside; away rom home or the centre: The two ends nust be bent ~s. The ship is ~ bound, ailing away from its home port. ~ly dv. on the surface; apparently: Though adly frightened she appeared ~ly calm.

ut wear [aut'wɛə*] v.t. (VP 1) 1. last onger than: Well-made leather shoes ill ~ two pairs of these cheap rubber hoes. 2. wear out; use up; exhaust esp. in the p.p. outworn ['autwɔːn] when ttrib.): outworn quotations, used so often hat they no longer strike the listener or eader; outworn (out-of-date) practices in ndustry.

ut weigh [aut'wei] v.t. (VP 1) be greater n weight, value, or importance than: Do the disadvantages ~ the advantages?

out wit [aut'wit] v.t. (-tt-) (VP 1) get the better of by being cleverer or more cunning than: The thief ~ted the police and got away with his loot.

out work ['autwəːk] n. part of a military defence system away from the centre: the ~s of a castle.

out worn ['aut'wɔːn] see outwear, def. 2.

ou zel ['uːzl] n. kinds of small bird.

ou zo ['uːzou] n. [U] aniseed liqueur.

o va ['ouvə] n. pl. of ovum.

o val ['ouvəl] n. & adj. egg-shaped; shaped like an ellipse; plane figure or outline, as shown here.

An oval

o va ry ['ouvəri] n. either of the two reproductive organs in which ova (see ovum) are produced in female animals; seed-vessel in a plant.

o va tion [ou'veiʃən] n. [C] enthusiastic expression of welcome or approval.

ov en ['ʌvn] n. 1. enclosed box-like space which is heated for cooking food: Bread is baked in an ~. 2. small furnace or kiln used in chemistry, etc.

[1]o ver ['ouvə*] adv. & prep. I. *adv. (See the verb entries for special combinations, e.g. give over.) 1. (indicating movement from an upright position, from one side to the other side, or so that a different side is seen, etc.) He fell ~ on the ice. Don't knock that vase ~. A slight push would send it ~. He gave me a push and ~ I went (i.e. I fell). Turn the patient ~ on his face and rub his back. Turn ~ the page. It rolled ~ and ~ (i.e. made a series of revolutions). He turned ~ in bed. 2. (indicating motion upwards and outwards): The milk boiled ~. He was boiling ~ with rage. 3. from beginning to end; through: I'll look the papers ~ (i.e. look or read through them). You should think it ~ (i.e. consider the matter carefully). 4. (indicating repetition): Count them ~ (i.e. again). ~ again: He did the work so badly that I had to do it all ~ again myself. ~ and ~ *again, repeatedly; many times: I've warned you ~ and ~ again not to do that. 5. across (a street, an open space, a distance, etc.): Take these letters ~ to the post office. Let me row you ~ to the other side of the lake. Ask him ~. He's ~ in (has gone ~ to) France. Come ~ and see me some time. Some wild geese have just flown ~. ~ *against, (a) opposite to. (b) in contrast with. 6. remaining; not used after part has been taken or used: Seven into thirty goes four times and two ~. If there's any meat (left) ~, give it to the dog. I've paid all my debts and have £15 ~. 7. in addition; in excess; more: children of fourteen and ~; 10 feet and a bit ~. 8. ended; finished; done with: The meeting will be ~ before we arrive

if we don't hurry. The storm is ~. His sufferings will soon be ~. It's all ~ with him (i.e. he's ruined, sure to die soon, etc., according to context). 9. more than is right, usual, wise, etc. (see over- below): ~(-)anxious; ~(-)polite. If she grieves ~ much, she may fall ill. He's not ~ strong (i.e. not so strong as is desirable). He hasn't done it ~ well (i.e. he has done it rather badly). 10. (indicating transference or change from one person, party, etc., to another): He has gone ~ to the enemy (i.e. joined them). He made his business ~ to his son (i.e. made his son the owner). Hand that weapon ~ to me. O~! (or) O~ to you! (in radio-telephony, etc.) It is now your turn to speak. 11. on the whole surface; in all parts: He was aching all ~. This pianist is famous all the world ~. Your clothes are all ~ dust (are dusty all ~). Paint the old name ~ (i.e. cover it with paint). That's Smith all ~ (i.e. it is characteristic of him, what he might be expected to do). II. prep. 1. resting on the surface of and covering, partly or completely (not, in this sense, replaceable by above): He spread his handkerchief ~ his face to keep the flies off. Spread a cloth ~ the table. Tie a piece of paper firmly ~ the top of the jar. I knocked the man's hat ~ his eyes (i.e. so that he couldn't see). 2. at or to a level higher than, but not touching (in this sense often replaceable by above): Attendants held a large umbrella ~ (above) the chief's head. The sky is ~ (above) our heads. These telegraph wires ~ the streets are ugly. The balcony juts out ~ the street. There was a lamp ~ the table. 3. (indicating superiority in rank, authority, etc.): He reigns ~ a great empire. He has jurisdiction ~ three provinces. These people need a firm ruler ~ them. He has no command ~ himself (~ his passions). A general is ~ a colonel. Mr White is ~ me in the office. 4. in or across every part of: Snow is falling ~ the north of England. He is famous all ~ the world. (Cf. I, def. 11.) He has travelled all ~ Europe. 5. from one side to the other of: to or at the other side of: He escaped ~ the frontier. She spoke to me ~ her shoulder. Look ~ the hedge. We heard voices from ~ the fence. Who lives in that house ~ the way (i.e. on the opposite side of the road or street)? 6. (of time) Can you stay ~ Sunday (i.e. until Monday)? She won't live ~ today (i.e. will die before the day is ended). 7. so as to be ~ and on the other side of: climb ~ a wall; jump ~ a brook. 8. more than: He spoke for ~ an hour. He stayed in London (for) ~ a month. She is ~ 40 in. round the waist. The river is ~ fifty miles long. He's ~ fifty. ~ and above, besides; in addition to: The waiters get good tips ~ and above their wages. 9. in connexion with; while engaged in; concerning: He wen sleep ~ his work (i.e. while doing How long will he be ~ it (i.e. how will it take him to do it, get th etc.)? We had a pleasant chat ~ a of tea (i.e. while drinking tea). W laughed ~ the affair.

²o ver ['ouvə*] n. (cricket) number of bowled in succession by each bowl turn.

o ver- ['ouvə-] prefix too (much): po'lite; '~-'tired; '~-'heated. (N compounds not entered below double stress, as in the examples ab The meanings of the adjj. below be obtained by putting too in plac over.

'~-a'bundant
'~-'active
'~-am'bitious
'~-'anxious
'~-'bold
'~-'busy
'~-'careful
'~-'cautious
'~-'confident
'~-'credulous
'~-'critical
'~-'curious
'~-'delicate
'~-'eager
'~-en,thusi'astic
'~-ex'cited
'~-fa'miliar
'~-'fond
'~-'full
'~-'generous
'~-'greedy
'~-'hasty
'~-'jealous
'~-'modest
'~-'nervous
'~-'proud
'~-'ripe
'~-'sensitive
'~-'serious
'~-sus'piciou
'~-'zealous

The meanings of the nn. below ma obtained by putting too much in pla over.

'~-a'bundance
'~-an'xiety
'~-'confidence
'~-cre'dulity
'~-ex'ertion
'~-ex'posure
'~-in'dulgen
'~-'payment
'~-,popu'lati
'~-pro'ductio
'~-'strain
'~-,valu'atio

The meaning of the vv. below ma obtained by putting too much after th in place of over.

'~-'burden
'~-'cook
'~-'eat
'~-'emphasize
'~-'estimate
'~-ex'ert
'~-ex'pose
'~-'heat
'~-in'dulge
'~-'praise
'~-pro'duce
'~-'simplify
'~-'strain
'~-'value

o ver act ['ouvər'ækt] v.i. & t. (VP 2 act in an exaggerated way: ~ing his part.

¹o ver all ['ouvərɔ:l] n. 1. loose-fitting garment that covers other garments (e.g. as worn by housewives, or small children during play). 2. (pl.) loose-fitting, high-waisted trousers, usu. of heavy, strong material, worn over other clothes to protect them from dirt, etc.

Over

²o ver all ['ouvərɔ:l] adj. including everything; containing all measurements of a room; coal burnt at n ~ efficiency of only 18 per cent.

ver arch [ˌouvərˈɑːtʃ] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 1) form an arch (over): Trees ~ed the oad.

ver arm [ˈouvərɑːm] n. & adv. = verhand.

ver awe [ˌouvərˈɔː] v.t. (VP 1) awe ompletely; awe through great respect, tc.: ~ sb. into submission.

ver bal ance [ˌouvəˈbæləns] v.t. & i. . (VP 1, 21) (cause to) lose balance; fall ver: He ~d and fell into the water. on't ~ the canoe. 2. (VP 1) outweigh: he gains ~ the losses.

ver bear [ˌouvəˈbɛə*] v.t. (-bore, -borne) vercome (by forcible argument, strong orce, or authority): My objections were verborne in the argument. ~ing adj. nasterful; forcing others to one's will: n ~ing manner. ~ing ly adv.

ver bid [ˌouvəˈbid] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) t an auction) bid higher than (another erson). 2. (VP 1, 21) bid more than he value of (sth. offered for sale). 3. bridge) make a higher bid than (one's artner) or than one's hand is worth. . act of ~ding.

ver blown [ˌouvəˈbloun] adj. (of owers) too fully open; past their best.

ver board [ˈouvəbɔːd] adv. over the ide of a ship or boat into the water: ll (jump) ~; throw sb. ~, (fig.) get rid f him, stop supporting him, etc.

ver bore [ˌouvəˈbɔː*] p.t. of overbear.

ver borne [ˌouvəˈbɔːn] p.p. of overbear.

ver bur den [ˈouvəbəːdn] n. surface oil, etc., which must be moved away o get at coal, etc., underneath. v.t. ouvəˈbəːdn] (VP 1) burden too heavily: ed with grief.

ver call [ˌouvəˈkɔːl] v.t. & i. = overid (def. 3).

ver-cap i tal ize [ˌouvəˈkæpitəlaiz] v.t. x or estimate the capital of (a comany) too high. over-cap i tal i zaion [ˈouvəˌkæpitəlaiˈzeiʃən] n.

ver cast [ˈouvəkɑːst] adj. (of the sky) larkened (as) by clouds; (fig.) gloomy; ad. n. cloud-covered sky: Breaks in he ~ will give sunny periods (weather orecasting).

ver charge [ˌouvəˈtʃɑːdʒ] v.t. & i. 1. VP 1, 21) charge (sb.) too high a price: Ve were ~d for the eggs. That grocer ever ~s. 2. (VP 1) fill or load too eavily: ~ a gun; ~ an electric circuit. . [ˈouvətʃɑːdʒ] [C] charge that is too igh or great (e.g. of electric current, xplosive, or for a purchase, etc.).

ver cloud [ˌouvəˈklaud] v.t. & i. (VP , 21) cover, become covered, with clouds r shadows; (fig.) make or become loomy.

ver coat [ˈouvəkout] n. long coat worn ut of doors over ordinary clothes in old weather.

o ver come [ˌouvəˈkʌm] v.t. (VP 1) (~came, ~come) 1. get the better of; be too strong for: ~ the enemy; ~ a bad habit; ~ temptation. 2. make weak: be ~ by fatigue (emotion, liquor, fumes).

o ver crop [ˌouvəˈkrɔp] v.t. (-pp-) (VP 1) take too many crops from (land) (so that it loses fertility).

o ver crowd [ˌouvəˈkraud] v.t. (VP 1) crowd too much: ~ed buses and trains; the ~ing of large cities.

o ver do [ˌouvəˈduː] v.t. (VP 1) 1. do too much; exaggerate; overact: The comic scenes in the play were overdone. He overdid his part in the play. ~ it, (a) work, etc., too hard: You should work hard, but don't ~ it and make yourself ill. (b) exaggerate; go too far in order to achieve one's object: He showed sympathy for us, but didn't he rather ~ it? 2. cook too much: overdone beef.

o ver draft [ˈouvədrɑːft] n. amount of money by which a bank account is overdrawn.

o ver draw [ˌouvəˈdrɔː] v.t. & i. (-drew, -drawn) (VP 1, 21). 1. draw a cheque for a sum in excess of (one's credit balance in a bank): an ~n account. 2. exaggerate: The characters in this novel are rather ~n, are not true to life.

o ver dress [ˌouvəˈdres] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) dress (oneself, etc.) too richly or more showily than good taste requires.

o ver drive [ˈouvədraiv] n. extra gear fitted into the normal gear-box of some cars (for use when driving along clear roads, etc.).

o ver due [ˈouvəˈdjuː] adj. beyond the time fixed (for arrival, payment, etc.): The train is ~, is late. These bills are all ~, ought to have been paid before now.

o ver flow [ˌouvəˈflou] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 21) flow over; flow over the edges or limits; flood; spread beyond the ordinary or usual area: The river ~ed its banks. The lake is ~ing. The crowds were so big that they ~ed the barriers. 2. (VP 24) be more than filled (with): a heart ~ing with gratitude; a friend ~ing with kindness. n. [ˈouvəflou] [C] flowing over of liquid; flood; that which flows over or is too much for the space, area, etc., available: new suburbs for the ~ of population; an ~ meeting, one held for those unable to find room in the hall, etc., where the principal meeting is held.

o ver grown [ˈouvəgroun] adj. 1. having grown too fast: an ~ boy. 2. covered with sth. that has grown over: a garden ~ with weeds; walls ~ with ivy.

o ver growth n. 1. [ˈouvəgrouθ] that which has grown over: an ~ of weeds. 2. [ˌouvəˈgrouθ] growth that is too fast or excessive: weakness due to ~.

o ver hand [ˈouvəhænd] adj. (cricket, baseball) bowled or thrown, bowling or throwing, with the arm swung above the shoulder (cf. underhand): ~ bowling; an ~ ball (bowler); (in swimming) with the hand and arm raised out of the water: the ~ stroke. adv. bowl (serve) ~.

o ver hang [ˌouvəˈhæŋ] v.t. & i. (-hung) (VP 1, 21) 1. hang over; be over, project over, like a shelf: The cliffs ~ the stream. The ledge ~s several feet. 2. threaten; be likely to come: ~ing dangers. n. [ˈouvəhæŋ] part that ~s: the ~ of a roof (cliff).

o ver haul [ˌouvəˈhɔːl] v.t. (VP 1) 1. examine thoroughly in order to learn about the condition of: have the engine of a car ~ed; (colloq.) go to one's doctor to be ~ed (physically examined). 2. overtake; catch up with: The fast cruiser soon ~ed the old cargo boat. n. [ˈouvəhɔːl] [C] examination for the purpose of repairing, cleaning, etc

o ver head [ˌouvəˈhed] adv. above one's head; in the sky: the people in the room ~; the stars ~. adj. [ˈouvəhed] 1. raised above the ground: ~ wires (cables); an ~ railway, built at a level higher than that of the streets. 2. (business) ~ expenses (charges) (or, n. pl. ~s), those expenses, etc., needed for carrying on a business (e.g. rent, advertising, salaries, light, heating), not manufacturing costs.

o ver hear [ˌouvəˈhiə*] v.t. (-heard). (VP 1, 5, 6) hear without the knowledge of the speaker(s); hear what one is not intended to hear; hear by chance.

o ver joyed [ˌouvəˈdʒɔid] adj. greatly delighted (at one's success, etc.).

o ver land adj. [ˈouvəlænd] & adv. [ˌouvəˈlænd] across the land (contrasted with the sea): the ~ route used by Marco Polo; travel ~.

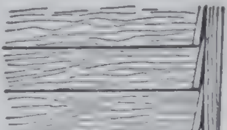
o ver lap [ˌouvəˈlæp] v.t. & i. (-pp-) (VP 1, 21) 1. partly cover by extending beyond one edge: tiles that ~ (one another); ~ping shingles; ~ping boards (as shown here). 2. (fig.) partly coincide; involve duplication: His duties (authority) and mine ~. His visit and mine ~ped. n. [ˈouvəlæp] [C] ~ping part; [U] fact or process of ~ping.



Overlapping boards

o ver lay [ˌouvəˈlei] v.t. (-laid) put a coating over the surface of: wood overlaid with gold. n. [ˈouvəlei] thing laid over sth.; small tablecloth.

o ver leaf [ˌouvəˈliːf] adv. on the other side of the leaf (of a book, etc.).

o ver leap [ˌouvəˈliːp] v.t. (VP 1) leap over; (fig.) go too far, attempt too much: Ambition often ~s itself.

o ver look [ˌouvəˈluk] v.t. (VP 1) 1. have a view of from above: From my study window I ~ the bay and the headla Our garden is ~ed from the neighbo windows, they can look down on to garden from their windows. 2. fai see or notice; pay no attention to: printer's error. His services have ~ed by his employers, they have properly rewarded him. 3. pass o without punishing: ~ a fault. 4. su intend; supervise.

o ver lord [ˈouvəlɔːd] n. (in feudal tin nobleman in relation to his vass superior from whom men held land to whom they owed service.

o ver man tel [ˈouvəˌmæntl] n. struct (wood or stone, carved or decora over a mantlepiece.

o ver mas ter [ˌouvəˈmɑːstə*] v.t.
1) overcome, overpower: an ~ passion, a passion so strong that i difficult to subdue it.

o ver much [ˈouvəˈmʌtʃ] adj. & a too great(ly): give children ~ homewo an author who has been praised ~.

o ver night [ˌouvəˈnait] adv. 1. on night before: get everything ready for journey ~; make preparations ~. 2.
the night: stay ~ at a friend's ho sleep there for the night. adj. [ˈou nait] during or for the night: an journey; an ~ stop at Rome.

o ver pass [ˈouvəpɑːs] n. bridge t carries a road over a busy highway motorway. (Cf. underpass, flyover.)

o ver plus [ˈouvəplʌs] n. [C] amo which is surplus or in excess.

o ver pow er [ˌouvəˈpauə*] v.t. (VP overcome; be too strong for; defeat greater strength or numbers:
criminals were easily ~ed by the pol
He was ~ed by the heat. ~ing adj.
strong; very powerful: an ~ing sti ~ing grief.

o ver print [ˈouvəˈprint] v.t. (VP print additional matter on (an alrea printed surface, esp. of postage stam

o ver rate [ˈouvəˈreit] v.t. (VP 1) too high a value on: ~ sb.'s abiliti an ~d book.

o ver reach [ˌouvəˈriːtʃ] v.t. (VP 1) get the better of (by trickery). 2. ~ o self, fail in one's object, damage on own interests, by being too ambitio ~ the mark, go past it.

o ver ride [ˌouvəˈraid] v.t. (-rode, -ridd (VP 1) prevail over (sb.'s opini decisions, wishes, claims, etc.): T overrode my wishes, set them aside wi out consideration.

o ver rule [ˌouvəˈruːl] v.t. (VP 1) de against (esp. by using one's hig authority): ~ a claim or objection.
judge ~d the previous decision. We w ~d by the majority.

o ver run [ˌouvəˈrʌn] v.t. (VP 1) (-r -run) 1. spread over and occupy injure: a country ~ by enemy tr

houses ~ with rats; a garden ~ with
eds. 2. go beyond (a limit): speakers
~ the time allowed them. The broad-t overran the allotted time.

er sea ['ouvə'si:] adj. (at, to, from,
, places) across the sea: ~(s) trade; ~ broadcast programme. o ver seas
v. go (live) ~, across the sea; abroad.

er see [ˌouvə'si:] v.t. (VP 1) (-saw,
en) look after, control (work, work-n). o ver seer ['ouvəsiə*] n. fore-n; person whose duty it is to take arge of work and see that it is prorly done.

er shad ow [ˌouvə'ʃædou] v.t. (VP 1) ow a shade over; (fig.) render less con-cuous; cause to seem less important.

er shoe ['ouvəʃu:] n. [C] rubber shoe rn over an ordinary one for protection ainst wet and mud. (Cf. galosh.) er shoot [ˌouvə'ʃu:t] v.t. (VP 1) shoot er or beyond (a mark); (lit. & fig.) go far: The aircraft overshot the runway.

er shot ['ouvəʃɔt] adj. ~ wheel, water eel driven by the pressure of water ling on to it from above.

er side ['ouvəsaid] adv. over the side
 a ship, etc.): discharge cargo ~ (e.g. o lighters, not on to the quay).

er sight ['ouvəsait] n. 1. [U] failure notice sth.; [C] instance of this:
rough an unfortunate ~ your letter s left unanswered. 2. [U] watchful re: under the ~ of a nurse.

er sleep [ˌouvə'sli:p] v.t. & i. (-slept) P 1, 21) sleep too long; continue eping after the proper time for wak-
: He overslept (himself) and was late work.

er spill ['ouvəspil] n. what spills er, esp. excess population: build new ns for London's ~.

er state [ˌouvə'steit] v.t. (VP 1) press or state too strongly; state more an is true about: Don't ~ your case.
nent n. [U] exaggeration; [C] exag-rated statement.

er stay [ˌouvə'stei] v.t. (VP 1) stay long: ~ one's welcome, stay until e is no longer a welcome guest.

er step [ˌouvə'step] v.t. (-pp-) (VP 1) beyond: ~ one's authority.

er stock [ˌouvə'stɔk] v.t. (VP 1) pply with too large a stock: ~ a farm
th cattle, with more cattle than there food or space for.

er strung ['ouvə'strʌŋ] adj. 1. (of a rson, his nerves) intensely strained; sily excited; too sensitive. 2. (of a ano) with strings crossing obliquely to ve space.

er stuffed [ˌouvə'stʌft] adj. (of seats, c.) made soft and comfortable by very ick padding.

ert ['ouvə:t, ou'və:t] adj. done or shown enly, publicly: ~ hostility. ~ly adv.

er take [ˌouvə'teik] v.t. (VP 1) (-took, -taken) 1. come or catch up with; outstrip: ~ other cars on the road; ~ arrears of work. 2. (of storms, troubles, etc.) come upon (sb.) suddenly, by surprise: be ~n by (with) fear (surprise, etc.); be ~n by a storm.

o ver tax [ˌouvə'tæks] v.t. (VP 1) tax too heavily; put too heavy a burden or strain on: ~ one's strength (sb.'s patience).

o ver throw [ˌouvə'θrou] v.t. (-threw, -thrown) (VP 1) defeat; put an end to; cause to fall or fail: ~ the government. n. ['ouvəθrou] ruin; defeat; fall.

o ver time ['ouvətaim] n. & adv. [U] (time spent at work) after the usual hours: working ~; be paid extra for ~; be on ~ (i.e. working ~); ~ pay.

o ver tone ['ouvətoun] n. (music) higher note more faintly heard than the main note produced from a string, pipe, etc.

o ver top [ˌouvə'tɔp] v.t. (-pp-) (VP 1) be higher than; rise above: ~ped b
the new skyscraper.

o ver trump [ˌouvə'trʌmp] v.t. (VP 1) (whist, bridge) play a higher trump than.

o ver ture ['ouvətjuə*] n. 1. (often pl.) approach made (to sb.) with the aim of starting discussions: peace ~s; make ~s to sb. 2. musical composition played as an introduction to an opera, or as a separate item at a concert.

o ver turn [ˌouvə'tə:n] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) (cause to) turn over; upset: He ~ed the boat. The boat ~ed.

o ver ween ing [ˌouvə'wi:niŋ] adj. having, marked by, excessive self-confidenc or conceit.

o ver weight ['ouvəweit] n. excess of weight above what is usual or legal: Shopkeepers rarely give ~. adj. exceeding the weight allowed by regulations, etc.: If your luggage is ~ you'll have to pay extra. ~ed [ˌouvə'weitid] partic. adj. carrying too much weight: ~ed with packages.

o ver whelm [ˌouvə'hwelm] v.t. (VP 1) weigh down; submerge; cover completely by flowing over or pouring down on; crush; destroy; cause to feel confused or embarrassed: be ~ed by the enemy (by superior forces); an ~ing victory; ~ing sorrow; be ~ed by a flood; be ~ed with grief (gratitude).

o ver work [ˌouvə'wə:k] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) (cause to) work too hard or too long: ~ oneself; ~ a horse. It's foolish to ~. n. ['ouvəwə:k] [U] working too much or too long: ill through ~.

o ver wrought [ˌouvə'rɔ:t] adj. tired out by too much work or excitement; in a state of nervous illness.

o vi duct ['ouvidʌkt] n. either of two tubes through which the ovum passes from the ovary to the uterus.

o vip a rous [ou'vipərəs] adj. producing young from eggs which hatch outside the body.

o void ['ouvoid] adj.* & *n. egg-shaped (object).

o vum ['ouvəm] n. (pl. ova ['ouvə]) female germ or sex cell in animals, capable of developing into a new individual when fertilized by male sperm.

owe [ou] v.t.* & *i. 1. (VP 1, 18, 19, 21, 24) be in debt to (sb.) (for sth.): He owes his tailor £50. He owes £50 to his tailor. I have paid all that was owing. He still owes for the goods he had last month. 2. (VP 18, 19) be under an obligation to, feel the necessity of gratitude to: We owe a great deal to our parents and teachers. I owe it to you that I am still alive. 3. (VP 18, 19) be bound to give as a duty: owe reverence and obedience to the Pope. 4. (VP 18—never VP 19) be indebted to as the source of: He owes his success to good luck more than to ability. To whom do we owe the discovery of penicillin?

ow ing ['ouiŋ] adj. still to be paid: large sums still ~. ~ *to prep. because of; on account of: O~ to the rain they could not come.

owl [aul] n. night-flying bird that lives on small birds and animals (e.g. mice). ow let n. young owl. owl ish adj. of or like an owl; looking, or trying to look, solemn and wise. owl ish ly adv.

An owl

¹own [oun] v.t.* & *i. 1. (VP 1) possess; have as property: This house is mine; I own it. Who owns this land, to whom does it belong? 2. (VP 1, 11, 23, 24) agree; confess: recognize: own that a claim is justified; own to having told a lie; own up to a fault; own one's faults; own oneself (to be) defeated; own the force of an argument. The man refused to own the child, would not admit that he was its father. I must own myself no (confess that I am not a) supporter of reform.

²own [oun] adj. 1. used with possessives, either attributively or predicatively, to give emphasis to the idea of personal possession, to the peculiar or individual character of sth.: I saw it with my own eyes. It was her own idea. This is my own house or This house is my own (i.e. belongs to me, is not rented). This fruit has a flavour all its own (i.e. not to be compared to the flavour of any other fruit). May I have it for my very own (i.e. are you willing to let me be the sole owner, so that I need not share it)? My time is my own (i.e. I can spend it as I wish). For reasons of his own (i.e. for particular reasons, reasons perhaps only known to him), he refused to join the club. He is (working) on his own (i.e. by himself, independently, not for an employer). I'm (all) on my own today (colloq., I'm alone today). own brother (sister), with both the same, not a half-brother hold one's own, (a) maintain position against attack; not be def (b) not lose strength: The pati holding her own. come into one's receive what rightly belongs to one credit, fame, etc., that one des be one's own man (master), be pendent; be self-employed. 2. u indicate the idea of personal done or produced by and for oneself makes all her own clothes. I can my own meals. It's unwise to try your own lawyer.

own er ['ounə*] n. person who owns Who's the ~ of this house? '~-'occu
adj. (of a house, etc.) lived in by t (not rented to sb. else). ~less without an ~; not known to belon anyone: ~less dogs. ~ship n. sta being an ~; right of possessing: la uncertain ~ship.

ox [ɔks] n. (pl. oxen ['ɔksən]) 1. ge name for domestic cattle (cf. cow, bullock). 2. (esp.) fully grown castr bullock, used as a draught animal.
eye n name (often used attrib.
several kinds of plants (daisies, chrysanthemums, etc.). 'ox-eyed with large, round eyes like those of a 'ox-cart n. cart drawn by oxen.
tail n. tail of ox, much used for soup,

Ox bridge ['ɔksbridʒ] n. (invented n for) Oxford or (and) Cambridge ( trasted with Redbrick, used for n provincial universities in Gt. Brit.).

Ox ford ['ɔksfəd] n. (university cit England): ~ Group, recent relig movement that stresses public confe of one's faults and asking God direct guidance; the ~ Movem towards the revival of Catholicism, a 1833; ~ mixture, dark, grey (cloth) shoes, low shoes lacing over the ins

ox ide ['ɔksaid] n. [C & U] compoun oxygen: iron ~; ~ of tin. ox i ['ɔksidaiz] v.t.* & *i. (VP 1, 21) (cause combine with oxygen; make or bec rusty. ox i di za tion [ˌɔksidai'zeiʃə

Ox on ian [ɔk'sounjən] adj.* & *n. (m ber) of the University of Oxford.

ox y-a cet y lene ['ɔksiə'setiliːn] adj
n. (of a) mixture of oxygen and acety ~ torch (blowpipe), tool burning ~ welding, by means of a hot flame o

ox y gen ['ɔksidʒən] n. [U] chem element, gas without colour, taste, smell, present in the air and nece to the existence of all forms of life mask, mask placed over the nose mouth to supply ~ (e.g. in an airc at a great altitude); ~ tent, 'small that can be supplied with extra ~ ( in treating some illnesses). ~ate [ɔk' ʒineit], ~ize ['ɔksidʒənaiz, ɔk'sidʒə v.t. supply, treat, or mix, with ~.

ez, o yes [ou'jes] int. cry meaning ,isten', repeated three times by a town- ier, or (in a law-court) by an usher to mand silence and attention.

ster ['ɔistə*] n. kinds of shell-fish uch used as food, usu. eaten uncooked. ~-bed, '~-bank nn. part of the sea- ottom where ~s breed or are bred. '~-bar n. counter (in a restaurant, etc.) where ~s are served. '~-ˌcatcher n. wading sea-bird.

o zone ['ouzoun, ou'zoun] n. [U] form of oxygen with a sharp and refreshing smell; (fig.) exhilarating influence; (popular use) pure refreshing air as at the seaside.

P

p [pi:] (pl. P's, p's [pi:z]) the 16th letter the English alphabet: mind one's p's nd q's, be careful not to offend against ropriety.

[pa:] n. (colloq.) short for papa.

b u lum ['pæbjuləm] n. [U] food (usu. g.): mental ~, food for thought.

ce [peis] n. [C] 1. (distance covered by ne foot in a) single step in walking or unning. 2. rate of walking or running, r (fig.) progress: go at a good ~, go fast; t the ~, set a speed for others; keep ~, it. & fig.) go forward at the same rate vith sb.). go the ~, (a) go at great peed. (b) (fig.) spend money freely sp. on pleasure or in dissipated ways). ~-ˌmaker n. rider, runner, etc., who ets the ~ for another in a race. 3. esp. of horses) way of walking, running, tc. put a person through his ~s, est his abilities, etc.

ace [peis] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 23) walk vith slow or regular steps: ~ up and lown; (of a horse) amble; go at an easy, nhurried pace. 2. (VP 1) move across n this way: ~ a room; pacing the tation platform. 3. (VP 1, 10) measure y taking paces: ~ out (off) a distance f 30 yards. 4. (VP 1) set the pace for a rider or runner in a race).

ach y derm ['pækidə:m] n. thick- kinned, four-footed animal (e.g. an lephant).

a cif ic [pə'sifik] adj. peaceful; making r loving peace. pa cif i cal ly adv.

ac i fi ca tion [ˌpæsifi'keiʃən] n. [U] naking or becoming peaceful; bringing bout a state of peace.

ac i fism ['pæsifizəm], pa cif i cism pə'sifisizəm] nn. [U] principle that war hould and could be abolished. pac i- ist ['pæsifist], pa cif i cist [pə'sifisist] nn. believer in ~.

ac i fy ['pæsifai] v.t. (VP 1) calm and quieten.

ack [pæk] n. 1. bundle of things tied r wrapped up together for carrying; U.S.A.) packet: a ~ of cigarettes. '~ horse, '~-ˌanimal nn. one used for arrying ~s. '~man n. pedlar. '~- saddle n. one with straps for supporting ~s. '~-thread n. [U] strong thread for sewing or tying up ~s or canvas bags. 2. number of dogs kept for hunting (a ~ of hounds) or of wild animals that go about together: Wolves hunt in ~s. 3. (usu. contemptuous) number of things or persons: a ~ of thieves (liars, lies). 4. complete set (usu. 52) of playing-cards. 5. (Rugby football) a side's forwards. 6. (also '~-ice) mass of large pieces of floating ice in the sea. 7. quantity of fish, meat, fruit, etc., packed (see the verb, def. 5) in a season: this year's ~ of salmon.

²pack [pæk] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10, 18, 21, 23) put things, put (things), into a box, bundle, bag, etc.; fill (a bag, box, etc.) with things; get ready for a journey by doing this: ~ clothes into a trunk; ~ a trunk with clothes. Have you ~ed (up) your things? You must begin ~ing at once. These books ~ easily, it is easy to ~ them. Her husband takes a ~ed lunch (e.g. sandwiches, etc., ~ed into a box or other container) to work every day. ~ up, (colloq.) put one's tools, etc., away; stop working: It's time to ~ up. One of the aircraft's engines ~ed up, (sl.) failed. ~ it in, (sl.) give up doing sth.; end it. 2. (VP 1, 10, 18, 21, 23, 24) crush or crowd together (into a place): ~ing people into an already overcrowded bus; crowds ~ing into the cinemas on a wet day. 3. (VP 1, 10) put soft material into or round (sth.) to keep it safe, or to prevent loss or leakage: glass ~ed in straw; ~ a leaking joint in a pipe. 4. ~ sb. off, send sb. ~ing, send him away quickly and unceremoniously (because he is troublesome, etc.): I wish you'd ~ yourself off, go away. 5. (VP 1) prepare and put (meat, fruit, etc.) in tins for preservation. (Cf. the noun, def. 7.) 6. (VP 1) choose (the members of a committee, etc.) so that their decisions are likely to be in one's favour. ~er n. person or machine that ~s; (esp., usu. pl.) person who ~s meat, fruit, etc., for market.

pack age ['pækidʒ] n. [C] parcel, bale, bundle of things, packed together:

(colloq.) a ~ deal (offer), a number of proposals put forward for discussion together. pack aged adj. put or made up into a ~: a ~d tour, (U.S.A. colloq.) holiday tour with every detail arranged in advance by travel agents and sold at a fixed price.

pack et [ˈpækit] n. 1. small parcel or bundle: a ~ of letters; a postal ~; a ~ of 20 cigarettes. 2. (also ˈ~-boat) mail-boat. 3. (sl.) considerable sum of money (won or lost in betting, gambling, etc.). 4. (army sl.) trouble of some sort: catch (stop, get) a ~, (esp.) be severely wounded.

pack ing [ˈpækiŋ] n. [U] material used in packing (def. 3) (e.g. for closing a leaking joint). ˈ~-case n. one of rough boards in which goods (e.g. bicycles) are packed for shipment. ˈ~-ˌneedle n. large needle used for sewing up canvas packages, etc.

pact [pækt] n. (newspaper headline style) compact; agreement: P~ of Locarno; a new Peace P~.

¹pad [pæd] n. 1. container filled with soft material, used to prevent damage, give comfort, or improve the shape of sth. 2. guard for the leg or other parts of the body (in cricket and other games). 3. number of sheets of writing-paper fastened together along one edge. 4. (also inking-pad) absorbent material (usu. in an oblong box) used for inking rubber stamps. 5. soft, fleshy underpart of the foot (of a dog, fox, etc.). 6. (usu. launching pad) platform from which missiles are launched into outer space.

²pad [pæd] v.t. (-dd-) 1. (VP 1) put pads (def. 1) in or on (to prevent injury, to give comfort, or to fill out hollow spaces, etc.): a jacket with padded shoulders (e.g. to make the wearer seem more manly); a padded cell, one with padded walls (in a mental home for lunatics). 2. (VP 1, 10) make (a sentence, essay, book, etc.) longer by using unnecessary material: an essay padded out with numerous quotations. pad ding n. [U] material used for making pads (def. 1) or for padding (v., def. 2).

³pad [pæd] v.i. & t. (-dd-) (VP 21, 23) travel on foot: padding along; (VP 1) tramp (the roads) on foot: He lost all his money and had to pad it home.

¹pad dle [ˈpædl] n. 1. short oar with a broad blade at one or both ends used (without a rowlock) to propel a canoe through the water. 2. (in rowing) act or period of propelling a boat with light, easy strokes. 3. ˈ~-wheel n. one of a pair of wheels, each with boards round the circumference which press backwards against the water and propel the ship. ˈ~-box n. wooden covering

A paddle

for the upper part of a ~-wheel.
ˌsteamer n. one propelled by ~-whe
4. ~-shaped instrument (e.g. one u for beating, stirring, or mixing thin v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) send (a can through the water by using a ~ or row with light, easy strokes: ~ o own canoe, (prov.) depend on one alone.

²pad dle [ˈpædl] v.i. (VP 21) walk bare feet in shallow water (as chud do at the seaside): a paddling p shallow pool (e.g. in a public park) wh children ~. n. act or period of paddli pad dock [ˈpædək] n. 1. small gr field, esp. one used for exercising hor

2. (at a race-course) enclosed area grassland where horses are assemb before a race.

Pad dy [ˈpædi] n. (nickname for Irishman.

¹pad dy [ˈpædi] n. [U] rice that is growing; rice in the husk. ˈ~-field rice-field.

²pad dy [ˈpædi] n. (colloq.) rage; fit of b temper: She's in one of her paddies, o of the fits of bad temper to which is subject.

pad lock [ˈpædlɔk] n. lock of the ki shown here. v.t. (VP 1) fasten with a ~: The gate was ~ed.

A padlock

pad re [ˈpɑːdrei] n. (army and navy colloq.) chaplain.

pae an [ˈpiːən] n.
song of thanksgiving, praise, or triump paed er as ty [ˈpiːdəræsti] n. [U] sodor (esp. with a bcy). paed er ast n. sod mite.

pae di at rics [ˌpiːdiˈætriks] n. bran of medicine concerned with illne of children. pae di a tri cian [ˌpiːd ˈtriʃən] n. doctor who specializes in pae o ny [ˈpiːəni] n. = peony.

pa gan [ˈpeigən] n. & adj. (person w is) not a believer in any of the ch religions of the world. ~ism n. belie practices, of ~s.

¹page [peidʒ] n. one side of a leaf paper in a book, periodical, etc.
number the ~s of.

²page [peidʒ] n. 1. boy servant, usu. uniform, in a hotel, club, etc. 2. (in Middle Ages) boy in training for knig hood and living in a knight's househo
3. boy acting as a personal attend of a person of high rank. v.t. (VP 1) a page, def. 1) go through the pu rooms of a hotel, club, etc., calling name of (sb.): paging Mr Green.

pag eant [ˈpædʒənt] n. 1. public ent tainment, usu. outdoors, in which h torical events are acted in the of the period. 2. public celebration, one in which there is a procession

rsons in fine costumes (e.g. a corona- n). ~ry [ˈpædʒəntri] n. [U] rich and lendid display.

i na tion [ˌpædʒiˈneiʃən] n. (figures ed for) numbering the pages of a ok.

go da [pəˈgoudə] n. (in India, Ceylon, irma, China, Japan, etc.) sacred tower pyramidal form, or of several storeys.

n [pɑː] int. expressing disgust.

d, see pay.

l [peil] n. vessel, usu. round and open, metal or wood, for carry- g liquid: a ~ of milk. ~ful as much as a ~ holds.

A pail

l lasse, pail liasse [pæl- ɑːs, ˌpæliˈæs, ˈpæliæs] nn. attress filled with straw.

in [pein] n. 1. [U] suffering mind or body: be in (great) ; cry with ~; feel some (no, t much, a great deal of) ~. ˈ~-ˌkiller medicine for lessening ~. 2. [C] par- cular or localized kind of bodily ffering: a ~ in the knee; ~s in the ck; stomach ~s. 3. (pl. only) trouble; fort: take great ~s to please one's nployer; spare no ~s, do everything ssible; work hard and get very little for l one's ~s. ˈ~sˌtaking adj. careful; dustrious. 4. (old use) punishment; enalty: (legal phrases) on (under) ~ of eath, at the risk of being sentenced to eath; ~s and penalties. ~ful *adj. ausing ~: This duty is ~ful to me. ful ly *adv. ~less *adj. without ~; ausing no ~: ~less extractions (of teeth). less ly *adv.

in [pein] v.t. cause pain to: Doesn't our laziness ~ your parents? My foot s still ~ing me. She looked ~ed when refused to help. She had a ~ed look.

int [peint] n. 1. [U] solid colouring atter (to be) mixed with oil or other quid and used to give colour to a sur- ace: give the doors two coats of ~. 2. U] material used to colour the face. . (pl.) collection of tubes or cakes of olouring materials. ˈ~-*box n. box ith such a collection. ˈ~-*brush n. rush for applying ~.

aint [peint] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 7, 10, 21) . coat with paint: ~ a door; ~ the gate reen; ~ the town red, (sl.) cause excite- nent by being noisy while making nerry. 2. make a picture (of) with aint: ~ flowers (a landscape); ~ in oils n water-colours). ~ sth. in, add to a icture: ~ in the foreground. ~ sth. ut, cover up or hide by using paint. . (fig.) describe vividly in words: not o black as he is ~ed, not so bad as he is epresented to be. ~er *n. 1. person ho ~s pictures; artist. 2. workman ho ~s woodwork, buildings, ships, tc. ~ing *n. [U] using paint; occupa- ion of a ~er; [C] ~ed picture.

^{1}paint er [ˈpeintə*] n. see ^{2}paint.

^{2}paint er [ˈpeintə*] n. rope fastened to the bow of a boat by which it may be tied to a ship, pier, etc. cut the ~, (a) set (a boat, etc.) adrift. (b) (fig., e.g. of a colony) effect a separation; become independent.

pair [pɛə*] n. 1. two things of the same kind (to be) used together: a ~ of shoes (gloves). 2. single article with two parts always joined: a ~ of trousers (braces, scissors, tongs). 3. two persons closely associated (e.g. an engaged or married couple): the happy ~ (e.g. two newly married persons). in ~s, in twos. 4. two animals of opposite sex; two horses harnessed together. 5. (in Parliament) two persons of opposite political parties who absent themselves from a division by mutual agreement; one member willing to do this: The member for Lewisham couldn't find a ~. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) form a ~ or ~s; join in ~s; (of animals) mate. ~ off, put two by two; go off in ~s; (Parliament) make a ~ (def. 6); (colloq.) marry: ~ off with a shop girl.

pa ja mas [pəˈdʒɑːməz] n. pl. = pyjamas.

Pa kis ta ni [ˌpɑːkisˈtɑːni] n. national of Pakistan.

pal [pæl] n. (colloq.) comrade; friend. v.i. (-ll-) pal up, become friendly (with). pal ly *adj. (colloq.) friendly.

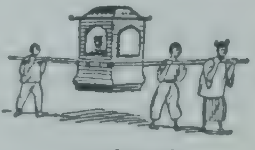
pal ace [ˈpælis] n. 1. official residence of a sovereign, archbishop, or bishop; any large and splendid house; large, splendid building for entertainment. 2. (the ~) influential persons at the ~ of a sovereign ruler.

pa la din [ˈpælədin] n. any of the twelve Peers of Charlemagne's court; knight errant; notable champion.

pal æ o- [ˈpæliou-] (in compounds) old; earliest: pal æ o lith ic [ˌpæliouˈliθik] adj. of the period marked by the use of primitive stone implements. pal æ on tol o gy [ˌpælionˈtɔlədʒi] n. [U] science of fossils as a guide to the history of life on the earth.

pal an quin, pal an keen [ˌpælənˈkiːn] nn. covered litter for one person, as formerly used in India and other Eastern countries.



A palanquin

pal at a ble [ˈpælətəbl] adj. agreeable to the taste or (fig.) to the mind. ~ness *n.

pal a tal [ˈpælətl] n. & adj. (sound) made by placing the tongue against (usu. the hard) palate; of the palate.

pal ate [ˈpælit] n. 1. roof of the mouth: the hard (soft) ~, its front (back) part. 2. sense of taste: have a good ~ for wines.

pa la tial [pəˈleiʃəl] adj. of or like a palace; magnificent: a ~ residence.

pa lat i nate [pəˈlætinit] n. province ruled over by an earl or count having some royal privileges, esp. the Rhine P~ (under the old German Empire).

pa lav er [pəˈlɑːvə*] n. [C] talk or conference, esp. one between traders or explorers and the people of the country; [U] idle talk. v.i. (VP 21) talk idly for a long time.

¹pale [peil] adj. 1. (of a person's face) having little colour; bloodless: He turned ~ at the news. You're looking ~ today. ˈ~-face n. name said to have been used by N. American Indians for a European white person. 2. (of colours) not bright; faintly coloured: ~ blue. v.i. (VP 21) grow ~; lose colour. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

²pale [peil] n. 1. long, pointed piece of wood used for fences; stake. (See paling.) 2. limits of what is considered good social behaviour: beyond (outside, within) the ~.

pa le o- see palæo-.

pal e tot [ˈpælətou] n. (trade term) loose cloak for a man or a woman.

pal ette [ˈpælit] n. board (with a hole for the thumb) on which an artist mixes his colours. ˈ~-knife n. thin steel blade with a handle, used (by artists) for mixing (and sometimes spreading) oil colours.

pal frey [ˈpɔːlfri] n. (old use, and in poetry) saddle-horse for riding, esp. one for a woman.

pal imp sest [ˈpælimpsest] n. [C] piece of parchment or other writing material from which the original writing has been erased to make room for new writing.

pal in drome [ˈpælindroum] n. word, verse, etc., that reads the same backwards as forwards (e.g. madam).

pal ing [ˈpeiliŋ] n. fence made of pales.

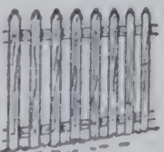
pal i sade [ˌpæliˈseid] n. 1. fence of strong, pointed wooden stakes (e.g. as used to defend a building in former times). 2. (U.S.A.; pl.) line of high, steep cliffs (esp. along a river). v.t. (VP 1) enclose or fortify with a ~ (def. 1).



A paling

pal ish [ˈpeiliʃ] adj. somewhat pale.

¹pall [pɔːl] v.i. (VP 21, 24) become distasteful or uninteresting because done, used, etc., for too long a time: pleasures that ~ upon me after a time; a long lecture that ~ed upon most of the listeners.

²pall [pɔːl] n. 1. heavy cloth spread over a coffin. ˈ~-ˌbearer n. person who walks alongside a coffin at a funeral and holds up one corner of a ~. 2. (fig.) any dark, heavy covering: a ~ of smoke.

pal let [ˈpælit] n. straw-filled mattress for sleeping on.

pal li asse [ˈpæliæs] n. = paillasse.

pal li ate [ˈpælieit] v.t. (VP 1) lessen severity of (pain, disease); excuse seriousness of (a crime, etc.). pal li tion [ˌpæliˈeiʃən] n. [U] the act palliating; the state of being ~d;
that which ~s; excuse. pal li a t [ˈpæliətiv] n. & adj. (sth.) serving to pal lid [ˈpælid] adj. pale; ill look ~ly adv. ~ness n.

pal lor [ˈpælə*] n. [U] paleness, esp.
the face.

¹palm [pɑːm] n. inner part of the h between the wrist and the fingers:
an itching ~, be always ready to rec a bribe. v.t. (VP 1, 10) hide (a c card, etc.) in the hand when perform a trick. ~ sth. off upon sb., get to accept it by fraud, misrepresentat etc. ~ist [ˈpɑːmist] n. person claims to tell a person's future examining the lines on his ~. ~is
n. art of doing this.

²palm [pɑːm] n. 1. sorts of tree grow in warm climates, with no branches a mass of large wide leaves at the t
the date-~; the coconut-~. ˈ~-oil n.
obtained from ~-trees. ˈP~-ˈSund
the Sunday before Easter. 2. ~-lea a symbol of victory: bear (carry the ~, be victorious. yield the ~ sb.), admit defeat (by sb.). ~y flourishing; prosperous: in my ~y d ~er n. (in former times) pilgrim ret ing from the Holy Land with a ~-l itinerant monk under a vow of pove pal met to [pælˈmetou] n. (pl. ~s) k of small palm with fan-shaped lea common in the West Indies and SE. coast of the U.S.A.

pal pa ble [ˈpælpəbl] adj. that can felt or touched; clear to the mind:
error. pal pa bly adv.

pal pi tate [ˈpælpiteit] v.i. (VP 21, 23)
the heart) beat rapidly; (of a person, body) tremble (with terror, etc.). pal ta tion [ˌpælpiˈteiʃən] n. palpitating the heart (from disease, great efforts, et pal sy [ˈpɔːlzi] n. [U] paralysis: su ing from cerebral ~. (See spastic.) paralyse.

pal ter [ˈpɔːltə*] v.i. ~ with, be insin when dealing with; trifle with: Don with the question, do treat it seriousl pal try [ˈpɔːltri] adj. (-ier, -iest) wo less; of no importance; contemptib pam pas [ˈpæmpəz] n. pl. exten treeless plains of S. America. ˈ~-gr [ˈpæmpəsˌgrɑːs] n. [U] gigantic with sharp-edged blades and a silv plume-like flower.

pam per [ˈpæmpə*] v.t. (VP 1) ind too much; be unduly kind to: She s times ~s herself and has a day in b pamph let [ˈpæmflit] n. [C] small pa covered book, esp. on a question current interest. ~eer [ˌpæmfliˈtiə* writer of ~s.

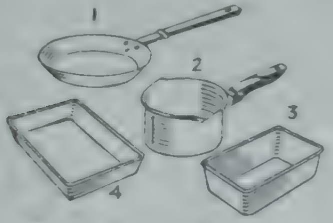
n [pæn] n. 1. flat dish, often shallow ıd without a cover, used for cooking



Pans (def. 1)

1. Frying-pan 3. Bread pan
2. Saucepan 4. Meat pan nd other household purposes. 'pan-ake n. [C] batter fried in a pan and ısu.) eaten hot. 2. sth. shaped like a an: salt-pans, hollows in which salt ater evaporates, leaving the salt to be ollected; the brain-pan, the upper part f the skull. 3. either of the dishes on balance or a pair of scales. (See the lustr. at balance.) 4. screen for washing ravel, etc. (to separate gold ore and ther metals). 5. (in old-fashioned guns) art of the lock that held the gunowder. 6. (also hard-pan) hard subsoil. .t. & i. (-nn-) 1. (VP 10) pan off (out), ash (gold-bearing) gravel in a pan; VP 23 with out) yield gold; (fig.) suceed: The scheme panned out well. 2. VP 1) (cinema) move a camera up, own, or forward so as to follow (what is eing photographed).

n- [pæn-] prefix all: pan-Asian -African, -Arab); pan-Hellenism, politial union of all Greeks.

n a ce a [ˌpænə'siə] n. [C] remedy for ll diseases, troubles, etc.

nache [pə'næʃ, -'nɑːʃ] n. knightly plendour; display; (fig.) swagger.

a na ma [ˌpænə'mɑː, 'pænəmɑː] n. (also ~ hat) hat made from fine, pliant strawike material (originally from trees grown n Ecuador).

an chro mat ic ['pænkrou'mætik] adj. photog.) equally sensitive to all colours f the spectrum.

an cre as ['pæŋkriəs] n. [C] gland near he stomach, discharging a juice which elps digestion. pan cre at ic [ˌpæŋri'ætik] adj. of the ~.

an da ['pændə] n. (giant ~) bear-like nammal of Tibet, with black legs and black and white body.

an dem ic [pæn'demik] n. & adj. disease) prevalent over the whole of country or continent.

an de mo nium [ˌpændi'mounjəm] n. C & U] (scene of) wild and noisy disrder.

an der ['pændə*] v.t. (VP 24) 1. give elp or encouragement (to sb., to his ase passions and desires): newspapers hat ~ to the public interest in crime; ~ to low tastes. 2. act as a go-between (to sb.'s lust, sexual desires). n. perso who ~s (def. 2).

pane [pein] n. single sheet of glass in (a division of) a window.

pan e gyr ic [ˌpæni'dʒirik] n. [C] speech, piece of writing, praising a person or event.

pan el ['pænl] n. 1. separate part of the surface of a door, wall, ceiling, etc., usu. raised above or sunk below the surrounding area. 2. piece of material of a different kind or colour inserted in a dress. 3. list of names, e.g. of men who may be summoned to serve on a jury, or of doctors who (in Gt. Brit.) have agreed to attend persons under the National Health Service: a ~ doctor; be on the ~, with one's name on the list. 4. group of speakers, esp. one chosen to speak, answer questions, take part in a game, before an audience (e.g. of listeners to a broadcast): (attrib.) a ~ discussion (game). 5. long, narrow size of photograph. v.t. (-ll-) furnish or decorate with ~s (def. 1, 2): a ~led room (wall, wainscot). ~ling n. [U] series of ~s on a wall, etc.

Panelled walls

pang [pæŋ] n. sharp, sudden feeling of pain (~s of hunger), remorse, etc.

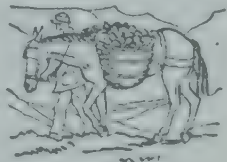
pan ga ['pæŋgə] n. large chopping knife used by African workers.

pan ic ['pænik] n. [C & U] 1. unreasoning, uncontrolled, quickly spreading fear: There is always danger of (a) ~ when a theatre catches fire. The crowd was ~-stricken, filled with ~. 2. (attrib.) unreasoning: ~ fear. v.i. (-ck-) be affected with ~: Don't ~! There's no danger! pan ick y adj. (colloq.) easily affected by ~; in a state of ~.

pan jan drum [pæn'dʒændrəm] n. name applied jokingly to an exalted personage or to a pompous official.

pan nier ['pæniə*] n. 1. one of a pair of baskets placed across the back of a horse or ass for carrying things in. 2. part of a skirt looped up round the hips.



Panniers (def. 1)

pan ni kin ['pænikin] n. small metal cup; its contents.

pan o ply ['pænəpli] n. complete suit of armour. (Hence) pan o plied adj. provided with a ~.

pan op tic [pæn'optik] adj. giving a complete view (by diagram, illustration, etc.) of sth.

pan o ra ma [ˌpænə'rɑːmə] n. wide, uninterrupted view; constantly changing scene: the ∼ of London life. pan o-ram ic [ˌpænəˈræmik] adj.

pan-pipes [ˈpænpaips] n. pl. musical instrument made of a series of reeds.

pan sy [ˈpænzi] n. 1. flowering plant as shown here. 2. (colloq.; also ∼-boy) effeminate young man; homosexual.

Pansies

pant [pænt] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 23) take short, quick breaths; gasp; throb: The dog ∼ed along behind its master's horse. 2. (VP 1, 10) say while ∼ing: He ∼ed out his message. 3. (VP 21, 24, 25) have a strong wish (for knowledge, etc., to acquire knowledge, etc.). n. short, quick breath; gasp; throb.

pan ta loon [ˌpæntəˈluːn] n. 1. (in pantomime) foolish character upon whom the clown plays tricks. 2. (pl.) (now hum., or U.S.A.) = pants.

pan tech ni con [pænˈteknikən] n. large van for removing furniture.

pan the ism [ˈpænθi(ː)izəm] n. [U] belief that God is in everything and that everything is God; heathen worship of all gods. pan the ist n. pan the is tic [ˌpænθi(ː)ˈistik] adj. of ∼.

pan the on [pænˈθiːən] n. temple dedicated to all the gods; all the gods of a nation collectively: the (ancient) Egyptian ∼; building in which the illustrious dead are buried or have memorials.

pan ther [ˈpænθə*] n. leopard.

pan ties [ˈpæntiz] n. pl. (colloq.) pants worn by children; (woman's or girl's) close-fitting short knickers. pan ti-waist [ˈpæntiweist] n. (woman's or girl's) undergarment, combination of underpants and shirt-waist.

pan tile [ˈpæntail] n. curved roof tile.

pan to [ˈpæntou] n. (colloq. abbrev. of) pantomime.

pan to graph [ˈpæntəgrɑːf] n. device for copying a plan, etc., on any scale.

pan to mime [ˈpæntəmaim] n. 1. [U & C] (example of) kind of English drama based on a fairy tale or traditional story, with music, dancing, and clowning. 2. [U] acting without words.

pan try [ˈpæntri] n. 1. room (in a large house, hotel, ship, etc.) in which silver, glass, table-linen, etc., are kept. ˈ∼-man, butler or his assistant. 2. room (in a house) in which food is kept.

pants [pænts] n. pl. trousers; (in trade use) long tight-fitting drawers (def. 2).

¹pap [pæp] n. [U] soft or semi-liquid food for very young children, or for invalids.

²pap [pæp] n. [C] (old use) nipple (def. 1).

pa pa [pəˈpɑː] n. (child's word for) father.

pa pa cy [ˈpeipəsi] n. position of, authority of, the Pope; system of government by Popes. pa pal [ˈpeipl] adj. of Pope or the ∼.

pa paw [ˈpɔːpɔː, pəˈpɔː] n. tropical t with a straight trunk like a palm-tree; edible fruit, green outside and yell inside. pa pa ya [pəˈpɑːjə] n. palm-l tree of tropical America, or its fruit; a called papaw.

pa per [ˈpeipə*] n. 1. [U] substa manufactured from wood fibre, ra etc., in the form of sheets, used writing, printing, drawing, wrappi packing, etc.: a sheet of ∼; a ∼ bag; pen to ∼, (old-fashioned phrase f begin to write; a good scheme on hypothetically, in theory (but not y tested by being put into practice); man who is good at ∼-work, at administ tion, filling in forms, and general off work (contrasted with practical affa handling men, etc.). ˈ∼-backed adj.
books) bound in paper covers. (Hen ˈ∼-backs n. pl. such books. ˈ∼-cha
n. see hare and hounds, at hare. ˈ∼-c
n. see ¹clip. ˈ∼-ˌhanger n. man who trade is to paste ∼ on the walls of roon ˈ∼-knife n. one for cutting open t leaves of books, opening envelopes, e ˈ∼-mill n. one where ∼ is made. ˈ weight n. weight placed on loose to prevent them from being blown awa
2. [C] newspaper: today's ∼s; the eve
ing ∼s. 3. [U] (also ˈ∼-ˌmoney) ban notes, etc., used as currency. 4. (p documents showing who sb. is, wh authority he has, etc.: send in one's ∼ resign. 5. [C] set of printed examinati questions on a given subject: T biology ∼ was difficult. 6. [C] essay, es one to be read to a learned society: a on currency reform. v.t. (VP 1, 10) pas ∼ on (walls, etc.): ∼ the dining-room cover with ∼.

pa pier-mâ ché [ˈpæpjeiˈmɑːʃei, (F papjemaʃe] n. [U] paper pulped a used as a plastic material for maki trays, boxes, etc.

pa pist [ˈpeipist] n. (unfriendly word fo member of the Roman Catholic Churc pa poose [pəˈpuːs] n. (word used Indians of N. America for) baby.

pa pis ti cal [pəˈpistikəl] adj. popis of the Church of Rome.

pap ri ka [ˈpæprikə] n. [U] red pepp used in cooking.

pa py rus [pəˈpaiərəs] n. 1. [U] (ki of paper made in ancient Egypt fro tall water plant or reed. 2. [C] papyri [pəˈpaiərai]) manuscript writt on this paper.

¹par [pɑː*] n. [U] 1. average or norm amount, degree, etc.: above (at, be par, (of shares, bonds, etc.) above ( below) the original price or face val not feeling quite up to par, (colloq.)
so well as usual. 2. on a par with, equ
to.

r, see parr.
r a ble ['pærəbl] n. story designed to h a moral lesson: speak in ~s. Jesus ght in ~s. par a bol i cal [ˌpærə-likəl] adj. of, expressed in, ~s. rab o la [pə'ræbələ] n. plane curve rmed by cutting a cone
a plane parallel to its le, so that the two arms t farther away from one other. par a bol ic [ˌpærə-lik] adj. of, like, a ~.

P. parabola

r a chute ['pærəʃu:t] n.
paratus used for a jump
m an aircraft, or for opping supplies, etc.:
ttrib.) ~ troops (flares, ines). par a chut ist n.
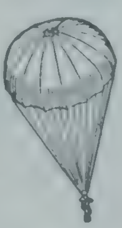
rson who jumps with a
.



A parachute

rade [pə'reid] v.t. & i.
(VP 1, 21) (of troops)
ause to) gather together
r drilling, inspection, etc.; arch in procession. 2.
P 1) make a display of;
y to attract attention to: ~ one's bilities. n. 1. [U] parading of troops:
on ~; [C] instance of this: a church ~.
[C] (also ~-ground) area of ground on hich ~s are held. 3. [C] display or xhibition: a mannequin ~ (e.g. showing ew styles in dress); make a ~ of one's irtues, try to impress people by showing hem. 4. public promenade; wide, often rnamented pathway, esp. on a sea-front.
programme ~, announcement of
he day's broadcast programme.
r a digm ['pærədaim] n. example or attern of the declension of a noun, the onjugation of a verb, etc.
r a dise ['pærədais] n. 1. the Garden
f Eden, home of Adam and Eve. 2.
eaven. 3. (with indef. art.) any place f perfect happiness; [U] condition of erfect happiness.
r a dox ['pærədɔks] n. [C] statement hat seems to say sth. opposite to comon sense or the truth, but which may ontain a truth (e.g. 'More haste, less peed'). ~i cal [ˌpærə'dɔksikəl] adj.
~i cal ly adv.
r af fin ['pærəfin] n. [U] 1. (also ~ oil), il obtained from petroleum, coal, etc., sed as a fuel (in lamps, heating and ooking-stoves). 2. (also ~-wax) wax-ke substance used for making candles.
. (also liquid ~) odourless, tasteless orm of ~ used as a laxative.
r a gon ['pærəgən] n. model of exellence; apparently perfect person or hing: I make no claim to be a ~ of irtue.
r a graph ['pæregrɑ:f] n. [C] 1.
ivision (usu. a group of several senences dealing with one main idea) of a iece of writing, started on a new line (and usu. inset). 2. small item of news in a newspaper. v.t. divide into ~s.

par a keet [ˌpærə'ki:t] n. sort of small, long-tailed parrot.

par al lel ['pærəlel] adj. (of lines) continuing at the same distance from one another; (of one line) having this relation (to or with another): a road running ~ to (with) the railway; in a ~ direction (with . . .) ~ bars, pair of ~ bars on posts for gymnastic exercises. n. [C] 1. ~ of latitude, line on a map ~ to, and passing through all places the same distance north or south of, the equator. 2. person, event, etc., precisely similar (to): a brilliant career without (a) ~ in modern times. 3. comparison: draw a ~ between . . . v.t. (VP 1) 1. quote, produce, or mention sth. ~ or comparable. 2. be ~ to: His experiences ~ mine in many instances. The street ~s the railway. ~ism n. being ~ (lit. or fig.).

par al lel o gram [ˌpærə'leləgræm] n. four-sided plane figure whose opposite sides are parallel.

par a lyse ['pærəlaiz] v.t. (VP 1) 1. affect with paralysis. 2. make helpless: ~d with fear.

par al y sis [pə'rælisis] n. [U] loss of feeling or power to move in any or every part of the body; (fig.) state of utter powerlessness.

par a lyt ic [ˌpærə'litik] n. & adj. (person) suffering from paralysis: a ~ stroke.

par a mil i tary [ˌpærə'militəri] adj. having a status or function ancillary to that of regular military forces: ~ formations.

par a mount ['pærəmaunt] adj. supreme: ~ chiefs; pre-eminent: of ~ importance; superior (to). ~cy n.

par a mour ['pærəmuə*] n. (arch.) illicit partner of a married man or woman.

par a noi a [ˌpærə'nɔiə] n. [U] mental disorder (usu. incurable), marked by fixed delusions (e.g. of persecution or grandeur).

par a pet ['pærəpit, -pet] n. 1. (usu. low) protective wall at the edge of a flat roof, side of a bridge, etc. 2. defensive bank of earth, stone, etc., along the front edge of a trench (in war).

par a pher na lia [ˌpærəfə'neiljə] n. pl. numerous small possessions, tools, instruments, etc., esp. concerning sb.'s hobby or technical work.

par a phrase ['pærəfreiz] v.t. & n. (VP 1) (give a) restatement of the meaning of (a piece of writing) in other words.

par a site ['pærəsait] n. 1. animal (e.g. louse, hookworm) or plant (e.g. mistletoe) living on or in another and getting its food from it. 2. person supported by another and giving him nothing in return. par a sit ic, -i cal [ˌpærə'sitik(l)] adj. caused by, living as, a ~.

par a sol [ˌpærəˈsɔl] n. umbrella used to give shade from the sun.

par a troops [ˈpærətruːps] n. pl. troops trained for being dropped by parachute. par a troop er n. one of these.

par a ty phoid [ˈpærəˈtaifɔid] n. [U] kind of fever in some ways like typhoid but caused by a different bacterium.

par boil [ˈpɑːbɔil] v.t. (VP 1) boil (food) until partially cooked; (fig.) make uncomfortably hot.

par cel [ˈpɑːsl] n. [C] 1. thing or things wrapped and tied up for carrying, sending by post, etc.: She left the shop with an armful of ~s. ~ post n. system, method, etc., of carrying ~s by post. 2. (old use) part, esp. in: part and ~ of, an essential part of; a ~ of land, an area of land (esp. part of an estate). v.t. (-ll-; U.S.A. also -l-) (VP 1, 10 with out) divide into portions.

parch [pɑːtʃ] v.t. (VP 1) 1. (of thirst, the sun, etc.) make hot and dry: the ~ed deserts of N. Africa. 2. make dry by heating: ~ed peas.

parch ment [ˈpɑːtʃmənt] n. 1. [C & U] (manuscript on) writing material prepared from the skin of a sheep or goat. 2. [U] kind of paper resembling ~.

pard [pɑːd] n. (sl.) partner.

par don [ˈpɑːdn] n. 1. [U] forgiveness: ask for ~; [C] instance of this. 2. indulgence; forbearance: I beg your ~, please excuse me (e.g. for disagreeing with what someone says, or as an apology for not hearing or understanding what is said). 3. (Church use) indulgence (def. 3). v.t. (VP 1, 18, 19) forgive; excuse; overlook: ~ sb. for doing wrong; ~ sb. an offence. P~ my (or P~ me for) contradicting you. ~a ble [ˈpɑːdnəbl] adj. that can be ~ed. ~a bly adv. in a way that can be ~ed: She was ~ably proud of her wonderful cooking.

par don er [ˈpɑːdnə*] n. (in the Middle Ages) person who had been licensed to sell papal indulgences (def. 3).

pare [pɛə*] v.t. (VP 1, 10) cut away the outer part, edge, or skin of: ~ one's (finger-)nails; ~ the claws of an animal; ~ (= peel) an apple; (fig.) ~ down (reduce) one's expenses. par ings n. pl. that which is ~d off: nail-parings.

par e gor ic [ˌpærəˈgɔrik] n. [U] soothing medicine containing opium and flavoured with aniseed.

par ent [ˈpɛərənt] n. father or mother; ancestor: our first ~s, Adam and Eve; the ~ birds; the ~ plant. ~age [ˈpɛərəntidʒ] n. [U] fatherhood or motherhood; origin; birth: of unknown ~age, having unknown parents. pa ren tal [pəˈrentl] adj. of a ~: ~al anxieties; children who lack ~al care. pa ren tal ly adv.

pa ren the sis [pəˈrenθisis] n. (pl. -ses [-siːz]) sentence within another sentence, marked off by commas, dashes, or brackets; (sing. or pl.) round brac ( ) for this: in ~; in parentheses. p en thet ic, -i cal [ˌpærənˈθetik(l)] of, relating to, used as, a ~. par thet i cal ly adv.

par ex cel lence [pɑːr ˈeksəlɑ̃ːns, parɛksɛlɑ̃ːs] adv. (F.) by virtue special excellence; in the highest deg par i ah [ˈpæriə, pəˈraiə] n. (India) per of low caste or of no caste; (fig.) so outcast. ˈ*~-dog* n. (India) ownerless of mixed breed.

pa ri mu tu el [pari myːtyel] n. ( form of betting in which the winn divide the stakes of the losers, les percentage for management expense pa ri pas su [ˈpɑːri ˈpæsuː] adv. (L simultaneously and equally; at an eq rate of progress.

par ish [ˈpæriʃ] n. division of a cou with its own church and priest; (civil division of a county for local gove ment: the ~ church; the ~ council; th register, book with records of christ ings, marriages, and burials. ~ cle official with various duties connec with the ~ church. go on the ~,
the days of the poor-law) receive relief (i.e. money given to the po ~ion er [pəˈriʃənə] n. inhabitant
a ~.

Pa ri sian [pəˈrizjən] n. & adj. (nati inhabitant) of Paris.

par i ty [ˈpæriti] n. [U] equality; be equal; being at par: Should teachers grammar schools and teachers in elem tary schools receive ~ of esteem and of pay? The two currencies have n reached ~, are at par.

park [pɑːk] n. 1. public garden or pub recreation ground in a town. 2. area grassland (usu. with trees) round a la country house or mansion. 3. (a ˈ*car-~*) place where motorcars may be left for a time.
4. (national ~) area of natural beauty (e.g. mountains, forests, lakes) set apart by the State for public enjoyment, and where industrial development is forbidden or limited. 5. place used by the milita for artillery, stores, etc. v.t. & i. put leave (a car, etc.) in a ~: Where can ~ (the car)? No ~ing between 9 a.m. a 6 p.m. ~ing lot n. area of ground u for ~ing cars. ~ing meter n.
operated meter that measures the ti for which a car is ~ed (in a public

No park

par ka [ˈpɑːkə] n. waterproof with a hood attached (as worn ski-ing, mountain-climbing, etc.).

par ky [ˈpɑːki] adj. (sl.) (of the a weather) chilly.

par lance [ˈpɑːləns] n. in common ~,
the way of speaking commonly used.

par ley [ˈpɑːli] n. [C] conference, tween leaders of two opposed forces. i. (VP 21, 24) discuss terms, hold a nference (with).

r lia ment ['pa:ləmənt] n. (in coun- es with representative government) preme law-making council or assembly, p. of Gt. Brit., formed of the House of mmons and the House of Lords: enter ~; Members of P~; summon (adjourn) ~; P~ sits (rises); open P~, (of the overeign) declare it open with tradi- onal ceremonial. par lia men ta ri an pa:ləmen'tεəriən] n. person skilled in e rules and procedures of ~, who is good debater, etc. par lia men ta ry pa:li'mentəri] adj. of ~: ~ary de- ates; ~ary language, polite, civil, as quired in ~ary debates.

r lour ['pa:lə*] n. (U.S.A. -lor) 1. rdinary sitting-room for the family in private house (now more usu. called itting-room or living-room). '~-maid . (not U.S.A.) maid who waits at table. . private sitting-room at an inn; room or the reception of visitors: the Mayor's ~ (in a town hall, etc.). 3. (esp. U.S.A.) oom for customers and clients: a beauty ~; a hair-dresser's ~. '~-car n. (U.S.A.) uxuriously fitted railway coach.

ar lous ['pa:ləs] adj. (arch.) perilous.

ar me san [ˌpa:mi'zæn] n. kind of heese made at Parma and elsewhere in taly.

a ro chial [pə'roukjəl] adj. of a parish; fig.) limited, narrow: a ~ outlook (mind, oint of view). ~ly adv. ~ism n.

ar o dy ['pærədi] n. 1. [C & U] (piece of) writing intended to amuse by mitating the style of writing used by sb. else. 2. [C] weak imitation. v.t. VP 1) make a ~ of: ~ an author (a poem). par o dist n. person who writes parodies.

a role [pə'roul] n. [U] prisoner's solemn promise, on being given certain privi- eges, that he will not try to escape: on ~, liberated after making such a pro- mise; break one's ~, (try to) escape while on ~. v.t. (VP 1) set (a prisoner) free on ~.

ar o quet n. parakeet.

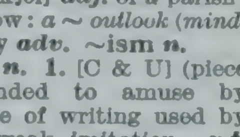
ar ox ysm ['pærəksizəm] n. [C] sudden attack or outburst (of pain, anger, aughter, etc.).

ar quet ['pa:ki, -kei; (U.S.A.) pa:'kei, pa:'ket] n. floor- ng of wooden locks fitted to- gether to make pattern.

arr, par [pa:*] . young salmon.

ar ri cide ['pæri- aid] n. [C & U] person guilty of the) murder of one's ather, near relation, or sovereign ruler.

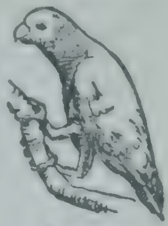


Parquet flooring

ar rot ['pærət] n. 1. sorts of bird with hooked bill and (usu.) brightly coloured feathers. Some kinds can be trained to imitate human speech. 2. person who repeats, often without understanding, what others say.

par ry ['pæri] v.t. (VP 1) turn aside (a blow); (fig.) evade (a question). n. [C] act of ~ing, esp. in fenc- ing and boxing.

parse [pa:z] v.t. (VP 1) describe (a word) grammatically; point out how the words of a sentence are related.



A parrot

Par see [pa:'si:] n. supporter of a religious system in India, the members being descended from Persians who settled in India in the 8th century.

par si mo ny ['pa:siməni] n. [U] (usu. as a bad quality) excessive carefulness in using money or (fig.) immaterial things. par si mo nious [ˌpa:si'mounjəs] adj. too economical; miserly.

pars ley ['pa:sli] n. [U] garden plant with crinkled green leaves, used in seasoning and sauces and for garnishing food.

pars nip ['pa:snip] n. [C] long, white or pale-yellow root, cooked as a vegetable.

par son ['pa:sn] n. parish priest; (colloq.) any clergyman. ~age ['pa:sənidʒ] n. ~'s house; vicarage.

¹part [pa:t] n. [C] 1. (often sing. without indef. art.) some but not all of a thing or a number of things; something less than the whole: Only (a) ~ of his story is true. P~s of the book are interesting. The greater ~ of what you heard is only rumour. for the most ~, in most cases; mostly. in ~, in some degree. '~-'owner n. person who owns sth. in common with others. '~-'time adj. & adv. for only a ~ of the working day or week: be employed ~-time; ~-time teaching (e.g. two days a week). 2. (pl.) region; district: in these (those) ~s. 3. any one of a number of equal divisions: A minute is the sixtieth ~ of an hour. 4. person's share in some activity; his duty or responsibility; what an actor in a play, film, etc., says and does: a man with a ~ in a play (in a conference). He spoke (acted) his ~ very well. Do the actors all know their ~s? I had only a small ~ in these events. play a ~, (fig.) act deceitfully. take ~ (in), have a share (in); help: Are you going to take ~ in the discussion, do you intend to speak? 5. side in a dispute, transaction, agreement, mutual arrangement, etc.: He always takes his brother's ~ (takes ~ with his brother), supports him. for my ~, as far as I am concerned: For my ~ I am quite happy about the division of the money. on my (his, your, etc.) ~; on the ~ of (Mr A, etc.), proceeding from, done by, me (him, you, Mr A, etc.): There was no objection on his ~ (on the ~ of the owner of the land), he did not object. The agreement has been kept on my ~ but not on his. An indiscretion on the ~ of his wife nearly ruined him. 6. take sth. in good ~, not be offended at it. 7. division of a book; each issue of a work published in instalments: a new encyclopaedia to be issued in monthly ~s. 8. essential piece or section of sth.: spare ~s of a machine, extra pieces, etc., to be used when needed, when old pieces break or wear out. 9. (music) each of the melodies that make up a harmony; the melody for a particular voice or instrument: orchestra ~s; sing in three ~s. ˈ*~-ˌsinging*, ˈ*~-song n. singing, song, with three or more voice ~s. 10. (arch.) (pl.) abilities: a man of ~s. 11. (gram.) ~ of speech, one of the classes of words (e.g. noun, verb, adjective). adv. in ~; partly: made ~ of iron and ~ of wood. ~ly adv. in ~; to some extent.

^{2}part [pɑːt] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 21, 22) (cause to) separate or divide: The policemen ~ed the crowd. We tried to ~ the two fighters. Let us ~ friends, leave each other with no feeling of enmity. The crowd ~ed and let us through. ~ company (with), (a) end a relationship (with). (b) leave and travel in a different direction. (c) disagree (with): On that question I am afraid I must ~ company with you. 2. ~ with, give up, give away: He hates to ~ with his money, doesn't like to spend it or give it away. 3. ~ one's hair, make a dividing line by combing the hair in opposite ways. ~ing n. 1. [C] line where the hair is combed in opposite ways. 2. [U & C] departure; leave-taking: (attrib.) his ~ing injunctions, those given on taking leave. at the ~ing of the ways*, at the point where the road divides or forks; (fig.) when one has to choose between courses of action.

par take [pɑːˈteik] v.i. & t. (partook [pɑːˈtuk], partaken [pɑːˈteikən]) 1. (VP 1, 21, 24) take a share in; take a share (in or of sth., with sb.): They partook (of) our triumph. They partook of our simple meal. 2. (VP 24) ~ of, have some of (the nature or characteristics of): His manner ~s of insolence.

par terre [pɑːˈtɛə*] n. 1. (in a garden) level space with lawns and flower-beds. 2. (in a theatre) part of the auditorium behind the orchestra.

par the no gen e sis [ˈpɑːθinouˈdʒenisis] n. [U] reproduction of offspring without fertilization by sexual union.

Par thian [ˈpɑːθjən] adj. of Parthia: ~ shot (shaft), (fig.) sth. said or done as a final reply, argument, etc., at the moment of parting.

par tial [ˈpɑːʃəl] adj. 1. forming onl part; not complete: a ~ success; c eclipse of the sun. 2. showing too m favour to one person or side: examin who are ~ to pretty women students.
~ to, having a liking for: ~ to Fre cuisine. ~ly adv. 1. partly; not co pletely. 2. in a ~ (def. 2) manner.

par ti al i ty [ˌpɑːʃiˈæliti] n. 1. [U] be partial (def. 2) in treatment of peo etc.; bias; favouritism. 2. [C] fondn (for): a ~ for moonlight walks.

par tic i pate [pɑːˈtisipeit] v.i. (VP 24) 1. have a share, take part (in): ~ sb.'s suffering (in a plot). 2. have (of): ~ of the nature of satire. par ti pant [pɑːˈtisipənt] n. person who (in sth.). par tic i pa tion [pɑːˌt ˈpeiʃən] n. [U] act of participating.

par ti ci ple [ˈpɑːtisipl] n. verbal adj tive qualifying nouns but retaining so properties of a verb: 'Hurrying'
'hurried' are the present and past ~
'hurry'. par ti cip i al [ˌpɑːtiˈsip
adj. of a ~: a participial adjective ( 'loving' in 'a loving mother').

par ti cle [ˈpɑːtikl] n. 1. very small ~s of dust; smallest possible quanti
She hasn't a ~ of sense. 2. (gram.) mi part of speech, e.g. an article (a, an, t a prep. or adv. (up, in, out), a conju tion (or), an affix (un-, in-, -ness, -ly)

par ti col oured [ˈpɑːtiˌkʌləd] (U.S.A. -colored) differently coloured different parts.

par tic u lar [pəˈtikjulə*] adj. 1.
lating to one as distinct from othe in this ~ case. 2. special; worth noti outstanding: for no ~ reason. He took trouble to get it right. in ~*, especial
I remember one of them in ~. 3.
exact; scrupulous: a full and ~ acco of what we saw. 4. hard to satis fastidious: She's ~ about what she wea He's too ~ about what he will eat drink. n. detail: go into ~s, details. ~ly adv. in a ~ manner:
good humour was ~ly noticed. I ~ mentioned that point.

par tic u lar i ty [pəˌtikjuˈlæriti] n.
exactness; attention to detail.

par tic u lar ize [pəˈtikjuləraiz] v.t.
(VP 1, 21) name specially or one by o part ing, see ^{2}part.

par ti san, -zan [ˌpɑːtiˈzæn] n. pers devoted to a party, group, or cau (esp.) member of an armed resista movement in a country occupied enemy forces: ~ troops. ~ship n.

par ti tion [pɑːˈtiʃən] n. 1. [U] divis into parts: the ~ of India in 1947.
[C] that which divides, esp. a thin w between rooms, etc. 3. [C] part form by dividing; section. v.t. (VP 1, divide into sections, etc.: ~ off, separ by means of a ~ (def. 2).

par ti tive [ˈpɑːtitiv] n. & adj. (wo noting part of a collective whole:

ome' and 'any' are ~s.

rt ner ['pɑ:tnə*] n. 1. person who kes part with another or others in me activity, esp. one of the owners of business: ~s in crime; profits shared ually among all the ~s. 2. one of two rsons dancing together, playing tens, cards, etc., together; husband or ife. v.t. (VP 1, 18) be a ~ to; bring eople) together as ~s. ~ship n. [U] ate of being a ~; [C] joint business:
ter into ~ship (with sb.); be in ~ship.

r took p.t. of partake.

r tridge ['pɑ:tridʒ] n. [C] sorts of bird the same family as the pheasant; [U] flesh as food.

r tu ri tion [ˌpɑ:tjuə'riʃən] n. [U] ildbirth.

r ty ['pɑ:ti] n. 1. body of persons nited in opinion, in support of a cause, c., esp. in politics: the Conservative, iberal, and Socialist parties; follow the line (see ¹*line*, def. 12); *the ~ machine.
~-'spirit n. enthusiasm for a (political)
. Hence, '~-'spirited adj. 2. [U] ystem of) government based on politial parties: the ~ system; putting public terest before ~. 3. one of the persons r sides in a legal agreement or dispute:
'~-'wall, one that divides two proerties and is the joint responsibility of he owners of these properties: a ~ ne (see ¹*line*, def. 1). 4. group of persons ravelling or working together, or on uty together: a 'firing-ˌ~ (of soldiers, t a military funeral or execution). 5.
athering of persons, by invitation, for leasure: a dinner ~; a birthday ~; give ~, arrange one and be the host(ess); ake up a ~, join together to form such group: (attrib.) a ~ dress; lack the ~ pirit, be without enthusiasm for a ~.
. person taking part in and approving f or being aware of what is going on:
~ to a conspiracy; an innocent ~.
. (hum.) person: Who's the old ~ in lue, the old person dressed in blue?
. ~-coloured, see particoloured.

ar ve nu ['pɑ:vənju:, (F.) parvəny] n.
erson of humble birth or obscure rigin who has won wealth and position.

as chal ['pɑ:skəl] adj. 1. of the Jewish assover. 2. of Easter: enjoy ~ lamb in ome, lamb killed and eaten at Easter.

sha ['pɑ:ʃə] n. Turkish officer of high ank; governor of a province.

ss [pɑ:s] v.i. & t. (p.p. ~ed, or, as adj. ast). For special uses with advv. and reps., see def. 20. 1. (VP 21, 23, 24) ove towards and beyond, proceed long, through, down, etc.): ~ through village. Please let me ~. The road was o narrow for cars to ~. I bowed to her nd ~ed on. He ~ed by (behind, in front
f) me. They ~ed by, went past. (Cf.
asser-by.) 2. (VP 1) leave (a person, place, object, etc.) on one side or behind as one goes forward: Turn right after ~ing the Post Office. I ~ed Miss Green in the street. 3. (VP 1) go through, across, over, or between: The ship ~ed the channel. No complaints ~ed her lips. 4. (VP 21, 23) (of time) go by; be spent: Six months ~ed and still we had no news of them. The time ~ed pleasantly. 5. (VP 1) spend (time): How shall we ~ the evening? What can we do to ~ the time? 6. (VP 23, 24) change (from one state of things to another); change (into another state of things): Water ~es from a liquid to a solid state when it freezes. When water boils it ~es into steam. 7. (VP 1, 10, 18, 19) give by handing: Please ~ (me) the butter. The letter was ~ed on (round) to all the members of the family. The note was ~ed round the table. Read this and ~ it on to your neighbour. 8. (VP 1) utter: ~ a remark, say sth.; ~ the time of day with sb., give him a greeting (e.g. by saying 'Good morning'). 9. (VP 1, 21) (cause to) circulate: He was imprisoned for ~ing forged banknotes. These South African coins won't ~ (be accepted) in England. He ~es under the name of Mr Green, is known and accepted as Mr Green. 10. (VP 21, 23) come to an end; die: customs that are ~ing. The pain soon ~ed. Has the pain ~ed off yet? He ~ed away (died) peacefully. 11. (VP 1, 21) examine and accept; be examined and accepted: Parliament ~ed the Bill. The Bill ~ed and became law. The examiners ~ed most of the candidates. The candidates ~ed (the examination). Will the play ~ the censor? We have to ~ the Customs before we leave. ~ing-out ceremony (parade, etc), one for students, cadets, etc., who have ~ed their examinations, completed their courses, etc. 12. (VP 21, 23, 24) take place; be said or done (between persons): Did you see (hear) what was ~ing? Tell me everything that ~ed between you. 13. (VP 1) surpass (which is commoner); be beyond the range of: a story that ~es belief. It ~es my comprehension. 14. (VP 18, 24) give (an opinion, judgement, sentence upon sth. or sb.): ~ sentence on an accused man. I can't ~ an opinion on your work without seeing it. pass one's word (oath), give a pledge or promise. 15. (VP 21) be accepted without rebuke or blame; go unnoticed or unreproved: His rude remarks ~ed without comment. I don't like it, but I'll let it ~, will not make objections, etc. Such conduct may ~ in certain circles but cannot be tolerated here. 16. (VP 21) (card games) let one's turn go by without playing a card or making a bid. 17. (VP 18) move; cause to go: He ~ed his hand across his forehead (his knife through his opponent's body). I ~ed a rope round the barrel. Will you please ~ your eye (= glance) over this note. 18. (in football, hockey, etc.) kick, hand, or hit (the ball) to a player of one's own side. 19. (VP 1, 10) cause (troops) to go by: ~ troops in review. 20. (with advv. and preps.) ~ sth. or sb. by, pay no attention to; disregard: I cannot ~ the matter by without making a protest. ~ for, be accepted as: In this small village he ~es for a learned man. ~ off, (a) (of events) take place; be carried through: The meeting of the strikers ~ed off quietly. (b) turn attention away from: ~ off an awkward situation. ~ sth. or sb. off as, represent falsely to be: He ~ed himself off as a doctor. ~ over, pay no attention to; overlook: They ~ed me over (e.g. failed to promote me) in favour of young Hill ~ out, (VP 21) (colloq.) faint; lose consciousness. 21. ~ water, urinate. ~er-by [ˈpɑːsəˈbai] n. (pl. ~s-by) one who ~es, esp. by chance: The purse was picked up by a ~er-by.

^{2}pass [pɑːs] n. 1. success in an examination, esp. (in university degree examinations) success in satisfying the examiners but without distinction or *honours (see def. 7): get a ~; a ~ degree. ˈ~man n. candidate who gets a ~ degree. 2. (sing. only) state; condition: Things have come to a sad ~ (a fine ~, such a ~ that . . .). 3. come to ~, happen. bring to ~, accomplish, carry out. 4. (paper, ticket, etc., giving) permission or authority to travel, enter a building, occupy a seat in a theatre, etc.: a free ~, ticket giving free travel on the railways, etc. All ~es to be shown at the barrier (e.g. in a station). No admittance without a ~. 5. act of kicking, throwing, or hitting the ball from one player to another player (of the same team): a clever ~ to the centre-forward. 6. movement of the hand over or in front of sth. (as in conjuring or juggling, or in mesmerism). 7. forward movement, blow (in fencing, etc.). make a ~ at (a woman), (sl.) make (possibly unwelcome) amorous advances. 8. narrow way over or through mountains; such a way viewed as the entrance to a country: hold the ~, (fig.) defend a cause; sell the ~, (fig.) betray a cause; yield up a position. 9. (card games) act of passing (see the vb., def. 16). 10. (compounds) ˈ~book n. book supplied by a bank to a customer with records of his account. ˈ~key n. private key to a gate, etc.; key which opens a number of locks; master key. ˈ~word n. secret word or phrase which enables a person to be recognized as a friend by sentries: give (demand) the ~word.

pass a ble [ˈpɑːsəbl] adj. 1. (of roads, etc.) that can be passed over or crossed:
Are the Alpine roads ~ yet? 2. that c be accepted as fairly good but excellent: a ~ knowledge of Germ pass a bly adv.

pas sage [ˈpæsidʒ] n. 1. [U] passing;
of going past, through, or across; right go through: the ~ of time. a bird of (a) a migratory bird. (b) person w passes through a place without stay there long. 2. [C] voyage; journey fr point to point by sea or air: book one's to New York. 3. [C] way through: fo a ~ through a crowd. 4. [C] (also ˈ~-w corridor in a building: She has to k her bicycle in the ~. 5. [C] short extr from a speech or piece of writing, quot or considered separately. 6. passing a Bill so that it becomes law. 7. ( what passes between two persons conversation: have angry ~s with opponent during a debate. 8. ~ of arn (lit. and fig.) combat; dispute.

pas sé [ˈpɑːsei, (F.) pase] adj. (fe passée) past his (her, its) best; no long current; (esp., of a woman) past t period of greatest beauty.

pas sen ger [ˈpæsindʒə*] n. 1. pers being conveyed by bus, taxi, tra train, ship, aircraft, etc. 2. (collo member of a team, crew, etc., who do no effective work.

pas sim [ˈpæsim] adv. (Lat.) (of all sions, phrases, etc., to be found in a bo or author) in every part: This occu in Spenser ~.

pas sing [ˈpɑːsiŋ] adj. going by; n lasting: the ~ years. adv. (old use) ver ~ rich. n. the act of going by: the ~
the old year (i.e. on New Year's Eve).

pas sion [ˈpæʃən] n. 1. [U] strong feeli or enthusiasm, esp. of love, hate, anger: be filled with ~ (i.e. love) for s choking with ~ (i.e. anger or hate).
(with indef. art.) outburst of stro feeling: fly into a ~, become very angr be in a ~. 3. the P~, the suffering a death of Jesus: P~ Sunday, the fif Sunday in Lent; P~ Week, the we between P~ Sunday and Palm Sunda
a P~ play, drama dealing with the P ˈ~-ˌflower n. kinds of (usu. climbin plants with flowers that are thought resemble the crown of thorns placed the head of Jesus. ~less adj. ~less
adv.

pas sion ate [ˈpæʃənit] adj. easily move by passion; filled with, showing, passio a ~ nature; ~ language. ~ly adv. in ~ manner: She is ~ly fond of tennis.

pas sive [ˈpæsiv] adj. 1. acted upon b not acting; not offering active resistanc In spite of my efforts the boy remained showed no signs of interest, activi etc.; ~ obedience. ~ resistance, tance that takes the form of not obeyi orders, the law, etc., but without activ measures of opposition; ~ resista

ersons who practise this. 2. (gram.) the ~ voice, the form in italic type in the entence 'The letter was written yester- lay.' n. ~ voice. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

pas siv i ty [pæ'siviti] n. [U] the state r quality of being ~.

ass o ver ['pɑ:sˌouvə*] n. Jewish eligious festival comemmorating the iberation of the Jews from slavery in Egypt. (Exodus xii.)

ass port ['pɑ:spɔ:t] n. government ocument to be carried by a traveller broad, giving personal particulars; fig.) sth. that enables one to win or btain sth.: Is flattery a ~ to success vith that teacher?

ast ['pɑ:st] adj. (Cf. passed, p.p. of pass) f the time before the present; gone by in ime: for the ~ few days (weeks, etc.); during the ~ week; in times ~; for a long ime ~; ~ generations; the ~ tense. ~ master, one who has a thorough mastery (of or in a subject). n. 1. (with def. art.) ~ time: We cannot change the ~. Memories of the ~ filled her mind. 2. person's ~ life or experi- ences, esp. when these are not reputable: We know nothing of his ~. She's a woman with a ~.

ast [pɑ:st] prep. & adv. I. prep. 1. eyond in time; after: half ~ two; ten (minutes) ~ six; buses every twenty minutes ~ the hour (i.e. at 1.20, 2.20, 3.20, etc.); stay put until ~ 11 o'clock; an old man ~ seventy; a woman ~ middle age. 2. beyond in space; up to and farther than: He walked ~ the house. He hurried ~ me without stopping to speak. The driver took the bus ~ the traffic signal. 3. beyond the limits, power or range of: The old man is ~ work (i.e. too old, weak, etc., to work). She's ~ child-bearing (i.e. too old to bear a child). The pain was almost ~ bearing (i.e. too severe to be endured). He's ~ praying for (i.e. there's no hope of cure, improvement, etc.). She's ~ caring what happens (i.e. has reached the stage of complete indifference, is quite resigned to ill fortune, etc.). II. adv. (in the sense of the prep., def. 2): walk (march, go, run, hurry, etc.) ~.

aste [peist] n. [U] 1. soft mixture of lour, fat, etc., for making pastry. 2. preparation of foodstuffs, cut up and pounded to a soft, moist mass: anchovy ~; fish-~. 3. mixture of flour and water ised for sticking things together, esp. paper on walls and boards: a bottle of ~. ~board n. [U] stiff board-like material nade by pasting sheets of paper to- gether; cardboard. 4. substance (a glass- ike material) used in making artificial liamonds, etc. v.t. (VP 1, 10, 18) stick with ~ (def. 3): ~ sth. down; ~ things together; ~ (up) bills on a wall; ~ sth. up (cover it) vith paper.

pas tel ['pæstel, pæs'tel] n. 1. (picture drawn with) coloured chalk made into crayons. 2. (attrib. ['pæstl]) ~ shades, soft, light, delicate shades of colour.

pas tern ['pæstə:n] n. part of a horse's foot between the fetlock and the hoof.

pas teur ize ['pæstəraiz, 'pɑ:s-] v.t. (VP 1) rid (milk, etc.) of disease germs by using the heating method of Pasteur. pas teur i za tion [ˌpæstərai'zeiʃən] n.

pas tiche [pæs'ti:ʃ] n. [C] literary or other work of art composed in the style of another author, etc.; musical composition made up from various sources.

pas tille [pæs'ti:l, 'pæsti:l] n. [C] small sweet to be sucked, usu. one containing medicine for the throat.

pas time ['pɑ:staim] n. [C] anything done to pass time pleasantly; game: Flirting was her favourite ~.

pas tor ['pɑ:stə*] n. minister (esp. of a nonconformist church).

pas tor al ['pɑ:stərəl] adj. 1. of shepherds and country life: ~ poetry. 2. of a bishop: a ~ letter, one to the members of a bishop's diocese; ~ staff, bishop's emblem, like a shepherd's crook, carried by or before bishops ceremonially. n. ~ poem, play, letter, etc.

pas tor ate ['pɑ:stərit] n. 1. office of a pastor; time during which he holds it. 2. body of pastors.

pas try ['peistri] n. 1. [U] paste of flour, fat, etc., baked in an oven; pie-crust. 2. [C] article of food made wholly or partly of this, e.g. a pie or tart; [U] such articles collectively: eat less ~. '~-cook n. person who makes ~, esp. for public sale.

pas ture ['pɑ:stʃə*] n. [U] grassland for cattle; grass on such land (cf. meadow); [C] piece of land of this kind. v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) (of persons) put (cattle, sheep, etc.) to graze: ~ one's sheep on the village common; (of cattle, etc.) eat down (grassland). 2. (VP 21) graze.

^{1}pas ty ['peisti] adj. like paste (def. 1): a ~ complexion, white and unhealthy.

^{2}pas ty ['peisti, 'pɑ:sti] n. meat pie enclosed in paste and baked without a dish.

^{1}pat [pæt] v.t. & i. (-tt-) 1. (VP 1, 10, 18) hit gently with the open hand or with sth. flat: pat a dog; pat a ball (so that it bounces up and down); pat sb. (oneself) on the back, (fig.) express approval; pat sb. on the shoulder, touch (to attract attention, show sympathy, etc.). 2. (VP 21) carry out the action of patting. n. [C] 1. tap with the open hand (e.g. as a caress, or to show sympathy). 2. small mass of sth., esp. butter, formed by patting. 3. light sound made by striking sth. with a flat object.

^{2}pat [pæt] adv. at the right moment; at once and without hesitation: The answer came pat. He had his excuse pat.

stand pat, stick to one's decision; refuse to change.

¹patch [pætʃ] n. 1. small piece of material put on over a hole or a damaged or worn place: a coat with ~es on the elbows; a ~ on the inner tube of a tyre. ˈ~-ˌpocket n. one made by sewing a piece of cloth on to the outside of a garment. 2. piece of plaster put over a cut or wound. 3. pad worn to protect an injured eye. 4. small, irregular, differently coloured part of a surface: a dog with a white ~ on its neck. 5. small area (of ground, esp. for garden vegetables): the cabbage ~; ~es of fog. 6. small (usu. black), round piece of silk or plaster worn by women on the face in the 17th and 18th cc. (intended to show up the beauty of the skin). 7. not a ~ on, not nearly so good as. 8. strike a bad ~, experience a period of bad luck or difficulties. ~work [ˈpætʃwəːk] n. 1. piece of material made up of bits of cloth of various sizes, shapes, and colours: (attrib.) a ~work quilt. 2. (fig.) piece of work made up of odds and ends. ~y adj. made up of ~es; not regular or uniform; of uneven quality. ~i ly adv. ~i ness n.

²patch [pætʃ] v.t. (VP 1, 10) 1. put a patch on; (of material) serve as a patch for. 2. (usu. ~ up) repair; make roughly ready for use: an old, ~ed-up motor-cycle; (fig.) ~ up a quarrel, settle it for a time.

patch ou li [ˈpætʃuli(ː)] n. [U] (perfume derived from an) Indian plant.

pate [peit] n. (colloq. in mod. Eng.) head: a bald ~. Hence, -pated [-ˈpeitid], as in curly-~d, having a head of curly hair.

pâté [pate] n. 1. pie; patty. 2. paste: ~ de foie gras, (patty of) goose-liver paste.

¹pat ent [ˈpeitənt] adj. 1. evident, easily seen: It was ~ to everyone that he disliked the idea. 2. letters ~ (usu. [ˈpætənt]), government authority to manufacture sth. invented and protect it from imitation. 3. protected by letters ~: ~ medicines (made by one firm or person only). 4. ~ leather, leather with a hard, smooth, shiny surface, usu. black. 5. (colloq.) original; peculiar to one person only; ingenious; well-contrived: a ~ device. ~ly adv. clearly; obviously.

²pat ent [ˈpeitənt, ˈpætənt] n. [C] 1. (privilege granted by) letters patent: take out a ~ to protect a new invention. P~ (usu. [ˈpætənt]) Office, government department which issues ~s. 2. that which is protected by letters ~; invention or process. v.t. (VP 1) obtain a ~ for (an invention or process). ~ee [ˌpeitənˈtiː] n. person to whom a ~ is issued.

pa ter [ˈpeitə*] n. (schoolboy sl.) father.

pa ter fa mil i as [ˈpeitəfəˈmiliæs] n. (hum.) father or head of a family.

pa ter nal [pəˈtəːnl] adj. 1. of or like father: ~ care. 2. related through th father: my ~ grandfather. ~ly adv.

pa ter ni ty [pəˈtəːniti] n. [U] 1. fathe hood; being a father; origin on th father's side: ~ unknown. 2. (fig source; authorship.

pa ter nos ter [ˈpætəˈnɔstə*] n. th Lord's Prayer, esp. in Latin.

path [pɑːθ] n. (pl. ~s [pɑːðz]) 1. (als ˈ~way) way made (across fields, throug woods, etc.) by people walking: Kee to the ~ or you may lose your way. ˈ~ ˌfinder n. explorer; sb. sent on ahead t find a route, etc. 2. track specially mad for foot or cycle racing (usu. cinder track
3. (also foot~) track specially made fo pedestrians along the side of a road (Cf. pavement, along the side of a street
4. line along which sth. or sb. moves the moon's ~ round the earth. ~less adj having no ~s: ~less jungles.

pa thet ic [pəˈθetik] adj. 1. sad; pitiful a ~ sight; ~ ignorance. 2. of the emo tions: the ~ fallacy, the error of imagina tively endowing inanimate objects with life. pa thet i cal ly adv.

pa thol o gy [pəˈθɔlədʒi] n. [U] scienc of diseases. path o log i cal [ˌpæθə ˈlɔdʒikəl] adj. of ~; of the nature o disease. path o log i cal ly adv. pa thol o gist [pəˈθɔlədʒist] n. student of expert in, ~.

pa thos [ˈpeiθɔs] n. [U] quality i speech, writing, etc., which arouses feeling of pity.

pa tience [ˈpeiʃəns] n. [U] 1. (power of enduring trouble, suffering, inconveni ence, without complaining; ability t wait for results, to deal with problem calmly and without haste: I haven't th ~ to hear your complaints again. Sh has no ~ with people who are alway grumbling, cannot endure them. be ou of ~ (with), be unable to endur further. the ~ of Job, endless ~: Hi behaviour would try (= test) the ~ of Job
2. kind of card game, usu. for one player pa tient [ˈpeiʃənt] adj. having, showing patience: be ~ with a child; be ~ o insults, endure them with patience

n. [C] person who has received, is re ceiving, or is on a doctor's list for medical treatment: *an old ~ of min
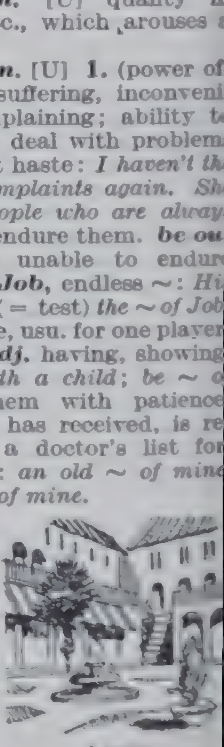
The Smiths are ~s of mine.*

pat i na [ˈpætinə] n. (usu.) green, glossy surface formed on old bronze, woodwork, etc.

pa tio [ˈpɑːtiou] n. (pl. ~s) courtyard, open to the sky, within the walls of a Spanish or Spanish American house.



A patio

pa tois [ˈpætwɑː] n. dialect of the con n people of a district, differing from e standard language of the country.

tri arch ['peitriɑːk] n. 1. venerable l man. 2. male head of a family or be. 3. bishop among the early ristians; (in the R.C. Church) highnking bishop; (in Eastern Churches) hop of highest honour: the P~ of tioch (Jerusalem). pa tri ar chal eitri'ɑːkəl] adj. of or like a ~. pa tri- chate ['peitriɑːkit] n. position, see, idence, of a Church ~.
tri cian [pə'triʃən] n. & adj. (person) noble birth (esp. in ancient Rome);
stocrat(ic).
ri cide ['pætrisaid] n. parricide.
ri mo ny ['pætriməni] n. [C] pro-rty inherited from one's father or cestors; endowment of a church, etc.
t ri mo nial [ˌpætri'mounjəl] adj.
a ~.
tri ot ['pætriət, 'peitriət] n. person o loves and is ready to defend his ntry. ~ic [ˌpætri'ɔtik] adj. having, owing, the qualities of a ~. ~i cal ly
v. ~ism ['pætriətizəm, 'peit-] n. [U] feelings and qualities of a ~. trol [pə'troul] v.t. & i. (-ll-) (VP 1, go round (a camp, town, the streets, ds, etc.) to see that all is well, to look t (for wrongdoers, persons in need of p, the enemy, etc.). n. 1. [U] the act ~ling: soldiers on ~; maintain a stant sea and air ~ (e.g. looking for omarines during a war). 2. [C] per(s), ship(s), or aircraft on ~ duties:
were helped by an A.A. (Automobile sociation) ~(man) (= scout).
tron ['peitrən] n. 1. person who gives couragement, moral or financial sup-rt, to a person, cause, the arts, etc.:
dern artists have difficulty in finding althy ~s. ~ saint, saint regarded as special protector (of a church, town, vellers, etc.). 2. regular customer at
hop. ~ess n. woman ~.
ron age ['pætrənidʒ] n. [U] 1. sup-rt, encouragement, given by a patron:
th (under) the ~ of the Duke of X. 2.
ht of appointing sb. to a benefice office, to grant privileges, etc.: He's influential man, with a great deal ~ in his hands. 3. customer's sup-rt (to a shopkeeper, etc.): take away e's ~ because of poor service. 4. pat-nizing manner (see the v., def. 2, low).
ron ize ['pætrənaiz] v.t. (VP 1) 1.
as patron towards: ~ a young sician (a dressmaker). 2. treat (sb. om one is helping, talking to, etc.) if he were an inferior person; be ndescending towards. pat ron iz ing
j. pat ron iz ing ly adv.
ro nym ic [ˌpætrə'nimik] n. & adj.
me) derived from that of a father or cestor (e.g. Robertson).

[1]pat ter ['pætə*] n. [U] 1. kind of talk used by a particular class of people: thieves' ~. 2. rapid talk of a conjuror or comedian; rapid speech introduced into a song (a ~ song). v.t. & i. (VP 1) recite, say, repeat (prayers, etc.) very quickly or in a mechanical way; (VP 21) talk fast or glibly.

[2]pat ter ['pætə*] n. [U] sound of quick, light taps or footsteps: the ~ of rain on a roof; the ~ of footsteps. v.i. (VP 21, 23) make this sound: rain ~ing on the window-panes.

pat tern ['pætən] n. [C] 1. excellent example; sb. or sth. serving as a model: He's a ~ of all the virtues. (attrib.) He has a ~ wife. 2. sth. serving as a model, esp. shape of a garment, cut out in paper, used as a guide in dress-making, etc.; model from which sth. is to be cast and from which a mould is made (in a foundry, etc.): '~-ˌmaker; '~-shop (in a foundry). 3. sample, esp. a small piece of cloth: a bunch of ~s from the tailor. 4. ornamental design (on a carpet, on wallpaper, curtain material, etc.): a ~ of roses; geometrical ~s. 5. way in which sth. happens, develops, is arranged, etc.: new ~s of family life (e.g. when married women, instead of keeping house, go out to work and add to the family income). v.t. (VP 1, 18) 1. model (sth, upon or after): a dress ~ed upon a Paris model. 2. decorate with a ~.

A bunch of patterns

pat ty ['pæti] n. little pie or pasty: oyster patties. '~-*pan n. pan for baking a ~ in.

pau ci ty ['pɔːsiti] n. [U] smallness of number or quantity.

Paul [pɔːl] n. rob Peter to pay ~, see Peter. ~ Pry, an inquisitive person.

paunch [pɔːnʃ] n. belly, esp. if fat: a ~ like that of Falstaff. He was getting quite a ~, getting wide round the waist.

pau per ['pɔːpə*] n. person with no means of livelihood, esp. one who is supported by charity. ~ize ['pɔːpəraiz] v.t. (VP 1) bring to the state of being a ~. ~i za tion [ˌpɔːpərai'zeiʃən] n. ~ism ['pɔːpərizəm] n. [U] state of being a ~; existence of ~s: abolish ~ism.

pause [pɔːz] n. 1. short interval or stop (while doing or saying sth.): during a ~ in the conversation; a ~ to take breath. give ~ to, cause (a person) to hesitate, to stop and think. 2. (music) sign (𝄐 or 𝄑) over or under a note or rest to show that it is to be prolonged. v.i. (VP 21, 25) make a ~: ~ to look round.

pave [peiv] v.t. (VP 1) put flat stones, bricks, etc., on (a path, etc.): a path ~d with brick; (fig.) a career ~d with (= full of) good intentions. 'paving-stone n.

slab of stone for paving. ~ the way for, prepare for; make conditions easy for.

pave ment [ˈpeivmənt] n. paved way at the side of a street for people on foot. (U.S.A. sidewalk.) ~ artist, one who draws pictures on a ~ with coloured chalks (to get money from passers-by). crazy ~, see crazy, def. 4.

pa vil ion [pəˈviljən] n. 1. building on a sports ground for the use of players, spectators, etc. 2. ornamental building for concerts, dancing, etc. 3. large tent (e.g. as used for a flower exhibition).

paw [pɔː] n. animal's foot that has claws or nails (contrasted with hoof): a dog's paw; (colloq., hum.) hand. v.t. (VP 1, 10) 1. (of animals) feel or scratch with the paw(s); (of a horse) strike (the ground) with a hoof. 2. (of persons) touch with the hands, awkwardly or rudely: She doesn't like being pawed about.

paw ky [ˈpɔːki] adj. (Scot.) sly; arch: ~ humour. paw ki ly adv.

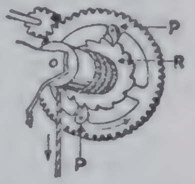
pawl [pɔːl] n. 1. lever with a catch for the teeth of a ratchet wheel or rod, to prevent slipping or movement in the opposite direction. 2. short bar used to prevent a capstan or windlass from recoiling.



P. Pawls
R. Ratchet wheel

¹pawn [pɔːn] n. least valuable piece in the game of chess; person made use of by others for their own advantage.

²pawn [pɔːn] v.t. (VP 1) 1. deposit (clothing, jewellery, etc.) as a pledge for money borrowed: The medical student ~ed his microscope to pay his rent. 2. (fig.) pledge: ~ one's life (honour). n. [U] state of being ~ed: My watch is in ~. ˈ~ˌbroker n. person licensed to lend money at interest on the security of goods left with him. ˈ~shop n. ~-broker's place of business. ˈ~-ˌticket n. ~-broker's receipt for goods pledged with him.

pax [pæks] n. 1. (schoolboy sl.) Peace! (i.e. Let's stop quarrelling.) 2. (in phrases) Pax Romana, peace enforced on states in the Roman Empire.

¹pay [pei] v.t. & i. (paid [peid]) 1. (VP 1, 10, 18, 19) give (sb.) money for goods, services, etc.: You must pay me what you owe. Have you paid the tradesmen this month? pay sb. off, (a) pay him his wages and discharge him. (b) pay in full and be free from obligation to: pay off one's creditors (the crew of a ship). 2. (VP 1, 10, 18, 19) give (sb.) reward or recompense. pay sb. out, punish him, have one's revenge: I've paid him out for the trick he played on me. 3. (VP 1, 10, 18, 19) hand over (money) to; settle: pay one's debts. I paid you the money last week. He paid £600 for that c pay money back, return money t has been borrowed. pay money o hand it out (in settlement of debts, et pay (money) up, pay in full what owing. put 'paid' to sth. (coll settle it; finish with it so that it gi no more trouble. 4. (VP 10) pay mon in, deposit money with a bank, to on own or another's account. pay on way, not get into debt. 5. (VP 1, 18, 19) give (attention, respect, etc., sb.): Please pay more attention to y work. He has called to pay his respe He never pays his wife any complime nowadays. We'll pay you a visit n week. 6. (VP 24) pay for, hand over t price of; bear the cost of: pay for mu lessons; pay for domestic help; suffer p or punishment (for): He will have to p for this foolish behaviour. 7. (VP 21) to one's profit, interest, or advanta Does it pay to grow fruit for the mark
He says that sheep farming doesn't p
8. (VP 10) pay out (away), let (ro pass through the hands; slacken (ro so that it is let out. 9. pay-as-yo earn (abbr. P.A.Y.E.), method of c lecting income tax (in Gt. Brit.) obliging employers to deduct it fr pay. pay a ble [ˈpeiəbl] adj. wh must or may be paid. pay ee [peiˈiː] person to whom sth. is (to be) pa pay er [ˈpeiə*] n. person who pays who is to pay.

²pay [pei] n. [U] money paid for regu work or services, esp. in the arm forces (Pay is used instead of wages a salary in the Navy, Army, and Force): draw one's pay; get an incre in pay; in the pay of, employed by (of
with a suggestion of dishonour, e.g.
the pay of the enemy). ˈpay-day n.
day on which wages, salaries, etc., (to be) paid. (b) day (on the St Exchange) on which transfer of st has to be paid for. ˈpay-ˌpacket envelope or packet containing p ˈpay-roll, ˈpay-sheet nn. (a) list persons to be paid and the amounts to each. (b) total amount of wag salaries, etc., to be paid to them. p load n. that part of the load (of a sh aircraft, etc.) for which payment received (e.g. passengers and cargo, not fuel). ˈpayˌmaster n. official sponsible for paying troops, work etc. ˈpayˌmaster ˈgeneral, officer the head of a department of Treasury.

pay ment [ˈpeimənt] n. 1. [U] pay or being paid: demand prompt ~ cheque in ~ for services rendered. 2.
sum of money (to be) paid: £50 a down and ten monthly ~s of £5. 3.
& U] (fig.) reward; punishment.

pay nim [ˈpeinim] n. (arch.) pa athen; (esp. during the Crusades to e Holy Land) Saracen.

a [pi:] n. [C] plant with seeds in pods, ed for food: duck and en peas. as like as two as, exactly alike. ˈ*pea- ur n. [U] meal made om dried peas. ˈ*pea- reen adj. & n. bright ht-green colour of young
as. ˈ*peanut n. = ground-
t. ˈ*pea-ˌshooter n.
oy) tube from which dried as are shot by blowing rough the tube. ˈ*pea- oup n. thick soup made from dried as. ˈ*pea-ˈsouper n. (colloq.) thick llow fog.

Peas

ace [pi:s] n. [U] (but see examples for e of indef. art.) 1. state of freedom om war: be at ~ with neighbouring *untries; a ~ *rally (offensive). After brief ~ (= a brief period of ~) war oke out again. make ~, bring about (with). 2. (often with cap. P) treaty ~: P~ (or A P~) was signed between e two countries. 3. freedom from civil sorder: keep the ~, obey the laws and frain from disorder and strife; break e ~, cause civil disorder, rioting, etc.; breach of the ~, a disturbance or riot;
e King's (Queen's) ~, the general ~ of e country, as secured by law; a Justice
the P~, a magistrate. 4. rest; quiet;
lm: the ~ of the countryside; ~ of mind;
~, in a state of friendship (with sb.);
uiet; in ~, peacefully. hold one's ~,
eep silence; stop talking or arguing.
ake one's ~ (with sb.), settle a uarrel. ˈ~ˌ*maker n. person who estores friendly relations. ˈ~-ˌ*offering
sth. offered to show that one is illing to make ~.

ace a ble [ˈpi:səbl] adj. not quarrelome; free from fighting or uproar.
ness n. peace a bly adv.

ace ful [ˈpi:sful] adj. 1. loving peace:
nations. 2. calm; quiet: a ~ evening; ~ death. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

ach [pi:tʃ] n. 1. (tree with) juicy, ound fruit with delicate yellowish-red kin and a rough stone-like seed; ellowish-red. 2. (sl.) person or thing reatly admired (e.g. a very attractive rl): Isn't she (it) a ~!

ach [pi:tʃ] v.i. (now schoolboy sl.)
urn informer:
against (upon)
n accomplice.

a cock [ˈpi:-
ɔk] n. large ale bird as
hown here,
oted for its fine
ail feathers.
pea hen [ˈpi:-
en] n. female of the ~. ˈpea fowl [ˈpi:faul] n. ~ or peahen. ˈpea chick [ˈpi:tʃik] n. young peafowl.

A peacock

pea-jack et [ˈpi:ˌdʒækit] n. short overcoat of coarse woollen cloth, as worn by sailors.

¹peak [pi:k] n. 1. pointed top, esp. of a mountain; point (e.g. of a beard). 2. pointed front part of a cap; projecting brim (to shade the eyes). 3. narrow part of a ship's hold at the bow (fore~) or stern (after~). 4. highest point in a record of figures that fluctuate: ~ hours of traffic, times when the traffic is heaviest; industry's ~ hours, when consumption of electric current, etc., is highest: off-~ periods, when traffic, consumption of current, etc., is light; off-~ flights to Rome, during the less busy times (e.g. during hours of darkness). peaked adj. having a ~: a ~ed cap (roof).

²peak [pi:k] v.i. waste away: (in Shakespeare) ~ and pine. peaked p.p. sharp-featured; thin, pale, and weak-looking. peak y adj. = peaked.

peal [pi:l] n. [C] 1. loud ringing of a bell or bells with different notes; changes rung upon a set of bells; set of bells tuned to each other. 2. loud echoing noise: a ~ of thunder; ~s of laughter. v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 23) sound forth in a ~; ring out loudly. 2. (VP 1, 10) cause to ring or sound loudly.

pea nut [ˈpi:nʌt] n. groundnut.

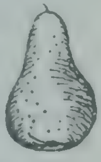
pear [pɛə*] n. [C] (tree with) sweet, juicy fruit, usu. tapering towards the stalk, as shown here.



A pear

pearl [pə:l] n. 1. silvery-white or bluish-white spherical formation found inside the shells of some oysters, valued as a gem: a necklace of ~s; a ~ necklace. ˈ~-ˌ*oyster n. kind in which ~s are found. ˈ~-ˌ*diver n. one who dives for ~-oysters. ˈ~-ˌ*fishery n. place where ~-oysters are fished up. 2. = mother-of-~ (see mother, def. 4): ~ buttons. 3. small round fragment of various substances: ˈ~-ˈ*barley, ˈ~-ˈ*sago nn. barley (sago) rubbed into small ~-like grains. 4. sth. that looks like a ~ (e.g. a dew-drop); sb. or sth. very precious: She's a ~ among women. cast ~s before swine, (prov.) offer sth. valuable or beautiful to those who cannot appreciate it. v.i. fish for ~s: go ~ing. ~y adj. of, like, ornamented with, ~s. ~ies n. pl. (the now festive) dress of some London costermongers, ornamented with many mother-of-~ buttons.

peas ant [ˈpezənt] n. (not in Gt. Brit., Australia, Canada, New Zealand, U.S.A.) countryman working on the land, either for wages or on a very small farm which he either rents or owns: (attrib.) ~ labour. (Cf., for Gt. Brit., smallholder, at small, def. 9.) ~ry [ˈpezəntri] n. the ~s of a country; ~s as a class.

pease [piːz] n. peas, esp. in ~-pudding.

peat [piːt] n. [U] plant material partly decomposed by the action of water, used in horticulture, and as a fuel: a bag (bale) of ~; a ˈ~-bog, a marshy place where ~ is found; a ~ fire, one on which cut pieces of ~ are burnt as fuel ~y adj. of, like, smelling of, ~.

peb ble [ˈpebl] n. small stone made smooth and round by being rolled in water (e.g. in a stream or on the seashore). peb bly adj. covered with ~s: a pebbly beach.

pe can [piˈkæn] n. [C] (nut of a) kind of hickory tree growing in the Mississippi region.

pec ca ble [ˈpekəbl] adj. liable to sin. pec ca bil i ty [ˌpekəˈbiliti] n.

pec ca dil lo [ˌpekəˈdilou] n. (pl. ~es or ~s) small unimportant weakness in a person's character; small fault.

pec ca ry [ˈpekəri] n. kind of wild pig found in America.

¹peck [pek] n. measure of capacity for dry goods (= 2 gallons); a ~ of beans; (fig.) a lot: a ~ of troubles.

²peck [pek] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21, 23, 24, 1) strike (at) with the beak: hens ~ing at the corn; cocks ~ing (at) the hens; (colloq.) ~ at one's food, (of a person) eat only small bits of food; eat without appetite. 2. (VP 1) get or make by striking with the beak; ~ corn. The hens ~ed a hole in the sack. 3. (colloq.) kiss (sb.'s cheek, e.g. one's wife's) hurriedly from habit or a sense of duty rather than from affection. n. 1. stroke with the beak; mark made by this. 2. (colloq.) hurried, unemotional kiss. ~er n. (sl.) keep your ~er up, stay cheerful; don't let your spirits droop. ~ish [ˈpekiʃ] adj. (colloq.) hungry.

pec tin [ˈpektin] n. (chem.) [U] compound similar to sugar, formed in fruits by ripening process and by heating (e.g. when fruit is made into jam).

pec to ral [ˈpektərəl] adj. of, for, good for diseases of, the chest or breast.

pec u late [ˈpekjuleit] v.i. & t. embezzle. pec u la tion [ˌpekjuˈleiʃən] n. [U] peculating; [C] instance of this.

pe cul iar [piˈkjuːljə*] adj. 1. belonging exclusively (to); used, adopted, practised, only by: customs ~ to these tribes; a style ~ to the 18th century; God's ~ people, i.e. the Jews, who considered themselves God's elect people. 2. strange; unusual; odd. 3. particular; special: a matter of ~ interest. ~ly adv. in a ~ manner: ~ly annoying, more than usually annoying. ~i ty [piˌkjuliˈæriti] n. 1. [U] the quality of being ~. 2. [C] sth. distinctive or characteristic. 3. [C] sth. odd or strange: ~ities of speech (dress, behaviour).

pe cu nia ry [piˈkjuːnjəri] adj. of mon ~ aid; work without ~ reward.

ped a gogue [ˈpedəgɔg] n. (U.S.A., pedagog) schoolmaster: pedantic teac ped a go gy [ˈpedəgɔgi, -gɔdʒi, -gou
n. [U] science of teaching. ped a gog
-i cal [ˌpedəˈgɔdʒik(əl), -ˈgɔg-] adj. o

¹ped al [ˈpedl] n. part of a machine instrument (e.g. a bicycle, sewi machine, organ, or piano) worked the foot or feet: (attrib.) ~ cyclists boats (propelled by the use of ~s).
& t. (-ll-, U.S.A., also -l-) (VP 21, 1, 10) use a ~ or ~s (for playing organ, riding a bicycle, etc.); move work by the use of a ~ or ~s: The ~led away on his tricycle.

²ped al [ˈpedl, ˈpiːdl] adj. (zool.) of the f or feet.

ped ant [ˈpedənt] n. person who lays much stress on book-learning, techn knowledge, rules, and adherence rules. pe dan tic [piˈdæntik] adj. of like a ~. ~i cal ly adv. ~ry [ˈpedən
n. [U] tiresome and unnecessary disp of learning; too much insistence up formal rules; [C] instance of this.

ped dle [ˈpedl] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 21) b pedlar; go from house to house trying sell small articles. 2. (VP 1) deal out small quantities: She loves to ~ gos round the village. ped dler n. = pedl ped dling adj. petty; trivial: peddl details.

ped es tal [ˈpedistl] n. base of a colum base for a statue or other work of a each of the two supports of a knee-h writing-desk (hence, ~ desk).

pe des tri an [piˈdestriən] n. pers walking in a street, etc.: ~s killed traffic accidents; (attrib.) ~ crossin street crossings specially marked, wh ~s have priority over traffic. adj.
connected with walking. 2. (of writi a person's way of making speeches, et prosaic; dull; uninspired.

pe di at rics, pe di a tri cian, see p diatrics.

ped i cab [ˈpedikæb] n. (in some As countries) tricycle with one seat for man in charge and a seat behind for passengers, used as a form of pu transport.

ped i cure [ˈpedikjuə*] n. treatment ³corns, bunions, etc.

ped i gree [ˈpedigriː] n. 1. [C] line ancestors: proud of their long ~s; ancestry, esp. ancient descent.
(attrib.) having a line of descent that been recorded: ~ cattle; a ~ poodle.

ped i ment [ˈpedimənt] n. (in Gre architecture) triangular part over front of a building; similar part o the portico of a building in other of architecture. (See illustr. at

ped lar [ˈpedlə*] n. person who goes house to house peddling small arti

ek [pi:k] v.i. peep (at sth.).

el [pi:l] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10) take the in off (fruit, etc.): ~ a banana; ~ tatoes. 2. (VP 21, 23) come off in strips flakes: These potatoes ~ easily, the in comes off them easily. The wall- per is ~ing off. After a day in the hot n my skin began to ~ (my face ~ed).
he bark of plane-trees ~s off regularly.
[U] skin of fruit, some vegetables, ung shoots, etc.: candied ~, thick ces of the ~ of oranges, lemons, etc., eserved and coated with sugar. ~er *n.
compounds) device used for ~ing (e.g. tatoes). ~ings *n. pl. parts ~ed off
p. of potatoes).

l er [ˈpi:lə*] n. (out of date sl. for) liceman.

p [pi:p] n. 1. short, quick look, often e taken secretly or inquisitively; inmplete view: have a ~ at sb. through window; get a ~ of a distant water-l through the trees. ˈ~-hole *n. small ening in a wall, partition, etc., through hich one can have a ~. ˈ~-show *n.
hibition of small pictures to be seen rough a magnifying lens in a small ening. 2. the first light (of day): ~ of y, dawn. v.i. (VP 21, 23) 1. take a ~ ); look slyly or cautiously: ~ through keyhole; neighbours ~ing at us from hind curtains. ~ing Tom, name used a prurient person who spies upon rsons who think they are alone. 2.
me slowly or partly into view: The
on ~ed out from behind the clouds.
er n. 1. person who ~s. 2. (sl.) eye.

p [pi:p] n. [C] weak, shrill sound made mice, young birds, etc. v.i. make this und.

r [piə*] n. 1. equal in rank, merit, or ality: It will not be very easy to find ~. 2. (in Gt. Brit.) member of one the degrees of nobility (duke, maris, earl, viscount, baron). 3. (~ of the alm) person with the right to sit in House of Lords: life-~s, those electo the House of Lords for life only ntrasted with hereditary ~s). ~ess iəris] n. woman ~; wife of a ~ (def. 3). ess adj. without a ~ (def. 1); without ual.

r [piə*] v.i. (VP 21, 23, 24) look (at,
, sth.) closely, as if unable to see ll: ~ into dark corners; ~ing at her r his spectacles.

r age [ˈpiəridʒ] n. 1. the whole body peers; rank of peer (def. 3): raise a n to the ~. 2. book containing a list peers with their ancestry.

ved [pi:vd] adj. (colloq.) irritated.

v ish [ˈpi:viʃ] adj. irritable. ~ly *adv.
ness n.

wit, see pewit.

[peg] n. 1. wooden or metal pin or lt, usu. pointed at one end, used to sten parts of woodwork together. a square peg in a round hole, a person unsuited to the position he fills. 2. pin driven into the ground to hold a rope (a tent-peg), or fastened to a wall or door (hat and coat pegs). (buy sth.) off the peg, (colloq.) (buy clothes) ready-made (as if off a peg in a shop). 3. (clothes-peg) device for holding laundered clothes in place on a line. 4. (fig.) theme, pretext, or excuse: a peg on which to hang a sermon. 5. wooden screw for tightening or loosening the string of a violin, etc.: take a person down a peg or two, humble him. 6. drink, esp. of whisky or brandy with soda-water. 7. piece of wood for stopping the vent of a cask, etc. ˈpegtop ˈtrousers n. pl. trousers wide at the hips and narrow at the ankles. 8. (colloq.) wooden leg.

Pegs (def. 1)

²peg [peg] v.t. & i. (-gg-) 1. (VP 1, 10) fasten with pegs: peg a tent down; (fig.) peg sb. down, make him keep to a certain line of action, restrict him to the rules, etc. 2. (VP 10) mark by means of pegs fixed in the ground: peg out a claim, mark the boundaries by means of pegs. 3. (commerce) (VP 1, 10) keep (prices, etc.) steady by buying and selling (stocks) freely at fixed prices; keep (wages) steady: wage-pegging efforts that failed. 4. (VP 23) peg away at, keep on working at. peg out, (colloq.) die.

peig noir [ˈpeinwɑ:*, (F.) pɛŋwa:r] n. (arch.) woman's loose robe worn while dressing the hair or as a bath-robe; negligée.

pe jo ra tive [ˈpi:dʒərətiv, piˈdʒɔr-] adj. depreciatory; disparaging: deteriorating in use or meaning.

peke [pi:k] n. short for pekinese (dog).

pe kin ese [ˌpi:kiˈni:z] n. small Chinese dog with long, silky hair.

pe koe [ˈpi:kou, ˈpekou] n. high grade of black tea.

pe lag ic [peˈlædʒik] adj. of, in, the open sea: ~ sailing.

pelf [pelf] n. [U] (usu. contemptuous use) money.

pel i can [ˈpelikən] n. large water-bird with a large bill under which is a pouch for storing food.

pe lisse [peˈli:s] n. (arch.) child's or woman's outdoor garment.

pel let [ˈpelit] n. 1. small ball of sth. soft (e.g. wet paper, bread) made, for example, by rolling between the fingers. 2. slug of small shot (e.g. as used from an air-gun). 3. pill.

A pelican

pell-mell [ˈpelˈmel] adv. in a hurrying, disorderly manner.

pel lu cid [peˈljuːsid] adj. very clear (lit. and fig.). ~ly adv.

pel met [ˈpelmit] n. valance or ornamental strip above a window or door to conceal a curtain rod.

^{1}pelt [pelt] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 18) attack by throwing things at: ~ sb. with stones (snowballs, mud). 2. (VP 23) (of rain, etc.) beat down; fall heavily: It was ~ing with rain. The rain was ~ing down. The hail was ~ing against the roof. n. ~ing. at full ~, (running) as fast as possible.

^{2}pelt [pelt] n. animal's skin with the fur or hair on it.

pel vis [ˈpelvis] n. (pl. ~is [-iz]) bony frame within the hip-bones and the lower part of the backbone, holding the kidneys, rectum, bladder, etc.

pem mi can [ˈpemikən] n. [U] dried lean meat beaten and mixed into cakes (as by N. American Indians).

^{1}pen [pen] n. 1. (in former times) quill-feather, pointed and split at the end, for writing with ink; (today) instrument with a pointed piece of split metal (ˈpen-ˈnib) fixed into a holder (ˈpen-ˌholder) of wood or other material; fountain-pen, kind with a supply of ink inside the holder. 2. (style of) writing: make a living with one's pen. 3. ˈpen-and-ˈink, (attrib.) drawn with these: a pen-and-ink sketch. ˈpen-friend n. person (e.g. in another country) with whom one has a friendship through exchanges of letters. ˈpenknife n. small knife, usu. carried in the pocket. ˈpenmanship n. art or style of handwriting. ˈpen-name n. name used by a writer instead of his real name. ˈpen-ˌpusher n. (colloq.) clerk. v.t. (-nn-) write (a letter, etc.).

^{2}pen [pen] n. 1. small enclosure for cattle, sheep, poultry, etc., or other purposes. 2. (ˈplay-pen) enclosure for a very small child to play in safety. 3. bomb-proof shelter for submarines. v.t. (-nn-) (VP 10, 18) shut up in, or as in, a pen.

pe nal [ˈpiːnl] adj. connected with punishment: ~ laws; a ~ offence, one for which there is legal punishment; ~ servitude, imprisonment with hard labour; a ~ colony, one used as a place of punishment. ~ly adv.

pe nal ize [ˈpiːnəlaiz] v.t. (VP 1) 1. make (sth.) penal; declare to be punishable by law. 2. place at a disadvantage; give a penalty (def. 2) to (a player, competitor, etc.) (for sth.). pe nal i za tion [ˌpiːnəlaiˈzeiʃən] n.

pen al ty [ˈpenəlti] n. 1. [U] punishment for wrong-doing, for failure to obey rules or keep an agreement; [C] what is imposed (imprisonment, payment of a fine, etc.) as punishment; (fig.) suffering which a wrongdoer brings upon himself or others: Spitting forbidden; ~ £5. The ~ (e.g. in a business agreement) for non-performance of contract is heavy. (under) ~ of (death, etc.), with (dea etc.) as the ~: forbidden under ~ death. 2. (in sport, competitions, e disadvantage to which a player or te must submit for breaking a rule; (fo ball) ~ area, part of the ground in fr of the goal where a breach of the ru by defenders gives the opposing te the right to an unopposed kick (a kick) at the goal. 3. handicap impo upon a player or team for winning a p vious contest.

pen ance [ˈpenəns] n. [U] punishm which one imposes upon oneself to sh repentance, e.g. upon the advice o priest: do ~ (for . . .), perform an of ~ (for sth.).

pence [pens] n. see penny.

pen chant [ˈpɑ̃ːŋʃɑ̃ːŋ, (U.S.A.) ˈpentʃa (F.) pɑ̃ʃɑ̃] n. taste, liking, inclinat (for).

pen cil [ˈpensl] n. instrument for dra ing or writing with, esp. of graph or coloured chalk enclosed in wo or fixed in a metal holder. v.t. (- (U.S.A. also -l-) (VP 1) write, dra mark, with a ~: ~led eyebrows.

pend ant [ˈpendənt] n. 1. ornam which hangs down, esp. one attach to a necklet, bracelet, etc. 2. (nautic pennant.

pend ent [ˈpendənt] adj. 1. hangi overhanging: ~ rocks. 2. (= pendi still to be decided.

pend ing [ˈpendiŋ] adj. waiting to decided or settled: The lawsuit then ~. prep. 1. during: ~ these d cussions. 2. until: ~ his acceptance the offer.

pen du lous [ˈpendjuləs] adj. hangi down loosely so as to swing freely: ~ nests of the weaver birds.

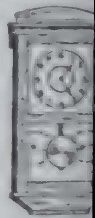
pen du lum [ˈpendjuləm] n. weighted hung from a fixed point so that it swings freely, esp. one to regulate the movement of a clock. the swing of the ~, (fig.) the movement of public opinion from one extreme to the other.



A pendul

pen e tra ble [ˈpenitrəbl] adj. that can be penetrated. pen e tra bil i ty [ˌpenitrəˈbiliti] n.

pen e trate [ˈpenitreit] v.t. & i. (VP 1) make a way into or throu (fig.) see into or through; (VP 24) m a way (into or through): The cat's sh claws ~d my skin. The mist ~d (i the room. He ~d their designs. Our could not ~ the darkness. We soon his disguise, saw through it, knew w he really was. 2. (VP 1, 24) spr through; spread (through): bad that ~d (through) the building; new that ~d the countries of Asia. 3. (VP

bue (with): be ~d with a desire for stical experiences.* pen e tra ting
lj. 1. (of a person, his mind) able to and understand quickly and deeply.
(of voices, cries, etc.) piercing; loud
d clear. pen e tra ting ly adv.

n e tra tion [ˌpeniˈtreiʃən] n. 1. peneating: peaceful ~, acquiring influence, ntrol, etc., without the use of force
g. by trade, supplying a country with pital). 2. mental quickness; ability grasp ideas.

n e tra tive [ˈpenitrətiv] adj. able to netrate; intelligent.

n guin [ˈpeŋgwin] n. sea-bird of the ntarctic with wings used r swimming.

A penguin

n i cil lin [ˌpeniˈsilin, ˈnis-] n. [U] antibiotic ug that, by changing
e chemical environ-
ent of germs, prevents em from surviving or ultiplying.

nin su la [piˈninsjulə] area of land (e.g. Italy) most surrounded by ater. pe nin su lar adj. of or like a ~.

nis [ˈpi:nis] n. organ of copulation a male animal.

n i tence [ˈpenitəns] n. [U] sorrow and gret (for wrongdoing, sin).

n i tent [ˈpenitənt] adj. feeling regret;
owing regret or remorse. ~ly adv.

n i ten tial [ˌpeniˈtenʃəl] adj. of penince or penance. ~ly adv.

n i ten tia ry [ˌpeniˈtenʃəri] n. prison,
p. one in which reform of the prisoners the main aim. adj. of reformatory eatment.

n nant [ˈpenənt] n. flag (usu. long and arrow) used on a ship for signalling,
c.

n ni less [ˈpenilis] adj. without any oney: I'm ~ until pay-day.

n non [ˈpenən] n. 1. long, narrow su. triangular) flag, as used by a knight his lance, by soldiers in lancer regi-ents, and on ships (e.g. in signalling).
(U.S.A.) flag of this shape as a school anner, with the school's name or ini-als on it.

nn'orth [ˈpenəθ] n. = pennyworth.

n ny [ˈpeni] n. (pl. pence [pens], or nnies [ˈpeniz], as noted below). 1. ritish bronze coin worth one-twelfth a shilling; pl. pence, combined with umbers: ˈsixpence; ˈtenpence; ˈeighteen ence; pl. pennies, of individual coins:
lease give me six pennies for this six-nce (i.e. the coin of this value). 2. hrases, etc.): (will cost) a pretty ~, good sum of money. in for a ~, in r a pound, sth. that one has begun ust be finished, whatever the cost may . turn an honest ~, earn a little oney honestly. ~ wise and pound foolish, careful in small matters and wasteful in large matters. 3. (compounds) ˈ~weight n. 24 grains, one-twentieth of an ounce Troy. (See Appendix 1.) ˈ~worth [ˈpeniwə(:)θ, ˈpenəθ] n. as much as can be bought for a ~: a good (bad) ~ worth, a good (bad) bargain. 4. (from the use of pennies in coin-operated machines, door-handles, etc.): spend a ~, (colloq.) visit a W.C. The ~ dropped, the desired result was achieved, the meaning of a remark, etc., was understood.

pe nol o gy [pi:ˈnɔlədʒi] n. [U] study of the problems of legal punishment.

¹pen sion [ˈpenʃən] n. [C] regular payment made by the State to sb. old (old-age ~) or disabled (e.g. war ~) or widowed, or by a former employer to an employee after long service: retire on a ~; go to the Post Office to draw one's ~. v.t. (VP 1, 10) grant or pay a ~ to: ~ (sb.) off, dismiss or allow to retire with a ~. ~a ble [ˈpenʃənəbl] adj. (of services, posts, age, work, etc.) entitling one to a ~. ~er n. person who is receiving a ~.

²pen sion [(F.) pɑ̃sjɔ̃; (Eng.) ˈpɑ̃:ŋsiɔ̃ŋ] n. boarding-house at which fixed rates are charged (by the week or month): live en ~, as a boarder.

pen sive [ˈpensiv] adj. deep in thought; seriously thoughtful: ~ looks; looking ~. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

pen stock [ˈpenstɔk] n. flood-gate; sluice.

pent [pent] adj. shut (up) in; penned up: ~-up feelings (fury).

pen ta gon [ˈpentəgən] n. plane figure with five sides and five angles. pen tag o nal [penˈtægənl] adj.

pen tam e ter [penˈtæmitə*] n. (in English verse) line of five iambic feet.

Pen ta teuch [ˈpentətju:k] n. the first five books of the Bible.

pen tath lon [penˈtæθlən] n. (Olympic Games) contest in which each competitor takes part in five events.

Pen te cost [ˈpentikɔst] n. 1. Jewish harvest festival, fifty days after the Passover. 2. (esp. U.S.A.) Whitsunday, the seventh Sunday after Easter.

pent house [ˈpenthaus] n. 1. sloping roof supported against a wall, esp. one for a shelter or shed. 2. (orig. U.S.A.) apartment or flat built on the roof of a tall building.

pe nul ti mate [piˈnʌltimit] n. & adj. (word, syllable, etc., which is) last but one.

pe num bra [piˈnʌmbrə] n. partly shaded region around the shadow of an opaque body (esp. round the total shadow of the moon or earth in eclipse).

pe nu ri ous [piˈnjuriəs] adj. poor; grudging; stingy: a man who is ~ in his habits. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

pen u ry [ˈpenjuəri] n. [U] poverty: living in ~; reduced to ~.

pe on [ˈpi:ən] n. 1. (in Latin America) farm worker, esp. one who is not wholly free. 2. (also [pju:n] (in India and Pakistan) office messenger; orderly. ~age [ˈpiənidʒ] n. [U] system of employing ~s (def. 1); (legal) use of indebtedness to compel sb. to work.

pe o ny [ˈpiəni] n. [C] garden plant with large round pink, red, or white flowers.

peo ple [ˈpi:pl] n. (defs. 1 to 5, collective, never pl. in form but used with a pl. v). 1. persons in general: streets crowded with ~. Some ~ are very inquisitive. Several ~ were hurt. 2. those persons belonging to a place, or forming a social class: The ~ in the village like the new doctor. Middle-class ~ spend a lot of money on clothes. 3. all the persons forming a State: government of the ~, by the ~, for the ~. 4. those persons who are not nobles, not high in rank, position, etc. 5. (colloq.) one's near relations: You must come home with me and meet my ~, darling. 6. (with sing. v. and in pl.) race, tribe, nation: the ~s of Asia; a brave and intelligent ~. v.t. (VP 1) fill with ~; put ~ in: a thickly ~d district.

pep [pep] n. [U] (sl.) vigour; spirit: a pep talk, one intended to fill the listener(s) with spirit and energy.

pep per [ˈpepə*] n. 1. [U] hot-tasting powder made from the dried berries of certain plants, used to season food. ˈ~-and-ˈsalt, n. (colour of) cloth of dark and light wools woven together, with small dark and light dots. ˈ~-box, ˈ~-pot, ˈ~-ˌcaster, ˈ~-ˌcastor nn. small container with a perforated top from which ~ is sprinkled on food. ˈ~-mill n. container in which ~corns are ground to powder and sprinkled on food. ˈ~corn n. the dried, black berry of the plant; (fig.) this as a nominal rent. ˈ~mint n. (a) [U] kind of mint grown for its essential oil, used in medicine and confectionery. (b) [C] sweet of boiled sugar flavoured with ~mint. 2. (garden plant with a) red or green seed-pod which is used as a vegetable: stuffed ~s. v.t. (VP 1, 18) 1. put ~ on (food). 2. pelt (sb.) (with stones, shot, questions, etc.). ~y adj. tasting of ~; (fig.) hot-tempered: a ~y old colonel.

Peppers

pep sin [ˈpepsin] n. [U] liquid produced in the stomach for helping to digest food. pep tic [ˈpeptik] adj. digestive; of digestion or the digestive system.

per [pə:, pə] prep. 1. for each: per annum, for each year; per diem, for each day; per pound; 15 rounds of ammunition per man; interest at (cent (6%). 2. by means of: per po per ad ven ture [pərədˈventʃə*] adv (old use) perhaps. 2. (after if and by chance: If ~ you fail . . . n. cha beyond (a) ~, beyond all doubt.

per am bu late [pəˈræmbjuleit] v.t i. (VP 1, 21) walk through or o walk up and down. per am bu la [pəˌræmbjuˈleiʃən] n.

pe ram bu la tor [pəˈræmbjule ˈpræm-] n. (colloq. abbrev. pram) wheeled carriage for a baby; b carriage (the usual word in U.S.A.

per ceive [pəˈsi:v] v.t. (VP 1, 4, 5, 6, 15) become aware of, esp. through eyes or the mind: On entering his h we at once ~d him to be (~d that he a man of taste. per ceiv a ble adj.

per cen tage [pəˈsentidʒ] n. 1. rat number per cent. (= for each hund 2. proportion: What ~ of these boo (are) worth reading?

per cep ti ble [pəˈseptibl] adj. that be perceived. per cep ti bly adv. p cep ti bil i ty [pəˌseptiˈbiliti] n.

per cep tion [pəˈsepʃən] n. [U] pro by which we become aware of cha (through the senses of sight, hear etc.); act or power of perceiving.

per cep tive [pəˈseptiv] adj. hav connected with, perception. ~ly a ¹perch [pə:tʃ] n. kind of freshwater with spiny fins, used as food.

²perch [pə:tʃ] n. 1. bird's resting-p (e.g. a branch); bar or rod provi (e.g. in a bird-cage, a hen-roost) for purpose. 2. (colloq.) high posi occupied by a person; elevated secure position: come off your ~, (coll stop being so superior (in manner, et knock sb. off his ~, defeat him. 3. (pole, rod) measure of length, esp. land, 5½ yds.; square ~, 30¼ sq. (See Appendix 1.) v.i. & t. 1. (VP alight: The birds ~ed upon the televi aerial. 2. (VP 24) (of a person) tak a position (on sth. high): ~ed on s at the bar. 3. (chiefly in p.p.) (of bu ings) be situated (on sth. high): a c ~ed on a rock.

per chance [pəˈtʃɑ:ns] adv. by cha possibly.

per cip i ent [pəˈsipiənt] adj. perceiv per co late [ˈpə:kəleit] v.i. & t. (V 21, 24) (of liquid) (cause to) pass slowly (through); filter (through): Water ~s through sand. Has the water ~d through the coffee yet? We can make coffee by percolating boiling water through coffee. I'll ~ some coffee.

A percolat

per co la tor n. (esp.) apparatus in which boiling water through coffee.

us sion [pəˈkʌʃən] n. the striking ther of two (usu. hard) objects;
k produced by this: ~ instruments,
ical instruments played by ~, e.g.
s, cymbals. ~ cap, small metal cap aining gunpowder, used in old types re-arms.

di tion [pəˈdiʃən] n. [U] complete
; everlasting damnation.

e gri na tion [ˌperigriˈneiʃən] n. [U] elling; [C] journey.

emp to ry [pəˈremptəri] adj. (of mands) not to be disobeyed or tioned; (of a person, his manner) ) commanding; insisting upon obedi-
: a ~ writ, (legal) one that compels efendant to appear in court. per-p to ri ly adv.

en nial [pəˈrenjəl] adj. 1. continuing ughout the whole year. 2. lasting a very long time. 3. (of plants) living more than two years. n. ~ plant.
adv.

fect [ˈpəːfikt] adj. 1. complete with rything needed. 2. without fault;
llent: a ~ wife. 3. exact; accurate:
circle. 4. having reached the highest nt in training, skill, etc.: ~ in the formance of one's duties. 5. (gram.) ~ tenses, those composed of finites have and a past participle, e.g. 'He (had, will have) written the letter' sent, past, future ~). 6. (attrib. only) nplete; unqualified: *a ~ stranger
l); ~ nonsense.* v.t. [pəˈfekt, ˈpəːfikt]
1) make ~: ~ oneself in a foreign guage. ~ly adv. quite; quite well;
npletely: ~ly happy (satisfied).

fec tion [pəˈfekʃən] n. [U] 1. per-ting or being perfected: busy with the of detail. 2. perfect quality or ex-ple: It was the very ~ of beauty. 3.
t possible state; highest point attain-e: bring something to ~. 4. (with pl.) omplishment (def. 3). ~ist n. 1. per-who believes that moral ~ may be ained, that it is possible to live withsinning. 2. (colloq.) person who is isfied with nothing less than what he nks to be perfect.

fer vid [pəːˈfəːvid] adj. very fervid.

fid i ous [pə(ː)ˈfidiəs] adj. treacher-
; faithless (to). ~ly adv. ~ness

per fi dy [ˈpəːfidi] n. [U] treachery; aking of faith; [C] instance of this.

fo rate [ˈpəːfəreit] v.t. & i. 1. (VP make a hole or holes in; make a row tiny holes (in paper) so that part may torn off easily: a ~d sheet of postage mps. 2. (VP 24) penetrate (into, ough, etc.) sth. per fo ra tion [ˌpəː-eiʃən] n. 1. perforating or being ~d.
[C] line of small holes made in paper
. as between postage stamps).

force [pəˈfɔːs] adv. of necessity.

form [pəˈfɔːm] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) (a piece of work, sth. one is ordered to do, sth. one has promised to do): ~ a task. 2. (VP 1, 21) act (a play); play (music); sing, do tricks, etc., before an audience: ~ 'Hamlet'; ~ skilfully on the flute. The seals ~ed well at the circus. Do you enjoy seeing ~ing animals? ~er n. one who ~s, esp. at a concert or other entertainment.

per form ance [pəˈfɔːməns] n. 1. [U] performing: faithful in the ~ of his duties. 2. [C] notable action: His innings of 150 was a fine ~. 3. [C] performing of a play at the theatre; public exhibition; concert: two ~s a day; tickets for the afternoon ~.

per fume [ˈpəːfjuːm] n. [C & U] (kinds of prepared liquid with) sweet smell, esp. from an essence of flowers. v.t. [pəˈfjuːm] (VP 1) give a ~ to; put ~ on. per fum er [pəˈfjuːmə*] n. person who makes and sells ~s.

per func to ry [pəˈfʌŋktəri] adj. 1. done as a duty but without care or interest: a ~ inspection. 2. (of persons) doing things in this way. per func to ri ly adv.

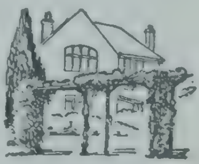
per go la [ˈpəːgələ] n. structure of posts (forming an arbour, or over a garden path) for climbing plants (e.g. roses, wistaria).



A pergola

per haps [pəˈhæps, (colloq.) præps] adv. possibly; it may be.

per i [ˈpiəri] n. (in Persian myth.) fairy; elf.

per i he lion [ˌperiˈhiːljən] n. point in a planet's orbit at which it is nearest to the sun.

per il [ˈperil] n. 1. [U] serious danger: in ~ of one's life; do sth. at one's ~, at one's own risk. 2. [C] sth. that causes danger: the ~s of the ocean, storm, shipwreck, etc. v.t. (-ll-) (liter., poet.) (= imperil, which is commoner) put or bring into danger. ~ous [ˈperiləs] adj. dangerous; full of risk. ~ous ly adv.

per im e ter [pəˈrimitə*] n. [C] (length of the) outer boundary of a closed figure, a military position, an airfield, etc.

pe ri od [ˈpiəriəd] n. [C] 1. length or portion of time marked off by events that recur (e.g. hours, days, months, and years, fixed by events in nature): 20 teaching ~s a week; a lesson ~ of 45 minutes. 2. indefinite portion of time in the life of a person, a nation, a stage of civilization, etc.: the ~ of the French Revolution. The actors will wear costumes of the ~ (~ costumes), i.e. of the time when the events of the play took place. The house is 18th century and has ~ furniture, i.e. of the same century. 3. full pause at the end of a sentence; full stop (.) marking this in writing and print: put a ~ to sth., bring it to an end. 4. (gram.) complete sentence or statement, usu. complex; (pl.) rhetorical or flowery language. 5. time during which a disease runs its course; stage in the course of a disease: the ~ of incubation, the time during which it is latent. 6. (pl.) menses.

pe ri od ic [ˌpiəriˈɔdik] adj. occurring or appearing at regular intervals: ~ attacks of malaria; the ~ motion of a heavenly body.

pe ri od i cal [ˌpiəriˈɔdikəl] adj. = periodic. n. magazine or other publication which appears at regular intervals, e.g. monthly, quarterly. ~ly adv.

per i pa tet ic [ˌperipəˈtetik] adj. going about from place to place; wandering: the ~ religious teachers of India.

pe riph er y [pəˈrifəri] n. external boundary or surface.

pe riph ra sis [pəˈrifrəsis] n. roundabout way of speaking; circumlocution. per i phras tic [ˌperiˈfræstik] adj. of ~: (gram.) periphrastic conjugation (e.g. 'It does work' for 'It works').

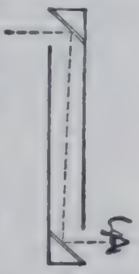
per i scope [ˈperiskoup] n. instrument with mirrors and lenses arranged to reflect a view down a tube, etc., so that the viewer may get a view as from a level above that of his eyes; used in submarines, trenches, etc.



A periscope

per ish [ˈperiʃ] v.i. & t. 1. (liter. or journalism) (VP 21, 23) be destroyed, come to an end, die: Hundreds of people ~ed in the earthquake. I shall do it or ~ in the attempt. P~ the thought! (liter.: May even the thought die!) 2. (of cold or exposure; usu. passive) reduce to distress or inefficiency: We were ~ed with cold (hunger). 3. (VP 1, 21) (cause to) lose natural qualities: The rubber belt on this machine has ~ed, has lost its elasticity. Oil on your car tyres will ~ them. ~a ble [ˈperiʃəbl] adj. (esp. of food) quickly or easily going bad. ~a bles n. pl. (esp.) goods that go bad if delayed in transit (e.g. fish, fresh fruit).

per i style [ˈperistail] n. row of columns surrounding a temple, court, etc.; space surrounded.

per i to ni tis [ˌperitəˈnaitis] n. [U] inflammation of the lining of the abdomen.

per i wig [ˈperiwig] n. = wig.

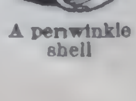
A periwinkle

^{1}per i win kle [ˈperiˌwiŋkl] n. [U] creeping, evergreen plant with light-blue flowers.

^{2}per i win kle [ˈperiˌwiŋkl] n. [C] edible sea-snail with a spiral shell.



A periwinkle shell

per jure [ˈpəːdʒə*] v.t. (VP 1, refle oneself, knowingly make a false stat after taking an oath to tell the per jur er n. person who has ~d self. per ju ry [ˈpəːdʒəri] n. [U] perjuring oneself; [C] wilful false
ment.

^{1}perk [pəːk] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 23) person) ~ up, become lively and (after depression, illness, etc.). 2
10) smarten (up); show interest, ness: ~ oneself up. The horse ~ its head, lifted its head as a si interest. ~y adj. (-ier, -iest) 1.
showing interest or confidence. 2.
assertive; impudent. ~i ly adv.
ness n.

^{2}perk [pəːk] v.i. & t. (colloq.) perco Is the coffee(-pot) ~ing yet? We some coffee.

^{3}perk [pəːk] n. (colloq.; usu. pl.) quisite.

perm [pəːm] n. (colloq. abbrev. for permanent waves: go to the hairdre for a ~. 2. permutation (in foo pools). v.t. give a ~ (def. 1) to.

per ma nence [ˈpəːmənəns] n. [U] of being permanent. per ma ne
[ˈpəːmənənsi] n. 1. [U] = perman
2. permanent thing, person, or posi Is your new job a permanency or m temporary?

per ma nent [ˈpəːmənənt] adj. goin for a long time; intended to last:
way, finished railway track; a ~ po in the Civil Service (cf. temporary); wave, style of hairdressing in artificial waves or curls are put hair so that they last several mo ~ly adv.

per man ga nate [pəːˈmæŋgənit] n.
potash, potassium ~, ($KMnO_4$) purple crystalline salt which is dissolved in water, as an antiseptic disinfectant.

per me ate [ˈpəːmieit] v.t. & i. (V 24) pass into every part of; sp water permeating (through) the new ideas that have ~d (through, an the people. per me a tion [ˌpəːmi
n. permeating or being ~d. per
a ble [ˈpəːmiəbl] adj. that can b by fluids; porous. per me a bi [ˌpəːmiəˈbiliti] n.

per mis si ble [pəˈmisibl] adj. that be permitted. per mis si bly adv

per mis sion [pəˈmiʃən] n. [U] allowing or permitting; consent:
your ~, if you will allow me;
sb. ~ to do sth. You have my leave. By whose ~ did you enter gardens?

per mis sive [pəˈmisiv] adj. giving mission: ~ legislation, that gives p to do sth. but does not order th shall be done.

^{1}per mit [pəˈmit] v.t. & i. (-tt-) 1. ( ) allow: weather ~ing. Smoking ted in this theatre. Circumstances t ~ me to help you (do not ~ my g you). 2. (VP 24) ~ of, admit of:

situation does not ~ of any delay,
must be no delay.

it ['pəːmit] n. [C] written authority somewhere, do sth., etc.: You won't to the atomic research station with-
~.

ute [pə'mjuːt] v.t. (VP 1) change
rder of.

u ta tion [ˌpəːmju'teiʃən] n. [C] s.) change in the order of a set of arranged in a line; any one such gement. The ~s of x, y, and z are xzy, yxz, yzx, zxy, zyx.

i cious [pə'niʃəs] adj. harmful, ious (to): ~ habits; ~ to the welfare
ciety; ~ anaemia, a severe kind, fatal. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

ick et y [pə'nikiti] adj. (colloq.)
; worrying about trifles.

ra tion [ˌperə'reiʃən] n. last part speech; summing up.

x ide [pə'rɔksaid] n. (esp.) ~ of gen, colourless liquid used as an eptic and to bleach hair: a ~ blonde, an with hair bleached with ~.

en dic u lar [ˌpəːpən'dikjulə*] adj.
t an angle of 90° (to another line or ace). 2. upright; crossing the hori-al at an angle of 90°. n. [C] ~ line; ~ position: The wall is a little out
e ~. ~ly adv.

e trate ['pəːpitreit] v.t. (VP 1) com(a crime, an error); do (sth. wrong
th. considered outrageous): ~ a e (a blunder, a frightful pun). per- tra tion [ˌpəːpi'treiʃən] n. per pe- tor ['pəːpitreitə*] n.

pet u al [pə'petjuəl] adj. 1. never-ing; going on for a long time or hout stopping: ~ motion, the motion machine, if such could be invented, ch would go on for ever unless pped by outside force or worn out
. one using the force of gravity). 2.
tinual; often repeated: She's tired heir ~ chatter. ~ly adv.

pet u ate [pə'petjueit] v.t. (VP 1) serve from being forgotten or from g out of use: ~ the memory of a great sman by erecting a statue of him.
pet u a tion [pəˌpetju'eiʃən] n.

pet u i ty [ˌpəːpi'tjuiti] n. 1. [U]
e of being perpetual: in ~, for ever.
aw) perpetual annuity or possession.

plex [pə'pleks] v.t. (VP 1) 1. puzzle; ilder: ~ sb. with questions. 2. make e complex or intricate: Don't ~ the
e. per plexed [pə'plekst] adj.
zled; complicated. ~ed ly [pə-ksidli] adv. ~ing adj. ~ing ly adv.

plex i ty [pə'pleksiti] n. 1. [U] perxed condition; mental difficulty sed by doubt: He looked at us in ~.
2. [C] perplexing thing; cause of bewilderment.

per qui site ['pəːkwizit] n. [C] profit, allowance, etc., given, or looked upon as one's right, in addition to regular wages or salary: The maid's ~s include the dresses her mistress no longer likes to wear.

per ry ['peri] n. [U] drink made from the juice of pears fermented so that it is alcoholic. (Cf. cider.)

per se cute ['pəːsikjuːt] v.t. 1. (VP 1) punish, treat cruelly, esp. because of religious beliefs. 2. allow no peace to; worry: ~ a man with questions. per se cu tor n. per se cu tion [ˌpəːsi'kjuːʃən] n. 1. [U] persecuting or being ~d: suffer persecution for one's religious beliefs. 2. [C] instance of this (in history, etc.): the numerous persecutions of the Jews.

per se ver ance [ˌpəːsə'viərəns] n. [U] constant effort to achieve something.

per se vere [ˌpəːsi'viə*] v.i. (VP 21, 24) keep on steadily, continue (at, in, with) (esp. sth. difficult or tiring): ~ in one's studies. per se ver ing adj. per se ver ing ly adv.

Per sian ['pəːʃən] n. & adj. (inhabitant) of Persia; language of the people of Persia (Iran): ~ carpets.

per si flage [ˌpɛəsi'flɑːʒ, ˌpəːs-] n. [U] banter; light, good-humoured teasing.

per sim mon [pə'simən] n. (tree bearing) soft yellow fruit which becomes sweet when softened by frost.

per sist [pə'sist] v.i. 1. (VP 24) ~ in, refuse, in spite of argument, opposition, failure, etc., to make any change in (what one is doing, one's beliefs, etc.): She ~s in wearing that old-fashioned hat. 2. (VP 21, 24) continue to exist: The fog is likely to ~ in most areas. ~ence n. [U] ~ing or being ~ent: The ~ence of a high temperature in the patient puzzled the doctor. ~ent adj. ~ing; continuing; occurring again and again: ~ent attacks of malaria. ~ent ly adv.

per son ['pəːsn] n. 1. man, woman, or child: (often derogatory) Who is this ~? There's a young ~ (usu. = woman) to see you. 2. living body of a human being: I shall be present at the meeting in ~, I shall be there myself (instead of sending sb. to represent me). She found a good friend in the ~ of her landlady, her landlady became a good friend to her. Offences against the ~ (i.e. assaults, bodily attacks) are punished severely. 3. (gram.) each of the three classes of personal pronouns: the first ~ (I, we), the second ~ (you), and the third ~ (he, she, it, they).

per son a ble ['pəːsənəbl] adj. good-looking; handsome.

per son age ['pəːsənidʒ] n. (important) person.

per son al ['pə:sənl] adj. 1. private; individual; of or for a person, not a group: ~ needs (opinions). 2. done directly by a person himself: a ~ interview; make a ~ call (e.g. instead of sending an employee). 3. of a person's looks, abilities, qualities, etc.: ~ beauty. 4. of, about, or against a person: ~ remarks (abuse). Let us avoid being ~, let us not make ~ remarks, etc. 5. (in law) ~ property (estate), all property except land and interests in land that pass to one's heir. (Cf. real property.) 6. (gram.) of the three persons (def. 3): the ~ pronouns. n. [C] short newspaper item about a particular person. ~ly adv. 1. in one's own person, not through an agent: He conducted me ~ly through the mansion. She likes ~ly conducted tours, holiday tours with a courier or guide who accompanies those making the tour. 2. as a person. 3. speaking for oneself; for one's own part: P~ly I see no objection to your joining us.

per son al i ty [ˌpə:sə'næliti] n. 1. [U] state of being a person; existence as an individuality: respect the ~ of a child. 2. [U] qualities that make up a person's character: a man with little ~; a woman with a strong ~. 3. [C] (modern use) person, esp. one who is well known in certain circles (though perhaps quite unknown in other circles): personalities of the stage and screen; a T.V. ~, sb. known to television viewers. ~ cult, practice of giving fervent admiration, devotion, etc., to a ~, esp. a political leader (e.g. as to Stalin in the U.S.S.R.). 4. (pl.) impolite remarks about sb.'s looks, habits, etc.: indulge in personalities, utter such remarks.

per son al ty ['pə:sənəlti] n. [U] (law) personal estate.

per son ate ['pə:səneit] v.t. (VP 1) 1 play the part of (a character in a drama). 2. pretend to be (sb.) (esp. for fraudulent purposes). per son a tion [ˌpə:sə'neiʃən] n.

per son i fy [pə'sɔnifai] v.t. (VP 1) 1 regard or represent (sth.) as a person: ~ the sun and moon (by using 'he' and 'she'). 2. be an example of (a quality): That man personifies avarice (is avarice personified). per son i fi ca tion [pə(:)ˌsɔnifi'keiʃən] n. 1. [U] ~ing or being personified; [C] instance of this. 2. (usu. sing. with def. art.) striking example of a quality: He is the personification of selfishness.

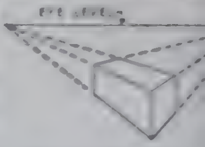
per son nel [ˌpə:sə'nel] n. staff; persons employed in any work, esp. public undertakings and the armed forces: naval ~; a ~ officer (manager), one employed to deal with relationships between individual employees, their problems, grievances, etc.



Perspective (def.

per spec tive [pə'spektiv] n. 1.
art of drawing
solid objects on a flat surface so
as to give the right impression
of their relative
size, distance,
etc.; [C] drawing
so made: in ~, drawn according t rules of ~. 2. [U] apparent rel between different aspects of a lem: see things in their right ~, out exaggerating or neglecting aspect; with proper attention t points. 3. [C] (lit. & fig.) view; pros per spex ['pə:speks] n. [U] (proprie name for) tough unsplinterable pl material used as a substitute for (e.g. in motor-cars and aircraft).

per spi ca cious [ˌpə:spi'keiʃəs] quick to judge and understand.
spi cac i ty [ˌpə:spi'kæsiti] n. [U].

per spic u ous [pə'spikjuəs] adj.
pressed clearly; expressing th clearly. ~ly adv. ~ness n. per cu i ty [ˌpə:spi'kjuiti] n.

per spire [pəs'paiə*] v.i. (VP 21) sw per spi ra tion [ˌpə:spə'reiʃən] n.
sweat; sweating.

per suade [pə'sweid] v.t. 1. (VP 12 convince (sb.) (of the truth of sth., sth. is true, etc.): How can I ~ yo my sincerity (that I am sincere) (VP 3, 18) cause (sb.) by reasoning do sth.): We ~d him (He was ~d) t again. I couldn't ~ him to my wa thinking. Can you ~ her out of her fo plans? per suad a ble [pə'sweid adj.

per sua sion [pə'sweiʒən] n. 1. [U] suading or being persuaded; powe persuading. 2. [U] conviction; be
It is my ~ that . . . 3. [C] group o holding a particular belief: men various (religious) ~s.

per sua sive [pə'sweisiv] adj. able persuade; convincing: She has manner. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

pert [pə:t] adj. saucy; not show proper respect: a ~ child (answer).
adv. ~ness n.

per tain [pə:'tein] v.i. (VP 24 with belong (to) as a part or accessory; reference (to); be appropriate (to):
enthusiasm ~ing to youth; the man and the lands ~ing to it.

per ti na cious [ˌpə:ti'neiʃəs] adj.
easily giving up (what has been start determined. ~ly adv. per ti na [ˌpə:ti'næsiti] n. [U].

per ti nent ['pə:tinənt] adj. refer directly (to): remarks not ~ to the s under discussion; a ~ reply. ~ly per ti nence ['pə:tinəns] n. [U].

per turb [pə'tə:b] v.t. (VP 1) trou make anxious: ~ing rumours; a

is never ~ed. per tur ba tion ːtəˈbeiʃən] n. [U] ~ing or being ~ed.

uke [pəˈruːk] n. long
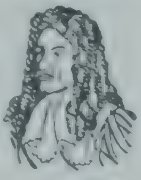
.



A peruke

use [pəˈruːz] v.t. (VP 1) d carefully. pe ru sal ruːzəl] n. [C & U] act of ding carefully.

u vian [pəˈruːvjən] adj.
Peru: ~ bark, of the chona tree, the source quinine. n. native of Peru.

vade [pəːˈveid] v.t. (VP 1) spread ough, get into every part of: The versive ideas that ~ all these periodis may do great harm. per va sion ːˈveiʒən] n. [U] pervading or being . per va sive [pəːˈveisiv] adj. tend-to ~: pervasive influences. per va-
e ly adv. per va sive ness n.

verse [pəˈvəːs] adj. 1. (of persons) lfully continuing in wrongdoing; willy choosing a wrong course. 2. (of cumstances) contrary (to one's wishes).
(of behaviour) contrary to reason.
y adv. ~ness n.

ver sion [pəˈvəːʃən] n. 1. [U] perrting or being perverted. 2. [C] turn-g from right to wrong; change to sth.
normal, wrong, unnatural, etc.: a ~ justice; a ~ of the appetite (e.g. a sire to eat grass, as Nebuchadnezzar d).

ver si ty [pəˈvəːsiti] n. [U] being rverse; [C] perverse act.

vert [pəˈvəːt] v.t. (VP 1) 1. turn
th.) to a wrong use. 2. cause (a person, mind) to turn away from right be-viour, beliefs, etc.: ~ (the mind of) a
ild. n. [ˈpəːvəːt] ~ed person; person ose behaviour deviates from what is rmal, particularly in sex habits.

vious [ˈpəːvjəs] adj. allowing pas-ge through or into; open (to ideas, luences).

se ta [pəˈse(i)tə] n. unit of currency in ain.

ky [ˈpeski] adj. (sl.) troublesome;
noying.

so [ˈpeisou] n. unit of currency in ny Latin American countries.

si mism [ˈpesimizəm] n. [U] tenncy to believe that the worst thing is ost likely to happen, that everything essentially evil. pes si mist [ˈpesiist] n. person subject to ~. pes si- is tic [ˌpesiˈmistik] adj. pes si mis- cal ly adv.

t [pest] n. [C] 1. troublesome or
-tructive thing, animal, etc.: garden (e.g. insects, mice, snails); ~ control, e use of various methods to get rid ~s. 2. (old use) pestilence. ˈ~- ouse n. (formerly) hospital for plague other infectious diseases. ~i cide
-tisaid] n. substance used to destroy
.

pes ter [ˈpestə*] v.t. (VP 1, 3, 18) annoy; trouble: be ~ed with flies (with requests for help); ~ sb. for money; ~ sb. to help.

pes tif er ous [pesˈtifərəs] adj. causing disease; morally dangerous.

pes ti lence [ˈpestiləns] n. [U & C] (any kind of) fatal epidemic disease, esp. bubonic plague. pes ti len tial [ˌpestiˈlenʃəl] adj. 1. like a ~; carrying infection. 2. (colloq.) extremely annoying or objectionable: These pestilential flies (children) give me no peace.

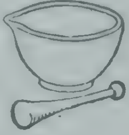
pes ti lent [ˈpestilənt] adj. 1. destructive to life; causing disease or injury. 2. (colloq.) annoying.



A pestle and mortar

pes tle [ˈpesl] n. club-shaped instrument used in a mortar for pounding or crushing things. v.t. crush in (or as in) a mortar.

^{1}pet [pet] n. 1. animal, etc., kept as a companion, treated with care and affection (e.g. a cat or a dog): a pet shop, one where pets (e.g. dogs, canaries, tortoises) are sold. 2. person treated as a favourite: Mary is the teacher's pet. 3. sb. specially loved or lovable: make a pet of a child. She's a perfect pet, (colloq.) has very winning ways, is very lovable. pet name, name other than the real name, used affectionately. pet aversion, sth. or sb. most disliked: Cowboy films are her pet aversion. v.t. (-tt-) fondle; treat with affection: silly women petting their poodles.

^{2}pet [pet] n. fit of ill temper, esp. about sth. trifling: in one of her pets.

P. Petals
S. Sepal

pet al [ˈpetl] n. one of the leaf-like divisions of a flower: rose ~s. pet al(l) ed [ˈpetld] adj. having ~s.

pe tard [piˈtɑːd, pe-] n. kind of bomb used in former times to break down doors, walls, etc.: hoist with his own ~, (prov.) caught or injured by what he intended as a snare for others.

Pe ter [ˈpiːtə*] n. rob ~ to pay Paul, take from one to give to another. blue ~, blue flag with a white square, flown by a ship before leaving port.

pe ter [ˈpiːtə*] v.i. ~ out, (of supplies, etc.) come gradually to an end.

pe ter sham [ˈpiːtəʃəm] n. [C] (in the 19th century) heavy overcoat of thick woollen material; [U] cloth used for this.

pe tite [pəˈtiːt] adj. (of a woman) small, neat, and dainty.

pe ti tion [piˈtiʃən] n. [C] 1. prayer; earnest request; appeal (esp. a written document signed by a large number of people). 2. formal application made to a court of law. v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 3, 12, 18) make a ~ to (e.g. the authorities) (for sth., to do sth., that sth. should be done). 2. (VP 23, 25) ask earnestly or humbly (for sth., to be allowed to do sth.) ~er n. one who ~s (esp. the plaintiff in a divorce suit).

pet rel ['petrəl] n. long-winged black and white sea-bird. stormy ~, (fig.) person whose coming causes (e.g. social or industrial) unrest.

pet ri fy ['petrifai] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) (cause to) change into stone; (fig.) take away power to think, feel, act, etc. (through terror, surprise, etc.): petrified with terror. pet ri fac tion [ˌpetri'fækʃən] n. ~ing or being petrified; petrified substance.

pet rol ['petrəl] n. [U] refined petroleum used to drive engines (in motor-cars, etc.) (= U.S.A. gasoline): fill up with ~; stop at the next ~ station; the ~ tank.

pe trol eum [pi'trouljəm] n. [U] mineral oil (vegetable in origin, from forests in prehistoric times) found underground and obtained from wells; used in various forms (petrol, paraffin, etc.) for lighting, heating, and driving machines.

pet ti coat ['petikout] n. woman's underskirt.

pet ti fog ging ['petifɔgiŋ] adj. (of persons) worrying about small and unimportant details; (of methods) unnecessarily concerned with small matters.

pet tish ['petiʃ] adj. 1. (of a person) be ~, have short and often repeated fits of ill temper, like a spoiled child. 2. (of remarks, acts) said or done in a fit of ill temper. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

pet ty ['peti] adj. 1. small; unimportant: ~ troubles (details); ~ regulations enforced by ~ officials. 2. on a small scale: ~ farmers (shopkeepers). 3. having or showing a narrow mind; mean: ~ spite. 4. ~ cash, (business) money for or from small payments. 5. ~ officer, naval officer below commissioned rank. pet ti ly adv. pet ti ness n.

pet u lant ['petjulənt] adj. unreasonably impatient or irritable. ~ly adv. pet u lance ['petjuləns] n. [U].

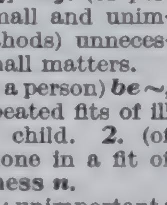
pe tu nia [pi'tju:njə] n. [C] garden plant with funnel-shaped flowers of various colours.

pew [pju:] n. long bench with a back, usu. fixed to the floor, in a church: empty ~s at morning service; (colloq.) seat. '*pew-ˌopener n. person who conducted persons to their seats when, in former times, family pews were enclosed and had doors.



Petunias

pe wit, pee wit ['pi:wit] n. lapwing; kind of mountain plover, named after its cry.

pew ter ['pju:tə*] n. [U] grey alloy lead and tin; vessels made of this good collection of ~; (attrib.) ~ (dishes).

phae ton ['feitn] n. (in former tim light, four-wheeled open carriage, drawn by a pair of horses.

phag o cyte ['fægəsait] n. sort of leu cyte (blood-cell) capable of guarding system against infection by absorb microbes.

pha lanx ['fælæŋks] n. (pl. -es [-iz]) (in ancient Greece) body of soldier close formation for fighting. 2. num of persons banded together for a co mon purpose.

phal lus ['fæləs] n. image of the pe as a symbol of generative power. ph lic ['fælik] adj. of a ~: phallic emble

phan tasm ['fæntæzəm] n. phant phan tas mal [fæn'tæzməl] adj. of like a ~. phan tas ma go ria [ˌf tæzmə'gɔriə] n. changing group images, real or imagined figures, etc.

phan ta sy ['fæntəzi] n. = fantasy.

phan tom ['fæntəm] n. [C] ghost;
without reality, as seen in a dream vision: (attrib.) ~ ships.

Pha raoh ['fɛərou] n. title of the ki of ancient Egypt.

Phar i see ['færisi:] n. member of ancient Jewish sect known for st obedience to written laws and for p tensions to sanctity; (small p) righteous person. phar i sa i cal [ˌfæ
'seiikəl] adj. of or like a ~ or the ~s.

phar ma ceu ti cal [ˌfɑ:mə'sju:tikəl] of, engaged in, pharmacy; of medici drugs: ~ chemists.

phar ma cist ['fɑ:məsist] n. (U.S. person skilled in preparing medicin etc.; druggist (= chemist, def. 2, Brit.).

phar ma col o gy [ˌfɑ:mə'kɔlədʒi] [U] theory of pharmacy. phar mo c o gist n. expert in, student of, ~.

phar ma co poe ia [ˌfɑ:məkə'pi:ə] (officially published) book with list medicinal preparations and directi for their use.

phar ma cy ['fɑ:məsi] n. 1. [U] prepa
tion and dispensing of medicines drugs. 2. [C] dispensary; (part of shop where medical goods are s (Cf. U.S.A. drug-store.)

phar os ['fɛərɔs] n. lighthouse; bea for sailors.

phar ynx ['færiŋks] n. cavity (with muscles, etc., that enclose it) at the b of the mouth, where the passages to nose, mouth, and larynx begin. 'ph yn gi tis [ˌfærin'dʒaitis] n. inflamma of the mucous membrane of the ~.

phase [feiz] n. [C] 1. stage of deve ment: a ~ of history; the critical ~ illness; enter upon a new ~ of career. 2. (of the moon) amount ght surface visible from the earth w moon, full moon, etc.). phased

Phases of the moon

izd] adj. in ~s: a ~d withdrawal, one ade in stages.

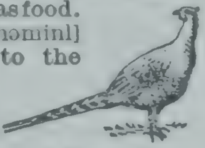
eas ant [ˈfeznt] n. [C] long-tailed me bird; [U] its flesh as food.



A pheasant

e nom e nal [fiˈnɔminl] j. 1. perceptible to the nses. 2. concerned th phenomena. 3. olloq. misuse) prodigious; extraordiny. ~ly adv.

e nom e non [fiˈnɔminən] n. (pl. -na ə]) 1. thing that appears to or is rceived by the senses: the phenomena nature. 2. remarkable or unusual rson, thing, happening, etc.

ew [fju:] int. natural cry indicating tonishment, impatience, discomfort, sgust, etc., according to context.

i [fai] n. Greek letter (Φ, ϕ) correspondg to English ph (f).

i al [ˈfaiəl] n. small bottle, esp. one r liquid medicine.

i lan der [fiˈlændə*] v.i. (VP 21) (of man) be in the habit of making love ithout serious intentions. ~er n. pern who does this. (Cf. flirt.)

i lan thro py [fiˈlænθrəpi] n. [U] love mankind; practical sympathy and nevolence. phi lan thro pist n. pern who helps others, esp. those who e poor or in trouble. phi lan throp ic ilənˈθrɔpik] adj. of ~; benevolent; nd and helpful: philanthropic institu-ons (e.g. for blind people or orphans). hil an throp i cal ly adv.

i lat e ly [fiˈlætəli] n. postage-stamp llecting. phi lat e list n. person who llects postage-stamps; person with pert knowledge of them.

il har mon ic [ˌfil(h)ɑ:ˈmɔnik] adj. nd of music: the ~ society.

il hel lene [ˈfilˌheli:n] adj. & n. (peron) loving or friendly to the Greeks. hil hel len ic [ˌfilheˈli:nik] adj.

i lis tine [ˈfilistain] n. 1. (Bible) one the warlike people in Palestine who ere the enemies of the Israelites. 2. odern use; hum.; small p) unculured person; person whose interests are aterial and commonplace: (attrib.) ~ ghbours.

i lol o gy [fiˈlɔlədʒi] n. [U] science the nature and development of lanuage, or of one particular language. hi lol o gist n. student of, expert in, ~. hil o log i cal [ˌfiləˈlɔdʒikəl] adj. of ~.

i los o phy [fiˈlɔsəfi] n. 1. [U] the earch for knowledge, esp. the nature and meaning of existence: natural ~, physics; moral ~, the study of the principles underlying the actions and behaviour of men. 2. [C] system of thought resulting from such a search for knowledge: a man without a ~, with no views upon the problems of life. 3. [U] calm, quiet attitude towards life, even in the face of unhappiness, danger, difficulty, etc. phi los o pher n. 1. person studying or teaching ~, or having a system of ~. 2. person whose mind is untroubled by passions and hardships; person who lets reason govern his life. phil o soph i cal [ˌfiləˈsɔfikəl] adj. 1. of, devoted to, guided by, ~. 2. resigned; of or like a philosopher (def. 2). phil o soph i cal ly adv. phi los o phize [fiˈlɔsəfaiz] v.i. (VP 21, 23) think or argue like a philosopher; discuss, speculate about, a theory in ~.

phil tre [ˈfiltə*] n. (U.S.A. philter) [C] love-potion.

phiz [fiz] n. (colloq.) (expression of the) face.

phle bi tis [fli(:)ˈbaitis] n. inflammation of the walls (lining) of a vein.

phlegm [flem] n. [U] 1. thick, semi-fluid substance forming on the skin of the throat and in the nose, and brought up by coughing. 2. quality of being slow to act, or to feel and show emotion or interest. phleg mat ic [flegˈmætik] adj. having the quality of ~ (def. 2): Not all English people are ~atic. phleg mat i cal ly adv.

phlox [flɔks] n. [U] kinds of garden plant with clusters of flowers in various colours.

pho bi a [ˈfoubiə] n. morbid or pathological fear and dislike; aversion.

phoe nix [ˈfi:niks] n. mythical bird which, after living hundreds of years in the Arabian desert, burnt itself on a funeral pile and rose from the ashes young again, to live for another cycle.

^{1}phone [foun] n. & v. (colloq. abbr. for) telephone.

^{2}phone [foun] n. single speech-sound (vowel or consonant).

pho neme [ˈfouni:m] n. family of related speech-sounds in a particular language. pho nem ic [fo*u*ˈni:mik] adj. (of transcriptions) providing one and only one symbol for each ~ of the language transcribed.

pho net ic [fo*u*ˈnetik] adj. 1. concerned with the sounds of human speech. 2. (of transcriptions) providing a symbol for each phoneme of the language transcribed, with additional symbols for special purposes. 3. (of a language) having a system of spelling that approximates closely to the sounds represented by the letters used: Spanish spelling is ~. pho net ics n. (sing. v.) study and science of speech sounds, their production, and the signs used to represent them. pho net i cal ly adv. pho ne ti cian [ˌfouniˈtiʃən] n. expert in ~s. pho net i cist [fouˈnetisist], pho ne tist [ˈfounitist] nn. = phonetician.

pho ney [ˈfouni] adj. (sl.) sham; unreal; not genuine.

pho nic [ˈfounik] adj. of sound; of vocal sounds. pho nics n. (sing. v.) the use of elementary phonetics in the teaching of reading.

pho no graph [ˈfounəgrɑːf, -græf] n. (U.S.A.) gramophone.

pho nol o gy [fouˈnɔlədʒi] n. [U] science of vocal sounds; study of the sound-changes which take place, or have taken place, in a language. pho no log i cal [ˌfounəˈlɔdʒikəl] adj.

phos gene [ˈfɔzdʒiːn] n. [U] kind of poison gas.

phos phate [ˈfɔsfeit] n. any salt of phosphoric acid, esp. one of the numerous artificial fertilizers containing or composed of various salts of this kind, used widely in agriculture.

phos phor es cence [ˌfɔsfəˈresns] n. [U] the giving out of light without burning, or by gentle burning without heat that can be felt. phos phor es cent adj. giving out light without burning.

phos phor us [ˈfɔsfərəs] n. [U] yellowish, non-metallic, poisonous wax-like element which catches fire easily and gives out a faint light in the dark; red, non-poisonous form used in the manufacture of safety matches. phos phor ic [fɔsˈfɔrik], phos phor ous [ˈfɔsfərəs] adjj. relating to or containing ~.

pho to [ˈfoutou] n. (pl. ~s) (colloq. abbrev.) photograph.

photo- [ˈfoutou-] prefix light. ~cop y [ˈʃouto*u*ˌkɔpi] v.t. (VP 1) make a copy of (a document, etc.) by a photographic method. ~fin ish [ˈfouto*u*ˈfiniʃ] n. (horse-racing) finish so close that only a photograph of the horses as they pass the winning-post can decide the winner. ~-electric [ˈfouto*u*iˈlektrik) adj. ~-electric cell, cell or device which emits an electric current when light falls on it, used for many purposes (e.g. to measure light for photography, to cause a door to open when someone approaches it, to count objects passing before it). ~-gen ic [ˌfoutouˈdʒenik] adj. suitable for being photographed; photographing well or effectively. ~stat [ˈfouto*u*stæt] n. (proprietary name for) apparatus for producing direct facsimile reproductions of documents, drawings, etc.; reproduction so made: a ~stat of a business letter. ~stat ic [ˌfouto*u*ˈstætik] adj.

pho to graph [ˈfoutəgrɑːf, -græf] n. [C] picture made by means of the chemical action of light on a specially prepared glass plate or film, transferred to specially prepared paper. v.t. 1. (VP 1) take a ~ of. 2. ~ well (badly), come well (badly) when ~ed. pho tog ra p [fəˈtɔgrəfə*] n. person who takes amateur and professional ~ers. p tog ra phy [fəˈtɔgrəfi] n. [U] art process of taking ~s. pho to grap [ˌfoutəˈgræfik] adj. of, related to, u in, taking ~s: photographic appar (goods, periodicals, etc.). pho to gra
i cal ly adv.

pho to gra vure [ˌfoutəgrəˈvjuə*] n.
process of producing a picture o metal plate from a photographic ne tive so that the plate can be used printing; [C] picture printed from s a plate.

phrase [freiz] n. [C] 1. group of wo (often without a finite v.) forming p of a sentence (e.g. in the garden, in o to). ˈ~-book n. one containing and plaining (or giving equivalents of another language) ~s of a langua an English-Polish ~-book. 2. striki clever way of saying sth. 3. (mu short, independent passage forming p of a longer passage. v.t. (VP 1) expr in words: a neatly ~d complim phras al [ˈfreizəl] adj. in the form a ~: phrasal verbs (e.g. go in for, over, blow up). phra se ol o gy [ˌfreizi ədʒi] n. [U] choice of words; wording phre net ic [friˈnetik] adj. frenzi frantic; fanatic.

phre nol o gy [friˈnɔlədʒi] n. [U] judging of a person's character, ca bilities, etc., from an examination of shape of his skull. phre nol o gist person who practises ~.

phthi sis [ˈθaisis] n. [U] progress wasting disease, e.g. consumption.

phut [fʌt] n. & adv. sound made by bladder bursting: go ~, collapse.

phys ic [ˈfizik] n. 1. (colloq.) medici take a good dose of ~. 2. (pl.) see phys below. v.t. (~king, ~ked) (collo (VP 1) dose with medicine.

phys i cal [ˈfizikl] adj. 1. of mate (contrasted with moral and spiritu things: the ~ world (universe); ~ fo
2. of the body; bodily: ~ exercise ( walking, playing football). 3. of laws of nature: It's a ~ impossibilit be in two places at once. 4. of the n features of the world: ~ geography,
the earth's structure. ~ly adv.

phy si cian [fiˈziʃən] n. doctor of me cine and surgery.

phys i cist [ˈfizisist] n. expert on phy

phys ics [ˈfiziks] n. (sing. v.) group sciences dealing with matter and (e.g. heat, light, sound), but usu. cluding chemistry and biology: P~ taught by Professor X.

phys i og no my [ˌfiziˈɔnəmi] n. [ C] (art of judging character from features of) the face; general featu a country.

s i ol o gy [ˌfizi'ɔlədʒi] n. [U] science he normal functions of living things, . animals. phys i ol o gist n. exin, student of, ~. phys i o log i- [ˌfiziə'lɔdʒikəl] adj.
s i o ther a py ['fiziou'θerəpi] n. [U] tment of disease by means of ssage, the use of light, heat, elec-ity, and other natural forces.
ys i o ther a pist n. person trained give such treatment.
sique [fi'zi:k] n. [U] structure and velopment of the body: a man of ng ~.
ai] n. the Greek letter p (π), esp. as ths.) a symbol of the ratio of the umference of a circle to its diameter
. 3·14159).
no ['pjɑ:nou] adv. (music) softly.
a nis si mo [pjɑ:'nisimou] adv. very tly.
no ['pjænou, 'pjɑ:nou] n. (pl. ~s) sical instrument in which stretched tal strings are struck by hammers rated by keys: upright ~, one with tical strings; cottage ~, small upht ~; grand ~, ~ with horizontal ings. '~-ˌplayer n. device for playa ~ mechanically. pia nist ['pjæn-. 'piənist] n. person who plays the ~.
a no for te [ˌpjænou'fɔ:ti] n. (full me, now formal, for) ~. pia no la æ'noulə] n. (proprietary name for) incorporating a ~-player. s tre, (-ter) [pi'æstə*] n. unit of rrency in some countries in the ddle East.
z za [pi'ædzə] n. 1. public square or rket-placé, esp. in an Italian town.
[pi'æzə] (U.S.A.) veranda.
roch ['pi:brɔk] n. piece of martial sic for the bagpipes.
a dor ['pikədɔ:*] n. man (mounted a horse) who uses a lance to incite lls in the sport of bull-fighting.
a resque [ˌpikə'resk] adj. (of a style fiction) treating of the adventures of gues and vagabonds.
ca lil li [ˌpikə'lili] n. [U] kind of hot-ting pickle made of chopped vegeles, spices, mustard, vinegar, etc.
ca nin ny [ˌpikə'nini] n. small child,
. a Negro baby.
co lo ['pikəlou] n. (pl. -os) small flute ducing notes an octave higher than se of the ordinary flute.
[pik] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10) take up, nove, pull away, with the fingers:
flowers, gather flowers; ~ fruit, take it from the bush or tree; ~ a thread m one's coat; ~ one's nose, remove of dried mucus from the nostrils.
sb.'s pocket, steal sth. from it.
pocket n. person who ~s pockets.
and steal, pilfer. ~ sb.'s brains, ideas and information from sb. 2.
P 1) tear or separate; use a pointed instrument to clean, etc.: ~ rags, tear them to small pieces; ~ oakum; ~ one's teeth, get bits of food from the spaces between them, etc., by using a pointed stick of wood (a toothpick); ~ a bone, get all the meat from it; have a *bone to ~ with sb; ~ a lock, use a pointed tool, a piece of wire, etc., to unlock it without a key. 3. (VP 1, 10) choose; select: ~ only the best; ~ one's words, choose those words that express one's meaning best, that will not cause offence, etc. (according to context); ~ one's way (steps) along a muddy road; ~ sides, choose players for the two teams in a game (of football, cricket, etc.) or competition; ~ the winning horse (~ the winner), make a successful guess at the winner (before the race). ~ a quarrel with sb., bring about a quarrel intentionally. 4. (VP 1) make by ~ing: ~ holes in sth.; (fig.) ~ holes in an argument, find its weak points. 5. (VP 1) (of birds) take up (grain, etc.) in the bill; peck; (of persons) eat (food, etc.) in small amounts; (VP 24, ~ at) eat without interest or appetite: She only ~ed at her food. 6. (with advv. & preps.) ~ at, (colloq.) nag at; find fault with: Why are you always ~ing at the poor child? ~ off, (VP 10) (a) take or pluck off. (b) shoot (persons), one by one with deliberate aim: A sniper behind the bushes ~ed off three of our men. ~ on (sb.), single out, esp. for sth. unpleasant: Why should you ~ on me to do the chores? ~ out, (VP 10) (a) choose. (b) distinguish from surrounding persons, objects, etc.: ~ out one's friends in a crowd. (c) make out, see, (the meaning of a passage, etc.) by careful study. (d) play (a tune) by ear on a piano, etc. (e) relieve (one colour, the ground colour) with touches of a different colour: green panels ~ed out with brown. ~ over, (VP 10) examine and make a selection from: ~ over a basket of strawberries (e.g. to throw out any that are bad). ~ up, (VP 10) (a) break up (ground) with a pick-axe. (b) take hold of and lift: ~ up one's hat (parcels, etc.). (c) raise (oneself) after a fall: She slipped and fell, but quickly ~ed herself up. (d) gain; acquire: ~ up a foreign language, learn it without taking lessons or studying; ~ up a livelihood by selling things from door to door; ~ up bits of information; ~ up a bargain at an auction sale; ~ up speed; a girl he ~ed up (made the acquaintance of without an introduction) on the street. The locomotive ~s up current from a third rail. (e) succeed in seeing or hearing (by means of apparatus): enemy planes ~ed up by our searchlights (radar installations, etc.). (f) take (persons) along with one: He stopped the car to ~ up a young girl who was hitch-hiking across Europe. The escaped prisoner was ~ed up (seen and arrested) by the police in Hull. (g) recover; regain: You'll soon ~ up health when you get to the seaside. (h) (VP 23) recover health: He's beginning to ~ up now. *~ up with, make acquaintance with: Where did you ~ up with that queer fellow? ˈ~-up n. (a) that part of a record-player that holds the stylus (needle) (corresponding to the sound-box of the older kind of gramophone). (b) small general-purpose van or truck (e.g. as used by builders, farmers, etc., for carrying merchandise, or by the police for taking up drunks, suspects, etc.). (c) (sl.) person whose acquaintance is made without an introduction (see ~ up, v. under d). (d) acceleration: an engine (car) with a good ~-up. ˈ~-me-up n. sth. (e.g. a drink) that gives new strength and cheerfulness. 7. (U.S.A.) pluck (the strings of): ~ a banjo; ~ the strings of a banjo.

^{2}pick [pik] n. picking; selection; (with def. art.) the best part of: the ~ of the bunch, the best of all of them.

^{3}pick [pik] n. 1. (also ˈ~axe) heavy tool with an iron head having two pointed ends, used for breaking up hard surfaces (e.g. roads, brickwork). 2. small, sharp-pointed instrument: an ice-~; a tooth-~.

A pick(axe)

pick-a-back [ˈpikəbæk] adv. (e.g. of the way a child is carried) on the shoulders or back like a bundle.

pick er [ˈpikə*] n. person or thing that picks (chiefly in compounds): hop-~s; rag-~s.

pick er el [ˈpikərəl] n. young pike.

pick et [ˈpikit] n. 1. pointed stake, etc., set upright in the ground (as part of a fence, or to tether a horse to). 2. small group of men on police duty, or sent out to watch the enemy. 3. worker, or group of workers, stationed at the gates of a factory, etc., during a strike, to try to persuade others not to go to work. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) 1. put ~s (def. 1) round; tether (a horse) to a ~ (def. 1). 2. place ~s (def. 2) in or round; station (men) as ~s. 3. place ~s (def. 3) at: ~ a factory; act as a ~ (def. 3).

pick ing [ˈpikiŋ] n. 1. [U] act of picking: ~ and stealing, pilfering; petty theft. 2. (pl.) odds and ends left over from which profits may be made; these profits; profits made from pilfering or (perhaps dishonest) appropriation of trifles.

pic kle [ˈpikl] n. 1. [U] salt water, vinegar, etc., for keeping meat, vegetables, etc., in good condition: *have a rod in ~ for (sb.). 2. (usu. pl.) vegetables kept in ~: onion ~s. 3. in a sad (sorry, nice) ~, in a sad, etc., plight. 4. (colloq.)
mischievous child: Stop that, you littl v.t. (VP 1) 1. preserve in ~: ~d on (walnuts). 2. (p.p., ~d; sl.) intoxicat pic nic [ˈpiknik] n. 1. pleasure trip which food is carried to be eaten doors: have (go for) a ~; (attrib.) hamper, one for holding food, dis etc. 2. (colloq.) sth. easy and enjoya It's no ~, is not an easy job. v.i. (-ck -cked) take part in a ~: ~ in the wo pic nick er n. person who ~s. pic ric [ˈpikrik] adj. ~ acid, acid in dyeing, surgery, and in making plosives.
pic to ri al [pikˈtoːriəl] adj. of, havi represented in, pictures: a ~ recor the wedding. n. periodical of which tures are the main feature.
pic ture [ˈpiktʃə*] n. 1. painting, dra ing, sketch, of sth., esp. as a work
art. ˈ~-book n. book consisting mai of ~s, esp. one for children. ˈ~-car (in playing cards) court-card; one w a king, queen, or knave on it.
ˌgallery n. room or building in wh
~s are exhibited. 2. beautiful sce object, person, etc. 3. type or embo ment: She's the ~ of health, appears have it in a high degree. 4. (fig.) acco or description that enables sb. to in his mind an event, etc.: put sb.
the ~, (colloq.) explain a situation him, tell him what has happened.
(pl.) (colloq.) moving ~s, the ~s, cinema; (hence) ˈ*~-ˌpalace*, ˈ*~-ˌthea* ˈ*~-drome*, ˈ*~-house*, (now rather fashioned names for) cinema theat
6. what is seen on a television screen set free from ~ distortion. v.t. 1. (VP make a ~ of: paint. 2. (VP 18) imag (to oneself): He ~d to himself the fam sitting out on the lawn.
pic tur esque [ˌpiktʃəˈresk] adj.
having the quality of being like, or being fit to be, the subject of a painti a ~ village. 2. quaint; vivid; grap ~ language. 3. (of a person, his ch acter) striking; original. ~ly a ~ness n.
pid dling [ˈpidliŋ] adj. trifling; insign cant: ~ jobs.
pid gin [ˈpidʒin] n. 1. ~ English, jarg chiefly of English words, formerly u in Chinese seaports between uneduca workers and visiting seamen traders, and still used in Papua.
(a person's) business or duty: That's my ~, (colloq.) not my job.
pie [pai] n. [C & U] meat or fr covered with paste and baked in a dish: fruit pies; a meat pie; eat too
pie. (Cf. tart, flan.) ˈpie-crust n.
paste of a pie. have a finger in the be concerned in the matter (esp. in officious way). as easy as pie, (sl.) easy.
pie bald [ˈpaibɔːld] adj. (of a h ving white and dark patches of egular shape.

ce [pi:s] n. 1. part or bit of a solid stance (complete in itself, but broken, arated, or made from a large porn): a ~ of paper (wood, glass, chalk); ~s, broken. The teapot fell and was ken to ~s. Does this machine take to ? ~ by ~, one ~ at a time. of a ~ ith . . .), (fig.) of the same character); consistent (with); in keeping (with). separate instance or example: a ~ of rs (luck, advice, information, etc.); e sb. a ~ of one's mind, tell him ndidly what one thinks of him. 3. it or definite quantity in which goods e prepared for distribution: a ~ of llpaper (usu. 12 yds.); a ~ of cloth; ld only by the ~. ˈ*~-goods n. pl. xtile fabrics (esp. cotton and silk) ade in standard lengths. 4. single mposition (in art, music, etc.): a fine of work (music, poetry); a dramatic ~. single thing out of a set: a dinner rvice of 50 ~s; one of the wooden, etal, etc., objects moved on a board in ch games as chess. 6. coin: a threenny ~; a five-cent ~; a ~ of eight (an d Spanish coin). 7. gun: a field-~ = field-gun); a fowling-~. 8. (fixed or greed) amount of work (to be) done: pay workman by the ~, according to the ork done (not by the time taken). ence, ˈ*~-work n. (Cf. timework.) 9. (in mpounds) (player of a) musical inrument: a six-~ dance band.

ece [pi:s] v.t. (VP 1, 10, 18) put (parts, c., together); make by joining or adding ieces) together: ~ together odds and ends cloth; ~ a quilt, make one by putting eces together; ~ one thing to another. out, make (a story, theory, etc.) mplete by connecting the parts.

ece meal [ˈpi:smi:l] adv. piece by ece; part at a time: work done ~. lj. coming, done, etc., piece by piece.

ed [paid] adj. particoloured.

ed à terre [piˌeidɑ:ˈtɛə*] n. (F.) mewhere to stay; room(s) or house hich one keeps for use when needed: e lives in the county, and has a ~ in ondon.

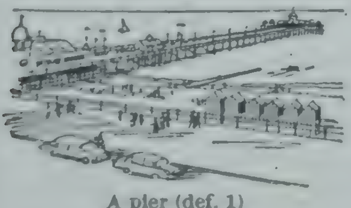
er [ˈpiə*] n. 1. structure of wood, iron, c., built out into the sea as a landingage or for walking on for pleasure ften with a pavilion, restaurant, etc.). pillar supporting a span of a bridge, etc. 3. brickwork between windows or other openings. ˈ*~-glass n. large, long mirror in which one can see the whole of oneself (orig. a mirror used to fill up a ~, def. 3).



A pier (def. 1)

pierce [piəs] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) (of sharp-pointed instruments) go into or through; make (a hole) by doing this: The arrow ~d his shoulder. She had her ears ~d in order to be able to wear ear-rings. 2. (VP 1) (fig., of cold, pain, sounds, etc.) force a way into or through; affect deeply: Her shrieks ~d the air. A ray of light ~d the darkness. 3. (VP 23, 24) penetrate (through, into, etc.): Our forces ~d through the enemy's lines. pierc ing adj. (esp. of cold, voices) sharp; penetrating: a piercing wind. pierc ing ly adv.: a piercingly cold wind.

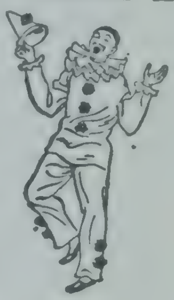
pier rot [ˈpiərou] n. 1. character in French pantomime. 2. member of a group of entertainers (esp. at seaside resorts), dressed in loose white clothes and with a whitened face.



A pierrot

pi e tà [ˌpieˈtɑ:] n. (It.) painting or sculpture of the Virgin Mary holding the dead body of Jesus in her lap.

pi e ty [ˈpaiəti] n. 1. [U] devotion to God and good works; being pious. filial ~, correct behaviour towards a parent. 2. [C] act, etc., that shows ~.

pif fle [ˈpifl] n. (colloq.) nonsense. v.i. talk ~. pif fling adj. trivial; worthless.

pig [pig] n. 1. [C] domestic and wild animal as shown here (cf. swine, boar, hog, sow); [U] its flesh (esp. roast pig) as meat (cf. pork). buy a pig in a poke, buy sth. without seeing it or knowing its value. bring one's pigs to the wrong market, fail in an undertaking (to sell sth.). pigs might fly, wonders might happen. pig-ˈheaded [ˈpigˈhedid] adj. stubborn. ˈ*pig-ˈheadedly adv. ˈ*pig-ˈheadedness n. ˈ*pigskin n. [U] (leather made of a) pig's skin; (sl.) saddle. ˈ*pig-ˌsticking n. the sport of hunting wild boars with spears. ˈ*pigsty n. (a) small building for pigs. (b) dirty hovel. ˈ*pigtail n. plait of hair hanging down over the back of the neck and shoulders. ˈ*pigwash n. waste food (from a brewery or kitchen) given to pigs as food. 2. (colloq.) dirty, greedy, or ill-mannered person. 3. oblong mass of iron (ˈ*pig-iron) extracted from ore and shaped in a mould. v.i. (-gg-) pig it, pig together, live or herd together in dirty conditions. pig gish adj. like a pig; dirty, greedy. pig gish ly adv. pig gish ness n.

A pig

pig ger y [ˈpigəri] n. pig-breeding establishment; pig-farm. pig gy n. little pig. adj. (colloq.) greedy.

pig eon [ˈpidʒin] n. 1. bird, wild or tame, of the dove family: ˈcarrier-~, ˈhoming-~, kind trained to carry messages. ˈ~-ˈ*breasted adj. (of a human being) having a bulging, convex chest. ˈ~-ˈ*toed adj. having the toes turned inwards. ˈ~*hole n. one of a number of small open boxes above a desk for keeping papers in. v.t. put (papers, etc.) in a ~-hole and ignore or forget them: The scheme was ~-holed. 2. clay ~, clay disc thrown up into the air as a mark for shooting. 3. simpleton; easily deceived person.

A pigeon (def. 1)

pig ment [ˈpigmənt] n. 1. [U] colouring matter for making dyes, paint, etc.; [C] particular substance used for this. 2. [U] the natural colouring matter in the skin, hair, etc., of living beings.

pig my [ˈpigmi] n. = pygmy.

¹pike [paik] n. long wooden shaft with a spearhead, formerly used by soldiers fighting on foot. ˈ~*staff n. wooden shaft of a ~: as plain as a ~staff, quite plain; easy to see or understand.

²pike [paik] n. large, fierce, freshwater fish.

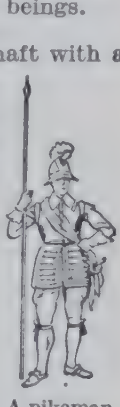
A pike



A pikeman

³pike [paik] n. 1. turnpike road. 2. toll-bar; toll.

⁴pike [paik] n. (dialect, N. of England) peaked top of a hill: Langdale P~.

pi las ter [piˈlæstə*] n. rectangular column, esp. one that projects from a wall which it supports.

pi lau [piˈlau], pi laff [ˈpilæf, piˈlæf] n. oriental dish of rice with meat, etc.

pil chard [ˈpiltʃəd] n. small sea-fish resembling the herring.

¹pile [pail] n. [C] heavy piece of timber driven into the ground, esp. under water, as a foundation for a building, a support for a bridge, etc. ˈ~-ˌ*driver n. machine for driving ~s into the ground. ˈ~-ˌ*dwelling n. house resting on ~s, esp. at the side of a lake. v.t. (VP 1) supply with ~s.

²pile [pail] n. 1. number of things lying one upon another: a ~ of books. 2. funeral ~, heap of wood, etc., on which a corpse is burnt. 3. (colloq.) large amount of money: make a ~, earn and save a lot of money. 4. large high building or group of buildings. 5. dry battery for producing electric curre atomic ~, apparatus for the utilizati of atomic energy.

³pile [pail] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 18, 10 wi up or on) make into a pile; put in a pi ~ logs; ~ things up; ~ a table w dishes; ~ more coal on. ~ arms, pla (usu. four) rifles together with butts the ground and muzzles touching. ~ on, (colloq.) exaggerate. ~ on t agony, (colloq.) make a description a painful event more agonizing than necessary. 2. (VP 23) form into a hea accumulate: work piling up. 3. (VP 23) ~ up, (of motor vehicles and a craft) crash. Hence, ˈ~-*up n.

⁴pile [pail] n. [U] soft, thick, hair-li surface of velvet, some carpets, etc.

piles [pailz] n. [U] disease marked swellings in the veins of the lower rectu pil fer [ˈpilfə*] v.t. & i. (VP 1, 21) ste esp. in small quantities: ~ed duri transit by rail. ~er n.

pil grim [ˈpilgrim] n. person who trave to a sacred place as an act of religio devotion: ~s to Mecca; the Canterbu ~s (in England, during the Middle Age the P~ Fathers, English Puritans w went to America in 1620 and found the colony of Plymouth, Massachuset ~age [ˈpilgrimidʒ] n. journey of a go on a ~age to Benares.

pill [pil] n. small ball of medicine swallowing whole: a bitter ~, (fig.) s humiliating that has to be endure ˈ~*box n. (a) small cylindrical box f holding ~s. (b) (army use) small (ofte partly underground) concrete fort.

pil lage [ˈpilidʒ] n. & v.t. plunder (es in war). pil lag er n. one who ~s.

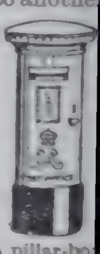
pil lar [ˈpilə*] n. 1. upright column, stone, wood, metal, etc., as a suppo or ornament. driven from ~ to pos (fig.) driven from one resource to anothe to and fro. 2. (fig.) strong supporter (of): a ~ of the Liberal Party. 3. ˈ~-*box n. box about 5 feet high, standing in a public place, in which letters are posted. 4. sth. in the shape of a ~ (e.g. a column of fire, smoke, cloud, or, in a coal-mine, of coal left to support the roof).



A pillar-bo

pil lion [ˈpiljən] n. seat for a second rider behind the rider of a horse; seat behind the driver of a motor-cycle: riding ~; the ~ passenger.

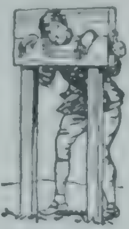
Riding pillion

pil lory [ˈpiləri] n. wooden framework in which the head and hands of wrongdoers were, in olden times, secured as a punishment. v.t. (VP 1) put in the ~; (fig.) expose to ridicule.



In the pillory

il low [ˈpilou] n. soft cushion for the head, esp. when lying in bed. ˈ~-case (-slip) n. washable cotton or linen cover for a ~. v.t. (VP 1) rest, support, on or as on a ~; serve as a ~ for.

i lot [ˈpailət] n. 1. person trained to take ships into or out of a harbour, along a river, through a canal, etc. drop the ~, (fig.) dismiss a trusted adviser. 2. person trained to navigate aircraft, esp. one who operates the flying controls. P~ Officer, lowest commissioned rank in the Air Force. (See Appendix 2.) 3. (attrib.) experimental; used to test how sth. on a larger scale will work, etc., how it may be improved: a ~ census (survey, scheme); a ~ plant (for a manufacturing process); a ~ tunnel. 4. (compounds) ˈ~-cloth n. blue woollen cloth used for overcoats, etc. ˈ~-ˌengine n. railway engine that goes in advance (before, e.g. a royal train). ˈ~-light n. small flame in a gas-stove or lamp, kept burning continuously, which lights large burners, etc., when the gas is turned on. v.t. (VP 1, 10) act as a ~ to: ~ ships through the Suez Canal.

i men to [piˈmentou] n. 1. [U] dried aromatic berries of a West Indian tree, also called Jamaica pepper and all-spice. 2. [C] tree that produces the berries.

imp [pimp] n. pander (def. 2). v.t. act as a ~.

im per nel [ˈpimpənel] n. small annual plant growing wild in wheatfields and on waste land, with scarlet flowers.

im ple [ˈpimpl] n. small, hard, inflamed spot on the skin. pim pled adj. having ~s. pim ply adj. having ~s: a pimply boy (face).

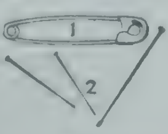
in [pin] n. 1. short, thin piece of stiff wire with a sharp point and a round head, used for fastening together parts of a dress, papers, etc. don't care a pin, don't care at all. neat as a new pin, very neat. pins and needles, pricking sensation in a part of the body caused by blood flowing again when its circulation has been checked for a time. 2. similar piece of wire with an ornamental head for special purposes: a tie-pin; a hat-pin. ˈsafety-pin, pin made so that the point can be protected. (see illustr.) 3. peg of wood or metal for various purposes (see drawing-pin,* hairpin,* rolling-pin,* ninepin*); each of the pegs round which the strings of a musical instrument are fastened. ˈpin-ˌtable n. table game (often as a gambling device) played with a small ball which has to be guided into one of several numbered holes on a sloping board covered with upright pins. ˈpin-ball n. game played on a pin-table. 4. (sl.) legs: He's quick on his ~s. 5. (compounds) ˈpinˌcushion n. pad into which (a dressmaker's) pins are stuck. ˈpin-ˌmoney n. money allowance to a woman for dress, small personal necessities, etc. ˈpin-point n. sth. very small; (attrib. of targets) requiring accurate and precise bombing or shelling. v.t. find, hit, such a target with the required accuracy: Our planes pin-pointed the target. ˈpin-prick n. (fig.) small act, remark, etc., causing annoyance.

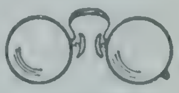


1. A safety-pin
2. Pins (def. 1)

²pin [pin] v.t. (-nn-) (VP 10, 18) 1. fasten (things together, up, to sth., etc.) with a pin or pins: pin papers together; pin up a notice (e.g. with drawing-pins on a notice-board); pin one's faith (on sth. or sb.). ˈpin-up n. picture of a favourite or much admired person, esp. of a pretty woman, pinned up on a wall: (attrib.) a pin-up girl. 2. prevent from moving: pinned down by a fallen tree; (fig.) pin sb. down to a promise, make him do what he promised to do; pin a person against the wall, seize him, hold him fast and prevent him from getting away.

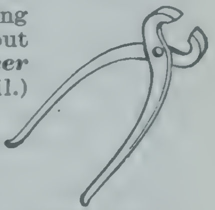
pin a fore [ˈpinəfɔ:*] n. loose article of clothing worn over a child's dress to keep it clean.

pince-nez [ˈpɛ̃:nsnei, (Fr.) pɛ̃sne] n. pair of eyeglasses with a spring to clip the nose (instead of a frame that fits round the ears).



Pince-nez

pin cers [ˈpinsəz] n. pl. (also a pair of ~s) 1. instrument for gripping things, pulling nails out of wood, etc. pincer movement, (mil.) attack by two converging forces. 2. pincer-shaped claws of certain shellfish.



Pincers (def. 1)

¹pinch [pintʃ] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1, 10) take in a tight grip between the thumb and finger; have in a tight grip between two hard things which are pressed together: He ~ed the boy's cheek. He ~ed the top of the plant off (~ed out the side shoots). I ~ed my finger in the doorway. 2. (VP 1, 21) be too tight; hurt by being too tight: These shoes ~ (me). That's where the shoe ~es, (fig.) that is the difficulty or trouble. 3. be ~ed for money, be short of money; be ~ed with cold (poverty), suffer from cold, etc. 4. (colloq.) (VP 1) steal; take without permission: Who's ~ed my dictionary? 5. (VP 21) be niggardly; be very mean;

live sparingly or economically: parents who have to ~ and scrape in order to save money for a child's clothes. 6. (sl.) (of the police) take into custody; arrest: You'll be ~ed if you're not careful.

^{2}pinch [pintʃ] n. 1. act of pinching; painful squeeze: He gave her a spiteful ~. 2. (fig.) stress: feel the ~ of poverty. 3. amount which can be taken up with the thumb and finger: a ~ of salt (snuff). 4. at a ~, if it comes to the ~, if there is need and if there is no other way: We can get six people round the table at a ~.

pinch beck [ˈpintʃbek] n. alloy used in cheap jewellery, etc. adj. sham.

^{1}pine [pain] n. [C] kinds of evergreen tree with needle-shaped leaves and cones; [U] the wood of this tree: ~-clad hillsides, covered with ~-trees.

Pine needles and cones

^{2}pine [pain] v.i. 1. (VP 21, 23) waste away through sorrow or illness: pining from hunger. 2. (VP 23, 25) have a strong desire (for sth., to do sth.): exiles pining for home (pining to return home)

pine ap ple [ˈpainˌæpl] n. [C] (tropical plant with) sweet, juicy fruit; [U] this as food: ~ juice; tinned ~.

A pineapple

pi ne al [ˈpainiəl] adj. shaped like a pine-cone: ~ gland, gland in the brain ping [piŋ] n. short, sharp, ringing sound as of a rifle bullet in the air or striking a hard substance. v.i. make this sound.

ping-pong [ˈpiŋpɔŋ] n. table-tennis.

^{1}pin ion [ˈpinjən] n. 1. bird's wing, esp the outer joint; flight-feather of a bird. 2. (poet.) wing: an eagle's ~s v.t. (VP 1, 18). 1. cut off a ~ of (a wing or bird) to hamper flight. 2. bind the arms of (a person); bind (sb.'s) arms; bind (sb.) fast (to sth.).

^{2}pin ion [ˈpinjən] n. small cog-wheel with teeth fitting into those of a larger cog-wheel. (See the illustr. at ^{1}rack.)

^{1}pink [piŋk] n. 1. pale red colour of various kinds (rose ~, salmon ~). ~ gin. portion of gin with angostura. 2. garden plant with sweet-smelling white, ~, crimson, or variegated flowers. 3. in the ~ (of health), (colloq.) very well. adj. 1. of pale red colour. 2. (colloq.) inclined to be left wing in politics. (Cf. red.) ~ish adj. rather ~.

^{2}pink [piŋk] v.t. 1. (VP 1) pierce with a sword. 2. (also VP 10, ~ out) decorate (leather, cloth) with small holes, etc.

^{3}pink [piŋk] v.i. (of an internal-combustion engine) make high-pitched explosive sounds; knock (def. 3).

pin nace [ˈpinis] n. warship's boat with (usu.) eight oarsmen; ship's boat drive by steam or petrol.

pin na cle [ˈpinəkl] n. 1. tall, pointe ornament built on to a roof. 2. high, slender mountain peak. 3. (fig.) highest point: at the ~ of his fame. v.t. set (as) on a ~; supply with ~s.

A pinnacle (def.1

pin nate [ˈpineit] adj. (in botany, of a leaf) formed of small leaves on opposite sides of a stem.

pin ny [ˈpini] n. (child's name for) pinafore.

pint [paint] n. unit of measure for liquids and certain dry goods, one-eighth of a gallon: a ~ of milk (beer, lentils).

pi o neer [ˌpaiəˈniə*] n. 1. (one of the first person(s) to go into a country to develop it; first student of a new branc of study, etc.; explorer. 2. (mil.) one o an advance party of soldiers (e.g. clearin or making roads). v.i. & t. (VP 21 act as a ~; (VP 1) open up (a way, etc.) show (new methods, etc.) to others.

pi ous [ˈpaiəs] adj. 1. having, showing deep devotion to religion. 2. (old use dutiful to parents. ~ly adv.

^{1}pip [pip] n. seed, esp. of a lemon, orange apple, or pear.

^{2}pip [pip] n. the pip, disease of poultry (sl.) fit of depression: have the pip; ge the pip. That man gives me the pip.

^{3}pip [pip] n. note of a time-signal on the telephone or radio: The last of the si pips gives the time to the second.

^{4}pip [pip] n. 1. each spot on playing-cards, dice, and dominoes. 2. star (1 t 3 according to rank) on an army officer's shoulder-strap.

^{5}pip [pip] v.t. (-pp-) (colloq.) (VP 1) hit with a shot.

^{1}pipe [paip] n. 1. tube through which liquids or gases can flow: water-~s; gas-~s; drain-~s. ˈ~-line n. (esp.) line of connected ~s, often underground for conveying petroleum to distan places: in the ~line, (modern use, of an kind of goods) on the way; about to b delivered. 2. musical wind-instrumen (a single tube with holes stopped by th fingers); each of the tubes from whic sound is produced in an organ; (pl bag-~s. 3. (sound of) whistle used b a boatswain. 4. song or note of a bir 5. tubular organ in the body: wind~ 6. (also tobacco-~) tube with a bow used for smoking tobacco; quantity o tobacco held in the bowl: smoke a ~ Give me a ~ of tobacco, please. Put th in your ~ and smoke it, (colloq.) that sth. for you to reflect upon and acc if you can. ˈ~clay n. [U] fine, wh lay used for making (now old-fashioned) obacco ~s, and (by soldiers) for cleaning elts and other pieces of equipment. ~*dream n. plan, idea, etc., that is antastic and impracticable. ˈ~-*rack . rack for tobacco-~s. 7. cask for wine equal to about 105 gallons). ~ful n. as much as a ~ (def. 6) holds.

ipe [paip] v.i. & t. 1. (VP 1, 10) convey water, etc.) through pipes: ~ water into house. 2. (VP 1, 21) play (a tune) on pipe; whistle; utter or sing in a thin, reble voice. ~ up, (VP 23) (colloq.) begin o play, sing, or speak. ~ down, (colloq.) e less noisy or cocksure. 3. (naut.) (VP 0) summon (sailors) by blowing a boatswain's pipe: ~ all hands on deck; lead or welcome (sb.) by the sound of a boatswain's pipe: ~ the captain on board. 4. (VP 1) trim (a dress), ornament (a cake, etc.) with piping (see below, def. 2).

ip er [ˈpaipə*] n. one who plays on a pipe, esp. a player of the bagpipes. pay the ~ (and call the tune), bear the cost of an undertaking (and have control of what is done).

i pette [piˈpet] n. slender tube for transferring small quantities of liquid, esp. in chemistry.

ip ing [ˈpaipiŋ] n. [U] 1. length of pipes (def. 1), esp. for water and drains: en feet of lead ~. 2. narrow cord-like material used to ornament the edges of some garments; cord-like lines of sugar used to decorate cakes, etc. 3. action of playing on a pipe; sound produced from a pipe. adj. like the sound from a pipe (def. 2): a ~ voice; the ~ times of peace, times when there is peaceful music instead of martial music. adv. ~ hot, (of liquids, food) hissing or steaming hot.

ip pin [ˈpipin] n. kinds of apple.

ip-squeak [ˈpipskwiːk] n. (sl.) insignificant or contemptible person or thing.

i quant [ˈpiːkənt] adj. pleasantly sharp to the taste: a ~ sauce; (fig.) pleasantly exciting to the mind: a ~ bit of gossip. ~ly adv. pi quan cy [ˈpiːkənsi] n. the quality of being ~.

ique [piːk] v.t. (VP 1) 1. hurt the pride or self-respect of. 2. stir (the curiosity); stir the curiosity of (sb.). 3. ~ oneself on sth., pride oneself on; feel proud about: He ~d himself on being punctual. n. [U] feeling one has when one's curiosity is unsatisfied; resentment: go away in a fit of ~; take a ~ against sb.

i qué [ˈpiːkei] n. [U] stiff cotton fabric.

i quet [piˈket] n. card game for two players with a pack of 32 cards.

i rate [ˈpaiərit] n. 1. sea-robber; sea-robbers' ship. 2. person who publishes a book, etc., in disregard of copyright. v.t. (VP 1) publish (a book, etc.) in disregard of copyright. pi rat i cal [paiˈrætikəl] adj. of, in the manner of, a ~. pi rat i cal ly adv. pi ra cy [ˈpaiərəsi] n. [U] robbery by ~s; pirating of books, etc.; [C] instance of either of these.

pir ou ette [ˌpiruˈet] n. [C] ballet-dancer's rapid turn on one foot or on the point of the toe. v.i. dance a ~ or ~s.

pis al ler [ˈpiːzˈælei, (Fr.) pizale] n. course of action taken because there seems no other possibility.

pis ca to ri al [ˌpiskəˈtoːriəl] adj. of fishing; addicted to fishing.

pish [piʃ] int. exclamation of contempt or impatience.

piss [pis] v.i. & t. ⚠ (not in polite use) pass urine; discharge (blood) with urine; wet with urine. n. urine.

pis ta chi o [pisˈtɑːʃiou] n. (pl. ~s) (tree yielding) nut with a green edible kernel; colour of this kernel.

pis til [ˈpistil] n. seed-producing part of a flower. (See the illustr. at stamen.) pis tol [ˈpistl] n. [C] small fire-arm held in one hand. v.t. (-ll-) (VP 1) shoot with a ~.

A pistol

pis ton [ˈpistən] n. round plate or short cylinder of wood or metal, fitting closely inside another cylinder or tube in which it moves up and down or backwards and forwards, used in engines, pumps, etc., to impart or receive motion by means of a rod, called a ˈ~-rod. ~ engined, (of aircraft) having engines with ~s (contrasted with jet engines). ~ *ring n. split metal ring used in a ~ to make a gas-tight joint.

^{1}pit [pit] n. 1. deep hole in the earth, usu. with steep sides, esp. one from which material is dug out (a chalk-pit; a clay-pit; a coal-pit) or for industrial purposes (a saw-pit; a tan-pit). ˈpitman n. collier; worker in a coal-pit. pit pony n. pony kept underground in coal-mines. 2. covered hole as a trap for wild animals, etc. ˈpitfall n. covered pit as a trap for animals; (more usu., fig.) unsuspected snare or danger. 3. hollow in an animal or plant body, esp. the ~ of the stomach, the depression in the belly between the ribs. (See also armpit.*) 4. scar left on the body after smallpox. 5. (Gt. Brit., not U.S.A.) seats on the ground floor of a theatre behind the stalls; people occupying these seats. (See the illustr. at theatre.) 6. (U.S.A.) part of the floor of an exchange used for a special commodity: the wheat-pit. 7. the pit, (rhet., biblical) hell. 8. (motor-racing) place at which cars stop for fuel, new tyres, etc. 9. = cockpit.

^{2}pit [pit] v.t. & i. (-tt-) 1. (VP 18) match (sb. or sth. against) in a fight, test, etc.: pit one's strength (brains) against a rival. 2. (VP 1) mark with pits (def. 4): a face pitted with smallpox.

^{3}pit [pit] n. (U.S.A.) hard, stone-like seed (of such fruits as cherries, plums, peaches, dates). v.t. (-tt-) (U.S.A.) remove pits from.

pit-a-pat [ˈpitəˈpæt] adv. with quick beating, with the sound of light, quick taps or steps: Her heart (feet) went ~.

^{1}pitch [pitʃ] v.t. & i. 1. (VP 1) set up, erect (a tent, camp); (VP 21) set up one's tent or camp. 2. (VP 1, 10, 18, 21) throw (a ball, etc.); throw (sb. or sth. out, aside, etc.), esp. with impatience or energetic dislike: Let's ~ the drunkard out. The men were ~ing hay, lifting it (e.g. into a wagon) with forks. ˈ*~fork n. long-handled fork with sharp prongs for lifting hay etc. v.t. lift or move with a fork; (fig.) thrust (a person) forcibly (into a position, etc.). 3. (VP 10) (music) set in a certain key: ~ a tune too high (in a lower key). This song is ~ed too low for me. 4. (VP 10, 23) (cause to) fall heavily forwards or outwards: He ~ed on his head. The carriage overturned and the passengers were ~ed out. 5. (VP 21, 23) (of a ship) move up and down as the bows rise and fall (cf. roll). 6. ~ in, (VP 23) set to work with energy. ~ into, (VP 24) (a) attack violently: They ~ed into him (b) get busy with: We ~ed into the work The hungry boy ~ed into the meat pie, began to eat it. ~ upon, (VP 24) select by chance; decide upon: ~ upon the most suitable man for the job. 7. ~ed battle, one that is fought with troops arranged in prepared positions, not a casual encounter. 8. (cricket) ~ wickets, fix the stumps in the ground with the bails in place. 9. (sl.) tell (a yarn, a story). 10. ~-and-toss n. game of skill and chance in which coins are ~ed at a mark.

^{2}pitch [pitʃ] n. 1. place where sb. (esp. a street trader) usu. does business, where a street entertainer usu. performs. queer sb.'s ~, upset his plans; thwart him. 2. (cricket) part of the ground between the wickets; manner in which the ball is delivered in bowling; (baseball) manner or act of pitching the ball. 3. act of pitching or throwing anything; distance to which sth. is thrown. 4. (music and speech) degree of highness or lowness: the ~ of a voice. 5. degree: at the lowest ~ of his (ill) fortune. Excitement was raised to (was at) the highest ~. 6. amount of slope (esp. of a roof). 7. (of a ship) process of pitching (def. 5).

^{3}pitch [pitʃ] n. [U] black, sticky substance made from coal-tar or turpentine, semi-liquid when hot, hard when cold, used to fill cracks or spaces (e.g. between planks forming a floor or ship's deck), make roofs waterproof, etc. as dark (black) as ~, quite dark. ˈ*~-ˈblack,* ˈ*~-ˈdark adjj. quite black or dark. ˈ*~-blende [ˈpitʃblend] n. [U] black, shining mineral (oxide of uranium) yieldin radium. ~ *pine n. specially resinou kinds of pine-tree or its wood.

^{1}pitch er [ˈpitʃə*] n. large (usu. earthen ware) vessel with a handle and lip fo holding liquids; large jug.

^{2}pitch er [ˈpitʃə*] n. (baseball) player wh throws the ball for the batter to hit.

pit e ous [ˈpitiəs, -tjəs] adj. arousin pity. ~ly adv.

pit fall see ^{1}pit, def. 2.

pith [piθ] n. [U] 1. soft substance tha fills the stems of some plants (e.g. reeds) similar substance lining the rind o oranges, etc. 2. spinal cord. 3. (fig. essential part: the ~ of his argumen (speech, etc.). 4. vigour; force. ~y adj 1. of, like, full of, ~. 2. forcible; full o meaning: ~y sayings. ~i ly adv.

pit i a ble [ˈpitiəbl] adj. exciting pity; (esp.) deserving only contemptuous pity: a ~ attempt. pit i a bly adv.

pit i ful [ˈpitiful] adj. 1. feeling pity; compassionate. 2. causing pity: a ~ sight. 3. arousing contempt. ~ly adv.

pit i less [ˈpitilis] adj. showing no pity. ~ly adv.

pit tance [ˈpitəns] n. low, insufficient payment or allowance (for work, etc.): work all day for a mere ~.

pi tu i ta ry [piˈtju(ː)itəri] adj. ~ gland, small ductless gland at the base of the brain, secreting hormones that influence growth, etc. n. ~ gland.

pi ty [ˈpiti] n. 1. [U] feeling of sorrow for the troubles, sufferings, etc., of another person: be filled with (feel) ~ for sb. Do have (take) ~ on me, help me in my trouble, etc. in ~ (of), feeling ~: in ~ of his sad fate. out of ~, because of a feeling of ~: give a beggar a few coins out of ~. for ~'s sake, used as a form of entreaty: For ~'s sake try to stop this persecution. 2. (with indef. art., but not in pl. except as below) (event which gives) cause for regret or sorrow: What a ~ (= how unfortunate) you can't come with us! It's a ~ (that) he can't swim. The ~ is that . . ., the thing to be regretted is that . . . It's a thousand pities that, is most unfortunate that . . . v.t. (VP 1) feel genuine ~ for; feel contemptuous ~ for: He is much to be pitied. I ~ you if you think that you deserve to be helped. ~ing adj. expressing ~. ~ing ly adv.

pi vot [ˈpivət] n. 1. central pin or point on which sth. turns (see the illustr. at balance); (fig.) sth. on which an argument or discussion depends. 2. (mil.) man or unit on whom a body of troops turns or wheels when changing front or direction. v.t. & i. 1. (VP 24) turn (on sth.) as on a ~. 2. (VP 1) place on a ~; supply with a ~. ~al [ˈpivətl] adj. of, forming, a ~; (fig.) of great importance because other things depend upon it.

y, pix ie ['piksi] n. small elf or fairy.
i la ted ['piksileitid] adj. (dial.)
htly crazy.
zi ca to [ˌpitsi'kɑːtou] adj. & adv.
yed) by plucking the string(s) (of a in, etc.) instead of using the bow.
ca ble ['plækəbl] adj. easily ap-sed; mild and forgiving. pla ca bly
.
ard ['plækɑːd] n. sheet of paper with inted announcement on one side, for ting up; poster (to be) publicly dis-yed. v.t. (VP 1) put ~s on (walls, ); make known by means of ~s. cate [plə'keit] v.t. (VP 1) soothe;
ify. pla ca to ry ['plækətəri] adj.
igned to ~; conciliatory.
e [pleis] n. 1. particular part of ce occupied by sb. or sth.: I can't in two ~s at once. 2. city, town, age, etc.: go to ~s and see things, vel as a tourist. 3. building or area and used for some particular purpose t is specified: a ~ of worship, a rch, etc.; ~s of amusement, theatres, emas, etc.; a market-~; a ~ of busi-
s. 4. particular ~ on a surface: a ~ on my neck. 5. passage, part, in ook, etc.: I've lost my ~, can't find paragraph where I stopped reading.
a book-mark to keep your ~ instead urning down the corner of the leaf. 6.
k or station (in society, etc.): You st keep him in his ~, not allow him reat you as an equal, with too much iliarity. Fifty years ago servants had know their ~, regard themselves as nferior rank. 7. (in a race) position ong those competitors who are ners: Whose horse got the first ~?
hall back (bet some money on) the ourite for a ~ (i.e. to be one of the t three past the winning-post). Hence, -bet n. 8. (maths.) position of a figure a series as indicating its value in imal or other notation: calculated to ~s of decimals (to five decimal ~s)
. 6·57132). 9. single step or stage in argument, etc.: in the first (second,
) ~. 10. proper or natural position:
idy person likes to have a ~ for everyng and everything in its ~. Please take r ~s (e.g. ready for a dance). Go back your ~ (e.g. your seat). There's always ~ for you at my dinner-table, you will ays be a welcome guest. in ~, (a) in right or proper ~: I like to have every- ng in ~. (b) (fig.) suitable; appro-ate: The proposal is not quite in ~.
t of ~, (a) not in the right or proper ce. (b) (fig.) unsuitable; inapproate: Your remarks were rather out ~. in ~ of, instead of. take the ~ be substituted for: Who will take the
of Mr X (take Mr X's ~)? Plastics
e taken the ~ of many conventional terials. take ~, happen. make ~
for, (a) make room for. (b) yield precedence to. (c) be superseded by. give ~ to, be succeeded by. 11. office, employment, esp. a government appointment; duties of an office-holder: It's your ~ to see that the junior members of the staff do not arrive late. He will get a ~ in the Oxford boat, will be chosen to be a member of the crew. 12. country-house of some size, with the land round it; (colloq.) house or other residence (e.g. a flat): He has a nice little ~ in the country. Come round to my ~ one evening. 13. (in proper names) alternative name for Street, Square, etc., in a town: St James's P~. 14. '~-kick n. (rugby football) kick made when the ball is previously placed by another player for that purpose on the ground.

²place [pleis] v.t. (VP 1, 10, 18) 1. put (sth.) in a certain place; arrange (things) in their proper places: P~ them in the right order. 2. appoint (sb.) to a post; put in office or authority: He was ~d in command of the Second Army. 3. put, invest (money): ~ £500 in War Bonds; ~ £100 to sb.'s credit in the bank. 4. put (an order for goods, etc.) with a business firm: ~ an order for books with Messrs W. H. Smith & Sons. 5. dispose of (goods) to a customer: How can we ~ all this surplus stock? 6. have, fix, repose: ~ confidence in a leader. 7. recognize or estimate (sb.) by connecting him with past experience; fully identify: I know that man's face, but I can't ~ him. He's a difficult man to ~. 8. (racing) state the position of (runners) in a race. be ~d, be among the first three: The Duke's horse wasn't ~d.

plac id ['plæsid] adj. calm; untroubled; (of a person) not easily irritated. ~ly adv. pla cid i ty [plæ'siditi] n. [U].

plack et ['plækit] n. opening in a woman's skirt; pocket inside this.

plage [plɑːʒ] n. (Fr.) sea beach (esp. at a fashionable seaside resort).

pla gia rize ['pleidʒjəraiz] v.t. (VP 1) take and use (e.g. in an essay) sb. else's ideas, words, etc., as if they were one's own. pla gia rism ['pleidʒjərizəm] n. [U] plagiarizing; [C] instance of this. pla gia rist n. person who ~s.

plague [pleig] n. 1. pestilence: bubonic ~, '~-spot n. (a) spot on the skin characteristic of ~. (b) district infected with ~. (c) centre, source, or symptom of moral evil. 2. cause of trouble, annoyance, or disaster: a ~ of locusts (flies). What a ~ that child is! (= What a nuisance it is!) P~ on it! (used as an imprecation, or to express annoyance). v.t. (VP 1) annoy (esp. with repeated requests or questions). pla guy ['pleigi] adj. (colloq.) annoying. pla gui ly adv. annoyingly; provokingly.

plaice [pleis] n. edible flat-fish.

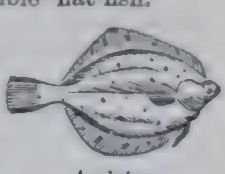
plaid [plæd] n. 1. [C] long piece of woollen cloth worn over the shoulders by Scottish Highlanders. 2. [U] cloth, usu. with a chequered or tartan pattern, used for this article of dress.



A plaice

^{1}plain [plein] adj. 1. easy to see, hear, or understand: ~ English; in ~ speech; ~ language, (of telegrams, etc.) not in code. The meaning is quite ~. ~ sailing, (fig.) course of action that is simple and free from difficulties: After we engaged a guide, everything was ~ sailing. 2. simple; ordinary; without luxury or ornament: a ~ blue dress, of blue material without a design on it, or without trimmings, etc.; in ~ clothes, (esp. of policemen) in ordinary clothes, not in uniform; ~ food (cooking); a ~ cook, one who can prepare ~ meals. 3. (of persons, their thoughts, actions, etc.) straightforward; frank: in ~ words, frankly; ~ dealing, honesty, sincerity; to be ~ with you, to speak openly. ˈ~-ˈspoken adj. frank in speech. 4. (of a person's appearance) not pretty or handsome: It's a pity his wife is so ~. 5. ˈ~-song n. (also ˈ*~-chant*) music for a number of voices in unison, used in the Anglican and Roman Catholic Church services. adv. clearly: learn to speak ~. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

^{2}plain [plein] n. area of level country: the wide ~s of Canada. ˈ~sman n. inhabitant of a ~.

plaint [pleint] n. 1. (law) charge; accusation. 2. (poet.) complaint; lamentation.

plain tiff [ˈpleintif] n. person who brings an action at law. (Cf. defendant.)

plain tive [ˈpleintiv] adj. sounding sad; sorrowful. ~ly adv. ~ness n.

plait [plæt] v.t. (VP 1) weave or twist (three or more lengths of hair, straw, etc.) under and over one another into one rope-like length. n. sth. made by ~ing: wearing her hair in a ~.

A plait

plan [plæn] n. 1. outline drawing (of or for a building) showing the relative size, positions, etc., of the parts, esp. as if seen from above (cf. elevation): ~s for a new school. 2. diagram (of the parts of a machine). 3. diagram showing how a garden, park, or other area of land has been, or is to be, laid out (cf. map for a large area of land). 4. arrangement for doing or using sth., considered in advance: make ~s for the holidays; a ~ to encourage thrift; a five-year ~ (e.g. for a country's economic and industrial development). Everything went accor to ~. v.t. (-nn-) 1. (VP 1) make a or for: ~ a house (garden). 2. (V make ~s (to do sth.): We're ~nin visit Europe this summer. 3. (VP 1, consider and arrange in advance (out) a military campaign; a ~ned e omy, economic system ~ned by gov ment authorities. ~ner n. one who ma ~s. ~less adj. without a ~.

plan chette [plaːnˈʃet] n. small bo supported by two castors, with a vert pencil said to trace marks on pape spiritualistic seances without consc direction by hand.

^{1}plane [plein] n. (also ˈ*~-tree*) one several kinds of tree with spread branches, broad leaves, and thin b which comes off in large flakes.

^{2}plane [plein] n. tool for trimming the surface of wood by taking shavings from it. v.t. & i. (VP 1, 7, 10, 21, 23) use a ~; make smooth with a ~; pare (away, down) irregularit with a ~: ~ sth. smooth.

A plane

^{3}plane [plein] n. 1. flat or level surfa surface such that the straight line jo ing any points on it is touching it at points; imaginary surface of this ki
2. wing or supporting part of an ae plane; (colloq., abbrev. for) aeroplan take the next ~ for São Paulo. 3. (f level or stage (of development, etc.):
the same ~ as a savage; on a higher soc ~. 4. ~ sailing, art of determining ship's position and course on the theo that the ship is moving on a ~. ( plain sailing, see ^{1}plain, def. 1.) v.i. aeroplanes) travel, glide (down).

^{4}plane [plein] adj. perfectly level; ly in a plane (^{3}plane, def. 1): a ~ figure plan et [ˈplænit] n. one of the heaven bodies (e.g. Mars, Venus) which mo round the sun. ~a ry [ˈplænitəri] a relating to, moving like, a ~. plan ta ri um [ˌplæniˈtɛəriəm] n. (buildi with a) device for representing movements of the stars and ~s by p jecting spots of light on the inner surf of a large dome that represents the plan gent [ˈplændʒənt] adj. (of soun resounding; vibrating.

plank [plæŋk] n. 1. long, flat piece timber, 2 to 6 inches thick, 9 or m inches wide; board. ˈ~-ˈbed n. one boards, without mattresses. 2. item a political platform. v.t. 1. (VP furnish with ~s; cover (a floor, e with ~s. 2. (VP 10) ~ sth. d (colloq.) put down (esp. money); pa once. ~ing n. [U] ~s put down to f
